

WIDOW OF BLAINE DEAD

WIDOW OF FAMOUS MAINE STATESMAN DIED AT AUGUSTA, MAINE, TODAY—SHE HAD BEEN IN FAILING HEALTH FOR SOME TIME PAST—SURVIVED HER EMINENT HUSBAND OVER TEN YEARS.

Associated Press Cable to the Star. AUGUSTA, Maine, July 15.—Mrs. James G. Blaine died here today. She was the widow of the late Republican leader.

Mrs. Blaine was a brilliant but never a popular woman. She had too good a memory for imagined slights or injuries to herself, and for things done in the furtherance of ambitions other than her own or her husband's. When her husband was in power she created many enmities by the unyielding will with which she claimed appointments and favors for her favorites. She was an imperious, rather than a dominating woman, reputed to be proud, cold and vengeful. She never forgave the American people for failing to elect her husband president of the United States, nor the politicians and others who stood in the way of his election.

POPE IS RID OF PNEUMONIA

THAT AILMENT HAS PRACTICALLY LEFT HIS HOLINESS AND HE IS NOW ALMOST FREE FROM INCONVENIENCE CAUSED BY THAT AFFECTION—THERE IS ALMOST COMPLETE PROSTRATION OF PATIENT.

Associated Press Cable to the Star. ROME, July 15.—Marked improvement in one complication of His Holiness's illness is reported by the physicians. The pneumonia has now practically disappeared. There is however an almost complete prostration of the patient who is now nearly in a comatose state. The Pope may linger for days before death occurs.

THE CZAR IS MAGNANIMOUS

HAS ABOLISHED MANY HARSH PUNISHMENTS—GRANTS SPECIAL CONCESSIONS TO THE FACTORY EMPLOYEES—THEY WILL BE PERMITTED TO HAVE REPRESENTATIVES AT CONFERENCE WITH INSPECTORS.

Associated Press Cable to the Star. ST. PETERSBURG, July 15.—The Czar has abolished many harsh punishments and every effort is being made by the government to bring the factory strikers to an amicable understanding with the government and the employers. As a special concession the factory employees have been given the right to representation at the conference to be held by the government inspectors.

LYNCHED A WHITE MAN

Associated Press Cable to the Star. MARYSVILLE, Ky., July 15.—William Tacker, a white man, who has been in jail here awaiting a new trial for murder, was lynched by a mob today. Tacker had been sentenced to life imprisonment for a most brutal murder, but owing to a technicality, had been granted a new trial. The news of the new trial aroused the populace and the man was lynched.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA GETTING FRIENDLY

Associated Press Cable to the Star. PARIS, July 15.—It is understood in diplomatic circles that the relations between Russia and Japan have been greatly improved. A better understanding regarding the Manchurian dispute has been reached, it is said.

TWO BRAND NEW JOBS

THE LEGISLATURE CREATED TWO NEW POSITIONS WHICH WILL BE FILLED SHORTLY—ONE OF THEM IS IMMIGRATION COMMISSIONER, THE OTHER INSURANCE COMMISSIONER.

Treasurer Kepoikai has two new positions—that of Immigration Commissioner and that of Insurance Commissioner—to fill, as a result of legislative enactments creating those positions in his department, and at 3 o'clock this afternoon he meets with members of the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' Association and others interested, to discuss the duties of the Immigration Commissioner.

The law does not define in any way what the Immigration Commissioner shall do. He is supposed to be an official to work for the encouragement of immigration, but just what line his efforts are to take is a matter that is left open. Kepoikai arranged a meeting with the commercial bodies in order that this problem might be discussed before an appointment was made.

There are three lines of effort for the proposed commissioner. One is to encourage tourists, another to attract permanent settlers who will be "small farmers" and a third is to encourage laborers to come here. No definite plans appear to have been formed as yet and Treasurer Kepoikai states that he has not reached any decision as to whom he will appoint, though there are half a dozen candidates.

For insurance commissioner there are also a number of candidates, but the treasurer has not made a selection. Albert Barnes, F. T. P. Waterhouse, Henry Davis and C. Girdler are among the applicants. Barnes' application has been endorsed by the underwriters. There are also some dark horses after the position.

The law creating an insurance commissioner does not go into effect for some months, but the appropriation for an immigration commissioner begins at once. An appointment to the immigration office will probably be made in a day or two.

TO ATTACK VENEZUELAN REBELS

Associated Press Cable to the Star. SOLEDAD, July 15.—A government attack upon the rebel forces now entrenched at Ciudad Bolivar is imminent. The commander of the government forces has been drawing his troops around the city and it is believed that the attack will be successful.

May Catch A Murderer

Posse Is Now Searching in Waipahu District For Japanese Who Committed Brutal Murder at Ewa.

There is a possibility that the Japanese who committed the brutal murder at Ewa Plantation over two weeks ago and who has thus far succeeded in evading capture, will be taken into custody at any time. A special posse, heavily armed, is now in the vicinity of Waipahu searching for the man.

Yesterday about noon word was received at the police station that the murderer had made his appearance at the Waipahu Plantation. The murderer looked worn and tired. He applied to some Japanese for something to eat. He was supplied with the food. After eating he started away in the cane fields. The Japs were frightened at the appearance of the murderer and as soon as they had recovered from their scare they notified the authorities.

A posse consisting of Detective McDuffie, Officers Nakamura, Nebo and Miki took the afternoon train yesterday for Waipahu to search for the murderer. No word had been received from them up to noon today.

It is thought that the murderer is not far away from Waipahu. He is reported to have appeared to be worn out when he applied for food. The prospects are regarded as quite bright by the police of effecting his capture. There is a reward of $250 for information that will lead to the apprehension of the murderer.

SEASON'S WOOL CROP ARRIVES

MOLOKAI RANCH SHIPS 64 BALES WOOL BY STEAMER LEHUA TODAY.

The steamer Lehua arrived this morning at 5 o'clock from windward Molokai ports and Kaunakakai. She brought as a special shipment, 64 bales of wool. This wool represents the entire season's crop of the Molokai Ranch. The Lehua went alongside the S. S. Alameda and discharged the wool into that vessel as the stuff was to be taken to San Francisco on the Alameda.

