Irritating and Disfiguring ERUPTIONS On the Face, Cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Remarkable Experience of Miss Dorothy Maher, Fitzroy, Victoria, whose portrait we are privileged to give below:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the great benefit I derived from Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I suffered from eruptions on my face of a very irritating and vexatious nature. For a considerable time I experimented with various so-called blood medicines, but without any alleviation of my trouble. At last, your famous Sarsaparilla being strongly recommended to me, I began to use it, and after taking two bottles it was most gratifying to see and feel the effect in allaying the irritation and reducing the eruptions. When I had used three bottles the eruptions disappeared altogether, without leaving a mark on my face, and I have never been troubled with anything of the kind since."

AMONG THE CANNIBALS.

PRESTON HARRISON'S NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

His Comrades Killed and Their Bodies Cooked and Eaten by Solomon Islanders.

Many readers of the BULLETIN will remember William Preston Harrison, who paid Honolulu a visit about a year ago, and whose father was the murdered Mayor of Chicago and proprietor of the Times newspaper. Mr. Harrison has been detailing some of his experiences to the Call, in which he gives the particulars of some of his narrow escapes among the Solomon Islands. He pushed into some of the wilder parts and fell in with the head-hunters, and his partner and a sailor, who had gone down with him from Sydney, were killed and eaten.

Many other people, among them over a dozen white men, shared a similar fate just before and after Mr. Harrison's arrival. He says that the natives are practicing cannibalism all the time, and that no native is considered fairly in the swim till he has taken a head. This used to be so in the old times, as most people are aware, but most of them have an idea that the custom was now nearly obsolete. The summer campaign of the islanders, however, has in every way, he says, been a remarkable busy one.

He saw in some places as many as seventy-five heads in a bunch. They were stacked up over the canoe houses as the trophies of prowess. The bodies were eaten, in conformity with the long-standing custom.

Mr. Harrison has been absent from the United States about a year, and was in the Solomon Islands, from which he has just arrived, for three months.

"I went down there from Sydney on the little coasting schooner Chittoor," said Mr. Harrison at the Palace last night, "and cruised about, visiting many different parts of the islands. Among the passengers was Charles Atkinson, a bright young Englishman, who became my friend and companion in visiting different parts.

"There was also on board a sailor named Flood, formerly of Philadelphia, with whom we became acquainted. He was a very good fellow, and after we had landed at the native village of Robiana we all three became very good friends.

"One day it was proposed that we all go aboard the little schooner Narova, that had touched there, for a cruise up the island. It was agreed to and we were all ready to go aboard. My baggage was already on the vessel, when at the last minute I decided not to go.

"I did not like the looks of things. I had been advised by a white man at Robiana not to risk it, as the natives were especially dangerous where the little craft proposed to go. It was too late for me to get my baggage off, so I let it go. It was a lucky thing I did.

"That night, ten miles from Robiana, while the little schooner was tied up, the natives came aboard and killed everybody, and Atkinson, Flood and the rest were killed while they were sleeping on the deck. Then the natives stole all the goods, rifled the baggage and finally dragged the bodies to the bush and ate them.

"Just before that two white men who had been wrecked near the same place were also killed and eaten.

"Besides these, twelve Solomon Island boys, who had been working in one of the colonies, and who were on their way home, were landed at the wrong village and were killed and eaten by a war-rigging tribe.

"Early in September an attack was made on another schooner, some of those aboard being killed. I was in twenty or more different places, and everywhere I went I saw evidences of cannibalism.

"A native may take you into his house at night and treat you the best kind. He will never molest you there on the score of hospitality, and you can remain there and be perfectly safe. Nevertheless, the next day, after you start away, he is just as liable as not to overtake you and knock you on the head with his club. The social ethics are then off, if it may be considered that being boiled in the head-taker's pot is not a social affair.

"They are very bad people and I find them very necessary to watch. I, however, learned to eat the native food, and in general enjoyed it very well. I had previously been initiated in some of the island modes of living by staying for a while in Samoa, Fiji, New Caledonia and other wilder islands.

