MRS. STANFORD WAS MURDERED

Coroner's Jury Find That Strychnine Was Used With Felonious Intent.

With a verdict to that effect the Coroner's jury last night concluded the inquest into the manner of the death of the late Jane Lathrop Stanford. The case of the local police, therefore, is presumably complete, the evidence ready to hand over to Detective Cullendan of San Francisco, who will reach here today on the Alameda.

Whether he will accept the conclusion reached by the Honolulu authorities is another question. Detective Cullendan is a man of wide experience in the unravelling of murder mysteries. Indeed, he must be, or he could not have reached the rank that he has attained in the San Francisco police department. And, at that, there are murder mysteries that have never been solved in the annals of the police department of the big California town.

So far as the Stanford case is concerned while the inquest has been concluded and the local police no doubt feel that they have run down all the lines of evidence that have presented themselves, there are still some points that perhaps have not been made quite as clear as they should have been made to an elucidation of this end of the mystery. Nobody believes that anybody in Honolulu had guilty knowledge of the attempt to poison Mrs. Stanford—assuming that the Coroner's jury is correct in its conclusion, and that she was poisoned.

There can be no doubt, of course, that there was strychnine in the phial from which the dead woman took bi-carbonate of soda on the night that she died. The strychnine in that phial, moreover, although this does not seem to have been made to appear in the evidence, was so thoroughly mixed with the harmless drug that portions taken from various parts of the mass all showed the same proportion of strychnine—and this despite the fact of the attempt to show that Miss Berner had taken the dose for Mrs. Stanford from the top rather than from the bottom of the bottle. The two drugs were as thoroughly mixed, in fact, as though they had been macerated by a chemist who knew his business, with a pestle and mortar.

That might show premeditation on the part of the poisoner, of course—but it might also show a number of other things. That is the way drugs are mixed for people who are in the habit of taking certain mixtures for their medicinal effect. All kinds of theories have been advanced with reference to this case, but it has been nowhere stated that Mrs. Stanford might have been in the habit of taking strychnine, either as a tonic or for some other purpose.

Strychnine is the best tonic in the world, and there have been people who have made a habit of taking the drug. Also, there have been such things known as taking an overdose. This is not to discredit the verdict of the jury—but the Stanford case is one from which the element of mystery has by no means been eliminated by the conclusion of the coroner's inquest, and in the solution of a mystery all the possibilities must be taken into the consideration.

Again, the chemists testified that the traces of strychnine found in the stomach of the dead woman were so very slight that it was a long time before they could be at all certain that they had found it—and they were finally led to as much certainty on this point as they did reach by the "color test."

And the color test is not infallible. A mixture of one part of hydrastine, which is the alkaloid of golden seal root, with nine parts of morphine, will produce exactly the same color reaction as strychnine. Nobody has had the faintest notion that Mrs. Stanford took a mixture of hydrastine and morphine, nevertheless, the assertion of this fact in chemistry would seem to detract somewhat from the value of the "color test"—and the color test is all there is to show that any trace of strychnine was found in the body.

Another point that, standing by itself, needs elucidation is the statement in the evidence of Miss Berner that the physician would not give Mrs. Stanford ipecac because "of its effect on the heart." If ipecac were a heart depressant, then it would seem there could have been nothing better to counteract the effect of strychnine, which is a strong heart stimulant—and if ipecac stimulates the heart, then a few beats more would have been little to be feared in the case of a woman in extremis. The fact of the matter is that ipecac has so slight an effect on the heart action that it may be said

WASHINGTON, March 9th, 1905.

To the JAPANESE CONSUL-GENERAL, Honolulu.
The report received from our Manchurian army on the morning of the 9th is as follows:

"In the direction of Hingking our detachment having dislodged the enemy from Manchuntan district continues pursuit. In the direction of the Shaho in the region east of the railway the enemy having shown the signs of wavering we commenced a general attack on the midnight of the 7th inst. and dislodged the enemy from that position. We are now pressing his base at the Hunho. The whole district extending from the west of the railway to the left bank of the Hunho has already fallen into our hands. On the right bank of the Hunho the enemy near Yangshitun, Likuanpao, continues obstinate resistance, but his repeated counter attacks were repulsed with great loss. We are gradually pressing towards Mukden. In the district north of Mukden we met stubborn resistance, but already have captured Hsiaoichitun, five miles northwest of Mukden, Pachiatzu (one mile northeast of Hsiaoichitun) and Santaitzu. We have destroyed the railway to the north of Mukden since the 7th inst. The enemy frequently fired vigorously on our dead and wounded on stretchers and carts in the field west of Ninggun-tun."

COUNTY BILL HAS PASSED THE HOUSE

There is Not a Dissenting Vote When the Commission Measure Comes Up For Final Action.

The House yesterday passed the county act prepared by the County Act Commission. There were many minor amendments to the measure, the salaries of officers being changed in some particulars, but only two changes of very material moment in the bill. One of these provides that there shall be county recorders elected, it being contended that recording is not a county matter and it would be safer to provide for their selection in a separate bill, and the other gives the island of Hawaii two counties, namely East Hawaii and West Hawaii. Otherwise, the measure is substantially as it came from the hands of the Commission. The bill passed the House on third reading without one dissenting vote. It now goes up to the Senate for the action of that body.

The House likewise passed the Quinn Sunday law bill, and that also goes to the Senate, which has under reconsideration its own Sunday law and so will have a chance to hear Mr. Baldwin upon both measures when he arises to speak upon the Woods Committee bill.

It was rather a busy day in the Senate, also, the Dickey Juvenile Court bill passing and the senior branch taking the bit in its teeth upon the matter of the Molokai junket and giving the matter into the hands of a special committee, thus throwing the health committee out of business upon this particular matter. As the House health committee is active upon it, there seems some likelihood of a clash before the junket is arranged.

LEGISLATURE--NINETEENTH DAY.

THE SENATE.

Yesterday, just before their adjournment, the Senators decided that they would reconsider the Sunday law, passed on Wednesday, to give ex-Senator Baldwin of Maui a chance to be heard on the measure, and thereby put themselves in a position where the House can read them a lecture, if it sees fit. It will be remembered that the House not long ago passed a bill providing for the filing of appeal bonds and sent it to the Senate, where it was read for the first time. Then the House changed its mind about the bill, deciding to reconsider. It got the measure back, but not until the Senate had read it a little quiet lecture upon the point. And, if the House has already passed the Sunday law on first reading, will it be less censorious than the Senate?

HOW RECONSIDERATION CAME.

The motion to reconsider the Sunday law came on motion of Bishop. The Senator said that there was a distinguished citizen, a former member of the Senate, who had expressed a desire to be heard upon this measure, and he thought the courtesy of hearing should be extended. He did not name ex-Senator Baldwin, but that is the man nevertheless. There was some protest, because the bill had already gone to the House, but Bishop claimed the right to his motion under the rules, as the bill had been passed within twenty-four hours. He was in order, too, and on a rising vote it was decided to ask the House to return the bill, and to reconsider the vote upon it. Those who did not rise were Brown, Hewitt, Lane, McCandless and Gandall, and the last named did not get up at all.

BOUNTY ON COFFEE.

From the Public Lands Committee, McCandless presented the following: "Your Committee on Public Lands, Internal Improvements, Agriculture, etc., to whom was referred House Concurrent Resolution No. 5, relating to a bounty on coffee, respectfully report as follows:

"We have had the same under careful consideration and while we believe the objects of the resolution are good, we cannot recommend that the resolution pass in its present form, believing it to be class legislation, and would recommend that the resolution be amended to read as follows:

"CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

"Be it resolved, by the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii: "Whereas, the coffee industry of this Territory is now in a depressed condition and many of the plantations are threatened to be abandoned on account of the continued low price of the product and the large quantities of coffee imported into the United States from Mexico and Central America free of duty; and,

"Whereas, there are within this Territory large areas of land suitable to the cultivation of coffee and there are large areas of coffee lands in the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico, new possessions of the United States; and,

"Whereas, large amounts of American capital are now invested in this industry in the Territory of Hawaii and in the new possessions of the United States, providing employment to many citizens unable to compete with the peon labor of South and Central America; and,

PROPER ACTION.

