PHORCED PHORACING

DUTY'S PATH.

Out from the harbor of youth's bay
There leads the path of pleasure;
With eager steps we walk that way
To brim joy's largest measure.
But when with morn's departing beam
Goes youth's last precious minute,
We sigh 'twas but a fevered dream—
There's nothing in it.

Then on our vision dawns afar
The goal of glory, gleaming
Like some great radiant solar star,
And sets us longing, dreaming,
Forgetting all things left behind,
We strain each nerve to win it.
But when 'tis ours—alas! we find
There's nothing in it.

We turn our sad, reluctant gaze
Upon the path of duty;
Its barren, uninviting ways
Are void of bloom and beauty.
Yet in that road, though dark and cold
It seems as we begin it,
As we press on—lo! we behold
There's heaven in it.

—Ladies Home Journal.

THE MARCH OF COMPANY A.

"Forward, march!" was the Captain's word.
And the tramp of a hundred men was heard,
As they formed into line in the morning
gray;
Shoulder to shoulder went Company A.

Out of the shadow into the sun,
A hundred men who moved as one;
Out of the dawning into the day
In glittering files went Company A.
Marching along to the rendezvous,
By grassy meadows the road ran through,
By springing cornfields and orchards gay,
Forward, forward, went Company A.

And the pink and the white of the apple trees
Falling fast on the fitful breeze,
Scattered their dew, scented spray
Straight in the face of Company A.
A breath like a sigh ran through the ranks
Treading those odorless blossom banks,
For the orchard hillsides far away,
The northern hillsides of Company A.

Forward, march! and the dream was sped;
Out of the pine wood straight ahead
Clattered a troop of the Southern gray
Face to face with Company A.

Forth with a flash in the Southern sun
A hundred sabres leaped like one.
Sudden drum-beat and bugle-play
Sounded the charge for Company A.
Halt! What is here? A slumbering child,
Roused by the blast of the bugle wild,
Between the ranks of the blue and the gray
Right in the path of Company A.

Nothing knowing of North or South,
Her dimpled finger within her mouth,
Her gathered apron with blossoms gay,
She stared at the guns of Company A.
Straight way set for a sign of truce
Whitely a handkerchief fluttered loose;
In front of the steel of the Southern gray
Galloped the Captain of Company A.

To the saddle bow he swung the child,
With a kiss on the baby's lips that smiled,
While the boys in blue and the boys in gray
Cheered for the Captain of Company A.
Forth from the rank of his halted men,
While the wild hurrahs rang out again,
The Southern leader spurred his way
To meet the Captain of Company A.

Out of the arms that held her safe
He took with a smile the little waif;
A grip of the hand 'twixt blue and gray,
And back rode the Captain of Company A.
Up there in the distant cottage door,
A mother clasped her child once more,
Shuddered at sight of the smoke cloud gray,
Shrouding the path of Company A.

A little later and all was done,
The battle was over, the victory won,
Nothing was left of the pitiless fray
That swept the ranks of Company A.
Nothing was left, save the blood stain
Darkening the orchard's rosy rain;
Dead the chief of the Southern gray,
And dead the captain of Company A.

Fallen together the gray and blue,
Gone to the final rendezvous;
A grave to cover, a prayer to say,
And—Forward, march! went Company A.

PROGRESS.

The Life of the Land is Established in Righteousness.

HONOLULU, JAN. 10, 1894.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

We made a suggestion yesterday for the benefit of the Advertiser in regard to a new version of Hawaii Pono as desired by the churchly morning paper. An esteemed contemporary sends us a song composed by the late venerable Father Lyons of Waiman, Hawaii, which he thinks would be fitting to be used as a National Anthem and sung every Sunday at the Central Union Church by the descendants of the true missionaries, as of great benefit for their present and future spiritual welfare. If "Professor" Lyons instead of Sec'y Taylor will "presided" at the organ the effect would be magnificent indeed. This is what good Father Lyons taught the Hawaiians to sing:

Pas man kuu manao aloha
Pas man, pas man,
Pas man, kuu manao aloha
I kuu sina hana e!

CHORUS:

Aole an e kipi
No No No, No No, No,
Aole an e kipi, kumakia
He aloha sina mau.

For the benefit of those of the members of the Central Union who lately have "forgotten" the Hawaiian language we present a free translation:

Everlasting my love shall be
Steadfast ever, steadfast ever
Everlasting my love shall be
To my own, my native land.

