PRESIDENT AND CABINET BACK PLAN TO RETAIN EXISTING SUGAR DUTIES

Will Make Every Effort to Have Congress Rescind Legislation Heretofore Enacted and Leave Sugar in Its Present Status—Secretary McAdoo's Formal Statement Published

By C. S. ALBERT
(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
[Details of the national administration's plans to retain the duties on sugar arrived today from Washington in a letter from the Star-Bulletin's correspondent, C. S. Albert. Mr. Albert's letter amplifies the information contained in his cablegram of October 6, giving first announcement here of the important recommendations of Secretary McAdoo.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—The existing tariff duty of 1 cent per pound on refined sugar will be retained. The provision of the Underwood-Simmons act, placing sugar on the free list after May 1, 1916, will be repealed.
All the power and influence of the administration has been formally pledged to this program. The president and his cabinet will exert every effort to have Congress rescind the legislation heretofore enacted and leave sugar in its present status.
This attitude is demonstrated emphatically by the following official statement given out by Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury Department:
Washington, D. C., October 6, 1915.
"In reply to many inquiries I have received about the revenue measures that will be proposed in the next congress, I have determined to recommend (1) that the emergency revenue act which expires by limitation on December 31, 1915, be extended until peace is restored in Europe, and (2) that the existing duties on sugar shall be retained for several years, until normal customs conditions are restored. These are distinctive revenue measures, and are necessary in view of the extraordinary conditions now prevailing throughout the world.
"It is impossible to state at the moment what, if any, additional revenue measures may be necessary, as the estimates of the various departments have not yet been received. It is clear, however, that the two sources of revenue I have just mentioned should be preserved, no matter what the departmental estimates may be. Of course, it rests with the congress to say what shall be done. I am merely stating what my recommendations in these particulars will be."
There is no question but that Secretary McAdoo's announcement has the full approval of the President and his cabinet ministers. In addition it has been given the support of many prominent Democratic leaders in both branches of Congress. There is no suspicion of doubt on any hand but that the plan will be effective in due time.
For many months the Star-Bulletin correspondent has been consistently predicting that the present tariff duty on refined sugar would be extended indefinitely after May 1, 1916. It will be under the plea of "tariff for revenue only" and not on the basis of protection to any "infant industry." Recently Secretary McAdoo strongly intimated to the correspondent that he would recommend the extensions now announced. He said that a final decision would not be reached until after October 15, when all the departmental estimates for the next fiscal year are laid before him, and he can figure out just how much it will require to run the wheels of government.
His announcement was made earlier than anticipated for the reason that it was desired to place the subject before the country's discussion. It was considered advisable to have this topic threshed out before Congress convenes December 6.
It is computed that revenues aggregating anywhere from $50,000,000 to $80,000,000 a year will be realized from the retention of the 1 cent a pound duty on sugar.

SAYS AMERICAN BORN JAPANESE MUST BE LOYAL

Rev. Sakabe Tells Large Hilo Audience in Case of War Must Support U. S.

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
HILO, Oct. 19.—"If the necessity arises, Hawaiian-born Japanese must fight their brothers from Japan, for they are Americans," declared Rev. Sakabe of Honolulu in a stirring address at a large meeting of Japanese held here today.
"All Hawaiian-born Japanese are American citizens," he continued, "and they should most certainly fight for the United States if that country ever goes to war with Japan."
Carl S. Carlsmith, a local attorney, also spoke briefly, declaring that in Hilo there is a better feeling between the Japanese and Americans than there is in Honolulu, or any place on the island of Oahu.

NEW JERSEY MAY GIVE BALLOT TO WILLING WOMEN

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 19.—A heavy vote is being cast today in the statewide election on woman suffrage. The election is orderly. President Wilson came from Washington to his former home at Princeton, where he still holds legal residence, and voted "yes," as he had announced he would do.

TOM TAGGART, NOTED DEMOCRAT, IS FREED OF CORRUPTION CHARGE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 19.—Tom Taggart, the Indiana Democrat who is nationally known in politics, was freed today from charges of election conspiracy brought against him as well as many other Indians.

SAYS ANTONINO TOLD HER YOUNG WIFE WAS DEAD

"Antonino Long came rushing down to my house last Friday night, and told me that two were dead up at Elia Long's house, and that he thought one was Agnes," testified Mrs. Anna K. Woolsey this afternoon at the third session of the inquest into the death of Elia Long and his young wife Agnes Long last Friday evening.
"Antonino told me that he himself had been cut, and that he thought the whole thing was because Elia was jealous of him, where Agnes was concerned," continued Mrs. Woolsey.
This testimony, offered today, directly contradicts previous evidence offered by Antonino and others, who have testified that the killing of Mrs. Long must have taken place after they fled from the Long home to Mrs. Woolsey's, to phone for police aid.

NAKAMURA FACES PERJURY CHARGE; FORGOT TOO MUCH

Witness for Prosecution in the Scully-Chilton Case Committed to Grand Jury

PARIS WANTED POLICE TO LAY FOR POACHERS

Told Sheriff Rose Doves Being Purchased From Chinamen for Young Hotel

Shortly after 9 o'clock this morning K. Nakamura, a Japanese formerly in the employ of the Waikiki Inn, was called to the stand in Circuit Judge Ashford's court as a witness for the prosecution in the John T. Scully-Willmot R. Chilton conspiracy case.

A few moments later Nakamura was ordered from the witness stand by Judge Ashford, and placed in the custody of a court officer—committed for investigation by the territorial grand jury on a charge of perjury.

The court fixed bond in the sum of $1000.

Nakamura was the last witness called by the prosecution prior to the closing of its case. It was alleged that on June 29, 1914, he was employed at the Waikiki Inn as a bar-boy. He also was called before the grand jury when that body was investigating the Scully-Chilton-J. H. Fischer conspiracy case. On examination this morning, the witness testified that he had seen Scully at the inn on the morning of June 29, but that he had not seen Chilton.

"I Don't Remember" Refrain.
The witness was asked if he had seen a box put in an automobile at the inn. He answered that a box had been put in a machine, but that he did not remember what was in it. Numerous other questions were put to the witness by the prosecution, and invariably his answers were "I don't remember."

The questioning had proceeded for some little time when Deputy City At-

HOPE TO HURRY DELAYED GOODS FOR CHRISTMAS

Chamber of Commerce President Will Send Wireless Asking for Transfer at Coast

To prevent Christmas goods ordered months ago by Honolulu merchants from arriving here too late for the shopping season, President Fred L. Waldron will tonight send to Chairman E. A. Berndt of the Hawaii Promotion Committee a night letter instructing him to act in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce to have Christmas merchandise on board American-Hawaiian steamers transhipped at San Francisco to Matson boats when the freighters reach San Francisco after passing through the Strait of Magellan.

This, if it can be accomplished, will save 16 days, the time usually lost when American-Hawaiian steamers go first to Seattle from San Francisco before proceeding here.

President Waldron received a letter from Mr. Berndt this morning emphasizing the seriousness of the situation and its importance to local merchants, who will lose heavily if Christmas goods do not arrive until after Christmas. He acted on it at once.

The night letter to be sent Mr. Berndt reads as follows:
"Authorizing you act behalf chamber for Honolulu merchants to assure timely arrival delayed shipments American-Hawaiian. Local agents understand transfer San Francisco arranged. Answer what accomplished."

"WALDRON,"
"President."

SMALL WAREHOUSE AT WAIHOLE TUNNEL IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire which started from a short-circuited wire in the electric connections of the building, last night destroyed a small warehouse at the Waihole tunnel site. The loss was not large, according to Jorgen Jorgensen, contractor, who arrived on the scene in his automobile soon after the fire had burned the building down.

"There were only a few things in the shed," said Mr. Jorgensen today, "and so the loss was not great. The building was small. The fire broke out about 8 o'clock, and as there was no one right there when it began, had gained headway and burned the warehouse to the ground. Nothing else was destroyed by the blaze."

BUILDING SITE HUNG UP ON PEG ANOTHER MONTH

Newton Has Written to Irwin Owners Asking for Reduction in Price Now Asked

SPRECKELS PROPERTY IS BOOSTED BY CONGRESSMEN

Assistant Secretary of Treasury Will Make No Decision Until Early Next Month

By C. S. ALBERT.
(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—The poor, old federal building site question for Honolulu again has been hung up on a peg and permitted to doze off for another period of slumber. A decision in the matter will not be reached by Assistant Secretary Newton for at least a month to come. A longer period may be necessary to conclude the pending negotiations.

While the site problem rests and recuperates on the peg Mr. Newton will accompany Secretary McAdoo on a tour of the country. They will inspect all the locations where it is proposed to erect expensive public buildings on paper-marked locations along rights of way and streaks of rust railroads.

The two treasury officials are determined to abolish the practice of building governmental structures at places where there are no inhabitants to patronize them. "Economy" is the watchword on this trip. The officials will leave here Friday. They expect to go gone 20 days.

In the meantime Assistant Secretary Newton has written a letter to those who control the fawn site, which he undoubtedly favors, urging them to make such modifications in price as will enable its purchase by the government. He must await a response to this communication before passing judgment. He says his journey with Secretary McAdoo will be completed before the reply comes in from Honolulu. It is his opinion that really no time will be sacrificed by the delay.

The fight for the Spreckels site has grown much stronger than was at first anticipated. In addition to a personal visit from Mr. Spreckels a number of letters have reached the treasury department, all recommending the Spreckels site as best adapted for a public building in Honolulu. These communications all come from senators and representatives who were members of the congressional party that visited Hawaii this summer.

In view of Assistant Secretary Newton's inspection of both sites it is believed here that the efforts of congressmen to affect his decision will prove availing.

