HONOLULU, HAWAII TERRITORY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1907.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

SENSATIONAL LAND CASE IS ON TRIAL

A. Magoon and A. M. Brown Figure in Alleged Sacrifice of Property.

A rather sensational case undergoing trial before Judge De Bolt is that of B. Maile against J. W. Pratt. Mr. Pratt is only nominally the defendant on having formerly held the office of tax assessor.

J. A. Magoon appears to be the real defendant, his firm of Magoon & Lightfoot and A. G. Kanluku being defendant's attorneys.

Arthur M. Brown, the retiring county sheriff, is also put upon the defensive the case from the time when he was Territorial High Sheriff—or rather would be in that position if his past official acts any longer affected his fortune.

Mr. Maile seeks to recover three pieces of land sold under execution by Mr. Brown in the tax case of Pratt vs. Maile. Here one of the sensational features of the case appears, for while the property was of the assessed value of about 4,000 for taxes it was sacrificed under the execution in question for $550.

Officer Van Giesen, who was High Sheriff Brown's chief server of process, was the purchaser.

District Magistrate Lindsay had made an order to stay the execution, which was disregarded. On this fact a law point in the case arises.

C. W. Ashford, attorney for Maile, then as now, attended the sale, protested against it under the court's order and, when in spite of that the sale proceeded, took part in the bidding for his client.

Upon Ashford's first bid, Brown announced that the purchaser must deposit fifty per cent. of the price, spot cash on the fall of the hammer.

But, lo, when the hammer fell to Van Giesen's bid there was no deposit any percentage whatever made. High Sheriff Brown, however, hastened with the purchaser to a banker not far away and effected a loan of the required money.

These facts regarding the sale were elicited from Brown himself on the witness stand yesterday.

Mr. Magoon is represented in the complaint as having a personal interest in the property since its slaughter. This forms another of the sensational facets of the controversy.

A new sensation loomed up at the hearing yesterday afternoon when Mr. Magoon, as a witness, refused to produce a paper that Mr. Ashford asked for. This was a purported agreement between Magoon and Van Giesen relative to the handling of the property.

Judge De Bolt did not lend the court's authority to the demand for the paper, but he suggested that Mr. Ashford had a remedy, if he deemed the refusal of the witness prejudicial his client's case, in proceedings to require Magoon to show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of contempt of court.

Tax Assessor Jas. L. Holt, when on the stand, was pressed by Mr. Magoon in cross-examination to justify his valuing a piece of land on Alakea street at $500. He said he assessed it according to the value of adjoining property.

Mr. Magoon asked him if he would give $6500 for a property that was assessed at only $15 a month. Mr. Ashford, objecting to the question, said he would ask Mr. Magoon if he did not offer $6000 for the same property.

"I never dreamed of such a thing," Mr. Magoon replied and laughed at the idea.

"Very well, we will prove that you did," Mr. Ashford rejoined. Judge De Bolt asked if the valuation made much difference—a few hundreds.

"When it comes to a few thousands I think it makes some difference," Mr. Magoon answered.

"Perhaps it will simplify matters," Mr. Ashford said, "if Mr. Magoon will say what rent he gets from sub-letting a portion of this property."

"I have a subpoena," was the response, "and presume I will be asked to question on the stand."

Eugene Aiu, an assistant clerk of Honolulu District Court, was called with the records of Pratt vs. Maile from that tribunal.

Mr. Magoon objected to the admission of most of the papers in the batch, making his chief fight on the contention stated in these words:

"The District Magistrate had no jurisdiction to make the order staying execution, not a bit more than President Roosevelt would have."

Judge De Bolt asked if the District Magistrate had no power to withdraw execution. Mr. Magoon said no, it was a matter of right, and, to the court's suggestion of the possibility of a mistake in the execution, added that it then came a matter for a court of equity. The court then supposed the case of recovery by the magistrate that he had no authority to issue the execution when he did.

Mr. Ashford quoted authorities to show that courts everywhere had control of their own processes. He did not say that this held good at all times, but did in the present case, at the stage in question. There was no levy on the property, but he would refer to that point later. He suggested the question whether the court's order of stay did not contribute to the sacrifice of the property from its being proclaimed at the sale.

The court admitted the records.

ONE HIGH FINANCING IN EXCHANGE OF BONDS

One of the largest financial transactions in Honolulu for a long time will be consummated tomorrow morning. Han' Amitage, the stock broker, has practically completed a deal whereby bonds of the par value of $35,000 have changed hands.

It is in effect the exchange of an investment by a well known estate in Oahu Railway & Land Co.'s bonds for Waialua Agricultural Co.'s bonds, with a block of about $8000 in bonds from an outside holder passing at the same time.

Besides the estate certain local banks participate in the deal. In Waialua five per cent. bonds $73,000 are taken at 99 by one of the parties, and in Oahu Railway & Land Co. six per cent. bonds $62,000 are taken at 103 by the other party.

Everything about this large transaction will be completed in time to have it reported at tomorrow's session of the Honolulu Stock & Bond Exchange.

PATTERSON BLEW OUT OFF BASE HIS BRAINS

Flimsy Charge Against Attorney General's Office. Watchman Suicides After Fatally Wounding His Wife.

"Mr. Patterson's statement as contained in the Bulletin of last evening is libelous in the extreme," said Attorney General Peters when interviewed last evening.

"It was late in the afternoon when the article was called to my attention, and most of the office force had left for the day. I immediately sent out for Mr. Patterson, but he could not be found. And it was only after waiting for him personally at his place of business that I was able to learn something of the nature of the charge made."

"At first Mr. Patterson absolutely refused to say anything about the matter, but when presented with the alternative of telling me who the person was who had made 'suggestions' to him or relating the facts to the grand jury, he stated that the 'representative' of the department to whom he referred in his article lived on Wilder avenue, but that he did not know his name."

"Mr. Fleming lives on Wilder avenue, and upon communication with him I ascertained that some two months ago Mr. Patterson was employed by Mr. Trent to do some carpentry work on Mr. Fleming's home, and that while there complained bitterly that under present conditions in Honolulu a white man could get nothing to do, and Mr. Fleming in response suggested that the demand for mechanics in San Francisco was in excess of the supply, and that under such conditions lucrative employment could be easily obtained."

"The suggestion by Mr. Fleming, I am sure, was made in all kindness, and a natural one to make upon the complaint made. And it seems to me that Mr. Patterson's statement in view of Mr. Fleming's explanation is reckless in the extreme."

"The only explanation that I can make in view of the circumstances is an undue regard by Mr. Patterson of his own personal importance, and the assumption by him that his knowledge of the conditions concerning which he obtained some notoriety in connection with his position as an inspector on the Nuuanu dam was such, that those affected might desire its suppression by his absence. Our department is certainly not interested in Mr. Patterson nor the information which he may have or says he has concerning the construction of the Nuuanu dam."

The statement by Mr. Patterson on which the Attorney General gave the above interview was as follows: He said he was going to make a report to the Legislature on the Nuuanu dam and "show up Carter and all the rest of them who are in the same boat," and concluded thus:

"I am not going to California just now either. A representative of the Attorney General's Department came to me some time ago and suggested to me that it would be a pretty good thing that his wife had been killed by the bullet he had just fired through her body. Charles James committed suicide yesterday, placing the muzzle of a six-shooter in his mouth and blowing out his brains. His little ten-year-old daughter was a witness to the murderous attack upon her mother and the suicide of her father."