In addition to the wool cargo, 251 sheep were brought from the ranch. About 37 bundles hides and 20 packages of sundries were also brought by the vessel.

The Lehua stopped long enough at Halawa to pick up the boat crew that had been left ashore on the last trip owing to the rough weather. The shore boat was not taken off, as the vessel had not time this trip. The boat will be picked up on the next trip. The Lehua will sail at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Molokai, Maui and Lanai ports.

NEXT MAIL FROM THE COAST. The next mail from San Francisco will probably arrive Monday afternoon on the S. S. China. If the renovations on that vessel have not been completed in time to enable her to sail on her regular run, the S. S. City of Peking will probably be sent out in her place. The Peking has been making very slow time however recently and should she go out she will probably not arrive before Tuesday morning and perhaps Wednesday. The S. S. Sonoma is due Wednesday morning from San Francisco.

COUNTY CAMPAIGN COMING

FOURTEEN OFFICIALS TO BE ELECTED THIS FALL FOR THE ISLAND OF OAHU—SEVEN SUPERVISORS, SHERIFF, COUNTY CLERK, AUDITOR, ASSESSOR, ATTORNEY, TREASURER AND SURVEYOR.

It is time to get ready for another primary election and party conventions in preparation for the county elections, which will be in many respects the most interesting elections ever held here, for they will be the first expression of the voters of the islands under a system of local self government and universal suffrage.

There are fourteen important positions to be filled on the island of Oahu, or in the county of Oahu, including seven supervisors, and it is safe to say that there are about fourteen candidates nourishing private hopes for each job. Current reports have it that the "Hawaii Number One" and other secret orders and associations recently formed are very largely political and have plans in view which will develop during the campaign.

The question of whether members of the legislature have a right to run for county offices is one on which the United States Attorney General has been asked to decide. The Organic act says that during the term for which they are elected Legislators shall not be candidates for any other office and the question is whether a member may resign from the legislature and run for some other office. If this is allowable there are several who would like to be county officials. If it is not allowable there will be some keen disappointments.

The county officers to be elected are: Sheriff, County Clerk, County Auditor, Assessor and Tax Collector, District Attorney, Treasurer, Surveyor, and seven Supervisors.

It is reported that "Jimmie" Boyd is likely to run for sheriff of Oahu county, while High Sheriff Brown is also regarded as a probable candidate and one who can run on his record. Kumalae is talked of as one who would like to

KEPOIKAI GIVES HIS CASH LIMIT

Heads of Departments Allowed $75,000 a Month For the Next Three Months.

A meeting of Treasurer Kepoikai and the heads of the departments of Public Works, Education and Health was held this morning in accordance with the decision of the Executive Council last Monday, when Kepoikai agreed to have a statement ready today showing how much cash he could give out for the departments in the immediate future.

Kepoikai's statement this morning was to the effect that he had $75,000 a month available for the three departments. This is all the government will be able to pay out, in addition to salaries and the three departments will have to be satisfied with that for public improvements and other work.

Superintendent Cooper submitted a statement which shows that his department already has outstanding contracts on which the payments for the next three months will amount to over $25,000. The list of contracts show payments to be made on work that is now in progress amounting to about $100,000.

The departments will be compelled to run on the $75,000 a month until the new taxes come in, except as they may make arrangements on credit and the inauguration of many improvements contemplated may be delayed till after the new taxes come in.

The Board of Education asked for $24,100 for the three months for repairs, improvements and fixtures. These three are the months of greatest expenditure in these directions in preparation for the school year. The amount asked for was allowed.

SUIT AGAINST CLAU SPRECKELS

HIS DAUGHTER BRINGS ACTION TO RECOVER ALMOST A BLOCK OF REAL ESTATE.

Mrs. Emma Claudina Spreckels Watson by her attorneys Humphreys & Watson and Robertson & Wilder, yesterday filed in the circuit court a suit against Claus Spreckels to recover real estate including all of the block bounded by Fort, Queen, Alakea and Merchant streets, excepting the spaces occupied by the Judd, Siangenwald, and Mutual Telephone company buildings.

The plaintiff is a daughter of the defendant and describes herself as residing "at the Manor House, Lower Kingswood, near Reigate, England," and the property she seeks to recover was given to her by her father in 1893. In 1897 the young woman married Watson and became estranged from her father and the resulting quarrel caused her to deed back the property. The husband never signed the deed, however, and it is alleged to be void. The property's assessed valuation is $400,000.

The provision of the statute under which she seeks to recover this valuable property is section 1884, Chapter 123 of the Civil Laws: "The real and personal property of a woman shall, upon her marriage, remain her separate property, free from the management, control, debts, and obligations of her husband; and a married woman may receive, receipt for, hold, manage and dispose of property, real and personal, in the same manner as if she were sole. Provided, however, that no sale or mortgage of her real estate shall be valid without the written consent of her husband."

As Mrs. Watson's husband did not join in the deed with her to her father, and it is alleged has never given his written consent to the transfer, her deed to her father is alleged to be invalid.

The complaint says:
In Circuit Court of the First Circuit, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, Emma Claudina Spreckels Watson vs. Claus Spreckels—Ejectment.

Declaration.

Emma Claudina Spreckels Watson, residing at the Manor House, Lower Kingswood, near Reigate, England, by her attorneys, Humphreys and Watson and Robertson and Wilder, complains of Claus Spreckels, residing at San Francisco, in the State of California, for that the said Claus Spreckels has unjustly and contrary to law and the rights of the plaintiff taken into his possession and converted to his own occupation the following described real estate situated on Fort Merchant, Alakea and Queen streets, in the city of Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

(1) All those premises situated on the East corner of Fort and Queen streets now occupied by S. G. Wilder & Co., set forth by metes and bounds in Royal Patent No. 1284 (Grant) to V. K. Kamamalu, excepting so much as was conveyed to G. P. Judd by deed dated, Dec. 9th, 1891, of record in the Hawaiian Registry of Deeds in Lib. 11 Fol. 415.

