GERMAN SKYLINE ESTABLISHED

AUSTRALIANS DEFEAT YANKEE ATHLETES

HAWAII'S YACHT REACHES THE COAST IN 21 1-2 DAYS

The transpacific yacht Hawaii arrived at San Pedro this morning after a trip of 21 1-2 days from Honolulu. The Hawaii for the first few days after leaving Honolulu met with rough and stormy weather it is believed, probably. During the entire trip the yacht behaved splendidly and the crew enjoyed every minute of the voyage.

The prevailing winds nearly the whole way up were from the northward and eastward, with sea moderate to rough. Topsails and staysails were probably carried the better part of the trip.

The Hawaii, with a crew composed entirely of amateur members of the Hawaii Yacht Club, under command of Commodore Charles Wilder, left Honolulu on the afternoon of May 31. A cable received by L. M. Vetlesen, chairman of the transpacific yacht committee, said: "Everything O. K. One gale. Aloha."

One of the trustees of the yacht club, Harry Rycroft also received a cable announcing the Hawaii's arrival.

Captain Anderson of the Matson liner Nevada reported on his arrival this morning that he had sighted the yacht Hawaii 500 miles from San Pedro, six days ago. According to this the Hawaii took six days to cover five hundred miles.

The $350,000 Comes Out Of The Building

Light is thrown on the question of how Delegate Kalaniana'ole got $350,000 at the eleventh hour to enlarge the Federal building site, by the following letter from Private Secretary McClellan to President Waldron of the Honolulu Merchants' Association: Washington, D. C. June 9, 1910. Mr. Fred L. Waldron, President the Honolulu Merchants' Association. Dear Sir: Replying to your joint cablegram with Mr. Cooke I have cabled to the association and to the Chamber of Commerce asking that each wire to Chairman Bartholdt to urge the necessity of securing the entire Mahuka block for our Federal Building.

The Treasury Department is very anxious to have this done and I am glad to be able to say that we have some encouragement that the delegate will be able to secure this very great concession from the committee. It is likely that it will have to be done by transferring the sum of $350,000 from the building authorization and then having that amount made up for the building in next year's bill. It would be impossible to secure a direct item of $350,000 additional for our site.

The delegate is staying over for the special purpose of looking after this item and everything possible will be done to bring about this very desirable result.

Very truly yours,
GEO. B. MCCLELLAN.

WILHELMINA TAKES AWAY RECORD CROWD

To the malahini who has never seen the departure of a local passenger vessel, the scene depicted at the sailing of the Wilhelmina this morning was one that will long be remembered.

Never before in Honolulu has such a crowd been on hand to see off their friends as were on the wharf as early as eight thirty this morning. By the time the bugle was blown at 9:45, announcing the time for visitors to leave the ship, fully 350 people were on the ship and wharf. Leis, potted plants and flowers in every shape, size and color were visible everywhere.

Berger played a number of the new pieces which his boys have only presented several times before, and just before the ship sailed struck up the wedding march in honor of Andrew L. Bushnell, the crack pitcher of the champion Saint Louis baseball team, who was quietly married last night. All morning, from eight o'clock on, automobiles and carriages brought their loads of tourists, merchants, school children, teachers, bankers, men prominent in the world of sport, brokers and local people who are bound for the mainland on business and pleasure.

The starboard side of the main deck reminded one of a reception shortly after the guests had arrived, as every inch from forward-after was taken up with people saying good bye.

The new rule relative to only passengers being allowed on board fifteen minutes before sailing hour was not carried out as well as the agents hoped for, and it is very likely that on the Wilhelmina's next trip the time will be set at a half hour, instead of fifteen minutes.

W. A. Kinney and family left to visit friends on the mainland.

Mrs. E. D. Tenney, Mill Wilhelmina and Mr. Vernon Tenney are going to Lake Tahoe for the summer.

George F. Henshall, Mrs. Henshall and Master Henshall are going to San Francisco. They will be gone about six weeks.

Frank Armstrong, Harold Giffard, Charles Hall, John Evans and William Williamson are a party bound for Reno to see the big fight between Jeffries and Johnson.

Tommy Burns, Bill Lang, Hugh McIntosh and Mr. Corbett are also bound for the fight.

Captain Johnson expects to arrive in San Francisco early next Tuesday morning.

BRIBE CHARGE IS THICKENING

Territorial grand jury seems to have barked up another tree in its investigations of the alleged attempt at bribing City Supervisors Aylett and Ahia to vote for the Fort street bitulithic pavement ordinance which was killed last night.

When Aylett first announced to business men here and there that he had been offered $1600 if he would vote in favor of bitulithic, and Ahia later stated that he also had been offered a bribe, it was thought there was a possibility of the Territorial grand jury taking up and hurrying through the matter, either to indict anybody who may have been guilty of attempting to bribe a city father, or to declare the thing a misunderstanding, a fake or a false alarm.

The jury met again this morning, and, judging by the postponement of any decision, and by certain facts of moment revealed during the course of the proceedings, the members of the grand jury are likely to develop other matters in regard to attempted bribery. Whether the bribery investigation is confined to bitulithic, however, cannot at present be stated.

All members of the board of supervisors have now been before the jury, as has J. A. Gilman, sole agent for bitulithic, and others interested in the bitulithic business.

Supervisors Quinn and Logan testified this morning.

The jury meets again next Wednesday, when there may be a report, which, perhaps, will be prepared in the meanwhile by the foreman.

TOUCH OF BLACKMAIL IN CASE OF MYSTERY

Federal grand jury may not now report until Monday next, if then, although U. S. District Court sits Friday and will be ready to receive report if any is ready.

The inquisition sat this morning, several witnesses being examined. The main case talked of on the outside, especially with fear and trembling by a number of fashionable townsmen given to being affected by the glamor of moonlight nights, benzine-buggies and all the alleged delinquents which follow in that category, is not likely to receive a single word of mention in the final report, unless some of those incidentally concerned get rapped on the knuckles. There seems to be a touch of attempted blackmail in the circumstances of the case which has been frequently hinted at as being under investigation and the Federal grand jury will not be made an instrument of vengeance or malice.

There are numerous matters of interest to be reported, and, if the amount of labor in which the grand jury has indulged does not prove vain, the number should be large. They will not all have to do with immorality.

The services of U. S. District Attorney Breckons and U. S. Marshal Hendry, it is understood, will be appreciated in the report.

In the matter of the calling of hotel men to take their hotel registers before the Federal grand jury, while this was for the purpose of fathoming the particular case above referred to, it is stated that the grand jury desired to ascertain whether or not any blame is attached to hotel men in the conduct of business in the last few weeks.

