Hutchinson Sugar Goes To Honolulu Plantation To Be Refined Here POLLITZ SIGNED CONTRACT ON COAST

"The Hutchinson Plantation Company, Kau, Hawaii, which has not become a part of the Sugar Factors—neither has it sold to Spreckels—has contracted for the sale of all its sugar to the Honolulu Plantation, which will refine it," said Ed. Pollitz of San Francisco, at the Alexander Young Hotel to a Bulletin reporter this morning.

Mr. Pollitz, sugar capitalist, arrived in the S. S. Sierra this morning. On the day before he sailed from San Francisco he signed, for the Hutchinson Plantation, in which he is largely interested, the contract by which for the next three years, at least, all the Hutchinson sugar will be shipped to the Honolulu Plantation on this island and refined.

The signing of this contract, the contract itself, will be news to San Francisco as well as to Hawaii, according to Mr. Pollitz.

Reviewing the sugar situation, Mr. Pollitz said:

"The sugar market has been a disappointment to everyone. When I was down here last year, sugar was 33c or 35c. At that time, if you remember, I made the prediction that sugar, within a year, would sell at 5 cents. Well, it reached 5-1-4.

"As always follows a considerable rise in price caused by speculation, there was a falling off in consumption of sugar.

"The shortage of the beet crop in Europe and the abolition of tariffs should have strengthened prices to a healthy point, but this healthy point was largely a matter of opinion.

"European sugar speculators drove prices higher than was justified, and consequently consumption was decreased materially. Now the same conditions which brought about a decrease in the consumption of sugar, with low prices, will, in my opinion, bring about a contrary effect.

"I look for higher prices. I believe that about 4 cents will prevail. Should sugar be driven higher, which is not likely, the consumption will be again curtailed.

"This is a critical period for beet. Beet is depending on what weather men call a weather market. There will be big prices without stimulated consumption if the weather proves unfavorable.

"A most decided interest is being taken all over the world in Hawaiian sugar. Inquiries are constantly being received, in San Francisco in reference to Hawaiian securities. In San Francisco they look to me for information and I must keep myself posted. And so I am down here again to study the conditions.

"No, I'm not here particularly on business connected with Honokaa. Honokaa needs no more looking after than any other plantation.

"I shall remain here a few weeks—about the usual time." Fred. St. Goar, the young son of Pollitz' business partner, accompanies Mr. Pollitz on the present trip. This is his first visit to Hawaii and he is already in love with Honolulu. Considerable of an amateur photographer, St. Goar will make a fine original collection of Hawaiian views.

Nuuanu Muddy Water Says Howland Is Now Closed Off PUMPS BEGAN WORKING TODAY

Assistant Superintendent of Public Works Howland this morning took steps to have Honolulu furnished with clear water instead of the muddy mixture which has been spouting in dirty jets from the city water taps.

"Men are out today shutting off the valves and holding away the Nuuanu water from the larger part of the city," said Howland this morning, when questioned in regard to the situation.

"It will take about a day for the water to clear. The pumps were all started this morning. They will be kept running whenever it is necessary, when we can not get clear water from Nuuanu.

"In this way we will waste water but we can continue with the sluicing operations at the new reservoir."

Howland was asked how much it cost per day to run the pumps. He answered that he was not able to answer this question off-hand, as it required considerable calculation. It cost about $40,000 a year to run the pumps. The gravity system cost almost nothing.

In answer to a question as to what was the difference in the cost of excavating the new reservoir in Nuuanu by sluicing and by other methods, (Continued on Page 2.)

KAULUKOU HAS SCHEME HAWAIIAN COLLEGE BOYS CAN ADVRTISE HAWAII

DID PROMOTION WORK AS A STUDENT AND FOUND PEOPLE WOULD RATHER BEAR THAN READ

A. G. Kaulukou returned from the mainland in the Sierra this morning after an absence of three years, having completed his studies at Yale Law School.

Kaulukou comes back with an idea in the way of promoting interest in Hawaii abroad. During his three years in New York he did a great deal of Hawaii promotion work, talking of the islands, often giving little informal lectures to interested audiences, and singing the songs of Hawaii.

He found that this kind of promotion work was appreciated and was encouraged to do a great deal of it.

He never tired of telling of his native country and was frequently surprised at the woeful ignorance of Easterners in regard to Hawaii. He says he found that but little attention was paid to the pamphlets sent out by the Hawaii Promotion Committee. People preferred to hear from the lips of one from Hawaii all about these islands.

Kaulukou's promotion idea is this: For the Promotion Committee to offer to pay at least the tuition, only a small matter for the year, of a number of Hawaiian youths at mainland colleges, with the understanding that they hammer away on the promotion of knowledge concerning Hawaii.

During summer months the students could make something at the hotels as waiters, as many students do and as Kaulukou did himself.

Kaulukou thinks his idea, if carried out, would not only encourage Hawaiians to secure college educations, but would prove a great thing for Hawaii, spreading information that would result in increased travel here.

BROUGHT BRIDE BUT NO BONDS

Calvert Brewer of the United States Mortgage & Trust Co., who was expected to bring the $600,000 refunding bonds as well as the new $750,000 loan bonds, arrived from the mainland this morning. He did not bring the expected bonds, but brought his bride with whom he is taking a honeymoon trip to the Orient in the Doric. The bonds are expected to come in the mail.

Mr. and Mrs. Brewer called on Governor Carter this forenoon and were shown over the capitol by Secretary Atkinson, who also accompanied them on a drive to the Mall.

Treasurer Campbell stated this afternoon that the $600,000 refunding bonds arrived in the mail three days ago and have been in his safe since then. The bonds are in a sealed package which has to be opened by the representative of the United States Mortgage and Trust Co. For this reason the package has not been opened as yet as Calvert Brewer has not called on the Treasurer as yet.

