

TECHNICAL POINT MAY DISQUALIFY W. R. FARRINGTON

Tentatively Accepts Offer of Supervisor But Raises
Question

That W. R. Farrington is probably disqualified from accepting appointment as a supervisor is the situation developing from investigation by the city attorney's office into the technicalities of Section 168 of the Revised Laws.

Mr. Farrington yesterday tentatively accepted the appointment of supervisor to fill the Shingle vacancy at a conference with Mayor Lane, but himself brought up the question of possible disqualification. The statute in question prohibits any officer or employee of the territory or municipality from being in any way financially interested in work done by or for the city, and Mr. Farrington, as general business manager and one of the principal owners of the Star-Bulletin, may be deemed under this strict statute, since the Star-Bulletin does printing and advertising for the city.

Qualification might technically be secured by transfer of stock and retirement from active management, or in some similar way, but this course is not likely to be followed, Mr. Farrington said today, as unless he can qualify without any question of regularity he is not inclined to accept the position.

The city attorney's office is still considering the legal points raised.

MAJ. WILLIAMS RETURNS, WILL BE INSPECTOR

Major H. O. Williams, well and favorably known in army circles of Oahu, who was formerly major of the third battalion, Fort Shafter, returned from the mainland this morning on the transport Sherman.

Major Williams was granted a leave of absence last fall to take effect on November 1 and to last for a period of two months. He went to the mainland, and in the latter part of December was detailed to the inspector general's department, and ordered to report to the inspector general at Washington, D. C., for temporary duty in that office, preparatory to his assignment as inspector general in the Hawaiian department.

In the latter part of February, Major Williams was relieved from temporary duty at Washington, starting at once for San Francisco to catch the Sherman.

By department order Major Williams has been assigned as assistant to the present department inspector, Major Ernest B. Gose, and to be stationed in this city, remaining on temporary duty until March 21 when Major Gose is relieved. On March 22, Major Williams will be announced as department inspector.

NINE MONTHS IN JAIL FOR WIELDING KNIFE ON CAFE MAN'S FACE

Park On Oak, the Korean who engaged in a fight with a Chinese restaurant keeper on Hotel street early last Monday morning, cutting the restaurant keeper's face almost beyond recognition, pleaded guilty to assault with a dangerous weapon this morning in the police court and was sentenced to nine months in prison.

The Chinese had his cheek almost slashed off in the scuffle, which arose when Park On Oak tried to get him to keep the restaurant open beyond the usual hour. Park maintained stoutly that he used only a pair of pinchers for the work and not a knife, as claimed by the restaurant man.

DAVIS OUSTED AS CLERK OF COURT

are straight as far as money is concerned. I want to express my appreciation of Mr. Davis' work and ability.

In chambers, Judge Clemons stated that the reasons for Mr. Davis' removal do not reflect "on any previous clerks."

Judge Clemons yesterday wrote a letter to Mr. Davis in which the latter was suspended. This letter was to the effect that irregularities had been discovered in the deposit of court moneys and in accounts, not only when Mr. Davis was in charge of the clerk's office during the late A. E. Murphy's illness, but since Mr. Davis' appointment.

The letter continues, in part, as follows:

"I am very glad to say that the practice in the office during the times referred to do not show any final shortages or any other shortages so far as I can see, but they do show an opportunity for misuse of public moneys and a failure to report and account for public moneys, at all times, required by law.

"No Other Course Open."

"From the conditions and showing of the books and records in the clerk's office... and from statements of Mr. McConnell, special examiner of the department of justice... no other course appears open to me than to order your suspension, as I hereby do, beginning this (Tuesday) morning."

Judge Clemons added, in the letter, that if Mr. Davis' resignation was not in by today, he would order Mr. Davis' instant dismissal. This letter, and another also received by Mr. Davis today, infer that the books, records and accounts of the office were examined not only by Judge Clemons and Mr. McConnell, but by former Judge Sanford B. Dole.

Mr. Davis yesterday afternoon retained Attorney H. W. Breckons as his counsel. Today he sent a letter to Judge Clemons giving his explanation of the alleged irregularities. He said, in part:

"I note that you say that the practice alleged to have been pursued by me shows an opportunity for misuse of public moneys. You will remember that as deputy I was under a somewhat heavy bond, and, even though moneys were kept on hand which perhaps should have been by good practice deposited, the government was amply protected.

"Wants Something Definite."

"I recognize your right in the matter, and realize that the two judges of this court can remove me without giving any reasons whatsoever."

"Under the circumstances, however, I feel that I cannot tender my resignation and receive vindication, and may not in all fairness to myself, secure removal takes place, request that something more definite be given me, or that, should this not seem advisable to you, you point out in what respects the explanations here given fall to clear up the matter? Cannot raise question."

"While I am not quite clear of your right as a single judge to remove me, since it seems reasonable that as the power of appointment is vested in two judges, the power of removal could not be exercised by less than two, yet at this time of course I cannot raise this question."

Mr. Davis was appointed federal court clerk on November 17, 1915. In a statement to the Star-Bulletin today, he said that, since the time of his appointment, he had made 10 deposits in the bank, and costs account of the court.

DR. R. D. WILLIAMS IS NAMED PRESIDENT OF MID-PACIFIC

Principal of Mills School Elevated to Larger Field; Dr. Souder Voluntarily Retiring; New Head Makes Impression of Strength

Dr. Robert Day Williams, principal of Mills School, has been given a larger field and larger responsibilities by the board of managers of the Mid-Pacific Institute. At the last meeting of the board he was elected president of the institute and thus becomes head of both Mills School and Kawaiahaeo Seminary.

The action of the board follows the impression of ability and strength that Dr. Williams has made during his principality at Mills. Dr. Doremas Souder, who followed Rev. Francis W. Damon as president of the board, retired voluntarily to make the larger place for Dr. Williams. It having been the intention of the board to take such action when it had in view a strong man to place in active work at the head of the schools.

Previous to coming to Honolulu Dr. Williams was for six years head of the psychology and education department of Pomona College, California. He was a leader in college work there, and his preliminary training, at Pomona and later at Yale, where he took his M. A. and Ph. D., was broad and valuable. His training has been of an all-around nature and has helped him, local educators say, to meet the various problems arising at Mills and Kawaiahaeo.

HOLLINGER AND LANE DISAGREE

"Nothing to It," Says Mayor,
But Supervisor Declares It
May Go Through

Mayor Lane and Supervisor Ben Hollinger had two different stories to tell when questioned this morning regarding the rumor that the supervisors were contemplating sending Chas. R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, to Washington to lobby for a bill appropriating $1,000,000 for a military road around Oahu.

The mayor ridiculed the suggestion and said that it had been uttered only in a joking, informal way during the course of a talk with Forbes on other matters. Hollinger declared that it had been seriously suggested by a member of the committee conferring with the governor on the need of a special session of the legislature.

"Nothing to it," says the mayor.

"It may go through," says Hollinger.

The supervisor declared that in his belief it would save the city many hundreds of thousands to send Forbes to Washington at a cost of little more than a thousand.

Forbes has friends and influence in Congress and among national officials," he said. "He can do a great deal for the bill and perhaps save it from defeat. It would mean an expenditure on roads that the city could not afford for many years if the measure went through. If a bill to appropriate not more than $1500 for Forbes' expenses is brought before the board I will vote for it."

Forbes declares that he looks at the proposal in the same light as the mayor. "It was all a joke," he said this afternoon. "I don't think that they are at all likely to send me, or that the man who proposed the trip intended his remark to be taken seriously. I wish that I could have an opportunity to do my work quietly, without having rumors of this and that continually bothering me. Why should I always be the goat?"

HELPED CARE FOR MAIMED ABROAD

of his face shot away, with an eye, an ear and the right cheek bone gone. The doctors went to work and patched him up. They placed a plate in his face for the cheek bone, and sewed up his wounds.

"As he began to grow strong, however, he longed again for the front. He used to tell me of this desire to get back, saying that he was too hideous looking an object to face the world again."

"This one desire seemed to predominate in his mind, and after he was strong enough to sit up in bed he began exercising his arms and legs to keep fit and strong for his return."

"Am I ready?" he would say each day to the surgeon that tended him. The young fellow's wound healed, but he was an awful looking object with the scars. He told me one day of the time he received his wounds, how he had crawled all night to get some where for aid, crying all the time 'A moi, a moi'—the French call for help on the battlefield.

Asked for Mirror.

"At daybreak he reached a little farmhouse, and the peasant folk came out to pick him up. The first thing he asked for as they reached him was a mirror to look at his disfigurements."

Mrs. Rawak says that at length the young fellow was strong enough to go back, and that, the look of him as he stood in line erect and waiting for the start, with a huge black patch hiding his scars, was one she will never forget.

Touching scenes made by the breaking of family ties were witnessed by Mrs. Rawak in Paris at the seminary of Saint Sulpice, which was turned over to the use of Belgian and French refugees.

"Woman after woman I saw there," she says, "who had lost all trace of her loved ones. Most of the people were old men and women, with many small children also."

"I saw one woman caring for a small child," she says, "not her own. She did not even know the child's name or to whom it belonged. She had adopted it as hers to fill the loss of her own child."

Old Did Not Complain.

"There was no complaining among these old people. They took their troubles as sacrifices which conditions had required of them, and never did I hear anything save praise for King Albert of Belgium. Many of these old women would have dropped down to die for him if the occasion arose."

"In spite of these sufferings, however," says Mrs. Rawak, "the common people of the warring countries do not bear a grudge against each other. It has been wonderful to watch them in the first aid hospitals—French and German alike—trading chocolate bars, cigarettes, candy, and bread."

"I always carried large quantities of cigarettes whenever I could, because the soldiers got so much comfort out of them. Sometimes when my supply ran short, they would divide, passing the cigarette down the line puff by puff, and making it do a kind of several men."

"Men were mangled awfully at first, because of the more open fighting and the terrible bayonet wounds. I cared for one man whose wound ran from his shoulder almost to his knee. Now the wounds are less severe, or else the man is killed outright. That is one blessing of the trench warfare. Sympathy With Belgians."

"I nursed men of all the countries at war," says Mrs. Rawak, "and they are all a splendid band of men. When I left Europe there were in France 1,000,000 Belgian refugees; in England, 1,500,000, and in Holland, 1,000,000. People of Switzerland also opened up their homes to the Belgian people who had lost their own. All the neutral countries of Europe have the same feeling of sympathy for the Belgians that I have found in America."

Mrs. Rawak will leave in a few weeks for China and Japan, and after a short stay in those countries plans to return to the fighting zone in Europe to take up the same kind of work she did there before. She says there is an opportunity for young men of neutral countries to serve there in the hospitals, and in ambulance work.

Surgeons Turn Away.

"There are hundreds of ways where young American fellows could be of help," she says. "Those who have had charge of the work for so long are getting fagged out with the mental and physical strain. The doctors feel this as much as any there. I have seen hardened surgeons turn their faces away from some of the horrible sights they witness in the hospitals."

Mrs. Rawak represents the Daily Trade Record of New York, but the dancette she is giving next Saturday is a part of Alma de Bretteville Spreckels' world-wide work of relief for war sufferers.

Travels Thousands of Miles to Give Forty Five Concerts

Madame Nellie Melba, who arrived in Honolulu this morning, and will appear in concert in this city before returning to her home in Australia.

Giving 45 concerts in as many prominent cities of the United States and Canada to appear in which she has traveled a distance more than half way around the world, has not made Madame Melba, world-famous diva, any less active or vivacious.

