

PLAN A TUNNEL UNDER THE OAHU MOUNTAIN RANGE

A water-tunnel cutting clean through the range of mountains that divides "the other side" of Oahu from the Honolulu side, is the plan that brought Engineer Joseph B. Lippincott of Los Angeles to Honolulu. The idea is to carry water from the lowlands on the other side, under the mountain, to Oahu plantation. Some of the details have been worked out, and it is up to Lippincott as an expert to give a final decision as to whether the scheme is practical or not.

The tunnel would drain millions of gallons of water which now goes to rice fields and other "wet" agricultural enterprises in Waikane, Waikane and Kahana, carrying the water to the lower levels on this side, where it would be available for Oahu plantation. The plan involves three miles of straight tunneling under the mountain ridge. Those who have investigated the proposition here are disposed to regard it as feasible. It is found that if the tunneling can be done, the ditch can be constructed so that the water will flow, under the hills, to a lower level on this side than that of the rice lands from which it will be taken.

Give Up Rice Culture.
The project may mean, eventually, an abandonment of the rice and taro farming on the other side. The water has a higher value where Oahu plantation can use it than it has for the rice and taro men.

Cost Over a Million.
The cost of the tunneling enterprise would be over a million dollars, it is stated. But if it is finally decided that the project can be successfully carried out, the money will be put up, as the water is considered worth it. Engineer Lippincott will spend a couple of weeks studying the plans and examining the country, and upon his decision depends whether the backers of the scheme will undertake to bore a hole under the Oahu mountain range.

FRUIT FLY HAS MADE MARKET SUPERINTENDENT'S JOB VERY HARD

J. E. Higgins, horticulturist of the Federal agricultural experiment station here, is considering taking the position of market superintendent under the new law passed by the last legislature, but is made reluctant to do so by the California quarantine against fruits from Hawaii. He fears that the quarantine will so interfere with the work that he will not be able to make a success of the job, and hence does not want to give up the Federal appointment he now holds.

Higgins has had a conference with the governor on the subject and been offered the appointment. Much was hoped from the act under which the office of market superintendent was created, but that was before the Mediterranean fruit fly was reported. There seems now to be much more doubt as to whether a market superintendent can "make good" in promoting the exportation of farm products from Hawaii to the mainland. The fly has changed the situation.

If Higgins can get leave of absence from his Federal work to undertake the work of market superintendent he will probably accept the position, but in view of the new difficulties in the job he is not much disposed to give up his Federal position. He will have another conference with the governor when the latter returns from Kauai, probably next week.

KALIHI VALLEY THE PROBABLE LOCATION FOR NEW JAIL

If negotiations with the Bishop estate can be satisfactorily carried through it is probable that the new Territorial penitentiary, provision for which was made by the last legislature, will be located in Kalihi valley, some distance above the Frank Harvey property, and on the Waikiki side of the road. High Sheriff William Henry stated this morning that this location had about been decided upon as offering the most advantages for the new prison, and that if the land can be acquired no other site will probably be looked for.

The present Oahu prison in Iwilei is a very old structure, and is now inadequate to care for the men who must be confined there. Besides the location is not considered desirable, there being room for nothing except the prison building itself and very limited jail yard. High Sheriff Henry wants the new penitentiary to have sufficient ground around it in order that a certain amount of farming may be done by the convicts especially by those not able to do heavy manual labor. The Kalihi site will nicely fill these requirements. There will be about twenty-five acres of land asked for, and this will include a fine ledge or rock, which will not only furnish material for building the new prison, but will furnish remunerative work for the prisoners in getting out curbing and other commercial stone.

The last legislature appropriated $75,000 for the new prison, and also made available towards the same purpose, the proceeds from the sale of the present building and site. The money is to come from the bond issue, and was one of the items laid over till the issue of bonds next year. High Sheriff Henry states that this will not delay work on the new building for the reason that there will be many months work of the prisoners in preparing the new site, and in quarrying the stone for its construction. Besides when the old building and site are sold, as they probably will be for industrial purposes, the proceeds will be available by the time it is needed.

TWO INDICTMENTS ARE ACTED ON

William Kamelamela was arrested under a Federal indictment for violating Section 318 of the Penal Code and gave his recognizance with sureties for $500 to answer the indictment tomorrow or thereafter when called.

