

BIGGEST RAINS AND FLOODS SINCE MARCH 24, 1898 A MAN DROWNED AT PEARL PLANTATION ENTERPRISE THAT FAILED TO ON THE SITUATION KINYOUN QUEERING FRISCO

TORRENTS ALL OVER THE CITY LAST NIGHT.

Water Washed over all Bridges Along Nuuanu Stream—Culvert Damaged. Roads Damaged—Rain Figures.

At 7 o'clock last evening the worst rain storm since March 24, 1898 broke over the city and surrounding country. For a half hour water came down in sheets. Fort street was like a river only the car line appearing at intervals above the tide. The torrent sweeping down Alahea street carried rocks and grass with it. All of Queen street and the Esplanade became a lake and the water poured over the wharves into the bay with a roar even louder than the fall of the clouds on the house-tops.

As soon as it was possible to get out hundreds of people flocked to Nuuanu stream, fearing a repetition of the catastrophe of 1898 when the stone walls gave way and one bridge was swept from its foundation. The walls held their own, however, and for that reason there was not great damage in conditions streets. The covering of the flood in the stream sent the water up three feet higher than in 1898 and it surged over all the bridges from School to the harbor. On the Vineyard and Kukui street bridges piles of banana trees, grass and debris of every description were left. At Beretania and King street bridges the wash above the floors was not so great, although sufficiently to sweep them clean of dirt.

At the point where the Pauoa stream enters the city, Beretania street, the culvert was so badly damaged that it will have to be renewed. On the Walkiki side the River street sidewalk and about six feet of the street gave way and tumbled into the stream. The balance of the culvert has weakened and trembles under the feet of horses passing over it on the highway.

Up the valleys there was considerable damage to roads. The Pall road is badly cut up and will require extensive repairs. Reports from the other side of the island have it that there are great fissures in the road from the Pall down to Kaneohe. Tantalus and Punchbowl roads are also damaged and will require a deal of repair.

STEINER, PRESIDENT OF HART & COMPANY, SAYS THE LOSS WILL FOOT UP ABOUT $500.

Water and mud broke over the sidewalk on Queen street and invaded the auction room of James F. Morgan. About fifteen bags of rice were ruined and other goods on the floor were more or less injured. The store of L. B. Kerr and Company was also flooded but there was no mud, and consequently little permanent damage. Taking the city by sections the results may be summed up as follows:

At the naval station and along the water front the actual fall of rain was light enough, only 1.2 inches. The principal trouble there was from the torrents that came down from the city. For an hour or two everything between the old and the new fishmarkets was flooded.

At Walkiki and Kapoli paki the fall was light, being about the same as along the waterfront. The streams there rose very high, however, and at times serious damage threatened.

At Punahou the fall was only 2.8. There was no wind and no particular damage to streets.

At W. R. Castle's place on the plains it was heavier and the water coming down the streets from the hills cut up the roads considerably. Low Chinese houses throughout this section suffered considerable. The fall was 3.18 inches.

CAUGHT IN PUMP PIT BY THE FLOOD.

No Longer a Doubt but that Naone, a Native Machinist, is a Victim of Yesterday's Storm.

Naone, a native workman on the pumps of Honolulu plantation, was undoubtedly drowned at his post of duty by the floods of last night. The pit in which were the pumps is thirty feet deep and Naone was in there when the Waimalu stream overflowed, filling the pit. The pit filled so quickly that all the men in it had to scamper up the ladder to save themselves. It is believed that Naone failed to get out as he has not been seen since.

The rain started in at the plantation at about 4:30 o'clock. At about 5:30 it looked like the pit might be filled and several men were sent down to shut off the valves and prepare the machinery for a wetting, in case it should come to that. Waimalu stream rose rapidly and burst its banks suddenly and unexpectedly, rolling over into the pit. Some of the men saw the danger and escaped. Engineer Smith staid with the pumps until the full danger was upon him. When the party reached the surface Naone was not to be seen.

Mr. Smith thought the native had escaped and so reported to the plantation office. As he did not show up, however, inquiry was made at his house and unavailing efforts were made in other quarters to locate him. All night he was looked for and this morning the search was continued to other houses in the neighborhood.

This afternoon a telephone message from the plantation is to the effect that there is no longer any doubt but that the unfortunate man is at the bottom of the pit. Arrangements are being made to pump out the place to recover the body. It is supposed that something knocked down by the torrent of water when it entered, struck the native and is probably still pinning his body, preventing it from rising. Another theory is that it is caught in the machinery.

