WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and clammy. After a while a cough sets in at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable, and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become constipated; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow, the urine is scanty and high-coloured, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a liver complaint, others for kidney disease, etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success, because the remedy should be such as to act harmoniously upon each one of these organs, and upon the stomach as well; for in Dyspepsia (for this is really what the disease is) all of these organs partake of this disease and require a remedy that will act upon all at the same time. Seigel's Curative Syrup acts like a charm in this class of complaints, giving almost immediate relief. The following letters from chemists of standing in the community where they live show in what estimation the article is held.

John Archer, Hartill, near Sheffield:—I can confidently recommend it to all who may be suffering from liver or stomach complaints, having the testimony of my customers, who have derived great benefit from the Syrup and Pills. The sale is increasing wonderfully.

Geo. A. Webb, 141, York Street, Belfast:—I have sold a large quantity, and the parties have testified to its being what you represent it.

J. S. Metcalfe, 55, Highgate, Kendal:—I have always great pleasure in recommending the Curative Syrup, for I have never known a case in which it has not relieved or cured, and I have sold many gross.

Robt. G. Gould, 27, High Street, Andover:—I have always take a great interest in your medicines and I have recommended them, as I have found numerous cases of cure from their use.

Thomas Chapman, West Auckland:—I find that the trade steadily increases. I sell more of your medicines than any other kind.

N. Darroll, Clun, Salop:—All who buy it are pleased, and recommend it.

Jos. Balkwill, A. P. S., Kingsbridge:—The public seem to appreciate their great value.

A. Armstead, Market Street, Dalton-in-Furness:—It is needless for me to say that your valuable medicines have great sale in this district—greater than any other I know of, giving great satisfaction.

Robt. Laine, Melksham:—I can well recommend the Curative Syrup from having proved its efficacy for indigestion myself.

Erlockheim, Arbroath, Forfarshire, Sept. 23, 1883. Dear Sir:—Last year I sent you a letter recommending Mother Seigel's Syrup. I have very much pleasure in still bearing testimony to the very satisfactory results of the famed Syrup and Pills. Most patent medicines die out with me, but Mother Seigel has had a steady sale ever since I commenced, and is still in as great demand as when I first began to sell the medicine. The cures which have come under my notice are chiefly those of liver complaint and general debility.

A certain minister in my neighbourhood says it is the only thing which has benefited him and restored him to his normal condition of health after being unable to preach for a considerable length of time. I could mention also a great many other cases, but space would not allow. A near friend of mine, who is very much addicted to constiveness, or constipation, finds that Mother Seigel's Pills are the only pills which suit his complaint. All other pills cause a reaction which is very annoying. Mother Seigel's Pills do not leave a bad after-effect. I have much pleasure in commending again to suffering humanity Mother Seigel's medicines, which are no sham. If this letter is of any service you can publish it.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) William S. Glass, Chemist.
A. J. White, Esq.

15th August, 1883.
Dear Sir:—I write to tell you that Mr. Henry Hillier, of Yatesbury, Wilts, informs me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took no end of doctor's medicine without the slightest benefit, and declares Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life.

Yours truly,
N. Webb,
Chemist, Calne.

THE RESPONSIBILITY.

