“Three Men In a Boat” : They Advertised. That's How

EVENING BULLETIN

3:00 O'CLOCK

They Bought It. EDITION

Many a man has an "It" that doesn't know how to advertise. When you feel that your trade is not returning you all the credit it should and you want it to wake up and do right by you that you may get out of it what you put in—and a little more—sit down and think it over. If you do not advertise your palm will itch forever. Be business-like and advertise.

Masons Were Guests Of Pacific Lodge At Installation Banquet

Pacific lodge No. 822, A. F. & A. M., installed its newly elected officers at the Masonic Temple last evening. The installation ceremonies were conducted by Acting District Grand Master Henry E. Cooper, assisted by Masters and Past Masters of the sister lodges. At the close of the ceremonies in the lodge room Past Master E. O. White, in behalf of the lodge, presented the retiring Right Worshipful Master C. J. Hutchins, with a Past Master's Jewel.

Following the lodge room work the large gathering of members and visitors adjourned to the banquet hall. Past Master Hutchins presided as Toastmaster.

Past Master Spalding, responding to the toast "Masonry," said in part:

The cause that brings us here tonight is one that has received the tribute of gifted minds and eloquent tongues from time immemorial to the present day. I regret that I have not the ability proportionate with my desire to do the subject justice. It is a theme old as the hills, yet overflowing with vitality like the fabled spring of perpetual youth that the Spaniards vainly sought in Florida. The theme of Masonry, that brotherhood which, in the eloquent language of an orator of our most Worshipful Grand Lodge of California, has been compared to the giant redwood—the sequoia—of the Sierras; its birth of profound antiquity, its growth steady and vigorous, defying the tempest blast and lightning bolt through ages that have witnessed the building and destruction of King Solomon's Temple, the birth and crucifixion of Christ, and the rise and fall of many empires, until today it stands a tower of majesty and strength. Unlike the monarch of the forest, however, no vandyke axe men desecrate our institution, the sound principles of Masonry and the devotion of the craft are guarantees of its stability. I can pay no higher tribute to those principles than to say that they comprise the sum of man's duty to God, his country, his neighbor and himself, but it rests with us Brother

NAVAL TRANSPORT SOLAGE IN PORT

The U. S. Naval transport Solage arrived from San Francisco this morning. She was docked at the Pacific Mail wharf at about 9 o'clock. The Solage made a very fast voyage. She left San Francisco December 17, between 8 and 4 p. m. During the first couple of days out a heavy swell was experienced. The rest of the voyage was accompanied by excellent weather. The speedy transport made good time, arriving off Molokai at 8 o'clock last night.

The transport brings about 500 tons of general provisions and ammunition for the vessels of Admiral Evans' fleet, which will be transferred to the different vessels here.

Among the passengers is Carpenter B. H. Pender, U. S. N., who stationed at the local Naval Station. To Carpenter Pender's work the Naval Station owes a great part of its present improvements. He left Hawaii about fourteen months ago and has since then been stationed on duty at the Norfolk Navy Yard. He was transferred back to the local station at his own request and stated this morning that he was exceedingly pleased to return to the sunny shores of Hawaii. Mrs. Pender accompanies him.

Among the other passengers on board the Solage is Mrs. J. A. Merritt, who comes to visit her son Lieutenant Merritt of the cruiser Cincinnati.

Mrs. Maud A. H. Dismukes goes to join Lieutenant Dismukes, U. S. N., in Hongkong. She will go in the Solage to Cavite whence she will continue her voyage to her destination in another vessel.

The following is a full list of the saloon passengers on the Solage:

Paymaster E. F. Bonafon, U. S. N.; Civil Engineer E. L. Parsons, U. S. N.; Carpenter B. D. Pender, U. S. N.; Pay Clerk D. H. Garrison, U. S. N.; John A. Merritt, Mrs. Maud A. H. Dismukes and child, Mrs. B. D. Pender and child, Honolulu.

The naval transport carries 145 marines and sailors, some of whom are to be placed on board the U. S. S. Supply, the station ship at Guam. Others are to go on duty on the U. S. gunboat Wilmington, which is on Asiatic station.

The list of officers of the Solage is as follows:

Commander F. Singer, U. S. N., Commanding; Lieut. Comdr. A. G. Rogers, U. S. N., Executive; Lieut. C. N. Offley, U. S. N., Chief Engineer; Lieut. T. T. Craven, U. S. N., Surgeon; F. J. B. Corbett, U. S. N., Paymaster; H. H. Balch, (Continued on Page 8.)

Federal Government Will Maintain Lights Along Territory's Shores

Washington, Dec. 24, 1903. Tell Governor government will maintain lights.

W. O. Smith received this morning the cablegram given above showing the quick action of the Federal Government upon learning that on January 1, 1904, the lighthouses would have to go out of business on account of the lack of a Territorial appropriation.

For many months the Territorial government has been struggling to get the Federal government to maintain the lighthouses of the Islands but has never met with any success until now.

When the Senatorial Commission was here, it was sought to impress upon the members the necessity of some action by the Federal government. The meagre funds of the Territory were placed before this body and so far as the Commission was concerned an impression was made to such an extent that favorable legislation was recommended in the report on the investigations here.

There the matter rested. Not long ago the public was treated to the startling statement that on account of the lack of an appropriation, the lights along the shores throughout the Islands would have to be dispensed with. It did not take long for this intelligence to reach Washington. In fact, Delegate Kuhl was in full possession of the facts when he left for the Capitol and said at the time that he would on his best to get an appropriation. Undoubtedly he has been working hard for the happy consummation, news of which arrived here today. The President also gave this matter special mention in his message.

The failure to maintain the lights after January 1, 1904, would have resulted in a serious menace to shipping, both local and foreign, and the news received today will undoubtedly serve to make happy the heart of many a mariner.

RUSSIA CONCEDES JAPAN'S REQUEST

[Associated Press Special Cable.] BERLIN, Dec. 24.—The Japanese legation at Berlin has received an intimation that Russia will concede to the requests made by Japan. Should this be confirmed and there is every reason to believe it authentic, the tension over the Far Eastern problem will be greatly relieved. Japan, while not absolutely refusing Russia's proposals, requested a further conference.

