HARBOR BOARD VETOES BOCKUS PIER PROJECT

Commission Adopts Special Committee Report Against Amusement Structure

RECOMMENDS REMOVAL OF PRESENT PRIVATE PIERS

Urges, However, That One Be Put Up West of Fort
de Russy

The harbor commission this morning by unanimous vote denied C. G. Bockus's request for the privilege of erecting his proposed $100,000 amusement pier at Waikiki beach, adjacent to the Moana Hotel. The reasons for denying it are such that, evidently to be consistent, the board also has authorized Chairman C. R. Forbes to take steps toward the removal of the Moana Hotel's pier and the one in front of the J. B. Castle residence.

At the same time the board announced that it will encourage the construction of piers at any point west of Fort de Russy as far as the present location of the National Guard rifle range. This action was taken by the adoption of the report of the special committee, consisting of T. M. Church, chairman; E. E. Dodge and James Wakefield. The committee's recommendations are as follows:

"1. That the application to erect an 'Amusement Pier' at Waikiki from the public right of way (situated between the Moana Hotel and the residence of Mr. Frank Huestace) be refused for the following reasons:

"a. A pier structure run out seawards at the location proposed would vitally injure the sport of surf riding which is one of the principal attractions of Waikiki.

"b. Would interfere with the lawful pleasure and public rights which citizens of Honolulu and visitors to Hawaii have long enjoyed.

"c. Would adversely affect the adjoining property owners whose rights as taxpayers and citizens must receive recognition and consideration.

"2. That no permit be granted to construct any pier from the beach line seaward between Diamond Head point and eastern boundary of Fort de Russy.

Conditions for Permits.

"3. That permits to construct 'Amusement Piers' at any point west of Fort de Russy, and up to the rifle range be issued subject to the following conditions:

"a. That proper sanitation be provided.

"b. That the sale of alcoholic liquors be prohibited thereon.

"c. That adequate bonds be furnished to territory to provide for the removal of the structure and its foundations should same become dilapidated, unsafe or a nuisance.

"d. That all plans and specifications be submitted to the board of harbor commissioners for their inspection and approval before a permit to construct be granted.

"4. That necessary steps be taken to arrange for the removal of the unsightly and dilapidated pier foundations and diving stand in front of the property owned by Mr. J. B. Castle, also the pier running out from the Moana Hotel.

"5. That steps be taken to secure a rapid continuance of the dredging in front of the Ala Moana, and that plans be made to have this dredging cover as large a surface area as funds available will permit."

Substitute Proposal.
Discussing the entire amusement pier proposition somewhat more informally, the committee tendered to the commission, together with its recommendations, the following communication:

"Your committee appointed to investigate and report on the application of Mr. C. G. Bockus for permission to erect an 'Amusement Pier' at Waikiki, the land end of the proposed pier to be located on the public right of way situated between the Moana Hotel and the residence of Mr. Frank Huestace.

"We have given careful consideration to the whole beach front from Honolulu harbor to Diamond Head point, and the recommendations made are from what we believe to be a broad public standpoint; and if our suggestions are adopted and carried out, we believe the largest public rights will be protected and preserved.

"We consider an 'Amusement Pier' in the right location and properly managed would be of service to the community, but we strongly urge that no

ITALIAN PAPER ANGRY AT GERMAN TREATMENT OF BELGIAN CARDINAL

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]
ROME, Italy, Jan. 12.—The Tribuna declares today that the German denial of Cardinal Mercier's arrest in Belgium is only technically true. It says that the eminent prelate was not physically arrested but nevertheless was placed under custody within the palace. The German military government, realizing the world-wide criticism that its act would cause, withdrew the sentinel who had been guarding the cardinal. The Tribuna says that an act of violence against the prime minister of Belgium was committed, notwithstanding.

YAMAMOTO SENTENCED TO TWO YEARS IN JAIL

C. Yamamoto, charged with obtaining a sum of money from a number of Japanese professional and businessmen under false pretenses, this morning was sentenced to two years' imprisonment at the city and county jail.

Yamamoto was arrested after he had received money totaling several hundred dollars, which he alleged to the contributors would be used to defray his expenses in the islands while on a secret mission for the Japanese government. The police say Yamamoto has a previous conviction lodged against his name. The Japanese offered no defense when arraigned before District Magistrate Monsarrat.

SAYS RED CROSS DOCTOR

Lived in Cellars Eight Days Under Fire That Tore Roofs
From Houses

How the combined Japanese, East Indian and English army trenched and retrenched, bombarded, besieged and otherwise assisted in the total destruction of Tsingtau and Kiaochau in the belief that they were battling against a much larger garrison, was related last night to the Star-Bulletin by a member of the German refugee party on board the Pacific Mail liner Korea. The party, numbering 70 men and women, boarded the vessel at Hong Kong, Shanghai, Nagasaki, Kobe and Yokohama, and will cross the United States to New York and thence go by steamer to Germany. Many of them are members of the German Red Cross. Others were merchants of Tsingtau and Kiaochau and still others are German soldiers released by Japan. Although all members of the party had been cautioned against giving out any information concerning the fall of Tsingtau and Kiaochau, one of the Red Cross doctors finally consented to give out the story to the Star-Bulletin.

At his request his name is withheld inasmuch as it is a violation of the Red Cross rules and against orders received previous to sailing. Following is his narrative:

"When Japan issued her ultimatum to Germany concerning Kiaochau and Tsingtau, myself and others in this party were stationed as members of the German Red Cross at the Tsingtau garrison. We did not expect immediate action, however, although the fall of the city was expected many weeks before it actually occurred.

Shells began to fall.

"The bad weather made quick movement of the Allies impossible and it was not until 12 days before the surrender that shells began to fall about the cities. For several days before, however, the Allies had been entrenching about the cities. Their army numbered about 32,000 Japanese, 1000 English and 1000 Indian infantry and artillerymen.

"After they started bombarding they moved cautiously and the fire was not steady for the following four days. In the meantime they kept undermining the ground and tunneling toward our breastworks. The final eight days were days I shall never forget. The shells just darkened the cities day and night and everyone took to cellars. I was nearly killed myself once when I remained on the first floor of a house and a shell took off the roof.

"Kiaochau is built on the side of a hill facing the sea and the houses near the bottom of the hill were totally destroyed, while many of those farther up the slope were destroyed and other partly knocked away by the shells. The Japanese did not appear to care whether their shells struck the garrison or whether they struck the residences in the town.

"Move the Hospitals!"

"For a time our hospitals were being shelled and I sent word to the Japanese that they were firing on our hospitals. The answer we got was: 'If our shells are striking your hospitals, move the hospitals.' We did as advised, it being the only thing to do and from then on we kept the wounded in cellars.

"On November 6 the light got to close quarters. I saw 17 of our men, including a lieutenant who was a close friend, killed by Japanese armed with sharp, curved knives. The following morning, November 7, at 6 o'clock, we surrendered. The Germans were standing in the river with the water up to their arm-pits, the perspiration just pouring from their faces. They were fatigued. Imagine the surprise of the Japanese when they discovered that our total garrison had been only 2500 soldiers.

Looting Is Charged.

"That day was a day of robbery. The Japanese soldiers plundered the town. They forced rings from the fingers of the women and stole other valuable articles. The next day, however, the Japanese officers appeared to get control over the soldiers and the robbing stopped. We removed the wounded to the Hotel Prince Henry and converted the latter place into a hospital. The merchants and members of the Red Cross were allowed to go at will but the soldiers were taken to Japan.

"Some of the prisoners who were so wounded that they cannot reject the German army and others who were exchanged, or for other reasons set free by the Japanese, will return by the next Pacific Mail liner and will pass through Honolulu."

The Korea sailed at 10 o'clock this morning, taking with her the refugee party to San Francisco.

Steamship Strikes Japanese Reef and Soon Sinks; Had Been Used for Troops

KOBE, Japan, Jan. 12.—The passengers and crew of the liner Nile, which was commandeered to carry troops for Britain, have been safely landed. The Nile struck the Iwojima reef in a heavy storm and soon foundered.

The Nile, owned by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, retaining its British registry, paid its initial visit to Honolulu on March 16, 1912, the vessel coming from Hongkong by the way of Japanese ports after having passed from the Royal Mail Steamship Company.

It was a steel-built vessel with three masts and two funnels, going into service in 1893 between the United Kingdom and the west coast of South America. The vessel had accommodation for 215 first, 38 second-class and 368 Asiatic steerage passengers. While listed in the regular trans-Pacific service maintained by the Pacific Mail, three well-known skippers succeeded to the command of the vessel, Capt. F. Eccleston brought the liner from London to Hongkong and then to San Francisco. Later Capt. George Lapraik remained with the vessel for more than two years.

During the last voyages of the Nile, Captain Lockett was in command. The vessel was a welcome addition to the intermediate service inaugurated by the Pacific Mail, which is now handled by the Persia and the China. The Nile passed through Honolulu the early part of August and, upon reaching Hongkong, was soon despatched to London with recruits.

Supreme Court in Emphatic

The territorial supreme court handed down a significant decision this afternoon in the divorce suit of John Makahio against Kaleicnehu Makahio, one of the cases in which Circuit Judge S. B. Kingsbury was brought "under fire" last year at the time he was being urged for reappointment to the bench on Maui.

The supreme court not only reverses Judge Kingsbury's decision, which granted the separation to the wife, or libel, and remands the cause for rehearing, but sharply comments on Judge Kingsbury's action in taking testimony behind closed doors.

"Under section 2229, Revised Laws, providing that no divorce case shall be heard except openly in the public courtrooms," says the supreme court in its syllabus, "while it may in certain cases be proper to exclude from the courtroom persons of immature years, the circuit judge has no power to hear a case except openly in the public courtroom and the taking of testimony by the judge in his private chambers behind closed doors is error for which the case must be reversed."

The supreme court opinion is written by Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson, Associate Justice A. M. Watson and Acting Associate Justice C. W. Ashford concurring. In reviewing the

Berlin Bulletin Declares French Lose Heavily in Alsace and Argonne

BERLIN, Germany, Jan. 12.—The German official bulletin today reveals the fact that there is severe fighting south of Sennheim, Alsace. The French everywhere, the bulletin states, have been repulsed with heavy loss. In the forest of Argonne the Germans are declared to have captured seven officers and 16,000 men in the last five days. It is stated that they stormed a French position on the ancient Roman highway through the woods.

The bulletin says that the Russian offensive movement in northern Poland has been checked.

WOOD UNFOLDS PLANS ON EVE OF DEPARTURE

Looks for Exposition Authorities to Give Aid in Boosting Hawaii

H. P. Wood, secretary of the Promotion Committee and chairman of the Hawaii Fair Commission, will leave for San Francisco in the steamer Matsonia tomorrow to remain for the year as resident commissioner at the Panama-Pacific Exposition and representative of the Promotion Committee. Mr. Wood will be accompanied by his wife. Through detailed reports Mr. Wood will keep the Promotion Committee and the fair commission in touch with what is going on in the Hawaiian building.

"In San Francisco I expect to meet Secretary W. W. Thayer, and with him will go thoroughly into the matter of what the Hawaii building needs to make it a distinct success," said Mr. Wood today. "This conference will be followed with interviews with the heads of the various departments of the exposition. I will then submit to the fair commission recommendations for its consideration and approval."

"Just what these recommendations will be I do not know. I can only find this out after I have made an investigation of conditions. We know that the Hawaii building will be one of the most attractive structures at the exposition. It will be a place where people can meet and be entertained and supplied with information regarding the islands. These assets will make the building known far and wide. Fortunately I have fully recovered from my illness and expect to have even better health during the present year."

"The work as resident commissioner will require constant effort and I expect to be able to hold up my end with success. At my request Secretary Thayer will have gone into matters regarding the fair at San Diego and will have recommendations to make regarding Hawaii's publicity work there. These recommendations will be taken up by the Promotion Committee and I believe that San Diego will be a good ground for promotion work during the coming year."

"As authorized by the Promotion Committee I will arrange for desk room with Thomas Cooke & Son upon arrival in San Francisco. An agent will be placed there, probably Carl Nieper, who, in addition to his work of meeting steamers from the islands, will supply me at the exposition grounds with passenger lists and information regarding the arrivals from Hawaii."