"Whereas, it is meet and proper that this industry and the citizens engaged in it should be encouraged and protected for the benefit of the Territory of Hawaii and the whole of the United States and its possessions; and,

"Whereas, a distinguished commissioner of the Honorable Senate of the United States, which lately visited the Territory of Hawaii and reported the same to the Senate of the United States, recommended that a bounty of four cents per pound be paid the producers of coffee within this Territory for each pound of coffee produced; therefore be it

"Resolved, that we respectfully petition the Congress of the United States to impose a duty on all coffee imported from foreign countries into the United States, or in lieu thereof to provide a suitable bounty to be paid to the producers of coffee within the United States, to the end that a great internal agricultural industry may be created and the nation further become self-supporting.

"Resolved, that the Governor of the Territory is hereby requested to transmit certified copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the President of the Senate of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, and to the Delegate of the Territory of Hawaii, with the request that the resolution be properly placed before the Congress of the United States."

"With this amendment your committee recommend that the resolution be adopted."

The report was adopted.

FORESTRY REPORT.

At the opening of the session, the Commission of Forestry and Agriculture presented its report with a letter from its President, which was ordered placed on file.

The House Concurrent Resolution asking that the Senate Committee on Education be instructed to join with the House committee in the investigation of the condition of affairs in the Department of Education disclosed by the grand jury was adopted.

Bishop introduced an act to amend the tax laws. It passed first reading and went to the Printing Committee.

Lane introduced a bill to tax franchises. Passed first reading and went to the Printing Committee.

Dowsett introduced a bill to tax leaseholds, at request of the administration. Passed first reading.

Brown offered a resolution appropriating several thousands of dollars for roads in various parts of Hawaii.

Paris offered the following:

HOUSE BILL NO. 118.

AN ACT.

Defining the Crime of Usury and Providing for the Punishment Thereof.

Be it Enacted by the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii:

Section 1. Any person who directly or indirectly receives any interest, discount or consideration upon the loan or forbearance of money, goods or things in action, greater than the rate of interest prescribed by law, shall be guilty of usury, and punishable by imprisonment at hard labor for a term of not exceeding Five (5) years, or a fine not exceeding One Thousand ($1000) Dollars, or both.

Section 2. This Act shall take effect from and after the date of its approval.

"Be it resolved, by the Senate of the Territory of Hawaii that the following items be placed in the Appropriation Bill: $400 for repair of beach road from Kailua to Makalawena; $600 to extend road from Kohanaki, North Kona, to government land of Ooma; $800 for repair of road from Hoopuloa to Miloli; $5000 to widen and repair road from Opihale, South Kona, to boundary of Kau; $1000 to build road from Kealia village on the beach to Hookena landing."

DICKEY WANTS TO KNOW.

Dickey offered a resolution asking for some information from the Treasurer relative to the cost of county government, but withdrew it when he was told by McCandless that the Accounts Commission report contained all that.

Senate Bill 39, to protect the owners of containers of beverages and medicines, was read for the third time, and passed 9 to 6; Achi, Lane, Paris, Dowsett, Hewitt and Brown voting against it.

Senate Bill 26, providing for the punishment of persons impersonating officers of the Board of Health, on second reading was sent back to the Judiciary Committee for amendment.

Senate Bill 3, the Dickey municipal bill, went on the table until called for. On second reading, consideration of Senate Bill 41 was postponed by request of Hewitt.

Senate Bill 11 was laid on the table on second reading.

JUVENILE DELINQUENTS.

Senate Bill 9, the Dickey bill providing for the creation of courts for the trial of juvenile offenders, was passed against the dissenting votes of Brown, Bishop, Paris and McCandless. The opposition to the measure did not seem to be based upon the principle of it, but to a difficulty that Senator Bishop said was certain to arise when it was undertaken to enforce it. In the mixed population here, Bishop thought, it would be impossible to get a probation officer who would serve for nothing and follow juvenile delinquents into their homes to see that they observed the terms of the law.

"It will be so much dead matter on our statute books," Bishop said.

However, this view did not prevail. Dickey argued that there were lots of men who would do that much for the good of the community, and he certainly would himself if he had time. Paris wanted to make the law apply to misdemeanors only, not criminals, and Dickey was willing, but this did not meet with favor.

"Give the boys a chance," said McCandless.

Senate Bill 58, to provide for the publication of United States District Court decisions on third reading passed without dissent.

House Bill 78, to regulate court practice on the trial of causes, on third reading passed without dissent.

House Bill 71, on second reading went to the Judiciary Committee.

House Bill 73, went to the Judiciary Committee on second reading.

House Bill 79, the flag bill, to Miscellaneous Committee.

A communication said to be from the Chinese community asked for a subsidy to help in keeping up the Chinese Hospital. Referred to the committee having the hospital bills in charge.

THE MOLOKAI JUNKET.

For the Health Committee Kalama reported that the Molokai junket had been urged upon, to be taken on Saturday, March 18, returning the next day. The report asked the Senate to authorize the expenditure of $275, as its share of the cost of the trip.

Dickey moved the adoption of the report, and Bishop objected strenuously to permitting three or four hundred people to visit the settlement.

Achi wanted to know whether the Senate would have half the passes.

Kalama explained that both committees would approve the application for passes. As to visitors to the settlement, it had been stipulated by the President of the Board of Health that visitors should be kept in a corral, and not allowed to mingle with the inmates, as formerly.

Achi said the last Legislature had got a steamer for nothing for the junket. This Legislature should do better than the last in all ways. And he objected to the adoption of the report.

McCandless said the Health Committee had never handled this matter before. It had been handled by a special committee, and the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House had issued the permits, not the chairmen of the committees. He moved that the President wait on the Wilder Steamship Co. and see what could be done. The Board of Health had nothing to say as to who should go.

Dickey wanted to know why a steamer should be chartered. He was willing to pay his fare, and thought that all should do that. He moved to send the report back to the committee.

Paris thought all the outsiders who wanted to go would be willing to pay fare.

"Why," asked Bishop, "if 400 or 500 people wanted to go up to Molokai, should the government pay their way?"

Achi moved to refer the whole matter to a special committee, and McCandless thought it should be a joint special committee. It was not made a joint committee, and the report went to a special committee consisting of McCandless, Hewitt, Hayselden and Gandall. This committee held a meeting immediately after adjournment, and went to work at once.

Senate Bill 78, to provide for a Board of Immigration, passed second reading and went to the Miscellaneous Committee.

Senate Bill 76, empowering the treasurer to appoint marriage license agents, passed second reading and went to the Ways and Means Committee.

From the Loan Committee Bishop offered a resolution for the appointment of a joint committee of one from each island to be appointed by the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House acting together, such committee to recommend loan appropriations. The resolution was adopted.

Senate Bill 77, relating to the payment of license fees, passed second reading and went to the Ways and Means Committee.

The Senate adjourned for the day at noon.

THE HOUSE.

For actual work performed, yesterday must rank as a red-letter day with the House of Representatives. Not only was a mass of routine business disposed of, but the second reading of the County Bill was passed and Quinn's Sunday Observance Bill was put through its third reading.

Quinn's Sunday Observance Bill came up at the opening of the afternoon's session. The first section was amended to allow the unloading of such freight as live stock and perishable goods from steamers on Sundays.

Nakuina, who stated that he is president of the Christian Endeavor Society for the whole Territory, moved that instead of 3 o'clock being the latest hour at which fresh meat, fresh fish, fresh fruit and fresh vegetables may be sold, the words "all day" be inserted. Rep. Harris pointed out that this would enable a shopkeeper to put a little fresh fruit in his store and then keep open all day Sunday, which would work a hardship on many people employed in stores.

"Farmers" were stricken off the privileged list of those allowed to labor and "laundries and laundry workers" will be permitted to collect and deliver washing.

"Fruit" was added to the list of articles which may be sold on Sunday and the bill then passed as amended by 17 to 10.

The division was as follows:

Aye: Andrade, Coelho, Fernandez, Greenwell, Hala, Harris, Holstein, Kalawala, Kalaioua, Knudsen, Long, Pali, Quinn, Sheldon, Shipman, Smith, Waterhouse.

