

JUDGES' WORK IN CHAMBERS MAY BE ALL INVALID

JUDGE GEAR STRONGLY INTIMATES THAT THE ORGANIC ACT DOES NOT CONTAIN ANY AUTHORITY FOR THE SESSIONS IN CHAMBERS WHICH ALL THE CIRCUIT JUDGES HAVE HAD—FAR REACH POSSIBILITIES.

But for some slight lingering doubt in the mind of Judge Gear he would today undoubtedly have declared unconstitutional the Territorial Statute which deals with the matter of judicial procedure in the Territory of Hawaii. That the judge had this lingering doubt may be felt as a matter of satisfaction to many for if the statute is unconstitutional then all of the decisions given by circuit judges, except when sitting in term, since the Organic Act applied would fall to the ground. Causes involving millions of dollars would be again where they began and a particular personal interest would be taken in certain parties who have secured divorces and have married again in the meantime. Even as the matter stands there still remains grave doubt in the whole matter and there is no saying how soon it may be raised again.

The contention arose over the Parker Ranch case through Judge Gear's overruling a demurrer of A. W. Carter's, the claim being that the circuit judge had no jurisdiction.

The matter was gone into thoroughly and from the tenor of the decision handed down by Judge Gear today there can be no doubt that he is persuaded of the correctness of this contention himself, but as he states in his concluding paragraph, the judge of a trial court should not declare a statute unconstitutional unless he has no doubt whatever, and as he could not in the limited time go into the matter far enough to satisfy every doubt, he overruled the objection to his jurisdiction.

The point of the contention is that the Organic Act provided for the erection of certain courts, among them the circuit courts, but that the act of the legislature deputed certain powers to the "circuit court judges." A "judge" is not a "court," though he is often incorrectly called so, hence matters could only be disposed of when the court properly constituted, is sitting in term, and all of the decisions made by circuit judges sitting out of

SALE OF A WOMAN

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER JUDD'S HEARING OF THE CASES OF THREE JAPANESE CONCERNED IN THE ALLEGED SALE OF WIFE OF ONE OF THEM, WHO REFUSED TO STAND BY THE PURCHASER.

There was a Japanese session before United States Commissioner Judd this morning. Shiratschi Rikichiro and his wife Tamio were accused with Nakagawa Tinosaki with conspiring to break that section of the United States statutes which deals with the traffic in women. The case as told is that Shiratschi accepted 225 from Nakagawa for the transfer of his wife and that the woman after a few weeks left Nakagawa and went back to her husband taking the money with her. The three were arrested and this morning gave their testimony. Nakagawa swore that he paid the money to get possession of the woman but Shiratschi, who admitted without shame that he allowed his wife to practice prostitution and took part of the proceeds, said that in this particular transaction he had simply borrowed the money from Nakagawa and denied any traffic as to his wife. The woman Tamio also admitted her looseness without any hesitancy but denied having anything to do with Nakagawa. The Commissioner was assured that an offence had been committed and all three were held to answer at the October term of the District Court. Bail was fixed at $1000 the woman being allowed to go on her own recognizance as she has children to look after. Two little ones were in court, one of them interesting himself with all that was going on and apparently having the time of his life while the other had some sort of a feeling that all the array did not portend anything good and he enlivened the occasion with mournful howls.

WON HILL'S SUPPORT

JOHN B. STANCHFIELD

ROCHESTER, N. Y., August 26.—J. B. Stanchfield of Elmira, former candidate for Governor, has written a letter to Charles J. Bissell of this city, in which he announced he would accept the Democratic nomination for chief executive of this State if it were offered him. Stanchfield has been prominently mentioned as a candidate, but has not heretofore expressed his willingness to accept a nomination.

The belief is now general that David B. Hill has decided to give Stanchfield the nomination, and the latter's announcement that he would accept was inspired by the Democratic czar.

Armies Still Opposed Near Liaoyang

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

ST. PETERSBURG, September 2.—The War Office contends that General Kurapatkin's new position on the north bank of the Taitse river, is stronger than his former position during the present battle.

Washington, September 2, 1904. (Received at 8:25 a. m.)

To Japanese Consul, Honolulu:

Marshal Oyama reports that the enemy being unable to resist our fierce attack, on September 1st, retired towards Liaoyang in great confusion, and our armies' left and central columns are hotly pursuing after the enemy who seems trying to get on the right bank of the Tatzuho. We captured the enemy's ten and half centimetre cannons and used them to bombard the Liaoyang railway station. Our right wing, on the 1st September, is attacking the enemy at Heiingtai (15 miles to the northeast of Liaoyang). Our casualties since August 29th are about 10,000.

OLD DEPOSITS DISAPPEAR

JAPANESE LABORERS WHO PUT UP A SAFETY FUND UNDER THE OLD REGIME FIND IT IS BEING GOTTEN HOLD OF BY JAPANESE IN HONOLULU—HIRONAKA'S UNPLEASANT SURPRISE.

The Japanese consul still has in his possession some of the money deposited by Japanese under the old contract labor system and some of it is said to be finding its way into the hands of some tricky Japanese swindlers. Under the contract labor system every laborer was required to put up several dollars a month, to form a fund which was to be used by the depositors in case of sickness, or for fare to return home. The moneys were kept in the names of each individual depositor, and many of the deposits are still there, subject to order. The coin is in the Yokohama Specie Bank's local branch.

Last week a laborer named I. Hironaka, who has been on Hawaii doing plantation work for years, returned to Honolulu suffering from illness. He had $64 in the old fund. He went to the consulate and identified himself and then asked for his money. The records were looked up and the consul reported to Hironaka that the money had been drawn and that Hironaka himself had done so, as far as the record showed. Hironaka denied having secured the money and an investigation was made. The result is said to have disclosed a conspiracy whereby another laborer was brought forward, identified by perjury of witnesses as Hironaka and then Hironaka's name was forged to secure the money.

Three Japanese, Danka, Sugai and Kawasaki, are charged by Hironaka with getting up the conspiracy to deceive the consul and fraudulently get the money. It is said that the same trick has been played in a number of similar cases, and there is trouble in sight for old contract Japanese who come to Honolulu expecting to draw their old deposits. The matter is likely to be brought to the attention of the attorney general.

BRINGS A $10,000 DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST THE PORTUGUESE NEWSPAPER.

Jose Ferreira Durao has brought suit for $10,000 damages against J. S. Ramos and Jose D. Marques publishers of the "O Luso" for an alleged defamation of character. According to the complaint, the "O Luso" appears to have been "roasting" the plaintiff.

On August 4, it wrote him up and said that he was, among other bad things, a procurer. Jose objects violently to being designated in such style. It is false, and defames his character. He says and he asks judgment against the defendants.