She arrived on the Matson steamer Wilhelmina this morning from San Francisco, and told friends here that she had a good rest on the boat. Madame Melba put in a busy morning and luncheon at the Country Club at noon as the guest of Mrs. W. D. Adams, wife of the manager of the Honolulu Opera House. Madame Melba is staying at the Young.

Accompanying Melba on her journey home to Australia are her pianist, H. St. Leger, and her manager, Frank Rigo, who managed the Pacific coast appearances of the famous soprano.

Robert Parker, the baritone who assisted Melba when she sang here last fall on her way to her mainland concerts, is in New York, and will not return to Australia with the singer. Melba's daughter-in-law, Mrs. George Armstrong, is returning to Sydney with her.

A.-H. SHIPS EARN MUCH BACKING $12,000 DAILY OF THOMPSON FROM ENGLAND FOR JUDGESHIP

According to the New York Journal of Commerce, the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company's fleet has been chartered to carry munitions produced by the du Pont Powder Company to Europe for the Allies at the rate of $12,000 a day for each ship.

C. P. Morse, local agent for the A.-H. Company, when told of the New York paper's statement, said the company's steamers were chartered mainly to load nitrates in Chile for New York.

"There are four or five of the boats running to Europe and eight or 10 in the nitrate trade," Mr. Morse said.

TRIBUTE TO WOMAN

When the Lusitania went down to its watery grave, taking one of our prominent writers and his wife, leading papers published a remarkable literary tribute previously paid by the husband to the wife. Every such woman should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one remedy which will restore health and strength, the unrivaled medicine for women's ailments.—Adv.

PALM BEACH AND NASSAU JAMMED LIKE HONOLULU

Other Tourist Resorts Have to Ask Citizens to Take Visitors
Into Their Homes

Honolulu is not the only tourist resort in the world which may occasionally be "up against it" during the height of its tourist season, for even down in Nassau, Bahamas and at Palm Beach, where hotel service is supposed to have reached the acme of perfection, commercial organizations had to scour the towns to get rooms in private homes for visitors.

The Hawaii Promotion Committee has received marked copies of the New York Tribune of Sunday, February 27, displaying despatches from these resorts on the society pages concerning the tourist and hotel accommodation. The Nassau despatch is dated February 17 and says:

"With every available room in the Florida east coast hotels booked full for the next three weeks at least, today's 150 arrivals by the Miami and Morro Castle are engaging in a mad scramble about town for any sort of accommodation."

The Palm Beach item, dated February 26, says:

"Conditions reached a point this week when the Board of Trade called on the cottagers to give tourists a place to sleep. There will be some rooms from present prospects after March 10. The amount of ready money in sight here is simply amazing. It is being spent like water in the clubs, restaurants and shops, and some of the latter have done from $10,000 to $100,000 worth of business with single customers. Your hear daily of $20,000 being paid for a pearl necklace and $5,000 for a bracelet."

The Hawaii Promotion Committee points to the above as illustrating parallel conditions both in the occasional lack of hotel accommodations and in the other fact that the tourist business pays big, and therefore, it follows that promotion pays.

LADIES DOING ALL WORK FOR FRIDAY DANCE

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
FORT SHAFER, March 14.—The ladies of the Theodore Roosevelt No. 1 Auxiliary are doing the unusual in the matter of the big dance they are giving this coming Friday in the U. S. A. W. Veterans' hall. Ordinarily, when giving a dance they promptly levy toll upon their husbands and friends, to do all sorts of things—and confine their personal efforts to overlooking and controlling the efforts of these members of the men's rank and file. This time they have calmly banished all men from their councils and work, and will actually do everything themselves—from the actual taking of tickets at the door to "managing" the floor. The various committees are as follows:

Floor—Mrs. J. Rossin, Mrs. C. A. Whitaker.
Decorations—Mrs. J. Birmele, Mrs. F. Burns, Mrs. M. Dysart.
Refreshments—Mrs. Anna Clarkson, Mrs. M. Smith, Mrs. J. Rossin.
Door—Mrs. M. J. O'Keefe, Mrs. Agnes Fuller.

With these ladies in charge of the arrangements a really fine evening is assured, and it is anticipated that a large crowd of people will avail themselves of this celebration of St. Patrick's Day. The proceeds of the dance will be used to place the funds of the Ladies' Auxiliary on a better footing.

PARTNERSHIP VIOLATORS MAY NOT BE PROSECUTED

Few prosecutions, if any, will be made for violations of the territorial law providing for the reporting of changes in copartnerships, according to C. J. McCarthy, territorial treasurer. "Clerks from my office have discovered that a great many of the copartnerships not reporting have changed hands frequently and in most cases are no longer copartnerships," he says. "Our records are up to date now and the law will be enforced from now on, but it has been neglected for so long in the past that it is not fair to prosecute for violations at present."

MORE SIGNS—FEWER ARRESTS.

When the Honolulu police inaugurate one of their periodic campaigns against violators of the traffic law, it is satisfying to the non-autoists of the community but pretty hard on the autoists.

They suddenly find that what went unpunished and apparently unnoticed on Monday was grounds for arrest on Tuesday; that what was perfectly all right on Tuesday got them in the law's clutches on Wednesday; that what their neighbors did hilariously and with impunity on Wednesday brought them to grief on Thursday.

That is about what happened to some thirty unhappy drivers who were gathered in over Sunday for proceeding along the left-hand side of Kalakana avenue instead of the right-hand side. For weeks past other drivers have been on the wrong side, running fast, running slow, running medium. They took that side because it promised a better surface and less dust than the other. Some were doubtless ignorant of the "right-hand drive" rule. Others must have known of it but saw so many of their fellow-autoists taking the wrong side that they also took this side and "took the chance," too.

Then the arrests, the haling into police court, and the fine and suspension of sentence. What one of the country's most noted auto manufacturers—W. R. Timken—remarked to the Star-Bulletin after his visit to the police court is quite correct—that many visiting autoists are likely to violate this regulation in entire innocence of breaking any law. His suggestion of neat but plainly-warning signs is a good one. It will save embarrassment, court work and perhaps some bitter feelings on the part of visitors suddenly placed in the position of law violators. Most autoists will not disregard a plain warning at the beginning of the road, and those who do disregard it are the sort who will benefit by a little journey to the police court.

Without quarreling with the good intentions of the police department, nor casting undue reflections on its suddenly-conceived campaign, the community may profit by these cases. If the city is too poor to have the signs posted conspicuously, the Honolulu Automobile Club or some other organization doubtless can find a way of getting it done without draining the municipal treasury.

MIXED FEELINGS.

Watchful waiting on judicial appointments in the territory comes to an end with the nomination yesterday of one federal and two circuit judges, two reappointments and one appointment in the district attorney's office.

In the majority of cases the nominations yesterday had been definitely forecast. There was never any real doubt that the senate would definitely receive the names of Alexander G. M. Robertson as chief justice and William L. Whitney as second judge of the first circuit, for the recess appointments previously given these men had been made only after the department of justice very thoroughly investigated the local situation.

Attorney-general Gregory found upon investigation that Justice Robertson could not be supplanted by any man likely to approach his record on the supreme bench, and the chief justice had the indorsement of some of the most partisan Democrats in the territory. The chief justice has not only kept out of politics since he ascended the bench but it is a matter of public knowledge that at a time when the appointment of district magistrates rested with him he did his best to keep the district magistrates out of politics.

Judge Whitney's excellent all-round record and his work in juvenile and divorce court cases commended itself so strongly to the attorney-general that Mr. Gregory decided to retain this jurist, after canvassing the field and finding no prospect of a satisfactory successor.

The appointment of Horace W. Vaughan is not a great surprise. For some time the political "dope" has been that Mr. Vaughan would be named judge if the charges preferred against him by Jeff McCann were satisfactorily explained. That the charges could be so explained has been the contention of Mr. Vaughan's friends throughout the fight which has been waged against him with a quiet and masterly persistence. The charges, which were of a personal nature, presumably have been shown to be gross exaggerations. They have been removed, however, to place Mr. Vaughan more on trial in the eyes of the community and his career on the bench will be watched with close, albeit friendly, attention. In his brief residence here he has made many friends of all parties and has successfully steered away from factional entanglements in the Bourbon camps.

There is no question that the appointment of Clem K. Quinn and James Wesley Thompson for the circuit benches on the island of Hawaii has evoked disapproval here. Neither is felt to be of the judicial type. This does not mean that they are not liked in private practise nor that they will not be liked on the bench. It means that they are not regarded as judiciary timber. Manifestly the attorney-general and the president were confronted with a necessity of politics and a paucity of material. But neither the bar nor the laymen will do other than wish the appointees well and to help them if possible to make a success of their responsible positions.

S. C. Huber of Tama, Iowa, is an unknown quantity to all but a very few people—probably not more than three or four—in Hawaii. His reputation is said to be good. He is described as a man of unquestionable personal integrity, rather a "good mixer," a capable lawyer, a strong party man and one who will have no other ambition in Hawaii than to "deliver the goods." The handicap under which he comes is that advance reports have represented him as looking on the trip to Hawaii as rather a pleasure jaunt. This, we hope, does not accurately illustrate his conception of his new job. It is a job that demands the hard work of a hard-working and efficient lawyer.

He will receive a cordial welcome here, but Hawaii has never forgotten the effusiveness which met one Jeff McCann and which has been a matter of rueful amusement most of the time since. Such men as Postmaster Young and Collector Franklin go far to alleviate the pangs of having so many federal appointees sent to us from the mainland, and after all that is largely a penance for the sins of local Democracy. In failing to put up its own good men and trying to tear down what good men are put up by others, Hawaii Bourbonism richly merits the repeated rebukes its ultra-partisans have sustained.

It is not improbable that some effort will be made to defeat one or more of these appointees, but the president has invariably had sufficient votes in the senate to confirm his Hawaiian nominees and doubtless he has them now. Hawaii might as well consider the appointments as final. In fact, further opposition would do more harm than good.

WEARING PATIENCE THIN.

Senator James L. Coke, returning from a stay of many months in Washington, brings back word that Governor Pinkham is "strong with the administration."

The same word has been brought back before, but in most cases by Republicans or "independents" and therefore those who, like Judge Wilder, are seeking to displace the governor have continued their allegations that Mr. Pinkham has not the strong support of the president and Secretary Lane.

When a Democrat of the regularity and long activity of Senator Coke assures Hawaii that the governor is perfectly solid with the administration, some of the baseless clamor should be stilled. Secretary Lane is as firm behind the governor as ever; Secretary Lane is not looking for a successor for the governor; and those who ceaselessly shout that the governor is to be displaced, and that the administration is now casting about for a man to succeed him, are shouting through their hats. Not only that, but they are giving Washington further reason to regard Hawaii as cherishing a chronic grouch against itself and the inhabitants thereof. Not only that, but they are showing themselves up with Secretary Lane. The disappointed office-seekers who have had their chance and been passed up by Washington, by their incessant howls are wearing the territory's patience pretty thin.

Looking over the list of judges named by the president yesterday, our own Pauahi street Jeffersonians don't know whether to cherish a grouch or emit a whoop of satisfaction.

APPRECIATION OF BRAVE ACT.