The Government clique that raised a fierce outcry against the idea of the King being discussed were, it appears, only afraid that a discussion of so wide a scope would unmask their own had statecraft. For all the blustering of the Government clique, we were not keen to discuss the King, but only claimed the right so to do, if, for instance, it became clear that he was answerable for the present deplorable condition of the country's affairs. We are prepared to admit that, although the desire of the people for the removal of the present Cabinet has for some time been apparent enough, yet the fact remains that such desire has not found a definite constitutional voice. When the Legislature voted confidence in the Ministry one day and passed censure upon them another, and when a popular petition for their removal was followed by another for their retention, there is room for leniency in an impartial opinion of His Majesty's hesitation to do what his private sense must have dictated as the first step in the salvation of the country—namely, the dismissal of the Cabinet responsible for the utter demoralization reigning throughout every department of Government. We are not inclined to lay much stress upon the fact that the members of Cabinet voted for themselves in the Legislature, for if a new and better Cabinet were appointed without a dissolution and appeal to the country, its members would probably, in the present composition of the Legislature, have either to vote to sustain themselves or immediately resign. Again, we do not see much ground for sharp criticism of His Majesty in the claim that a majority of representatives were returned to oppose the present Cabinet. If a certain number of representatives betrayed their constituents, the fact does not invalidate the constitutional effect of their votes, and this or any other country must take what it gets in return for choosing unprincipled men as legislators. The more we consider the matter, the plainer does it seem that the real motive of all the fervid jealousy for the royal prerogatives, displayed on the side of the Government, was fear that free discussion would only bring out their responsibility in a clearer light than ever, inducing a tide of indignation that would sweep them out of the way. It is a noteworthy fact that the ungovernable fury let loose against us in the Government organ followed immediately upon an article in these columns calling the Ministers to account, as His Majesty's responsible advisers, for the flagrant indignity perpetrated upon the Legislature in vetoing its measures wholesale. They simply could not afford to have their true position, as either rejected advisers of the Crown or traitors to the Legislature, made bare. Therefore it was that in the evidently inspired article in question the Advertiser tried to make it appear that we were attacking the King under cover of technicalities when we, as plainly as could be done, held the Ministers to due account for nullifying legislation contrary to the spirit of the Constitution. Article 42 of the Constitution declares the Ministers shall be "His Majesty's Special Advisers in the Executive affairs of the Kingdom," and that "No act of the King shall have any effect unless it be countersigned by a Minister, who by that signature makes himself responsible." In the above remarks we have given the full benefit of the doubt, as to the true sentiment of the country, to His Majesty. The Legislature, as to its proceedings, and the people, as to their availing of their right of petition, having given uncertain sounds, His Majesty has left to him the recourse of obtaining the advice of the Privy Council of State. If the Privy Council is in accord with what we are assured is the well-understood, unpurchasable sentiment of the country, it will advise that the authors of the present chaotic condition of affairs be removed from the responsible positions they have abused. If, on the other hand, the Privy Council sets the seal of its approval to the present regime and endorses its high-handed tampering with constitutional legislation, then it shall be the duty of every well-wisher of this Kingdom to assist in prompt measures for solving the grave problem—What next?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

An "Old Bach" is hard on the ladies' hats in church. He should be thankful he has not to pay for them.

The suspension of the administration of justice at Wailuku, to suit the convenience of office-holding politicians, is one of the outrageous results of the prevailing misgovernment of this Kingdom.

The Guide authoritatively denies that the editor and the letter-writer who called him a nuisance are the same person. Between them be it, then, but we beg pardon for making the first-mentioned out a self accuser, through faulty information.

"The Bathers" complain that dead horse attached to the spar buoy attracts the sharks to their sporting grounds. They should organize into a swimming club and raise funds to provide a bathing place protected in some way from the voracious creatures.

The Advertiser is distressed to the depth of over a column over the problem of what to do with the bottles. Is there no fruit flourishing in our soil which could be resolved into a delicious syrup for exportation in the teeming bottles? The insidious mango, for instance.

A voice from Maui asks what good Mr. Aholo will be in a scientific congress to fix a common meridian. He can at least show an older civilization that the ruling party in this Kingdom have learned how to make hay when the sun shines on the setting as well as the rising side of their meridian.

The Attorney-General's subordinates are having a leisurely time while he is cooling himself among his California friends. To have heard him pleading for the creation of a Deputy and the increase of appropriations for his Department, one would imagine that the Hawaiian temple of justice was tottering to its fall for want of adequate maintenance. His Excellency knows how to enlarge the borders of his clover field.

