Furious Battle Rages; Victory Wavering!

3,000,000 Men On Historic Field; Germans Capture Maubeuge AUSTRIA, TREMBLING BEFORE RUSSIA, IS ON VERGE OF DISASTER

ALLIES CLAIM SITUATION SATISFACTORY; RESULTS OF STRUGGLE NOT YET DECISIVE

Europe's bloody and tremendous conflict is at a climax today, with Germany making a brilliant coup even as her enemies claim she is defeated and on the retreat. The historic plains of Chalons are shaking with the charges and clashing of armies aggregating three millions of men—the greatest number ever engaged in a single battle. From British and French sources the emphatic report is given out that the Germans, after making their wonderful advance deep into France, have been turned back almost at the gates of Paris and are now retreating with staggering losses. On the other hand from Berlin comes official announcement that the very important French stronghold of Maubeuge has been captured by the Germans together with 40,000 prisoners. On the eastern side Russia is reported as having pressed far beyond the German stronghold of Königsberg as well as having captured the supposedly impregnable Nicolai, as important a victory as that of Lemberg. Austria is in desperate straits and even Berlin is reported uneasy. Though the news from the Allies sounds confident, it is considered that if the Germans have shown strength enough to take Maubeuge while they were harassed by the Allies on two sides, they are still able to strike hard and effectively.

[Associated Press service by Federal Wireless]

BERLIN, Germany, Sept. 9.—(Direct, official).—Maubeuge, the French stronghold on the Belgian border, has fallen before the Germans. Forty thousand prisoners and four generals have been taken. Prince Frederick William of Hesse has been wounded in the breast.

A cablegram to Georg Rodiek, consul for Germany in Hawaii, was received this morning which bears out absolutely the dispatch to the Star-Bulletin published above. The cablegram to Consul Rodiek says:

"Germans took Maubeuge. Four generals, 40,000 soldiers and 400 guns captured."

Maubeuge is a very important French strategic point. It was relied on to harass the German rear.

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 9.—Upon the historic plains of Chalons, France, where the great Roman general Aetius with the Gallic king Theodoric defeated the renowned Attila 1463 years ago, the armies of the Allies and those of Germany are today locked in the struggle that is the climax of the European war to date.

History's bloodiest battle was fought 1463 years ago, but the vast number of men engaged today and the terrific and deadly nature of the conflict will give Chalons a drenching of blood such as the plains never before saw.

Not less than three million men, counting both sides, are engaged in the battle of Chalons today.

SAY GERMANS QUITTING ALSACE

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 9.—The Basel, Switzerland, correspondent of the Daily News says that the German forces have evacuated Upper Alsace.

BRITISH CAPTURE MINE-LAYER

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 9.—A British cruiser has captured a German mine-layer disguised as a Grimsby trawler. The mine-planter has 200 mines aboard.

The British admiralty states that the Wilson liner Runo, which was exploded by a mine in the North sea with a loss of many people, was destroyed because it disregarded official instructions and crossed the line into waters known to be mined.

BATTLE CONTINUES FURIOUSLY

PARIS, France, Sept. 9.—British officers arriving in Paris from the front report that the battle, after swaying back and forth for several days along a long line, is continuing furiously today. They say that the Germans often surrender in groups.

The French are taking many field-pieces and rapid-firing guns.

The British field marshal, Sir John French, is showing great confidence as he inspects the British lines, serenely smoking a cigarette and looking satisfied.

SAY GERMAN ADVANCE TOO RAPID

PARIS, France, Sept. 9.—The German advance is declared to have been too precipitate for prolonged success. The troops arrived at the front breathless and short of ammunition. All prisoners taken by the Allies appear fagged, harassed and depressed.

BRITISH BULLETINS CONFIDENT

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 9.—Official bulletins given out today by the British government are confident. They say:

"The situation is satisfactory. The German right, although reinforced, is retreating before the English. The French center is slowly advancing. On the French right no action is being taken against the great circle of Nancy."

"In Vosges and Alsace the situation is unchanged."

GERMAN ORIENTAL LINER REACHES A HAVEN OF SAFETY IN HONOLULU

In the still watches of the night with a light fog settled over the surface of the heavily mined waters surrounding the Japanese coaling base at Moji, the Norddeutscher Lloyd passenger liner Prinz Waldemar effected a spectacular yet silent escape and is today anchored off the port of Honolulu, here to remain for an indefinite time pending a settlement of hostilities between European powers.

Displaying the German colors from its after mast, the name appearing in glittering brass from the bow and stern, the Prinz Waldemar, one of three passenger and freight carriers in service between Sydney, N. S. W., German New Guinea, Manila, Hongkong and Japanese ports, steaming for 32 days, according to her officers, without a call at any port, was sighted off Barbers Point shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, and one hour later was boarded by a delegation of officers from the federal quarantine, immigration and customs service.

Representatives from H. Hackfeld and the German consulate in this city lost no time in gaining the deck of the Prinz Waldemar. Perhaps no more interested visitor to the stranger this morning was Captain Minnen of the German freighter Pommer, a vessel belonging to the same company that operates the Prinz Waldemar. Defied British Cruisers to Pursue.

Provided with twin screws, the Prinz Waldemar is considered one of the fastest vessels maintained in the Australian and Japanese service. Captain Jurang had brought his command to Kobe from Sydney, where all passengers had been landed. The vessel then proceeded to Kilauea to receive about 100 tons of the best coal obtainable. The Prinz Waldemar was at Moji, a Japanese naval base and big coaling center, when Captain Jurang was ordered to get away without delay. He succeeded in steaming from the land-locked harbor of Moji on the night of August 7.

Absolute silence was maintained by the staff of 14 German officers in the Prinz Waldemar concerning events that might have happened during the time elapsed from departing from Moji until arrival at Honolulu. Asked why a fast passenger liner like Prinz Waldemar would require 32 days to cover the distance ordinarily steamed by American and Japanese vessels in about one-half that time, the Germans from the commanding officer to the quartermasters, simply shrugged their shoulders and smiled.

Officers Appear Well Informed.

Arriving here today with no wireless equipment visible, the officers in the Norddeutscher Lloyd liner appeared to be remarkably well informed concerning the progress of the war in Europe. They were not at all surprised at the recent movements of the German cruiser Nürnberg and the operations of the Leipzig on the west coast of the United States and Mexico.

A matter that interested the local port officials with the appearance of this vessel was the absence of a medical officer. The Prinz Waldemar, like her sister ship Prinz Sigismund and the Coblenz, are all declared to have carried a duly certified physician. The chief officer was acting in the capacity of ship surgeon when the steamer anchored off the harbor today.

"He may have been left behind at the last port," was all that was given out in response to queries from the federal authorities.

It is the supposition among port officials that the Prinz Waldemar may have met the German cruiser Nürnberg south or westward of Honolulu. That this vessel has had a wireless equipment and that the vessel's officers have been in close communication with the outside world, is believed certain.

Capt. Jurang Glad He Is Here.

It would be difficult to predict the length of stay that the Prinz Waldemar will make at Honolulu. I have nothing to say concerning the trip from Japanese ports to the Hawaiian Islands save that we are here after a pleasant voyage. The Prinz Waldemar is one of three liners in the Australian-Philippine, China and Japan services of the Norddeutscher Lloyd. This is my first visit to these beautiful islands and I have every reason to believe that myself and my officers will have no cause to regret the time spent here," said Captain O. Jurang to a Star-Bulletin representative at quarantine anchorage this morning. Cosmopolitan Crew in German Liner. It's a cosmopolitan crew on board the German liner Prinz Waldemar, including 77 men among whom are 43 Chinese, 17 Malays or Lascars and three East Indians.

The officers stated to the customs authorities that the vessel had no cargo, the last of the freight having been discharged when the liner called at Hongkong and Japanese ports.

The Prinz Waldemar is declared to have sailed from Sydney, N. S. W., on July 2, calling a fortnight later at Wilhelmshaven, German New Guinea. This vessel also paid a visit to the island of Yap where a cable connects with Australia and Europe. The Prinz Waldemar is believed to have been the last steamer flying the German colors to visit the outpost in the south Pacific before the declaration of hostilities between the allies and Germany.

The Prinz Waldemar is 3227 tons register and her engines are capable of developing 2000 horse power.

For the past eight years the Prinz Waldemar has been a regular visitor to Manila in its voyages between Australia and China and Japan. Her officers with but few exceptions have a fluent command of the English language.

Await Cables from Home Office.

No time has been set for the departure of the passenger liner. The vessel may be supplied with coal if the skipper decides on departing for a secret destination. That the vessel came here to receive protection of a neutral port is generally believed. One significant thing noted today was the activity displayed by the German officers in getting into communication with the mainland by means of the cable.

The Prinz Waldemar is a passenger carrier well adapted to the south sea and tropical trade. The cabins are finely furnished and are cool and comfortable. Her dining saloon is situated amidships and on the upper deck. The officers today proved themselves to be admirable hosts to those who visited the vessel now riding at anchor.

Arrangements may be made to bring the vessel to a berth at one of the territorial wharves should one or the other of the German freighters now here be sent to an anchorage outside the harbor. This is a matter that will be decided within a few days.

LIE IS GIVEN TO PURPORTED TALK WITH JEFF M'CARN

U. S. District Attorney Says
Only Authorized Interview in Star-Bulletin Yesterday

"Referring to the alleged interview published in the Advertiser this morning as coming from me, I desire to say that I made no such statement to a representative of the paper or to any person. I did not speak to a representative of that paper after returning to Honolulu. The story published in the Star-Bulletin yesterday was absolutely correct and was practically what I said to the representative of the Advertiser."

The foregoing statement is a portion of a statement dictated to a stenographer and given to the Star-Bulletin this morning by Jeff M'Carn, United States district attorney for Hawaii, when asked regarding the authenticity of a story published in the morning paper today wherein he is purported to have discussed at length matters of official business.

When questioned regarding the alleged interview, Mr. M'Carn made the following statement:

"There was a representative of the Advertiser who came over on the Maipo from San Francisco; and he undertook to get some expressions from me on the subjects referred to in his alleged interview."

"He asked me about the situation as to the governor, and I said to him what I said to the representative of the Star-Bulletin; that is, that I had nothing to say on that or any other subject relating to official matters. He asked me if I had discussed or heard discussed, the governor's standing with the administration. I told him that the only discussion I had

STAINBACK SAYS ALL SALOONS MUST CLOSE DOORS NEXT SATURDAY

Attorney-general I. M. Stainback today prepared an opinion, in response to a request from the liquor license commissions, in which he holds that all saloons must close their doors next Saturday, the date of the primary election. His opinion is based on section 30, article 7, of act 119, of the session laws of 1907, which provides that, except at clubs, hotels and restaurants during the voting hours of any day when a public election is held the establishments dispensing intoxicating liquor must close. He holds that this applies to the primary election, held under act 151 of the session laws of 1913.

BIG INTEREST IN RICE'S MEETING, BIJOU TONIGHT

Doors Will Be Open Early and Forceful Speakers Will Present Issues

Charles A. Rice's campaign for the nomination as delegate will come to a climax tonight not to a close tonight with a big mass meeting in the Bijou theater.

Keen interest in this meeting, the fact that speakers known for their fire and energy are on the program and that Rice will deliver the principal address, coupled with the fast-growing strength of the Rice campaign, assure a big crowd at the Bijou tonight.

The meeting commences at 8 o'clock but the doors will be opened at least a half-hour earlier to facilitate the handling of the crowd. Ladies are especially invited. There will be moving pictures and music, furnished by the theater manager, and Joel C. Cohen will preside as he has done at all of the Republican meetings in the theater.

The list of speakers announced at noon today from Rice headquarters is as follows:

A. Lewis, Jr., Charles A. Rice, E. C. Peters, W. J. Copeho, C. H. Olson.

The appearance of Mr. Peters, has furnished one of the real sensations of the campaign. He spoke twice at Rice meetings last night and both times with remarkable effect. He is supporting Rice because he believes Rice is the best man and tonight he is sure to make a speech that will cause the audience to sit up and take notice.

Tonight's meeting at the Bijou is recognized as one of the most important in the Rice campaign and the candidate will deliver a forcible speech on the vital issues involved.

He has meetings also for tomorrow

INTERNAL STRIFE RACKING AUSTRIA; RUSSIANS SAID NOW DEEP IN EAST PRUSSIA

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless.]

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 9.—The Austrian internal situation indicates great dissensions among the people. The military situation is daily growing worse. The capture of Nicolai, a supposedly impregnable position, surrounded by 25 miles of marshes, was a feat almost equal to the taking of Lemberg.

Another Russian victory will probably result in the throwing of Roumania's 200,000 veteran soldiers against Austria.

In East Prussia the Russian vanguard is reported 60 miles beyond the fortified town of Königsberg.

Berlin is declared to be losing its optimism.