TOMORROW'S SPORTS

The sports of the navy for tomorrow afternoon are still hanging fire. At all events, the boat races will begin at 1:30 o'clock and last until probably 3:30 o'clock. There can be no change now since about 500 invitations to town people have been sent out and the major part of these are expected aboard various vessels of the fleet.

In all probability the baseball games will be played simultaneously with the racing in the harbor, the first to begin at 2 o'clock. The best game will be reserved for the last in order that those who attend the boat races may have a chance to take in the other end of the day's sports also.

TEXT OF HATCH BILL

Following is a copy of the County ratification bill introduced in Congress by Delegate Kuhl Dec 10:

A Bill to approve Act Numbered Thirty-one of the session of nineteen hundred and three of the legislature of the Territory of Hawaii, approved April twenty-second, nineteen hundred and three, entitled "An act providing for the organization and government of counties and districts, and the management and control of public works and public institutions therein."

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That Act Numbered thirty-one of the session of nineteen hundred and three of the legislature of the Territory of Hawaii, entitled "An act providing for the organization and government of counties and districts, and the management and control of public works and public institutions therein," approved April twenty-second, anno Domini nineteen hundred and two, be, and the same is hereby, approved and constituted a law of the said Territory of Hawaii, anything in the provision of an Act of the Congress of the United States of America entitled "An Act to provide a government for the Territory of Hawaii," approved April thirtieth, nineteen hundred and three, to the contrary notwithstanding.

Sec. 2. That the election held in the Territory of Hawaii on the third day of November, anno Domini nineteen hundred and three, under and by virtue of the provision of said act of the legislature of the Territory of Hawaii, be, and the same is hereby, legalized.

IRON WORKS MEN RECEIVE A CHRISTMAS GIFT

At 12 o'clock noon today, the men of Honolulu Iron Works gathered in the shops, it having been announced that they were to receive a visit from the officers of the corporation who would have something to say to them. Immediately Messrs. C. Hedemann, F. M. Swanzy and J. Dyer appeared before the men.

Mr. Swanzy, president of the Honolulu Iron Works, spoke of the appreciation which the management felt of the work of the men in the shops. In the early days when T. H. Davies was at the head of the institution, there were but a very few men employed and each was known by name and could be entertained from time to time. Now it was different. The force had swelled to hundreds so that the management could not meet them daily. In fact, he himself did not know the great majority of the men even by sight. How-an enjoyable program listened to.

There were in the neighborhood of seventy-five men present from the fleet. The hall was very prettily decorated for the occasion.

AWARDED CONTRACTS

WORK OF HEALTH BOARD DISPOSED OF YESTERDAY

A. W. CARTER TALKS ON BEEF AND LOW PRICE THAT HITHERTO PREVAILED—DR. BARRY REPORTS.

The Board of Health met yesterday afternoon at the usual time and placed John C. Lane, the new member of the Board, attended for the first time. The principal business before the Board was the awarding of bids. There was only one bid for cattle for Kalaupapa, to average 50 head a month, at not less than 200 lbs. weight each. A. W. Carter was present representing the Parker Ranch, which made the bid. He said that while the contract price was 1-1/4 cents more than last year's good beef was worth 9-1/4 cent dressed now. The Board had gotten its best too cheaply before.

Superintendent McVeigh pointed out several advantages in the new contract, among them that the contractor assumes all risk of loss of cattle in shipping them.

The following contracts were awarded for supplies for Kalaupapa and the Insane Asylum.

KALAUPAPA.

Allen & Robinson, Ltd., doors, window sash one size, boiled oil.

California Feed Co., wheat.

Theo. H. Davies & Co., Ltd., wheat bran, Eagle condensed milk, canned salmon.

H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., lime, baking powder, mess beef, canned, flour, matches, Milkmaid condensed milk, kerosene oil, Hawaii rice.

E. O. Hall & Son, Ltd., 8 d cut nails, white lead, galvanized iron pipe three sizes, guava charcoal.

Honolulu Iron Works, iron pipe three sizes.

J. A. Hopper & Co., Ltd., iron pipe three sizes.

Lewers & Cooke, Ltd., six items of lumber, window sash one size, 8 d and 3d galvanized nails.

Lewis & Co., Rose condensed milk, best red salmon, salt.

Love's Bakery, medium bread.

H. May & Co., Ltd., green Kona coffee, No. 1 sugar.

M. W. McChesney & Sons, roasted Kona coffee, brown soap.

Pacific Hardware Co., Ltd., turpentine.

Wilder's Steamship Co., coal in bags.

INSANE ASYLUM.

California Fruit Co., oranges, Kona oranges, large prunes, small prunes.

Theo. H. Davies & Co., Ltd., apricots, baking powder, Bayo beans, California cheese, canned corn, flour, leaf lead, Eagle condensed milk, canned pears, canned peaches, potatoes, best red salmon, coarse salt, washing soda, granulated sugar.

H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., mill brooms, Boston card matches, kerosene oil, Hawaiian rice, canned tomatoes.

George H. Holt, fresh island eggs.

Honolulu Dairymen's Association, fresh milk.

Lewis & Co., yard brooms, macaroni, sweet potatoes, spaghetti, punchong tea.

H. May & Co., Ltd., fresh apples, white beans, corned beef, cooking butter, green Kona coffee, California oranges, extra mess pork, No. 1 sugar.

Metropolitan Meat Co., Ltd., beef four descriptions.

Love's Bakery, fresh and medium bread.

Pacific Hardware Co., Ltd., steam boat brooms, large mops.

Wilder's Steamship Co., coal.

M. W. McChesney & Sons, brown soap. Though not the lowest bid, the article offered is home manufacture.

There was read a letter from Territorial Physician Atchery, of Kohala, in regard to the matter of W. Kapela, who refused to pay a bill of $2.50 for medical attendance and had been charged. He claimed that he was indigent. Dr. Atchery stated that Kapela made about $60 a month and was by no means indigent. The Board decided that Kapela could not be considered indigent.

Dr. Mary Barry, medical examiner of the girls' schools, reports that she had examined 29 schools, 1388 children were examined; 217 vaccinations had been made, of which 163 were successful and 54 unsuccessful. Health certificates had been granted to 1384 children.

