THE GENESIS OF HALEAKALA.

No. 3.—Reminiscences of Olinda.

A Brazilian Emperor, in admiration of a little town near Pernambuco, exclaimed "Olinda," thus giving it a name. And he can but echo the word "Olinda" (the beautiful) who, having climbed the "Hill of Difficulty," at the summit of which the "Palace Beautiful" stands, looks from its brow over the lovely mountain slope, covered with verdure and dotted with white cottages, while a dark jagged line marks the course of some ravine, winding down to the sea. To the left rise the blue peaks of the Waiuku Mountains, seeming so insignificant compared with this height, while the islands of Molokai and Lanai play at hide and seek behind them. The blue of the ocean encircles all; and above are fleecy clouds which circle the summit of our grand old Haleakala. Half way up to slope the delightful mountain home, at Olinda, was established in 1876 by Mr. S. T. Alexander, and has ever since been the Mani panacea for all ills. How many jolly parties have made this the rallying point for a climb to the summit; and what merry days and weeks we have all spent here—laughing at all inconveniences, such as forks in the ratio of one to four individuals; a knife for stirring our coffee, or a spoon for carving beef-steak and turkey; wild cattle warranted to gore one to death at first sight (but who have never been known to do so); the distant rattle of whose voice will send you up a tree in a minute—if you happen to be a girl; and a colony of "Swiss chalets" more ferocious than Mark Twain ever encountered. All these ills we forget amid the hundred and one pleasures of Olinda: the berr-ing, rambling, picnicing in the woods, ferning, mossing, hunting, shelling, in fact everything is a pleasure at Olinda, especially eating and breathing. Let us hear the testimony of those who have experienced it all and left their names and their sentiments in the Olinda record book.

"Four thousand feet above the sea we look down upon a charming view of forest, valley, mountain and sea." And here is a perfect description of our earthly Paradise. "Now I saw in my dream that the pilgrims were got over the enchanted ground and entered into the country of Olinda whose very air was sweet and pleasant. There they solaced themselves for a season and heard the singing of birds and saw every day the flowers appear in the earth, and the voice of the turtle was heard in the land." Again a rollicking line meets our eye. "Rise-a-jig, and away we go," whose writer every one can guess. Marion E. Rowell, under the date of August, 1877, gives us the following lines:

Olinda! Olinda! Akaias rare do here abound, Olinda ripe and red are found.— And I might also mention the wild strawberry but will say it is a magnificent fraud and I cannot be induced to speak of anything that will not to thy credit resort.— Olinda!

Here every face with smiles is bright, Voices are merry, hearts are light— As well as the biscuit, which on account of the absence of atmospheric pressure, rise to a most amazing height. Olinda! Paris, Maui. THOS. L. GILCHRIST.

An Incident about Gibson. Mr. Gibson is about the year 1852, or just before he sailed away from New York in the schooner "Fleet," fell deeply in love with a young lady, whose father was a well-known New York merchant. His demonstration of affection was, at times, grotesque. The lady was interested in him, owing to his agreeable personal address, and was charmed with his rather chimerical schemes for the good of mankind. She took his proposal of marriage under consideration and, while the affair was pending, she dreamed one night that two little children ran up to her, and asked her for her protection. The following day, she mentioned the dream to Mr. Gibson, without any suspicion on her part that the incident had any connection with his life, when he frankly stated that he was a widower with two children. The lady's father, who did not favor the marriage, refused to allow Mr. Gibson to call at his house, after this confession. The lover, on several occasions, however, made some ridiculous demonstrations before the house, and shortly after sailed away for South America and Sumatra. The lady, in the meantime, had come to one of the European capitals, and was residing with the American Minister Resident in that place, a relative of hers; and while there was informed that Gibson had threatened to cross the ocean in his vessel and abduct her. This he did not attempt. She is now living in Europe and was connected by blood relation with the wife of a former President of the United States, and is connected by marriage with one of the present candidates for presidential or vice presidential office.