The Vienna correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs from Milan that panic rules in Austria. The great, unwieldy, bankrupt empire is desperately muddled. Its armies, half-hearted from the first, are now openly mutinous. The policy of mixing in each company of soldiers the many different races composing the empire has destroyed the army's esprit-de-corps.

So mutinous are the soldiers becoming, it is reported, that they are being driven into trains at the point of the bayonet. The officers have shot scores of the sullen, rebellious men, it is declared.

CLAIM MEN PUT UP AS TARGETS

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 9.—The Petrograd (St. Petersburg) correspondent of the Daily News says that Austrian Slavs who have been taken prisoners by the Russians claim that the Austrian officers put the Slavs purposely in the front ranks during battles.

RUSSIANS WIN GREAT BATTLE AT RAWA

ROME, Italy, Sept. 9.—The Messagero has a despatch from Petrograd declaring that the great battle that has been raging at Rawa, Galicia, 32 miles northwest of Lemberg is now concluded. The Russians won a complete victory.

The Austrians are now evacuating Russian Poland.

GERMANS SEE RUSSIAN MENACE

BERLIN, Germany, via London, Sept. 9.—The Allies have turned eastward. (It is conjectured that this is a mistake and that the message should read, "The Germans have turned eastward.") The realization has become general that it is as necessary to check the Russian invasion as to defeat the French.

RUSSIAN EMBASSY TELLS NEWS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 9.—The Russian embassy, in a statement issued today, says:

"There was a general engagement Tuesday along the entire front. The Austrian's center retired. Near Ravarusska there was a stubborn battle. Our troops are now attacking the strongly-fortified position at Vovodok, west of Elburg. On the Vistula's left bank our advance is developing very favorably."

SIMLA, India, Sept. 9.—India is contributing five millions besides a gift of $1,650,000 from the maharajah of Mysore....

GERMAN MERCHANTMEN SUNK

BORDEAUX, France, Sept. 9.—The cruisers Conde, Rescartes and Bristol have sunk two German merchantmen in the Atlantic. The names of the merchant vessels are withheld.

JAPAN ADDING TO WAR FUND

TOKIO, Japan, Sept. 9.—The imperial diet today unanimously appropriated 50,000,000 yen for war purposes.

WILHELM DER GROSSE SUNK IN NEUTRAL WATERS

Captain Makepeace of the steamer Waipara, which was sunk by the German converted cruiser Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, confirms the sinking of the German vessel by the British cruiser Highflyer in neutral west African waters, August 27. He said that the Spanish consul had ordered the German vessel out of Las Palmas in the Canary islands. Her captain refused to leave for nine days. For this international offense the British captain attacked and sank her in neutral waters and claims justification.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE MANY PRISONERS

PARIS, France, Sept. 9.—The defeat of the Austrians in the battle between Lublin and Kolm is confirmed. The Russians are closely pursuing the first Austrian army and are taking many prisoners, and have captured a large quantity of ammunition and many guns.

The total number of Austrian prisoners taken is estimated at 72,000.

EMPEROR JOSEPH SUFFERS PARALYTIC STROKE

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS TO GET OUT OF FRANCE

PARIS, France, Sept. 9.—It is officially confirmed that the Germans asked 24 hours' armistice in which to bury their dead. France denied the request and replied: "We will grant you 24 hours to get out of France."

ALLIED FORCES TAKE THE OFFENSIVE

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 9.—After days of continuous fighting in France along the line from Paris to Verdun the Germans are being beaten back gradually at several points.

The British have driven back the enemy in their front 10 miles the latter falling back in the direction of Reims.

Between Meaux and Sezanne the Germans are returning toward the river Marne.

The British forces were engaged all day on the offensive in the direction of the Marne on the height north of Sezanne. The British casualties were small in relation to the nature of the fighting.

The Germans left to cover the movement in retreat, having crossed the Petit Morin river with a view to protecting their line of communication, made an unsuccessful attempt against part of the Allies' forces occupying the right bank of the river Ourcq.

GERMANS LOSE HEAVILY; MANY TAKEN PRISONERS

The fifth French army reports equal success with the British and has captured many prisoners, while the sixth French army on the Ourcq river, which has been heavily engaged, also has driven back the enemy.

The Germans suffered heavily all along the line.

The progress of the Allies is favorable but laborious, heavy fighting marking every gain.

In violent encounters on the French center between Fere Champenois and Vitry-le-Francois the German retirement is pronounced.

The allies have taken numerous prisoners, including a battalion of infantry and a company of rapid firers. Accounts of wounded soldiers brought into Paris yesterday indicate that the results of the last three days' fighting on the French center has been more favorable for the allies than was at first supposed.

They say that the German losses in killed were enormous and that many prisoners have been taken. A French officer estimates that 30,000 prisoners have been taken by the Allies. BRITISH OFFICERS FEARING POISON, DESTROY FOOD

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 9.—In the fighting at Compeigne the British captured a supply train laden with tinned delicacies, apparently consigned to German officers. Fearing that the stuff might have been poisoned the British officers forced the disappointed privates to destroy it.

UNEMPLOYED NUMBER THOUSANDS IN BERLIN

Mail advices from Berlin, dated August 27, say that thousands were out of employment in that city, and the condition was widespread. Partial lists of the casualties in the preliminary engagements were being published. They averaged about a thousand names daily.

Another mine disaster is reported, a trawler being blown up near Grimsby. Three persons were injured by the explosion, but all were saved.

TWO CANDIDATES SPEAK AT BIJOU

Much to the regret of more than 1000 voters who had assembled at the raise of the curtain at Bijou theater last evening, but two candidates out of a possible 14 now in the field of the Republican ticket for city and county offices appeared before the electorate to state their position and intentions in enlisting the support of the public.

However, the appreciation of the crowd at the display of a series of moving pictures given under the direction of Joel C. Cohen of the Consolidated Amusement Company was frequently manifested, while effort was made to hold the audience with the hope that other candidates might make their appearance.

George E. Smithies, Republican candidate for city and county treasurer, stated in less than 5 minutes his ambition to be elected. He believed that his record of 25 years in this city as a business man was much in his favor. He put forth a number of qualifications for the office and closed by making an appeal to the Hawaiian voters.

Charles B. Wilson Cites Past Record. Charles B. Wilson, the only other candidate to appear last night, dwelt at length upon his record as an officer under the monarchy, later with the provisional government and traced his official career to the more recent days when Hawaii became an integral part of the United States. Wilson declared that it was after much persuasion upon the part of his friends that he had consented to strive for the office of sheriff of the city and county of Honolulu.

"I now believe that this city and island owe me this office for the long service that I have given the government in the past," he said.

According to Wilson he had much to do with the official life of the police, fire and sanitation departments before the annexation of the islands. His record as an officer in the Hawaiian military organization was brought out in the course of his remarks.

Cohen Speaks in Own Behalf. No others coming to the fore, Joel Cohen, Republican candidate for mayor, devoted ten minutes to setting forth his claims to that office, again citing his qualifications as a business man to give the municipality a clean and thoroughly progressive administration. Cohen dwelt briefly on his proposals of good roads and the elimination of politics from all departments of the city and county government.

SECRETARY THAYER IS ENDEAVORING TO MAKE POLLING PLACES LARGE

Politicians at last are awaking to the seriousness of the balloting situation in the larger precincts, due to the unusually complicated nature of the tickets which may prove a puzzle to the voters and require half an hour's study by each one before he finishes marking it. As stated some time ago in the Star-Bulletin, Territorial Secretary Thayer is attempting to alleviate the trouble, but a number of candidates have made frantic appeals to him the last few days to still further enlarge the voting facilities in the big precincts and he was busily engaged today in visiting all these booths to ascertain where additional compartments could be placed.

In the ninth precinct of the fifth district, the largest in the territory, there are more than 600 voters this year. Secretary Thayer has installed 14 compartments in the booth there, but doubt has arisen whether even that number will prove sufficient to handle the electorate in 10 hours' time. If more compartments can be placed the work will be done, says Thayer. A number of the other polling places were inspected by him this morning. There is danger that serious congestion will occur at several points, and that a large number of voters will be unable to get inside the polling booths. It is in this situation that the wisdom of the governor's holiday proclamation may become apparent; it is now deemed quite certain that if many electors were required to work that day they would find it impossible to cast their ballots, because they would stand no chance to get into the booths in the short time at their disposal.

ARIZONAN AIDS IN JUVENILES AWAY RESCUE OF SAILORS IN BIG LINER WILHELMINA

Not only being the first American-Hawaiian steamer from the Atlantic to the Pacific to pass through the Panama canal, but also aiding in the saving of many lives, the steamer Arizona, due to arrive at Honolulu the latter part of September with New York and west coast freight, is declared to have had a memorable trip on the last outward voyage.

Now flying the Panama-Pacific Exposition flag, the Arizona was given a large shipment of coal upon leaving the Atlantic coast ports. The coal was consigned to the Mare Island navy yard. Twelve thousand tons of fuel has been discharged from the vessel and now a general cargo of products are being loaded into the freighter destined for the Hawaiian islands.

Six members of the crew of the little steam schooner Scotia were brought to San Francisco in the Arizona. The vessel went on the rocks near Port Harford and the Arizona came along some hours after the officers and men had been cast upon the Pacific and were at the mercy of a tempest.

The shipwrecked sailors were picked up 15 miles off shore by the big freighter and taken aboard with much difficulty because of a heavy swell. The boat in which the men made their escape from the wreck was brought up by the Arizona and the sailors were towed ashore in it yesterday.

According to First Mate P. Papinof, the Scotia, which was en route from San Pedro for this port in ballast, drove ashore in a dense fog. As soon as it was seen that little could be done to save the old craft Captain Bergmark sent his mate, First Assistant Engineer Louis Kenny, and four sailors off in the boat to make a landing somewhere along the beach and notify the owners of the disaster.

The small boat headed for Port Harford, but because of the heavy surf which pounded on the beach it was found impracticable to attempt a landing. The night had been passed by the men in the small boat and they were suffering from cold and hunger. Friday morning the Arizona was sighted and the mate stood off to intercept her.

GOVERNMENT TO SUE SUGAR MEN FOR POSTAGE BILL

[By Latest Mail] WASHINGTON, D. C.—The government has taken steps to collect a large bill for postage avoided by the use of franks during the recent tariff fight. Postmaster-general Burleson has directed, upon the report of Third Assistant Postmaster-general Dockery, the institution of a suit to collect from the United States beet sugar industry, of which Truman G. Palmer is secretary and treasurer, $57,600, which should have been paid as postage on approximately 320,000 copies of a pamphlet entitled "Sugar at a Glance" which it is claimed were unlawfully mailed by Mr. Palmer under the frank of Senator H. C. Lodge of Massachusetts. A statement issued by the postoffice

Standing room was at a decided premium on the decks of the Matsun Navigation liner Wilhelmina before the hour set for its departure for San Francisco this morning, the immense throng being drawn to Pier 15 at the farwell accorded the score or more clever little theatrical performers who under the title of the Juvenile Bostons have entertained Honoluluans at a local theater for the past three months.

Amid the tuneful strains of the Royal Hawaiian band and the cheers from a thousand throats, the Wilhelmina steamed away from the wharf for San Francisco promptly at 10 o'clock, the vessel carrying 110 cabin passengers and a large delegation of travelers in the steerage.

Through the agency of Castle & Cooke the Wilhelmina was given the last large shipment of preserved pineapples destined for the mainland. The vessel's hold was filled to capacity with more than 5000 tons of sugar and a miscellaneous cargo of island products.

The floral display noted at the sailing of this vessel was on a grander scale than at any steamer departure from Honolulu in many months.

COLBURN AND CULMAN RESORT TO FISTICUFFS WHEN WORDS ARE FUTILE

Following a heated argument which is said to have involved the coming primary, the possibilities regarding the next delegate to Washington, and other matters of a political nature, John Colburn and Harry Culman, engaged in a fist encounter in front of the Kapiolani building, Alakea and King streets, shortly before 9 o'clock this morning. Federations, hearing the argument between the two took it for a political discussion and passed unmindful of the things which sometimes grow out of such discussion.

Bystanders, however, say that the situation waxed warmer as the argument continued. Epithets were exchanged, they say, and hot words passed back and forth. Then, words being fruitless, they went at it in the old rough-and-tumble manner. Things began to look serious until Attorney Bert Lightfoot, who happened along a few moments after the fracas commenced, stepped in and separated the contestants. Neither Colburn or Culman displayed any marked evidences of the fray, although the latter suffered a slight cut over the left eye.

department thus describes the basis for the suit:

"Senator Lodge obtained, on July 27, 1912, an order of the Senate to print certain charts displayed in the senate to illustrate his speech, which were furnished him by Mr. Palmer. A proof of the charts was furnished to Mr. Palmer, who enlarged it beyond the scope of the senate order, and it was printed under an alleged order of a different date of which the senate has no record. Mr. Palmer also had printed by private concerns 325,000 copies of a pamphlet differing in many respects from the copies printed by the government printing office and sent them under the frank of Senator Lodge."