GUNBOAT GOES DOWN

Full Supreme Bench Hears The Term Lapse Question WILDER AND HARTWELL AGAIN ON DECK

Associate Justices Hartwell and Wilder returned from the mainland this morning and immediately they were called to sit with Chief Justice Frear to pass on the term lapse question. This matter was reserved by the Circuit Court to the Supreme Court and on the objections of counsel to have circuit judges fill the vacancies on the Supreme bench in determining this matter it had to be set for the date when the two Associate Justices returned.

At 10 o'clock the Supreme Court opened but only long enough to allow Frear to announce that Wilder had not as yet been located and that the court would therefore take a recess until 10:30 a. m. At that hour the court went into session with Frear, Wilder and Hartwell on the bench.

Attorney General Andrews asked the court to set the hearing of argument on the demurrer of Supervisor E. R. Adams in the election contest case brought against him by Abraham Fernandez, his defeated rival candidate. This matter was set for such a time when the term matter had been heard.

Judge Humphreys fired the first gun in the term lapse matter. He gave a resume of his contention that the term of the Circuit Court had lapsed because it had not opened on the first Monday of September, which was Labor Day, as specified by law. He quoted numerous authorities showing that the court could very well have opened on (Continued on Page 4.)

FRENCH SUGAR CRISIS

New York, September 17.—A special to the Times from Paris says: According to the Journal the gravity of the sugar crisis in France is much greater than was at first believed. The total losses of the various firms involved amount to $2,000,000 on a conservative estimate, and two more important houses are seriously threatened. The delay accorded to one of them by its creditors expires tomorrow. To many manufacturers the present price of sugar represents a loss of $3 a bag. Unless the price rises, which seems improbable, these manufacturers will have difficulty in meeting their engagements with beet growers.

YOUNG'S TRADUCER PROVES A LIAR

Gear Poking Holes In The Witness For Prosecution

The almost unanimous tenor of the San Francisco newspaper reports on the court-martial of Commander Lutien Young is favorable to Young. Judge George D. Gear in handling the case in breaking down all the prosecution witnesses and as the Chronicle report says, "the talk that General Wood is behind the charges offered against Commander Young does not down."

The Vallejo dispatch of Sept. 18 says: The opening of the court-martial of Commander Young on charges of neglect of duty in connection with the Bennington disaster, at the Mare Island and Navy Yard, ended today with honors distinctly in favor of the accused officer. The most biased observer must have admitted as much. The sensation of the day was sprung when Emil Frederiksen, water tender on the Bennington and the first material witness called by Captain West for the prosecution, tangled himself up under cross-examination in a maze of contradictory statements and lapses of memory, displayed unmistakable symptoms of animus toward the accused commander and finally wound up with an admission that he had lied while testifying under oath before the naval board of inquiry at San Diego. After showing that the witness had been a deserter from the Navy, and in addition had been twice put in confinement by Commander Young for breaches of naval discipline, Judge Gear turned him loose, thoroughly discredited.

Testimony Against Young.

Four witnesses were called by the prosecution, and almost without exception, under the cross-examination of Civilian Counsel Judge Gear for the accused, their testimony toned down considerably the harshness of the charges made upon direct examination. The prosecution endeavored to show that Commander Young had been habitually negligent in the matter of engine room inspections, and indiscreet in the sentinel and safety valves on the boilers not receiving the care prescribed by the Navy regulations, and that the deck gear for controlling the safety valves had been out of order for an extended period.

The net result of the day for the prosecution was a fairly strong showing that Commander Young had never made a practice of visiting the engine room nor of indorsing the engine room log at the end of each month, as required by Navy regulations, and that so far as any witness examined could testify, the safety valve on boiler B had not blown off nor given warning prior to the explosion. For the defense the net results of the day, as gained by the witnesses for the prosecution on cross-examination and in addition to the impeachment of Frederiksen, were that the sentinel valves, forming the basis of charges 4 and 5 by the Secretary of War, were obsolete and had never been used by the engine room crew and that the deck gear for lifting or mechanically operating the safety valves while the vessel was in port had never been used regularly, but that the safety valves had been (Continued on Page 5.)

Son—Papa, what is a Territorial Official?

Papa—A Territorial Official, my son? Don't you know what a Territorial Official is? Well, a Territorial Official under the present government is a public officer, who could not be elected pound-master by the people, but who got appointment to office by Carter under mistake, and who thinks himself above the people for that reason, and consequently spends all his time thinking of and doing all the things he can to oppose the people and their elected officials, thereby making the Territorial government the enemy of the Counties. Now, do you understand?

Symptoms Of Bright's Disease

The spread of Bright's Disease is so profoundly stirring the health departments of the large cities that mention of the commonest symptoms is timely.

Puffiness of the eyelids or swelling of the ankles or hands in the morning; also dropsy in the abdomen.

The obstructed kidney increases the blood pressure and the heart may become involved and painful. This is often attended with an asthmatic condition or shortness of breath.

As Bright's Disease commonly starts as kidney trouble, any kidney disorder that has lingered longer than three or four months is notice of the chronic danger point, and that it can be no longer trifled with.

There may or may not be sediment. Often in advanced cases there is no visible sediment.

Falling eyesight, drowsiness and uraemic headaches are all advanced symptoms.

A pale, pasty complexion, with weakness, is also to be regarded as suspicious.

We desire to place in the hands of those having Bright's Disease a 36-page report on a large variety of test cases put on Fulton's Renal Compound for Bright's Disease. It shows 87 per cent of recoveries in this hitherto fatal disease. The pamphlet is free.

