

ORPHEUM BLOCK BURNS AT LAST CAPTAIN CLUNEY DEAD---MOTHER OF 16 PASSES AWAY

CLUNEY CROSSES BAR ON LAST VOYAGE

Captain John Cluney, retired shipmaster and kamaaina, who was affectionately known to his many friends as the "sage of the waterfront," passed away this morning at his residence in Kalihi, surrounded by his wife and three sons, after a long and lingering illness.

Captain Cluney had not followed his profession as a seafaring man for many years, but his daily visits to the waterfront were always looked forward to, as he was the man who knew every rock and reef within a radius of several thousand miles.

Captain Cluney was born in Fall River, Mass., in 1838, and came here in 1858, having been a resident of Honolulu, with the exception of the trips he made at sea, for fifty-two years.

P. C. Jones, a lifelong friend of the deceased mariner, said this morning that out of the original six men who came here about the same time, only four were left, they being Judge Hart, A. S. Cleghorn, Robert Lewers, and himself.

For over two years Captain Cluney commanded the schooner Odd-fellow, which was owned by Mr. Jones, making several trips to the guano islands while in command of the speedy two-master. During his career at sea Captain Cluney visited nearly every important port in the world, and during the great whaling days he served on board several ships as mate.

Captain Cluney was always a strong advocate of an American merchant marine, and was very determined in his arguments against coastwise suspension. He is survived by a widow and three sons, Edward, William and John.

Arrangements for the funeral are being made. It will be held tomorrow afternoon from his late residence, 1181, Beckley street, Kalihi, at 3:30. Interment will be in Nuuanu cemetery.

MAYOR'S WIFE IS DEAD

Sheba Alapai Fern, wife of Honorable J. J. Fern, Mayor of Honolulu, died this morning at her home in Palapa after a four days illness, her death being caused by heart disease.

Mrs. Fern was born in Honolulu and has lived here all her life, being a leader in a number of Hawaiian societies among them being the Kaula-keao of which she was one of the vice-presidents at the time of her death.

She is survived by sixteen children, and a number of brothers and sisters, among them being the wife of the Hon. W. C. Aehl, Officer Alapai of the police department, and George Alapai who is an employee of the Inter-Island Steamship Company.

Funeral services will be held on Sunday afternoon, from Silva's undertaking parlors. The members of the different societies of which the late Mrs. Fern was a member will attend in a body.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, held this noon, the following resolution was passed on a motion made by J. C. Quinn.

Whereas: It has pleased Almighty God to remove by death Sheba Fern, beloved wife of the Honorable Joseph J. Fern, Mayor of the City and County of Honolulu;

Resolved, That we the members of the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of Honolulu, do hereby tender to the Honorable Joseph J. Fern, and the members of his family, our sincere sympathy with them in their affliction.

To be further resolved, that as a mark of respect, the offices of the City and County of Honolulu be closed during the day and that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Board of Supervisors and a copy of the same transmitted to the family of the deceased.

BRECKONS DISABLED

U. S. District Attorney R. W. Breckons was not at his office today, being confined to his bed with what appears to be water on the knee.

Recently he slipped in alighting from a hack and refused to take the advice of the doctors to remain resting, considering that he could not forsake the many important duties of his office before the Federal grand jury and otherwise. He may have to remain in bed for several weeks.

The Federal grand jury was excused this morning until Monday next.

The business of Breckons' office, as far as the grand jury is concerned, is at a standstill, Deputy Rawlings being completely occupied with the trials before Judge Robertson.

FLAMES CONSUME THEATER, LODGINGS AND SMALL STORES

This morning, starting at 3:50, the entire Orpheum block, theater, stores and lodging rooms, was totally destroyed by fire. The Orpheum theater had long been regarded as a fire trap and it is considered fortunate that the fire did not occur during a performance. Lodgers lost everything. One fireman was hurt by falling walls. Acting Chief Deering saved the Sachs building adjoining. Total loss is about $70,000. Insurance covers most of this. A cigarette thrown in a room or hallway is supposed to have been the cause. A new block was to have been built in February next.

The most sensational fire in this city since the plague conflagration when the greater portion of Chinatown was destroyed, February 19, 1906, occurred this morning when, at 3:50 o'clock a "still alarm" aroused the ever ready men of the fire department to hasten to the Orpheum theater building to fight the hottest and quickest blaze in local history.

While the most sensational, as above noted, the Orpheum consumption by flames this morning was by all odds the hottest and the quickest of local fires.

OCURRED AT FORTUNATE TIME.

Talk around town this morning has but one text. "How fortunate that the Orpheum theater did not take fire when that popular place of entertainment was crammed with women and children at a matinee, or with people at a regular evening performance. It has long been recognized that the Orpheum theater was a dangerous fire-trap and a disgrace to the community as far as an amusement headquarters was concerned, inasmuch as it has always been known to be a death trap in the event of fire. Many a heart was grateful today to did, rather than when the theater was full. If it had been occupied, there is absolutely no doubt that the Chicago theater horror would have been repeated.

HOW THE FIRE STARTED.

When the fire was discovered, the Orpheum theater, proper, was not suffering at all from the flames. It had not been touched.

The flames originated in a room or a hallway in the rooming establishment on the second floor of the Fort-street-fronting building; the room makai, nearest to the big Majestic hotel, and is supposed to have started in a pile of old mattresses stored between the front room in that corner and a toilet, in a hallway. These mattresses had been used to accommodate sailors for the night, or for two or three nights when the cruiser feet was last in port.