RECOGNITION IS GIVEN CARRANZA; BORDER BLOODY

While Washington is Acting, Bandits Wreck Train, Loot and Make Escape

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—Secretary of State Lansing today sent a letter to Elicio Arrazondo, the Carranza representative here, in which the United States recognizes Gen. Francisco Carranza as chief of the de facto government of Mexico. Similar action will be taken by the other American countries participating in the recent conferences.

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Oct. 19.—The wrecking of a train six miles from here by Mexican bandits who wished to rob the baggage coach and passengers is developing into a situation even more serious than the mere loss of lives. Race hatred is springing up and there is the possibility of a race war in which the whites and the Mexicans will be the opponents.

It is known that there were 20 Mexicans, claiming to be followers of Luis De La Rosa, leader of the so-called "Texas revolution," in the holdup. The train, an express of the St. Louis, Brownsville & Nashville, was derailed. Three persons are dead, another fatally injured and four others seriously hurt. The bandits removed spikes from the rails and the train jumped the track.

With the train derailed, the bandits entered the car shooting right and left. So bent on robbery were they that they even took the shoes off the dead.

They made their escape by burning a bridge and thus cutting off pursuit, though U. S. troops are endeavoring to run them down.

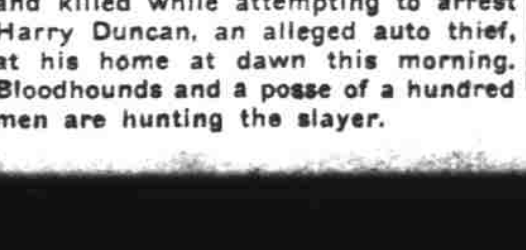

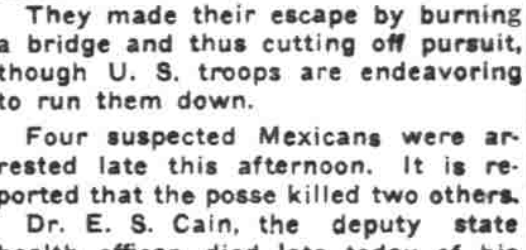

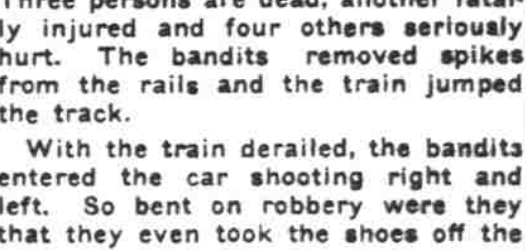

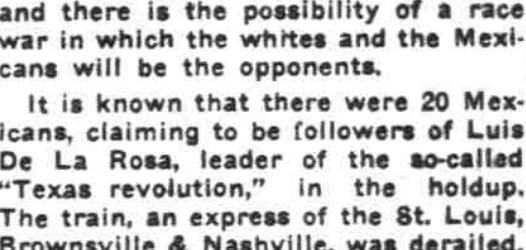

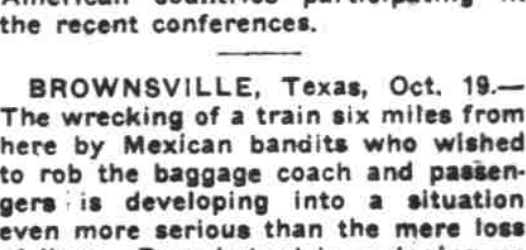

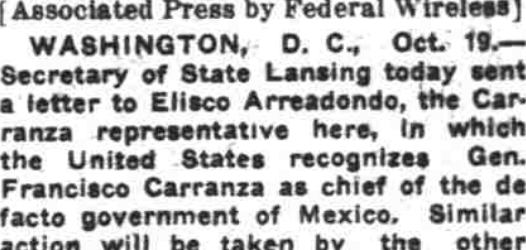

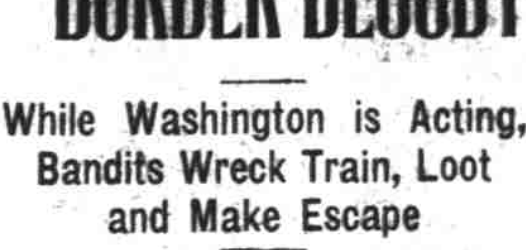

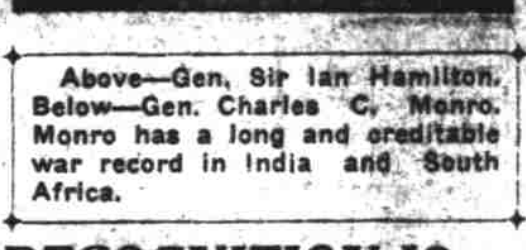

Four suspected Mexicans were arrested late this afternoon. It is reported that the posse killed two others. Dr. E. S. Cain, the deputy state health officer, died late today of his wounds.

GENERAL TAKEN FROM GALLIPOLI COMMAND; MAN WHO GETS PLACE

ALLIES TO REINFORCE ARMY IN BALKANS; ITALY DECLARES WAR FORMALLY ON BULGARIA

NOT KNOWN WHETHER ITALIAN WAR OFFICE WILL SEND TROOPS TO AID OF SERBIA—CRISIS IN BRITISH MINISTRY AROSE OVER TROUBLESOME QUESTION OF CONSCRIPTION AS WELL AS NEAR EAST DIFFICULTIES

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
LONDON, England, Oct. 19.—Seyton Beresford, British army officer and brother of Lord Deceis, today addressed a street gathering, suggesting that King George dissolve Parliament and assume personal command of the armies in the field. His suggestion was adopted in the form of a resolution.

David Lloyd-George, minister of munitions, speaking in the House of Commons in the absence of Premier Asquith, when pressed by members for a statement said:

"It is impossible now to give a definite statement concerning the Dardanelles. Methods are under discussion at this time whereby Italy can cooperate with Serbia."

He said also that English prisoners held by Germany approximate 25,000.

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 19.—British and French troops continue landing at Saloniki to make their way into the Balkans. So many have been sent here that it is impossible to forward them promptly.

BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 19.—The Serbian towns of Obrenovatz and Vranja have been captured by the Teutons.

British Cabinet Split Overshadow's Reverses and Military Difficulties

LONDON, England, Oct. 19.—The serious difference in the British cabinet, which already has led to the resignation of a member of the coalition ministry, is received with such public concern that it overshadows in importance the military difficulties, in the minds of the public and in newspaper discussion.

It is agreed that the split arose over two troublesome subjects—conscription and the Near East questions. The debates over enforced military service, received with much antagonism by the trades union leaders, and the diplomatic reverses in the Balkans, are said to have caused much friction in the ministry.

The resignation of Sir Edward Carson as attorney-general is cited as an instance of the results of this friction. The reasons for the attorney-general's action are not named.

The removal of Maj. Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton, who has been in general command of the British forces at Gallipoli peninsula, is received with mixed feelings, as is the appointment of Lieut. Gen. Charles C. Monro to succeed him.

Allies to Reinforce in Balkans; Will Strengthen Land Armies

LONDON, England, Oct. 19.—The Allies have decided to send reinforcements to press the campaign in the Balkans. Where the new troops will be landed is not stated, but it will probably be either at Saloniki, where the Anglo-French expedition first landed, or on the Gulf of Enos, Asiatic Turkey, scene of the latest landing of French and British infantry and artillery.

Italy Declares War on Bulgaria; Not Decided on Army For Serbia

LONDON, England, Oct. 19.—Italy today formally declared war on Bulgaria, carrying out the pact of the Entente Powers in standing by each other when any member of the alliance is attacked. Italy's action is based on the Bulgarian campaign against Serbia. It is not yet known whether the Italian government will send troops to aid Serbia.

Two German Steamers Torpedoed

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 19.—A British submarine has succeeded in torpedoing the German vessels Pernambuco and Solderham off Oxeloosund, on the Baltic. The Solderham was kept afloat because she was laden with wood. Both were bound for German ports.

Interned German Officers Break Leave

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—Three officers of the interned German auxiliary Eitel Friedrich, held at Norfolk yard, have broken their leave. The chiefs of police of American cities have been warned of the escape and asked to arrest them.

'WIFE NO. 2' OF M. R. BENN IS IN FRESH TROUBLE

Taken Into Custody By Federal Immigration Authorities;
Bond Fixed at $1000

Miss F. Margus, better known as "Wife No. 2" of M. R. Benn, alias M. Rubenstein, formerly a Hotel street clothing merchant, was taken into custody by the local federal immigration authorities yesterday and will be charged, it was learned today, with being unlawfully in the United States.

A few weeks ago Benn and Miss Margus were arrested by the federal authorities charged with having committed a statutory offense. It was alleged against Benn that he had two wives, No. 1 being then a resident of Honolulu. Benn pleaded guilty. He also told the court that he had married "Wife No. 2" with the understanding that he had been legally divorced from wife No. 1. After settling matters here, Benn and wife No. 1 left for San Francisco on their way to Chicago, their former home.

Miss Margus, who is said to be a native of England, now is endeavoring to secure bond, which has been fixed at the sum of $1000. The immigration authorities said today. The hearing on the case will be held at the federal immigration station within a short time. The testimony and other matters will then be submitted to the secretary of labor in Washington, D. C., for a decision.

PAN-PACIFIC IS URGED TO ADOPT TEN CENT LUNCH

"I believe that if we could have chicken, ice cream and lady fingers for our luncheons, and charge 10 cents for the same, we would have a larger crowd present," said Dr. Syngman. This in answer to suggestion on how to increase the attendance at the Pan-Pacific luncheons made today at the lunch at the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Syngman also suggested that the Koreans be given an idea of the work of the club, that they might be in a position to assist in the movement.