A recommendation by Sanitary Inspector Vethesen, of Lanai, regarding a change in the sanitary regulations of that place in connection with the limits for swine keeping, was adopted.

President Cooper reported that as a committee of one on the equipment of the new dispensary he had conferred with Governor Carter and Auditor Fisher on the matter. It had been decided not to draw on the six months appropriation as the eighteen months appropriation was quite ample.

All Sick Ones

Get My Help When They Ask It.

It is waiting for you. Just write a postal stating which book you need and I will gladly do this.

I will mail you an order—good at any drug store for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. You may take it a month on trial. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself—and your word shall decide it.

I know how other treatments have failed with you. I know how the sick get discouraged. So I don't argue my claims. I simply ask you to try my way at my risk, and let the remedy itself convince you.

My records show that 39 out of each 40 pay for the treatment gladly, because they are cured. Not a penny is wanted from the rest.

I have spent a lifetime in learning how to strengthen weak inside nerves. My Restorative brings back that power which alone operates the vital organs. I treat a weak organ as I would a weak engine, by giving it the power to act. My way always succeeds, save when a cause like cancer makes a cure impossible. And most of those chronic diseases cannot be cured without it.

You'll know this when you read my book.

Send to state which book you want, and address Dr. Shoop, 1000 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

Book No. 1 on Dyspepsia
Book No. 2 on the Heart
Book No. 3 on Kidneys
Book No. 4 on Women
Book No. 5 on Men
Book No. 6 on Rheumatism
Book No. 7 on Phthisis

Mail orders not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. All druggists.

Editor Evening Bulletin:—In the efforts being made to retain Mr. Marston Campbell in his position in the Public Works Department, do you not think it would be more appropriate that the petition sent to the Governor should have been signed entirely by American citizens and voters. The five foreigners might well have refrained from suggestions as to the conduct of our American affairs.

By the way, is it a wise policy to ask a man to come back to a job that he has once left of his own accord, to say nothing of having checked the billiard when suffering from sore head? There are others.

Merry Christmas.

Honolulu extends a most cordial Christmas greeting to the officers and men of the visiting fleet.

Another great steel plant is closed as a monument to the destruction wrought by watered stock and trust building.

War may be threatened but there is no danger that the war dogs will interfere with the peace and good will that will rule in every Christian community of the world during the next forty-eight hours.

Hawaii cannot furnish the snow and the chill of Christmas weather, but it is second to none in the cordial warmth of Christmas cheer to be found in happy homes and is extended to all visitors within its bounds.

Uncle Sam's promise to take care of our lighthouses is a reasonable consideration which Hawaii believes is a matter of right but is quite willing to accept as a reminder that it is not forgotten in the distribution of good gifts.

And now it is the Court that is attacked. The discussion of the Jones case by mob law promoters is convincing evidence that American justice would be a farce and a delusion if left in their hands. The sole and single purpose of these attacks upon the courts and upon the jury is a studied aim to create a sentiment that will enable prejudice to overthrow justice and make of the courts and juries a pliable creature to do a vicious master's bidding.

THE MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

Opposition to municipal government from the morning paper is to be expected. It has declared itself, though forced to do so, against all forms of local self-government in this Territory. It wants all government centralized in a few appointed officers. It regrets that the people have any voice in their administration, and finding no support for its attitude in the American system of government forthwith charges that county and municipal government in Hawaii has its inspiration in graft.

The possible or probable object of sending to Washington the municipal bill defeated in the last session of the Legislature, this paper will not attempt to explain. With the County law hanging in the balance we know of no reason why the municipal bill should be forced to the front. Another opportunity to fall between two stools is offered and it is extremely doubtful under the circumstances if alleged municipal bill promoters will obtain much of a following in the Territory. As a rule it is better to complete one thing at a time. The Bulletin believes the island of Oahu and Honolulu should be organized under a city and county law covering the whole island. It will be preferable however to be certain of the county as planned by the present law, than to go rainbow chasing and find that the prize at the end is the same old centralized government that no element wants except a few behind the morning paper.

The utter variance of the open opponent of local self-government with American principles in this matter has frequently been exploited and it has been made evident in elections, conventions and public meetings that this opponent has no theoretical or numerical support. A new feature, however, is now brought into the arguments of the failing centralization cause. It is claimed that the Philippine government has been conducted from central authority such as exists in Hawaii. Doubtless it was under the American civil establishment. Even the Moros have their local government and self-rule has been promoted at every point in the Philippines where armed resistance to American authority has ceased.

No better statement of the American principle in this regard can be found than in President McKinley's letter to the Secretary of War in reference to the instructions to be given the Philippine Commissioners. The President said: "Without hampering them by too specific instructions, they should in general be enjoined to devote their attention in the first instance to the establishments of municipal governments, in which the natives of the islands, both in the cities and in the rural communities shall be afforded the opportunity to manage their local affairs to the fullest extent of which they are capable, and subject to the least degree of supervision and control. In the distribution of power among the governments organized, the presumption is always to be in favor of the smaller subdivision, so that all of the powers which can properly be exercised by the municipal government shall be vested in that government, and all the powers of a more general character which can be exercised by the departmental government shall be vested in that government, so that in the governmental system which is the result of the process, the central government of the islands, following the example of the distribution of powers between the States and the National Government of the United States, shall have no direct administration except of matters of purely general concern and shall have only such supervision and control over local government as may be necessary to secure and enforce faithful and efficient administration by local officers."

STARBUCK A SUCCESS

In the "Starbucks" presented last evening, the Neills once more set themselves upon the artistic plane where the Honolulu public have accustomed themselves to view them. After Clyde Fitch's effort of the "Cowboy and the Lady" the performance of the "Starbucks" with Orie Roddy masterly interpretation of Tennessee character and daintily conceived romances for there were two of them, struck the Bulletin critic like a draught of pure mountain, morning air after a night spent "not wisely, but too well." It is the presentation of such plays, in such manner, that will spell success to the Neill combination.