CHURCH MILLINERY.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Did you ever go to church and have the pleasure of sitting back of two or three ladies, the rims of their hats about four acres in circumference and the crowns the size of Punchbowl. I mean the kind they tie on with a piece of white cloth, making the wearer look as though she had the mumps. There is no danger of going to sleep, as you will have to keep your head bobbing like a mud turtle catching flies, if you want to see the preacher. If the increase in size keeps on there will have to be a separation in the church—the gentlemen will have to take one side and the hats the other.

OLD BACH.

SHARKS.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—It seems to be the custom lately, to lash dead horses to the Spar-Buoy, thereby encouraging the monsters of the briny deep to enter the harbor. Lately a number have been seen hovering about the bathing places.

Now, what are we poor bathers to do this sweltering weather—quietly give up our bathing, be gobbled up by sharks, or what? If the dead animals cannot be utilized on shore, let the Pele tow them right away to sea, and promises Messieurs les Sharks if they will only keep out of the harbor to bring them all the animals as they die.

Really it is too bad to encourage the horrid things to come in by leaving their tuckers so near the entrance. Do, Mr. Editor, put your powerful erubien on the disgusting habit and you will confer a lasting blessing on

THE BATHERS.

Honolulu, Sept. 10, 1884.

JUDICIAL MUDDLE AT WAILUKU.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—The police justice of Wailuku, Aholo, had himself elected a member of the Assembly from Lahaina and had a party made deputy for him during his absence. That party had himself been candidate for election at Wailuku, and during the canvass told the people that he was to be judge and they had better vote for him, as their acquittal or conviction on any charge against them, which came before him, lay with him. Aholo received the appointment of assessor for Wailuku and with others who received similar appointments was unable to fulfill his duties, as he could not be spared from the Legislature. His deputy received the appointment of assessor for Kohala and of course could not fulfill his duties according to law. Now the deputy has fled to Kohala to endeavor to catch up on his work and the district is without a police justice. Parties charged with crimes or misdemeanors must lie in jail until one of the justices returns. A live governor at this crisis would get out a bench warrant for one of them and return him to his post.

MAUI.

A COMMON MERIDIAN.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Our Government is about to send a pair of commissioners to Washington to assist at the congress to decide on a common meridian. The parties selected by the powers that be for the commission are Prof. W. P. Alexander and Hon. L. Aholo. It is admitted that it is essential that we as a nation should take part in whatever is for the advancement of science, or commerce, or civilization. Also we can congratulate ourselves that we have in our midst one so capable from his learning as Prof. Alexander. He is a gentleman who will do us honor there and one whom the selected savants of the world will be pleased to meet. But why in the name of common sense should Aholo be tacked on to his coat tail is more than those of us who know the man can discern. Aholo should know what a meridian is, although so far in life his course has deviated far from straight. If we should only judge him by his conduct in the late Legislature we cannot help but admit that he knows what crooked is. He was sent by the people to represent them, but he succeeded in representing Aholo to good effect, as those who wanted nefarious bills passed know well. In every position he has occupied in life thus far he has proved a failure, except that of a tool of a designing Ministry. At school he was one of the most promising pupils of his class, and his teachers looked forward to his making his mark in the world. They have lived to see their mistake, however, except as far as a crooked, indelible mark is concerned. That he has ability does not need to be stated, but when natural qualifications are only used for meretricious and wrong purposes it is an unfortunate waste of talents. As clerk under Governor Nahaolelua, who was a faithful guardian of the public funds, he was compelled to be accurate in his accounts. Under the new regime, however, where looseness has characterized most of the departments, his inclinations had their bent. It is very unpalatable to the general public that a man of his stamp should be sent to represent the Hawaiian people and at the public expense. If those for whose interests he worked during the late Legislature choose to make up a purse and pay his junketing expenses, well and good, but let it not be said that he represents the people of the Hawaiian Islands.

HOW A DONKEY WAS CONCERNED IN A LAWSUIT.

