CORRESPONDENCE.

White Labor in Cane Fields.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

In your issue of last evening, referring to Mr. Fitzgerald's mission to Honolulu, you say:

"We admit, Mr. Fitzgerald, that 'white' men can work in the cane fields of Hawaii. Their work would not be heavier than that performed by the ordinary farm laborers in Europe and America. But who are the planters or the corporations willing to pay 'white' men's wages to Fitzgerald's tramps in preference to the Asiatic coolies, easily controlled and paid at a cheap rate."

I can scarcely believe that you realized the force of the above paragraph when you wrote it, especially the first two sentences. It is nothing short of a crime to lead Americans to believe that work in the cane fields of Hawaii would not be heavier than that performed by the ordinary farm hands in America. At the outset let me inform you that I have been an "ordinary farm hand in America," at a time, too, when farmers had not the advantages of improved machinery, etc., that they have to day, in consequence of which the labor required of an "ordinary farm hand" was much harder than under the modern system of farming in America.

As you are aware I have been a resident of these islands for a number of years, during which time I have given much attention to the labor problem and the general character of the work required of plantation laborers.

From hard practical experience at farm work in America pertaining to every season of the year and of every kind, and from my experience in this climate, its effects upon the constitutions of "white" men from the colder latitudes of America, in any trade or calling requiring constant application, I say that no farm laborer from America can endure the constant laborious work required of plantation laborers in this country.

In America there are the four seasons in each of which the nature of the work to be performed varies almost with the dawn of every day. It is true that in midsummer, for about three months on the average farm the days are long and the work hard; but then there are the rainy days which are practically holidays—with no deductions for lost time—and in the winter season there are from four to five months during which in the words of the immortal Sam Weller there is "little to do and plenty to get." Then, again, the American farm laborer has many privileges which the plantation laborer never heard of. As a rule he has the use of a horse whenever, within reason, he wishes. His food is the best and prepared as only the American farmer's wife knows how to prepare it. His quarters, if he lives with his employer, are all that he could wish for, and if married he is in most cases provided with a comfortable garden, the use of one or two cows, a side of meat now and again, a large garden, all the fuel he requires &c. Contrast this with plantation life in Hawaii as you have witnessed it for many years.

Now as to Mr. Fitzgerald. I have no doubt he is a nice gentleman, knows a good cigar when he sees it, and has very comfortable offices in San Francisco or somewhere else in California. We will grant that he has enjoyed his trip to Hawaii and has told his private secretary to write many things about Hawaii and what he knows about its requirements in the labor line. Also, according to a local paper he has convinced the planters that in the few weeks he has been here, he has solved a question that practical planters have been wrestling with for several decades. Bright chap, this Mr. Fitzgerald. But I would like to know where he served his apprenticeship and if he carries his "card" or where he ever worked as a farm laborer. Also who the planters are that he convinced. Were they our genial young friends from the offices of local sugar factors who usually comprise the meeting of the planter's association of which your portly friend Saint Peter is the guardian angel, or were they the horny-handed managers and lunas who have been many years in the cane fields here and elsewhere?

Again let me remind you, and I have seen the figures for it, that right in Mr. Fitzgerald's own State under the labor system which he proposes to introduce here, sugar-beet producers have been running at a loss and are now endeavoring to keep even by employing Japanese laborers.

In Louisiana, the only sugar-cane district in America, wages are less than paid on the plantations in Hawaii. The average is about 60 cents a day, no free medical attendance, all lost time deducted, which amounts to over one-third of the year in many cases.

In Louisiana there are no "white" men in the cane fields to speak of, and "blacks" are growing beautifully less every day, their places being filled by the lowest class of Italians. The living accommodations provided in Louisiana would not be considered decent hog pens in Hawaii, and no manager here would dare to even suggest such quarters for his men.

Then, again, Mr. Fitzgerald's California "hobos" are not farm laborers and few of them previous to coming to California ever saw a farm, and if they have done farm work at all since arrival in California it has been in a spasmodic sort of way and then only when in dire want.

Fancy, sir, such men coming here under the auspices of Mr. Fitzgerald, signing contracts for three years with a planter, which American courts have interpreted voluntary slavery, and then working ten hours a day (actual work in the field) with one hour at noon and no let up, day in and day out, the same old monotonous drudge, hoe, hoe, throughout the year with a tropical sun blazing down upon them every day of their lives. Add to this the ever watchful luna riding up and down the rows of hoes, with his "wikiwiki, wikiwiki there, Smith," "wikiwiki, Jones," etc., and if you have ever lived in the United States you can soon decide how Mr. Fitzgerald's scheme would pan out.

Before closing I would remind Hawaiian planters that if American farm laborers could be profitably employed in cane fields Louisiana planters would not import Italians. If the unemployed of California were a desirable class of laborers, and were accustomed to farm work, they would have no difficulty in getting assistance to settle on the Government prairie lands of Canada and the United States, where one year's work ensures a comfortable home and living. There are millions of acres of such lands going begging for just such farm laborers as we would care to see come here.