Noes: Broad, Cox, Kalino, Lewis, Liliakani, Mahelona, Mahikoa, Nakuina, Pula, Rice.

Absent: Aylett, Copp, Kaniho.

COUNTY BILL PASSED.

It was shortly before 3 o'clock when the House went into Committee of the Whole on the County Bill. There were three sections of it untouched and these were looked after first.

The bonds for the county officers of both East and West Hawaii were made practically the same as originally proposed for the single county of Hawaii. Puna, South Hilo, North Hilo and Hamukua will form East Hawaii, with Hilo as its county seat, while Kau, South Kona, North Kona, South Kohala and North Kohala will be West Hawaii, with its county seat at Kailua.

Lewis introduced the following amendment to provide for the salaries of the county of East Hawaii:

Members of the Board of Supervisors .....$ 600
Sheriff ..... 2,400
County Clerk ..... 1,800
Auditor ..... 1,800
Tax Assessor and Collector ..... 2,000
County Attorney ..... 2,700
County Treasurer ..... 1,800
Deputy Sheriff, South Hilo ..... 1,620
Deputy Sheriff, North Hilo ..... 720
The committee then went over the salary list and the following changes were made in the draft as originally submitted by the County Act Commission:

SALARIES CHANGED.

Salaries of members of the Boards of Supervisors: From $300 per year, raised to $600.

Sheriff, West Hawaii, $1,500.
Sheriff, Maui, from $2,250 to $1,800.
County Clerk, West Hawaii, $1,200.
County Clerk, Kauai, from $1,500 to $1,800.

Auditor, West Hawaii, $1,200.

Auditor, Kauai, from $1,500 to $1,800.

MANSLAUGHTER FIRST DEGREE JONES VERDICT

"WE THE JURY IN THE ABOVE ENTITLED CAUSE FIND THE DEFENDANT GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER IN THE FIRST DEGREE, RECOMMENDING EXTREME MERCY BY THE COURT."

Such was the verdict of the jury that tried Edward Mitchell Jones for murder in the first degree, which was returned at 3:22 yesterday afternoon after deliberation extending over a little more than thirty-seven and a half hours.

OFFENSE AND PENALTY.

"Whoever kills a human being without malice aforethought, and without authority, justification or extenuation by law, is guilty of the offense of manslaughter."—Sec. 2899, Revised Laws of Hawaii.

"Whoever is guilty of manslaughter in the first degree shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor, for a term of years not less than ten, nor more than twenty, in the discretion of the court."—Sec. 2900, Revised Laws of Hawaii.

THE JURY DISCHARGED.

Mr. Robertson for the defendant noted an exception to the verdict on the ground that it was contrary to the law and the evidence and the weight of evidence, and gave notice of motion for a new trial.

Judge Robinson, turning to the jury, thanked them sincerely for the earnestness with which they had discharged their duties in the long and arduous trial. He then excused all of them, on the regular panel as well as the special venire, from further attendance at the present term.

"I thank you, Your Honor, for your kind consideration," Foreman Bauman responded.

The Jones jury, which has sat in the record criminal trial for length in the Hawaiian Islands, consisted of Theo. Bauman, Job Batchelor, E. T. Dreier, W. J. England, W. Duisenberg, Louis R. Medeiros, Antone Fernandez, T. P. O'Brien, Peter O. O'Sullivan, Charles A. Simpson, A. J. Tait and Wm. E. Tyrrell.

It was the forty-fifth day of the trial on which the verdict was rendered.

HOW JONES TOOK IT.

When Clerk Simonton, who read the verdict in a clear tone so that all present might hear it, had uttered the word manslaughter, a light of gladness illuminated the features of Jones. It was evidently with an effort that he repressed a broad smile. That it was not a hanging matter seemed to give him full satisfaction.

SENTENCE ON MONDAY.

Deputy Attorney General Peters moved for sentence next Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Messrs. Robertson and Dunne suggested that the Supreme Court would be meeting at the time stated, and asked why not have it set for Saturday morning.

Judge Robinson said he did not wish to sit again this week, and at the suggestion of Mr. Peters he set the time as 9:30 Monday morning.

COMMENT ON VERDICT.

Legal men, remarking on the verdict, expressed surprise that the jury, if they wanted "extreme mercy" for the defendant, did not bestow it themselves in a verdict of manslaughter in the second degree, for which the penalty is imprisonment at hard labor "for not more than ten or less than five years."

A reply heard to this question is that a majority of the jury had probably determined to hold out for nothing less than manslaughter in the first degree, but ultimately compromised to the extent of accepting the rider putting the prerogative of mercy up to the court for exercise.

The law defines manslaughter as above and says it may be of three degrees, but makes no attempt at defining the elements of guilt to constitute any of the degrees.

THE CLOSING DAY.

Early yesterday morning the jury were conveyed from the Young hotel in the police patrol wagon to the courthouse, where they were strictly secluded in Judge Robinson's courtroom—the trial having been held in Judge Gear's courtroom, a larger place. Officers were stationed in the corridors to prevent anyone passing close to the closed doors on two sides, while all modes of access to the side opening on the balcony were closed securely.

Considerable of a crowd of idlers hung about the precincts all day, and the seating capacity of the courtroom was well filled when the verdict was rendered.

In the middle of the forenoon the jury came out for instructions as to the penalties for various classes of unjustifiable homicide. Judge Robinson granted the request by reading the sections in that regard from the Revised Laws. This appearance of the jury and its purpose led to a general belief that a verdict of some form of guilty would be returned.

THE CRIME.

It was on the evening of August 22, 1903, a few weeks after his wife, Linda K. Jones, nee Parmenter, had obtained a divorce from him for intemperance and cruelty as alleged, that Edward Mitchell Jones rode in the electric cars from town to Manoa and returned, getting off ultimately at Alapai and Kinau streets. Mrs. Jones lived with her mother, Mrs. Sarah Parmenter, a widow, in Kinau street a short distance from Alapai. Jones was addicted to drink and had that evening been indulging in wine. Mrs. Jones was riding in one of the cars on which her husband rode that night. She had been keeping company with a motorman and it was testified at the late trial that she was engaged to marry him.

After alighting from the car Jones went to Mrs. Parmenter's house and, lying down in a hammock on a veranda, slept for some time. His presence was discovered and Mrs. Jones ran out to Alapai street for the purpose of finding a policeman, at a patrol box there, to remove Jones. Having awakened a few minutes past midnight, Jones confronted Mrs. Parmenter, whom, after some words, he shot in the head, she dying some days later. Mrs. Jones having returned to the premises was met outside by her former husband, who told her he was going to kill her and then shot her dead. Her lifeless body was found directly after the tragedy, lying a few feet from the house. Mrs. Parmenter made a dying declaration that Jones had shot her. Mrs. Marcus Parmenter, a daughter-in-law of the first woman shot, testified at the late trial that she saw Jones shoot his former wife, the witness looking through a window and holding a lamp.

In the wild confusion of the neighbors and police after the shooting Jones escaped to the mountain country back of town. He left his shoes near the house, which were found and identified. After suffering hardships and hunger for several nights and days he crept into town, and going to a house where his son lived asked the latter to accompany him to the police station. His son drove with him in a hack to the station, where Jones forthwith made a statement in which he admitted killing the women. He declared that his motive was love for his former wife. Among the details he gave was the fact that after the shooting he reloaded his revolver. He said his intention was to shoot himself.

At the succeeding October term of the First Circuit Court, before Judge Gear, Jones was tried for the murder of Mrs. Parmenter. The defense of insanity was set up and the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty. An effort was made at the January, 1904, term to have Jones tried for the murder of Mrs. Jones, but it failed through the impossibility of obtaining a jury. The case was then continued until the January, 1905, term, now in session.

NERVOUS HEADACHE

MARRIED A YOUNG WOMAN'S HAPPINESS FOR SEVEN YEARS.

Interfered With Her Social Duties and Threatened to Cause Her Retirement—How She Was Cured.

Every sufferer from nervous headache knows how completely it unites one for the duties and pleasures of life. Any little excitement, or over-exertion, or irregularity brings it on. Sometimes the pain is over the whole head. Again it is like a nail driven into the brain, or a wedge splitting it open, or a band tightening about it. At one time it is all in the top of the head, at another it is all at the base of the skull.