A singular lawsuit has just been commenced in Mariposa County. Mr. Black is a well to do resident of Bull Creek, in that County, and is the owner of a herd of fine cattle. Lately a grizzly bear had been making nightly forays on his corral, killing and carrying off his calves. A short time since he published an advertisement offering $50 reward to any person who would kill the bear. William Opie, also a citizen of Bull Creek, is the possessor of a jackass. One night, a fortnight since, the jackass broke down a portion of Mr. Black's Corral fence and began to eat hay with the cattle. While he was thus engaged the grizzly made a descent on the corral, and by mistake seized him. A desperate combat ensued between the donkey and the bear. They fought all over the corral, but finally the jackass kicked and chewed the grizzly to death. Next morning the badly lacerated donkey was found quietly eating Mr. Black's hay, while his grim antagonist lay near by, dead. When Mr. Opie came to get his animal he made a demand upon Mr. Black for $50 reward he had offered for killing the bear. Mr. Black declined to pay until the power of attorney could be produced from the donkey, and to Mr. Opie's astonishment presented him with a bill for $25, the estimated damage done to the corral. Mr. Opie immediately sued Mr. Black, setting forth in his complaint the facts of the offering of the reward, the killing of the bear, and the further fact that the jackass is his lawful property, and therefore prays judgment in his favor for $50 and costs of suit. Black in his answer admits the allegations of the complaint but avers that the reward was offered to any person killing the bear; that the jackass is not a person within the meaning of the statute, and that if he were Mr. Opie is not his legal guardian, and in default of a power of attorney or any assignment is not entitled to sue for recovery of his claim. He further alleges that Mr. Opie, owning the jackass, is responsible for the damage done to his corral. Wherefore he prays judgment for $25 and his costs in the action.

The case excites unusual interest, as the points involved are very intricate. The ablest lawyers of Mariposa County bar have been employed by the plaintiff, while the defence has retained E. A. Rogers, a leading jurist of Sonora, who expresses great confidence in his ability to obtain a verdict in his client's favor. Several points never before adjudicated will be raised, and altogether the case promises to be the most celebrated in the annals of California jurisprudence.—Mariposa (Cal) Paper.

We hear that in the district of Kau, Hawaii, there was plenty of good rains during the month of August, which started everything growing and the place never looked greener and nicer. The Palala Mill has been shut down two weeks, and

Word was received yesterday that the schooner Ehukai was ashore at Kaena point, about 10 miles from Wailanae. The steamer Waimanalo was soon afterwards sent to render assistance, but as we go to press the steamer is returning without the schooner in tow, so it is likely there is no chance of saving her from total wreck. The Ehukai was built by James Dower, is 45 tons burthen,
and made her trial trip August 25th, 1882. She has plied between here and Wailanae since August 29th, of the same year.

deposited during 1883 was £13,575,- 166 and the amount withdrawn was £11,800,000, leaving an increase of deposits for the year of about $8,875,000. In the Austrian Postal Savings Banks, the deposits on the first of July, 1883, amounted to 8,812,380 florins (about $4,406,190) due to 399,338 depositors. In France, the total amount of deposits
in the Postal Savings Banks in July, 1883, was 73,035,702 francs due to

AN ALARMING DISEASE AFFLICTING
A NUMEROUS CLASS.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and, in fact, the entire glandular system, and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering. The disease is often mistaken for other complaints, but if the reader will ask himself the following questions, he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted.—Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in breathing after eating? Is there a dull, heavy feeling attended by drowsiness? Have the eyes a yellow tinge? Does a thick, sticky, mucous gurgling about the gums and teeth in the morning, accompanied by a disagreeable taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there fulness about the right side as if the liver were enlarged? Is there costiveness? Is there vertigo or dizziness when rising suddenly from a horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys scanty and highly coloured, with a deposit after standing? Does food ferment, soon after eating, accompanied by flatulence or a belching of gas from the stomach? Is there frequent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dread disease progresses. If the case be one of long standing, there will be a dry, hacking cough, attended after a time by expectoration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold, sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against this latter agonizing disorder. The origin of this malady is indigestion or dyspepsia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipient stage. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, when a little medicine will effect a cure and even when it has obtained a strong hold the correct remedy should be persevered in until every vestige of the disease is eradicated, and the digestive organs restored to a healthy condition. The surest and most effectual remedy for this distressing complaint is "Seigel's Curative Syrup," a vegetable preparation sold by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White Limited, 17, Farringdon Road, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

Market Place, Pocklington, York,
October 2nd, 1882.