It is all well for Mr. Fitzgerald to travel here in ease and luxury with a private secretary or valet to attend him wherever he goes, and then listen to the guff of a few men who have learned all about plantations, much after the same fashion that he is doing, but such methods and experience is no use to the horny-handed son of toil. If Mr. Fitzgerald really wants to be frank with his "laboring" friends in California I submit that he can only qualify himself to advise them by spending a few weeks longer here at the actual labor of hoeing and stripping cane, say a week at each kind of work, after which I venture to say that if he has ever been a farm laborer in America, his first desire after he quits the cane fields will be to spoil the face of the editor of THE INDEPENDENT for writing the paragraph quoted above. If Mr. Fitzgerald cannot spare the time for the cane field experience which I contend is so necessary in order to complete his investigations here, I would suggest that he leave Private Secretary Green behind for the purpose. Yours truly,

EX-AMERICAN FARM LABORER.

THE DAIRIES AND THEIR COWS

We can hardly believe for a moment that the owners of dairies in Waikiki will quietly swallow the semi official statements published as coming from the Board of Health in regard to cows condemned by public inspectors on account of tuberculosis.

Why should the names of owners and dairies not be given when the agents of the Board find signs of tuberculosis? Is the movement now on foot in the interest of dairy owners or of the general public? We believe that the Board of Health wants to protect the public and not individuals, and for that reason we think that the names of the owners of condemned cows should be given to the public.

Such a measure will not injure the business of the dairy men. On the contrary the knowledge that the diseased cows have been destroyed will improve the standing of any dairy. The hints now thrown out in certain newspapers are simply damaging and injurious to the business of other dairy men. Six cows, we are informed by one of the official organs, were killed at a Waikiki dairy on account of tuberculosis. Consumers of milk know that there are only three dairies at Waikiki, one belongs to W. G. Irwin, another to C. W. Macfarlane, and the third is the Kapahulu dairy farm.

Investigation proves that the condemned cattle did not belong to Macfarlane nor to Irwin. Why should the officers of the Board of Health decline to advise the public where the tuberculosis was found and which dairies have been purified. The Board and its officers are playing a very funny game indeed. Is there anything in it for the Board?

THE RETIRING JUDGE

We do not care to criticize Mr. de la Vergne on the probable eve of his departure from the official office held by him. He has during his incumbency shown a wonderful lack of independence but he has, especially during the latter portion of his term shown a certain amount of good common sense. When he yesterday sentenced Mr. Sutton, purser of the Alameda, who was found guilty of having opium in possession he surprised even THE INDEPENDENT by going distinctly out of his way to accommodate the prosecution.

A judge is not supposed to know anything in regard to a prisoner except the evidence brought before him. Mr. Sutton plead guilty to a charge of having opium in possession, the prosecution having utterly failed to prove a charge of smuggling against him. The ordinary punishment for opium in possession as established by Mr. de la Vergne himself is a fine of from $50 to $100 for the first offence. Ah Sam, Ah Chit or Ah Sock, plead guilty and de la Vergne fines them the amount mentioned. Ah Sutton, with only 7 tins in his pantaloons pleads guilty, and he is sentenced to imprisonment for one month and to pay a fine of $250.

We are willing to admit that a man in Mr. Sutton's position should be more careful and not be caught in an easy manner. But while we have that opinion, the Magistrate has no right to know anything about a man on trial except the evidence placed before him. Who Mr. Sutton is, or what he has ever been doing is none of the business of a Magistrate. All he is supposed to know is that a man charged with an offence committed within the jurisdiction of the Court is before him and is offering a plea of guilty. Judge De la Vergne will soon retire however and we cannot afford further space to teach him law and Court etiquette.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Post Office boys look very handsome in their new uniforms. They look quite warm too. Has the Post Master milliner also devised a uniform for the incumbent of the "ladies" window?

Marshal Brown in addressing the Police Judge yesterday afternoon while arraigning Mr. Sutton, referred to Williams' "opium gallery," was that slip of the tongue caused by the "winking" of the girl in red?

That is a very pretty idea of England's Colonies to have the English national anthem sung at high noon on June 22nd whenever there is a little band of Britishers to gather together. The gladsome voices of the school children, blended in those few words of praise and prayer, will pass through the portals of the eternal Heavens more favorably and acceptably than the loud booming of the life destroying weapons of war.

THE INDEPENDENT assures Mr. Fitzgerald, who may or may not know it, that all the talk he hears, from the people who entertain him, about a Labor Commission and free white laborers is talk intended for consumption at Washington—only this and nothing more. But the gentlemen who are doing the talking may save their breath for election time in September next, for there has been many a "chieft" here "takin' notes and faith they'll print them."

