This is especially true when the child does not know his illegitimacy and afterwards when he becomes of age he suddenly finds out that his parents are foster parents. He will feel shame when he learns that he was born out of wedlock, from grades one to six participatbastard, or adopted. It might ruin his social life. It is, there- ed in an entertainment program fore, advisable that the information as to legitimacy and illegitimacy be omitted from the certificate.

Mr. Victor Houston's recent letter published in the Advertiser is worthwhile of quoting. He states as follows:

"More power to you for the editorial 'A Medieval Custom' in this morning's paper. The shameful requirement regarding legitimacy should have long ago been eliminated from the public birth records.

"For ready reference I quote the objectionable law on the subject from Revised Laws of Hawaii 1545:

"Sec. 1486. . . . The certificate of birth shall contain the following items, which are declared necessary for the legal, social and sanitary purposes subserved by registration records. The place of birth. . . .; WHETHER LEGITIMATE OR ILLEGITIMATE. . . .

"On the Hawaiian printed forms of birth certificate, question 8, which must be answered is "LEGITIMATE?"

"By way of contrast, I quote from the New York State Laws, as amended in 1936:

"The certificate of birth shall contain such information and be in such form as the state commissioner of health may plishment of common objectives, responsible person. For his contriprescribe. THERE SHALL BE NO SPECIFIC STATEMENT ON THE BIRTH CERTIFICATE AS TO WHETHER THE CHILD IS BORN IN WEDLOCK OR AS TO THE MARITAL NAME OR STATUS OF THE MOTHER.

"New York has further modernized its practice by providing for 'Bureau of Records CERTIFICATION OF BIRTH' acceptable as prima facie evidence of proof of age in State administrative agencies. This certificate contains only the name, sex, date and place of birth, and Birth Record Number of the place of record.

"Action by our legislature is quite evidently necessary." I hope you will have some influence in bringing this about."

We are absolutely in accord with Mr. Houston's opinion. The certificate of birth should contain only the name, sex, date and place of birth. Other insurmountable informations, especially to the question of legitimacy or illegitimacy, should be omitted. For the welfare of our society and for the interest of the children, we hope that the next legislature will give a careful conisderation to this matter and work for revision of the statute which has a reference to issuance of mittee headed by Frank Ishii of certificate of birth by the Bureau of Vital Statistics.

WITHDRAWAL OF U.S. MARINES FROM CHINA IS ANNOUNCED BY FDR AT PRESS CONFERENCE

Removal of Marines Stationed at Shanghai, Peiping and Tientsin, Will Begin Soon Says Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15_President Roosevelt announced that the United States would withdraw the marines stationed in China and declared, in response to questions, that it was impossible to say whether war with Japan can be avoided.

Mr. Roosevelt told a press conference that removal of the marines who are stationed at Shanghai, Peiping and Tientsin, would begin shortly. Other authoritative sources said that the recall would not actually begin until the American citizens in Shanghai are given a last chance to return to their homeland.

The Americans in the Far East have been advised repeatedly to return to this country and it was understood that arrangements are being made to provide ships for the removal of those in Shanghai who wish to leave before the marine withdrawal.

Co-ordinating Exercises Co-ordination is the term used to describe the harmony which should exist between nerves and muscles to enable us to perform any action with dexterity and nimbleness. It is the most valuable asset of athletes, dancers, and other active persons, but is none the less important to men and women in more prosaic walks of life. Perfect co-ordi nation gives us better poise, more graceful carriage, increased ease and proficiency in sports. With it one is more alert, more alive, more agile. Those persons whose ungain-ly awkward actions indicate an almost total lack of co-ordination must exercise patience, but with faithful practice, it can be developed to an astonishing degree. The following exercises are especially designed to teach co-ordination.

Lie flat on your back with both hands extended beyond the head palms together. Now raise the left leg and bring the right arm fortouch the the fingers, but keeping the legs straight. Return the arm and leg to starting position. Repeat six times, counting as you return to the starting position.

Repeat the same movement as

AIRCRAFT WORKERS

SIX MONTHS AGO Vultee Aircraft, at Downey, Calif., began hiring women for work on the regular production line. It was just an experiment, but one that has since proved remarkably successful. Women are now employed in practically all departments, although they are said to excel in jobs calling for dexterity, such as those in the electrical sub-assembly department.