Most headaches can be traced to some faulty state of the blood. When the blood is scanty or charged with poison, and the nerves are imperfectly nourished and the digestion weak, one of the commonest results is frequent and severe headaches.

The important thing is to get rid of the diseased condition of the blood that causes the attack by the use of a remedy that will do the work quickly and thoroughly. What is that remedy? The experience of Miss Ellen McKenna furnishes the answer. She says:

"For more than seven years I was a great sufferer from nervous headache and dizziness. My stomach was disordered, and I became so restless that I could not sit still any length of time. Dizziness interrupted my work greatly. At first the attacks were not so severe, but they gradually grew more violent, and finally became so acute that I was on the point of relinquishing my membership in the different organizations to which I belonged."

"What saved you from that necessity?"

"A very simple thing: the call of a member of one of the clubs, who strongly advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills before giving up. I acted on her suggestion at once, and after steadily using this great blood and nerve remedy for two months, my headaches and my dizziness entirely disappeared."

Miss McKenna is secretary of the Associated Ladies' Guild, and resides at No. 48 Wait street, Roxbury, Mass. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured many hundreds of similar cases, and can be confidently recommended to drive all poisons from the blood and to give needed strength to the nerves. Every druggist keeps them.

CHAPTER ON ELECTIONS.

In the chapter providing for the first election of county officers, the section was changed to read that the proclamation therefor shall be made by the Governor "immediately upon the passage and approval of the act" instead of "60 days prior to the date of said election."

Rep. Smith moved to strike out the entire sections referring to County Records as the registering of instruments had nothing whatever to do with county government. He had introduced a bill providing for the registration of instruments in the Judicial Circuit in which the property lies. In this bill he provided that the county clerk shall be ex officio recorder for the Judicial Circuit. He felt that the introduction of matters such as the registration of instruments in a County Bill brought it within the danger line.

The motion to strike out the sections carried.
A number of changes in wording were made and the committee rose to report the bill. Chairman Holstein asked time to prepare his report, which was granted.

Commercial Advertiser

WALTER C. SMITH, EDITOR.

FRIDAY : : : MARCH 10.

AN ACCLIMATION CAMP.

The dispatch of a brigade of regular troops to Panama would draw upon various army garrisons in the West where the men are used to weather of a very different type indeed from that which they would find on the isthmus or farther south. Some of these men may, it is true, have seen service in the Philippines, but the regular forces change so fast, owing to the short term of enlistment, that a large proportion of the Western garrisons are not inured to the tropics.

This brings up a matter to which the Advertiser has before referred, the establishment of a brigade acclimation camp on the Oahu military reservation near Honolulu. Here is a place midway between several other tropical points where troops may have to be sent—the Philippines, Panama, Samoa, Colombia, Venezuela among the rest; and to have seasoned men ready would seem to be a military advantage. To take troops from Puget Sound, Denver, the uplands of New Mexico, Idaho, Wyoming, Kansas or even from Northern California and send them to the enervating heats of Luzon or Panama, is to take climatic risks that might be easily avoided. For the same troops after a year in Hawaii could go into the equatorial region with comparative safety.

Finally, a brigade of troops are needed here to secure to the United States its most important way station in the Pacific. The government admits as much when it starts to expend millions of dollars here for forts and a naval depot. Why not, therefore, reach both objects, defence and acclimation, by inducing the War Department to send a brigade here as soon as the new reservation is ready and letting the artillery branch of it occupy the forts when they are constructed? Could not the Department be induced to take such action? Why not try?

Honolulu ought to move in this matter, as the presence of 4,000 men would cause about $130,000 a month to flow into the channels of trade.

THE JONES VERDICT.

The jury in the Jones case had to deal with an atrocious, cold-blooded murder, more deliberate than the killing of S. E. Damon and accompanied by another capital crime for which an irresponsible jury has found the defendant not guilty. Yet these twelve men have brought in a verdict of manslaughter in the first degree and recommended the red-handed Jones to the extreme mercy of the court.

Perhaps the jury had to adopt this recommendation to win over some stubborn numskulls among them from a verdict of acquittal. At any rate that excuse appears. But whether this is the case or not, the plea for "extreme mercy" is calculated to cheapen human life in this Territory and put murder as a crime on a level with horse-stealing and false-witness.

The Stanford mystery now goes to the detectives. A jury verdict of murder against parties unknown has been rendered and the rest comes to those who follow clues. We wish them luck for their task promises to be as arduous as any that has fallen to our modern Hawkshaws since the Nathan homicide in New York.

If it is a matter of being defeated at the polls, the legislator who votes for higher taxes and graft, which is the genesis of the county bill, will not have much success in winning votes from the taxpayers.

There is a sound usury bill before the House which ought to be passed for the protection of the borrowing public from a system of legalized robbery. It is a legislative measure of the first importance.

It's queer how some of the men who advised most strongly against annexation, which the taxpayers wanted, are now advising most strongly for county government, which the taxpayers don't want.

The public was sick of county government before in less than ten days. It wouldn't take that length of time to make them sick of another essay.

Nicholas II is the first Romanoff not to show himself at the front. Perhaps he is waiting for the front to come to him.

General MacArthur was too late for Mukden, but he may be in at the death.

It may be a Tie-up pass for Kuro-patkin.

THE SUNDAY LAW.

While here and there is a note of dissent from the measure which seeks to repeal the closed Sunday, the public attitude of the great mass of Christian people here is one of indifference. No meetings of church bodies have been held, so far as we know, to discuss Sunday legislation; no committees have been sent to do missionary work among the law-makers, and in the March number of The Friend, the Sunday question is not mentioned. At one prayer meeting the matter came up, but nothing was done to indicate a purpose to offer a new bill, to defend the existing statute or to oppose the Quinn measure.

The conclusion is fair, therefore, that church people are willing to have a liberal Sunday law enacted. Representative Quinn's measure seems to be long in that category. It forbids all labor on Sunday excepting "works of necessity or mercy, in which are included all labor that is needed for the good order, health, comfort or safety of the community, or for the protection of property from unforeseen disaster, or danger of destruction or injury, or which may be required for the prosecution of or attendance upon religious worship, or for the furnishing of opportunities of reading or study; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to newspaper printing offices, steamship companies, railroads, telegraph and telephone companies, hotels, inns, restaurants, cigar stores, ice cream parlors, soda water stands, drug stores, livery stables, hackmen, owners and operators of licensed shore boats, news depots, farmers, graziers and ranchmen, electric light plants, gas works and slaughter houses; and provided further that personal baggage may be conveyed to and from vessels leaving and arriving at port on that day, and to and from railroad station; that on Sunday the loading and unloading of vessels engaged in interstate or foreign commerce shall be permitted, but no freight shall be drayed or conveyed from the dock, pier, wharf, or landing upon which it is unloaded; that during the entire day milk, bread and ice may be sold and delivered; that until 9 o'clock in the forenoon fresh meat, fresh fish, fresh fruit and fresh vegetables may be sold and delivered, and that barber shops may be kept open until 11 o'clock in the forenoon."

This does not seek to establish a California Sunday, which permits open saloons and race-tracks, but makes a reasonable provision for the comfort of the people. And comfort is as desirable on Sunday as at any other time. The apparent acquiescence of local church members on that point shows that a remarkable and wholesome change has come over the religious spirit of Honolulu within the past few years.

COUNTY LEGISLATION.

It was expected that the County bill would pass the House, but its fate in the Senate is uncertain. That body contains some conservative members who do not sympathize with the proposal to overload these islands with governments for the sake of graft and who hold that their chief duty to the people is to keep taxes down and administrative processes efficient. Whether there are enough of them or not to keep the Legislature from making the Republican flame odious to the taxpayers remains to be seen.

Of course, the passage of the county act does not necessarily mean county government, for the measure, in the opinion of some of the best lawyers of the Territory, is as defective, constitutionally, as the other one was. It would be thrown out, they think, abruptly. But in that event the principle of local self-government, as embraced in the Achi substitute bill, would be also lost for the time being; and it strikes us that the Legislature would do better to save that prize than to attempt the county bill, with all its imperfections thick upon it, and thus lose everything.

