MILLS IS ACCUSED OF SENDING A DEFAMATORY LETTER TO WASHINGTON.

Harry T. Mills, who since his disbarment as an attorney has been running a collection agency, is coming to the attention of the Federal authorities and may have to explain a letter of alleged defamatory character sent to Washington recently, attempting to ruin the standing of a local employe of the United States government. The correspondence is in evidence, the authorities at Washington having returned Mills' letter to the man he wrote about.

The letter is not given out for publication as it is likely to be used against Mills and its publication at the present time might interfere with the case against him, it is stated, but in his communication Mills makes statements against the reputation of a prominent local man, from whom he failed to collect an alleged claim. He bursts into eloquence at the end and appeals to what he is pleased to term the "square deal" a la Roosevelt, apparently taking the authorities at Washington for a collection agency. The matter is to be referred to the Federal prosecutor.

Getting After a Minister

EVANGELICAL ASSOCIATION DEMANDS RESIGNATION OF REVEREND SUPERVISOR OF HAWAII.

The Rev. W. M. Kalauiwa, a member of the Hawaii county Board of Supervisors, has been asked by the Ministerial Association on that island to drop his title as reverend, with the alternation of being removed. Too great familiarity with square faces is given as the reason. At a meeting recently held the case of Kalauiwa was taken up and it was announced that he had resigned from the churches of Healani and Kalia but that he was still a member of the association and a reverend.

The Rev. Timoteo was delegated as a committee to wait upon the Rev. Kalauiwa and tell him that he must resign from the ministry or else be prepared to defend himself against a proceeding to have him removed. Charges of boozing were made.

Kalauiwa is the dominating member of the Hawaii board of supervisors since the Democrats were turned down by the Home Rulers. He opens every meeting of the Board with lengthy prayers and his political friends didn't suspect that there was anything wrong with his relations with the evangelical association.

IS AFTER "OTHERS"

LIONEL HART IS SO ANXIOUS TO TESTIFY THAT HE WON'T PLEAD GUILTY.

Lionel R. A. Hart alleged destroyer of public documents and self-confessed firebug, appeared before District Magistrate Andrade this morning, for the second time, for preliminary hearing on the charge of mutilation and destruction of kerosene warehouse oil receipts and asked for a continuance until tomorrow morning, which was granted.

Hart was not represented by counsel, A. G. M. Robertson having withdrawn. He approached the desk with a string of low-voiced explanation which involved the fact that he was to have been seen by Attorney Breckons, of the prosecution, but he and Breckons had not connected. He supposed Breckons would see him today.

"I was wondering," said Hart, "if a plea in one of the charges against me would not affect the other case. You see," he continued in effect, "I'm held under two charges, this charge of destroying receipts and the other charge of burning the warehouse and if I plead guilty to the charge of destroying the receipts why nothing will come out about those who are mixed up in the business with me; and that's what Breckons was to see me about and I wanted to see him before I make any plea. I'm only partly guilty."

"You want a continuance, do you not?" said Prosecuting Attorney A. M. Brown. Hart said that he did and the matter was continued until tomorrow morning.

Hart is beginning to show mental wear resulting from his incarceration and he talked more fluently before Judge Andrade this morning in police court than he has talked since his arrest. Yesterday he was committed for trial in the circuit court on the charge of setting fire to the kerosene warehouse and his trial on the charge of destroying the receipts for oil taken from the warehouse was to have proceeded today, but, as he himself intimated there is a very nice point that must be considered before the matter comes up for hearing, for if there are others implicated with Hart in the shortage of oil at the warehouse and Hart should plead guilty there would not be the opportunity of bringing out the evidence desired.

Hart may plead not guilty and Manager Mayer of the local agency of the Standard Oil Company will be called as a witness. Hart will himself be put on the stand and will be given an opportunity to implicate any and everybody concerned.

BROWN'S CASE

The next meeting of the Board of Supervisors will take place on Thursday night of this week. The matter of salary for A. M. Brown will come up at the meeting. Hustace will not say very much about the matter but from remarks that he has passed, will stand for Brown if he can hear that representative business men in town support him.

Frear Explains To Hilo

WHY HE DOES NOT APPROVE
SPENDING $20,000 ON THE GOVERNMENT WHARF.

Governor Frear has prepared a six page letter which he has sent to Hilo in answer to the petition which he received from a large number of Hiloites asking for a reconsideration of the decision to withhold the $20,000 authorized by the loan bill to be used for the improving of the government wharf in Hilo harbor.

The Governor states that he does not think that the signers of the petition appreciate the situation or for what the money asked for would be used. Instead of making any real permanent improvement to the wharf, or making it of greater capacity, the governor argues, the only possible effect would be to possibly make the wharf available for boats of the Inter-Island Company which at present cannot use it on account of the swell which comes in at such an angle from the ocean that it makes it impossible to moor vessels to it. Governor Frear says that the improvement asked for is simply an irregular three cornered projection to be built at the side of the present wharf, which when the Federal break water is built will make entirely needless and hence only so much money thrown away. If it was a permanent improvement he suggests that he should find no fault with the appropriation, but additional money would only have to be spent later in increasing the capacity and extending the wharf out into the bay.

The claim of the Inter-Island company that it cannot get the use of the sea side of the railroad wharf, which would be satisfactory, is said to be erroneous, and that the railroad company is waiting for the steamship people to make overtures for the use of this protected wharf.

The Inter-Island Steamship Company it is stated, has decided that it will not dock the new steamer Mauna Kea in Hilo at all, if the wharf improvement asked for is not made, under the $20,000 appropriation. Instead they will anchor her in the harbor and use shore boats for the landing of freight and passengers.

SUPPLIES FOR FLEET

WILL BRING MUCH WITH THEM BUT ALSO BUY A LOT
HERE.

In view of the fact that the battleship fleet and accompanying vessels may bring to Hawaii about as many people as the entire population of this island, local merchants have been making some inquiry as to how far they are likely to be called upon for supplies. When the Big Four squadron was here business men who were looking ahead made inquiries among the naval officers, and were told that a lot of big supply ships would probably come with the war vessels.

"I understood from the officers," said Secretary Ingham, of the Metropolitan Meat Company, "that there would be large cold storage supply ships which will bring meats as well as vast quantities of the non-perishable foods.

"As far as fresh meat is concerned, we can supply the whole fleet," said Ingham, in reply to a suggestion that if the supply ships didn't bring a lot of meat, the islands would be quickly out of cattle. "We have the meat here if it is needed, but the fleet will bring great quantities of its own supplies. However, there will be a tremendous amount consumed by men on shore leave, and it will call for big local stocks of fresh meats and vegetables, as well as groceries, etc."

It is generally thought that the fleet will buy here as much as possible if prices are found to be satisfactory. The ships will probably be en route to the Philippines when they call here, and they will therefore have to take from here supplies for a long voyage. As far as they are able, it is thought, they will use island supplies rather than reduce those they carry with them.

SAD SOUVENIRS

On the day before he was murdered, Engineer McKinnon of the steamer Rosecrans was about Honolulu buying some Hawaii souvenirs for his mother and sister. They will be sent to those for whom they were intended.

BURGLAR WAS BUSY

CALLED AT LARGE LIST OF PLACES.

Moromoto, alias Matsuda, the beach burglar, was committed to trial in the circuit court on a charge of larceny in the first degree by District Magistrate Andrade this morning. He is at least guilty of having stolen a silver-backed mirror belonging to Mrs. Dole and a gold watch which was the property of Judge Dole.

Captain Soule and J. M. Levy are also victims of this villain whom a bunch of Portuguese captured and turned over to the police. They were out bathing at the residence of a clergyman several weeks ago and lost forty dollars between them, from their clothes.

An officer of the navy has also complained to the police of the prowlings of Matsuda.

COURT RULINGS

In the matter of the Lahaina Agricultural Company vs. A. Poaha, Naimu et al., an action to quiet title, the Supreme Court this morning granted a motion of the plaintiff to withdraw exceptions heretofore filed, and denied one that the hearing of a bill of exceptions be reopened for the purpose of permitting the appellant to apply to the proper court for an amendment of the bill.