(2) All those premises extending between said Merchant and Queen streets, set forth by metes and bounds in L. C. A. No. 139 to Kekuanooa, Royal Patent No. 794.

(3) All of those premises extending between said Merchant and Queen streets, set forth by metes and bounds in L. C. A. No. 160 to V. Kamamalu, Royal Patent No. 696.

(4) All of those premises extending between said Merchant and Queen streets, set forth by metes and bounds in L. C. A. No. 161 to V. Kamamalu, Royal Patent No. 695.

(5) All of those premises extending between said Merchant and Queen streets, set forth by metes and bounds in L. C. A. No. 162 to V. Kamamalu, Royal Patent No. 697.

(6) All of those premises situated on the corner of said Queen and Alakea streets, set forth by metes and bounds in L. C. A. No. 6506 to Ahu, Royal Patent No. 1623.

(7) All of those premises situated on the corner of said Alakea and Merchant streets, set forth by metes and bounds in L. C. A. No. 155 to V. Kamamalu, Royal Patent No. 322.

Said premises having been conveyed to Claus Spreckels one-half by Samuel Parker by deed dated October 20th, A. D. 1883, of record in said Registry of Deeds, in Lib. 85, Fols. 158-159; and one-half by William G. Irwin by deed dated Feb. 12th, 1884, of record in said Registry in Lib. 83, Fols. 295-296. Being the same premises conveyed to Emma Claudina Spreckels by said Claus Spreckels, by deed dated July 14th, A. D. 1893, of record in said Registry of Deeds in Liber 141, Folio 328.

All that tract of land situate on the East side of Alakea street, at Honokupu, in said Honolulu, bounded and described as follows, viz:

Commencing at the west corner of this, the said corner being on the mauka side of the lane, 17 feet from Alakea street, the intersection of said lane and Alakea street bearing 70° 50' (makai) and 143 2-12 feet distant from Queen street, and running:
South 38° 20' East, (Magnetic 1870) 50 8-12 feet along the mauka edge of the lane, and parallel with the mauka boundary of Koaolele's; thence turn mauka, interior angle 96° 30', 48 6-12 feet along lane 5 feet wide; thence along Koaalele's, interior angle 197° 30', 10 9-12 feet; interior angle 262° 15', 9 2-12 feet; and interior angle 93° 30', 29 8-12 feet; and interior angle 163° 30', 24 feet to the east corner of this; thence along the land of the heirs of V. Kamamalu, interior angle 84° 40' 25 3-12 feet; and interior angle 126° 30', 75 feet; and interior angle 157° 15', 41 feet to place of commencement, the interior angle at place of commencement being 78° 30', and containing an area of 4680 square feet, or 11-100 of an acre, as per survey of C. J. Lyons, 1870; being a part of Royal Patent No. 297, L. C. A. No. 115 to A. Paki, and being the same premises conveyed to Claus Spreckels by John Samuel Kaai by deed dated February 17th, A. D. 1883 of record in said Registry of Deeds, in Lib. 142, Fols. 51-53 and by said Claus Spreckels conveyed to said Emma Claudina Spreckels, by deed dated July 14th, 1893, of record in said Registry of Deeds in Liber 141, page 328.

All of which said premises plaintiff claims in fee simple by purchase from the said Claus Spreckels by deed dated July 14th, 1893, and recorded in Liber 141, page 328, in the Register Office of Oahu.

Wherefore plaintiff prays the process of this Court to cite the said Claus Spreckels to appear and plead to this declaration to the next ensuing term of this Court, and that she may have restitution of said premises with judgment for the sum of one hundred thousand dollars as damages for its detention.

THE DRAMA

The Stine and Evans American Comedy Company had the compliment paid them last evening of having a larger house for the repetition of an attraction than they had on the opening night and first presentation of the piece. To those who know the ways of the Honolulu theater-goer, this speaks much for good impression the company has created.

"Mama's New Husband," is not a Shakespearean play. It is a vehicle for a company of wide-awake, dashing, specialty artists, to give a sparkling, kaleidoscopic, rush of events with bright repartees in the lines, and clever acting in the "business," from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

There is more dancing than formal philosophizing in the play, but it is excellent dancing. There is more singing in it than there is of the classical "unities," but it is catchy singing. And this must be said for the members of the company, that whether they are singing or dancing, or rushing to get "Mr. Brood" out of jail, they do it with vim, there is no lagging, they do not spare themselves. There is no failure or limit of success through any tendency among the members of the company not to exert themselves to the very fullest. They are willing actors, and judging by the laughter they provoked and the applause they got, they are good actors. With the enthusiasm that was displayed last night, and the very certain fact that they pleased those who saw them, they ought to have crowded houses for the remainder of their season.

A specialty by Stine and Evans brought a recall that could not be denied, and when the audience insisted on another recall, Mr. Stine came down to the footlights and made a very neat little speech.

Tomorrow and Saturday nights the company present, "Brown's In Town." On Monday and Tuesday nights of next week and at Tuesday matinee they will present "Where is Cobb?" On Wednesday they sail by the Sonoma for New Zealand.

BROWN'S IN TOWN.

Another novelty will be staged tomorrow night when "Brown's In Town" will be staged. This comedy was purchased by Mr. Stephenson from Frank Hennessy of the Bijou Theater, New York, where it drew crowded houses for over four hundred nights. It is not of the slap stick and flour bag order, but is legitimate comedy, though broadly farcical. A number of new specialties will be introduced including two great ensemble numbers, "Pinky Panky Poo," and "Melinda, My Hindoo Queen."

CHINA TAKES PEKING'S PLACE.

SAN FRANCISCO July 5.—The Pacific Mail liner Peking, Captain Robinson, is expected to reach port to-day from China and Japan, by way of Honolulu, on what may be the old liner's last voyage to the Orient. She is to be laid up, and the well-known China is to leave here on her schedule a few days hence. Just what will be done with the Peking has not yet been decided. For many years she has been a familiar figure on the Oriental route, but the more modern steamers have crowded her out, though it is not expected that they will be any more successful, all things considered, than was the old Peking. The China is now about ready to take her place on the line, after a thorough overhauling—the first in twelve or thirteen years—and Captain Frelle will command her. Chief Officer Ahmon, Purser A. M. Thomson, Chief Steward Darling and other well-known officers of the line will be seen again on the China.

