WOMAN'S DAY IS FEATURE OF CONVOCATION

Auxiliary Members Gather for Organization and Initial Business Meeting

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR COMING FISCAL PERIOD

President's Address and Reports of Year's Work Take Up Morning Session

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM.

The members of the men's club of the diocese will be hosts at a dinner at the University Club at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening for the visiting and local Episcopal clergy and delegates to the convocation.

There will be no business or other session of the convocation tomorrow.

The part which the women of the territory are playing in the life and accomplishments of the Episcopal church in Hawaii, was clearly brought out today when, at the session this morning of the 12th annual convocation, the members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the church gathered in Davies Memorial Hall to elect officers for the coming year, listen to reports of the work of the fiscal period just closed, and to discuss matters of importance regarding the various lines of work which have been thrown out by their organization. Today is Woman's Auxiliary Day, a feature in itself and prominent because of the lengthy and interesting program prepared in such a manner as to bring out the details of every branch of the organization's work.

Today's session was opened at 10 o'clock with the celebration of Holy Communion in the cathedral. Rt. Rev.
Henry Bond, Rector, bishop of Honolulu, acting as celebrant. Rev. F. N.
Cullen and Rev. J. C. Villiers acted as gospel and preacher respectively.
After the service, adjournment was made to the memorial hall for business and organization.

The first order of business was the election of officers to serve during the coming fiscal year. Those chosen were Mrs. H. M. von Holt, president; Mrs. William Thompson, vice-president; Miss Giffel, secretary; Mrs. H.
L. Hart, treasurer and Mrs. H. McK.
Harrison, educational secretary.

Following the reading of the report of the secretary and the treasurer,
the latter showing the finances of the Woman's Auxiliary to be in excellent condition, Mrs. H. M. von Holt, president of the organization, last year and reflected to serve during the coming fiscal period, presented her report.

Following the reading of reports,
those members of the auxiliary present adjourned to St. Andrew's priory, where luncheon was served. The session this afternoon includes the reading of reports as follows:

First—Report of Junior Auxiliaries.
Second—Lahaina Work Among Women and Girls. Miss Roberts, California.

Third—Kapaehulu. Present and Future. Miss Margaret Miller.

Fourth—A Year's Experience. Miss
Mabel Schaeffer and Mrs. D. E. Blue.

Fifth—Synopsis of the work of Guilds prepared under the supervision of the bishop.

The session will conclude with five-minute talks, for which subjects have been assigned as follows:

St. Luke's Mission—Mrs. O. S.
Whang.

St. Mary's—Miss Hilda Van Deer-lin.

St. Elizabeth's—Miss E. Mills.

Epiphany—Mrs. Will King.

On Hawaii—H. Miyazawa.

This evening a session of the convocation will be held in the Davies Memorial Hall, at which time it is expected the business of the convention will be brought to a close. From 4 until 6:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon Bishop and Mrs. Henry Bond Rector will hold a reception to the clergy and delegates at their residence on Emma street.

KING'S BIRTHDAY
CELEBRATION JUNE 3

The birthday of King George
of Great Britain will be celebrated in Honolulu tomorrow. The Star-Bulletin is in receipt of a letter from British Consul General, in which Mr. Gordon says that at all states abroad, that is, out of the United Kingdom,
the birthday is celebrated on June 3 instead of June 22.

A simple machine for feeding wire into a conduit without it kinking or bending has been patented by a Min-

ONOMEA TO PAY TWO PER CENT DIVIDEND JULY

Onomea is expected to pay a dividend of 2 per cent in July, and the opinion on the street is that it will continue payments thereafter at a rate that will make the total dividends for the year 6 per cent.

This stock advanced half a point
above par today in sales aggregating 234 shares, reported, at $20.50.

There was an active market today,
with gains in Ewa and Pals besides Onomea. In the first 55 shares of Ewa sold between boards the price was 18.37 1/2, a gain of 1/4, and 20 shares were reported at 18.50. Pals made a jump of 12.50 in a sale of 20
shares at 97.50.

Oahu was steady at 14.62 1/2 for an aggregate of 99 shares reported. Pioneer was firm at 18.50 for 100 shares
reported and 50 shares on the board, all divided in seven unequal lots, 18
being now asked. Hawaiian Sugar held 26 for 10 shares reported and 25
on the board. Hawaiian Commercial was steady at 27 for 40 shares in three unequal lots. McBryde stocks at 3.50 with a sale of 59 shares reported, while Olin is shaded down 1/4
to 1.87 1/2 for two lots of 5 shares each.
Pioneer 5 per cent bonds show an advance of 25c to 100.25 for a block of $17,000.

Bumper crops and slowly rising prices of sugar are creating a decidedly improved feeling on 'change.

CHO YEE GOO SAYS HE INTENDED TO PUT END TO OWN LIFE

When Cho Yee Goo, the Korean defendant in the murder trial in Judge Dickey's court, was this morning put on the stand, he declared that he purchased a revolver early in May in order to shoot himself if again sent to prison for any offense against his wife. The prisoner swore that he bought a box of cartridges and, after filling the chambers of the gun, threw the balance of the shells away.

The man admitted shooting his wife but claimed that he had not premeditated the crime. He swore that he meant to only cripple the woman and then kill himself.

Judge Edings, who represented the accused, addressed the jury and declared that something less than murder in the first degree would satisfy justice. The jury went out at half-past eleven, and as it asked for more instructions shortly afterwards,
it was surmised that there was a difference of opinion. At half-past twelve the jury was brought into court and they declared that they had not yet reached a verdict. They were then sent to lunch. Court will re-open at 2 o'clock.

SHERIFF ROSE AFTER HARMONY IN DEPARTMENT

Sheriff Charles H. Rose, who yesterday assumed his new duties at the head of the police department for the city and county of Honolulu is emphatic in his statement today that he has no ax sharpened for the removal of Captain Arthur McDuffie or Sergeant John Kellett of the detective branch of the service.

Sheriff Rose comes forward and makes a strong declaration for peace and harmony in the conduct of the police machinery.

It is efficiency and not politics that will ever be the watchword that will guide the new police head in the management of a force of officials who have the peace and order of the island of Oahu in their keeping, insists Sheriff Rose this morning.

"Captain McDuffie or officers in his department have no cause to fear their removal upon other grounds
than 'inefficiency,'" was one statement freely offered by Sheriff Rose.
He declared the story of playing politics in police department management.

"Let us not overlook one important fact," he added. "I cannot remove an official from the police or detective department without cause. Each man is now under civil service rules and regulations."

There is not much chance for politics to figure in the building up of a machine, in the opinion of Sheriff Rose.

"There have been no charges brought against Captain McDuffie or Kellett and their removal for any other reason save inefficiency is, under the law, an impossibility."

"I certainly wish at this time to set at rest a lot of silly rumors going about the city, which have been brought to my attention concerning sweeping changes to be made in police personnel," he said.

PROF. W. A. BRYAN MAY BE CANDIDATE FOR DELEGATE

Political circles stirred with the well-grounded rumor today that Prof. William A. Bryan of the College of Hawaii is seriously considering announcing himself as a candidate on the Democratic ticket for delegate to Congress. When asked today as to the rumor, Prof. Bryan declined to discuss the matter. It will be remembered that he was prominent among the candidates for governor prior to the selection of Governor Pinkham by President Wilson. Since that time he has been more active than formerly along political lines.