The facts concerning the circulation of "Sugar at a Glance" were first brought out during the Congressional lobby investigation and were at once made the subject of further inquiry by the postoffice department.

CANDIDATES GET ANOTHER CHANCE BEFORE AD CLUB

Candidates for the house of representatives, some with long past records to support them, and some with nothing but their chairs and their faith to stand on, addressed the Ad Club this noon. It was a well-attended meeting, and the political bee necessary to turn back the hands of the clock half an hour, so that everyone could have a chance to set off some verbal fireworks.

Here are some of the remarks in tablet form:

W. T. Rawlins: "I have no pet measures. There is enough to do in Hawaii without seeking freak legislation, such as the Bull Moosers stand for."

Archie Robertson: "I think that you will have confidence in re-electing me."

D. P. R. Isenberg: "Hawaii first, and first again. I will do my best to boost not only for Honolulu, but for the entire Hawaiian islands."

Andrew Bright: "In order to find competent men for the legislature you must select them from the ranks of the Republican party—the party of principle and integrity."

R. W. Aylett: "I have been elected many times by my constituents and I hope that this shows confidence in my ability and integrity."

Ulysses Jones: "The greatest good for the greatest number."

Wm. Williamson: "I don't believe in primary campaigns within the party, but I think that every man who enters a primary race should stand for some distinct policy. I have in mind revision of the county act. County government hasn't been an unqualified success, especially on the island of Hawaii. I believe in more local interest in government, and an up-to-date accounting system. My motto is 'Sell your hammer and buy a horn.'"

E. K. Aiu: "Put aside all questions of race and color and let merit alone count."

"Scrap Iron": Brown: "Whether elected or defeated I will continue to work hard for every measure that will do good for the territory."

John Kamanapuu: "I have no ax to grind, but stand on my record."

Others who spoke briefly were Dan Kupau of Waianae, who made quite a hit in asking that he be the third generation to go to office. E. K. Fernandez, who said that in recent trips round the islands he observed that the race issue was a dead issue. C. H. Cooke, who spoke of "conservation of the children," asking that they be given a better chance; Norman Watkins, who touched on the financial duties of legislative members, and David Kanuha. George A. Davis also made a talk in favor of his own candidacy for city and county attorney.

The special committee appointed some time ago to report on the needs of the College of Hawaii, submitted a written opinion at some length. The committee thinks that one of the first requisites is good roads leading to the college, so that publicity can begin at home.

The civic convention trip committee reported progress, and it is probable that the Ad Club will send a large delegation to Maui.

According to the will of the late Edwin Morris, the Chicago packer, which has been filed in London, he left an estate in England amounting to $275,185.

George P. Decker of Rochester former Deputy State Attorney-general, announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the Supreme Court.

Manchuria Here Tomorrow Morning.

To arrive off the harbor at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and scheduled to sail for San Francisco about the same hour Friday morning, the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria from Manila by the way of Hongkong and Japanese ports is nearing the islands with one of the largest lists of passengers ever carried across the Pacific. In departing from Yokohama the Manchuria was supplied with 1400 tons of general cargo for discharge at Honolulu.

The Manchuria is expected to arrive here with 214 cabin, 87 second class and 356 Asiatic steerage passengers. Among the latter more than 200 are destined for the Hawaiian Islands. H. Hackfeld & Co., the agent, has arranged transportation for 40 additional passengers from Honolulu to San Francisco.

MR. MERCHANT:

Your attention for a moment, please.

Re Serving the Public

Each and every business, depending upon the patronage of the public, owes that public more than a little consideration.

The people who patronize your business have the right to all the knowledge that might in any way facilitate their dealings with you.

It is only justice that the public which supports your business should receive all the assistance possible from you in gaining trade information.

When a person picks up a publication, advertising a nationally sold article, the first thought is, where can I get it.

Mr. Dealer, that's your cue.

Tell that person that you have the goods.

Advertise the fact.

Advertising is the performance of as distinct a service to your patrons as courtesies shown them in your store. By that service you also serve yourself in causing immediate sales—and in the forming of a valuable friendship with pleased customers who recognize the fact that your service extends right into their homes.

As a matter of fact, nowadays people realize that one is not really well informed unless the daily newspaper advertising is read constantly and intelligently.

In these days of fierce mail-order and local competition, you cannot depend upon show windows and your reputation to attract customers.

You must advertise steadily and effectively. If you do not, a competitor who does will eventually get your customers away from you, to say nothing of the new business available. The merchant who fails to advertise regularly and liberally in an intelligent manner in his home papers makes a grave error.

The failure of a merchant to advertise tends to relegate him with the obsolete class, the methods of which are antiquated.

The daily newspaper is recognized as the most proficient medium of information on all subjects. Therefore it is the logical organ for you to use in enlightening the public as to what you have to sell.

Watch for the "Ad Man's" talk on "Professional Service," to appear in tomorrow evening's Star-Bulletin.

GENERAL MACOMB LEFT HIS HEART IN HAWAII

Wishing for an increased price of sugar, placing his order for the Chamber of Commerce annual and voicing a permanent regard for the territory of Hawaii, Brigadier-General M. M. Macomb, head of the Army War College in Washington, D. C., has indited the following letter to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce:

Aug. 27, 1914.

The Secretary Honolulu Chamber of Commerce:

Sir—If you have a copy to spare of 1913 Annual of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce please send it to me at the above address. I would greatly appreciate it if you would kindly put my name in your list for future editions. I shall always look back upon my term of duty in Honolulu with the greatest pleasure and shall always feel interested in the welfare of Honolulu and her citizens.

A good way to keep in touch is to read the Annual.

My heartiest congratulations on the prospect of great prosperity for Hawaii during the next year due to the increasing price of sugar.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) M. M. MACOMB.

Hands-Around-the-Pacific

Honolulu is the home of a new organization intended to exert a direct influence on tourist travel of the immediate future. It bears the name "Hands-Around-the-Pacific Club," says the Seattle (Wash.) Times.

Since its aim is the advancement of the interests of all Pacific communities, it has a somewhat formidable list of honorary officers. Its presidents are: Walter F. Frear, former Governor of Hawaii; William Cameron Forbes, former Governor-General of the Philippines; Andrew Fisher, Prime Minister of Australia, and Sir Joseph Ward, Prime Minister of New Zealand.

Its honorary vice-presidents are: James T. McGowan, Premier of New South Wales; Francis Wilson, Premier of West Australia; David Starr Jordan, of Stanford; Percy Hunter, of Australia, and Alexander Hume Ford, of Hawaii.

The club is backing a movement for a Pacific convention at the San Francisco fair, at which there will be a discussion of the best methods of taking care of tourists and of standardizing that work.

There is a plan for establishing a "cadet system," whereby young men can spend three months in each of the tourist bureau offices around the Pa-

MURRAY POINTS OUT HOW CITY MAY FILL NEEDS

Says Businesslike Administration Will Secure Municipal Building and Hospital

Harry E. Murray, Republican candidate for mayor, declares that under progressive and businesslike city administration it will be possible for the city in the near future to erect a splendid municipal building, to secure an emergency hospital and to care for the city's sick, distressed and unfortunate in a manner worthy of Honolulu.

Following up his striking statement of yesterday as to the possibilities of scenic highways, Murray said today that the city if properly administered will be amply able to put up a municipal and an emergency hospital.

"We want a municipal building," he said.

"The $4000 we pay annually for the rental of the present municipal offices would represent the annual interest on an investment of $100,000 at 4 per cent. Wouldn't that be a good investment and would it not be good business? One hundred thousand dollars could secure a building convenient to the public and its officers, and be an ornament to our city.

"We need an emergency hospital. When the present board of supervisors retire from office they will have left in a so-called cash basis fund a sum in the neighborhood of $65,000. This cash basis fund would not be necessary were the frontage laws properly amended and enforced. Then why not divert this $65,000 back to the general revenues of the city and erect such a hospital? This requires legislation. If elected I will look after that. Now, isn't that good business, too?"

"In this connection why not establish a ward for the care of inebriates and victims of various drug habits? These unfortunates have no place of refuge save the streets, and any step to restore them to manhood by the means of such a plan would be a step forward and would universally redound to the credit of our city.

"It costs the city approximately $20,000 a year for hospital expenses. This amount would materially assist in maintaining our own hospital. Wouldn't that be good business?"

cific, traveling to all tourist resorts, and in a way becoming thoroughly conversant with men and the methods throughout this broad zone.

The time would seem to be ripe for such a movement. There is a great deal in the affairs which are now stirring the world to direct attention to the Pacific as never before.

The "Hands-Around-the-Pacific Club" has a definite mission in laying the foundation of a real and vital "patronism of the Pacific." Let progress be made.

THOSE LETTERS "INDORSING" KUHIO

And now they are beginning to produce letters written from Washington to Kuhio containing what sounds at first hearing like a fine and splendid indorsement of the prince from Republican congressional leaders.

Let's look a little closer at these letters: They are written not as a definite indorsement of Kuhio, but as an indorsement of a Republican. They are written for use against Democrats—not against another good Republican running in a primary campaign for the nomination.

Yesterday the Star-Bulletin published in full two letters that Kuhio and his managers are holding up before the voters nightly. When these letters are read quickly at a political meeting, they sound like extremely flattering testimonials to Kuhio himself.

But—read them closer, voters of Hawaii, and the fact will become self-evident that these letters are strong indorsements of Republicanism and Republican candidates.

"Jim" Mann—James R. Mann of Illinois, wrote one of the letters. Mr. Mann is often declared to be the ablest man in the lower house. He is the Republican leader; a veteran in politics; a master hand, a far-seeing mind. First, last and all the time, Mann is a good Republican.

Now everybody who knows the way they do national politics knows that when any member of Congress is running for reelection, he can get from his fellow-members strong letters indorsing his political party and bestowing some judicious—and cautious—praise upon him. Those letters are sent out by the house leader, Mr. Mann, all over the country into districts where Republicans have a fight on their hands against Democratic candidates. They are also sent out by the National Republican Congressional Committee, which looks after the political interests of Republicans in Congress.

It would be strange indeed if "Jim" Mann were to send out a letter to Kuhio or anybody else favoring one side of a race between two recognized candidates of Mann's own party! And Mann hasn't done it.

He starts his letter by saying: "I am informed that a determined effort is being made in Hawaii to defeat you for reelection as delegate, and to supplant you with a Democrat."

It is plain right at the outset that this letter wasn't written to put Mann on record as in favor of Kuhio against another Republican candidate—it was written to be used against a Democrat. Hawaii is not making any effort to "supplant Kuhio with a Democrat." Hawaii wants a Republican to be nominated next Saturday and elected in November, not a Democrat. Hawaii wants a Republican who will be "on the job" when he is needed.

Mr. Mann continues: "I earnestly hope, not only on your account, but on account of the people of Hawaii, that the effort will not succeed. During the twelve years you have represented Hawaii in Congress under Republican administrations you have obtained or have been instrumental in obtaining much beneficial legislation for the territory."

Yes, but what has Kuhio done for the last two years under a Democratic administration? Further on in his letter Mr. Mann draws attention to the fact that during the last two years not only has no beneficial legislation for Hawaii been passed but the protective tariff on sugar has been wiped out. He says this is due to no fault of the delegate, but it is noticeable that Mr. Mann makes no mention of any fight that Kuhio has put up for the last two years on behalf of any Hawaiian measure. Why? The answer is that Kuhio has not been there to look after Hawaiian measures.

Again Mr. Mann writes: "While you have not attempted oratory as a delegate in Congress, you have obtained what is more important—the regard and respect of a great majority of the house membership. Your honesty and your loyalty to your people is recognized and in my opinion has enabled you to do more for them than if you had spent your time on the floor of the house as a debater upon general subjects."

This will not be disputed. Kuhio's honesty and loyalty to his people have never been denied or belittled.

But Hawaii doesn't demand of Kuhio that he debate or orate on the floor of the House. That isn't the point at all. What Hawaii demands and has a right to demand is that Kuhio be at his post in Washington when he is able—and he has been able to be there most of the last two years.

What good is Kuhio's wide acquaintance, what good is the respect and regard in which he is held, unless he puts these advantageous factors to use? Unless he is in Washington when he is needed?

Of course Kuhio's large circle of friends should be helpful in securing beneficial legislation. But nothing can be secured by a delegate who stays away from his post. It is conceded that a veteran in Congress has an advantage over a newcomer, as Mr. Mann says in another part of his letter—BUT A NEWCOMER WHO IS ON THE JOB AND WORKING HIS LEVEL BEST IS WORTH TEN VETERANS WHO STAY AT HOME AND MAKE EXCUSES.

Has Kuhio at any time in this campaign promised that if elected he will be on the job? Has he at any time pledged himself to put to instant and continuous use those advantages that long acquaintance in Washington have given him?

It is known all over the territory that two years ago his friends begged him, pleaded with him, argued with him, to go to Washington and show Hawaii that he would put personal feeling aside and work for the good of All Hawaii.

