WHY THE Equitable Life

Assurance Society

the United States is the Best com-pany with which to Assure.

-Because of its Safety. Its surplus is larger than that of any other assurance company.

I.—Because of its Promptness. Of 1,043 death claims paid in 1885, nearly one-half were paid the very day proofs were received; while of the remainder, the majority were paid within the following three days. No other company can show such a record.

III.-Because of its Liberality and

All policies are INCONTESTABLE after All policies are incontestable after three years. All incontestable policies are payable immediately upon receipt of proofs of death. The Society's policy contract is clear and simple, and liberal in its conditions. Its Non-for-feiting Tontine (or Semi-Tontine) policy affords all the ultimate benefits of the full Tontine, and has during its earlier years the surrender value and other material advantages of ordinary life policies.

IV.-Profit.

No other company is paying on its policies, as large profits as are shown under the Equitable's matured Tontine policies with fifteen-year periods. Persons desiring assurance may obtain estimates of the probable results of similar policies, and of policies with twenty-year terms, which are expected to show even larger profits. V.—Prospective Advantages.

The unexampled progress of the Equitable in the past is the best guarantee of the increasing future value of assurance with the Equitable.

DISTINCUISHED STATESMANSHIP.

Statesmanship of a distinguished order has marked the modern history of this insular kingdom. Not distinguished for wisdom, foresight, an intelligent appreciation of the country's needs, or the practical application of a comprehensive system of principles suited to its peculiar condition of mixed populations and diversified interests. But rather distinguished by a deficiency, if not an entire absence, of these. Either lack of capacity on the part of the public leaders, or lack of support from the public, may account for the deficiency.

The prosperity of the past eight or ten years has afforded a grand opportunity for the development of a statesmanlike policy. The reciprocity treaty and a high price for our agricultural products brought capital and labor into the country, stimulated enterprises of various kinds, promoted trade and commerce, and all these combined to increase the revenue and fill the public coffers with coin. Thus · were placed at the nation's disposal the means for efficient government, and for permanent improvements ' and internal development. Judicious, capable and honest management would have employed these means in ways that would have produced proportionate lasting public benefits, and have thereby prepared the country for a season of depression and decreased revenue.

Has this been done? Are we now in the position that we have had ample means to have placed ourselves? The answer is easy. It is not doubtful: it is not positive. It is negative-no. The money has been spent; it is all gone; and there is very little to show for it. Frail bridges have been built at great cost, and carried out to sea by the floods. Reads have been constructed of earth and rubbish, which become pools of mud when it rains. A half dozen or so buildings, a marine railway, and a few yards of wharf are about the only public works that remain as monuments of the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars. This is not The worst. We have an increase of officers and officials, increase of salaries, increase of debt, and a decrease of revenue. And such is the plight of the Government that at the last session of the Legislature they secured an increase of 334 per cent in direct taxation, and passed a loan bill of $2,000,000, a portion of which is for paying the debt which has accumulated during the years of prosperity. All these, excepting the decrease of revenue, are consequences of wooden-headed statesmanship and loose manage-

How unfortunate that a country of resources and possibilities should have been so stupidly and badly managed. To place the entire burden of blame on any one pair of shoulders is neither just nor fair. The Ministers of the Crown, as constituting the Responsible Advisers and Executive, are undoubtedly enhave accorded ministers their sup- doned.

port also come in for a big slice. And those constituencies who have elected such members, and omitted the process of tarring and feathering them on their return home, cannot be exculpated. Neither should those gentlemen down town, who are ready to orge the newspapers to wage war while they themselves hide behind a tree, be wholly ex-

