UP THE WRONG TREE.

Mr. Ashford's bumptiousness on the registration bill brought a retort from the Attorney-General which did an injustice to the modest young country that gave birth to the member for the third district. Canada in proportion to its population stands second to no country on earth for the production of scholars and scientists. It owns one of the most prominent astronomers in the United States and has furnished principals and professors to nearly every university of any consequence in the Union.

REGISTRATION.

The system of general registration, in order to secure specific registration of Chinese field labor, was proposed some years ago, at a conference between the Trustees of the Planters' Company and a committee of traders and mechanics. Registration is repugnant to Americans and Englishmen. They have never been subjected to such a restriction on their liberty. But desperate diseases require desperate remedies. Those who have complained of Asiatic aggression on ordinary industries have always conceded the necessity of cheap labor for the planters. Many schemes have been devised to harmonize both interests without sacrificing either of them to the other. Every scheme thus far has failed. If there is any hope in a registration measure let it be tried. Should it prove unsatisfactory or ineffective its repeal will come as a matter of course two years hence. Registration in itself we abhor. But, as successful statesmanship largely consists in compromises, we and those who think with us should be prepared in this case to make the required concession to expediency.

SUGAR IN THE STATES.

The Portland Oregonian, discussing the depression in the Hawaiian sugar industry, says: "Annexation of Hawaii would make the sugar bounty law applicable to that country and this is one of the inducements held out by the annexationists; but it is a small foundation upon which to build. The bounty law is in a precarious position. The Democrats oppose it vehemently because it was a Republican measure, and the Republicans are by no means enthusiastic in its support, since the practical benefits are reaped only by the Democratic State of Louisiana. There is no repeal bill that would slip through Congress more easily than one to repeal the sugar bounty. The Democratic programme of restoring the tariff on raw sugar, however, is one the Republicans vigorously oppose, and one which the millions of consumers in the United States could hardly be expected to endorse. It might save the Hawaiian company from bankruptcy, but at a fearful cost to consumers. As a whole, the people of the United States are better satisfied with the sugar situation than ever before, and feel far more inclined to make sugar still cheaper by abolishing the small tariff on the refined article, than to make it dearer for the sake of any particular company or political party." The foregoing is probably a correct statement of the position of the sugar question in the United States. In that case it would be great folly for this kingdom to make any sacrifices for securing benefits that are likely at the best to be but shortlived. It is equally foolish and besides unpatriotic for any action here to keep forcing such an issue on this country, as nothing tends more to dissipate the energies of a community than bootless contention over mythical propositions.

LAME ARGUMENT.

Some of the arguments against the maintenance of the small body of Queen's Guards reminds one of the estimate once made of what a heap of money would be saved if the superfluous buttons on the tails and sleeves of men's coats were left off. Or of that character who complained that the box of spikenard wasn't sold for three hundred pence and given to the poor. Especially is the latter comparison correct, when it is remembered that the objectors to a decent guard-to-day were a few years ago ready to take up arms against the Crown for refusing to coincide with the policy of giving a colonel of volunteers a large salary to enable him to act as dictator. The same objectors are also the ones who saw nothing wrong in maintaining an expensive body of militia, for purely political purposes, at a time when strict economy and the abolition of useless expenditures were the declared policy of the dominant party. Those who claim that the abolition of the Guards is now an absolute necessity of economy might find with the country at large when too late that the act was one that cost more than it came to. The country is not discovered yet that can afford to do without some display of armed and disciplined force behind its laws. A regular force of equal numbers is more to be depended on in an emergency than any special force picked up here and there with no time for corps drill. It is not the mere defense of the Crown or of the constituted government which is in mind particularly, but this country is in some respects more liable to outbreaks of mob violence than many others with proportionately larger facilities for preserving order. The remarked subserviveness of certain semi-barbarous colonies here to the enforcement of the laws might become very speedily an unknown quantity if it were not for the existence of the few bayonets at the Palace barracks.

"A Real American."

EDITOR BULLETIN:—The Advertiser recently published a letter signed "A Real American." In this letter the DAILY BULLETIN is charged with persistently opposing itself to American interests, with publishing criticisms on the conduct of American representatives, and with lending its support to British interests. It may be well to offer a few words of comment on this "Real American" letter.