The Supreme Court this morning in passing upon the question of the power of the Hawaiian Trust Co., as administrator of the estate of Genevieve Dowsett Dunbar, deceased, to make an exchange of certain shares of Raymond Ranch stock for others of earlier issue, held that the contention of the Henry Waterhouse Trust Co. to the contrary was erroneous, and that the exchange might properly be made.

In the matter of Harh Hak Sae vs. Pak Sung Kwon et al, motions were made by the defendants this morning to have the judgment set aside and a new trial granted on technical grounds. The case was for $400 and interest on a note.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The United States cruiser West Virginia, flagship of the Big Four squadron, with Admiral Dayton of the Pacific fleet aboard, communicated with this city by wireless today, stating that the squadron expected to reach port on Friday, September 27. The West Virginia was 850 miles from this port when the message was sent.

BRIBED BY FORD

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Ex-Supervisor Louergan testified today in the trial of Attorney Ford for bribery to receiving four thousand dollars to vote for the trolley ordinance.

In the Ford case before the Grand Jury Frank A. Lench, Superintendent of the United States Mint; Thomas P. Burns, cashier of the United States Sub-Treasury; the late Julius Jacobs formerly Sub-Treasurer and other officials of the two Federal institutions testified to the withdrawal of the sums of alleged bribe money on the dates specified and to the demand of Ford and Mallally for currency.

The witnesses in the trial of Trolley L. Ford include all the fourteen members of the former Board of Supervisors, whom he is charged with bribing, jointly with Patrick Calhoun, William F. Abbott, Thornwell Mullally, Eugene E. Schmitz and Abraham Ruff.

Ruff's tale on the stand will be the great sensation of the trial. The members of the graft prosecution say that Ruff's story, told the Grand Jury, is one of the most remarkable and impressive tales ever recited in the witness chair. No transcript of this testimony was ever taken, but it will all be repeated in Judge Lawlor's courtroom.

May 14 and 15, 1906, are the dates fixed for the payment of the bribes by the testimony offered, but some of the money is known to have been held back on his colleagues by Gallagher for several days.

The defense of Trolley L. Ford to the charges of bribery brought against him will be that the United Railroads was the victim of extortion, and Abe Ruff will be charged with being the chief extortionist. The leading counsel in the trial for the defendant are A. A. Moore and his son, Stanley Moore. Associated with the Moores are a most brilliant array of counsel, including Earl Rogers of Los Angeles, John Garber, chief of counsel for the United Railroads, and Garret McEnerney.

SHIPPING NOTES
U. S. A. transport Logan reached Manila on September 1 after a passage of only 26 days from San Francisco. It is possible that the cables ship Restorer will be sent to Guam to repair the break in the cable. The matter will probably be decided today.
The present trip of the Sierra is her last here for some time at least, the Alameda resuming on the next run of the Oceanic S. S. Co. from San Francisco.
The next regular mail steamer from the coast will be the S. S. Korea due here September 30. If she drags out her trip to seven days, to avoid quarantine here, she will not arrive until noon next Tuesday.

GERMANS DON'T PRAISE LUSITANIA
CALL ATTENTION TO FACT THAT THE DEUTSCHLAND STILL HAS THE RECORD.
BERLIN, September 14.—Public attention is centered upon the reports of the steamer Lusitania's performance, press comments generally reflecting the elation felt because the laurels of the transatlantic speed records still belong to the Germans. The building of English turbine boats has been regarded here all along as a measure aimed expressly at their German rivals. The Lusitania's inability to lower the Deutschland's average speed record is considered a sign that the blue ribbon will remain here indefinitely.

The officials of the German steamship companies, however, are less jubilant. "The Lusitania failed to break the average speed record," said an official of one German line this morning. "But this trial is not conclusive. Nobody can tell what she will do later. It is still possible for her to capture the prize, and the Germans will then be obliged to make heroic efforts to retake supremacy. Probably we must consider the advisability of following the British example and adopting turbines."

HAMBURG, September 14.—German marine critics here say that although it has been asserted that there was no intention to drive the Lusitania during her first trip, there can be no doubt that the great hopes placed upon her performance were unrealized. They also say that it was not really her maiden voyage, because she had been on trial trips for more than a month, had made a voyage to Gibraltar and return, and had sailed approximately 3000 miles before she started for New York. She was expected to make twenty-four and a half to twenty-five knots, but it is scarcely believed likely she will be able to attain the hoped-for speed.

ACTUAL DAMAGES ONLY FOR JAPS
CANADA WILL NOT BE CALLED ON TO PAY FOR WOUNDED FEELINGS.
VANCOUVER (B. C.), September 15.—Japan is formulating her bill of damages for the plate glass windows smashed by the rioters last Saturday night. The Dominion Government will pay the bill which is not expected to be more than $5,000. The bill will consist of a long list of panes of glass smashed in fifty-six stores and dwellings. So great is Japan's respect and friendship for Great Britain that nothing will be asked for damaged feelings or wounded dignity. The Federal Government may decide to give a contract to a glazier in Vancouver to renew all the broken glass and the Japanese will call it square at that.

Estimates of damage claims have been discounted during the last few days. The reduction followed the receipt of cabled instructions from Tokio that the feelings of the wounded glass are the only grounds for reparation.
After having paid the bill, it is expected that the Dominion Government will in turn call on the city to settle the account. Then will the question be swung from one of immigration to one purely of politics. Mayor Bethune a staunch political enemy of the Government declares that Vancouver will never pay a cent for damage or reparation or anything else. He maintains that with a foreign population of 10,000 the Dominion Government should maintain its own police force here to insure order and prevent riots.
Hindoo leaders complained to the Mayor today that, though they are British subjects, Vancouver was treating them worse than cattle. Landlords refuse to rent them houses heretofore occupied by Chinese and Japanese. They draw the line at Hindoos. This afternoon a heavy rain is falling and there are hundreds of Hindoos who have no shelter under which to sit tonight. Many have severe colds. Last night 150 stayed in one small house so closely were they packed that only a small fraction could lie even on the floor. Another small boarding-house held 250 during the night, and here there was not room for any to place their blankets on the floor and sleep.
"Ranchers would not use their cattle in the way the government and the people use the Hindoos," said Interpreter Das this afternoon. "The treatment is inhuman. Many are sick now and may die. We are trying to arrange with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for the use of a wharf warehouse for tonight, which is fearfully cold for my countrymen. Yes, it is true that thousands more Hindoos are on their way to Vancouver."

The Dominion Government today gave a ruling that the Victoria School Board is compelled to provide education for Chinese, even when everyone knows that the Chinese are using this attendance at school to evade the law. Canada charges a $500 head tax against Chinese. But provision is made that in case that immigrant is a student and for fourteen months attends school after arriving he is entitled to receive a rebate of the total amount of the tax. The Victoria School Board found that fully grown Chinese men were entering the country, becoming scholars in the public schools, being educated free of charge and then having presented to them the $500 tax at the end of eighteen months. Immediately they received this money they became cannery workmen or domestic servants. A protest was made to the Dominion government, but the Controller of Chinese for the Dominion has wired instructions that officially he must agree with what looks like a bunko game.

MISS MINERVA WINS "BRIGHT EYES" LOSES

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Edward W. Vanderbilt, the aged retired merchant of Brooklyn, who married May S. Pepper, the spiritualist medium, is incapable of managing his affairs because of lunacy, according to a verdict returned by a Sheriff's jury in Brooklyn today.

When the verdict was announced Miss Vanderbilt jumped up, clapped her hands and cried "Hurrah!" She says she will seek to have her father's deeds to Mrs. Vanderbilt annulled. The proceedings to have Vanderbilt declared incompetent were brought by his daughter, Miss Minerva Vanderbilt, after Vanderbilt had married Mrs. Pepper several months ago, and had given to her a large portion of the real estate which he owned in Brooklyn, including the house in which they lived. A brother and sister of Vanderbilt subsequently joined her in the appeal to the courts. The hearing was held before a jury and a commission, consisting of a physician, a lawyer and a banker. Much testimony was offered to show that Vanderbilt has been imposed upon by so-called communications with his dead wife through a spirit whom he called "Bright Eyes," the communications being engineered by Mrs. Pepper-Vanderbilt.