So far as the argument goes, that the Legislature, after giving the people local self-government, would compass Republican defeat in the next election because it did not give them the same thing in a form of doubtful constitutionality, we have no words to express our derision for it. Arguments like that, not only defeat their own ends, but expose their makers to scorn. Besides, the Republican victory last fall was a result of organization, not of platform generalities; and things are in such shape now that, so long as the Territorial administration stays Republican, there will be no more danger of Democratic victories in Hawaii than there is in Vermont. Fine words butted none of the political parsnips last fall.

The American importation of vanilla beans last year amounted in value to $911,775 and of sage and tapoca to $771,041. Every dollar of that money could have been earned here by specialized small farmers.

If "Kanna" wishes his letter about the local "octopus" printed he must send his name to the editor—and it must be a name to be found in the directory.

A HOPELESS CAUSE.

Why should the Czar decide to continue the war? He has seen his Asiatic fleet destroyed, his greatest Eastern fortress taken, his troops driven out of Korea across the Yalu and whirled northward by the impetus of successive Japanese victories; and now, confronted by triumphant legions who have fortified every position gained by them and are immensely stronger than they were when they forced Kuropatkin back from the Yalu, the Czar talks of more war. Pride may account for this, but common sense cannot do so; for the world knows that no Russian army, six thousand miles from its base, supplied by a single-track railroad and regulated as to size by the capacity of that road to carry food, can defeat the finest infantry in the world, but 700 miles from home and with an adult fighting population of 8,000,000 to draw upon. And where this Russian army is demoralized by disasters and the enemy flushed with successive triumphs in the field, nothing less than a miracle could turn the tables.

NEWS OF THE WORLD

Interesting Data From The Coast Files.

NEW YORK, February 26.—A Journal special from Windsor says: Frederick Robert Naylor, a leather glider, whose wages are $6 a week has been placed in an insane asylum because of letters he has written to Princess Victoria, the King's unmarried daughter. There is a strong suspicion that Naylor is perfectly sane. Eight years ago Naylor, enraptured by the beauty of the Princess, wrote her the first of a remarkable series of beautiful letters, and, in pure womanliness, the Princess answered. This condescension brought another, and with the passage of time the correspondence was continued between the pair, and to the letters Naylor added poetry, finally having printed for her, between elaborate covers, a volume of his verses, bound by his own hands.

So far as can be learned, neither ever made an effort to see the other, the affair being carried on in an entirely impersonal and idyllic way. The fact of the secret correspondence was learned recently, and the police immediately took action. Naylor was removed to an insane asylum, and on a drawer in his mother's home, containing letters from the Princess, a seal was placed. Naylor will probably be released on promise to destroy the letters written by the Princess.

JAPS IN CHINA.

MUKDEN, February 27.—A correspondent who has returned here after a trip westward to investigate the reports of the presence of Japanese in Mongolia shows them to be exaggerated. The Japanese there are in small numbers, and are partly engaged in inciting the Chinese against the Russians and in gathering bread grain. They are sending south great quantities thereof. Others are organizing and training bands of Mongols and Chinese bandits, which are intended to attack the railroad.

The Japanese number 600, and the Chinese bandits 3000, scattered about Mongolia. The larger bands are reported to be going to Boudhous and Taisigar in Manchuria and the smaller bands are penetrating further north into Siberia, intending to attack the railroad somewhere near Baikal.

OSLER REITERATES.

BALTIMORE, February 26.—Dr. William Osler of the Johns Hopkins University, whose "age limit" address at the commemorative exercises at the university last Wednesday has been the subject of widespread comment, today gave out the following statement: "I have been so misquoted in the papers that I should like to make the following statement: "First, I did not say that men at 60 should be chloroformed. That was the point in the novel to which I referred and on which the plot hinged. "Second, nothing in the criticisms have shaken my conviction that the telling work of the world has been done and is done by men under 40 years of age. The exceptions that have been given only illustrate the rule. "Third, it would be for the general good if men at 60 were relieved from active work. We should miss the energies of some young old men, but on the whole it would be of the greatest service to the sex generally themselves." Dr. Osler was asked if the Senators and Representatives who had been named as contradicted to his theory were comparatively useless. He answered: "In many cases the work done by those men could be better done by younger men."

NOT JONES'S BODY.

PARIS, February 26.—A preliminary examination which Ambassador Foster is making for the body of John Paul Jones, the naval hero of the Revolutionary War, recently disclosed a lead coffin. The name plate was very much corroded, but the inscription has finally been deciphered, showing that it was the coffin of an Englishman buried May 5, 1790, two years before the death of Jones. Consequently the coffin will not be opened. The examination continues. The finding of this lead coffin has the advantage of establishing that those buried in the Protestant cemetery about the time of Jones's death lie in the vicinity of the present excavations.

REPORTS FROM BATTLEFIELD.
ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28, 1:15 p. m.—The fragmentary official and press reports of the fresh reverse sustained by General Kuropatkin are inadequate to draw a conclusion of the magnitude of General Kuropatkin's success against the Russian left, but the public, as usual, is ready to believe the worst and the city is already full of reports that a bad disaster has again overtaken the Russian arms, according to which Mukden has been outflanked and is untenable and Kuropatkin is withdrawing from his strong position on the Shakhe river. That such reports are exaggerated is beyond question, but although reticent and seeking to minimize the operations of the last few days the officials of the War Office are plainly discouraged at the fashion in which Kuropatkin is able to drive in and turn the Russian extreme left, his advance columns actually crossing the Shakhe river. It is admitted that the fighting was desperate at several passes Sunday and Monday, while the front was being involved, the purpose of Field Marshal Oyama evidently being to keep the center and right engaged and prevent Kuropatkin from sending reinforcements to head off Kuropatkin. Should Kuropatkin cross the Hun river the high road to Tie pass, 40 miles north of Mukden, would be open and Kuropatkin's retreat threatened.

Further news is awaited with great anxiety. Anything like a decisive Japanese victory would probably end the war.

CZAR'S POLICE INADEQUATE.
ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—The utter impotency of the police in the face of the terrorist organization is shown by the increasing boldness of the latter all over St. Petersburg. Even on the side of the public buildings simple notices of Grand Duke Sergius's death were found. They read: "The sentence of death passed upon Sergius Alexandrovitch was executed February 17."
(Signed)
"The Fighting Organization of the Social Democrat Party."

Moreover the notices were neatly printed, a thing unknown in the days of the late Interior Minister Von Plehve, when similar notices were always run off on copying machines. The secret police then were too close on the heels of the terrorists to permit the use of a printing press. The Grand Duchess Marie Pavlovna, whose husband, the Grand Duke Vladimir, is high on the list of those condemned to death, is trying to shield his life with her own. Since "red Sunday" the Grand Duke has not only been showered with threats and warnings but has twice received from abroad formal letters signed by different groups informing him of his sentence to death and of the assignment of men to execute it. At the same time, the Grand Duchess Marie, like the Grand Duchess Elizabeth, in the case of Grand Duke Sergius was notified that her life and her son's life would be spared and she was appealed to not to go abroad in her husband's company. The letters naturally terrorized the family and household of the Grand Duke, who has aged greatly during the last few weeks under the strain of what he insists is the unjust criticism which placed the responsibility for the bloodshed of January 22 wholly on his shoulders. Although the Grand Duke's health had been failing for over a year, he is now almost a complete wreck. For a time the entreaties of his family and the warnings of the police sufficed to keep him within the walls of the palace, but since the funeral of Grand Duke Sergius, Grand Duke Vladimir has shaken off restraint, declaring that he refuses to show cowardice and not only drives out in a closed carriage but on Sunday walked for a short time up and down the quay in front of the winter palace. At his side, however, on each occasion, was the Grand Duchess Marie Pavlovna. The Grand Duke tries to elude her but she insists on being immediately apprised if he goes out, donning wraps and accompanying him. Today Grand Duke Vladimir received a letter from one group which had previously warned him saying his sentence was temporarily suspended, which is attributed either to a more correct appraisal of his share in the events of January 22, or to a general decision of the terrorists to give the autocracy a breathing spell and await the result of the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius. The latter coincides with the views of those acquainted with the methods of the terrorists who point out that a succession of assassinations would defeat their object by compelling the Emperor in the interest of the safety of the imperial family to thrust aside all questions of concessions and to sanction the most drastic measures of repression.