AMERICAN WOMAN
MARRIES A KOREAN

The Peking Daily News says:

A Japanese paper published in Seoul prints a strange story concerning an American lady and her Korean lover. It is to the effect that a few years ago a Korean named Yi Chong-su of Hachimyou in Taiku district, South Kyongsangdo, emigrated to Hawaii. While working there he became seriously ill and was attended by an American doctor. For a year or so, the Korean was unable to recover his health. In the meantime the American doctor died, but his widow out of pity secured for the Korean patient the services of another doctor and tenderly nursed him until he had completely recovered his health. All the while love grew between them and at last the widow married the Korean. Mrs. Yi recently arrived at the native place of her Korean lover, after selling the property left by her former husband.

STUDENT TELLS OF THE HEN

An article appearing recently in a paper in the states regarding the increase in the output of the egg crop in Kansas inspired a Filipino student in Manila to dilate on the subject thusly:

"The Kansas hen and her numerous offspring, the egg, are the great wonders of peoples of the all world. Thus speaks the United papers, who state that because of the more strong hens of that state, the eggs from there are much more than others. Much interest in eggs are take in Philippines Islands, where though not big, eggs are also sometimes good, but China eggs are strong but not so good. United papers say that when a good care is made of the hen, she get strong as does also her egg, which is very good advice for proprietors of hens here and must be done.

DRIFTED 1100 MILES.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The Hydrographic Office has just come upon a case of more than usual interest in that an abandoned ship has drifted westward for 1100 miles in 118 days through the middle of the Sargasso Sea. This sea is an egg-shaped area in the latitude of Florida, beginning some 400 miles east of Jupiter and extending thence easterly for 1700 miles to about the 39th meridian.

It is characterized by an unusual quantity of sea-weed, but traditions and popular writings have peopled it with all kinds of floating debris, including abandoned ships. Practical navigators, however, have found no trouble in traversing it in all directions, and the drift of the abandoned Norwegian bark Crown, above referred to, goes to show that popular superstition is no doubt once more in error.

GERMANY'S NAVY.

"Before the end of this year Germany will have surpassed the United States in the race for naval supremacy," George White, of New York, a naval architect, said to a Washington Post reporter.

"Germany will soon be the second naval power, and will be next to Great Britain alone in tonnage and number and power of guns," continued Mr. White. "Emperor William and his advisers, who have the backing of practically the whole German nation, intend to make Germany, if possible, the first naval power in the world.

"It has become an economic necessity for Germany to have a great navy, because she cannot expand in any way except commercially, and to have a world-wide commerce, which must be secure from molestation or attack, she must have a navy strong enough to defend her interests in every foreign land, and on every sea. The Germans aim not at being the second naval power, but the first. Of course, it will take a great many years of warship building for her to acquire a navy as large as or superior to that of Great Britain, but she is laying her plans to this end.

"Last summer I spent two months in German seaports and in Berlin on business, and was surprised to discover that the German people, almost as a whole, are bent on having the greatest navy in the world. There are several patriotic leagues in the empire which have for their purpose agitation for a greater navy, and they have been successful in educating the people to its desirability."

MONEY VALUE OF EMIGRANTS

The words "rich emigrant," says the London Times, express an absurd idea, a contradiction in terms, to the general public. An emigrant is supposed to be an unfortunate person who has not been able to "get on," at home, or at least sees no prospect of success, and is driven out of the country by adverse circumstances. To a large extent this is true. Apart from the young men who are impelled by an inborn love of adventure and enterprise, it is true that most emigrants would stay at home if they saw before them anything like the prospects of success that they expect to find across the seas.

There is another side to the picture, however. The thousands of emigrants who are crowding the third-class accommodation of all the steamers leaving our ports for Canada this month are not merely of a good class; they include a considerable number of capitalists. The 450 immigrants who sail from Liverpool to Canada under the wing of the Salvation Army include at least half a dozen who have in their possession at least £100 a piece, and a large number taking from £10 to £100. Yet this is a comparatively poor party. The 300 emigrants sent out by the same organization last week comprised another half a dozen who took sums varying from £100 to £1000. It is estimated that the two parties between them will have in their possession when they land in Canada not less than £30,000. The Salvation Army, when desired by its clients, takes charge of their money and remits it by draft, to be paid by the Army's officers in Canada on demand. The official emigration organization of the Canadian Government does not do this, nor does it particularly inquire into the financial condition of emigrants, so long as they can comply with the government's regulations. No exact statistics therefore, bearing on this point, are on record. But many emigrants who are going out on the strength of information supplied by the government office have made voluntary statements of the amounts which they are taking with them. One man, for instance, had from £180 to £200; another about £500 to £750. Two men, going out to grow wheat in Alberta, will start with £1200 and from £1500 to £2000 in their possession respectively. And so the tale goes on, till at the end of the season a total will be reached that may fairly be described as enormous.

It will not be without interest in this connection to notice that a large amount is sent out to emigrants after their arrival by friends in this country. The "remittance man" in Canada generally gets his monthly allowance from home through a bank, and the total can hardly ever be guessed. The smaller amounts sent out by money orders, however, are on record. The Postmaster General's last report shows that in the year 1908-9 as much as £286,220 was sent to British America (chiefly Canada) through his agency, as well as £126,852 to Australia, £45,196 to New Zealand, and £92,605 to South Africa.

On the other hand, far larger sums are constantly being received in this country through the Colonial post-offices. Last year, for instance, as much as £991,278 came from British America, £270,225 from Australia, £187,019 from New Zealand, and £617,201 from South Africa. A large proportion of this money, at any rate from the first three regions named, is sent over by successful emigrants for the express purpose of enabling members of their families to go out and join them.

The money value of a citizen to the State is estimated by some American authorities, looking at the matter from what may be called a Chancellor of the Exchequer's point of view, at £300. At that rate the 100,000 emigrants who are expected to leave the United Kingdom for Canada alone this year will increase the productive capital of the Dominion by £30,000,000. In addition to the £4,000,000 or more probably £5,000,000, which they take with them in money.

RUSSIA ADOPTS
PUBLICITY PLAN

Russia, the most conservative of civilized countries, says the Courier-Journal, has at last recognized the power of printers' ink, and the folly of attempting to suppress the news. The Russian government is to establish a press bureau with a view to cultivating closer relations with the correspondents of newspapers and news agencies. The official press agent will be a son of the Russian Ambassador at Paris.

This is a significant event in Russian affairs. It is tantamount to a proclamation that those in power in "Darkest Russia" have observed the methods of foreign governments in treating with the newspapers of the world and recognizes the fact that the age of censorship and suppression has passed. This is not only a recognition of the power of the press, as a collector and disseminator of news with which it is wiser to treat than to fight, but also a recognition of the value of getting into print the most favorable reports of Russian developments and policies that it is possible for diplomacy to secure.