But regrets for the past are vain unless attended by a firm determination to turn over a new leaf for the future. Let the resolution be made, and made unanimously, too. Surely no resident, whether citizen or alien, desires the ruin of the country. Every individual domiciled in the land is interested, and should feel interested, in having public affairs skilfully planned, wisely directed, efficiently conducted, and economically managed. And the proper course to pursue is for all to unite in seeking to secure these ends. The Cabinet Ministers, three-fourths of whom are new to office, are afforded an opportunity of effecting reform in administration and of preparing and maturing a policy with which to meet the next Legislature. Let them show a sincere endeavor in the right direction, and every reasonable and patriotic man in the community will support them. The general public have the choice of their own representatives for the next Legislature, and they should exercise enough sense and patriotism to elect none but honest and good men. If some of the constituencies cannot do better than they did last year, they might hang a claw-hammer coat and a long hat on a broom stick, and send this little TUCUESF. According to a trustworthy statement lately published by O Luso Hawaiiano, the Portuguese colony here, including the last arrivals, amount to over 12,000 souls. This numerous population, the poorest, and from their habits and language, the most helpless when they become crippled, do not yet possess any kind of assistance or relief association, outside of the Mutual Benevolent Lusitana Society, whose action is limited to its membership of about eighty. The planters have always been very generous in their treatment of any people who may meet with sickness or accident, whilst in their employ. Nevertheless there has been a deal of misery and suffering amongst the Portuguese immigrants, and especially when they come to Honolulu in search of health, they fall a heavy burden on the charitable public and the different benevolent associations

In view of helping their fellow countrymen and putting a stop to obnoxious begging, the ladies of the Portuguese colony, under the presidency of Mrs. A. de Souza Canavarro, wife of the Portuguese Commissioner, have just started, according to what is published in the last number of O Luso, a special institution called the Portuguese Ladies Benevolent Society, whose object is to help the orphans, widows and crippled or sick people of that nationality. The Luso says that already a large number of ladies and gentlemen of different nationalities and religion have kindly promised monetary assistance, and there is no doubt that such a meritorious undertaking will meet with a generous response from every charitable person in this community. The success of the enterprise seems therefore to be assured. The Portuguese ladies are to be congratulated on their generous devotion; and they may rest confident of obtaining the needed assistance from the public and the press of the kingdom, whilst there can be no doubt that the planters also will gladly assist in collecting donations from the Portuguese themselves.

THE ANGLICAN CHURCH FAIR.

A fair, in aid of the building fund of St. Andrew's Priory, last Saturday, commenced at 10 o'clock A. M. and continued until 5 P. M. The weather was the pink of perfection, and a large concourse of people patronized the fair. The tables containing the articles for sales were mostly in the schoolroom. A children's table occupied the verandah of the domitory. Several tents and a large awning were erected in the playground, for the sale of refreshments and flowers. From mid-day to the close, the Reformatory School Band played selections of music at intervals. Princess Likelike took an active and prominent part throughout the day. The King, Princess Liliuokalani, Princess Kaiulani, Poomaikelani, Prince Kawananakoa, Prince Kelijaeonui, and Prince Kalanianaole visited the fair during the afternoon. Not only was it a season of pleasure to the numerous visitors, but the financial result was highly satisfactory, as will appear from the annexed statement. The total amount, $2,310.85, less about $100 for expenses, represents the profit.

THE TROTTING RACE. THE trotting race of Saturday afternoon, between Joe Dake and Benton Boy, was rather disappointing to the sporting element of Honolulu. One of Benton Boy hind ankles was sprained, and it was thought hardly worth while starting him, but the money having been up, the owner consented to a trial. The horses were well started, and they trotted even, Joe Dake breaking twice, to the first quarter mile. On passing the first quarter, Benton Boy appeared in distress and the race was in favor of Joe Dakes. When Benton Boy came in, it was found that he had torn off one of his shoes by grappling it. The judges were Messrs. A. B. Spreckels, C. Smith, and John F. Smith.

An object of great attraction, on the refreshment table, at the fair on Saturday, was a large and magnificently ornamented cake. It was the workmanship and gift of Mr. F. Horn, of the Pioneer Bakery.

THE breach in Punchbowl street still exists. It threatens to become worse after the next heavy shower. Several lengths of the newly laid water pipes are exposed, and on the whole it is dangerous to life, as stated in these columns last week.

It was said that Mr. Gilbert Waller had been given a brewery licence, and that he is making ready an artesian well and machinery to brew at an early date. But on enquiring at the Interior Department, it was ascertained that no brewery licence had as yet been issued.