George J. Stumpf was indicted for the same offense, but the summons was returned with endorsement intiinating that Stumpf could not be found. Fred Low, George K. Low and Chin Tom Ching, indicted for various offenses as previously reported, have all been released on bonds.

The Federal grand jury has taken a vacation until September 5.

CLAIM DISALLOWED.
Judgment for defendant was given in the suit of John Ouderkirik vs. Rose Davison. It was a claim of price of cows alleged to have been sold. Defendant set up that the cows had been rented and her contention prevailed with Judge Robinson.

ICE CREAM FAT CONTROVERSY IN POLICE COURT

A warrant was issued shortly after noon today for George G. Schwizer, proprietor of the Baltimore Dairy Lunch Room, charging him with selling ice cream below the required standard. The warrant was sworn to by E. B. Blanchard, Territorial food commissioner.

Do the people want "pure" ice cream?

The ice cream men say they don't, and if they say they do they don't know what they want. That is, the ice cream men hold, that the average person would on consulting his own palate, select an eight or ten per cent butter fat product rather than a fourteen per cent one, which the law says is necessary in a pure ice cream.

Of course Food Commissioner Blanchard, who is kicking up all this ice cream trouble, doesn't pretend for a minute that the quantity of butter fat in ice cream has anything to do with its wholesomeness, but the Territorial pure food law, amended through the wisdom of the last legislature, declares that ice cream shall be fourteen per cent, or more, of butter fats, and that any ice cream which does not come up to this standard is to be considered "adulterated," and provides a penalty for the dealer handling such product.

But it is certain that Blanchard's activity has stirred up interest for the ice cream men. Ladies now walk in to a confectionery store and ask—"Is your ice cream fourteen percent?" and if the honest dealer confesses that it isn't a haughty nose goes into the air and the prospective customer hunts up a possibly less scrupulous dealer and buys her ice cream.

Cream Too Rich.
"It's all right to have a standard" said a leading confectioner in speaking of the matter this morning. "But I am sorry that the law fixes it so high. I am sorry for two reasons—first because I know that an eight or ten per cent ice cream will give better satisfaction than a fourteen per cent one, and second because we can't afford to sell a fourteen per cent ice cream for the prices we are getting now."

"The reason that a fourteen per cent ice cream isn't so palatable is that the butter fats it contains are apparent. Did you ever eat ice cream and have a coating of grease in the roof of your mouth after a mouthful or two? Well, that was high butter fat ice cream. Fourteen per cent butterfat in ice cream will give this effect. I know because I have tried it. I think our ice cream is running about eleven percent right now, and although we are making it in exactly the same manner as we always did I have had numbers of persons tell me that our cream was not as good as it was a month or so ago when we aimed to have between eight and ten percent."

"On the second point dealers will all have to raise prices if forced to maintain the fourteen per cent standard. The Dairymen's Association charges $1 per quart for cream, and won't give us any guarantee as to the standard. As a matter of fact we have found by analysis made that it generally runs about thirty-two per cent butter fats, but that it varies. We sell ice cream at seventy-five cents per quart, or when we serve it by dishes get 80 cents (eight 10-cent sell at these rates."

Blanchard is Busy.
In the meantime Food Commissioner Blanchard has quit talking and is sawing wood—in other words collecting samples and analyzing ice-cream—and doing it in such manner that he can use his results as evidence in a trial court. This morning he refused to state what samples he had taken, but stated that his results would be turned over to the prosecuting attorney. He intimated that from samples taken yesterday, including those from three haole dealers, that the prosecuting attorney is likely to have some work to do either this afternoon or tomorrow. Blanchard says that he didn't make the law but that the standard as regards butter fats is not higher here than in a number of other states, and that the food experts of Vermont recently defined the "ideal"

HILO OBJECTS TO A STREET RAILROAD PERMIT

(Wireless to the Star.)
HILO, Aug. 9.—The Board of Trade has adopted a resolution strongly objecting to the action of Governor Campbell in granting permits for use of Hilo streets for railroad purposes without reference to citizens here. The firm of Theo. H. Davies & Co. cast the only negative vote on the adoption of the resolutions. The objection is specifically made to the use of Waiuku street, which is being laid out for a scenic boulevard.

