News From the Volcano—Progressiveness of the Capital of the Great Island.

Although the volcano is not active, yet there are many visitors there from the different islands and from abroad. The climate at this season of the year is delightful, and a sojourn at the Volcano House, if but for a few days, is enough to brace one up for a whole year of tropical climate. There is every indication of an early outbreak in some part or other of Halemaumau, for new cracks are noticed, as well as some perceptible depressions in the floor of the crater. The cave under the lava near the last volcanic eruption is now too hot to enter. Steam is seen issuing from a new fissure about a mile away from the old volcano.

There is a marked change for the better in the Hilo Hotel since the lease was taken over by W. C. Peacock & Co. of Honolulu. R. E. Glaze, the manager, is a very energetic man, and it did not take him long to discover what was wanted to meet the demands of the resident and travelling public. In many ways has Mr. Glaze shown that he knows his business, and since the day he took charge, there has been a marked improvement throughout. Visitors will now find in Hilo an hotel which is equal to many of the large hotels in other States of the Union, and every effort will be made to ensure a continuance of its excellence. Many improvements are contemplated, some are now going on, and some are already completed; notably a new and spacious office, and a large writing table in an alcove adjoining the reception room, where visitors can now conduct their correspondence with comfort. More cottages are soon to be added. There is also an Annex to the hotel, containing an up-to-date billiard room and a first-class bar, where liquid refreshments of the very best are served. A band stand is to be erected in front of the hotel so that the local band will be able to give occasional concerts; The Hilo band is a fairly good one, and with this encouragement will be sure to improve, under the leadership of Mr. Carvalho, a talented musician, and an excellent bandmaster.

The Garonne arrived on Sunday last with the Orpheum Company. They gave an entertainment in the Spreckels' Hall on Monday night to a crowded house, pleasing everybody present. Hilo people say it is the best entertainment ever given here. Many of the Garonne passengers went up to the Volcano on Sunday, and at five o'clock on Monday morning visited the crater, returning to Hilo the same day. The steamer left for Honolulu on Monday at midnight.

A telephone message from Hamakua reached Hilo stating that a portion of a wrecked schooner was on the rocks at the mouth of one of the gulches in Hamakua—upon which some native fishermen described a headless corpse. Deputy Sheriff Overend of Honokaa reports that this wreckage has been drifting about for some days, parts of it being found in Waipio and Waimanu. No further particulars have arrived at present writing.

Pastor and Mrs. Cruzan had a house warming last Tuesday in the new parsonage. The house was prettily decorated, and those who attended were royally treated.

A tract of land in Olaa, containing 200 acres, nearly half of which is planted in coffee, was sold by the owner, Mr. Zimmerman, to Mr. C. S. Shanklin of Chicago, for $25,000. Mr. Shanklin visited most of the large coffee plantations in Hamakua and Olaa before making his choice, and is more than satisfied with his bargain.

The coffee all through Olaa looks well, and the planters anticipate a fine crop. A large amount of coffee is being shipped by every vessel leaving Hilo for the Coast.

Hilo can now boast of a Lodge in the Knights of Pythias. A deputation came from Honolulu to install the officers of Hilo Lodge No. 7.

Apart from the visiting K. of P. and the members of the Bar, who came to attend Court, Hilo has had quite a number of Honolulu visitors during the past week all of whom are delighted with the delightful weather we are having, and the delicious cold breeze from the mountains in the evenings and early mornings. D. B. Smith and his daughter are at the Volcano House, Miss Lucy Peabody, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Henriques, Hon. A. V. Gear, Mr. James Dodd, Mr. Chas. Bellina, Mr. C. B. Gray, and others, have spent a very enjoyable holiday on Hawaii.

Prosperity for Cuba Lies in Annexation Alone.

The Philadelphia Inquirer points out that the Cubans know nothing of free government, such as we have here, and adds:

"General Shafter has said that the Cubans are totally unfitted to govern themselves, and all the indications point to the correctness of this declaration. To leave them to themselves would be to abandon them to revolutions and to internecine strife. It will be many a year, we fancy, before they have learned the first principles of real government. As the days go by the truth will be recognized that peace and prosperity for Cuba can come only in its annexation to this country."