DON'T WANT NACHUR MAN

SAN FRANCISCO HAS NO USE FOR HIM AND HE IS ARRESTED FOR PEDDLING OBSCENE LITERATURE—ALLOWED TO GO ON HIS OWN RECOGNIZANCE, IN THE HOPE THAT HE WILL LEAVE THE CITY.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 24.—Chief of Police Wittman yesterday appeared before Judge Cabanis as complaining witness against E.W. Darling, alias "the Nature Man" accused of circulating obscene literature. Mr. Darling's costume was as scant as decency would permit, even at a seaside bathing resort. His nether limbs were bare below the knees, his arms and a wide expanse of chest were also nude, and his head-covering consisted of a thick tangle of tawny hair that flicked his brawny shoulders and mingled with the stray threads of a luxuriant, snuff-colored beard. A shirt and a bifurcated garment, both of light material, comprised his attire.

As material evidence against the defendant there was produced in court a small printed card captioned with a vignette of himself and containing ten phonetically spelled health hints, one of which was of a character said to be unfit for distribution in a respectable community. It was charged that "The Nature Man" sold the cards on the streets for five cents apiece, thereby violating section 311, Penal Code of California.

Chief Wittman said that he would like to have Mr. Darling retired from circulation during the forthcoming visit of the Knights Templar, as the city's dignity could not possibly be enhanced by having strangers from afar see a semi-naked man parading its high-ways. Such a sight might tend to make them believe that California is as wild and woolly as imaginative Eastern writers sometimes make it out to be. After gazing upon "The Nature

GUNPOWDER IS MERCIFUL

It is to the credit of humanity that the statistics of wounds and death in battles such as the last fought by Japan should read so grievously, but there is comfort in the reflection that a modern fight is infinitely more merciful in every aspect than an equivalent contest in other ages. It is doubtful whether even "villainous saltpetre" or all the ed to the actual loss of life in battle, horrible science of explosives has added the very deadliness of modern firearms holds armies for the most part separate, and the hand-to-hand struggle, the bloody massacre of the defeated, which formed so frequent and, in the eyes of the old ballad-makers, so picturesque an incident of the medieval combat, no longer takes place.

When Attila, the "Scourge of God" was beaten by Aetius at Chalons in 451 it was said he left 100,000 men on the field of battle, and the groans of the wounded among them, slowly dying where they lay, were heard for many nights afterward, rising and falling upon the wind. Our humanitarians have only to picture that scene to themselves in the immensity of its misery to turn with comparative satisfaction to the lighter harvests of latter-day war and the prompt gleaming up of the injured which robs battle of half its terrors. Lead never sped half the souls that have been sped by steel. The ancient broadsword and the pike were far more powerful implements of depopulation than the firearms which took their place. At the battle of Cannae 40,000 out of 80,000 Romans were killed—i. e., 60 per cent. In the battle of Hastings the victorious Normans lost 10,000 out of 60,000 men; at Crecy 20,000 out of 160,000 Frenchmen suffered in the horrible confusion when rank after rank of knights and men-at-arms fell over each other and died under the mere weight of their comrades. At Bannockburn 38,000 out of 135,000 were butchered, mostly in the retreat.

In proportion to the number of shots fired the losses in the Crimea were small. It is calculated that the English fired altogether 15,000,000 shots, but only 21,000 Russians were hit; therefore only every seven-hundredth shot proved deadly. The 29,500,000 shots discharged by the French in the same war killed 53,000 Russians, every five-hundredth shot taking effect. The Russians, on the other hand, killed 48,000 allied troops with 45,000,000 cartridges. Thus only the

SCHOOL TEACHERS COME HOME AGAIN

ALAMEDA ARRIVES THIS MORNING ABOUT HALF AN HOUR BEHIND TIME.

The S. S. Alameda arrived this morning at 8:30 o'clock from San Francisco with nine days later mail but the mail matter was not the most interesting feature of the vessel, this trip for it was rather the female passengers, who made the present arrival of the vessel of more than usual interest. The vessel had 74 cabin passengers, of whom the greater number were school teachers returning from their vacations passed on the mainland. Pursuer Smith says that the crowd this trip, was the most delightful he has had in many months.

President A. F. Griffith of the Oahu College, returned from the mainland, accompanied by his wife.

Mrs. M. W. Gunn returned from a visit to her daughter in California.

Judge Antoine Perry returned from a visit to the mainland.

Miss Helen Robertson returned from a trip to California. She went up to San Francisco on the recent long trip of the schooner W. H. Marston.

Rev. W. M. Kincaid and son returned from a vacation.

Man," the Chief thought, the visiting Knights would be looking for his jungle on Market street and arming themselves in anticipation of an attack by Indians on Kearny street or a buffalo stampede on Van Ness avenue.

Mr. Darling pleaded his own defense and his language was quite temperate, and in other respects at variance with his personal appearance. He was a graduate of Stanford University, he said, who has discovered by actual experiment that human health and spirits could be best preserved by renouncing the sartorial and dietary conventions of modern society and living as primitive man lived—close to nature. Rule No. 2 of his health hints showed the way to do this:

"Gradually tuffen ur body & mind by wotr & sun-bath till u kan safely sleep outdorz in ordinary wether. Liv alwaz in pure, out-dor air."

As for breaking the law by peddling his cards, Mr. Darling disclaimed intent to do that. His literature was distributed for the benefit of folk who desired to live long and die deeply regretted. The rule of which complaint was made he considered the most important of the series, and its suppression would be the city's loss, not his. The rule enjoined a somewhat continent life and opposed a life of lust, following the lines of modern tokological writers.

The case was continued till September 4, the defendant being allowed to go on his own recognizance. If he fails to reappear on the aforementioned date and it has been ascertained that he left the city, no effort will be made to have him brought back.

nine hundred and tenth bullet found its billet—a proportion to be expected from such ill-prepared peasant troops. In the Italian campaign of 1895 both sides employed modern guns, and the number which fell at Solferino and Magenta amounted to 99 per thousand combatants. In the German war with France in 1870-71 breech-loaders came into general operation for the first time, and here was again demonstrated the truth of the military axiom—the better the weapons the less the fatalities.

In South Africa in 1899 the losses per 1000 British soldiers were 64, while in Egypt in 1885 the number was only a trifle over 1 per thousand. During twelve years' smaller wars out of 92,650 soldiers taking part in them 1896 were killed—i. e., little more than 2 per cent. In the Franco-German war the proportion of those who fell during seven months was 50 per thousand. According to official statistics 110,812 soldiers were wounded, of whom 92,566 recovered, while 11,023 died in hospital. Thus gunpowder in the course of time has reduced the percentage of dead from one-third to one-fourth or one-fifth, and the adoption of the breech-loader reduced this percentage still further to one-ninth.

Modern weapons are therefore not so harmful after all, it is well to remember. The old saw that every bullet has its billet will not bear examination, since it takes, most probably, a good ton of lead to kill a man in battle today, and a careful military critic has come to the conclusion that, all things considered, financially a soldier's life costs the enemy the substantial sum of $6,200—and no one will wish it a penny the less.