In the first place the BULLETIN, in an certain, has never directly or indirectly opposed American interests legitimately understood. But when the Advertiser, day after day, adorns its pages with annexation views, when it copies extracts from all manner of insignificant and misinformed journals maintaining the necessity of annexation, then indeed the BULLETIN, in the name of the majority of the population, raises its voice in protest; and if in the course of its remarks it fails to take the American side, the fault lies with the Advertiser. American interest is a misnomer for annexation. The Advertiser likely never refers to the advantage likely to accrue to the United States but insists upon annexation for our supposed interests. Therefore American interests are not concerned. The use of the expression is simply a trick to raise strong feeling on a very weak subject.

Concerning criticism of foreign representatives, I do not know that these gentlemen are above remark. I do know that at Her Majesty's accession a representative of a foreign power availed himself of the opportunity to deliver a godly and most edifying homily to Her Majesty, and I do not remember that the editor of the Advertiser was said to have fainted at such unseasonable behavior. If Ministers may lecture, they surely expect occasionally to be reminded of their own peccability.

When we speak of British interests the meaning is clear. Great Britain has no interest in Hawaii save only those of a commercial nature. Therefore to further British interests is synonymous with furthering those of Hawaii. So, let it be said, is it with true American interests. Everybody desires to further American interests. But when by this expression is understood annexation let there be no mistake, we do not want it, we will not have it, in spite of all the grumbling, squinting, self-contradictory conduct which the Advertiser calls politics.

HAWAIIAN.

Supreme Court.

His Honor the Chief Justice yesterday examined and approved the second annual account of the Reverend Father Sylvester as guardian of Patrick Gleason, a minor. Income during the year amounted to $88.43 and payments $152.77. Guardian in person.

Alice K. Ayers lost her breach of promise suit against W. Mahuka. The jury returned a verdict for defendant this morning. Her returning of the engagement ring on her cooled lover's request was taken as a surrender of the compact. Achi was associated with Magoon for plaintiff; Creighton and Rosa for defendant.

This afternoon a mixed jury is hearing the ejectment case of Talula L. Hayselden vs. Wahineaea (w). Ashford for plaintiff; Nawahi for defendant. John H. Paty is on the stand. Judge Bickerton will hear divorce cases on Monday next in his chambers.

The will of the late Rev. James Bicknell was admitted to probate today by Judge Dole. It was executed January 31, 1887, and leaves the entire property, with one exception, to the widow, Mrs. E. M. Bicknell, who is made executrix. The exception consists of entailed property on Washington and Fanning islands, which descends to the testator's eldest son, under the will of his late brother. The other property consists of personal effects and real estate in Tahiti. Mrs. Bicknell is by the will made guardian of the minor children, to act without bond. Finar for petitioner.

Contradiction.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—A local in the P. C. Advertiser of this morning makes the statement the Myrtle Boat Club ordered a French Dinner for the evening of Oct. 8th, but failed to put in an appearance and pay for the same. This statement I deny in total as an unqualified falsehood.

Among the incidents of childhood that stand out in bold relief, as our memory reverts to the days when we were young, none are more prominent than severe sickness. The young mother vividly remembers that it was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured her of croup, and in turn administers it to her own offspring and always with the best results. "German Syrup"

"I have been a great sufferer from Asthma and severe Colds every Winter, and last Fall my friends as well as myself thought because of my feeble condition, and great distress from constant coughing, and inability to raise any of the accumulated matter from my lungs, that my time was close at hand. When nearly worn out for want of sleep and rest, a friend recommended me to try thy valuable medicine, Boschee's German Syrup. I am confident it saved my life. Almost the first dose gave me great relief and a gentle refreshing sleep, such as I had not had for weeks. My cough began immediately to loosen and pass away, and I found myself rapidly gaining in health and weight. I am pleased to inform thee—unsolicited—that I am in excellent health and do certainly attribute it to thy Boschee's German Syrup. C. B. STRICKNEY, Pictou, Ontario."

