TWAS A GREAT WEDDING

MR. S. G. WILDER AND MISS E. M.
A. ATKINSON UNITED.

Impressive Ceremony in the Church—Delightful Reception at "Eskbank"—The Presents.

There was an immense concourse in and about St. Andrew's Cathedral last night, to witness the solemnization of the marriage of Mr. Samuel Gardner Wilder and Miss Ethel Mary Alatau Atkinson. Every pew in the church was filled, and the pathways leading to the doors were lined with people.

The interior of the church was decorated in lovely style with flowers, ferns, vines, etc. Deep banks of greenery studded with flowers covered the desks of the front pews reserved for the relatives of the couple. Large candelabra in the chancel added to the brilliancy of the scene.

The ushers were A. St. M.
Mackintosh, Major Potter, Walter F. Dillingham, Robert Atkinson and Marshal A. M. Brown. They were well up to their duties, conducting guests and other spectators to seats with courtesy grace and precision. The aisles were fenced with white satin ribbon from end to end. President and Mrs. Dole, Hon. Godfrey Rhodes and wife, Col. W. F. Allen and wife and Rev. D. P. Birnie and wife were among many prominent people noticed in the church.

For half an hour or so prior to the ceremony a program of music was played by Wray Taylor, organist. At a quarter to eight the entrance of Mrs. Wilder, mother of the groom, and Mrs. Atkinson, mother of the bride, made every eye alert for the arrival of the bridal party.

The bridegroom was conducted to the front by H. M. Whitney, Jr., best man. In a few minutes the bridal party entered, the bride leaning on the arm of her father, Alatau T. Atkinson, preceded by Miss Zoe Atkinson, maid of honor, and Misses May Atkinson and Nellie Kitchen, bridesmaids. The bride's dress was of white duchess satin, with corsage trimmed with Brussels rose point, full elbow sleeves and epaulettes, court train and tulle veil fastened with a diamond crescent, this ornament being the gift of Mrs.
Wilder. Miss Atkinson wore a dress of eude Nil satin, covered with confection of the same shade and silk chiffon fichu ornaments of Siberian aqua marines. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley.
Miss Nellie Kitchen was attired in cameo pink satin covered with confection to match and silk chif-fon fichu. She carried a bouquet of pink roses to match her dress.
Miss Mary Atkinson wore skyblue satin with over dress of confection to match and silk chiffon fichu.

As the procession came up the main aisle the choir of the Second Congregation, of which the bride is a member, sang "How welcome was the call." Rev. Alex. Mackintosh celebrated the Anglican marriage service with even more than his usual impressiveness on such occasions. There seemed to be a tone of deep personal friendship for the parties to the contract in his voice. Soft music was played on the organ while the fateful formula was being uttered by the celebrant and the parties to the holy compact. While the couple was being led to the altar for the final blessing, the choir sang the hundred and twenty-eighth psalm to a double chant.
The procession to the vestry for the signing of the registry was greeted with the choral rendering of the hymn, "The voice that breathed o'er Eden." As the party returned and marched down the aisle to depart Mendelssohn's wedding march was played on the organ.

THE RECEPTION.

After the marriage there was a general flight of guests to "Eskbank," the groom's parental abode on Judd street, where a splendid reception was held.
The front of the building on the two stories was a magnificent picture of color and light. Along both sides of the driveway lines of Japanese lanterns lighted with incandescent electric lamps made an avenue of chromatic glory. The band station on the lawn was under the glare of an arc lamp. Hawaiian, American, British and other flags were draped overhead and at the sides on the wide front veranda, and formed arches in graceful festoons over the top of the steps and the front door. Within the elegant mansion, almost entirely thrown open for the festivities, had rare decorations in every apartment the guests entered.
The front parlor where the young and handsome couple received the felicitations of the guests was transformed into a veritable garden of tropical green and bloom.
There was a reception pavilion of maile vines, hung with maiden hair ferns, within which the happily-mated pair stood. Fronds of palms, clusters of Chinese bamboo, bunches of asparagus, of umbrella grass and of royal ferns flanked the doorways and filled in the corners. The hallway was fair and fragrant with an indescribable wealth of foliage and flowers, while the banisters of the main stairway were entwined with the maile vine.

