THE ENGLISH RADICAL TRIUMPH.

The question upon which the Salisbury Cabinet in England was overthrown was that of small farm holdings for laborers and others willing to occupy them. Mr. Collings, mover of the amendment to the address which carried, was a champion of the movement that issued in the Allotment Act of 1882. That measure was compulsory in requiring the trustees of certain charity lands in the country to offer them at a fair rent to laborers, whether they applied for them or not. Mr. Collings is President of the Allotments and Small Holdings Association, and at a recent meeting that body had supported a proposition submitted by him that local associations be given power to acquire the lands by compulsory purchase. It seems that the trustees had been reluctant to carry out the Act, so that the offer of land was useless to those for whom it was intended. Mr. Collings took the earliest opportunity to press his view on Parliament, and the result is that the Ministry opposing the popular welfare had to go under. Of course it was the distrust of the Conservative Ministry induced in the Irish members, by the strong tone of the speech from the throne regarding Ireland, which made it possible for the Radical element to turn out the Ministry. Yet the immediate pretext was a much more worthy one than that by which the Conservatives had just before displaced the Liberal Ministry, namely, a proposal by the latter, under the stress of financial exigency, to make a slight increase in the beer and spirits tax. A party gaining a victory on a proposition involving the people's welfare must stand upon a higher plane than one that triumphs by taking a stand on an interest that is damaging, according to the best evidences, to the public good. It will be a bright day for Hawaii when a party will arise and appeal to the popular mind on the strength of a comprehensive scheme for the development of the country, with a force that will compel the sinking of issues involving injurious race prejudices and the musty jealousies of ancient history.

HOMESTEADS.

In an article on "Homes for the Landless," the San Francisco Chronicle says there is in California alone an area of over 10,000,000 acres of land which only needs water to adapt it to sustain a considerable population. It estimates that there is an area of 300,000,000 acres of reclaimable land in the Union, and contends that it is out of the power of individual settlers to reclaim this land, advocating that Congress should undertake the work of reclamation and irrigation on a large scale, for which it is given power by the constitution and has established a precedent by appropriating money some years ago for irrigating the Colorado desert. This is a matter that the Government of Hawaii will have to take up, if national progress is to be assured and greatness achieved. There must be accommodation made for independent settlers and producers, or civilization here will go to the wall. The prospectus of the Oahu Colonization Company proves that there are lands on the group that may be settled, and the Government, with the abundant strength it has just acquired, will be unfaithful to its trust if it allows another biennial period to pass without having accomplished anything in the way of having an independent agricultural population adding to the wealth and stability of the country.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The shipping news of the "Advertiser" is "discriminating" in favor of "tramp" British steamers. It says the schooner Liholiho's 1,000 bags of sugar "were put into the Pacific Mail Company's warehouse for the steamship Australia." Instead, the fact is the sugar in question is being loaded on the American bark Virginia for San Francisco.

The decision of the Supreme Court upholding the surrender of J. W. McCarthy to the California authorities, to be tried for embezzlement, is based on the statutes of this kingdom outside of treaties. Such statutes were designed upon the principle that this country should not be an asylum for criminals of other countries. McCarthy being surrendered, other refugees luxuriating here on stolen wealth will begin to fear that scorpions may lurk in the upholstery of their retreats.

It appears that the new truck of the Hook and Ladder Company broke down on account of a flaw in the welding of the axle. Probably such an unworkmanlike fault would not have been committed by Honolulu mechanics, had they been given the making of the vehicle. The first ladder truck sent down from the Coast was made for horses, but, on the principle that anything was good enough for the Sandwich Islanders, it was adapted to man power by changing the pole, and was sent along, twice as cumbersome and three times as costly as the Department wanted. Now a light truck is ordered in good faith, and one is delivered that breaks down on the first run out, through slopped work on it. Lately a printer ordered a labor-saving machine from San Francisco out of a sample book, and instead of the kind wanted an old-fashioned article, discarded by the craft elsewhere, was shipped. This sort of thing should be sat upon by our mechanics and tradespeople.