PINKHAM FULLY APPROVES FRUIT FLY CAMPAIGN

When the proposition of an expedition to Africa in quest of a parasite to fight the cotton bollworm, as well as to make additional search for the specific fruit fly parasites that Dr.
Silvestri was unable to find last year,
was laid before Governor Pinkham
some time ago he declined to approve
it. Retrenchment was then a policy that loomed larger with the territorial executive than now, since the revenue prospects have somewhat brightened. Moreover, the governor on further consideration has concluded that what has been gained from Dr. Silvestri's expedition for the campaign of natural control of the fruit fly pest may be lost unless the territorial work is carried out to a thorough test. Therefore he has consented to the expedition of Messrs. Fullaway and Bridwell, of which the Star-Bulletin gave the news yesterday.

"The matter is in the hands of the board of agriculture," said the governor this morning. "His work in attempting to suppress the ravages of the fruit fly has gone so far that its interruption might cause a loss of all the advantage already gained."

"When it was first proposed to send an expedition abroad to search for a cotton bollworm parasite we were considering methods of retrenchment,
and as there is no cotton industry established in Hawaii I could not see my way clear to authorize the expenditure. Now, however, the discovery of other parasites for combating the fruit fly being considered possible if not probable, the original allotment of funds requested for that part of the board's work has been allowed. I do not know of any financial aid to the expedition from the federal authorities.

"Coming back to cotton, they are going to have a hearing in Washington on the 15th of this month, when it is proposed to prohibit the shipment of Hawaiian cotton products to the mainland. I have no objection to shutting out cotton seed, but I have objected to a protest against the exclusion of ginned cotton. While I am without information as to the area of cotton growing in the territory, yet if there should be any growers having ginned cotton to export they ought to be protected."

On their expedition to Africa the entomologists will seek for parasites for the so-called Mediterranean fruit fly
—which really originated on that continent—the melon fly and the pink bollworm.

From the fact that the fruit fly is scarce in the regions of its native habitat, Dr. Silvestri concluded that its natural enemies must exist there.
It is said that, besides those brought here by the Italian scientist, there are 57 varieties at large in Africa. To

25TH INFANTRY CONSPIRATORS GET TEN YEARS

Found guilty on a charge of conspiracy to assault white soldiers, regardless of organization or arm of service, 12 out of 13 colored soldiers of the 25th Infantry on trial at Schofield Barracks, have been sentenced to serve 10 years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas. The case has proved one of the most sensational in army records, the testimony uncovering a plot hatched by a number of recruits of the local colored regiment to "run amuck" on the streets of Honolulu, and "beat up" as many white soldiers as they could handle. Seven whites were assaulted before the gang was broken up, and during the evening of February 24, while the 25th was in camp near the city for the carnival, a reign of terror
for the white soldiers was instituted.

A full court of 13 officers tried the case, the sessions lasting eight days
and producing testimony which resulted in a transcript covering more than 600 typewritten pages. The accused were most ably represented by Lieut. M. A. Palen, 25th Infantry, who had considerable experience in civilian law before entering the army, the defense being one of the features of the case. Lieut. G. V. Packer, 1st Infantry, also an able lawyer, was judge advocate.

The evidence showed that a number of recruits from Company H had banded together for a wholesale assault. A soldier who had no connection with the affair, but who was in the guardhouse at the same time, as some of the prisoners, and who overheard incriminating conversation, and others slightly implicated who told what they knew, furnished much of the evidence. The cause for the warfare declared against the whites
did not come out definitely at the trial,
but it is intimated that a fancied grudge in connection with the drowning of a colored soldier some time ago has something to do with the feud.

Of the 13 accused, Private Walter Jones, G. company, was the only one acquitted. Those convicted, who will spend the next 10 years at the federal penitentiary, are Musichan J. E.
Johnson, Privates Walter Aree, Ernest
G. Goosby, Edgar Hunter, Lawrence
Jacobs, Pierce Lane, Charlie Porter,
Edward Ricketts, James A. Wiley, George Willis and David Yates, all of Company H, and Musician Jack Du-sang of Company G.

find some of these Messrs. Fullaway and Bridwell start on their scouting tour tomorrow. Dr. Fullaway has only lately returned from Manila, where he was detailed to make special investigations for the Philippine government. While there he obtained some beneficial insects for the local division of entomology.

MARINE RAILWAY SITE TO BE LEASED TO THE INTER-ISLAND COMPANY

At a meeting of the Board of Harbor Commissioners this morning it was decided to rent, instead of lease, the Marine Railway site to the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company at the rate of $150 a month. This new project will go into effect July 1, at which time the lease now held by the steamship company expires. The harbor board took no action in the matter of removing that portion of the railway which extends beyond the harbor line pursuant to a federal law which takes effect January 1.
The Marine Railway site, which is owned by the Bishop Estate, is leased to the Harbor board which, in turn, reserves the right to either sub-lease or rent it.
There will be work in the second degree at a special meeting of Honolulu lodge, No. 499, F. and A. M., which

JOHN ENA LEAVES ON LONG VOYAGE

The great American ship John Ena, representing a type of carrier fast disappearing from the seas, which sailed from Hilo for Delaware Breakwater, beginning a voyage on last Sunday afternoon that will require more than 16,000 miles and five months to complete. The ship is shown at the new Kihio wharf at Hilo.

Squaring away, perhaps for the last time, with a full shipment of Hawaiian sugar, the big American ship John Ena, representing a type of cargo carrier fast disappearing from the seas, departed from Hilo late Sunday afternoon to begin a voyage to the west coast of the United States that will require more than 16,000 miles to complete.

After weeks spent in the islands, first at Pearl harbor where 100 tons of builders sand and 3500 tons of a fine grade of steaming coal was discharged, then taking on 600 tons of sugar ballast and on May 8 in tow of a Watson steamer for Hilo to finish the consignment of sugar, the visit of the John Ena has been fraught with keen interest.

It was over the berthing of this vessel at the new Kihio wharf that a storm of controversy was raised. Common sense, finally prevailed and the ship received the greater part of 4000 tons of the product at the pier, which the experts who visited the spot declared as safe as it was satisfactory.

The John Ena carried cargo that may be discharged at New York or Philadelphia. Captain C. Olsen has a long trip before him, though he is a hardened and well equipped mariner and knows well the trackless wastes that his command will follow before terminating at Delaware breakwater.

The homeward voyage is expected to take about five months to complete.

NEW OFFICER NOW
IN STEAMER
LURLINE

With a sea that permitted no loss of time, winds that proved extremely favorable, the Matson Navigation steamer Lurline, not heavily laden with freight from the mainland, bringing 20 passengers, under the guiding hand of Captain Francis M. Edwards, was brought to a berth at Pier No. 15 before 8 o'clock this morning.

Local shipping and waterfront officials and others who have to do with business at the port were given an opportunity of greeting R. Y. Menary, new purser in the Lurline, who has for three years past been identified with the steamer Enterprise. Menary paid a flying visit to the capital of the islands about one year ago, but on coming ashore this morning sought the assistance of Claim Agent Charles Drew to pilot him about the city. Menary is a steamship man possessing the knack of making and retaining friends. He has taken over the duties formerly performed by Purser Whitney, now in the Matsonia.

The Lurline will remain here until Thursday before proceeding to Kihio, where 300 tons of cargo will be discharged.

In the 1850 tons of freight for Honolulu were 10 automobiles. The Lurline brought no live stock save small shipments of poultry. In departing for San Francisco on June 9 the vessel will be supplied through the agency of Castle & Cooke with a full load of island sugar.

The statue of King Kamehameha I, which stands in front of the Judiciary building, is being given a new coat of paint. A scaffold is erected around the statue and the work is progressing rapidly.