During the reception the Government band played select airs on the lawn, and afterward the string musicians entered the house and furnished time and harmony for the tripping of the light fantastic toe. Delicious refreshments, including an unlimited supply of peerless chicken salad, were served from the very beginning of the reception to the end of the entertainment. The caterer was Mrs. D'Arcy, hostess of the Club Hotel, who gave personal supervision to the excellent service.

An upper chamber was almost packed, only walking space being left between the articles, with costly presents of household utility as well as ornament.
Among a number of fine paintings in the list were two oils by D. Howard Hitchcock, the Hawaiian artist. One represented the Pacific Tennis Club's court, with a corner of the capitol grounds and the turrets of the residence opposite, rising above the foliage, showing out beautifully.
By the way it is whispered that on this court Cupid shot the dart that led to the happy denouement herein described.
The other painting is a fine representation of Manoa valley, in which the soft colors of the mountain sides are admirably portrayed.

"Everybody is here," was the answer to the chronicler when he sought the two invitation lists, with a request to have the names of the multitude who attended the reception checked off. And the answer was not far from correct.
President and Mrs. Dole, Chief Justice and Mrs. Judd, Minister King, Justice and Mrs. Frear, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Irwin, many members of the diplomatic and consular corps, professional business men, with their wives, sisters and daughters, and the budding manhood of the community's gayest circles, made up the company that thronged the hospitable mansion.

The bridegroom is a son of the late Hon. S. G. Wilder, whose career as a business man and Minister of Interior forms an important part of the history of this country. He is secretary of the S. G. Wilder estate, and an officer in different corporations connected therewith. As a gentleman and a solid young man of affairs he is held in the highest estimation by the community.
The bride has been, up to the close of last school term, for some years one of the most valued teachers in the city public schools.

FIRST LADY IN THE LAND

A CALIFORNIA GIRL MAY suc-CEED MRS. CLEVELAND.

She is the Daughter of David McKinley, Formerly American Consul in Honolulu—Her History.

If William McKinley is elected President of the United States next November, it is more than likely that the successor of Mrs.
Cleveland, as mistress of the White House at Washington, may be a California girl. Mrs. Mc-Kinley, who is physically unable to preside over the multiplicity of White House affairs herself, may elect her husband's eldest and favorite niece, who is also her namesake, to act in her stead.

This young woman, who has visited the family of Ohio's chief executive several times, was born and raised and educated in San Francisco. She is cultured and fond of society and not unused to officialdom, for her father was American Consul to Hawaii, and later Hawaiian Consul-General of the Pacific Coast.

This native daughter of California, who is so closely allied with the man who hopes to be President, is Mrs. George E.
Morse of 1530 Grove street. Her father was the late David McKinley, the eldest brother of the apostle of high tariff, and her husband is George E. Morse of the Western Sugar Refining Company.

It was in 1852 that David McKinley and his younger brother James came to California. For a time they were in Placerville and then engaged in the coal business in San Francisco. They were located at the corner of Geary and Mason streets and their business prospered until an injudiciously large number of signatures on other people's bonds drove them through bankruptcy. Then David McKinley went to Arizona and for a time afterward was in the coal business in Oakland. He was a presidential elector for Hayes, who afterward made him Consul to the Hawaiian islands.
When he was removed by Cleveland King Kalakaua appointed him Consul-General from Hawaii for the Pacific Coast. This position he held from 1885 until his sudden death at the Palace Hotel in 1892.

David McKinley went East to marry, and his wife was a Pennsylvania girl. They returned to California, where their children were born, Ida, the eldest daughter and second child, being born in an old house near the corner of Geary and Leavenworth streets, one of a block of houses owned at that time by David McKinley and still standing.