As Others See Us. The following item, clipped from an English paper, was received by the last mail, and shows how others envy the happy political condition of Hawaiians, under the present regime:

If the accident of birth and the associations of many years had not made me irrevocably a British subject, I do not know any foreign nation to which I should feel more tempted to belong than the Kingdom of Hawaii. By a majority of nearly three to one the enlightened legislature of those realms has abolished the navy, and reduced the army to a force of 65 men and a military band. Happy Hawaii! Happy Hawaiian taxpayer! Thrice happy I may say, for not only have they got rid of army and navy, but the legislators, by some admirable constitutional hot-house, carries the bill over the Royal veto. The King of Hawaii must be the ne plus ultra of a constitutional monarch. The only people I feel sorry for are the Hawaiian journalists, who will, I fear, find things very slack with no Horse Guards, no Admiralty, no Wimbledon meeting, no naval maneuvers.

The greatest height at which visible clouds ever exist does not exceed ten miles.

OAHU ASSOCIATION.

Condition and Operations of the Native Hawaiian Churches.

The Hawaiian Evangelical Churches held their semi-annual meeting in Kaimakapili church on Wednesday. All the ten churches were represented by pastor or delegate. The opening sermon was preached by the moderator, Rev. J. Kekahuna, of Waianae.

Reports from the different churches were then presented. The Church at Ewa reported a new chapel dedicated at Waikaele, and $293 25 contributed during the last half year for paint and repairs on their building at Kalauea.

The Church at Waiakua expect to take up their final collection next Sunday, and then proceed to the building of a new church, for which they have, or will have, about $2,000.

The Church at Waianae reported their pastor's salary, $300, easily raised this year with the aid of a generous contribution from officers and employees of the Waianae plantation; $210 had been spent on repairs to the church. A new chapel had been built at Makua for $680, of which $230 had been given by the konohiki.

The Church at Kahuku, has been united with that at Hauula, losing its separate name and identity. Kaimakapili church was authorized to send their pastor among the other churches to raise money to pay off their debt of $6,000 on their new church building. Hon. S. M. Damon had generously paid the bills for fencing, grading, and sodding the enclosure around the church.

A former pastor of the Kaneohe church, who had been deposed from the ministry, applied for restoration to his clerical privileges. Various papers were read by different pastors on subjects assigned. A vigorous discussion arose on the nature and fruits of true repentance.

The Association voted to adopt the new rule, and to begin with the new year the choice of deacons in successive classes for a term of years, as the trustees are now chosen. There was an animated discussion on the character of the teaching in the Government schools. It was voted to petition the Board of Education to exercise greater care in regard to the moral character of the teachers, and to allow the use of the Bible at the discretion of the teacher as one of the books to be read in the school.

Second Day's Proceedings—Earnest Discussions and Active Resolves.

The Oahu Association of Hawaiian Evangelical Churches continued its session at Kaimakapili Church on Thursday. From reports of committees it appears that children in some of the outer districts are growing up, who do not even know how to read. In Waialua there are twenty children, but no school; in Kahuku, forty children, but no teacher. Parents were cautioned against sending their children to Catholic schools where they are taught with impudent effrontery to despise and renounce the religion of their parents.

Rev. S. Waiakua was dismissed from the Waianae church, and the usual commendatory papers voted to the retiring pastor. Rev. H. H. Parker was appointed committee in charge of the vacant churches of Kaneohe and Waianae.

An outbreak of drunkenness was reported in some districts, attributed to being brewed, the drink manufactured being so strong that one glass of it is sufficient to put a person in a drunken stupor. The people of Kaneohe have suffered also from the gambling tricks of the Chinese store-keepers, losing all their property in some instances by buying shares in raffles. In some districts the Chinese, as well as the Portuguese, were reported as busily selling, on the sly, Malaga wine. It is one-fifth alcohol; but pays only a small duty of fifteen cents per gallon. Being a cheap as well as strong drink, it is having a large sale. Great regret was expressed that the Reform Legislature should have passed a law licensing the sale of beer, as if the drink was an ally of reform, and not its strongest opponent. One of the whole-sale liquor houses keeps an agent traveling from one place to another inducing the Chinese store-keepers to engage in this illicit traffic.