The Post officials look very neat and natty in their grey uniforms, but when, oh when, are we to have our Government mail wagons with the Great Seal of the Republic of Hawaii emblazoned upon them. Is it possible that our worthy President and Cabinet are waiting to save the expense of painting out the Seal and inserting the Crown? If so let the wagons be plainly and simply lettered "Hawaiian Mail," the word "Royal" can be inserted whenever it becomes necessary.

To-day is the anniversary of the inauguration of General George Washington as President of the American Republic in 1789. Will the name of Dole of Hawaii pass echoing adown the ages with equal honor and veneration, the one for having enfranchised a people, and the other for disenfranchising a nation and stealing its life blood. The one representing a majority of free men and the other a minority of alien adventurers. The world is becoming passing critical in these latter days of universal education and, save in Hawaii, untrammelled thought. Washington-Dole, what a happy combination of contrasts. From the sublime to the ridiculous.

Some of our furiously riding scorching Jehus of the cycle have evidently collided with some of the P. C. A.'s staff, for that veteran relit of missionary fossilism echoes THE INDEPENDENT's warning cry against them and pleads for laws regulating their pedals. THE INDEPENDENT has already published its regulation and now repeats it. The first man who runs into an INDEPENDENT man without fair warning from the cycle rider will be hailed before the the magistrate on a charge that will be costly to the defendant. We shall require no less than a fine and a new suit of clothes, to say nothing of a heavy doctor's bill for damages done, for we shall employ a medical man instead of buying liniments.

Lincoln's Humor.

At the Opera House to-morrow evening our critical burghers promised a wonderful versatility of fun and humor in Frank Lincoln's melo-monologue entertainment. Apparently it is impossible to do full justice to the talents of this clever artist, who is, apparently from his credentials, world famous, for his favoring critics have ransacked the lexicon for every complimentary adjective, and sigh for more in the cypheriferous desert they have created. He is evidently a rare genius, and a most amusing puzzle, or conundrum, of humanity and provocation for he is a "whole orchestra," "wonderful," "a mimic of startling fidelity," and he even made the King of Siam say, "I never laughed so much in my life." His audiences have invariably been "exquisitely blended" in painfully side splitting "constant roars of laughter," and "convulsions of laughter." We trust the Board of Health and the whole medical fraternity will be present to save the lives of their patients, the lawyers to make their wills, and the Government to learn wisdom from pungent wit and merry satire. Walt-Nichols Co. may accommodate all with seats if tickets are applied for early enough.

Card of Thanks.

The family of the late Samuel Savidge wish to express their sincere thanks to the many friends, and officers and members of the L. O. O. F. lodges for their beautiful floral offerings and other kindnesses bestowed during their late bereavement.

THE COLONIAL PREMIERS.

The Position They Will Occupy in the Diamond Jubilee Procession

In view of the brief visit yesterday of Hon Richard Sedden, Colonial Treasurer and Premier of New Zealand, who was courteously entertained by the Government, the following in regard to the part the Colonial Premier will take in the Diamond Jubilee procession may be of interest to former Colonists here. To St. Paul's Cathedral on June 22nd, the Colonial Premier will ride in Royal Carriages, escorted by their own Colonial troops, and will be close to Queen Victoria on foot during the religious services in the ancient Cathedral.

The London People in speaking of this change in the program says: "By the original arrangement the Premier were not to be in the procession, and the Colonial troops were to march along in front of the Queen throughout the route, and probably would not have set eyes on her Majesty once during the whole day."

The Colonial troops will make the first procession, cavalry coming in front, and then infantry at intervals, each Colonial contingent escorting its Premier, who will be provided with a royal carriage, drawn by 4 horses richly caparisoned. The Colonial procession, which will probably be nearly half a mile long, will start from Buckingham Palace nearly 10 minutes before the Queen's procession. On arrival at St. Paul's, the Colonial procession will be drawn up round the west front of the Cathedral, and the Premier and their wives will alight and take places reserved for them in close proximity to the Queen on the steps of St. Paul's. The troops, facing inwards, will await the coming of the Queen, whom they will be able to salute. Her Majesty desired to see them, and by the original arrangement this would not have been possible. The Colonial procession, on the completion of the religious service, will remain in front of the Cathedral while the Queen's procession goes on to the Mansion House. It will then follow as a second procession.

The Hageys Remove.

The Hagey Institute and Club this morning removed their headquarters to J. A. Mehten's cottage on Beritania street, between Emma and Fort, from both of which streets it can be entered. The street cars passing the doors make the location very convenient, and the choral services of the churches on Sabbath Day will naturally encourage the students and graduates, to drown their sorrows in flowing melody. Owing to the rapidity with which the Club has struck its tents and made this flank movement, there will be no formal social and musical entertainment to-morrow evening, but friends are none the less cordially invited to call, if they can genially take things as they find them.

In Search of Health.