THE CANAL TREATY.

PANAMA (Colombia), July 4.—A dispatch from Bogota, dated July 2d, says the Minister of Foreign Relations has sent a message with reference to the Panama canal to the Senate and House of Representatives, and that the latter body has appointed a committee of one member from each department to consider the proposed treaty. From this committee the treaty will pass to another private committee.

It is safe to assert, says the dispatch, that the Government has a big majority in the House of Representatives.

The special committee appointed on Monday to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Judge Luther Wilcox submitted a set of resolutions yesterday to Judge George A. Davis. The resolutions expressed respect for the memory of the late magistrate and extolled his character both as a judge and a man. Sympathy was tendered to the bereaved widow and brothers. The following were on Relations committee: A. M. Brown, T. McCants Stewart, John L. Kaulukou, S. F. Chillingworth and A. Lewis, Jr. The resolutions were read in court.

WHY HONOLULU GOT THE OVERLOOK.

It is noteworthy—and characteristic too—that the only place in which cable congratulations were guarded as sacredly private up to the moment of their being dispatched, was Honolulu.

In San Francisco the newspapers published on the day before the cable messages were started, the full text of the messages which public officials and associations had decided to send.

On July 3 in Washington Secretary Root dictated his message to Taft of Manila, which was not to be sent till the following day, and at once gave it to the public through the press.

"Mayor Schmitz WILL SEND the following," said the San Francisco Chronicle of July 4, before there was any cable communication.

On the other hand possibly the reason for the secrecy is that many of our local officials and public men do not fully realize that their messages on such occasions are messages from the public more than from the individual who sends them.

The cables from Honolulu on the opening of the line were ignored by the mainland press. They were too late in getting to the newspapers.

The contrast between Hawaii and the Mainland in such matters might be drawn over and over again as passing events furnish the opportunity.

THE CANAL

The situation in Columbia is peculiar. The Senate now in session at Bogota, does not seem disposed to ratify the Panama Treaty, though the members representing the northern provinces are anxious that the treaty should pass.

The question then arises whether, if this should occur, it would under the act of congress be possible for us to make a treaty with the revolted states.

As far as we here are concerned it does not matter to us what route is taken. What we want is a canal which will put us into an unexcelled commercial position.

The objection that Castro has to the Panama route is that he poses in time to add the United States of Columbia to his military despotism of Venezuela, and thus get control of ports on the Pacific, and, with such a scheme, it would be against his interest to have the United States so close to his doors.

suburbanites as a fire extinguisher. He was calling at his brother's saloon, which is on Twelfth street, just outside the entrance to Harlem race track, when a gasoline stove exploded, filling the saloon with flames and smoke.

The saloon was filled with race goers, but not one of them stopped to extinguish the fire. Instead, they made a rush for the door and all tried to get out at the same time.

That is, all except McGurn. He seized a case of seltzer and turned the stuff on the flames. In five minutes the tiny streams had stopped the progress of the fire, and before the Harlem fire department reached the scene the fire was out.

Eight men were burned, but none seriously. McGurn's hands were badly burned, but he went to the races just the same, after they had been bandaged.

"I only get two days off a month," he said, "and I don't intend to lose one of them over a little fire like this."

CARRARA Mixed Paint

Is not an old paint in the sense that it has been in the market for many years, but the pigments used in its manufacture are believed to be old, because they are supposed to represent the re-discovery of the secret of permanent color, thought to have been lost with Michael Angelo, Leonardo da Vinci, Fra Angelico, Corregio, Murillo, Titian, Guido, Raphael and other Old Masters.

CARRARA has been in the market long enough, however to establish the fact that it gives a BETTER FINISH, lasts LONGER, under the most severe tests, covers more surface, and COSTS LESS than the best Lead, Zinc, and Oil.

If you want the Best Effect and the Best Results, USE CARRARA. Of course some people want what came over in the "Mayflower" and think that pure lead, Zinc and Oil Paint is the thing to use because "Grandpa" used it.

In passing, we may say, that we still have a balance of the OLD KIND OF PAINT, as good as can be made under the old formulas, which we were selling when our knowledge was in the rudimentary stage.

This we can give you at A BARGAIN.

Statue Damaged

That the beautiful statue, that tribute to the memory of the great Kamehameha I, which stood in Palace Square, should be defaced by vandals, ought to arouse the vengeance of all public spirited citizens of our city. To see the figure that stood out proudly against the sky, fallen, a shattered mass of former stateliness, a mixed pile of parted grandeur, brings the feelings of revenge into many a breast, and if the police lay hands on the culprits no mercy will be shown them.

Where the statue of the great king once stood, there may be seen today a life size model of the Douglas Patent Closet. Bath disclaims all knowledge of the change but thinks the public is paying respect to perfection.

DWARFED TREES OF JAPAN.

The Method Used Was For a Long Time a Mystery.

The Japanese are a mysterious people, and do many interesting and beautiful things with their hands, and one of their most interesting arts is the dwarfing of trees and plants. The method of doing this was a secret for centuries, but it is now known that it is done by a skilful and long course of pruning and regulation. Albert Maumene has written on the subject, and the Revere Scientific speaks of his work and says that it is well known that the art of dwarfing the largest trees is part of the education of the Japanese upper classes—that it has its schools and celebrities. Young persons of fortune devote to it the time that our young women give to the piano, which shows a comprehension of the things of the artistic life quite different from ours. For the Japanese, in fact, the garden is the outside parlor; the parlor, the inside garden.