"I plan to have the various island people act as hosts and hostesses at the various receptions and events which will be held in the Hawaiian building. The matter of special days and special events will be taken up and arranged largely by the exposition authorities. One event will be Hawaii day June 11, and Aloha Chapter day sometime in July. It is proposed to have some distinct event each month and at all times to make the building attractive."

"Hawaii has the friendship and good will of every newspaper in San Francisco, and I have been informed that all will give us proper consideration. I also have the assurance that the publicity men of the exposition will not neglect Hawaii in any way."

CZAR'S FLEET WILL SINK TURK SHIPS, PREDICTS RUSSIAN VISITOR HERE

Germany is due to watch two big battleships, her present to Turkey, sink.

So declared Demetrius Magula, Imperial Commissioner of the Mint, Petrograd, Russia, who is visiting in Honolulu until the arrival of the Pacific Mail steamer Mongolia January 15, to the Star-Bulletin today.

"Russia has not a large navy," the official explained. "Part of it is kept in the North Sea to patrol our coast. The best part of it, however, is in the Black Sea. We have many torpedo boats and several large ships there and they are waiting for a chance to blow up Germany's presents, the two ships the German Empire gave to Turkey. I heard this morning that they have been damaged. That is nothing—they will be damaged much more before long."

"Turkey has no navy of any importance," he continued, "and her only good ships are the two that Germany gave her. The Black Sea fleet will attend to them."

The new trial jury in Circuit Judge Ashford's court yesterday returned a verdict of guilty against John Munroe, an ex-sailor and soldier indicted by the grand jury for second degree robbery. He was accused of stealing money from a Porto Rican woman at Iwilei. The court sentenced him to serve four years in prison.

URGE CHANGES IN INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL CONTROL

especially to supervise the industrial schools.

A special committee of the jury, consisting of E. A. Berndt, chairman; James A. Wilder and Charles Lucas, investigated the industrial schools and drafted that part of the report dealing with the commission idea.

The report commends the work of the superintendents at the institutions both for wayward boys and for the girls. Under the heading "Girls Industrial School" the grand jury report says:

"In this institution there are at present 88 girls, all apparently well and happy. Miss S. C. Sterritt, the superintendent, is a good disciplinarian, as evidences of proper training and temper by kind and motherly regard are everywhere noticeable. The school is conducted along modern lines and must show splendid results. The industrial training is of the best, and should the equipment be enlarged as is recommended by the superintendent, and the additions to buildings made, the grounds improved, the institution would completely justify its existence in the community. It is very gratifying for this committee to report that under the otherwise strict and wholesome discipline Miss Sterritt has done away with high board fences and has made many other changes devoiding the place of the appearance of a prison. We recommend this idea strongly and feel positive that it will have a great effect on the work of the reform school."

"We are certain greater success can be obtained and more satisfactory results shown if the reform work of the industrial schools were placed under the care of a commission or board of control, created exclusively for this purpose. The wants, requirements and shortcomings could be better studied and understood than under present administration, and with this improvement in view, we recommend to the incoming legislature the creation of such a board of control or commission. The school commissioners who now have charge have their hands full with regular routine and cannot give great attention to this special work which is growing more important every year."

"We also believe that the revenue from the sale of mats, carpets, lace, etc., should be used exclusively for buying new materials and for the developing of the industrial branches and not go into the maintenance fund. The industrial equipment is too small now, but would be kept up and increased if the proceeds from these sources could be so applied."

A member of the jury said this morning that the committee which looked into the industrial schools is prepared to furnish concrete cases to back up its recommendations for a change.

HONOLULU NEWSBOY GOES TO CHINA AND RISES IN PUBLIC LIFE

From a Honolulu newsboy to the secretaryship of China's commission to the Panama-Pacific exposition is the rapid rise of A. F. Zane, a young Chinese who a few years ago was selling the Evening Bulletin and the Hawaiian Star on the city streets.

Zane passed through Honolulu on the liner Korea, going to San Francisco to take up his official duties. When he was a busy, energetic hustler of newspapers here he studied at a local grammar school and later at McKinley high school. He went to China four years ago and rose rapidly in government positions. He is 22 years of age now. Philip Zane, one of his brothers, is now with the Star-Bulletin.

TRANSFERS OF THREE OFFICERS IN HAWAII

War department orders recently received at army headquarters carry the transfer of three officers of the Hawaiian Department. 1st Lieut. Cary I. Crockett, 2nd Infantry, is transferred to the 25th Infantry, and 1st Lieut. F. A. Barker, 25th Infantry, is transferred to the 2nd Infantry. This change is made on mutual request. Both officers were formerly on the 2nd Infantry, and when promoted Lieut. Barker drew the 25th. Lieut. Crockett, who had been stationed at Schofield as aide to Brig.-Gen. Edwards, preferred to remain at the mid-island post, while Lieut. Barker wished to remain with his old regiment.

Capt. Carl A. Martin is transferred from the 1st to the 2nd Infantry. At the present time the 2nd has its full quota of 15 captains, but Capt. Martin's transfer doesn't take effect until March 1, by which time the Hawaiian tour of Capt. Wm. R. Gibson, now on leave, will be completed. It is understood that Capt. Gibson will be transferred to an organization in concession be granted for the erection of such a pier at any point between Fort De Russy and Diamond Head point.

"We also urge that every effort be made to secure the removal of the present 'Moana' pier, and also the removal of the unsightly remnants of a pier and diving stand in front of the residence of Mr. J. B. Castle."

"The removal of these structures would we believe largely enhance the appearance of Waikiki bay, and greatly add to the enjoyment of thousands of citizens who frequent the beach watching the surf riding and other aquatic sports."

"We consider that there are great possibilities available for the development of public bathing establishments and amusement piers on the Ala Moana, and urge that every effort be made to continue dredging for reclamation purposes at this point."

"If economical and practical from an engineering standpoint, we would suggest that all future dredging along the Ala Moana front be limited to a depth of four to six feet, so that the largest possible surface area would be covered with the funds available for the work. If this suggestion could be followed, reclamation of large areas would be accomplished on each side of the Ala Moana which could then be converted with a comparatively small outlay of public funds into an exceedingly attractive boulevard, which would possess the great advantage of being close to the city."

"As practically all the land from the rifle range site to the Mochizuki club on the makai side of the road is the property of the territory, every effort should be made to secure to the public perpetual rights and full access to the ocean beach along this thoroughfare."

"In submitting the annexed recommendations we would ask that, whatever decision the board of harbor commissioners may reach in this matter, an official copy of same be immediately sent to Lieut.-col. Chas. S. Bromwell for the information of, and for the record files of the U. S. Engineers Corps, so that if possible uniformity of action between the territorial and federal governments on this important subject may be secured."

DIVORCE CASES MUST BE TRIED IN OPEN COURT

facts the court says, speaking of the libel and cross-libel and their joint trial before Judge Kingsbury on May 13, 1914:

"It appears from the transcript of evidence which is made a part of the record in this case on appeal, and also by the affidavit of Edmund H. Hart, Esq., clerk of the circuit court of the second judicial circuit, on file in this court, that the said judge before whom said causes were tried, after the same had been finally submitted by the parties and by him taken under advisement; on to wit, June 8, 1914, proceeded to reopen said causes in his private chambers by taking further evidence from the libellee herein, neither the libellant nor his attorney being notified of this proceeding and neither of them being present."

"That again, on the 9th day of June, 1914, the said judge, in his private office, in the absence of the parties hereto or their counsel and behind closed doors, further reopened said causes for the taking of additional testimony, and proceeded to examine certain witnesses who had been subpoenaed by the direction of said judge to appear at said time and place and give their evidence. Neither of the parties hereto nor their respective attorneys were notified by the judge of his intention to reopen the causes for the taking of further evidence nor were said parties or their counsel given an opportunity to be present and examine or cross-examine such witnesses."

In conclusion the court makes the following strong statement:

"The action of the circuit judge in reopening this case and taking testimony in his private chambers behind closed doors was an utter disregard of the statute and his misconduct in that regard was heightened by the fact that such proceedings were heard without notice to the parties or their counsel and without giving them an opportunity to be present."

IMPROPER USE OF THE UNIFORM TO BE PUNISHED

Wearers of Government Olive Drab Shirts and Service Hats and Shoes Subject to Arrest

That all military equipment and uniforms belonging to the United States or to the Territory of Hawaii, must be turned in according to law, and that this law will be enforced by the civil as well as the military authorities is indicated by general orders, National Guard of Hawaii, dated today. Guardsmen, former guardsmen and civilians who are wearing parts of uniforms belonging to the government for private purposes are likely to run foul of the police. Olive drab flannel government shirts are very apt to get the wearers into trouble, there being a persistent violation of the law in regard to this article.

The order above referred to follows:

General Orders No. 4.

To: Sheriff Charles H. Rose.

Subject: Unlawful purchasing, failure to return and wearing of uniform, equipment, etc.

1. The Revised Laws, section 162, provides punishment of not exceeding one year, and or, three hundred dollars fine for persons purchasing or pledging any arm, accoutrement, article of military clothing, equipment, tent or fly or quartermaster or ordnance stores the property of the Territory of Hawaii.

2. Act 46, L. 1909, section 162A, provides punishment of thirty days and fifty dollars for failure to return to the Army any arms, uniform or equipment issued by the territory.

3. Act 46, L. 1909, section 162B, provides punishment of thirty days imprisonment and fine of twenty-five dollars for wearing the uniform for private purposes.

STREET CAR ACCIDENTS TOTAL 23 IN TWO WEEKS

Twenty-three accidents occurred over the lines of the Rapid Transit Company during the two weeks ending January 9, according to reports presented at a meeting of the Public Utilities Commission this afternoon. None of the accidents were serious.

In compliance with a section of the public utilities act an inventory of the property of the commission has been made, a report on which will be given the tax assessor. The inventory shows the value of the property to be $886.90. Secretary Henry O'Sullivan has begun work on the annual report, which will be submitted to the governor the latter part of January.

Fire destroyed the Monitor Building, at Springfield, Mass., occupied by the United Auto Co., at a loss of $20,000. Many autos were wrecked.

BOULEVARD ON WAIKIKI BEACH FORBES' SCHEME

Ambitious Dream for Sea Front Improvement Is Unfolded at Harbor Board Meeting

A great winding boulevard along the beach from Fort Armstrong to Diamond Head, wide, well paved, flanked on the makai side by native palms and beautiful shrubbery and offering a sweeping view of the entire Waikiki beach and the sea extending out therefrom—such is the ambitious dream of Superintendent Charles R. Forbes, as enthusiastically outlined by him at the meeting of the harbor commission this morning.

He brought it to the board's attention during the discussion of the amusement pier project, which had led to a general talk of the famous beach's beautification, and though his plan was outlined only briefly it was presented so clearly and precisely that the commissioners at once gave it their hearty individual endorsement.

Chairman Forbes' idea is to require all property-owners throughout the length of the beach from Fort Armstrong to Diamond Head, to build a stone wall somewhere above the high-water mark along a line which would be established by the territory's surveyors, and then to give a stretch along it, running parallel with the seafront, to the big boulevard. This magnificent highway he would pave solidly and smoothly, so that it would be as nearly perfect as a driveway can be made. It would become Honolulu's showplace and add vastly to the fame of Waikiki, he declared.

Commissioner C. J. McCarthy, who also is territorial treasurer, believes the scheme is feasible and the other members agreed that if the financial part be solved the project is entirely

Farmer Would Go Diving For Pearls in "Honolulu Islands"

A new chapter has been added to the romance of the pearling schooner Jessie Fremont, now well known in Hawaiian waters. The new chapter is in perfect sequence for, as the Jessie Fremont led a skipper and three sailors out on the sea of adventure two months ago, the tale of the schooner has now led a farmer of Clovis, California, to court fame as a seeker of pearls. The adventurous farmer would come to the "Honolulu Islands" and dive for pearls.

The plans of the Clovis farmer are contained in a letter received today by Marshal J. J. Smiddy. They are brief and to the point. Having heard the tale of the Jessie Fremont, the farmer writes, he is anxious to put into use a pearl-diving apparatus in which a man may descend in the sea to a depth of 200 feet and "stay there all day." This apparatus, he declares, was invented and recently patented by him. He wants to know the whereabouts of the pearl beds which he has heard about in the "Honolulu Islands."