Should Mr. Camarinos sufficiently recover his health he will probably pay a visit to his relatives in Greece before his return to this country. His health has failed him since the sudden death of his faithful friend and companion John Kennedy. The best wishes for his restoration from many friends follow him.

The Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. hall was crowded last night with interested listeners on the occasion of the annual anniversary exercises. The able addresses of President A. B. Wood and Secretary Coleman were very favorably received. Standing Committees were appointed and the Treasurer reported a balance of $10.58 in the Treasury, the receipts having been $3713.55 and the expenses $3702.97.

At N. S. Sachs' is the place to find stylish and artistic Millinery.

Minister King Better.

It is gratifying to report that the statement in regard to Minister King's health appearing in this morning's paper is much exaggerated. Mr. King is much improved, and requires only a good solid rest to recuperate his strength. His malady is of the nature of nervous prostration with an attack similar to la grippe.

The Cricket Field.

Mr. A. M. Hewitt reports that he has expended $73.50 on the improvements to the cricket field on the old Recreation grounds and collected $72.50. It will require at the least $25 more to complete the improvements, so those interested can pony up to him. Drinking faucets are to be placed near the scorer's table for thirsty players, and the small boys.

The Police Judgeship.

The Attorney-General states that the appointment of the Police Judge for Honolulu has not yet been decided upon, and that Mr. De la Vergue will continue to hold the position for the presents until a successor has been selected.

Low priced articles are not always cheapest. Closing out and clearance sales are usually made up of goods priced 75 percent above selling value and double what they are worth. The cut down does not make them cheap, it's the advertisement. Inspection often proves the quality. Our store has been for years headquarters for good values—it makes no difference whether it is for a spool of thread or a silk dress pattern.

Once we have had a clearance sale but it was to rid our shelves of an accumulation of old goods. They were sold for what they were worth and the people were satisfied with their bargains. If we put new goods on our shelves to-day and to-morrow tell you that we would sell them at prices below cost you would imagine there was something wrong in us or the goods. Our prices are right so are the goods.

The Virtues of the Apple.

The apple is such a common fruit that very few persons are familiar with its remarkably efficacious medicinal properties. Everybody ought to know that the very best thing they can do is to eat apples just before retiring for the night. Persons uninitiated in the mysteries of the fruit are liable to throw up their hands in horror at the visions of dyspepsia which such a suggestion may summon up; but no harm can come to even a delicate system by the eating of ripe and juicy apples just before going to bed. The apple is excellent brain food, because it has more phosphoric acid in easily digested shape than other fruits. It excites the action of the liver, promotes sound and healthy sleep, and thoroughly disinfects the mouth. This is not all. The apples help the kidney secretions and prevents calculus growths, while it obviates indigestion and is one of the best known preventives of diseases of the throat. Everybody should be familiar with such knowledge. —Dr. G. R. Searles, in Detroit Bulletin of Pharmacy.

CORRESPONDENCE.

White Labor in Cane Fields.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

In your issue of last evening, referring to Mr. Fitzgerald's mission to Honolulu, you say:

"We admit, Mr. Fitzgerald, that 'white' men can work in the cane fields of Hawaii. Their work would not be heavier than that performed by the ordinary farm laborers in Europe and America. But who are the planters or the corporations willing to pay 'white' men's wages to Fitzgerald's tramps in preference to the Asiatic coolies, easily controlled and paid at a cheap rate?"

I can scarcely believe that you realized the force of the above paragraph when you wrote it, especially the first two sentences. It is nothing short of a crime to lead Americans to believe that work in the cane fields of Hawaii would not be heavier than that performed by the ordinary farm hands in America. At the outset let me inform you that I have been an "ordinary farm hand in America," at a time, too, when farmers had not the advantages of improved machinery, etc., that they have to day, in consequence of which the labor required of an "ordinary farm hand" was much harder than under the modern system of farming in America.

As you are aware I have been a resident of these islands for a number of years, during which time I have given much attention to the labor problem and the general character of the work required of plantation laborers.

From hard practical experience at farm work in America pertaining to every season of the year and of every kind, and from my experience in this climate, its effects upon the constitutions of "white" men from the colder latitudes of America, in any trade or calling requiring constant application, I say that no farm laborer from America can endure the constant laborious work required of plantation laborers in this country.

In America there are the four seasons in each of which the nature of the work to be performed varies almost with the dawn of every day. It is true that in midsummer, for about three months on the average farm the days are long and the work hard; but then there are the rainy days which are practically holidays—with no deductions for lost time—and in the winter season there are from four to five months during which in the words of the immortal Sam Weller there is "little to do and plenty to get." Then, again, the American farm laborer has many privileges which the plantation laborer never heard of. As a rule he has the use of a horse whenever, within reason, he wishes. His food is the best and prepared as only the American farmer's wife knows how to prepare it. His quarters, if he lives with his employer, are all that he could wish for, and if married he is in most cases provided with a comfortable garden, the use of one or two cows, a side of meat now and again, a large garden, all the fuel he requires &c. Contrast this with plantation life in Hawaii as you have witnessed it for many years.