CAPT. BROKOW AND HIS MID-NIGHT VIGIL.

Story of the One Wrecked Vessel That the Tug Fearless Did Not Pull Off.

Captain Brokow of the tug Fearless and Assistant Harbor Master Friez are looking for the individual who started the report last night of a wrecked vessel ashore of Barber Point near Pearl Harbor. When they find him the person will think that the Fearless is showing him about the water front for both of the men are very angry.

About 11 o'clock last night some wildly excited individual rang the bell to Captain Friez's house and loudly called for that gentleman. The stranger was asked who he was and what he wanted. It was some minutes before he could give any kind of an explanation. He was out of breath, and excited beyond measure. Finally he managed to find sufficient words to say that it was reported a vessel was aground off Barber Point and the Fearless ought to go to her assistance. Who the fellow was he appeared to have forgotten in his excitement.

In any event, Friez donned his clothes and hunted up Captain Brokow and informed him of the report. Brokow, always enterprising and thinking that his lucky star was still shining upon him, hurried to the tug and caused the crew to get up steam. Then the crowd waited until additional news should come of the vessel in distress, but none came.

The rain came and went but the Fearless stayed on forever. No information arrived and Brokow refused to waste any more coal by risking the trip. At last the Captain became disgusted and after holding a council of war with Captain Friez decided that the report of the grounded vessel was a canard, so he shut down the fire and went to his home to bed, a madder and a wiser man.

JAPANESE PREMIER GIVES HIS VIEWS.

The Manchu Dynasty Must be Given a Chance to Rehabilitate Itself Before Peace Can Come.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 16.—The Examiner today publishes the following interview with Marquis Ito given at Tokyo October 8:

"I cannot understand," he says, "why the powers do not convene a conference of plenipotentiary representatives and speedily determine a conceded policy toward China. Though the armies are working harmoniously, a conflict is sure to arise if the Governments neglect longer to arrive at a definite understanding."

"In my humble opinion the present dynasty must be given a chance to return to power and the Emperor and court must return to Peking before any effectual settlement can be accomplished."

"As long as the Empress, the court, and the few thousand imperial forces will be separate and unable to represent Government in Peking, their decrees will be ignored, or at least ineffective, and the Viceroy who have remained passive will, for lack of central authority, soon be at odds with each other."

CAPTAIN RINDER OF COPTIC DENOUNCES HIM.

All Cabin Passengers of His Vessel Treated like Common Coolies by Kinyoun's Subordinates He Says.

The experience which the passengers on the Coptic underwent in San Francisco upon the arrival there on September 25th is declared by the officers of the steamship to have been most outrageous. In fact, such was the manner in which the passengers including the women were treated by the minions of Dr. Kinyoun the Federal quarantine officer at that port, that steps have already been taken to cause the removal of that official. In addition to this the indignation of the passengers is so great that it is likely the port of San Francisco will receive a black eye which will take it many months to live down.

"Nearly every body on the vessel declared that they would not visit that place again so long as such quarantine regulations were in force nor would they permit their friends to run the risk of being subjected to such indignity as the quarantine officers practiced. The only parallel case is that which a minister from this port received on the Coptic some time ago from this same Kinyoun."

Captain H. Rinder the commander of the Coptic was most indignant in his expression against the manner in which he and his passengers were treated.

"I have been on the sea for 25 years," he said, "but I have never been subjected to such an insult as that which was offered me on the last trip to San Francisco by the quarantine officials. They required every cabin passenger, women as well as men, and all the officers of the ship, including myself to submit to a medical examination. The men were lined up in one room while the women were placed in the library. Every body was required to remove their clothing in the presence of others in those rooms while the doctors made their inspection. They examined the people in an outrageous and disgusting manner."

ANOTHER MAN WANTS RENT.

NEW PHASE OF THE CHINATOWN CLAIMS.

Cunha Asks $675 for Use of Maunakea Premises Since Great Fire—Other Parties Refuse to Pay.

Another suit cropped up today for rent of premises in Chinatown that were burned last January. It is understood that many more are to follow. The new suit, which is the second this far filed, is instituted by E. S. Cunha against the Hawaii Land Company and is for $675.