In considering plans for further activity, it was represented that the Mormons, Catholics, and Anglicans, are busily engaged in visiting from district to district, but the Evangelical churches have no one employed in such work. Resolutions of respect for Rev. A. O. Forbes, late Corresponding Secretary of the Hawaiian Board, were adopted. General approval was expressed of the action taken in inviting Rev. Oliver P. Emerson, of Riverdale, N. Y., to take the vacant Secretaryship. It was proposed to appoint some minister to devote a portion of his time to the work of visiting and rousing the drowsy churches.

Kaimakapili church has received from one of its members, J. Kanoehana, the gift of a lot of land on which to build a parsonage. Kaneohe church has recently refitted and refurbished its parsonage. Kalaheo church ought to have a parsonage for its needy pastor.

In the afternoon the Sunday schools and their management constituted the topic of discussion. The tendency to frivolous performances in the Sunday school concert exercises was deprecated, and it was declared to be evidently checked. It was voted to approve the project of raising a Lyons Memorial Fund of $2,000, the income to be applied to the support of boys in boarding schools.

Rev. Dr. Beckwith presented the greetings of the Central Union Church and in a brief but forcible address urged more general and faithful study of the Bible. It was recommended to form, if possible, a Bible Reading Union similar to the Prayer Union formed last year, and it was voted to ask the Hawaiian Board to print and distribute cards with dates and arrangement of chapters to be read in concert. The Young People's Association were exhorted to organize themselves for Christmas work after the general plan now followed by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor in the United States. Rev. E. S. Timoteo was appointed Traveling Preacher for the Island of Oahu, at a salary of $408. The call of the Hauula church to S. Kapa to become their pastor was approved, and a committee was appointed to obtain and install the pastor-elect. A special session was held at 7 p. m. to examine candidates for the North Pacific Mission Institute. The Association adjourned to meet again in Kaimakapili church on the first Wednesday in April.

IMPORTANT TO STAMP COLLECTORS!

I HAVE TO THANK THE PHILATELISTS of Hawaii for the liberal appreciation which my late advertisement has received. It is safe to say that hundreds of thousands of Hawaiian Stamps have been sent away without receiving more than half their value in return, and what is far worse, every collector gets a quantity of useless duplicates. By the plan which I have so successfully worked up, everyone gets only such stamps as he needs; and besides, he gets full value for each and every kind of Hawaiian Stamp. The prices which I allow are better than those of ANY EUROPEAN DEALER and are higher than most American Stamp Dealers pay.

CORRESPONDENCE.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the statements made, or opinions expressed by our correspondents.

Answer to "One of the Fellows."

Mr. Editor: The letter from "One of the Fellows," published in your issue of July 24th, could scarcely fail to draw some attention. He introduces a subject so broad and so deep, that to fully answer it would be a task to even an able writer. Many such writers and workers are daily trying to solve the problem by so convincing young men of what should be their mode of life, for their own temporal and future happiness, that they shall live up to their convictions.

Such work is at best an uphill work, and for every one who is practically convinced and turns back to give thanks for the efforts made in his behalf, it is probably safe to say there are nine who resent what they regard as an interference, prefer to go on their own way, avoiding the staid society of the "narrow and bigoted pietists" with their churches, etc., and do their waiting afterward.

"Why is it?" quotes "One of the Fellows," "there seems to be so many young men cutcasts socially here, and fellows, too, that would shine in society anywhere?" Well, why is it?

Setting aside the fact that the continuously increasing number of strangers arriving at these shores makes it impossible for those who have homes of their own to meet all strangers who come, owing to the excessive demands such a custom would make on the privacies of home life, has not experience also taught residents to be more cautious in offering their hospitalities?

It is not also true that a man determines his position in society or out of it, by his own conduct and habit of life, and therefore by his own choice, and that, as a rule, young men here do determine their own level? Whatever may be said of the lack of society in the country district, to choose from, those who cast their lot there for the time being, would certainly show better sense, and better establish their right to a place in society, if they would but help to build up the better part of such as they find, instead of joining themselves with the immoral and dissolute.