Mrs. Pepper-Vanderbilt was put on the witness stand and questioned at great length as to her ability to communicate with the spirits. She was also called upon by opposing counsel to read the contents of letters in sealed envelopes. This she could not do in the courtroom, explaining that the gift only came to her at certain times and when the spirit moved her. The jury retired at 3 p. m. yesterday and was in session all night. The final vote was twelve for incompetency against three for competency. This is sufficient to constitute a verdict.

Mrs. Pepper-Vanderbilt was known as Mrs. May S. Pepper when Vanderbilt met her. She called herself the "Bishop of the Brooklyn Spiritualist Church," the institution through which she has exploited her alleged spiritualistic powers and which also for some years has made much money. She contracted a marriage at the beginning with Edward Ward Vanderbilt, an aged lumber merchant, who became interested in her seances soon after the death of his first wife. One of his daughters brought suit to have him declared incompetent.

One of the daughter's allegations reads: "Deponent alleges that it is a matter of common knowledge that said May S. Pepper is a woman of unscrupulous habits and is a fraud upon the community, and is nothing more nor less than an adventuress seeking notoriety and profit."

The charge was made that she influenced Vanderbilt to marry her by letters purporting to come from the spirit of his first wife. During the hearing a young woman who had been an intimate friend of Mrs. Pepper testified to the medium's close relations with other men. In referring to Vanderbilt witness said that Mrs. Pepper characterized him as an old fool.

On the question of love the witness testified that Mrs. Pepper said to her that there was no such thing as eternal love; that the sentiment was merely magnetic and subject to change. The witness was asked if Mrs. Pepper drank liquor to any extent. "She drank the same as I did," was the reply. "What was that?" "Well, champagne, cocktails, whisky and red ink"—explaining that "red ink" was the red wine that is served with some dinners in New York.

HE GAVE AWAY MRS. LONDON'S DAIRY

JACK LONDON RESENTS A PUBLICATION AND OLD TIME FRIENDS ARE PARTED.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 14.—The Examiner says:

There is a quarrel in literary Bohemia. In fact, the local literati are all agog, especially the elite Bohemian set, over a bitter quarrel involving George Sterling, Jack London and Edwin Emerson Jr., who likes to be, and is called Colonel Emerson by his intimates and is known to fame as war correspondent, rough rider and friend of the President.

Bosom friendship among these three men has been wiped out now, an ocean of angry feelings separate Rough Rider Emerson from the author of the "Call of the Wild" and the poet who first jumped into literary fame by "The Testimony of the Suns," and has recently enhanced his poetic strength and fame by writing "A Wine of Wizardry."

In serried columns the friends of these three men have lined up and those of London and Sterling are quoting from John Brown's "Spare Hours" and picturing Colonel Emerson as a dillitante.

Some weeks ago Mrs. London sent to Poet Sterling her diary of the voyage of the Snark, the vessel in which she and her famous husband and a party started from this port a couple of months ago on a trip around the world. It contains many personal allusions about herself, her husband, her brother-in-law, Captain R. L. Eames, how and why the latter quit the Snark's party at Honolulu, the whims, the quarrels and whatnot of an ocean voyage in a small craft. It was a gossip, woman's story. Sterling read it and reread it. It was breezy, refreshing, better than a summer novel perused under a shady tree.

He read it again. It was too good to keep selfishly to himself. So, summoning a party of intimates, including Rough Rider Emerson, he read the diary to one and all. They all had a hearty laugh. It was immense. They talked over it all the evening long and in friendly spirits dwelt on London, his idiosyncracies, his Snark and the candor of his wife's diary, a modern up-to-date Peep's diary as they thought.

Colonel Emerson lost no time in publishing a story about the contents of the diary and took the liberty in his article of using Mrs. London's first name of Charmion. When Poet Sterling was apprised of what Emerson had done he became very angry and called Emerson to account. Most of the others who were present when Sterling read extracts from the diary took the same view of the situation as did the poet.

"I demand an apology for the betrayal of a gentlemanly confidence," wrote Sterling to Emerson.

"If any apology is due it should be asked for by Jack London," was Emerson's response. The latter also tried to justify his position by stating that as the diary was read before a party of people and there was no suggestion of the reading of the diary being a confidential and secret matter, he had not violated any confidence had not outraged the hospitality of Sterling and that nobody had a right to question him in the matter unless it be London and, he only on general grounds and not from a standpoint of anybody's honor being involved.

London and his wife were apprised at Honolulu about what Sterling and his friends consider Emerson's great ethical wrong. London apparently took the same view of the matter, for he lost no time in sending Emerson word: "When we meet again it will be as enemies."

Sterling has also taken the trouble to write to many of his friends who know Emerson, setting forth the wrong he thinks the latter did and asking them to join him in considering Emerson hereafter as an utter stranger. In a Bohemian restaurant downtown both before and since the fire, there were and are group sketches and pictures of these three men and a number of their intimates. They represent a jolly crowd, sans any suggestion that aught would come to part them but death. Now the friends of Sterling and London are wondering if it would not be a fitting climax to call all these pictures and sketches in and destroy them over the ashes of a burnt friendship.

Hart's mother was with him in police court.

AIRSHIPS FOR WAR PURPOSES

ALDERSHOT (England), September 13.—Samuel E. Cody, the long-haired Texan who is part builder of the first British airship which has been successfully navigated, intends urging the American Government to construct an airship for military purposes. Cody, who had just sailed a mile and a half against a nine-mile-an-hour wind high above Aldershot plains, said today:

"While the French, German and English armies are progressing in military airship building, America is lax. Airships are now placed on the Franco-German frontier. One spectacle of the next war will be battles in the air. The advantages of the airships are that from it an enemy can be observed, explosives can be dropped and besieged towns relieved. Airships are not dangerous, because gas is kept in separate compartments, and one or two bullets would not be effective against them. When I have completed my British contract I shall return to America and urge upon the Government the advantage of having an airship to watch, for instance, the hostile natives in the Philippines."

Would Startle Our Officials

The California Supreme court decision sustaining the Grand jury which found the graft indictments is a hard blow to Louis Glass, Schmitz, Ruef and others and to Tiley L. Ford, now on trial. Schmitz' appeal has many other points, but an attack on the Grand jury was much relied upon. The decision was given in a proceeding to enjoin Judge Dunne from going ahead with the trials, on the ground that the indictments were invalid. A very large number of the prominent members of the California bar took part in the arguments.

The Grand jury, which goes out of existence at the end of the present month, is preparing a very long report. It has undoubtedly been one of the most remarkable bodies of the kind in the history of the country, and its report, with numerous recommendations, will be of great interest. For some time it practically governed the city of San Francisco, as it controlled the "good dogs," who were supervisors. A novel part of the recommendations to be made, it is announced, may be that the city undertake the publication of a weekly newspaper, devoted to the publication "of every action of any municipal official from the Mayor down." According to the announcements made the columns of the paper "will be devoted to the publicity of the routine work in each department and commission of the city's government, and even the smallest of transactions will find a record. It is designed to establish the paper not only to further an esprit de corps among the members of the municipal government, but to aid in the prevention of graft by the publicity it would give to every detail in every department."

What would some of our Hawaii public bodies think of a suggestion like this? Imagine a paper legally required to publish "every action of every official" in Honolulu, where closed doors and secret conferences are so much the official delight! What would our department heads think? How would the License Commissioners and the Board of Supervisors like it? Certainly it would be a starter in Honolulu, but it is a plan that makes for good and honest government. Publicity is the greatest cure there is, for either incompetence or graft.