More Sugar for Coast Refineries. With the assistance of several inter-island steamers, a large amount of sugar has accumulated at Hilo, to be transhipped to the East and West coast refineries in big freight steamers. Purser Phillips of the steamer Mauna Kea, returning from Hawaii this morning, reports the following consignments at Big Island ports: Oahu 8000, Waikae 1000, Hawaii Mill 12,500, Hilo Sugar Co. 14,000, Onomea 17,000, Pepeeke 14,900, Honomea 9700, Hakahau 13,300, Lanaihoehoe 11,050, Kaiwika 4200, Kukaiau 1850, Hamakua Mill 5400, Paunahau 9000, Honokaa 3800, Paunahu 11,644, Houmao 4913 sacks.

Laden with a varied shipment of mainland provisions and general merchandise, the Matson Navigation steamer Enterprise is an arrival at Hilo, the vessel making that port from San Francisco yesterday afternoon. The Enterprise will remain at the Hilo wharves for sufficient time to permit the loading of a full shipment of sugar destined to coast refineries.

Oil instead of coal ranges will be used on the newest United States battleship, because of their greater cleanliness in cooking.

HAWAII HOLDS EXERCISES FOR GRADUATES

In the presence of prominent territorial and federal officials, as well as many other friends of the institution, the third annual commencement exercises of the College of Hawaii were held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the broad lawn in front of the administration building. The day was a perfect one for outdoor exercises, and the beauty of the natural setting lent a charm to the affair which it would be hard to duplicate.

Those students who received diplomas and degrees were George Harold William Barnhart and Paul Louis Lemke, bachelors of science in engineering; Miss Miriam Clark, bachelor of science in household economics, and Alfred Warren, master of science. These, with Governor L. E. Plakham, Prof. Thomas A. Jaggar, Jr., members of the college faculty, members of the board of regents and others were seated on a raised platform, prettily decorated with palms and calla lilies which brought out the colors of the institution—green and white. Beautiful floral offerings, the gifts of parents and friends to the outgoing students, were banked along the front of the platform.

A selection by the Hawaiian band, under the direction of Herr Kapellmeister Berger, opened the program, following which Rev. A. A. Eberhardt, associate pastor of Central Union church, pronounced the invocation. The address of the occasion was delivered by Prof. Thomas A. Jaggar, Jr., the volcano expert, while a thesis entitled "A Study of the Food Habits of the Hawaiian Dragon Flies, with Reference to Their Economic Relation to the Rest of the Insect Fauna," was read by Alfred Warren, A. B., both of which were highly interesting and instructive. The exercises were closed with the conferring of degrees by Prof. J. S. Donaghy, acting dean of the college, following which those present inspected the various departments of the college.

Prof. Jaggar's address was on "Education and the Philosophy of Change," and was vigorous, scholarly and absorbingly interesting. It will be published in full in a later issue of the Star-Bulletin.

NEW SEVENTEEN
DAY SERVICE
CONFIRMED

(By Latest Mail)
MANILA. — A 17-day service between Manila and Vancouver by the way of China and Japan coast ports, reported some weeks ago, has been confirmed at Canadian Pacific headquarters at Montreal.

Only two of the Empress liners will call at Manila, namely, the Empress of Russia and the Empress of Japan. As these two liners make six round trips annually, Manila will enjoy a 17-day mail service to and from the United States on an average of once every month.

The first Empress liner to touch at Manila on her outward voyage from Vancouver will be the Empress of Russia, which leaves that port on June 10. The steamer is due in Manila, according to the schedule cable to the Bulletin, on June 27. Already there is talk on the waterfront of making this a gala occasion and it is expected that a committee will be formed to make the event a memorable one for the city.

Shipping men generally agree that the coming of the Canadian Pacific liners to this port on a regular schedule will revolutionize the transpacific trade as far as time of passage is concerned. It is stated that agreements between the various transpacific lines have in the past worked against a faster schedule and that with the entrance of the Canadian Pacific into the field with a fast mail schedule, the other lines will also improve their service so far as time of passage is concerned.

When the new schedule is adopted by all the transpacific lines the necessity of sending mail to New York via the transsiberian railroad will practically be done away with, businessmen aver, and an enormous saving of time and interest in the sending of drafts and commercial papers will be effected.

The Empress of Russia, which will be the first Canadian Pacific liner to call at Manila, is a sister ship to the Empress of Asia, both of which are considered to be the finest boats traveling on the Pacific. They are of 20,000 tons burden and are luxuriously fitted up.

SIBERIA IS FILLED WITH TRAVELERS
AND CARGO

Filled to the hatch covers with a large shipment of oriental provisions, merchandise and products, the Pacific Mail liner Siberia, which some weeks ago figured in highly sensational reports while on the coast of Asia, is returning to San Francisco by the way of Honolulu and is due to reach this port at daylight on next Saturday morning.

H. Hackfeld and Company, agents for the Siberia, have been advised that the vessel departed from Yokohama with 1600 tons of cargo for discharge at Honolulu. There are a total of 113 cabins, 35 second class and 289 Asiatic storage passengers voyaging to the west coast of the United States. It is believed that a large number of third class passengers comprising Japanese and Filipinos will leave the vessel at Honolulu. It is the present intention to dispatch the Siberia for San Francisco about 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The vessel has accommodation for 75 additional cabin passengers.

The Siberia will be berthed at pier 7. It will be remembered that it was the Siberia that was reported all over the world as having met with a disastrous ending in the treacherous waters off the Formosa coast. The misinterpretation of wireless signals is alleged as the cause of the circulation of the false rumour.

Sunday Work in Department
Proves Worry to Administration of Postmaster

That Postmaster Harry D. Corbett of Hilo is plainly "up against it" regarding the Crescent City's postal employees' dissatisfaction regarding their having to work Sundays, is the opinion rendered this morning by James W. Young, postmaster of Honolulu, when informed of the apparent trouble on the big island.

Mr. Young said, however, that the settling of such a matter does not come under his jurisdiction, and that Mr. Corbett should, if necessary, place any complaint which he might have to make before the first assistant postmaster-general in Washington.

The details of the trouble in the Hilo postoffice is set forth in the following letter from the Star-Bulletin's special correspondent in the Crescent City.

"The employees of the local postoffice are up in arms, with the result that Hilo may lose their Sunday mail service and be compelled to wait until Monday morning to receive the Honolulu and mainland letters and papers arriving here Sunday morning on the Mauna Kea.

"In the face of a law or special ruling of the postoffice department which leaves it to the discretion of the postmaster to say whether his office shall remain open on Sunday, the entire staff of the Hilo mail service was on duty all day yesterday, handling the delivery arriving from Honolulu in the morning, another arriving on the steamer Enterprise from San Francisco in the afternoon, and dispatching a Honolulu mail on the Matsonia, sailing at 5 o'clock in the evening.

"The clerks lose the entire day and are looking upon the affair as an imposition, while Postmaster Harry D. Corbett is inclined to join with them in opposing the system. Corbett declared some time ago that if his men chose to take a holiday on Sunday he could not prevent it. It appears the department requires that postoffices handle only the dispatching of mails on Sundays.

"As there usually are only two mails per week and one of these comes Sunday morning, the staff heretofore has raised no objection to distributing letters and newspapers for two or three hours on the Sabbath morning, but the all-day grind yesterday was too much for them.

"The clerks have made their protest to Postmaster Corbett, and he is nearly worried to death. He is most anxious to serve his patrons, but at the same time says he is helpless if his men persist in their refusal to toil on the holy day.

"It is likely the affair will be referred to the board of trade for solution—to say whether it is necessary for Hilo citizens to have their Sunday mail at all, so, how the merchants propose having it handled in case the clerks don't want to work. The overworked employees today are suggesting an avenue out of the quagmire in

BIG GERMAN
LINERS DUE
IN JANUARY

Cincinnati and Cleveland to Visit Both Honolulu and Hilo With Tourists

Two big Hamburg-American liners, each carrying parties of round-the-world tourists, are due to visit Honolulu and Hilo early in 1915, according to advices received this morning by H. B. Wood, secretary of the Promotion Committee.