Russia may, perhaps, have learned something about the importance of press agency during the recent war with Japan, when the Japanese were conducting at Tokyo the most remarkable press bureau that had been established by any government. The Japanese entered the war with a full appreciation of the tremendous possibilities of manipulating news as well as plugging up certain news channels.

By preventing war correspondents from learning too much about affairs at the front and at the same time overwhelming them with hospitality, flooding them with information favorable to the Japanese government and to the Japanese as a race, they executed a coup that deserves honorable mention in world history. War correspondents were allowed more latitude of action within the Russian lines than with the Japanese army, but there was no organized effort to coddle and influence representatives of newspapers and magazines, or writers of books. The result was that the reading world received an impression of Japan that was altogether rosy and somewhat misleading, and Russia received few favorable notices. The Japanese government is no less alive to the value of publicity during times of peace than in times of war. It has conducted a finely organized publicity system since the closing of hostilities.

The immediate effect of the Russian project will be to establish an entente cordiale between the press and Russia that will tend to decrease the mutual distrust of intentions that has existed between the news gatherers and the Russian officials, but Russia will be unwise if she follows the lead of the Japanese in seeking to manufacture favorable fiction, rather than to allow the press to get at the real news. Japan's coup was so great that it advertised itself by its magnitude. At present there is a decided tendency to discount all official reports and utterances from Japanese sources as a feature of the Imperial government's publicity work.

RULES OF THE AIR LANES.

When an international conference met in Paris lately to consider rules for aerial navigation, the members found they were utterly at sea with regard to the practical questions they were convened to settle. Therefore they invited experts to advise them, who included such notable airmen as Bleriot, Paulhan and Latham. M. Bleriot laid the matter out with the method of a statesman. First he reminded the lawyers that aircraft were divided into three categories: spherical balloons, dirigibles, and aeroplanes. Then he put and answered the question of what the rule of the road should be when these various kinds of aircraft met in the air. One could not expect the non-steerable balloon to take the initiative, hence the dirigible or the aeroplane should always give way to it. Then the dirigible balloon was a ponderous craft in comparison with the aeroplane. It was slower, more laborious in answering the helm, and the huge gas bag shut out a great part of the heavens from the view of the pilot, for which reasons it would only be reasonable for the aeroplane always to make way for the dirigible. M. Bleriot thought the question of bearing to the right or left when aircraft were passing each other was of little importance, but the passing over or under any other craft should not be allowed on any account, as untold dangers would most assuredly arise. For night he advised a lamp fore and aft.

In one matter the counsel of the expert was set at naught, and that unanimously, by the conference in adopting a rule that requires the carrying on aircraft of the owner's national flag. M. Bleriot condemned such a rule as stupidly dangerous, holding that the blowing of the flag in the breeze might easily cause a fatal accident either to the airman or someone else. Also he asked what was there to prevent the flag from getting entangled in the wires and pulleys, or even in the motor.

Air navigation has not advanced far enough to make rules feasible for the relief of aircraft in distress, showing how they may leave to, come to anchor, instal a jury rig, launch a lifeboat, abandon ship, or avail of any of the various means of salvation patent with seagoing craft in jeopardy.

Having fairly met expectations on the voyage to San Pedro, the yacht Hawaii ought to make a good showing in the race home.

Senator Harvey's sudden death is a very sad event. He was a native Hawaiian who faithfully performed important trusts, both public and private. His services as a member of the last county board before the municipal government were highly competent. The party to which he belonged recognized his personal standing by sending him to its national convention. In the Senate he showed himself a devoted friend of the sick and indigent. Many inmates of the leper settlement were released as free from the disease through a medical examination obtained on his initiative. Genial and gentlemanly in marked degree, Mr. Harvey was generally liked and will be greatly missed.

IMPROVEMENT IN INTERNATIONAL COMMERCE.

International commerce shows a marked improvement in all the principal countries of the world. Figures of imports and exports compiled by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor show, in nearly every case, larger imports and larger exports in the current commercial year than in the year immediately preceding.

The Bureau of Statistics compiles each month for presentation in its monthly summary of commerce and finance a statement showing the total imports and total exports of each of the principal countries for such portion of its commercial year as may be available, taking these statements from the official reports of the countries in question. The table includes returns from 36 countries of the world and shows not only the total imports and total exports during that portion of the current year which is available, but also the monthly average during such portion of the year as has elapsed. An examination of this statement of average monthly imports and exports, country by country, shows a marked advance in the current year over conditions in the corresponding periods of last year and thus a return to at least the normal conditions of commercial activity, the record being in many cases higher than ever before.

International trade, as is well known, fell off in the period following the financial depression of 1907-8, and as a consequence the import and export figures of nearly all countries were smaller in 1908 than in the immediately preceding year. The increase shown by the figures of the current year is, therefore, in most cases, more distinctly a return to normal conditions than an actual advance over those which existed prior to the financial depression of 1907-8. In many cases, however, the figures of the current year are materially larger than ever before and it is probable that the total of international trade in the calendar year 1910 will surpass that of any former year.

How much of the increase in value of international commerce is due to higher prices cannot be accurately determined, since the figures in question are merely those of value and no opportunity exists to compare the quantity of merchandise moved with the value thereof. It is well known, however, that in many articles, especially manufacturer's materials, the quantities entering international trade in the year 1909-10 are much greater than in the preceding year; but it is not improbable that a considerable part of the increase in values of international commerce is due to higher prices, especially in the natural products, which show marked advances over the prices of a year ago.

Uncle Walt

The Poet Philosopher

No wthe long, long day is fading, and the bush of dusk is here, and the stars begin parading, each one in its distant sphere; and the city's strident voices dwindle to a gentle hum, and the heart of man rejoices that the hour of rest has come. Thrown away is labor's fetter, when the day has reached its close; nothing in the world is better than a weary man's repose. Nothing in the world is sweeter than the sleep the toiler finds, while the ravening mosquito fesses at the window blinds. Nothing 'neath the moon can wake him, short of cannon cracker's roar; if you'd rouse him you must shake him till you dump him on the floor. Idle people seek their couches, seek their beds to toss and weep, for a demon on them crouches, driving from their eyes the sleep. And the weary hours they number, and they cry, in teens distraught: "For a little wad of slumber, I would give a house and lot!" When the long, long day is dying, and you watch the twinkling stars, knowing that you'll soon be lying, sleeping like a train of cars, be, then, thankful, without measure; be as thankful as you can; you have nailed as great a treasure as the gods have given man!

