Subs and Airplanes Play Hide-And-Seek

Under-Sea And Air Fighters Visit Maui Enroute To Hilo—Officers Ascend Haleakala—Submarines Among Best Of Their Kind

Maui people were interested this week in the maneuvers in local waters of three of Uncle Sam's submarines in connection with two naval sealplanes which are playing a hide-and-peek game between Honolulu and Hilo and return. The underwater boats are the R-15, R-7, R-17. They came first into Kahului harbor late last Friday afternoon and the following Sunday ran around Lahaina where on Tuesday morning the two flying boats, Nos. 41 and 42 joined them from Honolulu.

A tender vessel, the Delaware was also at Lahaina and from her the airplanes replenished their fuel supply and continued on to Hilo, the submarines being scattered along the coast. Three other submarines of the boats and of the same class, had already proceeded to Hilo where they were to be joined by the other units of the expedition.

The submarines were in command of Commander F. X. Gygax, who is head of the entire submarine division in the Islands. He and several of his officers took time on Saturday and Sunday to make an ascent of Haleakala and report a most pleasant trip.

With the exception of an "R" class of under-water fighters which are now being built, and of which but two or three vessels have yet been finished, the "R" subs are the latest thing the United States has in this class of craft. They are about 600 tons register and according to a naval officer are highly efficient. "The more we learn about the German submarines which caused so much trouble during the war," said this officer, "the better we feel about our own boats."

There are at present 6 of the under-water fighters with permanent station at Pearl Harbor and more will probably be added before long.

The airplanes which are maneuvering this week are in command of Lt. Commander R. D. Kirkpatrick, who is in charge of the naval flying division in the Islands. This is the first time that the navy has attempted interesting flights, all former flying of this kind having been done in army planes. It is reported that much of this kind of practice is probable in the future.

Prominent Mason Is Warmly Entertained

Much interest was aroused in local Masonic circles last Saturday in the coming of Hon. Charles Adams, grand master of the supreme order of Masons for the jurisdiction of California, who has been visiting the Islands in his official capacity. He arrived on Maui by the Lurline last Saturday morning, accompanied by his wife, and departed by the same boat on Sunday evening.

Besides addressing the Masonic orders on Saturday night, Mr. Adams, who is a member of the California bar, was a guest of the members of the local bar at a small luncheon at the Grand Hotel on Saturday. The affair was quite informal but was very enjoyable.

On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Adams were rendered an informal reception at the home of H. K. Duncan, Kahului, before the sailing of the Lurline, and quite a large number went with the popular couple to bid him farewell as the boat departed.

Mr. Adams was escorted to Maui by James Fenwick, a prominent Mason of Honolulu, who returned to the city with them.

Water Stunts By Expert Hold Crowd

Novel And Valuable Exhibition Of First Aid Methods—Good Turn—Holds Interest Of Crowd—Big Attendance.

Much interest was evinced by Maui people generally in the demonstrations given by a number of places last Sunday by Commodore W. E. Longfellow, representing the American Red Cross life saving corps. He has been in the Islands for several weeks, and his work has been the matter of much comment in Honolulu and in the other parts of the Islands.

The Commodore arrived at Lahaina on Sunday night and departed again on Sunday night, but in that time he gave demonstrations of his work in a half to two hours each at three different places and before audiences so large that it was with difficulty that all were able to witness the "stunts."

Quite a number of Maui persons went through the course of instruction given by Commodore Longfellow and qualified as life savers.

The first lecture was given in Lahaina on Sunday morning. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon he demonstrated his methods at the Alexander house gym tank and at 4:30 he appeared again at the Puumeh Club tank.

Harold W. Rice, F. A. Lufkin, Seville Boyum, W. A. Robbins, H. S. Bush, A. S. Taylor, Walter and Jack Walker, Clinton S. Childs, and Alfred Rego were among those who went through the water stunts under the Commodore's coaching. The women who took the tests included Miss Lucy Lee Robinson, Mrs. Deinet, Mrs. R. Paris, Miss Frances Gardner, Miss Frances Baldwin and Miss Granger.

Commodore Longfellow's mission is to teach us life saving, which is really the general direction of the first aid division of the national headquarters. He is the officer in charge of that department and is in charge of a committee of the National Life Saving Association, a subcommittee of the National Aid Committee.

It is noted that the Life Saving Corps may be of more general usefulness than heretofore. It was decided to expand and has already begun forming organizations throughout the States which are ready for emergency cases and are fitted to give efficient aid when no doctor or physician is on hand. The life saving course consists of the ability to break the different holds that a drowning person employs in trying to have himself towed a person of the rescuer's own weight a distance of 50 feet by four different methods—head, under-arm, cross-shoulder, and breast, or third swimmer method; to keep a person of this weight, dressed in trousers, coat and shoes, afloat for one minute; to dive from the surface of the water to a reasonable depth and bring to the surface a tenpound sand bag or weight; to explain and demonstrate the Sylvester and Schaefer methods of artificial respiration.

Commodore W. E. Longfellow demonstrated with what ease swimming could be learned by those who did not know how, and how everyone should be able to swim for two rather than one alone and be prepared for rescue work in case of emergency.

McPhee Buys Maui Garage & Transportation Co., Ltd.

Through the purchase of the stock held by J. Garcia and Manuel Moura in the Maui Garage & Transportation Co., Ltd., Angus McPhee this week acquired the control of the business and will take active charge of it the first of the month.

The sale does not include the garage property on Main street near Market, which Mr. Moura retains as his own, although this was one of the assets of the company. The Maui Garage & Transportation Co., Ltd., is capitalized at $25,000.

Mrs. Robert Of Women's Club

At the regular meeting of the Maui Women's Club to be held Monday afternoon, May 3, in the Kahului Community House, Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson, President of the Honolulu Outdoor Circle, will speak. Members of the Lahaina Outdoor Circle are to be guests of the club and each club member is privileged to take a guest. There will also be a short musical program and a reception for Mrs. Robertson at the close of the meeting.

Club members are asked to take notice that nominations for election of officers are in order for that day and the committee in charge will receive votes at 2:30 o'clock.

Outlook Good For Fine Corn Crop This Year

Present indications are for by far the largest and best corn crop in a number of years from the Makawao and Kula districts. There is also a larger acreage than usual this year in the Maui corn belt, and it is looking about as good as could be desired. Much of it is now in the "milk" and is practically beyond the critical stage. Later plantings have had sufficient rain at the right time and are coming along splendidly. About 6 weeks ago there was much uneasiness among the farmers on account of the drought, but rain came just at the right time.

The Maui corn crop has been short for several years past on account of unfavorable weather. Apparently about the only thing that could seriously injure the present crop would be severe wind or a cloud-burst before the crop can be harvested.

MAUI MEN PLAN END OF ISLAND ELECTRIC

Meeting Of Representative Citizens Considers Matter Of Forming New Company—Committee Will Study Details—Nothing To Expect From Present Concern—Plant Again Breaks Down.

That Maui people have nothing to hope from the Island Electric Company under its present management, nor have any better hope of securing a change in that management, and therefore must take some very definite and positive step to secure electric light and power from some other source, was again strongly emphasized at a meeting of representative citizens on Tuesday afternoon of this week. The plan apparently favored is to immediately organize a new company, secure permission for the use of the public streets from the board of supervisors, and then to proceed with the steps necessary for securing current and distributing same to the people of Wailuku and Kahului.

Although Manager J. C. Blair reports that he has succeeded in procuring a new engine and generator unit has been shipped from New York, it is believed by competent engineers that it will help the situation but little inasmuch as it will have to be immediately connected with the present plant to form a single unit in order to handle the present available demand, and thus will leave no reserve power or breakdown or emergency.

The plant, after more than a week's shut down for repairs, was put in operation again the latter part of last week and showed, in the brighter lights, the need for an overhauling. But again on Wednesday of this week the engine broke down again and again the Wailuku Sugar Company took over the day load while the town at night again has recourse to kerosene lamps and candles as the sole source of light.

The second break-down, Manager Blair says, was due to a burned out bearing. He states that the repairs last week was in no sense an overhauling such as the engine heretofore demands, and that as such an overhauling would require between one and two months time it is impossible to do it. Besides he has no spare parts to make the replacements necessary in case he could take the time.

The meeting held last Tuesday was called by R. A. Wadsworth and was held in the Baldwin National Bank, Kahului. It was attended by the following persons: R. A. Wadsworth, William Walsh, J. Garcia, F. E. Baldwin, Will. J. Cooper, Ed. Deinet, A. F. Tavares, H. W. Rice, H. A. Baldwin, W. A. Baldwin, D. C. Lindsay, H. B. Penhallow, C. D. Lufkin, J. J. Walsh, Charles Savage.

The situation was canvassed at length. It was agreed that nothing can probably be expected to come of the public utilities commission's investigation unless it should be an order compelling the company to reduce its rates, in which case it seems probable that the company would be forced to sell.