The first of the vessels to visit the islands will be the new 17,000-ton liner Cincinnati, which will leave New York January 16 and, after coming through the Panama canal, will dock at Hilo February 13, according to the schedule received by Mr. Wood. The Cincinnati will arrive at Honolulu February 18 and, after a brief stay at this port, will proceed to the Orient.

The Cleveland, a familiar vessel in these waters, will leave New York January 21, 1915, arriving at Hilo February 28 after a trip through the canal. The steamer will dock in Honolulu February 29 en route to the far east. As yet, Mr. Wood has received no word as to the number of persons aboard, but he intends to make an early start in preparing an entertainment for the visitors at this port.

GIVES REASONS
FOR NEEDS OF A LARGER HARBOR

Concrete reasons as to why the port of Honolulu should be enlarged to accommodate the constantly increasing shipping, and suggestions as to the manner in which this work should be done, this morning were submitted to the board of harbor commissioners through a communication from J. R. Macaulay, the territorial pilot.

The letter is, in part, as follows: "I beg to submit through your honorable board such statements that may incline the board of engineers for rivers and harbors at Washington, D. C., to a more favorable view of the absolute necessity of enlarging the port of Honolulu for the benefit of shipping and commerce generally.

"First—I wish to state that it is through no selfish interest in shipping, dredging or towing project that I make this effort for the purpose of bettering existing conditions at this port, for not one dollar of my earnings is derived from anything that floats in salt water, although I have been connected with shipping in Honolulu for more than 30 years. In all these years I have seen the Hawaiian monarchy, the provisional government, the Republic of Hawaii and now the United States government try and keep pace with the increased tonnage entering and departing from the port annually. Still, with the better improvements and facilities for shipping, Honolulu today is only a one-ship port. In making this statement I will explain my meaning by drawing your attention to the indisputable fact that only one ship can enter the channel leading to our port at one time, and before entering must keep in constant touch with movements of shipping within the harbor, for without such knowledge of intended movements of vessels within the harbor, serious consequences are liable to follow, for two modern ships cannot maneuver, pass each other or come in close proximity to each other with any degree of safety, not for the reason that the harbor is crowded or congested, but for the reason that all shipping is confined to insufficient maneuvering space for safety within the harbor. It makes no difference to the pilot maneuvering a ship if all the wharves are crowded or not, vessels lying at the wharves do not in any way interfere with vessels moving in the harbor. Still, the fact remains that only one large vessel can move in Honolulu harbor at one time.

"A rearranged schedule of sailing dates for the Mauna Kea. One has suggested that hereafter the inter-island vessel should arrive Tuesday, and Friday mornings, instead of Thursday and Sunday mornings as at present. It is pointed out this would be even more advantageous for those receiving mainland mail via American-Hawaiian and Oceanic ships stopping at Honolulu on Monday. These mainland mails lay over there until Wednesday morning and do not reach Hilo until Thursday. Under the rearranged schedule they would reach Hilo the day after their arrival at Honolulu."

BREAKWATER
START SOON

Richard Deming Returns from Size-Up of Hilo Contract
Favorably Impressed

That work on the Hilo breakwater will be resumed in the near future, under the new contract between George A. Marshall and the federal government, is the opinion of R. Deming, vice-president of the American Surety Co., bondsmen under the old and the new contracts, who returned this morning from the site of the work. Mr. Deming made a flying trip to the Big Island, accompanied by Walter Marshall, son of the new contractor, and James Marshall, the latter's brother.

"Conditions are favorable for a speedy resumption of the work," said Mr. Deming to a Star-Bulletin reporter this morning. "There is no definite news to give out at the present time as to details of quarrying or transportation, but I can say that matters are being favorably arranged. Mr. George E. Marshall, who has the contract for the uncompleted portion of the superstructure originally let to the Breakwater Company of Philadelphia, is just recovering from a slight illness, and was unable to make the trip to Hilo. I expect to make another trip across with him before I return to San Francisco.

Asked if W. H. Healy, the San Francisco general contractor, who arrived from the coast on the same ship as Deming and Marshall, and who also returned from Hilo today, had anything to do with the new breakwater job, Mr. Deming smiled enigmatically, and said that Mr. Healy was not a member of his Hilo excursion.

ALL THOSE OLD COLLEGE CHUMS WILL BE THERE

And Everybody Else. Where? At the Armory Tonight When the "Capers" Commence

"Oh, college days, dear college days, Thy sons will ne'er forget—Hey, fellows! Hold 'er on that 'forget'—close harmony now—
"The golden haze of youthful days Is round about us yet."
Bully! Give her the other barrel!

Everybody in Honolulu that ever went to college, whether to chase the sheepskin or the pigskin, and everybody who didn't go to college, they'll all be at "College Capers" at the Armory tonight.

The rah-rah boys from fair Harvard, the chaps whose family name is Eli and who complimented old Yale by their attendance in the dim or recent past; the Michigananders who learned psychology under Professor Yost; the Tigers who helped Wilson run Princeton and for the presidency; the Cornellians who hail from around Cayuga's waters—right down to Aloha College, which is planted somewhere in Honolulu—well, they'll be there tonight, each with a part of the "Capers."

It begins at 8 o'clock sharp. A lot of our old college chums are fixing up booths. Michigan's famed Maize and Blue Brigade is putting up a fancy line of assorted pennants and colors under the direction of Secretary of the Territory Thayer, the man who put the Ang in Ann Arbor. Waterloo house and Exham, Princeton unemployed, are doing the decorative honors for old Nassau. The College Club has a booth and so has the University Club. Harvard's Crimson will be in vociferous evidence. Oberlin is there. Boston Tech where they turn out engineers and volcanologists, has a booth where wireless messages will be served in place of tea and you can sip volts and amperes instead of grape juice. And the Michigan men have promised a chair-drill or something that is now a dark mystery but will be revealed tonight.

After the collegians, near-collegians, never-collegians and the rest of the folks have caped through the program, there is going to be a dance. Gentlemen can buy a four-bit flag and dance the rest of the evening with anyone who will consent.

The affair tonight is for the benefit of Wellesley College, recently stricken by fire, and Wellesley's friends here are joining heartily in making it a success.

The program as announced today is as follows:
Academic Procession and Granting of Degrees by the Chancellor of Aloha College.

Firm Drill.....Wellesley College

MUCH IMPORTANT BUSINESS FOR THE BOY SCOUTS

Hawaiian Boy Scouts of America. By Order of the President: A meeting of the scout council, scout masters and the interested public will be held at the Nuuanu home of Pres. G. R. Carter at 8 p. m., Friday, June 5th, 1914. Election of officers, application for a new charter, matters recommended by the scout master council, and scouting in general. Any person may speak or nominate at this meeting, though having no vote unless a member of the local council, as scouting is a community interest.

AD CLUB JOINS IN KAMEHAMEHA DAY CELEBRATION

Plans to Participate—Will Make Exhibit at Big Convention in Toronto

"It may interest you to know that a Pacific Mail steamer cannot anchor in Honolulu harbor with any degree of safety, under existing conditions, but must find a berth at some wharf upon entering the port, and at her departure must make for the open sea to insure safety. Such conditions are not caused by a crowded or congested harbor, but from the fact that there is insufficient space within the harbor to securely anchor and move them."