A little vanity is a good thing. Every woman should try, at all times, to look her very best. But it certainly must be discouraging to have your mirror tell you that your hair is gray when you are only thirty or fifty! Gray hair adds twenty years to the age. Why not look as young as you are, or even younger?

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Always restores color to gray hair, always. Brings back all the deep, rich, beautiful color of early youth.

Perhaps the color of your hair suits, but you are losing the hair itself. You are threatened with thin hair, rough hair, scraggly hair. Your hair seems weak, not well nourished. Then give it Ayer's Hair Vigor, a true hair-food. It stops falling hair, makes the hair grow, and keeps it soft and silky.

Owners of Cemeteries Indulge In Red Hot Discussion

PINKHAM FOR MUNICIPAL CONTROL

A spirited meeting of representatives of various cemeteries took place in the Board of Health office yesterday afternoon. The grave men had been called together by President L. E. Pinkham with a view of gathering information with regard to what could be done to remedy the situation. No conclusions were reached by the cemetery men. There were nineteen present and each one hotly defended his own grave-yard and criticized the others. Those who had cemeteries outside the city limits agreed that those in the city should be closed, but those interested in the city grave-yards fought for them tooth and nail. Several times the discussion became quite heated, as for instance when Governor Cleghorn called down H. T. Moore for roasting the Kawaiahao cemetery and in his turn said that Moore's Lockwood cemetery was not fit to bury people in.

President Pinkham opened the meeting by stating that it had been called because of the sanitary condition of the city. Honolulu had 19 cemeteries. That was too many. It had been impossible to maintain them on modern standards. He understood that some of those controlling cemeteries would be glad to close them if new and good accommodations could be had. He had called those present together to talk over the situation.

H. T. Moore said that four years ago the Board of Health had given notice that burials inside of city limits would be allowed only for three months longer. On the basis of this the cemetery association had been organized and had procured the Pearl City or Lockview cemetery. It was twenty acres in extent, ample to bury all Honolulu's dead for thirty years to come, and according to the regulations of the Board. If the Board had continued according to its regulation this cemetery would have been a second Greenwood. For some reason or other, however, very few burials had taken place there lately.

The cemetery had been cut up into eight sections. The Catholic Mission has selected eight acres for its cemetery. There were also Chinese, Japanese and Protestant sections. The cemetery had been mapped. An alphabetical list of the burials was kept so that all the graves could be located easily. Such an arrangement should be complied with but none of the other cemeteries had done so. A burial in this place cost only $10 besides $1 railroad fare. Moore went on to describe the advantages of the Pearl City cemetery. He spoke against the opening of new cemeteries saying, if for instance one was opened on the other side of Diamond Head, the cost of a hearse would be $25.

A. V. Gear interrupted Moore, saying he was mistaken on that point. Moore went on to say it was up to the Board to live up to its former regulation on the basis of which the Pearl City cemetery had been founded.

A. V. Gear said the Pearl City cemetery was a good one, but it was too far distant for people who wanted to visit the graves of their dead. It was too expensive for poor people. The trustees of Gear, Lansing & Co. had a site near Diamond Head, which was mapped out in sections as outlined by Moore. The Board of Health had approved of the site. Several samples graves had been dug and Mr. Noble, one of the most prominent cemetery men of San Francisco, had pronounced the place an ideal one.

Gear thought the Board should prohibit further burials in the city and encourage cemeteries in the suburbs. The Wai'alae cemetery would be connected with the Rapid Transit Co. and be easy of access.

J. Marcellino asked Pinkham what action the Board would take with regard to the Catholic cemetery on King street. Pinkham said he could not tell. He had called the cemetery people to discuss the situation.

W. J. Karratti said that the overcrowded cemeteries should be closed. He said, however, that the Makiki cemetery was not overcrowded and read statistics to prove it.

D. Kekaulike spoke about the Moanua cemetery of which he was the superintendent. He did not think it was dangerous to the public health as it was 300 feet above sea level. He asked the Board to visit the cemetery.

Geo. Kaia said that Pueo cemetery in Palama had been re-opened three years ago and enlarged one year ago.

David Dayton said a public cemetery should be provided for burying poor people. There was not much room in the Oahu cemetery but some lots had more room and it was absolutely sanitary. By its charter the Oahu Cemetery Association could hold 200 acres. It contemplated purchasing the Campbell property, but principally for crematory purposes. There had been talk of taking in the Judd property, but nothing had been done. The neighborhood did not object to the cemetery.

Sam Kanakanni spoke of the Kamaikapili church cemeteries. The one at Maemae was almost full. The church was willing to abide by the action of the Board if it wanted to close it. The cemetery at Palama was far from full and would be reserved for future use.

A Chinese said he represented the Manoa cemetery. He thought a better location for the purpose could not be found.

Moore said the Hawaiian Cemetery Association believed that the Board should close the old cemeteries in the city with the exceptions of such family lots as were not filled. The holders ought, however, not to be allowed to sell lots to outsiders. The interments should be outside of the city limits. All the property owners around Makiki had asked that the Makiki cemetery be closed. The Bishop had had

BULLETIN PUBLISHING CO., LTD., By C. G. BOCKUS, Bus. Manager.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23rd day of [SEAL] September, A. D., 1905,

P. H. BURNETT, Notary Public, Honolulu, County of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 27, 1905.

Investigation of the naturalization frauds in San Francisco has developed the crying necessity for it.

Howland's "clean dirt" baths may be all right externally. Taken otherwise they would drive average humanity to drink.

All John has to do is to put up the passage money, and steamer loads of people will come from Hawaii and attest to his greatness.

Splendid service isn't it? When the public must needs voice a vigorous protest in order to prevent a service of water overburdened with "clean dirt."