"The Solomon Islanders I found by far the worst of all. They are nothing like so handsome, being hard-featured and showing in every way that they are warlike. There are but twenty-five white men in all the Solomon Islands, while the native population is supposed to be about 100,000. As to that, however, no one can actually tell.

"There are whole tribes in the interior that no white man has ever seen. This is learned through natives at the coast.

"I discarded all clothes, except a native garment about my loins, and let my beard grow long till I got back to Sydney. While going naked the sun burned my back till it became exceedingly sore and the skin peeled off in patches. Finally it healed up and got as hard and as impervious to the sun's rays as that of any native."

"I saw in some places as many as seventy-five skulls in a place, all relics of the head-hunters. There were many places where such lots of skulls could be seen. The more heads a brave had taken the higher he was esteemed. They hold the heads in the same estimation as an Indian does his scalps. They add renown to him according to the number he has. As long as this state of feeling prevails it can be seen that it will not stop.

"Anyway if any civilized power set out to stop it, I don't see how it could be done. No one can track them to their camp in the bush. It would be too dangerous even if pursuers knew how to do it.

"The weapons of the savages are very formidable. They use long war clubs, which are fitted into rounded pieces of granite, and murderous blades that will fetch off a head at a single blow. Worse than those by far are the poisoned arrows, which are so deadly as to cause instant destruction. I collected many barbored relics. I have knives and swords with human bones for handles. They were easily got for they were very plentiful. I also got many other articles, including articles of wearing apparel, but these are very simple contrivances, for in general the Solomon Islanders, male and female, go stark naked.

"I also spent considerable time during my absence in the interior of Samoa. I slept night after night with Malietoa, Tamasese and other chieftains. They told me a great deal about their trouble. My opinion is there will be another war there, and it may come soon. The correspondents at Apia don't give the facts. They don't know them. They do not go into the interior, and a man in Alaska might just as well be quoted on what was going on in the United States.

LATEST FOREIGN NEWS.

NOTES HERE AND THERE ON THE WAR SCARE.

Interesting Budget of General News—Fighting to Be Forced in Cuba by Campos.

The following selection of foreign intelligence is from the City of Peking's advices, up to and including December 21.

UNITED STATES.

The New York Sun names the Venezuelan boundary commission as follows: ex-United States Senator George F. Edmunds of Vermont, Andrew D. White, ex-president of Cornell University and ex-Minister to Germany, and Edward J. Phelps, ex-Minister to the court of St. James.

President Scott of the Union Iron Works denies that he has received orders to hurry work on the battleship Oregon.

Major General Miles says the country is in a deplorable condition for defense with its obsolete and decayed coast armaments.

It is alleged there is a secret agreement with Russia filed in the State Department, whereby that country will help the United States in a war with Great Britain.

McKinley is said to have captured the majority of the Louisiana delegation to the nominating convention.

A fire damp explosion in a Tennessee coal mine killed thirty men.

The late Senator Thurman's will showed he was worth from $160,000 to 170,000.

Another trial of the battleship Texas had to be abandoned, after steaming for three hours, owing to structural defects in the vessel.

Harry E. Hayward, the California murderer, made a full confession at Minneapolis, before his execution that took place lately. He committed murders in different parts of the Union.

Senator Hale has introduced a bill for the increase of the navy. The bill provides for the construction of twenty-five torpedo boats at a cost of $175,000 each and of six sea-going coast line battleships designed to carry the heaviest armor and most powerful ordnance upon a displacement of 11,000 tons, at a cost, exclusive of armament, of $4,000,000 each.

EUROPE.

The North German Lloyd steamer Spres is ashore on the Isle of Wight.

The tone of leading Russian papers is against England in the Venezuelan dispute. One paper anticipates that the hour of retribution may be near for the past upon which Englishmen pride themselves, forgetting that success gained by force and guile is never enduring. Another suggests the best way out of the difficulty for England is a vote of censure on Lord Salisbury and a new Cabinet.

OTHER LANDS.