The semi-annual shooting match of the Association takes place at the Association range for medals and prizes January 1st. The shooting will be divided into classes. The second class will be for marksmen who have not made higher than 75 per cent., and the third class for those who have not made higher than 65 per cent.

THE KICK OF A HORSE. Mr. Jas. Williams. photographer, was kicked by a horse Saturday afternoon. Mr. Williams was making a bounding visit to McCarthy's billiard hall, across the street, and was leaping to the sidewalk, when a was leaping to the sidewalk, when a horse, close by, gave him a rap on the left leg just below the hip. Mr. Williams staggered on to the sidewalk, calling for help. Mr. Chas. McCarthy, who saw the accident, rushed out and caught Mr. Williams, as he was about to fall. The phone as he was about to fall. The photographer, who thought his leg was broken, was placed in a carriage and taken to Dr. McGrew's, where he gladly learned that no bones were broken. Mr. Williams is of opinion, however, that that horse had a mule's liver.

MUNICIPALITY, OR CITY COVERNMENT.

EDITOR BULLETIN:-Ever since

Honolulu sprang into opulence and became worthy of the name of a city, the press has advocated in favor of a municipality, or a body of city fathers. That veteran public writer and newspaper editor, the late Henry M. Sheldon, when directing the literary department of the P. C. A.vertiser, made forcible suggestions time after time in favor of a municipality. He pointed out in language stronger than I can, its advantages and its necessity. He was not alone on the subject. The Gazette joined issue with him, with Colonel McDowell as its exponent. At that time the Advertiser and Gazette had the field to themselves, both being weekly papers, issuing alternately on Saturdays and Wednesdays. Nevertheless they never attained their object, the Interior Department holding on like grim death to that most important branch of the bureau. Since the demise of Mr. Sheldon, his ideas on the subject have been adopted by his successors and the successors of Colonel McDowell. The tripartite party that meet this evening, at the residence | ran the Gazette for a time when Mr. Grieve first became proprietor of that influential journal, wrote pungent and common sense articles or the same subject. The editorial management afterwards passed into the hands of Mr. Alatau T. Atkinson, the present editor, who surpassed his predecessors in his outspoken manner and fearless advocacy of relieving the Interior Department of what does not properly belong to it. There was an interim in which the Advertiser was silent on the subject. The interim commenced in August 1880 when the Advertiser passed from the hands of Mr. J. H.

Black into the hands of Mr. Walter Murray Gibson, not"His Excellency" then. He bought the paper for an object. Municipal affairs were beneath his notice. He dare not meddle with them. To do so would conflict and interfere with his object. He was then an aspiring and ambitions politician. Though beset with difficulties and opposition on all sides, he gained his point, for which I say, "all honor to him." He soon became a Minister of the Crown (1882) and has continued so ever since. Hence his reticence on municipal affairs, though the writer has reason to believe he is in favor of a Municipal Council. He dare not say so in the columns of his paper, hence his reticence. And now comes the DAILY BULLETIN and re-echoes what was sounded several years ago. One argument against a municipality, (principally by those who are in office and those who know little or nothing about its mode of working) has always been, the expense. The country is too poor. Honolulu cannot afford it. We get along very well as it is. Our Road Supervisor knows all that is required, and has a carte blanche to do as he likes, and so on.

I deny that there would be any extra expense if the usual mode of forming a Municipal Council were carried out. In fact I believe there would be a considerable saving of money, and better work done all round, particularly in the lighting of our streets, the scavengering, and the maintenance of good roads. The Minister of the Interior, who at present, has all there things to attend to, besides 1,000 others, cannot do justice to Honolulu and the other islands. Our city is not, or ought not to be, a political community divided against itself. It ought to be a corporation created by law for the transaction of public business. Without going into details I ease and also for Diseases of Kidneys would suggest that the formation of and Circulation. Descriptive book a municipality be here as elsewhere, with every bottle. Benson Smith & differing only according to circum- Co., Agents.