The tragedy took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of the deceased on Ilha street, two doors south of Kaula, shortly before five o'clock. So far as can be learned, there was no reason for the rash acts of the deceased. There had been no quarrel at the time of the affair nor previously, the neighbor being authority for the statement that the couple were living apparently upon the best of terms. Nicholas, a neighbor, heard two shots fired and ran into James' house, finding the man lying dead upon the floor and the woman standing in a corner and imploring help. The little girl was in the room, speechless from fright. He immediately notified the police, the ambulance being sent to take the wounded woman to the hospital and the body of the suicide to the morgue.

At the hospital it was found that the woman had been shot through the abdomen, the bullet entering her side just above the right hip and ranging downward through the body. The wound is a dangerous one and may result fatally.

Deputy Sheriff Kalakia, who was notified immediately after the shooting, summoned a jury for the inquest. The members were sworn in and had viewed the body before six o'clock last night, adjourning to meet again tomorrow night.

The weapon with which the shooting was done was found beside the corpse. It is a 38-caliber six-shooter, two chambers only being found discharged.

Last night the body was taken to Williams' undertaking room, from where the funeral will take place today under the auspices of the Townsend Burial Association.

Inquiry at the hospital last night brought the answer that the wounded woman's condition was most critical. The bullet had been located after a long series of probing, but little hopes were held out of her recovery.

thing for me to go there. He asked me not to work against Holloway, and said that while I might get the office of Assistant Superintendent of Public Works abolished, that would do me but little good, while in California things were becoming. I expect that if I had given him any satisfaction I might have gone to California in pretty good shape, but I have been offered so many bribes, and I would not go to California."

PENSIONS FOR HAWAII'S WORN-OUT TEACHERS

Proposed Act in Aid of Aged Pedagogue
--Davis an Inspector--Agricultural College for Honolulu.

Pensioning superannuated teachers from and after the year 1910 will be the effort made by the present Board of Education at the suggestion of Superintendent of Public Instruction Babbitt. The matter will be taken before the legislature at the coming session and the endeavor will be made to persuade the lawmakers that, in providing a fund for pensioning such teachers, they will be doing a most commendable act.

Under the act proposed by Mr. Babbitt, the Superintendent of Public Instruction becomes chairman of a Board of Trustees comprising the Commissioners of Education; the territorial treasurer is treasurer of the fund; the territorial auditor draws the warrants and the attorney general is the legal adviser of the board. It is proposed to set aside 2 1/2 per cent. of the school taxes collected in the Territory as the nucleus of the fund. The school taxes amount to $100,000 and 2 1/2 per cent. would amount to about $2500 or $3000. The fund will accumulate through interest-bearing deposits, as well as by hoped-for legacies and donations. The fund is not to be available until 1910 by which time it is thought that it will be sufficiently large to draw against for the very few who may be qualified to be pensioners at that time.

Those who have taught in schools for thirty years, and at least twenty-five in the public schools of the Territory, may voluntarily retire as teachers and become eligible at once to a pension. The board may retire teachers who are old and unable to retain their positions, if they have served an aggregate term of 25 years in the schools, provided 20 of these have been served with the public schools. No pension shall exceed $600 per annum.

It is proposed that teachers who wish to become eligible to participate in the benefits of this fund, shall contribute a small amount of their salaries to the fund, but should they leave the school department even before they acquire the qualifications necessary to become pensioners, they will be entitled to withdraw fifty per cent. of what they have paid in. The benefits to teachers are exceptional and the proposed act merely follows along the lines of pension acts in vogue elsewhere.

The pension act was discussed at the regular meeting held yesterday afternoon which was attended by Superintendent Babbitt, Commissioners Mrs. J. M. Dowsett, W. R. Farrington, Frank Dodge and David Ai, and Normal Inspectors King and Baldwin.

An important matter under discussion was the over-crowding of certain schools and the problem of how to dispose of the children of the newly arrived Portuguese immigrants. The matter came up through a letter received from Mrs. Overend, principal of the Waipahu (Oahu Plantation) school. She stated that for sometime she has been compelled to turn away numerous children, owing to limited quarters, but that the problem has assumed a more serious phase since the arrival on the plantation of the Portuguese immigrants and their numerous children. Mrs. Overend stated that as these children have no knowledge of the English language, it is necessary, no matter what their age, to take them into the receiving room, where sixty-three pupils are already enrolled. The school has four teachers and the seating capacity of the school is 208. Many children who have always lived at Waipahu have been compelled to await an opportunity to go in.

Mr. Babbitt said that this was a matter which would be up to the legislature to remedy. Mr. Farrington considered it a serious matter as there is a likelihood of discontent to be manifested by the new arrivals, to whom have been held out promises of an education for their children.

When Mr. Babbitt was asked whether he could not provide another room he called attention to the fact that the Department of Instruction is without incidental funds, having but 72 cents left and only $32 in the repair fund. He said he had even borrowed $10 worth of stamps to carry on his correspondence.

It was suggested that perhaps the plantation could temporarily meet the difficulty by providing quarters for the children. Mr. Babbitt said he could apply a teacher. The same conditions were reported of the school at Aiea. It was finally decided that the Superintendent communicate with the plantation authorities acquainting them with the financial difficulties under which the department is at present laboring, and to request the plantation to assist the department in the matter of providing the way to begin the education of the new arrivals.

A proposed concurrent resolution concerning the proposed Agricultural College was read, and a report thereon submitted by Mr. Farrington of the special committee appointed to investigate the matter. The report recommends a site somewhere on the island of Oahu and near Honolulu, the latter being the center of all activity in the islands, and thereby giving the students, male and female, better opportunities to study mechanical and agricultural subjects. It was stated by Mr. Farrington that there is a good deal of ignorance manifested as to the nature of an Agricultural College. It is not a school in which to learn farming, he said, but is a college devoted to advanced studies in special lines, different from the classical studies pursued in the academic schools.

Lahaina is not favored for the establishment of such a school under the endowment of $25,000 per annum from the United States Government, as being adapted only to the pursuit of a knowledge of farming.

Honorary life certificates were granted to Mrs. Tamar Hussey, who has taught for 23 years, holding a third-class certificate; and to Miss Alice West, holding a second-class certificate, who has taught for 27 years.

Life certificates were granted to Cyril O. Smith, who has taught for 17 years, eleven of which have been under a first-class certificate; and to Thomas Aiu of Kailua, who has taught 18 years.

J. D. McVeigh, superintendent at the Leper Settlement, Molokai, was appointed school agent for the Settlement. This was done owing to the fact that the other school agent on Molokai has his headquarters on another part of the island and is not able to go to Kalaupapa as frequently as he should. It became the duty of the Board to select a successor to Normal Inspector Wells, who met with such a terrible accident on Maui a couple of months ago. J. C. Davis, who formerly held the position of inspector, and later became Superintendent of Public Instruction and eventually resigned, was appointed to the position, as Mr. Wells is believed to be in such physical condition that he may not be able to resume his duties. Mr. Davis will begin work today.