WAAF IN EGYPT THE EFFORTS OF British women to aid in the war have now extended to the Middle East. Members of the Women's Auxiliary Air Force are on active duty in Egypt.

FOR ARMY BABIES HERE'S GOOD NEWS for the wives of the men in service. Babies born to soldiers' wives in the hospital at Camp Forrest, in Ten-nessee, are going to start life in style. A group of Chicagoans, head-ed by Mrs. Jewel Organ Coleman, president of the Thirty-Third Di-vision Mothers club, has provided basinettes and other necessary equipment for the hospital.

Success with house plants need not be limited to those lucky per-sons who seem to have "green fingers." If you have the right plant and a basic understanding of the essentials that make for good growing conditions your difficulties are overcome before they develop.

First comes your choice of plant Keep in mind that the majority of flowering plants have but one blooming period each year. The beautiful specimen you buy at the florist's shop was taken months ago by the gardener, cared for and stimulated until it is in full bloom.

The gardener has controlled the conditions of soil, temperature and moisture regularly and systematically, and has undoubtedly told the florist all about the care necessary to keep his stock fresh and healthy in the shop. Ask the florist about watering, temperature and light. If the plant is to be repotted the important thing to watch is adequate drainage.

The clay pot with bottom drain age hole should be set on a base that permits a certain amount of air to circulate under the pot. A saucer filled with small pebbles or coarse ashes can be placed under the pot. This prevents the plant from standing in stagnant water.

If the plant is placed in its pot in a jardiniere, this should be large enough to allow some circulation of air around the pot. Standing water should be removed daily.

A plant potted in a non-porous container without a bottom opening should have a good inch of drainage material at the bottom. Large pebbles, broken bits of crockery or good sized marbles are good for this purpose.

If you are sending a plant to a friend who is not a garden clubber it's a good idea to enclose simple suggestions regarding its care. Should it be watered from the bottom? Does it like lots of sun? How much water does it need? Should it be kept in the coolest spot in the house? These answers will prolong the pleasure your friend has with your gift.

Be sure to dig up dahlia tubers and gladiolus before the ground freezes. Cut off the tops and then dig the roots. Remove the earth and let them dry a few days betore storing them away packed in sand. Put them in a cool cellar but where they will not freeze dur-ing the winter. Label them so you'll know where to put them for the best color effect in your garden

Repentance and Faith. Lesson for November 9: Luke 15: Golden Text: Mark 1: 15.

We consider today the familiar story of the Prodigal Son, which presents an example of true repentance and faith, and illustrates the readiness of God to forgive the pentant.

The primary meaning of repentance is to turn away from sin. The consequences of sin will bring sor-row to the sinner, but let him not

God. And let him be grieved, first of all, that he has transgressed against God.

When the prodigal lost his inheritance in the far country and was reduced to such want that he envied the swine their husks, he re-solved to return unto his father's house, not asking that his inheritance be restored but that he be given the place of a hired servant. And he confessed that he had sinned in his father's sight and against heaven. We have thought little about the other son, who, cold, hard and un-sympathetic, would not go in to the feast but sulked without. (Read remainder of chapter.) When he complained to his father, he spoke of his own brother as "this thy son." Many who address God as Father do not speak of other men as their brothers. Let them consider the readiness of God to forgive. The world would be a better place if many who claim to be righteous were more inclined to forgive the wayward. It is easy to recognize evil conditions but hard to do anything about them: easy to condemn sinners but often hard to love them and help them.

RODEO . . . amateurs

New Yorkers, who think of the West as starting on the other side West as starting on the other side of the Hudson river, are having this belief verified at the rodeo in Madison Square Garden where a cowboy from New Jersey is among the competitors in the bronc riding contest. The cowboys, New Yorkers are saying, come from Texas, Oklahoma, New Jersey and places like that like that.

But wherever they come from, they bring a real thrill to eastern business men who are always talking about "taking the bull by the horns" but never, except during the annual rodeo, get a chance to see what that expression really means what that expression really means. what that expression really means.

The rodeo is probably the most exciting event witnessed in New York. Most other spectacles planned to thrill Broadwayites have an artificial flavor about them because audiences know ahead of time that they consist of professionals who have perfected their acts als who have perfected their acts and scarcely ever make mistakes. The performers in the rodeo, however, are amateur cowboys and cowgirls who have come from the West in the hope of winning big money prizes in competition with one another, and the audience never knows what will happen.