It appears from the complaint that on July 28, 1893, John F. Colburn took a lease of two parcels of land on Maunakea street for ten years at a monthly rental of $75 a month. The lease was transferred to the Hawaii Land Company, rent was paid up to January 1 last. At that time, however, the district was in quarantine and shortly after the houses therein were burned and the sites closed up by the Board of Health.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Antone Bedal, aged 19, was accidentally shot by Pepe F. Cassinere, aged 15, yesterday. The ball, a 22, entered the left shoulder a few inches above the heart. The boys were pranking with the pistol when the accident occurred.

ADVISED TO RETURN.

Li Hung Chang Counsels Re-Establishment of the Court at Peking.

SHANGHAI, October 8.—The Chinese assert that the Governor of Shan-Tung and the Yangtze Viceroy have sent a joint memorial to the Empress declaring it to be impossible to guarantee the dispatch of money and provisions to Sianfu and threaten to resign unless the court returns to Peking.

It is believed that the Emperor is anxious to return and the Dowager Empress wavered until she heard of the expedition to Pao-Ting-Fu. Li Hung Chang's secretary reports that foreign troops, supposed to be British, have already arrived at Pao-Ting-Fu.

THE MARSHAL CASE.

Before Judge Estee yesterday afternoon argument was concluded in the W. H. Marshall habeas corpus proceeding. Argument against the jurisdiction of the court was made by W. O. Smith, General Hartwell and Mr. Lewis, arguments in favor of the jurisdiction were made by George D. Gear and J. T. De Bolt, the petitioner's attorney.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

YANCOUVER (B. C.), October 4.—The steamer Mowera brings the announcement from Australia that the tender for the construction of the Pacific cable has been awarded to the Telegraph Construction and Maintenance Company, which offered to lay the cable for $2,500,000, and to finish the construction of the cable within eighteen months. The Government is delighted at the contract price, which is less than was estimated.

Mr. James Reed, struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. AN OBJECT LESSON.

The rain of yesterday was certainly very heavy, but in the few hours of its fall there was no necessity for the streams to rise as rapidly as they did. In former times, say twenty-five or thirty years ago it required two or three days rain before the streams piled up water enough to rush in flood to the sea.

The reason for this is obvious. At that time there was not nearly such devastation of the forest lands and the heavy rains when they fell, instead of at once rushing off the bare hillsides into the gullies, were impeded and trickled gently among the tree roots and rank vegetation, which retained much of the earlier part of the rains, and only when all this sponge like mass was saturated, did the overflow reach the main channels and begin to find its way to the sea.

The rain, when it falls now, has nothing to stop it in its passage to the natural channels. It falls as on a galvanized iron roof and rushes headlong, carrying with it tons upon tons of soil and laying bare the mountain ribs still more, until they will finally become as denuded as they were when they rose, in barren nakedness, out of the lava womb of nature eons ago.

Kindly nature in the lapse of ages has clothed those gaunt rocks with a mantle of forest and ferns, grasses, mosses and brush wood. How many thousand years did it take her to complete her task? Who can tell? And then comes that vandal man and ruthlessly, in a short span of time undoes the work of nature and without forethought turns the smiling garden into a wilderness, hacking and slashing it without thought or care, and then complaining because of the results which he finds disastrous to himself. Yesterday's sudden freshets were a lesson.

MORE DANGER.

As time goes on the prospects of Sam Parker, the republican nominee for delegate to Congress keep increasing, and now show him well in advance of the other two candidates. Wilcox, who at one time seemed to sweep the board, to the everlasting disgrace of Hawaii, and to the certain injury of her prospects for anything from Congress in the way of harbor improvement and our many other needs has been steadily retrograding. He has shown his greedy hand too much.

It is dawning upon many of the Hawaiians and the sensible supporters of the Independents that this campaign is not for their good but for the good of Wilcox. The Rag Time politician has axes to grind. He thinks he has a cinch on the crown lands. If there is any question of compensation for crown lands it is the ex-Queen and not Wilcox who should have it. But Wilcox has no respect for any one, no regard for any one—no faith to any one, it is nothing but self, and self is beginning to peep out so strongly that the Independents begin to see and are falling away into the ranks of both Democrats and Republicans.

Were Wilcox elected it would be a serious blow to our prestige at the Capital. The men, who are interested in Hawaiian affairs and to whom the delegate would have to go in order to get assistance for passing what necessary legislation there could be got through for the benefit of the Territory, know Wilcox and his history very well. It is a most unsavory history, full of intrigue, full of cowardice, full of chicanery, full of base political tricks. The result is that as a delegate Wilcox would necessarily be despised and the Territory would be despised together with him. Wilcox is a menace to our prosperity and his election would amount to a territorial calamity.