There was a readjustment of salaries of several teachers, who are entitled to raises in pay because of increased work, addition of rooms to schools where they are principals, etc. Those affected by the raise are as follows:

Mrs. Rose Aiau, Waiialua; Miss Kalei Ewaliko, Kaiwiki; Mrs. Chas. King, Olua 12-Miles; Miss Quinn, Pahala; Robert Kihoi, Waimea; Eugene Capellas, Hakalau; Manuel De Corte, Keauhou; Mrs. Omsted, Waimea; Miss Kapu, Koolau; Miss Lima, Kalaheo.

The following appointments of teachers made by Mr. Babbitt were approved. They were for positions mostly in the Hamakua district of Hawaii where several changes have recently occurred, necessitating immediate appointments. Mr. Babbitt wrote to several teachers in the various places, offering them positions. Normal Inspector King was authorized on his trip to Hawaii this week to effect the changes. The appointments are as follows:

Mrs. Jane Olney, Ahualoa; Miss Elvira Osorio, Pepeekeo; Mrs. David Marsh, Papekou; Miss Agnes Kamakawioole, Paaupau; Miss Francis Greenfield, Honokaa; Mrs. Yanagihara, Koolau; Miss Gertrude Topham, Kilauea; Miss Lydia Macy, Pohakupuka.

The resignations of Miss Christian of the Hanamaulu school, Maui, and that of Chas. G. Williams of Honokaa, were accepted. The former is to be married and the latter intends going to the mainland to study.

Miss Dunn was transferred from Koloa to Kalaheo and Miss Aylett was transferred from Hanapepe to Koloa. Miss Tier is to be transferred from Kilauea to Hanapepe, in case she desires to accept the appointment to the latter school.

RESTARICK
AND BEISSELBishop and Priest on Genesis of Church of England.

Honolulu, December 31, 1906.

Right Rev. Bishop Restarick.

Dear Sir: Your open letter in yesterday's Advertiser requests me to state, "not for the purpose of controversy, but on behalf of historical truth and accuracy," by what Act of Parliament the Church of England came into existence.

In answer I beg to say that it affords me great pleasure to satisfy your request for either purpose.

You can not be unacquainted with the fact that the Church of England is meant when there is question of "the established church"; that is, "the church established by law" or by the English Parliament. This was officially done in 1534, when King Henry VIII was declared the supreme head of the church of his realm. When the love-sick King of England could not obtain in Rome the divorce he coveted for his virtuous wife, Catherine of Aragon, one of his courtiers, Thomas Cromwell, suggested him a radical remedy for all his troubles. He should follow the examples of the German princes of that time, who broke away from Rome. This idea pleased Henry very much, and since 1534 he works at its realization. He would enjoy this way, besides the civil authority, also the authority and the privileges held by the Pope.

All he had to do was to make a law to that effect. Matters were ripe for this end in 1534. The bill abolishing the power of the Pope within the English kingdom was introduced into the Commons in the beginning of March. It was transmitted to the House of Lords a week later, was passed by them and received the royal assent before the end of that month. It was styled "An Act Concerning the King's Highness to be the Supreme Head of the Church of England and to Have Authority to Reform and Redress all Errors, Heresies and Abuses in the Same."

Church property freely distributed among the legislators won them over to the King's plan. Two men, John Fisher and Thomas Morris, who refused to prostitute their consciences for the King's wishes, paid for it by dying in 1535 on the scaffold.

Thus, history teaches, England was separated from Rome. This decree of Parliament declaring the bearer of the earthly crown to be also the sovereign in spiritual matters, has been reaffirmed since several times. On the strength of it the English sovereigns have since 1534 ruled their church. They have in turn commissioned their Parliament to take charge of spiritual affairs, to adopt or modify the Common Prayer Book, the articles of faith, the oath of office, the liturgy, the ritual; in short, they have had, and are having yet, a "Church established by law," or by the will of Parliament.

Now, as to the theological value of such an establishment, I explained my opinion the other day in my communication to the Star.

Thanking you for the opportunity you gave me to contribute this much to the cause of truth, and remaining at your orders for answering any other questions you may have to ask in this connection, I am, right reverend sir, yours respectfully,

JAMES C. BEISSEL.

BISHOP RESTARICK'S REJOINER.

To the Rev. James C. Beissel.

Dear Sir: Thank you for your reply to my open letter which appeared in the Star tonight; but you have entirely failed to answer my question. Your statement was: "The Church of England came into existence by an act of Parliament." I asked you to state by what act of Parliament this was done. Knowing that the Church of England was not brought into existence by an act of Parliament, I was perfectly aware that you could not name such an act.

In reply to my question you give first a brief account of the disannulment (not divorce, properly speaking) of the marriage of Henry VIII, which he contracted with his brother's widow, which marriage was contrary to canon law. I have nothing to say in favor of Henry VIII, whom I despise as much as you can do, and upon whom I look as one of the worst enemies the Church of England ever had, because he robbed her and weakened her.

You then name an act of Parliament: "Concerning the King's Highness to be the Supreme Head of the Church of England."

To this I will reply: Henry VIII, could not have been declared supreme head of the Church of England, if the church had not been already in existence. Parliament was legislating for the church in existence as it had often done before, and was not legislating to bring it into existence. It was authorizing the transfer of the headship from a foreign bishop to an English king.

It is important to note here that the bishops and clergy in convocation had agreed to accept this headship "so far as the law of Christ will allow," which S. Hubert Burke, Roman Catholic, admits destroys the force of the act. It is well also to note that this act remained in force only until 1553, being repealed at that time, and it was not repealed by Elizabeth, who had a personal dislike to even a modified form of the title which it conferred on the sovereign. As to the Church of England coming "into existence" in 1534, I will say that the first article of Magna Charta, 1215, declares: "The Church of England shall be free and have her rights entire and her liberties uninjured." You are entirely incorrect in your statement that the Church of England was established by law in 1534, for it had been established ever since there had been an English nation, being one of the three estates of the realm, and Parliament had frequently legislated concerning it.

Included in such legislation are the Statutes 3, Richard II., c. 3; 7, Ibid., c. 12, etc., and the statutes of Praemunire under Richard II. and Henry IV., etc. In 1532 Parliament had passed an act abolishing the appellate jurisdiction of the Bishop of Rome, investing it in the archbishops, bishops and other ordinaries of the Church of England. And in 1531 an act of Parliament had abolished the payment of annates. If the Church of England had not been established by law previous to 1534, Parliament could not have passed acts in 1532 and 1531, and many acts before that, in reference to the church and its government.

It is well to know, however, that the initiative was taken by the clergy of the Church of England in convocation in 1531, when the King was petitioned for an act of Parliament that annates be abolished and that if the Pope resisted the operation of such an act England should withdraw from obedience to Rome.

Again, if a new church came into existence in 1534, how was it that in 1570 the Pope excommunicated Elizabeth and the English people by the bull known as "Regnans in Excelsis," by which Elizabeth and her adherents "are to be cut off from the Body of Christ"? If the Church of England had been considered a sect founded in 1534, how could the Queen and people have been "cut off" by the Bishop of Rome in 1570? I will not go into the matter of the Pope's declaration that he deprived her of her "kingdom and all dominion," and absolved her subjects from allegiance.