A VAGRANT CIGARETTE.

It is believed that some late home-comer, who was lodging in the upper apartments of the Orpheum block, which front the theater, had, on his way to his room, or while in the toilet, thrown the lighted butt of a cigarette into the pile of mattresses aforementioned. It did not take long for the flames to rise.

KNOX WILL HELP HIS SON

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The troubles of young Philander C. Knox, the twenty-one year old son of Secretary Knox, are drawing to a close. It was learned today on good authority, and although the young man is not to bring his bride to Washington to make their home here with his parents, Secretary Knox has so far consented that he is going to take a personal interest in his son's business career and the young people never will be in want of money.

It was reported yesterday that young Knox and his bride would accompany his mother and his brother here from New York to make the reconciliation complete. But this was denied by Secretary Knox, who said emphatically:

"My son is not here; is not expected here. Aside from the fact that he is married and on that account has begun to earn his living earlier than was planned, there is nothing to say about him."

Whether Philander Jr., has gone to the Knox home in Valley Forge, Pa., or to Atlantic City for a few days or is on his way back to Detroit is not known here.

Will Enter Factory.

That he and his young wife of a month, who was formerly Miss May Boler of Providence, R. I., and with whom Mr. Knox eloped, incurring the anger of his father, will make their home in the future in Detroit is said to be true. It was learned today that Mr. Knox would enter the factory in Detroit of the automobile company for which he has been the agent in Providence since he was married. He will learn the business from the bottom up, and is expected to make the manufacture of automobiles the business of life, for the next few years at any rate. It is understood that Secretary Knox will invest money in the automobile company into whose factory young Knox is going, or that after the young man has learned much about the business the Secretary will allow him to form a company of his own and will furnish the capital to back him.

Young Knox has been much interested in automobiles for a number of years. He has owned several, and it is said that long before he was married he expected to go into the business after he left school. When he was here about a month ago, seeking to obtain the parental blessing after his wedding, he told a reporter for The Star that he had not intended to go to college, and that at the end of the present school year his father had promised to set him up in business. Young Knox said at the time:

"I hope that he will fulfill this promise after he has gotten used to the idea of my being married."

TARIFF RIGHT WICKERSHAM SAYS

CHICAGO, April 11.—Before leaving for Washington yesterday Attorney General George W. Wickersham said he had good news for President Taft.

"I do not believe that the republican party is to be split by the divergence over tariff or other policies," Mr. Wickersham said. "I base my opinion on inquiries I have made here concerning the extent of what is described as the insurgent movement. Misunderstandings are prevalent, and as soon as these are cleared up I am satisfied that the insurgent sentiment will subside.

Second Term for Taft

"The public generally, I think, does not appreciate how much has been accomplished by the present administration. Much more is to be done before the present term expires, and no doubt many things will come up which cannot be settled before the end of Mr. Taft's term. The desirability of another term for Mr. Taft then will arise."

Mr. Wickersham did not see in "Keeping the tariff question agitated, the bogey said to alarm business.

Industries Are Strong.

"The nation's industries," he said, "are too strong to permit fears that discussion of tariff changes will cause material harm. Mr. Taft himself has stated that as the desirability and need are shown there should be reason in the interest of the people as a whole. Naturally there must be investigation and argument before

SPEAKER CANNON DEFIES HIS FOES

WASHINGTON, April 11.—With all today hurled defiance at his enemies, Speaker Cannon, who thunders loudly in the index, but were always ready to accept an appropriation for their districts.

"And looking you squarely in the eyes," said the Speaker, dramatically pulling up his sleeves and pointing his forefinger at Champ Clark: "I want to say to you that with the advantage of increased wages, of greater prosperity due to Republican legislation, there is more than an even chance that you will wake up on the morning after election day and find that an intelligent voting public has again proved you to be the same false prophet that you have been every two years for the past decade."

Greeted by Cheers.

Wild cheers from the Republican regulars greeted Mr. Cannon's announcement. The insurgents looked uncomfortable and the Democrats appeared to enjoy the proceedings.

"If some Republicans elected as such are correct," said Mr. Cannon, as the House held its breath, "the Republicans elected to the next Congress will elect another than myself as Speaker.

"But that is no matter. Whoever is Speaker, the dignity of the office should be upheld on a par with the dignity of the presiding officer of the co-ordinate branch.

"But unless the Republicans on this side who do not approve of the personality of the present Speaker join with the solid minority to turn him out I shall remain Speaker at least until the 4th of March, when my present term expires."

Economy or Personal Dislike? The Speaker added defiantly that he didn't care whether those who were opposing the appropriation for the automobile were doing so on grounds of broad economy or because of personal dislike. It was all the same to him.

He ridiculed the pretensions to economy made by the Democrats and told several stories illustrative of like performances in previous sessions.

Just previously the House had voted to insist upon its disagreement to the Senate amendments appropriating for the maintenance of automobiles for the Vice President and Speaker.

Looks Them in the Eyes.

Speaker Cannon said that bearing in mind that the tariff bill has produced an increase in the revenue of over $50,000,000, compared with last year and only last Saturday showed an increase of government receipts over expenditures of the government a there can be changes in the schedule. Only a wholesale revamping or a radical turn in the direction of free trade would justify the fears of some timid manufacturers."