Residing in Honolulu.

MONDAY, JAN. 30, 1899.

An admirable suggestion has been made that the band occasionally play at the Fish Market on Saturday afternoons. If not, why not?

Will somebody donate a drinking fountain for the boat landing? The Government is apparently too busy engaged in building political fences to attend to such trifling matters as public necessities.

JULIUS A. PALMER.

Many eyes were moist and many hearts were sad among the Hawaiians, when it was learned to-day that their unselfish and upright friend, Julius A. Palmer had joined the great majority in his Massachusetts home.

The late Captain Palmer had, in early life, frequently visited these islands, and he loved the natives and befriended them whenever it was in his power.

During the tragic days of 1893, when the emblem of honor was lowered in Hawaii and treason and perfidy held high carnival among the descendants of New England missionaries, who had deserted Christ for Mammon, Captain Palmer lifted his voice and used his clever pen in a noble but vain effort in gaining justice for the people of these isles.

His letters to the Boston Transcript, in which he simply told the sad but true story of perfidy and treason towards a friendly people, called upon his head the wrath of the men who were unfit to tie his shoe strings. His sense of honor and his respect for the truth compelled him to take up the cudgels for the people of Hawaii, even if he had to sacrifice the friendship and social relations of his misguided compatriots from New England.

They sneered at him, they tried to ridicule him, they pointed out the little peculiarities of the man, and at last they even threatened him and bullied him, but during it all Julius A. Palmer went his way fearlessly and never swerving from what he thought was right, he made for himself a spot in the hearts of the Hawaiians, in which his memory will ever be revered.

He sacrificed his personal interests in following Liliuokalani to Washington and remaining with her as a faithful counsellor and friend until the last battle against the infamous robbery of the Hawaiian Islands had been fought.

The defeat of the Hawaiian cause was as painful to Captain Palmer as it was to every honest man and every patriotic Hawaiian.

The Hawaiians bemoan the loss of a devoted friend and regret that it was not the will of fate, that he once more should be able to come among them and accept in person the thanks which they owed him and their aloha for his good work, which they now can only lay at his tomb in the far away country.

Our Maui Notes.

On the 21st inst. 20 Asiatic contract laborers, were arrested in Wailuku on a charge of violating Article 8 of their contract to the Wailuku Plantation. It was claimed that the defendants only performed two-thirds of the work called for under their contracts, and the magistrate gave judgment in favor of the plantation.

On the 26th inst. 25 Asiatics were arrested on a similar charge. These men were from Waihee and it was claimed that they heretofore had fumed and filled 90 cars with cane but that lately only 66 cars were sent to the mill by the gang. After a hotly contested trial the magistrate found in favor of the defendant who was arraigned as a "test case," and an appeal was taken by the plantation. The rest of the defendants are to be tried one after another presumably to pile on costs and legal expenses on the poor devils.

The Kickapoo people are at Lahaina and enjoy a full house every night in their tent mauka of the Court House.

The scratch race between Emin Bey and the celebrated Japanese pony ended in a victory for the Lahaina horse. The first heat won by the Japanese pony; Emin Bey stumbling in making the curve and throwing his jockey. The two next heats were won "hands down" by the Lahaina horse and the purse of $110 was paid to the owner. There was no betting as Emin Bey was in the hands of Mr. L. Decker, the leading horseman on Maui, and the Japanese pony was handled by a greenhorn. Hons and Berg acted as judges and Jack Avery as starter.

A. N. Kepoikai is now agent for the crown lands and they have to deal with the senator who for the present is a Baldwin man.

Two che fa runners were arrested on the 27th inst. and forfeited bail of $15.00 each. The game had to be stopped as it was carried on too openly, and complaints had been made by some of the ladies of the "upper crust" whose delicate nerves and modesty were shocked by the public yelling of the vulgar and obscene winning words, by the lucky ones. Wailuku is getting proper, don't ye know!

It is a pleasure to learn that the Cinograph show will appear in Wailuku shortly. Anything is welcomed that will break the monotony.