WIFE BEATERS SENTENCED TO JAIL

Judge Monsarrat handed out a couple of salutary sentences in the police court this morning for wife-beating, being determined to put a stop to this particular form of diversion on the part of drunken husbands.

H. Kaaiwa was given two months and L. Luahiwa was sentenced to spend just half that term in his company.

The former kicked his wife in the eye, and Luahiwa dragged his about the room by her hair, which operation, the hair being real, caused the lady no little pain.

Mrs. Luahiwa has been subjected to similar annoyances at the hands of her worse half, but has always begged him off when the matter was brought up in court. She was obdurate this morning and hubby was relieved of the job of providing for his wife for the period of one calendar month.

Mrs. Bush, now of Kakaako, was fined $5 and costs for being too flip with her tongue.

Ah Kong had to pay $5 and costs for malicious injury. He took a short cut through another man's property and broke a fence. The result of the case made him think of that old adage that the shortest way through is sometimes the longest way round.

Kuroiwa, a Japanese chauffeur, was fined $15 and costs for furious driving and was touched for an extra fiver for driving his car without the statutory tail light. Motor Officer Abreu tried to stop him when driving his machine at an excessive speed and the Jap was ill-mannered enough to try and run Mr. Abreu down.

Kellinui was the sole occupant of the drunk's pew. The time-honored "three and one" was his portion.

Today's arrests are as follows: Joe Kawalo, the man who hit another over the head with a bottle at Waimanalo on Monday night.

M. Rosa, held for investigation. Hema Hanale, charged with assault and battery, and Lui Kama, charged with larceny in the second degree.

The investigation of the Ewaliko evangelists has been going on this morning, but no result has been come to so far.

WHARF COMMISSION MEETING.
(Wireless to the Star.)

HILO, Aug. 9.—The wharf commissioners, who are coming here from Honolulu on the Mauna Kea, are to hold a public meeting here on Thursday.

Rev. W. B. Oleson will give an account of the "World in Boston" exhibition at Central Union tonight. This was a remarkable presentation of the progress of the world under the influence of Christian missions. Mr. Oleson had charge of the Hawaii exhibit, which attracted thousands of visitors and was the subject of much comment. The story of the exhibits, pageant, processions and music should be an interesting one.

Claudine With Ohia Blocks.
The Claudine arrived from Hawaii via ports this morning with 3,360 Ohia blocks, thirty cords of wood, one mill roller, fourteen crates of chickens, thirty-one sacks of corn, 197 packages of empty bottles, three automobiles, two mules, one horse, forty-three sugar, thirteen empty carboys, seven W. G. Hall With Sugar.
The W. G. Hall returned this morning from Kauai with 5,500 bags of sugar, thirteen empty carboys, seven empty gasoline drums, one horse, twenty-three empty wine and gin barrels, twenty bags of guineas, twenty bags of taro, and sixty-eight packages of sundries.

Inter Island Shipping.
Purser Kibling of the Claudine reports that the Mary Winkelman was at Hilo on Monday last, and that the schooner Expansion and the A.-H. S. S. Virginian were at Kahului on Tuesday.
Wallele Brings Sugar.
The Wallele was an early morning arrival from Hawaii. She brought 9,200 bags of sugar, nineteen empty gas drums, forty empty wine barrels, one package of sundries and fifty-one head of cattle.
At Honokaa 3,500 bags of sugar were left and 10,000 at Kukuiahae.

Mexican Has Structural Iron.
The American-Hawaiian freighter Mexican was an arrival yesterday afternoon from Puget Sound. The trip down was an excellent one, fine weather being met with the whole time. The journey was completed in eight days, ten hours.
The Mexican has a lot of freight for these islands, that for Honolulu being a large one.
She brought 1,500 tons of New York cargo and 1,500 tons of Puget Sound cargo. For the Hilo railroad there are about 675 tons of structural iron for bridges, and in order to land this heavy material as quickly as possible the vessel will go direct to Hilo. There is a small cargo for Port Allen and Kahului.
The cargo for here, includes three long logs of Oregon pine. These are for spars for dredgers. Two of them weigh sixteen tons each, and the third one a little less. They occupy a position on the forward part of the ship, but the great expanse of deck makes them look smaller than they are, for they are excellent specimens of this great timber.