The little girl was named after William McKinley's fiancée, to whom he was married a few months later. Her middle name, Helen, was a remembrance of one of Mr. McKinley's sisters. William McKinley was embarrassed and pleased when he heard of the christening of his eldest niece; embarrassed when he told his sweetheart about it, and pleased that they should have called the baby after the girl he was soon to make his wife, and he has always been specially fond of her for this reason. All the other children of David McKinley, as well as his wife, are dead.

Mrs. Morse, on whom the mantle of the President's wife is likely to fall, is a very pretty woman.
She is 25 years old, has been married four years and has a little daughter, Marjorie McKinley Morse, who is the only great grand-child "Grandma" McKinley has. Mrs. Morse is a blonde with blue eyes and abundant light brown hair. She has the McKinley features, minus the sternness. She smiles a great deal and her smile is very charming. She is of medium height, plump, with pleasing manners and lots of personal magnetism. She is genuinely Californian, too, with an enthusiasm that is fresh and delightful, and a fine soprano voice, well cultivated.

TILLIE STARBUCK DESERTERS.

Make Lots of Trouble for the Police
This Morning.

Three deserters from the Tillie Starbuck have been confined in the police station for some days past awaiting the departure of their vessel, which was to sail at 2 o'clock this afternoon. About an hour before the departure of the vessel the jailer at the police station started to handcuff them previous to sending them on board.
Two of them objected to the process and the services of a couple of burly native officers had to be called in before the job was finally accomplished.

After being formally turned over to Captain Harry Evans, who was to escort them to the ship, they started along Merchant street. They had no sooner got as far as Bruce Cartwright's office when one of them, named O'Neil, made a break from the officer and tried to smash a window with his handcuffs. Officer Evans was too quick for him, however, and after a short struggle effectually quieted his man. O'Neil said he hoped by breaking a window to be sent back to jail and thus escape the voyage round to New York.

Captain Evans says he has had a heap of trouble with the Tillie Starbuck's men and he is very glad to see the last of the vessel.

DISCIPLINE AT WEST POINT.

Captain of Cadets Reduced to the Ranks for Fighting.

A West Point dispatch of July 10 says: Cadet Pierce Murphy of the State of Washington is the first cadet at the United States military academy in many years to be punished for fighting. Cadet Murphy had a ten-round fight with Edwin G. Davis of Idaho, a "plebe," Wednesday afternoon.

The battle was fought in Dialectic Hall in the presence of several cadets. Davis was knocked out in the tenth round, and is now in the cadet hospital as the result of his injuries. Murphy is a member of a first-class family and until after the battle was captain of Cadet Company B. He fought Davis because the latter refused to obey the command of some cadet to "stand at attention," until permission was given to him to change his position.

Colonel Ernst, superintendent of the military academy, said tonight: "I have today revoked the appointment of Cadet Murphy as captain of Company B, and ordered him reduced to the ranks.
No appointment has yet been made in his place."

There was nothing unmanly about the affair on the part of Murphy, as Davis is twelve pounds heavier than he. It was a square stand-up fight between them.

Police Court Items.

There was very little business in the District Court this morning, the session only lasting a few minutes.

Kamaka, arrested for non payment of personal taxes, paid up in full and $2 extra for costs and was allowed to go.

The case of M. Mendouca, charged with battering Maria Mendouca, was set for trial on Thursday.

M. Karamatsu, accused of assaulting and battering Maki Iwata, a Japanese female, pleaded not guilty and had his trial set for the 25th.

The case of Kamaukoli, accused of selling spirituous liquors without a license, which first came up on July 6th and has been continued from time to time since, was again postponed, owing to the illness of the principal witness for the prosecution.

THE SPREAD OF LEPROSY

ITS INCREASE IN EUROPE A SOURCE OF ALARM.

Fearful That It May Become as Common as in the Middle Ages—Isolation the Only Remedy.