"Brace up" your system.

Everybody's system at times needs "bracing up."

The only true way to "brace up" or in plainer words to get back to real health is to get right at the real cause—your tired nerves—and attend to them.

When you feel tired most of the time, and yet don't sleep well.

When you don't care whether you eat or not.

When you are blue—have headaches, feel all "run down"—that is when your nerves are tired out and need "bracing up."

One bottle of Paine's Celery Compound will brace you up quicker than any treatment in the world, and it braces you up in the right way.

It gets at the real cause and feeds new power to your tired nerves. It restores the nerves to healthy, vigorous action, then they do their work in the right way and stop bothering you.

For 17 years Paine's Celery Compound has been the most universally used nerve vitalizer and tonic in the world. For 17 years—think of this fact and realize what it means.

John L. Howard, of Malden, Massachusetts, tells of his experience with tired-out nerves that indicated their condition through indigestion and biliousness.

MALDEN, Mass., March 3, 1904.—"I take pleasure in recommending Paine's Celery Compound to any one that may be troubled with indigestion and biliousness, or, in fact, any stomach or bowel trouble, as I consider it the best remedy of the kind in the market at the present time."

"I have made a practice for the last five years of using from one to two bottles every spring and fall as a first-class bracing-up tonic, regulating, in fact, the whole system. Yours most respectfully," John L. Howard, 71 Pleasant St., Councilman, 3d Ward.

When you are sick in some part of your body it is because some organ is not doing its work. That is because THE NERVES ARE NOT STRONG ENOUGH to keep that organ up to its work.

The better the inner nerve force the better all the organs can work and give perfect health.

Paine's Celery Compound feeds the nerves—restores them to their strength—gives them new power to send vitality and health to every part of your body, new courage to your heart, new animation to your brain.

Remember this—Paine's Celery Compound is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians this country has ever known, Prof. E. E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University.

All reputable druggists recommend and sell Paine's Celery Compound.

ALTRUISM.

Alfred H. Love, of Philadelphia, president of the Universal Peace Union, was talking on the topic, peculiarly congenial to him, of kindness. Said he:

"I once knew a remarkably kind boy. He was a great angler. There was a trout stream in his neighborhood that ran through a rich man's estate. Permits to fish the stream could now and then be obtained, and the boy was lucky enough to have a permit."

"One day he was fishing with another boy when a gamekeeper suddenly darted forth from a thicket. The lad with the permit uttered a cry of fright, dropped his rod, and ran off at top speed. The gamekeeper pursued."

"For about a half-mile the gamekeeper was led a swift and difficult chase. Then, worn out, the boy halted. The man seized him by the arm and said between pants:

"Have you a permit to fish on this estate?"

"Yes, to be sure," said the boy, quietly.

"You have? Then show it to me."

"The boy drew the permit from his pocket. The man examined it and frowned in perplexity and anger."

"Why did you run when you had this permit?" he asked.

"To let the other boy get away," was the reply. "He didn't have none."

A MARK TWAIN ANECDOTE.

The following story comes from York Harbor, Maine: "Say, yer know that literary chap that hed the Furness cottage up on the hill, two years ago last summer,—Mark Twain, I b'lieve they called 'im. Gee! ye'd never think ter look at 'im that he could write books!"

"Wal, he auster come over ter my house an' set fer hours to a time while I spun yarns an' told 'im about York folks an' things. Seemed ter be reel sociable like,—liked ter smoke an' talk, an' joke with an' old fool like me."

"Wal, one day he came ter me lookin' kind o' worried like, an' his hair was all ruffled up like he'd been aout in a stiff nor'easter, an' he sez: 'Cap'n Brooks, can you tell me if there is an osteopath at the Harbor?' 'Wal, sez I, 'the' mebbe, but I ain't never ketched one on 'em an' I've been fishin' here nigh onter forty years.' He looked at me kind o' queer, an' then sed he guessed he'd go up ter the drug-store an' enquire."

"Wal, I went home an' told the old woman about it, an' she sez: 'You big fool, Jed Brooks, 'tain't no fish, 'tis a bird.' So then I went inter the best room an' took down the cyclopedium my boy Steve hed when he was ter Harvard College, an' I'll be durned if it want no fish at all, nor no bird neither, but a new-fangled kind of a doctor!"

The Hon. Bird S. McGuire, Congressional delegate from Oklahoma, received the following letter from a constituent: "Dear

Mr. McGuire: I enjoyed that last package of garden and flower seeds you sent me very much. I wish you would send me some more garden seeds, and a few flower seeds to my wife. But please do not send her any canary seeds. If you did she might eat them and try to sing, and God knows I have troubles enough now."

MRS. STANFORD WAS MURDERED

to influence it about as much as clam juice—and it is almost the best emetic known to medical science.

As to fairy stories and crank stories, the local police have been flooded with them, and no doubt the San Francisco detective will likewise have his attention drawn to the imaginative tales of persons who have sought in vain to get High Sheriff Henry to draw their names into prominence in connection with a case that is already of world wide note.

Very wisely, the High Sheriff has refused throughout to heed the desires of this class of persons, while he has sifted thoroughly and carefully everything that has come to his net. And the result has been a flood of gossip in the town, vague and formless for the most part, that has added an air of deeper mystery to a case already sufficiently clouded by the actual facts the police have been able to uncover.

The business of the High Sheriff, however, is probably concluded. If there was murder in the Stanford case—and the jury has found that there was murder—although the crime was perfected in Honolulu, it did not originate here and the murderer, or murderers, probably has never been here. That much it was incumbent upon the High Sheriff to show, and that much he has shown. The case is now passed up to the authorities of California. The solution is in their hands.

THE INQUEST.

The jury met in the private dining room at 8:10 and after the roll had been called several minutes were occupied in the signing and acknowledging of the transcripts of testimony by witnesses.

Deputy Sheriff Rawlins then announced that he wished to recall Miss Berner. She appeared accompanied by Miss Hunt. As the two ladies entered the entire company rose.

PARASOL GOES UP.

The object of the deputy in recalling these witnesses was to bring out the facts regarding the "poisoned parasol" statements of the "mysterious witness" which has been set forth in glaring headlines by an evening paper. It was evident that the jury considered the story in the light of a good joke and they had no questions to ask after the testimony had been given. Miss Berner also saw the humor of the situation and a smile played on her face while she told the story of how she diabolically placed a bunch of deadly kid gloves in her parasol. Her statement was as follows:

"I recall being on the end of the pier with Mrs. Stanford on Sunday the 26th of February. Miss Hunt and a man unknown to me were present. He was lame and used a crutch. Miss Hunt left the end of the pier with a parasol. Mrs. Stanford and I left the hotel that afternoon at about five o'clock with the intention of taking a long walk, choosing the Waikiki road. We walked briskly down the road for half an hour, then turned back, not walking quite as fast on our return, reaching the hotel at about a quarter after six. Mrs. Stanford said, 'I am very warm and tired and shall walk down the pier and sit down and cool off.' When we reached the end of the pier we found Miss Hunt there. We all walked into the little structure at the end of the pier where Mrs. Stanford sat down, making the remark, 'It is so pleasant here, that I shall sit down and rest until it is time to go to dinner, and not go up to the room first.' Mrs. Stanford turned to Miss Hunt and said 'I wish you would bring down my little white shawl and a fan and leave them with the manager of the dining room.' As we were not to go to our rooms before going to dinner I asked Miss Hunt to please take my parasol up with her and taking off my gloves I rolled them up and dropped them into my parasol and Miss Hunt took it with her."

Miss Hunt was next called and made the following statement:

"I remember carrying the parasol up. I saw Miss Berner drop her gloves in. I didn't notice whether she rolled them up or not. I am positive that there was nothing else in the parasol."

WAS PURE STRYCHNINE.