Railroad Wharf a Money Loser.
Complaints are made time after time by those whose business takes them to the railroad wharf, of the lack of sanitary conveniences there. Although at times, the number of men working on the wharves runs into hundreds, there are no proper sanitary facilities. These men naturally drink a lot of water during the day, and to get a drink they have to proceed a considerable distance. This entails a great loss of time, which is got over to some extent by providing buckets of water.
Some months ago a portion of the wharf caved in, and left a gaping hole there. For a long time the authorities, beyond placing a trestle above it, made no attempt to remove the danger to those working in the vicinity. Since then, sides have gradually subsided, until now the hole is much larger. Boards are placed across the opening, but it is fully believed that some day, there will be a serious accident there through the weight of a heavily laden wagon forcing itself into the opening through the loosened earth around the sides giving way.

Wilhelmina Will Have Record Shipment.
The Wilhelmina, it is confidently believed, will create a new record in the number of canned pineapples it will take away when it leaves here for San Francisco on Wednesday next. Already Charlie Spencer says there are 48,000 cases in sight, so it is more than probable that this number will be augmented. The record was established by the Lurline last year when she took away 48,000 cases, therefore, it would seem that the prophecy that the Wilhelmina will take more will be easily fulfilled. Already word has been received that there will be some shipments of bananas and green pineapples.

The Wilhelmina will leave for Hilo tomorrow afternoon at five o'clock, and will return here on Sunday morning to complete her loading of local freight for San Francisco.

The bkte. Newsboy is now at the Quarantine Island wharf being fumigated in preparation of her early departure back to the coast for lumber for Honolulu.

Stewards Are Unromantic.
All the world loves a lover, so it is alleged, but stewards have no love for honeymoon couples when they cause them an extra amount of work. The brideship Wilhelmina contributed no fewer than seven on her last trip down to Honolulu, but only three of them were unearched, the other four couples acting like old married folks, so they fooled the majority of the passengers and stewards.
There was no mistaking the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Lyon were leaving San Francisco on their honeymoon, for while people were busy on the wharf saying good bye, and the stewards idle on the upper decks were taking a languid interest in the fond farewells, some friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lyon stole around and festooned the ceiling of the cabin with beautiful white streamers of ribbon. Not content with this, they liberally sprinkled everything in the cabin with rice. Pounds and pounds of it were used, said one of the stewards.

Very frequently, although it requires but a trivial digression from the precepts laid down for us between the pages of books on social usages to determine in just what sphere we live and breathe, and have our being, we are apt to draw too hasty conclusions from misdemeanors or the small offenses.

And although improper diversions may be frivolously enjoyed by the chosen few constituting the elite, a small margin indeed of privilege or prerogative is accorded the bourgeoisie.

The woman whose social position is so manifestly secure that she dares to revel in her chosen practices regardless of conventionality, smiles in secret at the emulation of her parasites, and shudders with disdain at the blunders of her inferiors.

As long as the frosting on society's plum cake is temptingly displayed, what cares society how gummy the interior or substantial solid structure of its life may be?

An amusing story is being enjoyed by a very limited few about a certain lady well known in local society who is mistress of one of the most perfectly systematized households in the city and the mother of one of the most charming children, whose manners she gently but insinuatingly has boasted, bear favorable comparison with those of any feminine Beau Brummel.

During the winter season of social activities the nurse is particularly instructed as to the standard of table manners to be maintained, and this fond and zealous mother endeavors at least once a week to hold a personal inspection over the evening meal.

While in their country villa during the laxity of the summer months, however, a very great license is granted to the child, who is permitted during this joyous season not only to join the family at meals, but to saturate her physical longings for her pet refractions.

One of these unspeakable orgies is to sop up gravies and palatable sauces with soft white bits of bread, harmless enough in the intimate presence of the family, but rudely shocking to visitors who might have accidentally dropped in.

So it happened, as it is always sure to in such cases, that the automobile of a very distinguished party of tourists who were returning from a week at Haleiwa, broke down, and the victims of the accident were conceded the villa's hospitality, while the small daughter of the establishment was submitted to a warning and drilling against indulging in the "sopping" process, so dear to her natural inclinations, but so derogatory to the rules of polite behavior.

But the little daughter of the establishment had evolved her own scheme and had reached a solution of the dilemma.

