Better Light. In all times the rich man has been a target for the shafts of writers, and never more so than in these days of our own. It is somewhat novel, therefore, and indeed refreshing to discover in Ian Maclaren, es sentially a man of the people, a champion of the much berated possessor of wealth His is a qualified a . I discriminating ap preciation, it is true, and the more interesting because of these conditions.

put this man in a pillory, says the distin- line. guished Scotch author, and to make play with him and to leave the impression that any scribbler who could string together a few verses, although neither he nor his verses had any claim to character, stood higher by the truest standards of worth and was of more value to the community. This man is also apt to give himself away by too often insisting on his own history and by speaking as with his own sword and bow, and not by the good favor of the Almighty, he had achieved his success. But it is common speech which does him most injustice and quite confuses the situation, For it is asked, "How much is he worth?" and then the answer is given in figures. I this were indeed the exact value, surely hi life had been a sad flusco, and he blinself was of no account. What he is worth is another thing from what he possesses, and if you go into the matter his fortune becomes a mere symbol to be transferred from figures into qualities. Just as half a dozen books stamped with university arms show that a young scholar has made a fair beginning in culture or a simple bronze cross on a soldier's breast proves that be has played the man on the field of battle, se does honorable success in business bear witness to character. It means that a fel-low man called to his work in his calling has not been idle and careless, flinging away his opportunities and denying his duties. It means that he has not yielded to the lower impulses of his nature and done foolishly, to the weakening of his mind and body. It means that he has resisted temptation to trickery, deceit and unprincipled work of all kinds. This #10, 000 or £100,000 is in itself only dust and vanity. But consider it as x and work the equation out, and it reads industry, perseverance, thrift, intelligence, self denial, integrity. This gold is but another word for brain and conscience and proves that one has done the work laid to his hand with all his might, and in so do ing has built up his manhood. A few months ago, Mr. Myron Every, of Woodstock, Mich., was badly afflicted with rheumatism. His right leg was swollen the full length, causing him great suffering. He was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The first bottle of it helped him considerably and the second bottle effected a cure. For sale by all druggists and dealers. Strange Story About a Bicycle.

A young man lost his wheel in Boston a year ago, and although the detectives of that city did their utmost they were unable to apprehend the thief. Several other wheels had been taken in Boston, and the police lost all track of them. The rider in question journeyed to Europe a few months later, and while walking down the Strand in London turned to observe a wheel that looked extremely familiar. It stood up against a second hand store and was battered and worn. What was the young man's surprise to identify the wheel that had been stolen from him several months before. He presented a claim of ownership, but was unable to get possession of his former property.

Sprocket Wheels.

There can be no patent on the size of sprocket wheels. If any advantage is found in them, all the bicycle makers will equip their wheels accordingly. At the headquarters of one concern in this city the inquirer will be told that if he wishes large sprockets he can have them, but the new model now on exhibition has sprockets with 19 and 8 teeth, respectively-that is, a gear of 66 1/2. -New York Press.

DON'T CHANGE THE HOUR.

Several parents of children in the public schools have been to this office to ask The Star to state a possible grievance. They seem to have a notion that opening hours of school are going to be changed. Such a move was contemplated by some members of the Board a few months ago, but the matter was then dropped. It appears to have arisen again. There is no doubt but that a regulation opening the schools an hour earlier than is now done would prove a distinct hardship upon the majority of families. This is a city in which the families largely do their own domestic work. True the people rise early, but the beds have to be made, the rooms swept, the younger children have to be washed and dressed, and in this the elder children all have to help. This of fairly well-to-do families who can afford to keep a cook. It would be hard upon such families if a new regulation were to go into force, for, as the work of the house must be done, as one of those who spoke to the writer said, "Who would do the work? Why, the already overburdened mother."

But if it would fall hard upon people of this class it would fall far harder upon the poorer classes, where, in addition to the domestic duties mentioned above, the housewife has to do the cooking, among the Portuguese, where the father goes early to labor, the children have to attend to the garden patch and see that it is watered, they have to milk the goat and do a hundred necessary duties. You will never see Portuguese children playing about the roads in the early morning, they have too much to do. It only requires a visit to the slopes of Punchbowl to prove the fact.

The convenience of the parents and children is what should be paramount with the Board of Education, The idea of opening school earlier emanated, it 6, has his breakfast served by some ing to do or children to wash and dress, etc., it must appear feasible to begin earlier-and to such the advantage would be, in many cases, a pecunlary one, for, closing early, they would be in a position to gain half a. day's work in the afternoon.

The fact is that whoever did propose the change must have done it without due thought of the social conditions of the people here. In a boarding school it is possible to begin at any hour. The wilter, in his school days, began school at 6 in the morning during the summer months, and with intervals for play and meals, closed at 9 in the evening. But that is not the kind of work that can be done here. In such places the whole attention of both teachers and pupils is given to other beautiful poems, was also an instudy, and there are plenty of servants to do the household duties for all. With us, the major part of the population can only hope to get a common school education, and that does not require very lengthened hours for its acquirements. Those hours should be at such a time in the day as is most suitable.