NO COMPROMISE.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Your correspondent "Outsider" appears to be an amiable sort of person, but like many amiable persons in time of political crisis, he fails to grasp the situation. It is true there has been a great deal of bad temper shown and a great deal of bad language used during the recent contest, and this is very much to be deprecated. It is true also that neither side has been entirely blameless in this matter. It may be freely admitted that not all the decent people are on one side, nor all the vagabonds on the other. No one disputes that some well-meaning persons voted the Government ticket, or that there men in the Opposition ranks whose patriotism is dependent on their hopes of getting into office. All this and more is doubtless true; and what of it? It is also true that John Brown's body lies mouldering in the grave, and that Christopher Columbus discovered America in 1492; just as true and just about as relevant. The objection to "Outsider" is not that he makes a plea for fairness and courtesy in political discussion—in this, all right-minded persons will concur—but that he tries with his old and threadbare platitudes about there being faults on both sides, etc., etc., to obscure the issues on which the country is divided, or even make it appear that there are no important issues at all. Let me assure "Outsider" that the questions now agitating the country and which entered into the recent contest, are not questions of mere detail or of temporary expediency, but involve the fundamental principles of government and are vital not only to the prosperity but to the existence of the Kingdom.

The fatal flaw in his position is the assumption that both parties alike desire "the good of the country and its people," and that there is only an honest difference of opinion "as to how this object should be effected." This is just what the opponents of the present administration cannot admit. On the contrary, they most emphatically deny that the men now in power desire "the good of the country and its people," or that they are working for any such end. There may be self-seekers in the ranks of the Opposition, and some whose political action is not based on principle, but leaving these all out of account there still remains a body of men who are acting from deep conviction and who are actuated by a firm purpose. The writer claims to be one of this number. I will not recall the definite and specific charges under which the administration rests. They have been stated often enough and need not be repeated here. These charges are either true or they are false. We firmly believe them to be true and that the evidence now before the public admits of no other conclusion. If any "Outsider" or "Insider" has any facts in his possession which will justify a different conclusion, let him lose no time in presenting them. I, for one, am always ready to be convinced by evidence. In the absence of any such evidence, we stand, now that the election is over, just where we stood before. The same charges that we made in the midst of the canvass we now reiterate deliberately and in cold blood. Such being the case, "Outsider" and all like him should see how futile is the advice to lend the Government our assistance "for the accomplishment of a common purpose." The difficulty is that between the present administration and those who desire honest, efficient, and, above all, constitutional government, there is no "common purpose," and in the very nature of things can be none. The sooner "Outsider" and others like him recognize this fact and make up their minds which side they will be on, the better it will be.

THE BRIG ALLIE ROWE.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—In your issue of last evening a local item appears referring to Messrs. Freeth & Peacock as agents of the brig Allie Rowe, and indicating that the statement might have come from me. I wish to state distinctly that Messrs. Freeth & Peacock declined to act as agents for that vessel on her arrival in Honolulu. Your reporter was not advised by me that there was any mismanagement by Messrs. Freeth & Peacock.

Very respectfully yours,
E. C. ROWE.

[Our reporter did not attribute anything to Mr. Rowe but what he said.—ED. BULLETIN.]

EDITOR BULLETIN:—In your issue of last evening a local item appeared saying, "They (Messrs. Freeth & Peacock) have been relieved of the agency of the brig Allie Rowe and Mr. Rowe, although stating that he is almost financially swamped by mismanagement of the affairs, does not yet despair."

As a matter of fact the above item as regards ourselves is entirely incorrect, and as such a statement is calculated to reflect injuriously on us we have to request you to grant us space in your columns to explain our transactions in reference to Mr. Rowe and the brig.

During April, 1884, Mr. Rowe put the vessel on the berth for Hong-kong and asked us to take the agency for the trip. We advised him not to put his cash into the brig, as Mr. Sorenson considered the expenses of repairing her would be far greater than her value when fit for sea. Mr. Rowe was determined, however, and proceeded with the repairs. We distinctly declined to invest any money in the speculation in the face of Mr. Sorenson's report, and on May 8th, 1884, we were informed by Mr. Rowe that all monetary matters were arranged, and that we should not be asked to advance any cash on account of the vessel's indebtedness. On May 9th, 1884, Mr. Sorenson called on us and said that unless his account amounting to $2,449.05 was immediately paid, he would libel the brig and prevent her departure. We had already issued passengers' tickets and handed the proceeds to Mr. Rowe, under the impression that he was paying the vessel's accounts in full, and in order to protect our own credit, we were obliged to accede to Mr. Rowe's request to settle Sorenson & Lyle's account and give the brig prompt dispatch as advertised. Mr. Rowe gave our Mr. G. D. Freeth, as security for our advances, a bill of sale of the vessel, and a few days afterwards we voluntarily gave Mr. Rowe an agreement whereby we undertook to transfer the vessel to him at any time she might be in our possession, previous to an actual sale, on payment of our account. We never at any time or under any circumstances managed the affairs of the Allie Rowe, except as regards advancing money and doing the necessary clerical work. All correspondence was submitted to Mr. Rowe and approved by him, and all disbursements were made at his express wish. We made no contracts for repairs, charters, or passenger fees, all of these matters being arranged by Mr. Rowe or his captain. Mr. Rowe denies, to us, having mentioned our name to your reporter in any way, and therefore the question of veracity as to the authority under which your item was published rests entirely between those gentlemen.