A SUGGESTION ON ECZEMA.

It is suggested that eczema sufferers ask druggist Honolulu Drug Co., of this city what reports he is getting from the patients who have used the oil of wintergreen liquid compound, D. D. D. Prescription change in the sentiment of the country may be expected.

He realized the anxious economy of the democrats, who thunders loudly in the index, but were always ready to accept an appropriation for their districts.

"I want to say to you that with the advantage of increased wages, of greater prosperity due to Republican legislation, there is more than an even chance that you will wake up on the morning after election day and find that an intelligent voting public has again proved you to be the same false prophet that you have been every two years for the past decade."

Graham said he saw the best fights of his life while in Australia. Reports of same may be published in the next "Service."

DANIEL LOGAN EDITOR

THURSDAY APRIL 28, 1910

British justice as administered in a crown colony is hot stuff, if a case lately tried in the Suva, Fiji, police court is taken as an average sample. The wife of the proprietor of a store and restaurant was defendant to a charge of Sunday trading. A native had bought from her on the sabbath six boxes of matches for threepence (five cents), although in testifying on her own behalf she said she had not taken the money. It came out in evidence that the woman having refused to accept service of summons, a warrant for her arrest was issued under which she was dragged to the station by a Fijian and a Hindu policeman on either side and locked up until liberated on bail shortly afterward. The man who bought the matches testified that he was asked to do so, and given the money by a European sergeant who told him he wanted to catch the defendant. Notwithstanding this the learned judge found the defendant guilty and fined her five shillings with the alternative of three days' imprisonment. A charge against the husband of keeping his place open after one o'clock Sunday afternoon was pending at last accounts.

Wallis Island was lately the scene of a bloodless revolution, the king being scared off his throne and another one put on. The kingdom is an islet in the South Seas, whose excuse for being on the map is the purpose of keeping ships from bumping against it. It is a French protectorate, but enjoys home rule under a native king with the aid of a native council. The French resident is supposed to take no part in the internal government of the island, but it is only natural to suppose that he must wield a certain amount of influence. Being jealous of the practical independence of their home, the natives believed a report that M. Bochart, the resident appointed last year, had endeavored to influence the reigning monarch to appeal to the French government to take over the island and make it a French colony. Whether they were correct in this supposition or not, they decided that a change of king was advisable, and proceeded to start a revolution. Expecting resistance the revolutionists armed themselves with guns and rifles and, marching to the residence of the king, demanded his abdication. Guns were fired and a brave show was made, but there was no one killed, as there was no opposition. The king retired and a new king now reigns in his stead. What an opportunity the moving picture makers missed!

THE TARIFF SELF-TESTING.

There is a growing probability that the revised tariff will prove its own vindication. In that case, President Taft will be relieved of defending his defenses of the Payne-Aldrich measure uttered at Winona and New York. Already the action of the Indiana republicans in convention has indicated that the much blazoned insurgency of the west and northwest states is superficial so far as the tariff is concerned. Beveridge, who delivered a blast against the tariff before the convention, was endorsed for his senatorial record and seat, but, all the same, the convention declared its approval of the tariff bill. In his speech he declared, in the terms of the platform, that the republicans of Indiana were for "a protective tariff which covers the difference in the cost of production here and abroad." And he said, "It was to reduce the Dingley tariff to meet changed conditions and secure justice that we undertook its revision." Senator Beveridge attacked the tariff on account of many of the articles selected for reduction, but his chief complaint was the emasculation of his proposal for a tariff commission.

From the voluminous accounts of western insurgency on tariff grounds, the opposition feeling does not appear any deeper than the generalities that Senator Beveridge uttered. There is not discoverable the specification of points where the tariff is likely to hurt the country. The cry has been that a revision downward was promised and that the promise had not been kept. This breach of faith is attributed to the domination of the tariff legislation by Senator Aldrich and Speaker Cannon in the respective houses and in conference. Thus the insurgency resolves itself into anti-Aldrich and anti-Cannon agitation, but when a test like the Indiana convention comes the tariff emerges triumphant. It will probably be the same story in other states, only the occasion for insurgency will be half gone from the announcement of Aldrich's intended retirement.

In the meantime the nation is now seeing just how the tariff is working in practice. If the revision is doing what it was intended to do, and the operation of the schedules is not bringing harm to industry and commerce, then the people will not respond to the outcries of the insurgents. The people will understand that a downward revision does not necessarily mean a slashing horizontal cut and was never intended to be a movement toward free trade. A system that has been in building for more than a generation cannot be violently disturbed at one stroke without imperiling the national prosperity. Even Mr. Bryan has abandoned the idea of a sweeping tariff reduction in a single measure. He would move toward his goal of free trade by gradual stages. So far as revenue is concerned the tariff seems to serve its purpose well. Attorney General Wickersham is quoted as saying that the tariff has increased the revenue by fifty million dollars, and that the revenue has now overtaken the expenditure. Official figures quoted by this paper the other day show a very large increase in imports, of 95,049,520 in dutiable goods and $140,195,752 in free goods for the nine months ending with March. The total imports were more than a billion dollars for that period and came within $170,000 of equaling the exports. These figures must indeed lie if they do not indicate that the tariff has indeed been revised downward. At the same time, reports of the condition of the country do not tend to any apprehension that the tariff threatens the cause of protection.