A. C. Butler of South Africa has arrived at the City of Mexico with a letter of credit to the amount of $15,000,000 from Barney Barnato, Cecil Rhodes and the Rothschilds. He invests several millions in the drainage tunnel and water works, also takes an option on the street railway system for $7,000,000.

The Venezuela rebels were going to stop fighting and help the government against England, as a result of President Cleveland's message.

Canadian officials claim that in the event of war Canada could put 30,000 men fully equipped into the field in twenty four hours and hold any invading force in check for a couple of months at least.

H. B. M. S. Royal Arthur made a cruise searching for the missing steamer Strathnevis, and might make another one after Christmas.

The Cuban War.

Advices from Havana state that Campos will make desperate efforts immediately to break the power of the insurgents. He has determined to force the fighting because of urgent orders from Madrid. The Cabinet has informed Campos that unless decisive victories are won over the insurgents immediately it will be impossible for Spain to procure money to maintain her army on the island. The Minister of Finance has said that the Spanish treasury is empty, and the insurgents have made such a showing that it is impossible to float a new loan in a European capital.

EX-MINISTER CASTLE.

He Thinks Cleveland Will Assent to Annexation.

WASHINGTON, December 20.—Before starting on his return trip to Hawaii Thursday ex-Minister Castle expressed himself very freely as to the future prospects of his country. "Inasmuch as I was born in Hawaii," said Mr. Castle, "I am a full-fledged Kanaka, and naturally interested in everything pertaining to my country's welfare. On my return to Honolulu it will be a source of pride as well as pleasure to tell the representatives of my Government that the prospects were never better for amicable relations between Hawaii and the United States. Although I have not had a direct assurance from the White House, my information is such as to lead me to believe that any measures taken by Congress regarding Hawaii will be promptly sanctioned by President Cleveland. Should a bill pass the two houses of the National Legislature favoring annexation or any other course of procedure toward Hawaii, there need be no fear entertained of a veto at the Executive Mansion.

"Our people are very much encouraged by the many vigorous tone of the message of President Cleveland on the Venezuela matter, because it gives them an assurance against further British encroachments or aggressions in the Pacific ocean. This intelligence will be gratefully received and appreciated by those interested in the preservation and protection of the Republic of Hawaii, and it will be a source of pleasure for me to be the bearer of such good tidings to my people."

FIRE ON THE OLYMPIA.

Coal in the Bunkers Ignited by Spontaneous Combustion.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 11.—An official report on the fire on board the United States cruiser Olympia during the recent voyage from San Francisco to Yokohama, received at the Navy Department, shows that after leaving Honolulu fire broke out no less than four different times in the coal bunkers of the vessel.

Fortunately the automatic temperature indicators in the bunkers worked perfectly, and each fire was quickly suppressed by taking out as much coal as possible and then sending streams of steam upon the rest.

It is stated in the report that fires were caused by spontaneous combustion, induced by the quality of coal with which the Olympia was stored. There was no danger at any time, and no damage resulted. The report is made by Captain Reed, commander of the Olympia.

OPIUM SMUGGLERS CONVICTED.

Judge Perry Renders His Decision This Morning.

In the District Court this morning Judge Perry rendered a decision in the case of the Henrietta crew, charged with smuggling opium into the country. All the defendants are found guilty as charged. Captain Anderson and Gale, the passenger, were sentenced to eighteen months imprisonment at hard labor and a fine of $500 and costs. The crew consisting of M. Connell, E. W. Wheeler, J. H. Brown and H. Wai were sentenced to three months each and the same fine. The case has been appealed to the Supreme Court on points of law.

ALOHA CIRCUS.

Close of Honolulu Engagement and Departure for Hilo.

Wirth's circus leaves by Kinau today for the other Islands and will not return for two weeks. Saturday's matinee and evening performance closed their engagement in Honolulu and they leave on their inter-island tour with the best wishes of the whole community. Their show is the best of the kind ever seen here, and it will probably be a long time before we are fortunate enough to witness another as good. The members of the troupe have each and every one made many friends here, and their departure is much regretted.

