PROGRESS.

The Life of the Land is Established in Righteousness.

HONOLULU, NOV. 3, 1893.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Minister of Finance has shaken the Collector General up and succeeded in getting the report from the Custom House for the quarter ending September the 30th, 1893. The report is the most defective that ever has been sent out by the Custom-Bureau. While it is of interest see what our exports have been during the quarter it is of exactly as much interest for the country, to see what the imports have been, but the quarterly report as published by authority discreetly ignores that part of the business.

The reason is probably that a comparative table of the imports in 1892, with those in 1893, would show a startling decrease—except perhaps in arms and ammunition. But it is from the imports that the country derives a very important portion of its revenues, and we should consider it of vast interest to learn how much trade has deteriorated since our wise rulers revolutionized the country. If the officials in the Custom House, some day, say within a month or two should get time to make a report of the imports during the quarter ending September 30th, we trust that His Excellency the Minister of Finance will publish it and assist us to some statistics—and the Advertiser to some more pap.

The minister seems very jubilant, because there is a marked increase in the exports of sugar and bananas this year as against last year during the same period. This is of course due to the P. G. Everything good is due to that remarkable government—according to His Excellency. Of course we might call the minister's attention to the fact that the cane from which the increased sugar has been produced was planted somewhat before the official existence of the minister and his colleagues in fact while the alleged corrupt monarchy held sway—and we are constrained to say that the increase in the exports is an increase of "monarchical" sugar.

We are sorry to notice a marked decrease in the export of pine-apples, because we believe that it is caused by a decrease in the demand rather than in a decrease in production. A number of people have made considerable investments in the pine-apple business and if a decrease in the demand should continue the market will undoubtedly be overstocked and heavy losses result—unless our paternal government swallows its scruples and passes an act allowing the manufacture of alcohol.

The Minister of Finance at the Council meeting suggested that it was his plan that the Postal Saving's Bank, should be placed on an independent basis and conducted as an institution perfectly separated from the treasury. We fully agree with the theory of the minister, but it would be of interest to learn how he proposes to do it. The Bank owes its depositors over $500,000, and has no money set aside with which to pay this amount, nor even a reserve fund. According to the published statements, the Bank is living from hand to mouth, and we should here suggest that it would be of great help for the people to fully be enabled to understand the working of the Bank if the minister would state the amount of deposits every week and the amount of actual withdrawals. The present method of stating an amount as representing "cash on hand" and an another amount as "notices of withdrawals for the next three months" is highly unsatisfactory. If it is published every week what the cash has been, paid into and drawn out of the bank the taxpayers will be in a position to judge for themselves of the solidity and soundness of this great financial institution.

Of the promised reduction in the military expenditures we see nothing nor have we noticed that the forces have been decreased. The minister made a very elaborate statement some weeks ago of what he was going to do in regard to retrenchment, but he either was not sincere or—as rumor has it—the President upon his return put his foot on the proposed reductions and would not sanction the dismissal of a single soldier. The government should be above indulging in such humbug and such attempt to deceive the country. The Police Department is evidently being conducted on the most extravagant scale. We notice that Mr. W. O. Smith who in the last Legislature enlarged on the necessity of a police force at Waikiki has placed quite a force of men all along the road to the Park. Whether he believes that the town lately has been infested with thugs and thieves, and that a strong police force is necessary, we do not know, but we are inclined to believe that he smells conspiracy and treason in the marshes on the Waikiki road. When some day the present cabinet will be called to account by a Legislature, we hope to find Mr. Marsden on a committee of investigation, and ways and means. We will guarantee some loud talking and severe "chopping" before he gets through with the learned Attorney-General and his police-department.

Mr. Hastings who is clerk to the Hawaiian Legation in Washington had his salary raised to $350.00 a month. He has, according to the statement in the Council, rendered the government some valuable services. Of course the country cannot know what these services are, because the Councils go into secret session to read "newspaper clippings," and Mr. Hastings' letters. We also have some "newspaper clippings" and letters bearing on Mr. Hastings' "valuable" services, and we believe that the results of the whole business will show the country and more especially the P. G. that Mr. Hastings, alleged services were not so "valuable" after all, and that the $350.00 a month were rather wasted.