LOCAL &amp; GENERAL NEWS.

BULLETIN SUMMARY TO-MORROW.

A brisk old trade wind blew last night.

PRAYER-MEETING at the Bethel vestry this evening.

THE St. Paul is coming into port as we go to press.

THE steam roller is running again at the boat landing.

S. S. Australia is due from the Colonies to-morrow.

THERE will be a meeting of the Fire Department to-morrow evening.

ELDER Healey will this evening discuss, "Was Christ the Son of God?"

HON. A. S. Cleghorn is acting Governor of Oahu in the absence of Gov. Dominis.

"DEFINITENESS" will be the subject at the Fort Street Church prayer meeting to-night.

THE Queen gives a garden party at the Palace on Friday, in honor of the coronation anniversary.

CHIEF Justice Judd and Attorney-General Neumann have gone to the Fourth Circuit Court on Kauai.

BOILS are said to be very prevalent in town just now—probably the bad blood of the election coming out.

AN article on the fourth page shows that the Union-Oceanic mail contract was still in the balance in New South Wales at last accounts.

LEWIS & Co., Hotel street, will have a fine line of California fresh fruit, fish and vegetables by the St. Paul, and the early bird will have the first pick.

REV. Geo. Wallace will conduct the devotional meeting at St. Andrew's Cathedral this evening, and the choir will have rehearsal afterward.

J. LYONS will hold his regular cash sale to-morrow, at 10 A. M. Besides the usual assortment of general merchandise will be sold a fine lot of Mexican saddles and new buggy harness, etc., etc.

THE Honolulu Rifles are attending drill in goodly numbers and with renewed zest. Next Friday afternoon the Rifles have their first target-shooting practice on Punchbowl range. The company has proposed a promenade concert to take place soon at Central Park, which promises to be a brilliant event.

THE item in yesterday's issue about the Inter-Island Steamship Company's affairs was inaccurate. At its meeting the Company decided to have another steamer built, without reference to the loss of the Planter. She will be chiefly a freight boat, and Mr. Thos. R. Foster goes to San Francisco to contract for her building. The other idea—that of getting a substitute for the Planter, and one that the machinery of the lost boat will suit if recovered—was only mentioned to our reporter as a probability and has yet to be decided by the Company. It is likely that no time will be lost in getting a substitute for the Planter, whether the machinery of the latter is saved or not.

DEATH OF MR. HENRY CORNWELL.

The schooner Emma arrived this morning from Olowalu, with the sad tidings of the death of Mr. Henry Cornwell, who, after a lingering illness, expired at noon Sunday last, at his residence, Waikapu, Maui. Mr. Cornwell was an old resident here who had many friends, and was noted for his interest in the improvement of horse stock on the Islands. Mr. Cornwell came from Brooklyn, N. Y., some 25 years ago, and was at death about 64 years of age. For three years after his arrival he kept a meat market on King street, where Mr. Waller now keeps a similar place. Afterward he went to Waikapu with his brother-in-law, Mr. James Louzada, to engage in sugar-planting, upon his partner's death succeeding to the sole ownership of the plantation.

Woodlawn Dairy &amp; Stock Co.

1 Thorough-bred Holstein Bull.

"Dutchman," 3 years old, will weigh about 1,800 lbs.

1 Holstein Bull, 12 months old,

"Hercules Second," sired by Judge McCully's imported Holstein "Hercules," dam, a large fine graded Holstein cow imported from California. Dam has given 44lbs. of milk in a day in this country.

1 Holstein Bull, 9 months old.

"Ajax." This fine thorough-bred Holstein was sired by "Hercules," dam "Elma."

We also have several graded Holstein Bulls from 2 to 8 mos. old.