Revolt in Mexico Spreading

WASHINGTON, April 22—Reports to the state department continue to support unofficial reports of a rapidly increasing revolt in Mexico. The movement which started with the secession of Sonora has gained at least four other states and adherents among the various groups of Federal troops. Villa, Palacios and many minor rebel chieftains have promised their aid against the Carranza government.

Okla. Gets Submarine

Four life jackets from the submarine R-16, which was in Kahului harbor last Saturday, succeeded in making connection with the Maui Okla. lifeboat last Saturday night, after which they made things lively in Wailuku for a hour or two before they were run in by the police.

Before this occurred, however, they had attempted to force their way into the home of Miss Ah Choy Young and her brother, on Lower Market street near the bridge. Miss Young who was alone at the time, screamed for help when the men began throwing stones through the windows and to bombard the door. Neighbors phoned for the police and the disturbers were put in the cooler for the night. On Sunday morning they were turned over to the squadron commander who has preferred charges against all four men who will be court martialed.

Maui Music Club Has Interesting Program

The Maui Music Club held its April 28th meeting with Harry Foss, at Hilo, on last Thursday.

The following program was enjoyed: Victor Record, Maule Song, Goroza Life of Chaminade—Miss Couch Scarf Dance—Chaminade—Mrs. Kunewa Reading—How to Interpret Music—Victor Record—Louise—Mrs. Watkins Reading—Listening to Music—Arlequin—Chaminade—Miss Asher When the Roses Bloom Again—Reichardt—Mrs. Baldwin The Flatterer—Chaminade—Mrs. Cooper.

The subject for the May meeting will be Carrie Jacobs Bond—to be held with Mrs. J. C. Fitzgerald, Mrs. D. T. Carey and Mrs. George Atkin have charge of the program.

Former Maui Resident Returns For Short Visit

Roy A. Woodward, of Pearl City, manager of the Ewa Bottling Works, Ltd., and his daughter, were visitors to Maui for the last weekend, being the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wadsworth of Wailuku during their stay. Mr. Woodward was associated with the Maui Soda and Ice Works some 20 years ago, and is naturally much interested in the progress of this island. It has been a number of years since he was here.

Tomorrow Last Day To Register Automobiles

The Sheriff's department has been busy during this week in registering automobiles and supplying the new 1920 number plates which arrived but recently. About three-fourths of the numbers have been called for. After this week, Sheriff Crowell says, the police will be instructed to arrest all drivers of cars not having the new plates.

Bank Building Waits Only For Lost Vault Door

Work of installing the fixtures of the Bank of Maui's new bank building in Wailuku, including the marble floor, wall-covering, etc., was finished this week, and the structure would be ready for occupancy except for the fact that the big vault door has not yet arrived. This was shipped from the factory in Ohio several months ago, but has apparently been lost and is present in who's who's not known.

Joseph Scott, an expert marble worker who came here from San Francisco several weeks ago to install the fixtures, has completed his work and will leave for the coast next week. Just when the bank will be completed is very dependent entirely upon the arrival of the vault door. The bank fixtures had hoped to have the structure completed for occupancy in a few months or more, but many delays, especially in getting materials, have prolonged the job far beyond expectations.

F. P. Baldwin, speaking for the Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co., stated that they would not be able to consider furnishing power to a new company, as has been rumored might be the case. He said that at certain times their power plants are inadequate for their own needs, and it has recently been necessary to place an order for another unit. Mr. Baldwin, however, did not deny that his company might be willing to help the community out in an emergency measure, by wholesaling to a new company current until an independent might be installed.

Bond Holders To Foreclose

It was stated at the meeting that definite steps have been taken by a majority of the bondholders of the Island Electric Co. to foreclose the mortgage and that this will probably be consummated within 60 days time. The general impression on this, seemed to be that at the foreclosure sale Robert E. Bond, the owner of the company, will be able to raise the $24,000 value of the bonds and the company will be able to hope for a change of ownership through a foreclosure.

Plenty Money Available

It was again apparent that there will be no difficulty in financing the new company up to quarter of a million dollars if so much is necessary. The only questions to be settled are those as to procedure. There is some difference of opinion as to the steps that should be taken and after discussing these phases for some time it was decided to turn the matter over to a committee to look into the legal aspects of the plan and to report its recommendations as soon as it has time to form its conclusions and call a meeting. It is probable that an effort will be made to have some tangible proposition worked out before the meeting of the board of supervisors on May 12, so that application on a definite basis may be made for the needed permission to use the streets by the new company.

Legal Aspects

While some of those at Tuesday's meeting still expressed a doubt of a success without a franchise from the legislature and confirmed by congress being able to do business on a permit of the supervisors alone, it seems probable that this will be left for the Island Electric Co. management to contest and prove one way or the other. A number of attorneys, including County Attorney Bovins and a former attorney general of the territory have expressed the opinion that in this case a legislative charter is not needed.

Maypoles And Kite Flying Tomorrow

Alexander House Settlement Plans Big Feature—Much Interest Being Taken And Big Crowd Expected To Be Present

The Alexander House Settlement is expected to be a "party" at the first annual Maypole dance and kite-flying contest tomorrow. There are five or six sets of poles all ready for the music and a crowd of 2 o'clock so that they can show how well they have learned to trip the light fantastic too. Miss Noble Wilcox has been busy the past three weeks teaching the girls, and their dancing is a credit to her hard work.

A great many boys will be on hand, too, to compete for the prizes offered for the kites. It is expected that some excellent kites will be seen, both the Japanese and the Chinese reformed makers of kites. The rules of this contest are as follows:

A kite, in order to compete in any of the contests, must be able to fly with at least 25 feet of line, and must have a frame work of at least two cross sticks.

In distance contests, about five minutes (exact time dependent upon the day) will be allowed in flying the kites out. A kite, in order to compete in this contest, must be brought back without dropping to the ground or breaking the string.

In the fighting contest, contestants will remain back of a given line, and at least six feet apart. Contestants are not to pass in front of or behind any other contestant. Stronger larger or stronger than number 10 cotton thread is not to be used. The boy whose kite cuts down the greatest number of kites wins the contest.

In the contest for the smallest kite, any substance may be used to fly the kite. In this contest the flying thread must be held in the hands of the contestant, who shall not move about to keep the kite in flight. Should the judges not be able to determine upon the smallest kite by comparison of surface area, the kite will be weighed without the flying string.

A kite may be made and decorated by the boy entering the same.

Kites which have taken prizes in previous contests are disqualified.

The Maypole dance will certainly be a pretty sight with the various costumes, varied colored dresses of girls and the streamers of the poles of the rainbow.

"Che-Chu" will serve refreshments, a help for the things they are carrying on to the health of the children.

Four National Guard Companies For Maui

Frank A. Lufkin To Form Battalion—Will Be Made Major—Headquarters Of Various Units Uncertain

Frank A. Lufkin, cashier of the Lahaina branch of the Bank of Maui, is to be commissioned a major in the national guard and is to undertake the organization of a battalion of the guard here on Maui. Major Lufkin has had the matter under consideration for some time, but only recently decided to assume the responsibility, and so advised Col. Lawrence Judd, who is engaged in building up a regiment in the Islands.

The four companies of infantry which are to comprise the Maui battalion will be distributed over Maui as much as possible, but Maj. Lufkin states that it will require a careful canvass of the situation to establish definitely where they may most easily be recruited and maintained. It is possible that a company may be established at Lahaina, one at Wailuku, one at Puumeh and another at Paia. Major Lufkin already has a number of former army men tentatively selected to officer the new companies when formed. These are men who had considerable experience during the war period.

While the work of recruiting companies may be undertaken at once, there is a possibility that it will be deferred until about the first of July inasmuch as most of the reserve officers including Major Lufkin, expect to be absent at training school in Honolulu during most of the month of June.

Chances Seem Bright For Getting Kilauea

The report that Maui is likely to get the later-Island steamer Kilauea to take the place of the old Claudine sometime this next fall has been confirmed from a number of sources. In interviews which the Honolulu papers have had with C. P. Morse, assistant general manager of the company, the official admitted that the plan had been under consideration, but stated that it had not yet been fully decided upon.

At the meeting of the trustees of the chamber of commerce on Tuesday the matter came up again in an informal way and a number of members reported talks with various officials or directors of the shipping company which appeared to indicate that the matter was much more than a possibility.

Passenger Rates To Coast Advanced $20

HONOLULU, April 28—Announcement was made here today at the various steamship offices to effect that beginning June 1 the passenger rates between Honolulu and San Francisco would be increased $20. With this raise in effect the cheapest cabin ticket including sur-tax will cost $113.80. The present minimum rate is $93.80, and that is an increase of between nearly $20 over previous rates. Formerly the round trip rate was $110 but this is now the cheapest one way fare less the war tax of $8.80.

It is stated that the chamber of commerce will ask the shipping board authorities to explain the sudden advance without hearing.

A Chevrolet car owned by the county and used by the county overlord at Hana, caught fire last week while standing unattended, and but for timely discovery would doubtless have been destroyed. As it was the blaze was extinguished before much damage had occurred. The fire was due to defective electric wiring.