He also wants to know what pearls look like, their size and shape. He has offered to send the marshal a complete diagram of his diving apparatus in return for this information. In his letter he declares he is sorely in need of this data, as he has lived all his life on a farm, and has but scant knowledge of pearl beds and how the jewels are secured. As to his invention it is a big glass box. That is as far as actual description goes.

worthy. Entering thoroughly into the idea Col. McCarthy asserted the financial end of it could be handled if the people approved.

The expense should be borne by the county, the plan is, but the territory could sell sufficient bonds for the county to cover its cost, then paying back on the bonds by making an additional assessment of one or two mills a year on the dollar on assessed valuation of property on Oahu. This would prove no strain on the county and the project could be paid for easily in 20 or 30 years' time.

The stumbling block to the scheme at the outset is the financial one, however. To give a true idea of the project Chairman Forbes said that not only a blueprint should be drawn, but a large perspective made, with colorings, giving a hint of the wonders in natural beauty that can be wrought by the correct construction of a beach boulevard of this kind.

The funds for this preparatory work, which he estimates would require four months for completion, must be raised by popular subscription, either by the citizens or by the business firms of the city. It is likely this initial phase of the project will be started by the harbor commissioners within the next week or two.

The proposition probably will not be ready to submit to the legislature this year. It suggests such a sweeping innovation that much time will be needed to figure out the details and it may not be in shape for official action by the county or territory for a couple of years.

LITTLE CHANCE TO CHECK BILL KILLING APPEALS

President of Bar Association Gets Letter From Senator Culberson; Little Hope

Chances that the Bar Association and public sentiment here can prevent Congress from cutting out the right of appeal on local questions from the supreme court of the territory to the supreme court of the United States now seem remote.

President Charles R. Hemenway of the Bar Association yesterday received a letter from Senator Charles A. Culberson of Texas, chairman of the senate judiciary committee. The Bar Association protested by letter and cable as soon as it was known that the house had passed the amending bill which ends the right of appeal from the supreme court here on all but federal questions. The protest was sent to the senate judiciary committee in an effort to stop action in the upper house. Senator Culberson writes to President Hemenway:

"I have your telegram of yesterday asking on behalf of members of your Bar Association that the action on the bill H. R. 19,078 be delayed until you have had opportunity to express formal views. The bill was reported favorably without amendment on the 21st inst. and is now on the senate calendar. A copy of the bill and report are enclosed."

To this Attorney Hemenway at once replied by cable as follows: "Formal resolution of Bar Association protesting against change in appeal from Hawaii forwarded with statement of reason on 6th inst."

Senator Culberson's letter, dated December 31, had been sent before the comprehensive statement of the Bar Association had reached him. Local members of the bar feel very strongly that the situation is serious. The change in the law is referred to in the report on the amendment, explained as follows:

"Relieving the supreme court of the United States from the necessity of reviewing such cases from the supreme courts of Porto Rico and Hawaii as involve no federal question, but depend entirely upon the local or general law. Under the law as it now stands the decisions of the supreme courts of Porto Rico and Hawaii are reviewable by the supreme court of the United States not only when some federal right is in controversy, but also in all cases which involve more than $5000, without respect to the character of the questions involved. This section as amended includes Porto Rico with Hawaii and continues the existing right to review in the supreme court when federal rights are in controversy, but leaves all other cases to be dealt with upon a petition for a writ of certiorari, as is now the law with respect to most of the cases in the circuit court of appeals."

As a matter of fact, as the Bar Association points out, Hawaii's cases in the U. S. supreme court have been so few as to cause no burden. Since 1906, when the right of appeal was fixed, there have been only 27 cases where the appeal was possible under "jurisdictional amount" involved, $5,000, and only 14 where federal questions were involved.

In the last five years there have been only six cases, thus showing that Hawaiian cases are no burden on the supreme court.

It is hoped that the cablegram of yesterday, together with the protests sent to other senators and to Delegate Kuhl, will result in stopping the bill before it passes the senate, but that hope is very small since the receipt of Senator Culberson's letter.

WHARF ON KAUAI IS HELD UP BY HARBOR BOARD

Plans for the proposed new wharf at Waimea, Kauai, have been temporarily checked by the harbor commission's discovery that the site on which the pier was to be erected is not territorial property but belongs to the estate of Mrs. V. Knudsen, mother of ex-Senator Eric Knudsen. Chairman C. R. Forbes has been puzzling over the new obstacle the last week or ten days, but a solution is thought to have been found.

On motion of Commissioner James Wakefield the commission today authorized Chairman Forbes to write Mrs. Knudsen or her agents, requesting that she donate to the territory the site desired for the new wharf.

Wakefield explained this morning that where piers are built by the government and are particularly sought by large property-owners on the different islands, the sites are donated by the latter if they happen to hold land which is especially desirable as locations. He cited several instances proving his point.

Plans for the Waimea wharf had gone forward and a point reached where Chairman Forbes was ready to take soundings and arrange for the actual work at the site of the present pier at Waimea. The discovery was made suddenly that this land did not belong to the government and that no other government-owned location was available in the immediate neighborhood.

The Knudsens, who own a large amount of land in the region and were especially active in urging the new pier, are expected to be willing to do their share now in assuring its location. Chairman Forbes said that about 1.7 acres would be necessary and Mrs. Knudsen is to be asked to give the territory title to that amount of water-frontage.

NEW SIDEWALKS TO BE LAID ON FIVE STREETS

Five resolutions calling for the improvement of streets, the laying of sidewalks and curbstones, were introduced by Supervisor James Quinn and passed by the first reading by the Board of Supervisors at its meeting in the city hall last night.

The work will be charged up to the adjoining property-owners in conformity with the frontage tax statutes, according to the text of the resolutions. The streets to secure such improvements are as follows: Wai'alae road, between Kamohili bridge and Koko Head avenue; Kamohili road, between intersection of King and Beretania streets; Kalakaua avenue, between Ena road and intersection of Park and Diamond Head road; King street, between Kahauiki bridge and intersection of King with Beretania at Kamohili; Beretania street, between junction of King and its intersection with King street.

In response to a request from the board, City Engineer Wall submitted a report in which he urged a standard type of sidewalk and a regulation of sidewalk lines, as well as established grades. Wall also recommended that a fire service be installed where salt water could be used instead of fresh water as at present.

James T. Taylor appeared before the board and requested the improvement of Laimi and Pu'ua lanes in Nuanu valley. The mayor and the supervisors agreed to visit the places mentioned by Mr. Taylor on Saturday afternoon.

The skating rink applied for a dance hall license, but owing to failure to secure permission of the majority of the residents of the district the board refused to grant the license.

OVATION GIVEN TELEGRAPHONE

Mr. McCann, manager of the H. T. McCann Co., with offices 38 Young building, reports that an absolutely unprecedented interest is being taken in the telegraphone, a marvelous invention by Poulsen, the wireless man, which automatically records telephone and telegraph messages, as well as dictation. It has been prophesied that this wonderful piece of mechanism will completely revolutionize the process of recording. Whether it be in any of the above forms, or train despatches, lectures or lengthy court proceedings, the simplicity and economical operation insure its lasting satisfaction. It would be difficult to enumerate the many uses to which the telegraphone may be put, for lack of space, but let it suffice to say that a visit to the offices of the company will enlighten you more than pages of literature. There's nothing like seeing for yourself.

Although Mr. McCann has been exhibiting but a few days in this city he has been forced to work night and day to fulfill appointments for demonstrations. It may be said that this is not an experimental proposition.

Kings will be tyrants from policy when subjects are rebels from principle.—Edmund Burke.

WHAT ABOUT THE METER SYSTEM?

Investigation of the condition of the water meters installed but a comparatively short time ago and of the results in collected revenues proves that it's up to the city either to straighten out the meter system or to abolish it.

Some of the instruments themselves show corrosion and wear of parts to a remarkable extent after a few months' service. The Star-Bulletin has been shown meters in use eight or nine months which are plainly unfit for registering the flow of water. Whether it is due to lack of care or to some corroding element in the artesian—and to a certain extent the surface—water of Honolulu we leave it to the engineers to say. They already differ considerably in what they are saying about the meter system. The fact remains that it isn't working properly.

The Star-Bulletin is informed that the same meters show such remarkable fluctuations in registry as to prove offhand that they are working wrongly or not working at all. The city engineer is busy on a report and when it is presented to the supervisors they will have to do some thorough probing. Consumers are not going to pay out good money on the figures of a mechanical system which the city engineer declares is grossly faulty and which any layman can see includes meters unfit for operation.

Former Superintendent of Public Works Campbell says that the cry that the meter system will not work is "all bunk." He asserts that "price and not quality ruled" in the purchase of a number of the meters now in use, which is at least partly responsible for their failure to work. He says also that more frequent inspection and care is necessary.

If it is a fact that the territory bought inferior water-meters, that fact should be ascertained. If lack of inspection and change of parts is ruining the meters, that fact and the cause of it should be ascertained.

The new board of supervisors should see to it that the water-consumers get the truth without delay. Part of that truth will be a statement as to whether the alleged saving of money in the waterworks and sewers division has been accomplished at the expense of service. It is reported that the engineer has not had sufficient men inspecting and checking up on meters. If that is so, the faults in the instruments may be not all or even mostly of the mechanical kind.

CREDIT DUE THE JAPANESE.

"The Japanese in their conduct of the siege of Tsingtau and generally after it was captured observed the rules of civilized war and treated their prisoners kindly."

This statement, made by a German from Tsingtau passing through Honolulu, is not unusual. Repeatedly there has come from the "war-zone" in the Orient testimony to the excellent conduct of Japanese officers and troops in the campaign against Tsingtau and in their treatment of the German and Austrian prisoners taken there. Furthermore, the naval operations of the Japanese against the Marshall and Caroline islands and other German Pacific possessions are said to have been marked by the same careful observance of the rules of war and of the dictates of humanity.

In the foreign as well as the American press one notices now and then a statement indicating a belief that Japan obtruded herself into the great conflict and that her entry was regarded with some doubt by Great Britain. We have seen no documentary evidence to back this up. Indeed, not long ago the press carried brief despatches apparently originating in London that Japan's participation was first decided when Great Britain asked her Oriental ally what she could do to protect British commerce in Far Eastern and Pacific waters from German destroyers.

Japan's uncertain intentions with regard to the German Pacific possessions have also occasioned much comment, some of it unfavorable.

On the other hand, Mr. Arthur Bullard, the well-known war correspondent and special writer for The Outlook, inclines to a favorable view. After criticising what he terms British haste to establish a protectorate over Egypt and thus get new territory, he says:

"Although allowances should be made for Great Britain's 'peculiar situation,' it will be generally felt that the Japanese have shown a more scrupulous regard to the amenities of nations in postponing the announcement of their intention in regard to their conquests in the Pacific until the matter can be discussed by her allies at the termination of the war."

THE RAVAGES OF WAR IN THE SUGAR-BEET FIELDS.

That the sugar-beet fields in France are ravaged by war is indicated in Associated Press despatches from the front, telling of the fighting across what was formerly rich agricultural country.

The sugar-beet fields retaken by the French have not only been ravaged by shells, lacerated by trench diggers and furrowed by the wheels of gun carriages, but have been so trampled by infantry and cavalry that the extraction of the roots became a difficult problem, not yet entirely solved. It is the modest heroine of the war, the French peasant woman, who is working on it in the unoccupied regions close to the battlefield where she can not only hear it but see the smoke of it.

In all this region the plough followed closely upon the conflict and seeding necessarily followed so hard upon the plough that some apprehension was felt as to the summary preparation of the soil; there was no time for harrowing, but the seed caught and the new crop showed its head even while the pointed helmets across the line were taking in the last of the belated harvest.

Statisticians say the seeding is little inferior in acreage to that of 1913.

L. M. Whitehouse gave satisfaction as a city engineer during his previous term; John H. Wise ought to make good as superintendent of Kapiolani Park; but R. W. Aylett as head of the garbage department looks like a mighty poor choice on the part of Mayor Lane if Lane's going to make a record for efficiency. Of course the appointment is made for political reasons—couldn't be for any other reason. Aylett has served in the legislature, on the board of supervisors and as a member of the band, but the act for which he will be longest remembered as a public servant was that of going blissfully to sleep at his post as night-watchman at the Capitol. No one knows how long he had been doing it before Superintendent of Public Works Caldwell found him in calm repose one night and separated him from his job. As head of the garbage department "Bill" can slumber without fear of rude awakening.