The keen, small modern bullet such as the Japanese are using disables, but in the majority of cases does not kill. It is this which, in spite of appearances, tends to make war a less and less dangerous pastime. The heavy spherical ball from the old musket was infinitely more deadly, and spear and broadsword, strange as it may seem, most deadly of all. It was in the horrible press of the ancient melee, when armies fought breast to breast for hours, in the bloody retreats when no quarter was asked or given, and on the deserted battlefields, where there were none to see the last men die, that war made its greatest harvests.—Edwin L. Arnold in the Examiner.

R. Stevenson purchasing agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company arrived today for a visit. He is accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Dowling.

H. Kiley the fruit shipper, returned from a business trip.

Miss I. Pollister arrived to be married.

Miss A. W. Deas returned from the mainland.

The Alameda left San Francisco August 27. She did not go on the dry dock this time, as the S. S. Siberia was on the ways. The Alameda brought 272 bags of mail and 1,200 tons of general cargo including a large amount of refrigerated stuff. Her time was 5 days 18 hours and 42 minutes. The vessel sighted the S. S. Sierra and S. S. Copito on August 28 and on August 29 at 11 a. m., sighted a full rigged ship steering east southeast, in Lat. 33:04 north, Long. 135:40 west. The Alameda will sail for San Francisco at 9 a. m. next Wednesday.

SIBERIA'S LONG DETENTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 27.—The big liner Siberia will be in dry dock at Hunter's point for the next ten days. It has been found that the crack in her stern bearings is so serious that extensive repairs are necessary, and it will be days before the mechanics have finished with the job. The Siberia has a peculiar construction in her after part. Instead of having her rudder post connected with the keel, as is common, the rudder hangs by a steel casting, and is, therefore, subjected to all the strain of heavy weather that may be encountered on a voyage across the Pacific. MAY INTERFERE IN THE STRIKE

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAS AN EMISARY WHO IS INVESTIGATING CONDITIONS IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, August 5.—That the federal government is preparing to take an active part in the stock yards strike was indicated today when International Secretary Call of the Butcher Workmen divulged the fact that he has been in conference with an emissary of the United States bureau of labor and commerce.

Who this agent is or what his immediate plans, Mr. Call refused to say, but the strike leader made this significant remark:

"In everything the packing trust is doing they are violating the law. Their very business combination is in restraint of trade, and there is not one of them that is not amenable to the federal laws. A sample of their operations came to my knowledge after stories had been printed in the newspapers telling of the importation of immigrants from foreign lands to take the place of American workmen who are on strike. One of our pickets found in the street an immigrant's receipt showing that the immigrant had been paid $58.70 for passage to Chicago.

"At the bottom of the printed slip was the sentence.

"We hereby agree to rebate to the bearer $58.70 on presentation of this receipt at our Chicago office."

"I showed this document to an official of the United States bureau of labor and commerce and inadvertently allowed him to keep it."

Recording Secretary Shanahan of the Packing House Teamsters' union, announced today that orders would be issued immediately to teamsters to stop the removal of meats from the several cold storage warehouses in the city. The allied trades' executive committee, he said, would act upon the teamsters' petition and a report favoring sympathetic action by teamsters who have been distributing meat from warehouses would mean the immediate issuance of a strike order to those drivers.

President Donnelly, the strike leader who has been on a trip to Kansas City and other packing centers, arrived in Chicago today.

FRIDAY.....SEPTEMBER 2, 1904

Those who visit the Fine Art Palace at the St. Louis World's Fair can have no doubt but that there is a pronounced school of American art. The superb collection of paintings by our own artists seem to have a certain individuality all their own. Of course there are many artists that show the influence of French or German schools, but, as they get down to work, they develop a style which is distinctive. This appears to apply especially to sculpture, of which there are very many notable examples. Of course, we have the advantage over other countries exhibiting sculpture, because it is very hard to ship from a distance, but America need not be afraid to compete with any country in this branch of art. The work of Western artists is an agreeable surprise, almost all the cities being represented. In fact there seems to be strong men in all branches of art and the best examples of their work will be shown in "The Forest City" World's Fair Art Portfolio. The masterpieces in the Art Palaces will be faithfully photographed and reproduced in this work. We are confident that our readers will appreciate this feature almost more than any other, as photographs of great pictures, although they lack color, are generally extremely satisfactory. One of the numbers soon to be issued will be devoted entirely to reproductions of paintings, the photographs of which have already been taken by the official photographer of the Fair and the descriptions of which will be written by Walter B. Stevens, Secretary of the Exposition.

Alaska Has No Delegate

Alaska is having the greatest difficulty in getting a law through Congress to give her a Delegate to Congress such as the Territory of Hawaii has. Alaska was annexed to the United States nearly half a century ago, yet has no self government. Her officials are all appointed by the President of the United States and she has no legislative body of her own. No elections are held in this great Territory. All these facts serve to show that the Hawaiian Islands were treated well when given such a large measure of self government as we have. It is strange in the light of such an old example that one of the anti-expansion arguments is that Congress has "no power" to "govern" other peoples.

The American Mining Congress recently in session at Portland, Oregon, had before it a resolution endorsing the petition of citizens of Alaska for a delegate in Congress, and voted down the petition. The reason given was that the petition was of a political nature, but there was plenty of other business of a political nature, and the real reason is a very different one. The Mining Congress is said to fear that an aggressive representative from Alaska in Congress might interfere with some of its monopolistic operations. In the last Congress there was long debate over the proposition. The Congressional Records of the session are full of eloquent pleas in behalf of the big northern Territory. There did not appear to be any particular argument against it, and it is very likely that during the next session, Congress will grant the desired action. Alaska wants a complete Territorial government such as Hawaii has, with a legislature which her own citizens elect, and with an elected delegate to Congress. Justice seems to demand that she be given equal representation with the other territories.

Advertising Our Climate

The establishment of a weather bureau here under the auspices of the Federal government, which will transmit reports of our weather conditions twice a day by cable, serves to recall suggestions made before as to plans for the Tourist Promotion Committee. Among the various kinds of ignorance about Hawaii with which the Mainland abounds, none is more prevalent than the impression that the islands have a climate so hot that no ordinary American can stand it.

There are a number of American cities, such as St. Louis, Washington, New York,—a long list might be named,—from which everyone who can, makes a departure during certain months of the summer. In these places the summer vacation is not a matter of every few years. With all who can afford it, leaving the city for a space of time during the hot spell is a matter of course. These are the people with whom advertising Hawaii ought to do some good. Most of them know nothing about the islands, as everyone who has been to the St. Louis Exposition this year testifies. Casting about for a place to go to to escape the prostrating heat of mid-summer, they never think of such a thing as a trip to Honolulu. If it were suggested most men in St. Louis would at once say that such a trip would be only going to a worse heat than that they are seeking to escape.

These people are precisely the class we want to reach with advertisements of our attractions. The great point to bring home to their knowledge is that the climate of Honolulu is not a comparatively hot one, that we have no such thing as sunstroke or prostrations from heat and that our hottest days,—the exceptional days on which the "kickers" are abroad in their full strength,—are comfortable compared to a long succession of summer days in many of the Eastern cities. It will take constant pegging away, to educate the people of the East to a knowledge of the real conditions here. The Federal weather bureau will help in doing this. It will be many years before the man from Honolulu, when he complains of the heat in the East, is not answered by scornful remarks that it oughtn't to bother him, for the tropics must be much worse.