Up to 1570 those in England who maintained an allegiance to Rome were accustomed to attend the Church of England services. It was after this papal bull that they ceased to do so. (See State Trials I, 242; and The Lord Coke, His Speech and Charge, 1607.)

Again, that Parliament had no idea of legislating a Church into existence is shown by the language of the act of 1534, which in clause 19 reads as follows: "Provided always that this act, nor anything or things therein contained shall be hereafter interpreted or expounded that your grace, your nobles and subjects intend by the same to decline or vary from the congregation of Christ's Church concerning the very articles of the Catholic faith of Christendom, or in any other things declared by Holy Scripture and the Word of God necessary for your and their salvations, but only to make an ordinance by policies necessary and convenient to repress vice, and for good conservation of this realm in peace, unity and tranquility from rapine and spoil, ensuring much the old ancient customs of the realm in that behalf; not minding to seek for any relief, succours or remedies for any worldly things and human laws, in any cause of necessity, but in this realm at the hands of your highness, your heirs and successors, kings of this realm, which have, and ought to have, an imperial power and authority in the same, and not obliged in any worldly causes to any other superior."

Such in brief are the historical facts. As to the theological view, I am aware that there can be no discussion on that. You hold that without the sanction of the Pope and his express authorization there can be ordained no valid ministry and so according to your idea no part of the Church Catholic. I maintain with equal sincerity that there was a time when Catholic bishops were not subject to the Bishop of Rome, as Greek bishops are not at the present time, and as they have never been. As St. Paul was not subject to St. Peter, whom he at one time withstood because he "was to be blamed" (Gal. II, 11), so bishops of the early church frequently withstood the Bishop of Rome.

For many centuries bishops in England were not subject to Rome. Blackstone says in his commentary: "The ancient British Church was a stranger to the Bishop of Rome and all his pretended authority." He also states—Com. Bk. 4, p. 105, c. 8—that the Bishop of Rome at the time of the Norman conquest took that opportunity of establishing his spiritual encroachments and was even permitted to do so by the policy of the Conqueror in order more effectually to humble the Saxon clergy. Blackstone also states—Bk. 3, p. 6, c. 5—that "the civil and canon laws were first imported into England" in 1151, when appeals to Rome were allowed in ecclesiastical causes. But even then the Church and the Parliament struggled against these encroachments till finally they were thrown off by the actions of the Church and Parliament extending over many years and during many reigns.

Your theological position I respect and am quite aware that no historical facts which I could present could affect your view of the matter in the least. But the Church of England has always appealed to history and on that I take my stand. Not as citing parallel cases, but as illustrating the process of change, let me close with the following:

The joint action of convocation and Parliament changed the relationship of the Church of England with Rome; the joint action of the Church and the charter of the civil authority in Hawaii brought about the change of relationship which culminated in 1902, when the Anglican Church in Hawaii was transferred from the charge of the Archbishop of Canterbury to the Presiding Bishop in the United States. In neither case did a new Church come into existence.

Thanking you for your courteous reply and the opportunity thus given me of stating certain historical facts, and wishing you a Happy New Year, faithfully yours,

HENRY B. RESTARICK.

THE SOCKER
FOR TODAYMailers to Make Last Appearance of Season.

At 2:30 this afternoon the Mailers meet the Infantry, this being the last game of the season for the champions who have gone through thus far without having lost a game, and with only one goal scored against them. What the Infantry will do against them to-day remains to be seen. The soldiers are playing a wonderfully improved game from what they did when the season opened.

The second game will be between the Punahou and Y. M. C. A. and from the showing that each of these teams made on Saturday it is evident that the "Y. M.'s" are not going to have a repetition of the easy walk-over they had in the first round.

Teams will be chosen from the following players:

Mailers—Belsler, Chillingworth, Anderson, McGill, Center, Jamieson, Froeth, Gray, H. Bailey, F. Bailey, Catterall, E. Kea.

Infantry—Thompson, Dougherty, Swift, Kolb, von Hofen, Ewing, Van Vliet, Bishop, Jury, Castidy, Winchell, Stamper.

Punahou—Lo On, Macconel, Soper, Davis, McDougall, Prangnell, Withington, C. Catton, J. H. Catton, Macaulay, Dodge, Foss.

Y. M. C. A.—Dickson, Stanley Beardmore, Turner, Macaulay, Spalding, Ziegler, Oss, Blackman, Churton, Waterhouse, Robbins, Martin, Gill, Super.

All delegates to the Hawaiian Association Football League are hereby notified that a meeting will be held on the grounds this afternoon at 2:15 to consider a protest received from the captain of the Y. M. C. A. team, in regard to Saturday's game with the Diamond Heads. All delegates are requested to be on hand promptly.

Old
Planters

The Hawaiian Gazette Co. has, at considerable expense, succeeded in completing a limited number of sets of Planters' Monthlies from Vol. 1 of 1892 up to the first of the present year.

Of the earlier numbers, long since out of print, many issues were entirely exhausted, making it necessary to reset and reprint all such numbers, thus adding materially to the cost. This extra expense was more than justified, however, by the valuable nature of much of the matter contained in these old numbers, matter that cannot be found elsewhere than in these books and that is valuable really beyond price to the plantation interests.

These Planters are uniformly bound in full law sheep, giving them an attractive appearance in addition to their durability.

Anyone desiring a complete set, or any part of a set, would do well to communicate with the Gazette Co. at an early date, as there are but very few sets available at the present time, and in order to complete more sets it will be necessary to reset and print more back numbers, thus increasing the cost still more.

JANUARY 1.

NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS.

A great many good resolutions are born on New Year's day and many of them survive. They are all worth surviving. No one ever heard of a man who made a bad resolution on New Year's day. When that time comes one's normal impulses are fine and true. The man who goes into executive session with himself, on January 1, never says: "I am going to drink more, smoke more, gamble more and play more deviltry this year than I did last." Far from it. He goes in for some plan of self-reform that is worth his while. Whatever his motive may be, whether moral or selfish or economic, he lays out a scheme of self-improvement, not self-destruction.

So many people do this on New Year's day as to make a big difference with the returns of the liquor and cigar business; and to counteract it liquor men keep open house on the first of the year and the cigar men are apt to see that their regular customers get a gift of Havanas with the compliments of the season. Nevertheless a certain number, annually, stick to their resolutions. Possibly, at the end of the next year, there is no loss to the sellers to be seen on their books, but that is because a new crop of customers has meantime grown up.

The man who keeps his word with himself is, of course, the man of character. It is his solace, besides proving his grit, to find that habit is as strong on the good side as on the bad. It is not merely the bad habit that clings; any habit does. A good habit once fixed, presents as obstinate a front to the world as a bad habit. For example, a health-seeker who accustoms himself to a cold bath daily finds that he must have it without fail, the desire being as strong as it was wont to be, in the days when he didn't care so much about his health, for a morning cocktail. A man may say: "I will get eight hours' sleep, I will eat moderately, exercise regularly and leave off liquor," and if he keeps his word for three months the habit will be as hard and fast as it would be for self-indulgence after "a good time" of the same length.