CHORUS:

I will never be a traitor
No no no, no no, no
Never be a double-faced traitor
My love shall ever be true.

It is becoming more and more obvious all over the world that the men who are selected for diplomatic and consular services by the U. S. administrations are only too apt to get into trouble and cover the name of America with odium and contempt. This is especially the case of those men who are appointed by the Republican party. Egan in Chile, Mizner in Central America, and Stevens in Hawaii, belong to history already as examples of the inability of the ordinary American politician to act as becomes a diplomat and a representative of a great power. We are pleased to add some more names to the list of infamous shysters who disgrace the United States in foreign countries. The following is from the New York World:

Washington, Dec. 16.—The State Department has received a copy of a recent issue of Il Corriere di Catania (Courier of Catania, Sicily), in which appears a violent attack upon the American consular service in general, and upon the United States Consuls appointed to Catania in particular. A translation of a part of the articles is as follows:

"Mr. C. B. Hurst, United States Consul, left to day. We are glad of his departure, which takes away from us the annoyance of one of the most disagreeable functionaries of the foreign colony. The United States Consulate is a disgrace to Catania, as of its last three representatives each has been worse than his predecessor. To say nothing about Mr. Charles Heath, whose ungracious fame is still alive in Catania, let us speak one moment about Mr. Hurst, so well known among us for his personal behavior and conduct, which was that of absolute indifference to all that surrounded him. It approached sometimes the conduct of a country tout, as he did not frequently hide the most absolute incapacity in attempting to conduct a business of least considerable importance.

"Besides the reputation which all those who have been thrown into business contact with him gave him, he is regarded as contaminated with an insane and indescribable horror of domestic life, which has kept him apart from all social contact with the people here; just because every one knew of his brutality.

"It is certainly deplorable and strange that a great nation like the United States should send abroad representatives so poor in manners and spirit as to be made useless for those very reasons which destroy their influence, as frequently they cannot command any respect in the places to which they are sent.

However, we hope on account of the great sympathy which we have with the American people that the new Consul will not be a maniac or a man so little educated and perverted of soul as his predecessors, especially like the last, Mr. Hurst, of whose presence we have at last had the good fortune to be rid."

Catania is an important port of export of fruits and oil to the United States. The retiring Consul was an appointee of the last Administration, and is now on his way home.

The appointment of Mr. Kaui to be Sheriff for the District of Ewa is very characteristic of the Provisional Government. Because Mr. Kaui has sported a blue annexation badge he has been considered fit by the Attorney General to hold the responsible position to which he has been appointed. The blue badge has evidently made Mr. Smith forget that the honest (!) and super-virtuous Legislature of 1888 expelled Mr. Kaui who was the member from Ewa for being convicted of being a bribe taker—but perhaps bribetaking is not considered a sin among the P. G. rulers and not considered a bad quality for a police officer. We now fully expect to see Mr. W. O. Smith pitchfork that other honest (!) Hawaiian Mr. J. W. Kalua into office—say as judge for Wailuku. "Birds of a feather flock together" seems to be a true proverb as far as our missionary government is concerned.

RIDICULUS MUS.

MORE COMMENT ON MR. DOLE'S LABORS.

PART II.

(Communicated.)

Referring to the right of the President of the United States to interfere in the settlement of the present domestic—international—affair. Mr. Dole says, that, "such right could be conferred upon him by the act of this Government, and that alone; or it could be acquired by conquest." Perhaps Mr. Dole will deny that such right was most undoubtedly conferred on the President, when he and his satellites requested Minister Stevens to assume a Protectorate over the Hawaiian Islands. To which request Minister Stevens readily acquiesced and issued an Official Proclamation to that effect; stating to the "Hawaiian people," that "I hereby, in the name of the United States of America assume protection of the Hawaiian Islands for the protection of life and property, and occupation of public buildings and Hawaiian soil, so far as may be necessary for the purpose specified." "This action is taken pending, and subject, to negotiations at Washington." And on the first day of February 1893 witnessed the see of the raising—with the booming of cannon—of the national ensign of the United States of America over the government buildings. To take the place of the ensign of the Hawaiian Kingdom.