There were many flashes of genius among the players. Neill's "Jasper Starbuck" was artistically conceived and like Miss Chapman's "Margaret" humanized with true values that emphasized traits and eccentricities while keeping within the bounds of Nature. Bloomquist as the sheltering boy gave a performance that would ensure him a metropolitan engagement. Mr. Bloomquist at rare intervals, while always doing conscientious work, has flashed upon the public with true inspiration as in the Amazon of a past season and last night. John Burton possesses the rare and valuable faculty, aided by long experience and study of making every part he plays, "stand out," to use a theatrical term.

Miss Keilar and Donald Bowles put a breath of real poetry into their love-making, the two as ingenu and leading juvenile, proving a strong combination for Mr. Neill. Sheldon Lewis has invariably given strong delineations of a varied line of parts and should be the more appreciated when one learns that he plays them for the first time. Robert Morris as Lige, the blackmailer, presented a clever conception in make up and dialect.

Others to be specially commended are Miss Andrews and Mr. Travis, who as "gallant folk" were much more than the Afro-American caricatures one often sees presented as imitations of the true negro. Mrs. Andrews' English tongue finds a shibboleth in certain dialects, but she is always convincing. Mr. Travis gave the results of a careful study of his role and showed an excellent presentation of the, not too eager to work, enjoining negro invested with a powerful sense of humor and a general happiness in being alive. His scene with the stammering boy on the third act was particularly human.

Tomorrow "The Christian" which is the strongest bill the company has yet given, will be played at two performances, afternoon and evening, the matinee being given for the "Actor's Consumptive Home" as a contribution from the local lodge of Elks made possible by the generosity of James Neill and J. C. Cohen, their local manager.

A big vaudeville bill is included in Hoyt's musical comedy of "A Contented Woman" set for Saturday night to which the best of the fleet's talent will contribute.

CHRISTMAS DAY BOXING

The following program of much more than ordinary excellence has been arranged for the boxing tournament at the Orpheum tomorrow night.

Miller (Kentucky) vs. McNamara (New Orleans) at 130 lbs.
Wagner (Kentucky) vs. Rouchetto (New Orleans) at 145 lbs.
Jack Ward (Fleet's champion lightweight) vs. Bill Huikui (Hawaii's champion lightweight).
Barry vs. Patton (welter weights well known outside of local circles).
Anderson vs. Nigel Jackson (local).
Silva (The Slasher) vs. Unknown, 155 lbs.

This makes up six bouts, hardly any which could be called preliminaries, although the exhibition between Barry and Patton and the contest between Ward and Huikui are really the main events.

It is an expensive program for the promoter J. C. Cohen, but there is little doubt but what the house will be packed. The entertainment promised is of really first class material and aside from the big interest taken by the fleet local sportsmen will not miss the opportunity.

The fleet officers strongly support these legitimate contests and have expressed themselves as perfectly satisfied with Mr. Cohen's arrangements, and with Paddy Ryan of the Brooklyn, as referee. They will contribute the affair with their presence. The box office is now open.

MASONS WERE GUESTS

Now ranking at the head of the order in Europe, received its authorization, according to that eminent authority, Gen. Albert Pike, 33 degree, from what is now the supreme body of the Southern Jurisdiction of Scottish Rite Masons of the United States. This particular Masonry of France then, as represented in the Territory by Lodge Le Progrès, erected in 1842, is of American origin. The cordial relations subsisting between the Supreme Council 23 Degree Masons of France and the American brethren were fashioned into an everlasting bond of amity and friendship when Franklin, who had been the Grand Master of his colony, was able, largely through his Masonic connections, to carry to a successful conclusion his mission to France on behalf of American independence and when labor here is ended and the deserving brethren reach that grand lodge of the Supreme Master of the Universe it may be their privilege to see and know the patriot and philosopher Franklin and the liberty-loving and gallant Lafayette as translated brethren.

LAND COURT GETS BUSY

After the Christmas holidays are over the Land Registration Court, presided over by Judge J. H. Weaver, will be busy and it is expected that its business will continue.

This morning five sugar plantations petitioned for registration of titles. They are corporations organized since the first of July last and are therefore compelled by law to register titles to land.

The Pulehu Plantation Co., Ltd., Kula Plantation Co., Ltd., Kailua Plantation Co., Ltd., and the Makawao Plantation Co., Ltd., are the companies petitioning for registration.

These new sugar plantations average a little less than one thousand acres of cane land each and the total estimated cost of registering their titles will be $211.99 for the five.

Five or six private property owners are now preparing petitions for the registration of titles and numerous other parties are known to be contemplating registration.

J. O. Linton is preparing to register his Waikiki purchase, the Waikiki Inn.

The lack of business in the Land Court heretofore has been laid somewhat to the scarcity of local transfers on account of a tightness in the money market; also to the fact that the public is only just beginning to understand and therefore to appreciate the benefits to be derived from the registration of titles. Tax suits are also said to have had something to do with the small amount of work brought to the registration court.

Registration settles all boundary questions and in this way is an insurance against possible contests over bounds.

The matter of registration goes through the court smoothly unless somebody enters a contest on return day.

It is thought that hereafter purchasers of land will require that sellers have property registered before it is purchased; that registration will be required above any other guarantee of title.

The Land Court furnishes the advantage of straightening out doubtful titles before evidence is dead; so often an econtests brought over land where evidence is not living; registration settles the title once and for all.

Practice elsewhere has shown that ninety per cent. of petitioners for registration go through the land courts without contest.

Petitions now filed and those expected will keep the local court on the move and it is believed that the benefits to be derived will be more appreciated as they are better known and understood.

CARTER CALLS ON COOPER.

Governor Carter returned the call of Admiral Cooper aboard the Cruiser New Orleans this forenoon, receiving the usual salute of seventeen guns as he left. All along the line, the cruisers and battleships, with the transport Solace and the Iroquois, accorded the usual salute, the bands playing the while. The Governor and party went out in the Iroquois launch and returned in a launch of the New Orleans. Secretary Atkinson and two aides to the Governor made up the party that accompanied the chief executive in this call.

PUNAHOU WILL PLAY

The Punahou have decided that they will not relinquish the pennant for 1903 without a last struggle for it. This decision was arrived at yesterday afternoon during a meeting that was held in the Y. M. C. A. hall. The date was set for January 23, providing the H. A. C.'s consent. This will of course give the Punahou time to get over their bruises and aches sustained in the game of Saturday last. Whether the H. A. C.'s will consent to wait for such a long time remains to be seen. It is very probable that the whole thing will be submitted to the League for them to decide. January 23 is a long way off and all manner of things may happen during that time.