A French newspaper gives some curious information regarding the leprosy, a disease which it is generally thought has almost disappeared from civilized countries and only exists in the Hawaiian islands and in semi-barbarous regions, like certain localities in India and China. Not only, it appears, is the malady in question not disappearing, but it is everywhere so general that eminent specialists in Paris seem to fear that it may again become as common as in certain parts of Europe during the Middle Ages.
It seems that Paris numbers among its population at least 150 lepers, who are under no restraint whatever. Of these there are twelve in a single hospital, indiscriminately mingled with the other patients or employed in the hospital service. Physicians are divided as respects the contagious nature of the disease, and as no case of infection has occurred, the lepers have not been isolated, though a part of the medical staff have desired it. The leprosy exists elsewhere in France, notably in the south in the neighborhood of Nîmes and Marseilles.

Not a single country in Europe is free from it. It is found in Spain and Portugal. In Italy the cases are so numerous that a hospital for lepers has been established at San Remo, on the Riviera. It is extremely common in Turkey and in most of the Greek islands, where its increase is alarming. In Crete alone there are 500 lepers. Norway, however, seems the most seriously afflicted, there being 800 lepers among its robust population. As the patients are isolated it is thought that the evil has reached its maximum. In Sweden the malady appears to be spreading, and there is great alarm, there having been 462 new cases during the past year. In Asia the countries infected are Hindoostan, Farther India, and especially China and Japan. The lepers of Hindoostan alone are estimated at 100,000; statistics are wanting for the other countries.
The Western Continent has its share of the terrible scourge, which exists in several of the West India islands, in Mexico, in Guiana, Venezuela, Brazil and Paraguay, according to statistics collected by the Paris physicians, who fear that the great number of lepers who came to France from all parts of the world to be cured will bring back the state of things that existed some 400 or 500 years ago, when the Department of Brittany was one vast hospital for lepers. The only remedy for the evil is the isolation of the patients, which, if it can do no good, can certainly do no harm.
As for the microbe of the leprosy, it remains to be discovered.—S.F.
Chronicle.

ITS BOAST.

It will be a very late and cloudy and chilly day when the Star begins to educate any of its contemporaries in the trade of getting news. * * * But the one point the Star would really like to emphasize is that it always gets it minus signs of old age.—Star editorial.

If you want today's news today you can find it only in the Star.—Star motto.

Below may be seen how the Star patches the wrinkles of old age in its "news," making the BULLETIN's news of day before yesterday serve for the Star's "news" of today:

(From Bulletin of July 18.)

C. Bolte, Administrator of the estate of the late Samuel Louison, has filed his final account with a petition for discharge. Receipts $3591.42, payments $1871.67, balance $1719.75.

The final account of the executors of the will of John Mott Smith has been filed with a petition for allowance thereof and discharge of the executors. Receipts $44,911.29, payments $40,810.35, balance $4,100.94.

S. M. Damon, administrator with the will annexed of the estate of James W. Austin of Boston, Mass., has filed his final account. Receipts $554.72, payments $4943.47, balance $4388.75.

[There also appeared the guardianship matter of James C. Lane, and a report of order requiring the payment of $55,681.75 Paauhau money to Rudolph Spreckels.]

Note above how by use of the terms "this morning" and "today" the Star makes its "news" conform to its motto. Saturday's news in the BULLETIN of Saturday is good enough for the Star on Monday. Thus in today's or possibly tomorrow's court reports—to keep to this one instance of many that might be given—the Star will give the items of Nakookoo minor's accounts, the new trial in the Tronsseau case, the accounts of Geo. C. Williams' estate, the Nee Lee bankruptcy and the Chinese theater case, all of which appeared in yesterday's BULLETIN. It would be a cold day that the Star educated its contemporaries in giving the news

In the case of Brewer & Co. vs. Reciprocity Sugar Co., Judge Perry has signed a decree ordering that the complaint be taken as confessed by the defendant; also that the business of the defendant corporation be wound up, and its assets and property converted into money to be applied to the liquidation and payment of all liabilities of the corporation in order of priority; also that Geo. ## REFRIGERATING MACHINES AND CREAM SEPARATORS.