So make your resolutions today and try your stamina, anyhow. If you don't keep them you will at least know yourself, which is one of the goals of wisdom. You will know that you are below the normal standard of men; that you are a slave and that your place is among the stragglers from the human column, an object of growing interest to the Red Cross corps. On the other hand if you succeed in keeping your resolutions, you will not only be better off, morally and physically and in reputation, but you will have drunk deeply of that most strengthening tonic in all nature—self-confidence. And only before the man of absolute self-confidence, the great prizes of life lie.

THE NEED OF CIVIC PRIDE.

No greater compliment could be paid the people here than that by the Californian who asked for a copy of the ordinance which he thought was responsible for the beautiful lawns of Honolulu. After viewing the tolerated bill boards which disfigure many localities in the city he probably thought the civic pride evidenced by the lawns and gardens was the result of a law passed by the supervisors. Take King street, in many localities, for its entire length and you will find bill board blotches and painted advertisements on the dead walls and on the fronts of buildings which indicate an utter absence of civic pride or an indifference to the appearance of the principal street. At the corner of Punchbowl is a building with front and sides painted over in glaring colors with signs, setting forth the efficacy of certain brands of cattle food and the purity of a brand of flour. A better illustration of Beauty and the Beast will not be found here than the Atherton lawn and the disfigurement opposite. And this condition prevails at intervals as far out as Kalakaua Avenue and to a greater or less extent beyond.

Whether or not this form of advertising may be considered legitimate is not a question here. Cities larger and towns smaller, on the mainland, have put their stamp of disapproval upon it in various ways. One section has been rid of disfiguring bill boards through the local council putting a tax on each board erected. Another has insisted that they be not built within the fire limits of the town and in many sections they have been shut out through sentiment. It is the business of the owner of the boards to get the most desirable of the available locations and the rent is not always large. Assuming that the business is a legitimate one he is not to be censured for a lack of civic pride when the mighty dollar is a consideration. Primarily, then, the fault rests with the man who rents the building or the lot for the purpose. If the many improvement clubs will use their influence upon the men who provide the places there will be few opportunities for men who are willing to deface the town in this way, for a consideration. Such organizations should be able to get the land and building owners to put pride in their town above the small compensation they receive from the bill-board men. One pleasing feature and a redeeming one as far as the citizens here are concerned, in connection with the outdoor display, is the fact that in but one or two instances can the disfigurement be laid directly at the door of the local merchant. The bills, or posters, are furnished, principally, by the manufacturers or jobbers in certain articles and sent here to be placed and the bills are largely paid by those persons who desire to increase the sale of their goods in this Territory. Signs are erected and the advertisements painted upon them or the bills posted. In the case of the pickle sign, which stood for so long on Waikiki way, Mr. Rodiek, of H. Hackfeld & Co., when he saw that it was objectionable to the people here, wrote to that effect to the manufacturers and was immediately advised to have it moved elsewhere. The men who send the posters here do not care a single jot or tittle whether the streets of Honolulu are beautiful or otherwise; the dealers would be as well satisfied if the same amount of money was spent in newspaper advertising because they know the results are quicker in that way. There is a golden opportunity, now that a new Board of Supervisors is entering upon its duties, to lend aid in ridding the place of one of the disfigurements which attracts the attention of tourists more than the mosquitoes and with a similar horror.

THE SWELLING SALTON SEA.

Despite previous reports to the effect that the Colorado river had been restored to its old channel, late files show that the great stream is still pouring into the San Diego and Lower California deserts. Imperial valley, a place of reclaimed fertility, with many inhabitants, is now threatened. Much of the inundated area is below the level of the sea and was once a part of it; and if the deserts are allowed to fill, the entire exposed west bank of the Colorado will naturally melt away and the geography of the region be permanently changed.

In such an event the climate of Southern California would be likely to alter for the worse. Humidity would spoil the comfort of its warm weather and increase the chill of its cool weather; and the cultivation of some of the staple California fruits, particularly raisin grapes, might be interfered with by summer rains. Hence the anxiety shown by the Los Angeles commercial bodies and other organizations to get Federal help in harnessing the waters.

As to the possibility of such help, complications have arisen. Mexico owns the outlet of the Colorado river and her co-operation in the work of protecting the desert would have to be secured. A treaty in point is being considered. But diplomacy is slow and floods swift and before the United States comes to terms with its neighboring republic, the mischief may be done. Meanwhile the California senators, by their talk about annexation of the peninsula, or a part of it, may decide Mexico to hold aloof and let the inundation do its worst.

We do not wonder that a waterfront policeman who expected to get $250 for shipping a crew should be angry at his failure to connect, but what right has a police officer, whose time is hired by the County, to be in the crimping business? Is this another phase of the all-prevailing police graft? One successful deal a week of that sort would make the job of waterfront policeman more than twice as good, from a financial standpoint, as that of governor of the Territory or justice of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Patterson seems to have brooded too long for his own good over the Nuuanu dam.

Happy New Year.

PRESIDENTIAL REPUBLICAN POLITICS.

Mr. Taft need not worry about the Presidency. The people have nothing against him, but the idea of inheriting one administration from another is not pleasing to them. In 1868 they turned from the eligible survivors of Lincoln's cabinet and chose Grant; in 1876 they refused Grant a third term and declined to nominate his Secretary of the Treasury instead; in 1880, they refused to renominate Hayes or to give the prize to his Secretary of the Treasury, John Sherman; and in one departure from the rule in 1884, when Garfield's Secretary of State was named, the nominee was defeated. None of Cleveland's cabinet ministers suited the Democrats, when his terms were up, and the party went into the House of Representatives for Bryan. Mr. Roosevelt, heedless of these examples, has put forward both Taft and Root for next year's convention to choose from and Secretary Shaw has done the same thing for himself. But not a mother's son of them is likely to be put up. Having had the Rooseveltian influence in power for nearly two terms, the people, though by no means averse to it, and even profiting by it, are nevertheless talking about a new deal. They want to see what other influences would do. At present, despite a studied attempt to depreciate him on the part of some of the administration papers, Governor Hughes, who takes office today in New York, draws the most Republican attention.

THE GRUB SHORT AS WELL AS BAD

U. S. Commissioner G. A. Davis yesterday heard the taking of more depositions in the ship W. F. Babcock li-bels.

Marshal Hendry has had to make another call on the libeling sailors for money to cover the costs.

No bond has been put up as yet for the release of the ship.

Some of the witnesses have Scandinavian accents with names of French and Italian casts.

Du Vior was one of them, a man with a healthy complexion and intelligent and open countenance. He said he did not go to hospital on arrival here. Having been six weeks in a New York hospital he did not want any more hospital. When asked how he had been treated he said he did not drink, and when put right on the nature of the question said he treated himself—to a mouth wash.

Luis, steward of the Babcock, was unqualified in his condemnation of the food supplied to the men. The first while, according to him, they had only about three-fourths of the regulation supply of rations, and afterward not more than one-half of the due amount. He could not eat the salt meat, it was so rankly pickled. On the passage from Baltimore to Honolulu, many of the crew were sick.