And the result has been two years of "nothing doing" for Hawaii.

That's what Hawaii can expect again.

The letter written to Kuhio by Congressman Frank P. Woods of Iowa, chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee, is the same sort of a letter that Mann's communication is—written not to favor one Republican as against another, but to put forth valid arguments why a Republican should be sent from Hawaii instead of a Democrat.

Congressman Woods says: "My attention has been called to an editorial in a recent issue of the Hawaii Herald, urging the people of Hawaii to elect a Democrat to represent the territory in Congress."

"Such a course as is suggested by the Hilo paper would certainly be against Hawaii's best interests."

"Hawaii was brought into the union by a Republican Congress and a Republican president, and it has ever been the policy of the Republicans to further the interests of our island territory. Much beneficial legislation as well as millions of dollars in appropriations, have been made for Hawaii by each succeeding Republican Congress since 1898, while on the other hand not one beneficial act has been passed by the present Democratic Congress. In the matter of appropriations only such items as were included in the military and naval programs were made."

That is not an indorsement of Kuhio, but of Republicanism and a Republican delegate.

Much emphasis has been placed by the Kuhio managers upon the closing paragraph—particularly the first part of it. Here it is:

"I also firmly believe that Hawaii's interests would best be served by you as delegate, as I recognize in you a true representative of your race. Your faithful and conscientious work during the twelve years you have been in Congress has gained for you the respect and esteem of your colleagues, and this will surely enable you to accomplish more for Hawaii than any possible man the Democratic party could send on to Washington."

Yes, indeed—BUT WHERE DOES IT SAY THAT KUHIO'S RECORD WILL ENABLE HIM TO ACCOMPLISH MORE THAN ANY OTHER REPUBLICAN?

Congressman Woods says emphatically that Kuhio can do more for Hawaii than "any possible man the Democratic party could send on to Washington."

In closing his letter he trusts that the people of Hawaii will select Kuhio "to be their spokesman in the national capital."

That is all very well, but Kuhio, when elected, doesn't stay where he can be the "spokesman of Hawaii." He doesn't remain at his post in the national capital.

And the sum of it all is that these letters are not applicable to the present situation at all. They are written by good Republicans like Mann and Woods not to discredit the candidacy of a good Republican like Rice, but to prove that Hawaii should not send a Democrat to Washington.

And they show beyond peradventure that they doubt that Mann and Woods recognize that in the last two years Hawaii has not had the beneficial legislation to which this territory is entitled.

"GO ON PROSPERITY."

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: Everybody, including the Democrats, admit that the last presidential election was a "land slide." That something went wrong at the last minute is a fact. If every voter had remembered the great "full dinner pail" campaign of 1896, when McKinley took the reins of government and there was an immediate restoration of prosperity from the throes of near despondency throughout the United States, there would have been no Wilson administration, no Underwood tariff, no discrimination against the manufacturer, the refiner, the sugar cane grower and the sugar beet farmer. There would be no necessity for a call on Congress for a war tax to create revenue to support government, in lieu of the revenue-producing source that has or will be eliminated to apparently satisfy a fad.

With the coming election, right here in Hawaii there is the laying down of lines for another "full dinner pail" coup, which it is hoped will restore the Republican party to power and bring on a season of prosperity that shall fit in with the spirit of the times.

The coming years will be critical one for Hawaii. The eyes of the world will be on her, and in the administration of affairs at such time there is no room for territorial or city or county officials that are not in accord with the keep-up-your-end progressive Republican way of doing things; no room for "gone-fishing-and-off-the-job-when-needed" men; no room for men who would repeat the kind of supervisory administration that this city has enjoyed (?) for the past two years.

Let's stop this "Alice in Wonderland" city government. Let's puff up, for our pipe is going out. What we want are results. Well, we have been getting them, but they are not what we are paying for.

A good many people do not know what the letters "G. O. P." mean. They mean "Go on Prosperity." F. M.

WAR'S MEANING.

Schofield Barracks, Sept. 7th, 1914.
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin:
"Sir: Might is Right," said Bismarck, and now the triple entente is disputing it, but what have they to take its place? They might sever the assertion and say, "Right is Might," which would mean practically the same thing.

There must be war to keep the crust trimmed off the being of human nature which it is ever shielding itself with. The idea is to make war so immediate that no lives will be lost. The autocrats and democrats would then be united.

The stand which the New York World has taken in regards to the European war, stating that Germany has run amuck, is beneath the dignity of that big daily. Germany is the core of the Occidental civilization and the united vim of her people in this war proves that to be a fact.

I, for one, am at relentless odds with the old fogies who cannot recognize the whole rigmarole of human emotions into one political creed, to be held up to the citizen as a constant mirror of his deeds.

"Know thyself," was inscribed on the oracle at Delphi, and "know thyself" is the scripture of man's political competence today.

The European war is an elaborate demonstration of the profound earnestness of life and it remains for the United States to see and profit by this European cataclysm regardless of which side is victor.

In a hotel the other day the manager was instructing a new arrival who hailed from Erin's Isle, in his duties.

"Now you see that sign, 'Gentlemen must use the spittoon.' If you notice any of the guests violating that rule report the matter to me."

"Oh will, sir," said Pat, and he kept a sharp lookout. After watching a gentleman for half an hour he went to him and said:

"Dye mould the sign over yonder, sor."

"Yes," said the gentleman.

"Why don't you observe it, thin?"

"I'm not expectorating on the carpet," said the gentleman, astonished.

"Oh know ye're not," said Pat, "an' yer not usin' the spittoon, nayther. Spit ye thafe, or I'll report yez."

LITTLE INTELLIGENTS

—JACK LUCAS: Down at Ala last night the voters at the Republican meeting gave me an encore and I had to speak again. I tell you, I'm going to be elected.

—HARRY E. MURRAY: If I'm elected mayor I will treat both Fourth and Fifth districts alike—I'll give 'em molasses roads in the Fourth and pineapple juice roads in the Fifth!

—DANIEL LOGAN: I hate to spoil a good story, but accurate local history compels me to say that Miss Ashford will not be the first lady member of the bar of Hawaii. A quarter of a century ago the late Miss Almeda Hitchcock, sister of Artist Hitchcock, was a licensed practitioner in the courts of the Kingdom of Hawaii, associated with her father, Hon. H. R. Hitchcock, in his law office at Hilo.

—HARRY E. MURRAY: This primary campaign is showing that a candidate must have definite ideas of what he will do if elected to office. Some people think the primary campaign is too long. I am finding the time short enough in which to explain to the voters what I know can be done if a progressive municipal ticket is elected. There are so many things to be done that one could talk for many more weeks and still not exhaust the possibilities.

—W. J. COELHO: Up at Maui, the audiences at a political meeting always give respectful attention whether they are for or against the meetings. That is true also in nearly every precinct in Hawaii. In only one precinct last night did any of the audience interrupt. Up at School and Liliha streets there was a gang of hired runners sent out by the Kuhio management to howl down speakers. I want to say that the women in the audiences, whether they have been for the prince or not, have given a much better example of conduct than some of the men, though the women haven't any vote!

EXPLANATION MADE WHY RAPID TRANSIT HAS NOT EXTENDED ON SOUTH ST.

The public utilities commission has requested the Star-Bulletin to make clear the reasons set forth by C. G. Ballentyne, manager of the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company, in answer to verbal complaint to the commission as to why the company does not extend its line beyond its present terminus at the Honolulu Iron Works, and up along South street. The complaint was taken up at a recent meeting of the commission, at which time Mr. Ballentyne was present and gave reasons which were accepted by the commission as being a sufficient answer to the complaint.

The minutes of that part of the meeting read as follows:

"Mr. Ballentyne replied that there were many reasons, the chief of which were these:

"1. The company's franchise along the Beach road terminates where the cars now stop opposite the Honolulu Iron Works.

"2. The land on which the tracks are laid on First street belongs to the Bishop Estate (the street has never been taken over by the government) and the tracks are there simply by permission of the estate.

"3. The track on South street was war is a horrible phantom that mocks

us from the pages of the newspapers and current magazines, but to these friends of ours it is a hideous reality.

Mrs. W. S. Fairweather was the motif for a most enjoyable card party
on last Friday evening at which Mrs.
M. T. Simonton and Mrs. E. A. Jacobson were hostesses at the latter's pretty Kaimuki bungalow. Mrs. Fairweather left on the Wilhelmina today
for an extended visit on the mainland
and the entertainment was in the nature of a farewell to her. Cards were enjoyed until a late hour when delicious refreshments were served.

Those present were: Dr. and Mrs.
N. S. Fairweather, Mr. and Mrs. H. H.
Williams, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bigelow,
Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Henderson, Mr.
and Mrs. J. Lando, Mr. and Mrs. G. H.
Wright, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wel-bourne, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Ferguson, Miss Anna Welbourne, Mr. A. E. Wel-
bourne, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bicknell,
Mrs. J. Gribble, Mr. and Mrs. A. G.

ma McKeague, Miss Marion Dow, Mr.
and Mrs. C. B. Cottrell, Mr. and Mrs.
J. T. Taylor, Miss Janet Dewar, Richard Simonton, Roy Simonton, Wilson Jacobson, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Jacobson, and Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Simonton.

The house was prettily decorated with yellow crapepals relieved by a background of palms and ferns.

Arriving on the Korea last Friday were a number of teachers for the local schools, there being seven who came to fill positions at Punahou.

Miss Kathleen McNutt will have the position of special teacher of drawing and arts and crafts and will develop work in this department. Besides excellent training for the position, she has had four years' experience in the Topeka, Kansas, high school. Miss Hope V. Lytle, a graduate of the University of California, comes to take the fifth grade position. Miss Juanita H. Day, who is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, and Miss Mary A. Fowler, trained in Whitman College and Cheney Normal School in the state of Washington, will have positions in the fourth grade. Miss Sara S. Mulnix, a normal trained teacher from Colorado, and Miss Mabel J.
Long of Stanford University, will have the third grade positions.

These seven young women will undoubtedly be a delightful addition to Honolulu social circles.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Schrader entertained a number of their friends on last Thursday evening in celebration of their tenth wedding anniversary.
The house was beautifully decorated with lovely American Beauty roses and maidenhair ferns.

The host and hostess were the recipients of a great many handsome gifts,
as well as the congratulations and good wishes of all present. The reminder of the evening was given over to a number of interesting games,
music and dancing.

Those invited to be present were Mr.
and Mrs. James Montross, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Carey, Mr. and Mrs. D. A.
Buss, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hughes, Miss
M. Todd, Miss Parley, Mrs. Emily
Hannigan, Miss Wetzel, Mr. and Mrs.
L. R. Medeiros, Miss Mary Hoffman,
Miss Nellie Brown, Miss A. Medeiros,
Mrs. J. Garcia, Mrs. A. Enos, Mrs.
George Gall and others.

All the favorite mountain and beach
resorts were filled with house parties
this past week-end owing to the fact that Monday, too, was a holiday. This offered those who are engaged in business in town opportunity for nearly a three-day outing and there were many who took advantage of the same.

Among the different parties was a merry crowd of about 25 members of the younger set whom Mrs. J. W. Wadman chaperoned. These young people spent the short vacation in the Froar place at the Peninsula, the boys sleeping in tents pitched beneath the trees in the yard, making ample room for
all. The time was very enjoyably spent swimming, tramping and doing all the other jolly things which are the usual program at affairs of this kind.

Captain and Mrs. E. K. Massee spent a few days recently visiting friends at Schofield Barracks.
Letters have been received recently from Mrs. Laura Wight, eldest daughter of Mrs. E. K. Wilder, from the war center of Europe. Mrs. Wight with her daughter, Ella, has been living in Berlin for the past four years. The American church in that city has been converted into a hospital with Mrs.
Wight at the head, while Miss Wight has joined the Red Cross as a nurse.

Mrs. L. C. Clark was hostess at a very enjoyable luncheon on Sunday afternoon in honor of Mrs. L. M.
Smith and Miss Bernice Smith of Pu-puka, who spent the week-end in town. The table was attractively decorated with Cecil Brunner roses
and covers were placed for Mrs.
Smith, Miss Smith, Mr. Byron O.
Clark, Miss Margaret Smith, Miss
Shirley Foster, Miss Dorothy Raab
and Mr. and Mrs. Clark.

Mr. Byron O. Clark was a departing passenger on the Wilhelmina this morning. He is bound for California where he will join his family who left for the coast in July. They will make their permanent home in Paradise, Cal.

A quiet wedding of the past week
was that of Miss Elizabeth Gosling and Mrs. Jack D. Cleary, which took place in the rectory of the Catholic cathedral. The ceremony was performed by Father Stephen in the presence of relatives and a few close friends. Miss Annie Goellner, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Mr.
C. F. Dempsey acted as best man for Mr. Cleary.

After the marriage, a wedding breakfast was given for the bridal party at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Cleary then left on a short honeymoon to be spent on the other side of the island.