Although, when, on the first day of April the Hawaiian national ensign was restored to its position—without the booming of cannon—and the United States troops withdrawn from their shore barracks, it does not appear that the right of interference was withdrawn; in fact, the statement made by Minister Willis, to the effect, that the United States Naval Forces, would keep peace and order in Hawaii, tends to strengthen that conclusion. The basis of the right of the President of the United States to interfere in our present domestic affairs, appears to be well established.

Mr. Dole endeavors to score a point on the subject of arbitration. In support of his argument he says firstly: "If an intention to submit the question of the re-instatement of the ex-queen had existed, why should her attorney have been refused passage on this boat?" (the Claudine). Secondly: In reference to the Queen's letter to President Harrison, he says: "If any understanding had existed at that time between her and the Government to submit the question of her restoration to the United States, some reference to such understanding would naturally have appeared in this letter." Thirdly, speaking of the Queen's Protest, he says, that it is "devoid of evidence of any mutual understanding for a submission of her claim to the Throne, to the United States." And that, "the document was received exactly as it would have been received if it had come through mail."

Did Mr. Dole expect that the Queen should have an understanding with him and his satellites regarding the subject matter, of submitting the question of her restoration to the United States? Why should she have done so? Were not the following clauses in the Queen's protest sufficient?

"I, Liliuokalani, by the grace of God and under the Constitution of the Hawaiian Kingdom Queen, do hereby solemnly protest against any and all acts done against myself and the Constitutional Government of the Hawaiian Kingdom by certain persons claiming to have established a Provisional Government of and for this Kingdom."

"Now to avoid any collision of armed forces and perhaps the loss of life, I do under this protest and impelled by said force, yield my authority until such time as the Government of the United States shall, upon the facts being presented to it, undo the action of its representative and re-instate me in the authority which I claim as the constitutional sovereign of the Hawaiian Islands."

And when Mr. Dole as Chairman of the Executive Council of the Provisional Government, endorsed that protest, "received by the hands of the late Cabinet, this 17th day of Jan., A. D. 1893," that was not an ordinary Foreign office rubber stamp letter receipt, but was undoubtedly an acceptance of the terms of the Queen's protest. Is not that evidence enough, of a mutual understanding?

So far as the Queen's letter to President Harrison is concerned, there was no occasion for her to mention anything "of a mutual understanding" on the subject to restoration,—her protest and its acceptance by Mr. Dole for and on behalf of the Provisional Government was all that was necessary to cover that point.

The fact, that Mr. Dole's endorsement on the Queen's protest might prove to be an acceptance of its terms and be regarded as such, must have been an after-thought, hence the refusal to give her Commissioner passage on the Claudine, although, she had been assured, that every facility would be given her to lay the subject matter before the authorities of the United States at Washington. But the Executive Council were of the opinion that under the circumstances they felt it incompatible with the public interest to allow any representative from her to take passage on their dispatch boat."

Mr. Dole's memory seems to have failed him on two or three occasions. Here is one instance, "As to the ex-queen's notice of her appeal to the United States, it was a matter of indifference to us. Such an appeal could not have been prevented, as the mail service was in operation as usual." Does Mr. Dole not recollect, that it was not until sometime during the afternoon of the 18th that the P. G. decided to allow a mail to go forward by their "dispatch boat" and which closed at an hour during the night, and also that he informed the Queen that all despatches entrusted to the care of the Executive Council would be forwarded, should she desire to send any?

It is noticeable, that wherever Mr. Dole has occasion to refer to Queen Liliuokalani, he does so with the word "ex-queen." Such want of decorum and respect from a gentleman and diplomat as Mr. Dole is often referred to, is surprising. It is uncalled for. The title of the Lady is still that of Queen.

Thurston's Denial.

Mr. Thurston's reply to the report of Mr. Blount is very lame and disproves nothing that Mr. Blount has charged against Stevens and the provisional government. Thurston, the minister of the provisional government, can be expected to give only a biased and equivocal report of the proceedings that have kicked up such a rumpus in the United States.

Mr. Thurston says, when the committee of safety was told by Stevens that he intended to land troops and he was informed that the committee was not ready to act and replied that he would land them whether the committee was ready or not, "the troops were landed to protect American citizens and property in the event of the impending and inevitable conflict between the Queen and the citizens" and that the committee had no knowledge of "where the troops were going or what they were going to do."