After questioning whether it is "a safe policy to pursue" the "narrow policy" of the good old missionary fathers, who teach incidentally, by the way, that birds of a feather flock together, and a man is known by the company he keeps, "in the face of the present advanced civilization" (a gentle intimation that it would be better to loosen the strings and lower the standard of morality), "One of the Fellows" asks of "the spirit of the teaching and life of the divine man of Galilee," "does not that teaching show the same divinity mixing with just that same class, living among them and saving them?" that is, publicans and sinners. Yps, living among them and saving them. In those last words lies the whole pith of the matter. He lived among them to save them, not to condone their offenses, nor lower his standard of morals to please them. He did not make himself one of them in that sense. He was, according to some of the queer ideas held by a certain class to the present age, "too narrow and bigoted" for that. He endeavored to lead them into the "straight and narrow way" that leads to eternal life; not into the broad and easy way that leads to destruction. And if any one desired his society, he had to do it by raising himself up to the higher standard; not by importing the divine master to adopt a lower standard than would permit of his reaping the benefits and privileges of mingling with the superior society, while continuing to indulge in practices utterly incompatible with his existence.

"Here in Hawaii," says O. of the F., "a young man falls—at once he is ostracized." A statement which, if true, would be a credit to the general state of society here, as showing its high moral standard, and would certainly be so much of an aid to every young man who desired to preserve himself in moral uprightness of character. Verily, a condition of society for which such a man would be thankful. But, to begin with, is this statement true? Is there not many a man in Hawaii who has fallen, not only once but many times, and still continues to move in the society of friends who are loth to give him up, or did move therein until self respect and a just regard for their own reputation compelled them to drop him?

Is there not many a man in these Isles who has deliberately turned from the teachings of his boyhood, and the invitations and pleadings of true friends to seek out his own pleasures in ruinous indulgencies, only too delighted to find the opportunities for so doing? "Fellows, too, who would shine in society anywhere." Yes, the more shame to them, that, with all their boasted superiority—of race, of opportunities, of culture, may, more, of Christian teaching—they choose to leave all those behind, when they land on these shores, and literally throw themselves away. Making themselves obstructions to the advancement of civilization, and stumbling blocks to the weak race that has not yet attained to the full stature of moral strength and understanding, and giving the lie to the civilization which they claim to be theirs.

Does "O. of the F." ask that the barriers be removed, and that men and women who have endeavored to live up to a higher ideal of manhood and womanhood, and to raise up others to the same level, should now look upon their past habits as belonging to an age of "narrow and bigoted" ideas, and that "in the present advanced civilization," they should open their arms, and give their daughters as freely, socially, to men of loose moral habits as to those who have endeavored to live as becometh men? Would he thus discount temperance and piety and virtue, and place a premium on dissolute living?

strangers who come here throwing themselves away, and lending themselves in every way to the obstruction and distraction of laborious work that has been done by others, for the elevation of the human race.

It is a painful and pitiful sight to see so many a boy, as he approaches maturity, insert a diminutive smokestack between his lips, go to a bottle for his drink, and in other ways showing what a wretched and mean conception he has, of what goes to constitute manhood. But they keep on doing so, in spite of all the teachings, and examples and evidences that are before them, and in course of time some of them may be heard howling because society is a little shy of them, or scoffing at the "narrow and bigoted pietists," and telling how perfectly useless has been all the work done by the "missionaries" in their attempts to Christianize and elevate these "worthless natives" whom they have helped to degrade and make worthless by their own example and practice.

All pity for weak human nature—for it appears that not only the Hawaiian is weak, but also his boastful foreign brother—but it is also too common for men to deliberately give way to unworthy and harmful indulgencies, because they cheat themselves with the idea that it will not be known. If there be one who has come to a realizing sense of his folly, and repents of it, let him give proof of his repentance by a continuously correct life, and an endeavor to exert a correct influence on those about him, and he will undoubtedly find friends ready to "give him a hand." But a spasmodic, uncertain effort on his part will not inspire others with confidence in his sincerity (men do not like to be fooled), and he cannot expect to rebuild in a day what he has spent months or years in tearing down.

Having given expression to such sentiments as the foregoing, I presume I ought to sign myself "Missionary" or "Bigot." If these terms have come to mean one and the same thing, and are descriptive of one who believes in and endeavors to lead a clean, healthy, wholesome and honest life, they certainly are terms not to be despised.