Their flesh became flabby, on pressure leaving a dent, and teeth of some became loose. Two died on the voyage, one from a fit and the other after an illness of six months.

Certain kinds of food were served in the cabin after being cut off the fore-castle mess. Of such was a canned fruit, roast beef, pig's feet, string beans, etc. Even of rice the cabin had it when the fore-castle had none.

Geo. D. Gear and J. J. Dunne are for the sailors, and W. L. Stanley defends the ship.

ALL-AROUND CHAMPIONSHIP

Athletic Event Which Should Be Popular Here.

A suggestion was recently made in a local paper that an all-around athletic championship be decided in Honolulu.

The idea is a good one and such an event would assuredly prove both interesting and popular. Hawaii has several athletes who could compile a record which would be creditable anywhere.

The All-Around Championship of America was instituted in 1884 for the purpose of giving a man who is a good average athlete a chance to win championship honors in demonstrating his ability in all-around work.

A man receives credit for his performances, and it is not necessary that he should be a champion in any one particular line in order to win the all-around championship.

The contest comprises the following ten events: 100 yards dash, high jump, long jump, pole vault, throwing 16-pound shot, throwing 56-pound weight, 120 yards hurdle race, half-mile walk and one-mile run.

In scoring the individual all-around championship, a percentage system is used. In each event the world's best amateur record is taken as a maximum, for which 1000 points are allowed. Then a standard or limit is established, and performers equal to or worse than these standards score nothing. For performances between the maximum and the limit, points are allowed in accordance with graded scales.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible, are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and when given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

THE REGATTA DECLARED OFF

Bad Weather Forces a Postponement of Event.

Owing to the stormy weather the Waikiki Regatta, which was to have taken place today, has been postponed.

No canoe could race in the sea which is raging at Waikiki and it would be almost impossible to hold any of the events on the program. Many of the entries were from Kailua, but the surf has been so heavy as to make the trip of the canoes from Kailua to Waikiki impracticable.

The enforced postponement of the regatta will cause universal disappointment, for it promised to be an event as enjoyable as unique.

When the regatta will be held has not been decided, but an effort will be made to bring it off on Washington's Birthday, after the Floral Parade.

You probably know that Goldfield Nevada, is the greatest mining camp the world has ever known. One mine, the Mohawk, produced $2,000,000 in 106 days. I advised everybody to buy it at $1 a share. It has since sold up to $20. Fortunes have been made in the Goldfield stocks. In the next few months we are going to see a greater boom than ever and more fortunes will be made. To know what is doing you will have to read my market letter. I get my information direct from my Goldfield office. One customer of mine made $16,000 in three months. You can do as well if you have the right information. Send me your name and address and I will advise you. It costs you nothing. Address:

YESTERDAY'S STORM BROUGHT A LOT OF TREES DOWN

Pays'

The kona storm prevailing late yesterday afternoon played havoc throughout the city with trees and shrubbery. One of the two huge trees in the park of the Hawaiian Hotel was blown over about 5 o'clock, its branches crashing upon the roof of the Ewa lanai and breaking a portion of it. This tree was a landmark and was covered with vines, the bougainvillea predominating.

The kona storm prevailing late yesterday afternoon played havoc throughout the city with trees and shrubbery. One of the two huge trees in the park of the Hawaiian Hotel was blown over about 5 o'clock, its branches crashing upon the roof of the Ewa lanai and breaking a portion of it. This tree was a landmark and was covered with vines, the bougainvillea predominating.

At the time it fell Dr. Wayson and a tourist were in the barber shop underneath the Ewa lanai. The talk had been upon the San Francisco earthquake. Suddenly there was an alarming crack emanating from the big algaroba tree. Then the tree fell over with a crash. The barber, tourist and the shoe polisher fled through the door, leaving Dr. Wayson in the chair with his face lathered preparatory to the shave. When the excitement was over the barber returned. He raised the chair and proceeded to dampen the doctor's hair. "What about the shave?" inquired the doctor. "All done," replied the tonsorial artist. "Well, what about this lather?" asked the doctor. In the excitement the barber thought he had completed the shave, in spite of the fact that the medico's face was foamy with lather.

On Pensacola street an algaroba tree fell in front of Atwater's place, completely blocking the street. Another fell in Tenney's yard. At the Seaside Hotel a big tree fell crashing into the kitchen and some small rooms of the old house. Another fell in the premises adjoining the Episcopal cathedral, carrying a telephone pole and wires with it.

As the 5:30 car was ascending Luna-lilo street between Alapai and Hack-feld streets the trolley had to be lowered on account of a limb from a tree straddling the trolley wire. Manager Ballentyne was on the spot at the time watching the limb and tree, which were veering under the wind pressure. The car had hardly got to the top of the hill when the tree fell, blocking the track.

A large algaroba tree on the Davis property near the Episcopal cathedral also blew down.

OTHER SIDE OF THE CRIMP STORY

K. Sato, a Japanese employment agency proprietor, is to be prosecuted for crimping, according to a story published yesterday in one of the afternoon papers. The story was to the effect that Sato, acting for Captain Mansfield, late of the S. S. Morning Star, had secured a crew for the ship W. F. Babcock, Captain Stinson paying a bounty of three dollars for each sailor delivered. The job of securing a crew had first been given to another crimp, according to the same story, when Mansfield said to have cut in and secured the pickings for himself.

At the inquest held over the death of Tomo Ichi on Sunday, Sato testified that he had received a fee of three dollars from each of the men he had secured for the Babcock, incriminating evidence which will be used against him, the taking of a fee from a sailor for securing him employment being illegal.

Captain Mansfield, however, has no connection with this illegal act and is incensed at the way in which the story published yesterday connects him with it.

"I have known Captain Stinson for a good many years and there are other ship masters here who are as well acquainted with him as I," said Captain Mansfield yesterday. "I heard that he was to pay a waterfront policeman five dollars a head for getting him a crew, and the men twenty-five dollars a month as sailors on his vessel. To us it seemed as though he was paying too much for shipping his crew, and I volunteered the information that he could go direct to a Japanese who handles a good many sailors and save the five dollars extorted from him by the waterfront crimps. The captain accepted the advice and got a crew that is giving him satisfaction. Larsen, the waterfront policeman, seeing he was about to lose his commissions, amounting to something like two hundred and fifty dollars, accosted me on the street and accused me of doing him out of his money. I went direct to Sheriff Brown and stated the circumstances, at the same time entering a complaint. The Sheriff refused to take any action in the matter, even after hearing the policeman insult me in his office. Further than to give the captain a suggestion as to where he would get a good crew, and at less expense than would be charged by the waterfront policemen, I know nothing of what the Bulletin speaks.

"The reference to the voyage of the Morning Star wherein it states that I had made an unsuccessful start with the vessel, I have only to say that it is as incorrect as the rest of the article written by the reporter and referring to me. Considering the weather the voyage of the Morning Star was a record one and I took her to San Francisco to the satisfaction of everyone concerned."

OLD YEAR OUT NEW YEAR IN

The old year out and the new year in was celebrated last night by many with dancing and all that goes with merry dancing parties. At the Hawaiian Hotel a native quintet played for dancing on the Ewa lanai, a large number of people taking advantage of the opportunity to trip the light fantastic toe until the new year was ushered in.