FIJI HURRICANE

Some particulars of the hurricane that swept Fiji a month ago are given in the Western Pacific Herald, Suva, of April 1 as follows: From day to day reports are coming in from outside quarters on the recent hurricane, and everything indicates that Rewa, Suva, Navua and Nadroga have borne the brunt of the storm, the balance of the colony escaping lightly. In several instances also reports first to hand are found to have been greatly exaggerated. For instance, the rubber plantations sustained little damage.

A Works Department punt, No. 11, with twelve fathoms of chain was found drifting off Beqa by one Moses Volovola, who salvaged it. It now lies at Nawaisomo, Beqa, and the yacht Ranadi will proceed to the island for it tomorrow.

The Methodist Mission Station at Davui Levu, Rewa, on which the Mission, but more especially the Rev. J. W. Burton, spent much time and forethought, and which was a credit to the Colony, has been a heavy loser through the storm, to the extent of three thousand pounds.

Mr. Burton's house is badly damaged, verandah and part of the iron roof gone, and orphanage unroofed. Miss Austen and the children had a narrow escape, and sheltered beneath the house till daylight. The pretty Indian Church is blown to matchwood, not a vestige remaining. The dormitories of the High School are practically beyond repair, and the technical workshops half unroofed; High School twisted and damaged.

The most serious is perhaps the destruction of the food plantations, on which the vulis relied as their main source of supply.

The barometer at Mr. Burton's house fell 159 points, about 60 more than Suva.

Mr. W. L. Waterhouse, headmaster of the High School, acted bravely all night; looking after the boys throughout until he was blown down the hill into the creek, where he spent the rest of the night.

A number of the boys were injured, eight seriously, but there was no fatalities.

At Bau the Rev. Mr. Brown had his house unroofed, and lost his launch, the Adi Ban.

At Kadavu the Mission house was knocked to pieces.

The Methodist Mission loss in the group, not counting the native churches, will be about five thousand pounds.

ERA OF UNUSUAL PROSPERITY DUE

NEW YORK, April 13.—Dr. Arthur Selwyn-Brown, student of Wall street and American business, and lecturer on economic subjects at New York and Columbia universities, agrees with James J. Hill, who says that this country, before autumn arrives, will be flooded with a prosperity that will fairly swamp the railroads.

"What is the most marked sign of prosperity you see now?" I asked Dr. Brown during an interview.

"The activity in steel. Business moves in cycles. There is a regular period of progress between a panic and a boom. Business invariably follows the same course. After a period of depression the demand for steel and iron products is always most urgent. The iron market of the United States in the past few months has been very active, and may exceed the records of 1907.

Copper and Steel the Barometer.

"After the movement in steel business men generally watch the movement in copper. Throughout last year there was a very large accumulation of copper. During the present year stocks have been worked off. And at present they amount to only about two months' consumption.

"These two metals are satisfactory barometers for the ordinary business man, but business leaders look also to the crop and financial statistics in addition to the metal market."

"What are the prospects of the crop and the money market?"

"It's a bit early to form an accurate opinion regarding the crop. Owing to the high prices that have been obtained by farmers for several seasons past there has been a great extension in acreage for all crops. Should we get fairly normal weather conditions the crops should turn out well; under these conditions, with a continuance of high prices, the country will benefit enormously in wealth, which will be used in prolonging the boom.

"With regard to money, it has a hardening tendency at the present time in sympathy with a similar tendency in Europe.

"This condition will be overcome this spring, and we should expect easy money to rule until the end of the year."

"What effects have the political uncertainty at Washington, the conservation discussion, the exposure of political graft in various parts of the country and the revealed misdoings of trusts on business?"

"Cleaning up the Sores.

"We are cleaning up these sores and are getting ready to start out new and fresh. Their efforts are purely temporary. Business is not dependent upon purely local conditions. The big swings in business are world wide in extent. We never find business in a healthy condition in an isolated country. But, whenever business has been booming in any specific country—say, for instance, the United States—we will find that similar conditions exist in all the leading countries associated with the United States in international trade.

Orient Will Help.

"At the present moment, business in the far Orient is rapidly reviving, and the prospects are that there will be a greater boom during the next two or three years than the orient has ever before witnessed. India has had a succession of good harvests. China is undertaking the construction of very important public works throughout the empire. Japan is developing Formosa, Manchuria and Korea on a large scale. The rubber boom in England during the past six months has led to the formation of a large number of new corporations to grow rubber in the East Indies. This in turn, has led to a boom in land values in the Indies and has greatly increased business.

"The result of these movements will be reflected in a very great demand for western goods. The United States, will share with Europe in this increase in trade and the effects of this great buying will override any depressing effects of local politics on trade in the United States."

ASSOCIATED OIL ABSORBS OTHERS

The Associated Oil Company has commenced the necessary legal proceedings to dissolve the Pacific Oil & Transportation Company, the National Oil & Transportation Company and the Coalgingo Oil & Transportation Company to merge their assets with the assets of the Associated. The cash assets of the three companies amount to about $1,250,000. They include the Monterey pipe line and boats and other pipe lines.

Preliminary figures which will not be changed much either way by complete returns indicate that the oil production for March makes the output not less than 600,000 barrels greater than the highest monthly production ever obtained in the history of the oil business in this state. The total quantity produced during the thirty-one days is estimated at 5,667,000 barrels. It is thought that this is an underestimation, and that the amount may be materially added to. March is the banner production month of California's oil history.