Alexander Hume Ford, in the opening talk, suggested that the members at the club meetings cast aside religious and political views and join together in the spirit of brotherhood. He also suggested that there be a unity of purpose in the meetings which would have a tendency to improve the workings of the club.

C. C. Ramirez suggested that the luncheon committee arrange to have music at each luncheon, and promised to secure a Filipino orchestra at the meeting two weeks hence. M. G. Santos asked that the members work together in spirit, and paid a tribute to the American flag. L. De Vis Norton suggested that each member present bring three new members at the next luncheon, which would bring the Pan-Pacific Club to the front in a short time.

S. Sheba brought out the point that the different nations must learn from each other, and suggested that each member bring to the luncheons clippings from newspapers and magazines with matter pertaining to the different races. He stated that while the American people had the idea of going ahead, the Oriental mind loved to hesitate, and the two must compromise.

Next week the Koreans will have their day, and the week following will be Hawaii Day. At a later meeting the women of the Outdoor Circle will be invited to a general luncheon and the Pan-Pacific Club will cooperate in planning for the "City Beautiful."

Charlie Clark Given Another City Road Job

Whitehouse Refuses to Dispense With Services, Despite Action of Supervisors

Charlie Clark, former road overseer and luna, following his removal from the job at Haliupuu by City Engineer Whitehouse, was today put to work in the city as luna of a patching gang which will do repair work on the city streets here and there as they are torn up by various excavations.

Clark is the overseer whose name was brought into the limelight several weeks ago following a certain joy ride in a city automobile which was the victim of a smash-up. Clark finally being fined in police court for driving a city car while in an intoxicated condition. At a meeting of the supervisors a few weeks ago Clark's case came up for discussion. Supervisor Larsen declaring him a "disgrace." The board voted at this time to refer Clark's dismissal as a road overseer to the city engineer. The present action changes him from Haliupuu and puts him in Honolulu.

R. S. Chase, who has been at Kalakaua avenue superintending the construction of curbing there, will leave tomorrow for Haliupuu to take up his position as overseer of the work there. Chase made a general survey of the place on Sunday. Construction work will begin on this piece of road before the end of the week. Whitehouse said today that he had not definitely decided who would take Chase's place at Kalakaua, but that he expected to have a man there by tomorrow morning.

Twenty men began this morning on the Pali road, which is to be of concrete. Ike Simeona has charge of the workmen. This is the first work of any considerable amount that has been done upon the Pali road in the last 10 years, and when it is finished the authorities state that it will be one of the best highways in the Territory.

Manoa bridge, which has been undergoing a complete repair, is practically finished and ready for travel again, and workmen will start today or tomorrow on Waihee bridge, which is to be a 50-foot span, wooden truss bridge of modern type. All the material has been hauled to the place ready for the workmen.

VAUGHAN TO GET DOLE'S PLACE ON FEDERAL BENCH?

Gregory very well—in fact, he knew him before Gregory was appointed attorney-general.

"And I assure you I do not know a thing regarding what Mr. Gregory's intentions are," Mr. Vaughan added. "He may want me to take Mr. McCarn's place or some other place. I don't know."

"I do not want to create the impression that I have any influence with the department of justice—I don't know that I have—but I believe that Mr. Gregory knows me well enough to know whether I am fitted for a position or not."

Mr. Vaughan, in conclusion, declared that, if it were offered him, he would accept a position as judge of the local federal court.

Several well-known federal and circuit court officials today said they have heard the rumor that Mr. Vaughan will replace Judge Dole upon the expiration of the latter's term next month.

ARMY OFFICERS BADLY BRUISED BY AUTO SPILL

Thrown from an automobile after the machine had given them a wild ride when it went wrong and got beyond control, Major David B. Case and Lieut.-col. James B. Houston of the quartermaster's department, were injured last night near McAnaula park. Major Case was badly bruised, and today is in the Departmental hospital at Fort Shafter. Colonel Houston was slightly bruised, but was at his office this morning.

Major Case was driving the machine when something happened to the gears and the auto began a swift trip along the Ewa road. After several hundred yards the machine rolled into a bank and was stopped by the projecting limb of a tree. The sudden stop threw both of the officers out.

he believed the court should admonish Attorney Carden and that the jury should be instructed to pay no attention to such remarks by counsel.

"It is a serious matter in a criminal case," McBride concluded.

Judge Ashford cautioned the jury to disregard any remarks made by counsel for the prosecution, and stated to Attorney Carden that such remarks hardly were called for.

At this juncture, Circuit Judge Ashford stood up and asked counsel to meet him in chambers.

"Is this a demand or a request?" asked Attorney McBride.

"It is a request," answered the court.

McBride stated that he did not care to go into chambers. Attorney Carden and Attorney Ray J. O'Brien, one of the counsel for the defense, met with the judge.

The meeting was brief. What transpired was not made public in open court.

Judge Ashford, however, made the following statement to the court and jury:

"It is the right of a judge to at any time, when he has reason to believe and does believe, that deliberate perjury has been committed by a witness, to commit that witness for trial on a charge of perjury. The court has reason to believe and does believe that there is probable cause for committing this witness to the grand jury on a charge of perjury committed here in this trial. The court therefore does commit this witness on a charge of perjury to the grand jury, and bail is fixed at $1000."

Nakamura immediately was called from the stand and placed in the custody of a court officer.

Refused Directed Verdict.

Following the closing of its case by the prosecution, the defense asked permission to introduce a motion for a directed verdict. The court stated that it would not entertain a motion of this kind until the defense had rested its case.

The first witness for the defense was E. H. Paris, manager of E. O. Hall & Son. Paris said that some time during the last week in June, 1914, he had gone to Sheriff Rose and, in the presence of Harry M. Whitney, requested that the sheriff send a police officer over to Windward Oahu to try and put a stop to certain persons shooting without a license.

He said that at that time the dove season was closed and, as the Young Hotel was serving young doves at that time, he wanted the sheriff to arrest any alleged poachers or persons who were shooting without licenses, or otherwise breaking the law. Mr. Paris had learned that the Young Hotel was buying doves from Chinese on the other side of the island, he said.

No Money Was Offered.

Mr. Whitney was called and stated that he was present at the conversation between Sheriff Rose and Mr. Paris. No financial or other inducements were offered to have the work done, he declared.

Sheriff Charles Rose testified that during the last week in June, 1914, he had given orders that Officer Chilton and Officer Perry go over to the other side of the island and look for the poachers. Officer Kramer was also instructed to go, said the sheriff. The sheriff added that the party of officers started for the other side of the island, but it rained so badly that the members were forced to come back to Honolulu. They went over at a later date, he added.

The sheriff further testified that, at the time, J. H. Fischer was a police officer, serving without pay. Fischer received no orders to go over to the other side, the sheriff added, but there was nothing to prevent him going as far as he knew, the witness concluded.

Quick reservists in Hartford were ordered by the consul-general in New York to report to the colors.

SPECIAL SHIPPING NIPPON OFFICERS FIND AN EXTRA FILIPINO

When the T. K. K. liner Nippon Maru docked about 10:15 o'clock this morning at Pier 6, with 112 Philippine field laborers on board for this port, it was discovered, when they were lined up on the dock to be taken to the plantations where they are to work, that there was one man too many.

Instead of the 112 who boarded the ship at Manila, there were 113. The extra man was a Filipino stowaway, but just who he was would have taken the wisdom of Solomon to ascertain.

As a last resort, officials of the importing bureau tried the method of demanding letters from all the men. This resulted in finding about a dozen who had no tickets on their persons, but claimed the paste-boards were in their baggage.

Following the separation of the "sheep" from the "goats" the bona fide laborers and their wives and families were bundled into waiting transfer wagons and auto trucks and taken to the immigration detention station. A part of them will be taken out to the plantations in two days, and another "batch" next week. At noon, the sorting process was still going on, in a conscientious effort to identify the stowaway.

Purser Grasset of the Nippon reported the number of first cabin through passengers to be 84. The ship's carrying capacity is only 90. The ship brought 57 sacks of mail from the Orient and Philippines for this port and will sail at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for San Francisco.

Freight for this port is approximately 1500 tons. There were two deaths of steerage passengers on board during the voyage. One was a Filipino man, who died of heart failure and was buried at sea. The other was a woman steerage passenger, a Japanese.

An uneventful voyage was reported, with the exception that a heavy wind was experienced at Yokohama, preventing the health service physicians from boarding the ship, for half a day. This was the first of a severe storm which did considerable damage at Tokyo.

HARBOR NOTES

The following sacks of sugar were reported awaiting shipment at island ports by the purser of the Mauna Kea today: Oahu, 2900; Waialeale, 1200; Pepee, 877; Punaluu, 9238; Honolulu, 2025.

When the Matsushita sails at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning for San Francisco from Pier 15 she will carry 130 cabin passengers and 18 steerage from this port. This is about half the boat's rated passenger carrying capacity.

Mail for the mainland may be carried on the Panama Maru, leaving here Thursday. The boat is due sometime tomorrow from Japan, for San Francisco. Whether the ship will take any mail depends on the decision of the local agents, Castle & Cooke. No money would be paid the Panama for taking mail, as there is no contract between the postoffice department and the O. S. K. her owners, for carrying United States mails.

Although she is scheduled to arrive tomorrow, the steamer Mackinaw is not looked for at this port before Friday. Fred L. Waldron, the local agent, said today the Mackinaw is burning coal instead of oil this trip, which means her speed is less. The steamer will probably sail from here direct for Panama. She will probably be able to be among the first boats to pass through the canal, as she has light draft, which would enable her to pass over the slides in Culebra Cut after they have been only partially dredged from the canal bottom.