The skill of their gardeners consists not in making beautiful flowers simply grow and flourish. Their ambition is greater; trees grown in pots should recall by their appearance those that grow on the mountainsides, on the edges of ravines, and while remaining small, their majestic forms and original outlines must be preserved. The cultivation of these trees is a work both of time and patience. This dwarfing, or, to speak more exactly, this atrophy of plants is the result of physiological causes which are themselves the consequence either of the processes of culture employed or of the environment of the plants. We must take account of these two influences at once in the formation of the illipituan trees of Japan, for the Japanese climate plays a preponderant part in predisposing vegetation to remain dwarfed. Great altitude, dry heat, persistent cold, insufficiency of nourishment, cramping of the roots, lack of food in the youth of the plants, winds that bend or break the stem—these are some of the elements that determine the arrest of development of the plants that every one has observed in excursions to the mountains, among the rocks of the coast and in arid places in general. "A conifer whose top is cut off," remarks M. Vallet, "is arrested for a time; if this operation is performed anew every time the tree begins to recover the time of arrest will become longer and longer, and the tree will remain knotty, deformed and dwarfed."

All the cultural operations, whether on the subject or on its nourishment—such as continued trimming, twisting and turning of the branches, transplanting to small pots, cutting away roots,—that can paralyze the vital functions, obstruct the circulation of the sap or lessen nutrition, will provoke a stoppage of growth, showing their effects in a very noticeable reduction in height and sometimes in deformation of the plant, and thus prepare it for dwarfing. This would be merely a matter of time and perseverance, if the Japanese did not also use esthetic feeling and a certain art in the making of their pygmy trees. The same subjects, though less dwarfed in their branches, may be met at each step on mountainsides, in the fissures of

OUR DEAD FROM PHILIPPINES

The War Department is in receipt of numerous inquiries which have been excited by the delays in the return of remains of officers and soldiers from the Philippines. It was expected that most of the bodies would be shipped from Manila by this time, but the presence of cholera has interfered materially with the disintering corps. This work has now been resumed, and it is intended that the shipment of remains from Manila to San Francisco will be made by every available army transport plying between these ports, and relatives and friends may rest assured that all remains which have been applied for will be promptly forwarded to them by express as heretofore advised by the War Department. Notice will be sent by telegraph of the date of departure from San Francisco and probable time of arrival at destination, a delay of only a few days being encountered at San Francisco in obtaining the necessary removal permits from the local health officer and perfecting arrangements with the express company for transportation.—Army and Navy Journal.

GOV. TAFT FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.

Mr. Taft, at present civil governor of the Philippines, is a man of remarkable capacity. He commands public confidence as few men have ever been able to do; he is a genius in producing results. He is a man of magnetic personality and winning speech, and, with his knowledge and experience, he could sustain the party's cause on the stump with exceptional grace and facility. That he would be acceptable to Mr. Roosevelt is well known, and as things stand now he is the most likely candidate in sight. While there has been no general discussion of the subject, the party generally would, we believe, be pleased to honor Mr. Taft, and it would be difficult to put a stronger ticket in the field than Roosevelt and Taft.—Baltimore American.

FLORIDA'S HOTEL POPULATION.

Philosophically Considered From the Local Point of View.

One of the least populous among the older states of the American Union, Florida, presents a problem of government almost unique in that it contains within itself a population important by comparison with her own that is still not of herself and is much alien in training, thought and habits of life. The man whose interests and feelings blind him to our soil sees the Englishman pass who traces his ancestry to the Norman conquest, and who rules his partitioned acres by right of a deed from the sword hand dead 500 years ago; the French noble passes him the time of day, and a German may give him personal recollections of the iron chancellor. The broker from Wall street, whom populists have taught him to look upon as a natural enemy, may chuck his baby under the chin, and the republican leader in the Senate, who has helped to give him an appropriation for a neighboring harbor, may fish with him all day. These pass and re-pass as the seasons come and go, but we need not look upon them as mere strangers, because each is necessary to the other.

The Floridian gives to these great communities within our own the safety and confidence of assured law and order; from these visitors we may learn the cosmopolitanism that to others can only come as the best fruit of long travel, and they are, or should be, the embodiment of a market brought to our own doors—a blessing for which the nation has gone to the Philippines, and will again, perhaps, send its army to invade Asia.

There was a time when we were taught the hotels took nothing from us and left nothing with us—which condition, when true, was our fault and our loss. Usually the capital invested in them is not Floridian at first, because we had it not—neither the men nor the money needed. But it becomes Floridian of necessity—it helps us pay taxes, it makes dead communities live, it exerts influence for us in Washington, it brings the investor to view the land of promise, and it makes us friends who stand in the courts where power resides. The town that has no hotel feels it must secure one or die—it is unfortunate that many who have them feel it necessary to arouse antagonism and make a division of interests. This great community within a community comes and goes, but it brings friends for the winter who remain friends during the summer, as a thousand experiences have proved when our boards of trade seek capital for local enterprises or ask the attention of an administration politically opposed. In much our interests are the same—at all points where these tough we stand together, and a better understanding will always help both; man no longer lives for his little neighborhood alone.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

FIRE-PROOF CARS

Postal Department Sees Necessity of Different Mail Coaches.

The wreck of the limited express from New Orleans near Lynchburg has revived suggestions of improvement in the equipment of railroads for the carrying of the mail which are likely to receive the careful attention of the Postoffice Department and later of Congress. In this case the two mail cars were burned, the Pullman sleeping cars being detached and drawn away from the burning portion of the train before they were injured. The subject of building fireproof cars of steel has been considered from time to time, but no marked progress has yet been made in putting such a plan into effect. Fifteen years ago a Boston inventor built a passenger car of steel, and it was used on the railroads of the country as an experiment. The cars built of steel are about 40 per cent heavier than those constructed of wood, and for that reason chiefly such construction was never pursued. In the case of mail cars, however, railway engineers recognize special and urgent reasons for either steel construction or some other method by which these cars may be rendered fireproof. The passenger coaches and sleeping-cars are generally some distance from the locomotive. In the case of mail-cars they are nearly always ahead of the passenger cars and so near the locomotive that they are frequently burned when there is a wreck. There have been many cases in which the postal employes in these cars have been burned to death before they could make their escape. It frequently happens that the mail is destroyed and in that way irreparable injury is done. Many valuable papers that could not be replaced by any amount of expense or labor in that way have been burned, to the great injury of their owners.