A wedding of considerable interest on Hawaii and also in Honolulu took place in Hilo on last Saturday evening
when Miss Wilhelmina Rose Weight became the bride of Mr. Edward Arthur Campbell.

The bride is a very popular girl and has a wide circle of friends in the islands. She is both talented and accomplished and is well known for her splendid horsemanship, having been chosen on several successive years to ride as the Princess of Hawaii in the annual Floral Parade.

Mrs. Campbell is also very well known in the islands and is popular both in business and social circles.

When the armored cruiser South Dakota sailed for the coast last Friday morning, it left a large number of friends of the officers and crew standing on the wharf regretfully waving their farewells. The band of the cruiser played from the time of casting off the lines until the vessel was well out in the channel, and individuals were no longer distinguishable.

The officers of the South Dakota are most hospitable and the ship was the scene of a great many delightful affairs during its short stay here. It was with the keenest regret that the friends, gathered on the dock, saw the vessel depart.

Mrs. Lyman Herbert Bigelow was hostess at a charming garden party on last Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs.
N. Fairweather. The guests enjoyed a delightful afternoon chatting and sewing beneath a flaming poinciana tree which was the object of numerous complimentary remarks. Later delicious refreshments were served in this lovely, cool retreat. Those invited to be present to bid farewell to Mrs. Fairweather, who left for the coast on the Wilhelmina today, were:
Mr. E. A. Jacobson, Mrs. W. A. Wel-bourne, Mrs. M. T. Simonton, Mrs.
Lyron, Mrs. Kanne, and Miss Anna Wel-bourne.

Miss Leola Booth, who has been spending the summer at her home in Pauoa valley, was a passenger for the coast on the Wilhelmina today. She is returning to Notre Dame where she will continue her studies.

For the past week the Booth home has been a gathering place for the many friends of this popular girl.
There have been guests for luncheon,
tea and dinner and also many in the evening when dancing was often enjoyed. A large number of her friends were at the pier this morning to heap
leis and good wishes upon her.

Mrs. Z. K. Meyers was a recent luncheon hostess at her lovely Kaimuki home. Covers were placed at the prettily decorated table for Mrs.
William Williamson, Mrs. A. Hane-
berg, Mrs. August Humberg, Mrs.
Arthur Davidson, Mrs. W. C. Hobdy,
Mrs. Lackland and Mrs. Emil Waterman.

After the delightful luncheon, bridge was enjoyed during the remainder of the afternoon. Dainty prizes were won by Mrs. Lackland and Mrs. Waterman who held the highest scores.

Miss Ruth Richards was the complimented guest at a delightfully informal afternoon on Monday of last week,
at which Miss Ruth McChesney was hostess. The guests came armed with their sewing bags and several very enjoyable hours were spent chatting over their needlework. Later delicious refreshments were served.

Those present were: Miss Ruth
Richards, Miss Laura Atherton, Miss
Violet Atherton, Miss Banny Hoogs,
Miss Letitia Morgan, Miss Marjorie
Gilman, and the hostess.

Mrs. Louise C. Frain of Hana, Maui, was hostess at a delightful luncheon
at the Young Cafe on last Saturday afternoon. Covers were placed for
Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cookson, Mrs. L.
M. Smith, Miss Shirley Foster, Miss
Francis Foster and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Dixon entertained a number of friends on last Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. D.
Cleary whose wedding was a recent event. Those invited to spend the pleasant evening with Mr. and Mrs.

Cleary were: Miss Ivy Beasley, Miss
Alice Tucker, Miss Marguerite Condon,
Miss Ellen Thorpe, Miss Lily Condon,
Miss Theresa Betters; Messrs. C. F.
Dempsey, William Warren, D. Cummings, William Green, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith.

The big dance given last Saturday evening in the armory by Company D was a highly successful affair. The huge hall was prettily decorated with a profusion of flags which were artistically draped about the walls and balcony. A large number of the members of the army and navy sets were present, as well as many town people.
The music was excellent, the floor perfect and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all present.

Mr. Robert W. Shingle is now in New York City awaiting the arrival of his brother, Fred Shingle, from Europe. The latter was in St. Maurice, Switzerland, when the war broke out in Europe, and it was with considerable difficulty that he managed to reach the coast through Paris. Upon his arrival in New York the two brothers will proceed at once to San Francisco, where they will visit their mother.

Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Andrews entertained at a small but delightful beach party at the Outrigger club on last ing swim, a delicious supper was served on the club lanai. Those present were Mrs. L. M. Smith, Miss Bernice Smith, Miss Francis Foster, Miss Pearson, Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Foster, Mrs. Sarah Cousins and the host and hostess.

Mrs. H. M. Alexander and Miss Sal-

in California while Miss Collins will go directly east to her home in Virginia.

RICE SHOWING VIM IN MAKING HOT CAMPAIGN

A whirlwind campaign is the kind that Charles A. Rice is making in his closing week of work for the Republican nomination for delegate.

He spoke five times yesterday—at noon on the Kinohiwa wharf and four times at scheduled meetings last night. At noon today he spoke at the Honolulu Iron Works and tonight, in addition to the Bilon meeting, he has another big audience to address.

The energy and vim he is putting into his campaign are making him friends right along. Republican municipal candidates who are going all over the city say today that Rice is gaining very fast.

One Republican candidate for a prominent office declares that the Rice strength has been there all along but it is only now showing itself. "The voters who have said nothing are beginning to realize now that Rice is a winner and they are flocking openly to his support," said this man, who has campaigned on Oahu for many years.

Rice's meetings last night were well attended in spite of the rain. And the crowds stayed until the last speaker had finished.

Reports came in to Rice headquarters from down the country today that Laie is going to give Rice an overwhelming vote and Waialua is going to poll a big vote for him also.

There should be no home in Honolulu without cut flowers on the dining table at least. Every lady in the city should often wear a beautiful bouquet of handsome flowers—and they would if every gentleman would often buy such a bouquet at Mrs. E. M. Taylor's, the florist on Hotel street, opposite the Young Cafe.

Much time is wasted, and progress lessened, if your children have to borrow pencils, etc., from other scholars in the schoolroom. Therefore help the children by seeing that they have sufficient and good tools to work with. At the Hawaiian News Co., in the Young Building, you can get all the necessary supplies.

KUHIO FOLLOWS REPUBLICANS ON COUNTRY TOUR

Kuhio's speeches last night were made at meetings held by Republican candidates down the country—at Aiea, Waipahu and Ewa. The prince, according to his manager, John H. Wise, had scheduled his meeting a week ago at these points and did not wish to call them off, so he spoke at the meetings called by the Republican candidates and presided over by Republican workers, some of whom are also candidates.

Tonight Kuhio is to speak twice, once at the end of the Liliha street carline and at the old Orpheum site, on Fort street, opposite the Central fire station.

WISE WOULD BE CHAIRMAN UNLESS RICE IS WINNER

John H. Wise, manager of the Kuhio campaign, expects to be a candidate for chairman of the Republican county committee in case Kuhio is nominated for delegate. Unless Kuhio is nominated, Wise won't run for chairman of the committee, he said this morning.

"Unless Kuhio is successful, I don't want to be chairman, but if the prince wins I'm going out after it," says Wise. "I don't want to be chairman if Rice is nominated."

Already there is a strong movement on foot among the Kuhio forces to see that in those precincts where there is competition for places on the county committee, candidates favorable to Wise shall be supported. In a number of precincts there is only one candidate to be voted for, under the party rules, next Saturday, but lively contests are certain in several precincts and there an effort is to be made to elect those who will favor Wise if he runs for chairman.

Another possible candidate for chairman is E. P. Fogarty, it was said this morning.

COMING NEXT—CARLOTTA NILLSON AS

Lea KleschnaVARIEGATED BILL
AT YE LIBERTY
FOR NEXT WEEK

Owing to the present general nervous strain due to the approaching elections, the management of Ye Liberty theater has decided to put on for the coming week, beginning tonight, a light, airy, breezy picture program to suit the conditions. Instead of putting on a sustained feature film. The idea is to put on "stuff" that will afford relaxation and recreation rather than thought and study. To this end three reels will be shown for the coming week and will range from thrilling melodrama down through a dashing western cowboy picture to a rollicking comedy.

The melodrama will be provided by "The Wreck," a three-reel feature film in which all the well known stars of the Vitagraph company are seen. Aside from the thrilling railroad wreck scene which is shown there is an intensely human interest story told in which the principals are a father and son, the climax coming when the father discovers that his son is a victim of the train wreck which he has caused.

Honolulu theater-goers need no introduction to G. M. Anderson. He has been seen here many times in western cowboy pictures and has become a big favorite. In "Broncho Billy's Squareness," an Essanay film, Anderson appears to as good advantage as he has ever been seen and the play is replete with tense and exciting scenes.

The comedy is provided by an Edison film entitled, "The Thrifty Janitor," featuring Augustus Phillips, and the very names of the play and the star places the stamp of superiority on the picture as a laugh maker.

A CHILD'S LAXATIVE IS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

They love to take it and it doesn't harm the tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

If your little one's stomach is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well-playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by California Fig Syrup Company. Don't be fooled!—advertisement.

THE FRIEND FOR AUGUST FULL OF TIMELY MATTER

Featuring a letter written by The Friend to the Ad Club regarding "Hawaii's Golden Opportunity" in the matter of securing an increased tourist trade on account of the European war, the August Friend is a number of unusual interest.

It is off the press today and tomorrow will be sold on the streets by Star-Bulletin news boys. Illustrating the main points of the letter to the Ad Club is a cartoon on the back cover.

Another cartoon headed "A Liquor Man for Mayor of Honolulu" leaves no room for doubt as to the disqualifications of a certain "Independent" candidate in the minds of the Friend editors. Live editorial matter and articles of considerable local interest complete the contents.

REPUBLICANS GO DOWN COUNTRY
FOR MEETINGS

Nearly 50 Republican candidates journeyed down to Ewa, Aiea and Waipahu last night, rousing meetings being held at these three places. The meetings were arranged by the candidates.

At Aiea the meeting was a very large and enthusiastic one, Charles N. Arnold, who is a candidate for supervisor on the Republican ticket, presiding effectively. At Waipahu George Nawaakoa presided, while Frank K. Archer did the honors well at Ewa.

All the Republican candidates were well received and it was evident that big Republican votes will be rolled up in all of these precincts.

President Wilson nominated Gilbert C. Higgins to be postmaster at Waverly, R. L. succeeding George D. Genuing.

'LEAHI HOME DAY' WILL BE ON THE
BILL TOMORROW

At a meeting held this morning a number of prominent society and club ladies of Honolulu decided to put in their time tomorrow in selling tickets for "Leahi Home Day" at the Opera House on the evenings of September 16, 17 and 18. On this occasion "The Spirit of Hawaii" will have its premier before any audience and shortly thereafter will be taken to the mainland to be placed in vaudeville on the largest of the world's circuits.

The three local performances will be in the nature of a "try-out," and upon its success at home greatly depends its success upon the mainland. At the meeting this morning committees were chosen and districts outlined in which the participants will dispose of tickets for the three performances.

Aside from the leading feature there will be a number of vaudeville acts introduced in the program on the nights mentioned, the entire ordering being strictly Hawaiian, the authors being residents of these islands, also the performers.

A large part of the proceeds of the entertainments will go to the Leahi Home as a benefit, hence the local interest.

ALL WELCOMEA NEW EXPLOSIVE.

A new submarine mine explosive called "trotol," which cannot be set off by percussion, but which has to be confined and fired by electricity, was employed in the annual war test of submarines off Sandy Hook, N. J., last week. Trotol, it is declared, can be melted and handled without danger. Mines loaded with 100 pounds of the new explosive and fired during the recent test threw columns of water and pieces of targets 250 to 350 feet in the air. Each mine was allowed to remain in the water two hours before being exploded in order to test the water-tight joints in the cable containing the firing circuit.—Electrical World.

JUDGE ASHFORD OBJECTS TO MANY APPELLATE CASES

Makes Declaration from Bench
That Court Will Put Quick
Stop to Practise

Circuit Judge Ashford entered a vigorous protest in open court this morning against the practice of attorneys in carrying up from the police court so many petty misdemeanor cases for jury trial, working thereby a hardship on the busy businessmen who are compelled to do jury duty and a hardship on the county, which he said is put to an expense of about $75 a day for every jury trial.

Judge Ashford aimed his protest directly at the members of the local bar, not more than three of whom happened to be present. He asked those to convey his sentiment to their fellows, and ended with the comment that unless the "degradation of the dignity of this court by this system" were not mitigated to some extent this court certainly will find a way to make its protest effective.

Judge Ashford's protest was elicited by the fact, as he announced at the opening of court, that there are now pending 142 cases on the criminal trial calendar of the first circuit court, and that of these 46 are committals from the local district court and 42 are appeals from the lower court, while there are only 24 indictments remaining to be disposed of. In all, he said, 140 cases remain to be tried, two being extradition matters which may never be heard.