A new club will probably be started in the place of the Fifteen Club, the affairs of which are reported to be in a precarious condition owing to the amount burned at night.

The big plantation is grinding and it is said that Manager Lowrey expresses his surprise at seeing the Hawaiian sugar boilers making a higher percentage than that made or credited to the sugar boilers at the Ewa Mill.

The Maui cyclists intend to keep up the motto "O Maui no ka O" in the bicycle line so they are hard at training with the aim of competing with the Manoa wonder or any other wonder in the near future. There will be races here by local riders within the next month.

J. Fern, of the Wilder S. S. Co., has been on Maui and employed a number of Hawaiians for the big steamer company.

Who Was He?

A number of "sports" in Honolulu would like to know the name and address (if he has any) of the valiant corporal of the p. g. army who, according to the Advertiser, licked Sharkey and another bluejacket in a saloon in Honolulu three years ago. The alleged "licker" of Sharkey was a well built, smooth-faced young man from Albion, Mich. None of the "boys" have ever heard about the event and claim that the "corporal" is a myth pure and simple.

Besides the famous Jesse Moore whisky, the Anchor Saloon is now serving to customers the celebrated "High Ball," a white malt whisky marked Cyrus Noble and which with plain soda is considered a beverage for the most particular mortals. Try it.

Germany's Proposed New Emigration Law Offensive

The New Orleans Daily Picayune dwells upon the proposed German new emigration law, the chief principle of which is that "once a German subject, always a German subject," and goes on to say:

"This would prevent German subjects from becoming naturalized subjects or citizens of any foreign power. Such a measure could not fail to bring about, sooner or later, disagreeable clashes between this country and Germany. According to American law and custom, a naturalized citizen is entitled to all the same rights and protection which are assured to Americans by birth. Germany's idea is, of course, to encourage the emigration of her surplus population, but at the same time retain the allegiance of these emigrants and be able to draw upon them as available military material."

HAVE YOU TRIED THEM?

They are so simple that a child can work them, and yet they make the clearest, finest, and purest coffee in the world, preserving the beautiful aroma and bouquet, and keeping the liquor perfectly free from grounds.

We refer to the

Telescopic Coffee Pots.

These are made on the principle of the famous French cafetieres. Inside of the coffee pots is an adjustable cylinder which can be raised or lowered and maintained in position at will. Having affixed your straining cloth and raised the cylinder to the point you require, insert the ground coffee into it and pour on your boiling water. Let it rest for five minutes or so and the result will be a perfect cup of coffee, delightfully fresh, fragrant and stimulating and rich in color.

These TELESCOPIC COFFEE POTS we keep in several sizes ranging from a pint to two quarts, and the price is extremely reasonable. As we have not an extremely large stock on hand we wish our patrons to examine them as soon as possible.

A FULL HOUSE.

Hopper Was Sidetracked, The Audience Was Right There.

The Orpheum management is to be congratulated on having secured the Jules Walters combination and there is no doubt that it will prove a very good thing indeed.

The audience which filled the house on Saturday was more than pleased and enjoyed the dramatic comedy immensely. There is something to suit everybody in the play. There are occasions for tears and for fear, for laughter and joy and for a lot of fun when the local hits refer to "the other fellows." The company is composed of clever talent and Jules Walters and the "Improvisator" are now fully established in the good graces of the public.

The performance will be repeated this evening.

A Large Bankrupt Stock.

L. B. Kerr, Queen street, is now holding a sale of bankrupt stock of the great firm of Nimmo & Co., 16 Regent street, London, and is offering such bargains as will surprise every person who sees them. The stock was so large that it took considerable time to arrange it. A glance upstairs where goods are packed to the ceiling will show how large it was, and comprises a very complete stock of drygoods. Everybody is invited to inspect it.

A BIG SEIZURE.

More Opium Unearthed In Kerosene Containers.

Henry Hiki, a well-known Hawaiian in the employ of the Hawaiian Hardware Co., was arrested yesterday morning by Deputy-Marshal Chillingworth, and charged with having opium in possession.