According to a financial statement in the California Derrick, the year 1909 was a year of great prosperity for the Associated Oil Company. The corporation's net income from wells was $2,632,468 60, and $2,703,616 40 net income from pipe lines, making $5,336,085 total profits for producing and transporting oil to tide water. This is 13.34 per cent of the company's capitalization.

MR DAVIS SEEKS OTHER PASTURES

Ellis A. Davis was a passenger in the Wilhelmina yesterday for the Golden Gate.

Mr. Davis, it may be explained, came here to promote an Hawaiian atlas. The proposition was a good one. An atlas at worst is not a bad idea except for the man getting it out—for it usually costs several times more than it is worth.

The Promotion Committee knew all this and Secretary Cooper patted Brother Davis on the shoulder and told him to "go ahead." At the same time he gave him a letter stating that respectable atlases were good things to have lying around, and almost said that Davis was the "man of the hour" in what suddenly became an atlas emergency. President Waldron, of the Merchants' Association, quickly appreciated the absolute necessity of an atlas, and subscribed for one; although he refused a letter endorsing the venture.

Mr. Davis, it would seem, misinterpreted these concessions and played them up as endorsements of the Promotion Committee and Merchants' Association, respectively. Then came murmurings from the trail of the atlas man. First, Manoa valley was heard from and question marks began to come in through the mail to the Promotion Committee. When Mr. Davis called on the secretary of the Merchants' Association and tried to sell him an atlas on the strength of the endorsement of the book by the Merchants' Association (the agent not knowing that he was talking to the one man in town who would know that he was mistating facts)—the bomb (and the boom) exploded.

To make a long story short, the Merchants' Association "published" the gentleman last Saturday, and Sunday, and yesterday the Promotion Committee did the same. In the meanwhile, however, Mr. Davis had taken the parting shots with his camera, from the deck of the Wilhelmina, of the Honolulu populace on the Matson wharf.

Miss Newlyrich—Oh, papa, I am so nervous. If some of those great foreign ambassadors speak to me what will I say?
Mr. Newlyrich—I was jest goin' to post you on that, Mariar. You find out, if you kin, if any of 'em keer for poker. By Gum, but I'd like to get a few of 'em in the card-room.

CHEAPER STOCKS GAIN ATTENTION

McBryde and Olan stocks were the centers of attention today and the former had rather the better of the races for popularity. The latter fact is mentioned for the reason that it is unusual, these two low priced stocks running, as a rule, close together. After adjournment of the board there has been considerable inquiry for both stocks at slightly higher figures than those appearing in the morning's report.

All of the Olan transactions were between boards, the sales having taken place yesterday. Blocks of 85, 75 and 50 changed hands at $6. On the board this morning $6.125 was bid, but failed to bring out any holders demanding $6.25.

McBryde, which closed at $6 bid and $6.25 asked yesterday, made an immense jump ahead. On the board this morning there were rapid-fire sales of 20, 15 and 10 shares at $6.75. After that the same was freely offered for more, but holders closed at $6.875.

Honokaa was still low, as compared to recent quotations, but closed firm. On the board 10 shares sold at $20.125. At the close the same was bid for more, but $20.25 was asked.

Another sale of interest on the board was 10 shares Ewa at $34.75. At the close $34.625 was bid and $34.875 asked for this stock.

Hutchinson again appeared, 15 shares changing hands at $19. The same was bid for more, but holders demanded $19.25.

Pineapple was firm at $28, sales of 20 shares being made between and on the board at that figure. At the close of the session $27.75 was bid and $28.25 asked.

Two sales of Olan sixes—$1,000 and $1,000—took place on the board at $94.50. At the close $94.25 was bid and $94.50 asked.

The following were quotations of interest without sales: Wahiawa $136 asked; Pioneer $223 bid and $227.50 asked; Hawaiian Commercial $42.25 bid and $42.50 asked.

WALL NICHOLS CO. TO BEGIN MOVING

Wall, Nichols Company will begin tomorrow or Saturday removing from the corner of Merchant and Fort to their premises in King street by the side of Cunha's alley. The work will be carried on gradually, so that it will be a week or two before the shift over is fully made. The delay in starting work on the rear addition to the King street premises will necessitate a cramped condition of affairs for a while. This will be speedily remedied however, when the workmen on the Union Grill extension are out of the road and building operations are under way.

Castle & Cooke will move into the building at Fort and Merchant during the month of June, but probably not on the first of the month, as some alterations and renovating will be necessary in the meanwhile.

SUNDAY ELEVATOR IS STILL REFUSED

The Commercial Club made another effort yesterday afternoon to get an arrangement with the McCandless building people whereby the elevator to the club rooms might be utilized on Sundays. This is an old subject and at one time it was supposed to have been settled. Afterwards there was a hitch, and the Commercial Club offered to pay $10 a month for the extra expense. This the owners of the building have refused, and the matter is once more in the air. This is a great disappointment to the directorate, as the club is used a very great deal on Sundays by unmarried members.

J. N. S. Williams and H. E. Hendrick were elected to membership, and the application of William Henry was posted.

The resignation of George H. Angus from the vice presidency and from the board of governors was accepted. J. D. McInerney was elected vice president to fill the vacancy, and James Jaeger a member of the board of governors.

The reports of the officers showed the club to be in very fine shape in every way.

AN HONEST DOCTOR

remarked to his patient who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after his efforts had failed, "Mrs. Weber, I do not believe in patent medicines, but I will say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine ever discovered for women. Continue to use it." This is another link in the long chain of evidence to prove the reliability of this standard medicine for women.