This is a rare opportunity offered to stock-raisers to secure a superior breed of cattle. Stock men in America claim that for beef, milk, and butter they are superior to any other class of stock.

We have recently imported 2 thorough-bred Holstein Bulls from Syracuse, N. Y. These animals are related to the finest dairy stock in the world, viz: the Aagie family.

The best cow in this family at 6 years of age made the following milk record: 84 1/2 lbs. in one day, 2,362 1/2 lbs. in one month, 18,604 15 1/2 lbs. in one year ending March 25, 1885.

Applications made for bull calves from these superior animals will receive our attention. We are agents for Smiths, Powell & Lamb, and are prepared to take orders for stock to be imported from them. We have open catalogues of their stock, which we shall be pleased to furnish upon application.

We have also been appointed agents to take orders and sell cattle and horses from the well-known ranch of Gov. Leland Stanford, Vina, Cal. Governor Stanford has been importing from Smiths, Powell & Lamb thorough-bred Holsteins by the carload, paying as high as $1,500 each for cows.

WOODLAWN DAIRY & STOCK CO.,

Address A. L. SMITH, Sec'y.

Holsteins for Beef.

As proof of the superiority of Holsteins as beef cattle, we call attention to the following statement:

In the winter of 1884 and 1885, we caused to be slaughtered the recorded Holstein bull Syracuse (822), calved April 24th, 1882; the recorded cow Signet (1817), calved April 6th, 1880, and Little Wonder (1788), calved May 14th, 1880, with the following result:

Syracuse weighed, alive, on day of killing.....2,290 lbs.
Dressed beef.....1,430 lbs.
Hide.....142 "
Rough tallow.....120 "

Per cent. of dressed beef.....62.44
Per cent. of offal.....26

Signet weighed, alive.....1,470 lbs.
Dressed beef.....915 lbs.
Hide.....76 "
Rough tallow.....126 "

Per cent. of dressed beef.....62.31
Per cent. of offal.....24

Little Wonder weighed, alive.....1,493 lbs.
Dressed beef.....791 lbs.
Hide.....78 "
Rough tallow.....121 "

Per cent. of dressed beef.....52.93
Per cent. of offal.....33

Syracuse and Little Wonder had not been fattened for beef, and Signet we had fed for some time, but she was not what beef men would regard fat.

Taking everything into consideration, we think this shows decidedly to the advantage of Holsteins as beef animals.

The butchers that purchased and cut up the carcasses of Signet and Little Wonder send us the following strong testimonial as to the quality of these two cows:

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 11, 1885.
MESSRS. SMITHS & POWELL:
Gentlemen:—We were much pleased with the two Holstein heifers purchased of you last month. We have been in the meat business for the last twenty-five years, and have killed all grades of cattle, the best we could find in this country, but never have we had any that would equal in quality those purchased of you. We have had a great many compliments from the leading families in the city in regard to the Holstein beef.

Respectfully,
W. & J. FAGE,
49 Warren St.

The imported Holstein bull Ebbo, five years old, was killed on the Remington Farm in Cazenovia:

Weighted, alive, on day of killing.....2,260 lbs.

Dressed beef.....1,313 lbs.
Hide.....156 "
Rough tallow.....75 "

MacNEALE &amp; URBAN SAFES,

206 California Street, San Francisco, Cal.

GENTLEMEN: In reply to your inquiry concerning the opening of the Burglar-proof Chest in the safe in the office of the Clerk of the Supreme Court—now so well known as THE MCCARTHY SAFE—I will say that I took charge of the office on Wednesday, the 6th inst. For some days previous unsuccessful attempts had been made by various experts to pick the lock. On Thursday, further similar efforts were made, with the same result, by Mr. Ensign and other noted experts, ALL OF WHOM FINALLY DECLARED THAT THE LOCK COULD NOT BE PICKED, and that the safe must be opened by force.

On Friday I employed the expert of one of your competitors, who did faithful and honest work for that purpose.

On Saturday morning work was begun, and this morning (Wednesday) FOUR DAYS AFTER, the expert succeeded in drilling through the door and opening the safe.

I consider it was an extraordinarily severe test, much beyond what a burglar could possibly employ under any circumstances, and can assure it has inspired me with the highest confidence in the security of your Burglar-proof Safes, and that YOUR LOCKS ARE PICK-PROOF AGAINST THE BEST EXPERTS.