BITULITHIC PAVE DIES

The Fort Street bitulithic paving ordinance went uncomplaining to its grave at a brief meeting of the city Supervisors last evening, the motion to pass the ordinance, notwithstanding the mayor's veto, being lost.

It was a quick business session. The appropriation measure passed on final reading and numerous routine matters were disposed of.

First was read the general business community's petition praying that the ordinance for the bitulithic pavement of Fort street be made law.

Supervisor McClellan stated that the man who had circulated the petition was the man to whom the contract would be awarded.

Quinn moved to the effect that the ordinance pass notwithstanding the veto of the mayor. Kane seconded. But, as a five to two vote is required to override the mayor, the motion was lost and the ordinance died. Ahla, McClellan and Aylett voted against overriding the mayor. Quinn, Kane, Logan and Cox voted to override, there being one vote lacking to save the bill.

A letter from the mayor was read calling the board's attention to the fact that the superintendent of public works had notified them to curb and pave the streets on which city property fronted and that legal proceedings would be instituted against them if it was not done. The board requested the city attorney to render a written opinion on the matter.

HELD FOR ATTACK

Edward E. Lane, former bookkeeper of the Honolulu Iron Works, is still held as a prisoner at the police station on the charge of criminal intent on the person of a female under ten years of age. Lane was arrested yesterday afternoon by Chief McDuffie after an all night search, and appeared in police court this morning before Judge Andrade. On the request of his attorney Leon Straus the case was continued until tomorrow morning. The penalty, under the section, is a fine not exceeding $1000 and imprisonment at hard labor for a term not less than one year and not more than five.

Son Honk Sik was fined $15 and costs for assault on one of his friends. Moke, Pu and Nalehua, the three Hawaiians who have been stealing coal from the Dillingham pile, were found guilty and sentenced to three months imprisonment each.

Yoshi Kambara charged with being a vagrant, will have a chance to prove his innocence Friday morning.

Dear Bernice:—

Just a line to catch the Mauna Kea tonight. When you come up for your vacation be sure and bring a tin of Thoro soap. It is a mixture of powdered toilet soap and corn meal and is the "best ever" for keeping your hands soft and white. It is something new; Clara told me about it. I think it is to be had at Benson, Smith & Company's place at the corner of Hotel and Fort street. Slip a box of Haas candies into your valise. You know what their chocolates are. You can buy them at the same store.

ANOTHER DAY OF SLACK BUSINESS

There was scarcely a particle of business on the Stock Exchange this morning, and, so far as can be ascertained, practically nothing on the streets. The arrival and departure of the mails had much to do with the dullness; but the general lack of interest which has prevailed for some time was the principal cause of sluggishness.

Between boards there was quite a little doing in Hawaiian Commercial, although the market was still weak. Blocks of 200, 100, 50, 50 and 15 changed hands at $33.75. This morning the same was bid for more, but holders had advanced their figures to $40. The stock appears to be a trifle stronger and in more demand than in some days past.

Also on the street 100 and 10 shares Honokaa sold at $18.75. This morning bidding was at $18.625, while holders were demanding $18.875.

There was only one sale on the board this morning, 5 shares Ewa changing hands at $33.875. There seemed to be a slight slump after that, for $33.625 was bid while the stock was offered at $33.75.

Interesting quotations without sales were: Waiialua, $130 bid and $132 asked; Pioneer, $216 bid; Oahu Sugar $32.50 bid and $33.75 asked.

MOONLIGHT DANCE.

The moon will be so near full on Saturday night that Manager Kimball of Haleiwa Hotel will give a dance to the patrons of the hotel. The weather is inviting and the cool breezes one encounters on the way to the famous resort, whether he goes by train or machine, are welcome for their invigorating effects. The hotel will be illuminated Saturday night and will be special preparations in the dining room for the accommodation of the guests. The dances at Haleiwa are always well patronized because they are a departure from the routine of such affairs and the change into the country is always pleasant.

REPORTS OF DUN AND BRADSTREET

R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly Review (New York) of June 11 said: With a compromise effected on the question of railroad rates, which, though depending in part on action by Congress on the railroad bill, is regarded as satisfactory, and with crop prospects for both wheat and cotton decidedly good, the business outlook shows much improvement over last week. The improvement is largely sentimental, but increased confidence almost invariably leads to increased trade.

Stocks of pig iron continue to accumulate, yet curtailment of production was on a much less extensive scale during May than in the preceding month. New business comes forward in slightly larger volume in the West, and a better feeling exists as a result of the compromise regarding freight rates. Talked-of cancellations of equipment orders have not materialized, and the railroads continue to place some important contracts in certain lines.

Structural work continues quite active, and bridge work pending aggregates about 25,000 tons. Formal notice from the largest producers of cotton and woolen goods of an intention to curtail production very materially speaks difficulties besetting textile lines.

Manufacturers are purchasing in a limited way, and there is some increase in the call for domestic staples, while the miscellaneous export trade continues quiet but fairly steady, the best markets being the Philippines and some of the South American countries.

Trade in footwear continues quiet, and manufacturers throughout New England are running under materially reduced headway, but a slight improvement is noticeable, as New England manufacturers are getting in more full orders. Leather is decidedly dull. Dullness and weakness characterizes the hide market, and prices are lower on about all varieties.

On the same day Bradstreet reported as follows: Unseasonably cool weather still arrests retail trade and retards crop progress in the northern half of the country, and trade is quiet in the southern districts, though cotton and fruit crops there are making progress.

Jobbing trade reports reflect quiet in consumptive demand in a moderate volume of re-orders, which are classed as frequent but small in the aggregate. Trade, as a whole, still hesitates pending a clearer view of crop and price outcomes. Industrial reports point to considerable curtailment of output proceeding from uncertainty as to the latter.

The temporary settlement of the railroad rate troubles and the postponement of advances in this item of cost of business operation have given a brighter tinge to feeling in some basic industries. The week's price movement is toward a slightly higher range, reflecting largely crop uncertainty as regards the cereals and bullish operations in the remaining old-crop cotton months, but the monthly return of price movement point to a continuance of the readjustment of commodity values on a lower level, where high cost will not, as in the past, automatically check consumption.

Future trade in cotton goods is backward, with operations cautious. Curtailment of operations is still in advance, some estimates of the reduced volume being in the neighborhood of 30 per cent. In woolen goods trade is also backward, and there is some idle machinery.

Sole leather is steadily bought on local and export account. Upper leather is quiet, and tanners are reported curtailing operations. Bad weather restricts trade in shoes. Pig iron is more weaker but prices are active.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending June 9 were 189, against 160 last week, 197 in the same week of 1909, 253 in 1908, 161 in 1907 and 170 in 1906.

Business failures in Canada for the week were 36, against 18 for last week and 29 in the like week of 1908.

Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending June 9th aggregated 1,700,055 bushels, against 2,970,663 last week and 1,857,184 this week last year.

Corn exports for the week were 239,689 bushels, against 238,740 last week and 214,314 in 1909.

AN INTERESTING M'BRYDE RUMOR

An advance rumor has come down from Kauai in regard to the tunneling operations now being carried on above McBryde Sugar Company's plantation which is of a highly interesting character. According to this report, the scheme of the engineers will be entirely feasible, ensuring for the estate a very large amount of additional water.

A detailed statement of the situation cannot be given out today but all the facts will be expected in the city on Saturday or Sunday.

A TIP FROM AFAR.

Sometime ago the Promotion Committee had a red-hot contest on a catch phrase to compare with "Paradise of the Pacific," which had become a trifle threadbare. By today's mail came a letter from a far-away Washington, submitting this suggestion: "World's tides flow through Honolulu."

Secretary Cooper is a little puzzled to know just how such a motto could be utilized without danger of misunderstanding. Some might receive the impression of tidal waves, whereas the worst Honolulu has to offer in that line is Nuuanu stream and Marston Campbell's Nuuanu dam. Some might take it as having reference to the tide of foreign gin which is now flowing in to escape the extra duty which Uncle Sam will put on after July 1. Still others might take the notion that it referred to the Hindu and Russian immigrants, who use Hawaii as a stepping stone to the Land of Liberty.

Altogether, the phrase is regarded as too "catchy." Anyhow the contest has been closed. The remarkable part of the matter is that the news of the little contest should have travelled so far and drawn such distant fire.

OPFERGELT RETURNING.

A letter received by today's mail from Louis Opfergelt, for many years a resident of Hawaii, states that he has sold out his business at Hemelingen, Germany, and will arrive back in Honolulu the first week in August. Mr. Opfergelt is an expert sugar boiler, having worked in that capacity on several plantations, his last employment being at Koloa, Kauai. He left here about eighteen months ago and bought a metal works at his old home, which he has now disposed of. The "call of Hawaii" was too strong for him.

Mr. Opfergelt states that he would like to reenter his old line here. His family will follow him to Honolulu at the end of the Summer.

SUGAR STRENGTHENING.

The cable this afternoon reported beet sugar to be 14 shillings, 7 pence in New York, an advance of three points since yesterday.

DOOR OPEN, SAYS SECRETARY KNOX

In view of the reports of trouble in China, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce recently addressed the State Department for information as to whether or not the proposed excursion through the Celestial Kingdom would be safe to the necks of the parties making the journey. As several Honolulu people will make this trip, the correspondence was sent on here and should prove of general interest. It has been more or less facetiously suggested that Secretary Knox, who signs this assurance of safety in China, is the same gentleman who humped his head against the iron bars of an "open door" in Manchuria. The letter to the State Department was as follows:

San Francisco, June 4, 1910.
To the State Department, Washington, D. C.

Upon the invitation of the Chambers of Commerce of China, the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast including representatives from Spokane, Portland, Tacoma, San Diego, Los Angeles, Oakland and San Francisco, contemplating trade excursion to China, leaving here via S. S. Korea August 23. Today's press despatches seem to indicate that such a trip might not be advisable. Would appreciate any suggestions from your department in the premises.

C. W. BURKS,

Secretary.

To this request for information the Secretary of State replied as follows: Washington, June 7, 1910.

C. W. Burks, Secretary Associated Chambers, San Francisco, Cal.

This Department is of opinion that conditions in China furnish no reason for any change in your plans. The troubles appear to be merely local and to not affect the ports likely to be visited by the commission.

KNOX,

Secretary of State.

KOHALA SUGAR CO. PAYS LAST BONDS

The directors of the Kohala Sugar Company held a meeting this morning and decided to pay the remainder of the outstanding bonds of the company, amounting to $45,000. One instalment of the bonds, amounting also to $45,000, was called in last year. The securities have borne interest at six per cent.

The bonds will be payable on August 1, after which interest on them will cease.

Kohala Sugar Company paid a lump dividend of six per cent last year, and, with the bonds out of the way, hopes to do much better in the future.

WILLETT & GRAY'S LATEST LETTER

Willett & Gray's New York sugar letter of June 9 contained the following concerning the market for raws:

This has been a quiet and featureless week in raw sugar, without change in quotations and with only a few sales practicable.

Notwithstanding that Europe turned upward and made some progress in that direction, yet the Cuban exports for the week came so much larger than expected that buyers refrained from purchasing in expectation that some unsold sugars from these exports may be pressed for sale on arrival.

Sales include one spot sale of Cuba Centrífugals and 14,000 bags Porto Rico afloat at basis 4.24c, per pound landed; also 60,000 bags Cubas, July shipment at 2 21-32c. c. & f., equal to 4.33c. landed.

Offers to sell second half June at 2 15-16 c. & f. found no buyers for some reason.

The Cuba cables received by us during the week are interesting in that they show no diminution of crop estimates, but a rather further increase.

Messrs. Guma-Mejer's figures of total island receipts to May 31st are 1,612,814 tons, against our previous estimate of 1,595,000 tons. Receipts last year after June 1st to end of crop were 181,902 tons.

The same receipts this year will give a crop of 1,794,716 tons.

Our 1,750,000-ton minimum estimate is now well within the final outturn crop, which, considering the larger number of Centrals working, may still reach 1,800,000 tons. We do not, however, change our crop estimate, but simply give figures as above when the weekly receipts are reported.

Total stock of sugar in the principal countries of the world, May 1st, was 2,672,608 tons, against 2,783,145 tons last year, a decrease of 110,537 tons for the world, but deducting the U. S. and Cuba stocks, 830,148 tons, leaves for European total stocks 1,842,460 tons, against last year, with 726,165 tons stock of U. S. and Cuba deducted, 2,056,980 tons, a decrease for Europe alone of 214,520 tons.

The United States refiner is still more comfortably situated than the European refiner as regards supplies in sight, which accounts for the continued large difference in parity between New York and Hamburg, 89c. per 100 pounds.

We are able elsewhere to give full information and figures of Philippine crops, which are now in position to add to our refiners' special supplies from year to year. The refiners will not benefit very much this year, however, as the crops are small.

The following years will show more or less rapid increases in production. Europe, after quoting 14s. 4 1-2d. for beets last week, has improved to 14s. 8 1-4d. at the close, having still some distance to rise before reaching previous high point of the season 15s. 1 1-2 d.; August beets are 14s. 3 1-4d.; against 15s. 2 1-4d. at highest.

The European beet crop weather is very favorable by cable reports, considering the recent dry season reports and lack of rain is now only feared for the future.