Mr. Thurston is mighty cute but not cute enough. The "American citizens" of whom he speaks are the annexationists who created all the trouble. As residents of Hawaii they protested against the new constitution promulgated by the Queen, and as former citizens of the United States they organized a provisional government "pending annexation with the United States." These are the persons and theirs the property protected by American marines whose destination and purpose were unknown to those to be defended "pending" the "inevitable conflict" that never occurred.

Thurston handles his untruths not injudiciously. There is not a doubt in the mind of any sensible man that there was a distinct understanding between Stevens and the annexationists and the late administration. The story in Stevens' paper a year ago showed he was in touch with the revolutionists and when the Harrison administration assured him that Hawaii would be received in case of revolution he made a mess of the whole affair—so far as the plot of the annexationists is concerned. Had no such assurances been received there would have been no provisional government "pending annexation."

There are other flaws in his letter which may be mentioned later, but these are enough to destroy any value its author intended to give it. There is not a line in it of sufficient importance to modify the instructions of the minister to Hawaii. The wrong must be undone.—Harrisburg Patriot.

The Sober Second Thought.

In speaking of the Hawaiian question, the Financial Chronicle, a conservative, unbiased, non-partisan, commercial and financial journal of recognized ability and high standing, makes the following remarks: "The policy of the United States Government regarding Hawaii, as outlined in the report to the President by Secretary of State Gresham, has been harshly criticised in certain quarters, a result which was no doubt foreseen and fully expected. It appears to us that the stand which it is proposed to take in the matter is fully justified by the facts of the case, and is in consonance with personal honor and national dignity. Moreover, we have no hesitation in saying that to our mind the principle which this policy embodies is the only one that can or should be accepted for guidance in the conduct of our national affairs." There is every reason to believe that these utterances are in accord with the sober second thought of the country.—Buffalo Courier.

POUND MASTER'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons, that there is at the Government Pound at Makiki, two stray horses, 1 white horse, brand indeterminate on the left hip, feet are shod. 1 gray horse unbranded. Both are in poor conditions.
Any person or persons owning these horses are requested to come and take the same on or before 12 o'clock noon of SATURDAY, January 20, 1894.

Anti-Annexation Feeling in Hawaii

Strong corroborative evidence that the Administration has acted wisely in the declining to annex Hawaii is supplied by Prof. William Libbey, of Princeton, who has just now returned from a two months' visit to the islands.

During his stay he carefully sounded the opinions of the Hawaiians themselves on the annexation question, and, like Minister Blount, reached the conclusion that they were strongly opposed to political union with America. The coolie system of labor, upon which the plantations depend, is wholly repugnant to the spirit of our institutions; yet its abolishment would seriously, if not fatally, affect the largest interests in the islands. The Americans, English and Germans who control the Hawaiian sugar industry are therefore bitterly opposed to annexation, while the native islanders are patriotically devoted to the monarchical system of government which they have inherited from a remote historic past.

The annexation spirit prevails only among certain restless classes of foreign residents whose prospects will be favorably affected by the proposed union, and who advocate it for purely selfish reasons. In view of these facts there can be no doubt that the Administration has acted properly in declining the propositions of the revolutionists who had arbitrarily seized control of the islands.—Baltimore News.

The Policy of Infamy.

Latest returns from Hawaii put the late Republican administration in a bad light. If the New York Sun will now transfer its scare-head "The Policy of Infamy" to a fair and full account of what President Harrison did in Hawaii, it will thus be able to make good its boast, "If you see it in the Sun it's so." Special Commissioner Blount's report shows that the present government of Hawaii is a government upheld by bayonets.

The question of the advisability of a monarchical government is not up for consideration so far as Hawaii is concerned. The United States government, however, has been put in a shameful attitude by the act of the Harrison administration. Mr. Blount's report demonstrates plainly that the power of the United States was used to force the Queen from the throne. Our government stands in the attitude of the strong bully of a weak nation.

Our forces were used to coerce the late monarchy in Hawaii and were used to further the objects of a ring there. Thus far, therefore the "policy of infamy" has been the policy of the Republican administration under Benjamin Harrison.—Richmond State.

Where the Dolls Come From.

