(From Our Own Correspondent.)

In our last advices we noted the attack in Valparaiso upon sailors om the cruiser Baltimore, in which were killed and many more rounded. After an investigation by Unister Egan into the affair, in which Admiral Schley participated, a Washington which brought about mimmediate demand upon Chile for nore's petty officers, was brutally assulted by several Chileans while ding on a street car. Riggan resists, but was dragged from the car and urdered in the arms of his comunions. Turnbull, anether of the hom his injuries, received no less than eighteen stab wounds in the

by the mob, Egan's statement called attention to the fact that thirty-five the cruiser's crew were on the day of the riots arrested, unnecessary vio-lence being used by the police, and detained in custody without due cause. meonelusion, Egan said that the sur-geons of the Baltimore expressed the opinion that some of the wounds infleted upon the American sailors Were bayonet wounds, and this clearly showed that the police officers of Val-paraiso, who are armed with bayonets, took part in the attack. The Americans were without arms, and practically defenseless.

Egan, in presenting the Chilean Junta with this statement, expressed in distinct terms the feeling of great indignation which the State Department at Washington feels at the whole affair, and especially at the brutal conduct of the police of Valuariso in joining with the mob in the latter's attack upon the Baltimore's seamen and in Januarian beautiful and seamen and in drawing bayonets and unarmed Americans. Egan also particularly called attention to the additional brutality of the police of Valparaiso in using liorses to drag the Americans to

After making a brief but pointed summary of the facts to which he had been instructed to call attention, Egan blormed the representatives of the Junta that, in the name of the United States, he demanded reparation for the insults and injuries complained of.
The Chileans try to smooth over the assault upon and imprisonment of American sailors by classing it as a Street row. Up to Oct. 26th the Junta and expressed no regret for the attack made on the American sailors.

No reply was received from the Junta till Oct. 29th when Egan sent a cipher dispatch to Secretary Blaine which resulted in the calling of a Special Cabinet meeting.

The dispatch was as follows: The Minister of Foreign Affairs relies that the Government of the United States formulates demands and advances threats that, without being cast back with acrimony, are not acceptable, nor could they be accepted in the present case or in any other of a like nature. He does not doubt the the investigation on board the Baltiin Chilean territory.

He says the administrative and Indicial authorities have been investigating the affair; that a judicial in-Vestigation under Chilean law is seeret, and the time has not yet arrived make known the results. When high time does arrive he will commubaron is now have the result, although he does not life.

tent to judge criminal cases than that established by Chilean people. Until the time arrives to disclose the result of the investigation he cannot admit you don't get the news! of the investigation he cannot admit that the disorders in Valparaiso or the silence of his department should appear as an expression of unfriendliness towards the Government of the United States, which might put in peril the friendly relations between the two countries."

The most plausible history as to the course that will be pursued by the United States is that the suggestions courteously and diplomatically conveyed in Acting Secretary Wharton's dispatch, that this government had no doubt that investigation would be made and reparation afforded, will now be renewed in a stern and formal demand for some immediate assurance of proper action on the part of the Junta, and if these are not forthcoming that Minister Egan will take passage on the Baltimore for the United States, thus severing diplomatic relations between the United matic relations between the United States and Chile.

Which Under date of October 30, the New York Herald correspondent sends the following:

The Chilian authorities have arrested Demetrius Leiva, Carlos Gomez and Jose Ahumada, three Chileans who were implicated in the assault on the Baltimore's men. Gomez is a deserter from the torpedo boat Almirante Lynch.

I don't believe the junta officials are influenced by public opinion in their actions. I am satisfied that their defiant bearing is caused by their foolish ideas of superiority over the Americans. I know that certain important men are opposed to the actions of the Junta. It is probable that the Junta will plead that they have no power in the premises and will refer the whole matter to Congress, which meets on November 10. George Montt, I believe, is inclined to a peaceful solution of the question.

Santiago, October 30. — United States Minister Egan, Captain Schley of the Baltimore and William B. Mc-Creery, United States Minister at Valparaiso, were in close consultation throughout the day, and though it is not possible to obtain any definite statement from them for publication regarding the nature of the result of their long deliberations, it can be said they all consider the reply of the Junta to Minister Egan's note asking report was made to the Government Valparaiso collision as decidedly insulting to the United States mimmediate demand upon Chile for a spology and indemnity for the mide by Minister Egan show that they regard the situation at present as serious. The reply of the Junta they think, means practically that Chile is indignant at the demands made by tharles Riggan, one of the Balti- the United States Government; that she will take her own time to consider the matter, and, when the Junta reaches a conclusion, that Government will settle the matter without reference to the views of the United States on the subject. The reply of the Junta, they further say, panions. Turnbull, anether of the fails to express any regret for the failtimore's men, who died to-day murder of the Baltimore's men, nor is there in that document any expres-sion of regret as to the conduct of the After giving a full list of the members of the Baltimore's crew injured by the male Baltimore's crew injured by the male Baltimore's men. While the United States officials here are justly indignant, their indignation is as nothing to that felt by American residents in Chile.