Petrograd and Vienna exchange amenities. Petrograd says the Germans and Austrians try to get inside the barbed-wire lines by pretending surrender. Vienna declares that the Russians dress in Austrian uniforms. What has become of the rules of "civilized war"? Are they also "scraps of paper"?

General Kitchener is credited with remarking that the war will start next May. Most of us have somehow gotten the impression that what has been happening to Europe is war.

"Seeing Oahu" trips by the supervisors are well worth while when they result in definite plans for road improvement.

Roumania appears to be on war's invitation list, R. S. V. P., but hesitating a little about acceptance.

They call it a "theater of war" but to us it looks more like a pendulum.

We notice that the "submerged tenth" is doing most of the naval fighting.

You can lead a meter to water, but can you make it work?

Letters of TIMELY TOPICS

(The Star-Bulletin invites free and frank discussion in this column on all legitimate subjects of current interest. Communications are constantly received to which no signature is attached. This paper will treat as confidential signatures to letters if the writers so desire, but cannot give space for anonymous communications.)

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE METERS?

Honolulu, Jan. 12.

Sir:—The following facts in connection with the water meter controversy may be of some interest to your many readers.

Of 235 meters examined, 230 registered less than $1.50 for three months from July 1 to Sept. 30, 1914, 5 registered over $1.50 and of the 230 registered less than $1.50, 46 registered nothing at all.

In one case $23.45 was collected during the quarter ending June 31, but the same meter registered just 55 cents for the following quarter ending Sept. 30, 1914.

There is a certain variability in the pressure of water in the pipes, which adds to the unreliability of the meters, as a meter rated for 80 lbs pressure per square inch will not register correctly for 40 lbs., 60 lbs. or 100 lbs. pressure per square inch.

It appears that a renewal of the train wheels in the meters will be required at least every three months, at a cost of about $3 per meter, and that might not insure accuracy, as a meter might be working all right today and next week it might fail utterly.

Yours for full publicity.
COMMUNI BONUM.

SAM-UPA, FOR YEARS IN PUBLIC OFFICE, IS DEAD

Death, following an operation for appendicitis several days ago, came at 6 o'clock last evening to Samuel Upa, for many years a clerk in the attorney-general's office. He passed away at his home, 1509 Chung Hoon lane. The funeral was held this afternoon from M. E. Silva's undertaking parlor and burial was at the Catholic cemetery on King street.

Upa was born at Hilo, Hawaii, 45 years ago. He and a sister, Tempa Upa, owned considerable property in that city. He leaves a widow and several children.

Sam Upa was one of the best-liked men in the territorial government service. He was a quiet, unobtrusive and kindly, cheerful man, highly efficient in his office, and one of the public servants who will be sorely missed. He knew more concerning the routine business of the attorney-general's office than any other person.

A soldier who saw fighting in German Guinea declared that the Germans secured the aid of the natives by telling them that the English intended to

Society Out En Masse Tonight for Army Relief Ball at Fort Shafter

MRS. FRANCIS H. FRENCH

—Kodagraph Prints.

From Fort Shafter to Fairyland is the trip that will be made by several hundreds of civilians and service society folk tonight, who are planning to attend the masquerade ball to be given at the transformed army post. This affair is for the benefit of the Army Relief Society, and the combined prospect of aiding a splendid charity and having a splendid time has caused a keen demand for the limited number of tickets that were put on sale.

Headquarters building has been wrecked and remade within the last few days. Thousands of colored incandescents have been strung on walls and ceiling of the club rooms and hop room, and thousands more will glow within the tents where refreshments and supper are to be served. Enough canvas has been pitched to shelter a regiment, the space between headquarters and the next set of quarters being changed into a veritable tent city for the accommodation of the guests. Festoons of greens dotted with pin-points of electric light, have been used to enhance the beauty and originality of the whole.

The committee of ladies that has charge of arrangements and the general management of the ball masquerade has worked tirelessly and their reward will be the assured success of the entertainment.

Those who form the committee are Mrs. French, wife of Col. Francis H. French, the post commander; Mrs. Smith, wife of Maj. Ernest V. Smith, and Mrs. Lenthain, wife of Maj. Michael J. Lenthain.

Mrs. French is the local president of the society's branch and the other ladies are her principal assistants in the arrangements of the ball tonight.

NO RACE FAVORED FOR JOBS, SAYS MCCARTHY

Reports that Territorial Treasurer C. J. McCarthy is showing discrimination against Hawaiians in the appointment of marriage license agents throughout the territory were conveyed direct to the official yesterday. In reply the treasurer said:

"Here is the written record of all the appointments I have made since coming into this office: Palmer F. Woods, appointed marriage license agent for Honolulu, November 2; O. T. Shipman, appointed assessor in the third taxation division, Hilo, December 15; T. B. Lyons, appointed marriage license agent at Wailuku, December 14; M. H. Drummond, appointed deputy bank examiner, January 11. You can see that thus far the honors are about even, as between Hawaiians and white men. I have no policy of the kind mentioned. In selecting marriage license agents the rule established by my predecessor, D. L. Conkling, shall be adhered to. That is, marriage license agents throughout the territory shall be deputy tax assessors. Surely no one can find reason in that for complaint. Woods is the only agent not a deputy assessor."

Laeson Peak, near Chico, Cal., is again in eruption. Columns of dark smoke arise and volcanic ash fell for miles around.

HAWAII CHINESE CHARGED WITH SELLING OPIUM

Lee Tip, a Chinese of Hilo, was brought to Honolulu by Deputy Marshal Albert Harris today to stand trial in the local federal court on a charge of selling poisonous drugs and having opium in his possession. He was arrested Saturday afternoon by Hyren K. Baird, deputy collector of customs at Hilo.

According to Mr. Baird, who is in Honolulu as a witness in the case, the Chinese was arrested about 15 minutes after he had been acquitted in the Hilo county court on a charge similar to the one which the government holds against him. After arresting the Chinese Mr. Baird notified the local marshal's office and Deputy Marshal Harris was sent to Hilo for the prisoner. Two tins and a horn, each partially filled with a substance believed to be opium, were taken by Mr. Baird from Lee Tip's tailor shop. No date has been set for a preliminary hearing of the case before the United States commissioner.

Owing to the repeated raids which the marshal's office has made on opium dens in various parts of Honolulu, the price of the poppy drug is said to have risen from $125 to $250 a pound in the last month. Mr. Baird says that opium now is worth $300 a pound in Hilo.

FREIGHTER INDRA CARRIES COTTON FOR JAPAN
GERMANS RECEIVE STEAMER LURLINE
WARM ALOHA AS KOREA SAILS
IS A FLOATING BARNYARD

One of the largest shipments of cotton to leave the Southern states for the Far East and to pass through Honolulu is on board the big Indra line freighter Indrakaula, an arrival from Panama canal yesterday. Captain A. H. Smith had much praise for the expeditious manner in which his command was handled in its passage from the Atlantic to the Pacific through the new waterway. The slides which some weeks ago dumped a vast accumulation of earth and rock into the ditch have been cleared away. The channel now maintained is of sufficient depth to accommodate the heaviest laden vessel.

The Indrakaula met with favorable winds and smooth seas in steaming for Honolulu. The Inter-Island Steam Navigation holds a contract to supply the vessel with 500 tons of bunker coal.

Big Increase in Panama Traffic.

According to a statement issued by the foreign trade department of the Chamber of Commerce, the cargo tonnage that passed through the Panama canal during November east bound was 242,762 tons. The west-bound tonnage, from all points west bound, was 445,266 tons.

As compared with the October tonnage this is a total increase of 67,567 tons, or 34,922 tons west bound, and 32,645 tons east bound.

The east-bound tonnage through the canal from Pacific coast points to Atlantic coast points, was 103,714 tons; to West Indies, 71,654; to European ports, 71,533.

Morning on CHANGE

There was a resumption of interest and an active demand on 'change today and although there was few actual gains there was a marked tone of firmness. Between boards and at the session there was considerable business in sugar stocks, Hawaiian Sugar and H. C. & S. featuring. Expectation of a rise in sugar is the cause of the bullish tendency.

In H. C. & S. there was such an active demand that after five sales in small lots the price advanced 1/4 to 33 and held its gain throughout the morning; 165 shares changed hands in all. Honolulu Gas 5 per cent bonds also rose 1/2.

Hawaiian Sugar was firm at 34 on three sales. There was much trading in McBryde without any change in quotation. Twenty Mutual Telephone sold on a 1/4 rise. Hawaiian Pineapple was unchanged on four transactions.

"Say, Hiram, what do they mean by a Stradevarus?" "Oh, a Stradevarus is the Latin name for a fiddle."

The local German colony and officers and men from visiting vessels flying the Teuton colors gathered in force at Pier 7 before the Pacific Mail liner Korea, with about 100 refugees from Tsingtau and the Marshall Islands resumed the voyage to the mainland at 10 o'clock this morning. The Royal Hawaiian band played a program of German and neutral airs.

A delegation of a half-hundred children among the refugees received gifts consisting of candy, fruit and toys. The departure of the Korea for San Francisco was a spectacular event, a large throng having been attracted to the scene. About 30 cabin passengers joined the vessel at this point for the Coast. The Korea was supplied with 500 tons of coal during its stay at the port. A large accumulation of mail was forwarded to the mainland in the vessel.

Mauna Kea Passes Coasters. Several inter-island coasters employed in the movement of sugar from Hawaii ports to Hilo were passed by the flagship Mauna Kea in returning to Honolulu. The steamer Maui and Niihau were discharging sugar at Hilo. The Helene was taking on cargo at Napoosoo. Pursor Phillips reported southerly winds and a northeast swell after leaving Laupahoehoe. The Mauna Kea brought a small cargo including an automobile, 20 cords of wood, 60 sacks of rice bran and 138 packages of sundries. The steamer is scheduled to depart for Hilo and way ports at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Hawaii Sugar Report. Additional shipments of sugar are reported at plantations on the island of Hawaii by Pursor Phillips of this morning. The list included the following lots: Olas, 18,500 sacks; Waiakae, 2500; Laupahoehoe, 9400; Kailiki, 1123; Kukaiu, 2600; Hanalei, 1220; Pauahau, 500; Hanalei, 1500.

Brashers of New York lost her $50,000 slander suit against Mrs. Susan Smith of Shelbyville, Ky., once known as the "Hetty Green of the Northwest." Lieut.-col. Leigh of the New York National Guard and treasurer of Harper Bros., publishers, died at his home in New York, aged 53.

A medley likened to that coming from a well-regulated barnyard greeted a delegation of federal quarantine, immigration and customs officers who boarded the Matson Navigation steamer Lurline, an arrival from San Francisco this morning.

The forward and after deck of the liner was occupied by shipments of mules, horses, polo ponies and crates of chickens, ducks and turkeys. Dogs, prize winners at coast kennel shows, also were in the colony of four-footed passengers. A large collection of rabbits was brought to the port in the vessel.

Nine cabin and 3 steerage passengers made up the list of travelers, who enjoyed a pleasant trip across the Pacific despite the rough weather. The Lurline met with strong head winds and heavy seas until within the zone of the islands. A cargo amounting to 1500 tons will be discharged here, the vessel being scheduled to steam for Maui ports tomorrow evening. The Lurline is expected to return to Honolulu on Sunday morning to complete its cargo of sugar for coast refineries. More than 100 sacks of mail was received by the Lurline.

The Prestige and Confidence

commanded by print are two of the greatest factors of the "pulling power" of newspaper advertising.

When a man invests good money in telling of his merchandise, his methods, service, etc., the public never fails to take notice and sooner or later that same public is either going to set its stamp of approval upon that merchant's store, or on the other hand, if the merchant fails to "live up to his ads," his store will never be able to join that class known as "reliable stores."

A MERCHANT MUST ADVERTISE THE TRUTH OR DIE!

(And the Public Knows It.)

Consequently, Mr. Merchant, bear in mind the fact that when you advertise a TRUTH, no matter how startling, you will reap your just reward—because of the prestige available through newspaper advertising your store is known as one which will

ADVERTISE THE TRUTH.

Therefore, why should not you take advantage of this confidence every single day and tell your patrons of something which you carry in your line?