Miss Lyndhurst, Miss Verano and the little girls have been applauded to the echo in every act they have given during the 25 separate performances given, while the male members have appeared astonished and delighted at the audiences by their marvelous feats of daring, strength and agility, as well as by the versatility they have all displayed.

If they should, some time in the future, return to show here again, they would without doubt secure as decided a success and receive again the liberal patronage well deserved. At the Saturday matinee, little Muriel received an ovation which illustrated the feeling of the public very well indeed. Mme. Musin presented her white handsome floral emblem and congratulatory card. The members of the company gave her an elegant silver cup, while there were bouquets and flower pieces galore from the spectators in general. There was a fine attendance, while in the evening the canvas was packed.

Prof. Berger assisted the band with his violin. Both of Saturday's programs contained many new features, all extremely well executed. Miss Lyndhurst and especially well, the spirit and dash of her riding act bringing forth hearty cheers from the 1500 people present.

Y. M. C. A. Celebrity Dead.

H. Thane Miller of Cincinnati, Ohio, is dead. For more than a quarter of a century he had been prominent at international Y. M. C. A. conventions, having been selected as president thereof on more than one occasion. He was an orator with a strong humorous vein, and a singer of remarkable power. Through all the period Mr. Miller was blind. He was president of the Mount Auburn Institute, a woman's college in Cincinnati.

Death of G. A. Sala.

George Augustus Sala, the well-known English journalist and author, died at Brighton, England, on the 8th of December. He was in the 68th year of his age. Mr. Sala was entertained by the newspaper fraternity of Honolulu about 11 years ago, while the steamer he was journeying to Australia in was in port. Almost 500 of Kona, Hawaii, is a brother of the deceased.

THE CABLE TO HONOLULU.

PROSPECTS OF ITS CONSTRUCTION TO JAPAN.

The New York Cable Company increases the Capital From Three to Ten Million Dollars.

NEW YORK, December 19.—A meeting of the incorporators of the Pacific Cable Company, recently organized under the laws of New York, was held at the office of the Central and South American Telegraph Company today. The following board of directors was elected: J. Pierpont Morgan, Edmund L. Baylies, George S. Bowdin, J. Kennedy Todd and J. A. Scrymser. Mr. Scrymser was elected president and acting treasurer. Messrs. Carter and Ledyard were appointed attorneys.

An executive committee was appointed and authorized to arrange to increase the capital stock to $10,000,000. Mr. Baylies, as chairman of the committee on plan and scope, reported the estimates for the cable laid and the guarantee that had been received. A copy of the bill introduced in the United States Senate on December 16th by Senator Carter of Montana was submitted and referred to the counsel of the company for examination and report. It is estimated that it will require 7249 miles of cable, including slack, to establish a telegraphic communication between the United States and Japan via Sandwich Islands and the other Pacific islands. Letters and telegrams from connecting telegraph companies favoring the enterprise were submitted.

Commenting on the above the following day says: This company is the same one that has been recently incorporated in New York, and which Z. S. Spalding of this City so earnestly advocated before the Chamber of Commerce of this City, and to which he has offered $25,000 of his own money for the faithful fulfillment of the contract should Congress vote $300,000 per year for the period of twenty years as a subsidy to the company.

"This amount," said Hugh Craig yesterday, "would, with the $40,000 per year as pledged from the Hawaiian Government, be sufficient to pay the interest on the capital that would be expended in the laying of the cable to the islands."

"From the port of Honolulu the cable would most assuredly be laid to Japan and China, but for this the United States Government would probably not be asked for any assistance."

"With Pearl Harbor as a United States naval station and the other interests that the people of this country have in Hawaii, that there should be a cable none will deny."

"The incorporators of the Pacific Cable Company have made liberal overtures to the United States Government for the needed assistance from the American people which this scheme demands, but so far the Democratic administration has failed to act. But perhaps this little breeze between England and our Government may be the means of opening the Democratic heart to a true realization of the necessity of connecting us by cable with the other side of the world, in regard to which we are so near and yet so far."