NOT IMPERIALISM.

According to the Republican Standard a Democratic newspaper out south said: "There is no such thing as imperialism contemplated by any party. Legitimate and necessary expansion is an accomplished fact; talk of imperialism is arrant nonsense."

Still, when Senator Ransom sought to win votes for the North Carolina constitutional amendment, he said: "We intend to take the Negro out of politics forever;" and in an alleged Republican newspaper of the west the other day appeared this statement: "We will govern them (the Philippines) without any reference to their wishes." This western newspaper grossly misrepresents the Republican party, and that it has no right to call itself Republican. Whether Senator Ransom is entitled to speak for the Democrats must be left for Democrats to say.

The point which is obvious in these two utterances is that, whatever may be the intentions of parties, there are individuals who cherish the Imperialistic spirit, and who are using whatever influence they can command to put it into practice in the conduct of public affairs.

What the southern paper says of expansion is in no way pertinent to the topic of discussion. Of course, expansion is an accomplished fact. That might have been recognized from the first.

But there can be expansion with imperialism or expansion without imperialism; and there can be home government with imperialism or home government without imperialism. These opposing ideas contest for mastery now as they always have contested, simply because there are men who hold, conscientiously or otherwise, that it is better that they should rule and that others should obey. Some of them are very shrewd in cloaking their love of their own power with the assertion that their aim is the good of the governed. That is what Senator Ransom say about the North Carolina Negro. Most men, however, who know their fellow-mortals fairly well, are inclined to be suspicious of philanthropy like this. It seems to most of us more like the disposition to boss, in which elegant expression is summed up the essence of real imperialism.

Now we do not think the danger of either home of colonial imperialism of this sort is very great, in spite of the temptations and the disposition to exercise it. Because: first, the American people have too much good sense; and second, they have too much respect for sound moral principle.

But President McKinley himself settled the question of imperialism when he wrote:

"The Republican party does not fail to assert its devotion to the Declaration of Independence. That immortal instrument of the fathers remained unexecuted until the people under the lead of the Republican party in the awful clash of battle turned its promises into fulfillment. It wrote into the Constitution the amendments guaranteeing political equality to American citizenship and it has never broken them or counselled others in breaking them. It will not be guided in its conduct by one set of principles at home and another set in the new territory belonging to the United States."

And again he says: "Those who profess to distrust the liberal and honorable purpose of the administration in its treatment of the Philippines are not justified. Imperialism has no place in its creed or conduct. Freedom is a rock upon which the Republican party was builded and now rests. Liberty is the great Republican doctrine for which the people went to war and for which a million lives were offered and billions of dollars expended to make it a lawful legacy of all without the consent of master or slave. There is a strain of ill-concealed hypocrisy in the anxiety to extend the constitutional guarantees to the people of the Philippines, while their nullification is openly advocated at home."

The true imperialist is the Democrat, the man who believes in the constitution follows the flag doctrine. He would under that constitution take away the vote from the negro, as he would from the Hawaiian when the time came. It is the Democrat who is the imperialist, the Republican who is the expansionist. Expansion is the natural growth of a country upon national lines. The United States has been expanding right through the present century, and it will continue to expand as long as its healthy growth obtains. But expansion is not imperialism. Imperialism is what is practiced in the South, which disfranchises men of their vote either by law or by the shot gun.

The small boy and the pistol, and he didn't know it was loaded incident came off yesterday in Portuguese town, fortunately without fatal result. People will never learn the danger of leaving loaded firearms about.

The crop of murder and suicide through jealousy or through desertion of home has been quite a considerable one this year. Whether the place is getting morally worse, however, is a question. With a much larger population we must expect a larger amount of crime.

The fact that the Wahiawa people are willing to pay five per cent of their net earnings to the government for its water privileges is significant and shows what a valuable concession the new water company is asking for. The granting of the concession should be very carefully considered.

Between two stools one is apt to fall to the ground and Joe Carter seems to be in that fix. The Independents upon whose ticket he is resent Mr. Carter's advocacy of Prince David as Territorial delegate, and probably when the illustrious head of the party Rag Time Wilcox returns from his expedition to Hawaii, he will fire Mr. Carter. Wilcox, like another illustrious Charlatan, says "I' etat c' est moi," which being translated into conventional English means "I am boss."