In the little town of Sonneberg, in Thuringia, twenty-five million dozen dolls are made every year, each one of the twelve thousand inhabitants of the place being in the business. The children on their way to school call for or deliver work; the shoemaker makes the tiny shoes; the barber works on the dolls' wigs; the butcher sells suet to the dolls' gluemaker; the tailor and seamstress sell "pieces" to the dolls' dressmaker, and so on through the whole list of tradespeople. Five large firms control the business and, through these, sales are annually made in America to the amount of $12,000,000. But this vast amount of business is far from pleasing or profitable to the poor mechanics who work at the trade. A girl who goes into the factory at the age of fourteen receives 75 cents a week, and ten years later considers herself fortunate if she attains the maximum of $2 50, and the man who receives a dollar a day for making dolls' eyes is said to be an object of envy. A family can only live when all of its members work, and, as might supposed, they are miserably clothed and insufficiently fed.

Successful Bidders for Provisional Pap.

The Board of Health have held council and have awarded to the under-mentioned firms the permission to supply the various branches over which it holds control the various articles set opposite said firms names. It will be noticed that no prices are attached for the supposed reason that the sellers believe that, as usual, the Government are their best customers and consequently in the words of other autocrats, especially the multi-millionaire Vanderbilt; the public be—hanged. Following is a list of the successful bidders:

- Wilder & Co, nor' west lumber, battens, tongued & grooved, R. W. shingles, surfaced, battens, fence posts, doors, window sash 10x13—12x14.
- J. T. Waterhouse, iron cut nails, hubbuck's boiled oil, turpentine, no. 1 sugar.
- H. Hackfeld & Co. Hubbuck's white lead, cement, lime, galva-iron roofing, screws and washers, No. 1 rice, G. G. flour.
- E. O. Hall & Son, long card matches, coarse salt, kerosene oil.
- Jas. A. Hopper, galv iron pipe jin. jin.
- M. W. McChesney & Sons, red salmon.
- J. F. Morgan, medium bread.
- Macfarlane & Co. Brown soap.
- Hustace & Co. D. B. Coal in sacks.
- Union Feed Co., Stable Supplies. Baled wheat or oat hay, bran, No. 1 California oat, New Zealand oat.
- M. W. McChesney & Sons, Purchase of hides, lides, tallow.

LOCAL NEWS.

Councils meeting to-morrow.

Hon. W. H. Cornwell has returned home.

No Board of Health meeting this afternoon; no business.

Plenty of tick in the Royalist camps but only to approved countenances.

Hon. F. H. Hayselden ex-Sheriff of Maui is in town.

The Supreme Court has adjourned until March next.

Weather still uncertain, wind from all points; sky overcast.

Mr. W. M. Graham was married to Miss Augusta Berger last evening.

The Monowai is due from the South to-morrow. Don't be late with letters.

The electric light co. hope to soon have the improved plant in working order.

Don't forget the National Band concert at the Hotel grounds to-morrow evening.

Star contributors now correspond from the "Reef" side, most of them are there or should be.

The Japanese "Students" have been released from Quarantine surveillance, as also the Chinese.

The Associated Press correspondent is bemoaning bad faith on the part of the Government, newspapers.

Thanks are tendered to Secretary Frank Vid of the Union Feed Co, for memos. of the corporation.

Candidates for the expected appraisership are becoming very numerous, even the gentler sex trying for a place in the swim.

Revival meetings are now being held under the auspices of the A. B. C. F. M. at Queen Emma Hall. Attendance small.

Wonder how the Rulers and Nations feel after correspondent's Bishop's prayer this morning. Haven't heard anything drop yet.

Booked for the Monowai: Jos. Hyman, C. H. Waters and wife, J. C. Miethelson and wife, J. K. Smith, Miss Emma Smith, T. J. McLaughlin, wife and three children and Miss K. Moore.

It is said that another political storm is brewing, Messieurs the President, the Marshal, the commander-in-chief, with the rank etc. and others have been in close consultation within the last twenty-four hours.

Sharks are worth money to day, especially those about 10 feet in length, alive, and uninjured, Mr. Hobron the local agent of the Hawaiian Exhibit at the Mid-winter Fair offers $75.00 cash for one caged and boxed.

The Examiner correspondent has proved honest in his report by giving full publicity abroad to the expose, by the HOLOMUA of the dastardly dynamite plot. Harry Juen's statement appears in full in Eastern papers.

"Dick" Day an ardent annexationist has displayed his proclivities by attaching himself to royalistic coin which did not belong to him. He is now "playing checkers with his nose" under a charge of embezzlement.