Two packages of Hawaiian curios were shipped to-day by the bark Albert to the Smithsonian Institute, Washington. A Portuguese woman named Christina Rosa was committed yesterday to the Insane Asylum by Police Justice Foster.

The U. S. cruiser Boston's men had a shore drill on the plains this morning, led by a fife and drum corps, whose music was enlivening. The two cane-slicers and two steam plows for the Koloa plantation, Kauai, and additional machinery for the Makaweli plantation, are on the bark J. C. Glade.

Rev. R. B. Peet, of Rhode Island, was a passenger by the bark Albert to-day, after a brief visit, during which he has preached several times in St. Andrew's Cathedral. Co. No. 4's engine was taken to the city front yesterday afternoon to be tested. Engineer Townsend threw a strong stream of 70 pounds pressure with 100 pounds of steam.

A full-rigged bark and a four-masted vessel were seen off Nihoa Thursday morning of last week. Smoke was seen coming from the latter, but she was too far off to decide whether she was a steamer or not. The Sons of St. George, at their regular meeting last night, gave a fraternal send-off to two members about to leave the country. They decided to have another picnic at Remond Grove on Saturday, November 5th.

A boiler imported from Germany for the Kona plantation, some time ago, has been lying near the P. M. S. S. wharf. It will be taken to the Koloa plantation. A satisfactory test of the boiler was made by Engineer W. Boyd yesterday evening. An oil painting which would do credit to any artist, of Walkiki and Diamond Head, has just been completed by T. McCandless, and is on exhibition in the Aloha Gallery. The work is nicely finished and every object is outlined with distinctness.

T. P. Severin, of the Aloha Gallery, left yesterday evening for Maui for the purpose of making a tour of that island and taking views of the most interesting places there. It is intended that these views will, in company with previously made views of the other islands, be sent to the World's Fair. Mr. J. Dyer, agent of the Risdon Iron Works, San Francisco, has the thanks of the BULLETIN for a framed photograph of the hydraulic dredge, 24in. x 29in. over all, presented at the hands of Mr. L. G. Young, superintendent for the contractors. The picture is on view in the BULLETIN office window.

Macfarlane & Company, Limited, has been organized and taken over the wine and spirit business heretofore carried on by Macfarlane & Co. The corporation has elected the following officers: H. R. Macfarlane, President; E. C. Macfarlane, Vice-President; C. M. White, Secretary and Treasurer; F. Wundenberg, Auditor. The Scottish Thistle Club had a balance in its treasury of $85.15 at the close of the past quarter. A slight increase had been made to the library. Notwithstanding many departures from the kingdom, the membership only decreased by one. The clubroom has a splendid assortment of newspapers and periodicals on its tables.

HEAVY HAUL. Over Four Hundredweight of Opium Captured. Marshal Wilson, Deputy Attorney-General Crighton and three officers yesterday evening made a haul of 874 half-pound tins of California opium in a store-house in the rear of a Chinese merchant's store on Nuuanu, above Hotel street. There were three cases containing 123 tins in each case, a barrel with 233 tins, a barrel which had been opened and partly emptied with 118 tins, another case with 105 tins and a case with 49 tins—a total of 874 tins. Two other barrels and a case had been opened previously, which it is estimated contained about 600 more tins of the drug. When the officers surprised the place everything looked as if the stuff was to be packed in smaller cases for reshipment. Four other cases were opened and found to contain pickled Chinese cabbage. Two Chinese, Ah Foo and Ng Chin, were arrested. They are out on bail and their trial is set for Thursday. W. C. Achi will defend them.

Drowned at Home. A Portuguese lad was found drowned in a tub of water on Young street Sunday morning. The family were having breakfast when the boy, finishing his meal first, went outside to get some water. It is presumed that while drinking he overbalanced himself and fell into the tub. The first the parents knew of their sad loss was after their meal, when they found the body in the tub. The father was seen on Monday morning carrying a nicely polished casket home.

THE LEGISLATURE.

106TH DAY. TUESDAY, OCT. 11, 1892. Morning Session.