Now as to Mr. Fitzgerald. I have no doubt he is a nice gentleman, knows a good cigar when he sees it, and has very comfortable offices in San Francisco or somewhere else in California. We will grant that he has enjoyed his trip to Hawaii and has told his private secretary to write many things about Hawaii and what he knows about its requirements in the labor line. Also, according to a local paper he has convinced the planters that in the few weeks he has been here, he has solved a question that practical planters have been wrestling with for several decades. Bright chap, this Mr. Fitzgerald. But I would like to know where he served his apprenticeship and if he carries his "card" or where he ever worked as a farm laborer. Also who the planters are that he convinced. Were they our genial young friends from the offices of local sugar factors who usually comprise the meeting of the planter's association of which your portly friend Saint Peter is the guardian angel, or were they the horny-handed managers and lunas who have been many years in the cane fields here and elsewhere?

Again let me remind you, and I have seen the figures for it, that right in Mr. Fitzgerald's own State under the labor system which he proposes to introduce here, sugar-beet producers have been running at a loss and are now endeavoring to keep even by employing Japanese laborers.

In Louisiana, the only sugar-cane district in America, wages are less than paid on the plantations in Hawaii. The average is about 60 cents a day, no free medical attendance, all lost time deducted, which amounts to over one-third of the year in many cases.

In Louisiana there are no "white" men in the cane fields to speak of, and "blacks" are growing beautifully less every day, their places being filled by the lowest class of Italians. The living accommodations provided in Louisiana would not be considered decent hog pens in Hawaii, and no manager here would dare to even suggest such quarters for his men.

Then, again, Mr. Fitzgerald's California "hobos" are not farm laborers and few of them previous to coming to California ever saw a farm, and if they have done farm work at all since arrival in California it has been in a spasmodic sort of way and then only when in dire want.

Fancy, sir, such men coming here under the auspices of Mr. Fitzgerald, signing contracts for three years with a planter, which American courts have interpreted voluntary slavery, and then working ten hours a day (actual work in the field) with one hour at noon and no let up, day in and day out, the same old monotonous drudge, hoe, hoe, throughout the year with a tropical sun blazing down upon them every day of their lives. Add to this the ever watchful luna riding up and down the rows of hoes, with his "wikiwiki, wikiwiki there, Smith," "wikiwiki, Jones," etc., and if you have ever lived in the United States you can soon decide how Mr. Fitzgerald's scheme would pan out.

Before closing I would remind Hawaiian planters that if American farm laborers could be profitably employed in cane fields Louisiana planters would not import Italians. If the unemployed of California were a desirable class of laborers, and were accustomed to farm work, they would have no difficulty in getting assistance to settle on the Government prairie lands of Canada and the United States, where one year's work ensures a comfortable home and living. There are millions of acres of such lands going begging for just such farm laborers as we would care to see come here.

It is all well for Mr. Fitzgerald to travel in ease and luxury with a private secretary or valet to attend him wherever he goes, and then listen to the guff of a few men who have learned all about plantations, much after the same fashion that he is doing, but such methods and experience is no use to the horny-handed son of toil. If Mr. Fitzgerald really wants to be frank with his "laboring" friends in California I submit that he can only qualify himself to advise them by spending a few weeks longer here at the actual labor of hoeing and stripping cane, say a week at each kind of work, after which I venture to say that if he has ever been a farm laborer in America, his first desire after he quits the cane fields will be to spoil the face of the editor of THE INDEPENDENT for writing the paragraph quoted above. If Mr. Fitzgerald cannot spare the time for the cane field experience which I contend is so necessary in order to complete his investigations here, I would suggest that he leave Private Secretary Green behind for the purpose. Yours truly,

EX-AMERICAN FARM LABORER.

THE DAIRIES AND THEIR COWS

We can hardly believe for a moment that the owners of dairies in Waikiki will quietly swallow the semi official statements published as coming from the Board of Health in regard to cows condemned by public inspectors on account of tuberculosis.

Why should the names of owners and dairies not be given when the agents of the Board find signs of tuberculosis? Is the movement now on foot in the interest of dairy owners or of the general public? We believe that the Board of Health wants to protect the public and not individuals, and for that reason we think that the names of the owners of condemned cows should be given to the public.

Such a measure will not injure the business of the dairy men. On the contrary the knowledge that the diseased cows have been destroyed will improve the standing of any dairy. The hints now thrown out in certain newspapers are simply damaging and injurious to the business of other dairy men. Six cows, we are informed by one of the official organs, were killed at a Waikiki dairy on account of tuberculosis. Consumers of milk know that there are only three dairies at Waikiki, one belongs to W. G. Irwin, another to C. W. Macfarlane, and the third is the Kapaehulu dairy farm.