Chemist Shorey was next called and asked to testify concerning the different forms of strychnine and in what form it was found in the bicarbonate of soda. He stated that there were three common forms, the simple alkaloid and its sulphide and chloride. The alkaloid is full strength, the others containing about seventy-five per cent pure strychnine. It was the pure alkaloid that was found in the soda.

THE VERDICT.

After Mr. Shorey had completed his testimony there was another short recess while more testimony was acknowledged and signed. Then all the witnesses and newspaper men were excluded from the room and the door locked leaving the jury alone. Within two minutes there was a knock. The doors were thrown open and the little group of newspaper men and others who were waiting outside entered the room.

"Gentlemen, have you arrived at a verdict?" asked Deputy Sheriff Rawlins.

"We have," responded several voices.

"Is it in writing?" inquired the deputy.

"It is," answered the jury, indicating a folded paper in the center of the table.

The deputy took this paper and read it in a clear voice. It was the verdict, printed in full elsewhere, stating that Mrs. Stanford came to her death "from strychnine poisoning, said strychnine having been introduced into a bottle of bicarbonate of soda with felonious intent by a person or persons unknown to this jury."

No surprise whatever was shown at the verdict, its contents being a foregone conclusion. Deputy Sheriff Rawlins in a short speech thanked the jury for their work and the inquest was declared adjourned.

MORMONISM SHOWN UP IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Mr. Kearns, being recognized, said he could not permit the occasion to pass without saying what it seemed should be said by a Senator, under such conditions, before leaving public life. He then reviewed the history of Utah and recited the conditions under which Statehood was granted. "The pledges given by the people of Utah," said the Senator, "I believe consisted of the following propositions:

"That the Mormon leaders would live within the laws pertaining to plural marriages and the continued plural marriage relation, and that they would enforce this obligation upon all of their followers, under penalty of disfellowship."

"That the leaders of the Mormon Church would no longer exercise political sway, and that their followers would be free and would exercise their freedom in politics, in business and in social affairs."

Continuing, he said: "Utah secured her Statehood by a solemn compact made by the Mormon leaders in behalf of themselves and their people."

"That compact has been broken willfully and frequently."

"No apostle of the Mormon Church has publicly protested against that violation."

"I know the gravity of the utterances that I have just made. I know what are the probable consequences to myself. But, I have pondered long and earnestly upon this subject and have come to the conclusion that duty to the innocent people of my State and obligation to the Senate of the country require that I shall clearly define my attitude."

Mr. Kearns said the question of religion is not involved, and he passed from that question to the social aspect with brief comment. The social autocracy, he said, at present is at as high a point as it has ever reached. He described the surroundings and the powers of President Smith, who, he said, affects a regal state and has established himself with the dignity of a monarch.

"In all this social system," said Mr. Kearns, "each apostle has his great part. He is inseparable from it. He wields now such part of the power as the monarch may permit him to enjoy, and it is hope and expectation that he will outlive those who were his seniors in rank, in order that he become their ruler."

"Taking up the business policy of the church, Mr. Kearns charged that it amounts to a monopoly. He recited the holdings of President Smith, by virtue of his office, as well as his private holdings, and said that when Smith became president he boasted of his property, while he now 'is in receipt of an income like unto that which a royal family derives from a national treasury. One-tenth of all the annual earnings of all the Mormons in all the world flows to him. These funds amount to one million six hundred thousand dollars annually.'"

Continuing, Mr. Kearns said:

"Parties are nothing to these leaders, except as parties may be used by them. So long as this is a Republican administration and Congress they will lead their followers to support Republican tickets, but if, by any chance, the Democratic party should control this government, with a prospect of continuance in power, you would see a gradual veering around under the direction of the Mormon leaders. No man can be elected to either house of Congress against their wish."

The election of Senator Rawlins was charged by Mr. Kearns to have been due entirely to the Mormon Church in order to humiliate a deposed apostle. He then took up the charge that he (Kearns) had bought his own seat from President Lorenzo Snow. The Senator spoke of his friendship for President Snow as having arisen from the events attendant upon Utah's struggle for Statehood, and added:

"For some reason he did not oppose my election to the Senate. Every other candidate for the place had sought his favor; it came to me without price or solicitation on my part. The friend and mouthpieces of some of the present leaders have been base enough to charge that I bought the senatorship from Lorenzo Snow, president of their own church. Here and now I denounce the calumny against that old man, whose unsought and unbought favor came to me in that contest. That I ever paid one dollar of money or asked him to influence legislators of his faith, is as cruel a falsehood as ever came from human lips. So far as I am concerned he held his power with clean hands; and I would protect the memory of this dead man against all the abuse and misrepresentation which might be heaped upon him by those who were his adherents during life, but who now attack his name in order that they may pay the greater deference to the present king. I am about to retire from this place of dignity. No man can retain this seat from Utah and retain his self-respect after he discovers the methods by which his election is procured, and the objects which the church monarchy intends to achieve."

"When the question of my successor became a matter of great anxiety to new aspirants for this place, the discussion was not concerning the fitness of candidates nor the political popularity of the various gentlemen who composed that waiting list, nor the pledges of the legislators, but was limited to the question as to who could stand best with the church monarchy; as to whom it would like to use in this position; as to who could make for the extension of its ambitions and power in the United States."

Mr. Kearns then took up the question of the Mormon marriage relation and said:

"Plural marriage relations have been continued defiantly, according to the will and pleasure of those who had formerly violated the law, and for whose obedience to law the church monarchy pledged the faith and honor of its leaders and followers alike in order to obtain Statehood."

Mr. Kearns charged that every apostle of the church is in a large part responsible for this condition, and that it is quite evident the church monarchy is trying to re-establish the rule of the polygamous class over the mass of the Mormon people."

THE CIVIL CALENDAR

Good Prospect That It
Will Be Cleared
Next Term.

Judge De Bolt's jurors are excused until next week. By the end of this term the First Judge will have disposed of all of the civil cases taken by him, leaving only Judge Gear's moiety of the calendar in arrears. Judge De Bolt, who is to preside at the April term and have charge of the criminal calendar, believes that Judges Robinson and Lindsay will at that term clear off the civil calendar and have time to spare for aiding him with the congested criminal calendar. This has been thrown behind by the Jones murder trial so that more than a hundred cases will go over to the ensuing term.

DISPUTED FINDINGS.

J. F. Hackfeld, guardian of the property of Heinrich Wilhelm Ehlers, a minor, waives all claims to statutory commissions for moneys received and disbursements as shown by his accounts. In the same matter the guardian excepts to that portion of the master's report finding "that the securities mentioned in the mortgage therein referred to are insufficient and inadequate for the amount loaned and says that said securities are ample and sufficient, all of which said guardian is ready to verify."

DECISION ACCEPTED.

H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., in its suit against W. C. Achi and others for foreclosure of mortgage, files a remission of $7,500 from the amount of the deficiency judgment against Achi. This avoids a setting aside of the decree confirming the sale, according to the decision of the Supreme Court in the case.

COURT NOTES.

L. B. Kerr & Co., Ltd., vs. Ernest Hutchinson, appeal by plaintiff from Honolulu District Court, is discontinued. Judge Robinson will not sit again this week, either in term or chambers cases.

CIVIL ACTION AGAINST REGO

District Attorney Breckons has brought a civil action for the United States against Manuel A. Rego, lately postmaster at Koloa, Kauai, to recover $27,075.50, the amount of his defalcations made by means of fraudulent money orders.

This is a formality to obtain legal possession of Rego's property for restitution. Rego will be put on trial under criminal proceedings just the same.

FOUNDED IN HONGKONG.

No doubt you have seen in the papers such announcements as this concerning some medicine or other: "If, on trial, you write that this medicine has done you no good we will refund your money." Now, we have never had reason to speak in that way concerning the remedy named in this article. In a trade extending throughout the world, nobody has ever complained that our medicine has failed, or asked for the return of his money. The public never grumbles at honestly and skillfully made bread, or at a medicine which really and actually does what it was made to do. The foundations of WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION are laid in sincerity and honour, the knowledge of which on the part of the people explains its popularity and success. There is nothing to disguise or conceal. It was not dreamed out, or discovered by accident; it was studied out, on the solid principles of applied medical science. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. This remedy is praised by all who have employed it in any of the diseases it is recommended to relieve and cure, and is effective from the first dose. In Anemia, Scrofula, Nervous and General Debility, Influenza, La Grippe, and Throat and Lung Troubles, it is a specific. Dr. Thos. Hunt Stucky says: "The continued use of it in my practice, convinces me that it is the most palatable, least nauseating, and best preparation now on the market." You can take it with the assurance of getting well. One bottle proves its intrinsic value. "You cannot be disappointed in it." Sold by all chemists everywhere.