The blanket warrant has been hanging fire long enough to become both cold and stale. The return of the Supreme Court is as tidings of great joy.

Before long, some one will send the water with "clean dirt" to the Hawaii Herald to assist it in wiping out the smirches on a $10,000 reputation.

Poultry show people are giving evidence of enough life to make others wonder whether the Merchants' Association ever expects to hold another fair.

The articles on Hawaii appearing in Sunday papers of the mainland suggest the work of the "publicity bureau" operating to the disadvantage of the Territory.

There's no doubt that Commander Lucien Young has the newspapers on his side. Therefore the public is satisfied that the court-martial is more the creature of spite than justice.

The investigation going on in New York points very strongly to the fact that of all good things a life insurance company is the best. Provided yours is the privilege of handling the coin.

Jim Hill has told the Minnesota farmers that this idea of America getting control of all the markets of the world is a fallacy, and suggests that railways are philanthropic institutions. Jim is a funny man.

When the head of the water department says the water from a basin, in which men and horses are at work, is laden with "clean dirt," it is very evident to the public that the gentleman has missed his calling.

Make European labor available and the white labor problem on the sugar plantations of Hawaii will be solved. No honest man at this point in Hawaii's affairs has any business committing independent small-farm crimes upon an ignorant public.

Of all the islands of the group the hitherto quiet, unassuming garden island is making the most obstreperous county in the whole list. Though one may object to its frequent and positive demands, he cannot fail to admire the vigorous unity with which Kaula's forces tackle a problem. There is a growing impression that Kaula people understand what is meant by public spirit.

Hawaii can thank its leading knocker for the knocking campaign Gompers is now leading. At the same time Gompers can rest assured that the Hawaiian sugar planters will take all the desirable European population that Gompers will or can supply—and then call for more. The injury the knocking has done is to start Gompers out in opposition to Hawaii's interests when he should be cooperating.

CLOSE THE CEMETERIES

The cemetery problem has been periodically argued before various Boards of Health since the days when W. O. Smith was king. Possibly before that. The results of the discussion have been almost invariably the same. The community has been impressed with the necessity for vigorous action that is also business-like but neither legislative nor executive authority seems able to turn the trick.

There is a solution to the problem but there is none that will satisfy every one. These years of discussion have proved this, if anything, also that positive action should be taken forcing the abandonment of crowded cemeteries and proper care of those allowed to remain open.

The Board of Health has authority to deal with the situation and the Board of Supervisors may also be of valuable assistance in providing the necessary municipal legislation. The question is broad enough to be decided on ordinary principles of sanitation and civic decency. With one or two possible exceptions the cemeteries of Honolulu lack proper care and are not a credit to the city. This condition has existed for years to say the least.

Unless the town is absolutely bereft of public spirit, the community will stand by a plan which will close the crowded cemeteries and provide others within reasonable distance of the town. The town has not lost all its public spirit. Therefore the Board of Health and the Supervisors will be justified in acting with business judgment, satisfied that the justice of the cause and the integrity of their intention will be rewarded by strong public support.

LOW GETS THROUGH

After having been on the stand for about a fortnight all told under cross-examination by W. A. Kinney in the Parker ranch case, Eben P. Low was this forenoon permitted to leave the stand. This forenoon he was given but a short quiz relating to contagious abortions in cows. Following this the testimony of J. T. McCrosson, as given on a former occasion, was read.

FULL SUPREME BENCH.

that day in spite of the fact that it was a legal holiday. Judge Lindsay's affidavit in the matter showed, he said, that he was in the courtroom merely in his private capacity and did not open the court pro forma as was necessary.

Humphreys further held that the Circuit Judges could have called a special term within twenty-four hours of the raising of the question and could thus have saved the month which had now been lost.

Humphreys was followed by Perry who added that if a special term had been called the session could have begun eleven days later, and continued to argue on somewhat similar lines as those of Humphreys.

Deputy County Attorney Milverton held that the term had by no means lapsed. The whole objection was, he contended, based on a fiction, namely that the whole business of the term was transacted in one day. His argument continued until the noon hour.

MANCHURIA'S CAPTAIN

LOSES HIS COMMISSION ON NATURALIZATION FRAUD

CAPTAIN SCOTT OF THE TOBEY IS ALSO IN LIST OF THOSE WHO ARE BROUGHT TO ACCOUNT.

San Francisco, September 21.—Not small fish only have fallen into the net of the Government, but a big one now and then has tumbled in, by way of illustration of the blindness of justice and the impartiality of the United States secret service men in their efforts to unearth the parties concerned in naturalization frauds. The most important victim of the week was Captain James William Saunders, master of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's steamship Manchuria. Captain Saunders surrendered his naturalization papers yesterday to United States Secret Service Agent John H. Helms and they were ordered canceled. His American license as master suffered the same fate. Captain Saunders was not placed under arrest, he having convinced Agent Helms that he had applied for naturalization under an erroneous belief that he was entitled to become a citizen at the time he made the application.

Captain Saunders was born in Nova Scotia in 1849 and became a seaman at the age of 15 years. In 1873 he obtained an English master's license at St. Johns, New Brunswick. He served for several years on Nova Scotian vessels plying between New York and Nova Scotia and was married in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1878. On June 22, 1886, he became naturalized on the statement that he had become a resident of the United States while a minor. Such, however, was not the fact, and his naturalization was therefore void, although at the time he believed that he was following the law. He arrived in San Francisco in 1891 on the English steamer Sirius, and a year later entered the service of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. He is now disqualified from serving as an officer on an American vessel until such time as he may be able to become naturalized anew.