In case you haven't seen one, this act is as simple to explain as it is act is as simple to explain the transfer dangerous to perform. A wild steer, with blood in his eyes and horns that look sharper than daggers, comes rushing full speed out of a combot tears after him on comes rushing full speed out of a pen. A cowboy tears after him on horseback, gets alongside of him and suddenly jumps from his horse to land with his arms firmly around the steer's horns. If he lands right—then it becomes a question of matching his brute strength against the steer's in wrestling the steer to the ground. It's a tough wrestle, but the experienced cowboy usually wins. But if he lands wrong on the jump—if the steer gets loose—then it becomes a matter of scrambling out of the way before the bling out of the way before the steer can turn on him and gore him with those dagger-like horns.

Many a cowboy has been killed in this dangerous pastime of the West. But it is an excellent demonstration of the American type of sportsmanship, as compared with bullfighting in other countries. For in bullfighting, the odds are all against the bull, but in steer wrestling, the animal scarcely ever gets hurt. It's the cowboy who takes all the chances while the animal just goes through a slight discomfort.

AUTRY Rogers

The star of the rodeo this year, according to the program, was Gene Autry, famous cowboy of screen and radio. But according to the applause of the New York audience, Gene was the one let-down in the show. The most en-joyable part of his act, the applause showed, was when his two beautiful, spirited horses refused to jump through hoops put up for them and, instead, trotted out of the ring leaving Gene twiddling his thumbs.

The audience had come to see cowboys and to them Gene was simply a Hollywood glamour boy and who showed no signs of cow-boyishness except for being able to make a smart horse do some re-markable dancing. And New Yorkers gave all the credit for that to the horse.

There was an interesting comparison between New York's attitude toward Autry and toward that other famous cowboy who made good in Hollywood—Will Rogers. During the evening I attended it was announced that Mrs. Will Rogers was in the audience and she stood up to take a bow. The ap-plause was greater than for any act during the evening.

New York loved Will Rogers as did people in every section of the country. Hollywood never changed him, or the people's love for him. PHOTOGRAPHERS . . news

The rodeo is definitely a western thriller, but several easterners did themselves proud in the arena; namely, the news photographers.
Ordered by their newspapers to get thrilling action pictures, several photographers, with large cameras and pockets full of flash bulbs, were in the arena from the beginning to the end of the show facing wild bulls one minute and bucking brones the next. Their game seemed to be to get as close as possible to each animal when it was acting up most—and many of them turned to snap pictures on the run while being chased.

The photographers were a leading topic of interest and excitement throughout the show and more than one piece of camera equipment was destroyed by a bull before the evening was over. It was the general opinion of the audience that one of the cash prizes should have been put up for the most daring act of a newspaper photographer.

The newspaper photographers wanted pictures and more pictures, because the rodeo offers their annual opportunity to give eastern newspaper readers a taste of the West. When the outstanding per-formers of the great open spaces gather together within the confines of one New York building-that's

BACKGROUND FROM

Mainichi Sportorial

After a long period of uncertainty as to who is going to succeed Harold (Opu) Nakaji as coach of the Pahala high school, the school this year has made arrangements to have Henry Vasconcellos to fill the position.

Vasconcellos has specialized in physical education and hygiene and is very much interested in those and other rela ed activities.

Henry Vasconcellos has been and still is, an athlete of some note. He holds the territorial record for the high jump event and until last year he held the record in the broad FILIPINO FIGHTER PUTS UP jump which was broken by Jud Atchinson.

Pahala school is looking forward toward a successful season in basketball, as well as, in the field of other sports under their new "coach."

The Honolulu AAU swim officials announced that the 1942 AAU indoor swimming championship will definitely be held on Maui, home of the AAU National men's outdoor championship team.

Having produced swimming champions of world prominence, it is only a fitting and proper gesture by the AAU committee to make the Valley Isle sponsor the indoor championship which Maui has asked for.

For the past several years, swimming enthusiasts of Maui were required to dig out thousands of dollars annually in order to send their team to the Mainland and to Honolulu for the National and Territorial meets. It is only natural that they would want to see their champions perform against the territory's best and maybe a few imported champions in their own grounds.