SUGAR OUTPUT OF PHILIPPINES TO SET NEW RECORD

Prices in Far East Have Held Up Well With Revived Demand From the Orient

Under the heading "Sugar Prospects in the Far East," George E. Anderson, American consul general at Hongkong, contributes the following resume of conditions to the Commerce Reports published by the federal government:

"At the present time sugar prospects in the Far East are much brighter than usual. The Philippines promise a large crop, that of Negros and Panay probably reaching 4,000,000 piculs, or about 266,666 short tons, and exceeding all previous records. The board having charge of the erection of sugar centrals in the islands under the new plan of assisting such projects by loans from government funds has decided to promote the erection of at least one new mill to care for the 1916-17 crop.

"Prices of sugar all over the Far East have held up well, the demand in America supplementing the revived demand in China and India. The Hongkong refineries have been crippled in their operation both by the restricted market in China and other consuming centers and by the difficulty of securing raw sugar from Java and other producing countries. This has led to an increase in the import of sugar from the Philippines and from Chinese ports. The imports into the Colony for the first half of the current year are placed by commercial interests at 189,133 short tons, as compared with 270,333 short tons during the same period of 1914.

"Prices of Java white sugar have ranged from $12 to $15, local currency ($4.72 to $5.89 United States currency), per picul of 133 1-3 pounds, as compared with $7 to $8 ($3.20 to $3.66) during the first half of last year. For raw sugars the prices have ranged from $9 to $10 (local currency $3.54 to $3.93), per picul, as compared with $8 to $9 ($2.47 to $2.93) last year. Holuh sugar has ranged in price around $7.50, local currency ($2.95), per picul, as compared with $4.50 ($2.20) last year, and Philippine sugars have run from $8.10 to $8.20 ($3.18 to $3.22) as compared with $5.20 to $6 ($2.38 to $2.75). Of the sugar from the Philippines this year about 32,000 tons came from the Iloilo field and the rest from Luzon."

POSTMASTER WILL AID EFFORTS TO HAVE HILL LINER CARRY MAILS

"I am perfectly willing to cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce in sending recommendations to the second assistant postmaster-general, the Hon. Otto Praeger, recently appointed, asking that the Great Northern be given a mail-carrying contract," said Postmaster William F. Young this morning.

Mr. Young was of the opinion that it will not be a hard task to secure the department's consent to grant the Great Northern a contract to carry mail between San Francisco and Honolulu. If this can be done, it will help materially to relieve the frequent mail congestion.

The matter is also to be taken up with the San Francisco postoffice, and definite action is looked for before November 26, the date on which the great Northern will begin her first regular trip to Honolulu from San Francisco and San Pedro.

NO LAW AGAINST RIDING HORSE ON SIDEWALKS HERE

Korean Hauled to Court, But His Attorney Proves He Committed No Offense

Through Ko, an humble Korean who does not even speak English, was discovered today the way to beat all the traffic ordinances, to speed as one wishes, and to defy the crossing cops. The method of doing this is to ride a horse on the sidewalks.

Further than this, one may ride a horse on the left sidewalk, and go in what direction he wishes. The only chance he takes is that he may damage the sidewalk and be sued.

All this came to light when Attorney A. L. C. Atkinson called the attention of Judge Monarrat to the lack of any substantial charge against Ko.

"Ko is charged with riding on the sidewalk," Mr. Atkinson told the judge. "He does not deny it. But the section under which he was arrested states plainly that in case any one rides on a sidewalk, the owner may bring civil action against him for any damage done. It does not make it a misdemeanor or attach any penalty."

Deputy City Attorney Chillingworth, after vainly hunting through all the statutes made and provided had to admit that riding on the sidewalk is not an offense in Honolulu, and can only be taken up by a suit for damages.

Ko rode a horse on the sidewalk on the bridge over the Nuuanu stream on Beretania street, and was arrested by Officer H. Kibachi.

DEMOSTHENES TELLS SEATTLE FOLK ABOUT PROSPERITY OF HAWAII

SEATTLE, Wash.—A 600,000-ton sugar crop, plenty of pineapples and a good market for both combined this year to make Hawaii in reality the Paradise of the Pacific.

This is the news brought to Seattle by Demosthenes Lycurgus, proprietor of the Volcano House on the crest of Kilauwa volcano in Hawaii. In company with John Deter, proprietor of a large grill at Honolulu, Lycurgus is touring the Pacific coast. The men are in Seattle on their way to North Yakima to inspect some fruit lands in which they are interested. They are guests at the New Washington.

"Never have conditions in the island sugar industry been more favorable than at present," said Lycurgus last evening. "A very heavy crop has just been harvested and excellent prices for the commodity prevail. Practically all the sugar produced in Hawaii is sold to the United States and the cutting off of the European supply is increasing the American demand for Hawaiian sugar appreciably."

"Germany formerly sent large quantities of beet sugar to the United States which was consumed principally on the eastern coast. The advent of the European war together with the opening of the Panama canal have combined to make Hawaiian sugar popular in the East. Through the canal, shipment to New York is very rapid and with no competition, the sale is exceptionally good."

POLICE COURT NOTES

Mahuka Kaal admitted this morning in the police court that he had been playing the lottery and was fined $25 and costs, which he paid. Kaal had a ticket in his possession when taken.

For shooting craps in the back of a store on North King street, $5 and costs was charged by Judge Monarrat against Salvador, a Filipino, H. Keama and J. Moses, Hawaiians, and Ah Lin, a Chinese.

Eighteen chef-cases are set on the calendar in the police court for October 26. In the meantime the city and county attorneys' office is looking up some legal points with the object of finding a safer way to get convictions.

Hutaka, a Japanese charged with operating an automobile without a license, was given a suspended sentence this morning by Judge Monarrat after he explained that he now had a license, which he did not know was required until after his arrest. Mitsuga, another Japanese charged with the same offense, was given until Saturday to get a license.

HILLO TRACTION HEAD OBJECTS TO INTEREST

Shingle Writes Governor That Company May Sell Bonds for Less Than 6 Per Cent

Replying to the letter from Governor Pinkham, which was published yesterday in the Star-Bulletin as a part of the correspondence read at the meeting of the land board, Robert W. Shingle, president of the Hilo Traction Company, has informed the governor that the terms suggested by him are satisfactory to the company, with the exception of one part, the payment of 6 per cent interest to all persons concerned on the cost of the plant.

As stated yesterday the governor proposes that the plant shall pay the nominal sum of one dollar a year to the government for the first 10 years of its existence, and for 20 years thereafter shall pay for metered power at the regular rate of cost of any other power than water.

Mr. Shingle's letter is as follows: "October 18, 1915.

"The Honorable Lucius E. Pinkham, Governor, Territory of Hawaii, Honolulu.

"Sir: Your letter of the 16th inst. outlining the conditions you are prepared to present to the Board of Land Commissioners of a license to use the waters of the Waialuku river at Hilo for electric car generating purposes for the use and benefit of the Hilo Traction Company has been received, and I now desire in my capacity as president of the Hilo Traction Company to advise you that the conditions as outlined in your letter are satisfactory to the Hilo Traction Company, Ltd., with the exception of that paragraph providing for the payment of 6 per cent interest to the parties concerned on the cost of the power plant."

"This proviso would require the company to pay 6 per cent interest on bonds if they should be floated for this purpose, while if the proviso be eliminated they might be floated at a lower rate; or, on the other hand, if the plant is built out of the proceeds of stock, it is possible the enterprise may not be able to pay as much."

As the matter of interest is one that concerns the stockholders chiefly, we would respectfully suggest that this requirement be eliminated.

"The sinking fund provision is all right."

"Very respectfully yours, "ROBERT W. SHINGLE."

At a meeting of the land board this afternoon, held for the purpose of considering Governor Pinkham's suggestion for a license for the Hilo Traction Company, the following resolution, moved by J. F. Brown and seconded by Bruce Cartwright, Jr., was adopted:

"Resolved, that the conditions of the proposed license to be issued to the Hilo Traction Company sent out in a letter from the governor to Robert W. Shingle under date of October 16, as amended by the governor's letter of October 19, are favorably considered by this board, but that final action of the board be deferred until completed forms of the license are before it."

Copies of the resolution will be forwarded by the land board to the Hilo board of trade for its opinion.

The governor's amendment was to change from "6 per cent" to "not more than 8 per cent" the interest to be allowed to investors in the power plant.

LURLINE'S DECK RESOUNDED WITH FARMYARD CALLS

Moos, Neighs, Squeals and Grunts Signalled Each Sunrise to Passengers

Boyhood days down on the farm were recalled to passengers on board the Lurline this trip by the various blue-blooded farm animals on the ship. Moos, neighs, squeals and grunts made the early morning hours pleasant every day, until the ship docked this morning at 8:30.

On the after cargo deck were seven aristocratic Holstein-Friesian cows, and one bull. A little further on two blue-ribbon hogs lent their voices to the swelling matutinal chorus as the ship rolled on over the deep blue sea.

The consignment is for the Kamehameha School for Boys, and will help enlarge the dairy, which is a feature of the school's work in agriculture and animal husbandry.

The cows were led down the aft gangplank this morning and tied to posts on Pier 15, where they gazed in mild-eyed disapproval at the turmoil around them as the ship was unloaded.

There was also a horse brought over from the mainland, not to mention 1250 bales of hay to complete the rural atmosphere. The hay is for Mackfield & Company.

A. Lewis Resigns From Position Held Since Organization's Election Postponed

After a short session, the board of the Library of Hawaii late this afternoon voted to adjourn until January, at which time election of officers will be held and annual reports presented.