MONDAY,

For the benefit of those of our subscribers who may not have re ceived the Advertiser's extra, published Saturday morning, the news with regard to the Chilean complications, etc., is reproduced on the first page.

H. B. M. S. ESPIEGLE.

An English paper reports the arrival at Plymouth of H. M. S. Espiegle on October 6.

Captain Clarke at once landed and had a prolonged interview with the Duke of Edinburgh, naval commander-in-chief. The nature of the serious. interview has not been made known, but it is understood that Captain Clarke will be called upon to make an official report of the whole circumstances to the Admiralty, which is already making inquiries into the case. Captain Clarke states that the value of the specie submitted to his care was £130,000. He is said to be fully alive to his own responsibility in the matter, and is confident that the Admiralty will uphold his ac tion. He states that the public has been mis-led on several points connected with the case by unfounded and incorrect telegraphic messages. Those who best know Captain Clarke, especially his sensitiveness on the subject of freight carrying by British men-of-war, believe most certainly that neither by ignorance nor carelessness can he have acted wrongfully in this matter.

THE UNITED STATES VS. CHILE.

There has been a great deal of temper and unnecessary tall talk in some San Francisco papers about the possibility of a war between the United States and the little

South American republic. It would seem to a reasonable observer that the probability of a war between two such unequal powers is very small. That the Chilean Junta has, so far, put their country altogether in the wrong is apparent to any one who reads their reply to the President's telegram asking for reparation for the recent murder of American sailors on the streets of Valparaiso. It was undoubtedly unsatisfactory and brusque even to discourteous-ness, but this is not incapable of amendment, and does not by itself constitute a "casus belli." That this is so, and is so interpreted at Washington is plain from the fact 2 Wagons and Harness that the latest dispatch dated New York, October 29th says, "that Conservative members of the Cabinet favor taking no decisive action in the Chilean matter until the new Government recently elected is established; to pay little heed to the Junta, and give the Government ample opportunity to investigate and make reparation." This is followed by the significant remark, "there is little talk in official circles of actual trouble." Meanwhile it is only to be expected that the Government of the United States are at once strengthening their South Pacific squadron, as its presence in force in Chilean waters is far more likely to help to maintain peace than to precipitate war. It would seem inconceivable that Chile, a country with less than three millions of inhabitants, still bleeding from the wounds of a ferocious civil war, utterly disorganized as to finance, shaken to the foundation of all social and administrative institutions, with a militarism such as might be fostered by even the threat of war, as its greatest and most imminent danger, should wantonly, of mere petulance or vanity challenge such a power as the United States would seem to be an infatuation beyond that which can be believed of even a South American ruler.

is no doubt the feeling which influences the Junta of Chile that Minister Egan was, during the late civil war, unduly inclined towards the Balmacedista party. The failure of Egan to discredited the United States in maintain a proper neutrality has Chile. He is not fit to represent a great power abroad, and his appointment was a stain on the administration. If the Government of Washington had made as judious a selection in Chile as in Honolulu, it is not untikely that this complication would never have

The present rulers of Chile are believed to be able, sensible men, and each has a heavy personal stake in the welfare of the country. They must know that the communication of the result of a secret inquiry is not a sufficient answer to the complaint of a friendly power, more especially when the period of the delivery of this communication is left altogether unsuggested.

Chile owes a full, fair and open investigation of the circumstances under which the American sailors lost their lives, the American Minister should be present if he thinks fit, and the American case be represented by counsel if he thinks it desirable.