Backache, "The Blues"

Both Symptoms of Organic Derangement in Women—Thousands of Sufferers Find Relief.

How often do we hear women say: "It seems as though my back would break," or "Don't speak to me, I am all out of sorts?" These significant remarks prove that the system requires attention. Backache and "the blues" are direct symptoms of an inward trouble which will sooner or later declare itself. It may be caused by diseased kidneys or some uterine derangement. Nature requires assistance and at once, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women. It has been the standby of intelligent American women for twenty years, and the ablest specialists agree that it is the most universally successful remedy for woman's ills known to medicine. The following letters from Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Cotrely are among the many thousands which Mrs. Pinkham has received this year from those whom she has relieved.

Surely such testimony is convincing. Mrs. J. C. Holmes, of Larimore, North Dakota, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I have suffered everything with backache and womb trouble—I let the trouble run on until my system was in such a condition that I was unable to be about, and then it was I commenced to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If I had only known how much suffering I would have saved, I should have taken it months sooner—for a few weeks' treatment made me well and strong. My backaches and headaches are all gone and I suffer no pain at my menstrual periods, whereas before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered intense pain."

Mrs. Emma Cotrely, 109 East 12th Street, New York City, writes:

AS TO THE ALLEGED YELLOW PERIL

Honolulu, T. H., March 9, 1905.
Editor Advertiser: This morning, when discussing with a friend the war telegrams in your valued paper, he called my attention to a letter in yesterday's issue signed: "Civics Secundus." Permit me to congratulate the writer and your readers on what seems to me the sanest exposition of the current absurdity respecting the so-called Yellow Peril that has come under my notice in the daily press since the wily Slav, aided by his French sympathizers, have succeeded in partly hoodwinking the unthinking minority of Western civilization.

As the writer pitifully points out it was not the Orient that solicited the Occident, but the very reverse, and without any suavity, but with undeniable force by the persuasive strength of modern cannon. The aggression by which England forced her trade upon China was followed by a similar act on the part of this country with Japan. That sagacity engendered by a civilization which was dignified by the amenities of "sweetness and light," when the Roman Legions, landing on the shores of Britain, found our progenitors still in the savage stage of evolution, induced the Japanese Emperor to send to Europe special envoys to enquire into the best Western armies, navies, education, arts, sciences, and religion. The reports of each commission resulted in the adoption by the Japanese of everything Europe and the United States had to offer but the religion which was alleged to be no improvement on that then stimulating the forty millions of Dai Nippon in the practice of all the physical and emotional virtues.

Every student of the ethnology of the Japanese and Chinese knows that they are essentially of peace-loving and industrial disposition. Long before the dawn of the Christian Era the rulers of Japan sent envoys after envoys, with presents to the Chinese asking for "light and leading," with the result that finally they succeeded in obtaining, in part, their philosophy and religion which they modified and improved into the present blended Shinto-Buddhism.

There can be no Yellow Peril from those people, even were they to combine for the aim of the best Chinese minds at home and abroad in the deposing of the present foreign dynasty and the establishment of a purely Chinese republic on the lines of the United States; while Japan's greatest men, and at their head that impersonification of wisdom—the Emperor, desire only to emulate Western civilization in the march towards a permanent and industrial peace undisturbed by the aggressions of the Russian Grand Ducal war party, for they have no quarrel in the present conflict with the Russian people any more than England had with the French in her Napoleonic wars.

Let me add that I am now on my way to Japan and China, as a student of Ethics, with a view of giving the result to the Periodical Press of this country and England.

WATERFRONT

There was something more than usually inspiring in the departure of the United States army transport Logan for the Philippines yesterday afternoon. A big crowd gathered at the Naval docks to see the ship off and there was plenty of entertainment for all. The Hawaiian Government band under the leadership of Captain Berger was stationed on the upper deck and gave a concert lasting over an hour. Mrs. Alapai was present and sang several solos. Besides Hawaiian music the band rendered medleys of patriotic songs which "caught on" with the crowd. "Dixie" was the prime favorite, without question; it always is with the army people, and a wave of cheers swept through the crowded decks almost with the first note. The song was played twice during the concert and each time the applause was enthusiastic.

All the freight was out early and all the coal aboard so that there was no crush of trucks and no cloud of coal dust to mar the sailing of the big ship. Everything was in readiness and all that was necessary was to wait for the stroke of six bells. Everything was in readiness but not everybody. Just as the Logan was backing along the dock two passengers appeared at the gates of the dock and started on a hot sprint down the pier. Encouraged by the cheers of the crowd they dashed by the edge of the wharf and leaped on top of the canvas chute through which the refuse of the galley is dumped. They were pulled through a porthole just in time.

The scene when the band played the Star Spangled Banner just before the Logan sailed was most impressive. On one side the great white troopship loomed up like some great sea monster. Above her yellow superstructure with its tangle of boats, ventilator hoods and glistening rails rose the giant funnel, ringed with red, white and blue, belching forth volumes of inky smoke. On one of the masts floated the "blue Peter" signifying that the vessel was about to depart. Along the rails of the upper deck amidships was a crowd of army officers with a little knot of women adding color to the picture. Along the main deck rail, fore and aft was packed a mass of men in khaki and blue—the men one hears little of, but who make up the backbone of military power—the men who fight and win battles.

Across the dock, where was gathered a motley throng was the gunboat Petrel, looking like a tugboat alongside the towering transport. Her white sides barely topped the high pier but from her rail there projected ugly looking muzzles that told of gallant work at Manila in '98. Fugly though she may be, one shot from one of those wicked-looking black tubes would send her gigantic sister hurtling down to a watery grave.

Out in the harbor the Bear and the Patterson were lying at anchor in Naval row and beyond rose a small forest of the masts of merchant vessels. In the background was the mass of mountains heaped one upon the other as if by some giant hand. In front the big flag of the Naval station drooped lazily against its tall staff.

The skies were overcast when the band rose to play the Star Spangled Banner. With the first note of the national air every man on the big steamer came to attention and hats came off. Across the dock the little group of jacks in white lounging on the fore deck of the Petrel scrambled to their feet and stood at attention. Nearly every man on the dock unconsciously straightened up and almost every hat came off. It was a wonderfully impressive sight—almost two thousand men standing motionless and reverently silent while the inspiring strains of the national song, born amid the shock of battle nearly a century ago, floated out on the still air. With the last notes the clouds broke and the sun came out lighting up the folds of Old Glory as, caught by a sudden breeze it streamed out from its staff.

Then the big ship began slowly to back out from the dock, the last farewells were shouted across the rapidly widening space between ship and shore. The regimental band stationed on the quarter-deck thumped out patriotic airs as the transport swung out into the stream. From the Petrel's signal yard suddenly there blossomed out a string of vari-colored flags, wishing the Logan, in the language of the sea, bon voyage while from the transport came an answering "Thank you." The big siren voiced a last salute and the big white troopship passed down the channel and out towards the setting sun bearing a thousand American soldiers to serve their country, perhaps to die for her in a far away land.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The liner Aorangi sailed at 10 o'clock yesterday morning for Victoria and Vancouver.

The ship John Ena arrived at Hilo Wednesday, 23 days from Shanghai, the record for that trip.

The Iroquois towed the schooner Lavinia to Pearl Harbor yesterday and the buoying work was begun.

The China did not arrive last night, as was expected by many, but will probably put in an appearance this morning. She brings 300 tons of freight and will take away quite a number of passengers.

Despite the report that the Chilean ship Othello would not get away for Victoria yesterday, she was able to sail in the afternoon. The master of the vessel produced Anton Milazzo, the sick sailor whose hospital expenses he refused to pay and the immigration officials allowed the vessel to sail. Milazzo will be taken to Victoria with the ship.