The annual meeting was postponed until January because the bylaws have been changed to prevent a duplication of energies in the preparation both of the annual and biennial reports, the latter required by the territorial government every two years. The January meeting enables one set of reports to do for both purposes.

President A. Lewis, Jr., presided at the meeting, and presented his resignation as head of the board, having served since its organization. Rev. W. D. Westervelt has been appointed in place of Mr. Lewis by the Hawaii Historical Society, which has the power to appoint him.

Other members of the board present at this afternoon's meeting included J. R. Uait, P. L. Weaver, C. H. Altherton, F. E. Blake, Rt. Rev. H. B. Reswick, Mrs. Lincoln, L. McCandless, and Miss E. I. Allyn, the librarian.

The Y. M. C. A. will hold a series of Monday evening meetings at the central fire station. All brethren of the city are requested to attend. W. E. Pictouche of the Moody Institute, Chicago, will talk to the men at the different meetings.

With the new police committee of the Manoa Improvement Club rapidly assuming tangible shape and evidences of usefulness, President L. J. Warren has requested Raymond C. Brown to serve as chairman. Complete organization will be effected in a few days.

Leslie's Magazine has an article in the late issue regarding Pineapple Day, and the editor in a letter to A. P. Taylor of the Promotion Committee stated that a poem would be published in the magazine dedicated to the Hawaiian pineapple.

Board of health authorities report that an epidemic of measles is sweeping the city, more than 80 cases having been reported so far this month. Last month 36 cases were reported to the authorities. The total of these two months exceeds the total for the last year and a half. Only two deaths have so far resulted from the epidemic.

Motion pictures of the trip of the congressional party around the islands will be shown at the Empire theater this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Edwin Fernandez, who accompanied the party around the islands, when they visited Hawaii, photographed the interesting parts of the trip. The Promotion Committee will take up the matter of sending the film to the mainland.

EXPECT HUNDRED ENGINEERS WILL ATTEND MEETING

Annual Convention of Sugar Mill Experts Will Begin Here One Week From Today

It is anticipated that at least 100 members will attend the third annual meeting of the sugar mill engineers of Hawaii, which will be held in the Library of Hawaii from October 26 to 28, inclusive, under the auspices of the Hawaiian Engineers' Association.

The business sessions of the convention will be held in the morning, the afternoon to be given over to entertainment. A number of interesting papers have been prepared to be read during the convention. There will also be discussions during the meetings on topics regarding general engineering, and also on topics not pertaining to sugar.

On the evening of October 28 a dinner will be held at the Commercial Club, beginning at 7 o'clock. Following the dinner, the annual business meeting of the organization will be held, and officers will be elected to serve during the coming year.

A baseball game, to be held at Moiliili field between teams composed of members of the organization, has been arranged for the afternoon of October 27, beginning at 2 o'clock.

DE FORREST SAYS WIRELESS PHONE DEVICE IS HIS

American Telephone and Telegraph Officials Deny Claims Made By Inventor

That none of the patents of Dr. Lee De Forrest, an inventor and experimenter with wireless telephony and telegraphy of New York city, were used in making the recent remarkable tests whereby a human voice was sent through the air from the U. S. navy's radio tower at Arlington, Va., to Honolulu, is the claim made by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, whose engineers conducted the tests.

Arising out of the tests has come a controversy regarding to whom the credit is due for the success of the tests, says the New York World in a recent edition. In a typewritten statement to the New York newspaper, Dr. De Forrest claimed that "the navy department had opened up a trans-continental wireless telephone under his patents."

He went on to say that the success of the "navy experiment" was due to an incandescent lamp generator, and that he had been "devoting the last 12 years to the development of this lamp principle."

Made by Company's Engineers.

When Dr. De Forrest's statement was read to the head of the information department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company that official declared that the long-distance tests from Arlington to San Francisco and Hawaii were conducted entirely by the company's engineers, and that the navy's representatives had only loaned the use of their towers and were interest observers. The navy representatives, said the official, did not conduct the tests. The official further declared that none of Dr. De Forrest's patents was used. The new appliances, he added, were the discoveries of the company's own engineers.

Lloyd Espenschied, who now is in Honolulu, took care of the local end of the tests, and distinctly heard the operator at Arlington counting "One, two, three, four" and then from one to seven and then from one to nine. Mr. Espenschied replied to the messages by cable, repeating the sayings of the operator 5000 miles away.

WAIKIKI CHAPEL TO BE SCENE OF EARLY WEDDING TOMORROW

A pretty romance which had its beginning in Honolulu, will culminate tomorrow morning when Miss Mabel De Jarlais, former stenographer in the U. S. district attorney's office, and John M. Dyer, a local businessman, will be married at 8 o'clock in the Catholic chapel in Waikiki, Rev. Father Valentin performing the ceremony.

Miss De Jarlais recently returned from a two-months' vacation to the mainland, and announced her approaching marriage shortly after her arrival. The wedding will be a quiet one. Only a few friends of the couple have been invited. Miss Nelle Gossett of Victoria, B. C., will be maid of honor and George Kline will be best man.

After the ceremony the bride and bridegroom will go to their new bungalow on Lunalilo street where a wedding breakfast will be served.

Among those who have been invited to the ceremony and the wedding breakfast are District Attorney Jeff McCann, Marshal J. J. Smiddy, Foster Davis, William L. Rose, Attorney George Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, Miss Edith Pratt, Mrs. J. G. Pratt, Frank Dillon, C. Jorgensen, Mr. and Mrs. Woolsey of Vancouver, B. C., Mrs. A. E. Stanley, J. Milligan, Caleb Dixon, Mrs. Louise Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howe.

POSTMASTER WILL AID EFFORTS TO HAVE HILL LINER CARRY MAILS

"I am perfectly willing to cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce in sending recommendations to the second assistant postmaster-general, the Hon. Otto Praeger, recently appointed, asking that the Great Northern be given a mail-carrying contract," said Postmaster William F. Young this morning.

Mr. Young was of the opinion that it will not be a hard task to secure the department's consent to grant the Great Northern a contract to carry mail between San Francisco and Honolulu. If this can be done, it will help materially to relieve the frequent mail congestion.

The matter is also to be taken up with the San Francisco postoffice, and definite action is looked for before November 26, the date on which the Great Northern will begin her first regular trip to Honolulu from San Francisco and San Pedro.

COUNT DOMKOWICZ SAYS HE WILL GET HIS TITLE

The San Francisco Examiner of October 6 says:

"Owing to the death on the field of battle of 14 relatives, who stood between him and the 'majorat' or chiefdom of an ancient noble family of Saxony, Count R. von Domkowicz, land owner of Hawaii, leaves San Francisco for Germany next Friday. There he will assume the position of head of his depleted family, and regulate his affairs before returning to his Hawaiian estate, where he has lived for more than 20 years. He is at the Stewart hotel."

"Count von Domkowicz left the family castle in Saxony many years ago to see the world."

"Von Domkowicz declares that he had never dreamed of becoming the head of his family."

"But a whole branch of the family has been exterminated," he said. "A niece of mine, who was serving as a Red Cross nurse, was shot through the heart."

Four thousand prisoners, among whom were 67 officers, arrived at Marseilles on their way to French prison camps.

THE ADMINISTRATION'S SUGAR TARIFF POLICY.

Washington correspondence published on another page today shows conclusively that the administration as a unit force is behind the move to retain the existing tariff on sugar. C. S. Albert, the Star-Bulletin's Washington correspondent whose predictions of months ago are borne out by latest developments, says in his letter published today that "all the power and influence of the administration has been formally pledged" to the program as outlined by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

It is entirely probable that attacks on the program will be made both in and out of Congress before the president and his aides carry it through. But that they will carry it through there is no room for doubt.

For Hawaii's part, the situation should silence those few who still seem to delight in taking flings at the administration's sugar tariff policy as hitherto expressed.

AN EDUCATOR'S VIEWS.

When the subject of military education was before the last territorial legislature, a good deal was said by "pacifists" concerning the opposition of educators on the mainland to any such opposition. Recent utterances hardly bear out such opposition. For instance, an item in the Chicago Tribune says:

There was a general air of enthusiasm over the Northwestern University campus yesterday following the announcement of President Harris that he favored military training in the university. "A military training camp for students," said President Harris, "would be fine and I have no objection if the students wish to present the matter in a petition to the faculty."

DR. CURRIE TO RETURN.

Dr. Donald H. Currie, mentioned to succeed Dr. G. W. McCoy, director of the federal leprosy, did conspicuously good work at the time of the yellow fever scare in Honolulu four years ago. He was then stationed here for the U. S. Public Health Service. The vigorous measures taken to stamp out the breeding places for the mosquito aroused considerable opposition, especially when it came to cutting down banana trees, an activity which was later seized upon by cheap Democratic politicians as a basis for a campaign against the Republicans, who happened to be dominant when the health authorities were at their busiest. The situation for awhile looked so grave that Rupert Blue, now surgeon-general, was sent from San Francisco to take charge. On arrival he indorsed Dr. Currie's methods and the campaign that had been launched under his direction. No single case of yellow fever developed and Honolulu maintained its splendid and valuable reputation as the cleanest and healthiest port in the tropics or sub-tropics.

Those who remember Dr. Currie's fearless work at that time will be glad to know he is coming back.

BURIAL OF THE F-4 VICTIMS.