After working for some hours on the lock, one expert said he had found that Y was one letter and another that C was one. On examination, neither of these letters appeared in the combination. Yours truly,

J. D. SPENCER, Clerk of Supreme Court.

The above was a No. 8 MacNEALE & URBAN Fire and Burglar Safe.

THE AUSTRALASIAN MAIL SERVICE.

THE MAIL SERVICE WITH SAN FRANCISCO NOT YET OUT OF DANGER.

Writing on the new San Francisco mail service, the Wellington correspondent of the Otago "Daily Times"—received by the Zealandia to-day—says: "From what I hear, the new San Francisco mail service is not yet out of danger. The owners of the Australia and Zealandia are determined on a hard fight for the New South Wales part of the service. An agitation is being steadily carried on in New South Wales against the new contract with its breaks at Honolulu (only temporarily in abeyance), and an effort will be made to induce the Sydney Parliament to refuse to ratify the contract, and to accept instead the services of the Australia and Zealandia on a direct line between Sydney and San Francisco. I hear, on what I have reason to think good authority, that Messrs. Gilchrist & Co., the agents at Sydney for the late contractors, are prepared to submit to the new South Wales Government a proposal for a new direct San Francisco service with the Zealandia and the Australia on terms very favorable to the colony, and that strenuous efforts will be used to insure its acceptance by the New South Wales Parliament. It is believed here, however, that the advantages of the Union Company's service are so palpable that it will in the end be adopted. Should this not be the case, the loss of the Sydney subsidy and Sydney passengers and cargo would have a material effect upon the situation, and would involve a re-arrangement, greatly increasing the cost to this colony. I believe, however, that the New Zealand Postal authorities are sanguine of a satisfactory agreement being ultimately arrived at. I think the ex-contrators have not a leg to stand upon as regards their claim to carry one more mail before the old contract terminated."

A communication in the "Sydney Herald" under date of the 23d of December says: There are now two lines of steamers leaving Sydney for San Francisco, the one on the 29th inst., the other on the 31st. The first may be called the N. S. W. Direct Line, in 22 days; the other, which was dubbed by a Melbourne contemporary the Vogel-cum-Spreckels' Line, but call it for distinction's sake the Honolulu Junction Line, via Auckland and Honolulu, in 25 days. Neither of these is under contract. The Honolulu Junction Line calls itself so, but it is not so.

The service to which the late Postmaster-General gave his consent is bound to employ four steamers—two between San Francisco and Honolulu, and two between Honolulu, Auckland and Sydney. But the service is now being performed by three steamers in place of four, and they run through from Sydney, via Auckland and Honolulu, to San Francisco without transshipment. The contract, therefore, to which the late Postmaster-General gave his provisional consent has not been entered on et al., and the steamers advertised as "Royal mail steamers" are not so and have no right to any privilege or payment if the contract be adhered to. Yet it is said that the Australia was excluded from the Fitzroy Dock on the termination of her last voyage under the contract, and before the expiring of the term of contract, in order to keep the dock clear for the Honolulu Junction steamer just before she had arrived in port.

It may be said that the deviation from the Honolulu Junction service gives us a better means of communication, but the direct line gives us a better one still, and the deviation was certainly not made in the interests of New South Wales, nor, it is presumed, at the request of the Postmaster-General of New South Wales, but is avowedly a temporary measure having two objects in view:

First, to hoodwink the people of New South Wales as to the inconvenience of the junction service, involving transshipment of cargo and passengers at Honolulu, until the New South Wales Parliament ratifies the contract, and until, secondly, with the aid of the subsidy of £30,000 per annum, the Australia and Zealandia are driven off the line. When this is done, and New South Wales has no alternative, the Honolulu Junction will then come into play, as per contract, whether New South Wales likes it or not. Under these circumstances, what is to be done with the outgoing mail? Obviously the best thing in the interests of New South Wales is to send them by the direct steamers.

Mr. Norton has taught the P. M. S. S. Company the lesson that the Postmaster-General of New South Wales may put the mails on their steamer and pay a mere trifle for them—a power which it seems the United States Postmaster-General possessed; but on the representation of the R. M. S. S. Company, at the instance of New South Wales, the United States Congress, in June, 1884, repealed the law, which conferred that power on the Postmaster-General of the United States, and so enabled him to contribute in aid of any new contract the Australian colonies might make a contribution which New Zealand has asked and obtained, and which New South Wales might have for the asking.