Now that the Fourth of July celebration is over and people are settling down to business again, we desire to call the attention of the residents of the Hawaiian Islands to a few matters of interest.

We have lately been appointed sole agents for BARBER'S REFRIGERATING MACHINES.

This machine can readily be arranged in creameries, etc., so as to cool cream, milk and water to any desired temperature down to and below freezing, as also to hold a well-insulated butter-room at any temperature desired above 30 degrees, only requiring the running of the machine from four to six hours per day, which is the usual time that the other machinery in a creamery is operated.

In addition to creameries, these machines are also adapted for use in produce houses, meat markets, hotels, club houses, etc. Their perfect work has been demonstrated fully in the past two years in a large number of creameries in different portions of the East, and more particularly in the Elgin, Ill., district, as well as in butter houses in Chicago, New Orleans, and elsewhere.

The cost of operation is nominal, as the charge of ammonia furnished with the plant should last a year or more without recharging, and will cost only about $15.00.

The DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATORS are now in almost universal creamery or factory use the world over, and in the past few years the Dairy or "Baby" sizes of these machines have almost as completely revolutionized general dairying as had the larger machines previously the creamery industry.

The De Laval Company now presents to the public a smaller type of its latest and most improved "Alpha" machines intended for household and small dairy use, and designed to confer in its new field the same inestimable benefits of centrifugal separation of cream from milk as have the larger machines in their respective spheres.

No more fitting and descriptive term could well be applied to this little machine than the name which has been so aptly given it—the "Humming-Bird." It is very small, very compact, extremely simple, easily understood and cared for, safe and durable. It possesses every advantage to be found in any of the larger "Alpha" machines, is so extremely easy of operation by reason of its new method of obtaining motion as to be designed mainly for use by women and children, and is absolutely thorough in its effectiveness. It need simply be said that it fulfills every requirement of its purpose.

Notice is likewise given that after the expiration of three weeks from this date the property covered by said mortgage will be advertised for sale and will be sold at public auction at the auction rooms of James F. Morgan, Honolulu, on Wednesday, August 12, 1896, at 12 o'clock noon of that day.

DECEPTION.

A man who had something to sell and who by honest representation lost the sale, would, according to the deplorable standard of today, lack an essential in the make-up of a salesman.

There is but one sure way to guard against misrepresentation in business: it is to supply an article of such merit that its superior qualities leave nothing to be desired. The truth more adequately describes such an article than a lie could possibly do.

To put inferior goods into the hands of a salesman whose living is contingent on their sale, is to lead that man into temptation. There is but one way to stop the sale of liquor and inferior merchandise, and that is to abolish their manufacture.

J. W. DIMOND'S

With Bryan and his 16 to 1 platform and Mr. McKinley with his protection to sugar interests in the United States, Honolulu and Hawaii generally will not have much trouble to pick a winner to the best interests of the islands. But, as Hawaii is to be a relative by marriage to the great United States, most people here favor McKinley and protection. It has even been said that with the election of McKinley will come a two cents a pound duty on sugar. If this is true, we may look for money to burn in this community.

The chances for another hit toward a higher protective tariff may increase the prices of American products and this is something the public will have to consider. We've a stock large enough to last through an Administration and we bought the goods cheap. Our stock of Aluminum ware has never been equalled here for size or assortment. The price is lower than has ever been thought of before.

We also have enamel ware in white, that is a perfect imitation of white China but is everlasting. Grey [or blue] Agate ware—the old standby—goes to you at ten per cent. off the old price. It was cheap enough for anyone; this is cheaper to us and we give you the benefit.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Company D is to drill this evening.

The only arrest made last night was that of a native for deserting his wife.

The band will play at Emma square this evening. Program in another column.

Several animals are advertised in the pound and to be sold if not redeemed by August 1.

