Hawaii Holomua

PROGRESS.

The Life of the Land is Established in Righteousness.

HONOLULU, APR. 23, 1894.

THE HOLOMUA IS A "PEOPLES" PAPER AND IT REMAINS AT A "PEOPLES" PRICE. DELIVERED DAILY AT RESIDENCES FOR 50 CENTS PER MONTH.

The Mammoth Fraud.

The registration is closed. The patriots (!) desiring to vote for the delegates who will be permitted to pass the ready made, cut and dried constitution that will finally show the p. g. in its proper light and prove the bigotry, the selfishness and the lack of principles of the men now posing as true, honest and sincere Hawaiians have taken the famous oath to support the p. g. and then overthrow it by creating a new government, and everything is as merry as a marriage-bell. But in spite of the merriness, and the happiness there is a very ugly feature connected with the affair. The registrations books for Honolulu show that 1507 men qualified to become voters. Included in that number are all the members of the army, the police, and the government officials. About 500 Portuguese have registered, and less than 200 Hawaiians could be induced or threatened or bulldozed to take the oath that made them traitors. We shall not enter into figures at this date, but as soon as the returns from the islands are in, we shall prove what a fake what a miserable sham this election is, comparing the number of voters now registered with the number entitled to a vote under the constitutional government, it will be shown, that not even one in ten of the taxpayers backed the government and proved themselves ready to support it. Mr. Smith of the Star registered under protest. His patriotism doesn't go far enough to allow him to jeopardize his American citizenship. The same was the case with the ex-papa of annexation, Dr. McGrew, although it will always remain a 'marine-hospital' mystery, why he should desire to retain his American citizenship. The truth is that the government has no backing. It is simply temporarily supported and tolerated partly, because the opponents of it, for the sake of the welfare of the country, are unwilling to injure the credit of the land by another revolution, and partly, because the Hawaiians having submitted their cause to America—and received a favorable answer, do not desire to anticipate through any act of precipitated violence the future actions of the United States. But, how mean, and how contemptible must the annexationists feel when they call to mind that Mr. McStocker or whoever directed the annexation club made—a solemn—and as was presumed honest statement that the club represented seven thousand (7,000) voters or more than a majority of the registered voters in Hawaii nei. Where gentlemen are the rest of the 7,000 or who is responsible for the outrageous falsehood, lie or misrepresentation that lead Stevens to make an ass of himself and that some day will place the great patriots (!) and jingoists, from Dole down, in a very unenviable and dangerous position in the eyes of amen.

Louder, Please! Louder!!

If Mr. A. F. Judd, our esteemed and talented Chief Justice, has not yet spoken in response to the questions asked him by the HOLOMUA; we have not yet heard his reply. The whole community is interested. Mr. Judd, we beg to assure you. Therefore, speak up, Mr. Judd. Louder! Mr. Judd—a little louder, please.

Compulsory Vaccination.

The government has seen fit to enforce the law that provides for compulsory vaccination of school-children. That law was made by a Legislature, composed of men who in no way were competent to judge of the possible effects of such an Act. The Hawaiians dread vaccination. That may be through ignorance or misrepresentation, but a large number of foreigners refuse to comply with the law because they are convinced that the arm-to-arm vaccination is opening fearful chances for inoculation of leprosy. The virus so far imported here has not proven a success and the results have been far from satisfactory. We have carefully studied the subject and we can quote the best medical authorities in the world in backing the opinion that vaccination in a country where leprosy is so prevalent as here is more than dangerous, yes it is an outrage. It is hardly for a daily paper like the HOLOMUA to enter into an exhaustive discussion on this subject or to produce the lengthy observations of men like Drs. Arning, Mouritz, Hansen, Hillis, Bakewell, Unna, Gardnier and Sir Randal Martin. But we believe that the views of most of these prominent men, who have made the subject of leprosy and vaccination their speciality, can be embodied in the following extract from a letter written by Dr. Charles E. Taylor, the official physician at St. Thomas of the Danish West Indies, a man whose ability, medical training and careful investigations place a great authority on his opinion. Dr. Taylor writes (in 1891):

I have read the report of the evidence given before the Royal Commission on vaccination in London with much interest, and with regard to the connection between vaccination and leprosy, an experience in these islands (West Indies) of over twenty years enables me to confirm the truth of this terrible indictment. On more than one occasion cases have come before my notice of leprosy in families which could only have been inoculated with the vaccine virus, none of the family having, previously to vaccination, been afflicted with this malady. The possibility of spreading such a dire disease by means of the lancet is one too grave to be longer disregarded, and it is needless to say a serious matter for these islands, the most lovely in the world, where children whose parents may be the most healthy, are liable to leprosy through arm-to-arm compulsory vaccination. May I venture to hope that the English Press will have the humanity, and courage to speak out, and compel colonial authorities to withdraw the vaccinations enactments, which on these grounds alone are so dangerous to ourselves and our families.