March 13, 1916.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin: Sir, I was greatly impressed by the promptness with which the young Hawaiians responded to the cry for assistance in the near-drowning accident at Waikiki beach a few days ago. Upon making inquiries I found that those in authority there have made absolutely no arrangement with these young men to rescue their patrons in distress, and that they are continually saving lives without so much as a "thank you" from the managers of the bathing establishments. Since these young men are one of the great drawing cards at Waikiki, instead of demanding 25 per cent of their earnings—which I am told is the case—they should show their appreciation of this excellent work by keeping at least one man on guard during the bathing hour and paying him a salary, no matter how small. To me it looks mighty small in the managers of these establishments to expect the young men to act as life guards and then take a rakeoff of the money they earn. I for one wish to express my admiration and appreciation of unselfishness and bravery of these young men.

NUMBERS FOR STREET CARS.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin:

Sir—I take the extreme liberty to make a suggestion to the able management of the H. R. T. and L. Co. as regards the name on the headboards of our street cars which indicate the respective routes and transfer points, as Waikiki, Kalihi, Kaimuki, Aiea, Manoa, Punaloe, Eimua, Liliha, Nuuanu, Port, etc. These names sound endearing and very plain to a native or an old kamaaina, but Honolulu is nowadays full of strangers and these Hawaiian words are extremely bewildering and confusing to the tourist and hard to remember. I would suggest to the street car management to attach a plain number in addition to the native names to identify the various car lines.

These numbers can be arranged in a slide, to become detachable when a car is wanted for another route. I am sure this slight improvement will be greatly appreciated by the newcomers, tourists and many Hawaiians as well. Strangers can't read the Hawaiian names, but all could read the number on top of the car. If one were asked by a tourist at the corner of King and streets, with several cars on the tracks, which car goes to the beach, it would be easy for us to point out Car No. 1, 2, 3, etc., as each number would identify the respective route the car takes. I noticed that simple innovation on the mainland and it's a great help and comfort to the traveler. For the good of the city.

THREE PICTURES ON PREPAREDNESS

A Farm. (Picture No. 1). The setting sun throwing a golden glow over the ripening wheat and silver tasseled corn. The cattle gently lowing as they wander towards the old grey barn.

A little child beaming with happiness and health runs to meet its father at the gate, the wife meets him half way down the path and after a fond embrace and a loving kiss they race towards the old fashioned farm house.

On the veranda the grey haired grand parents beaming with pleasure as they witness their children's happiness. What a peaceful life. (This is the way it will be if we are always prepared) (Picture No. 2).

The sun is setting in the golden west; it seems as if it is falling in the broad expansive ocean, the water looks like molten gold. The green trees and shrubbery line the shore. The hills in the distance are clad in their green finery—everything is peaceful and quiet. (But No)

Out on the water riding on the lazy swells is our great battleship fleet bristling with guns and behind those peaceful hills the forts manned by our soldiers, brave men and true and the grand old flag, "The Stars and Stripes," waves proudly over all. That is why there is peace and happiness in picture No. 1.

(Picture No. 3). The sun is setting in the west barely visible through the smoke and flame, the old farm house in ruins, the barns full of grain and hay fiercely. The butchered cattle are scattered on the ground. The wheat and corn looks as if it was blasted by a drought. The dead forms of the old grand parents lying on the veranda and also the lifeless forms of the once beautiful and happy mother and child lying on the ground, the once proud and happy father with his death wound kneeling over their forms cursing the nation because it was not prepared. (As shown by picture No. 2).

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

E. R. BARRY and his mother, Mrs. Alice Barry, returned to Honolulu on the Wilhelmina today from San Fran- cisco.

SUPERVISOR DANIEL LOGAN (at Manoa flag-raising): My, it is nice and cool and dry in Manoa. It almost makes me feel reasonable to Kaimuki!

A. W. T. BOTTOMLEY of Bishop & Co. returned on the Wilhelmina this morning from San Francisco, accom- panied by Mrs. Bottomley.

PROF. L. G. BLACKMAN: There is some talk about making the Hono- lulu School for Boys a strictly military institution and changing its name. I think it would be an excellent idea.

WADE WARREN THAYER: It is certainly pleasing to note that the names of Chief Justice A. G. Robert- son and Judge William L. Whitney have been sent to the senate for reap- pointment.

A. M. CRISTY: Assessment rates on Lusitana improvements are lower than originally advertised, despite the fact that the contractor's bid runs over the city engineer's estimate. The city has to pay for additional frontage, which was not assessed against it when the rate was first advertised. This brings the rate down.

HORACE W. VAUGHAN: Have I been expecting to be appointed to Judge Dale's place? Well, I knew I was sent out here to take charge of some responsible work, but I did not know just what the attorney-general was finally going to do with me. It is a pleasant surprise, however, to learn that my name has been sent to the senate.

Leaving her commander, Capt. W. W. Greene, in Honolulu, where he is very ill at Queen's hospital with blood poisoning, the T. K. K. liner Tenyo Maru resumed her voyage to San Francisco at 9 o'clock this morning, taking mail and one stopover passenger, Clarence Griffin, who arrived in the Chiyo Maru February 14.

In command of the big Japanese liner when she sailed this morning was Chief Officer K. Okaaki, who has had command since Capt. Green took to his bed. The chief officer will take the boat to San Francisco, but he said before sailing that he does not know whether he will bring her back.

Officers of the liner said Capt. Togo, the steamer's former commander, who was relieved by Capt. Green, has not been dismissed from the company because of the accident which made the Tenyo a week late as the result of running aground and damaging her rudder at Shimoda. Capt. Togo remains in the T. K. K.'s employ. One report says he will superintend the building of the line's new ships, and another says he will be San Francisco marine superintendent for the company.

The Tenyo ran into a blinding snowstorm about 3 o'clock on the morning of February 5, a day after leaving Yokohama. She was bound to Kobe and swung stern on to a sand pit at Shimoda, breaking off the lower half of her rudder. She went into drydock for a week at Kobe for repairs.

FINDS HE FINED BOAT OWNED BY UNCLE SAM

Uncle Sam, as represented by Collector of Customs J. O. Davis of San Francisco, recently discovered that he had tried himself, found himself guilty, and had fined himself $450, according to the Chronicle. Says this newspaper:

"Some weeks ago customs men under the command of Lieut. W. H. Shay made a trip up the Sacramento river, and after boarding and examining 800 small craft, turned in a report citing more than 50 law violations.

"Among those reported was a nameless motorboat owned by W. D. Nutz of Vallejo.

"Collector Davis adjudged Nutz guilty and assessed a fine of $450 against him for violation of the new navigation laws. Nutz appeared and exhibited a lease to Collector Davis, showing that he leased the boat to Major L. H. Rand, corps of engineers, June 28th last year, and that two years or more of the 18 months specified in the document was the owner of the launch and therefore guilty of any law violations.

"Collector Davis agreed with him and took an appeal from his own judgment to the department at Washington."

MATSON STEAMER ARRIVES AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Coming in nearly half an hour ahead of her scheduled docking time, the Matsun liner Wilhelmnia tied up at Pier 15 at 7:10 this morning, from San Francisco, bringing 78 cabin passengers, among whom was Madame Nellie Melba, the famous singer, who is on her way home, returning to Australia.

A fine voyage, with a sea like glass, was the report of Capt. Peter Johnson and Purser R. V. Menary. The trip from San Francisco was made in the quick time of five days, 17 hours and 44 minutes, this bringing the liner off port at daylight this morning. Dr. F. E. Trotter, chief quarantine officer, passed the ship quickly, so that she was able to dock ahead of time.

Cargo brought to Honolulu by the Wilhelmnia was 4864 tons, and for Hilo she has 780, making the total cargo aboard 5744 tons. There were 11 steerage passengers. Mail was 517 sacks, and automobiles 11 for Honolulu and nine for Hilo.

Among the passengers were a number of Philippine insular government employees, returning to their stations after enjoying vacations on the mainland.

They are going on to Manila on the U. S. army transport Sherman, which arrived this morning from San Francisco, and will sail at noon tomorrow. In the party of Philippine government officials who came here on the Matsun boat because there was not room enough for them on the transport at San Francisco, are the following:

C. H. French, auditor for the insular government, and Mrs. French; Capt. John Youngblood, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wells and two children; Miss Irene Grove, Dr. J. A. Johnston, connected with Philippine leprosy investigation work of the government, and Mrs. Johnston and two children; B. N. Walker and his sister, Miss E. M. Walker.

Chief Steward George Paston reported a number of prominent coast and eastern people among the passengers. These include George D. Toy, owner of the Marx hotel, San Francisco, accompanied by Mrs. Toy; Mr. Miller, an official of the Northwestern Railroad of Milwaukee, and several others.

TENYO CAPTAIN VERY ILL; NO CHANGE YET

Delirious at times when he imagines that he is still in command of his ship, the T. K. K. liner Tenyo Maru, Capt. W. W. Greene, commander of the big steamer, is desperately ill at Queen's hospital, with septicaemia, a form of blood poisoning. He was taken from his ship yesterday on a stretcher.

As a last resort to save his life, it is possible that antitoxin may be injected to arrest the spread of tetanus symptoms. According to Dr. E. D. Kilbourne, who has charge of Capt. Greene's case, the sea captain was this morning in practically the same condition as yesterday with hardly any change one way or the other.

While a portion of the time Capt. Greene is perfectly rational, at other periods he is delirious and unable to recognize his surroundings or those attending him.

HILO SORRY TO SEE HILL LINER TAKEN FROM RUN

Hilo people would like to see the Great Northern kept on the run to that port, according to A. P. Taylor of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, who returned to Honolulu from that city on the Great Northern yesterday morning. Mr. Taylor stated that the people of Hilo would much prefer to have the Hill liner visit Honolulu first and make the return trip via Hilo.

According to the prominent businessmen of Hilo, the Great Northern does not remain long enough to give the people an opportunity to study the scenic beauties, but with the liner making the return to Hilo, they feel that a great many people would stop off for three weeks after having made a trip to Honolulu. At the present time very few stop at this city.

The Hilo people will not take any steps toward a campaign to keep the Hill liner on the run this summer. They take the announcement as final and do not believe that they can do anything to change the present status of the case. They hope that some arrangement can be made to continue the Hill liner for the summer season, according to Mr. Taylor.

Three hundred years ago the population of London was only 150,000.

SHERMAN MAKES GOOD TIME TO HONOLULU

Such good time was made steaming here from San Francisco by Capt. Frank Hall, master of the U. S. army transport Sherman, that he brought his ship off port at 9 o'clock last night, and had to wait until this morning to bring her in. She is sailing at noon tomorrow for Guam and Manila, from Pier 10, where she docked today. The transport left San Francisco at noon March 5.

To Honolulu the Sherman brought 307 passengers, of whom two-thirds, 216, were troop, and the balance first and second cabin. Of first, there were 37, and second, 54.

Through passengers on the transport are 645. For Guam the Sherman has seven first-cabin, 10 second, and 20 troop, marines.

While in port, the transport is taking on 550 tons of bunker coal. When she sails tomorrow, she will take out 317 tons of freight from this port for Guam and Manila. Quartermaster agent of the Sherman is Henry Hobson. His clerk is John McGroarty, a cousin of the California poet.

Getting on here will be 32 first-cabin and 19 second, for whom there was no room in San Francisco. They came over on the Wilhelmnia today, and will occupy the staterooms left vacant by passengers getting off here.

The passengers for Manila getting on here are mostly employees of the insular government returning to their posts. Passengers booked out from here include Judge Ostrand and family, Judge Ostrand's sister and two children, Col. I. W. Jones, Philippine Constabulary; Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Laywalt; Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnston and family; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. French; Mr. Best, Mr. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Foden, B. N. Walker and Miss Walker, Mrs. Gullin and child; Mr. and Mrs. Wells and children, Mrs. Berry, and Miss Jones.