Pursuant to information received the ever vigilant Deputy-Marshal swore out a search warrant and proceeded to the premises of Hiki, near Punahou. It did not take long for the well-informed officer to find the spot where the contraband goods were hidden and in a small grove of bananas and sugar-cane two boxes were discovered containing kerosene oil tins filled with half-pound tins of opium of a very cheap grade.

The cases resemble those imported by the firm by which Hiki is employed, the only difference being that those containing opium are marked with an H., a fact which very easily would escape the notice of the management of the concern but should not have been overlooked by the officers of the Custom House. The opium was taken to the police station where Chillingworth was warmly congratulated on his successful raid while it is rumored that the Collector-General is looking black as thunder on his subordinates who evidently lack the gift of "catching on."

Mr. Vetlesen, the manager of the Hawaiian Hardware Co., was painfully surprised over the incident and is yet inclined to believe in the innocence of Hiki who always has been a trusted and faithful servant. Hiki claims that he was as much surprised as anyone else when he found that the tin of oil brought from the store contained opium and, that he simply lost his head when finding himself a victim of some mischievous scheme. Messrs. Kaulia and Creighton are attorneys for Hiki who is released on a bail of $500, and who was granted a continuance in the District Court this morning.

The authorities claim that they know who are behind the Hiki deal, look serious when doubtful opinions are passed and say that there is no joshing in their statements.

"Hiki no!"

To Welcome Lord Charles

A meeting of British residents is called for Wednesday evening next, at the Arlington Hotel, to consider the advisability of presenting an address of welcome and bon voyage to Lord Charles Bresford, who is expected to touch at Honolulu on or about Friday next.

As all know, Lord Charles is on a mission of investigation on behalf of commerce and, incidentally, of favoring by tactful means a commercial alliance between the United States and Great Britain in Oriental trade.

It is understood that the program contemplated at the meeting is the preparation of an address of greeting, which, through the kindly and hospitable courtesy of the Acting British Consul-General, will be presented at Mr. Kenny's residence, if the steamer's sailing arrangements permit.

It is also intimated that if American and German merchants desire to co-operate in the expression of friendly sentiments, they will be welcomed.

LE BARGY'S WEDDING.

An Ancient Vogue As a New Fancy in Matrimonial Functions.

Dreyfus and Picquart were thrown into the shade at the beginning of the week by M. Le Bary's wedding. Le Bary is an actor of the Comedie Francaise, and is probably more distinguished for his minute attention to dress than for his eminence as an artist.

When it was announced that he was going to be married everyone wondered how he would manage to show any originality in a costume which ironbound custom here ordains shall be the evening dress. A Frenchman is married and buried in a swallowtail, so that it is frequent enough to see a wedding party coming out of one door of a church in the same garb as that worn by a funeral procession going in at another.

FROCK COAT AND VIOLET TIE.

To the amazement of the spectators M. Le Bary turned up in a frock coat, and such a frock coat! It was gray, fitting tight at the waist and very wide at the skirts.

As though this were not a sufficient defiance of public opinion, M. Le Bary wore a violet tie instead of the regulation white one. Altogether he reproduced the old pictures of a bridegroom in 1830.

This innovation gave material for gossip and philosophical dissertations in the press to such an extent that La Fronde, a feminine journal, written, edited, printed, sold and paid for entirely by women, tried to get up a minor revolution on its own account by starting a campaign in favor of colored wedding dresses for brides, with the abolition of orange blossoms.—Paris Letter in N. Y. Herald.

Persons requiring tombstones should apply to Fred. Harrison who has a choice lot of new designs on view.

GROCERY PHILOSOPHY.

It isn't uncommon at all for folks to say "No old KONA coffee comes here, and when discussing oil those same doubters say "it's cotton-seed oil."

They're right, there's nothing genuine in the world, everything's a sham, every person is a hypocrite, some folks think.

You have often heard it said "The best fruits of California go east and the ordinary is consumed at home."

Yet when speaking of coffee and olive oils, these same wise acres tell you the choicest is kept at home and the ordinary exported.