The Assembly convened at 10 o'clock for prayer, President Walker in the chair. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Noble Baldwin from the Finance Committee presented a report on Bill 167, relating to pilots and pilotage at the port of Honolulu, and which was, in substance, to the effect that the committee found the main difference between this bill and present law is the provision that all pilotage fees shall be paid to the Collector-General for the use of the Hawaiian Government and that "the compensation of pilots for the port of Honolulu shall be such as shall be fixed and appropriated by the Legislature. They find that the pilotage fees for the past period amounted to $36,851.193. There have been four pilots for the port of Honolulu although three have performed most of the service. The compensation of each of these pilots has been about $5000 per year which includes their expenses. After careful consideration the committee report in favor of the bill, and the Legislature is to fix the salary of the pilots. Signed by all the members of the committee.

On motion the Unfinished Business was brought forward and Section 10 of Bill 67, relating to the registration of male residents, was considered. Rep. Ashford moved that the bill be laid on the table until after the consideration of the proposed amendment to Article 83 of the Constitution. Noble Marsden was opposed to the motion, stated that he had heard it said that the bill was only for the benefit of the planters. He had interviewed, personally, several of the leading mechanics of the city this morning, and they were to a man in favor of this bill. Unless the foreign community got relief in their business they would have to shut up altogether. This registration would clear the dross out. He had conversed with mechanics who had stated that if any member of the Mechanics' Union raised his voice against the bill then he had better pack up and leave. The motion to table was put and lost.

Rep. Ashford now moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed and that the ayes and nays be called on the motion. Carried. The ayes and nays were called on the motion to indefinitely postpone and was lost by a vote of 37 to 8, the eight voting in favor being Repe. Bipikane, Ashford, Aki, Pua, Kauhii, R. W. Wilcox, White, Kanealii, Absent—Minister Neumann, Repe. Bush, Nawahi, Kamaoaha, A. S. Wilcox. Rep. R. W. Wilcox said that the vote showed such a strong support of the bill that there was no use in evincing opposition to it; he would move that the rest of the bill pass without consideration.

Rep. Ashford favored the motion; the time would be saved by so doing. Noble Thurston considered that this was mere filibustering; it was no good to the House or to the would-be filibusters. He suggested that the consideration of the bill be gone on with. Noble Horner moved an amendment to the penalty, making the fine $10 instead of $50. Rep. Ashford moved to strike out Section 10. He was not in favor of a law that placed a dog-collar around his neck or its equivalent in his pocket. He would see the plantation interests in Tophet before he would vote away his personal liberty in the proposed manner, and further he would go to Tophet himself before agreeing to submit. Noble Thurston said that the previous speaker had stated that he was willing to go to hell rather than vote for this bill; he had not said hell, but he meant it—Tophet means hell. The honorable member could very easily absent himself and get himself to hell without being missed by the residents of this community. Rep. Ashford was now filibustering; yesterday he ended with logic. Now he was willing to go to hell and have the whole country go to hell rather than vote in favor of this bill. The member had said that he was willing to vote for the Labor Bill, but without this measure there would be no check on those admitted by that bill. Rep. Bipikane considered that the man that got this bill up and introduced it, was a murderer at heart. Those who voted for it were of the same ilk. He would like to have the bill torn into shreds and thrown out of the window. Rep. Nawahi was opposed to the bill. Boys were supposed to register. Every man knows how much care was necessary in taking care of documents which it was necessary to carry about one's person, how would it be with boys who had to carry the papers enumerated at the end of the bill? He was willing to vote against a cabinet that would bring in a bill like this. In America there was an exclusion act and also a registration act directed solely against Chinese, why could not this have been made so? Noble Thurston would inform the member that the Hawaiian Constitution forbids class legislation, but the Constitution of the United States allows it. After some little further talk by Rep. Nawahi he, finally, at 12 o'clock, moved recess until 1:30 p.m., and the Assembly rose.

Something New in Ranges.

The PACIFIC HARDWARE CO., (L'd.), have just received an invoice of the M. & D. WOODRUFF STEEL RANGES which are superior to anything of the kind yet invented. They have been adopted by the United States Navy and are in use on the Charleston, San Francisco and Boston and other new vessels. Also on several of the new vessels lately built for the trade between San Francisco and this port. An examination of these Ranges will at once show their many advantages over all competitors.