While thoroughly believing in the exercise of charity, patience and forbearance toward a fallen fellow mortal, and readiness to give him encouragement and aid to regain his lost ground, I would by no means advocate the lowering the standard of character that admits a man to respectable society.

Moreover, a man should be judged by his habit and life, not by the length of his purse.

Mr. Editor: A few weeks ago I wrote to you a few lines in regard to school matters. I expected that these remarks would raise some discussion, but was hardly prepared for the reply of your Paia correspondent. This person seems to have taken a rather novel way of getting up an argument. He starts out on false premises, puts words in my mouth that I did not utter, states in fact that which is absolutely false, and what seems to me malicious and mean, and then tries to show the absurdity of my statements.

He says that I began my letter by asking the Government why they do not put up school houses in any of the out of the way places where two or three of these white children may chance to be located. This is where he makes a false statement, and I defy him or anybody else to find any such language in my letter. What I did say was to ask the Government why they do not start schools in places where there are enough white children to fill them. There are enough children on these Islands.

Again, he laughs at the idea of any harm coming to these children by mixing with natives and other children. This shows exclusively his ignorance and how little he knows about this matter. I know for a certainty that there is a danger, and I can state positively that there is not a white parent on these Islands but dreads the effect which might follow the daily intermingling of these different nationalities.

ers, and it having been made a free school by the late Legislature, parents will have nothing more to complain of on that score.

It is well known that the Portuguese do not appreciate the advantages that are offered to their children in this country, to obtain an education, and are full of tricks and devices to get them out before they are of age, preferring the few dollars their children can earn in the fields, to the more lasting benefits they might derive from being educated.

What wonder, then, that with everything in fine order for the beginning of the new term, the teachers and others who are interested should have been disappointed at the start, by a run of upward of thirty applications for dismissal to the Catholic school in Halawa!

This was said, by certain of them, to have been the result of work done by the priest among the Portuguese between terms; the ground of argument used being, in effect, that these schools were godless.

Assuming the above reports to be true, we have here the same process that has been experienced in the United States: First, an opposition to the use of the Bible in the public schools, and then an outcry that the schools are godless! A very assinine proceeding to say the least; certainly very inconsistent, and savoring somewhat of villainy.

A reference to Hawaiian history will show, I think, that the Bible was banished from the public schools on the accession of Mr. A. Foreman, a Catholic, to the office of School Inspector, some 25 years ago, more or less.

With two large and well housed public English schools in the district, besides private ones, and all the school buildings repaired—some of them the first time in 15 to 20 years—educational matters appear in a more hopeful condition than they did 18 months ago.

Our Christ-less Schools. Mr. Editor: It would appear from the letter of your Kohala correspondent that the Roman Catholic priests have commenced the same style of tactics here, that they have kept up for some time in the United States. Knowing well that independent investigation brings fatal results to their claims of religious and political supremacy, and that good schools train scholars to independent thinking, they are opposed to the public school system as it has been established and developed in the United States.

In some sections religious influences are by law excluded. So far as these priests' opposition to public schools is based upon the principle, that character is the object sought in education, and that only such education as makes provision for the inculcation of religious truths and habits, is an education that Christian parents can approve, our Roman Catholic friends are to be commended for the stand they take, and the belief they avow. Is this a Christian community, or do we disavow such distinctive name? If people are unwilling to reject for themselves the name of Christian, why are they so inconsistent as to refuse to allow Christ's life and teachings to be introduced into the schools? Do they not acknowledge that Christ's words and acts embody the most powerful and successful influences that can be brought to bear upon young or old for the formation or transformation of character? Are "morality and religion to be taught only at home or in church," such homes as these Hawaiians have, only two generations removed from heathenism? Shall Dickens and Shakespeare be read, but not David nor Paul? Are our people ready to say that our Government schools may be made atheistic, but must not be Christian? Shall Christ be treated by our rulers as Simon, the Pharisee, treated him, invited to be a guest, but insulted with scantiest courtesy? We, who believe on His name, as the name above every name, who neither despise His proffered forgiveness nor doubt His Divine authority as the one only and all-sufficient Saviour, cannot but be grieved at the dishonor done our Divine Redeemer, by people who call themselves by Christ's name, but will not allow His life or His teachings to be studied in the schools under their control. If moral character is a matter of no account in the teachers or pupils in our Hawaiian public schools, and Christ is to be excluded, why not be consistent and not call ourselves Christians, nor call this a Christian Government.