SPORTS

BY JAMES W. W. BREWSTER.

CONSOLATION PLAY TONIGHT AT MANOA

Tonight at seven o'clock sharp, the consolation tennis matches for the defeat Steere and Nowell, but they prizes offered by the Manoa Improvement Club will be started on the courts of the Manoa Tennis Club. More than the usual interest is being taken in this tournament, as the tennis enthusiasts are anxious to see which is the second best team in men's doubles. Castle and Low who will meet the winner of the Steere-Nowell, Wall-Giffard match are considered to be the next best team to the Cooke brothers, and an idea of how the double championship will go this year will be watched by the large gallery who are expected to watch tonight's play.

Steere and Nowell have been playing hard every day for the matches. Matches 1 and 2 will be two out of three sets, while the last match will be three out of five.

ODELL WINS SHOOT.

For the second time in the last few weeks, H. B. Odell annexed the honor at the weekly shoot of the Hawaii Gun Club, winning yesterday's shoot by one bird, the club crack, Harvey being only one bird behind, Bobo made 15, White 11, Spalding 12, and Major Long 17.

As there are three men tied with two shots to their credit the future shoots promise to be very exciting.

INFANTRY WIN PULL.

The strong roller tug of war team from Fort Shafter easily and decisively defeated the Marines from Camp Very last night in two straight pulls at the Princess rink, the time being 17 3-5 and 14 2-5 seconds for the pulling.

The Marines did not seem to have gone in them last night, and were completely pulled off their feet, most of them being on the floor at the end of each pull. The same teams will meet again next Wednesday night as the Marines are confident they can regain their lost laurels.

For the sake of clean sport it is to be hoped that there will be no more scenes like the one depicted in the dressing room after the match was over, as only diplomacy saved a free for all fight. One of the Marines called a soldier a name which is too revolting to mention but the soldier behaved like a gentleman and refused to fight in a public place. The cause of the remark was the loss of the game.

MEN ARE READY FOR GONG.

The six men who will enter the ring on Saturday night under the management of Jack McFadden, are through with their heavy work, the rest of the time will be devoted entirely to light work. Wahilani and McCollough who will furnish the main event of the evening are both confident as to the outcome, especially Wahilani who is anxious to annex the honors as he will leave shortly for the coast, and while there will try and meet some of the best men in his class. Both men have trained hard and faithfully for their match which promises to be a good one from the first tap of the gong.

Gans, Sarconi, Richards and Hoop are putting on the finishing touches to their work, and will be in Al condition when they meet.

No place has been secured for the matches as yet on account of the burning of the Orpheum, but the matter will be decided some time today and it is quite likely that the boxing will take place at the Princess rink.

SUNDAY'S BIG GAME.

Every arrangement has been made for the opening games of the Oahu League at Athletic park Sunday afternoon, and judging from the talk about town the seating capacity will be taxed to the limit, as nearly every fan in town has expressed their intention of being present at the games. The several teams in the league with the officials and guests of honor headed by the band, will march to the grounds where formal ceremony will be the order of the day before the first game is started at 1:30.

More than usual interest is being taken in the coming series, as the keenest rivalry exists among the players, and before the season is completed the public will be treated to many fast and snappy games. The Japanese A. C. who won the honors last year are certain that they can repeat the trick this year, and their followers will be on hand to assist them in their first game by rooting.

Wall and Giffard are not expected to play. The match between Mr. and Mrs. John Waterhouse, and Miss Sewall and Mr. Nowell ought to be fast from start to finish as the teams are nearly equal in their playing, and before the winner is announced the spectators will see some good tennis. Bockus and Richards were eligible for play, but as they are both busy tonight they withdrew from the tournament yesterday. At the conclusion of play, Judge H. E. Cooper will present the prizes won at the recent tournament as well as the prizes conferred for tonight.

Matches 1 and 2 will be two out of three sets, while the last match will be three out of five.

JAPS MAY COME.

If certain negotiations now under way are completed, the Waseda University ball team will play here this summer with the teams in the Oahu Baseball league.

It was first proposed to bring both the Santa Clara and Waseda teams to play, but as there is no team here good enough to defeat the Santa Clara team the matter will probably be decided by bringing only the sons of Nippon. Definite action will be taken in a few days, and the fans will probably be assured a series of international ball.

LEAGUE WILL MEET.

All members of the Newspaper baseball league are requested to be present in the makal pavilion of the Young Hotel next Wednesday evening at seven forty-five, for the purpose of electing officers and arranging a series of games for the proposed series which will start the first Sunday in June.

Since the subject was mentioned, nothing but baseball has been talked of in the several printing offices, and the prospects of a league are very promising. The officials of Athletic park have been approached on the matter of grounds, and satisfactory arrangements will probably be completed before the meeting next week. It is quite likely that the Chinese paper will enter the league, which will mean having seven teams in the league. The games will be played in the morning, two games being played each week until the series is completed.

It is to be hoped that everyone interested in this league will make a special effort to be present at the meeting, as there is a good deal of important business to be transacted.

MUCH INTEREST IN RACE.

Now that the final arrangements regarding grounds, prizes, etc. have been arranged for the 15 mile race on Memorial Day, Nigel Jackson "the race promoter," has started active training for the event which promises to be the most interesting ever held here.