The law is of course, on our statutes and we believe that a law should be enforced as long as it is there. But we do believe that the government would do a great deal better if would either repeal or at least amend that law. Make vaccination optional and not compulsory. Even if it is admitted that vaccination is a preventive against small pox, is it not better for the country and for the people to run the risk of being infected by that disease than by spreading and contracting leprosy through official inoculation by vaccination? With as many intelligent and sensible people decline emphatically to allow children under their care to be submitted to the compulsory arm-to-arm vaccination. Better for the "kids" to go without education (as given in our public schools) than receiving the smattering of knowledge obtainable there,— and leprosy.

Tweedlee Tweedledum.

Oh! what a difference in the morning! We couldn't suppress that exclamation, when we read the appropriation bill prepared by Damon-Smith & Co., and at the same time remembered the attitude of W. O. Smith in the largest legislature, and of the press of Mr. Damon. We shall go into the details of the appropriation at some future date, and confine ourselves today to ask Mr. W. O. Smith, if he kindly would explain, if not to us, to the police committee at least how it is that such an utter change has come over his dreams, and made him take such a very different view of the police department, when it was headed by Tweedledee Brown and not by Tweedledum Smith. In spite of his cry for retrenchment the learned attorney general considers, it necessary to ask for $100,000 for "pay of police Oahu." When the now learned attorney general sat in the Legislature in 1892, as an ordinary member for Koloa and Lihue, he favored to pass the item providing for pay of police Oahu at $68,250. Minister of finance P. C. Jones in figuring up the back pay due the department moved that the item pass at $85,160.62. Attorney general Brown said that he had made all the possible reductions that he conscientiously could and he hoped the department would be able to get along with the comparatively small appropriation. Mr. C. W. Ashford who probably knows more about the Police department than anybody else said that he feared that the department would find itself very severely handicapped and he therefore moved that the appropriation be passed at $90,000. The learned W. O. Smith was willing enough to see a bigger appropriation if only the country could afford it, but he couldn't see his way to vote for the larger amount. He thought "that the country should be congratulated on having an honest administration. The amount asked for by the Attorney-general was small in comparison with what had been spent. This opportunity should not be allowed to pass without expressing one's sense of the outrageous manner in which public money had been wasted in the Police department. Such waste, such extravagance should be condemned. He would rather see the Police department crippled than go on as it had. There had been no excuse for such misconduct." So spake Mr. W. O. Smith in 1892, on the floor of the Legislative hall while a Reform Cabinet was at the head of the administration. That cabinet went out in due time, and Mr. Smith went in as Attorney-General, and how does he talk now? "Pay of police, Oahu, $100,000." The Attorney-General explained the details (not published). His Excellency further on increased the pay of the Sheriff of Kauai—presumably on account of the Kalalan affair—from $3,600 to $4,000. He always did have a soft heart for Kauai. He increased the salary of the Deputy Marshal from $4,000 to $4,200 and he attempted to pass the pay for the jailor of Oahu prison at $3,600. But in 1892 the astute member from Lihue said in regard to this last item "that he would rather be a jailor at $18,000 per annum than chief clerks of any bureau at $1,300. The jailor is enjoying free board and lodging." Why has Mr. Smith now suddenly realized that the jailor is worth political friend of the "honest" Attorney-General, or is money more plentiful today than it was in 1892? We could continue (and shall in coming issues) examples of Mr. Smith's in consistency and the very different aspect of the position $3,600? Is it because the jailor is it of an attorney general—or any other object—when looked at from below or from above—by an "in" or by an "out."

Then and Now.

In speaking about the appropriation bill then under debate in the Legislature the P. C. Advertiser edited by Mr. Henry Castle says on October 6th, 1892. "It is still full of extravagances. It contains a single item of $50,000 for the biennial period for the military. The Premier (E. C. Macfarlane) is a man of sound common sense and he knows, therefore, that this item represents a sheer waste. It is popular in certain high quarters of course. But that cannot make any difference to a Minister so bent on economy as Mr. Macfarlane. If he cuts it out altogether the House will follow him." And on the 23rd of April 1894 the Advertiser still edited by Mr. Henry Castle, says; under the heading "A Good Force Imperative. The many different and conflicting elements of our population, imperatively require the presence of a small, but thoroughly, well trained military force, capable at all times of acting promptly, intelligently and effectively."

What, may we ask, of our esteemed contemporary constitute the "elements" that evidently have not here under the monarchy in 1892, but are here under the p. g. in 1894, and which make a good force imperative? Is it the p. g. army, the bums or spies?

Popularity.