Our other cable crop advices of the week, given elsewhere, change our crop estimates by 5,000 tons increase for Porto Rico and 15,000 tons less for Philippines; also a small decrease from last year is indicated for Java,

BIG MEN ENTERTAIN LOCAL ENTHUSIASTS

Tommy Burns, ex-champion heavy-weight fighter of the world, and Bill Lang, present champion of Australia, met in a six round exhibition last night at Aloha park, before a fair sized crowd of fight enthusiasts who wanted to see the two men that are to meet the best men in the United States before long.

Both men on account of the long voyage which ended yesterday on the arrival of the Marama from the Colonies, stated to Scully and McRae that they were not in condition to go 15 rounds, their manager Hugh McIntosh stating that under no condition would he allow them to go over the long distance.

Jack Scully and Henry McRae, who had spared neither time nor money to assure the local sporting public a good show, were very much upset when they found that the big fellows would not go the number of rounds advertised and, not being willing to disappoint the crowd, hurried around to get 'Sailor' Kiernan from the U. S. S. Cleveland to go six rounds with Burns so as to lengthen the program.

A little after eight thirty Gans and Johnson, who were scheduled to go eight rounds, appeared in the ring followed by their seconds and trainers.

Johnson had somewhat the best of Gans in the first round, but after that Gans had little trouble in hitting the so-called Australian light-weight when and wherever he wished.

The third round which turned out to be the last, went only a few seconds when Gans feinted with his right and then drove a stiff left handed uppercut to Johnson's jaw which sent him to dreamland.

Sarcone of Camp Very challenged the winner, who accepted without any delay.

The next number on the program an exhibition bout between Kiernan of the Cleveland and Burns, was the cause of much laughter from the spectators who enjoyed the efforts made by the plucky sailor against the ring general Burns. Burns played with Kiernan as a cat would play with a mouse, and several times gave a vivid example of what he might do in a real fight against a better man. The third and last number of the evening, a six round exhibition between Lang and Burns furnished an idea of what both men are capable of doing in the squared circle. Several times during the six rounds, both men got in blows that would have put a less experienced man to slumberland without very much trouble, but the veterans did not seem to mind the blows that they called love taps.

Lang is a much bigger man in every way than Burns, but is not as scientific as the plucky ex-champion. In spite of the principals failing to go 15 rounds, the spectators seemed to feel that they had received their money's worth.

Burns said after the fight that he hoped to get another chance at Jack Johnson and that he was certain that he could make a much better showing against the big negro.

Both Scully and McRae deserve thanks for their efforts in giving the out of 16 shots in four minutes and local people a chance to see the big men, and the failure of the two to go the limit of fifteen rounds as advertised, does not reflect on either of the promoters.

LANKY BOB TALKS.

"If I am any judge of fighting men, I consider that Jeffries will have no trouble in defeating Johnson next month for the championship of the world," said Robert Fitzsimmons, one of the greatest men ever in a prize ring, during his short call in Honolulu yesterday.

"Johnson in my opinion is afraid of Jeffries, and my reason for thinking so is the fact that Johnson wanted to fight loser take all, but when Jeffries called his bluff he wanted the purse divided so that the loser would get something.

"Jeffries in my way of thinking is the greatest ring general alive today, and I feel certain that I made Jim what he is.

"Johnson was never up against as big and as strong a man as Jeffries is, and he never had any one go after him in a fight as Jeffries will in this one.

"When I was in my prime as a fighter, I was considered to be the hardest hitter that ever put on the gloves, but I was unable to stop Jim Jeffries.

"As foxy as I was in the ring, Jeffries outgeneraled me and he will do the same with Johnson. When Johnson won the championship of the world by defeating Burns, he at once stated that he was anxious to fight Jeffries.

"Three months previous to this Jeffries knew that he would have to enter the ring once more to regain his title, as he did not propose to let a negro keep the title that he had won. When Jeffries found that he could get in condition, he accepted Johnson's challenge on his own terms.

"On the day of the fight there is nothing left for Jeffries but to go in and win against the man that every white man wants to see defeated.

"Johnson is a clever defensive fighter and has improved a great deal but he never will see the day that he is able to defeat James J. Jeffries.

"I only wish that I was a few years younger, as I am certain that I could defeat Johnson as easily as Jeffries will. I have fought my last ring battle however, but as a man that has been in the game I want to say for the benefit of the whole world, that Jack Johnson will go down to decisive defeat when he meets Jeffries who is today the greatest fighter that has ever donned the gloves."

RACE CALLED OFF.

The round the island yacht race for the governor's cup which was scheduled for this week, has been called off until after the Honolulu-Kahului race. The racing committee of the Hawaii Yacht Club made this announcement yesterday. Scott's fast yacht the Kamehameha will be ready for both races as her repairs are about completed.

WEEKLY SHOOT.

The sixth weekly shoot of the Hawaii Gun Club will be held this afternoon on the Kakaako traps commencing at the regular time.

As Major Long and J. W. Harvey have each won two legs on the trophy, their many friends are anxious to see how the shooting will result today. Long receives a god handicap from Harvey, but he will need it today as Harvey has been doing excellent work in practice.

Vincent who has one leg on the trophy feels confident that he can add another one this afternoon providing the wind is not too strong.

Entries for the all day shoot next Sunday are coming in fast, and before they close on Saturday the largest list ever entered is expected.

The first match on Sunday will be started at nine o'clock sharp.

POLO PRACTICE TODAY.

A number of polo enthusiasts are expected to be present this afternoon at five o'clock on the Moanalua grounds, for the purpose of playing practice games.

The following players have been placed on the red, white and blue teams:

Blues—No. 1, L. Lemon or R. W. Atkinson; No. 2, S. A. Baldwin; No. 3, W. F. Dillingham or John Erdman; No. 4, H. G. Dillingham or George Denison.

Reds—No. 1, W. D. Baldwin; No. 2, Lieut. Rogers or Harold Castle; No. 3, T. H. Lewis; No. 4, Al Magoon. Whites—John Grace or Dr. Hedemann. No. 2, Bob McCorriston; No. 3, George McCorriston; No. 4, Mr. Pickett.

The games have been arranged as follows: First period, ten minutes, Blues vs. Reds. Second period, ten minutes, Reds vs. Whites.

Third period, ten minutes, Blues vs. Whites. Fourth period, ten minutes, Blues vs. Reds.

During the remainder of this month practice games will be played every Wednesday and Saturday. The Wednesday games will start at 5 o'clock, the Saturday games at three thirty.

JUROR DISGUSTS JUDGE.