These special dangers confronting the mail cars have made of great importance the proposals for their building of fireproof material. This matter has not yet been taken up in any specific way by the Railway Mail Clerks' association, but it is believed to be a subject that will concern them in the future. The life of a railway mail car is said to be twelve years, so that little more than that time would be required to replace them by fireproof construction, should such a course be decided upon. The mail cars are the property of the railroads over which they are operated, but the government has always taken the initiative in suggesting the manner of the building of these cars. They are now made extra strong, and the safety of the mail clerks is correspondingly increased. If they were made fireproof the result would not only be a saving of life, but of vast quantities of mail matter that are now annually consumed by the flames.—Washington Star.

REED'S POSSIBLE FORTUNE.

The late Thomas B. Reed's estate, according to the inventory, amounts to $629,533, and with all debts paid to $431,099. A piece of news is found in the will for that instrument shows that Mr. Reed had actually severed his connection with his New York law firm prior to his last illness. This fact confirms the impression which a few of Mr. Reed's friends had received, that he was about to retire from active practice and possibly re-enter national politics in case a favorable opportunity should be presented. It is very possible that, if Mr. Reed had lived, the anti-Roosevelt sentiment in the republican party would have pushed him to the front as a candidate against the president. Mr. Reed's sudden death, however, not only spoiled any such plan but even prevented it from becoming a possibility in the public mind.—Springfield Republican.

A WEAK MODE OF WARFARE.

The Labor Union Movement From a Radical Standpoint.

There is nothing ethical about the labor union movement. It is coercive from start to finish. In every aspect it is a driver and not a leader. It is simply a war movement, and must be judged by the analogies of belligerency and not by industrial principles. Whoever speaks of labor unionism as an embodiment of industrial principles talks at random. Labor unions like armies cannot be justified. They can only be excused. And this because and only because they are fighting a defensive war. War has been made upon labor, and is constantly being waged against labor, by means of monopoly laws. Against this condition labor is striking blindly by means of the labor union movement. It is a weak mode of warfare. Its victories are trifling, its defeats are disastrous, its ultimate destruction is almost a certainty. But its activities are to be judged by its character as a fighting force in an irrepressible conflict, and not by the principles of industrial peace. And of all men that have no standing to condemn labor unionism, most notable are those business men who insist upon perpetuating the conditions of capitalist monopoly. Out of these conditions labor unionism springs as a natural and genuine out of a neglected wound. Why cure it. The thing to do is to remove its cause. We gravely fear, however, that the privileged classes would rather defend their privileges against the warfare of labor unionism than to dissipate unionism by foregoing their privileges.—Public of Chicago.

PENNSYLVANIA'S INCONGRUITY.

Pennsylvania, rich in historic associations and buildings, which mean so much in the history of the United States, does not propose to turn in that direction when preparing to erect a state building at the St. Louis world's fair. It is to have "a Greek temple, highly ornamented and monumental in character," surrounded by a peristyle, with a courtyard ornamented with statuary and fountains. In the rotunda of this structure—most incongruous housing—is to be placed the Liberty bell, which has been made veritable tramp by those who control it, and some day will very likely meet an inglorious fate in a railroad smash-up. On its St. Louis building Pennsylvania is to spend $100,000, including the furnishing. Perhaps it is just as well that Pennsylvania is not to duplicate Independence hall, for example, in these days of Quay and the astonishing Pennsylvania and the liberal law that he dares not attempt to enforce.—Springfield Republican.

FIRST GIRL STENOGRAPHER

From the New York Evening World.

At the very moment when the authorities of Ruskin college are advising women who would be happy wives to give up stenography and typewriting comes news of the death, at the age of 80, of the first American woman stenographer, Mrs. Eliza B. Burnz. The "z" in Mrs. Burnz's name replaced an "s," discarded by the owner to prove her consistent devotion to the principles of phonetic spelling.

It is not quite a half-century ago that Peter Cooper gave Mrs. Burnz a small room in Cooper Union rent free, where she could teach her sex a new means of livelihood. Into what an oak has the little acorn planted there now grown! Has any one else of the many champions of woman's cause singly done more for her advancement mentally and in lines of business progress than this pioneer teacher of stenography? A copper cent piece contributed by every girl stenographer in the land would rear a monument to Mrs. Brunz of inspiring proportions.

How many women are there thus earning their living? How large is the annual crop of girls graduated from business colleges with certificates of proficiency in stenography? The exact data are wanting, but in 1899 it was estimated that there were altogether in the nation about 52,000 women stenographers. The figures show on their face the error of understatement. It is not too much to say that New York alone has more than 52,000.

Within a few years the new skyscrapers erected below Fulton street have added more than 40,000 offices to those already in use. Is it an exaggerated belief that in half of these a girl stenographer is at work? Undoubtedly in the city's skyscrapers alone of recent construction there is a larger contingent of girl stenographers than was credited to the entire nation in the estimate of 1899.

Will they spare a passing thought of remembrance and of regret for their pioneer leader?

BIG GAME TOO PLENTIFUL.

From the Butte Inter-Mountain.

Big game of all kinds is becoming so plentiful in the section of Dillon as to be a nuisance. This applies mainly to bear and mountain lions, whose raids on the ranches near here always result in heavy losses in sheep, calves and other domestic animals.

During the winter the heavy snow in the mountains drove the animals in closer to civilization. "Black Jack" Smith, whose ranch is on Willow creek, a few miles north, stood the raids of the animals until patience ceased to be a virtue. Then he buckled on his cartridge belt and started out. He has just returned, bringing with him three grizzly bears and a mountain lion. He found the brutes feasting on the carcass of a cow they had killed.

As Smith entered a deep canyon he was greeted with a series of angry growls, and the three bears made a rush for him, followed a moment later by the mountain lion. Jumping up on a rock Smith began firing. One of the bears was instantly killed, while the others ran nearly a half mile before dropping. The mountain lion was the only one that showed fight after being wounded, and he was not killed until after seven bullets from a 45-caliber rifle had passed through his body. He measured nearly ten feet from tip to tip.

THE GRAFTER'S OLD GAME.

From the Philadelphia North American.