There will be no mail from the Coast until Thursday week, when the Mariposa will be due.

Hack Inspector Sam Macy is on duty again, after wrestling with the grippe successfully.

The American League, or what is left of it, will meet this evening for re-organization purposes.

Officer Toma arrested a Japanese woman at noon and charged her with deserting her husband.

Mrs. Hanna has received the August number of the Delineator and the latest fashion quarterly.

Captain Robert Parker and family and a number of friends are enjoying an outing at Hanalei.

Fred Harrison will not leave for the Coast today, having concluded to remain in Honolulu for a time.

Ordway & Porter sold 223 pieces of fine furniture the first four days they were in their new quarters.

The Monowai is due from the Colonies on Thursday. She will have a number of passengers from this port.

The finishing touches are being put on the stone front of the new Bishop Estate building on Merchant street.

The court-martial of Captain Good will be commenced this evening at the Executive building. The proceedings will take place in the room occupied by the House of Representatives.

A great clearance sale will take place at the Temple of Fashion, commencing August 1st. The proprietor and his clerks are now busy marking goods down to bottom prices in anticipation thereof.

The Criterion Saloon is a pleasant place to go to and its greatest attraction is the pure, cold Seattle beer on draught there. It makes one's mustache curly and puts new life into the failing consumptive.

A. V. Gear has a store room, 60x48, in rear of the City Feed store on Beretania street; also a piece of land adjoining the same, on which a store building will be erected for a good tenant. Also a six-roomed cottage on Nuuanu street.

Rev. Father Clarke of St. Mary's College, San Francisco, will preach in English at the Catholic Cathedral at 7 p. m. on Thursday. The reverend father gained some notoriety years ago by forsaking the Protestant ministry and joining the Catholics.

John H. Stelling intends to copyright his new song, "Down by the Farm," as sung by Andrew Brown and W. Geo. Ashley at the Peacock-Ashley farewell surprise party at Waikiki the other night. The Quintette Club has been accorded the privilege of first producing the song in public.

There seems to be some blight affecting the bloom of the beautiful Punciana Regia this season, for of all the trees in the city but few have blossoms enough to attract attention. The one on Hotel street next to the Arlington is a notable exception, and in consequence is a source of wonder and delight to visitors who have never before seen this tree in bloom. King Bros. have made several excellent sketches in oil and water colors of this subject, which are meeting with ready sale.

A number of the members of Company B intend going down to the Australia's wharf to give Captain Oscar White and family a good send-off.

George Rodiek, as assignee of the estate of Nee Lee, a bankrupt, publishes a notice to the creditors and debtors of said bankrupt in this issue.

The departure of the Australia is attracting the usual big crowd to the Oceanic dock this afternoon, and the band is making things lively on the wharf.

Augustino Enos, a prominent merchant and ranch owner of Wailuku, leaves for home on this afternoon's steamer after enjoying a few days of city life.

Sterling, the painter, is prepared to quote prices on roof painting. He uses a composition of coal tar and cement. Cheapest and best roof preparation in Honolulu.

A diploma and medal awarded by the Columbian Exposition to St. Louis College for its display of class work, etc., is on view in one of the windows of the Pacific Hardware Company.

When you are down on your luck and feel as if the world was cold, hard and dreary, just step into the Criterion saloon and put a rose-colored tint on everything by imbibing a glass of Seattle beer.

Toma, the Japanese special officer, is quite a politician. He wears a picture of Cleveland in one cuff button and one of Grant in the other. He voted once for Cleveland in Portland, Oregon. He says he was a Republican first and then a Democrat, but now he is out for free silver—all he can get.

Captain Harry Evans had four special watchmen engaged in looking after the ship Tillie Starbuck this morning. Most of her crew would have deserted if they had half a chance. Mr. Evans was out all night looking for some who did get away. Three deserters were taken aboard before the vessel sailed today for New York. The second mate and the cook are still at large.

AMERICAN EMPIRE FURNITURE.