In a conversation with some of the H. A. C. boys yesterday they stated that they would not consent to a long postponement. If the Punahou insisted, as it was understood they would, then the H. A. C.'s would refer the matter to the league and ask that a

MAY GO TO PANAMA

The officers aboard the various vessels of the fleet have absolutely no idea when they are to leave. Everything depends on the developments within the next few days, both in regard to Panama and the trouble in the Orient. The fleet is between two fires and it is to this that is attributed the fact that no further orders have been received here with reference to the sailing of the fleet. Said one of the officers this morning:

"We really cannot tell what we are going to do. We may go to Yokohama and again we may go to Panama. The latter place is warming up considerably and I would not be at all surprised if we received orders to go there."

COUNTY LAW TEST.

Judge De Bolt this morning signed an order for a writ of quo warranto to issue in the County Act test case conducted by the Bar Association and summonses were served on all the Oahu County Supervisors returnable in ten days. It is expected that the Supervisors will appear this afternoon to assist the work along and will not take advantage of the ten days proposition.

Judge De Bolt and Decision by Supreme Court on appeal, is "Territory of Hawaii vs. Supervisors of the County of Oahu."

Crown Pianos
FOR
Lively Music.

Some people like serious music; some prefer it otherwise.

If you like good, lively, frisky ragtime, with a pinky-panky-poo suggestion of a banjo accompaniment, the Crown piano, with banjo, harp and mandolin effects, is the one for you.

It is a good, sound, sensible piano, not to be told from others in its class, but press the lever, and it immediately gives forth a tone that sets your feet tapping, and your lips puckering for a whistle. It's the tone of a plucked banjo. Increase or decrease the pressure on the lever, and you get other tones, harp, guitar, or mandolin.

If you haven't the knack of rattling of a jig or a breakdown, or the latest rag-time melody, with your own fingers, a Pianola will do it for you.

CHAPTER XIV.

ALMOST THE END

"I am glad to see you, my friend," said O'Neill, smiling at him in a melancholy way.

"Would God that I could see you in any place but this!" answered the young Englishman.

"Ah, yes," replied O'Neill, his eyes brightening. "Then we might fight it out, man to man, sword to sword, and—"

"Not so," mournfully replied Coventry. "The battle has been fought, and you have won again. Whether you live or die, Elizabeth Howard is not for me."

"My poor friend, may the day upon which I crossed your path be accursed! I have brought to each of you nothing but sorrow," replied the young sailor sadly, touched at the other's surrender.

"It was fate, O'Neill. Do not reproach yourself with that. All day long I have been striving to think of some means to delay this accursed execution until I could communicate with the king. An appeal to his clemency—right—but no—I see no way, nothing, unless—you know—"

"No more of that if you love me, Coventry," said O'Neill gravely. "Put yourself in my place. Could you do it? Ah, you shake your head, you see! Neither could I, not even to purchase heaven. There was a long pause between them.

"O'Neill," said the Englishman at last, "could that I could take your place!"

"But you cannot, Major Coventry," replied the other gravely. "You honor me in the thought, but if you could I should refuse to allow it. You are the better man. All my life I have been a gay, reckless, pleasure-seeking soldier of fortune, with never a serious purpose until now, and now it is too late! You are the worthy one, and you must live to watch over and to care for her whom we both love. Perhaps—surely—in days to come she will forget; time, absence, you know—she will reward your devotion—she must—you will be happy!"

His voice broke, and he turned away his face and looked out of the open port. Coventry shook his head.

"You know her not, sir. She is not for me, nor would I take her, loving you. My love is too deep for that. Nor would she come. She will never forget you," O'Neill's heart leaped at this assurance.

The ship's bell on the deck above them struck four times. It was 6 o'clock. There was a little silence within the screen.

"The hour approaches," said O'Neill softly at last. "I would be alone for a few moments before—you understand?"

"Yes," said the other, rising and pressing his hand. "Have you nothing to say, no message to send to"—he asked magnanimously.

"Nothing—nothing; 'tis best so. You will come for me at the time?"

"Yes, and I will stand by you to the end, like a soldier."

"You do me great honor," replied the other thankfully. "Coventry looked at him a moment, shook his head and turned away."

In the prayers of the young Irishman the face of the girl he loved would surge before him. I seemed but a moment before he heard the tramp of armed men coming along the deck.

They stopped before the screen. It was opened, and Coventry, pale as death, presented himself at the opening. The screen was promptly folded back, there were marines fully armed before him, the chaplain, too, in the white robes of his office.

"I am ready, gentlemen," said O'Neill calmly. "May I not go to my death unbound?" he asked.

At a nod from Coventry the master at arms unlocked the fetters about his feet and hands. The prisoner took his place in the midst of the little squad of men and ascended to the spar deck.

The ship's company of marines was drawn up aft on the quarter deck. Most of the seamen of the crew were arranged in orderly ranks in the starboard gangway. Forward a grating had been rigged on the bulwarks under the port fore yardarm. A new rope led to the yardarm, came aboard to another block under the top and thence through a block fixed to the deck.

Some sixty or seventy men chosen by lot from the ship's company had hold of the rope which was led aft along the port gangway. In front of the marines stood Captain Pearson and his officers in full uniform. The prisoner was halted before him.

"Are you aware, sir," said the captain gravely, "that the hour for the carrying out of the sentence of the court approaches?"

"Yes, sir," answered O'Neill courteously.

"Have you anything to say before that time?"

"I have to thank you all for your kindness to me; nothing else, sir."

"Allow me, sir," said the captain, "to assure you of the great personal distance and regret I feel at being compelled to take this action."

"Your feelings do you honor, sir," replied O'Neill gravely, "but it is a matter of duty. I pray proceed."

"Captain Pearson," said Coventry in great agitation, "can nothing be done to delay this execution a few hours? There are considerations, sir, in my possession which, I feel sure, would incline his majesty, could he be communicated with, to extend clemency to this gentleman—circumstances which—"

"Are these circumstances within the knowledge of Lord Westbrooke, Major Coventry?" answered the captain, surprised at the unusual nature of the interruption.