The Advertiser is full of enthusiasm and is sobbing over poor Dole because he actually has attained the doubtful advantage of being 50 years old. While some of the terms used in praising His ex-Honor the ex-judge are not mal-apropos we must take a decided stand against the claim for Mr. Dole's popularity. He was well-liked enough as a man of sporting and athletic proclivities. He was harmless and fair enough in the everyday humdrum of life, but his talents—if they exist—have never been very heavily demonstrated. Celebrating this, his natal day and fifty year's jubilee as a citizen of the world, a generous amount of bunting was displayed—from the yachts Hawaii and Bonnie Dundee. With these representatives of the Hawaiian navy we congratulate Mr. Dole on his birthday—and on his popularity.

THE COMING EVENTS.

What Dailey's Company will do this week.

The company now occupying the Opera House has made a lasting impression on our theatre patrons by their artistic renditions, and proved that versatility is their trade mark. During the past week they presented three distinct styles of dramatic and comedy material and skeptics doubt which was the most praiseworthy. Both artistically and privately they are the recipients of unbounded admiration.

Commencing this evening with "Forgiveness" they present even a stronger repertoire than the previous one, putting on "Forget-me-not" on Wednesday, which will give Miss Nannary her initial artistic opportunity and closing on Saturday with one of America's greatest successes "The Shadows of a Great City." The sale for each play is progressing rapidly.

Salutes were plentiful this morning and afternoon from the war-ships in port, occasioned by the official visits of the Bishop of Paeopolis, Minister Willis and Consul General Fujii to the Duchaufault; the flagship Philadelphia, and the Takachibu.

THREE BULL'S EYES.

The Record Made By The Dailey Company.

"Pink Dominoes," that bright, piquant, naughty but nice, and rollicking comedy was presented to a very large audience, on Saturday evening last, at the Hawaiian Opera House, by the members of the Dailey Stock Co. The audience present in the boxes, dress circle and parquet, were representatives of the best of Honolulu society and included many, very many, persons who had witnessed the play in great cities of the East, and were consequently familiar with the "worldly" character of the production. That the actors of the parts in the cast played well their parts, and that the audience, "missionary" and "heathen" enjoyed most thoroughly the double entendres was made patent by the continuous applause given during each act of the performance. The play was most unmercifully cut by the manager, but sufficient life was left in the lines to allow Mr. Darrel Vinton to show up most thoroughly his versatility as an actor in the fun-making part of Justin Tubbs, a most decided opposite to Edmond Dantes, the Count of Monte Cristo so successfully personated by him a few evenings previous.

Miss May Nannary had but little scope but, as usual, acted well, as did others of the cast, notably so Mrs. F. M. Bates who has, in every character presented, shown the finished actress. Miss Josie Gassman had a single "turn" of her own in the catchy song "Won't you come out and play" with a very modest skirt dance. To say that she made a "hit" is unnecessary, she obtained an encore and very nearly had the curtain hoisted again. Connors as Brisket was lively and had an able adjunct in W. B. Ash. The audience stayed till the last and smiles were on all faces on departure. The suggestion is again given to the actors that the asides and soliloquies indulged in, back from the footlights, cannot be heard and many a good point is thus lost to the audience. Tonight, Forgiven, and on Wednesday evening the society drama, Forget-Me-Not.

There is no doubt in the minds of people of ordinary common sense, that the American flag being hoisted over the government building gave the revolutionary or P. G. party the control of the different departments, and which they have so much abused by importing arms and ammunition of all kinds to the detriment of clean and good government. The Hawaiians and good citizens have not been able to do the same, and all foreigners coming to the country were searched for arms, and where found the same have been confiscated, thus giving the P. G. the strength of an armed oligarchy. This is not the only thing that the hoisting of the American flag has done for these people, it has given them the power to call for an election of parties to frame a new constitution. These same parties have used the Hawaiian and foreign press to abuse the Queen for attempting to give notice that it was her intention to do away with the constitution of 1887, and to declare in its place a new one. What was so black a sin in her is now considered by them to be a saintly action. In order to do this, a great many interested parties have attempted to force the natives and foreigners to register under a threat of loss of position and livelihood. My advice to all who have taken the oath, and proceeded thus far is to stop where they are and go no further; as the United States of America in whose hands have been placed the Queen's protest will in its own due time realize from our island papers, and from private correspondence, the weakness of the government protest and will not allow its citizens to claim allegiance to two countries, and the American flag to be sullied by such a set of, if one can call them men.

Affidavits can be produced by men who have been forced to register and vote in order to have the common necessities of life. Each and every man who has had these threats made to him should now come forward and place the same in the form of an affidavit. Said affidavits to be published in all the available papers, both at home and abroad.

Thereby, showing to the whole world, that it is not the free and unbiased action of a nation composed of men of all nationalities; and that the great majority are awaiting the answer of the United States before taking any definite steps towards the formation of a party who will give to the country a good and clean government. And as a final remark, I will ask how long a time a man has to reside in the United States before he becomes a citizen and gain the right of franchise? One of the strongest points about the oath taken in America is, that a man has to swear away any previous allegiance.