Our esteemed contemporary the Star seems unwilling or unable to understand the so-called Japanese question in Hawaii. We have always refused to believe in the assertion that Mr. Blount officially or privately advised the provisional government to simply make a refusal to the request of the Japanese government. The assertion has never been confirmed in the American press, nor has the Japanese government any cognizance of such a remarkable step by the American Minister. Nor has the provisional government ever made a refusal to the request. Nor is the request dropped or withdrawn, but it is simply postponed at the request of the temporary Hawaiian government, which submitted to the Japanese government, that the matter was not properly to be decided on by a "provisional government?" It is upon a numerous signed petition from the Japanese residents in Hawaii that their government took action. But all that the Japanese government has ever claimed is, that the Hawaiian government must fulfill its treaty obligations. Can any rational being believe that the United States' government or any other civilized government should coolly tell Hawaii "never mind your treaty obligations, you have got what you want out of Japan, 'burst' the contract with that empire and we will help you." The Star has constantly represented the Japanese demand as a new issue in which Japan brought forward some unreasonable and unjust demands. The issue is several years old and is, as we have constantly pointed out, a simple demand on Hawaii that she carry out the obligations into which she entered when she signed the treaty with Japan. The Star itself would hardly advocate that any private individual should be allowed to sign a contract and then be enabled to break the conditions with impunity. If the agreement which we understand exists between the Star editor, and the Star company was broken or infringed on by the latter we feel assured that the editor would make it uncomfortably hot for the company, and call into his assistance all the machinery of the law. And why should a government or a country be less liable to fulfill its obligations voluntarily incurred, than a private individual? In the treaty between Japan and Hawaii the latter guarantees to the citizens of the former, residing in Hawaii, all the rights and privileges granted to the citizens of the most favored nations residing in Hawaii. How Hawaii under that clause is to get out of the franchise business and still claim an honored name among the nations of the earth we fail to see.

Some days ago a Chinaman who was assaulted near the Pali died. A coroners jury was called, and in their verdict the jury partly blamed a man named Von Bergh of being implicated in the matter, and perhaps the immediate cause of the man's death. We have waited patiently to see if the Marshal was going to take any action in the affair, but to our great surprise nothing seems to be done. We admit the dead man was only a Chinaman, and we understand that the alleged assailant is a pet of the government, but we can hardly believe that these facts would deter the Marshal from doing his duty. Wouldn't it be well for one of our official organs to arise and explain.

THAT PLEBISCITE.

So, the P. G. men are at last willing to have a plebiscite, if they can have it and manipulate it to their own satisfaction! Auwee! Although the proverb says: "better late than never," yet, in this case it is better never than late. Many men who ought to know, are confident that the American Government will not require any thing like a plebiscite to restore the legitimate Sovereign and Her legitimate government. A great wrong to the country and to the legitimate citizens has been committed by Minister Stevens, without a plebiscite; the revolution fomented and abetted by him was equivalent to an overt act of piracy. America will right that great wrong without having to consult the people here. So there is no reason to worry on that point. But it is really laughable to see the somersaults of the P. G. men! If they had had any common sense about them, they would have taken a plebiscite, to cover and color their infamous act, right after the revolution, when they could have manipulated the votes to their own pleasure, and perhaps could have obtained an appearance of popular backing. But even in the flush of their success, they were too much scared to trust any thing even to a fraction of the inhabitants, and they contented themselves to arrogantly defy the nation, and declare that no election of any kind, would be allowed for the next four years, at the very least, during which the People, rich and poor, Noble or Representative voters alike, were supposed to submit quietly to the iniquity of being arbitrarily deprived of all their political rights. But now, when the P. G. ship is sinking and stinking, then the Noble Voters (because of their being gratuitously supposed to be the most disloyal part of the Nation) are suddenly found good enough to be consulted as a forlorn hope; evidently the time is not far away when even the riffraff of the representative voters will also be found good enough!

Go to! you Pharisees! The plebiscite would be in order only if there was yet any possible doubt of Stevens' guilt and yours too; then it might be proper to consult all the legitimate voters, beginning with the aborigines or true subjects, and closing with the naturalized foreigners, the ballot being put under the supervision of U. S. officers, to prevent any fraud. But as such is not the case, the Queen will be duly restored by the forces whose presence in front of the Palace helped to put Her down, and the only way for the P. G. men to save themselves would be for them to do, at once, the act of contrition, before they are forced to it by the United States Government.—Justice.

WATER OR NO WATER?

Under the Monarchy, water-rate payers used to receive some consideration from the Superintendent of Water Works, but they get blamed little now. Complaints reach us nearly every day from persons holding water privileges, of the manner in which they are treated. Without any prior notice whatever, the water is shut off from parts of the city when the whim suits the Superintendent to do so compelling people very frequently to dispense with their morning bath, and subjecting them to other inconveniences. Former Superintendents always gave notice to the public of their intention to shut off the water whenever it became necessary to do so. Now, it is an every day occurrence. It is about time that the present rotten system was changed.