If you could do, exclusively, every bit of the business that will be transacted in this city, on any given day, you probably could not handle such a volume with ease. Still it remains that there is that certain amount of business done every day, and he who would do "the lion's share" must do two things. First, he must prepare his store to adequately cater to the trade (as to how this may best be done, you should know best). Then, he must

TELL THE PEOPLE!

The people want to know about "store news" just the same as they want the world's news. It is as much news to the housewife where she may purchase her next set of table linen at the best price, as it is to know who attended Mrs. Jones' tea last Thursday. And since she looks to the same source for both bits of information, the intelligent merchants are talking "trade-news."

THROUGH THE NEWSPAPER.

The Newspaper is admitted into the family circle—and is as welcome as any member of it. It has entree to the most exclusive homes just the same as it has to the hut of the most menial laborer.

IT IS THE ALL-REACHING MEDIUM.

You sell a certain amount of something every day, why not tell MORE people every thing about it

AND SELL MORE?

The "Ad Man."

CARNIVAL GIVEN USE OF BAND FOR FESTIVAL WEEK

Mayor Informs Dougherty Organization is at His Disposal For Entire Celebration

Mayor John C. Lane will place the Hawaiian band at the disposal of James D. Dougherty, director-general of the Mid-Pacific Carnival, from February 20 to 27. This action by the mayor brings an end to the discussion whether the band would be sent to the Panama-Pacific exposition prior to the commencement of the Carnival and practically assures the success of the celebration from a musical standpoint. In addition to giving the services of the band, Mayor Lane has assured Mr. Dougherty that he will give any aid necessary to make the Carnival a success.

Whether the Carnival directorate may secure use of the naval ship for the swimming events depends upon whether the directors can find another berth for the German cruiser Geier. This is pointed out in a letter received by Mr. Dougherty today from Rear Admiral C. B. T. Moore which reads, in part, as follows:

"I regret to say that I cannot at this time promise the use of the naval ship for the 1915 Carnival unless the Carnival directorate can find another berth for the required period for the Geier, the Alert and the submarines. I am willing to cooperate with you in this matter as far as I can."

Advices received by the director-general are that W. H. Willson of Los Angeles will arrive in Honolulu within the next two weeks to make arrangements for the fireworks display which are prominent on the Carnival program. The newest feature of these events will be the illumination of the hills back of the city through the use of red fire. The illumination will be carried out on the nights of the displays.

Through a resolution passed at a meeting yesterday, the Carnival directors have decided to sell at half rate to the enlisted men of the army, navy and marine corps admission tickets to the various Carnival events.

Plans are now being considered for a mammoth service athletic meet of four days' duration to be held on Alexander field the mornings of February 23, 24, 25 and 26. The meet probably will be in charge of a committee composed of the athletic officers of the various organizations on Oahu.

MAYOR APPOINTS L. M. WHITEHOUSE TO SUCCEED WALL

L. M. Whitehouse, former city engineer, was appointed to his old position to succeed W. A. Wall, incumbent. John Wise was named superintendent of Kapiolani park and R. W. Aylett was appointed head of the garbage department by Mayor John C. Lane at the meeting of the board of supervisors last night. The appointments were confirmed by the board.

Part of the objection to retaining Wall was his antipathy toward the plan to establish the water meter system permanently in Honolulu. It is said. Whitehouse and Mayor Lane are strong believers in the value of water meters to a city and in all probability meters will be installed in large numbers during the present administration.

There was only one dissenting vote at the supervisors' meeting. Supervisor Horner voted against discharging Mr. Wall but the negative vote did not have any effect in changing the result.

The three new appointees will take office February 1. Other appointments probably will be made at the next meeting of the board by Mayor Lane. Whitehouse was deposed by the Democratic administration near its close and his successor, Mr. Wall, has held the position only a few months.

JUDGE OUTLINES SCOPE OF WORK FOR GRAND JURY

Public Health, Public Morals, Public Safety Matters For Its Supervision.

After administering the oath of office and appointing James Fiddes foreman of the new territorial grand jury for the year 1915, Circuit Judge C. W. Ashford yesterday delivered a quantity of advice, together with some interesting information on criminal court work in Hawaii. In addition to his comment as published in the Star-Bulletin yesterday, he had the following to say to the new inquisitors:

"I take occasion to repeat to you, what I stated to your immediate predecessors, to the effect that the grand jury should be considered as the 'grand inquest' of the county or circuit in which it operates. This does not mean that the grand jurors, either individually or collectively, should constitute themselves detectives for the purpose of ferreting out crimes or irregularities in the community, either with respect to individuals or with the governmental administration. But it may be taken to mean that your body is authorized, and is expected to inquire into, and report upon, any unusual conditions to which your attention shall be called, either officially or otherwise, and which appear sufficiently important to the well-being of the community, to justify your attention."

Official Action Unnecessary.

"Thus it is competent and desirable that the grand jury should observe the general trend of events in the community, both official and non-official, and, if conditions shall occur which appear to require investigation because of their bearing upon the public interests, from any direction, it is not only the privilege, but the duty of the grand jury to investigate, and, if found of sufficient importance, to report upon, or take other action in the premises. Among the matters included within this general scope of the functions of your body may be mentioned those which affect the public health, the public morals and the public safety, upon all of which the grand jury should keep an attentive eye. It is by no means necessary that you wait for any infractions of the law to be brought to your attention through the medium of complaints from the district courts or of direct complaints by the prosecuting officers. You should investigate the administration of the laws providing for the public health sufficiently to observe, whether in your opinion they are being properly and economically administered; the same with regard to public morals, and the same concerning the public safety as is chiefly represented by the administration of the police. Any apparent inefficiency, corruption or extravagance in any of those directions or departments should receive your immediate attention and lead to investigation, and, should the facts warrant, to indictments."

"The well-being of the community is also largely involved in the honest and efficient administration of the laws concerning the furnishing of pure foodstuffs and those concerning weights and measures. The community may be swindled by the use of false weights and measures or it may be poisoned by the use of impure or adulterated foodstuffs and it is emphatically within the province of the grand jury to keep these features of the public welfare within its protective attention."

Nationality Statistics.

"The extremely cosmopolitan character of our local population has naturally developed in our midst the shortcomings of the different elements of that population. The native Hawaiian, either of pure or mixed blood, now finds himself in a minority and outnumbered in his own country. Experience has shown that there is a considerable diversity in the degree of lawlessness prevailing among the different elements of our population, and the court has been at some pains to ascertain, as nearly as possible, to what extent the different races here resident are represented upon the roster of convicted felons confined in our territorial prison on the 1st day of the present month and year, and to further ascertain the proportion, per thousand, of such elements of population, so represented upon the roll of prisoners convicted of felonies."

"On the 1st day of January, 1915, there were confined in territorial prisons, under sentence for various felonies, 280 prisoners."

"Distributed among the different nationalities they were as follows: 'Filipinos, 68; Hawaiians, 50; Porto Ricans, 43; Japanese, 40; Chinese, 21; Americans, 20; Portuguese, 17; Koreans, 16; Russians, 2; Spanish, Norwegian and British, 1 each."

"These figures, taken in connection with the total numbers of the different races represented upon the roll of prisoners, shows that the Porto Ricans have set the record for lawlessness (in so far as such lawlessness has resulted in conviction for felonies), by a very wide margin. The most reliable figures obtainable by me show a total local Porto Rican population of 5,000, and with 43 convicted felons to their discredit, it shows the proportion to be 10.75 per thousand. Filipinos come next on the list, with a showing of 4.9 per thousand now wearing convict's garb."

"Koreans, with a population of 4,000, and 16 such convicts, show exactly 4 per thousand of their number to have been so convicted and imprisoned at the date mentioned. The Chinese population is estimated as being between 22,000 and 23,000, and with 21 felons of their race in prison, the showing is slightly less than 1 per thousand. The Portuguese are represented by a proportion of .8 per thousand, and the Japanese by the still lesser proportion of .44 per thousand,—the local population of that nationality exceeding 86,000, and the number of convicts being 40. Hawaiians, (including both those of the pure and of the mixed blood), are nearly 39,000 in number, and, with 50 members of their race now wearing the uniform of convicts, it appears that their proportion so incarcerated is almost exactly 1.3 per thousand.

"I need scarcely mention to gentlemen of your intelligence the great desirability which exists for hearty and efficient cooperation between the members of your panel, the prosecuting officer, and the court. It is most gratifying to be able to certify that nothing but the utmost harmony among the three elements here included has existed during the brief period in which the present incumbent of this bench has held office, and I hope and trust that our experience during the operations of the year now opening will see no diminution of the harmony and mutual confidence which has here prevailed in the past, and without which the results of our mutual labors must, of necessity, be largely impaired and diminished. Let us all, in entering upon the duties of this new year and court term, do so with a firm resolve upon the part of each to do his utmost toward conserving and promoting the confidence and harmony which is so essential to the achievement of the best results."

John Griffiths, a "trusty" at Auburn Prison, N. Y., escaped from the prison, letting himself down a forty-foot wall with a stolen rope.

CHIC KFEED CALENDAR

The Second Ten Days

The most important points are to feed the C. F. Co's CHICK FEED, and to furnish green feed liberally, to provide good range for exercise and to reduce the daily number of feedings.

This chick feed is made of clean, cracked grains, grass seeds, meal, bone and charcoal. No screenings, crushed rock or oyster shells to add weight. The oats and barley used are kiln dried, bulled, and crooked, dispensing with any fibre substances, and leaving nothing but what has feeding value. This can be fed in litter without any loss, and we advise feeding it in this manner in order to induce exercise which is very helpful in promoting health and development.

The green feed may be supplied in the form of sliced onions, sprouted oats, lawn clippings and clean vegetable refuse from the kitchen. A roomy grass run with natural shade provides the best range.

Beginning about the second week start to feed three times daily, and keep a supply of fresh water constantly before the chicks in a small fountain that can be rinsed out daily and cleaned with boiling water at least twice a week. A growing chick will consume a surprising amount of water if there is plenty of it available free from slime and dust.

After chicks are a week old they should have free access to dry wheat bran, also.

FILING OF WILL NOW AWAITED IN THE SMART CASE

Move to Force Action Made By Mrs. Knight's Attorneys
Late Yesterday

No further legal developments in the suit of Mrs. Elizabeth J. Knight against Henry Gaillard Smart were in evidence today. Attorneys for the plaintiff are awaiting the filing of the will of the late Mrs. Annie T. K. Parker Smart, "Theima," and it is unlikely that any new moves will be made until this document is entered in the local courts.

Frank E. Thompson, one of Smart's attorneys, stated today that the defense had not decided upon a date for filing, but he intimated that it may be at any time in the near future. With the filing of the will attorneys for the defense expect immediate commencement of a suit to break the will by Mrs. Knight. This suit is foreshadowed in the present litigation for possession of Richard Smart, the infant son of Henry Gaillard Smart.

Would Force Filing of Will.
Petition for letters of administration were filed late yesterday for the estate of Mrs. Annie T. K. Parker Smart, deceased, by Clarence H. Olson, one of the attorneys for Mrs. Elizabeth J. Knight, the plaintiff in the legal fight for possession of Henry Gaillard Smart's 19-months-old son, Olson represented himself in the petition to be little Richard Smart's "next friend," the legal phraseology, and filed the document on behalf of the child.

Judge Whitney issued an order for a hearing on the petition and papers were served on H. G. Smart last night citing him to appear in court March 17 to show cause why the petition should not be granted. Attorney Olson proceeded on the assumption that Mrs. Smart died intestate and that the will left was null and void. The petition is as follows:

"In the circuit court of the first judicial circuit, territory of Hawaii—at chambers—in probate.

"In the matter of the estate of Annie T. K. Parker Smart, deceased—petition for letters of administration.

"To the Honorable Presiding Judge at chambers, in probate:

"Comes now this petitioner, Richard Smart, the minor son of the above-named deceased, by his next friend, Clarence H. Olson, and respectfully shows to this court that the said Annie T. K. Parker Smart died on the seventeenth day of November, 1914, being at the time of her death a resident within this circuit and leaving estate within the jurisdiction of this court; that the said deceased left a document or paper writing, dated January 16, 1914, purporting to be her will and testament, appointing Henry Gaillard Smart, hereinafter referred to, Alfred W. Carter and O. L. Sorenson as executors thereof, but that the same is invalid, null and void, and your petitioner is advised that the said deceased died intestate.