The papers of Captain Arthur H. Scott, master of the Gerard C. Tobey, were also canceled yesterday. He was born in Dundee, Scotland, in 1860. He returned to New York from Scotland on August 17, 1900, and came to this city. He showed his papers of intention to the United States local inspectors in making application for a seaman's license, and, being informed that he must be a full citizen before a license would be issued to him, a tailor and consulted a friend of his, a tailor named Levy. Levy took him in his buggy to the Superior Court and called the clerk into the corridor. The clerk asked the applicant to give him the names of two witnesses who had known him for five years. He did so, and the clerk went into his office immediately, and in a few minutes handed him his full citizenship papers, without having asked him or any one else any further questions. It was all done to oblige his friend Levy.

BACKACHE AND DIZZINESS.

Most of the Ailments Peculiar to the Female Sex are Due to Catarrh of Pelvic Organ.

MRS. M. BRICKNER.

"A short time ago I found my condition very serious. I had headaches, pains in the back, and frequent dizzy spells which grew worse every month. I tried two remedies before Peruna, and was discouraged when I took the first dose, but my courage soon returned. In less than two months my health was restored."—Mrs. M. Brickner.

The reason of so many failures to cure cases similar to the above is the fact that diseases peculiar to the female sex are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh.

Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna cures these cases simply because it cures the catarrh.

If you have catarrh write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O. For special directions every one should read "The Ills of Life," a copy of which surrounds each bottle. Peruna is for sale by all chemists and druggists at one dollar per bottle, or six bottles for five dollars. Those wishing direct correspondence with Dr. Hartman can wait the necessary delay in receiving a reply, should address Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, U. S. A. MAKAWELI FESTIVAL

Lihue, Kauai, Sept. 26. — Invitations sent broadcast over our island lured all who possibly could get away from their daily toil to Makaweli last Saturday to help the management and the employees of the plantation celebrate the successful harvest of the largest crop taken off by that prosperous concern. Both sides of the island were well represented in the festive crowd that thronged the verandas and lanai of the Makaweli social hall in eager anticipation of the program prepared by the entertainers.

Decked in a true tropical raiment of palms, ferns and garlands, lit up by the mystic light from numerous Japanese lanterns and alive with charming ladies and men more than willing to be charmed, the hall proved as attractive as of old, and seemed to breathe an air of festivity into even the most tired.

The Waimea quintet sent its seductive melodies floating on the evening breezes and soon young and old were treading a measure on the boards of the new lanai. This latter proved an excellent innovation, as it combined the advantages of plenty of room with a comparatively low temperature even for the most eager dancers, while the sheltering palm branches prevented the cool night air from the mountains from chilling the fervor with which all entered into the Terpsichorean revelry.

The gentlemen took their evening smoke down in the room of some one of the employees, where the necessary paraphernalia were provided for. About 11 o'clock a delicious supper was partaken of at small tables, where kindred spirits formed coteries for delightful small talk or serious discussion, as the dispositions prompted.

The rest enforced by the supper put new vigor into the dancers and many were the dreamy vales and luring two steps enjoyed by the guests before they noticed that Sunday was fast approaching.

It is useless to try to enumerate all who participated in this most enjoyable affair; suffice it to say that all Kauai was there with exception of the writer.—Garden Island.

Kauai's Kick For Income Taxes Receives Answer

MANDAMUS MATTER TO BE HEARD TOMORROW

ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS TERRITORY DOES NOT CARE WHERE TAXES ARE COLLECTED.

The Attorney General's Department has prepared the returns of Tax Assessor Holt of Oahu and Farley of Kauai in the case of the County of Kauai against them, wherein a mandamus was issued against them in order to have them collect the income taxes of certain Kauai corporations on Kauai instead of in Honolulu in order that the County of Kauai could get the benefit of the county half of these taxes instead of the County of Oahu.

Holt in his return denies that the corporations in question are anxious to pay the taxes to the Kauai assessor and that they are taxable on Kauai, alleging on the contrary that they have their principal offices in Honolulu and that therefore these taxes are due there. He denies that he has collected the taxes, but affirms that he intends to do so. He further states that he could not comply with the order to transfer to the Kauai assessor the returns in question, unless he broke the law, and such action on his part would be in violation of the County of Oahu in the premises as it would place the County of Kauai in a position to deprive the County of Oahu of a proportion of the taxes to which it claims to be entitled.

Farley in his return states that the reason why he refused to assess the taxable income of the corporations in question was that they were not located on Kauai within the meaning of the law, but in Honolulu, as appears by their articles of incorporation.

A brief has also been filed in behalf of Holt and Farley. In this the Attorney General begins by calling attention to the fact that the department appears merely on behalf of the respondents to defend them in the performance of what they claim to be their official duties. In no wise does the department appear for the County of their plantations and mills on Kauai or vice versa, and at the ultimate distribution of the money in question it is immaterial to the Territory whether the County half goes to Oahu or Kauai.

The principal point of the brief is that the corporations, while they have their plantations and mills on Kauai are taxable on Oahu as they have certified that their principal place of business is in Honolulu. It is held that it makes no difference where the property of an individual is located within the Territory, but that he pays his taxes on the income received from it at his place of residence, irrespective of the location of the property from which he derives his income.

Deputy Attorney General Prosser, who will represent the assessors, and Tax Assessor Holt left for Kauai yesterday. The case will come up before Judge Hardy tomorrow.

STEWART'S NEW AMBITION

Reno, Nev., Sept. 11.—A bombshell was exploded in the Republican camp in Nevada today when it was announced that William Stewart, retired United States Senator, but now a mining magnate and attorney of Bullfrog, is preparing plans to become an independent candidate for re-election. Well known politicians in the Republican party at Reno are in the move, and the campaign for electing the hold-over Senators will begin within the next few weeks.