Lusitana and Manoa Improvements Before Board; No Protests on Kalakaua Plans

Lusitana and Manoa improvements took their regular course before the board of supervisors last night, and Kalakaua avenue paving was not interfered with by any objecting interests, despite all the talk that has gone back and forth regarding irregularities and legal objections.

Lusitana assessment rolls, as proposed by the engineer, were approved by the board and are now on file in City Engineer Collins' office in the McIntyre building, subject to the inspection of the interested public. Property owners who object to the roll, or to the corrected map which goes with it, may appear before the board on Tuesday, March 28, to protest. How Cost is Divided.

The total cost of the Lusitana improvements will be $39,816.60. Of this, $17,775.69 is borne by the territory, $12,118.52 by the city and $10,022.39 by 54 parcels of private property. The improvement tax amounts to $3.185042 per front foot, with an additional $0.35 where new curbing is installed. The specific amount assessed against each piece of property is shown on the map in Collins' office.

Public hearing on the assessment roll for the Manoa district was held, and as there were no objectors present the hearing was closed and the board came one step nearer the beginning of actual work in the district. To Report on Drainage.

Engineer Collins was requested to report on the need for sub-drainage in Kalakaua avenue at a future meeting of the board. No change was made in the date set for the public hearing, April 4.

Not a word was said about Supervisor Shingle's successor. Just before the meeting adjourned "Bill" Larsen asked Mr. Shingle if it was his last appearance with the board as a member and, after a word with the clerk, Shingle told him that if the meeting would adjourn until Thursday night he would give his "Swan Song" that night.

MEMO'S OF MEETING OF CITY SUPERVISORS

Earle E. Cook was appointed to fill Fred Swan's place in the county clerk's office.

Minutes of the last meeting will be ready hereafter, instead of being passed on by a special committee.

Honolulu Construction Company was given 30 days additional time to finish the repairs on Kapahulu road, on the recommendation of the city engineer.

Thursday is the date of the next meeting. Supervisor Shingle is going to sing his "Swan Song," he says, and his successor will probably be appointed.

Puuloa road was voted $2000 from the permanent improvement fund. A new road is being laid on top of the old one for several hundred yards from the Puuloa station.

A bid of $5.40 each for 500 electric light fixtures was accepted by the board last night, despite the protests of some members against awarding a contract without competition.

The petition of J. W. McCord, an itinerant evangelist, for permission to erect a tent and hold evangelistic meetings on the old Park theater lot on upper Fort street was referred to the parks committee and the fire chief.

Solomon Wood neglected to show up at the Kaahumanu School for more than a month, despite the fact that he was janitor there. Last night the mayor told the board about it, and at his suggestion Joseph Kini was named in Sol's place.

The Hawaiian Trust Company, as agents for the Brewer estate, asked that two electric lights be placed in the alleyway in the rear of the buildings on Fort street between Hotel and King streets. It was referred to the electric light committee.

The sheriff told the board that he had been compelled to buy 250 additional auto number plates before the close of registration last year and asked that an appropriation be made to pay the bill. It was referred to the police committee for action.

Supervisor Larsen introduced a bill calling for a conference of all city department heads with the board for the purpose of devising ways and means of cutting expenditures so as to bring them within the contemplated income of the city for the year. It was laid on the table.

The park and schools committee recommended the construction of a school cottage at Kaneohe, and a two-room bungalow school house at Ewa. It also asked that a $1000 appropriation for a teacher's cottage at Ewa be rescinded. It was referred to the finance committee.

A bill to separate the emergency hospital and the emergency physician from the health department and create a new department, introduced by Supervisor Daniel Logan, passed first reading and was referred to the health committee and the city attorney. It evoked a long discussion, which grew warm at times. Several of the mem-

WORK IN MANOA MAY BE STARTED IN TWO MONTHS

Work on the Manoa improvements may start in less than two months if all goes well, according to A. M. Cristy, first deputy city attorney. He is busy drawing up the assessment ordinance today, and expects to have it ready for Thursday night's meeting of the supervisors. If it is passed by the board it will require about 10 days more time for certain preliminaries and then 30 days will be allowed property owners in which to pay their assessment or the first of 10 instalments on it.

As soon as the 30 days have expired and the amount to be paid in instalments is known preparations can be made for the issuance of bonds to cover it. Then, if arrangements to sell the bonds are made and the board is sure that funds to pay for the work will be available, a 15 days' notice to the contractor to begin work may be issued. Four weeks' publication of the bond notice is required but it is not necessary to await the actual sale of the bonds before work begins.

RESUME OF UTILITIES ACTIVITY LAST YEAR: HAS MONEY ON HAND

According to its annual report for 1915, now ready for the printer, the Public Utilities Commission collected $9442.58 in fees from the 22 utilities corporations of the territory under its jurisdiction. Of this amount $6226.94 was spent for the running expenses of the commission—$4379.45 for salaries, $602.20 for rent, $196.40 for printing and advertising, $828.79 for investigations, $56.75 for stationery, $44.25 for furniture, and $119.24 for miscellaneous purposes. With the balance from last year and interest added this left $11,592.84 in the commission's fund at the beginning of the year.

The commission held 37 regular and 15 special meetings during 1915. It also conducted six hearings and adjourned 19 meetings because of lack of a quorum.

TIPPERARY PARTY FOR Y. W. MEMBERS FRIDAY: NEW STUNTS PLANNED

The social committee of the Young Women's Christian Association under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. B. Guard is planning a gay Tipperary party for the members of that organization next Friday evening, March 17, from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. All the stunts planned will do honor to St. Patrick and his island, and for this one evening at least all the members, whether American, Hawaiian, Chinese, British, or what not, will develop the Irish love of a good time. The event is announced by an attractive poster at the lobby desk, the work of Miss Ruth Richards.

The area of Lake Superior is 32,200 square miles; Lake Michigan, 22,450; Lake Huron, 23,800; Lake Erie, 9,960; Lake Ontario, 7,240.

bers wish to put the emergency hospital under the jurisdiction of the sheriff.

Nuuanu avenue culvert will be enlarged, in all probability. An appropriation bill which has been on the table for some time was brought out again at the instance of the Dowsett estate, and last night, despite the protest of Supervisor Hollinger that the increased amount of water flowing through the culvert was due to sluicing on the part of the estate and was not the city's fault, it passed second reading.

The fire chief says that the Makiki fire station, Wilder avenue and Makiki street, might stand a little attention from a builder's gang—or a wrecker's gang. The hose tower, he declared in a communication to the board last night, is in danger of collapse at any minute, the roof leaks, the large doors need fixing, and the whole station needs repainting. Outside of that it is all right. The Central fire station, he added, needs new gutters. The letter was referred to the department's committee.

"THE LITTLE PERSONAL TOUCH"

The difference between the commonplace and the unusual in decoration is often separated by a very narrow line.

The ability to add the certain personal touch which accomplishes this difference is born of long experience and careful study—mere experimenting is often expensive and always hazardous.

We therefore offer the benefits of our experience to those who appreciate the highest order of decorative results without the element of uncertainty or disappointment.

OUR repeated statement that Goodyear users far outnumber the users of any other single brand is confirmed by the overwhelming Goodyear preference revealed in the tire census of seventy-one leading cities.

These figures show more than twenty-one per cent of the tires used in these cities to be Goodyear; and they may be accepted as indicative of the Goodyear standing in the country at large.

The basis for this emphatic public preference cannot be price; for dozens of tires sell for less than Goodyear.

It is found in Goodyear quality and in Goodyear features of construction, which make Goodyear Tires last longer, go farther and so cost less in the end.

Well-Known Democrat Returns From Washington With Many Pointers

Governor Pinkham's administration has been quietly but effectively investigated from Washington and has been endorsed.

The governor has the strong support of the president and Secretary of the Interior Lane, and though there is some criticism of him among members of Congress, the result is not shaking Pinkham any in the administration's esteem.

Nothing is to be accomplished by anti-railroad factions were persistently fighting aim.

Some of the conclusions brought from Washington by Senator James L. Coke of Ohio, who returned from the mainland yesterday, with his Coke, he learned that the tactics fighting Finckham had been so common as that Secretary Lane sent a man here quietly to look into the situation, and this man made a report which cemented the support the department of the interior has given the governor.

Here are some other points Senator Coke brings back:

The judiciary appointments made by the president yesterday are virtually certain to be confirmed. There is no use of opposition to them here.

Hawaii's financial status stands high nationally. Senator Coke was employed by the territorial government to secure authorization in Washington for the refunding of two territorial bond issues and the issuance of new bonds. This was handled through Secretary Lane, the president and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, and Mr. Coke was successful in getting the authorization necessary. Mr. Thompson, of the firm of Dillon, Thompson & Clay, which represents the territory in bond issues, told him that Hawaiian territorial bonds are among the most attractive bonds offered on the market. Senator Coke thinks that the refunding is a piece of good financing and will help the territory considerably.

Disqualified for Office.

While he was in Washington, the question of whether he could qualify for United States district attorney here was gone into thoroughly by the department of justice, the legal lights of which decided that the doubt was sufficient to make his appointment inadvisable. As has been published here previously, Mr. Coke was a leading probability for appointment to the U. S. office except for this legal disability, arising out of the fact that under the organic act members of the legislature cannot accept such offices for the term for which they were elected. Had it not been for this, it is understood from influential congressmen that Coke would have been selected. Except to say that he was held probably disqualified under this provision, Senator Coke would not discuss the matter today. He declares his intention to do everything possible for the success of the new district attorney when he comes.

He predicts that the free-sugar repeal bill will be passed and thinks Hawaiian legislation in general is going along smoothly. Senator Coke remains from mentioning the good work he did on a number of measures in which the territory is interested, but that is a matter of knowledge.

"I am back to settle down to law practice again," he said this morning. "After being away nine months I must get busy to pick up the ends. I am not out for any office but hope to do my political duty as a Democrat in the coming campaign."

He will leave for Maui tomorrow to try some cases coming up in the circuit court there. With Mrs. Coke he is now making his headquarters at the Young Hotel but expects to open a law office within a short time.

SUPER FINDING NEW WORK TO HIS LIKING; BOUND FOR FLORIDA

Paul Super, former general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., in a letter to A. E. Larimer states that his work of recruiting young men for the Y. M. C. A. among the colleges is a pleasant one, and although he is kept busy with engagements and has plenty of work to do, he feels that his new work with the college men will be one of pleasure.

When the letter was written Mr. Super had visited Stanford at Palo Alto and the College of the Pacific at San Jose. From there he intends to go south to Los Angeles and after visiting the colleges in that section will leave for Jacksonville, Florida, on March 18. From there he will go to Washington, Boston and Rochester, N. Y. Mr. Super wished to be remembered to his many friends in Honolulu, and stated that his family was in good health.

$5,000,000 IS SUM ASKED FOR NAVAL ACADEMY

Copies of Bill Now in Congress Affecting Hawaii Have Reached Here

Five million dollars is asked of Congress for the establishment of a naval academy in Hawaii, under the terms of the bill recently introduced. Copies of the bill have been received here.

It reads as follows: "Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the Secretary of the Navy of the United States be, and he is hereby, authorized, empowered, and directed to purchase or otherwise acquire a site within the Territory of Hawaii at such point as he may determine best adapted for the purpose, and to construct and fully equip thereon a naval and aviation academy, and to maintain and operate the same as a naval and aviation academy for the training and education of cadets to fit them to become officers in the Naval Establishment of the United States."