Architect Bernard To Locate In Honolulu

J. H. Bernard, the architect who designed and superintended the construction of the new St. Anthony church, Wailuku, and for more than a year has been a resident of Honolulu, has been notified by the Honolulu Board of Health to locate permanently. During his residence here Bernard has made many friends who will be sorry to see him leave Maui. He will be glad to know that he is not leaving the territory.

Mr. Bernard was also architect of the new Catholic church at Hilo before coming to Maui. His work has been greatly admired by all who have seen it.

Korean To Be Tried By Jury For Theft Of $1700

Kim Young, being the Korean, who was arrested last week on a charge of stealing over $1700 from a trunk, the property of Uehara, a Japanese laborer living at Camp 3, Puumeh, was given a hearing in the Wailuku district court last Tuesday, and held for trial by a jury in the criminal court.

The police believe that a suit of clothes stolen from the trunk at the same time and sold to a Chinaman in Paia by Kim will be the evidence which will establish the theft upon him when the case is tried.

On The Other Islands

Prisoner's Money Gouged—Twelve hundred dollars taken from Chinese prisoners, has disappeared from the safe at the police station in Honolulu. There are no clues.

Women May Vote Without Delay—If the proposed national women's suffrage amendment is ratified, women may vote in Hawaii without further action by the territorial legislature. This is the opinion rendered by Attorney General Irwin, who investigated the question at the request of Governor McCarthy.

Federal Court May Sit in Hilo—Owing to the number of contraband liquor cases now pending in Hilo, federal court officials believe it probable that a session of the federal court will be held in that city within the next two or three months. The federal grand jury is also likely to sit in Hilo.

Increases Capital—Directors of C. Brewer & Co., Ltd., took the action anticipated when they increased the capital stock of the company on Monday from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 by a stock dividend of $1,000,000 effective June 15 next.

Japanese Professor For College—Dr. A. L. Dean, president of the College of Hawaii, has confirmed the report in a Japanese paper that Dr. T. Harada, former president of the Doshisha University at Kyoto, had been offered a position on the faculty of the local college. Negotiations are still pending.

Kauai Teachers Want 50% Increase—Governor McCarthy has received a letter from the Kauai teachers' association calling his attention to the action of the organization on February 17 in adopting a resolution favoring a 50 per cent increase in teachers' salaries. The letter states the action was taken in view of the increased cost of living.

Studying Hawaiian Place—Gerard Powke, archaeologist of the Smithsonian Institute, is in Honolulu for the purpose of making a study of Hawaiian archaeology and ethnology. His headquarters will be at the Bishop museum. He hopes to be able to unearth some data that may throw more light upon the origin of the race.

One Federal Judge Possible—If a bill introduced in congress by Delegate Kahanamoku passes Hawaii will again have but one federal court judge instead of two as at present. The change under the bill is to come about at time of first vacancy.

Hawaiian Pineapples Are Best—Dr. Harold L. Lyon, pathologist of the Hawaiian pineapple growers' association, who recently returned from an extended trip through the West Indies and Central America where he made a special study of pineapple culture, states that the best pineapples he saw in those districts were inferior to the Hawaiian fruit. He states, however, that with proper methods the West Indies could produce vast quantities of high grade fruit.

Educational Delegates Named—Governor McCarthy has named W. R. Castle, Jr., of Washington, Mrs. W. C. Hobdy, who is visiting in the east and Sidney M. Ballou, of Washington to represent the islands in the national educational convention to be held in Washington in May.

New U. S. Engineer Coming—Col. Henry C. Newcomer, U. S. A., United States district engineer for rivers and harbors, will be relieved of duty in the islands by Col. A. P. Flapler who is coming to the Territory for that purpose.

Congressional Party Coming In July—Alexander Hume Ford has written Governor McCarthy from Washington outlining the plans for the tentative trip of 136 congressmen to Hawaii and the orient. Ford says the transport Great Northern is likely to be used. The arrival in Honolulu will probably be July 11 and 3 days are to be spent here.

Psychics Buy Home—The Psychical research society of Honolulu has purchased the Sherwood Lowery property on College Street, for a home at cost of $11,000. It will be considerably altered to meet the needs of the organization. The trustees are Judge S. B. Dole, Mrs. J. M. Dowsett and Judge A. G. M. Robertson.

Near East Fund Over the Top—At a meeting of the Near East Relief executive committee held in Honolulu last Saturday, when final reports of the recent drive were turned in, it was found that $25,400 had been received clear of all expenses. The quota for the islands of $15,000 was thus exceeded by nearly $10,000.

SMALL SALMON PACK EXPECTED THIS YEAR

SEATTLE, Wash., April 21—Big fish rigged "windjammers," some famous as American clipper ships long ago, already are spreading their sails and heading for Alaska, the vanguard of summer salmon fleets which go north every year to work with the scores of fish canneries that dot northern harbors and inlets.

Dozens of other craft, steamers, gas boats, barges and tugs, are going north with the sailing ships. Before winter they will all come ploughing back with this year's fish catch canned and packed and stored in their holds.

Word on catch is expected this year, according to reports from Alaska, that the southeastern Alaska canneries expect to reduce their pack this year from one third to one half normal and several will not operate at all. One cause for the cut is the fact that all of last year's pack has not been sold. Low markets are given as another reason.

Alaska's salmon output last year was 4,592,201 cases, the smallest since 1915. The high water mark of Alaska's salmon years came in 1918 when, in response to a war call for food, the canneries sent 6,667,569 cases out.

Most of the salmon are packed in southeastern Alaska, a strip of territory that juts south between northern British Columbia and the Pacific Ocean. Last year southeastern Alaska fisheries turned out 3,108,364 cases against 775,557 from central Alaska and 708,280 from far western Alaska. The central Alaska plants extend from Cape St. Elias westward to the Alaska Peninsula. The far western plants are on the shores of Bristol Bay and the Bering Sea.

About 125 salmon canneries were operated in Alaska last year by nearly 90 companies. Several big concerns operated more than one plant, the Alaska Packers' Association, leading with ten. Libby McNeill and Libby were second with nine. The northwestern Fisheries Company operated seven and the Pacific American Fisheries Company five.

Nearly all the boats of the fishing fleets sail north from Puget Sound, although one of the largest fleets, that of the Alaska Packers' Association, makes its headquarters in San Francisco Bay. The Libby McNeill and Libby and the Northwestern company boats winter here, the Libby boats riding in the fresh water of Lake Union. The Pacific American company operates from Bellingham, Portland, South Bend, Everett, Olympia, Astoria, Anacortes and other ports and their share of fishing vessels north.

Five or six thousand men are going north to spend the summer working at the fisheries. In the fall they will come back with the boats and the catch. For several weeks passenger steamers running to Alaska have been carrying capacity lists of cannery employees. The Northwestern and the Anacortes Fisheries Company, both subsidiaries of the Booth Fisheries Co., will use 1,500 men in the north this year.

The Woman's Guild of the Church of the Good Shepherd will hold a meeting with Mrs. Paris, Kahului, on Tuesday, May 4, at 2:30 p. m.

Laurels Won By Maui High

Talk By Clinton S. Childs—Swimming Awards Given Out—Cornell Medals To Winners—Victors At Field Sports Receive Emblem.

Clinton S. Childs, head of the Alexander House Settlement, addressed the students of the Maui high school on Wednesday afternoon on the subject of making a community a better place in which to live. His talk was much appreciated, and probably planted the seeds of some ideas which will later bear fruit.

Mr. Childs also distributed the life saving awards and badges which had been won by high school pupils in the tests conducted by Commodore Longfellow at the Wailuku gym and at Puunene last Sunday. Those in the school who won these awards are—Jack Walker, Walter Walker, Seventh Boyum, and Miss Frances Baldwin.

School "M" Distributed
On the same day Principal Paul MacCaughy gave out the medals won by Maui contestants at the Cornell games in Honolulu some months ago. These went to Nils Tavares, Jack Walker and Seventh Boyum.

For the first time Maui High is represented by a distinguished letter signifying success in athletics. Mr. MacCaughy at the Wednesday gathering, passed out seven of the newly adopted blue "Winged M" emblems to the winners of points for the school at the recent field day meet at the fair grounds.

The letter men are—Jack Linton, Arthur Baldwin, Seventh Boyum, Shige Hamagi, Alfred de Rego, Jack Walker and Nils Tavares.

CHINESE CIVILIZATION SHOULD BE UNDERSTOOD BETTER

BERKELEY, Cal., April 21—American scholars, literary men and artists should add their efforts to those of merchants, missionaries and diplomats in interpreting Chinese civilization to the people of the United States, Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, former minister to China, said here recently in an address met was a feature of the University of California "Charter Week" celebration.

"To realize what this civilization means and how momentous it is that it should not be wantonly interpreted with or warped from its true peaceable and humane traditions," said Dr. Reinsch, "we must have humanism in the West as well as in the East, and we must be strengthened and clarified by intimate contact with and knowledge of this great civilization of the East—that is the task of American interpretative scholarship and art, in which the universities of the land are called to lead."