While one of the guests, an elderly gentleman, was dressing for dinner, little daughter entered his room and embraced him in her confidence.

"Oh, Mister —," she whispered, "Ah Choy told me we're going to have creamed truffles and terrapin for an entree tonight and I just love to sop up the nice juice. Mother told me if I did it in front of you folks she'd punish me, so I thought I'd ask you all to do it, too, so it will look all right!"

The gentleman thus appealed to being too courteous and too appreciative of the humor of it to ignore the small request, passed the word, and in consequence two elegantly mannered clubmen and two ladies fresh from the European centers of breeding, having disposed of their entree, nonchalantly proceeded as one to "sop up" the cream sauce.

The hostess' consternation and surprise can be better imagined than described.

And twice since then she has been seen doing the same "stunt" at fashionable dinner parties, feeling quite secure in its propriety!

SOCIAL NEWS OF THE DAY.

Governor and Mrs. George R. Carter entertained at an informal but exceedingly pretty dinner party at the Hotel Colonial last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton of San Francisco, who arrived in the Manchuria.

The table on the lanai was trimmed in gold, a basket of golden shower, tied with a double bow of gold illusion occupying the center of the table.

The guest cards bore the name of the hotel in gold.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton, Mrs. Ames of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Major and Mrs. George Potter, Mr. William Roth and Governor and Mrs. George R. Carter.

Miss Beatrice Rain Walker of England was the inspiration for an artistically appointed luncheon at which Miss Blanche Soper entertained yesterday afternoon at her home on Lunallilo street.

The luncheon colors were evolved in white and green, a highly polished French mirror of oval shape representing a reflected pond in the center.

On the surface of simulated still water lily pods were cleverly arranged, exquisite white water lilies showing here and there, white white celluloid swans floated gracefully between the foliage.

The guest cards were suggestive of the table ensemble, and were hand-Mrs. Jones of California and Miss was one of the most beautiful luncheons this season.

Those present were Miss Beatrice Rain Walker, Miss Helen Achilles, Miss Mary Catton, Miss Renny Catton, Miss Dorothy Hartwell, Miss Cordella Walker, Miss Ethel Spalding, Miss Josephine Soper, Mrs. T. V. King, Mrs. Charles Rice of Kauai, painted swans and water lilies. This Blanche Soper.

Governor George R. Carter entertained at a very informal luncheon at the Country Club yesterday afternoon as a compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton and a few friends passing through in the Manchuria. The table was trimmed with a basket of red geraniums and foliage and the name cards were hand-painted Hawaiian scenes. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton, Mrs. Ames, Mr. Harry Macfarlane and Governor George R. Carter.

Miss Beatrice Rain Walker has issued invitations for a picnic supper at which this charming girl will entertain at the Beard residence on Pacific Heights tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Frederick Klebahn has issued cards for a luncheon at which she will entertain tomorrow afternoon in honor of Mrs. Thomas Rain Walker.

One of the very dainty and artistic luncheons of the season was that at which Mrs. Arthur A. Wilder entertained yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Edward Holmes of Berkeley.

The color scheme of the luncheon table was carried out in delicate blue and white, the service of Crescent English china, the large bowl of the same ware, filled with white marguerites which formed a centerpiece, and the luncheon centerpiece and place doilies of white grass linen heavily embroidered in raised blue dragons, being very fetching.

Covers were arranged for eight.

Those included on the invitational list were Mrs. Edward Holmes, Mrs. James Wilder, Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mrs. George Potter, Mrs. James R. Judd, Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder and Mrs. George R. Carter.

In accordance with a wireless request which Colonel Sam Parker sent from the Wilhelmina, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Widemann entertained at a handsome poi breakfast yesterday at their beautiful home at Waikiki. Breakfast was served at ten o'clock in the cocoon lanai where the lawn and beach meet. It was decorated with palms and the long table trimmed with leaves and fish tail ferns, as a bed for many Hawaiian delicacies.

A calabash filled with brilliant red carnations and lace fern formed an attractive centerpiece, and long leis of red carnations and malle were worn by the guests during the elaborate repast.