"Sec. 2. That cadets shall be admitted to the said academy in accordance with the laws, rules, and regulations governing the admission of cadets to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis."

"Sec. 3. That all the rights, privileges, and duties secured to or prescribed upon the cadets of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis by law, rule, or regulation shall, so far as practicable, be secured to or prescribed upon the cadets of the naval academy hereby established."

"Sec. 4. That for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this Act, the Secretary of the Navy is hereby authorized to make all needful rules and regulations not inconsistent herewith, and there is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $5,000,000."

MAY MAKE ROOM FOR MILITIA AT NAVAL STATION

Permanent quarters for the naval militia have not been secured. The Queen's bungalow and the Alakea St. wharf have both been mentioned. The bungalow is desirable because of its proximity to the palace grounds where there is sufficient room for drilling, the armory being already inadequate for the needs of the National Guard let alone the new naval militia; and the wharf would be handy to the waterfront where the small boats of the organization will have to be kept as soon as they are received.

It is now possible that quarters may be secured in the naval station. For some time the army has occupied a large part of the naval station grounds to house its supplies, and authority is expected officially turning over to the war department part of the station. The remainder is of little practical use to the navy with the completion of the Pearl Harbor station, and Admiral Boush is in favor of letting the naval militia establish its quarters there. As soon as the U. S. S. Navajo's wharf, one or more pieces will be mounted at the naval station exclusively for the instruction and training of the naval militia.

Tuesday evening the men interested in the engineer's division will listen to a lecture and practical illustrations by J. E. Sheedy, superintendent of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, and a member of the Naval Militia Commission. The deck force will continue work in knots and splices. Both divisions will combine for infantry drill.

NEW RULES DESIGNED TO ABOLISH FRAUDS AGAINST ORIENTALS

New rules and regulations for the issuance of birth certificates were signed by the governor Saturday and are published in the advertising columns of this paper. After 30 days of publication they will go into effect, and the issuance of certificates recommence.

Previous rules resulted in many of the more ignorant Orientals being defrauded through the issuance by swindlers of false certificates. Strict rules regarding the appearance of applicants for certificates at hearings, the signing of affidavits and the statements of witnesses contained in the new regulations will eliminate this, it is believed.

WILSON ACCEDES TO CARRANZA'S PROPOSITION OF UNITED ACTION; SENATORS SEE GRAVITY OF CRISIS

President Believes Mexican Leader is Acting in Good Faith

FUNSTON MASSING BIG FORCE ALONG BORDER

Pershing Will Be Active Commander in Field; Much Artillery to Go Along

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles) WASHINGTON, D. C., March 14.—President Wilson last night was reported as indignant at rumors that the administration expects trouble with Carranza.

It was announced at the White House that Mr. Wilson believed in the good faith of the president of Mexico, and has accepted his proposal for a reciprocal agreement which gives the Constitutionalists the right to cross the border line and enter the United States whenever their leader deems it advisable.

When the news of this decision on the part of the administration was made public it aroused the wildest enthusiasm in the Mexican embassy, where it had been anxiously awaited. In official circles it was stated that certain elements have been consistently misrepresenting the facts in the case in order to bring on a war with Mexico if possible.

Mexican Troops Ready.

Five thousand Carranza troops are now being gathered at Cabañeros, 18 miles south of the border at Douglas, Arizona. Gen. Calles is in command of this force, which has with it 15 pieces of heavy artillery and a number of machine guns. It is announced that Gen. Calles will lend every assistance to the troops under Gen. Funston.

Preparations for the punitive expedition are being rushed through as secretly and as speedily as possible by Gen. Funston, who has his headquarters in San Antonio. Four troops of the 1st Cavalry have left San Diego, Cal., for Fort Douglas, where they will be joined by other troops of the same regiment, with orders to proceed at once to the border for service with the expeditionary forces.

It is believed here that the main body of the pursuit will start from Columbus, N. M., where a large force of cavalry and artillery has been assembled, and is said to be ready to cross at a moment's notice.

Nation Must Get Ready.

In the senate, yesterday, the Mexican situation excluded everything else. Senator Borah, in an impassioned address, urged the senate to forget everything else and concentrate upon the work of getting the nation into a state of preparedness.

"No one knows what the consequences of this move against Villa may be," said the senator. "It is quite possible that we may find our expectations are far short of the actualities time may bring us, and now is the opportunity to make preparation—such preparation as should have been made long ago."

Senator Chamberlain of Oregon declared he believes there are not enough men and supplies to handle the task we have undertaken.

May Have to Fight Whole of Mexico.

"I should not be at all surprised," he said, "if we come soon to find ourselves fighting the whole of a united Mexico. I believe that it would take but little to swing the entire republic back for Villa, who is certain to pose as a persecuted hero in the eyes of many of his fellow countrymen. Should such a situation arise we are going to find that we have neither the men nor the munitions to do the work that will devolve upon us."

Gen. Pershing Will Command.

From Gen. Funston at San Antonio, Texas, came the announcement that there are enough soldiers gathered now under his command to begin the pursuit of Villa at once, but that his plans for furnishing sufficient backing for the expedition are not yet completed, and may not be for several days. He declined to make any estimate of the length of time it will take before the columns can start.

"When I have completed my arrangements there will not be more than six or eight regiments left in the whole of the country, save those scattered along the border," he said. Pershing Field Officer.

He also announced that Gen. John J. Pershing will take personal command of the columns in the field, and that the final disposition of the forces will be left to the commands of that officer. It is estimated that more than 12,000 men, with 45 mountain guns and field batteries have been concentrated between Douglas, Ariz., and El Paso, Tex.

Reports from Columbus, unconfirmed here, declare that the troops there are getting ready to leave Thursday or Friday morning. It is reported that the column which is based upon the railroad town, is fully equipped with a supply train of 108 motor trucks in the hands of civilian drivers. In all there are 3500 men at Columbus. This column will be equipped with aeroplanes supplied with wireless apparatus. These will act as scouts, trailing the fleeing robbers to their hiding places in the mountains.

Gen. Pershing, who will command the expeditionary force, yesterday had a lengthy conference with Gen. Gaviro, the Carranza commander of the garrison at Juarez, across the Rio Grande from El Paso. After the conference Gen. Pershing returned to division headquarters at El Paso, and declared that most satisfactory arrangements have been reached with the Carranza forces.

ART EXHIBIT BY CHRISTMAS IS ATTRACTING FAVORABLE COMMENT

The exhibition of paintings and drawings by E. W. Christmas, R. B. A., now being exhibited at the rooms over Castle and Cooke's, is being visited by a large attendance of art lovers of this city who all proclaim the collection of highest interest, both from an art point of view and also for the great variety of subject and versatility of treatment.

No. 1, "The Christ of the Andes," is one of the most attractive, much on account of the history and sentiment attached to that beautiful subject.

No. 3, "Moonlight, West Kilbride, Scotland," is no doubt the finest painting in the collection, the feeling of frozen snow, the moonlight on the houses, the mere suggestion of detail in the shadows, the lights showing through the windows, are all beautifully felt, while the drawing and composition is masterful.

"Mount Fairweather, Alaska," No. 9, A most peaceful scene on a summer day, while in the distance is seen Mount Fairweather, 18,000 feet above the sea, surrounded by clouds above which she stands majestically, and the translucent sky is reflected in the translucent waters below.

No. 12, "Sunset, Mount Shasta," a strong and bold piece of work in which is shown that wonderful effect of refracted light on snow in shadow. The same successful treatment is shown in No. 4, "Resurrection Bay, Alaska." Quite equal, yet quite different, is "Australians," No. 14, with the dry grass of the summer, and the kangaroos in their wild state among the gum forests of Australia. Great interest also has been shown in No. 13, "Desertation, Calif.," No. 11, "Indian Fisher's Camp, Alaska," No. 24, "Winter Bruges, Old English Home, Lincolnshire," "The Oaks," "Richmond Park, London," "Ocean Shore, Coast and Sausalito Plate," (water colors); and some interesting subjects of the world's fair, San Francisco. Also two very fine examples in water colors by G. C. Harte—"An English Cottage" and "Near Granada, Spain." Mr. Harte is one of the best known water color men of the day and his works are popular in the European centers.

Then there are examples by well-known American artists; one, an exquisite little McNeil Whistler, which is really a fine example of that artist's work. Others are "Spring," by Gustav Wiegand; "Sunshine," by Robert Reid; landscapes by Floyal Field, A. N. A.; Geo. Smiley, N. A., etc.

In fact, the whole collection is very creditable and one of the finest that has been brought to Honolulu. The exhibition will be on view for a couple of weeks daily from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Admission is free.

WAILUKU, March 13.—In the arrest on Wednesday afternoon of three Japanese, Miyano, Matsumoto and Nakahara in Kahului, the police believe that they have broken up chefa on Maui. LANE'S SPECIAL MESSAGE SETS FORTH NEED OF ISSUE OF BONDS

Mayor Tells Supervisors $250,000 Necessary for City Hall, $500,000 For Roads

Mayor Lane read to the supervisors last night his promised message on the proposed $750,000 bond issue. He asked that an issue of $250,000 be authorized for a new city hall, $150,000 for the building and $100,000 for the lot—and $500,000 for roads. He spoke of the possibility of the federal government building a military road around the island at a cost of $1,000,000, but thought that only implied an obligation on the part of the county to do its share in the building of roads.

The message was received by the board and placed on file to be considered at some future meeting.

It follows in full:

Net Balance Small.

"I submit herewith for your consideration estimates of amounts required for public improvements.

"In my first message the section of finances was discussed at some length, to which your attention is invited.

"The large deficit at the end of the last fiscal year has been a serious aspect to this question. It illustrates that the gap between needs and means which often tends to widen is seldom bridged satisfactorily for any considerable period, while the task of making ends meet is perennial.

"At first it has seemed as if little that was urgent had remained undone, and yet, at the beginning of the term of the present board of supervisors, with a net balance in the general fund of $1,448.92, there has appeared the usual formidable array of pressing needs that never cease to accumulate with wonderful rapidity in a present-day live political, industrial and social organism.

Should Be Surprised.

"The government cannot any more than a private enterprise, be successfully financed on a small surplus with which to meet the absolutely necessary increases in expenditures. Not only should allowances be made for maintaining the government from one tax-paying period to the next, but, if possible, there should be maintained a surplus as a margin for emergency expenditures and temporary reductions in revenues. The status of our public finances at the present time is such as to require most careful thought in order to avoid another period of financial deficiency at an early date.

"Seldom has the board of supervisors been confronted with so many important problems as now, but seldom has it met under more auspicious conditions of proving equal to the situation.

Principal Needs.

"It will readily be seen that permanent improvements within the next few years must be provided for mainly out of loan funds. Nothing has been done in this direction since the establishment of city and county government and there is pressing need that much shall be done during the next few years. The permanent improvements required will be considered more particularly elsewhere in this message, under the appropriate headings; but, in general, it may be stated here that the principal needs are for a city hall and roads.

Bonding Limitation.

"The limit prescribed by law to which bonds may be issued is two and one-half per centum of the assessed value of property in the city and county, or, say, $2,500,000, in the aggregate, on an assessed valuation of $90,000,000, and one-half of one per centum of such assessed value, or, say, $450,000, in any one year; but it will probably be advisable in any event to issue bonds, not all at once, but in instalments, so as to avoid keeping an unnecessarily large sum in idleness and so as not to affect labor condition too seriously. The total amount of bond issue to be authorized is $750,000, or, say, $400,000 to be issued during the first year, and $350,000 during the second year.