Tested By The Ages
China has an important lesson to teach, he continued. The essential element of "the permanent China which has evolved a system under which hundreds of millions of men could live together in peace and equity for thousands of years, is its humanism, the fact that personal human relations rather than abstract principles of legality and economics form its foundation."

"The family, the clan, the business partnership, the guild, the official group, the intellectual family of teacher and pupils, these have been the essential things in Chinese life. There has been evolved a system of infinitely delicate personal adjustments, accompanied by great mutual consideration, a high sense of personal dignity, and chiefest of all a system of personal equity, alive among the people, by which all relations between man and man are adjusted."

The traditional conception of the missionary as "a lugubrious individual in black clothes doling out dogma to indifferent natives is pure caricature," said Dr. Reinsch in noting the necessity of continuing and extending our activities in the Far East. "Their work has been of the utmost importance in giving the Far Eastern people a conception of western thought, life and beliefs. While there are among them keen observers and scientific observers who have added to our knowledge of Oriental countries, yet they are abroad rather as apostles than as scholars."

Relations With Japan
"We were instrumental in urging the Japanese to take the first step out of their isolation of centuries by holding over them a shielding hand during the first decades of their new national existence," he said.

"The great Chinese nation has always had the sympathetic good will of the American government and people whose equitable policy has brought us the confidence of the Chinese and which often been able to give moral support of the highest importance. The fact that the Chinese peoples are now attempting to elaborate and firmly to establish a system of representative government similar to our own will tend to make our political contact still more intimate."

U. S. COMMISSION TO ASK PERMANENT JAPAN MEDIATION

HONOLULU, April 22—Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president emeritus of the University of California, here on the return trip of the trade commission to Japan which he headed, said today:

"Japan is eager to avoid trouble with the United States. In conference with leading men of Japan, our commission agreed that it would be advisable to ask our governments to create a permanent mediatory office to inquire into all matters involving misunderstandings, economic and otherwise, between the two countries."

SENATOR JOHN H. WISE MARRIED IN WASHINGTON

HONOLULU, April 28—John H. Wise, who went to Washington in December as a member of the Hawaiian Legislative Commission, returned there last week and married Miss Edith McDowell, an American woman of Oklahoma City, who is said to be a fiction writer. Wise met Miss McDowell during his first visit a few months ago.

While it was thought he was going east to see Sam Gompers about labor matters in Hawaii, and also to get dates to take hula dancers and Hawaiian singers for mainland tour, he was also intent on getting married. The wedding took place in Washington on Saturday.

The bride is 30 years old. Wise is considerably older. His former wife died here about six or eight months ago. He has 10 children.

Wise's bride is known to most of the members of the commission. She was looking for material for Hawaiian stories and Governor McCarthy told her to inquire of Wise, which she did and the acquaintance began.

SAYS SIMS' CHARGES ARE INSULT TO SERVICE

WASHINGTON, April 28—Rear Admiral Joseph S. McKean, former chief of naval operations, declared yesterday before the senate committee which is investigating the naval conduct of the war that Admiral Sims' charges that the navy department prolonged the war four months at a cost of half a million lives were monstrous and an insult to every man in the army and navy. He also declared that the admiral's charges of naval unpreparedness were unfounded.

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 25—Retail sugar prices in Des Moines yesterday reached 31 cents a pound. At St. Louis, Missouri, sugar retailed here yesterday at 30 cents a pound.

Cho-Cho Planning Active Campaign

Organization To Improve Children Of Maui Has Vital Program — Big Luau For Next Week Will Help Expenses

"Cho-Cho" will spread a big genuine Hawaiian luau, music and all, on Saturday, May 8, from 2 to 5, in the Wailuku gymnasium. The proceeds will go towards "Cho-Cho's" activities in bettering the health of the boys and girls of Maui. Carl Rose is manager for the luau, so real food, well cooked is in store for all who come. He is planning to feed between four and five hundred people.

"Cho-Cho" is the nick-name for the Children's Health Organization, organized by the Alexander House Settlement Association to cooperate with the Federal Child Welfare Board, of which Dr. Eva Missner is chairman. The name is made up from the initials C. H. O. In Japanese this word means butterfly, but that is an accidental coincidence.

This organization deserves the support of all on Maui, for its work is done with the brightest hopes we have for the children. Its purpose is to weigh and measure children once every month as an index to their health; to arouse the children's interest in their own health and get them to live the kind of lives that will make them "healthy, happy and wise." That is, to teach the children to eat right, sleep right, and live right. "Cho-Cho" plans are big, and as soon as the dozen scales they have ordered from the coast arrive the work will begin in earnest.

The luau planned will only cost 50 cents because practically all the food is being donated. The only thing "Cho-Cho" is afraid of is that Carl will make everything taste so good that those who come will think of luau whenever they hear about "Cho-Cho" after this instead of children. And "Cho-Cho" wants people to think about the children.

Baleh Takes Robertson's Place On Honolua Ranch

Dan T. Baleh, well known on Maui as the civil engineer of the former island fund commission, has taken the place of ranch superintendent on the Honolua Ranch left vacant by the resignation recently of William Robertson. The new man is already on the job.

Baleh left Maui to join the army and served for a year or more in France with an engineer regiment. Recently he has been working on Oahu on the construction of the new belt road under contractor E. J. Lord.

W. G. Scott, recent head luma at Spreckelsville has accepted a like position on the Wailuku plantation vice Frank Summerfield who has resigned. Mr. Summerfield will go to the Coast today on the Lurline.

Hugh Howell the government surveyor at Hana will visit Wailuku next week and will go on to Honolulu before returning to Hana.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lowrie celebrated their "silver wedding" today. A complimentary dance has been arranged for this evening at Spreckelsville and from present indications the affair will be a most successful and enjoyable one.

F. J. Cross stated yesterday that within four weeks after the work of installing the wireless telegraph plant had begun it would be possible to communicate between the islands. The action sale for the privilege of sending the first message will be held at Morgan's auction room on Monday, May 1st. The message is limited to 100 words and the person buying the right to send the first message will have the right of saying to which charitable institution the money paid shall be donated. The sum of $500 is already bid for the first message. The Moana due tomorrow will bring the Marconi experts and the material.—Advertiser.

The council of state adjourned sine die. The motion which practically ended the important labors of the only legislative body left to the Republic of Hawaii was put by President Dole at exactly 3:35 p. m., on Monday and immediately adopted. Until a legislature is brought together under the Government of the Territory of Hawaii, yesterday's adjournment doubtless marks the closing scene of legislative Hawaii unless a special bill be made.—Advertiser.

Says Maui Man Kidnapped His Own Common Law Wife

Deputy Sheriff Henry K. Martin of Hilo the other day ran up against a tangled snarl involving the alleged kidnapping of a common-law wife by her common-law husband and very properly passed the buck up to William H. Boers, county attorney of the island of Hawaii, for solution.

The cause of the whole piliikia, says the Hilo Tribune, came about when H. Oshide of Maui dropped in on Hilo rather unexpectedly, found Matsuo, his run-away common-law wife, grabbed her and making haste to his wailing sampan returned to the Valley Island shores with his prize.

"The story as told by Matsuo's mother is that her daughter had been living with Oshide on Maui for the past four years as his wife, that she came to visit her mother here, and after receiving several letters from Oshide she refused to return to him, whereupon Oshide appeared suddenly on the scene last Saturday evening, and meeting Matsuo on Moehou street carried her off bodily, and once aboard his "jolly sampan" the Maui man is said to have sailed off to the sunny climes of his home island with his recalcitrant lady," says the Hilo paper.

The facts established in the case show that Oshide, finding that Matsuo would not return to him, decided to take what he considered the proper step and that was to hire a sampan, come to Hilo and bring her back, which he successfully accomplished.

On Monday the girl's mother appeared to the police, sobbed out her story, and asked to bring about Oshide's arrest. Martin did not feel justified in intervening and "passed the buck" to the county attorney for an opinion.

HONOLULU, April 23—The Commercial Pacific Advertiser today publishes a story founded upon private advices and rumors from New York to the effect that the Emperor of Japan is dead. The Japanese consul general here has no advices to this effect.

THEATERS

Wallace Reid has a romantic comedy role in his new picture, "Hawthorne of the U. S. A." The story was adapted from James B. Fagan's play of the same name in which Douglas Fairbanks starred on the stage some years ago. It centers around the adventures of two American law clerks making a tour of Europe in a rented automobile. Just when they are down to their last penny, Hawthorne, one of the clerks, breaks the bank at Monte Carlo and, laden with wealth, the pair are misdirected into a tiny kingdom called Doinia. In the revolution that follows, Hawthorne is led by his romantic attachment to the Princess Irma to espouse the cause of royalty. Pacifying the country by rash promises and a judicious use of his new found wealth, the American injects pep and system into the kingdom and eventually turns it into a republic and wins the girl.

Jealousy glows in the heart of every man, but in the gipsy it is like a roaring fire. Gladys Brockwell in "The Sneak" gets a taste of gipsy jealousy which leads to hand to hand fights with knives and cudgels. In addition to its tremendous plot, the photoplay is a masterpiece of scenic effect.