"They are, sir."

"Have you mentioned them to him? Have you called his attention specifically to them, I mean?"

"Yes, sir, I have," answered the soldier reluctantly.

"And they have evidently not influenced him, you see. Therefore I fail to see how I can permit them to weigh with me."

"But a delay, sir, of a day, of an hour even, until I can communicate with the admiral again! For God's sake, sir, do not hang this gentleman like!"

"Major Coventry, you are a soldier and should not make such an appeal. I have my orders. You have shown me no cause to disregard them. I cannot take it upon myself to do so. I dare not."

"But an hour, sir, until I—"

"Not a moment. At five bells they must be carried out," said the captain inflexibly. "No more, sir," he added as Coventry made an impetuous step forward. Mr. Pascoe, take the prisoner forward."

"It is useless, Coventry. Why prolong this agony longer? You have done what you could. I thank you and bless you," said O'Neill as they walked along the deck to the place of the grating.

"Will you please step up here, sir?" said Pascoe, the first lieutenant of the Serapis, who had the matter in charge, pointing to the grating on the rail as they came abreast of it.

It is a fair and easy place from which to step to heaven, sir, or to the other place as well," said the Irishman, smiling as he stepped on the rail. "I pray you to tell my men to start me up my way with a quick pull and a swift run." Pascoe nodded in comprehension. This would be a case in which speed would be merited.

A boatwain's mate now stepped up beside the prisoner and bound his feet and hands with a lashing. A hangman's knot had been made by expert fingers in the rope leading from the yardarm, and the running noose was quickly cast about O'Neill's neck.

"The collar of an ancient order," observed O'Neill, still smiling. "And now one last request, sir," he added, turning to the lieutenant.

"And that is?"

"Throw away that black cap, sir. Let me go with my eyes open." The lieutenant hesitated a moment. The whole ship's company was filled with admiration for the intrepid and gallant Irishman.

"Do it, for God's sake, Pascoe!" whispered Coventry, springing up alongside O'Neill and the sailor, who, to avoid him, stepped back and stood on the rail by the fore shrouds.

"What are you doing there, Major Coventry?" answered Pascoe.

"Nothing. I promised to stand by him to the last," replied Coventry. The officer hesitated a moment and then threw the cap into the water.

"I thank you," said O'Neill huskily. "How much is there?"

"About two minutes, I think," said the lieutenant nervously. "You will run away with the fall at the first or last stroke of the bell?"

"The last, sir."

"No more," said O'Neill to Coventry, turning his face in the direction of the shore. The deep voice of the white-robed priest alone broke the silence.

"Thou knowest, Lord, the secrets of our hearts; shut not thy merciful ears to our prayer; but spare us, Lord, most holy, O God most mighty, O holy and merciful saviour, thou most worthy judge eternal, suffer us not, at our last hour, for any pains of death, to fall from thee."

Out on the water a white sailed little boat was speeding swiftly toward them. There was a woman in it. The eyes of love, even in the presence of death, are keen, perhaps even keener than ever. It was Elizabeth Howard. O'Neill recognized her at once. Good heavens! Why had she come here? She would arrive in time to see him swinging lifeless from the yardarm—a hideous sight for any woman. He could not take his eyes from her.

"See!" he whispered to Coventry. "That boat yonder! She is there."

"My God!" said the officer. "What shall we do?"

"Nothing; 'tis too late."

"She has something in her hand!" cried Coventry. "What can it be?"

FOR AFTERNOON WEAR

There is considerable distinction made between the simple suits for morning or shopping wear and those considered suitable for afternoon and calling. This costume is of black broadcloth trimmed with bands of moire and many rows of the glossy flure braid. On the long flare "Lotte" coat the braid is embroidered, as also on the reverses and cuffs of white panne velvet. The sleeves are finished with silk fringe, the skirt being a silk cord and tassels.

A RAPID TRANSIT EPISODE.
This morning about half past ten, a tall lady with a half-sized husband, boarded a King street car. The lady was wearing her husband on her right hand, when they entered the husband looked up, and said to his wife: "You're tall enough to reach a strap, but what can I hold," she said. "If I was as short as you are, I'd hold my tongue," so he took hold of his tongue, the car started and he fell down, whereupon his dutiful spouse hollored: "What's the matter, can't you stand up?" Said hubby, "They both slipped." "Both what," said the wife. "Both my feet and my tongue," said the little husband, but let's get off the car and go and see Bath the plumber and have a look at that new line of Douglas Patent Closures that have just arrived. His telephone is 61 Main.

ORIENTAL WAR CERTAIN

EASTERN WRITERS EXPECT CLASH IN FEW MONTHS

JAPAN HAS NO FAITH IN RUSSIAN PROMISES BUT AWAITS COURSE OF DIPLOMATIC ACTION.

The Japan Weekly Gazette of Dec. 2 contains the following article on the war situation in the Orient:

Once again the war-clouds are gathering over the Far East, and the best the prophets can say is that the "inevitable" conflict may be temporarily postponed. Our telegraph columns tell us that Admiral Sir E. Seymour at a banquet given by the China Association in London expressed the belief that war between Japan and Russia was inevitable. "It would break out sooner or later," A Japanese Admiral has recently expressed the same belief. An American paper in Manila prints a cable stated to have been received from an official source in Japan to the following effect:

"The Russians have fallen back from Korea into Manchuria. War is not expected until the spring.

"But, if peace is not ruptured before then, by some unforeseen complication, it will be ruptured then."

"Both Japan and Russia are actively continuing their preparations."

This definite statement is supplemented by the following opinion of a Japanese gentleman of high standing: "The effect that 'it represents the views which are held by the politicians of the Mikado's land, who are most closely in touch with what is happening in the inner circles of the government of that country."

"All the arrangements which are underway," the Japanese gentleman is reported as saying, "have been made upon that assumption. It is highly probable that the present negotiations will drag on until the ice breaks the Japan and valleys of Korea and Manchuria, but it is almost beyond hope that they can bring about a real settlement of the issues in dispute. We do not want to provoke a war, therefore, we are compelled to appear to assume that we have faith in Russia's pledges, although we know them to be insincere."