At the Moana the usual New Year's Eve dance was held, and in spite of the state of the weather it was largely attended. It was a fashionable gathering and a congenial one. The crowd danced in the large dining room. The music was excellent and the crowd a jolly one. The wind howled outside, but within everything was comfortable.

The St. Louis Alumni Association gave a dance at Progress Hall, which was well attended. The hall was attractively decorated with flags. It was one of the pleasantest dances given by the association during the year. Wm. P. Jarrett was floor manager and Jas. L. Holt introduced. The committee in charge comprised Messrs. C. A. Long, chairman; C. H. Rose, Paul J. Jarrett, Dr. J. F. Cowes, Wm. L. Welsh.

At midnight the down-town and harbor whistles woke up and there was some explosion of squibs and canno-torpedoes.

There was an unusual amount of drunkenness in evidence on the streets last night, the crowd out to celebrate the birth of the new year being smaller and quieter than the Christmas crowd, but patronizing the saloons more regularly. The police suppressed the worst of the celebrators, but made few arrests, taking into consideration the occasion. The most serious charge on the police blotter was that of resisting a police officer, registered against Manuel Santos and L. G. Forbes. These were arrested on Hotel street, Officer F. Ienapa having taken one in hand for being disorderly when the other tried to snatch his club away. When the patrol wagon arrived the big cop had a prisoner in each hand.

County Attorney Douthitt states that his successor, John Cathcart, has furnished a bond in effect, but Mr. Douthitt does not show how Mr. Cathcart has the power to appoint a deputy before he himself qualifies for his office. The only ones with power to accept such bond are the new Supervisors after they have assumed office.

POLICE GIFT TO ASSISTANT SHERIFF

The official connection of Assistant Sheriff Henry C. Vida with the police department ended at midnight last night, although he expects to act for the next few days in assisting the prosecuting attorney in the several pending cases, some of which have gone over for as long as ten days. Much of the evidence in these cases has been worked up by the Assistant Sheriff, and without his appearance some of these would possibly have to be not-prossed.

The retiring official was presented with a diamond and emerald tie ring by the special policemen of the department, who assembled in the assistant's office yesterday afternoon to make the presentation. The following letter was read:

"Henry C. Vida, Esq., Assistant Sheriff, County of Oahu, Honolulu, T. H.

"Dear Sir: We, the undersigned, special police officers, members of the police force of Honolulu, County of Oahu, as a mark of our appreciation for the many acts of kindness shown to us during your term of office, and also as a token of the friendship which binds us together, request that you accept the enclosed memento, with our sincerest wishes for a Happy New Year and success in your future undertakings."

Those whose names appeared as signatures to the letter are Jos. Leal, J. P. Dias, Manuel Leal, Carl F. Rose, Henry Espindola, Henry K. Sheldon, Hong Kee, Yee Yip, H. Miki, C. Apana and George Wright.

TALE OF A NEW YEAR'S SHOOT.

Kamakawae needed a pig for this New Year's luau and yesterday annexed the one belonging to John Hiram. At least Hiram found his shoot put snugly away in Kamakawae's yard behind some boxes. In the dispute which followed the discovery Hiram had his head cut open over both eyes and sustained other injuries, some of them, he says, being caused by Kamakawae's teeth. Kamakawae has a black eye, several contusions on other parts of his countenance and had lost most of his shirt.

During the excitement a policeman appeared and brought the two and the pig down to the station. The porker was the least concerned of the bunch but squealed vigorously when Captain Mossman ordered that it be held and filed away as evidence. Hiram put up a squeal too. He had made other arrangements for today in which the pig figured largely.

Finally he was allowed to go away with his shoot and Kamakawae was locked up for larceny in the second degree.

CHINESE ENJOY UNIQUE NEW YEAR'S PARTY

A novel Chinese party was given last night at the residence of Miss Gertrude Whiteman, next to the Kawaiahao seminary, by Miss Kau in honor of Miss Aiqian of Kapaa, Kauai, who is on a visit here.

About forty of the best known young Chinese in Honolulu were present and a most enjoyable time was had.

Everybody was attired in Chinese costume, the young men wearing cues and the ladies, the head and hair ornaments of their native country.

As each guest was ushered in he or she partook of tea as prescribed by Oriental etiquette and chatted for a while in Chinese fashion.

After a while all became good Americans and games were indulged in which were followed by ice cream and cake. The rendition of "Juanita" by Mrs. Wong, Miss Kau and Miss Wong, was charming.

J. Zane and Albert Chuck proved excellent comedians and provided much fun.

Before midnight a burlesque of "Romeo and Juliet" was enacted.

After the new year had been welcomed, college songs were sung and the party broke up singing "Aloha Oe."

Miss Florence Ho and Charles Ah Fook were adjudged by a recent arrival from Peking and sartorial authority to be the best dressed lady and gentleman in the room, from the standpoints of richness of garment and correctness of detail.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Joseph F. Welch has been appointed junior at Walluku to succeed the late David Crowell.

The Henry Macfarlane residence on Punahou street was sold at Morgan's auction room yesterday to C. S. Desky, bidding for Morris Rosenblatt. The price realized was $15,000.

The sale of the Waianae lands were made at noon yesterday, despite the protests of a number of residents, voted by Judge Gear. Only one bid was offered, that of J. M. Dowsett, for the Waianae plantation, the bid being $69,570, only $2.25 over the upset price.

AH LEONG
UNDECEIVEDSentenced to Jail for Contempt of Court.

Ah Leong looked bold and unconcerned when he came before Judge De Bolt for sentence for contempt of court yesterday. Perhaps he thought that all he had to do to escape punishment was to tell the court that he did not have the money wherewith to pay the alimony and other trimmings of the divorce suit brought by his wife. At all events he told the court so.

He was meeker and less indifferent a few minutes later while occupying a seat to which the judge directed him, awaiting the arrival of a policeman to take him to jail. Indeed, he appeared to have suddenly acquired a hustle that would have befitted a plunger in stocks trying to cover an unexpectedly denuded margin. Inside of five minutes he produced a mail that added a lot of cents to the postal revenue of the United States.

"The respondent says he has no money to pay alimony, attorney's fees and costs," the court mused. "It seems to me a fine would not meet the requirements of the case."

"I think not, your Honor," Chas. Creighton, the wife's attorney, rejoined.

"There's nothing left but to send you to jail," the court said to Ah Leong.

"I think he has it in his power to make the payments," the attorney broke in, "if he is so disposed, according to those who know his circumstances."

"The sentence of the court, Ah Leong," Judge De Bolt resumed, "is that you be imprisoned in jail for the period of three days, unless the order of the court to make payments is obeyed. You have to pay $50 as attorney's fee, $17 costs of court and $30 alimony now due. Take your seat over there."

"Telephone for an officer, Mr. Bailiff."

The judge then went out to await the approaching hour for a trial. Ah Leong sat down uneasily for a few moments and then, going up to the clerk's desk, asked that official how much he had to pay altogether.