The play tells the story of Rhona, a gipsy princess, who poses for an artist and thus incurs the jealousy of her affianced. The machinations of a jealous rival have brought her to this studio. The sequel to this plotting is absorbing in its heart interest and tragic in its development.

Constance Talmadge comes in the role of Helen Drayton, the young girl wife of "The Lesson." The picture is a screen version of the well known tale of married life by Virginia Terhune Van de Water.

The Helen Drayton of "The Lesson" reveals Constance Talmadge in one of the most pleasing and authentic characterizations of her entire career, since it is just the type of "regular American girl" to which this captivating screen star naturally belongs. The story concerns a young girl in a small town, who marries a city man, principally because she is tired of seeing the same old faces and dancing with the same old boys year after year. Her marriage is not a happy one, but she discovers she has talents which enable her to make her way in the world independently, and eventually she finds happiness as well.

Bryant Washburn has injected his breezy personality into "Too Much Johnson," William Gillette's well known farce. The result is a highly enjoyable screen comedy.

The Gillette play abounds in mirth-provoking incidents and seems built especially for the comedy star.

The story is about Augustus Billings, inordinately fond of fighting but compelled to forego the sport on account of the demands of an irascible mother-in-law. But when he is invited on a cruise by a flirtatious Frenchwoman, he cannot resist accepting her invitation, inventing a business trip to Mexico as an alibi. But his wife and her mother get suspicious and decide to accompany him. That necessitates a change in plans and leads to a humorous mess, involving a mix-up in names, a bad tempered overseer of Mexican oil property, and a vengeance seeking Frenchwoman. Billings finally succeeds not only in extricating himself, but in marrying off the mother-in-law to the overseer.

Tom Moore has a prize production for his thousands of admirers in "Thirty a Week" the picturization of Thompson Buchanan's successful stage play.

It tells the story of love finding the way to bridge the gulf that separates the strata of a girl of wealth and society and that of a stout-hearted American youth. Dan Murray (Tom Moore) is a chauffeur for a millionaire Wall street operator, whose daughter, Barbara Wright, is deeply in love with Dan. Her parents have arranged for her marriage with Freddy Ruyter, a man about town, but Barbara frowns upon their scheme and Dan elopes.

Ruyter vents his rage in a despicable way. He informs Barbara that Dan is untrue to her—that he has given money to another woman in his sight. Barbara is heart-broken and returns to her parents. Plans are made for the annulment of the marriage. The lawyer investigates and learns that Dan has given the woman the money to save the life of her invalid husband. Barbara's father hears the facts, throws Ruyter out of his home and Barbara and Dan go away to live happily ever after on thirty a week.—Adv.

THE NEXT CENTENNIAL IN HAWAII

By Rev. Hugh V. White.

Great things have been done in Hawaii during the past hundred years. In business and in industry, in education and in the improvement of social conditions we find much to wonder at. And in the modern, progressive city of Honolulu the wonder of these things was impressed upon us throughout the centennial week.

But the primary purpose of the centennial was to honor the first missionaries and to make known the fruits of their work. This is by far the greatest thing Human lives are infinitely more important than cases of pineapples, bags of sugar, great business organizations to the ships that carry the commerce of a prosperous territory.

To develop and enrich the souls of men was the work of the missionaries. That is a much greater thing than to develop the natural resources of the islands and to enrich ourselves in so doing.

Where will the emphasis be laid during the next hundred years? There is a tremendous temptation to us who are the heirs of the missionaries to depart from their high purpose. We can easily become enamored of the material things to be gained here and forget the human soil that needs to be tilled.

Shall we let business, industry, the gaining of wealth dominate us, or shall it be the great human interests of education, religion, the raising of the standards of human life all along the line? If we are true to the fathers it will be the latter.

They travelled twelve thousand miles to carry Christianity and civilization to the inhabitants of these islands. We do not have to move. A great host of non-Christian people have come to us, drawn by the needs of the industries of the islands. These people crowd about our very doors and require of us education and Christian teaching.

The responsibility for this task rests upon the entire Christian population. Every contact we have with these oriental folks, business, industrial or social, ought to reveal to them the Christian spirit of justice and good will. If we, by example and teaching, win them to Christianity we shall do much more than bestow upon them the benefits of our religion, which in itself is a great thing. We shall lay a foundation of mutual confidence and good-will upon which the nations of the Pacific may meet in lasting friendship. And we shall make it possible for those who come after us to celebrate in 2020 the achievement of a still greater thing than that which we have just been celebrating in 1920.

HAVE WE LEARNED OUR LESSON?

Because a few men who first held the Island Electric Company franchise could not agree among themselves all Wailuku district has been paying the penalty ever since.

That was some 8 years ago. It is a long time. For 8 years the community has been hampered in its development and rendered uncomfortable through an inadequate electric service furnished at an exorbitant price; has been ridden by an old man of the sea in guise of a monopoly that controls the district.

And all because 8 years ago some people were careless of their own interests. An order was permitted to step in and exercise a control over the affairs of the community such as no man or group of men ever had any moral right to hold. If the right was a legal one it merely demonstrates that man made laws are not always right. The rights of all of the people should certainly stand superior to those of any individual.

But if the lesson of those 8 years of discomfort has been learned Wailuku the cost may not have been worth while. If we can now stand together it seems possible that we shall be able to shake ourselves free and secure a proper electric service at a proper cost.

We believe that there are citizens of Maui who are patriotically inclined to establish a new electric company and to operate it in the interests of the people and not of themselves. If there are they are owed to community support and to a just return on their investment. The community should never be permitted to be sewed up as it has been in the past.

As to the proper method of getting rid of the Island Electric, that is to be determined. But one thing is clear and that is that we should not get anywhere unless we make a start. The time for kicking is past. It is now time to start something and invite the other fellow to stop it if he can.

AN APOLOGY TO MOLOKAI'S WOMEN

The statement of a correspondent published in the MAUI NEWS several weeks ago to effect that the women of Molokai are indifferent to the suffrage movement has brought to our desk a number of vigorous letters and it would seem that this correspondent had not intended the sentiment of the Molokai women correctly.

It is difficult to believe that Molokai women can be much different from women elsewhere in the territory, or throughout the world or that matter. We know positively that generally speaking there is the keenest kind of interest, not so much in the matter of securing the franchise which is all but accomplished, but in fitting themselves for intelligently exercising the duties of citizenship.

The time is very near when the woman who refuses to take an interest in public matters will thereby place herself in the slacker class fully as the man who shirks his duty as a citizen.

Many sharp comments are being made this week over the unsightly refuse dump which someone has seen fit to make on the beach near the electric power house. The Kahului bay drive is, and always should be one of the attractive features of Maui, and nothing should be permitted that will detract from it. Perhaps the Woman's Club see fit to include this matter in its crusade budget.

Electricity is the ideal fuel for cooking in this country, says Manager Blair. Evidently he wasn't referring to his own company's brand of juice, however, since his own family long since went back to the old reliable coal-oil stove.

It's against the law to run vehicles over the public thoroughfares of a kind that injure the roadway. But what are we going to do about it when it is the county's own trucks that are doing the damage?

Maunaloa Seminary To Benefit From Big Fund

Maunaloa Seminary is one of the five institutions which are to benefit from the proposed centennial fund of $400,000 which is being raised by the Hawaiian Evangelical Association. Of this total $200,000 is to be set aside as an endowment for the Maunaloa Seminary, the Hilo Boarding School, the Kohala Girls' School, the Mid-Pacific Institute and the Christian Workers Institute.

The Maunaloa Seminary, at Paia, is a school for girls and is the outgrowth of the East Maui Female Seminary, founded 1871. It has served a notable purpose on the island of Maui and aims to supply Christian education to girls of various races who desire to take advantage of its course. It aims to take students as boarding pupils and gives them a training in home life and home making. Careful attention is given to domestic science and sewing as well as to the regular work of the curriculum. This institution demands a certain financial assistance for increasing its equipment, in order to meet present day needs.

EXPORTS TO NEUTRAL MARKETS DECLINING

NEW YORK, April 29—A comparison of the figures for the foreign trade of the United States in January 1920 with those of January 1919 should awaken Americans to the fact that a creditor nation must also be a great importing nation, according to a statement by the National Foreign Trade Council.

"Last January the United States had a very substantial excess of exports to all continents but in the short space of one year, this favorable position has been lost, and now our exports exceed our imports only with two continents, viz: Europe and North America.

"While our exports to Europe increased 25 per cent, our imports rose 500 per cent. Exports and imports with North America increased in the same proportion. But while imports from South America were more than doubling, our exports to that continent were falling off one-third. Our exports to Oceania decreased 50 per cent, but imports increased 25 per cent. Exports to Africa decreased 50 per cent, while imports showed the tremendous increase of 1,000 per cent.

"These figures show that our favorable trade balance comes only from our trade with European countries and that our January trade would show an unfavorable balance of over $97,000,000 if we were to leave Europe out of consideration. Under the same conditions, our foreign trade for January 1919 showed a favorable balance of $61,234,000.