"In addition to Honolulu harbor being a one-ship port, we have a one-ship quarantine station, occupying valuable space generally used for swinging larger steamers. The location now utilized by this station is badly situated, giving a lee berth to vessels ordered there, and in fact is dangerous to approach with a large vessel in windy weather."

"It seems to me that if there was no other good argument to offer for the opening of Kailua bay to shipping than the better protection of the public health, not only to the residents of Honolulu and the United States army now situated here, but the whole Pacific slope, the very fact that Kailua bay would afford an ideal quarantine station should be sufficient for any argument brought against it."

By unanimous vote the Ad Club decided at its weekly luncheon today to join heartily in the celebration of Kamehameha Day next week and a committee headed by Charles G. Heller, Jr., was named to canvass the club membership to see if a marching section can be secured. The club wishes to do all in its power to make the Kamehameha Day program a success.

Dr. Frank A. Perret was to have been the speaker today but the distinguished volcanologist was unable to be present because of an indisposition. The club took advantage of a lull in the regular program to take up and finish a good deal of business.

Charles R. Frazier and I. H. Beadle were elected by acclamation as delegates from the Ad Club to the Toronto convention of advertising men and they have power to add to their number if they find other members able to go. The local club is entitled to nineteen delegates, its large size making it one of the leading organizations of the kind.

Frazier outlined to the club plans for a Honolulu Ad Club exhibit at the Toronto gathering, in which the local delegates will be assisted by the Promotion Committee.

An interesting letter was read by President Farrington from "Jimmy" Carey, a well known advertising man of Honolulu, who for a number of months has been on the mainland with a Hawaiian singing and dancing troupe. Carey now writes from London where the act, billed as "Irene West and her Royal Hawaiian Sextette," is doing very well and will play at the Anglo-American expedition.

DETAILED PLANS FOR EXPOSITION EXHIBIT COME

Meeting of Hawaii Commission Immediately Called to Hasten Local Work

Complete plans for the Hawaii building proposed for the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, drawn by Architect C. W. Dickey, were today received by Chairman H. F. Wood of the Hawaii Fair Commission, who immediately called a meeting of that body.

Prints showing numerous details for the exterior as well as interior of the building were placed before the members. Other plans depicted a longitudinal section, cross-section, south elevation, rear elevation, north elevation and front elevation.

The arrangement of exhibition tanks for fish received much attention at the hands of the commission. The sketches of the ground floor indicate that a generous space has been allotted for offices, retiring rooms, and the arrangement of exhibits should prove satisfactory.

There will be initiation of four candidates at a meeting of the members of William McKinley Lodge No. 3, W. P. which has been called for 7:30 o'clock this evening.

On Sunday, June 7, at 11 o'clock, Children's Day will be observed in the Methodist church. The Methodist Sunday school will hold its annual picnic at Moanalua June 11th.

MUCH BUSINESS AWAITS ACTION OF CITY DADS

Frontage Tax Matter Expected to Come Before Meeting of Board Tonight

Numerous items of great importance to the citizens of Honolulu are on the tapis for consideration by the Board of Supervisors in the near future, and it is notable that some of these items will be brought up for discussion and possible action at the session of tonight.

Principal amongst the matters under consideration and discussion is the frontage tax question and it is believed that some definite action will be taken on this question at the coming meeting. It is believed that, following the recent mass meeting at which a number of prominent citizens made known in emphatic terms their desires in this respect, the supervisors will arrive at some positive point of division of the cost of street improvement under the frontage tax plan.

The board expects to decide just what proportion of the expense shall be paid by the city and by the property owner affected.

Another matter of considerable importance is the proposed modification of the regulation which prohibits the standing of unattended autos in the congested downtown district. This section of the recently adopted ordinance is believed to be too drastic.

A further amendment that will permit of the opening of the Tantalus road to automobiles also is suggested and will be up for speedy action by the supervisors.

Considerable smoke has recently surrounded the proposed action against City and County Engineer L. M. Whitehouse. It has been intimated that this official must be made a sacrifice to political aspirations and the board of supervisors are expected to—also expect to—consider his standing.

While it will be impossible for all of those matters to be handled at tonight's session, there is no doubt but that all will be considered as speedily as possible by the board.

Gain has off with treacherous hopes led men to ruin.—Sophocles.

GET TO WORK!

What is needed if Kalihī Harbor is to be opened and the commercial expansion of this city assured is a pull-together movement throughout the territory headed by the new Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu.

It is impossible for Hawaii to lay down in Washington definite facts and figures of tonnage that will immediately come to this port if the Kalihī harbor project is put through by the federal government. No man in the world is gifted with the divine knowledge necessary to foretell what changes in ocean commerce, what development, will follow the opening of the Panama canal. But any man who studies the Pacific situation, with the awakening Orient on one side and the productive and consuming American continents on the other, knows that Honolulu will be called upon to supply facilities for many times the present tonnage that now enters and leaves the port.

And if Honolulu is not ready, much of this tonnage will go elsewhere. It will not wait for Hawaii to get ready. Other arrangements for loading, for taking on water, will be made. Fast steamers will not stop where charges are high and wharfage facilities meager.

The Chamber of Commerce can afford no delay in laying its plans. It must have sound, vigorous arguments ready within sixty days. And in all probability it will be wise to send at least one man from this city, if only to reinforce Mr. S. M. Ballou, who may be counted upon to do energetic work.

The Star-Bulletin would suggest that a very potent argument to lay before the federal officials will be an offer from private property owners to donate free frontage along the Kalihī channel. When Secretary of the Interior Fisher was here, the Kalihī project was laid before him and he then spoke of the desirability of securing donations of land along the channel route, thus diminishing the expense of the work and avoiding much probable litigation and attendant delay.

If memory serves correctly, at least one estate with large holdings in this section readily agreed to such a donation.

If Honolulu can carry to Washington a definite proposition, it will be a big advantage in the campaign for Kalihī harbor. If the Chamber of Commerce can say to the federal government: "We are prepared to guarantee you a thousand-foot strip of land for the channel, free of cost and without delay," it will be an evidence of the good faith of this city and its belief in the necessity for the new harbor.

And the overwhelmingly important thing now at issue.

HE WHO VOTES FOR PROHIBITION

From an exchange is quoted the following editorial. It requires no reinforcement.

"Good Fellow, the Milwaukee liquor organ, in its issue for October 30, contains a lot of coarse abuse against the drunkard who votes for prohibition. From the liquor standpoint, he is about the limit.

"If there is any man on the top of the earth who should vote against the liquor traffic, it is the man whose life has been ruined by that same traffic.

"The liquor traffic insidiously works its way into a man's confidence, betrays him, poisons him with villainous drugs, so undermines his health and manhood that he has no self-control and then spits on him when he makes a feeble attempt to defend himself from further attacks.

"Instead of poisoning or killing such defectors, as the blind, the deaf, the lame, the paralyzed, we build hospitals for them and care for them at public expense.

"But those who are defective in having an appetite for strong drink which they cannot control, we pursue them; we throw them into jail, base their families into the streets and alleys; we ostracize and starve their wives and children. We do all this in order that brewery corporations may pay dividends, that strumpets may wear diamonds and that Pharisees may rent their rookeries at extortionate rates.

"And when the victim of the traffic, ground up in the cogs of this hideous machine, makes an honest effort to defend himself, the liquor trade papers kick him, revile him and abuse him.

"According to the Good Fellow theory, the drunkard is a dog who belongs to the saloon-keeper, to be kicked and cuffed around and who has no right to attempt to free himself from his bondage.

"The professional 'good fellow' who skins and starves the poor under that slogan is wholly out of tune with this country's civilization—he belongs to the Cannibal islands."