POTTSVILLE, May 27.—The jury in the case of Thomas Edwards, of Shenandoah, against Henry Myers, a civil case to secure payment of $5,000 on a note, slept on chairs at the courthouse for two nights because one juror held out for the plaintiff, the other 11 favoring the defendant. It is said the one juror was influenced by an extraneous matter introduced in the case.

Judge Daly discharged the jury in disgust this afternoon, saying:

"It seems too bad that one man should prevent a verdict in a case. Sometimes, of course, his position is honest, but very often it is a case where a man lets other considerations outside of what should influence him on a jury enter it. If that is the case here, it is an outrage on justice."

Revolution Sons Meet And Dine

One of the most enjoyable gatherings in the history of the Hawaiian Society of the Sons of the American Revolution was held at "Undercliffs," the beach bungalow of Dr. Charles B. Cooper, the vice-president, last evening.

Prior to the business session, this being the annual meeting, an excellent banquet was served. Dr. Cooper presiding as toastmaster in the absence of Hon. George R. Carter, president of the Society, who is on a tour of the world. After the toast "To the President of the United States," there were a number of patriotic speeches, and a great deal of applause was especially given to those of Admiral Rees, Commandant of the Naval Station; Colonel Walter S. Schuyler, Commander of Schofield Barracks, and Major E. Eveleth Winslow, Commander Fort de Russy.

C. H. Dickey, George P. Castle, A. F. Cooke and Sidney M. Ballou were also among the speakers.

At the business session, the following officers were elected to serve the ensuing year:

President, Dr. Charles B. Cooper; Vice President, Hon. C. H. Dickey; Treasurer, Fred D. Lowrey, Secretary, Perley L. Horne; Registrar, John Effinger.

Board of Managers—A. F. Cooke, George P. Castle, Howard C. Mohr.

The annual reports of the retiring officers, Treasurer Robert J. Pratt, Secretary Lyle A. Dickey and Registrar Sidney M. Ballou, were of an encouraging nature. It was decided to publish a "year-book" to contain a history of the Society, genealogy of the membership and other data. A vote of thanks was tendered to Dr. Cooper for the excellence of the evening's arrangements, and to the retiring officers.

AT THE THEATERS

The more-or-less pugilistic entertainment at Aloha Park last night rather augmented the down town theater crowds, as it did not last long and seemed to be an immense attraction to the amusement center. The Park, Art and Empire had big houses, while the Novelty had about all the business it could handle.

EMPIRE TONIGHT.

At the Empire theater this evening the feature films will be as follows: "A Visit to Uncle," "A Lesson in Domestic Economy," "The Heroine of Mafeking," "The True Patriot," and "Glimpses of Yellowstone Park." Royal and Elliott will appear in a new playlet tomorrow night, and continuing Friday and Saturday evenings. A feature tonight and for the remainder of this week will be the fancy skating stunts of Joe Forrest.

AT THE PARK.

The feature film at the Park theater this evening will be "The Christian Martyrs," an elaborate scene illustrative of the old Roman days. The Desmond sisters and Sherman Thompson will reappear in new and highly entertaining features, while Carl Wallner will again delight his many admirers.

COHEN "WATCHING IT."

"Theatrical Papa" Joe Cohen spends a good deal of his spare time around the new Orpheum nowadays, watching the carpenters transform the erstwhile Bonine into a big, gaudy, pleasing theater. The larger part of the job is the big stage and accessories. These are rapidly being shaped up and soon the painters and decorators will "get busy." Mr. Cohen expects to have everything ready in ample time for the grand opening on the night of June 27.

AT THE NOVELTY.

Tonight at the Novelty theater there will be a change of pictures. Two feature films will be shown, "The Legion of Honor," and "The Life of Moses." The Novelty has been very fortunate in securing this film, "The Life of Moses" as it ranks high above any other picture ever shown. This will be the last week in which to see the Howard sisters in singing and dancing. Expected to arrive by the Sierra Friday will be some new talent.

Troops In Readiness On Border

EL PASO, Texas, June 22.—All along the Mexican border, from Cananea to Ciudad Juarez, there is a state of revolutionary ferment and the troops are having great difficulty in keeping order. On the American side of the line, American troops are held ready to suppress any disorder that might arise in American territory.

The Mexican elections take place on Sunday and the popular feeling against the Diaz administration, which is being forcibly checked and prevented from registering itself at the polls may result in a serious outbreak. On Monday, arms that were being smuggled across the line into the border towns were discovered, resulting in the declaration of martial law.

TAFT IS SUPPORTED.

ST. PAUL, Minnesota, June 22.—The Republican State convention, held here yesterday, was in full control of the regulars, who nominated their ticket and passed a strong vote of confidence in President Taft and his administration.

The resolution commended the President for his wise and conciliatory course in national affairs.

Governor Adolph O. Eberhart, who carried the State by a plurality of twenty-eight thousand in 1908, was nominated to succeed himself, the nomination being unanimous.

WORK TO BE COMPLETED.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The house last night passed a bill providing for the issuance of certificates for twenty million dollars to complete the various government irrigation projects now in progress under the reclamation bureau. It is stated that the passage of this bill in the senate is assured.

The senate will vote today on the Postal Savings Bank bill, one of the most important measures of the session.

BIG FOUR WILL SOON SAIL.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Orders were issued from the naval department yesterday for the first division of the Pacific fleet, including the cruiser California, Colorado, Pennsylvania and Washington, under command of Rear-Admiral Harbor, to sail for Valparaiso on August 14, to take part in the Chilean semicentennial celebration.

NO EYE FOR HUE.

Dalton, the great chemist, says a Strand writer, said that diluted black ink on white paper gave a very similar appearance to him to the color of a florid complexion. Blood appeared to him very like the color called bottle-green. Grass and a scarlet coat seemed to be of a laurel color. He considered the face of a laurel leaf a good match for a stick of red sealing wax.

Babbage gives an amusing account of Dalton's presentation at court:

"Firstly, he was a Quaker, and would not wear the sword, which is an indispensable appendage of court dress. Secondly, the robe of a doctor of civil laws was known to be objectionable on account of its color—scarlet, one forbidden to Quakers. Luckily, it was recollected that Dalton was afflicted with the peculiar color-blindness which bears his name and that, as the cherries and the leaves of a cherry tree were to him of the same color, the scarlet gown would present to him an extraordinary appearance. So perfect, indeed, was the color blindness that this most modest and simple of men, after having received the doctor's gown at Oxford, actually wore it for several days in happy unconsciousness of the effect he produced on the street."

THE BUSY HOUR.