"Of the total number there are 46 cases in which the defendants received no trial in the district court," said Judge Ashford. "In these counsel has demanded trial by jury, and as the law does not provide for jury hearings in the district court the cases are perforce carried up to this jurisdiction. In most of these the defendants are held for misdemeanors—in many, for offenses of a petty character—and in a great number it appears preposterous that they should be brought up here when they have had no hearing in the lower court. I don't believe for an instant that it was the intention of the legislature which made the law under which these committals are taken, to make this a police court for the trial of misdemeanors."

"It is possible, of course, that many would have reached this court after a hearing in the district court. It is true all have come up by due process of law, but I feel that the wholesale practice amounts to a positive abuse of the statute. I don't believe the legislature intended that the circuit court should be degraded to the level of a police court. Certainly I have a higher ideal of the functions of this court."

The only attorneys who heard the court's lecture were Deputy City and County Attorney A. M. Brown, C. F. Peterson and W. B. Lyner.

Take "Pape's Diapepsin" and in five minutes you'll wonder what became of misery in stomach.

Wonder what upset your stomach—what portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion, if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty-cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—advertisement.

PROF. HERING IN CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

The public is cordially invited to a free lecture on Christian Science in the Opera House Sunday night, to be given by Prof. Hermann S. Hering of Concord, N. H. The purpose of this lecture is not to proselyte, but to give those who are interested in the subject a correct statement of what Christian Science really teaches. The lecturer is an authorized representative of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Frank Greenfield, for the past 10 years chemist for the Ewa plantation, will leave for Manila, P. I., the latter part of this month where he has accepted the position of chemist for the Calamoa plantation, which is owned by the Pacific Commercial Company. Mr. Greenfield was the guest of honor at a farewell banquet at the Young hotel last night, which was given by S. S. Peck, and which was attended by a large number of local chemists.

PUBLIC UTILITIES EXPLAINS SCOPE OF JURISDICTION

In response to a request by Governor Pinkham, the public utilities commission furnished the chief executive with a list classifying the public utility corporations of the territory which, under the statutes, support the commission.

The list follows:
Those corporations over which the commission has full power, as provided by the Public Utilities Act, Act 89, S. L. 1913: Waialae Electric Company, Ltd., Hawaii Telephone Company, Kohala Telephone Company, Kaula Telephone Company, Maui Telephone Company, Mutual Telephone Company, Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, Kaula Railway Company and Hawaii Railroad Company.

Those over which the commission has the right of investigation, recommendation and publicity, pending passage of Act 135, S. L. 1913, by Congress: Honolulu Gas Company, Island Electric Company, Hilo Electric Company, Hawaii Electric Company and the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company.

Those over which the commission has the right of investigation, recommendation and publicity: Hilo Railroad Company, Oahu Railway and Land Company, Kahului Railroad Company and the Koolau Railway Company.

Regarding the Matson Navigation Company, the commission only has jurisdiction over the passenger traffic of that corporation between Hawaiian Islands ports.

The majority of the companies which come under the jurisdiction of the commission have already paid the semi-annual fees which become due this month.

A communication was received by the commission August 27 from the Volcano Stables and Transportation Company saying that the company did not consider itself under the jurisdiction of the commission and that it does not intend to pay the fee requested by the commission to be payable during September. The matter has been placed in the hands of the attorney-general who has given the opinion that, after examination of the correspondence between the commission and the company, the company is a common carrier and subject to the commission's jurisdiction. The secretary of the commission has been authorized to inform the company that the commission will not attempt to exercise jurisdiction over the company and does not require the payment of the fee required.

ISLAND POLO FOURS WORKING FOR TOURNAMENT

Maui in the Best Shape as to Regular Players for Coming Games—Artillery Unknown

The Oahu polo team turned out yesterday afternoon for what was its final practice but one before the inter-island tournament. Six hard periods were played, and as the ball was not thrown in until almost 5 o'clock, it was 6:30 before the last whistle blew. Darkness and a fine drizzle of rain really put an end to the game, for when time was called it was impossible to follow the movement of the ball from the side lines, while it was all that the players could do to make shots and avoid collisions.

In order to give the Oahu defense a hustling game, S. A. Baldwin, the regular No. 1, was shifted to the opposition, John Grace and L. Redington alternating at No. 1 for the Blues. The Blues took upon themselves the added handicap of knocking up-field throughout the entire game, and the Yellows, playing in good form, gave the first team all it wanted in the way of practice, and then some.

It has been definitely decided that Walter MacFarlane will be shifted from No. 1 to No. 3 for the big games, and although this position is new to him, he is doing excellent work there. This puts the whole team forward from the line-up in recent games, Castle going from 3 to his old position at No. 2, and S. A. Baldwin moving from 2 to 1. Arthur Rice comes into the game for his first match this season, turning out on short notice to help the Oahu team out of a bad hole when they were short of first team material. He is playing back, the position he held down with credit on the All-Hawaiian team that went to the Coast last year, but as a member of former Kanai teams he played No. 1.

The Oahu team as it stands now is made up of men who have played several positions on championship teams. It is after careful thought that the present line-up has been arranged, and it is of course subject to change, although it is pretty certain that in the initial match against the Field Artillery September 16, the Oahu team will be lined up as above stated.

Practice for the 4th Cavalry has been curtailed owing to the practice march on which the regiment is now engaged, but the horse soldiers will be back at Schofield in plenty of time to get in a couple of good practice games before going against the Maui team Regatta Day, the 19th.

The Field Artillery team is practicing steadily, and is rounding out a season of gradual development of both men and mounts. It is the dark horse of the present tournament, and the work of the four regular soldiers will be watched with much interest.

The Cavalry team loses a couple of stars in Cullum and Cheney, who will be on the mainland at the time of the tournament, but there is some good second string material to count on, and the team will surely make a good showing.

Maui is in the best shape of the four teams, having its four regulars in the line-up, with both players and ponies in excellent shape. The team will line up with Collins, Baldwin, Fleming and Rice playing in the order named.

In yesterday's practice at Moanalua the teams lined up as follows:
Blues: L. Redington, J. Grace, No. 1; H. K. L. Castle, No. 2; Walter MacFarlane, No. 3; Arthur Rice, back.

Yellows: S. A. Baldwin, No. 1; P. Hannon, W. Spencer, No. 2; H. G. Dillingham, No. 3; B. M. Sumner, back.

The final practice game will be played Friday next.

25TH WILL PLAY VENICE IN THIS CITY DEC. 29TH

The schedule for the Venice team on its Hawaiian trip has been definitely announced by H. G. Lowrey, who is managing the tour, and it is assured that there will be enough games to give them some real baseball. Also, it will give an opportunity to compare the work of the Coast Leaguers with that of the locals.

One desirable feature of the schedule is that the 25th Infantry team gets a Sunday game in Honolulu. The Oahu League would play to empty stands if it wasn't for the soldiers, and the army teams deserve all the consideration that can be given them. Besides, the fans like to see new faces occasionally, and it's a pretty safe bet that the 25th plays as good, if not better ball than the local aggregations.

Following is the Venice schedule:

OLYMPIC GAMES ARE BECOMING AMERICANIZED

At the present rate of progress it won't be long before the Olympic games are completely Americanized, providing, of course, that the war does not put an end to all athletics in the old world for the time being.

Not only have the international amateur athletic federation and the international Olympic council adopted virtually all of the American rules and the standard list of events, but more important yet, nearly every European country save England has engaged a former American athlete to coach its candidates for the 1916 games at Berlin.

The German athletes are being prepared by Alvin C. Kraenzlein, former captain of the University of Pennsylvania track team, intercollegiate champion broad jumper and joint holder of the world's hurdling records. Sweden has re-engaged Ernest Hjertberg, for several years successively coach of Columbia university, the New York A. C. and the Irish-American A. C.; Austria is under the direction of Al Copeland, a former A. A. U. champion hurdler and at one time coach of the Princeton track team; what little prominence Russia has achieved is due to the coaching of Anderson, who went to St. Petersburg from Kansas City as a Y. M. C. A. secretary and has since been trying to build up athletics in the czar's empire; finally, Lawson Robertson, a member of the American Olympic team of 1908 and since then coach of the Irish-American A. C., has been secured as national director of athletics for Hungary.

Comes Here to Learn.

But the American influence has extended even beyond these countries. After the 1912 games at Stockholm the Finns, whose teams finished second to the United States in the track and field section, were so impressed with American methods that they sent one of their older athletes, I. Pikkala, to this country to take a course in the Springfield Training school and then a post-graduate course in observing the methods employed at the leading American universities. After his year at Springfield he went to the university of Pennsylvania, where he trained with the Quaker athletes under Mike Murphy and his assistants. Since his return to Finland he has put into operation the ideas he picked up on the American methods and expects to make Finland more of a power in 1916 than the country was in 1912.

Englishmen would probably resent the inference that by the engagement of Knox, who is now doing most of the active coaching in that country, they are copying the American methods. But the fact of the matter is that Knox made most of his athletic reputation in this country, and, although not given the free rein that other European coaches enjoy, he is working along the lines that make America supreme. Even in these countries which have not engaged American coaches, the American influence is strongly felt, and everywhere the athletes seize eagerly upon every idea which bears the American stamp.

Kindler Feeling Toward America.
The most remarkable feature of the importation of American coaches and training ideas into Europe is that it gives proof of a new and friendly feeling toward Americans and their methods. It is unfortunately true that at the time of the 1908 games and until 1912 the feeling between the United States and European countries was distinctly unfriendly. This feeling, though, was based largely upon a misunderstanding of American methods, jealousy of our success, and those two sensational events, the 400 meters and Marathon runs. All that, however, was forgotten in the 1912 games. There were a few events in the 1912 games that under ordinary circumstances would have provoked hard feelings, but all of the countries were trying to exercise restraint, and the games ended with the best of feeling on all sides. Europeans are now willing to concede that they misjudged the American character and that they are now idealizing American methods as shown by their eagerness to secure American coaches.

WAR HITS NORTHWESTERN BASEBALL LEAGUE HARD

[By Latest Mail]
SEATTLE, Wash.—A plan is on foot it became known recently to curtail the Northwestern league season two weeks, closing the season September 14th instead of September 27th. The change, it is said, is largely the result of falling off in attendance in Vancouver and Victoria, due to diminution in interest in baseball in Canadian cities, following the outbreak of the European war. League officials will not discuss the proposed change, but it is expected that definite announcement will be made as soon as approval of the curtailment plan has been received from Secretary Farrell of the National Association.

Marquard Back in Form For First Time Since Record Breaking String

Rube Marquard, the Giants' sensational southpaw, is back in his real form for the first time since setting his record string of nineteen straight victories. This occurred way back in 1912 and lasted from April 11 to July 3. The performance seemed to upset Rube's equilibrium, and it has taken him two years to get back to earth. But now that he is back—beware!

ED WALSH, ONE PITCHER WHO COULD "COME BACK"

WHEN Ed Walsh stepped to the plate in New York in mid-July, pitched nine full innings and shut out the Highlanders, he strode from the grave of public oblivion into the full blaze of living reality, and in doing so he played the final scene in one of the most astonishing mysteries of modern baseball.

In the September Baseball Magazine Walsh tells his own story: "I date the beginning of the trouble with my arm to the city series of 1912. In the second inning of a game that I pitched against the Cubs I was hit on the jaw by a line drive, which struck me so hard that the mark of the stitches showed in my face. It completely dazed me, but I went on pitching in a mechanical way and finished the game. I seemed to have as much stuff on the ball as I ever had, so they told me, and as the White Sox pulled up a number of runs, I won without difficulty. After the game, when I had recovered from the shock of that blow and the general excitement, I noticed that my arm felt weak and sore, as though I had strained it. However, that was the finish of a very hard season. I had pitched in 62 games altogether, 393 innings in all, in addition to the hard work of the series, so I was through. And I thought little about it until the next spring.

An Unexpected Rest.
"That spring I was treated to a novel surprise. For the first time in my life I was able to take things easy. Comiskey and Callahan told me to train lightly and not overwork, and I followed their advice. It would probably have made no great difference, anyway, in the result. At any rate, I continued to take things easy, and I was slated to pitch an exhibition game at Venice. I went into the box with my old-time confidence. It had been a long time since that game in the city series of the previous autumn. I had no intimation that the arm was not in as good shape as ever. And perhaps I was more surprised than anyone else in the park when that Venice club proceeded to hammer everything I had to all parts of the field. It was a most unwelcome surprise, and I couldn't explain it. But I made up my mind to show better form on my next appearance.