A little boy of Mrs. McDonald's, living near here, fell against a red hot stove and was fearfully burned. The pain was terrible, and it was thought the burn was so severe as to scar the child for life. I sold the lady a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which, after greasing the sore, she applied. It soon removed all the fire and eased the pain, and in ten days the boy was well, no trace of the scar remaining. J. D. McCallum, Keaysport, Clinton county, Ill. For sale by all dealers. That Tired Feeling

Was No Name For the Way Mr. Whitman Felt. That Mr. Whitman, who makes the following statement, is a faithful, reliable man, will be readily believed when we state that he has worked at tool making in the jewelry factories in Attleboro without losing a day, save holidays and Sundays, for 25 years: "I can truthfully say that Hood's Sarsaparilla, which revived my flagging energies in good shape. This spring I took two more bottles and have had no return of the feeling of a year ago. My wife has also taken some of it with benefit. We think it cannot be praised too highly."

MAKAPU

PROBABLY NO ONE WILL DISPUTE THE fact that a blind man cannot purchase as well as he who sees. But a person may be mentally or physically blind, and in neither instance is the judgment reliable. Blindness prevents personal examination. True, the sense of touch of those deprived of sight is greatly exaggerated and exceedingly delicate, so that they who see not are wonderfully acute in basing conclusions upon everything that may be determined by the tactile sense. The mentally blind are those who are not true to their best interests, who are led away by literary pyrotechnics, or who are so implicitly truthful themselves that they never for a moment question the reliability of anyone's assertion. For the protection of such as these, for our own protection as well, we ask that you make a personal examination of anything advertised as an "exceptional value" and see if the facts are as stated.

THE LEGISLATURE.

105TH DAY.

MONDAY, Oct. 10, 1892.

Afternoon Session.

The Assembly re-convened at 1:45 o'clock from recess.

On motion the Order of the Day was brought up, and Bill 67, relating to the registration of male residents in the Hawaiian Islands, came forward for consideration.

Reports from committee were read and Rep. R. W. Wilcox moved the adoption of the report of the minority, recommending that the bill be tabled. Lost, and a motion prevailed that the bill be considered section by section.

Section 1, providing for the establishment of a national register; all males over 15 years of age, names, ages, places of birth, residence, married or single, arrival (if foreigner), occupation, employer. Passed.

Section 2. Three months to constitute residence. Passed.

Section 3. Registration districts of kingdom same as taxation, educational and judicial. Passed.

Section 4. Minister of Interior to nominate and Cabinet to appoint registrars. Chief clerk to be appointed. Referred to a select committee named later on.

Section 5. Minister of Interior to make rules, such to have force of law. Passed.

Section 6. Regulations regarding notice of registration: duration of sittings and number of meetings. Passed.

Section 7. Clerk and registrars authorized to administer oaths. Passed.

Section 8. Change of residence to be noted. Penalty for non-compliance. Passed.

Section 9. Persons liable to registry to present certificates in November and December of each year unless absent from the country. Passed.

Section 10. Penalty for non-registration and non-compliance with other regulations of Act.

Minister Neumann moved that the section be amended as regarded the age limit.

Rep. Ashford was opposed to the bill. He considered it snatched strongly of the personal government such as exists beyond the Rhine, and he could not, therefore, blame those whose fatherland was there, to support the bill. It had been regarded that the measure was necessary, as a support to the sugar planters. But the principle of the bill was wrong, and he would not vote for it even if he knew that the passage would save every one of the planting interests, but would vote against it if he knew that its death meant defeat to all, and for the reason that he valued personal liberty too highly. It was a maxim of good government that he who governed least governed the best. That is to say that government was the best which gave the greatest liberty, the widest scope, to its citizens. Why, then, should anyone, with a spark of personal liberty within him, be willing to submit himself to the indignities of this annoying system? The public welfare did not call for it; it was an humiliation to comply.

Minister Neumann (interrupting) — Is it an humiliation to the citizen of a country to go to be registered for the purpose of enjoying his right to vote?