FROM COL. HARVEY

Col. George Harvey, editor of the North American Review, has never been a strong supporter of the Wilson administration and recently has criticised it severely.

Colonel Harvey is also a speaker of keen satiric wit. As an illustration of the viewpoint of many Americans on the Mexican situation, as well as an example of the Harvey wit, the following brief extract from a speech is worth reading:

But while our composite democratic mind may at times seem to be closed, it is never really locked. We are always ready and willing to learn. No reasonable person, of course, would have expected us to recognize the de facto government of Mexico after we had once put our heel in the ground in refusal, but you may have noticed that subsequently when precisely similar conditions arose in Peru and Haiti we lost not a moment in according recognition to what was, even though it seemed to our higher thought what it ought not to be, thus disproving conclusively accusations of obduracy and inattention to the demands of expediency. Never again, you may rest assured, shall we fall into the error depicted by Rameses II, when, in giving instructions to the nephew who was to succeed him, he defined the difference between a diplomat and a lady.

"If a diplomat," he observed, "says yes he means perhaps; if he says perhaps he means no; if he says no he is no diplomat. On the other hand, if a lady says no she means perhaps; if she says perhaps she means yes; if she says yes she is no lady." You may be certain that we shall not soon again definitely, inflexibly, and irrevocably negative the designation of a president of another nation. As the colored gentleman about to be hanged remarked, somewhat pathetically, "This experience is going to be a mighty good lesson to me."

So far as our other diplomatic endeavors are concerned, we direct attention to the difference familiar to all between theory and practice. We denounce dollar diplomacy instinctively. The very word "dollar" grated harshly upon our tender sensibilities. We could hardly sleep at night while Mr. Knox was making a sordid trade with Nicaragua. And yet when, after having been placed in authority, we listened, as was our duty, to the pleadings of those unhappy neighbors, we not only confirmed the transaction, but voluntarily threw in $3,000,000 to boot as evidence of good faith and kindly feeling, no less than of our own contempt for mere dross, so long as it can be extracted without undue attention from the treasury of the United States.

So, too, with Colombia. There was a clear case of the pressing need of righting a wrong, and we are doing it or trying to do it after a fashion fully illustrative of our magnanimous disregard of millions. That the injury was inflicted and that reparation should be made there can be no question, but why is it necessary to take $25,000,000 from our taxpayers, when but a few years ago $10,000,000 would have been most gratefully accepted, and to couple with this payment an expression of regret, closely approaching an apology for the action of a previous administration, along with the privilege of using our canal free of charge, may indeed seem to some as undue encroachment upon our generosity. So, at least, I am confident it will appear to the redoubtable huntsman whose comment upon his return we await with zealous anticipation.

HOW ABOUT HIS PLATFORM?

The indirect manner in which the candidacy of Senator Charles A. Rice for delegate was announced leaves it a matter of doubt as to whether the Kani man is ready with any kind of a platform to place before the voters. Of course Senator Rice will run as a Republican and on the general Republican platform. But the voters would like to hear from him upon the particular subject of Hawaii's representation at Washington, and as he has authorized an announcement of his candidacy, it is not too early to expect a prompt statement of the reasons that have impelled him to make the race.

HELP THE WELLESLEY BENEFIT.

There is a serious purpose behind "College Capers" tonight that should call forth the generous patronage of the people of Honolulu and the visitors residing here. Wellesley College, a splendid and historic institution that has been through its teachings and its students of very definite service to America, was recently stricken by a disastrous fire. Its many friends are now raising funds for a new college hall. A large attendance at tonight's event means a direct contribution to the education of many young women who will be denied it if Wellesley is unable soon to regain its lost facilities.

Sheriff Rose has promptly nailed the rumor that he intended to remove Captain of Detectives McDuffie and Sergeant Kellert. The new sheriff says he is playing no politics in his department. That's the kind of a clean-cut statement we like to hear and we look to Mr. Rose to live up to every word of it.

Just for a change, wouldn't it be refreshing to see a supervisor really hard at work to put the frontage tax laws into effect?

Washington will have to struggle along without Barron this summer. And Honolulu will have to struggle along with him.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—JACK M'VEIGH: All is fine on Molokai and the recent rains have done an immense amount of good.

—MAYOR J. J. FERN: I have had many invitations to leave during the past week. The price of pork ribs: be low.

—J. W. CALDWELL: I'm glad that the Mahukona wharf is finished. It is a nice piece of work and is going to be a great benefit to local shipping.

—SPENCER BOWEN: The Associated Charities is just "plugging along." There seems to be no depletion in the ranks of the unemployed.

—PAUL SUPER: Some big Y. M. C. A. men are going to visit Honolulu during the next several months. Sherwood Eddy, secretary of all Asia, will be the first one.

—JOHN NAPIER: Hilo looked alright the other day when I was over there. The two editors seem to like the town and the Tribune and Herald are booming along.

—GEORGE CLARK: I was surprised to see the announcement of my marriage in Saturday's Star-Bulletin. I thought I would be able to keep it quiet for a few days.

—J. SLAVENS M'NUTT: It is a bronze model of surf riders is placed at the head of Kalakaua avenue. It will furnish a fine opening for another statue worshipper.

—JAMES D. DOUGHERTY: I haven't quite completed my decision in the matter of a secretary. I may have some opinion to offer at the next meeting of the carnival directors.

—M. J. LINDSAY: If predictions count for anything, then I am going to predict that there is going to be a large flow of tourists into Honolulu from the mainland during the next few months.

—BISHOP HENRY BOND RES-STARICK: It is most interesting to note the large number of clergymen and delegates who are in attendance at the 12th annual convocation of the Episcopal church.

—H. P. WOOD: If the steamship and railroad companies and hotels on the mainland could be secured to boost the carnival as they are boosting Pineapple Day, I believe more people would avail themselves of a trip to Hawaii.

—ALFRED HACKETT: I may be classed as a vegetarian, but when the attempt is made to place me on a diet of lettuce and pumpkin, the red flag of rebellion was unfurled from the steward's department on the good ship Sierra.

—PIRLEY L. HORNE: After many years spent at Kamehameha school, it will be with a feeling of deep regret that I leave Honolulu. I may enter into educational work on the mainland, but I have made no definite arrangements as yet.

—E. A. MOTT-SMITH: Yes, I am now ensconced in a little office in the Stangenwald building. It is right near the office of the public utilities commission, and I will have a chance to drop in occasionally and talk things over with the new utilities chairman—when he is appointed.

—WALDO H. HEINRICH: Meet the newcomer! That's the slogan of a new committee which has been organized at the Y. M. C. A. The young man who comes to Honolulu for the first time is going to find a friend and advisor waiting to greet him when he steps off the steamer.

—JOHN EFFINGER: I would like to know the name of the Honolulu lady who addressed that letter to me regarding my plan of having the women of the territory join with the members of the Hawaii Fair Commission in the interest of the territory's exhibit and building at the exposition. Such letters are always welcome, however.

—SYDNEY JORDAN: Local nimrods are certainly making the most of the advantages offered along the leeward and windward coast of Oahu. A fine string of ulu rewarded the efforts of several parties of fishermen in the vicinity of Nanakuli. In visiting the district yesterday, I noted knights of the rod, reel and line stationed at all vantage points.

—L. B. REEVES: Captain Weisbarth's contemplated voyage of 2500 miles in a little two-masted sloop to the Gilbert islands should afford plenty of material for a series of ripping south sea yarns. Weisbarth has the reputation of having been shipwrecked on more mid-Pacific reefs and unhabited shoals than any skipper making Honolulu his home port.

Although the existence of natural gas in Hungary has been known for several years it was only recently that the first pipe line for its utilization was constructed.