Mr. Batchelor said $97 and Ah Leong returned to his seat. He took stationery from his pocket and busily wrote with his knee for a desk. In a few minutes he went up to the clerk again and offered him three stamped letters to mail.

"The mail box is down at the outside door of the building," Mr. Batchelor informed him.

An officer soon arrived and took charge of Ah Leong. The respondent is a smart-looking young man, nattily attired in the Occidental mode, one of those Chinese who try not to look their nationality. His wife appeared in court in the regular Chinese women's wear.

THE JANUARY TERM.

There is a much shorter calendar for the January term of the First Circuit Court, opening next Monday, than for any term in some years. Judge Robinson will preside, trying the criminal cases. There are 56 of these, but there will be additions from grand jury indictments.

There are 146 civil cases for jury trial and 36 jury waived. Judge De Bolt will handle the civil calendar. He has assigned Mendonca vs. Markham, Bierce vs. Hutchins and Good Hope Building Association vs. Amweg, in which he is disqualified, to Judge Lindsay.

Kaneohoe Ranch Co. vs. Rice and Hatch vs. Norris will be in order for trial by Judge De Bolt on the opening day. By a notice to attorneys issued by Judge De Bolt yesterday, jury civil cases will be taken up in the order in which they stand on the calendar, irrespective of the manner in which preceding cases may be disposed of, Counsel desiring a continuance for good and sufficient reason will make due application therefor at an early date so as not to impede or interfere with the work of the court.

COURT INTERPRETERS.

Judge De Bolt yesterday issued a commission to Chang Kim as Chinese interpreter, in place of Wm. H. Crawford, resigned.

He also issued a new commission to Fred W. Beckley as Hawaiian interpreter, the old one having a flaw in that it was not from the First Judge as the law requires.

PROBATE MATTERS.

Judge De Bolt yesterday granted the petition to annul a test, in the friendly suit of McBryde Sugar Co. vs. Hawaiian Trust Co. W. A. Kinney and W. S. Edings for petitioner, B. L. Marx for respondent.

Accounts of Mrs. S. M. Damon, executrix of the estate of her late husband, were approved by Judge De Bolt. C. R. Hemenway was petitioner.

A motion to cancel a note and make a new note for $500 at 6 per cent., in the matter of the estate of C. H. Bishop, was granted by Judge De Bolt. S. H. Derby for administrator.

OBEY LAW
OR SUFFERNotice to Corporations
Given by Treasurer
Campbell.

Thus far 153 corporations have filed exhibits of their affairs with the Treasurer as required by law. No less than 245 have failed in the observance, but some of these are probably defunct.

Treasurer Campbell yesterday issued a circular notice to delinquents which, after quoting the law, says:

"You were directed by the Treasurer to file such annual exhibit on the 29th day of December, 1905, which exhibit should present a full, true and accurate statement of your affairs as of the 31st day of December, 1905. With this request of the Treasurer you have thus far failed to comply."

"The Supreme Court of Hawaii has recently handed down a decision in the case of the Treasurer of the Territory of Hawaii vs. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., which holds that corporations, with the exceptions above referred to, doing business within the Territory of Hawaii, are required by law to file an annual exhibit, which shall present a full and accurate exhibit of the state of its affairs at such time as the Treasurer shall direct, and further holding that such exhibit, although not upon forms prescribed by the Treasurer, if it otherwise met the requirements of the statute, would be a compliance with the law."

"You are again requested to file such annual exhibit as of the 31st day of December, 1905, and a prompt compliance with this request is necessary in order to prevent legal proceedings being taken to compel obedience to the law."

GOVERNOR'S ACTS OF CLEMENCY

Governor Carter yesterday afternoon signed papers bestowing executive clemency for New Year's upon two prisoners.

A full and free pardon is granted to Nishimoto Tazo, who was convicted in the Circuit Court of the Fourth Circuit, on October 11, 1894, of murder in the second degree and sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for a term of twenty years.

Mrs. Eliza Andrews, who was convicted in the same court as above, at Hilo on February 10, 1903, of manslaughter in the first degree and sentenced to be imprisoned for a term of ten years, is granted a commutation of sentence to the period of seven years.

FOUNDED IN HONOUR.

No doubt you have seen in the papers such announcements as this concerning some medicine or other: "If, on trial, you write that this medicine has done you no good we will refund your money."—Now, we have never had reason to speak in that way concerning the remedy named in this article. In a trade extending throughout the world, nobody has ever complained that our medicine has failed, or asked for the return of his money. The public never grumbles at honesty and skillfully made bread, or at a medicine which really and actually does what it was made to do. The foundations of WAMPOL'S PREPARATION are laid in sincerity and honour, the knowledge of which on the part of the people explains its popularity and success. There is nothing to disguise or conceal. It was not dreamed out, or discovered by accident; it was studied out, on the solid principles of applied medical science. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. This remedy is praised by all who have employed it in any of the diseases it is recommended to relieve and cure, and is effective from the first dose. In Anemia, Scrofula, Nervous and General Debility, Influenza, La Grippe, and Throat and Lung Troubles, it is a specific. Dr. Thos. Hunt Stucky says: "The continued use of it in my practice, convinces me that it is the most palatable, least nauseating, and best preparation now on the market." You can take it with the assurance of getting well. One bottle proves its intrinsic value. You cannot be disappointed by it. Sold by all chemists everywhere.

ELKS OCCUPY THE HANDSOME NEW ROOMS

A happy herd of Elks browsed in yesterday afternoon and the whole evening in the new quarters on King street. The quarters have barely been finished, but with the help of willing Elks the furniture from the old hall, as well as a lot of new furnishings, were installed in the various rooms, the lodge room on the top floor being treated last.

The lounging room and buffet were finished early in the day and there the herd gathered and toasted the new club rooms. Only an informal inauguration of the rooms was undertaken, the dedication to occur later on. The rooms are attractive and comfortable, and, being in the center of the town, are certain to be well patronized.

JAPANESE BRAVED THE WEATHER.

In spite of the falling barometer yesterday morning one of the large sampans of the local fishing fleet put to sea. The little vessel had not returned to the harbor by dark last night and a fear was expressed by some that the severe blow yesterday afternoon may have proved too much for it. There were seven or eight Japanese in the crew. So far as known this was the only sampan to go out yesterday.

WAVES DAMAGE SEAWALL.
The storm of the past two days has resulted in considerable damage being done to the stone seawall on the Ewa side of the harbor channel, the heavy waves having torn out two or three large sections of the riprap and exposed the wooden cribwork in many other places. The extreme outer end of the seawall appears to have been completely demolished.

SHIPPING NOTES.
The ship W. F. Babcock, which is anchored in the stream, suffered somewhat in the heavy blow yesterday, her stern mooring bitts carrying away. There will be no sailings among the Inter-Island steamers today, the boats regularly scheduled to go out being held until the same hours tomorrow because of the holiday.

The American-Hawaiian S. S. Nevada will sail for Kahului this afternoon. She will make a stop of several days at Kahului, where a large amount of sugar is to be taken on. The T. K. K. S. Nippon Maru is due to arrive this morning from San Francisco with mail. It is possible that the heavy southeast winds which prevailed yesterday may have delayed the Japanese liner some.