Rep. Ashford (continuing) — It was well known that, in the exercise of certain personal privileges, it was necessary and proper to be identified in some way, but the right to vote was one thing and the right to breathe another. By this law it is necessary to register to obtain the right to breathe! This should not be, and by Heaven it shall not be if his voice and vote could prevent it.

The law, however, does not compel a man to register or to vote; it does not stand over him with a $50-club in the shape of a fine to force him. He submits, if he wishes to vote, to a slight inconvenience so that he may be identified. There it is ended. But in this law a man must be identified and register before he can breathe, and if he loses his certificate of registration he cannot breathe until he can obtain another one, to get which he may have to stand in line with—God knows how many—pikes and others, and tell where he was born, how old he is, whether or no his grandfather was cross-eyed and other questions. And again if one loses his certificate or is caught outside the house in his shirt-sleeves, with the certificate in his coat-pocket within the house, he is marched off to the Station House to prove his identity, and is probably kept there a day or two before he is allowed the opportunity to recover his absent paper. Was that in accord with Western civilization?

Rep. White desired to know if people ever introduced bills of this kind in the United States or even in Canada. (Laughter.)

Rep. Ashford — No, if anyone did they would be kicked higher than a kite. He had been told that this was not intended for white men but for Chinese. If so, then let it say so in the bill. There was more that was bad in the bill but if a man could talk like an angel and until the crack of doom he could not expose all the devilry contained within its sections. If the Labor Bill was wanted then pass it, but drop this.

Noble Thurston agreed that the previous speaker was in favor of the exercise of personal liberty. He (Ashford) had said that it was a maxim of good government that "he who governed least governed best;" he, himself, would say that there was a better maxim and that was, "the greatest good for the greatest number." It was a duty which all good citizens performed when some slight inconvenience was undergone for the public good. This proposition was not from the planters but from those far removed, those on the other side; the mechanics and Hawaiians demand this bill to keep them from being swamped. Unless this bill passed he would oppose the Labor bill. If this bill does not pass there will be no way to identify the labor admitted under the other bill and all of its laws will be but so much idle wind. This bill can be bettered, it must be made so that a man can be identified without any change of transfer. He submitted that in the interests of the greatest number that the bill should pass.

Rep. Ashford said, (besides speaking eulogistically of Noble Thurston). It seemed to be understood that the mechanics desired this law. He denied that this was so.

Noble Marsden. Has the member had any conversation with mechanics on the subject?

Rep. Ashford. Yes, I talked with a mechanic on this very bill this afternoon.

Noble Marsden. Well, and what did he say?

Rep. Ashford (smiling). He said he would like to see this Registration bill pass, because it would clean out Chinatown. (Laughter.) But I would not vote for it to clean out a dozen Chinatowns! He hoped the bill would be deferred until after action on Article 83 (Constitutional Amendment) that would give an opportunity to exempt all persons who were here at the time of its passage.

Noble Thurston questioned how those who were here before could be identified from those who might arrive, if that provision was introduced?

Minister Neumann had (as usual), but a few words to say and which he would premise with the opinion that a man that did not like the laws of this country was not compelled to stay, unless it was away. (Laughter). It was no injury to any good citizen of a country to yield up a small portion of his personal liberty if by so doing he benefitted the whole of the people. When it came to a question of, he might say, maudlin sentiment as the requisite to defeat this bill then there was no sense in following such a course. Rep. Ashford was always ready to draw the sword in defense of personal liberty and had spoken of the semi-barbarous civilization of northern and middle Europe; what did the member mean by "middle" Europe?

Rep. Ashford. Germany!