It is estimated that close to $2,000,000 has been spent in building and equipping hydro-electric plants in the United States, which amount may be doubled by 1917.

Collapsible towers, adopted by the German army for searchlights and wireless telegraphy, are so light and compact that two men can carry a tower that extends to 160 feet.

A California scientist claims to have greatly increased the breeding capacity of sheep as well as their yield of wool by pasturing them under high voltage electric wires.

'THE EASIEST WAY' TELLS STORY AS OLD AS HILLS, WITHOUT SOLUTION

Little Lie Causes Much Pilikia, and Show Exposes Large Amount of Muck

THE CAST.

Laura Murdock.....Miss Oakley
William Brockton.....Guy Hittner
John Madison.....Mr. Webb
Annie, a servant.....Marie Baker
Jim Weston.....Jack Belgrave
Effie St. Clair.....Inez Ragau

"The Easiest Way," the current offering of The Players at the Bijou Theatre, is billed as "A powerful sociological drama." Possibly it is, but from a close observation of last night's performance it is hard to find any legitimate excuse for the offering.

"The Easiest Way" might as well be billed as a dramatization of the one-time popular melody "A man was the cause of it all." Or it might be presaged as "The drama that leaves a dark-brown taste."

About the only positive lesson carried by "The Easiest Way" is one that would shake the faith in human nature of the most optimistic. Although the cast is small, each of the members proves to be a character that could be thoroughly detected, with ease—the single exception being Jim Weston, former circusman and advance-agent, who never had any large opportunity to enter the crooked ranks.

Eugene Walters undoubtedly was writing for the coin and figured on striking a popular chord by laying down four acts of high-toned filth. New York's Stanford White-Harry Thaw ring was undoubtedly drawn upon by the dramatist as also was the George Graham Rice episode of the early Goldfield days. The muck that is raked in "The Easiest Way" is most positive but Walters fails to point a remedy. He portrays the filth and leaves an open festering sore. He has probably worked well for box-office receipts and the royalty but has failed to offer any improvement of a condition that is as old as the ages—but has had a better opportunity to blossom into a studied profession under the present day economic system of mammoth fortunes and indolent millionaires. "The Easiest Way" is a play without an excuse for being.

We Meet the Crooks.

The action opens in Denver and introduces an actress, Laura Murdock, minus ability but long on looks, who holds her job and lives on the fat of the land through the "friendship" of William Brockton, a wealthy Wall street manipulator, of crooked inclinations.

Laura meets and falls in love with John Madison, a young newspaper man, who is as poor as Brockton is rich. Laura decides that John is the only man and that she will renounce the life of ease for which she has bartered herself to Brockton. The actress goes to New York; the newspaper man stays in the West. Laura goes to "make good" in the chorus—and proves a dismal failure. Madison stays West to make a fortune, and, reversing the traditions of the newspaper game, he makes it. However, it is only a drama.

Before the parting of the ways Brockton promises Madison that, should Laura tire of the straight and narrow path she has chosen to tread and decide to return to the luxurious life that Brockton has to offer her, he, Brockton, will insist that Laura notify Madison that "love's young dream is over." When the time comes for this action, Brockton dictates a letter which Laura writes to Madison and then proceeds to feed it to the flames.

Peevish Over Little Lie.

This, it appears, makes Brockton out to be a liar and on this particular point he is very peevish. Living a life that is a lie from beginning to end; admitting that he is a "within the law" brand of crook and that he barter in women, this one particular little lie that he has, inadvertently, told, appears to have a peculiar effect upon the man. He takes this particular lie real seriously and as above stated it makes him particularly peevish. Thereby hangs the plot of the play.

Act II. shows Laura in her hall bedroom. No work, no chance of getting any for the reason that Brockton is blocking her every effort. Another woman, of the kind Laura has been, pays her a visit at about the time the landlady is demanding the back rent. With but a little coaxing Laura is willing to return to Brockton and the letter is written.

The third act shows Laura and Brockton in a fashionable hotel apartment, paid for by Brockton and enjoyed by both. A little "morning after" fight is in progress when a telegram arrives for Laura. More lies and more fighting result in Brockton learning that the message is from Madison, announcing the arrival in a few hours of the erstwhile newspaper man—now a Goldfield bonanza king. The secret of the letter that was never mailed comes out. A scene ensues and Brockton grows most peevish over that single lie. Brockton leaves and Madison enters, all set for the marriage ceremony, and, once more, Laura overlooks an opportunity of undoing that lie. She is given every opportunity but is afraid of losing the man she loves. The curtain falls with Laura packing trunks preparatory to her wedding and honeymoon trip West.

Just Can't Tell the Truth.

In the fourth act Laura continues to refuse to clear herself of the persistent little lie, adding to it with other lies to Madison—a most glib young man. Brockton returns and without addressing Laura or Madison, removes his overcoat, throws it across the foot of the bed and annexes one of his favorite cigars from a boxful that has been reposing on Laura's table, unnoticed by Madison. There is almost a killing at this point and the lie is exposed. Brockton purges his soul of that fearful lie; Madison repulses the advances of Laura and the latter prepares for a "big night" at Rector's, with further conquests.

In the third act Miss Oakley is particularly good but last night slow action on the part of the handler of the curtain spoiled her climax and compelled her to continue acting after the curtain should have dropped on a splendid finale. Aside from this act the popular leading lady of The Players slightly overacted her part, as did George Webb, as the newspaperman. Each was a trifle melodramatic.

"Raffles" the Next Bill.

Guy Hittner, in the role of Brockton, was good, as was Miss Inez Ragau as Effie St. Clair. As Annie the servant—who also proves entirely in keeping with the company of the play by her petty pilferings—Miss Marie Baker was exceptionally clever. Jack Belgrave, as Jim Weston, a minor role, was good.

It is probable that The Players would extend themselves a little more were they receiving the support of which they are worthy on past performance. The aggregation has presented some sterling offerings and presented them in first-class manner and the small house of last night was not conducive to the best efforts of the actors. On the other hand, should the performance commence at 8:00 instead of 8:30 it is possible that a larger house might be the result.

"The Easiest Way" will continue tonight and tomorrow night, to be followed by that popular detective play "Raffles."

—W. W.

BOOKLOVERS CROWD CROSSROADS TO GET MANY BIG BARGAINS

When the doors of the Crossroads Bookshop opened this morning for the inauguration of their mammoth removal sale, there was such a scramble for opportunities to view the various bargains that late comers were forced to wait quite a time before aisles were sufficiently cleared to allow actual sales to be made.

And it is no wonder that so many booklovers thronged into the store. Prices on sets of standard works have been mercilessly reduced; recent fiction has been cut until profits were glimmering; gift books, some of them very beautiful and all of them worthy, were selling for only a fraction of their cost—in fact, every book in the store is a genuine bargain.

It was noticed that army folks were there in strength, they being the ones who greatly appreciate good books. The sale will continue for several days. And there are thousands of bargains left—though the most important ones are expected to be quickly snapped up.

Manston, Wis.—"At the Change of Life I suffered with pains in my back and loins until I could not stand. I also had night-sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night-sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I know I have to thank you for my continued good health ever since."—Mrs. M. J. BROWNELL, Manston, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

PLAYGROUND WILL BENEFIT THROUGH PERFORMANCE

Every seat for the entertainment at Ye Liberty theater on Friday evening, ought to sell with a rush—in fact, the house should be sold out the very first day. No worthier cause has yet claimed the attention of the good folk of this city than the cause which this entertainment is to benefit.