The above is written from the standpoint of the city, but the writer firmly believes that it holds good for most places in the country. Consulting with a country teacher much the same arguments were used as set forth above. Therefore it is urged "Don't Change the Hour!"

President Diaz Issued on to American commerce. That the fore- edict to the effect that no heer except east of The Star was not wide of the mark is shown by the following.

Recently a line of eight steamers has been established between Japanese and Australian ports by a Japanese Company. The steamers are up to date and the occasion was celebrated at Melbourne. Of course the Japanese Don't miss them.

This is text enough to preach aunexation of the Hawaiian islands to the United States. How can the peoas not to see the danger which is ris ing in the future? Of course the above utterances have caused great displeasure in the Australian colonies, for they contain practically a threat that if they do not commercially and politically play into the hands of the Japanese, they may look out for something unpleasant in the willing to make use of them as long as it suits her to "dominate the Pacifie" with their assistance. When it doesn't suit she will dominate the Paeific and the Australian colonies too That is the plain English of the atter-

If a Japanese official feels himself at liberty to talk to the powerful coloaial governments of the South in this strain, what might not be said to the Republic of Hawaii, As a fact nothing will be said, because the Japanese Government looks upon the islands as a fruit ripe for plucking when necessary, unless the American Government chooses to annex us. The policy of Japan is to keep us independent until the appointed time. It will keep us supplied with labor, it will flood us with tramp steamers and "students" with dummy cheques in their pockets, and it will compete with our merhardly a line of articles that the Japanese do not manufacture. Only yes terday the writer saw a Japanese electric battery in use, and a very well manufactured article it was,

Meanwhile a party here and a party facts before their eyes, clamor against annexation. The Star maintains that annexation is not only vital to the but that it is vital to the whole cause of Angle Saxon civilization in the Pacific. On the other hand there are many seismic observers who do not believe in the theory, and who claim that animals show fear during the shock but not before it. It would be interesting to have the views of observers in Hilo, Kan and Kona upon the subject. The Kau and Hilo people are always getting little shakes. If they have not yet given their minds to the subject they might now, The Star will see that their observations are sent to "Cosmon" and duly chron-

Manager William Murray, of the Bank of British Columbia, accompanied by Mrs. Murray, reached Honolu- of prices?" lu today from Vancouver by the Warwaiian and will remain on the islands until the arrival of the next Canadian steamer, the Miowern, for Canada,

Mr. slurray is on a well-earned vacation. He is glad to get away from business for a brief spell and hopes that his sojourn in Hawaii will be a beneficial one as regards his health.

"You have a very attractive little country here,' said Mr. Murray this morning, "and it strikes me that you should have more tourist travel than you do. Of course having no communication with the outside world prevents a great many from coming here who otherwise would be delighted to spend their vacation here. On the other hand, it would be a most ideal place for a man who would like to get away from his business.

"But, by the way, I understand that now it is only a question of time before you get a cable. I know that our Government is very anxious that a cable should be laid across the Pacific and is willing to do its share toward accomplishing that end. To be in touch with current sugar quotations would be a big thing for Hawali, if nothing else.

"There is no reason why there should not be established a good trade between British Columbia and these islands," continued Mr. Murray. "Especially in tourist travel. The people there hanker after a decided change in the air, and they get just what they want here. Hawaiian sugar, I believe, would find a good limited market in Vancouver. We have a sugar refinery in operation there now, the sugar being brought from Peru and Java. 1 am a particular admirer of Kona coffee and it could easily secure favor in my country if properly pushed.

"British Columbia is slowly building up. We are so far away from European centers as well as far Eastern Canada that our progress has been slow. The cost of reaching the country is very high. However, there is considerable activity in gold, silver and coal mining. Several big gold and silver propositions have been opened quite recently. "I am willing to swear that so far rimoo. They are staying at the Ha- as I know there is no such agreement." Henry O. Havemeyer, president of the American Sugar Refining Co , described the organization of the sugar Trust in 1887. The assets, real and personal, of the fifteen companies, were purchased by the American Refinery Company at the time of the annilgamation. Asked by Senator Lexow if the directors of the fifteen orgainal refineries were not the directors of the present sugar company, Mr. Havemeyer said that six of the origihal directors, with the addition of William Parsons, were still on the directory board of the American Sugar Refinery Company. Asked where the original document of agreement case Mr. Havemeyer sale be did not know. and doubted its existence new.

The American Sugar Redning Con pater, of New Jersey, Mr. Havemeyer said, took the place in 1891, of the former so-called trust. It was nonthrough purchase. The new company acquired all the property owned ! the trust, and no more, and was ea-Italized tirst at $50,000,000, afterwards increased to $75,000,000. The greater part of the $25,000,000 increase was used in the purchase of the Philadelphia property.