Exposed grafters in the postal service show the desperate straits to which they have been brought by the relentless work of Bristow when they try to divert attention from themselves with whispered charges against the investigator. Machen's friends thought they had dragged a herring across his trial when they spread the report that Bristow was using his official influence and the government's money to boom the stock of Alaskan mines in which he and two other government officers are alleged to be interested. It appears that Mr. Bristow has sunk $200 in a prospect hole in Alaska, and that no stock ever has been issued. It was ever the way of the caught thief to hint that the policeman would be in his place if justice were done.

THE POPE'S PRIVATE APARTMENT

The private apartments of the Pope in the magnificent Palace of the Vatican, crowded with art treasures, are marked by their extreme simplicity. The rooms which he occupies are only accessible to the Cardinals, his servants, and to those who are granted the honor of a private audience.

These rooms are reached from the Corte Damaso by the Scala Regia, opposite the celebrated Sistine Chapel, which latter, though it actually forms part of the private apartments, is not difficult of access to the public. On the first floor is the Sala Clemente VIII, where are seen an array of Swiss soldiers and the "guardia nobile," all in full and brilliant uniform. First is the Hall of the Consistory, where the Cardinals are summoned to consult on matters of high importance, as, for instance, the admission of new members to the Sacred College and the canonization of saints. The decorations here were chiefly executed for Alexander VII by Bernini, and the landscapes are by Brill.

The ante-chambers which lead into the dressing and bed rooms of the Pope are now reached. The furniture of all of these rooms is modern and very simple, being made up of red damask and velvet, with gold lace hangings. There is nothing in them specially to attract the eye, or to remind one that he is invading the privacy of the Pontiff. Noticeable are the baldacchini or canopies which are used in processions and other functions, and which have similar upholstery. Under one of these the Pope takes his solitary meals, for by the etiquette of the court he is not permitted to entertain even the nearest of his relatives, or to eat otherwise than alone.

The handsome throneroom is used as a general reception room, but it and the bedroom and the library are finished with great simplicity. Although the expenses of the Papal household reach the large figure of $5000 a day, yet for many years the Pope's personal living expenses have been less than a half-dollar a day.

The Pope, even when in good health, sleeps only four or five hours each night, and often in the morning his bed is undisturbed and the Pope is found asleep in the very chair, before his writing table, in which he now reclines. His bed stands in an alcove, separated from a large room by a curtain hanging gracefully over marble columns. Above the bed is a picture of the Madonna and child. Beside it is a prayer table surmounted by a crucifix. A wardrobe against the wall faces the bed, and between the latter and the wall is a couch. The rest of the room is used as a study, and contains a writing table with a crucifix, a chair on a carpeted platform, chairs and tables for the Pope's secretaries, writing materials and a few books, among which are the works of Dante, Virgil and Horace, besides a Bible. The only window of the combined bedroom and study overlooks the colonnade of the Plaza of St. Peter's. Adjoining is a small room furnished only with an arm-chair and lounge, where the Pope sometimes takes an afternoon nap. The rooms are on the same level as the famous loggia of Raphael.

How About Your Coffee?

Eminent authorities in this country and Europe agree that coffee, when pure, is one of the most healthful of beverages, but it must be pure. When mixed with chicory it is most injurious to the system, causing many disorders of the stomach, etc. We have been most successful in our efforts to encourage the use of pure coffee. ## EXCAVATION AT ABYDOS

NEW YORK, July 4.—A cablegram to the Sun from London says: Professor Flinders Petrie has given an interesting account of the past season's excavations at Abydos. In the clearance of the old temple sites, which extended over several acres, there were revealed, at a depth of about twenty feet, ten successive temples, ranging in age from 500 to about 5000 B. C., thus enabling the changes through the whole Egyptian history to be seen. The main result, as regards religion, is that Osiris was not the original god of Abydos. The jackal, and then Khen-tamenti, the god of the West, were honored until the twelfth dynasty. The most striking change is seen about the fourth dynasty, when the temple was abolished, and only a great hearth of burnt offering is found, full of votive clay substitutes for sacrifices. This agrees with the account of Herodotus, that Cheops had closed the temples and forbidden sacrifices. This materialization of history is made more real by the finding of an ivory statuette of Cheops, of the finest work.

Discoveries of civilization of the first dynasty at the beginning of the kingdom throw more light on what is already known from Petrie's works. In the royal tombs at Abydos of Menes, the founder, there is a part of a large globular vase of green glaze, with Hene's name inlaid in purple. Thus polychrome glazing is taken back thousands of years before it was previously known to exist. There are also several pieces of this age in the highest part of delicate ivory carving, comparable to the finest work of Greece and Italy.

The earliest monarchy must now be reckoned as equal to that of any later age. It takes back its relation to Egypt some 4000 years. Hitherto no trace of the camel appeared before the Greek times. An ivory carving of a bear also extends the fauna of early Egypt. A great fort, long known as Shunet Ez Zebib, is now connected with the remains of another fort, discovered between Shunet and Coptic Deir, which is in the third fort. These buildings prove to have been the fortified residences of the kings of the second dynasty, whose sealings were found in the dwelling rooms of a later age. There are some large decrees of the fifth and sixth dynasties, and also the oldest example of iron yet known, which is of the sixth dynasty.

WHITE TO THE HARVEST

From the New York Mail and Express.

On the threshold of a wheat harvest larger than the entire wheat harvest of Great Britain and Ireland, Kansas calls for men to gather in its grain. Sometimes Russia mobilizes its soldiers and turns them into the wheat fields of its south and west. It will take more outside aid than an army corps filled up to a war basis to get in the grain of the Sunflower state. Were our entire regular army ordered into the field, Kansas could find employment for nearly the whole of it; it is estimated that perhaps 42,000 more hands will be needed there than are now in the market. For the next three weeks we shall hear of tramps abducted from car bunkers and pressed into the service, and colleges closing early in order to add their young men, and even their young women, to the regiments of reapers.