"Certainly the possibility that I might be even worse never crossed my mind. And yet that is exactly what happened. I went against the St. Joe team in Missouri, and, not content with hitting my best offerings freely, they batted me out of the box. It was a great humiliation to me, and a crushing blow to my hopes. I couldn't understand what was the matter with my arm, for it had never acted in that way before. I had taken a great deal of satisfaction in my arm. I won't deny it. All the years when I was working for the White Sox, warming up to be in condition for a call almost every day, pitching in 60 or more games a season, and generally taking part in more innings than any other pitcher in the business, my arm had never been even sore. The spitball is terribly wrenching on the shoulder, but my shoulder had developed muscular strength that I thought could stand the wear and tear of even this heavy type of pitching indefinitely. I suppose I had expected to wear out some time, but even at my time of life, and I have passed the 30 mark considerably, I wasn't ready to say good-by to the old game, by any means. And I certainly didn't want to quit, for I had to quit in that unsatisfactory way. It is hard to break your arm or have a railroad accident or a severe or exhausting sickness which robs you of your effectiveness, but at least those things are conclusive. They put a finishing touch on your career that you can see and feel, and that is final. But to go as I did, after a good season, where I had worked as well as I ever had, and then to lose your effectiveness unconsciously over night, and without any reason, was too much. It was the uncertainty, the indefiniteness, the mystery about it all that baffled me and made the season of 1913 the worst year I have ever known. The worst year, I hope, I will ever know.

A Brief Victory.
"I believe it was the first game of the season. We were playing St. Louis. It was the ninth inning, and there were three men on bases and no one out. I had been called into a breach of this kind so many times that I had lost all count. It is in a crisis such as this that the pitcher needs to have supreme command of himself. He needs to be master of all there is in him, for the slightest break, the smallest slip of infidelity or catcher will spill the game. In such a pinch the strike-out is the only sure way, for even an easy infield out may be juggled a tenth of a second too long. An out-field fly is pretty sure to be fatal. I had faced this situation scores of times before and won out a good majority of the times. But as I entered the box that day I won't deny that my heart failed me. The unaccountable defeats at Venice and St. Joe had undermined my confidence. I was no longer invincible. But I had one determination—that I would not be humiliated now. I would show that I could still control the spitball and drive it where the batters would have to go arm in arm with gilt-edged luck and surplus horseshoes to find it. And so I tore my arm loose from the shoulder. I knew that the arm wasn't the same old arm that had stood by me all these years. I could feel the muscles grind and wrench, and it seemed to me that it would leap out of the socket when I shot the ball across the plate. But I burned that old baseball over just the same. I made it dip and duck and dive as well as I had ever done in my life. The batters did for it and reached for it, and tied themselves into knots in their efforts to get it, but it seemed to me that the spitball laughed at their efforts as it sung through the air.

"Just what was the matter with the arm all this time I don't know, and I guess it's a safe bet no one else does. It is one of the mysteries of baseball what affects pitchers' arms, and I guess my own case was as big a

MASTERS OF TWO BILLIARD STYLES TO PLAY MATCHES

[Associated Press]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Billiard contests between experts always attract attention the world over, but followers of the game in the United States and Canada will be afforded an unusual opportunity within the next two months of witnessing the acknowledged professional masters of the English and American styles in an international series of matches, the games in which will be played alternately on English and American tables. Willie Hoppe of New York, the world's champion balk line player will cross cues with Melbourne Inman of England, who is the world's best cue-wielder at the English game of "winning and losing hazard."

The series calls for 22,000 points, divided equally between two styles of billiards and three distinct matches will be played. The first of these, consisting of 6000 points, will be decided in New York, followed by another, under similar conditions, in Chicago and later on a third match of 10,000 points will be played during a tour of the leading cities of Canada. Each match will be for $1000 a side and a winning and losing share of the gate receipts. The rules governing the American games will be 18.2 inch balk line, one shot in anchor while the "spot" and "anchor" shots will be barred in all the contests on the big English table. The New York series will begin September 28 and conclude October 3, and the Chicago dates are from October 12 to 17 inclusive. The Canadian dates and places of meeting will be arranged later on.

Both men have been practicing earnestly for some months, each of course paying a great deal of attention to his opponent's style of game, and the matches should afford billiard lovers splendid opportunities for interesting comparisons. Twenty-one years ago, May 29 to June 2, 1893, the late Frank C. Ives, the Michigan cue wonder, who was known as the Napoleon of French and American billiards, played a series of three matches with John Roberts, Jr., the English billiard champion, the first in London, England, the other two in Chicago and New York, at the English style exclusively. Ives won the London match 6000 to 3821, mainly through the "anchor" shot with two object balls "choked" in the mouth of a corner pocket. This was a trick which Ives had learned from his tutor at the American game, the late Jake Schaefer of Chicago, and having once secured this "position" Ives could have continued to click off carams interminably. The English champion was prevented, under the conditions of the match from playing the "spot" stroke more than once, because he could keep counting from that position almost as continuously as Ives did with the "anchor" nurse.

At Chicago the following September, Ives defeated Roberts again, by a score of 6000 to 5303 under similar conditions but two weeks later they met in New York in a match of 10,000 points, with the "spot" and "anchor" barred, and under these changed conditions Roberts won after a most interesting week's play by 10,000 to 8,738. During this match Ives surprised Roberts and all the other experts at his deftness and the "rail" nurse in which, by diligent practice, he had mastered the art of turning corners and passing the side pockets without pocketing a ball. In one game with Roberts far in the lead, Ives made three runs of 651, 515 and 395, a total of 1561 points at this style of play and the following day made another run of 586. On the final day of the match, although Roberts was 1,001 points in the lead, the English champion declared that he did not feel that he had a safe margin as Ives was likely to run out the game with his wonderful "rail" work but Ives was unable to secure his favorite position on that day and Roberts won handily.

The conditions of these coming series are unique as each man will have the opportunity of pulling up at his own style should his opponent's home game become too strong and if Hoppe can develop the "rail" nurse to any degree of efficiency his well known ability at balk line play should give him a splendid chance of winning the larger share of the money prizes.

mystery as any of them. Whether it was because I had worked too hard and got run down, or had strained the arm that last game of the series against the Cubs, or pitched too early after less than my usual amount of spring training, or displaced a ligament, as Bonesetter Reese claimed, or had plain rheumatism, as I think myself, I don't know. Anyway, it has been a long, disagreeable dream to me, and I want to forget it. I want the public to think of Ed Walsh, if they think of him at all, as a live man, who is willing and able to work, not as a hasbeen or a cripple. My day will come soon enough, anyway. Time gets us all. But I want to live out my span of usefulness to the full and not be robbed of my strength all at once, without a moment's warning.

Colonel Thomas R. Birch, United States minister to Portugal, notified the State Department of his arrival in Lisbon.

PHILADELPHIA AND NEW YORK WANT BIG GAME

[By Latest Mail]

NEW YORK.—A hot fight is on at present between New York and Philadelphia to secure the Army-Navy football game for next fall. Since it was announced that Washington, D. C., which had been agreed upon by the two United States schools as the 1914 meeting place, has found that it will be impossible to stage the game, Gotham and the Quaker City have been making strenuous efforts to be chosen for the honor.

It will probably be some time yet before a decision is reached. What this will be is hard to say. The authorities at West Point and Annapolis are apparently just as much at sea over the place for holding the game as the average football follower. It has been intimated that the selection will be left to Secretary of War Garrison and Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

West Point men make no secret of the fact that they would prefer to have New York selected for the game this year. In fact, many army men go so far as to advocate the selection of New York as the permanent place for holding the game. That the navy holds a different view of the matter is shown by the plans made to stage the 1914 game in Washington.

For a long time it was thought that the game would be played on the big polo field in Washington. Then an unexpected hitch arose and last week it was officially announced that the game would have to be played elsewhere. New York and Philadelphia immediately got the wires working to obtain the game. The polo grounds, the home of the New York Giants, and Shibe park, the home of the Athletics, were offered. Philadelphia also has another gridiron to offer—Franklin Field, the athletic plant of the University of Pennsylvania. It was on this field that so many Army-Navy games of other years have been played.

New York had its first opportunity to entertain the Army and Navy at the gridiron classic last year. That New York appreciated the opportunity was shown by the enormous crowd which jammed the Polo grounds to witness the contest. Even persons who opposed the holding of the game here admitted that the crowd was well handled and that New York had been a good selection.

Some followers of the gridiron sport fear that the Army and Navy will be unable to reach an amicable agreement over the place for the game this year and that as a result the contest may be called off. This view, however, is not held by many familiar with the conditions. These persons believe that if there is any hitch in the negotiations the matter will be smoothed out by Secretaries Garrison and Daniels.

CHARLIE BENNETT TELLS OF FIRST CATCHER'S "PAD"

Charlie Bennett, the noted catcher of the famous Detroit team of 1886-1887, delights in telling the story of how he and his wife made the first catcher's breast protector. It was a constant source of worry to Mrs. Bennett to watch her husband being made a target for the speed merchants of 30 years ago. And she fully realized the pressing necessity of some kind of armor to prevent the hot shot sent through by these speed slabs from caving in a rib or two which belonged to her better half.

After much deep thinking and considerable labor the Bennetts shaped out something that had a faint resemblance to the protector worn today. In a private trial it worked fine, and in the try-out Charlie would let the ball slip through his hands and bang up against his chest without experiencing the slightest jar. After Bennett got used to it he wore it in a regular contest, and with the eyes of thousands of spectators upon him, he would let a fast one hit him square on the chest. The ball would rebound back almost to the pitcher.

PIRATES HAVE HOODOO JOB.

It looks as if the first base position at Pittsburgh was haunted. No matter who holds down the initial sack for the Pirates, down goes his batting average and away goes his reputation. One or two—like Jack Miller—have made good after escaping from Pittsburgh and locating in some other city. Most of them go to pieces and those who are imported with a great reputation fade away just as Ketchich did this season.

THORPE TO POSE FOR "MOVIES."

Jim Thorpe, who will probably be a regular Giant next season, is planning to pose for "the movies" in an athletic jubilee. All the famous Red-skin can do in a sportive or athletic way is to play baseball, football, basketball, run, jump, throw the hammer, toss the discus and javelin, pole vault, hurdle and play lacrosse.

A bill introduced by Senator Hitchcock prohibits the purchase in the United States of bonds of any country at war.

MAUI LIKED THE WORK OF LOCAL Y. M. C. A. BOYS

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WAILUUK, Maui, Sept. 8.—Saturday evening in the Alexander House gymnasium the Honolulu Y. M. C. A. boys gave their all-star athletic performance and it was most certainly a success.

The feature of the evening was the pyramid work, 15 in all, under the direction of S. W. Robley, the extension secretary of the Honolulu Y. M. C. A. In consideration of the fact that Mr. Robley has had this class but a matter of two months the results are amazing.

The parallel bar work and mat drill was exceptionally fine and brought forth round after round of applause. The distance dive was won by David Bent who covered 12 feet 11 inches; August Comacho second, 12 feet 8 inches; Theodore Decker, third, 12 feet 1 inch.

The high dive was most interesting from the standpoint of competition on the previous night. In the elimination contests four of the boys had cleared 5 feet 2 inches, but in the finals with 4 feet 6 inches to start the line kept moving upward until the previous record held by David Bent of 5 feet 5 1/4 inches was passed by both Bent 5 1/4 inches was passed by both Bent clearing 5 feet 7 inches.

Robley then continued until a record of 5 feet 9 inches had been made which is the new record which goes to the Honolulu Y. M. C. A.

The boys have had the time of their lives and it kept Mr. Robley busy rounding them up Monday in regard to getting them ready to leave.

It is to be hoped that the trip may be repeated again in the future.

WAR SHOULD KEEP U. S. ATHLETES TO THE FORE

While European athletes are fighting in the armies of the warring countries, American track and field men are continuing their training. It will probably be some years before the Continental countries regain anything like athletic form, but the United States promises to go calmly along annexing honors on the cinder path and in the field. The war, it is thought by many athletic experts, will go far toward clinching America's supremacy on track and field.

In France, Germany, Russia, Austria and Belgium practically every athlete of note has already taken up arms. In these countries they have no choice in the matter. Conscription policies settle all that for them. But there is in every great athlete an innate craving for adventure and desire for the joy of overcoming others, in struggle, and this alone would, under other circumstances, account for the presence of a large majority of them at the post of danger.

In England and in the British Dominions beyond the seas there is no conscription, but Canadian athletes are going to the front in large numbers, actuated, like others, largely by patriotic feelings and also by the unquenchable desire for adventure.

The penalty for taking a wallop at an umpire in the Western Canada league is $30. That was the fine fixed by President Fleming of the league and he assessed it on Pitcher Gardeau of Saskatoon. Gardeau hit an umpire twice in a recent game.

AEROPLANES WILL BE PROMINENT IN WAR, GEN. MILES

That wireless telegraphy and aeroplanes are destined to prove the most destructive in the present European crisis and may do away entirely with the modern battleship, if not the massing together of great armed forces of men on land, is the opinion of Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., retired, expressed in an interview given the New York World.

Gen. Miles, who is visiting at the summer home of Nathan Straus at Maroneck, has followed the events leading up to the war of the nations with the keenest interest. A year ago he was in Bulgaria, and at that time predicted that unless the great powers of Europe should cease their preparations for war the greatest conflict of arms in the world's history would inevitably result.