"The term of which bonds may be issued is 15 years, redeemable at any time after five years; and the rate of interest is not more than five per centum per annum; payable semi-annually. This should facilitate the sale of bonds at par; but, even if the condition of the bond market is such that the bonds may be sold at a discount, such sale cannot be made at less than two per centum below the nominal par value of such bonds. If the rate of interest is five per centum, there will have to be set aside annually for sinking fund in addition to interest, if the term of the bonds is 15 years, an amount equal in the aggregate to the par value of such bonds at maturity.

Spend Without Waste.

"In order to justify the issue of bonds adequate provisions should be made for the expenditure of the proceeds to the best advantage and without waste, and for the upkeep of the proposed public improvements, so that they will not require to be replaced before the bonds are paid, for it would be foolish in the extreme and unjust to the future, which must pay the bonds, to permit the incurrence of so great an obligation without making sure that the intended benefits would be realized.

"As pointed out in my first message, the desirability of acquiring a suitable site and building for a city hall is becoming more urgent on account of the rapid growth of our city and the increased functions of our local government.

fair lots, of the seas and the appreciation shown by a large number of visitors to our shores encourages the expectation that a large number of mainlanders, with independent means, will make this city their home during a portion of the year and thus add to the delight and prosperity of the community. The city is enlarging its accommodations for tourists and providing means of entertainment. In order to add to the charm and attraction of our growing city, provision must be made out of loan funds for a suitable site and building for a city hall.

"It is estimated that a bond issue of $150,000 will be required to cover the cost of a municipal building of modern design that will conveniently accommodate all the departments of our city and county government. Such building will add to its own dignity as well as to the charm of our city and, if properly kept up, will outlast the life of the bonds issued for its construction.

Location for City Hall.

"As to the location for a city hall, it is deemed desirable to secure a site near the official center well established at Union Square. This center is most preferable on account of its present significance, its growing importance as official business increases with the addition of the proposed federal building, and its past, which cannot fail to be of historical interest. Public sentiment seems to favor the triangle bounded by King, Merchant and Alakea streets, commonly known as the "Gore Lot," for which it is estimated that a bond issue of $100,000 will be required. It may be possible, with the cooperation of the governor, if proper representations are made, to secure this lot, or some other suitable site near that center, by exchange, through the territory, thereby avoiding the incurrence of so large an obligation.

"This subject was discussed at some length in my first message, to which your attention is invited.

Plans Under Way.

"Through the operation of the franchise tax law, street improvements in the District of Honolulu will be borne more largely by those who are specially benefited thereby, and plans and specifications are already under way for certain improvement districts. In the outlying districts vast sums of money are required for the construction or reconstruction of roads, some of which certain portions of the belt road, which must be met, if at all adequately, by the issuance of bonds.

"The need of more and better roads is becoming more pressing, since our city is rapidly growing in population and expanding in area, and with the added transportation facilities, tourist travel is increasing, as shown during the first two months of this year, which breaks all records for similar periods in past years. Visitors who have noticed the congested condition at times of our famous resorts at Waikiki have often sought recreation at the coral gardens in Kaneohe Bay, and, perhaps, would have found the beach at Kaliua or some other country district more attractive were the roads leading thereto in condition for travel.

Crossings of Traffic.

"As a military outpost of the United States, the location of Hawaii at the crossways of traffic between the Orient and North and South American ports makes the subject of roads one of imperative moment from a strategic viewpoint. It is a matter of gratification, however, that through the untiring efforts of the chief executive of the territory, and with the cooperation of the military authorities at Washington, D. C., it is estimated that Congress will provide an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the construction of military roads on the island of Oahu, which, as contemplated, will include such strategic points as Koko Head, Makapuu Point and Kaena Point. With such liberal aid from the federal government it is expected that the city and county will gratefully contribute its share towards the maintenance of such roads.

$500,000 For Roads.

"It is estimated that a bond issue of $500,000 will be required for roads, which will be expended for the reconstruction and completion of portions of the belt road, and the construction of roads in the outlying districts. This is a safe estimate, since roads often entail great and continuous expense for their maintenance. A much smaller issue would hardly create an impression.

"The estimates herewith submitted do not include all needs, nor are they as large as might be desired. The aim has been to keep down the load of indebtedness, to insure its payment and the economical expenditure of loan funds, and to meet the varying needs and resources of our city and county. Nothing has been done in the past in the matter of public improvements out of loan funds that such is required now in order to meet the urgent needs of a growing city."

TENNIS DOUBLES PLAYERS

(Probable pairings.)
William Hoogs and William Warren, Alan Lowrey and S. Kennedy, John O'Dowda and Charles Littlejohn.
Walter Dillingham and John Naughton, Walter Dillingham and William Henoch, Harold Dillingham and Harold Castle.

On Wednesday afternoon the devotees of tennis will have an opportunity to watch the first play in the singles of the Hawaiian tennis championships at the Pacific, Moana and Beretania courts. In the first round of play the matches will be staged in various sections of the city.

At 4 p. m. on the Pacific courts William Eklund will have an opportunity to meet Walter Dillingham, and the island champion should win out in the first round. Fifteen minutes later Hoogs will meet Lieut. Jones at the Beretania courts and Alan Lowrey will play Castle at the Moana courts. Eklund and O'Dowda part.

Although the doubles players have not yet been announced, it is expected that they will be about the order as stated above. John O'Dowda and William Eklund have parted and these two sterling players will have an opportunity to meet each other. Hoogs and Warren appear to be the logical favorites and if these players keep on top of their game throughout

SEERIES OF ARTICLES ON MAJOR LEAGUE TEAMS

Beginning tomorrow afternoon, the Star-Bulletin will begin the publication of a series of articles on the prospects of the major league teams for 1916. The teams are now in the South in their first practice series, and the fans are naturally watching for the new stars, and the players who were the idols last season.

In this series of articles the writer will take up the work of the youngsters as well as the men who made a name in the baseball hall of fame last season. Beginning the series the writer will first take up the prospects of the Boston Americans, world's champions.

The recent tennis tournament has given the game a big boost here and if the young players can be developed Hawaii is destined to see a real star on the courts. The ladies have entered the play this morning and this will naturally attract a number of tennis devotees. The entries for the ladies' singles will close on Friday afternoon and those who wish may make their entry at E. O. Hall & Sons, Ladies' Singles to attract.

Interest naturally centers around the entries in the ladies' singles, as the feminine players did not have an opportunity to show in the recent tournament. There are a number of players in the city who have been playing a sterling game and the matches this month should be an incentive to bring out the leading talent in Honolulu.

Among the leading players who may enter the coming play in the ladies' singles are Mrs. Rendon Hind, Miss E. M. Watson, Mrs. E. Gordon, Miss Alice Hopper and Miss Pauline Schaefer. Without doubt the ladies' singles will attract more than ever this tournament as the visitors in the city have not had an opportunity to watch the feminine players in action.

The ladies' tournament will be in charge of the following committee: Alice Hopper, chairman; Pauline Schaefer, Mrs. Rendon Hind, Mrs. E. M. Watson, A. L. Castle.

Entry books for ladies' singles, ladies' doubles and mixed doubles now open at E. O. Hall & Son. Entries for ladies' singles close Friday, March 17, 3 p. m. Drawings will then be held and people are requested to watch the papers for schedule of matches.

MARY PICKFORD BUYS TWO BOXES FOR FIGHT

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Among the early purchasers of seats for the Moran-Willard fight was an emissary from Miss Mary Pickford, movie star, who engaged two boxes for herself and a party of friends. This reservation was made in the section set aside for ladies and their escorts.

HUDNALL HOLDS COASTERS SAFE WITH TWO HITS

A picked team from the U. S. S. Alert and Fort Armstrong defeated a second-rate team from the 159th Company, C. A. C., on the Fort Armstrong grounds Sunday morning by a score of 9 to 0. The game was featured by the hard hitting, which consisted of one home run, two two-base hits and two three-base hits, also by the squabbling and "rag chewing" of all concerned. The umpires to start the game were Sgt. Ranch and Langer.

The Alerts scored their nine runs in two innings and off of five hits. Stewart pitched good ball throughout the game but his support was weak. Hudnall's pitching was of the best and his support "elbowed" from start to finish. Box score:

BUCKLAND STARS IN HITTING IN GAME WON BY 1 COMPANY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, March 14.—With the regiment going into the field tomorrow for two weeks, Companies I and H looked horns today in what will probably be the last game in the 1st Infantry Regimental League for at least a fortnight. And it was not a very thrilling game at that, for while Company I won by a score of 8 to 2 it only made one more hit than H and only one less error. In fact, errors were a feature of the game, the error column quite outbalancing the runs. Buckland, the Company H catcher, as usual, distinguished himself by his work with the stick, but as on previous occasions Company H found that more than one man has to do the ball in order to win the game. Johnson, the Company I pitcher, had it all over the old redoubts, Schubert and O'Reel, of Company H. He struck out nine of Company H's batters and fielded his position in fine shape. Score by innings:

ST. LOUIS STAR MAKES NEW MARK IN VAULTING

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 27.—It was announced today that the world's indoor pole vault record for a board floor was broken by F. W. Floyd of the Missouri Athletic Association of St. Louis in the annual indoor meet of the Kansas City Athletic Club last night. Floyd topped the bar at 12 feet 8 1/2 inches.

The former record was held by Sam Bellah of the Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland, Oregon. The outdoor record is 13 feet 2 1/4 inches, made by M. S. Wright of Dartmouth.

Y. M. BASKETEERS RETURN

Winning one game out of five played, the Y. M. C. A. basketball team returned from the mainland this morning on the Wilhelmine. The players all state that they were forced to meet a number of heavyweights, and stood no chance against the rushing tactics of the mainlanders. Their one victory was scored over the San Francisco Y. M. C. A. aggregation. Although the players met defeat they learned a number of points about the game which will be invaluable.

VOLLMER SELF-MADE CHAMPION SAYS HANDLEY

Columbia University Star Has Own Peculiar Stroke Invented By Himself

By L. DE B. HANDLEY.

Herbert Vollmer, the 19-year-old swimming marvel of Columbia and the New York Athletic Club, who has broken world's records at every important meet this season, is a self-made champion.

He picked up the stroke he uses—the four-beat single trudgen crawl—by watching leading swimmers and then took pains to study the scientific principles which govern it, formed his own ideas, and proceeded to exploit them.

He has had coaching, of course, but those who supervised his work were permitted to correct only the faults of execution every swimmer incurs, and not to change his style. On that point he was always firm. Having reached his own conclusions as to the ideal stroke he intended to follow them and did.

It was during the season of 1912-13 that Vollmer served his novitiate in the competitive field, wearing the colors of Stuyvesant high school. Before the season closed he had leaped into the limelight. In March, at the scholastic championships, he captured the 50 and 100-yard titles in brilliant manner, breaking the league records at both distances.

The summer found Vollmer sporting the Mercury Foot of the New York A. C. and improving so rapidly that the A. U. handicapper couldn't keep him from winning. He went on bettering his times throughout the following winter, so that more scholastic titles and records went to his credit, and the outdoor season of 1914 landed him among America's foremost swimmers.

In August he finished third in the 800-yard national championship; in September he was second in the national 400-meter swim, shattering the 1000-yard standard on the way.

After that victories came in quick succession. Meet of the district titles fell to his lot in 1915, but it was only last December that he attained world's record speed, by sprinting 100 yards in the admittedly slow 75-foot pool of the New York A. C. in 54.4 seconds, the fastest time ever made under the conditions.