BEFORE AND SINCE The days of Samson a luxuriant growth of hair has been symbolical of man's strength and woman's beauty. As a means of preserving this adornment of the person—a duty which should be considered, by all, of the first importance—Ayer's Hair Vigor is unequalled. If, unfortunately, your hair has been neglected and allowed to lose its lustre and color, or if time has tinged it with gray, the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore its youthful appearance and vitality. This admirable preparation eradicates Dandruff, cures all diseases of the scalp, strengthens weak hair, promotes a Luxuriant Growth, and prevents baldness. It is, moreover, an excellent dressing for the hair, rendering it pliant, soft, and glossy, and as an article of the toilet, there is nothing more essential or agreeable.

Ayer's Hair Vigor is choicely perfumed, is colorless, and will not soil the whitest pocket-handkerchief; its beautifying effects are lasting, and it is, therefore, the best and most economical hair-dressing in the world.

Island Palace, Sept. 22, 1888.

Mr. PIERRE JONES, has this day been appointed a Commissioner of Private Ways and Water Rights for the District of Honolulu, Island of Oahu.

and banco afterwards, it seems to us, would have best conserved the general interests.

The discussion which the Chinese question has been receiving for the last week or two at the hands of newspaper correspondents is not much calculated to advance the cause of truth, or aid in a wise and practical solution of the matters at issue. Most of the communications which have appeared have been characterized by prejudice, superficial thinking, and a flippant tone of would-be smartness which is not in keeping with the seriousness of the questions involved.

There is a considerable increase among the native population of converts to Mormonism. The Mormon missionaries have been visiting every island during the past year, and have gathered a large number of our Hawaiian fellow-citizens into their fold. What the attraction is we have not been able to discover, but it is an undoubted fact, and one that the members of the Christian denominations should carefully take cognizance of.

The news by the last steamer of the rise in the price of both sugar and rice will cause smiles of content to many a farmer. The rice men are nearly all Chinese, but there are many branches of trade and business in Honolulu which will receive benefit from the advance in the price of rice.

Texas is quite a new departure in North Kona in the shape of a prospective sugar plantation. The land taken up for the purpose is above the upper Government road and varies in height from 1,700 to 2,000 feet above the sea level.

Tax competitive drill between the two fire companies Saturday afternoon was a great success. At least, so they say. Several men were hurt, one of them badly. The whole community stood by to look on and keep from getting killed and the firemen acquitted themselves bravely.

The Bulletin intimates that the arrangement whereby the Supreme Court sat in banco last week is a good and praiseworthy one. It is quite possible that not even all of the members of the Court agree with this opinion; certainly, outside of the Court this is the case.

This attempt to again start cane cultivation in Kona has created quite a little excitement among a very hot-tempered population. Hawaiians will remember that this is not the first effort in the district. Twenty years ago Judge Hart, of Nihiu, had a plantation at Kealahou, which was abandoned after a long struggle.

The extraordinary success which the Postal Savings Bank has achieved almost from its first inception has been a matter of surprise to even its most ardent supporters; and affords excellent evidence of the abundant thrift and prosperity of the several nationalities and classes of people that comprise its list of depositors.

With the laws passed at the recent session of the Legislature the Postal Bank now offers the best and safest security for depositors. The limit of deposit being placed at $1,500 is ample enough to accommodate the laborer and small capitalists for whose special benefit the institution is established, and affords them undoubted security for their money.

Mr. Poor, with the approval of the Postmaster-General, has kindly furnished the following statistics: Up to September 30th the amount on deposit is $434,933 06 and the number of pass books issued to date is 2,166. The deposits are steadily increasing, and if the same proportion is maintained for the rest of the period as has been for the past few months, the funds received from this source will be amply sufficient for all the needs of Government without having to issue bonds on a loan.

Table with columns: DEPOSITS, WITHDRAWALS, Balance on deposit 6 mos, M'ch 31, '88. Total deposits 6 mos, withdrawals 6 mos.