"That your petitioner was at the time of the death of the said deceased and now is the son and sole and only surviving issue of the said deceased and is a minor of the age of 19 months or thereabouts; that the said deceased also left surviving her Henry Gaillard Smart, her husband and the father of your petitioner.

"That the said Henry Gaillard Smart would, if the said purported will were admitted to probate, under the terms thereof, take or acquire as devisee

Supervisor to Recommend New Ordinance With Stricter Regulations for Automobiles

Revision of the traffic ordinances, particularly those regulating automobiles, calling for uniform license number plates and other new regulations, will be asked of the board of supervisors at a special meeting Thursday noon by Supervisor Ben Hollinger.

"The present system of numbering, for one thing, is exceedingly insufficient," declared Hollinger today. "Some of the motor cars have small numbers painted on boards or on the back of their cars, others have aluminum numbers on leather and still others have steel plates. I believe they should all be of the latter construction, of uniform size and color.

"Then again, automobiles should not be allowed to stand on public streets with the engines going and the drivers away from their machines. Our license system here charges automobiles, large and small, the same rate. On the mainland, I understand, the machines are required to be licensed in accordance with their horsepower. For instance, $3 a year for cars of 20 horsepower or less, $4 a year for cars of 30 horsepower or less, $5 a year for cars of 40 horsepower or less, and thence upward according to the power of the automobiles.

"Again, I do not believe the city and county is deriving the just revenue from automobiles. The license fees from machines should go to the police or road funds. The police department spends considerable money regulating automobile traffic and the road department must expend a large sum annually repairing roads torn up by speeding cars."

Hollinger criticized the present ordinance. "It is too long, bulky and insufficient," he declared.

and legate thereunder property of great value within the jurisdiction of this court and composing a part of the estate of the said deceased, to which your petitioner is entitled as the sole heir at law of the said deceased under the laws of the territory of Hawaii governing intestacy, and that therefore the interests of said Henry Gaillard Smart herein are adverse to and conflict with the interests of your petitioner herein.

"That the estate of said deceased consists of certain personal effects, the exact character and value of which is to your petitioner unknown, and the right to share in the income from a certain trust estate, consisting of real and personal property, within the jurisdiction of this court, placed in trust by the deceased by that certain deed of trust by her executed and delivered to Alfred W. Carter, trustee, dated April 25, 1912, and recorded in the Hawaiian registry of conveyances in liber 365, pages 273-283, the exact value of which said right is to your petitioner unknown.

"That Guardian Trust Company, Limited, is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the territory of Hawaii and duly empowered to act as administrator of estates of deceased persons in the territory of Hawaii.

"Wherefore your petitioner prays that said Guardian Trust Company, Limited, be appointed administrator of the estate of said deceased, and that due notice be given to all persons interested to appear at such time and place as this court may direct to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of this petition should not be granted; and particularly in addition to such notice given by publication, that such notice and summons be given personally to said Henry Gaillard Smart, Alfred W. Carter and O. L. Sorenson, the persons named as aforesaid as executors in the said purported will.

"RICHARD SMART,
Said Minor, Petitioner.

By (Signed) "CLARENCE H. OLSON,
His Next Friend.

Dated, Honolulu, January 11th, 1915."

Move Not Unexpected.

The move was not unexpected. An article appearing in Monday's edition of the Star-Bulletin gave the prediction that such a move would be made. The reasons assigned at that time were the theories in some quarters that Mrs. Knight would attempt to get possession of the child and appointment as administratrix. If successful and in the event that the will was declared null and void a portion of the $1,500,000 or $2,000,000 estate would then legally come under her jurisdiction.

The fight for the custody of little Richard Smart will be made at Kala, Hawaii, while the litigation for the breaking of the will probably will center about Honolulu courts. M. F. Prosser, one of Mrs. Knight's attorneys, returned from Kala this morning on the Mauna Kea, where he had been conducting the litigation for custody of Richard Smart.

W. A. Kinney, another of Mrs. Knight's counsel, will not arrive on the Mongolia Friday, according to Mr. Olson. Kinney is expected in Honolulu on the Wilhelmina January 19.

The two children, wife and mother-in-law of William Klemmann of Trenton, N. J., were found unconscious, suffering from ptomaine poisoning.

The two semi-British Dukes, cousins of King George, fighting in the German army, the Duke of Cumberland and the Duke of Albany, will lose their titles.

RITCHIE AND WELSH WILL FIGHT AGAIN

To Meet in New York Over 10-Round Route About
February 7

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 12.—
Willie Ritchie of this city and Freddie Welsh of London have been matched to fight in New York about February 7. The match will be over the 10-round route, and under New York law
no decision can be rendered. The men have agreed to catch weights.

Because no decisions can be given in New York the lightweight championship cannot change hands, even if Ritchie should decisively outpoint
the Britisher. The match will, however, give a good line on the relative ability of the two boys at the present time.

Ritchie passed the lightweight
crown on to Freddie Welsh in London, July 7 last, when Welsh clearly outpointed the Californian in 20 rounds.
Neither man has done much fighting since, and a return match has been expected. On October 23 at San Francisco the best Ritchie could do against Johnny Dundee was a four-round draw.
Freddie Welsh stopped Al Volagast in the eighth round, in a bout held in New York in November, in which Wolgast broke his hand. On November 9, just a week after the Volagast fight,
Welsh fought Charley White in Milwaukee. The bout went the full 10 rounds, and White was given a "newspaper decision." Welsh fought again in New York on December 2, losing another "newspaper decision" to Young Joe Shugrue after 10 rounds of indifferent fighting.

Welsh's record since coming to America this time hasn't been overbright,
and there are many who look to see Ritchie turn the tables when the two meet again.

OXFORD-CAMBRIDGE BOAT RACE HAS BEEN CANCELLED

[A. P. by Fed. Wireless.]
LONDON, Eng., Jan. 12.—The Oxford-Cambridge varsity boat race, the premier intercollegiate rowing feature of the year, has been called off for 1915. It is thought by athletic authorities of both colleges that it would be a poor move to spend time and money on athletic competition
while the nation is plunged in war.

UMPIRE SEES GOOD SEASON FOR BASEBALL

[Associated Press]
NEW YORK.—An umpire in close touch with baseball conditions
throughout the country forecasts a great season of prosperity in the National sport in 1915. He says: "Umpire in different places, where there is lots of different kinds of business,
and have a chance to hear employ-
and employer give their different views in regard to conditions in their business and as viewed throughout the country, and all admit that business has been on a steady decline the past three years, and reached its lowest ebb in 1914. In speaking with those people and asking them to give their views in regard to business and relation to the decline in attendance at the baseball parks, the past season
and almost to a man they will not mention the Federal League, but will tell you that business has been so dull that they cannot spare the money to go to ball games very often,
as they need their money for real necessities."

"That is the answer that the magnate must not overlook in shaping his plans for 1915; and in shaping his plans he must remember that owing to the European war the businessmen
of this country are planning for one of the greatest eras of prosperity ever known in the country. Business is already on the upward bound, and business will be on the boom by next spring. Now, when the baseball fan is working steady he feels that he can afford to think and enjoy his favorite pastime, and send some of his family once in a while and let them have a little enjoyment. With this increase in patronage the big leagues
can afford to go out in 1915 and buy and draft more players than they have the past season. The minor league club owner, with the sale of players and increased patronage, will have a chance to recuperate some of the losses of the past season, as he is bound to have a very successful season in 1915."

PEACE SIGNS SEEN BY THE BASEBALL MEN

[Associated Press]
NEW YORK, N. Y.—Although the new year opens with no signs of peace
on the baseball horizon there is a report circulating in the ranks of organized baseball that some form of a working agreement will be reached between the Federal League and the major leagues before the beginning of the 1915 pennant races. Both organized and independent baseball is understood to be awaiting the decision
in several cases of players' contracts
now before the courts.

The leading officials of the leagues
now opposed to each other are chary
about being quoted regarding the possibility of a peace pact, but it is a well established fact that the discussion of plans to bring about the desired result has not been dropped entirely. A majority of the magnates are convinced that another season of conflict such as marked 1914 will prove disastrous from a financial standpoint and must be avoided if possible.

Just which side will take the initiative depends upon the outcome of the cases before the courts. Once final decision has been rendered and the various interests have learned their legal rights and future line of action, a determined effort to reach an understanding may be expected.
As pointed out by a prominent club
owner in a recent private review of the situation, any other attitude will spell financial disaster. Under the present conditions the only person to benefit by the continuation of the baseball war is the baseball player. While the magnates admit that he is a necessary adjunct to the business there is no intention to turn the business profits over to him in their entirety.

CABINET NAMED BY GUTIERREZ

WASHINGTON.—Provisional President Gutierrez of Mexico has completed the selection of his cabinet, with the exception of the portfolios of Justice and Interior, by appointing men
from both the Villa and Zapata follow-ings. His representatives here received a message giving the composition of the new cabinet as follows:

Foreign Relations—Jose Ortiz Rodriguez.
War—Gen. Jose Isabel Robles.
Finance—F. F. Villareal.
Public Works—Valentin Gama.
Education—Jose Vasconcelos.
Communications—Jose Rodriguez
Cabo.

Agriculture—Gen. Manuel Palafox.
Gama and Palafox are Zapata followers. The latter formerly was Zapata's secretary. The other members are followers of Villa.
Vasconcelos formerly was special representative of Gen. Carranza here and visited England on a special mission.

The Gutierrez government, today's message said, is doing away with military tribunals and is administering justice through civil tribunals.

Col. Louis, Orieman, U. S. A., retired, was given a three months'
"sanity parole" by the court in Atlantic City, after his children had him adjudged insane and incompetent to manage his $100,000 estate.

NEXT GAMES.
Saturday, Jan. 16, 8 p. m.—Dept.
Hospital vs. Armstrong, Signal Corps
vs. National Guard.

Two red-hot games of basketball kept a big crowd of service fans on the jump last night at the armory. A delegation of sailors on one side of the gallery swung a battery of megaphones on a like number of soldiers across the way, and the latter proved that under certain conditions the human voice can be distinctly heard without mechanical aids. Besides, the soldiers had more to cheer about before the evening was over.

The first game was between the Engineers and the De Russy team, and both sides showed marked improvement over their initial appearance last week. There was more combination play and better passing, although at times players on both teams lost their heads and slung the ball any old way.

At half-time the score was a tie with eight points to the credit of each team. The 20-minute halves proved a severe strain on the players, and the game slowed up a good deal in the second half. There was a tendency to the part of all the players to take wild shots at the basket, instead of passing for a surer try. The Engineers managed to score six field goals and one from a free try, while De Russy's only scoring in the last half was four field baskets. With only a few minutes left to play there was considerable discussion over a ruling of Referee
Wills as to whether a ball was dead
or in play when one of the Engineer baskets was made. As things turned out the single goal would have made no difference in the score, one way or the other.

Second Game Close.
The closer of the evening's doubleheader brought the 2d Infantry against the U. S. S. Alert. This was the game that the rooters had gathered for, and at the start-off the din was so great that the referee had to secure an extra-loud whistle to make his signals heard.

Three field goals by Connell in the first half, and successful penalty
throws by Connery and Glidewell, piled up a total of eight points for the soldiers. The Alerts got only one field basket, by Connery, but converted three fouls. Three free tries were missed. In the second half Gevarder snaked three into the basket, and Connell contributed two for the foot soldiers, while the former made two goals from penalty. For the sailors Glanz scored two pretty field goals and Earl one. Bradley threw one goal from foul. The Alerts lost many valuable points on their penalty throwing, missing six free tries out of ten chances, while the 2d Infantry made four out of seven.

the battery work of Renowski and

Saturday Troop G played horse with

RELIEF FUND TO BENEFIT FROM CONCERT JAN. 26

Mrs. A. B. Ingalls, violinist, will direct a concert in the opera house Tuesday evening, January 26, the proceeds of which will be devoted to Belgian relief. The concert will mark the beginning of a new campaign in Honolulu to raise funds for the help of European war sufferers.

The opera house has been turned over to Mrs. Ingalls without cost.
Ticket takers and sellers ushers and other attendants have volunteered their services. There will be no item of expense connected with the work.
Various local musicians have offered their services on the program.