San Francisco Objects Too

The Star republishes with satisfaction the following extracts from an editorial in the San Francisco Chronicle, which are directly in accord with some views this paper has expressed concerning bubonic plague and quarantines: "The people living outside of San Francisco are once again being misled and alarmed by stories which create the impression that the city is being afflicted by a dire pestilence. It is almost impossible to mention the name of the disease referred to without exciting apprehension, because it is a misnomer which men professing a desire to make medicine an exact science should be ashamed to retain, conveying as it invariably does, when used as it is being used at present by physicians in this city, a false impression which no amount of explanation by sane persons can remove. It would be manifestly absurd to speak of a case of smallpox which had failed to prove infectious through a prompt resort to isolation, or from any other cause, as a smallpox epidemic, and yet doctors commit an equal absurdity when they refer to the alleged discovery of a case of bubonic plague. The word plague when used in this connection has a meaning so well defined that it cannot help misleading. The dictionary attaches to it such definitions as 'pestilence,' 'affliction,' 'slaughter' and 'destruction.' It describes it as 'a blow or calamity; severe trouble or vexation; also that which troubles or vexes or ravages or destroys.' It is safe to assert that most people familiar with the English language associate with the word plague all the dreadful meanings above quoted. Therefore, when they are told that a case or cases of bubonic plague have been discovered in San Francisco they at once conclude that we are suffering from a ravaging disease, when as a matter of fact, even assuming that no mistake has been made, the mortality does not begin to equal that due to the fatally successful attempts to deal with appendicitis. During the past fifty years, or more there has perhaps been no time when the disease, which the doctors persist in recognizing as the same as that which claims millions of victims in India annually, could not be found in this city, or any other seaport for that matter. But it is noteworthy, nay it is criminal, to fail to dwell on the fact that, despite the numerous alleged discoveries of bubonic plague in San Francisco, there has never been anything remotely resembling an epidemic of that disease. Even Chinatown, the sanitary condition of which was always admittedly bad, and very little improved by expensive and extensive cleansing operations, showed no signs of being infected. Single cases were alleged to exist in houses that harbored more than a hundred other inmates, and the latter escaped contagion. A map was published showing the localities in which cases were found and it disclosed the interesting fact that there were as many foci as there were patients or victims."

There is a great deal in this editorial that is descriptive of Honolulu. Every isolated case here is treated as an epidemic. Yet, even remembering the first outbreak which caused so much alarm and such great expense, we can say of Honolulu, as the Chronicle says of San Francisco that "there has never been anything remotely resembling an epidemic of that disease." If there has, we are now in the midst of a frightful epidemic of consumption, for it is all the time killing more people than plague ever did. It is a good thing for Honolulu that her big neighbor is having some cases of plague. The effect will be educational and will assist in bringing about a more sane quarantine system. As the Star stated some time ago, if a list of cases here were prepared it would show that there have been odd victims located in most insanitary places and having contact with scores of Asiatics naturally very susceptible to the disease known as plague, yet, just as in San Francisco, the exposed persons escaped. The Sierra's case was a very striking example, for the patient on that steamer was in a steerage with a lot of other passengers for six days. Honolulu should add her voice to the protest which San Francisco will probably soon be making against regarding bubonic plague with such terror.

Tales Worth Telling

BILL'S REASON.

Hugo Osteraus, the new captain of the battleship Connecticut, praised at a dinner in New York the old salt of the past.

"He has disappeared," said Capt. Osteraus sadly. "We made fun of him, and before our ridicule he blushed and vanished."

"Such stories as we used to tell of him—"

"One for instance, dealt with an old shellback's beard."

"Why is it, Bill," a youth asked the old fellow, "that you never shave your upper lip clean?"

"Well, ye see," Bill answered, "a man's gotter have some place to strike his matches on."

A SURE CURE.

F. Marion Crawford, at a dinner in New York attacked spiritualism.

"In principle it may be true," Mr. Crawford said, "but spiritualism as it is practiced today is a thing to beware of."

"I know a man whose wife suddenly developed a great interest in spiritualism. She attended seances after seance at the house of a handsome medium with dark, thick hair and smouldering eyes."

"Her husband cured her though. He took to accompanying her to the medium's and at every seance he got the most passionate and tender messages from his first wife."

A BACK NUMBER.

H. S. Gabel, secretary of the Motor Boat Club of America, said recently in New York:

"To do creditably in motor boating it is necessary to keep up with the times. It is amazing how soon a motor boat becomes antiquated—almost sooner than an automobile."

Mr. Gabel laughed.

"In Germany," he said, "the gamins who are remarkably expert and severe motor critics, shout after you, if you are in one of those little, old-fashioned noisy and slow automobiles, 'Sewing machine!'"

"Sewing machine! It isn't bad, is it? But I heard one of our own gamins criticize an old-fashioned automobile the other day quite as cruelly."

"The automobile had collided with a truck and a policeman was taking its number."

"BG796" the man muttered, as he put the number down in his notebook.

"Hold on!" said the gamin. "That ain't the number. That's the date it was built."

IN CHARITY'S NAME.

"Jack London's famous definition of charity—'sharing a bone with a dog when you're as hungry as the dog'—recalls a story about charity," said a magazine editor, "that I heard Mr. London tell at a farewell dinner here in New York before he sailed away on the Snark."

Mr. London said that two old men were smoking and drinking together after dinner.

"The host rang the bell and an old woman appeared."

"'Confound you, stupid!' said the host. 'Didn't I tell you I wanted the Scotch? Take this back and bring what I asked for, you old fool!'"

"'Come, come,' said the guest after the old woman had hurried away in a great fright. 'Come come, my friend, don't you think you are rather too sharp with your old servant?'"

"'Oh,' said the other, 'she's not a servant. She's only a poor relation I'm keeping out of charity.'"

"The guest looked relieved."

"That alters the case, of course," he said."

Vice President W. C. Brown of the New York Central railroad, said in Syracuse that he believed in governmental supervision of the railroads.

"Such supervision, conducted as it is bound to be, with fairness will benefit the whole country," said Mr. Brown.

"It is an error to think that the government is going to oppress and persecute the railroads. Some people think that, though. They think the government is going to take chances with the railroads as the farmer did with his son."

"The farmer's son was plowing, and a great black cloud of crows followed the plow, picking up the worms that wriggled in the rich, chocolate-colored furrows."

"The farmer ran into the house, got his gun, fired at the crowd, and peppered his son's legs with shot. The young man fell down, and when his father ran up to him, he groaned: "'Didn't ye see me, father?'"

"'Yes,' said the old man, 'I saw ye well enough, but I didn't like to miss the chance at the crows.'"

SOME FINE WORK.

The Paradise of the Pacific for September contains some very fine illustrations including a picture of Mrs. Longworth, a full page half-tone of the Irwin residence and photograph of the cruiser squadron. For good engraving work the Paradise can compare with the best illustrated papers of the mainland, and it does the promotion work by its pictures.

SCHOONER LUKA IS ALL RIGHT, BUT-

THE CREW THINKS THERE ARE MANY THINGS NEEDED TO MAKE HER ANYTHING LIKE AS NICE AND SAFE AS THE SNARK-GETTING READY TO TAKE KING SCHLEMMER BACK TO LAYSAN ISLAND.

"What's the matter with the Luka?" halliards, and she ought to have a new staysail, and she needs— was asked of a member of her crew this morning. The Luka was loading stores for Laysan Island and Captain Olsen, the man who couldn't find Laysan but who will find her this time with the assistance of Max Schlemmer, King of Laysan, as a passenger, was elsewhere.

"To begin with," said the member of the crew, "she needs repairs to her bottom and the leak should be fixed; then she needs repairs to the mainboom 'jaws'; then the bowsprit should be wedged, and she ought to carry a boat to carry at least a part of the crew, if not all, in case of emergency; then she ought, by rights, to have a water-tank aft in the hold in case of accident; then, I think, she ought to have her bob-stay-bolt repaired, and she needs a cleat for the flying sheet, and she needs new signal lights, and she ought to have a new staysail, and she needs— King Schlemmer left his wife and several children on Laysan Island. He is very thankful to Captain Carter of the Froquois for picking him up just in time, when Schlemmer was in the ocean off Laysan, at the time of the last arrival of the Froquois. The King rowed out to give Carter directions regarding shoals and reefs and capsize.