The Postmaster-General of New South Wales may not put the mails on board the Honolulu Junction steamer, unless he becomes a party to the clever move of those astute allies, and pays the subsidy for a contract he has not agreed to, lest New South Wales be again humiliated, as in December, 1884, when the Postmaster-General of New Zealand threatened to take the New South Wales mails out of the mail steamer as she passed Auckland. (See the New Zealand telegram of December 3, 1884.)

The perusal of the papers laid upon the table of the House at the instance of Mr. Burns suggests these remarks, for they show that because the P. M. S. S. Company, in strict terms of the contract, presumed to negotiate with New South Wales for a reduction in the subsidy—a right which New Zealand had never asked, in fact had distinctly disclaimed—the Postmaster-General of New Zealand tore up the contract as far as New South Wales was concerned—invoked a power altogether outside the contract—compelled New South Wales to pay him £7,000 for the mails being carried in the boats of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, and to hand over the share of contributions from the other colonies to which New South Wales was entitled under the contract, and to give notice to the other colonies that she had no longer any part in the contract, which notice New Zealand followed up by a like notice from herself to those colonies and to London, yet New Zealand did not pay the Pacific Mail Steamship Company one shilling for the services so rendered, and for which New South Wales was compelled to pay her.

Certainly the telegrams from the 13th of October to 5th of December, 1884, are not pleasant reading to anyone having the honor of New South Wales at heart, but the late Government was "cornered," and could not help themselves. They neither knew of the existence of the local Act which conferred such extraordinary powers upon the Postmaster-General of New Zealand, nor could they have imagined such an application of it on the part of a colony with whom they had always been in friendly relations, and with whom, as Mr. Norton says, there was at that moment no want of harmony.

The same thing may happen again unless New South Wales takes an independent course, or is prepared to submit to the like application of the New Zealand Local Act when any difference in the construction of any point of the contract may arise at any time during the three years to which the new contract will bind her if approved by Parliament. (S. F. Chronicle, Jan. 21.)

WHAT IS A DOLLAR?

To the remark that "the silver in a Bland dollar is to-day worth 80 cents," a silver crank editor responds: "Now, tell me what the paper in a paper dollar is worth?" There is no such thing as a paper dollar. The editor will see, if he is able to borrow one, that his so-called paper dollar is only a paper note which promises to pay a dollar.—[Chicago Times.]

It is not quite twenty-five years since a Protestant sermon was preached in Mexico for the first time. Now, there are ninety-eight ordained ministers, representing five different denominations, at work in that country.

STATEMENT.

THE undersigned, a Committee of Directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, appointed to formulate the views of the Board on the advantages offered by the Society to the public, report:—

1st—The Society issues all the approved forms of assurance, including Ordinary Life, Endowment and Tontine policies. It is immaterial to the Directors which form of policy is taken by intending assureds.

2d—The Life and Endowment forms of policy provide for annual cash dividends and a surrender value; are repayable after three years and payable immediately after proof of death.

3d—The premiums on a Tontine policy are the same as on the Ordinary Life, but while the latter is only payable in the event of death, the holder of the Tontine policy has the right to draw the whole of the reserve and the accumulated profits in cash at the end of a stated period; thus, during his own lifetime, after his producing years are past, he can, without any larger premium than on an ordinary policy, secure these greater advantages.

4th—Experience shows that the return paid in cash on maturing Tontine policies approximates to or exceeds the amount of premiums paid by policyholders, so that the average cost of the assurance will be only about the interest on the premiums.

5th—Tontine policies, like others, are paid in full in the event of death at any time during the term of the policy, and are incontestable after three years, and payable immediately after due proof of death.

6th—Experience shows that the mortality is lower among Tontine policyholders, as the better lives seek this kind of assurance, which is a considerable source of profit.

7th—Tontine policies will be made non-forfeitable under the laws of the State, if so desired at the time the assurance is effected.

8th—The Tontine system is fair and just; its accounts are accurately kept, separate from all other business; the funds judiciously invested and improved, and the accumulated profits faithfully guarded and properly apportioned.

9th—The Society has since its organization transacted a larger amount of new business than any other company, while its new business for the first half of the present year is $1,750,000 larger than that of the first half of 1884. It has Assets of $60,000,000; over $14,000,000 of Surplus, and its ratio of Surplus to Liability is greater than that of any other company.