"And for this reason of policy you are satisfied to relinquish the maritime advantage which a winter war with ice-bound Russia would give you?"

"It looks that way, does it not?" the Japanese answered, quietly. "You see," he added, "we are not fearful of the issue. And then, our treaty with England entitles our English friends to some say in the matter, and I do not think that I am saying anything which you cannot see for yourself, when I tell you that English opinion has had a great deal to do with the restraining of our war fever, which is undeniably strong in my country."

"When war comes, we will be found prepared to meet it, and we can afford to sacrifice a point which might be to our immediate advantage in order to reap a greater future success."

We cannot vouch for this apparently explicit, and certainly naive, elucidation of Japanese policy, but it is one of those intelligent statements which are rendered plausible by the peculiar circumstances of the situation just now. Its burden is that Japan will not force an issue now, but will wait until the spring. Nevertheless, this policy, as foreshadowed, is modified by the proviso that "if peace is not ruptured by some unforeseen complication before then, it will be ruptured then."

It is extraordinary if Japanese official circles should have allowed any definite statement of the national purpose to become public in Manila, unless for a definite purpose, and the authenticity of this opinion would no doubt be denied by the Government. But the extreme reliance of the Cabinet is favorable for the manufacture of plausible theories that go abroad and have their effect despite belated denials. At the same time, it is possible, even in the face of such official denials, that some such policy as this waiting on the psychological moment may be exerting an important influence on Japanese action. Japan is ready for a settlement; Russia delays a settlement. It has been suggested that Russia is the only one of the two Powers who can profit by delay, and it is true that Russia's naval and military concentration will be made more complete by time. But here is a theory showing that Japan, too, may see her advantage in not forcing an issue. The question of seasons, so important in a campaign, is referred to, together with the desirability of sullying the convenience and views of her ally. There are other points to which we have heretofore alluded: the heavy expense entailed on Russia for the keeping of her fleet and armies in the Far East, so remote from their base of supplies, compared with the corresponding expense to Japan; and lastly, the increasing commercial irritation which Russia by her dilatory tactics is steadily arousing throughout the world against herself. These and other forces are working for Japan in her wise policy not to be drawn into becoming the aggressor in such a stupendous struggle.

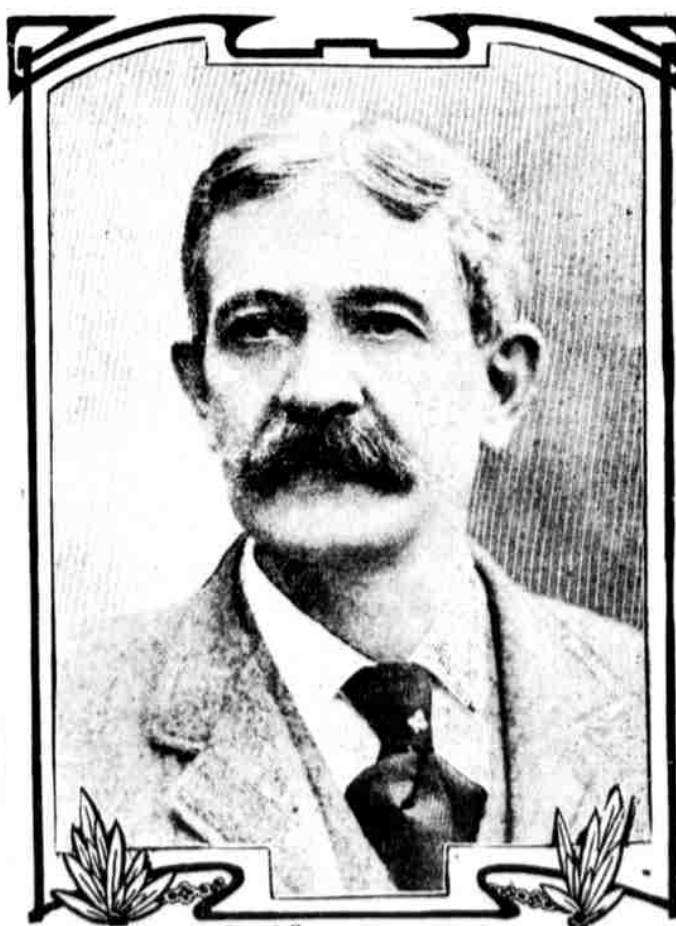

There is another point in the foregoing opinion that deserves noting, viz., the statement that Russia has apparently withdrawn her attention temporarily from Korea and is devoting herself to pressing China. She has systematically reoccupied Moukden and Hancheng and is concentrating troops in Southern Manchuria, where conflicts with "mounted" pretenses for this reconquest policy. Today's special telegram of her demand upon the Moukden Tartar General for the surrender of the yamen and treasure-godowns is another heavy addition to the burden being laid on China. Yet active Chinese resentment would be

WINS B. A. P. PRIZE FOR CHRISTMAS

The third B. A. P. prize puzzle closed its polls last night and though seemingly the simplest of the series but one correct answer was submitted and that by Manuel Dabreo. His solution wins the six months' subscription prize to the "Bulletin." It is as follows: Buy News Today Trying Evening Bulletin.

The first, second, third, fifth and sixth hidden words forming the truncated stary came were given correctly by a great many puzzle-solvers but the fourth, "an endeavor," was given but once. All kinds of words that did not mean "an endeavor" came to B. A. P. Some of them run thus: "reflect," "and try," "choose," "and get," "laying," "using," etc.

A correct answer was also submitted this morning—a day late—by D. P. Hatale, but as Mr. Dabreo's answer bears the date December 24th, and the other solution failed to come before the polls closed, the Bulletin feels justified in awarding the prize to Manuel Dabreo, as before stated.

Next Monday will appear in the popular corner on page 6 of the Bulletin something which will interest its many readers.

If Manuel Dabreo will call at The Bulletin office he will be awarded the Christmas prize.

B. A. P. extends Christmas greetings to the many readers of the Puzzle Corner.

DEADLY GAS DISCUSSED

JARED SMITH CAUTIONS AGRICULTURE BOARD

COTTON AND TOBACCO AND OF-FICIAL ORGAN RECEIVE AT-TENTION — SEED PUR-CHASE AUTHORIZED.