"The trend of our foreign trade, therefore, is very unsatisfactory. We have not succeeded in retaining the business gained in so-called neutral or non-belligerent countries, and our favorable balance arises only out of our European commerce. As soon as production on the continent returns to normal, we shall probably lose a good part of this trade, and we shall meet increased competition in the markets of the Orient and South America.

"Unless we desire to relinquish our standing as an exporting nation, we must take trade with the countries of South America, China, India and South Africa to offset the growth of our import business. Already exchange with these countries is unfavorable, and we are being forced to ship large sums of gold in payment of our debts."

Wm. Bailey Kamaaina Back After Long Absence

Maui is being visited since a week past by a well known resident of years ago, William Bailey, now of San Francisco. Mr. Bailey was sugar boiler for the Wailuku Sugar Co., some 25 years ago, at the time when the mill was located about a mile further up the valley than it now stands. Later he went to Oahu where he boiled sugar for the Honolulu plantation, and still later he was with the Makaweli company, on Kauai. During his years in the Islands he was able to make investments which have enabled him to retire and he now spends most of his time on the mainland.

It has been about 10 years since Mr. Bailey was on Maui and he has been receiving a warm welcome from his many friends among the older residents of the community. He states that he notes many improvements in and about Wailuku, mostly for the better, as well as in Maui as a whole. He is considerably concerned over the labor outlook for the future both in the Islands and on the Pacific coast of the mainland, and believes that the real solution will be found in the admission of a substantial number of Chinese.

Mr. Bailey may leave for Honolulu tomorrow or the first of next week but he will not return to the coast for several weeks.

MICHIGAN INVENTOR GETS $1,500,000 FOR NEW MACHINE

MENOMINEE, Mich., April 29—A small news story on inventions has brought $1,500,000 to Marshall Burns Lloyd, an inventor.

Several months ago Mr. Lloyd invented a new method for producing baby carriages, woven furniture and baskets. It was the only change in the method of weaving wickers since Jochebed, mother of Moses, wove a basket in which Pharaoh's daughter found him on the River Nile. Soon after Mr. Lloyd invented a loom which weaves wickers into any shape and does so thirty times faster and better than the fastest hand weavers.

The stories of these inventions were printed in patent journals and copied by a trade paper in Milwaukee known as "Patent Digest." New York representative of Lusty and Sons, London, England manufacturers, read the story investigated and reported to his clients. They came here last week and left with Mr. Lloyd $1,500,000 richer. This huge sum entitles them to extensive British Empire rights. Permits have been sold by the inventor in Canada, New Zealand and Australia.

Mr. Lloyd began life as a fish peddler in Meaford, Canada, although born in St. Paul, Minn. He was a hotel waiter, street hawk of soaps and cheap jewelry, mail carrier by dog train and small manufacturer. During his idle moments he tinkered away at inventions but never had money enough with which to produce big things until he sold a wire weaving device for bed springs, door and table mats. This was followed by a new method and machinery for making steel tubing. He was dismissed as an "insane inventor" when he tried to sell his patents to the steel corporation. Later independent firms which have since been absorbed by the steel corporation paid Mr. Lloyd enough money for American rights so that he could develop his wicker weaving ideas.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21—Announcement was made yesterday by the California-Hawaiian refinery that the basic price for raws was 19.56 cents per pound.

Landscape Gardener To Beautify Fair Grounds

Alexander Young, some years ago superintendent of Kapiolani park, Honolulu, has been engaged by the grounds committee of the Maui County Fair & Racing Association as superintendent of the fair grounds, at Kahului. Mr. Young is an expert landscape gardener and it is expected that he will be able in the course of six months or a year to greatly beautify the fair grounds with permanent planting of trees, shrubs and flowers.

The new superintendent has also been employed at the Moanalua gardens, of the Damon estate, Honolulu, and his qualifications are vouched for by Donald MacIntyre, head gardener of that institution.

Whether or not the position at the fair grounds will be a permanent one is not settled as yet, though it is hoped by the committee that, by sharing the expert's services with others it may be possible to make it so. Mr. Young is expected on Maui within a few days.

High Class Work By High School Girls Exhibited

Much interest has been manifested during the past week in the exhibits in the Puunene Store and Wailuku Hardware & Grocery Co.'s windows of work done by the Maui high school pupils of the home economics department.

The exhibits consist of dresses, underwear, smocks, and various kinds of picture framing and examples of household decoration, all of which are the handiwork of the young women of the school, and done under the direction of Miss McVay, the instructor in that branch.

It is the first time that this kind of a display has been made, but the encouragement that it has given the workers is such that it will probably be followed by others later in the season.

Natural Conclusion.—"He flushed when he saw I was perusing his countenance."

"Of course, he did. When a man finds his countenance is being perused, his face naturally gets red."—Baltimore American.

Laws Of Hawaii Pertaining To Women And Children

(Being the fourth of a series of papers prepared by a committee for use of the Woman's Suffrage Association.)

In this subject, one can hardly deal with those pertaining alone to women and children, as in the new era that is to dawn, all laws which affect the home are of interest and are to hold the close attention of women who will help to make them.

Before taking up the laws of Hawaii, it is of interest to note the status of women in general as defined by an early jurist, and which is of value to know, as it shows what has been the foundation for laws under which women have so far been considered and treated. Sir William Blackstone in 1769 in his "Commentaries on English Laws," wrote this:

By marriage, a husband and wife become one person in law; that is, the woman is suspended during the marriage, or at least incorporated and consolidated into that of the husband, under whose wing, protection and cover she remains. For this reason a man cannot grant anything to his wife directly, or enter into a covenant with her; for the grant would be to suppose her separate existence, and to covenant with her would be only to covenant with himself. The husband may give the wife moderate correction. For as he is to answer for her behavior, the law thinks it reasonable to entrust him with this power to restrain her by domestic chastisement, in the same moderation that a man is allowed to correct his children.

Then our own Congress so far agreed with him, that in 1865, a law was passed that provided as follows:

Any woman who is now or may hereafter be married to a citizen of the United States, and who might herself be lawfully naturalized, shall be deemed a citizen.

And in 1878 this law became a Section of the United States Revised Statutes.

In 1897 Congress passed a law which provided "That any American woman who marries a foreigner shall take the nationality of her husband," and Section 4 of this same law provided "That any foreign woman who acquires American citizenship by marriage to an American shall be assumed to retain the same after the termination of the marital relation if she continues to reside in the United States, unless she makes formal renunciation thereof, etc.

As these laws affect every woman in these Islands, it might make them a little clearer to illustrate with two anecdotes:

In 1913 a woman who was born in California applied to the Board of Election Commissioners in San Francisco to register as a voter. When it was found that she was married to a British subject, she was refused the right to register and had no vote. This is according to our law as at present in force.

A woman interested in educational work was talking to her Slovak servant girl about voting. She found that Mary had been in New York only four years but had married a naturalized citizen and at the last election she had cast her vote for the President of the United States. At the same time the educator found another woman, born in the United States, not married, who owned real estate and why, or family had been for generations in that locality, yet she was unable to have any say in the administration of the affairs of her own state, because in that state women has no suffrage privileges.

These two incidents point out that woman should work for: (1) A separate citizenship status for woman so that a large number of foreign born men will not be allowed to exercise the voting privilege just because they are married to Americans (naturalized citizens); (2) To have suffrage requirements uniform all over the United States.

Other Things That Should Interest Women

1) Equal Guardianship Law. Some states parents do not have rights over their children; in some states women have no rights at all as far as guardianship is concerned and even if a woman is divorced from a husband who is pronounced an unfit parent by the court, yet when the wife dies, the father may be given the custody of the children and dispose of them in any way he sees fit. Or by will a father may give his child away, so that a mother is forced to give it up to other relatives or to a guardian.

The laws of Hawaii do not provide equal guardianship; the father is in precedence over the mother in control and management of the child in all respects during his minority and is the natural guardian of their persons and property. In one of our laws it provided that every father may by his last will in writing appoint a guardian or guardians for any of his children whether born at the time of making the will or afterwards, to continue during the minority of the child, and every such testamentary guardian shall perform the same duties with regard to the person and estate of the ward as a guardian appointed by the judge. In this law the mother is not even mentioned. Women should work for an equal guardianship law, such as is now in effect in Utah which is quite specific in its points and seems very fair.

(2) Women in Office

Women should find a place in office wherever women or children appear for judgment or examination. In the office of the district attorney, in the juvenile court, a woman would be invaluable in adjusting marital difficulties; pleading for leniency or probation for wayward children; bringing reconciliations between parents and children; employer and employee. On the bench as a woman judge, as is seen in the example of Judge Jean Norris, Magistrate of the Woman's Court of New York, by her efforts to understand and sympathize with her sex she has won the respect of all and has done much good for her city and state. She has instituted a probation system which has been very carefully worked out and is proving to be of immense constructive value.