These sentiments of Mr. Craig have been fully shared in by the entire Chamber of Commerce, which has passed resolutions urging upon the representatives from this State to Congress the desirability of advocating the laying of the Hawaiian cable.

Sugar Industry in Peru.
General Leon Jastremski, United States Consul at Callao, Peru, sends to the State Department a translation of parts of a pamphlet published at Lima by A. Garland, in which he gives a history of the sugar industry of Peru from 1550 to 1895. General Jastremski says the sugar industry is considered the most important in Peru, and if fully developed would vastly increase the wealth of the country.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

The U. S. S. Cincinnati's Magazine Nearly Burned Up.

A special dispatch to the Times-Union at Jacksonville, Florida, from Key West, under date of December 11th, says: Yesterday about 2:30 p. m. smoke was discovered issuing from the coal bunkers next to the magazine on board the United States steamship Cincinnati. The bunkers had not been opened in three months and the fire was from spontaneous combustion.

When discovered the fire had so far progressed as to have the walls between the bunkers and the magazine red hot. The wooden casings in which the fixed ammunition was inclosed had been burned away.

As soon as the alarm was given every man was at his post, the magazine flooded and the danger was soon over. A few moments more and the magazine would have exploded, killing every man on board and wrecking the ship.

The coolness of Captain Johnson and his officers and the discipline of his crew averted what might have been one of the most serious calamities that has ever happened on board of an American man-of-war.

In consequence of the heavy norther from yesterday noon until this morning no communication was had with the shore to report the accident.

High priced articles have been sold here for years and people have complained, because of the high rate of living in Honolulu. We have tried to alter this, we have bought goods direct from the manufacturers and sell them for a half or a quarter off what you have paid before. The public likes the idea and so do we. The profits to us are satisfactory, probably as the other fellow makes, the difference is on the buying—our buying and you get the benefit of it.

You never saw a decent onyx top table in Honolulu that you could buy for under fifteen dollars. We sell them at six fifty and enable a class of people who could not afford to own them before, to put them among their pretty things in the parlor.

It's the same with crockery. Just look at our forty piece decorated tea sets (we can't tell you the price because you would think we were fooling). You can have a little high tea with one of these sets and be as well as your neighbor. There's nothing cheap about them, except the price; the quality is alright and no one will find fault with them. Its having these good quality goods at low prices that presents our objecting to the government turning tradesmen and selling off their stock of glass-ware and crockery.

We would enjoy your remarks on looking at our stock of lamps. The wrought iron patterns are the prettiest we have ever seen. You know what a rough iron lamp is—never gets old looking and will never be out of style. We furnish the shades, paper ones, that set them off to perfection. The price? Well, too small to mention.

But thanks to Paine's Celery Compound I can now eat and sleep and work just as well as I could before I was taken sick. When I commenced taking the Compound I weighed 136 pounds; I now weigh 246 pounds and do all the work for my family of five. I have recommended the Compound to three families already and they are very much pleased with it. I am now taking my fifth bottle, and would RECOMMEND IT TO ALL WHO ARE SUFFERING WITH STOMACH TROUBLE OR NERVOUS TROUBLE. Yours respectfully, MRS. AUG. DARROW.

PERRINE'S COMET.

It Can Now be Seen by the Naked Eye.

Perrine's comet has grown much brighter, and is now plainly visible to the naked eye. It is a hazy object of about the fourth magnitude. On December 16th the comet crossed the sun about 7 degrees to the south. Its nearest approach to the sun occurred on December 18th at a distance of about 18,000,000 miles.

On December 17th the comet attained its maximum brightness, as seen from the earth, being at that time over eighty times as bright as at the discovery. About December 27th it will be farthest east from the sun, at a distance of some 13 degrees, when it will again approach the sun, passing it about 8 degrees to the north on January 11th, when it again becomes a morning object.

Perrine's comet is now situated in the eastern part of the constellation Libra, in right ascension 15 hours 21 minutes, and south declination 18 hours 32 minutes.