Statisticians are engaged in discussing this question: At what hour of the day do the most unusual things happen? We can answer it. When Daysey Mayme Appleton is in the bathtub. The fire bells ring and the fire engines make a sensational dash past the Appleton home when she is in the bathtub with nothing on. The man with a hand-organ and a monkey gives a concert, the neighbor across the street beats his wife, the preacher's wife goes by in new clothes and the only eligible man in the town calls—all these and many other unusual things happen when Daysey Mayme is in the bathtub.

PETTY CROOK IN PRISON AT SUVA

The Western Pacific Herald, of Suva, Fiji, of June 10 contained the following concerning John Oliver, a young Englishman who was recently "fired out" of Honolulu and refused re-landing by the immigration authorities upon his return from Canada:

An individual, a member of a class for which we have no use in the colony, happened on Suva this week, and is now in the hands of the police. The man, whose name is Oliver, alias, Inguldy, was a stowaway on a Canadian liner, and was being brought back from Honolulu to Sydney in the R. M. S. Makura. Whilst the steamer was lying in the harbor he was confined in a cabin, and, according to his own statement, escaped through the porthole into the water and swam ashore. Safely landed he related a plausible tale to a few citizens on the beach, and preyed on their sympathies to such an extent that he was soon in funds. He then went to the Club Hotel and paid for board and lodging in advance. With his surplus cash he freely indulged in strong liquors. On Thursday he was missing, and so was properly belonging to other lodgers—he patronised them all—a coat, a shirt, an overcoat, sleeve-links, and other articles were taken indiscriminately. The police were informed, and this morning Sergeant Wallace arrested him lying down at the Extension. He was taking life very comfortably, reading a book, and was wearing some of the stolen clothes. He was taken to the lock-up, and will be brought before the Court tomorrow. The overcoat was found behind the Cathedral, and some of the stolen property he had sold to two tradesmen in town. The man is about 30 years of age and, it is said, plays the organ "divinely," and had been practising on the Cathedral organ in Suva.

If time is important use the Wireless and avoid the delays incident to the mails. On Sunday mornings the office is open from eight until ten.

Nolte's is an institution, along with big business houses and banks that have stood the varying conditions of time and the city's growth. It is the people's standard cafe.

The meats at the Metropolitan market are better than those sold elsewhere because they have been chilled and are free from animal heat and, consequently, tender. Telephone 45.

We have several mottoes, but all mean that "the best meal in the city for the money, served in the most satisfactory manner is to be found at Nolte's."

Before starting on your journey provide yourself with funds in the shape of the Cheques issued by the American Bankers' Association and for sale in Honolulu by the Bank of Hawaii.

Cut out this and take it to Yat Loy Co. corner King and Nuuanu street, and on your making a cash purchase of 50 cents or upwards you will receive ten green stamps in addition to those usually given.

The ballot packages of the second and sixth districts, representing West Hawaii and Kauai, were opened by Secretary Mott-Smith yesterday at the archives building in the presence of Justice De Bolt, in order to obtain copies of the precinct registers for those districts.

A benefit to the Humane Society has been kindly tendered by the McRae Stock Co. It will be given on Friday evening at the opera house, when "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" will be presented. Both the object, appreciation of the favor and assurance of a fine show ought to ensure a crowded house.

THE WOMAN OF THE FUTURE.

Those who think that the freedom, independence and educational advantages of the women of today are detrimental to her best development should take a long look backward and then, in the light of what he sees, a long look forward, and, we think, he will decide that the woman of the future will be a vast improvement over the woman of the past.

With men, for instance, a comparison of the uneducated, uncultured "cracker" of some backwoods region with some foremost scientist of the center of civilization gives a vivid picture of what advancement means. The "cracker" is simply the product of his environment. Give him generations of education, culture, association with the best civilization offers, and he will become the cultured, useful member of society the scientist is. And, looking ahead, the scientist of today will fall far short of what the same type will be hundreds of years hence.

The same conditions are true of women. And yet the scientist is of more value to the world and more truly what a man should be than is the "cracker," so will the developed woman be more useful and happier. For anyone who finds his powers and uses them is more truly fulfilling the purpose of living. As all progress is from the material to the mental and spiritual the path ahead of women is inspiring.

The women of the future will be able to leave behind her the purely practical burdens that have kept her eyes down to earth. She can straighten up her back, bowed by centuries of the hardest toil, look up and see the sky. Not that these tasks will be neglected, out science and invention are doing these better than she can. Already she no longer spins or makes candles or soap or cures the ham and bacon for the family's needs. Many more do not bake, make clothing or launder in the home. All these things are done outside by specialists and skilled machinery. Vacuum cleaners are taking the place of back-breaking sweeping. The work that has held her mentally to a row plane is not only being taken out of her hands, but is being done well. She is now free to go on to higher things.

Instead of giving the most of her time to the physical needs of her children, to cooking their food, mending their clothes—all things which must be done—she has now time to devote more of her attention to their mental and spiritual requirements—a decided step forward. Character building is of more importance than body building, though one is dependent upon the other. But all that is needed now for proper body building is oversight, which does not take all her time and strength. She is free to study what is best for the children's highest development. Surely this is an improvement on the worried mother, driven to death by cooking, sewing, scrubbing, and whose children run the streets because she has no time to look after them.

The unmarried woman of the future will also be a vast improvement over the single woman of the past. This bachelor girl of the future, even of today, has a business, a profession, a keen and helpful interest in civic and national affairs. She is far more symmetrically developed than the spinster of 100 years ago.

The woman of the future is a matter of congratulation, for she will live up to her opportunities as she has been faithful to her duties. She will be more in tune with the wonderful creations of this wonderful world.

CAMPBELL MAY HUSTLE IMMIGRANTS

The local board of Immigration has offered A. J. Campbell the chance to make another trip to Portugal for the purpose of securing more Portuguese laborers for the sugar plantations.

President Ivers stated this morning that Mr. Campbell had been asked over a week ago to make another trip to bring as many laborers as he could with the money available but, so far he had not given any definite answer.

Mr. Campbell remarked that it was true that he had been offered the position as special agent for the board of immigration but had been unable to decide, owing to pressure of business interests. "If I decide to accept, I will leave early next month for Europe, as the board wants the selection of laborers started as soon as possible," says Campbell.

"In the event of Mr. Campbell not accepting the mission, I do not know who will be the one selected to go," says Ivers.

Mayor Fern has called a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors for twelve noon tomorrow, "for the purpose of passing suitable resolutions in connection with the death of ex-Supervisor and Senator Frank R. Harvey."

The above is the title of a booklet issued today by the Honolulu Stock & Bond Exchange, copies of which have been received from the Bishop Trust Company. The publication contains 58 pages, and is neatly gotten up, the publishers being the Mercantile Printing Company. Nearly all of the figures and facts in the pamphlet contained are from official reports made by corporations to stock holders.