The arguments brought forward over the Marshall case are very interesting and have called forth the thought of some of the leading members of the bar. They also bring forth the fact that the law is in many things thoroughly indecisive, and that precedents and authorities can be cited as cogently for one side as for the other. According to one set of arguments Judge Estee has jurisdiction in the case, according to another he has not, but Marshall has a remedy in a writ of error, and yet both arguments are buttressed with learned opinions of jurists and judges all over the mainland. Law may be excellent, but it is uncertain.

McKINLEY IS CONFIDENT

IS SATISFIED THAT HE WILL BE RE-ELECTED.

Has Received Reports From All the So-called Doubtful States—Will Let Bryan Do the Talking.

CHICAGO, October 9.—Walter Wellman telegraphs the following from Washington to the Times-Herald: President McKinley returns to Washington full of confidence in the success of the Republican ticket four weeks from today. He has had reports from all of the so-called doubtful states and he has no doubt of the result. All he asks is that the Republicans everywhere continue to work as they are now working and that there be no cessation of activity till the ballots are in and counted.

The President, as every one knows, is a most excellent judge of public opinion. His acuteness in this direction has long been admitted to be as nearly infallible as human judgment can be. He cannot easily be misled, either by the bluster of his opponents or the overconfidence of his friends.

The advices which the President has received indicate that the Republican electoral tickets will be successful in every Northern State east of the Missouri river, in all the Pacific Coast States, in the Border States of Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia and perhaps Kentucky. In such Western States as Kansas, North and South Dakota and Wyoming, with even chances for Nebraska, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Utah, and Nevada.

At the Cabinet meeting today there was an informal discussion of the political situation. All the members present were delighted at the serene confidence shown by the President, whose information and judgment they know to be of the best.

President McKinley is fully content to devote all his time to public business leaving Mr. Bryan a monopoly of the speechmaking. He is satisfied that the Democratic candidate is hurting his own cause in almost every speech he makes.

PRINCE TUAN'S SUCCESSORS.
NEW YORK, October 5.—The Sun's special correspondent cables from Shanghai on October 5th to the following effect: It is learned here that the Imperial office of which Prince Tuan was recently deprived have been given to two Manchus Wyan Chong and Shan Lam. The offices formerly held by Prince Chwang, who was recently degraded by order of court, are now filled by Swai Tu Pu and Pe Lu. The tendency of recent appointments has been to promote liberal men, who are replacing the anti-foreigners and conservatives.

AGE MARKS

Why do you sit calmly and just let your hair all fall out or get gray and do nothing to stop it? Is this common sense? Not a bit of it. No need of losing your hair in this way. And there is no need of your looking old before your time, either. The hair may be preserved and made beautiful by giving it the food found in—

It always restores color to gray or faded hair. Your hair may have all the dark, rich color of early life. Then why not have it so?

ORIENTAL TRADE REVIVING

COPTIC ARRIVES LOADED TO THE WATER LINE.

Carries Large Quantity of Machinery for Vladivostok Railroad—Great Demand for Room by Shippers.

The O. and O. company's steamer Coptic arrived this morning from San Francisco after an eventful trip. The vessel carries one of the heaviest cargoes she has done in months, the vessel being loaded down to the water line. Most of the stuff is flour for the Orient and heavy machinery for the Vladivostok railroad in Siberia.

There are a large number of cabin passengers for Yokohama, Kobe, Nagasaki, Shanghai and Hong Kong and about half a dozen stop over passengers for Honolulu. The majority of those aboard are foreign although several missionaries and commercial people are going to Chinese and Japanese ports.

The vessel brought about 125 sacks of mail for this place. She sailed promptly at 1 o'clock Wednesday, the 10th. Rough weather was encountered for a day after leaving San Francisco but the balance of the trip was delightful. Captain Rinder found, day before yesterday, that he would not be able to reach here until Tuesday night so he slowed down and loitered along for the rest of the trip in order to bring the boat into Honolulu early this morning.

A great revival in Oriental trade is reported by the Coptic. Business with the steamship companies fell off to a large extent during the war in China but with the cessation of hostilities and the restoration of peace, commercial interests revived. The Coptic took about as big a cargo as she could handle and if her capacity had been greater she could have gotten double the freight that was stored away in her. Other companies are enjoying the same demand for freight transportation.