The best runners of the territory have signified their intentions of entering the race, and before the list closes at least twenty men are expected to have their names down.

From now until the day of the race the league grounds will be available for training, and on the 30th every convenience for the comfort of the runners will be provided for by the management.

The oxygen machine will be placed on exhibition this week in a window on Fort street, and anyone wishing to learn the workings of the wonderful machine can find out all they want to know by going in the store and asking.

The following cash prizes will be awarded: First $100; Second $50; Third $30; Fourth $20.

A new schedule of games for the Military Athletic Baseball league has been arranged and will be started next Saturday when the Fort Ruger and Fort Shafter, Marines and National Guards meet at the league grounds.

SPORTING NOTES.

Odell lived up to his previous record. Harvey only lost by one bird. Bobo was not in his usual form. Barney Joy is training Charley Hustace for Sunday. Baseball and tennis are at present the two topics of conversation among the lovers of sport. The Oahu league games will be started on time. Ayres is confident that he will make a good showing on May 30. The Star wishes you luck. Jackson is suffering from a strained ligament. Lorrin Andrews would make a good umpire for the Newspaper League. The players of the Newspaper League are almost assured immunity from roasting. Ed Fernandez is leaving for the coast shortly. What team has secured your services Ed? Dick Reuter may arrive on the next Sierra. A. K. Vierra says he is going to make a study of big league baseball while on the mainland. Steere and Nowell are out for the tennis honors tonight. Bockus is looking for a partner for the tennis championships. What are the requirements Bock? What has happened to the proposed motorcycle race on July 4? Charley Lewis will probably go on the yacht Hawaii. Ray Rietow is also going to help sail the yacht to victory. En Sue and Chillingworth, will be missed in the coming Military league games. The C. A. C. and J. A. C. are picked winners in the opening Oahu league games. Marcellino is making a good manager. Keep up the good work Tony. Rapozo is the right man for scorer. A. K. Vierra was given a good send off yesterday morning by his friends. The popular sporting man may remain on the coast for good. Barney Joy expects a lot of blarney before the season is over. Hustace is prepared to strike out the Mayor on Sunday. How about next November, Charley? Mayor Fern will try to make a home run off Hustace. Walker promises to hit better in the coming series. There was a time when he could be counted on for a hit. Soares will catch for the P. A. C's. Bushnell leaves for the mainland shortly. Must have been some definite news about the July series. Barry is making a stand for the Military league cup. Barry says the cup belongs in the bungalow. Waterman was well received by his admirers among the fair sex at the yacht benefit. Clarence is the fair haired boy without a doubt. Kerr did the best turn of his life. There is money on the stage, Bill. Miss Kenny was warmly applauded. Dr. Ramus proved his ability on the cello. Wilder may lose his when the seas run high, and head winds blow. It is understood that two rich men will give a substantial amount, if asked, for the yacht fund. Finance Committee get busy, the money is needed. Charley Crane says if the Newspaper league is formed the Tiser will win easily. A new mascot is wanted for the Paradise Pets. Will Chilton and Magoon please come to terms over their proposed match race? The other motorists are interested. Ayres is rounding out ten miles a day in training for the coming 15 mile race. Jackson, Hayes, and Kao are hard at work. A dark horse may win the race however. Watch manager Notley next Sunday afternoon. It's worth while. Cunha will play tennis next week so he says. "Sonny" knows the game from A. to Z.

POLICE SCANDAL IN 'FRISCO

(Associated Press Morning Service.)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—As a result of a recent police raid on a Sausalito poolroom, a scandal in the police circles of this city appears to be developing, involving Commissioner Flannery, placed by Mayor McCarthy at the head of the police commission as its president. The charge involves that of promised protection for wire-tappers on the part of the police. The investigation is taking place at San Rafael, and the testimony is of such a nature that Mayor McCarthy has made a hurried return to this city to consult Flannery.
Yesterday he called at the home of the police commissioner, but was denied admission, Flannery being seriously ill.
A dispatch from San Rafael yesterday states that one Joseph Abbot, who had been caught in the Sausalito poolroom raid, testified before the jury that he had been promised all the protection he and the other wire-tappers required, the promise being given in person by the chairman of the police commission of San Francisco.

SPRECKELS AND MATSON TESTIFY
SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—A. B. Spreckels, president of the Oceanic Steamship Company, and Capt. W. Matson, president of the Matson Navigation Company, operating lines between Hawaiian and Coast ports, have been summoned to appear before the federal grand jury at Washington to testify in the investigation being made into the affairs of the sugar trust.

PAULHAN WINS FORTUNE.
LONDON, April 28.—Paulhan, the French aviator, defeated White and Graham in a sensational race yesterday for the prize of fifty thousand dollars offered by Lord Northcliffe for the winner in a flight from London to Manchester, with not more than two stops on the way. Paulhan made only one stop on the entire flight of one hundred and sixty-five miles, which he covered in less than 5 hours.

HOT FOR DR. HYDE.
KANSAS CITY, April 28.—Testimony heard yesterday in the case against Dr. Clark Hyde, charged with the murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope, resulted in the revocation of the $100,000 bond under which, up until yesterday, the accused was allowed to be at large. He is now detained in custody. The principal witness yesterday was the wife of the supposedly murdered man, who grew hysterical while on the stand and made some damaging points against the prisoner. Other witnesses testified that Dr. Hyde had purchased cyanide of potassium and had secured the germs of typhoid, avowedly for the purpose of tests.