Since then he has shattered world's records at 150, 200 and 220 yards, as well as at 200 meters, and because his past performances clearly indicate that he is essentially a middle distance swimmer rather than a sprinter, there is good reason to believe international figures at the longer courses are now at his mercy.

Vollmer is ideally built for a swimmer, standing six feet and weighing a trifle under 170 pounds, broad of shoulder and lean of hip, he shows the long, clean, smooth muscles which spell speed and efficiency.

In winning the 220-yard metropolitan title Vollmer established the world's record of 2m. 24.4 sec.

TUCSON BOWLERS DEFEAT LOCALS

Honolulu lost three games to the Tucson, Arizona, Y. M. C. A. in the match bowled on February 28. The Honolulu team represented the local association and were somewhat below their usual form.

Tucson showed that there are some good bowlers in the new "Y" there and a total pinfall of 2662 fell to the Arizonaans. There is some talk of picking an all-star team of bowlers from the Honolulu Y. M. C. A. to go after the Tucson association in a challenge match.

The score by games:

Tucson	905	857	840	2602

SLOAN LET GO OF $1,000,000 TRYING TO WIN RACING BETS

Recently an acquaintance met Tod Sloan.
"Do you plan to go back into the racing game?"
"Never again," was the answer.

"How did you get rid of your money?"
"Living up to my income—and betting," was the answer.
"Used to be lucky in my betting until the turn came in my afairs. Then I couldn't pick a winner. I lost $60,000 one day, and my losses on some of the other days were almost as big."

CENTRAL GRAMMAR TEAM WINS FROM NORMALS IN ONE-SIDED SCORE AT "Y"

The Central Grammar indoor baseball team trampled all over the Normal school team yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A., the game ending with the score 18 to 4 in favor of the grammar school boys.

Clarence Lane, crackerjack hurler of the Central grammar school, did not occupy the box yesterday, as the victors figured an easy game without the star in the box. Leo de Roo, captain and pitcher of the Normals, displayed poor pitching yesterday, and although given excellent support by his teammates, failed to stop his opponents from running up a large score. Starting with the third inning, the slingers of the grammar school batted de Roo to all corners of the field, to the delight of their supporters.

Lee, a younger brother of Lai Tin, tossed for the victory, handling the pill in great style, and for several innings his opponents were unable to locate the ball as it shot over the plate. A large number of students from both schools, as well as outsiders, witnessed the game yesterday. This makes the second defeat the Normals have encountered since the beginning of the series between the two schools. Central grammar stands on top of the column with no games lost and two victories to their credit, while the Normals have lost two games. The two teams will clash again next Friday.

Following was the line-up:
Central Grammar—Hooper, c; Lee, p; R. Auerbach, 1b; Kruger, 2b; O. Auerbach, 3b; En Fa, ss; Lane, rf; Leong, cf; Gliman, lf.
Normal—Chan, c; de Roo, p; Kiyochi, 1b; Kay, 2b; Chew, 3b; Rodricks, ss; Edwards, lf; Tai, rf; Auna, cf.

STEERE WINNER OF MANOA CLUB TENNIS TOURNAMENT

F. E. Steere of the Manoa Tennis Club for the second time won the men's singles in the recent tournament held on the home courts. Altogether there were 16 entries, and Steere won out in the final match from H. E. Savage in four hard sets.

The Manoa Tennis Club at the present time is in a flourishing state, and the club has done much to promote tennis in Honolulu. The younger players are beginning to take advantage of the opportunity to play the game, and altogether the class of play has improved in the past year.

The Manoa Cup was presented by E. G. Jall & Sons. Gerald Erwin had his name first inscribed on the cup in 1911. Kenneth Barnes won in 1912 and again in 1915. In 1913 J. B. Guard was the winner, and in 1914 and in 1915 Steere captured the title.

Officers of the Manoa Club who have helped to develop tennis here are E. A. Roth, president; Kenneth Barnes, vice-president; B. F. Beardmore, secretary and treasurer; F. E. Steere, A. L. Andrews, J. B. Guard and B. F. Beardmore, games committee.

FIREWORKS!

I met him down at Melville's place, This fat man, full of glee.
A grin was chasing over his face, He chuckled, "Hee-hee-hee."
He laughed so hard I thought he'd choke
And said to him, "Old chap,
Please tell me, what's the blooming joke
That wrinkles up your map?"

"Oh! ho-ho-ho," he answered then.
"Since Haughton bought the Braves, I've thought of what will happen, when
He calls that gang of slaves
With stallions there to lend a hand
They're apt to need a hearse
When Haughton censures Evers and
When Johnny answers Perce."

"When Cambridge starts to mix with Troy
I want a grandstand seat.
I want to hear this Evers boy—
Say, won't the row be sweet?
With Schmidt, Magee and Gowdy near
To urge these fellows on,
Believe me, man, I want to hear
What Percy says to John."

And then this fellow roared some more
I thought he'd burst his side.
He rolled in glee upon the floor
And very peevishly died.
But when a laughing death seemed near
He whispered to the nurse:
"Before I die, please tell me, dear,
What Johnny said to Perce."

CHINESE SQUAD BREAKS EVEN IN HONOLULU PLAY

Last night's bowling match—Honolulu 2, All-Chinese 2.

Tonight's match—Dormitory Club vs. Triple A (Club League).
Tomorrow's match—Service vs. Cheehakos.

The All-Chinese and Honolulu split even in a bowling match at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The Chinese sprung a surprise by winning two games out of three but the Honolulu evened the match by taking total pinfall.

Henry Yap had high average for the evening, 169. Captain Young was second with 168. Leslie Scott rolled the best single game of the match, 293. This gave Scott high average. Both teams slumped from their form of last week.

Tonight the Club League season opens with a match between the Dormitory and Triple A Clubs. Both teams have a number of good men in their lineups. O. E. Bears captains the Dormitory Club and Harry Melim is the Triple A leader. Last night's scores:

CLARENCE GRIFFIN LEAVES FOR COAST ON TENYO TODAY

Clarence J. Griffin, national doubles champion with William Johnston, left for the mainland on the Tenyo Maru this morning. Griffin made many friends during his stay here, and played brilliant tennis in his matches during the Carnival.

Before leaving Griffin stated that he would be pleased to return to Honolulu in the near future, as he enjoyed every minute of his visit here. Griffin was very much impressed with the present attention given the play, and stated that with more tournaments Honolulu should develop a star player in time.

An intensely interesting, yet sad story about an artist who gradually went blind. Many people partially lose their sight by exposure to strong light. The useless, harmful heat and actinic rays will not pass through Sir William Crookes' glass, yet all the necessary, useful light does. THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

USED THOUSANDS OF PERSONS IN NATIONAL FILM

CANE FIELDS OF GEORGIA SHOWN BY PATHE FILM

Five thousand men and women and 2000 horses, arrayed in the medieval trappings of the sixteenth century, constitute the cast of "In the Palace of the King," the six-reel photo-play which is to be the week-end feature on the National theater's screen, beginning tomorrow evening. The production comes heralded as one of the most gorgeous film spectacles shown here this season.

The producers, the Essanay Company, were fortunate in obtaining a number of the leading stars of the legitimate stage. E. J. Ratcliffe, who takes the part of King Philip II of Spain, was for four years leading man for Mrs. Leslie Carter in "Zaza," "Camille," and other plays and starred with Nance O'Neil in "Macbeth" and other Shakespearean plays. Lewis Edgards, who has the role of Adonis, the court jester, was with Nat Goodwin in "The Artful Dodger," "Oliver Twist" and similar productions.

Arleen Hackett, who plays the leading feminine role, has been a Broadway star for the last three years. The narrative, adapted from F. Marion Crawford's novel of that name, was filmed just outside of Chicago. Two regiments from the Illinois National Guard were engaged to represent Don Juan's victorious army. The troopers and foot soldiers, garbed in the ancient, picturesque costumes, make an imposing array.

Film fans will have their last opportunity this evening to see Charlie Chaplin in the role of villain, which he plays in the picture, "Mabel at the Wheel." The Wallingford screen comedy, "A Transaction in Summer Boarders," also will make its final appearance tonight.

"The Last Days of Pompeii," well known in book form, as a stage offering and as a subject for the pyrotechnic expert, has been adapted to the film, making one of the most spectacular offerings ever shown upon the screen. "The Last Days of Pompeii" comes to the Bijou Thursday for a limited engagement and should prove as popular as that other great spectacle, "Cabrila." The production is by Pasquali, one of the leading Italian film-makers, and the artists employed include the leaders in the profession in Southern Europe.

At the Wallack's Theater, New York City, "The Last Days of Pompeii" recently enjoyed a record-breaking run for a screen offering, being played for a number of return engagements. It will be possible to hold this spectacular film in Honolulu but a short time. The work of the cameraman in this great feature—it is a solid 6000 feet in length—could hardly be excelled. The scenic effects would be hard to beat, while the scenes showing Vesuvius in action are something almost beyond the limited use of adjectives or adverbs. The flow of lava down the mountainside, the destruction of the massive marble structures and the supreme effort of the populace to flee to safety combine in a finished product that is actually hair-raising.

In addition to this feature the Bijou will offer 2000 feet of laughs when Charlie Chaplin appears in "A Night in the Show," his latest success.

SUCCESS OF NEW REMEDY FOR BACKACHE, RHEUMATISM, KIDNEYS

Folks in Honolulu and adjoining counties are delighted with the results they have obtained by using "An-uric," the newest discovery of Dr. Pierce, who is head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, in Buffalo, N. Y. Those who started the day with a backache, stiff legs, arms and muscles, and an aching head (worn out before the day began because they were in and out of bed half a dozen times at night) are appreciating the perfect rest, comfort and new strength they obtained from Doctor Pierce's An-uric Tablets. To prove that this is a certain uric acid solvent and conquers headache, kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism, if you've never used the "An-uric," cut this out and send 10 cents to Doctor Pierce for a large sample package. This will prove to you that "An-uric" is 37 times more active than lithia in eliminating uric acid—and the most perfect kidney and bladder corrector. If you are a sufferer, 50¢ to your best druggist and ask for a 50-cent box of "An-uric." You run no risk for Dr. Pierce's good name stands behind this wonderful new discovery as it has for the past half century for his "Favorite Prescription" for weak women and "Pleasant Pellets" for liver ills.—Adv.

RECEPTION PLANNED FOR MAUI VISITORS

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]
WAILUKU, March 10.—In honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fuller of San Francisco, who will arrive in Honolulu by the Great Northern, next Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. J. Garcia have issued invitations to a reception to be held at their home in Wailuku on Saturday evening, March 18. Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, who will be Mr. and Mrs. Garcia's guests for some time, are expected on Maui by Tuesday's Claudine.

Pauline Frederick, according to the billing of the Famous Players Film Company, is "the supreme emotional artist." In "Zaza," at present packing the Liberty theater, she gives every indication of being entitled to this billing. The role is one filled with emotional possibilities and the picturized version is even superior in this respect to the stage production.

In the role of Henri Dufrene, Julian L'Estrange, a typical "matinee idol," does some excellent work. In fact the entire cast is of the Famous Players standard, introducing several new artists whose future work will undoubtedly be watched with interest by the Liberty clientele.

In the Pathe Weekly for the first half of the present week there is shown a series of scenes in Southern Georgia, in the sugar raising section of that state. The methods of grinding and boiling sugar as practiced "down south" should prove of particular interest in Hawaii. The method is sufficiently crude to be branded as "primitive," especially in comparison with the advanced methods in vogue in this territory.