IMPROVEMENTS TO OUTRIGGER CLUB STARTED

Extensive improvements to the Out-rigger Canoe Club were started yesterday morning, and it is expected that by the end of the month they will be completed and the convenience of the large membership greatly added to thereby.

Additional land between the club grounds and the Seaside hotel was recently secured from the Bishop estate, and this makes possible a general rearrangement of buildings, and expansion. Plans drawn by Richard Quinn, chairman of the house committee, and approved by President George H. Tuttle, call for a percola running right across the front of the club property, 110 feet long by 30 feet wide, for the storage of canoes. At the west end of this will be a raised lanal, 46x30 feet. There will be two bath houses, each 80 feet in length,
new servants' quarters, and a commissary building where refreshments
can be purchased by the members.
The new plans will give locker space for 600 members, and will relieve the congestion besides adding greatly to the attractiveness of the beach club.

SENIOR ALLEY LEAGUE WILL OPEN MONDAY

Next Monday evening the pins will fly in the opening match of the Y. M.
C. A. senior bowling league. The Holululu meet the Coast Defense in the first encounter, and both teams are practising for the fray. Capt. Stat-ton and Lieut. Van Deusen had ten candidates for the Coast Defense team working out on the "Y" alleys last evening and several of the men showed good form.

Capt. Leslie Scott has surrounded himself with five of the strong oldtime bowlers for the Honolulu team. Jim Winne, George Mills, "Lefty" Scott,
C. C. Clark and Bill Williams are already signed and another man will be secured to bring the total up to seven,
which is the league regulation squad.

The schedule for the season is as follows:

Senior Bowling League.

January 21—P. B. C. vs. Cosmos.

March 1—Second round opens. The above schedule will be duplicated,
games being played on each Monday,
Wednesday and Thursday evenings
as in the first round. A third round will then be played so that each team will have three matches with every other. The league schedule ends
Thursday, May 6.

HIT OR MISS IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

THAT the proposed tour of South America by major league baseball teams during the winter of 1915-16
will be a financial success and boom
for the sport south of the equator is the confident prediction made by several American business men conversant with conditions throughout the southern continent. Baseball is frequently played by Americans residing in the principal cities of Chile, Peru, Argentina and other South American countries. These games never fail to attract the natives who watch the play with interest. The younger generations are taking to the game and already play fair baseball. Leagues composed of native players are predicted within the next 10 years and speaking on this point a returned American said recently:

"In the natural course of evolution,
the intricacies of American baseball will be mastered, and the national pastime transplanted south of the Panama canal. Climatic conditions are as favorable to the success of baseball in South America as in the United States, while the interest shown there in other sports shows
the existence of embryo baseball fans.
I am certain that in time amateur baseball will be followed by the professional league and it is not a dream
to imagine that some day South America will send a team north for a real world's series."

NORMAN S. FABER, former Brown
University mile runner and now a Rhodes scholar and member of the relay team at Oxford University, in writing of undergraduate life at the English university states:

"The activities among undergraduates also tend to broaden the Rhodes scholar for they, too, are different from those in American universities and here I believe that, in one particular at least, Oxford has a valuable lesson to teach the colleges in the United States. This is her system of athletics and which provides exercise and competition for everyone and not for a limited number of stars. In the afternoon all Oxford men, almost without exception,
take part in outdoor games of some sort. I do not discount the importance and the value of the university teams, but I wish to encourage the building up of a system of athletics
that will cater to every student. Regular exercises and competition on the athletic field are essential to both the mental and physical development of an efficient man and Oxford is adequately supplying these elements."

THE abandonment of the famous English Henley Regatta for 1915
will leave the principal trophy, the Grand Challenge cup, in America for another year at least. The classic prize for eight-oared crews was won by the Harvard university second crew last summer and under ordinary conditions would have been returned for competition again this spring in accordance with the deed of gift which made the Grand Challenge cup a perpetual prize.

This trophy, the oldest and most famous of the six Henley awards, was donated in 1839, the initial year of the regatta. It antedates all other trophies and has been raced for each year since the first contest, more than 75 years ago. Although won by Belgium and Australian crews in past years, it is a strange coincidence that the first break in the annual regatta should come the season following the triumph of an American eight.

THE extent to which the carrying of a football handicaps the runner's speed was the subject of an interesting discussion at a recent meeting of gridiron veterans. It was pointed out that almost without exception in a long sprint down field after picking up a fumbled ball the runner is gained upon by pursuing players although not always overtaken, due to an advantage at the start. It was the general opinion that any given player could sprint the 100-yards of the football field from a second to a second and a half faster without the ball than when carrying the leather. Several coaches who were present stated that they would experiment under both conditions next autumn in order to test their theories.

ACCORDING to Harry Hillman, athletic trainer at Dartmouth college,
it will be fully 20 years before any European nation can hope to compete successfully against the American athletes. Hillman, a famous runner and member of Olympic teams in his competition days, stated that in his opinion the European war and the advanced training system and methods
in vogue in America formed handicaps that would prevent the foreign athlete from reaching the general
standard maintained in this country
for a score of years at least.

Tribute is paid to Adjutant Mary Coffield, a Honolulu nurse who entered the Salvation Army services here 13 years ago and who died recently at the Salvation Army Home of Rest in Pacific Grove, California, in the War Cry, the organ of the army. It was written by Lieut.-col. Sharp. Part of the article is as follows:
"She never dreamed of herself, but at any hour of the day or night was ready to seek for a lost one, or lift up a fallen one or go into the sick room and care for the sick and dying.
Her body was brought back to Pacific
Grove where Lieut.-col. and Mrs.
Sharp conducted the services. She fought a good fight, finished her course
and kept the faith."

'WHAT HAPPENED TO MARY' IS RELIEF FROM PROBLEM PLAY

New Offering at Bijou Sentimental and Unsophisticated
But Interesting to Audience

From "The Fish" to "What Happened to Mary" is a far cry. On the whole it is not an unwelcome one.
The Players All-Star Company showed a keen sense of psychology in putting on a play so radically different in mood from those that have been seen at the Bijou in the last few weeks.
The old-fashioned sentimental love
tale of the eighties and nineties is thin stuff for a steady diet but it comes as a relief after the strain and tension of problem and crook plays. So the audience seemed to like "What Happened to Mary."

"What Happened to Mary" is a dramatization by Owen Davis of the series of stories that ran under that title in the Ladies' World and that later was woven into a moving-picture
series with the popular Mary Fuller
as star. Put on the stage Mary does not seem so real as she did in print
or in the film, but she is still interesting and her struggle against the machinations of a genuine old-time
heavy villain—minus the mustache,
but plus the laugh—keep you at least curious.

Mary is a young orphan girl brought up by a supposed uncle in a little oyster-shipping village on the Chesapeake bay, far away from the world of electric cars and telephones and fox-trots as stage fishing villages usually are. So she puts "The Danube Waltz" on the graphophone and yearns for balls and parties and love and life. And in walks one Henry

Craig, "one of them city fellows," with possibilities and promises of all four,
especially life, as she later learns.
At the same time the spurious and heartless uncle has decided to marry Mary off to the village oaf because he has a little money, and she rebels. She decides to go to New York and with the aid of her friend, Captain Jogifer,
an old salt with a wooden leg—she runs away. Straight to the evil boarding house to which Craig had given her a card she goes, and straight into his evil clutches.

It is an eventful life for Mary after that, eventful even for a big city.
Overhearing a conversation between Craig and a girl he has wronged she learns the kind of a man Craig is and the kind of a place she is in and life gets pretty complex until there comes to her rescue John Willis, Craig's business associate and a woman hater.
He sees that Mary has been duped and woman hater and all takes pity on her
and gives her a job in his office.

Even there more things happen to Mary. Annie Welch, the girl Craig has wronged, is jealous of Mary and plots to dishonor her. She nearly succeeds and actually achieves in compromising her but Mary is saved by Willis. Then, discouraged and ashamed, she goes back to her village, tired of the big city. She isn't there long before Willis, having discovered that he is a woman-hater only academically, follows her, and the curtain drops on Willis and Mary, enfolded.

The play does not give the members of the cast as good opportunities as some they have had in the past, but they acquit themselves creditably in what they are given to do, especially Miss Oakley as Mary.

DETECTIVE PLOT ADDS INTEREST TO EMPIRE BILL

Interesting and gripping climaxes
make the Hindu drama, "An Indian's Honor," the picture that heads the program at the Empire theater this afternoon and evening, a thrilling entertainment. The film incidentally offers ample opportunity for a magnificent display of horsemanship.

A sensational and mysterious detective drama, "In the Moon's Ray," is woven about a plot that savors of the Edgar Allen Poe mystery. The search for a fabulous treasure, the success that attended the efforts of the seekers despite great odds against which they constantly battled, all serve to add a degree of piquancy that places
the picture far ahead of the ordinary film drama. This attraction will be shown in two parts.

Along the lines of a farce-drama,
"Hidden Treasure Ranch" gives J.
Warren Kerrigan, a favorite with the patrons of the movies, an excellent chance to bring out all his sterling qualities. A series of beautiful scenes is incorporated in the production.
A comedy instructive and original is "The Scenario Writer." It deals with the trials and tribulations of a picture producer.

'GREAT STROKE' CROOK DRAMA AT YE LIBERTY

Another strong offering is made by the Ye Liberty Theater beginning with matinee tomorrow and continuing for one week. The headline will be "The Great Stroke," one of the most thrilling crook plays ever enacted before the movie camera. The final escape of the crook leader when he leaps
from one automobile into a passing
one is a fitting climax.

Then there will be Little Mary Pickford in two new subjects, "As It Is in Life" and "A Rich Life," in both of which America's "Little Sweetheart"
is as delightful and charming as ever.
The Keystone comedy, "Love and Vengeance," with Ford Sterling in the leading role, is certain to cause a laugh every minute.

ANNETTE KELLERMAN COMING TO HONOLULU IN "MOVIE" DRAMA

Honoluluans will receive with much pleasure the tidings that Annette Kellerman, the queen of all mermaids and said by many to be the most perfectly formed woman in the world, is to pay a visit to Hawaii. Miss Kellerman will arrive on Jan. 20, on which date she will open her engagement at the Ye Liberty Theater in "Neptune's Venus." This is the play in which Miss Kellerman made such a tremendous hit on the stage and in which she was afterward recorded by the moving picture camera. Recently Miss Kellerman was compelled to revise the play in New York where she was playing in vaudeville. "Neptune's Venus" is in seven reels and gives Miss Kellerman splendid opportunity for the exhibition of her physical charms.

MANOA PROPERTY OWNERS, ATTENTION!

On January 19th, 1915, at 8:30 o'clock P. M., there will be a public hearing before the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of Honolulu, for the purpose of considering a proposal to improve the streets in Manoa Improvement District No. 1, in Manoa Valley, under the provisions of Act 131 of the Session Laws of 1913, according to official notice published by the City and County Clerk in the "Honolulu Star-Bulletin," issues of December 23rd, 1914, to January 5th, 1915, inclusive.

The proposed improvements consist of grading, surfacing and paving all of the streets, curbing, moving of old curbing to new lines, paving gutters, and installing storm sewers.

The estimated cost of the whole improvements is $275,000 to be borne by the property owners in the District, pro rata on an area basis, the cost not to exceed $0.0197 per square foot.

The plan so proposed is still preliminary only. It is the desire of the Manoa Improvement Club to give its earnest cooperation in carrying into effect a final plan which will have the approval of the largest number of persons interested. Every owner interested should help to formulate the plan.

You are therefore invited to attend an open, preliminary general meeting of all property owners in Manoa District No. 1, to be held under the auspices of the Manoa Improvement Club at the club house of the Manoa Tennis Club in Manoa Valley on the evening of Thursday, January 14, 1915, at 7:45 o'clock P. M.

You are further urged to come forward at this Valley meeting on January 14, and make known any suggestions, criticisms, or objections you may think well to make, and have them fully discussed. There may be errors affecting your own particular property. Look at your deeds and maps and note the areas called for, and compare them with the areas shown in the list of owners as officially filed. The executive committee of the Club will have a complete and exact duplicate of the official records and plans for your reference. The Committee will see that errors are corrected.

Get behind the movement for good streets in Manoa Valley; make our Valley the best residence section in the Territory.