Stewart was Senator from Nevada for about half a century and retired only a few months ago, comparatively poor. Since locating at Bullfrog, fortune has again smiled on the veteran. His ambition has been to die as a member of the United States Senate and his new fortune, it is understood, will be used in an effort to secure election.

KEENE'S STRANGE DENIAL.

Boston, Aug. 21.—James R. Keene, the New York financier, in a statement issued today, brands as false Thomas W. Lawson's statements about him in the September installment of "Frenzied Finance" in Everybody's Magazine. "All the statements in which my name is connected with Mr. Rogers and Mr. Rockefeller or with any one connected with them are pure fabrications," he said. "H. H. Rogers, whom I have not seen or communicated with for a year, will confirm what I say. I do not remember ever to have had a transaction in Amalgamated Copper before I sold $22,000,000 of it for Mr. Rogers and friends, with the exception of 3000 shares subsequently purchased by me and resold at $2 or $3 profit. My relations with Amalgamated Copper cease there absolutely.

"At one time Mr. Rogers and myself seriously considered the advisability of solidifying the various interests in the rubber business. But it never got far beyond the preliminary stages, due to a defection by the treasurer of the rubber company. When Mr. Rogers heard of it we abandoned the idea."

Mr. Keene says that his connection with the Third Avenue Railroad matter was simply a personal agreement between himself and Henry Hart, the chief stockholder of the road.

Dr. Sigurd Ibsen, son of the noted dramatist, is prominent in the movement which recently culminated in the secession of Norway from Sweden. Dr. Ibsen is the constant and close associate of Fritbjof Nansen, the explorer and scientist, in these troublous days.

By direction of the Secretary of the Interior, 37,800 acres of Indian lands in Minnesota will be opened to settlement August 17. These lands at present are partly in the Fond du Lac, Red Lake, White Earth, and the Chippewas of Minnesota reservation.

BLANKET WARRANT CASE RE-OPENED

McClanahan Shows That No Surrender Was Made

INJUNCTION BECOMES EFFECTIVE ONCE MORE

ORDER OF COURT WAS BASED ON AN ASSUMPTION OF FACTS WHICH WERE NOT IN EXISTENCE.

E. B. McClanahan this morning filed a motion that the oral order of Judge Robinson dismissing the bill for an injunction in the case of McClanahan vs. Trent, to restrain Trent from paying the Andrew Adams blanket warrant, be revoked. He also asked that he be allowed to re-open the case in order to contradict the facts implied by the court from the resolution set forth in the supplemental answer, that the warrant had been duly surrendered by Adams, and that hearing of the case be set for Thursday, Sept. 28.

The motion was accompanied by the following affidavit by McClanahan:

E. B. McClanahan, being first duly sworn, on oath deposes and says: "That he is the petitioner in the above cause; that since the hearing in the above cause on Sept. 25 he has come into possession of facts negating the implied facts of a surrender of the warrant in question herein; that he is informed and believes, and therefore alleges that Andrew Adams, the payee of said warrant, did not in fact surrender the warrant, but placed it in the hands of certain County officials in order that said County officials might protect his interest in above cause; that said warrant passed into the hands of the County Auditor without authority either expressed or implied; that he was making a surrender of it; that said Adams has repudiated said unauthorized action of the County officials and intends to regain said warrant and force its payment; that the defendant herein has announced that he intends to pay the said warrant if presented; that the stipulation in the herein was drawn up and signed before the filing of the supplemental answer herein and that in view of the foregoing facts, all of which have come to the affiant's knowledge since the hearing herein, affiant desires to put in a pleading in response to the supplemental answer or amend his bill so as to rebut the aforesaid inference drawn by the Court from said supplemental answer; that said Adams resides at Kahuku, on the island of Oahu, but will be in Honolulu on Wednesday, Sept. 27, 1905, and can be used by affiant as a witness to establish the foregoing facts."

McClanahan argued the motion but was not opposed by Judge Whiting. Trent's counsel, Judge Robinson granted the motion for the re-opening of the case, stating that the injunction pendente lite against Trent was again in effect, but that Trent might have paid the warrant already, thinking that the matter had terminated, when the original bill was dismissed. Judge Whiting stated that Trent had not paid the warrant and promised to notify him that the injunction was again effective.

tion test for immigrants and the payment by persons landed in this country from Hongkong of a larger head tax. "We shall also devote attention to the matter of Federal injunctions, insisting that Federal Judges, in granting injunctions, shall adhere strictly to the letter of the Hoar injunction law, which provides that such processes are to be used in time of labor troubles to prevent crime and destruction of property, we being, of course, opposed to the granting of injunctions not in accordance with the law, but purely by judicial process to restrain the people from doing what they have a perfect right to do under the law. THIS JUDGE BARKS AT INJUSTICE OF EXCLUSION LAW

Wheeling (W. Va.), September 19.—Judge A. G. Dayton of the United States Court has given notice before the bench that he would rule in favor of the Chinese henceforth in exclusion act cases. The court's statement—rather remarkable, yet backed by unmistakable conviction—was based on the case of Yee Kam, a Chinese coming to the United States twenty-five years ago. At that time he entered as a merchant, later becoming a laundryman. He was picked up some months ago and held on the ground that he did not own a certificate requiring new registration, which the officer insisted should classify him as a laborer. The old Chinese, Judge Dayton said, has established a business and secured property and had a right to be here. The idea of enforcing the exclusion act, which was a measure of political expediency aimed to protect the Pacific Coast, when no restraint is placed upon the lowest type of slave and Southern Europe offscouring, was repugnant to the spirit of the day. He said he would continue to rule thus until reversed by a higher authority.