The Czar a Real Autocrat

A new view of the Czar has been given by an author who remains anonymous but is declared to be a high Russian official. It describes the Russian ruler as a real autocrat, absolute in his rulership, and not at all in the hands of advisers who are able to control his policies. The Czar is directly responsible for the war, according to this writer, and is not willing to listen to any adviser who disagrees with him. At the same time Nicholas is described as weak and uncertain: "He is ever struggling with phantoms, fighting with windmills, conversing with saints, or consulting the spirits of the dead. But of the means at hand for helping his people or letting them help themselves he never avails himself. Books he has long ago ceased to read, and sound advice he is incapable of listening to. His ministers he receives with great formality and dismisses with haughty condescension. They are often kept in the dark about matters which it behooves them to know thoroughly and early. Thus, shortly after the present war had begun, a number of dignitaries and officials gathered round General Kuropatkin one day and asked him how things were going on. With a malicious twinkle in his eye the War Minister replied: 'Like yourselves, I know only what is published. The war is Alexieff's business, not mine.' When three ministers implored the Czar to evacuate Manchuria and safeguard the peace of the world, he answered: 'I shall keep the peace and my own counsel as well.' To one of the grand dukes who, on the day before the rupture with Japan, vaguely hinted at the possibility of war, the Emperor said: 'Leave that to me. Japan will never fight. My reign will be an era of peace to the end.'"

Governor Carter and the other members of the family of the late Mrs. S. A. Carter will have the entire sympathy of the community in the loss that they have sustained, for while the death of the mother of the family was fully expected a blow of that description is none the less heavy when it falls. Death has been busy recently in the ranks of the noble women who were identified with the early history of Hawaii and among them all Mrs. Carter was one of the most prominent. Although failing health for the last few years kept her from actively participating in the work which she had so much at heart, her sympathy was ever active and there is no one in Honolulu who has not lost a friend by her passing away.

The inspectors of live stock entering the islands should be vigorously backed up by the administration and the community in their enforcement of the rules designed to prevent the importation of diseased stock. The Attorney General is right in taking an aggressive line to the courts. If the law is not constitutional, the best thing to do is find it out and pass a law that is.

The scare given by a recent transport which was carrying cattle to the Philippines shows the need of vigilance. In such a climate as ours, the difficulty of stamping out many of the cattle diseases are declared by experts to be exceptionally great. It is therefore worth much to the islands to keep the disease out. The price of meat is high enough in Hawaii, and the difficulties in the way of cattle raising are great enough. The introduction of some of the mainland diseases might make matters much worse and force the people of the islands to fall back even more than they do now on imported meats. If there is any defect in the law which assumes to give the inspectors authority, the sooner it is remedied the better.

The federal government, in going to the expense of escorting a prisoner all the way here from Delaware, for the petty theft of a hat from the Hilo postoffice, is setting an example that good has a good moral effect. Other cases which have from time to time come up in the Honolulu federal court have shown how inexorable is the course of federal law and how utterly regardless of expense is the department of justice in the prosecution of crime. They have also shown the great severity of the statutes, so much so that the present federal judge in giving the minimum penalty allowed in one case, expressed the opinion that

It was too severe. But the law had to take its course. This reputation Uncle Sam has for sparing no expense, for going to the ends of the earth if necessary, in the prosecution of offenders is a great preventive of crime.

The Manchuria is not to be allowed to enter Honolulu harbor on her coming trip, because the harbor is not deep enough for a vessel of her size. At last the conditions locally foreseen so long ago are realized. The lesson is one for Congress, which has clearly failed in its duty to the islands. The matter will be vigorously presented in the coming session of Congress, and not only should there be appropriations for deepening the harbor as a result, but the Territory should be given back the money it has spent on dredging. Improvement of harbors is a federal duty.

DECKS RED WITH BLOOD

RUSSIAN CRUISERS SEVERELY DAMAGED BY JAPANESE SHOT AND SHELL—GUNNERS WHO WERE PROTECTED BY CASEMENTS ALL ESCAPED DEATH, BUT THOSE ON THE UPPER DECKS WERE QUICKLY KILLED OR WOUNDED.

Vladivostok, August 21.—The Gromoboi and the Rossia present shattered appearances. Their smokestacks show great rents, while the masts, bridges and ventilators look like sieves and there are marks of battle everywhere. Guns are dismantled, boats shattered and there are enormous holes in the cruisers' hulls, through which a man could easily pass. Many of the cabins were completely wrecked.

Some of the Japanese shells per-the coolness and bravery of the men who died in the battle without a murmur. Comrades took their places without awaiting orders. It was deadly work on the upper deck, where the gunners were without protection and shells striking, bursting into a thousand fragments, killing and wounding men until the deck became a veritable chamber-strewn with dead and dying and slippery with blood. Not a single gunner protected by casements lost his life. The value of protective torred than a shell struck the foot of the tower, glancing upward to the overhanging cover and entered through the pee hole, killing a Lieutenant and two quartermasters, wounding two Lieutenants and again wounding Captain Dubich in the head and breast. Not a single man in the tower escaped. There being no one to steer the ship, the captain, severely wounded though he was, dragged himself to the wheel and managed it until another quartermaster had been summoned.

Subsequently learning that the men were depressed by the fact that he had been wounded a second time, the captain insisted after the second dressing on being supported along the decks to the casements, encouraging the sailors, saying:

"I am alive, brothers. Go on smashing the Japanese."

When Captain Andreoff of the Rossia ascertained that only three out of the twenty big guns could be fired, he coolly gave orders to get explosives in readiness to sink the ship.

Captain Andreoff is usually nervous, but in battle he was cool as a cucumber. When not giving orders he was cheerfully conversing with the gunners at their stations.

Captain Berlinksky was killed by a splinter which struck him on the head at the outset of the fight.

Lieutenant Molos also distinguished himself. A shell entered the compartment where he was directing the fire and set fire to the deck on which a number of charges were standing about. Then came an eight-inch shell, which scattered the charges and caused a terrific explosion, which threw the men in every direction and hurled Lieutenant Molos on the upper deck.

Fortunately he fell on a heap of dead bodies and escaped with severe bruises.

Dense fire and smoke were then pouring out of the compartment, but Lieutenant Molos did not hesitate for a moment. Calling for volunteers, he plunged headlong into the flaming compartment and succeeded in putting out the fire.

Another officer followed by a number of sailors, brought a hose and played water upon Lieutenant Molos and his men while they were removing the unexploded charges, regardless of the fact that they might have exploded at any minute in their hands.

Only one of the dead was brought back—Captain Berlinksky of the Rossia. His remains lay in a coffin near an ikon of the Savior, the glass frame of which was smashed. The image, however miraculously escaped. All the others who were killed were buried at sea, a farewell salute being fired as the bodies were slid over the ship's side.

LOST A VALUABLE SATCHEL.