150 GARNISHEES

THE PROSPECT AHEAD OF ROAD AND GARBAGE LABORERS OF THE COUNTY OF OAHU—COUNTY OFFICIALS DECLINE TO GO INTO THE TAX COLLECTION BUSINESS AND HOLT PROPOSES TO GO INTO COURT.

Tax Assessor and Collector Holt, in his crusade against delinquents is about to begin garnishment proceedings against the laborers of the County Road and Garbage departments to the number of 150 and 200. He states that he doesn't want to do this because it will work a hardship on many of these employees of the County, but he has been unable to get the Board of Supervisors to work in conjunction with him in having the men pay the amounts they owe the Territory, and hence must resort to the law in carrying out his sworn duty.

Road Supervisor Sam Johnson, in whose department the large part of these delinquents are employed, does not take at all kindly to Holt's suggestion. "It isn't my business to collect taxes," he declares, "and why should I get all these Hawaiians sore at me for my holding back a part of their money? No sir, I don't propose to do it. If Sam Johnson holds out a dollar or two dollars from a man's wages it isn't the tax collector who is doing it, but Sam Johnson, and the more they think about it and talk about it the worse Sam Johnson gets in their eyes. No sir, I have enough troubles of my own without shouldering somebody else's."

The taxes in question are poll taxes, amounting to $5 each. If the delinquents have to be sued for it, the costs and penalties will put each $5 tax up to $9.85, which is more than the weekly wage of most of the men. Holt thinks that by a coupon system the amount could be taken from each man's pay envelope in small instal-

LEAD BETTER CAN JOIN AGAIN

THEOSOPHISTS DECIDE THAT THEY WILL NOT ADOPT ANY MORAL CODE.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—The Theosophical Society today decided against the adoption of a moral code and concluded the twenty-first annual convention of the American section at Kimball's Hall by declaring in favor of Charles Leadbetter. This action defeated those officers who have led the fight against Leadbetter and allows him to rejoin the society if he so desires.

Mrs. Annie Besant of Adyer, Ind., the recently elected world president of the Theosophical Society, declared strongly against the adoption of a moral code, so called, a question that has agitated theosophists for some time past.

Mrs. Besant declared in the commencement of her address that all the theosophists are one in their eagerness to raise the moral tone of the society. Where the members of the society differ, she said, is on the question, "Shall moral ideas be enforced by penalty or not?"

"None of the great religions," said Mrs. Besant, "has a penal code enforcing its commandments by exclusion from its pale. On the contrary, they regard it as a primary duty to try to

HOPE TO DO BETTER NEXT YEAR

RIFLEMEN OF THE NATIONAL GUARD PLANNING TO IMPROVE THEIR SCORING.

The general topic of conversation among officers and men of the National Guard since the return home of the rifle team from its contest at Camp Perry, Ohio, is ways and means for getting better results next year, and plans are making for very diligent practice between now and next summer.

All things considered the Hawaiian marksmen made a very good showing. The two ranges at which they fell down at all was in shooting at 1,000 yards and skirmish firing. At 800 yards they excelled, only two other teams being ahead of them in the scores—Ohio and Massachusetts. The team score at this distance was 496.

Plans are nearly completed in the Board of Public Works department for the new target gallery which is to be built with money furnished by the War Department on the vacant lot on Beretania street near the drill shed. This will soon be advertised for and pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. It will be equipped with modern target gyps and will give the boys opportunity to practice a great deal than they do at the present time.

Besides this it is hoped to make material improvements in the Kakaako ranges by the addition of a number of butts at further distance. Col. Jones has secured a five-year lease with the Bishop Estate for the property on which the range is located, which is acceptable to the War Department will make it possible to have one of the finest rifle ranges in the United States. This lease will go to Washington by the next mail.

There is a decided sentiment among business men in the city to lend all their aid and influence towards providing a first class rifle range here, for the reason that in case such a thing is available it is almost certain to cause war vessels to rendezvous here for target and small arms practice, when otherwise they would go to the Coast; and the experience generally with the Navy boys is such that from business and social reasons such a result is greatly to be desired.

SUGAR BEET INDUSTRY MAKES GIANT STRIDES

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—Ernest Grotkass of Magdeburg, Germany, a representative of the German Agricultural association, said at the St. Francis hotel yesterday that the sugar beet industry of the United States had advanced with giant strides during the past 12 months.

Grotkass, who was here a year ago in the interests of the German association, sees great advances in the industry since then. He said that although a few years old in America, the industry if carried on as at present will become a vast source of income to the producing farmers in the future.

In talking on the advance of the industry in Germany, Grotkass said that the German agricultural association, with headquarters in Berlin, had a membership of 35,000 and every year sent representatives to different portions of the world to study foreign methods and learn new ways. He has been twice in the United States. He says that the conditions of beet farming here and in Germany vary considerably, therefore the advanced American machinery would not in all cases be available.

Beet farming in Germany, where it is more than 100 years old, is carried on practically in the same manner as a century ago. Grotkass supports the plan of the German and European governments in providing a subsidy for sugar beet farmers. As a result of the policy he points out that the sugar production in Germany is the greatest in Europe and amounts to three times the amount required for home consumption. A great portion of the surplus is exported to England, Japan and the Orient. Other successful producers of beet sugar in Europe are Russia, Austria and France, where the farming operations are conducted on much the same lines as in Germany.

Grotkass spoke yesterday of the remarkable progress made in this line of farming in Idaho and Colorado, from where he had just come.

"To be accepted as brother by the highest."

The following officers were elected: Dr. Walter Van Hook, Chicago, general secretary Executive Committee—F. W. Kuntz, Freeport, Ill.; P. Washington, Norfolk; H. C. Carns, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Marie Stempel, Los Angeles.

Some excitement was occasioned during the session by the appearance of a squad of police under Sergeant Suson, who insisted that the doors of the hall be kept open, a citizen having called attention to the fact that the session was being held in a hall with locked exits.

In re Dissolution of the A. Harrison Mill Company, Limited. Whereas, the A. Harrison Mill Company, Limited, a corporation established and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the Territory of Hawaii, has pursuant to law in such cases made and provided, duly filed in this office, a petition for the dissolution of the said corporation, together with a certificate thereto annexed as required by law.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given to any and all persons that have been or are now interested in any manner whatsoever in the said corporation, that objections to the granting of said petition must be filed in this office on or before 12 o'clock noon, October 20th, 1907, and that any person or persons desiring to be heard thereon must be in attendance at the office of the undersigned, in the Capitol Building, Honolulu, at 12 o'clock noon of said day, to show cause, if any, why said petition should not be granted.

KIHEI DEAL LOOKS GOOD TO PEOPLE

OVER 30,000 SHARES SECURED FOR DISINCORPORATION AND PROSPECTS FAVORABLE FOR SALE.

J. P. Cooke, of Alexander & Baldwin, who left for San Francisco on the Siberia, will take up with the directors of the Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Company, the matter of buying the Kihai Plantation for half a million dollars or at the rate of $10 a share. The present shareholders are anxious and willing to sell at that figure, realizing that there is not much hope for the future. The plan is to disincorporate the company; there are 50,000 shares in all, and up to yesterday, stockholders, representing over 30,000 shares, signed the petition to disincorporate. Of course, everything depends on the action of the Hawaiian Commercial directors; but in town, it is generally believed that the deal will go through.

The plantation has never made any money, and the future does not hold any alluring prospects. The 1906 crop of 5167 tons was taken off at a loss of nearly $40,000; the crop for 1907 is not expected to exceed 3900 tons, so no money this year will be made.

Many stockholders agree that the wisest course to pursue would be to sell to the Hawaiian Commercial; they argue that only this big company can make anything out of Kihai. And now it appears that one of the "boom time" plantations will be swallowed up by its big neighbor. When Kihai started people were wild to secure stock; the shares commanded big premiums and there was much trading in the stock. Kihai made money for some people but the great majority lost in their transactions in this plantation.

HART ON THE REEF. Lionel Hart is now sequestered in a cell at Oahu Prison under High Sheriff Henry's care.