If justice in this shape is finally denied, then the situation grows

One factor in the present quarrel Thrilling Experience of Geo. E. Boardman and Some Friends. Sunday morning about 10 o'clock

Geo. E. Boardman, the Deputy Collector of Customs, and several friends decided to take a ride in the new Government launch. They steamed ble? If you're from "down gaily past the boats in the harbor, out the channel into the ocean and went as far as Diamond Head. After inhaling the salt air of the ocean for a while they decided to return. They were about 150 feet away from the breakers and in danger of drifting on the reef. Captain Boardman was in a dilemma there being no oars aboard. What were they to do? Charley Clarke, the Custom House officer, came to the piece of salt pork about five rescue by diving to the bottom and securing the anchor. Everybody felt easier then. Another attempt to fix the engine was without avail, so they hoisted out a signal of distress and it was seen by the ever alert lookout on Diamond Head, who immediately telephoned that a suspicious looking vessel was in danger of being wrecked. While the tug was preparing to go to the rescue, the engine of the launch started up of its own accord and the would be sailors steamed into the harbor, thanking the stars for their lucky escape. Mr. Boardman and his friends have quite enough of launches and oceans and the next time they go riding the tramways will receive their custom.

BASE BALL SATURDAY.

A Fair To Middling Game-Close Score.

Saturday's game at the League grounds drew as many as eight people and a yellow dog. The players were not disheartened by the small number present and went to work with a will. Both pitchers twirled good ball, Kipa in particular, but four safe hits being made off his delivery. Morris played with the Aliiolanis, evidently to get in practice for the coming of the San Jose team. Prince Kalanianaole played also with the same club, but it was no use, they lost the game. There was no brilliant playing on either side, both clubs putting up the same class of ball, but the Iwileis about 100 boxes of apples and 50 sphere into safe territory. Young did not have any chances to take, so everybody missed his good playing. Mr. The E. S. Hengle umpired the game in his usual excellent manner. The score is appended:

OREGON KIDNEY

Is the Most Wonderful Medical Discovery of Modern Times.

CURES BACKACHE

---AND---KIDNEY TROUBLE.

It is strictly a vegetable production and will not injure the smallest child nor the most delicate woman, but will cure pain in the back and kidneys, nonretention of urine, diabetes, inflammation of the bladder or kidneys, brick dust deposit in urine, leucorrhoea, painful or suppressed menstruation, nervousness, and all complaints arising from a diseased or debilitated state of the kidneys or urinary organs of either sex. Many mistake the pains arising from defective action of the kidneys for rheumatism, and in attempting to cure the latter by outward applications, fail entirely to reach the seat of the disease. We do not offer the OREGON KID-NEY TEA as a specific for rheumatism, but are satisfied that many cases of so-called rheumatism would yield to its remedial virtues.

The leaf is put up in air tight tin caddies which preserve intact its medical properties and the decoction is made by the person using it, thus securing its ab-

There are thousands afflicted with diseases of the kidneys or urinary organs who suffer in silence rather than make known their troubles. Others seek relief by the use of various patent medicines, which, if they do not aggravate the disease, at least do not lessen it. Even those who secure the advice of physicians often fail to get relief, owing to the very complicated and delicate nature of the Francisco.

Many new ideas have been added in the Jewelry line in both Gold and Justice's seat on the Supreme Court bench. The dinner was given last week on Thursday in the old Parker mansion, in Waimea, and was attended by members of the Bar and residents of Hawaii who were at court. The affair seems to have been impromptu, but it left a very pleasant impression on all his guests, the unanimous wish having been that the Chancellor of the Kingdom might live forever, and never forget the anniversary which was then and there so successfully observed.

BOOK BINDING

THE HAWAHAN GAZETTE COMPANY having purchased the old-established Bookbindery of Mr. A. H. Raseman, and having secured first class workmen, are prepared to do any and all kinds of plain or expensive work at short notice, and at as low prices as similar work can be obtained from abroad. Every description of work required by Merchants, Planters, Steamships, Traders and others, such as:

LARGEST AND FINEST ACCOUNT BOOKS,

INVOICE AND SALES BOOKS, SHIPPING AND LABOR BOOKS,

ORDER AND RECEIPT BOOKS,

PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS,

MAGAZINES AND PAMPHLETS,

NEWSPAPERS, ETC., ETC.

In short, every kind of work usually done by bookbinders in large cities, such as re-covering old books, mounting maps on cloth, lettering in gold, binding in gilt and morocco, repairing old volumes, etc., etc. Where a number of volumes are to be bound up, a reduction in the price is made.

It is the purpose of THE GAZETTE Company to maintain a First-class Bindery, where first-class work can be had at bed-rock prices.

Parties on the other islands can send Sets of Books to us direct to be Bound, with sample of the style in which previous volumes were bound, and their orders will be promptly filled.

BONES OF MASTODONS.

WHY COMPLETE SKELETONS ARE RARELY FOUND NOWADAYS.