The University of Hawaii is already planning to send a big and strong team to Maui for the indoor AAU which will be held sometime during April or May. Such well known former Maui swimmers as Jose Balmores, Takashi Hirose and Charles Oda will make up the Rainbow aggregation. Balmores is the national individual medley and breaststroke champion, while Hirose is the 100 meter champion. Oda gained All-American honor roll mention for his showing in the distance races in the recent national outdoor meet.

The University is also planning to send their band over for the swimfest and they are already figuring some means in which they will be able to raise money for the trip.

The 1941 season of the Commercial basketball league was brought to a close last Thursday night when KMC defeated Hilo Iron Works to cop the runner-up position of the league. As expected by all the Commercial cage followers, the Hilo Electric Light Co.'s quintet garnered the title without even a struggle from the other teams. It was just a matter of who was going to cop the runner-up position from the very beginning.

With an array of senior league stars on their roster, Helcos lived up to the fans' expectations as they swamped all of their opponents. In all of their games played there wasn't a slight doubt as to the outcome. It was only a matter of how small the score would be.

Because of the powerful Helco entry in the Commercial the Phillies for 1942. division, other firms that spot mediocre teams just don't enter the title chase knowing that it would be a useless struggle. Although it would be unfair to Hilo Electric Light to less he wishes a change." break up their fine team, such a gesture may cause the league to enjoy more entries which they surely lack each year.

In the Business Men's division where competition is much keener, teams are plentiful and all those taking part in this circuit enjoy the game. Wholesome recreation which is the main purpose of these leagues is profited by all_winners and losers.

Yasu Yasutake Sets New Territorial Kayo Record VICTORY TREND AT SOUTH BEND

GAME BATTLE, BUT IS NO MATCH

HONOLULU, Nov. 15- Yasu Yasutake, hard-hitting Japanese featherweight, last night established himself a new territorial record in consecutive knockouts as he rocked Gene Espinosa to sleep in the fourth round at the Civic Auditorium in his main event appearance.

This was Yasutake's 10th consecutive kayo victory since turning pro last June.

Espinosa put up a game battle, but was no match for the slugging Japanese fighter who literally tore the Filipino's head off in the third round with hard lefts and rights. Espinosa was saved by the bell in

After flooring the Fil twice in the fatal fourth, Yasutake landed a haymaker which stopped Espinosa in 2 minutes and 3 seconds.

In the other half of the main event, Dencio Cabanela scored a TKO victory over Mariano Garcia in the eighth and final round.

In a dull six-rounder Dado Marino repeated his victory of several weeks ago as he decisioned Toy Tamanaha.

Willie Gonzoles was stopped in the fourth round by Lucas Pasion as the latter scored his fourth straight knockout victory since turning pro.

WINNER OF WRECKERS VS. WAIAKEA MILL TO PLAY CIO FOR TITLE

A close battle is anticipated between Coach Jerry (Sambo) Saito's Hinode Cafe Wreckers and Coaches Tadashi Jinbo's and Jose Costa's Waiakea Mill, when they collide tomorrow afternoon at the Hoolulu Park for the second round title of the HRC 127 pound football league.

In last week's encounters Wreckers defeated CIO, first round champions, 20-8, while Waiakea Mill blanked Pahala 13-0. Links and Mills battled to a 0-0 deadlock in their second round game which gave both an undefeated, but tied once record. The winner of tomorrow's melee will take on CIO for the league championship.

Preliminary Game

The 115 pound football league second round titular game between Larry Ahuna's CIO and Alex Harris' Wanderers will precede the 127 pound tussle.

Since CIO has already copped the first round title from Wand. erers in a playoff game several weeks ago, a victory for the dockers tomorrow will give them the championship outright. On the other hand a Wanderers' victory will necessitate a playoff game between these two teams for the league championship.

Because of their fine showing throughout the season, CIO will take on the field highly favored to setback Wanderers. However, the NEW YORK, Nov. 15-Veteran Nomads have been practicing

Another Huge Defense Plant Dedicated

With flags, speeches, cheers and the roar of the bombers overhead, the $12,000,000 Douglas Aircraft "blackout plant" was officially dedicated at Long Beach, Calif., and went into full operation. Typical of the speed the defense program is taking was the fact that on the same day, the first concrete was poured for the additions that will double the size and capacity of the plant. Here all types of big planes will be turned out.