The yearly romance of the West, "the epic of the wheat," as it has been called in a good but now overworked phrase, is beginning. For the next four months the whir of the reapers and binders and the drone of the threshing machines will resound over a region that almost makes good its claim to be "the granary of the world." The harvest will work slowly northward. In Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska the drama of strenuous toil will be set in the winter wheat fields and enacted under the blaze of the June and July suns. In the Dakotas, it will be set in the spring wheat fields, and before the last bushel has been cared for, the snows of late autumn will be lying; the Harvest Home of the reapers will be the Thanksgiving dinner. When these five commonwealths, with Minnesota and Iowa, have got in their crop the bulk of the wheat harvest of America will be in the elevators and the soundest basis of another twelve month of national prosperity will have been laid.

Because the crop is gleaned from an area of almost continental breadth, it will be subject to every variety of climatic vicissitude. Nothing can happen now to the winter wheat, and the probable yield of Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma is already known. It will be from 180 to 200 million bushels, of which 60 million bushels will be the tribute of Kansas. What the spring wheat fields will do, and how near the entire crop of the United States will approach the yield of 1901—about 750 million bushels—may not yet be estimated. The interest now is concentrated on the physical struggle to get the crop down as it ripens.

In part it will be a nomadic spectacle, in part it will be a problem very like the mobilization of an army, in which the railroads, many of them, will perform for the farmers, without charge, the same work for which they would ask pay from the government. There will be free transportation, top wages and the heartiest of food for any idle but able bodied man in St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee or Minneapolis who wants to see the grain fields of the West and do his share toward gleaning them.

HOW IT STRIKES THE MAINLAND

The surprising news comes from Honolulu that the Territorial Legislature proposes to bar out entirely, or greatly restrict, immigration from the mainland of the United States. It is said that the natives are now in the majority and that they propose to remain so, at least until eliminated by race suicide, and that to effect this they will exclude continental Americans as rigidly as we exclude Chinese.

It is a novel proposition, and the lovers of novelty in the working of our system of government will thank the Hawaiians for furnishing a curio. Under our system the Territories have been entirely under discipline and control by Congress, and we do not recall anything in the organic act of the Territory of Hawaii that permits the territorial worm to turn against its disciplinarian. As it is desirable to find out every possibility that may appear in our relation to those recently annexed parts, we hope the Legislature will pass this exclusion law and give our Supreme Court a chance to say again in what dimension and measure the constitution has been ferried to the islands.

The constitution says that Congress shall make all needful rules and regulations for the territory and other property belonging to the United States, and it may also dispose of the same. There has been much juggling with that word "territory," but the conclusion is that its use was derived from the ownership by Virginia of the Northwest Territory, which included Kentucky and part of Indiana, Ohio and Illinois, and was added to the cession lands owned by others of the original States, and the whole erected into the Northwest Territory by the ordinance of 1787.

There was for a time a struggle between "district" and "territory" as the name of domain owned by the Union but not in the enjoyment of statehood. Maine was a district owned by Massachusetts, and was the cause of the first fugitive slave law, because the Maine lumbermen would steal negro slaves from Massachusetts to work in the log camps. Vermont was a district claimed by Massachusetts, New Hampshire and New York. They all quitted and Vermont became a State. Territory triumphed, and when Cass, Harrison and the other Governors of the Northwest Territory were set over it they were the Viceroy of a country larger than Europe and with a white population smaller than that of Monaco or Andorra. The government of that domain, the carving of States out of it and its growth, is all the romance of history and is strung thickly with novelties. But among them is none quite as startling as the proposition of a Territory to exclude from its borders citizens of the United States. Therefore let us have it out in the courts.

WANTS TO BUY SOME BONDS

COURT ASKED TO APPROVE OLAA AND HILO RAILWAY SECURITIES FOR INVESTMENTS.

W. O. Smith, as guardian of Eric R. J. Gay and Arthur F. K. Gay, minors, has asked the Circuit Court to approve investments of $1,000 each in Hilo Railroad and Oloa Sugar Company bonds. The petition contains a statement of the value of the securities, as follows: Of the Hilo Railroad Co., there have been issued and sold $50,000 of six per cent 10-20 year first mortgage gold bonds and a sinking fund consisting of five per cent of the annual gross earnings of the company has been established to commence five years after the date of the bonds, so that by the time the bonds mature seventy-five per cent of their face value will have been set aside out of the earnings of the company. A list of bondholders is given, showing the amount of $23,000 held in San Francisco and the rest by local investors. The net earnings of the railroad last year were $28,054.60 and for this year they are estimated at $30,000. The machine shops last year cleared more than $18,000. Lately the company acquired the property of the Hilo Dock Co., to be paid for out of the $150,000 of bonds remaining in the treasury. The company is paying a dividend of one per cent a quarter and owes nothing but its bonded debt. Only about one-fifth of the area tributary to the road has as yet been developed. Elmer E. Paxton, treasurer, signs the statement.

The Oloa Sugar Co., has issued $1,250,000 of first mortgage six per cent 5-20 year gold bonds, secured by all of the property of the company under deed of trust to Bishop & Co. Of the whole amount $645,000 is held here and in San Francisco and the remainder of $605,000 as collateral security to notes aggregating $525,000 by the Mercantile Trust Co., Security Savings Bank, German Savings & Loan Society and Anglo-California. The assets are valued at $6,534,333.88 and liabilities at $1,230,687.81, or an excess of assets over liabilities of $5,303,646.07. A conservative estimate of the coming sugar crop gives a value of $1,950,000, to harvest which should not cost more than $650,000, leaving a balance of $1,300,000. The company owes nothing outside of its bonds and notes secured by bonds, excepting monthly bills paid at the end of each month, and a credit balance with the agents at the end of this year of more than $300,000 is anticipated. Various factors of promise for the prosperity of the enterprise are mentioned, including the large and modern mill and the almost absolutely certain rainfall, and Treasurer Elmer E. Paxton in conclusion says:

"Nearly all of the bonds sold were taken by responsible parties when the plantation was first started before there had been one-fifth of the capital expended that there is at the present time and before it was fully demonstrated that cane would grow equally well at all elevations on the plantation. If the bonds could be considered fair security at that time their value is certainly largely enhanced by reason of the expenditure and development of the property of the company."