Since her last trip here a change has been made in the purser of the Coptic. Mr. Goodrich who married recently retired from sea service to accept a position with the Occidental Hotel in San Francisco. His berth on the steamship is taken by A. E. Rennie. The latter is well known in Honolulu as he served for eight years as purser of the Belgic when that vessel was on the Honolulu run. The Belgic made her last trip here in 1898 and went to England. She was purchased finally from the White Star company by the Atlantic Transport Company and during the Boer war was utilized as a troop transport by the English government. Mr. Rennie was in the company's San Francisco office until given his new position. The vessel leaves for the Orient at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

TRIED TO KILL HIS WIFE.

Steigmann was Jealous Because She Deserted Him.

Benjamin Steigmann, a Jew aged 39 years, shot his wife twice last night because she had deserted him for another man. After the woman fell Steigmann turned the pistol on himself and inflicted a wound in the head from which he died at a late hour this morning.

Steigmann kept a little novelty store on King street close to W. W. Dimond and Company's place. Several months ago Steigmann went to the coast on a business trip. Upon his return his wife informed him that she had taken up with another man named Berry or Behre. She asked her husband to secure a divorce. He refused. Finally on Saturday night the woman left her husband and took a room at the Honolulu hotel with Berry registering as man and wife. The following night Steigmann sought out his wife and begged her to return to him but she refused.

Last night accompanied by the woman's father he again went to the woman and pleaded with her to give up her lover. Upon her refusal Steigmann shot her twice in the right side of the back below the scapula. He then shot himself on the right side of the head. Both of the victims were removed to the Queen's Hospital where an operation was performed upon the woman. Steigmann died without recovering from the effects of the shock. The woman was alive this morning and some hopes of her recovery were expressed. A coroner's jury was impaneled by Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth and the inquest will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at his office.

EPOCH MAKING LITIGATION

IMPORTANT CASES BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT.

They Involve the Porto Rico Legislation and the Legal Relation of the Philippines to America.

WASHINGTON, October 8.—The October term of the United States Supreme Court which began today will have a memorable mark upon the history of this country. The cases now in the docket involve the political, financial and economic relations between this Government and Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. Two cases involve the extradition of Neeley, charged with booting the Cuban postal revenues.

The constitutionality of the Porto Rican tariff law is involved in the appeal of Goetze, an importer of tobacco from the decision of the United States Court for the Southern District of New York, sustaining the rates imposed by the Collector of Customs at New York.

The validity of the relations between the United States and the Philippines is involved in the title "Fourteen Diamond Kings vs. the United States," being the appeal of Emilio J. Pepke from the decision of the United States Court for the Northern District of Illinois. Pepke brought the rings into the United States from Manila and was arrested at Chicago for smuggling. He appealed the case to the Supreme Court on the ground that the Philippine Islands were part of the United States and as no duty could therefore be levied his arrest and the confiscation of the rings were illegal.

PLANTERS AND FORESTRY.

The Planters' Association will hold its annual autumn meeting beginning next Monday. One of the subjects which will come up for discussion is that of forestry. The Association in the past has given much consideration to this subject. In view of the drought of the past year the following report by David Forbes of Kukulhaele considered an expert forester made to W. M. Forestry of the Association in 1897, is specially timely. Mr. Forbes says:

It seems proven that the preservation of an appropriate percentage of the area of these Islands, as forests, cannot be left entirely to private enterprise, in which case it becomes a duty of the state to interfere. The ever increasing number of people in these Islands as settlers in search of land for agricultural purposes, and how an existence can be maintained on the lands acquired (with climate and moisture suitable for their industries) are deserving of serious consideration.

Not alone to sugar-cane growers, the enterprising coffee planter, and even the rancher to a certain extent, but to all engaged in any cultivation where products of the soil are his means of support, does the maintenance of forests in a certain proportion mean a matter of the greatest importance.

In the district of Hilo, but more particularly that of Hamakua and Kohala, for many years the upperland forests have suffered from the incursions of cattle, with results which are now visible to even the most casual observer. Young seedlings and coppice (or supplemental forest) are entirely destroyed, leaving but the decaying tree-butts, to mark where healthy forest grew. While in places of the little trickling brook we find but an empty channel ornamented with the bleached skeletons of cattle, who had wandered there to relieve their thirst, but only found disappointment and death. At Kukulhaele for the past twelve years, at two elevations correct record of the rainfall has been preserved. The past year shows but a total of 34 15-100 inches at 500 feet elevation, while in former years a rainfall of from 80 to 100 inches was not considered unusual. Periodical droughts may happen here as elsewhere, but apart from this, the opinion of several men who have lived for sixty years in these districts, as well as the careful observations of Dr. Guppy, a student of nature, who a few months ago spent some time on the summits of our Island mountains, go to show that the rainfall and means of conserving the same is much less than that of years gone by. With the future of Island industries and prosperity of the country at heart, is it not then time to consider what course should be pursued to benefit the community; apart from interests of the individual? Where as in the present case forests are necessary to produce climatic and mechanical effects, a wise administration will assure the maintenance and protection of an adequate proportion of the country under such.