"The use of wireless telegraphy," Gen. Miles said, "is a new element in warfare. The wireless will undoubtedly be used most effectively by all the great nations involved in the present struggle for supremacy among the powers. What it will do in the way of changing warfare cannot be anticipated at this time. All Using the Airship.

"The genius of man has solved the problem of the navigation of the air. The airship is now in use by all the countries engaged in the present conflict. The result cannot be anticipated as the test has not been made. But the crisis is on."

"The science of aviation has undoubtedly developed the most daring body of men ever engaged in any enterprise. This has been clearly demonstrated in every civilized country of the earth. Assuming, then, that the courage and skill of the aviators of the contending nations may be equal, the results will be determined by the same as was the case in the use of the breech-loading rifle, the machine guns, the high-power guns, the steel-armored ships and the dreadnoughts."

"Great battles in the air will soon be recorded, and such heroes as Garros, the French aviator, who it is reported gave his life that he might bring to earth a giant Zeppelin dirigible which threatened destruction to French life and property, will be immortalized."

Means Big Change in War. "If that report is correct—and I don't believe there has been anything to the contrary—it will undoubtedly stand out as one of the most daring achievements of the war, and one which prefaces a certain change in warfare for all time to come."

"I read with a great deal of interest that the navies of the respective countries engaged in the war are well supplied with aeroplanes, which they propose to set in motion as their fleets of dreadnoughts come together."

To venture a prophecy on the result is more than I can do, but I will say that the science of aviation, as well as the control of submarine batteries by wireless, may revolutionize the art of warfare.

"I do not know how long this war will last, but at all events I am satisfied, from close study of the improved implements in use, that the result will stagger the wildest imagination of mankind. In the old days, when it was a question of fighting on land or on water, conditions were entirely different. But the wireless, the aeroplanes and the dirigible have now brought into play new elements whose importance cannot be estimated at this time. "The French, the English, the Russians, the Austrians and the Germans have become proficient in aeronautics. When I was abroad last I believe the French army alone had a thousand or more aeroplanes of the most improved types, and they are building all the time. How many the Germans had at that time nobody knew. The English, the Russians and the Austrians kept pace."

"The war has not advanced far enough to determine just how effective these new instruments of warfare will become. But if the war is prolonged for a great period of time, it will not be due to the land forces or the dreadnoughts, but to the forces of the air and the wireless."

"By air, and by no other way, will it be possible to carry on effectively an invasion of Germany on the one hand or Russia on the other. Of the two countries, Russia is in a better position to resist invasion than Germany."

"The railroads of Russia are so constructed as practically to bar an invading force, and this is true also of Germany. Candidly, I believe an attempted invasion of either country would prove very disastrous, especially so in the case of Russia, owing to its vast territory."

"Modern warfare is not the warfare of a decade or more ago. When in Bulgaria in the Balkan war a year ago I heard of atrocities such as we never dreamed of even among the most savage Indian tribes here on the plains 20 or more years ago. Whether these atrocities will be repeated in the present great conflict remains to be seen."

RUBBER CAR TIRES.

At the recent session of the Tramway Association of Great Britain in Newcastle one of the speakers suggested the introduction of rubber or some other silent material for tires to street cars.

The speaker contended that a properly designed tire for street cars would exceed the life of tires on motor busses and motor wagons, on which a life of 20,000 miles and over was common; that the wear and tear on the rails would be reduced; that the cost of maintenance would be largely eliminated; and that the corrugation problem would be solved.

The question of doing away with noise and vibration, it was contended, was a strong argument in favor of rubber tires. A higher rate of speed

LOUISIANA CANE GROWERS FIGHT TO GET SUIT BEFORE THE COURT

Claim Tariff Act Unfairly Con- structed With Reference to Cuban Sugar

More developments in the fight of Louisiana cane growers to bring suit to determine whether the new tariff act is properly construed in assessing duty on Cuban sugar are shown in the following letter from the American Cane Growers' Association and accompanying letter from Secretary of the Treasury, McAdoo:

August 22, 1914.

Dear Sir: The enclosed letter from the Secretary of the Treasury to the Chairman of the House Committee on the Judiciary was made available this morning.

In view of the existing conditions in the sugar market this communication has been pronounced extremely interesting by members of Congress who side with the American farmer in his struggle with the sugar refining combine.

The point at issue is in substance as follows: The farmers who cultivate sugar, and the state of Louisiana which produces that article on state-owned plantations, contend that the tariff law is being misinterpreted to their great loss as well as the loss of the public treasury; that the only interest which profits from this interpretation is the sugar refining combine which bought the Cuban, like the domestic crop, at little more than the cost of production; was allowed to bring it into this country at an illegally low rate of duty, and is now oppressing the public by selling it at extortionate prices.

The monthly reports of the department of commerce show that as a result of the treasury ruling more than two million dollars a month are being syphoned out of the United States treasury into the treasury of the sugar trust and its allies. More than $8,000,000 was lost to the public treasury in the four months from March 1 to June 30, 1914.

With the United States treasury threatened with a deficit; with Congress considering the necessity of piling on war taxes, or burdening the country with bond issues, the members of Congress who sympathize with the sugar farmers cannot understand the attitude of the treasury department in this matter. Some of the best legal talent in the country—authorities on constitutional law—contend that the $8,000,000 in dispute is wrongfully being withheld from the treasury and that the government should take steps to recover the money.

The State of Louisiana has been seeking to have the United States Supreme Court decide this question. But the Supreme Court holds that the state must secure the permission of the United States before it will entertain the suit. The American sugar producers do not ask for one cent of appropriation in connection with this matter. They do not even ask the department of justice to incur the trouble of the litigation. All they ask is the authority of Congress to institute the suit.

The $8,000,000 deficit in duty ac-culated during four months is upon sugar which the refiners bought from Cuban planters at little more than the cost of production. That sugar is now being sold to the American consumers at prices which will realize a profit to the refining combine, in comparison with which the amount of duty in dispute will seem small indeed.

Very Respectfully,

PAUL J. CHRISTIAN.

For the American Cane Growers' Assn.

Treasury Department,

Washington, D. C.,

August 15, 1914.

Honorable E. Y. Webb,
Chairman, Committee on the Judiciary,
House of Representatives.

Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 31st ultimo, enclosing a copy of a resolution introduced by Mr. Broussard and referred to your committee. You request an expression of my opinion as to its merits.

The resolution provides for the consent of the United States for the institution of a suit in the Supreme Court of the United States by the State of Louisiana to determine whether the tariff act is properly construed by the Secretary of the Treasury, in assessing duty on sugar imported from Cuba.

It is claimed in the petition filed in the Supreme Court and referred to in the resolution that Cuban sugar is dutiable at the rates provided in the tariff act of 1897, with a reduction of 20 per cent from those rates under the Reciprocity Treaty of 1902, and the act approved December 17, 1903, or in the alternative, at the rates provided in the act of October 3, 1913, without a reduction of 20 per cent under the Cuban Reciprocity Treaty.

This department held on February 28, 1914, following an opinion of the attorney general dated February 20, 1914, that Cuban sugar is dutiable at the rates provided in the act of October 3, 1913, with a reduction of 20 per cent under the said treaty of 1902.

Thereupon the State of Louisiana filed its petition in the Supreme Court that the Secretary of the Treasury and his subordinates be restrained from admitting Cuban sugar at the rates determined by the Secretary of the Treasury to be the proper ones. This petition was denied by the Supreme Court on June 22, 1914.

In my opinion the construction placed upon the law by this department and the Attorney General is so obviously the intent of Congress that it would be useless to submit the question to the Supreme Court.

Since the beginning of the government it has been the policy of Congress to vest the Secretary of the Treasury with the duty of construing and enforcing the revenue laws (Sections 249, 251, and 252 Revised Statutes), and the statutes have provided for a review of the secretary's decisions by the courts when it was claimed that a higher rate, or a greater amount of duty, was assessed than the law warranted.

The Court of Customs Appeals, however, held in Schwartz vs. United States, 3rd, C. C. A. 24 (Treasury Decision 3215), that a protest might legally claim that a higher rate of duty was payable than that assessed. Since that decision was rendered Congress has amended the law in Paragraph R of Section 3 of the Tariff Act of 1913 as to permit protests and appeals only in cases in which a higher rate was assessed than is claimed to be due.

This amendment of the law clearly shows the policy and intent of Congress to provide for a judicial review

NO. 9. THE BANKS—IN A NUTSHELL.

Finally—although, of course, it isn't finally, for we haven't begun to get all the benefits on the table for the business men to cut up—finally, we say, reduce the whole proposition to the Banks. There's where you get the thing in a nutshell. In one way or another, all the tourist expenditures will drift sooner or later into the banks, and the story that results'll be the real, real thing. It'll be the moving picture of the entire idea. And here's how it is in the Banks:

The average American does an average of almost exactly five dollars worth of banking business a day, year in and year out, including Sundays. But where's the tourist that can hold his expenditures down to five dollars a day? Comes nearer to ten, doesn't he? But, for safety's sake, suppose it's only five. That means that five thousand tourists would spend in the islands an average of $175,000 a week.

Take that in, do you? You, especially, Mr. Banker. One hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars a week going through your hands in one form or another! Coming from the business men of the city. Giving you that much additional deposits from which to make your loans and increase your profits! Putting you into that much better position to be ready when the tourist-getting workers send in their cards.

(Note—At the urgent request of a number of prominent businessmen of Honolulu the above series of Ad Club Talks, all of which have been previously printed in the Star-Bulletin, will be reproduced from time to time during the next few weeks. It appears to be the unanimous belief of the business community that facts and figures presented in this concrete manner will prove of unprecedented benefit to the community at large.)

KITCHENER'S RULES OF CONDUCT FOR BRITISH FIGHTING IN FRANCE

Every British soldier in the expeditionary force now landed in France carries in his knapsack a pamphlet signed by Field Marshal Earl Kitchener advising his men how to conduct themselves. The text of the pamphlet is as follows:

"You are ordered abroad as a soldier of the King to help our French comrades against the invasion of a common enemy.

"You have to perform a task which will need your courage, your energy and your patience.

"Remember that the honor of the British army depends on your individual conduct.

"It will be your duty not only to set an example of discipline and perfect steadiness under fire, but also to maintain the most friendly relations with those whom you are helping in this struggle.

"The operations in which you will be engaged will for the most part take place in a friendly country and you can do your own country no better service than in showing yourself in France and Belgium in the true character of a British soldier by being invariably courteous, considerate and kind.

"Never do anything likely to injure or destroy property and always look upon rioting as a disgraceful act.

"You are sure to meet with a welcome and to be trusted. Your conduct must justify that welcome and that trust.

"Your duty cannot be done unless your health is sound so keep constantly on your guard against any excesses.

"In this new experience you may find temptation both in wine and women. You must entirely resist both temptations and while treating all women with perfect courtesy you should avoid any intimacy.

"Do your duty bravely. Fear God and honor the King."

PROMOTION IDEAS ARE SET FORTH BY LOCAL WOMAN

"How to better entertain the tourist visitor to Honolulu, and how to secure his private advertising of the islands," might well be chosen the topic of a communication which has been received by Emil A. Berndt, chairman of the Promotion Committee, from a local woman who, from the tenor of her letter, seems to have delved thoroughly into what the tourist expects, when he comes to Honolulu, and what may be done locally to fulfill these expectations.

In part, the letter follows: "Now that the Ad Club is getting subscriptions toward the increase of funds for the Promotion Committee, I deem it opportune to draw your attention to a few ideas which, if carried out, would be profitable to Honolulu and pleasurable to the tourist. One is this: Have a hostess to receive with open arms the wandering one who, though perhaps wealthy, does not know how to spend money to advantage; does not know how to arrange his daily rounds of riding, hiking, delving into the unknown for treasures, etc. I have been such a hostess in San Francisco, and it is from personal experience that I draw my conclusions.

"To make the individual feel that he—or she—alone holds her undivided attention, and that his comfort is your pleasure, and his ambition your desire to fulfill; that is the secret of successfully holding the traveler. He goes home to tell of your wonderful methods—how he walked right into a home place, where he was wanted, and how he was fed on your native fruits and made to drink of soothing liquids—gratis; and he can't urge enough of his friends to come. It will take a year for his private advertising to take effect, but you don't care about that; sooner or later his friends will come, then they will go home to tell of the same happy experience. Advertising is simply a matter of 'eternal vigilance,' and mouth-to-mouth advertising is the most efficacious in the world.

"It seems to me that a very charming and tropical feature could be introduced by erecting on municipal grounds—the Palace, preferably—grass hut with spacious lanais for serving drinks to tourists. While the tourist is engaged in sipping iced pineapple juice, the man or woman at the head of the hut affairs is sizing up this self-same gentleman and planning ahead for his benefit. To get permission from the municipality for such a concession lends a dignity to the affair that cannot otherwise be obtained.