(From the Washington Evening Star)
The interment of the dead of the ill-fated submarine F-4 at Arlington will add another tragic memory, and no doubt finally another splendid memorial to that growing city of the dead, so often called the national necropolis. There are a number of unidentified bodies of the grave victims of the unfortunate craft to be laid at eternal rest in Arlington, and among these relics are the mortal remains of Lieut. Alfred L. Ede, who was in command of the F-4. Closer and closer is Arlington being knit with the affections of the American people. Patriots who fell in every war of the republic rest there, and patriots who fought in every war of the United States and escaped a death battle to die in peace and quiet have found a sepulcher there. The ashes of revolutionary soldiers are mingled with the holy soil. The bones of soldiers and sailors of the second war with England rest in the shade of the oaks of Arlington. Soldiers of the Mexican war sleep there. Men who fought the battle of civilization and progress against the savages and won the great and golden west for millions of Americans have found their last home in Arlington.

The bones of men of the Civil War are there by thousands. Soldiers of the Union who were stricken in action and laid away in battlefield trenches, or in shallow graves, or who had no graves at all, were gathered up after the Civil War by the United States burial corps from many fields between the Potomac, the mountains and the Rappahannock and brought to Arlington. Many of these rest under the sad and impressive monument to the unknown. Men who fought under the Stars and Stripes and under the Stars and Bars sleep there. Soldiers of that long and bloody war who came back to the walks of peace, lived in a reunited country and died among family and friends have graves at Arlington. Men of the Spanish war and the Philippine insurrection rest there.

The grounds have been extended and the acres of graves are still growing. Monument is being added to monument as the days go by, and cut in marble or cast in bronze at Arlington are hundreds upon hundreds of names illustrious in the history of our country. Not long ago the Maine Monument was dedicated with solemn ceremony. A fine monument has been raised to the Spanish war soldiers. One stands to the memory of the army nurses of the Philippines and another to the Confederate soldiers lying there. Hundreds of individual monuments, many of them as striking in beauty as the public monuments, stand at Arlington.

Perhaps soon will rise another monument above the big, sad grave of the men of the F-4.

ENGLAND ABANDONS FREE TRADE.

Under the stress of war, Great Britain has abandoned the traditional policy of free trade which has done so much to sustain the economic theorists who clung to this idea as proper for the United States.

A few days ago the house of commons passed a bill providing for motor import duties. Premier Asquith in several speeches has declared that the imposition of import duties is an integral part of the budget indorsed by the united cabinet. However, Mr. Asquith's own staunch free trade views impelled him to add that the times are abnormal and what the government is forced to do now is not to be taken as indicative of its policy in times of peace.

Though the Washington experts say that their good opinion of the dreadnought has not been changed by the lessons of the European war, one notices that the navy department will recommend the construction of sixteen more submarines. They will be of the most modern type. Incidentally, the M-1, which has recently gone through some successful trials, is said to be a cruising marvel. It has a cruising radius much over that of the K boats which have just come to Honolulu under their own power and smashed a record in doing so. The M-1 will be able to go 6000 miles without re-fueling, and some of the G-type boats have an equal capacity. American-built British submarines recently traveled from Montreal to Malta without taking on fuel.

It makes one feel rich, whether he has a share in it or not, to read of a million dollars' dividends from our industrial corporations in September. We rush off and spend chewing-gum money lavishly. But it ought to mean good things for the educational and other good works of the island that are supported by private benefactions. The Hawaiian Board, the Kohala Girls' School, etc., ought to come in for a share.—Kohala Midget.

In every man there is a living or dead rebel. In the unenergetic, he is practically dead. Those who conform, and warp their spirit to their clay, imprison the rebel. Those who become too aggressive, let the rebel loose and then there's real trouble.—Leavenworth New Era.

Rumania's idea of neutrality differs from that of Greece. Greece allows the Allies to send soldiers over her territory. Rumania refuses to do so. Which arouses the suspicion in Allied minds that Rumania feels she may yet have to join the Teutons.

Gen. Carranza declined to recognize the authority of the pan-American conference but it's a perfectly safe guess that he will indorse its plan to recognize him.

The long ballot proposed in the majority report on the new charter means to the taxpayer that it will cost more to run the government.

Personal Mention

LYLE A. DICKEY, judge of the Kauai circuit court, was to leave for his home in Lihue in the steamer Kinau this afternoon.

H. L. HOLSTEIN, speaker of the house during the last legislature, will return to Kohala, Hawaii, in the steamer Mauna Kea tomorrow morning.

F. O. BOYER will leave for the mainland in the steamer Matsonia tomorrow for a six-weeks' business trip. He probably will go as far east as Chicago.

MRS. JOHN H. WILSON, wife of the Democratic national committee man of Hawaii, will leave tomorrow on the Matsonia for San Francisco to see the fair.

CHARLES R. FRAZIER, the local advertising man, leaves on the Mikahala this evening for a hunting trip on Molokai. He will join a party already there and expects to return on Sunday morning.

E. K. HOAK, one of the live wires of the Pacific coast advertising field, in a letter to a friend in Honolulu, tells of the talk which W. R. Farrington, president of the Honolulu Ad Club, gave to the Angelenos a few weeks ago. "He literally captivated us," says Hoak.

HAROLD W. BREWER, formerly a teacher at Mills School, and for the last eight months employed as time-keeper and overseer on C. Brewer & Co.'s Maunaloa plantation, returned from the Big Island this morning. He will leave tomorrow on the Matsonia for the mainland.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK C. ATHERTON and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barnes have returned from an extended tour of the island of Hawaii and one that proved very enjoyable. Taking their time, they visited a large part of the island and enjoyed its climate and scenery to the fullest. Most of the journeying was done by motor.

DR. DONALD H. CURRIE, U. S. Public Health Service, well known in Honolulu through his former residence and activity here, will be sent here to relieve Dr. George W. McCoy, director of the federal investigation stations in Kailua and on Molokai, according to Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, president of the Board of Health. Doctor McCoy has been ordered to Washington, D. C., to take charge of the bureau of hygienics.

THE NEWS

G. G. KINNEY, I am stopping off here with my family after serving as manager of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association office in Manila. W. H. Babbitt, well known in Honolulu, is now in charge of the office.

ROBERT SHINDLER, I believe that Bill Larsen is going to make good with that trailer for the city tractor that he was to build in 10 days. The time is up today, and I have been over for a look at it. Bill hooked it on to a tractor to show me how it works and it goes fine.

WILLIAM F. YOUNG, postmaster, I am heartily in accord with Secretary McAdoo's recommendation that the existing duties on sugar be retained. It means prosperity for the islands, and I trust his recommendations will be approved by congress. I received a copy of the secretary's statement regarding retention of existing sugar duties this morning from Washington.

R. CONDON: The papers exaggerated my statement about musical conditions in Australia now. Times are better there this year than people have been led to believe. There is plenty of money for American pugilists, and the fine arts, including music, are not neglected either. I and my associate, William Conway, may give a concert here soon.

SCHOOL REFORMS.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir:—I notice in my paper from the states that New York has framed up what she terms a comprehensive plan to make better use of the public school plant of that city, and at the same time shorten the common school educational period for the child.

The incentive for this move on the part of the world's largest commercial city is the accommodations for the army of children that each year demands school facilities. The school statistics of New York at the opening of the school term this year showed an increased school population of more than 25,000 over the previous year.

To meet this increase, which gives promise of larger dimensions each succeeding year, the new system has been devised. The plans contain some radical reforms, and are drawn up along lines very similar to the Gary system, which provides for longer school hours and rotating classes. The following are some of the reforms that it is proposed to incorporate in the new public school plans for New York.

The extension of the school year from 40 weeks to 44 weeks.

The lengthening of the school day from five hours to six hours.

The total elimination of extra pay for service in vacation schools, and other forms of extra pay for persons employed on annual salaries.

A reduction of 10 per cent in the number of teachers' positions. This is made possible by lengthening the school day and the school year.

If the new plans are adopted it will add one hour to the school day, and with the extended school term time of four weeks will cut down the school period a whole year.

The New York teachers will most certainly resent the proposed change that adds a single minute to their present five-hour day, and local teachers would probably do likewise should such a plan be adopted here; still, it might be well to watch New York's working out of this new plan, if the same is accepted.

SUPERVISORS SUPPORT PLAN TO ISSUE BONDS FOR SEWER SYSTEM

That the plan advanced by Harry E. Murray for a general and comprehensive upbuilding of the city water and sewer system, the work to be carried out by the issuance of bonds by vote of the city supervisors, is satisfactory is evident from a gleaming of opinions from various officials of the city who state that they believe the question one that most vitally affects Honolulu, and that it is therefore due for consideration in the near future.

Robert W. Shingle, chairman of the road committee, today gave the following statement to a representative of the Star-Bulletin: "I have not considered the Murray plan for a city water and sewer system in detail, but I am frank to say that I believe the question is one that should come before the board of supervisors by the beginning of the new year at latest."

"We now have the road plans working out on a systematic basis, with the frontage tax doing the work that is to be expected of it, and it is high time that we begin to devote our thoughts to the water and sewer question, which is undoubtedly a vital one."

Supervisors William Ahia, chairman of the committee on health and sanitation, which, next to the water and sewer committee, is probably most concerned with the plan, says: "Beyond a doubt the Murray plan is a good one, and it means a saving to the city in the long run, together with pure water and properly handled sewage, for one am heartily in favor of it, and will be willing to put my vote down to carry through a call for bonds when the time is ripe."

Supervisor Daniel Logan, who has long studied the situation, believes that it is time to do something definite as suggested by Mr. Murray. "We have outgrown our water and sewer system," says Logan, "and my knowledge of patching and tacking on will cause me to put it on a satisfactory basis. It is a new system that we need."

Meeting of the American Bar Association in Salt Lake City last August, said after his return that many of the members asked about Honolulu and expressed the wish that the next meeting could be held here. All of the lawyers to whom he spoke of this city were in favor of selecting Honolulu for the 1916 meeting place.