In applying the foregoing conclusions to these Islands, I do not, however, overlook the facts, and arguments of many, that through the insular position and exposure to the moist air currents which come direct from the sea, this group is not entirely governed in its rainfall by the area of forest on its mountain slopes. It is beyond dispute, however, that forest is invaluable in the position it bears on the retention of moisture, preservation and regulation of the water supply in springs and rivers, ensuring an even flow and preventing floods; or where the water is in demand for irrigation, etc., to reduce evaporation on the catchment areas. Most of us are aware that where forest has become denuded on the mountain slopes, the varieties of vegetation which survive are not of a nature to help and prepare the soil to retain water for any length of time.

The consequences are, that so soon as a heavy rain falls, it simply runs over the surface, and is lost on lower ground, in which its way is rapidly found to the ocean.

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

Bits of Paragraphs that Give Condensed Notes of the Day.

Neckwear in very fancy designs at The Lace House.

The annual meeting of the Kiloahana Art League will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The quarterly meeting of the Queen's hospital is called for Thursday October 18th at 10 a. m.

There will be a special meeting of Honolulu Commandery this evening. Order of the Temple.

The Kiloahana Art League has issued invitations for an "at home" to be given Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

H. E. Dillingham will be expected back by the Queen (which takes the place of the Australia) on the 24th.

Preparations are being completed today for the grand Republican rally in the cathedral square tomorrow evening.

The Republican drill corps are ordered to assemble for parade at the drill shed on Thursday October 18 at 7:30 p. m.

Official badges for the reception of Shriners can be had from the Masters of Lodges, J. Mort Oat, C. M. White and W. L. Stanley.

A siren whistle has been installed in the brewery on Queen street. It has a sound very much like that of the steamer John A. Cummins.

A charity "at home" will be given by the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent society at the residence of Mrs. E. S. Cunha, from 2 to 5 o'clock this afternoon. Solomon's quintette will supply music.

Robert Wilcox has gone to Hawaii to try to solidify his following for the election. He will also call at Maui. Wilcox believes that the "last man" before election will leave the best impression.

J. S. Bailey, manager of Baileys' Honolulu Cycles gives notice that he has about thirty bicycles in the repair shop of the company that will be sold on or about November 29, 1900, at auction, if same are not previously called for and charges paid.

A LEG BROKEN.

George Keonohohala, a young Hawaiian, is at the Queen's hospital with his left leg broken below the knee. The fracture is a bad one but not serious. He was accidentally struck by a coal basket on the Inter Island wharf this morning while helping to unload the ship Fort George. The patrol wagon promptly removed him to the hospital where he received immediate attention.

FENCING OFF KING STREET.

Most of the sidewalk and a portion of the mauka side of King street in front of the Alexander Young property are being fenced off. The large tree which grew in the street near the curb was cut down today.

IN THE SHADOW OF DEATH.

Victim of Last Night's Tragedy at Queen's Hospital.

Mrs. Steigemann the woman who was shot by her husband at the Honolulu Hotel last night, at 2 o'clock this afternoon was resting quietly at the Queen's Hospital, and her condition was more favorable than it was hoped it could be. No opinion that she will ultimately recover has yet been ventured.

An operation was performed by Dr. Cooper assisted by Dr. McDonald and Dr. Emerson. The object was to find the bullet. This was unsuccessful. A perforation in the intestines was discovered and sewed up.

The man who it is said alienated the woman's affections from her husband, goes by the name of Frank Berry. He is an Austrian and has been in this country about a year, but speaks very good English. He is said to be a carpenter employed on the new Club Stables on Fort street. He has not been at his work, nor at the place where he lives, today. Search is being made for him, but so far without avail.

The police have not been able to ascertain where the children of the couple Steigemann are living. The father of the woman stated that their father had put the children to board in the country but where he had no idea.