stances. Let there be an annual election of, say, five councillors by the taxpayers, each one whom shall have a number of votes proportionate to the taxes be pays. This would ensure the election of five gentlemen of high character, and amongst their number, no doubt, men of executive ability, added to a familiarity with municipal affairs, and contempt mercenary politics. From amongst their members they would select their own chairman, and the services of these gentlemen to be gratuitous. A civil engineer, a secretary and accountant, and probably one assistant clerk, to form the office staff, paid of course. Outdoor work to be contracted for. This would tend to reduce the present staff of men who claim a connection with the Interior Department. And this is the rub. It would cause the removal of a lot of shiftless,incompetent,and lazy workmen who are paid the same, if not better wages than the honest and capable men that are so often in search of employment. The meetings of the Council might be monthly and all resolutions passed by them to be approved or other-wise by the Minister of the Interior, provided he is a competent person. Harper's Weekly says, the true purpose of Government is, among other things, to give every-one security that he shall enjoy the fruits of his labor, to prevent the strong from oppressing the weak and the unscrupulous from robbing the honest." But all my arguments are as naught without law, and as the next Legislature does not meet before April or May 1888, nothing can be done until that time. Meanwhile the Executive members of the government and men about town, might do well to take the matter into consideration and draw up a Bill that would meet all requirements. Opposition will naturally ensue from political motives, but I believe the nomination of five gentlemen of sincere convictions, and special qualifications for municipal administration would ensure their being honestly supported. It all rests with the present Government. The fair name of this country and its capital city is a vital point in the advance of Hawaii in commercial prosperity. True, its progress so far has been rapid, and now is the time to develop its stability. Finally, we should have a yearly budget of expenses. Not an appropriation bill exactly but a detailed list of expenditures, and an estimated account of income. To counteract the taxpayer of Honolulu being doubly taxed, a portion of the present taxes to be transferred from the Interior Department to the municipality, and applied as necessary. This a subject that could be expatiated upon at great length, and I will probably take the matter up again, some day in the near future.

WAILUKU NOTES.

Wailuku has been very lively the past few days, as we have had the genial faces of Majors Cornwell. Monday evening, Rev. E. Bailey and his wife celebrated their Golden Wedding at their residence in Wailuku, where their many friends convened and congratulated them on their success thus far, in life. The Band was in attendance and discoursed fine music during the evening, and a very enjoyable evening was passed by every one present. Dec. 2, 1886.

Hollister & Co., Wholesale and Retail Agents We should Blot Out Disease in Its Early Stages.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and in fact the entire glandular system; and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from soffering. The disease is often mistaken for other complaints; but if the reader will ask himself the following questions he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted:—Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in breathing after cating? Is there a dull, heavy teeling, attended by drowsiness? Have the eyes a yellow tinge? Does a thick, sicky mucous gather about the gams and teeth in the mornings, accompanied by a disagree-able taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there pain in the sides and back? Is there a fullness about the right side as there a fullness about the right side as if the liver were enlarging? Is there vertigo or dizziness when rising sud-denis from an horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys highly coloured, with a deposit after standing? Does food ferment soon after eating, accompanied by flatulence or belching of gas from the stomach? Is there fre-quent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dreadful disease progresses. If the case be one of long standing, there will be a dry, hacking cough, attended after a time by expectoration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more di-eased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against the latter agonising disorder. The origin of this malady is indigestion or dyspep-ia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipiency. It is most important that the remove the disease it taken in its incipiency. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, when a little medicine will effect a cure, and even when it has obtained a stiong hold the correct remedy should be persevered in until every vestige of the disease is cradicated, until the appetite has returned and the disease or constant to the correct remediate of the disease is cradicated. ed, and the digestive organs restored to a healthy condition. The surest and a healthy condition. The surest and most effectual remedy for this distressing complaint is "Seigel's Curative Syrup," a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and mdicine vendors theoughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, London, E. C. This Syrvp strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system. Ask your chemist for Seigel's Curative Syrup.

"Sir,—It gives are great pleasure to be able to add my testimony in favour of your valuable Syrup as a curative agent. I had suffered for some length of time from a severe form of indigestion, and the long train of distressing symptoms following that disease. I had tried all possible means to get relief, by seeking the best medical advice. I had swallowed sufficient of their stuff to float a manof-war, so to speak, but all to no avail.