(3) Laws of Hawaii Fair But Not Broad Enough

As a rule the laws of our Territory are just and fair but they do not seem as broad as they might be and there seem to be a few laws which might be more rigidly enforced and which if done so would mean more to our younger generation in teaching them that a law is made to be obeyed.

Laws Which Should Be Made

(1) In regard to women as wage earners, and men too, no laws are in effect which call for a working day limit as to hours; no provision is made by law for the protection of laborers from dangerous machinery, systemic and sanitary conditions should be provided for, in the case of unlightened employers, although their number is rapidly decreasing; and the woman should be made entitled to a wage as good as the man beside whose side she works, provided her output is as satisfactory in quantity and quality as his.

(2) There is a Federal Child Law,

but in the Territory there is none, except the one which does not allow a female child under 16 to work in any mercantile institution, office, laundry, etc., between the hours of 9 in the evening and 6 in the morning. As there is no compulsory education after the age of 15, and as in the case of children who have not reached the 4th grade by the age of twelve, there is no further compulsory education, nor any provision made for their special education except that they are eligible to attend an industrial or vocational school if such is within four miles of their home or transportation thereto is provided. This provides an open field for the use of child labor with but few restrictions. It is to be hoped when the Home for the Feeble minded and the school for Defectives are built in Honolulu, for which appropriations have been made by our Legislature, that a special effort will be made by all women to watch for this class of unfortunates and see that they receive the proper training and the proper medical and surgical care which will tend to make them less of a burden upon the community and at the same time help them to reach a more normal condition of health and mind. An especially valuable provision of the act enabling the school for defectives to be built, is that one providing for transportation of the pupils. This removes one of the most disheartening things that the former school conditions were menaced with, namely the helpless condition of these children on the public streets, when going to and from school they were taken advantage of by unscrupulous people.

(3) Medical and Dental Supervision

Systematic clinics should be held for the medical and dental inspection of all children in the schools and

Hubbette Now First Officer On S. S. Lurline

Many residents of Kahului were surprised and pleased to greet Capt. K. Hubbette, for several years master of the tug Leslie Baldwin, filling the place of first officer on the Matson steamer Lurline when that vessel came into port last Saturday morning. Capt. Hubbette was making his first trip under the Matson house flag, having been for the past two years since leaving the Islands, sailing on various coast line vessels. The Lurline this trip was sailing with an entirely new force of deck officers under Capt. James P. Rasmussen, Edward Peterson, the old first officer, has taken command of the freighter Lake Gebhart. The Lurline's former second officer has been transferred to the Enterprise as first officer, while Capt. Peterson has taken the former 3rd officer with him to the Lake Gebhart as second officer.

BIG STRIKE IMPENDS IN MICHIGAN TIMBER DISTRICT

MENOMINEE, Mich., April 20—Paper mills, lumber mills and all other wood working manufacturing plants of the nation will suffer on "May 4" when many thousands of timber workers of all kinds "go on strike for eight hours' work and ten days pay." This is the greatest timber producing section in the United States so that when the strike breaks the paper shortage as well as all other products depending upon wood will be greatly augmented. Employers assert that they will close down permanently rather than meet the demands. They are showing fight by shipping out more lumber than has ever been known here. Great lumber piles which have not been depleted for fifty years today stand nearly empty.

CALLEAUX TO SERVE MONTH IN PRISON

PARIS, April 23—Joseph Calleaux, former premier of France, who was convicted yesterday of communicating with the enemy in time of war, was today sentenced to serve a term of three years in prison. The time that Calleaux has been in prison, however, was deducted. This leaves the former premier but one more month to serve.

should be worked for as a measure for prevention and cure of many ills that children are heir to;

Sidewalk laws should be made and enforced in crowded districts, and where streets are crooked, and for certain distances in front of schools so as to lessen congestion on the public roads.

Laws Which Could Be More Rigidly Enforced

(1) The curfew law reads as follows: "Any child under fifteen years of age who, except in case of necessity, or except when permitted so to do in writing by a judge of the juvenile court, shall go or remain on any public street or highway after seven o'clock in the evening or before four o'clock in the morning unaccompanied by an adult person, shall be deemed a delinquent child, and may be punished as by law provided." If this law is necessary it should be enforced; if not, it should be written off and one provided to cover situations that may arise.

(2) The law pertaining to billiard parlors, amended, thus reads as follows: "No male or female person under the age of eighteen years shall be permitted to be or remain in or about any premises where licensed billiard or pool tables are had or operated, etc." If it seems necessary for a mother to wish to restrain her child these two laws are valuable, as they are at her command to have enforced.

(3) Another law which is helpful to the parents as well as the school system, and if they are being enforced doubtless do much to keep up the school morale, is that one which provides that the deputy sheriff or a police officer designated by him shall not less than once a week visit every school, private or public, in which English is the basis of education, within the district of which he is deputy sheriff, to ascertain from the teacher, or officer or agent in charge thereof, what children, of what school age persist in themselves from such school, and it is also his duty, to see that all children under school age to attend school whether or not complaint is made by any teacher, officer or agent.

(4) Laws regarding expectorating in public places. Common decency makes its own comment regarding this law.

Laws Which Might Be Changed To Meet Larger Conditions

(1) A recent law passed by the Legislature is a step along advanced lines of community help. This act provides for the support of children of indigent, widowed or abandoned mothers and also provides for local boards to administer such support. This act is a very beneficial one, but is lacking in not being wide enough in scope as orphaned children and children with incapacitated fathers are not provided for.

(2) When the Legislature raised the age of majority for girls from 18 to 20, it would have been a constructive step to have also raised the age of consent.

(3) When a man is convicted and imprisoned for cruelty or for white slavery or for any crime and who has a wife or children or both, he should be put at such labor that it would be on a wage-earning basis so as to support his family and the community would not be doubly burdened by supporting them as well as the convict.

FAITHFUL PAIA LABORER GIVEN PENSION FOR LIFE

J. Kuwahara, a Japanese employed for 38 years on Paia plantation, Maui, departed for Japan at 6 o'clock this morning for a visit to his home country.

In view of his long and faithful service with the Maui Agricultural Company, he has been given a pension of $100 a month for the balance of his life. The fund, in addition to his savings, will enable him to live comfortably in Japan or to travel if he so chooses.—Star-Bulletin, April 24.

JAPANESE SAY SIBERIAN TROUBLE IS ONLY THEIR BUSINESS

VLADIVOSTOK, April 24—The Japanese diplomatic representative, Matsuda Iwa, attached to the staff of General OI, commanding Japanese troops in Siberia, said that recent events in Siberia concern only the Japanese and Russians and do not constitute a problem for consideration by allied diplomats.

He said a commission composed of four Russians and three Japanese will reach an agreement to end the fighting, which is now continuing at interior points.

LONDON, April 21—Japanese casualties at the capture of Nikolsh and Khabarovsk are reported here to have totalled 2,000.

Wilhelmina Soon Back Lurline For Kauai Run

It is understood that the Matson steamer Wilhelmina which has been undergoing an overhauling in San Francisco, will be again ready for service next week and will be ready to take up her old schedule sailing from the coast for Honolulu and Kahului on May 11. The ship was laid up for overhauling last September following her war service, but the work has been greatly delayed on account of the strikes in the bay cities.

The Wilhelmina will relieve the Lurline and alternate with the Manoa, as before the war, and the Lurline is to be sent to Port Allen, Kauai, each month, according to announcement just made from the Matson office in Honolulu. This is an innovation in supplying a passenger service to the northern island which it has never before had.

Our "Striking" Times—The Father—"But have you enough money to marry my daughter?"

The Suitor—"Well, sir, at the moment I only get 300 francs a month, but by going on strike every other month for higher wages, I shall be getting 1,000 francs by the end of the year."—Le Rire (Paris.)

NATURE STUDY IN THE GRADES

(By Fordyce Grinnell, Jr., Normal School.)

One of the best ways of connecting the schools with the plantations is to show the children that there are no more interesting things than are to be found right near these plantations. And there is not more interesting natural history subject than that of the sugar cane field. Besides, we have, on nearly each plantation, sweet-potato patches, taro patches and others of equal value for study. My type of nature study is aesthetic, an inculcation of the love of nature for the pure interest in it. We may or may not correlate this with garden work or "growing contest" which are utilitarian. I believe there should be an "intellectual interest," otherwise there will be work for a prize, a mark, for wages or money, whereas lies all of our industrial and labor troubles.

Let us not forget Thoreau's advice: "There is no hope for you unless the bit of green sod under your feet is sweeter to you than any other in the world." A person does his best work when he has this feeling; it may be innate or acquired.

Every school room should have some simple home-made insect cages, plant boxes, an observation bee-hive, and glass jars for mosquitoes and minnows. The living thing and its behavior is the greatest center of attraction to young people as well as to most older ones, as a common observation shows at a zoo, aquarium, or where ever living things are, for we are one of them.

"A sacred kinship I would not forego."

"Binds me to all that breathes."