BARNEY JOY KNOCK RESENTED

WASHINGTON PAPER SAYS HE IS A NEGRO AND WILL HAVE TROUBLE.

Barney Joy no doubt feels "sore" at an article that appeared in the Washington Post of a recent date calling him a Negro, and stating that his troubles would begin when he joined the Boston National League team. Only once before the Boston team had a Negro player in their ranks, and his stay was very short as the other players in the team made his life so miserable, that he did not stay with the team very long.

This statement is entirely unfair, and nearly everyone here will resent the article, which evidently originated from someone who does not know what he is talking about. Joy is not a Negro in any sense of the word, and the rest of his team mates in Frisco will not agree with the sporting man on the Washington Post, as Joy has made one of the biggest hits on the Coast that have been made in many years.

Sam Chillingworth stated yesterday afternoon that the only trouble with Barney so far was the fact that no catcher had been found who could catch Barney, and he had to hold in a good deal. The chances of his pitching for the Hawaii team in the Coast series are very poor, as Fisher intends to put him in the box for his team when they arrive here in November, was the statement made by Sam yesterday.

Barney is doing fine, Sam stated, and is very popular with players and fans on the Coast. "We may think that we know something about the game here, but we don't; when you see the teams in the East play ball you realize that baseball is in its infancy here. I saw the Champion White Sox team play in Chicago, and they play baseball of a kind that has never been attempted here," was another remark made by Sam yesterday afternoon.

SPORT NOTES.

Saturday and Sunday of this week will see the semi-finals, and the finals of the Melneray Cup tournament at the Country Club. The list of players have dwindled down to four, and the chances are that the veteran players, Dave Anderson and Hobby Walker, will fight it out for first place. In the semi-finals Walker will play Weight, and Anderson will play Gill. These four players have been playing good golf this year, and the outcome of these matches will be looked forward to by a large number of players.

FISH WORTH HALF MILLION.

PORTLAND, Me., September 5.—The mackerel fleet of sixty-five sail, composed mostly of craft from this port and from Gloucester, Mass., is now in port, nearing the close of the summer mackerel season, and report that in the aggregate the vessels have stocked $500,000 worth of fish. The Groyling, Capt. Joseph Smith, of Gloucester, caught and sold $25,203 worth of mackerel as his share of four months' work. Capt. Smith is seventy-four and the oldest skipper in the fleet.

The schooner A. M. Nicholson and Constellation, both from Gloucester, have netted $20,000 each. The former is in command of the celebrated "Sol" Jacobs.

ENTERTAINING HART.

Edward H. Hart, Grand Master of the Grand Masonic Lodge of California, arrived here on the Sierra and is being entertained by the local lodges here. Hart was met yesterday by a delegation of Masons, and they started right in to show him points of interest. The best part of yesterday was spent automobiling around the city and today he will be taken for a ride to the Paik.

On Wednesday night a big dinner, reception and dance will be given in his honor at the Young Hotel, and all Masons and their families are invited to be present to meet Grand Master Hart. Thursday night there will be work in the third degree at Masonic Temple, and Hart will preside at this meeting.

YACHTS TO RACE SUNDAY MORNING

SECOND CLASS YACHTS WILL COMPETE ON NEW COURSE FOR MACFARLANE TROPHY.

The race for the Macfarlane trophy for second class yachts will take place on Sunday morning. It is possible that eight or ten yachts will enter for the race, and judging from the way they finished on Regatta Day the race should be very interesting.

The Princess, owned by Prince Cupid, which was upset in the race on Regatta Day, will enter and should be well up at the finish, as she can sail very fast. The Mactarian trophy was presented by Fred W. Macfarlane to the Yacht Club, to be raced for by the second class yachts.

The course that will be used on Sunday is a new one to yachtsmen, and should be a very interesting one to those who wish to see the race, as the start will be made from the Myrtle boat house, from there to a stake boat off the Moana Hotel, from there to the buoy off the entrance to Pearl Harbor and back to the starting point. The yachts will be visible all the way and the race should be a great treat to the people who are not going to be in any of the racing yachts.

AIRSHIP OPPOSES A STRONG WIND

WELLMAN TELLS THE STORY OF HIS LATE VOYAGE IN THE AIRSHIP.

BERLIN, September 14.—Walter Wellman, head of the Wellman airship expedition, has sent the following telegram to the local papers from Tromsø:

"After the steamer Express cast off the cable the balloon America did excellently, but an increasing wind soon gave us a hard struggle and drove us toward jagged mountains near the coast, where the airship would have been destroyed if she struck. There then ensued some hard fighting between the storm and the motor. The latter triumphed. Our confidence in the America had so increased in the meanwhile that I gave the order to start for the north pole.

The wind, however, increased to twelve miles an hour and the snow fell so thickly that we could not see a quarter of a mile. Just then the compass failed to work, owing to defective construction. We were lost in a snow-storm above the Polar sea and threatened with destruction. After a brief deliberation we decided to try to get back to the Express to rectify our compass and start again. It was impossible however, to keep in one direction and we were again carried into dangerous proximity to the mountains.

Vaiman, the engineer, then put the motor to top speed and the America moved against the wind, which probably was blowing fifteen miles an hour. She circled three times in the teeth of the wind. We saw the Express for a moment, but immediately lost her again. We could have returned to the Express if we could have seen where to steer, but under the circumstances the only thing possible was to try to land.

"With this idea we stopped the motor and let the America drift over the glacier. At the end of Doulay bay we used a trailer filled with provisions and a brake rope. Both acted well, and dragged over the ice wall 100 feet high without damage.

"After crossing the glacier we opened the valve and landed on the upper glacier, half a mile in shore. The landing was effected so successfully that material weighing nine tons descended 300 feet and touched the ice with no shock or damage whatever except several bent tubes and broken wires. Numerous delicate instruments were not injured. The self-registering barographs, meteorographs and manometers continued running after the landing. The mantle of the balloon can be easily repaired.

"The America was in the air three hours and covered about fifteen miles with her own power. She made three loops against the wind, proving her power and capability of being steered. The ascent was successful in every respect.

"The America is from every standpoint the strongest airship and the most durable for a long journey that ever has been built. She held the gas splendidly. Later in the same day the Express brought men and sledges from camp. The entire airship, including even a part of the gasoline, was returned to camp in three days.

"The balloon and the entire outfit have been made ready for the winter. After this successful attempt we all are

COAL COMING FOR THE GREAT FLEET

THE NAVY DEPARTMENT ASKS BIDS FOR 253,000 TONS FOR BATTLESHIPS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Two hundred and fifty-three thousand tons of coal, exclusive of that to be shipped in Government colliers, will be required to get the Atlantic battleship fleet to the Pacific coast and properly coal it at San Francisco, according to the estimates made by the equipment bureau of the Navy Department, which has called for proposals for supplying the necessary fuel.

Of this aggregate 123,000 tons are semi-bituminous and the remainder Welsh coal. The former is to be shipped from Atlantic ports in vessels either of American or foreign register, according to the terms.

convinced that we can make our way to the pole in normal summer weather. We all regard this plan as rational, practicable and feasible. The thing can be done and what can be done shall be done."

PAID VISIT TO MOLOKAI SCHOOLS

SUPERINTENDENT BABBITT IS BACK FROM ANOTHER TOUR OF INSPECTION.

Superintendent Babbitt, of the Board of Education is back from a several days' inspection trip spend among the schools of Molokai, Babbitt states that things are very favorable in the public schools on the small island, and that there is not a great deal of difference in the number of pupils enrolled since last year.

The Superintendent will recommend repairs to be made on a number of the school properties, and he selected sites for the four new buildings which will be built if the loan which Treasurer Campbell is away negotiating at present goes through all right.

A number of old school lots which the schools will not likely need in the future, the Superintendent will recommend be turned over to the Land Commissioner, and a survey will be asked to be made to definitely locate all the lots owned by the schools on the island. It is recommended that a change of the school be made for the present site of the Kalae school to a new lot, as being more advantageous, while at Kaunakakai both the church and school will probably be moved to a new location as the present site is either a bed of dust or a mud flat.