A recent photograph shows the tail to be composed of one long streamer and several short ones. The principal streamer is much curved and bent, and shows some evidence of condensation, similar to phenomena which have been photographed in several of the brightest comets of recent years.

Florida Cannibals.

Florida people have long been accused of living on winter tourists. This voracious appetite may be the result of hereditary tendencies for which they are not to blame, if Prof. Moore is right in his theories that the original inhabitants of the land of flowers were cannibals. Prof. Moore is a very learned anthropologist and he has spent twenty-one winters at the hotels and digging in the shell mounds of Florida, and he ought to know what he is talking about. He thinks that the shell mounds were formed by the Indians throwing in one place the shell of fish that were eaten, and were really only refuse piles. In some of these he found the bones of deer, turkey, etc., which had been eaten, and also the bones of human beings, where the oldest inhabitant had dined upon their fellow-creatures. It is a sad thought that this charge should be brought against the character of Lo, when he is no longer here to prove an alibi. If he had stuck to his simple diet of oysters on the half-shell while building his shell mounds, Prof. Moore would never have found him out. Thus are we published when we stray away from the path of plain living and high thinking.—New Orleans Picayune.

After Pneumonia—Weighed 80 lbs

Hood's Sarsaparilla Made Him Feel as Young as a Boy.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. "Gentlemen—I wish to express my grateful thanks for Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am on my seventh bottle and it has truly been a blessing to myself and wife. I had a severe attack of pneumonia last December, and it was thought I should die, but I gradually pulled through, and then did not seem to gain any strength. I had to be helped like an infant, and had fallen away from 145 to 80 lbs. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I decided to take it.

I soon gained in strength so that I could sit up, and then having a severe pain in the small of my back, sent for a Tussane Pain-Killing Plaster, which soon cured me of that trouble. Today I feel as well as ever in my life, and as young as a boy, although I am in my sixt year. I cannot express the gratitude of my heart for Hood's Sarsaparilla." NORMAN D. YOUNG, Ottawa, Ontario Co., New York.

THE LATE MR. LANE.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—In your issue of Dec. 26, you say of Mr. W. C. Lane, who has just gone to the happy hunting grounds, that he came here in the early '40's. Mr. Lane came here in the early '50's not the '40's. The old Maine hotel, as it was called in the olden time, was not a hotel but a saloon, that was built and run as a saloon, by a Mr. Brown and a man called Long Thomson, from the year '47 up to the early fifties. It was never a hospital until in the late sixties or early seventies.

OLD TIMER.

A Student's Letter.

He was a German student, and this was the latter he addressed to his uncle:

"Dear Uncle: A very strange thing happened yesterday. I went to see a friend of mine at the bank, who knows your handwriting very well, and he thought you were ill, as I had not lately presented any checks signed by you. He begs to be remembered to you, as also do I; and you might let my friend see your signature again. If you are very busy, you might send a blank check, and I will fill it in. Yo r affectionately. Karl." — London Household Words.

Yales' La Freckla is Mme. Yale's infallible cure of Freckles, Tan and Sunburn. It is the only remedy ever compounded that will remove freckles completely and surely.

The fairer and more delicate the skin, the more likely it is to freckle and the worse it will look after it is freckled.

Thousands of women, otherwise beautiful, are disfigured by these unsightly, brown blotches. Nothing will hide them. They are a source of misery, but they can be cured. La Freckla is the death-warrant to freckles. The preparation of La Freckla is one of Mme. Yale's greatest achievements. There are many imitations, some of them very dangerous and hurtful to the skin; none of them really effective. For safety and certainty, insist always on getting the genuine and original La Freckla.

FITS CURED

Prof. W. H. Pecke, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any living Physician's success is astonishing. We have heard of cases of Epilepsy lasting years by him. He publishes valuable work on this disease which he sends with a large bottle of his absolute cure, free to any sufferer who may send their P. O. and Express address. We advise every one suffering a cure to address Prof. W. H. Pecke, P. O., 4 Cedar St., New York.