Tree seeds, an official organ, gas that deals death to men as well as bugs, the prospects for the cotton and tobacco industries in Hawaii and executive reports were considered at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Board of Forestry and Agriculture.
In the absence of L. A. Thurston, W.
M. Giffard presided. Others present were Executive Officer C. S. Holloway, A. W. Carter and J. E. Brown, members, and Federal Experiment Station Director Jared G. Smith. The meeting was held in the old throne room, the legislative hall of the Capitol.

A. W. Carter submitted a list of forty-three varieties of tree seeds, of the eucalyptus family, as he was commissioned to do. The lot would cost $125. Mr. Smith stated that the Bureau of Forestry had promised seeds for this Board. The report was adopted and the expenditure of $150 authorized.

Giffard reported having seen the Planters' Association trustees relative to the suggestion of the editor of the Planters' Monthly in regard to the incorporation of an official journal in the Board with that publication. They were very willing to grant the privilege. "The Hawaiian Forester and Agriculturist" was decided on as the title. Smith said he would contribute Holloway reported that Forester Homer would arrive here in the Sil-beria. Nothing had been heard of the whereabouts of the overdue shipment of Bluefields bananas.

Drawings of a proposed tree-planting tent were exhibited and Smith cautioned the Board against the use of cyanide gas in the process as sure death to the operator if carelessly used. Smith did not want to see the experiment tried in this city. One whiff of the gas was enough to kill a man.

Smith reported the expenditure of the $1200 allowed the Federal Station and asked for more to pay small bills connected with the tobacco experiment.
Everything was well at the Hamakua trial nursery. The tobacco experiment would extend over two or three years.
Samatra seed had been planted. An additional allowance of $175 was voted
Mr. Smith.

Smith reported that the printing of the Farmers' Institute report was in the Hawaiian Gazette press. Bids had been called for some time ago. The Gazette's was the only bid and $1.00 was asked, per page, for the work.
Smith was authorized to make a regular contract on which a voucher could be made.

Mentioning the appropriation for aiding the Federal Station laboratory, Smith said he needed funds for apparatus. This request was referred to the committee on appropriations.

Smith handed in the following letters received by him relative to cotton samples Giffard had given him to send to Washington for a report. Smith said the success of cotton here depended on the price of labor.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Industry, R. T. Galloway, Chief, Washington, D. C., November 9, 1933.

Mr. Jared G. Smith, in Charge of Hawaii Experiment Station, Honolulu, Hawaii.

My dear Mr. Smith: I forwarded to the Granite Mills at Fall River, Mass., the samples of cotton which were received with your letter of July 21. I enclose herewith a report which has just been received in regard to these samples.

According to this report the cultivation of the long staple upland cotton variety probably be more profitable in Hawaii than the cultivation of the Egyptian Jannovitch. Mrs. Fairchild tells me that the Jannovitch cotton does not seem to be retaining its popularity in Egypt. Some of the other varieties of Egyptian cotton, such as Mihail, Abasco, are doubtless more valuable for cultivation.

Yours sincerely,
LYSTER H. DEWEY,
Botanist.

Office of Granite Mills, Fall River,
Mass., Nov. 5, 1933.

Lyster H. Dewey, Esq., Botanist in Charge of Other Plants, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir: Referring to your favor of Oct. 5th, addressed to your president, Mr. John S. Brayton, and to the samples of cotton grown in Honolulu, Hawaii, forwarded to him at that time, Mr. Brayton, not being familiar with the different grades of cotton, has given me the samples, and requested that I pass judgment on them and report to you. I respectfully submit the following:

The samples submitted are rather small for thorough examination. The sample marked "Upland" is evidently raised from different seed from that used in growing the cotton known and quoted commercially as upland cotton. Upland cotton, that is, cotton grown in the uplands from ordinary seed, has a fiber varying from 7-8 in.
to 1-1.5 in. in length, and is harder and rougher in feel than the sample submitted. The sample more nearly resembles what is known as Jannovitch cotton. The staple in it is about from 1-1.5 in. to 1-5 in. in length, and fine and silky in texture. It is not, however, as strong as the Feeler cotton grown in the bottom lands of Mississippi and Arkansas, and would not I think, produce as much cloth pound for pound.

The cotton submitted is, however,
good spinning cotton, very well ginned, free from nits and would, I think, be worth today about 14 cents delivered here, while upland commercial of same grade is selling for about 11 cents.
Some of the samples show boll stain,
and this would lower the price if it was general.

Sample marked "Jannovitch Egyptian."—This sample is decidedly interior to the Egyptian both in length and strength of fiber, is not as silky, and when received was much browner in appearance, though it has lost some of this since. Egyptian Jannovitch is more like cotton grown from Sea Island on the mainland of lower Georgia and upper Florida, in place of which it is sometimes used, and is lighter in color than the sample submitted, and has a staple or fiber fully 1-2 in. in length.

The Honolulu cotton would not bring anything like the price of genuine Jannovitch, which is selling for 21 to 22
cents per pound delivered here today.
I doubt if it would be worth more than the sample marked "Upland," though it is hard to tell from such a small sample.

I have shown these samples to several buyers of cotton, and their opinion agrees with mine. If I can be of any further service to you in this matter,

KING PETER'S FAMILY

The above group shows the children of King Peter of Serbia, who now occupy the palace at Belgrade, where the royal tragedy occurred which placed their father on the throne and for which vengeance is daily threatened. The figure to the right is that of Crown Prince George, wearing the uniform of the Alexander Cornet Corps. The other in the background is King Peter's second son, Prince Alexander. The Princess Helen and little Prince Paul, who occupy the foreground, live in the very apartments once occupied by Princess Natalie.

Why Miller's Brews

"The Best" Milwaukee Beer

Because they purchase the best materials obtainable in the world's market.
Because they employ the most capable and skilled masters
in the art of brewing.
Because their plant is fitted out with all the latest improvements and machinery known to the brewing world.
Because their establishment is run on the same plan as to cleanliness as an operating room.

Fifty years of experience.
Because all of the above combined bring about a good healthful beer far superior to the bulk of beers sold in competition today.

A beer that will positively do you good.
Why not secure a sample and have your physician pass on the quality?

We invite comparison, because we want you to know that