GOMPERS TO FIGHT WITH FEDERATIONISTS AGAINST ORIENTALS
Washington, Sept. 17.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor will meet in this city in regular quarterly session tomorrow, this being the final meeting of that body before the twenty-fifth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor in Pittsburgh, Nov. 13th. Speaking of the approaching session of the executive council, President Gompers said today: "At the coming Pittsburgh convention the Federation will devote a great deal of attention to the question of Mongolian exclusion, by which term we mean the exclusion from this country not alone of Chinese but of Japanese and Korean labor as well; the emigration question 8-hour working day, child labor, the sweat-shop system and Federal injunctions. "In anticipation of this, the council, at its next meeting, will devote a large part of its time to the same matters in order that it may be better able to direct rulings and actions of the convention. "You may rest assured that in the matter of foreign immigration we shall insist upon the adoption of an educa-

Among home returning Honolulu passengers in the Sierra this morning were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Rawlinz. Rawlinz declares the Hawaiian band a "knowing success."

It is reported that there are over 25 officers of the United States mercantile marine now on the Pacific Coast that will lose their certificates on account of not properly securing naturalization papers. Regular reading of the want ads, regular weighing and balancing of the opportunities they present, is a practical education. You learn your city, its peoples, values of things, human nature, what to believe and what to reject—and you learn to know a real opportunity at first sight. That spells success. An official circular on the Mohonk Conference to be held Oct. 18-20 says: "Affairs in Hawaii will be brought out by Hon. William R. Castle of Honolulu, who was Hawaiian Minister at Washington, under the Hawaiian Republic and more recently a member of the Hawaiian Legislature, and by Hon. Frank A. Hosmer, both of whom have been mentioned above."

A sphinx is the head of the reorganized Home Rule Party. Charles Notley—big, usually-free-spoken Notley—has, in coming to the leadership of the Home Rulers, stepping into the shoes of David Kalauokalani, adopted the policy of silence. "I'm not going to talk for the papers," said President Notley; replying to a scribble's inquiry as to what his policy as leader was to be. "How about fusion with the Democrats?" "Fusion!" Leader Notley looked hard at the reporter. His expressive lips twitched and finally parted to give forth a loud and emphatic: "No!" Then the new Home Rule President hastened to a waiting hack and vanished.

The Return of SHERLOCK HOLMES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,
Author of "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," "The Hound of the Baskervilles," "The Sign of the Four," "A Study in Scarlet," Etc.

ILLUSTRATED BY F. D. STEELE

The Adventure of the Second Stain

No. 13 of the Series

The premier nodded approvingly. "I have long known, sir, how high is your sense of public duty," said he. "The European secretary bowed. "You do me no more than justice, sir. Until this morning I have never breathed one word to my wife upon this matter."

"Could she have guessed?"
"No, Mr. Holmes, she could not have guessed, nor could any one have guessed."

"Have you lost any documents before?"
"No, sir."

"Who is there in England who did know of the existence of this letter?"
"Each member of the cabinet was informed of it yesterday, but the pledge of secrecy which attends every cabinet meeting was increased by the solemn warning which was given by the prime minister. Good heavens, to think that within a few hours I should myself have lost it! Besides the members of the cabinet there are two or possibly three departmental officials who know of the letter. No one else in England, Mr. Holmes, I assure you."

"But abroad?"
"I believe that no one abroad has seen it save the man who wrote it. I am well convinced that his ministers—that the usual official channels have not been employed."

Holmes considered for some little time.
"Now, sir, I must ask you more particularly what this document is, and why its disappearance should have such momentous consequences?"
The two statesmen exchanged a quick glance, and the premier's shaggy eyebrows gathered in a frown.
"Mr. Holmes, the envelope is a long, thin one of pale blue color. There is a seal of red wax stamped with a crouching lion. It is addressed in large, bold handwriting to—"

"I fear, sir," said Holmes, "that, interesting and, indeed, essential as these details are, my inquiries must go more to the root of things. What was the letter?"

your patriotism also, for I could not imagine a greater misfortune for the country than that this affair should come out."

"You may safely trust us."
"The letter, then, is from a certain foreign potentate who has been refused by some recent colonial developments of this country. It has been written hurriedly and upon his own responsibility entirely. Inquiries have shown that his ministers know nothing of the matter. At the same time it is couched in so unfortunate a manner and certain phrases in it are of so provocative a character that its publication would undoubtedly lead to a most dangerous state of feeling in this country. There would be such a ferment, sir, that I do not hesitate to say that within a week of the publication of that letter this country would be involved in a great war."

Holmes wrote a name upon a slip of paper and handed it to the premier.
"Exactly. It was he. And it is this letter—this letter which may well mean the expenditure of a thousand millions and the lives of a hundred thousand men—which has become lost in this unaccountable fashion."

"Have you informed the sender?"
"Yes, sir; a cipher telegram has been dispatched."

"Perhaps he desires the publication of the letter?"
"No, sir; we have strong reason to believe that he already understands that he has acted in an indiscreet and hot-headed manner. It would be a greater blow to him and to his country than to us if this letter were to come out."

"If this is so, whose interest is it that the letter should come out? Why should any one desire to steal it or to publish it?"
"There, Mr. Holmes, you take me into regions of high international politics. But if you consider the European situation you will have no difficulty in perceiving the motive. The whole of Europe is an armed camp. There is a double league which makes a fair balance of military power. Great Britain holds the scales. If Britain were driven into war with one confederacy it would assure the supremacy of the other confederacy, whether they joined in the war or not. Do you follow?"

SHE SEATED HERSELF WITH HER BACK TO THE WINDOW.