Miss Frances K. Gillet reported to the police today that she lost a satchel yesterday afternoon. The satchel contained numerous toilet articles and jewelry. She was riding in a carriage from Dr. McGrew's on Lunalilo street to the Young place and the bag might have dropped out of the carriage during that ride. A little boy who accompanied her thinks that she left the satchel on the lawn of the Young place and forgot the bag.

Deputy Sheriff Hose of Lahaina has begun a crusade against the okolehao distillers in that neighborhood. Several days ago he raided a still in the mountains and caught five men. All of them were convicted of distilling without a license. Eleven gallons of the liquor were confiscated.

High Sheriff Brown has issued notice to all of the clerks and deputies of the department to wear uniforms. The woolen khaki material will be used. Deputy Sheriff Albert McGurn was the first man to wear this uniform. Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth came out in a similar suit this morning.

POLITE CONDUCTOR

There is at least one motorman in this town who has a sense of humor and who can take delays philosophically without cursing, remarks the New York Sun. The other day a woman, one of the artistic sort, came out of Carnegie hall. At the same instant her friend, also artistic, came out of an apartment, hotel on the opposite side of Seventh avenue. They rushed to greet each other and met right in the middle of the car track and in front of a car that was just getting under way. Then the women stopped and began to say a few words of things to each other. The car stopped too, but the women didn't seem to realize that there was a car at all until the motorman leaned over the dashboard and asked very gently: Ladies, would you like for me to get you a couple of chairs?"

FEDERAL BID IS AWARDED

W. L. EMORY IS THE SUCCESSFUL BIDDER ON THE NEW IMMIGRATION STATION BUILDING—HIS TENDER WAS LOWEST OFFERED. NOTICE THAT HE WAS AWARDED CONTRACT RECEIVED TODAY.

Walter L. Emory has been awarded the contract for the construction of the new immigration station at Honolulu.

O. G. Traphagen the architect who has had this matter in charge, received notice this morning by mail, that the Department of Commerce and Labor had accepted the tender of Emory for the construction of the building. Emory's bid was the lowest of nearly a dozen submitted to Traphagen. The Emory bid was $23,950, the building to be completed in 157 days. The successful bidder was notified today of the award.

The government appropriated $35,000 for the construction of the new building, so Emory's figure is well inside that amount.

The actual construction of the building will commence without delay. The site of the new building is on the Kaloanui Point section of the Naval Station, just in the rear of the Quarantine wharf. The contractor will no doubt, advertise for tenders so that the work can be started without further delay. The various bids were forwarded to Washington by Architect Traphagen July 15.

BACK FOR TRIAL

EDWIN K. ROSE, BROUGHT ALL THE WAY FROM DELAWARE FOR STEALING A PANAMA HAT FROM THE POST OFFICE, ARRIVES ON THE ALAMEDA THIS MORNING IN CUSTODY OF A UNITED STATES MARSHAL.

Edwin K. Rose, the young half-white who is wanted by the Federal authorities on a charge of having taken a $7 Panama hat from the registered mail while employed as an assistant in the Hilo post office, was a passenger on the Alameda this morning, being a prisoner in charge of U. S. Marshall W. R. Flinn of Wilmington, Delaware.

The arrival of the youth was pathetic in the extreme as he was awaited by two of his sisters both of whom are handsome young ladies and who are obviously extremely fond of the brother who has thus brought disgrace on the family, which is among the best known in Hilo. The Wilmington marshal was met at sea by Marshal Hendry, and the prisoner was taken to the offices in the Judiciary building where the papers concerning the custody of the prisoner were prepared and signed. This concluded Marshal Flinn's duty and now he has before him the long return journey to Wilmington. He is accompanied by Mrs. Flinn and it had been their intention to spend some days on the islands, but the state of Mrs. Flinn's health is such that they will probably return on the Korea.

Bail for the prisoner had been fixed at $1000 by the U. S. authorities in Delaware and while the bonds were being arranged this morning the accused lad, who has already confessed that he stole the hat from the registered parcel, had a long and tearful interview with his sorrowing sisters.

The penalty on conviction for the crime with which he is charged is imprisonment for not less than one year and not more than five. The case will come before the District Court at the October session.

Bail was not secured and Rose was taken over to the jail.

Harbor Too Shallow To Float Great Manchuria

HACKFELD & COMPANY, LOCAL AGENTS OF THE PACIFIC MAIL, ADVISED THAT THE BIG VESSEL WILL NOT BE PERMITTED TO VENTURE INTO HONOLULU HARBOR WHEN SHE ARRIVES NEXT WEEK FROM THE COAST.

The big S. S. Manchuria will call at this port but she will not enter the harbor. H. Hackfeld and Company agents of the Pacific Mail Company, received letter advices this morning from San Francisco, announcing that the big liner of the company would not put into the local harbor. Evidently the vessel will be full with cargo on this, her initial trip and her owners do not intend to run any risks of her getting aground.

It has been predicted for months past that if the local harbor was not dredged to a proper depth, the harbor would be unable to accommodate the increased shipping that would come to this port. The action of the owners of the big Manchuria is corroborative of that prophecy. The harbor is not deep enough to accommodate the Manchuria when she is loaded to any depth, so she is not to come inside. The Mongolia her sister ship, came inside of the harbor but only because she did not have a full load. The condition, in consequence of the action of the Manchuria, is shown to be serious. This is the first time that the need for immediate harbor improvements has been so apparent and it will stir some one to prompt action.

The Manchuria is due here from San Francisco September 5.

STILL ANOTHER DECISION.

Judge Gear handed down a second decision in the Parker case this morning, this being on the motion for a bill of particulars on the amended petition giving specific reasons for the dismissal of A. W. Carter from the management of the ranch. Carter's attorneys, in a document of ponderous length asked for particulars of every charge made against Carter, but Judge Gear's ruling today denies all of these but three on the ground that the particulars given are sufficient. On these three he rules that particulars must be given and ten days are allowed for filing. The three charges on which particulars must be given are that Carter used "unsystematic business methods," that "he and his agents" had not given the "personal attention" required and that he had "disregarded the interests of the minor."

JUDGES' WORK MAY BE INVALID

term and in chambers would not be worth a snap of the fingers if the act which permitted them to so sit was proven to be "ultra vires" of the legislature that passed it.

The decision handed down today runs thus: "In the demurrer of Alfred W. Carter to the amended petition of Annie T. K. Parker by her next friend, it was claimed that the circuit judge had no jurisdiction of this proceeding, and the decision overruling that demurrer mentioned the fact that a grave constitutional question seemed to be involved which had not however been argued. The question which arose in the mind of the judge was as to whether the statute conferring judicial powers upon the judges at chambers was in conflict with Section 81 of the Organic Act which provides that 'The judicial power shall be vested in one supreme court, circuit courts and in such inferior courts as the legislature may from time to time establish, &c. Nowhere in the Organic Act is judicial power conferred on the judges of the courts named and the question of jurisdiction of such judges to hear and determine a cause becomes therefore a question of great moment.'