In answer to direct questions Mr. Havemeyer denied categorically that his company controlled the sugar market in the United States; fixed the price of refined sugar; controlled the product of sugar, or that it had an agreement with the Mollenhauser concern, the National or the St. Louis.

Senator Lexow called Mr. Havemeyer's attention to the fact that he had testified in 1894 before the United States Senate committee that the company controlled the sugar market up to the importing point.

"That was true at that time," replied Mr. Havemeyer. "Competition BOOKS, has changed since then." "Do you ship sugar west of the Missouri in competition with Mr. Spreckels?" asked Senator Lexow. "Did you enter into an agreement with Spreckels not to compete with him west of the Missouri?" "Certainly not. Competition with him there is not possible. It is purely a question of geography. Where the sugar would cost us 11/2 cents there, it costs him half a cent." Retired From Practice.

PUBLISHED BOTH IN ENGLISH AND JAPANESE.

First Number Issued Last Saturday The Object of the New Publication-A Bright Japanese Editor-Weekly.

The Kona Echo is the latest weekly. It is published at Kona, Hawaii. Japanese named II. S. Hayashi is the editor. Copies are made on a mimeograph. It is printed in both the English and Japanese languages. Most of the space is devoted to the latter.

The editor says: "It is not our intention to give much space to utlining the object of this paper. The outstanding one is, of course, to aid in the progress of the district and its people. This we shall constantly bear in mind. As a locality, we st times want a hearing. We believe that the "Echo" will be a better means of giving voice to our local wants than that offered by the press of Honolulu, which has so much to do in attending to the important events happening near home that distant communities can not at all times be given one. We shall be pleased to have the planters of this district exchange news on coffee culture; and also give the result of their experiments in new methods of cultivation, in these columns. That part of the "Kona Echo" printed in the Japanese language is principally devoted to the moral and educational welfare of our countrymen."

The following local news appears in the first issue:

Mr. Kane, who passed through this district some two or three months ago Having established a modern plant companied by Mr. Kinnersly of Kohala. The object of their visit, we believe, is to prune the coffee trees of the Kona Coffee Co. Mr. Kane is an old Ceylon Coffee planter.

Two new sections of the Government road, those of Kahuluu and Keauhou in North Kona, have been started and are getting along nicely.

That part of the new road from the Hawaiian Coffee and Tea Company's stables to the home of Mr. M. F. Scott is being rapidly put in shape; and one can now canter a horse over it without being in constant fear of having his neck broken.

Antone Fernandes, the wine merhant of Honolulu, is up here looking after his cattle interests. He returns to Honolulu on the 15th inst.

The Government band will give a noonlight concert at Makee Island at 7:30 o'clock this evening. Following is the program:

The Carter White Lead Company stands ready at any and all times by practical tests to prove that the Carter Lead will cover one-fourth more sur-face, and do it better, than any brand of lead manufactured by what is known as the old Dutch Process, and also to prove its superiority in body whiteness and durability.

We invite practical painters to make independent tests by carefully measuring surface and weighing the leads to be tested and then comparing results which will in every instance prove that

Carter Lead will cover onefourth more surface

The superiority of Carter Lead is due to improved methods and the putting into use the very latest machinery by which a perfect corrosion is obtained and, consequently, when you purchase a keg of Carter Lead you get a keg of Lead that is perfectly corroded.

A keg of Carter White Lead is All Paint.

The new plant recently put in operation in Chicago is the largest in the world and the combined output of the Chicago and Omaha factories places the Carter Company ia a position to fill all orders promptly.

There is more Carter White Lead sold than any other brand manufactured in the United States.

Ten Good Reasons

why you should Use Carter Lead.

The Carter White Lead is absolutely pure.

The Carter White Lead will cover one-fourth more surface and the Carter White Lead will cover one-fourth more surface and the Carter White Lead is absolutely pure. 1st. The Carter White Lead is abso-than any other paint. 4th. The Carter White Lead Company is independent of all trusts.

The Carter White Lead is much whiter than any other lead

6th. The Carter White Lead is much finer and superior for inside or flat work.

7th. The Carter White Lead will take more oil than any other lead. 8th. The Carter White Lead is superior

The Carter White Lead works Japanese Dry Goods smoother under the brush.

Twenty-five Test Boards painted during the year 1896 substantiate all of the above reasons.

This White Lead has been tried in Honolulu, and all that is claimed for it has been proven true.

The Head of the House Thought of Mak ing His Wife an Allowance, but Changed Ris Mind Very Suddenly - The Lesson Learned by Poor Mrs. Bowser.

Mrs. Bowser crossed the room and sat down and picked up a book, and Mr. Bow-ser got up and crossed his hands under his coattails and walked about. He finally stopped before her, and, balancing himself on heels and toes, he said:

"Mrs. Bowser, I had planned to spend a pleasant evening with you. I came home with a heart full of love and kindness, and I was ready to do anything to show how much I appreciated my home."