"Neal of the Navy" and his entire party are carried through a frightful siege of yellow fever, Neal, Annette and the others barely escaping the dreaded plague. This serial is rapidly nearing its conclusion and the interest becomes deeper with each episode.

SIX STARS SEEN IN FEATURE AT HAWAII THEATER

William Fox continues to send stronger attractions to Honolulu almost weekly, and the Hawaii theater, headquarters for the Fox service, is consequently one of the best patronized photo-play houses in this city. The week's offering for the present week is not only a strong dramatic offering, but tends to present an "all-star" cast that is "all-star" in every sense of the word.

The artists include Charles Richman, Catherine Countiss, Claire Whitney, Stuart Holmes, Walter Hitchcock and Maud Turner Gordon. All have been starred individually in previous offerings and all have registered big. As a combination, and with an exceptionally clever vehicle, they present a masterpiece of screen work.

The plot of "The Idler" is well laid and is interest-sustaining from start to finish. Richman is seen in the name part, as a young Englishman of wealth and position deeply in love with the wife of his closest friend. With nothing but time on his hands and with all the money he can well spend, he bends every effort to win the woman for himself. He holds a power over the husband which he uses in his efforts to win the wife. However, he fails of success and the climax in which the husband intervenes is a photo-dramatic masterpiece.

In addition to the Fox feature the Hawaii is presenting a couple of comedy offerings of the first water.

COSTUMES FOR PLAY ORDERED FROM MAINLAND

When the Tenyo Maru sailed for the coast this morning she carried an order addressed to Goldstein & Company of San Francisco, theatrical costumers, to rush the preparation of a complete set of costumes for the presentation of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew," which is to be presented here after Easter by the Footlights Club. The costumes will be exact copies of those used by Margaret Anglin in her last revival of "The Taming of the Shrew."

Miss Desmond Kelley, a Broadway professional who has been starred by various managers, has consented to play the leading feminine role of Katherine. Miss Kelley, fortunately for the Footlights, happens to be visiting in Honolulu, and has graciously agreed to handle the heavy part.

CONTRACTORS SEE STORM RUIN PART OF FINISHED JOB

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]
WAILUKU, March 10.—The Howell Engineering Company, which has the contract for the Kihel homestead road, had finished its job at noon last Saturday, and was preparing to transport its labor gang away, when the big rainstorm swept that section of the island, taking out a large fill or two, and necessitating considerable rebuilding before their job will again be in shape for acceptance.

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH 'DANDERINE'

Spend 25 Cents! Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out

Try This! Hair Gets Beautiful Wavy and Thick in a Few Moments

If you care for heavy hair, that glimmers with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is shiny and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome, it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It eventually—why not now?—Adv.

Why Not Ask For The Best By Name?

You don't allow strange people in your house-- then why strange goods?

If a merchant is proud of his goods, he gives them a name and backs it up with his own.

He takes you into his confidence and tells you all about the thing he has spent so many years to perfect. He shows you how it merits your favor, and why it should command your purse.

In the advertising columns of THE STAR-BULLETIN you will find a number of standardized names. Help some progressive merchant to give you greater and greater value for your money, by asking for standardized goods.

Ask by
for everything you buy. The results will surprise and satisfy you.

FOR THE MERCHANT MAN FOR THE MANUFACTURER FOR THE AMBITIOUS YOUTH

CHAPTER LXXXVII.

THE DEALER'S ATTITUDE TOWARD NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Some say that newspaper advertising lacks the "prestige"—that you can't enthrall a dealer with the mere black-and-white of newspaper ads which you propose to run for the promotion of the sale of your goods—that the only way to get a real, red-blooded dealer-enthusiasm team working your way is to flash before Mr. Dealer a great big sheet, showing (1) the pictures of the front covers of every good-looking magazine whose solicitor calls upon you; (2) a collection of nice, artistic representations of your proposed ads, all got up in soft, pretty half-tone effects.

Some say further that this is not theory. They know from actual experience on the road. All right—perhaps they did find, once upon a time, that a great big proof sheet of a proposed national campaign did open the dealer's eyes and start his order in the little book. But, does the dealer today let his artistic sense run away with his head?

Anyway, that was some few years ago. The point is that times have changed. Some may think that the dealer is just as susceptible to that "spread" as he used to be, but he is not, and that is based on experience and not theory.

But some may have good reason to believe that an advance sheet of magazine ads still influences the dealer to order liberally or to stock up for the demand which that proposed campaign prophesies. As far as established manufacturers are concerned, that may be quite true, because they have always run along so successfully, and the dealer feels that in their case he will not get stuck if he anticipates a fair demand for their goods. But, the sad part of it is that this whole system of dealer stimulation has suffered at the hands of that greatest of all success assassins, General Fake. Some careless manufacturers came along with some of those art sheets, and the dealer was frightened into filling up his shelves lest he be swamped, with the resultant demand for Fake's Flaccid Flakes or some other "big seller" which, as far as you could tell from the eventual demand, was really advertised in the classified department of the magazines, if at all.

So Mr. Dealer, after listening to this story of "Wolf," got to thinking: "There ain't no such animal." Perhaps your proposition may be the wolf, but, though it be a regular "bear" as to actual consumer demand, it has to suffer the suspicion to which that old cry of "Wolf" has made it subject.

Anyway, why don't a mere business-like "black-and-white" presentation of your proposed newspaper advertising have as good an effect in getting the dealer to put in an adequate stock? Why wouldn't it have a better effect—logically? Suppose you were spending $100,000 per year. You are in one thousand towns where there are good newspapers, and where you have dealers. That would make an average of $100 to each of these towns.

Suppose that this fall your travelers were to start off with a set of "mere black-and-white" copy to be used in these one thousand local newspapers. Even your poorest salesmen could go into a store in some town of about 25,000, where you have always found it hard to get representation. He could go to the very best merchant in that town and say, simply:

"If we run these ads in the local papers, how much of our goods do you think we could sell?"

The dealer would probably cast his eye over the series and say that he could sell such and such an amount. And he would be glad to order that amount.

WAILUKU SCHOOL BOYS BUILDING OWN WORKSHOP

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]

WAILUKU, March 10.—The boys of the Wailuku public school have begun work on the construction of their own workshop, a building 22x32 feet in size. The site was laid this week, and Vocational Instructor Bowman states that practically all the work will be done by the pupils. The county authorized the building some time ago, but delay in getting started induced by regular builders, suggested the work as practice for the class. During the last few weeks the Wailuku school has been serving lunches to the children through its domestic science department, under direction of Miss Kau. These lunches consist, for example, of potato salad and bread and butter sandwiches for a nickel, while another five cents will buy sherbet and cake.

Lieut. Ridgely Hunt, U. S. N., retired, died at Washington, aged 65.

NA-HA STONE TO BE SKIDDED ON GIANT ROLLERS

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]

HILO, March 10.—At last preparations are being made for the conveying of the famous Na-ha stone from the John Scott property to the site selected for it on the Hilo library lot. The big stone, which must weigh several tons, is to be brought down on rollers, as it is too heavy and cumbersome to handle by motor-truck or any other kind of vehicle.

Big rollers have been procured, and they will be placed under the stone in such a way that the rock can be slid down from its present resting place to the desired location, where it will be so placed that tourists and town folk can inspect it at their leisure. A plane will be attached to the stone and on it the legend in connection with the wanderings of the historic relic will be set forth.

The stone originally came from Kauai where it was used in certain religious ceremonies after the birth of a child of high degree. The legend has it that the first Kamehameha rolled the stone over after a terrific struggle in which he used so much strength that the blood burst from his eyes.

MAUI'S PIONEER STORE IS NOW INCORPORATED

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]

WAILUKU, March 10.—The Pioneer store of Wailuku has been incorporated with paid in capital stock of $25,000. Of this amount $20,000 is fresh capital, which it is expected will enable the concern to make many improvements and start off with a clean slate. About half of the stock is held by the Enos family, the rest having been quickly subscribed by local citizens. C. D. Lufkin was prime mover in the reorganization, and is one of the principal stockholders.

The Pioneer Store, formerly known as the A. Enos store, has been one of the successful mercantile enterprises on Maui. It is at present under the management of Augustine Enos, son of the founder of the business, who recently took charge, and who contemplates many improvements.

CANAL BLOCKADE MAKES THIRD LINE QUIT

Withdrawal of the Luckenbach steamers from service between San Francisco and New York, via the Panama Railroad, as announced March 1, is the elimination of the last steamship company in trade which has brought the Pacific and Atlantic coasts close together, says the San Francisco Examiner.

The freighter Harry Luckenbach, according to this paper, cleared from San Francisco February 29 for New York via San Pedro and Ancon, and the Edith, which arrived the evening of that day from Bahia via San Pedro sailed March 7 for the east coast via Magellan.

Since the canal was closed several months ago the Luckenbach company has operated in connection with the Panama Railroad, transshipping cargoes each way by rail and keeping steamers in both the Pacific and Atlantic. The probable indefinite date for the reopening of the waterway, it is stated, is the reason that the company is to send its steamers to the Atlantic and keep them there, under charter or taking advantage of the high rates to Europe.

W. R. Grace & Company was the first big steamship line to discontinue its service between New York and San Francisco after the canal closed, and following that the American-Hawaiian line recently announced that its steamers would no longer engage in the coast to coast business via Magellan.

High charters for nitrates and high freight rates to Europe are given as the reasons why the steamers are being withdrawn from the Atlantic-Pacific trade.

SCHOONER'S COOK IS IN CANADA REGIMENT

"Victoria is a mass of soldiers, and you are nothing there if you don't wear khaki," according to H. R. Davies, former cook of the schooner J. M. Weatherwax, who left Honolulu in January on a Canadian-Australian liner and has enlisted in the Royal Canadian Engineers. Superintendent Charles F. Mant of the Seamen's Institute, which took care of Davies while he was here, has received the following letter, dated February 14, from the erstwhile cook:

"We had a bad trip over. Did not get to Victoria until 10 p. m. Thursday. Stayed all night at the quarantine station, and the steering gear froze up, and could not get into Victoria, so had to go to Vancouver.

"I joined the Royal Canadian Engineers the day after I reached Victoria, and the next day, Sunday, came down with a raging fever, temperature 104. I am just getting over it now, and have been out of bed three days.

"It is all soldiers here; you are nobody if you don't wear khaki, so you see I was not long in taking on. We have had it very cold, with four feet of snow, the worst winter known here in more than 40 years.

"I found all my people well and they were glad to see me back. My son, Harold, has received a commission in the American Legion as captain. George Westinghouse gave him a $1000 check, and he gets his position back if he returns."

Davies closes his letter with the news that orders had just been received from Ottawa for the movement of more troops to England.

HILO MAN GETS NEWS OF FATHER'S DEATH

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]

HILO, March 10.—By a recent mail the sad news of the death of his father reached Frederick H. Shanks, district inspector for the board of health of the district of Honolulu. The elder Shanks died at Plymouth, Eng., on January 30, 1916. He was 82 years and nine months old at the time of his death. He is survived by his son and two daughters, the latter being located in England.

Hensley Hardy Shanks was a native of England and all his life had been connected with the British navy. He was a Crimean veteran and was under fire on the Sans Parais in 1854. He was also at that time in the trenches with the naval brigade and was mentioned in despatches, besides being awarded the Turkish medals. He was present also at the capture of Kimburn and Kertch.