Miss Daisy Barnes, principal of the Kona waena school, arrived from the Coast on the Sierra and will leave tomorrow for Hawaii to begin her work. She was unable to obtain passage on the last trip of the vessel and is consequently a little late in arriving.

ADMIRAL LORD BERESFORD.

VICE ADMIRAL LORD CHARLES BERESFORD

"Well, you take two thick slices of chicken, a slice of roast beef and a raw tomato. Then you add some lettuce and sauce."
"That's a queer mixture, pardner, but I guess our chef can make it."
Five minutes later he returned from the kitchen with the "white-cap sandwich" and the shabby individual devoured it to the last crumb.
"That was pretty good, mister," he remarked, rising from the table.
"That so? But how in the world did it get the name of 'white cap' sandwich?"
And then the shabby individual "beat it."
"Why, you see, boss, it is always on the chef."
And then the shabby individual "beat it."—Chicago News.

WIRELESS 'PHONES FOR THE BATTLESHIPS

THE ENTIRE BIG FLEET COMING ROUND THE HORN TO BE IN COMMUNICATION BY WIRELESS TELEPHONE—THE BATTLESHIPS CONNECTICUT AND VIRGINIA ARE HAVING THE APPARATUS INSTALLED FIRST.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—For the first time in the history of any navy, the fighting craft of the great fleet that is to sweep around Cape Horn and into the calm waters of the Pacific will be in verbal communication with each other. The wireless telephone is to be the medium linking each ship to its sisters. As Admiral "Fighting Bob" Evans is known to have a penchant for forceful language, it is probable that the squadron will leave in its wake a chain of verbal "d—s" reaching from Rockland, Me., to the peaceful portals of the Golden Gate.

It came as a surprise this week when announcement was made that the Navy Department had determined on "trying out" wireless telephony on the long cruise. Outsiders have been led to believe that verbal communication without the use of wires was a wonder still far off in the future. But Dr. N. Monroe Houkins, chief electrician of the Navy and professor of chemistry in the George Washington University, has been quietly investigating the subject and watching every experiment made in the new field of electricity.

As a result of Dr. Hopkins' work apparatus is to be installed at once on the battleships Connecticut and Virginia. It will be given the most severe tests and if it answers requirements every ship in the big fleet is to be equipped. The wireless telephone is to be used as an auxiliary to the wireless telegraph, with which every vessel in the Atlantic fleet is supplied. It will supplement the telegraph, not supplant it.

It is claimed for the wireless telephone that it can be operated perfectly in the worst weather at a distance of five miles, and, under favorable conditions, over much greater stretches.

Technical descriptions of the apparatus have not yet been given out by the Navy Department, but it is said to be comparatively simple in construction and not likely to get out of order. Indeed this is put forward as one of its principal recommendations.

Among those who have taken an absorbing interest in the development of the wireless 'phone is Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone bearing his name. Peculiarly enough, Mr. Bell is connected with the same university with which Dr. Hopkins is associated as a member of the faculty. For some years he has been a trustee of the George Washington University and has frequently advised such of the students as have evinced interest along electrical lines.

In this connection the government is strongly represented on the faculty of the local university. Scientists and experts from nearly every branch of the government service are devoting some of their time to directing the work of the students and the institution of learning is turning out men fitted in every way for public service. It is for this reason the administration looks with such favor on the campaign now being undertaken by the institution to transform itself into a national school for graduate study.

So close is the association between the government and the George Washington University that many experiments and tests made in the laboratories of the latter have resulted in discoveries of undoubted value to the nation. That this co-operation is appreciated is proved by the hearty letters endorsing the nationalization movement received from President Roosevelt and other public men.

SPEAKS WORD FOR PEARL HARBOR

LIUTENANT COLONEL GLASSFORD SAYS IT SHOULD BE IMPROVED AT ONCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—Lieutenant-Colonel W. A. Glassford, Chief of the Signal Corps of the Department of California has just returned from an extended trip, on leave of absence, through Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands. He came down from Seattle on the steamer Spokane and is stopping at Grand Central Hotel.

Colonel Glassford made a close study of the strategic positions of the United States in Alaska and on the Hawaiian Islands and believes that Uncle Sam is fully prepared to cope with the Japanese situation in the event of hostilities. He regards the transfer of the fleet of battleships to the Pacific Coast as necessary to its protection. He says the improvement of Pearl Harbor, in Hawaii, should be made at once. He regards it as one of the most important strategic points in the Pacific.

"Pearl harbor will accommodate the entire American Navy," said Colonel Glassford yesterday. "It is a beautiful harbor and should be defended."

Colonel Glassford is not alarmed at the immigration of Japanese to Hawaii. He says in case of war the American Navy would drive the Japanese vessels from the Sandwich Islands and the Japs would scatter to the interior. The more Japanese there are on the islands the easier the task would be claimed.

The first move in case of war, he says, would be to cut off all communication of the Japanese between the islands. This would cut off their supply of fish their main food.

"Reduced to rice and eggs, and cut up into sections, the problem of the Japanese war is not a stupendous one for a nation of such resources as ours," said the Colonel. "San Francisco and Puget sound occupy the position of colonies. The main point is to build up a sufficient naval force and keep it concentrated. It can be moved in this state to the Antipodes if necessary. It looks to me like had policy to have part of the fighting force on the Pacific and part on the Atlantic under the circumstances. The opening of the Panama canal will facilitate the transfer of the fleet from one ocean to the other but even then the forces should remain concentrated.

"The shipbuilding establishments of San Francisco and Puget Sound should be encouraged, and both places strongly fortified. The transfer of the fleet to the Pacific will stimulate the opening of the coal fields on the Pacific Coast and Alaska. In the vicinity of the Copper river in Alaska, fine coal is said to exist in great quantities.

"A short railroad to a good harbor

LONG TRIP OF A SUBMARINE

FRENCH NAVAL BOAT TRAVELS OVER TWO HUNDRED MILES AT GOOD SPEED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—A cable to the Sun from Paris says: The submarine boat Opale finished yesterday the longest voyage ever made by a vessel of that class, traveling from Cherbourg around Brittany to the Isle De Croix and back on her own resources without any stoppage, as a test of her seagoing capacity.

The distance traveled was 222 miles, and she made it an average speed of eight knots. The voyage included several difficult places, notably the doubling of Ouessant and going through the Raz de Seine.

$50,000,000 SUIT LOST.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—A verdict was given for the defendants, Henry H. Rogers and Charles Pratt of New York, by Auditor Winfield S. Slocum in the supreme court yesterday in a suit brought by Cadwallader M. Raymond of Somerville to recover $50,000,000 alleged to be due as royalties for the use of a process for rendering petroleum and its products non-explosive.

It was represented by the defense that the formula was of no value and did not render the product non-explosive, according to experiments by Hiram Maxim; that the contract was terminated January, 1875, Benjamin E. Greenough, with whom the original contract was made, acquiescing, and finally the defendants referred to the statute of limitations.

The auditor stated in his findings that the formula did not perform what was claimed of it, and ordered a verdict for the defendants.

It is all that is needed to make it valuable for our naval uses. If we had Vancouver Island and the Queen Charlotte Islands our situation as to coal and strategic position would be greatly improved."

Colonel Glassford does not believe that the Pacific Coast would be at the mercy of the Japanese if the latter attempted to land troops. He says the transportation of troops across the Pacific is a difficult task, and could not be accomplished unless the sea was swept of enemies. The seven transcontinental lines afford ample accommodation for the transportation of troops. He believes that the Alaska "Huskies" in our next war will play a part similar to the Rough Riders. He regards Alaska as a country with a great future.

BITTEN ON BECHTEL'S RECORD THE NOSE

COLONEL KNOX GETS INTO A FIGHT AND HAS VERY UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE.

"Mr. Johnson, turn me loose; as a table d'hote I ain't no use. What for d'ye want to bite my nose? Oh, look at de blind old ova mah clothes! I'm a-gwine to put ye in de calaboose, unless, Mr. Johnson ye turn me loose!" Colonel Knox of political fame and lieutenant of the late Attorney Henry Hogan, engaged in a scrap with Cook Johnson, of the cabshop Restorer, at the unsavory Winston block on Hotel street, near River, yesterday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock.