Investigation proves that the condemned cattle did not belong to Macfarlane nor to Irwin. Why should the officers of the Board of Health decline to advise the public where the tuberculosis was found and which dairies have been purified. The Board and its officers are playing a very funny game indeed. Is there anything in it for the Board?

THE RETIRING JUDGE

We do not care to criticize Mr. de la Vergue on the probable eve of his departure from the official office held by him. He has during his incumbency shown a wonderful lack of independence but he has, especially during the latter portion of his term shown a certain amount of good common sense. When he yesterday sentenced Mr. Sutton, purser of the Alameda, who was found guilty of having opium in possession he surprised even THE INDEPENDENT by going distinctly out of his way to accommodate the prosecution.

A judge is not supposed to know anything in regard to a prisoner except the evidence brought before him. Mr. Sutton plead guilty to a charge of having opium in possession, the prosecution having utterly failed to prove a charge of smuggling against him. The ordinary punishment for opium in possession as established by Mr. de la Vergue himself is a fine of from $50 to $100 for the first offence. Ah Sam, Ah Chit or Ah Sock, plead guilty and de la Vergue fines them the amount mentioned. Ah Sutton, with only 7 tins in his pantaloons pleads guilty, and he is sentenced to imprisonment for one month and to pay a fine of $250.

We are willing to admit that a man in Mr. Sutton's position should be more careful and not be caught in an easy manner. But while we have that opinion, the Magistrate has no right to know anything about a man on trial except the evidence placed before him. Who Mr. Sutton is, or what he has ever been doing is none of the business of a Magistrate. All he is supposed to know is that a man charged with an offence committed within the jurisdiction of the Court is before him and is offering a plea of guilty. Judge De la Vergue will soon retire however and we cannot afford further space to teach him law and Court etiquette.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Post Office boys look very handsome in their new uniforms. They look quite warm too. Has the Post Master milliner also devised a uniform for the incumbent of the “ladies” window?

Marshal Brown in addressing the Police Judge yesterday afternoon while arraigning Mr. Sutton, referred to William's “opium gallery,” was that slip of the tongue caused by the “winking” of the girl in red?

That is a very pretty idea of England's Colonies to have the English national anthem sung at high noon on June 22nd whenever there is a little band of Britishers to gather together. The glad voices of the school children, blended in those few words of praise and prayer, will pass through the portals of the eternal Heavens more favorably and acceptably than the loud booming of the life destroying weapons of war.

THE INDEPENDENT assures Mr. Fitzgerald, who may or may not know it, that all the talk he hears, from the people who entertain him, about a Labor Commission and free white laborers is talk intended for consumption at Washington—only this and nothing more. But the gentlemen who are doing the talking may save their breath for election time in September next, for there has been many a “chief” here “taken” notes and faith they'll print them.

The Post officials look very neat and natty in their grey uniforms, but when, oh when, are we to have our Government mail wagons with the Great Seal of the Republic of Hawaii emblazoned upon them. Is it possible that our worthy President and Cabinet are waiting to save the expense of painting out the Seal and inserting the Crown? If so let the wagons be plainly and simply lettered “Hawaiian Mail,” the word “Royal” can be inserted whenever it becomes necessary.

To-day is the anniversary of the inauguration of General George Washington as President of the American Republic in 1789. Will the name of Dole of Hawaii pass echoing adown the ages with equal honor and veneration, the one for having enfranchised a people, and the other for disenfranchising a nation and stealing its life blood. The one representing a majority of free men and the other a minority of alien adventurers. The world is becoming passing critical in these latter days of universal education and, save in Hawaii, untrammelled thought. Washington-Dole, what a happy combination of contrasts. From the sublime to the ridiculous.

Some of our furiously riding scorching Jehus of the cycle have evidently collided with some of the P. C. A.'s staff, for that veteran relic of missionary fossilism echoes THE INDEPENDENT's warning cry against them and pleads for laws regulating their pedals. THE INDEPENDENT has already published its regulation and now repeats it. The first man who runs into an INDEPENDENT man without fair warning from the cycle rider will be hailed before the the magistrate on a charge that will be costly to the defendant. We shall require no less than a fine and a new suit of clothes, to say nothing of a heavy doctor's bill for damages done, for we shall employ a medical man instead of buying liniments.

Lincoln's Humor.

At the Opera House to-morrow evening our critical burgh is promised a wonderful versatility of fun and humor in Frank Lincoln's melo-monologue entertainment. Apparently it is impossible to do full justice to the talents of this clever artist, who is, apparently from his credentials, world famous, for his favoring critics have ransacked the lexicon for every complimentary adjective, and sigh for more in the cypheriferous desert they have created. He is evidently a rare genius, and a most amusing puzzle, or conundrum, of humanity and provocation for he is a “whole orchestra,” “wonderful,” “a mimic of startling fidelity,” and he even made the King of Siam say, “I never laughed so much in my life.” His audiences have invariably been “exquisitely blended” in painfully side splitting “constant roars of laughter,” and “convulsions of laughter.” We trust the Board of Health and the whole medical fraternity will be present to save the lives of their patients, the lawyers to make their wills, and the Government to learn wisdom from pungent wit and merry satire. Wall-Nichols Co. may accommodate all with seats if tickets are applied for early enough.