"That is a state secret of the utmost importance, and I fear that I cannot tell you, nor do I see that it is necessary. If by the aid of the powers which you are said to possess you can find such an envelope as I describe, with its inclosure, you will have deserved well of your country and earned any reward which it lies in our power to bestow."

Sherlock Holmes rose with a smile. "You are two of the most busy men in the country," said he, "and in my own small way I have also a good many calls upon me. I regret exceedingly that I cannot help you in this matter, and any continuation of this interview would be a waste of time."

The premier sprang to his feet with that quick, fierce gleam of his deep-set eyes before which a cabinet has cowered. "I am not accustomed, sir," he began, but mastered his anger and resumed his seat. Then the old statesman shrugged his shoulders.
"We must accept your terms, Mr. Holmes. No doubt you are right, and it is unreasonable for us to expect you to act unless we give you our entire confidence."

"I agree with you," said the younger statesman.
"Then I will tell you, relying entirely upon your honor and that of your colleague, Dr. Watson. I may appeal to "Very clearly. It is then the interest of the enemies of this potentate to secure and publish this letter, so as to make a breach between his country and ours?"

"Yes, sir."

"And to whom would this document be sent if it fell into the hands of an enemy?"
"To any of the great chancelleries of Europe. It is probably speeding on its way thither at the present instant as fast as steam can take it. Now, Mr. Holmes, you are in full possession of the facts. What course do you recommend?"

Holmes shook his head mournfully. "You think, sir, that unless this document is recovered there will be war?"
"I think it is very probable."
"Then, sir, prepare for war."

"That is a hard saying, Mr. Holmes." (To be continued)

BUILT UP HER HEALTH SPEEDY CURE OF MISS GOODE

She is Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Writes Gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham.

For the wonderful help that she has found Miss Cora Goode, 355 E. Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Ill., believes it her duty to write the following letter for publication, in order that other women afflicted in the same way may be benefited as she was. Miss Goode is president of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I tried many different remedies to try to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unaccountable hours, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to get out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since."

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Her experience is very great, and she gives the benefit of it to all who stand in need of wise counsel. Address, Lynn, Mass.

YOUNG'S TRAGEDY PROVES A LIAR.

lifted by a bar by hand in the engine room.

The dispatch of Sept. 20 says: "About an hour and a half after we had set the fire boiler B began to leak. We could see a wide column of steam forcing itself through a hole in the rear sheeting. The water tender gave me a quick order to run up above and get a boilermaker to hurry down and repair the damage. I obeyed instantly, for I could see plainly that the leak threatened to be a dangerous one. Barely had I reached the deck when the explosion took place. I heard a terrific blast and in a moment I saw the clouds of scalding steam crowd up through the hatchway and out on the deck. I knew then that I was too late. My comrades were beyond any help from me."

This was the statement which J. J. Worthen, sole survivor of the engine room crew on the Bennington, made this morning in the proceedings of the court-martial of Commander Lucien Young. It was a description of the explosion and the few minutes elapsing just prior to the catastrophe, but to the minds of those in the courtroom it was more than a mere tale of an escaping white monster and consequent death. It brought before their minds a vivid picture of a weak boiler, one which had outlived its usefulness several years ago, one which had been reported as dangerous time and time again by Commander Young and Admiral Goodrich, and yet which, with a knowledge of all this, was half overhauled by the Navy department and sent out on a 30,000-mile cruise.

The testimony of Coal Passer J. J. Worthen was the most important evidence introduced during today's session of the court-martial. He alone of all the engine room crew is the survivor of that July day in San Diego harbor and his escape came through the carrying out of an order given him by his immediate superior.

The proceedings of the court-martial of Commander Young seem to clearly show the haste with which the San Diego investigation was conducted. No cross-examination was allowed and witnesses gave as facts knowledge which came to them by hearsay or which was merely their own opinions. This has been brought out day by day by Judge Gear, attorney for Commander Young, and his objections to testimony have served to strike out from the records many statements which were included in the testimony obtained by the investigating board, which met directly after the catastrophe. For instance, one enlisted man swore that he had heard the safety valve of "A" boiler blow off. He thought that he had, but cross-examination disclosed the fact that he was in a part of the ship out of sight of the boiler and that he could not possibly have told by the sound which of the valves was blowing off.

W. W. Harris today returned in the Sierra from a seven weeks' business visit to San Francisco. Mr. Harris states that a great movement toward Hawaii and the Orient is on. All steamships, up to the end of the year, are booked full and many are crowded out. Eighty-five were unable to secure accommodations on the Mancharia.

Mr. Harris met Governor Carter in San Francisco, just a short time before the Governor returned to Honolulu. Mr. Harris speaks eloquently of the great success of the Hawaiian band on the mainland.

NUUANU MUDDY WATER

Howland produced the contract with Contractor Whitehouse. This provides that the pay for excavation by sluicing shall be 15 cents a square yard, while the pay when other methods are employed shall be 56 cents a square yard. With regard to sanitary precautions taken at the camp of laborers at the reservoir, Howland said that good cesspools were provided and the greatest sanitary precautions taken. The place was under the regular inspection of the Board of Health.

With regard to the installation of the new oil-burning plant for the Beretania street pumping station Howland stated that it would soon be installed. The contract for the installing of the pump, tanks and oil-burning apparatus had been awarded the Honolulu Iron Works, whose bid was $2,745. This was more expensive than other plants of the same horsepower in this city, but then it was the most complete arrangement in Honolulu. He did not think that anyone had criticized the cost of the apparatus, although the tank house had been subject to some criticism. New plans were being drawn for this, which would reduce its cost materially, and new tenders would be called for the construction of the tank house on this cheaper plan.

The Oahu County Board of Supervisors meets at 7:30 tomorrow night to pass on department pay rolls for the latter half of September.