Of the cases cited by counsel, the judge considers four directly in point and he quotes at length from these.

"From these citations," he continues, "it will be readily seen that there is much force in the contention of counsel for the guardian and that notwithstanding the fact that for over four years circuit judges in these islands have heard and determined many cases, the claim of counsel that circuit judges cannot exercise such judicial power is one that seems to be amply sustained by precedent.

"While it seems to me that counsel is right in his contention, yet the matter is one of such grave importance affecting as it does every judgment and decree rendered by every circuit judge in this Territory since the going into effect of the Organic Act, that within the limited time I have had to give the question, I am loth to render any decision thereon.

"In determining whether or not a statute is unconstitutional, the rule is that a judge of the trial court should not declare the statute unconstitutional unless he has no doubt of its unconstitutionality. As I cannot with the limited time which it was possible to give to a consideration of this case, declare that I am fully satisfied that the statutes in question are in conflict with the Organic Act, although I am inclined to the opinion that they are, I shall therefore overrule the objection and it is so ordered."

Your Barber or Your Druggist?

If your hair is too long, go to your barber. He has the remedy—a pair of shears. If your hair is too short, go to your druggist. He has the remedy—a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Ayer's Hair Vigor
Is a Hair Food.

It feeds the hair. The hair grows long and heavy because it gives to the hair just what it needs.

If your hair is turning gray, it shows there is lack of hair nourishment. Give your hair this hair-food and it will take on new life. Soon all the deep, rich color of youth will return to it.

We are sure you will be greatly pleased with Ayer's Hair Vigor as a hair-dressing. It makes the hair soft and smooth, and prevents splitting at the ends.

JEFFRIES' EASY FIGHT

MUNROE FAILED TO MAKE ANY SHOWING AT ALL AGAINST THE CALIFORNIA CHAMPION—WAS REPEATEDLY KNOCKED DOWN AND WAS NEVER ABLE TO LAND A BLOW OR SHOW ANY EFFECTIVE RESISTANCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—Jeffries won the big fight from Munroe without a struggle this evening. In one round and forty-five seconds after time was called, Munroe's championship aspirations were settled. He was never at any time in the fighting. The round and a half were fought as follows:

Round 1.—The men advanced to the center of the ring and moved slowly around each fiddling for an opening. Munroe nervously rushed Jeffries, who smilingly pushed him away; Munroe again rushed the champion, but Jeff merely clinched the miner and held him for a moment in his great arms. Munroe suddenly led lightly with his left for the champion's face and the blow touched Jeff's cheek. The Butte aspirant appeared nervous, and a candid man would have said he was scared. Jeffries suddenly rushed Munroe and the latter's glove found his body lightly; the champion followed the miner around the ring, and the two clinched without a blow being struck. Coming out of the clinch Munroe sent his right lightly to Jeff's stomach. Jim smiled and hooked Munroe on the jaw with his left; he repeated the blow and Munroe went to his knees. He was up in an instant and nervously rushed the champion into a clinch. Munroe swung his right hand into Jeffries' stomach and landed his left lightly on Jim's face. Then the champion woke up; he hooked the miner on the jaw with his left, smashed in a terrific right to the body, and followed it with two more hard left hooks to the jaw. He rushed Munroe, and landed a right to the body so hard that it took all the steam out of the miner, and he staggered to the ropes; they clinched, and coming out of the embrace Jeff sent two straight left jabs to Munroe's jaw, and the miner fell again to the ropes, sitting on the lower rope like a man in a daze. Jeffries smashed him on the nose with his right and he toppled to the floor. The Butte candidate arose to his feet at the count of nine, but he was weak. The champion hooked him again with his left, and Munroe again went down for the count. A second later he got up, the gong sounded and he was saved. Jeff had, however, started a lightning fast left before the bell, and it caught Munroe full in the face as the gong rang. Munroe awoke already all in, and there was nothing to the fight.

Round 2.—Jeffries came up as indolently as if he were about to spar with a boy; he missed a left swing, however, and Munroe rushed him into a clinch. Jeffries tore him loose with his right hand, while with his left he sent in a smashing left hook to the miner's already bleeding mouth; the champion followed him around the ring and hooked his left again to the face, followed it with a right to the body and another vicious left hook to the jaw. All the fight was apparently taken out of Munroe and he tried to clinch to save himself, but the champion pushed him away with his right hand as he smashed him again with his left in the face. Munroe held for a moment and then the champion gave him four successive smashes with the terrible left on the jaw and the miner went down. He stayed while the time-keeper counted nine, and had barely straightened out at the count of ten; the time-keeper said "out," but Graney would not allow it, and motioned the champion to continue the slaughter; he stepped into Munroe and sent him helpless and staggering with several left hooks to the jaw. Munroe was almost insensible, though still wobbling on his feet when Graney motioned Jeffries to desist and ended the fight.

BOYS SENTENCED FOR LIFE

FOUR CHICAGO YOUTHS WHO WERE LED INTO CRIME BY A STRIKE IN WHICH THEY TOOK PART—ALL ARE FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER AND SENTENCED TO IMPRISONMENT FOR LIFE—A REMARKABLE COURT SCENE.

CHICAGO, August 12.—Gazing into the pale faces of a group of relatives ranging from a baby boy to a gray-haired father, Judge Chytrous today imposed life sentences for murder on the "bandit quartet"—Peter Duffer, Kelly and James and William Formby. In doing so he declared that labor troubles never ended without some of the strikers landing behind bars. This was evoked by the fact that Duffer and "Jim" Formby were striking press feeders when they began the period of crime which included the murder of John Lane and George Beckler. The sentence was declared after a remarkable invective had been delivered by Attorney Patrick Carey against the mother of Duffer, because she refused to see her son.

Kelly was the only one of the quartet standing trial. The others pleaded guilty and Kelly was convicted by a jury and given life imprisonment. Judge Chytrous was asked by Attorney W. E. Buckner to set aside the verdict and reduce the sentence to twenty or thirty years, but the court declined.

This was the first day that John Formby, the father of the brothers, and his wife, the boys' stepmother, appeared in court. The father and stepmother wept. When the former was asked if he desired to make a statement he said: "I cannot talk." Sitting in his lap was a sleeping baby boy, the half-brother of the self-confessed murderers. Duffer's brother was there and mingled his tears with those of the Formbys.

Accompanying John Formby and his wife was the Rev. Mr. Parr, pastor of St. Paul's Congregational church, where William Formby was an usher up to a year ago. The Formby brothers were defended by Attorney C. E. Rockwell, appointed by the court.

Attorney Carey, appointed by the court to defend Duffer, broke down during his plea for a lighter sentence and wept.

Referring to Mrs. Duffer, he said: "There is only one animal in the animal kingdom that will desert its young. That animal is the wolf. Mrs. Duffer has not done her duty as a mother to this boy. She deserted him in the one time in his life when a mother should stand by her young." Then the attorney wept and tears coursed down his cheeks. Attorney Rockwell spoke at length of the lives of the Formby boys and told of William's devotion to his church work. He said the prisoner was awarded a prize for his attention to his duties as an usher; that he always sought out the best and easiest seats for the aged and infirm. Then the lawyer dwelt on the night that William Formby, who is the oldest of the brothers, came home late from church work because of the lateness of the hours he kept.