HONOLULU ASKED FOR HELP FOR STARVING MILLIONS IN EUROPE

War Relief Committee Issues
New Appeal For Funds to Go to Stricken Countries

The new appeal made to citizens of Honolulu by the War Relief Committee for aid to the millions who are starving in Europe is expected to bring immediate response. The contributions already made to the Belgian relief fund from Hawaii have brought praise from various official sources and as generous a response to this appeal is looked for.

Following is the open letter issued by the committee to the public through the Star-Bulletin:

"As the committee understands pretty well the general war relief committee partially suspended operations during the Christmas holidays; but without regard to that some continued to send in money, and small amounts dribble in right along.

"But the need, as everyone must have seen who reads the news from foreign countries, is increasingly great. There is, in fact, imminent danger of the actual starvation of the Belgian nation. The world, without regard to the particular duty of any nation in this behalf, must feed the war sufferers, or they will starve to death. At a meeting of the committee held this morning it was decided to renew appeals to the generosity of Hawaii, begging everyone to remember that a dollar contributed here will feed five persons for a day, or one person for five days—and the number of those who need our assistance is in the millions. All will be glad to hear that the Rockefeller Foundation has taken to itself the duty of providing transportation to Europe from New York; so it continues to be a fact that every cent we contribute here actually goes to feed the suffering millions in Europe, without deduction for any cause whatsoever. Aside from the assistance given by England—if it can render any—and some other countries, the Americans are trying to send at least a full shipload every month; in fact, more than this goes, for there are a number of private associations and organizations which are sending help on their own account.

Our financial standing at present varies little from what we last reported. The total amount received by this committee, including the Chamber of Commerce fund, is $53,774.25, of which $43,165.95 was specifically for Belgian relief. Everything has been forwarded in accordance with orders; but the committee feels that now it must widen its sphere of action and do something for relief in Northern France and Poland. The actual fields occupied by the contending armies are the points of greatest suffering, so that Poland, which is in the direst need, must come in for assistance with Northern France, Belgium and, to a greater or less extent, Serbia.

The committee is very glad to recognize and welcome the work now being done by the Children's Christmas Cheer Committee, which has apparently resolved itself into a Children's Milk Committee at the present time, and we hope that the contributions to that fund will be most ample through that committee; but there will be no diminution in the need for assistance by the general War Relief Committee. On the island of Kauai Mrs. Eric Knudsen, at Kekaha, represents the work and will give such information as may be needed. On Maui, including Molokai and Lanai, Mrs. F. P. Baldwin, at Punehene; in Kohala, Mrs. Robert Hind; in Kona, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Conant; while Hilo seems to have established a bureau for itself, which is an excellent idea, and they forward their own material.

As for material, we have already reported the sending of 48 boxes containing over five tons of material, nearly every stitch of which was of good quality and fit for immediate use. This is in addition to what the Red Cross, under the efficient leadership of Mrs. Walter Billingham, is doing. While the committee is not making any special effort at the present time for clothing, yet any contributions in this line will be received thankfully, and through the generous assistance of Mr. Love of the City Transfer Co., a depot for the reception and care of clothing has been provided. Therefore, if anyone wishes to send clothing of any kind, please deliver it to the City Transfer office on King street, opposite the Union Grill. The committee suggests that if shoes are given it will be of very great assistance if pairs are tied together; let the string be never so rough, but always keep pairs together. In the boxes sent forward early in December the shoes looked like a hopeless tangle; but if givers will remember this point it will greatly assist and probably double the value of their gifts.

A woman's assistance department in New York City, connected with the Belgian relief fund, has sent to Mr. Farrington of the Star-Bulletin one of the distribution cards showing the entire method. It is so extremely interesting that the committee has caused this card to be hung in the window of E. O. Hall & Son's store on the Fort street side, where people may see it. This card has been in actual use. It is No. 5708, belonging to the public food service in the city of Brussels. It called for the delivery of two portions, evidently to a family, each day. On the back of the card are stamped the deliveries. The lady who wrote to Mr. Farrington says: "As you may observe—that the first delivery was on the 4th of the month, while on two days toward the end there was no food to deliver—a pathetic fact that will appeal to everyone who sees the card but, probably more than to all others, to the unfortunate people who went for a ration and got nothing."

NACO DECLARED 'CLOSED'; SCOTT BRINGS PEACE

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
NACO, Mex., Jan. 12.—Brig. Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, has just concluded "peace" negotiations between the warring forces on the Mexican border at this place. Gen. Maytorena, commanding the army which has been besieging the Mexican town across the line, called upon Gen. Scott yesterday and signed an agreement closing the port of Naco.

This had previously been subscribed to by Gen. Hill, commander of the Naco, Sonora, defenders.

MONTEREY GETS SCARE.
LAREDO, Tex., January 12.—Advices received here last night from Monterey, Mex., say that what was at first reported to be a Villa attack upon that city, developed into the arrival of the Carranza forces under Gen. Herrera. The city had been thrown into pandemonium upon the first appearance of the supposed hostile troops. The disorder subsided after the identity of the Herrera troops had been established.

GIRL SAYS THEY TRIED TO LURE HER TO HONOLULU

Charges of Miss Irene Eggers, a 20-year-old hotel cigar stand clerk, that two men and a woman attempted to lure her to Honolulu for immoral purposes resulted in the arrest of Anton Codelli, a jewelry salesman from Honolulu; Abel Ducalaya, a clerk, and Mrs. Lucy Thompson of Honolulu, and the detention of Miss Eggers pending an investigation of her story. Miss Eggers told the police that Codelli took her from the Keystone hotel to two other hotels during the past few weeks, and that he asked her to go to a house of evil repute in Honolulu. Thursday evening, the girl says, she went out with Mrs. Thompson and the two men for an automobile ride to the beach, and that they visited several cafes. She said she fled from Codelli in a downtown cafe and asked the chauffeur of the machine the party was riding in to take her to a friend in the Mission, to whom she told her experience. The friend advised her to inform the police and the arrests followed.—San Francisco Bulletin.

OUTDOOR CIRCLE ASKS BETTER SIDEWALKS

That a fight for better sidewalks will be waged by the Outdoor Circle during the coming year, was the decision reached at a recent meeting of the organization. The members of the circle will make a direct appeal to the supervisors in this matter. It also is the idea of the members of the circle to take up with the territorial and county officials the matter of having the old Fort street school property converted into a park and children's playgrounds.

DRAFT NEW LAW TO STOP LEAK IN HAWAII FINANCES

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]
HILO, Jan. 8.—Among the bills that will be introduced when the legislature meets is one important one that has been drafted by Deputy County Attorney Heen, relating to the purchase of materials and supplies and the hiring of service or labor on behalf of the county of Hawaii.

The provisions of the bill call for proper requisition forms being used in connection with any order for supplies. The requisitions are to be signed by the proper heads of departments. The idea is to prevent indiscriminate ordering as in the past.

The real safeguard of the requisition scheme is the fact that on the form must be shown the unexpended balance of money to the credit of the particular appropriation the order is to be charged to. This provision safeguards the firm from which the supplies are ordered as the managers can see at a glance if there is sufficient money available to pay for the goods. Should any firm sell goods that would run the account up to more than could be covered by the balance of the appropriation, the firm so doing can have no legal claim on the county. The requisitions will show at a glance the balance of unexpended money and the merchants and others do any further credit-giving at their own risk.

It is intended to add to the present form of the proposed act so as to include the pay of road laborers in the different districts. It has been in the road department that "leaks" have occurred in the past and it is intended to formulate another section that will safeguard that department also. The new clauses have not yet been drafted but before the bill is presented to the legislature the additions will be made.

MAUI NEWS

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]
WAILUKU, Jan. 9.—In spite of a vigorous protest Francis F. Baldwin was again elected president of the Maui Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting held on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Baldwin has filled the chair of president of this important Maui organization most acceptably for the past two years, and the chamber did the only wise thing in overruling all his objections and again seating him as president. Unanimous vote placed the other officers back in their respective positions: R. A. Wadsworth, vice president; D. H. Case, secretary; C. D. Lufkin, treasurer. The following names were submitted by the nominating committee and were elected as trustees for the year 1915: H. A. Baldwin, George Freeland, George Cooper, W. O. Aiken, H. W. Rice, C. D. Lindsay, H. B. Penhallow, L. Weinheimer, W. T. Robinson, J. J. Walsh and Louis von Tempel.

A. L. Case, supervising principal of Maui schools, was badly burned last Sunday morning while working over his automobile. With a steel brush he was cleaning out his engine when suddenly the gasoline took fire and his head and chest and arms became badly burned, so that he had to go immediately to the Paia hospital. While the injuries were not severe, they were most painful.

As soon as the accident happened he was able to get enough water over his clothing to put out the fire without further personal injuries, and Mr. Beeman, who chanced to be near, put the fire out in the car.

The accident was caused by the steel brush striking the ignition system of the machine, so causing a spark that did the damage.

On New Year's evening several hundred persons sat down to the delicious luau provided by the Puunene Athletic club at Puunene for the celebration of the Puunene championship in baseball on Maui during the past year. The affair was one of the pleasantest in the history of the club, and everyone present had a good time. Following the luau the hall of the club was thronged with eager dancers, who kept up the entertainment until a late hour.

"A penny for your thoughts," quoth he.
"And quite expensive that is; For when we're married, I foresee you'll give them to me gratis."

MAUI NOW HAS CITY ENGINEER'S DEPARTMENT O. K.

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]
WAILUKU, Maui, Jan. 9.—Maui county now has a regularly appointed engineer's department in the county offices. The issue had to be forced, some hesitancy on the part of some of the supervisors as to the wisdom of creating such an ordinance, even after the matter had been pretty thoroughly aired in public meetings and in the newspapers.

It seems that a petition of 55 names against the creation of the department had been received, but this petition, Dr. Raymond pointed out, represented only a very small proportion of the voters and he felt sure that the public opinion of the county would back the supervisors in creating such an office as that of county engineer.

Dr. Raymond also said that the county of Maui was not hard up, and that the creating of the new office should save the county a very large sum of money. He felt that the larger part of the money expended upon public improvements of late had been wasted.

After the ordinance had passed the board voted to appoint Hugh Howell as county engineer at the salary he had been having from the board in the temporary position, namely, $300 a month.

Supervisor Lake voted against the measure and Supervisor Drummond was not present, although it is claimed by many Wailuku people that he was in town at the time.

COUNTRY SCHOOL CHILDREN USING BOXES AS DESKS

Returning from a tour around Oahu Superintendent H. W. Kinney of the department of public instruction reports that in at least five schools in the country districts the pupils are using drygoods boxes, ordinary chairs or even squatting on the floors of their rooms because they have no desks and proper seats to sit upon. The desks are available, at least they are at the nearest railway stations ready to be installed, and have been since some time prior to Christmas, but the youngsters can't use them at the railway stations.

The business of purchasing and installing the desks is up to the county. Kinney is sending a request to the new board of supervisors asking that this little detail receive their early attention. All that is necessary to place the desks is a husky man, armed with a screwdriver and hammer. Kinney indignantly denies the rumor that the desks had not been placed because the screws were not available.

Forty-eight desks each are required at the following country schools: Ewa, Waiwae, Aiea, Waiwae and Kahuku.

FLEET ADMIRAL RANK FOR NAVY, AND ABOLITION OF PLUCKING BOARD

House Committee Adopts Far-Reaching Amendments to Navy Appropriation Bill

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—That the ranks of "admiral of the fleet" and "vice-admiral" be created, to be held by the commanders of the Atlantic, Pacific and Asiatic fleets, is the recommendation in the proposed amendment to the navy appropriation bill drawn up and adopted by the house naval committee. The ranks are to be held temporarily by the fleet commanders and by the seconds in command.

The navy department desires that the ranks be held permanently by the men gaining them and there was a spirited debate in the committee upon this point. The majority decided, however, that the rank and the pay carried by it over that of rear-admiral should be granted only for those periods during which the holders are actually fleet commanders or second in command.

Prompt action upon the amendment is requested by the navy department in order that the American officers of the fleet to make the formal passage of the canal with the international fleet for the San Francisco fair may not be out-ranked by some of the foreign commanders.

Another important action of the committee yesterday was the abolishing of the "plucking board" and the authorizing of the President to restore to the active list those officers previously plucked who would still be on the active list otherwise.

The plans of Secretary of the Navy Daniels for the establishment of a naval reserve were adopted, but all amendments to the bill increasing the number of enlisted men were defeated.