Some of the Features That Entitle This Style to Notice.

The French revolution of a century ago was responsible for many things, good and bad. Among the pleasing items the birth of the empire style may be reckoned. Among the many decorations in this style quivers, torches and armorial trophies were freely made use of. The following illustrations of empire furniture will demonstrate a few of the features which entitle this style of furniture to notice.

The broad backed chair makes a fine looking, comfortable seat. Cleverly hollowed out to catch the back and support the shoulders, it proffers the same of comfort, without, at the same time, being stuffy.

Passing to the couch, we find a form which is very popular. It reminds one of the old "high low" designs which used to be the fashion, and there is no doubt that this choice of a resting pad proves a comfort to the sitter who is dainty in the matter of position. This design, which is without a back, is evidently for use rather than display.

The small table is for decorative rather than useful purposes. The design, if well executed, adds unusual classic dignity to the center of a room, or as a choice corner piece. It is in vogue in its larger forms as a dining table, and those who possess one will enthusiastically tell you that for a small dinner party there is nothing comparable with our circular friend. The outward bend and consequent placing of one's neighbors right and left, in a position where conversation is enjoyable, render the round table unrivaled for the party of six or eight.

For Evening Parties.

Small cakes are no longer in demand at evening parties. Dainty fruit sandwiches have taken their place. Bread is cut very thin and lightly buttered and then spread with raisins, dates or candied cherries that have been chopped fine and moistened with orange juice, sherry or madeira. Roll and tie with baby ribbons. Lemonade or punch is served with these, says the New York Sun.

A Combination Novelty.

Silversmiths are on the alert to supply men as well as women with novelties combining beauty with utility. In MATCHBOX AND MINIATURE CASE. example may be cited the combination matchbox and miniature case, made in both gold and silver.

The Jeweler's Circular calls attention to this novelty with an illustration that requires no description.

Asparagus Salad.

Few realize what delicious salad asparagus makes. Cook the asparagus in salted boiling water, drain it, and when it is cold cut it into inch pieces down as far as it is tender and serve with a mayonnaise or a French dressing.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Gentlemen—I wish to express my grateful thanks for Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am on my seventh bottle and it has truly been a blessing to myself and wife. I had a severe attack of pneumonia last December, and it was thought I should die, but I gradually pulled through, and then did not seem to gain any strength. I had to be helped like an infant, and had fallen away from 145 to 80 lbs. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I decided to take it.

I soon gained in strength so that I could sit up, and then having a severe pain in the small of my back, sent for a Tussane Pain-Killing Plaster, which soon cured me of Headache.

Heart-felt Praise for the Medicine That Cured Her.

Thousands of women are today blessing Paine's Celery Compound for the great good it has done them, and scores have written letters similar to that of Mrs. L. A. Brentner.

SAN JACINTO, CAL.

Dear Sirs:—I have suffered severely with nervous sick headaches, with which I was troubled every month. The pain was so severe that it completely prostrated me and it seemed to me that I should go crazy. I had tried all kinds of remedies without obtaining

The Medicine That Makes People Well!

Why suffer longer with liver and stomach trouble? Paine's Celery Compound will make you well. Read how it cured Mr. J. M. Buchner.

KETTLE FALLS, WASH., Dec. 9, 1894.

Gentlemen:—I have taken only two bottles of Paine's Celery Compound for rheumatism, and liver and stomach troubles, and will be frank in saying that I am well pleased with the results. I used one bottle and was so much better that I abandoned its use for a time, but my old stomach trouble made its appearance again. I procured another bottle in September and after using that I felt well.

UP TO DATE PIANOS.

EXPENSIVE FANCIES WHICH THE WEALTHY AFFECT.

Cases Are Now Designed to Order and Harmonize With Their Surroundings. Average Buyers and Musicians Prefer the Old Fashioned Woods.