Every cent of the receipts that night will be devoted to purchasing equipment for the Beretania playground, and for the running expenses (other than salaries for the workers) of maintaining that playground in an efficient condition for the good work it has to do. If money is not soon obtained it is feared that the playground may have to close down—and this would work an untold hardship on the thousands of children to whom this place is the one good breathing spot of their young lives.

Every person, from Elsa Cross Howard, Carlos Caceres, the Geisha girls, the Hawaiian singers, through to the management of the theater, the lessor of the films, and the loyal ones who are striving to make the affair a success—all have donated their services freely to this cause and the general public is sure to do its part.

The various features of the entertainment will include piano solos by Carlos Caceres, four splendid moving pictures, folk dances by Elsa Cross Howard, fine Hawaiian music by a selected galaxy of singers, dance of the nations, etc., etc.

Let us get together, good people, and help the Beretania playground to get on its feet financially. It is do-

LURLINE IN ROLE OF BENEFACTOR

Entirely innocent of the role she was playing in more than one little romance, the steamer Lurline, upon her arrival, certainly averted what ever "pukia" that might have estranged many happy romancers had she not brought a fresh supply of "Orange Blossom" Candles to the Honolulu Drug Co., where they are kept fresh and delicious in a special case.—advertisement.

POINTERS ON SELECTING INCUBATOR, FROM DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

[By Latest Mail]

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Users of incubators are given the following suggestions in a new free publication of the department of agriculture entitled "Natural and Artificial Incubation of Hens' Eggs." (Farmers' Bulletin No. 685).

See that the incubator is running steadily at the desired temperature before filling with eggs. Do not add fresh eggs to a tray containing eggs which are undergoing incubation.

Turn the eggs twice daily after the second and until the nineteenth day. Cool the eggs once daily, according to the weather, from the seventh to the nineteenth day.

Turn the eggs before caring for the lamp.

Attend to the machine carefully at regular hours.

Keep the lamp and wick clean.

Test the eggs on the seventh and fourteenth days.

Do not open the machine after the eighth day until the chickens are hatched.

In setting up and operating an incubator follow the directions of the manufacturer. There are a large number of reliable American-made incubators, but the department cannot recommend any particular kind. It does advise, however, that poultry raisers select an incubator that has already given satisfaction in the vicinity where it is to be used. As the cost of the machine is small compared with the eggs it hatches, it is a good investment to get a well-constructed incubator instead of a cheap one, which requires more attention and wears out quicker. The equipment of most incubators is so subject to change that particular lamps, regulators, etc., cannot be recommended. The lamp, however, should have a bowl large enough to hold enough oil to burn 36 hours under average weather conditions; should be easy to remove and replace, should set absolutely tight in position, and be at a convenient height.

Larger incubators preferable.

An incubator holding 60 eggs calls for as much time and care as one holding 360, and for ordinary use, a machine of at least 150 egg capacity seems most satisfactory. On those large farms that use individual-lamp incubators, the machine usually holds from 300 to 400 eggs, and a small machine is sometimes used for a preliminary test, the eggs being transferred to the large incubator after the first or second test. Large machines cost less in proportion to the number of eggs they hold than smaller ones. However, smaller machines are valuable under special conditions, as for preliminary testing.

Chickens are more even in size when they are all hatched within a short time of each other than when the incubating period is extended over many weeks. Many poultrymen, therefore, believe that it pays to have an incubator large enough to hatch most of their stock in two, or at most, three hatches. Much time in tending to the incubators and brooders is saved in this way. A fair estimate for a poultry farm is to have the incubator hold as many eggs as there are hens, provided that about one-half of the flock is to be renewed yearly and no outside hatching is carried on.

Well-ventilated room needed.

A well-ventilated room, which is not subject to great variations in temperature, should be selected for the incubator. If built above ground, the wall should be double and the entire building insulated. In sections that have a mild climate, machines may be operated in buildings with single walls, but a well-insulated room is always preferable.

Where only a few small machines are used they generally run in a room or cellar of the house. Good results in hatching may be secured in cellars as well as in rooms, and these are more commonly used. Many of these cellars are provided with some system of ventilation beside windows, muslin screens on the windows often providing good ventilation without draft, and keeping the sun from shining on the machines. Cement floors are easier to keep clean than dirt floors. Where the equipment is extensive, a special cellar or house should be provided.

How to Operate a Machine.

In setting up the machine, get it perfectly level. Do not plane off the door if it sticks, until the machine has been heated up and thoroughly dried. Run the machine at about 102 deg. Fahrenheit for a day before putting in the eggs. Afterwards do not touch the regulator for several hours as it takes this time for the machine to come back to its regular temperature.

The temperature should remain nearly even. When the bulb of the thermometer rests directly on the eggs the temperature is usually held at 101½ deg. Fahrenheit the first week, 102 deg. to 109 deg. Fahrenheit the second week, and 103 deg. Fahrenheit the last week; while a hanging thermometer is operated at about 102 deg. to 102½ deg. Fahrenheit the first two weeks, and 103 deg. Fahrenheit the last week.

The eggs tend to throw off more heat as they develop, so that occasionally the regulator needs to be changed slightly, but it should not be changed any more than is absolutely necessary. The temperature of the egg chamber may be lowered by lowering the flame of the lamp in the middle of the day. Regulate the incubator before opening the door to tend to the eggs. Most operators tend to their machines two or three times daily.

Causes of Poor Hatches.

The cause of poor hatches is a much discussed question, which depends on a great variety of circumstances. A poor hatch is more apt to be due to the condition of the eggs previous to hatching than to incubation, although improper handling of either factor will produce the same results. When eggs fail to hatch, see whether the breeding stock is kept under conditions which tend to produce strong, fertile germs in the eggs. If the eggs have been handled properly before incubation, and whether the conditions were right during incubation, as judged by the time of the hatch.

A daily temperature record should be kept of each machine. The operator can thus compare the temperature at which the machines have been kept, which may prove valuable in the future work, especially if the brooder records can be checked back against those of the incubator.

Every poultry raiser who contemplates setting up an incubator is advised to write for the new bulletin, to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Among other details it has paragraphs on moisture and ventilation, testing eggs and disinfecting and strong incubators.

EMPIRE THEATER

Displaying acting that gives no cause for criticism, with setting notably appropriate, and a real story told in photographic action, the tale of "The Burning River," which requires several thousand feet of film to produce, will be a feature at the afternoon and evening performances at the Empire theater. There is material for a stirring drama in the plot that is easily understood and one of absorbing interest.

A film entitled "Fickle Fortune a Favor" is a picture destined to contain many a laugh. As a comedy it is one of the best received in a large shipment today.

A dramatic production from one of the best producing companies on the coast is "The Adopted Brother." Wednesday's star attraction is called "The Reformer." Several late comedy releases will be displayed at the Empire on this date.

CARRANZA WOULD BE PROVISIONAL RULER OF MEXICO

Says He Holds Two-Thirds
Mexico, and Should Be Recognized By Mediators

EL PASO, Tex., June 2.—(Associated Press by Federal Wire)—General Carranza, directing head of the Constitutionalist yesterday issued a statement to the American press in which he says that the agreement of the South American mediators in regard to the Constitutionalists makes all the Constitutionalists laugh. He says the mediators have never settled the problem in their own countries.

Carranza declares that the commander-in-chief of the Constitutionalist should be the provisional president of Mexico pending the holding of an election and the restoration of peace, which he says will be within a few months if he is let alone.

Carranza wonders how the peace commissioners imagine they can force any other program on an army which is already in possession of two-thirds of Mexico and which he says will soon hold all of the country.

He declares that any concessions to Huerta are impossible and is astonished that the Constitutionalist, although they are conquerors in the present revolution, are ignored in the peace proceedings at Niagara Falls.