A friend of mine, coming on the scene in the midst of my sufferings, brought with him a bottle of your Seigel Syrup; he advised me to try it, stating he felt confident it would benefit me. Being weary of trysng so many drugs, I con-demned it before trial, thinking it could not possibly Io me any good, but ulti-mately determined to take the Syrup. After doing so for a short time it worked such a change in me that I continued taking it for nearly two months, and I then felt thoroughly cured, for I have discontinued its use for five weeks, and feel in the best of health, and can par-take any kind of food with ease and I am therefore thankful to you that, through the instrumentality of your valuable medicine, I am restored to the state of health I now enjoy.—Yours truly, W. S. FORSTER.

"Gentlemen,—It is with great pleasure that I add my testimony to the wonderful effects of Seigel's Syrup. For years I nad been suffering from bilious attacks, which began with giddiness; then a mist would come before my eyes, so that I should not be able to recognise any one or anything at the distance of a yard or two from my face. This would be followed by excessive trembling of my knees, so that I could not stand without support; after which a severe without support; after which a severe headache would occur, lasting often two neadache would occur, lasting often two or three dags. I have tried various remedies for these distressing symptoms, but until I tried Seigel's Syrup I had no relief. Since then I have had excellent health in every respect, and if ever I feel a headache coming on I take one dose of the Syrup, which arrests it. Hoping that this testimonial may be the mewns of inducing others (who suffer as means of inducing others (who suffer as I used) to try the Syrup, as I feel sure they will receive speedy benefit and ultimately be cured, I beg to remain, yours faithfully,

"A. H. HORTON."

WORK AMONG HAWAHANS-ANNUAL REPORT OF MISS MARY E. GREEN.

We returned thirteen miles to Wainlua, where the people gathered for a temperance meeting. This I held, and organized a society of eight members, and, as usual, exhibited charts. We continued our journey to Judge Kupihea's, and the next morning rode to Kamaloo, eight miles away. There I gave a temperance lecture. Very early the next morning, I rode on to Kawela, a retired settlement five miles away, there visited the homes, and held a meeting in the small but neat church where gathered to meet me, men, women and children, who gave close attention to all I said, and asked intelligent questions in regard to the matter of organizing a society. This I did, fourteen signing the pledge. On our horses again for a six miles ride to Kaunakakai, our last stopping place. Rode directly to the church, where I labored till dark for the people who were cor-dial, and well disposed to take up the work of organizing a temperance society. Here I found an active Young People's Christian Association, the weekly meetings having been held for six years. They have furnished their church with lighte hibles and beauty health. with lights, bibles and hymn books. Among the committees I proposed, was one on statistics. The reply was, "We need none. There are no cases of drunkenness here." I formed a society of eighteen members, and, on some accounts, this, my last stopping place, was my best. Along the last two days of travel, there was an almost entire absence of vegetation with a continuation of rocks and boulders. My traveling companions retraced their steps for the long homeward journey, and I, weary and worn, awaited the arrival of the steamer Likelike for Honolulu, and in due time, got on board, waved an adieu greetings, warm sympathies, hand-to-hand work, and carnest prayers for my success in temperance work, as memories of ten days on Molokai. There are nineteen Hawaiian societies on our list, with a member-

We also need a simple text book upon alcohol and tobacco, with questions and answers to distribute freely. Other Hawaiian literature we hope to be able to publish as we need it.

Let us not yet despair for the future of the Hawaiian people. There are many noble men and faithful women among them who have never bowed the knee to Baal. Work and prayer will not fail of the same "yesterday, to-day and forever."