Sir,—Being a sufferer for years with dyspepsia in all its worst forms, and after spending pounds in medicines, I was at last persuaded to try Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and am thankful to say have derived more benefit from it than any other medicine I ever took, and would advise any one suffering from the same complaint to give it a trial, the results they would soon find out for themselves. If you like to make use of this testimonial you are quite at liberty to do so.

Yours respectfully,
(Signed) R. TURNER.

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family physic that has ever been discovered. They cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition. They cure costiveness.

St. Mary-street, Peterborough,
November 29th, 1881.

Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to inform you of the benefit I have received from Seigel's Syrup. I have been troubled for years with dyspepsia; but after a few doses of the Syrup, I found relief, and after taking two bottles of it I felt quite cured.

I am, Sir, yours truly,
Mr. A. J. White. WILLIAM BRENT.

Hensingham, Whitehaven, Oct. 16th, '82.
Mr. A. J. White.—Dear Sir,—I was for some time afflicted with piles, and was advised to give Mother Seigel's Syrup a trial, which I did. I am now happy to state that it has restored me to complete health.—I remain, yours respectfully, (Signed)
JOHN H. LIGHTFOOT,
15th August, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I write to tell you that Mr. Henry Hillier, of Yatesburg, Wills, informs me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took no end of doctor's medicine without the slightest benefit, and declares Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life.

Yours truly,
(Signed) N. WENNER,
Chemist, Calne.

September 8th, 1883.
Dear Sir,—I find the sale of Seigel's Syrup steadily increasing. All who have tried it speak very highly of its medicinal virtues; one customer describes it as a "Godsend to dyspeptic people." I always recommend it with confidence.

Faithfully yours,
(Signed) VINCENT A. WILLS,
Chemist-Dentist,
To Mr. A. J. White. Merthyr Tydvil.

Preston, Sept. 21st 1883.
My Dear Sir,—Your Syrup and Pills are still very popular with my customers, many saying they are the best family medicines possible.

The other day a customer came for two bottles of Syrup and said "Mother Seigel" had saved the life of his wife, and he added, "one of these bottles I am sending fifteen miles away to a friend who is very ill. I have much faith in it."

The sale keeps up wonderfully, in fact, one would fancy almost that the people were beginning to breakfast, dine, and sup on Mother Seigel's Syrup, the demand is so constant and the satisfaction so great.—I am dear Sir, yours faithfully,

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson, has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which, wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms.—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation, a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whirling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant, and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes closed, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White Limited, 17, Farringdon Road, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family physic that has ever been discovered. They cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition. They cure costiveness.

Spanish Town, Jamaica, West Indies,
Oct. 24, 1882.

Dear Sir,—I write to inform you that I have derived great benefit from "Seigel's Syrup." For some years I have suffered from liver complaint, with its many and varied concomitant evils, so that my life was a perpetual misery. Twelve months ago I was induced to try Seigel's Syrup, and although rather sceptical, having tried so many reputed infallible remedies, I determined to give it at least a fair trial. In two or three days I felt considerably better, and now at the end of twelve months (having continued taking it) I am glad to say that I am a different being altogether. It is a boon and a blessing to men, and I have no reason to doubt the truthfulness of the statement. I can truly say, however, that Seigel's Syrup has come as a "boon and a blessing" to me. I have recommended it to several fellow-sufferers from this distressing complaint, and their testimony is quite in accordance with my own. Gratitude for the benefit I have derived from the excellent preparation, prompts me to furnish you with this unsolicited testimonial.

I am dear Sir,
Yours ever gratefully,