Meeting places for the American Bar Association are selected by the executive committee and it is probable that the local Bar Association will cable the committee an invitation to come here before time for making decision regarding the next gathering arrives.

It is estimated that during the last 100 years the wealth of the United States has increased 8,500 per cent., while the population has been gaining 1,350 per cent.

Although the number of lives lost in the mine disasters of 1913 was larger than that of the previous year, the number of mine disasters was reduced by 33 per cent.

At the next meeting of the executive committee of the Bar Association of Hawaii there will probably be made a proposal that an invitation be sent to the American Bar Association to meet next year in Honolulu. It is thought that the American Association would accept the offer.

REFINED DEMAND MAY SEND SUGAR PRICES HIGHER

Advance Following McAdoo Announcement Found Refiners With Minimum Stocks

That any increase in the demand for refined sugar will probably send prices higher, because the refiners have only minimum stock on hand, is the opinion expressed in the following market letter issued on October 8 by Nevess & Callaghan, of 99 Wall Street, New York:

"The pressure to sell noted in our last previous review continued throughout the early part of this week, but refiners continued to hold aloof, while sellers gradually reduced their views until Cubas were offered at 2 5-8c basis 96 deg. c. & f. (3.54c), and Porto Rico at 3.50c basis 96 deg. c. & f. When this level was reached both speculators and refiners became free buyers and all the offerings at these prices were quickly absorbed.

"The quantity sold, however, was not large, say 60,000-70,000 bags Cubas and 40,000-50,000 bags Porto Rico, as it was generally recognized that the long protracted decline was being carried too far. Although buyers showed great willingness to continue at these prices no further offerings appeared and an out of town refiner then paid 1 3-4c advance, say 2 21-32c basis 96 deg. c. & f., for a cargo of prompt shipment Cubas. Following this transaction 2500 bags Cubas from store were sold at 3.70c, and holders then raised their views to 2 3-4c basis 96 deg. c. & f. for Cubas and 3.75c basis 96 deg. c. & f. for Porto Rico.

"At this juncture, the announcement by President Wilson and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo that they strongly advocate the retention of the present duty on sugar instead of free sugar after May 1st, 1916, brought about a complete change of sentiment in the market. With the administration in favor of the duty on sugar, there should be little opposition to the repeal of the clause in the present tariff providing for free sugar. When this news was received speculators immediately bought up all the Cubas on offer at 2 3-4c basis 96 deg. c. & f., obtaining about 50,000 bags for October shipment, while refiners paid 3.75c basis 96 deg. c. & f. for about 60,000 bags spot and prompt shipment Porto Rico.

"These sales were quickly followed by the purchase of several small parcels of Cubas in port and for October shipment at 2 7-8c basis 96 deg. c. & f. No more Cubas appeared for sale at below 3c basis 96 deg. c. & f., and when refiners and speculators raised their bids to this point they found practically nothing available, as the rapid recovery has greatly encouraged holders who believe that should any demand for refined appear, present prices are entirely too low, especially as refiners' stocks are at a minimum. The market closes strong and rather excited with refiners bidding 3c basis 96 deg. c. & f. for Cubas and speculators indicating a willingness to pay 1-16c higher, but sellers have withdrawn for the present.

"The weekly cable on Tuesday from Cuba reported receipts of 5618 tons and 1 Central grinding, as compared to 3000 tons receipts and no Centrals at the corresponding date last year. Today, cable advices report one Central still in operation and the weather favorable. Based on a final outturn of 2,550,000 tons there still remains unsold about 250,000 tons of the present crop.

"The demand for refined continues very moderate and refiners made no change in prices until today when the higher cost of raws caused the Federal S. R. Co. and Warner S. R. Co. to advance 10 points to the basis of 5c. less 2 per cent. The other refiners continue to quote 4.90c less 2 per cent. All refiners are willing to accept contracts for prompt shipment only. The trade throughout the country is bare of stocks and with present indications of higher prices, there is some disposition to buy being shown.

"The trading in options reached an aggregate of 52,100 tons this week. The quick turn in the actual market took some of the short interests by surprise and a scramble to buy ensued which carried prices upward 35 to 40 points in two days."

FOUNTAIN PEN MAN SAYS HE'S HEAD OF HAWAII'S BOOSTERS

L. E. Waterman, president of the Waterman Pen Company, in a letter to A. P. Taylor of the Promotion Committee signs himself, "Chairman of the New York-Hawaiian Islands Booster Club." A number of scenes of the Paradise of the Pacific were forwarded to New York where they were placed in the show windows of the Waterman Pen Company. Mr. Waterman states that they are causing much interest, and the slogan "On the Beach at Waikiki" is becoming popular in Manhattan. He mailed a clipping of a cartoon by the funny man of one of the Hearst papers, brimful of stunts "on the Beach at Waikiki."

Compulsory military education for all youths over 14 years of age with exemption from poll taxes for those serving three years in the militia was advocated by Governor Walsh of Massachusetts at a hearing before a newly organized state commission on military education and preparedness.

The British auxiliary cruiser Caronia which has been on patrol duty off New York harbor for some time, was relieved by an auxiliary cruiser believed to be a Canadian-Pacific passenger ship.

VIERRA GETTING IMPROVEMENT

New Superintendent Intent on Beautifying Honolulu's Breathing Spaces

Set out in Christmas bushes, growing beneath the kindly influence of water and Hawaiian sun, the E-M-M-A, followed by a S-S-C, recently introduced at a square by A. K. Vierra, superintendent of parks and playgrounds, recently appointed by Mayor Langaker.

According to Vierra this is a blather of the artistic touches that he is laying to add to the place, for there are folks to be a score or more of the John ferns suspended from the limbs of a big gum tree in the middle of a square, and about its roots other, the are to be planted.

Benches are to be renovated and built from the topheavy, top-farjones that exist at present to new great modern ones. The bandstand, which has been leveled off with field soil placed in the low places, is to be remodeled, and the parts park has been leveled off with field soil placed in the low places.

"At Aala park the night looting, out has been given his walking pegem and the bandstand, that has high, served as a roost for those who sit of beneath the stars, is now provided with a strong electric light which makes sleeping unpleasant.

WHY DALLY WITH LEMONS WHEN YOU FIND 'PEACHES' AT BIJOU?

It's a Racing Play and the Villain Gets His With a Large H—

Speaking in racing terms, the track is fast at the Bijou this week, weather good, a bunch of speedy ones in the stake event and "Peaches" just romps home, winning in a walk.

"Peaches," which is the Teal company's offering, is a racing play and it goes to the merry accompaniment of galloping hoofs, done on the sticks by the obliging drummer down in the orchestra's stall. It goes like the very mischief, that being an apt simile, as there's mischief brewing in the play, with a villain who wears riding breeches, shiny leggings and a close-clipped mustache, who carries a crop and who lets fall those malevolent hints that villains are so fond of scattering around when all is peaceful and happy.

The show is closer to straight comedy than anything the Teals have done and it is as good as their best. The last two or three shows have depended on farce. There's nothing of the farce in this. It has a little sobriety, a little pathos, a little melodrama and a lot of comedy—lines that sparkle and snap across the footlights and bring the laughs which later bring the boxoffice receipts.

The show reminds you of some of those lively racing plays you saw in days gone by—"Checkers," for instance, also Lillian Russell's comedy,
"Wildfire." It's crammed with slang, the expressive jargon of the paddock and the stable and the infield; but the fun doesn't all depend on the slang.
It's a Cobanesque in spots, and in spots like the rapid-fire dialogue that James Forbes writes so lavishly.

"Peaches" is a racing mare. "Peaches" is also little Mary Barristaw, dainty daughter of an aged gentleman whose fortune has been put on stock market margins and is about to vanish into the air. Lovely situation for a villain! And here he comes—George Foster, who covets dainty Mary and also wants to pull off a coup and have the mare Peaches beaten in the Suburban.

The hero is John Henry, ex-racing man, ex-bookmaker, in love with Mary and Mary in love with him. John Henry digs down in his jeans for a thousand bucks he was going to use to furnish their prospective bungalow.
He puts it on the mare Peaches. A female gambler, Mrs. Milton, happens along, learns of Foster's plan to sinal the jockey to "pull" Peaches. She gives the jockey the signal to send the mare along to win. The mare wins. John Henry, who bet on Peaches at 30 to 1, draws down $25,

000. He puts it in the stock market for his future father-in-law and father-in-law makes a killing all unknown.
The villain is foiled, all the good folks pocket their winnings. Mary and John Henry clinch and the audience bows with glee.

And, oh, yes, one of the hits of the show is Biff Donovan, race track tout and general roustabout. His fine of chatter and that of John Henry furnish the slant. They are a great team.

As for the folks who play the parts they are well cast indeed. Fritz Fields is John Henry and his ability to get several hundred words a minute out of his system was never better exemplified. His work is clever all through.
Claude Kelly in the character part of Col. Barristaw again displays his versatility. Roy Kinslow as Biff Donovan is one of the best—he's showing better and better with each bill. Homer Long is the villain and a rich;
unpleasant one he is, too.

Madeline Rowe's small part as Mrs.
Milton adds a necessary link to the story, as does Mildred Mannine's portrayal of Blossom Dudley. Corinne Carkeek, in a Sis Hopkins role, is ludicrous to the point of absurdity.

Hazel Lake is the girl "Peaches" and gives her best performance to date, even in the midst of the flood of comedy managing to get some juvenile pathos across to the audience.

Art Phillips in a few minutes as the jockey and carries the role adequately.