INTERESTING POPULAR LECTURE LAST

The second of the course of popular lectures for the benefit of the adult patrons and friends of Oahu College, by Professor L. L. Van Slyke, Ph. D., was delivered Friday evening in the lecture room of the Bishop Hall of Science, Oahu College. The invitations issued were much more fully responded to than at the first lecture, the seats in the class room being completely filled while a considerable number of meet the requirements for accommodation. In fact, the lecturer as well as the College, is to be congratulatevening. "The air we breathe" was the subject. To facilitate operations during the lecture a large quantity of oxygen had been preimprisoned in a lot of inverted glass jars standing in formidable array on the table. The chemist's tests for demonstrating the presence of oxygen in the air were explained and illustrated by experiments. Then followed an interesting series of experiments with necessary explanations, in answer to the question, "Does the air contain anything else?" The regular tests were employed for nitrogen, carbon dioxide (commonly called carbonic acid gas), and aqueous vapor, in which some very interesting as well as curious combinations and changes were shown. The proportions of the main constituents of the air, as shown by the latest results of quantitative analysis were set forth, on the blackboard: Oxygen, 20,61 per cent; Nitrogen, 77.95 per cent; aqueous vapor, 1.40 per cent; carbon dioxide, .04 per cent. The show that the air is a mechanica! mixture, that the earth is really surrounded by four atmospheres, compounded in about the same proportions in every climate, and pro-ducing similar effects upon the members of the human family wherever dispersed over the globe.

The presence of oxygen was discovered by an English chemist, Priestly, August 1, 1774. Its name which means "acid begetter," was assigned it at a later date by a Freuch scientist. Two-thirds of all the known material of the world is oxygen. The proportions in which it! exists in the animal and vegetable creation were stated. After much labor and a long series of investigations, it had been found that it could be liquified in a temperature of 220° Fahrenheit below zero, and under a pressure of 4,800 pounds. The mention of 220° below zero, though calculated to cause a shiver in a tropical audience, did not preclude the wish that the solid pla'anxes of mosquitoes pouring in by the open window, could be assigned a place in the economy of nature along with liquified oxygen. This gas, the auditors were informed, combines with all bodies known, except fluorine, its union producing combustion, either "rapid" or "slow," the theory of combustion having been discovered in 1783.

A beautiful and elaborate series of experiments followed illustrative of rapid combustion. Space does not admit of a detailed account of the many fires, explosions, colored lights and flames, some of them being of intense brilliancy, rivalling even the electric lights at Iolani Palace, with which the delighted audience were entertained during the last half hour, in which also the chemistry of a burning candle, a kerosene lamp, a gasoline lamp and a hand grenade were fully clucidated. The grand finale was a brief but brilliant exhibition of fire works, in red and green flames; upon which the "class" retired, not however until a number of the most prominent society people of the city had personally expressed their thanks to professor Van Slyke for the evening's instruction and entertainment.

NEW HEBRIDIES AFFAIRS.

During the last week of September the Premier sent the following telegraphic despatch to the Agent-General:--"New Hebrides affairs are developing rapidly. Further, a charge, plainly trumped up and clearly disproved, is brought of natives shooting a cow. Heavy damages are demanded, evidently to provoke a quarrel. It is humilating to stand by witnessing native and British rights trampled under foot. A British force ought to be stationed their results; for He who promised, here or the French forces imme-"Lo, I am with you always," is diately withdrawn." On receipt of the foregoing, Sir Graham Berry wrote to the Right Hon. E. Stanhope, Secretary of State for the Colonies, enclosing Mr. Gillies's telegram with reference to the proceedings of the French troops now stationed in the New Hebridies.

"This despatch," writes Sir Graham Berry, "confirms the intelligence which I have previously received from my Government and communicated to you, that the proceedings of the French authorities in the islands in relation both to the English missionaries and the natives point not to an approaching withdrawal of their troops, but to a pro-longed and established occupation, and of increasing assumption authority. The class of disputes with chairs had to be extemporized to regard to title to land, on which it seems the French officers have undertaken to decide, are, I need hardly say, those most likely to ed on meeting what players would lead to hostile collision and blood-call a bumper house on the second shed, and to continued pretexts for the exercise of powers incompatible with the neutrality of the islands, and to further and further extension of the period and character of the pared beforehand and was carefully military occupation. I beg, with great respect, to request your earnest attention, and that of her Majesty's Government, to the increasingly serious character of the circumstances referred to in Mr. Gillies's despatch, and to suggest that the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs be moved, as is advised by my Government, to call upon the Government of the Republic to withdraw the troops which have now been in the New Hebrides, for no recognized purpose, since the first week in June, and if they should hesitate, that a British force should be at once dispatched to the islands; or such other measures taken as may establish an effective joint occupation."—Melbourne Age Oct. 28th.