The nature study in the grades should not be a "cut and dried" nature study, as most is, therefore, it should not be from outlines, guides, leaflets and books, no matter how good they are. It should be as spontaneous and natural as nature herself. Things should be studied as they present themselves, and living things are continually coming before our eyes, if we only keep our eyes open. We may look at living things around the plantation in more or less natural groups, we call them, scientifically ecological groups, a group of living things plant and animal, all living and struggling among themselves to win in life's race.

The sugar cane field, sweet-potato patch, taro patch, rice field and mango tree, each constitutes such a living, struggling group. It is fascinating to look at things that way. Even the human beings on a plantation may be looked at in that way!

For instance, there is nothing more interesting in form and habits than praying mantis with his highly modified front legs and voracious appetite for grasshoppers, sugar cane leaf hoppers another "bug" catch a green grasshopper with its strong front legs and slowly bites off and chews up, bit by bit, its struggling victim. Keep one of these animals in a glass jar with some mosquito netting over the top and have the children supply it with insects from the cane field. Then watch it lay its mass of eggs and what becomes of the little mantids when they hatch hundreds of them.

There are green and brown varieties but we do not know the importance of this phenomenon. Do not be afraid to tell the children you do not know anything. Tell them so and that there are lots of things we do not understand yet. They may find out something new.

There are twenty different spiders in the sugar cane fields, some make webs, others just jump over the leaves but all live—leaf-hoppers and other "bugs."

Some wasps and flies will hoppers for their food maintains a balance where; when this upset trouble follows.

The mongoose that lives in the cane field and elsewhere is an interesting animal to watch and study in a cage for its own sake, even if we do want to get rid of it for its noxious qualities. There ought, also, to be a cage of lizards to watch and be fed on flies and other "bugs."

The sweet-potato patch is an interesting place to get acquainted with. There is the common, big, green or black caterpillar with a "horn" at the hind end, repulsive to some people, but very interesting to watch in a cage. The five changes of skin and markings, the pupa (inactive stage, and finally the big, strong winged hawk-moth which proceeds to lay several hundred eggs to hatch into little caterpillars to eat the potato leaves, unless they are in turn attacked by little wasp-like flies which lay their eggs on them. The four different lives of this hawk-moth and its enemies, make a fascinating study. There are some green "cutworms" which make smaller moths. And there are some little (very little) caterpillars which make tunnels between the upper and lower sides of the leaves, which can be easily seen by holding the leaf up to the sunlight. There is a caterpillar which bores in the stem, and there is one which rolls the leaf together for a home, and all if these have little wasp-like flies which lay eggs on them which hatch into maggots and feed inside. There is a beetle which lives in the tuber (potato) and stalk, and there are other "bugs" besides.

In the taro patch and rice field we find associated and struggling together and maintaining a balance of numbers—minnows, mosquito wrigglers, tadpoles, frogs, snails, pordiscum and other living things, which can be seen and studied in a jar in the school room.

On the mango trees and guava bushes we find pretty, large green leaf hoppers different from that of the sugar cane, scale insects (mealy-bugs), and inside the fruits the white maggots of the mediterranean fruit-fly with a life history like that of the black-moth—eggs, maggot, pupa and fly; with its important African parasite to keep it in check. These are a few of the interesting things nearby.

Every school should have an observation bee hive, with glass on both sides, so that the wonderful life and activities of this social insect can be watched by the children, and the many lessons of cooperation and helpfulness be seen and learned. That would be a good education in itself, and ability to see interesting things and express in good English, but they see, here, as well as in the other natural things about them, and the lessons for a successful life be learned.

Let us go back to the natural instincts of seeing and doing for the joy of seeing and doing, and appreciation of living right where we are the best place in the world. Let the teacher and children go out to the cane field, sweet-potato patch, taro patch, rice field, mango and guava bushes, with eyes open, with a net, glass jars, pails, for the interesting things everywhere. For as Dr. Curtis said, the children will remember long afterwards, the teacher who plays and takes trips with them, outside of the school room and yard, whereas the teacher who is a mere classroom taskmaster will as soon be forgotten. It is as easy to be one as the other and a great deal more satisfactory.

The third monthly social by the teachers will be held this afternoon.

Boy Breaks Arms
Last week Wednesday, Mitsutoshi Terada fell from a mango tree. His wrists were broken and his face was covered with blood. He fainted as soon as he fell to the ground.—Katsunaka Nakamoto.

TOBACCO STOCKS AND INCOMES TO BE TAXED SOME MORE
WASHINGTON, April 22—Republican members of the House ways and means committee today tentatively agreed to tax all stock transactions an amount equal to the brokers' commissions. This is one of the new tax levies proposed to raise the soldiers' bonus. Three others include a tax of one per cent on final sales to consumers, a new levy on incomes, probably exempting incomes of $5000 or less, and an increase approximately of 15 per cent on present tobacco taxes.

ARMY AND NAVY OFFICERS TO HAVE PAY INCREASED
WASHINGTON, April 28—Pay increases for officers of the army, navy, marine corps, coast guard and public health service were agreed upon yesterday by the house and senate conferees.

First lieutenants, lieutenant colonels and colonels in the army, and lieutenants (junior grade), commanders and captains in the navy, are to receive an increase of $600 annually.

Major in the army and lieutenant commanders in the navy will receive an increase of $840 annually.

Captains in the army and lieutenants in the navy will get an annual increase of $420.

The increases in the army and navy will be advanced to January 1, 1920, and will remain in effect until June 30, 1922.

Agreement was made last week that enlistment in the navy should be received a 31 percent increase and those of the army 20 percent, both to be subject to the same time limitations as the increases for officers.

SCHOOLS OF MOLOKAI WILL BE CONSOLIDATED
Consolidation of the small schools of Molokai into the six-room school at Kaluaaha has been decided upon by the department of public instruction, and now awaits action by the Maui supervisors.

For years schools on Molokai have been one-room affairs for which it was impossible to do very little, as suitable teachers objected to being assigned there. In one consolidate school the pupils and teachers will be brought together in a central location where it will be possible to enlarge the activities and scope of the educational program, and where teachers will find more contentment.

Leprosy Cure Has Been Found, Says Health Board Head

HILO, April 23—"We know now that Chaulmoogra oil does cure leprosy in the earliest stages," according to Dr. F. E. Trotter, president of the board of health, as given in an interview in the Post-Herald.

That the oil as used up till quite recently was not a real cure for leprosy was known to medical science, but by a new process Dr. Dean of Honolulu is now reported to have produced a serum that by injection into the muscles of the hip does cure the milder cases of disease.

"Anyone who could see the long line of Hawaiians and others standing at the Kailhi receiving station awaiting their turn to have the Chaulmoogra oil injected would realize the absolute faith the sufferers have in the cure," added Dr. Trotter.

"Why," he continued, "the oil acts like magic, and, within a short time, hands that could not be opened and which had remain clenched all the time, since men of their own accord. Faces, once so covered with the marks of a leprosy become smooth as velvet. Limbs that were distorted and covered with sores straighten out and the hideous spots disappear. In the milder cases of leprosy the oil cures surely enough."

HOLSTEIN TO HAVE FIGHT FOR ELECTION SAYS LEWIS
With the avowed purpose of contesting H. Lincoln Holstein's seat in the territorial house of representatives, John G. Lewis, one-time deputy sheriff of North Kohala and a resident of Oahu for some years past, will leave for West Hawaii some time in June.

Lewis said yesterday that he would time his leaving for the Big Island so that he will have been a resident of West Hawaii three months just prior to the election on October 1st.

Although he is a Democrat, a convert of years' standing to the party of the Peerless One, Lewis believes that he will be able to command a large Republican following in West Hawaii. Speaker Holstein's political stronghold. Lewis will run for the house on the Democratic ticket and hopes to secure enough votes to be able to beat Holstein.

DEMOCRATS PREPARE FOR BIG FRISCO CONVENTION
CHICAGO, April 21—Homer Cummings of Connecticut, chairman of the Democratic national committee, was selected as temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention to be held at San Francisco, at a meeting of the national executive committee yesterday.

E. J. Hoffman of Indiana was named as temporary secretary, W. R. Hoffister of Missouri as first assistant secretary, J. J. Hughes of Oklahoma first assistant sergeant at arms.

Attacks Republican Party
Chairman Cummings, addressing the committee, said that the Republican party lost its moral character at Albany when the New York assembly ousted five Socialists who had been elected to its membership; at Washington in trying to keep Truman H. Newberry, convicted of election frauds, in the senate from Michigan, because Newberry's vote enabled the Republicans to control the senate.

This same action, he said, enabled the Republicans to pack the foreign relations committee against the treaty.

The whole treaty fight, Cummings declared, dates from the corrupt Michigan election and Republican supremacy rests upon a convicted criminal.

Save People Want League
The chairman further said that a 29,000 mile trip through the nation since May had convinced him that the people want the League of Nations.

Degrees of Redness—"He is what they call a parlor Socialist, isn't he?" "Yes," replied Miss Cayenne.

"Not a regular 'red'?" "No. He's what I should call a pale pink, and liable to fade at that."—Washington Star.