The "typos" have elected as officers of their organization: R. E. McCain, president; J. J. Greene, secretary; Harry Smith, Treasurer; E. A. Hayward, vice-president. Executive committee—A. C. Steele, chairman; Frank Lake and A. Kuhia.

A VALUABLE BOOK.

Hawaiian Tariff and Digest of Laws and Regulations Relating to Customs, etc.

Mr. S. M. Damon deserves great credit for having caused a revised edition to be made of the volume containing a lot of valuable information for merchants, shipowners, captains, consuls and the general public. The new edition contains all laws and regulations up to Oct. 26th 1893, which bear on the subjects of customs, pilotage, lighthouses, registering of vessels, consular services etc. etc. The compilation has been carefully made by Messrs. J. A. Hassinger, Chief Clerk of the Interior Department and Mr. T. G. Thrum, Registrar of Conveances. Among the many interesting subjects contained in the volume, we notice the act of the P. G. which confines importation of dynamite, giant-powder, and firearms to the government. This seems to prove that the brig Annie Johnson which cleared at San Francisco at the end of November with 50 cases of dynamite, brought that cargo for the government. May we ask for what purpose that importation was made? We notice the reference to the duties of the Inspectors of animals and plants imported here, but see nothing about the fee which these gentlemen seem to consider themselves entitled to demand for their services from the importers. The regulations for whalers are quite interesting especially those referring to their carrying of spirits, an explanation in regard to the large quantities of alcohol which a certain firm used to dump on board of whale ships would perhaps be appropriate. The tax which is imposed on all vessels under the name of Marine Hospital Tax seems rather unjust as we neither have a Marine Hospital nor do seafaring men or passengers receive free treatment at the local hospital here. Would it not be better to change the name of that antiquated tax? How would a "sand bag" tax, sound? We are rather surprised to notice that there exists a law regulating the number of passengers which a coasting vessel is allowed to carry. That law is certainly not carried out, because we have frequently seen certain steamers carry a far greater number than the law permits, especially when transporting Japanese emigrants to the other Islands, another law which is not carried out is the one relating to the Registry of Hawaiian vessels. It says that no vessel shall be entitled to a Hawaiian Registry unless the same be "wholly" owned by a subject or subjects of this country. We believe that the minister of finance could mention several vessels under the Hawaiian flag, the owners of which are not subjects nor even residents of this country. The list of Hawaiian Consuls shows that the service is not kept up as it ought to be. Several European countries have no Hawaiian consuls residing within them at all. As instances we can mention Russia, Denmark, Greece and Switzerland. Important capitals like Berlin, are without any representative of Hawaii although Hawaii is very much blessed with a German Consul. On the other side we notice three Consuls in such a ridiculous place as the Philippine Islands. The above remarks are not intended as a criticism of the book which we seriously recommend to every body interested in matters pertaining to commerce and seafaring to procure. The book which is printed at the offices of Mr. R. Grieve is gotten up in the usual neat style for which that printing office is known.

NOTICE.

MR. J. W. LUNING is now the Advertising Agent and Solicitor for the HAWAII HOLOMUA. His receipt will be henceforward sufficient for any sums owing to our paper.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or the utterances of our correspondents.]

EDITOR HOLOMUA:

"Those brave men, whose commission we hold, who have faithfully stood by us in the hour of trial and whose will is the only earthly authority we recognize."

A curious public might ask: who are those brave men alluded to, and where and on what occasion have they shown their bravery—does Mr. Dole refer on this point to Mr. J. L. Stevens and his marines of the U. S. S. Boston with their display of cannons, mitral-leuses and other implements of war, at the time that he grabbed the reins of government? Or does he refer to the bravest of all the braves—the commander-in-chief of the forces with the rank of colonel (orsomething of like nature) and his mulligan guard consisting of deserted sailors, and the scum of late arrivals from the coast by route over Canada including those heroes or braves who rifled Kalakaua's crown and stole the opium from the Marshal's custody? Well, who are those braves anyway, whose commission Mr. Dole holds and whose will he recognizes as the only earthly authority? By this latter assertion of Mr. Dole it seems to us that the taxpayer is no factor in governmental affairs at all—he has to pay his taxes and keep his mouth shut, while Mr. Dole and his braves are attending to the distribution of the money—that is about all—and such is Mr. Dole's love and reverence for "free American institutions."