There was a time when a piano was a piano, and that was the end of it. The case was of rosewood or mahogany. It had serpentine molding around it, or else it didn't. It had carved legs or angular ones. You could pay your money and take your choice. But the time came when people had more money and more choice too. They had white and gold music rooms, in which the old rosewood standbys seemed so out of harmony that even its music wasn't appreciated. Then they began gilding the cases and making them of curly maple and other light woods. Finally a piano began to be regarded not only as a musical instrument, but as a piece of furniture, to be as carefully fitted into its surroundings as a chair or a table or hangings.

But this wasn't all. There were possibilities in a piano which chairs and tables did not possess—possibilities of decoration, the most artistic and costly.

HIGHLY CARVED PIANO CASE.

In Europe great artists did not seem to devote their talents to the decoration of a piano case any more than they would have refused to fresco the walls of a music room. A few of America's money kings went to Europe for their piano cases, had them brought to New York and then put American mechanism, the piano proper, inside of them. The imported exterior was better than anything that could be had on this side of the water, just as the American interior was unequalled in Europe.

Although there are not many people who are willing to spend even so much as $25,000 on a piano, there has, nevertheless, been a wonderful change in the way Americans buy pianos. Special cases—that is, cases designed to order and with reference to the room in which a piano is to stand—are the rule now and not the exception among people of wealth. There is scarcely a home belonging to New York's Four Hundred which does not contain a piano in a specially designed case. So great has become the demand for these elaborate and artistic cases that the best New York manufacturers employ designers trained in Europe in order to do the work here which formerly had to be sent abroad.

Quite naturally the rage for empire furnishings brought about an epidemic of pianos in that style, but they are varied by Chippendales and colonials and white enameled ones. The warehouses contain many pianos which, although not designed to order, are yet destined to fit into particular surroundings.

Musicians, it appears, do not spend their money on elaborate cases. They select a good toned instrument, and the plain rosewood or mahogany case is good enough for them. The curly maple has quite lost its popularity, by the way. If one wants a light wood, he can be accommodated in a white mahogany. There is nothing, however, for the average buyer to compare with the old fashioned woods, while for the exceptional buyer there are special designers ready to make him a case which no one can duplicate. The foregoing is from the New York Sun, which recently illustrated a highly carved piano case and examples of expensive piano stools.

EMPIRE PIANO STOOL.

For this the tomatoes should first be peeled and then sliced. Following this, a layer of them should be placed in the bottom of a baking dish and sprinkled over with half a teaspoonful of chopped onions. Above should come a generous layer of bread crumbs seasoned with pepper, salt and butter. Repeat with a layer of tomatoes, another half teaspoonful of chopped onions, with bread crumbs and the seasoning above. These alternate layers should be continued until the top of the baking dish is reached, bread crumbs being left on the top. Over all should be poured one cupful of rich sweet milk. Bake two hours.

Escaloped Tomatoes.

A Hint to Home Dressmakers. A woman who evidently knows what she is talking about says that home dressmakers who struggle desperately with the pressing of curved seams should split a rolling pin in two, cover it as they would a regular ironing board and use it for sleeves and such difficult parts of the frock. It is firm and rounded.

PURIFINE

Is the disinfectant that the world is talking about. In the United States its merits are becoming known. The people are using it. Purifine possesses many points in its favor over other preparations. It is odorless, and in employing it as a disinfecting agent, does not create another odor as offensive as that which it subdues. Non-poisonous too. That's an advantage—children will meddle; servants misunderstand; then there's trouble. Some one is poisoned.

Those who use it speak its praise in convincing language. Here's one from the Department of Medicine in the University of Michigan.

"We use Purifine and find it very good for deodorizing sinks and boxes, etc., and for washing sponges used about subjects for dissection. W. A. CAMPBELL, Demonstrator of Anatomy."

PURIFINE is for sale by the HOLLISTER DRUG CO. in 25c., 50c., 75c. and $1.50 bottles. The "AUTOMATIC DISTRIBUTORS" are for rental. Our Agents will call upon you and explain the merits of "Purifine" and the "Automatic Distributors."