Those present were Prince and Princess Kalaniana'ole, Mrs. William E. Dargie of Oakland, Mrs. Robert W. Craig of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. C. O. Berger, Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Mr. Ernest Parker, Colonel Sam Parker, Mr. Fred Shingle, Mr. Robert Shingle and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Widemann.

turned home in the Mauna Loa yesterday, were motifs of a dinner party at which Mr. and Mrs. James Dougherty entertained on Monday evening at their handsome new home in Manoa Valley.

Duchess roses and maidenhair were effectively used for decoration.

A very simple service at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, read by Canon Ault at St. Andrew's Cathedral, united in marriage Miss Grace Bohr Olson and Mr. William Arthur Cleghorn of Waipahu.

The service was very quiet, only the immediate relatives of the young couple attending.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Dagmar Olson, as bridesmaid, while Mr. Percy Cleghorn, a brother of the groom, attended him as best man.

After the service the bridal party motored to the Cleghorn cottage at Waikiki, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served to a few of the relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleghorn left at ten o'clock in the Mauna Kea for the volcano, where a two weeks' honeymoon will be spent.

A WOMAN DEPUTY SHERIFF.

The only young woman in the South occupying the position of deputy sheriff so far as is known is Miss Gertrude Hendricks of Anniston, Ala., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Davis Hendricks.

She belongs to a wealthy family and enjoys a high social standing in her native town. When sitting at her desk with the handcuffs and her trusted revolver within reach she presents a pretty picture, this dainty blonde with a wealth of sunny hair and musical Southern voice.

Miss Hendricks says she is not a suffragette, but just a plain, home-loving young woman. She can appear as demure as a sweet girl graduate, and the next moment look a man through and through and give orders like an old stager in the enforcement of the law.

It was this characteristic that induced Sheriff Brooks of Calhoun county appoint her.

One reason she was appointed a deputy sheriff and placed in charge of the office was that there is always about a carload of contraband whisky, beer and wine held awaiting orders from the courts in the county, which

ORDER FOR PUBLICATION.

Upon reading the motion for an order herein, authorizing the issuance of an alias summons and for publication of notices of the pendency of the libel herein, which motion is supported by the affidavit of the libellant, and good cause appearing therefor.

It is hereby ordered, adjudged and decreed that an alias summons be issued forthwith, citing libellant to be and appear before me in my chambers in the Judiciary building, Honolulu, City and County of Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, on Saturday, the 11th day of November, A. And it is further ordered that notice of the pendency of said libel be published in the Hawaiian Star, a newspaper published in the Territory of Hawaii, suitable for the publication of legal notices, on the 2nd, 9th, 16th, 23rd and 30th days of August, and on the 6th day of September, A. is under prohibition, and Sheriff Brooks wanted a woman who could guard this without the temptation to which his force of men have been subjected, and some of whom have time and again yielded.

She has entire charge of the office, while the men are kept on outside duty.

Miss Hendricks carries a revolver in her chatelaine or slipper bag. She promises to spring some surprises, which has put the "400" of Anniston on the anxious bench, since it has leaked out that she is studying the niceties of the statutes in their application to bridge parties and to spiked punch at afternoon teas.

She will also visit the theaters and picture shows in the capacity of censor to suppress things when they get too broad, and she says she will see that proper limits are strictly observed by both, and especially in chorus features.—Memphis Appeal.

TRAFFIC ON FLEET STREET, LONDON.

It has been customary for a number of years to take a census of the traffic for a single day upon some principal London thoroughfares. The same day of the month has been selected as nearly as possible from year to year, so that the enumeration might be made under approximately similar conditions.

One street chosen for the census is Fleet Street, a very important thoroughfare extending from one end of the Strand to Ludgate Circus. It is a convenient and direct route to the city proper and is traversed by several lines of omnibuses. The striking feature of the census on Fleet street (and this would be true in greater or lesser measure of all the London streets) during the last five years has been the rapid displacement of horse-drawn vehicle.

The traffic of Fleet street was taken for twelve hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. on April 19, 1911, and compared to the same period and day in 1907. On April 23, 1907, 4143 horse cabs and omnibuses passed along Fleet street and only 1043 motor cabs and omnibuses while on April 19, 1911, there were 4300 motor cabs and omnibuses against 486 horses cabs and omnibuses. On the day that the census was taken this year a strike was threatened by the taxicab drivers, so that the number of hansom in use was in all probability much in excess of a daily average.