"I'm too old to get licked," said Col. Knox to a Star reporter this morning, "and when that big guy that calls himself an African Negro, but is more like a cannibal, went for me over something that was none of his business, I just naturally tried to go for him, but it wasn't no use. He threw the ivories into me for fair and pretty nigh hypothesized my nose. I'd a bitten him back but I'm sixty-three years of age and my teeth are mostly gone and he had the advantage by a whole double row of ivories. He likewise masticated the right side of my head and went to bite my eyebrow. It all came of a lady owing me six-bits and she handed me a dollar bill and when I went to make change Johnson said he had it in for me and the trouble started. I don't as it was any of his business." Knox's nose bears evidence of having been bitten, the marks of teeth being visible on either side. Knox's nose is not small and the cook of the Restorer must have been real hungry. Johnson certainly tried to bite off more than he could chew. Knox swore out a warrant this morning for the arrest of Johnson.

They were met by the Governor and his military staff headed by Col. Jones. The band was also in attendance at the formal call and did its part in rendering German national airs in compliment to the visitors.

The will of Koleka Kamanonahu, who died last May at the age of 70 years, was yesterday entered for probate by Hans Waiata, a grand-jury, and sole legatee. The estate consists of one certificate of the Hawaiian Realty & Maturity Co., valued at $200. The petitioner asked that William Paoakalani be made administrator.

Letters of administration were yesterday asked for by Annie L. Roe, for the estate of Henry Hogan, deceased. The estate consists of law books and office furniture to the value of $450. The hearing of the case was set for October 31. Hogan left no will, but his heirs are said to be a Mrs. Hopkins, a sister, and John Hogan, a brother, both of San Francisco.

Colonel John T. Baker of Hilo, who is at present in Tahiti has a letter written from there, in the present number of the Aloha Aina, in which he speaks of the coming visit of A. P. A. Salmua, the Tahitian Prince who is said to intend to attempt to win the love and affection of Queen Liliuokalani. The Queen expected a visit from her Royal cousin, but the belief that he will marry the Queen is believed more in San Francisco, than here.

Hirano who went from here to represent the Kumeric Hui is back again, from Vancouver, but he has none of that Morikawa the Japanese Consul at watch, and he brings back the story the $26,000 that he was sent up to Vancouver made a division with the Vancouver hotel keepers and then informed him that there was no money left. No one believes Hirano's story here, but never the less the fact is so that $15,000 good gold dollars are in the British city, and the chances of its ever getting back to Honolulu are very slim.

Judge Weaver, of the Land Registration Court yesterday handed down a decision in the application of Lewers & Cooke for a registered title to property at the corner of Punch-bow and Queen streets, granting a title. From this ruling appeals have been made by the Kaplalan Home and from Mary H. Atcherley. The Home claims that the property is subject to a charge of $6,000 due from David Kawananakoa and Jonah Kaniannole; while the second claim is for title to a part of the lands, according to certain lines of records.

SAN FRANCISCO PAPER GIVES HAWAII FIRST PLACE IN MATRIMONIAL SPEED.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 13.—The Call says:

Misnamed Californians seeking divorce and desirous of leading another mate to the altar of justice court without the compulsory delay that follows the granting of an interlocutory decree will no longer be compelled to establish a residence in the bleak wilds of South Dakota or in any other un-California climate. The territory of Hawaii offers all the inducements of South Dakota in the way of immediate and complete freedom after divorce and where could time be better spent in establishing a legal residence than in the Paradise of the Pacific? F. M. Bechtel of the United States Immigration service, who arrived yesterday on the liner Korea, brought with him a bride, who three days before the Korea left Honolulu was the wife of one of Honolulu's most prominent residents and has nothing but praise for the finished product in the way of decrees turned out by the Hawaiian courts.

Mrs. Bechtel was the wife of E. R. Stackable, United States collector of customs at Honolulu. Bechtel was stationed at Honolulu for three years as immigration inspector and was a frequent visitor at the Stackable home. He left the government service to accept a position with the Pacific Mail company as chief clerk at the Harri-man agency at Yokohama.

After 12 months work at Yokohama he resigned from the Pacific Mail service and secured reappointment as an immigration inspector. He left Yokohama on the Korea. When the liner reached Honolulu he found that his old friends, the Stackables, had decided to dissolve partnership and that three days before the Korea's arrival Mrs. Stackable had been granted a divorce. Before he had been ashore an hour Bechtel had married Mrs. Stackable and when he returned to the liner the passenger list was amended and when the Korea sailed F. M. Bechtel and wife were among the passengers. The Stackables had one child, who is with Mr. Stackable in Honolulu.

Bechtel expects to be assigned to duty at this port.

MISSOURI HAS CHANGED ROUTE

STEAMER WILL GO TO SALINA CRUZ INSTEAD OF ROUNDING THE HORN.

The itinerary of the American-Hawaiian S. S. Missouri has been changed and instead of going to the Atlantic Coast by way of the Straits of Magellan she is to leave here sometime next week to complete loading a full cargo of sugar at Kahului, Kaanapali and Hilo for Salina Cruz, thence going to San Francisco, her movements after that not yet being decided.

When the Missouri sailed from Tacoma she signed on her men for the Atlantic Coast via the Straits of Magellan and, in order to make the articles conform with the change, United States Shipping Commission H. N. Almy today interviewed individually the members of the crew of the big freighter to find out how many wanted to stay on under the new arrangements. All but ten agreed to stay aboard, getting coast wages instead of Horn wages, which means a considerable difference for the better for them. Those who did not want to go to Salina Cruz have been paid off here by mutual consent.

COMING HERE AGAIN.

The North German Lloyd training ship Herzogin Sophie Charlotte, which was here some time ago on a voyage round the world, has started on another tour, and cable advices were received yesterday to the effect that Honolulu is in her itinerary. It is not known just where she is now, or when she will arrive here, but she probably has a long voyage ahead before calling at Honolulu.

Army Brass Band. Everybody is cordially invited to attend this affair, Tuesday, Sept. 24, hall at corner of King and Nuuanu St.

In a supplemental report filed yesterday by M. T. Simonton, in the matter of the final account of Carlos A. Long, administrator of the estate of R. W. Holt, deceased, the matter finds objections to the account for the reasons that commissions charged by the administrator at 2 1/2 percent on $27,273.84, the "original corpus," was up on an amount which no longer exists and did not exist at the time he took charge as administrator. Also that commissions on whatever sum he did so receive have long ago been taken under old apportionment rate and that such a commission now is improper.

SHERIDAN TO GO TO MARE ISLAND

WILL PROBABLY BE DOCKED THERE FOR VERY EXTENSIVE REPAIRING.

WASHINGTON, September 14.—The army transport Sheridan, which sustained extensive damage some months ago by grounding, probably will be docked at the navy yard at Mare Island. Such a request has been made by the war department. If this is done the Sheridan will occupy the dock at Vallejo for the rest of the year, making it necessary for navy ships to be docked at private plants in San Francisco, of course, at the expense of the war department.

There is no special naval work in sight at Mare Island, unless it is the minor repairs which are necessary on the worktown, which may be brought north from Central American waters.

If the Raleigh and incennati are to come to the eastern coast, as is now under consideration those vessels probably will be docked in San Francisco before making the trip.

PICKING TEAM.

(Continued from Page One.) some hard practice will have to be the order of the day. Although the majority of people here do not think Honolulu will win the series, or even a game, the local boys will learn a good deal about baseball. A good deal of speculation has been made concerning the make up of the Hawaii team, and it is very probable that every team will be represented. Such men as Evers, Hampton, Williams, En Sue, Reuter, Jones and Aylett are all most sure of being on the team, as their playing has been enough to warrant it. Woods will announce in a few days who the committee will be, and from now on the public will know how the players stand, and no doubt long before the coast team arrives the All Hawaii team will have been picked.