Minister Neumann, well, indeed! He desired to say to the honorable member that, when Canada, (where Rep. Ashford hailed from) approached the civilization of Germany, when as many scientists and statesmen were produced from the land of the Kanuck as from that of Fatherland he would speak in defence. As it was he did not need to say anything, people would smile if he made a speech in answer for he would say that that should not have been taken notice of, that was "only Ashford, nobody minds what he says, there he goes again." (Laughter.) To resume he hoped that no labor law would pass the House without this bill. He had never given his voice to any organic law which was intended to lower the estate of any human being. If the Labor bill should be unconstitutional then this Registration bill would be a protection, and, without this bill passing he would not vote for any other. He had seen many Chinese around the House during the debate, on this bill, and on the Labor bill; they were here for some purpose and, he believed through intimidation of the very element which this bill, if passed, would eliminate and send out of the country. In that there was a boon. The registration was such that no honest or decent man would be ashamed to fulfil the conditions, it would be only those of that rascally class which have neither a habitation nor a name. The bill was good in more than one way, 1st; it would aid in ridding the country of Chinese vagabonds. 2nd; it would eliminate from our midst the opium-smoking and gambling classes. 3rd; it would help to get rid of some of the scum, white, which came here by every steamer and sailing vessel, men who had left their own country and staid here simply because they were not known. He hoped that he was not now entreaching upon any of the clientele of the member from the 3rd district. (Laughter.) Of the personal taxes which should be collected from the 25,500 Asiatics here nearly 10,000 were lost. This was mentioned to show that the bill, instead of being an expense without return, would assist in obtaining nearly $38,000 which is now lost.

This bill is intended to reach further than Chinese, it may not reach Japanese as fully on account of being against existing treaties. In answer to Rep. Ashford's interpolation relative to America having a registration law but against Chinese solely, Minister Neumann, continuing, said that, America has such a law and against Chinese but it was in violation of her treaty, her bill of rights and her Constitution. Must Hawaii do likewise? He thought that even if we had the strength of the United States and could successfully resist China, yet we were too just to so act in contravention with our treaties. The bill should pass as it was for the best interests of the country.

Rep. Smith, at 4:08, rose to move adjournment but hesitated so as to allow the reading of names of the select committee to which section 3 had been referred, viz.: Noble Thurston, Minister Neumann, Noble Maile, and Reys. Wilder and Bush.

Minister Neumann, obtaining the floor, said that he desired to present to the House the reports relating to the Marshal and Marshal's Department. He had examined them and he deemed it necessary to recommend that all of these matters be now referred to a select committee, to investigate the department of the Marshal. He asked that this be done this afternoon, because he considered that no delay should be had and the session was now drawing to a close.

Rep. Ashford was sorry to take the ground but he was compelled to oppose the motion. Enough had already been ascertained for the House to act, if no one else did. As there had been no motion to refer he would move adjournment.

Minister Neumann said that the suggestion made to him by the House and which it was desired he could carry out, was one on which he could not act. He moved the matter be referred to a select committee. He did not think that the House would be so unfair as not to examine into this matter. He was not to be the judge; he would only ask the House to appoint a committee and he would give them every assistance.

Noble Thurston objected to the appointing of a committee; the principle was this, that the House had no business to dictate to the Cabinet or to any bureau their action in regard to the retention or discharge of their subordinates. In this matter they had no right to usurp the functions of the Attorney-General. Had no right to tell him to keep the Marshal in or send him out; but they could hold the Attorney-General responsible for his acts, if they could deal with him. Neither can the House instruct the Board of Health in its duties in certain instances.

Rep. Ashford, at 4:22, moved adjournment. Carried.

A Good Thing to Keep at Hand.

From the Troy (Kansas) Chief.

Some years ago we were very much subject to severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any of the symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhoea, etc., we become scared. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the very thing to straighten one out in such cases, and always keep it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know what is a good thing to keep handy in the house. For sale by all dealers. Something New in Ranges.

The Pacific Hardware Co., (L'd.), have just received an invoice of the M. & D. Wrought Steel Ranges which are superior to anything of the kind yet invented. They have been adopted by the United States Navy and are in use on the Charleston, San Francisco and Boston and other new vessels. Also on several of the new vessels lately built for the trade between San Francisco and this port.

An examination of these Ranges will at once show their many advantages over all competitors.

A little boy of Mrs. McDonald's, living near here, fell against a red hot stove and was fearfully burned. The pain was terrible, and it was thought the burn was so severe as to scar the child for life. I sold the lady a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which, after greasing the sore, she applied. It soon removed all the fire and eased the pain, and in ten days the boy was well, no trace of the scar remaining. J. D. McLaren, Keyport, Clinton county, Ill. For sale by all dealers.