The mission of the reform movement will be successful, if in addition to securing honest government for the general good, the industries of the country are so fostered as to renew the prosperity of the early days of the Reciprocity treaty. In spite of the croaking of some people the public has confidence in the government.

WE PRESUME that very few people in Honolulu have an idea that systematic cattle thieving is carried on in these islands. Yet it is a fact and the ranch owners suffer considerable loss by the deeds of depredation of these rascals.

But what does the cattle thief do with the animal stolen? He used to jerk the beef or else dip it in brine and then he would calmly peddle the article all over the district and no one would say him nay. On this line, however, the present Legislature has made an attempt to put a stop to this by amending section 1 of chapter 11 of the Session Laws of 1882.

It is a matter for regret, that the Legislature prior to adjournment did not attend to the questions of difference between the Cabinet and the Auditor-General. The report of the latter to the Legislature prior to adjournment did not attend to the questions of difference between the Cabinet and the Auditor-General.

The law says—Compiled Laws, section 60—that upon granting a license to slaughter and sell beef, the Minister of Interior and cannot be maintained by a proper interpretation of the law. If the discretion of the Auditor is to control he is practically the dictator in all financial matters. If he can invalidate the payment of a bill for laying of a water pipe in Kalawao because in his opinion the expenditure is improper he can equally well prevent the purchase of the books and stationery necessary to carry on the book-keeping of any department.

Shall exact of the applicant a bond in a penal sum of two hundred dollars with good and sufficient security, to be approved by said Minister.

To show how daring are the thieves and how successfully they can carry on their infamous traffic, we have reports of one ranch losing thirteen animals in three months, and another losing between forty and fifty during the present year. Cattle thieves are extremely hard to catch in the act, and certainly the ranch owners should not have all the burden of tracing them out and punishing upon them, especially as the rancher is a large taxpayer.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE. THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE. Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary aching, protracted disease, invigorate the nervous system, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (and now covered by Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumptions, and Asthma. CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms. CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Catarrhs, Toothache, Menstruation, &c.

From Sykes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Smith, January 5, 1888. Dr. J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of expressing our warmest thanks for the wide-spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question whether a better is to be found in the whole of the Materia Medica.

Hawaiian Gazette

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1888.

IN MANY of the islands beef sells at 8c. a pound delivered at the doors of the consumers and at 6c. a pound when the consumer comes to a store to get his meat.

It is not only in the matter of beef that this works against consumer and producer, but in several other products as well.

What we mean by selling on its own merits, is that instead of articles being advertised as, say, "island butter" or "island potatoes" we would have them sold as "Lihue Ranch Company's butter," or "Hualalai potatoes."

MOUNTED POLICE—well, we had mounted police a few years ago and a nice mess was made of them. We should imagine that the very name of mounted police would stink in the nostrils of most people.

Now besides the collections of people quoted above, there are many people living in isolated spots, and it is to these or rather to their property that protection should be given.

We are aware that many of our readers will say that this is the most law-abiding place in the world. It is true that many places are worse than we are, but a great deal goes on which the general public in Honolulu have no idea of.

events, but serious matters. Much is carefully hushed up. Much again is carelessly reported. It is thus that in Honolulu we fail to understand the needs of the country districts, and the country districts and Honolulu fall out. There are faults on both sides. But this is digression.

We confess fairly that the idea of a mounted police is more for the advantage of the country than the capital. In the capital we can have our resident policemen in every quarter.

In its anxiety to make a point against the Government in the matter of giving out contracts, the Bulletin in its issue of Saturday week puts forward an assumption of incompetence on the part of the Bureau of Public Works without any evidence whatever to sustain it.

What we mean by selling on its own merits, is that instead of articles being advertised as, say, "island butter" or "island potatoes" we would have them sold as "Lihue Ranch Company's butter," or "Hualalai potatoes."

Recent large arrivals enable us to fill orders with increased satisfaction, and unremitting attention to the wants of our patrons and replenishing stock from San Francisco, New York and England, to disappoint our customers but very rarely.

Chicago is a city of detached houses, in the lumber quarters as well as in the magnificent avenues, and the effect is home-like and beautiful at the same time.