Card of Thanks.

The family of the late Samuel Savidge wish to express their sincere thanks to the many friends, and officers and members of the I. O. O. F. lodges for their beautiful floral offerings and other kindnesses bestowed during their late bereavement.

At the Royal Saloon there is a constant rush for the celebrated beer which George Hawkins taps. “Bob” Freuch, the nestor of Honolulu's mixologists is now in the Royal Saloon where he greets his hosts of friends with his affable smile of welcome.

H. Carl, one of the most expert barbers in Honolulu, is now to be found at the tonsorial parlors of M. A. Peixoto, at the Union Art Gallery Lane.

THE COLONIAL PREMIERS.

The Position They Will Occupy in the Diamond Jubilee Procession

In view of the brief visit yesterday of Hon Richard Sedden, Colonial Treasurer and Premier of New Zealand, who was courteously entertained by the Government, the following in regard to the part the Colonial Premiers will take in the Diamond Jubilee procession may be of interest to former Colonists here.

To St. Paul's Cathedral on June 22nd, the Colonial Premiers will ride in Royal Carriages, escorted by their own Colonial troops, and will be close to Queen Victoria on foot during the religious services in the ancient Cathedral.

The London People in speaking of this change in the program says: "By the original arrangement the Premiers were not to be in the procession, and the Colonial troops were to march along in front of the Queen throughout the route, and probably would not have set eyes on her Majesty once during the whole day.

The Colonial troops will make the first procession, cavalry coming in front, and then infantry at intervals, each Colonial contingent escorting its Premier, who will be provided with a royal carriage, drawn by 4 horses richly caparisoned. The Colonial procession, which will probably be nearly half a mile long, will start from Buckingham Palace nearly 10 minutes before the Queen's procession. On arrival at St. Paul's, the Colonial procession will be drawn up round the west front of the Cathedral, and the Premiers and their wives will alight and take places reserved for them in close proximity to the Queen on the steps of St. Paul's. The troops, facing inwards, will await the coming of the Queen, whom they will be able to salute. Her Majesty desired to see them, and by the original arrangement this would not have been possible. The Colonial procession, on the completion of the religious service, will remain in front of the Cathedral while the Queen's procession goes on to the Mansion House. It will then follow as a second procession.

The Hageys Remove.

The Hagey Institute and Club this morning removed their headquarters to J. A. Mehrten's cottage on Beritania street, between Emma and Fort, from both of which streets it can be entered. The street cars passing the doors make the location very convenient, and the choral services of the churches on Sabbath Day will naturally encourage the students and graduates, to drown their sorrows in flowing melody. Owing to the rapidity with which the Club has struck its tents and made this flank movement, there will be no formal social and musical entertainment to-morrow evening, but friends are none the less cordially invited to call, if they can genuinely take things as they find them.

In Search of Health.

P. G. Camarinos of the California Fruit Market left for San Francisco by the Alameda yesterday in company with his brother D. G. Camarinos for medical treatment. Should Mr. Camarinos sufficiently recover his health he will probably pay a visit to his relatives in Greece before his return to this country. His health has failed him since the sudden death of his faithful friend and companion John Kennedy. The best wishes for his restoration from many friends follow him.

The Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. hall was crowded last night with interested listeners on the occasion of the annual anniversary exercises. The able addresses of President A. B. Wood and Secretary Coleman were very favorably received. Standing Committees were appointed and the Treasurer reported a balance of $10.58 in the Treasury, the receipts having been $3713.55 and the expenses $3702.97.

At N. S. Sachs' is the place to find stylish and artistic Millinery.

Minister King Better.

It is gratifying to report that the statement in regard to Minister King's health appearing in this morning's paper is much exaggerated. Mr. King is much improved, and requires only a good solid rest to recuperate his strength. His malady is of the nature of nervous prostration with an attack similar to la grippe.

The Cricket Field.

Mr. A. M. Hewitt reports that he has expended $73.50 on the improvements to the cricket field on the old Recreation grounds and collected $72.50. It will require at the least $25 more to complete the improvements, so those interested can pony up to him. Drinking faucets are to be placed near the scorer's table for thirsty players, and the small boys.

The Police Judgeship.

The Attorney-General states that the appointment of the Police Judge for Honolulu has not yet been decided upon, and that Mr. De la Vergue will continue to hold the position for the presents until a successor has been selected.