"There we find William," exclaimed Attorney Rockwell, "with the doors of the church closed to him. Next he and his brother went on a strike and when their father informed them they should seek another home because they did not bring money to him they found themselves without a home and out of work. In addition to this, William had the doors of the church closed to him. So they drifted into crime."

Closing his plea the attorney uttered a warning to youths. He said: "Boys, if you get out of a position get work at something else other than your trade. Do not be idle for one hour."

"It is now only a question of life or death for these young men," said Judge Chytrous when Attorney Carey sat down. "Two or three months ago these boys were good boys and had never, so far as we know, done a wrong act. I am inclined to think that these strikes Chicago is engulfed in make more criminals than reading of lurid newspaper stories. I have had three cases before me which grew out of the printers' strike and the men were punished by imprisonment."

"Peter Duffer and James Formby have forfeited their lives to society, but I am not inclined to impose the severe penalty of the law because of their previous good conduct and because of their youth. I sentence the four to life imprisonment."

Assistant State's Attorney Fake, who prosecuted the boy bandits, sent a letter to Chief of Police O'Neill complimenting him for having such men as Inspectors Lavin and Revere, Lieut. Larkin and Policeman William Klamman in his department, and commended the four officers for their services. Klamman made the arrests.

with stomach complaint for years. I got so bad that I could not carry my

PARK COMMISSIONERS VISIT THE BEAUTY SPOT AND NOTE THE WORK DONE—LACK OF FUNDS.

The Board of Park Commissioners met yesterday afternoon, those present being A. S. Cleghorn, Justice P. M.
Hatch, Superintendent of Public Works
C. S. Holloway, H. E. Cooper and Park
Superintendent Young.

The Superintendent was instructed to procure estimates for the cost of a hundred loads of soil for plants to be placed in the Park as well as of the cost of its transportation. He was also authorized to purchase another span of mules if the money is available as there is too much work for the present team to do.

The commissioners then visited different spots in and about the park and found a gratifying improvement in the growth and appearance of things since the last visit.

The commission has the same complaint that is heard in other quarters—lack of funds to do all that it would like to do. The planting of grass and filling of stagnant pools should be attended to now but the work will have to wait.

PRINCESS ELOPES AGAIN.

Associated Press, Morning Service.
BADELSTER, Sept. 2.—The Princess Louise of Saxe-Coburg has re-eloped with Lieutenant Mattheis.
Princess Louise of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha,
the eldest daughter of King Leopold of Belgium. She was married in 1875 to Prince Philip of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha. This Prince was a brute, according to all accounts, and subjected his wife to indignities. Princess Louise rebelled and finally eloped with a lieutenant, plunged up to her eyes in debt and dissipation, and was finally carried off by her husband's orders to an insane asylum where she has been kept up to now, although it has generally been believed that she was sane.

Princess Louise bears the same name and has been detained in the same manner, practically, as a "prisoner of States," as Princess Louise of Saxony, who eloped last year with M. Girou, her French tutor.

The Princess is a sister of the Archduchess Lonyaya, formerly the Archduchess Stephanie of Austria, who has also been mixed up in European court scandals. Stephanie's first husband, the Crown Prince Rudolf of Austria, was mysteriously killed some years ago and she is now divorced from Count Lonyaya on account of her desire to lead a faster life than the Count was able to pay for. Princess Louise is 46 years of age.

REPUBLICANS
SELECT KUHIO

CONVENTION COMPLETES WORK
AT HILO BY ADOPTING STRONG PLATFORM UNANIMOUSLY.

Hilo, September 1.—In a splendid speech in Hawaiian at the Republican convention here today, Stephen Desha nominated Prince Kuhio Kalaniana'ole for delegate to Congress. The nomination was seconded by Frank E. Thompson for the Fourth District, John C.
Lane for the Fifth and W. J. Coelho for the island of Maui and was unanimous.

To the music of Hawaii Poni, Prince
Kuhio was escorted to the stage by A.
G. M. Robertson and Clarence Crabbe amid a wild scene of enthusiasm. The Delegate thanked the convention and said he would do his best to win and to faithfully represent Hawaii in Congress. He criticized persons who belit-tled his efforts, saying someone was always working against him in Washington, thus doing harm to Hawaii's interests. He pointed with pride to his record there and asked the support of all parties.

A joint caucus of the Fourth and Fifth districts will probably consist of A. G.
M. Robertson, chairman; John Lane,
vice-chairman; Faxon Bishop, treasurer;
W. T. Rawlins, secretary; Harry E.
Murray, assistant secretary. Desha,
Fraser, J. P. Cooke, W. W. Harris, Sam
Johnson, John Lane, D. Douglas and W.
H. Rice Jr., executive committee.

The convention was called to order by Clarence Crabbe, Rev. Desha was temporary chairman and H. L. Holstein permanent chairman. Willie Crawford was sergeant at arms and W.
J. Coelho interpreter. A. G. M. Robertson was chairman of the committee on platform, J. A. Gilman of the committee on permanent organization and Sam Kalama on credentials. Sixty-eight delegates attended the convention, while sixty more were represented by proxy. The platform as presented by the committee, was unanimously adopted.

A SCHEME TO GET TRANSPORTA-TION TO MANILA IS EXPOSED IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 27.—A simple incident of new-fangled graft has broken out on the United States Army transport service, like a white spot on a leper, and divers persons in the service as well as the intermediaries are scurrying to cover. The experience of G. H. Hudson and W. F. McKenzie, two youths from Fresno, has brought to light the fact that $100 properly expended, a quiet word to a friend and a few whisperings to the "push" can secure to green boys transportation to Manila and a job on a Government ship while any amount of capability without the coin and the wire-pulling might not avail. Hudson and McKenzie paid the $100 to J. Welch, manager of H. R.
Duffin's ticket brokerage at 633 Market street; Welch spoke to his friend, Dave Cramer, who is clerk in the chief wharf-finger's office; Cramer passed the glad tidings along to Harry Scott, purveyor of the transport service, and Scott asked First Officer K. Bryant of the Mc-Kenzie a job and transportation to Manila. Ergo: the boys got their job as sailors, able seamen in other words,
on one of Uncle Sam's finest ships, whereas the only nautical knowledge they had ever possessed was derived from schooners that sail across the bars at Fresno and the craft that steam across the glittering wheat fields of the San Joaquin.

The two boys came up from Fresno to see the world and decided that they wanted to go to the Orient. H. R.
Duffin's ticket brokerage seemed to solve the problem of cheap methods to reach the goal and they consulted Welch. Welch offered to get them a position on the transport Thomas which sails for Manila on the 1st of September if they would pay him $50 apiece for his "services." They paid the money and took a receipt, which reads as follows:

August 23, 1904.
Received of G. H. Hudson and W. F.
McKenzie one hundred dollars, in payment for services rendered above two persons, in securing employment.