KERMIT AND ETHEL FLY.
PARIS, April 28.—Theodore Roosevelt brought his Paris visit to a close last night by attending an official dinner given in his honor at the residence of the minister of foreign affairs.
Ethel and Kermit Roosevelt had an experience in the air yesterday, each making a short flight as passengers on the car of de Lambert, who drove.

$70,000 LOSS.

It is estimated that the total loss will reach $70,000.
 George Tourney, secretary of the German Savings & Loan Society of San Francisco, represented here by Abram Lewis, owned the Orpheum block and theater, valued at about $41,500.
 The C. M. Cooke Estate owns the Sachs building, which has suffered about $6,000.
 Damages to the property of occupants and repairs necessary on surrounding frame buildings will amount to about $12,000 or $13,000.
 What suits for damages may arise from private parties, lodgers, etc., remain to be seen. The damages may go up considerably.
 The Orpheum interests were insured. The policies are in San Francisco.

WERE NOT INSURED.

The Japanese tailor store ($500), the Atwood ice creamery ($400), the second hand store ($1,000), munks, in the Orpheum block, and the store-room used for scenery by the Orpheum theater (doubtful), were not insured.

Upstairs, in the Orpheum block, everything was lost by tenants, and by Van Gelson who had about $1,800 worth of furniture uninsured.

The Orpheum saloon proprietor supplied the firemen with a little stimulant during their hard fight, free of charge.

Levi, the "dollar down and dollar a week" clothing man got his cash register out the first thing. He thought his store in the Sachs building was gone.

FLAMES CONSUMED

 Had there been a performance on at the time and the house filled with spectators, it is doubtful if the house could have been cleared without the loss of hundreds of lives. Scores would have been cindered.

There is nothing, absolutely nothing left of the theater, and the stores and the rooming building in front of the theater are equally a total loss, the firemen being engaged this morning in pulling down the tottering walls.

PRESTIDGE ESCAPES.

Bill Prestidge, property man and general stage manager for the Orpheum, was sleeping back of the stage when the alarm was given. He escaped the flames none too soon, and then went to work with a will to arouse the occupants of neighboring buildings and to help save property.

SACHS BUILDING SAVED.

Though there was something of a panic in the upper story of the Majestic hotel, in the Sachs building, the quick wit and good management of the firemen, engineered by Deering, prevented any loss of life. The wind was from the mountains and carried the flames high. The roof of the Sachs building was badly damaged and the flames seemed to find a pocket in the "L" of the structure, burning the upper verandah to an extent which will require the installation of a new one, gutting several of the lodgers rooms and chasing the occupants out of fourteen rooms. Windows, of course, were smashed by the water, and railings and stairways were crumpled and charred and ruined. Much property was lost by private individuals in this building. Most of the occupants made haste to get out with their valuables. They lit up on Beretania street, seeking refuge.

HELPED THE UNFORTUNATES.

Thirty people, mostly working men and their families, were burned out of the Orpheum block. Numbers ran to the street, clutching precious belongings, and were half clothed. Among the thousands in the assembled crowd they found volunteer friends who dug down into their pockets to give them a few dollars for immediate necessities, for those burned out of the Orpheum block, many of them, were in none too flush circumstances.

HOW THEY FOUGHT FIRE.

Deering got eight streams on the fire. Engines practically surrounded the blaze. The Orpheum lay within a maze of frame buildings. The Orpheum block had no right ever to be called anything but a frame building. It was built of timber, coated with one layer of brick all of which, of course, fell in when the fire had had its way. Probably the brick was merely a coating to make the building pass as a brick building. It was no more fire proof than a cracker-box. If there had been anything of a strong wind nothing could have saved the frame buildings in the direction with that wind.

The saving of the Sachs building, with its exposed wooden staircases on the outside, its wooden verandas and roofing, is the greatest testimony of wonderful work on the part of the firemen.

Deering did nobly. No one could have done better. He realized that there was no more use trying to save the Orpheum than trying to save a bunch of shavings and, since the wind was that way, devoted his main attention to saving the Sachs building, in which he succeeded, though it was damaged, probably to the extent of $5,000 or $6,000 in the rear.

SILVA'S NARROW ESCAPE.
 The home of Undertaker Silva, immediately in the rear, Ewa, had a most narrow escape. He got out all his belongings but the house was not damaged more than a scorching.

FIREMAN HURT.
 One of the brave firemen, Joe Mendola, was injured by the falling of a piece of the fake brick wall, in the

THE MAN OF THE HOUR

Owing to the great success achieved by the productions of The Lion and the Mouse and Paid in Full, the McRae company has decided to produce The Man of the Hour, a play possessing all the entertaining characteristics of these two great plays, but cleverly arranged as to make it more exciting and more intensely interesting a play. The Man of the Hour appeals strongly to the great theater-going public of today. It deals with politics and finance, the two subjects uppermost in the minds of the business man. In fact, it is a play of the hour.
 George Broadhurst, the clever author of The Man of the Hour, wrote this play around the graft scandal which so recently excited the entire Eastern world. San Francisco is just emerging from the atmosphere of the greatest political scandal of the decade; Pittsburg is now in the midst of even a greater scandal; Chicago is preparing for one, and Boston has somehow escaped the meshes. The production of The Man of the Hour will be exceptionally elaborate, giving every detail most careful thought and study.