NOT A BAD DOCTRINE.

The "Tiser says, that "Mr. Howland, last evening said: "There are twice as many Christians outside of the churches of Honolulu as there are in them."
"Look up to God and not to the missionaries. God is all right, but the missionaries—"
Yes, well the HOLOMUA is of the opinion, that Mr. Howland is about right.

LOCAL NEWS.

Who kicked the lantern?

The Kinau left at 2 p.m. for Maui and Hawaii.

The Australia will arrive early to-morrow with a large passenger list.

"Oh' would I were an Englishman;" Lab-de-dah. Lah-de-dah. Why don't you marry all four.

United States Minister Willis, will very probably arrive on the steamer Australia to-morrow.

A number of Japanese laborers of the lot arrived by the Miike Maru left by the Kinau for the different plantations where they are to work.

Howling Moses! Mr. Howland says he smelled brimstone here even when the steamer carrying him was coming into the harbor. Where is the Board of Health?

There is more drunkenness and disorderly conduct among the rifle carriers in the service of this present government, than ever was known in the military service, under the monarchy. Those who served at that time, had some self respect.

"Palmist and astrologer" Howland says "I am not a mind-reader nor have I read any minds in Honolulu. Thank God for that. They are too small for anyone to try and read." We wonder if the "palmist and astrologer" was present at the Council meeting yesterday and there reached his conclusions.

Wouldn't it be a good idea for all honorably discharged P. G. soldiers to hang on to their certificates of discharge? When we become a republic on the American plan, we are bound to have a pension bureau and a pension fraud, and who would be more entitled to an annuity than our resurrected braves who are constantly lying down dead—

Something was published in this morning's Advertiser, which is called "Custom House Report." Who made the report, the "Custom House" or the "Collector General?" Never did any government under the Monarchy announce or publish the Report of the Collector General, to the tax-payers, and the business community in such shape.

J. P. Bowen who knows more about a billiard table than any other man in Honolulu has a notice in another column. He offers a large assortment of all material needed for repairing and fixing up billiard-tables. This is the time to get your old tables brought in running order with new cloth and "live" cushions. Mr. Bowen is located in the Perry Block on Hotel Street.

Mr and Mrs. W. G. Irwin have issued invitations to a ball to take place at their residence on the 9th inst.

The Sons of St. George, will give an entertainment next Monday evening, (the 6th inst.) at their Hall. It promises to be a grand affair.

The Imperial Birthday

The birthday of His Imperial Japanese Majesty has been celebrated during the day by the Japanese Colony in Honolulu, and all over the country. The day is observed as a general holiday by all the Mikado's subjects in Hawaii. The Japanese Government Agent, Consul General S. Fujii, has held a reception during the day at the Legation and received many callers with his usual hospitality. The Hawaiian Government sent the Band to play at the Legation from 10 to 12 o'clock. At 12 o'clock the U. S. F. S. Philadelphia fired a salute of 21 guns in honor of the day. All diplomatic and consular flags are flying. This evening at seven o'clock there will be a meeting at the Beretania Street Armory, where the following programme will be carried out:

- At the Armory, from 7 to 10 P.M.
- 1. Object of meeting—Rev. K. Oku.
- 2. Reading Imperial Message—S. Fujii.
- 3. Congratulations—Mr. Sugiya-ma.
- 4. Speeches—Messrs. Aoki, Uchi-da, Midzano and Ono.

Then three cheers will be given for the Emperor. Light refreshments will be served at the armory.

There are many private parties and gatherings among the Japanese residents in different parts of the town and all are bent upon having a good time.

DIPHTHERIA.

We are informed that there are two cases of Diphtheria on School Street. It is well for parents now to take all possible precautions. The Board of Health has taken certain steps, and we trust will it be able to stamp out the dread disease before it spreads any further.

THE ANNEXATION CLUB NOT IN IT.

We learn that Minister Damon's candidate for the clerkship at the office of the Consul-General in San Francisco, Mr. Soper, has been appointed this morning. While we are sorry for Mr. Sam Monsarrat, who is deservedly a very popular young man with all parties, in his being disappointed, we consider it a healthy sign for the government that it is independent in its actions, and brooks no dictation by any political clique. By the way, what became of the promised "cleaning out" of royalists from the government offices at the end of October? Star, please to answer.

An Endorsement.

Mr. J. P. Bowen has overhauled and renovated my billiard table and has attached the "Block" cushions which, in my opinion, are superior to other cushions here. I recommend his work to any others requiring like service. FRANK HUSTACE.