Portions of Animals Are Frequently Carried Away by Smaller Creatures and Then the Bones Generally Decompose. Evidence That Men Saw Them.

A reporter has had an interesting talk with Professor Ward on the subject of the mastodon remains discovered at Oakfield. "A man came to me yesterday," said he, "and showed me a rib which he said he had dug up. It was certainly a mastodon rib. He said he was going to dig for the rest of it, but I doubt if he finds very much more. You can easily see how this might be. Suppose an ox gets stuck in the mud and dies, wolves tear the flesh and gnaw the bones; perhaps a skunk will carry some of the smaller ones into his hole. Bones decompose. If there is a flood they become scattered.

"So, you see, before time has dug a grave in which the remains of our imaginary ox may rest undisturbed for ages, chance has scattered them far and wide. So it is with the fossil remains of the mastodon and mammoth, and the man who finds one bone of the animal and digs for the rest is very apt to be disappointed. There is hardly a county in the United States west of New England where remains of mastodons have not been found at one time or another. The country was full of them. I believe that a mastodon tooth was found in this city some twenty years ago, and several bones were found near the Brighton lock. The mammoth bore about the same relation to the mastodon that the Indian elephant does to the African,

"Mastodons were more numerous in this country and mammoths in Europe and Asia.

THE STUDY OF BONES. "I have here," continued Professor Ward, "the skull and upper jaw of a baby mastodon which, as you see, is very perfect. The teeth are milk teeth, and you can see one of the second teeth imbedded in the upper jaw. The teeth formed at the rear and were pushed forward. I say a baby mastodon, and so it was; but it was as large as the largest ox to be seen at a county fair. Under the upper layer of skull you see this sort of honeycomb of bone. You know enough of anatomy to remember that the human skull is composed of an upper and under layer of hard bone, with softer bone between. The human head does not require to be large to be in proportion to the body, and a caput just large enough to hold the brain is all that is required.

"An elephant, mastodon or mammoth does not require a large brain, but they all need a massive head. Here you have the upper and under layer, as in the human skull, but the porous bone between is magnified enormously. It is nearly a foot in thickness in some of the larger specimens. I remember when I was on the coast of Africa seeing what I supposed to be an enormous hornet's nest. The natives told me it was the head of an elephant which they had killed three or four years previous. The upper layer of the skull had been shelled off, leaving the middle honeycomb of bone exposed to view. It was some time before I could bring myself to believe that it was really an elephant's skull."

Professor Ward showed his visitor his collection of mammoth and mastodon bones. He has nearly enough of different sizes to reconstruct an entire animal, but, of course, the variation in size would prevent this. It is much more satisfactory in the results obtained to take these specimens for models and reconstruct a skeleton from wood. "I suppose," said the reporter, after a prolonged inspection of these curiosities, "I suppose that human eyes never saw these wonderful animals that roamed over the country in such vast numbers so long

THE ONLY EVIDENCE. "You are mistaken," said Professor Ward, "though your mistake has been that of the world of science until recently. Bones of the mastodon have been found split open in such a way that the object of breaking them was evident. It was to obtain the marrow within. But more, the stone head of a hatchet with which the work was done has been found near by. Now, there are no animals which use stone hatchets to break up bones. That hatchet head was once the implement of some primeval warrior. A shoulder blade of the mastodon, a bone comparatively thin, has been found pierced, as if by a spear, and the spear head has been found with it. The spear was evidently thrust in and withdrawn from the body of the animal, and when it was withdrawn its head was probably torn off. Monkeys don't carry spears.

"But, though these evidences are convincing enough, they are not the best proof we have that man existed in the days of the mammoth and the mastodon and has survived them both. Antiquarians who have spent so much time in an endeavor to discover the meaning of the mounds erected by the mound builders have made one thing certain. Many of these mounds were constructed in the shape of animals and birds. There on the wall hang a number of facsimiles of these mounds. They were prepared by a member of the Milwaukee Historical society. There is one which evidently represents a hawk or some similar bird of prey with outstretched wings, and there is another which evidently portrays some squirrellike animal with a remarkably long tail, and here you have as perfect a representation of an elephantlike animal as could well be contrived.

"Now, had the mound builders been as learned in comparative anatomy as we are, and had they reconstructed a mastodon as we have, they could never have understood the meaning of the cavity in the skull which indicates to us that the animal had a trunk. We could never have done that had we not seen an ele-phant. No, the mound builders saw the mastodons before they became extinct. They hunted them and, perhaps, were practically instrumental in their extermination."—Rochester Post-Express.