The show has more than the usual number of clever specialities. The songs are tuneful and catchy and the costuming bright and attractive. The finale, "Good Ship, Maryland," brings Raymond Teal out before a curtain showing the Maryland at the dock. As he sings the verse the K submariners slide across the stage, each manned by a pretty, feminine commander. In the chorus the girls look through portholes. This stunt gets a deservedly big hand.

The house was filled with army and navy folk last night. Tonight will be a special "Maryland Night." Capt. Kitelle of the cruiser and a party of 10 being guests of the company. Special features have been arranged in their honor.

MANY FEATURES PACK LIBERTY BILL

The bill at the Liberty theater for the first half of the week is just about as diversified as any thus far shown at this popular playhouse. The "curtain-raiser," the Pathe Weekly, shows scenes at the raising of the S. S.
Eastland in the Chicago river, it shows the San Francisco businessmen's camp of which Capt. Malone, 2d Infantry, U. S. A., stationed at Fort Shafter, was in charge, and last but not least it shows the latest Parisian fashions and shows them in the natural colors.

"The Exploits of Elaine" brings to a timely end Wu Fang, the leader of the gang that has persecuted the fair Elaine and also manages to cause the disappearance of Craig Kennedy. However, it can be relied upon that Craig is merely "under cover" as it is announced that the succeeding episodes will be known as the "Romance of Elaine." These will appear in the Star-Bulletin each Saturday evening.

"The Moth and the Flame" is a delightful drama with a well-chosen title that has for its axis London and New York. It is by no means a new story—but is ably handled by Clyde Fitch in a new manner.

WILL MAKE STRONG PLEA FOR MERITS OF COMMISSION PLAN

Want Charters Taken Up on Merits; Abandon Idea of Parliamentary Tricks

If the program outlined at a caucus held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night by those favoring the commission form of government for Honolulu is followed in the charter convention, which reconvenes Wednesday night at the Young Hotel, harmony and full discussion of all proposed charters will take the place of attempts to gain advantage by parliamentary moves.

C. F. Chillingworth, who was chosen chairman of the meeting, made the first talk and struck the keynote when he said that no effort should be made to push through any charter form until every phase of the question had been fully discussed.

"I am willing to hear all sides," Chillingworth said. "If I am wrong in my views I am willing to be convinced. In order to do our work well we should all be willing to hear the arguments of all sides."

W. C. Achil's suggestion that the majority report was not signed by the majority of the members of the committee of 15 and therefore should be eliminated did not meet with the approval of members of the caucus, most of whom agreed that this would appear to be a political move and would create discord.

W. O. Smith expressed the opinion that there should be more than five supervisors and that they should not individually have control over any particular department of the government, but should act together, as a board of directors.

Wants Elective Places.

Supervisor Daniel Logan said in a brief address that he was opposed to allowing the supervisors, if the city went under commission government, to appoint all officials. He thought that the sheriff, treasurer, auditor, city attorney and several other officials should be elected by the people.

Most of the others at the meeting seemed agreed that the commission form of government, with each commissioner responsible for a certain department, was the best form that could be chosen for Honolulu just now. It was generally agreed that one of the supervisors should be the mayor, and that he and the auditor should be elected by vote of the people.

When the charter convention meets tomorrow night it will probably at once go into committee of the whole and will remain so until representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations have appeared and given their ideas on city government. The Chamber of Commerce has already requested a hearing and a date will probably be set for this immediately after the convention goes into committee of the whole.

It is not believed that any motion will be made to adopt the majority report until the hearings are over and the two plans reported from the committee of 15 have been fully discussed.

ACTIVITY IN CUBAN SUGAR INDUSTRY.

(Special Agent Garrard Harris, Department of Commerce.)

On a recent visit to a large machinery manufacturing plant it was learned that they were running 24 hours a day, turning out sugar mill equipment for Cuba. Most of this is of the first grade and represents heavy investments and the concern has more orders than it can fill. It is stated that the antiquated machinery in many Cuban centrals is being very generally replaced with up-to-date makes, while some new mills are being opened. Business is excellent, and a general feeling of optimism prevails.

BROTHER DUTTON CABLES FRIENDS IN G. A. R. RANKS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.—From the island of Molokai, of the Hawaiian group, came cabled greetings yesterday to the members of the Grand Army from Joseph Dutton, a veteran of the 13th Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry.

The cablegram containing Comrade Dutton's greetings to the national encampment was presented at the final session of the encampment yesterday by Col. John McElroy, of this city. Col. McElroy told the delegates that Mr. Dutton had been a distinguished soldier in the Civil war and that a few years ago he had volunteered for service on the leper island in the hope that in his declining days he might serve the cause of humanity.

For several years past Col. McElroy and other friends of Mr. Dutton have been keeping him supplied with papers, magazines and books. The officers of the encampment received the despatch of greeting and commended the heroism of their comrade.

HONOLULU LACKS MORALS, MRS. SADIE BARRETT IS QUOTED AS DECLARING

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 1.—Mission work on the Pacific coast, Hawaii and Alaska were topics discussed yesterday by the board of managers of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, meeting in the auditorium at Fifth avenue and Marion street.

Labor among Koreans, Hawaiians, Japanese, Eskimos, Indians, Italians and Americans was detailed by mission workers.

"One of the greatest difficulties we have," said Miss Sadie E. Barrett, missionary to Hawaii, "is keeping peace between the little Koreans and Japanese girls. There is a feeling of bitterness between the two peoples which sometimes causes large trouble among their elders."

"The Koreans are striving for military power, though at present they are training with wooden guns. They will attempt to shake off Japanese domination in Hawaii."

Miss Barrett declared that she had found the city of Honolulu practically "without morals."

Germany's secret police are furnished with "police eyeglasses." These have tiny concave mirrors on the side next the face, which may be extended sideways or folded back so as not to show and give the wearer, if he has normal sight, an image of what is going on directly behind him.

TWENTY YEAR OLD BOND FORM LOSES MONEY FOR CITY

Six Score Chinese Gamblers Escape Fines By Paying Costs of Appeal

The escape from the clutches of the law without payment of fines assessed against them which total $1567, of 122 Chinese convicted of gambling has brought to the attention of the city and county attorney's office a defect in the form of bond on appeal which has been used here for more than 20 years. During that time no one has escaped paying a fine until the Chinese found a loop-hole through which they got their freedom and left a debit on the books of the clerk of the police court.

Judges who sat in the police court in years past have all approved bonds in the form that was used in the Chinese cases, and no one seems to have found that the bond on appeal covered only costs in the appeal case and did not guarantee payment of any fines or costs due in the lower court.

Attorneys for the Chinese gamblers found this out, and after appealing moved to dismiss the appeal, paid the costs, and their clients went free without paying the police court fine. They could be rearrested if found, but it is said to be impossible now to locate them. W. F. Rawlins, one of the attorneys named, however, says it should be an easy matter for the police to collect the fines.

Three batches of Chinese, arrested by the detectives for gambling, escaped the payment of fines through the insufficiency of the bond.

Lee Chuck and 44 others were fined $10 and costs each by Judge Monsarrat May 17, after their arrest in the store of Wing Sing Lee on King street, where they were gambling. W. T. Rawlins appeared as their attorney and appealed the case to the circuit court, giving bond signed by three Chinese. The bond on appeal covered only the cost of appeal, and this was paid when the appeal was withdrawn on June 25 by the attorney for the Chinese.

Not Been Located Since.

Ten dollars fine against each of the gamblers still stood in the police court, but immediately after the appeal was withdrawn the Chinese disappeared, and the police claim that they have since been unable to locate them.

Attorney Rawlins stated today that the judge of the circuit court could have required each of the defendants in the case to appear personally in his court when motion was made to withdraw the appeal, and could have notified the police before allowing the withdrawal, so that preparation could have been made to take the defendants into custody again and hold them until the fines were paid.

In the case of Che Tong and 33 others, arrested in a raid on a gambling joint over Koon Wah You's store on Hotel street, L. M. Straus appeared as attorney. Attorney Rawlins had no connection with the case. E. A. Douthitt and Straus appeared as attorneys for the defense in the case against Ah Chong and 45 others, who were arrested March 8 and were fined $15 each March 22. In each of these cases the appeal was taken, bond put up, the appeal withdrawn and the fines left standing unpaid on the books of the police court.

City and County Attorney A. M. Brown stated today that his office is now drawing up a new form of appeal bond which it is hoped will prevent the escape without payment of persons fined in the police court.

"The bond used in these Chinese cases," said Mr. Brown, "has been used for years, and this point has not been brought up before. It simply does not cover the police court fine and costs, and I do not know that a bond can be drawn which will legally do this."

May Require Presence.

"It may be possible to frame a bond which will require all defendants against whom a fine is recorded in a lower court to be present in the Circuit Court when a motion is made to dismiss an appeal they have taken. This would give the police a chance to rearrest them and hold them until they paid the fines."

Attorney Rawlins said that he had been done an injustice by the accusation that he had drawn a bond with the object of leaving a loop-hole of escape for his clients. He said that he used the same form that has always been used here.

Judge Monsarrat states that he has approved hundreds of bonds like those given by the Chinese, and that his predecessors for years have done the same thing.

In some of the cases A. M. Brown, city and county attorney, put his "O. K." on the bond, and in others the judge alone signed them. The attorney's office denied that they had given out any statement to the effect that they had never heard of the bonds. Mr. Brown said that the bonds were in the usual form, and that no one in his office had, with his authority, endeavored to shift the blame or make it appear that Judge Monsarrat had been careless.

Lieut.-Col. Garnet B. Hughes, D. S. O., son of Maj. Gen. Sam Hughes, Canadian Minister of Militia, was made a brigadier general in command of the First Canadian division fighting in France.