H. R. DUFFIN, per W.
Welch then went to Dave Cramer,
the chief clerk in the chief wharfinger's
office, "and a friend of mine," as Welch phrases it, and asked Cramer to see the proper transport people regarding the position of the two boys.

"I had to use all my political influence," says Welch in explanation,
"and give two days of my time besides,
in order to get these boys their jobs and they make a heller. It was worth $100 to me to do this for them."

Cramer then went to his "old friend and a good fellow," Harry Scott and told Scott that he wanted to get "his friend McKenzie," on the Thomas, as McKenzie wanted to work his passage to Manila. Scott cheerfully agreed to do what he could for friend Cramer and called into play First Officer Bryant of the Thomas.

"Mr. Bryant," said Scott, "this is my good friend Mr. McKenzie, who wishes to go to the Orient. He is hard up, has no money to pay his passage, and would like to be given a job on the Thomas. It would be a great favor to me personally if you could find a berth for him."

McKenzie was duly enrolled on the ship's roster as a sailorman and put to work polishing brasses. His friend, Hudson, was treated likewise, and all was well for two days. Then the two boys tired of their jobs. A sailor's life on the ocean free was not what they had dreamed of among the billowy grain fields of the San Joaquin, where there are no brasses to polish in the daylight watch. So one of them sud-

Sale of Lease

Land of Kawaihae 2d--Kohala, Hawaii

By direction of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of the Queen's Hospital, I will offer at public auction a leasehold of the Land of Kawaihae 2d, Kohala, Hawaii, on Monday, September 19, 1904, at my salesrooms, in Kaahumanu street, Honolulu, at 12 o'clock noon.

This property comprises one of the most desirable grazing tracts of the District and the source of the Keawenui stream, an unfailing water supply, is located on the upper or mauka portion of the property which is considered the best fattening land in the neighborhood.

The property extends from a point near Kawaihae Landing to the mountain known as Kaumu o Kaleihoohe, a distance of about eight miles, varying in width from one to two miles.

At Kawaihae there is on the property, adjoining the Parker place, a very desirable House lot.

The area of this land is 10,000 Acres,
more or less.
The purchaser will be required under the terms of the lease to fence the forest portion of the property in the vicinity of the water heads or source of the Keawenui stream, and otherwise provide for the exclusion of cattle from the forest portion by the erection of a five-wire fence so constructed to keep the cattle out.

Lessee must also keep down the language on the property. No live timber to be cut on the forest portion except for fence posts to be used on the ground, and the cutting of algaroba on the lower portion must be confined to thinning out and trimming.

Lease price for 10 year term, $2500.00 per annum, payable quarterly in advance.

A Map of the property is now posted at my salesroom.

For further particulars apply to the undersigned or A. B. Loebenstein, Surveyor, Hilo.

OPIUM SELLER MAY GO FREE

It is not unlikely that the case of petty larceny against Joe Makia will fall through in the police court. The defendant was before Judge Lindsay this morning on a charge of the theft of some powdered opium from the Hobron Drug Company. The case was continued until tomorrow.

Several days ago when Makia was taken into custody, Detective McDuffie was informed by the Hobron people that Makia had been employed at that store and that about two pounds of the kind of opium which Makia was charged with selling, was missing from the stock. Subsequently today, the police were notified by Mr. Hobron that a further investigation of the stock, went to show that none of the drug was missing. As the result of this statement, it is probable that the larceny charge will be nolle prossed.

Makia will not escape the toils of the police though. He will be charged with selling drugs without a license. Three or four witnesses who claim to have purchased the opium from Makia, will be subpoenaed by the police.

MAILE VS. PRATT.

The case of C. B. Maile against James W. Pratt, assessor, which has been entered for some time, came up before Judge Robinson yesterday. As it stood it was under a demurrer on an order to show cause why a temporary injunction should not issue to restrain the defendant from selling land under tax sale. The demurrer was made by H. Van Cleson who bought in the property. The demurrer was overruled and a temporary injunction was issued.

GEAR'S COURT IS MADE SAFER

REPAIRS IN JUDICIARY BUILDING IN ORDER TO LESSEN DANGER OF ACCIDENT.

Carpenters' saws instead of legal saws were being worked in Judge Gear's court room this morning, sharp-edged chisels were more in evidence than cutting retorts and the hammer that were employed were the ordinary common or garden variety, not the figurative kind which the legal fraternity are accustomed to swing within the court's august presence. A squad of Superintendent Holloway's men were busy tearing up parts of the floor to find out the condition of the beams and joists below. The work was necessitated by the remarks of Superintendent Holloway made a few weeks ago to the press when he asserted that the Judiciary building was unsafe. In view of the fact that the new term opens in Judge Gear's court next week the judge felt it his duty to have the proper authorities look into the condition of the building. The room has a wide floor space and that the floor shakes from an ordinary stamp of the foot has long been noticed. There will be many hundreds of people crowded in there next week and Judge Gear naturally did not want the responsibility of their safety resting on him and he also had a personal objection to doing any stage trap drops himself.

The investigation this morning showed plainly that some of the big beams were honeycombed by worms, but the main support was found to be in a solid stone wall which crosses the center of the room. The stringers which were put in to strengthen the floor two years ago were found to be in good shape and it seems probable that with a few repairs the place can be made perfectly safe for all purposes. The report on the place will be made to the Superintendent of Public Works.

TOM FITCH IS INTERVIEWED

THE COLONEL ARRIVES IN SAN FRANCISCO AND TELLS OF HIS PLANS FOR THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN—HE OPENED THE CANVASS FOR ROOSEVELT WHILE ON THE SIBERIA BETWEEN SAN FRANCISCO AND HONOLULU.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 19.—Colonel Thomas Fitch, attorney, politician and orator, was among the arrivals on the Siberia yesterday. The colonel is at present quartered at the Palace Hotel, but expects to leave tonight for his home in the south. Politics, as ever, uppermost were regarding the political situation. When assured that there had been no formal opening of the campaign beyond a ratification of his eyes brightened and his broad face was wreathed in smiles.

"Then," he said, "I have done just what I wanted to do. I have opened the campaign for Roosevelt in mid-ocean, between the California coast and the new insular possessions. On the deck of the Siberia I talked for an hour and a half for the Republican party and my speech was met with salvos of applause. A vote taken on that steamer would have almost unanimously been for Roosevelt."

USE WIRELESS.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 20.—One hundred miles at sea, the Navy transport Solace flashed word of her approach yesterday afternoon. She reached the harbor last night. The Solace is fitted with wireless telegraphic paraphernalia, and was the first vessel, some weeks ago, to communicate from sea with the stations here. Yesterday while fully 100 miles away, her apparatus attracted the attention of the Weather Bureau operators at Point Reyes, and they were able to take the message of her coming. A short time afterward the Navy station on Goat island caught the flashes from the Solace. This vessel and the cruiser Boston are the only vessels that have thus far used the wireless system on this Coast.