Low priced articles are not always cheapest. Closing out and clearance sales are usually made up of goods priced 75 percent above selling value and double what they are worth. The cut down does not make them cheap, it's the advertisement. Inspection often proves the quality. Our store has been for years headquarters for good values—it makes no difference whether it is for a spool of thread or a silk dress pattern. Once we have had a clearance sale but it was to rid our shelves of an accumulation of old goods. They were sold for what they were worth and the people were satisfied with their bargains. If we put new goods on our shelves to-day and to-morrow tell you that we would sell them at prices below cost you would imagine there was something wrong in us or the goods. Our prices are right so are the goods.

The Virtues of the Apple.

The apple is such a common fruit that very few persons are familiar with its remarkably efficacious medicinal properties. Everybody ought to know that the very best thing they can do is to eat apples just before retiring for the night. Persons uninitiated in the mysteries of the fruit are liable to throw up their hands in horror at the visions of dyspepsia which such a suggestion may summon up; but no harm can come to even a delicate system by the eating of ripe and juicy apples just before going to bed. The apple is excellent brain food, because it has more phosphoric acid in easily digested shape than other fruits. It excites the action of the liver, promotes sound and healthy sleep, and thoroughly disinfects the mouth. This is not all. The apples help the kidney secretions and prevents calculus growths, while it obviates indigestion and is one of the best known preventives of diseases of the throat. Everybody should be familiar with such knowledge. —Dr. G. R. Searles, in Detroit Bulletin of Pharmacy.

A Proud Record.

"What was that 'Squire Huxtable that died last week?" asked the caller at the newspaper office.

"He was a man," responded the editor of the Perkins Junction Palladium, "who had taken his paper for nineteen years, always paid for it in advance, never expected me to make a local item about it when he put a new roof on his barn or sold his pork, when he came in to ask a question never began by saying, 'An editor is supposed to know everything,' always sent a $2 bill with the wedding notice whenever any of his family got married, and never had an idea that he could run my paper better than I could."

And the editor of the Palladium furiously tried to wipe away a tear with the office towel.

Self-Respect.

Mistress (from the parlor) — Bridget, the front-door bell has rung three times. Why don't answer it?

Bridget (from the kitchen) — Sure, mum, if Oi opened it the first ring, pable wud say Oi did nothing but tind the dure, an' Oi wudn't have any wan think me that lazy. — New York Weekly.

Long Experience.

"By gol," said the farmer, "fer a man who was raised in town you got the quickest eye in ketchin' a squirrel movin' round through the trees I ever see."

"All in practice," said the city man. "I have been watching the ballet through the foliage of high hats for years." — Indianapolis Journal

Most of the Time.

Madge—Husbands are like horses, not much good till they are well broken.

Mrs. Spender (with a sigh)—Bless me! I certainly have the best husband in New York, if that's the case. — New York World.

Wasn't onto Himself.

He—If I had known how sarcastic you were I never would have married you.

She—You had a chance to notice it. Didn't I say: "This is so sudden!" when you proposed to me after a two years courtship? — Cincinnati Enquirer.

Gauzy.

Miss Westside—Do you believe in woman wearing veils, M. Kohlsping? Kohlsping—I emphatically do. We are passably good-looking when you look at us through a veil. — Buffalo Times.

Statistically inclined tourist (to native)—"What is the death-rate here?" Native—"same as it is everywhere else—one death for every inhabitant." Jim Dodd's Enterprise Book at the Pantheon is a better life preservative for the rate is two for a quarter.

Ned Doyle at the Cosmopolitan is recommending the celebrated Putnam's Blackberry Brandy, a tonic which is unrivalled, assisted by Jim Thompson formerly of the S. S. Australia an excellent "half and half" is served to the thirsty customers of the Cosmopolitan.

One ounce of prevention is better than ten ounces of cure. The Empire boasts of infallible remedies against the varioloid. Wieland beer on draft beats vaccination, and Doctor Charlie Andrew presides over the finest stock of "remedies" that can be found in town. All for medicinal purposes—and cash.

From casks retuned, the mellow brew Of Pabst springs perfect to the light.

For nature sure and science true, Conspire to brew it right. The Royal and Pacific too, Supply this perfect gem. The Cosmopolitan is not behind With checks which change with them

The Anchor Saloon has the only original Seattle bock beer on tap. This superior beer was received by the Warrimoo and will be the drink of the hour during the next two months. Paddy Ryan claims that it was want of bock beer which made Pompadour succumb to the Australian Kangaroo. The original "bock" is invigorating, healthy and refreshing. Also half and half.

BY POLICE AT CALLAO.

Inquiry here confirms the story coming from Lima to the effect that the State Department has lodged a demand with the United States charge of legation at Lima for the release of the mate of the American bark "Uncle John." He was ashore on December 19 last at Callao, and was arrested because of his constant demand for "Rainier Beer." On tap or in bottles at the Criterion Saloon.