On the 1907 census day there were only forty-eight taxicabs, against 1923 horse cabs; but on April 19, 1911, the number of horse cabs was reduced to 391 and the number of taxicabs increased to 1616.

The sixty-two motor vans passing on Fleet street on April 19, 1911, was an increase of 106.66 per cent over the number in use on the corresponding day in 1909, and nearly 38 per cent over the number on the April day selected for 1910. The increasing use of motor vans is urged in London because of the great delay that is now occasioned to motor traffic by the procession of heavy horse-drawn wide drays proceeding along the principal business street, many of which are very narrow and easily blocked.

The total moto traffic on Fleet street more than quadrupled in the four years. On the April day in 1910, 1126 vehicles passed; in 1909, 2392; in 1910, 3884, and in 1911, 4481.—Consular Report.

THOSE BUSINESS SUPERVISORS.

Suppose the directors of a sugar plantation should appoint a manager and then confess that they were not able to find out from him how many employees he had, what he was paying them, and what they were doing to earn their pay, what would the stockholders think of the directors as business men?

This is a fair illustration of the official relations of the supervisors to Charlie Wilson, who has succeeded Mr. Wilder as road supervisor under them. At last night's meeting of the Board, it appeared that the salary of Mr. Wilson had not been positively fixed, and that it was suspected that he was getting $150 a month, and that the lunas appointed by him were supposedly getting more now than ever before. But no member of the board knew how much. The city engineer was also in the dark. One intelligent supervisor suggested that the road committee, which is supposed to direct Mr. Wilson through the city engineer, should go to Wilson and find out. It was finally agreed to write him about it, and in the meantime the supervisors thought it would be a good plan to put all the overseers under bonds.

Here is an illustration of those "business methods" by which this board exalts itself above its fellows. If there is any business about it equal to the management of a bootblack stand, it has not been revealed. Here is a road supervisor without bonds, able to compel a large expenditure of public money without letting the Board, which is primarily responsible for it all, know anything about it. If the scheme were to build up an irresponsible political machine at any cost, then the present method would naturally prevail, but such a system is as incompatible with business government as it would be to throw the public money into the street and let the politicians scramble for it.

The Star hopes the lesson will not be lost upon the taxpayers and will add to their growing conviction that the outlay of $600,000 a year ought no longer be entrusted to Tom, Dick and Harry—especially the Old Harry. A business so large and complex as that of the city and county government ought to be put and kept in the hands of business men. We have never had but one practical board of supervisors, and it is plain enough that we shall never have another if we leave the choice of those officials to a party machine. The simplest propositions of good government resolve themselves into the plan of nominating a business man's ticket and electing it.

CARTER FOR HEALTH BOARD.

The Star is glad to see the Advertiser in line for the choice of George R. Carter for president of the Board of Health. Mr. Carter is now president of the Sanitary Commission, the duty of which office is to form a plan for the special expenditure of a quarter of a million dollars for sanitation by the Board of Health. We believe it would be in the interest of economy to have the man who plans the outlay, make it. There is no telling, if the Board of Health should fall into mediocre hands, if the plans of the Sanitary Commission would receive sympathetic interpretation. Under such divided auspices a great deal of public money might be wasted and it might not be possible to get any more to follow a discordant work. The public would be better satisfied to have the responsibility for all the sanitary work concentrated in one capable man, and we do not doubt that Governor Carter himself would be better satisfied to go on under such circumstances.

The Advertiser is right in saying that "Mr. Carter is now in full touch with the situation as it exists in and around Honolulu." It may be added to this, that he has the nerve to do all that is needed and the breadth of view to know what is needed, and that he is not the kind of a man to permit one single cent to be frittered away in doing politics.

The situation, as the Star has often said, is one that requires a big man, an administrator of great and valid experience. It is not a matter that requires a doctor. The main question is an outlay of funds for permanent sanitation to prevent epidemics getting a foothold. Of course, there should be a doctor on the board for consultation and for special work where there may be infection. But above him should be the type of a man who has a taste for big things in business and the ability to apply that taste to the advantage of the whole community.

This paper does not know what Mr. Carter's individual views may be about taking the presidency of the Board of Health if it is offered him, nor do we know the intent of the Governor in the premises. But the Star recognizes in both men a high sense of public duty. If it is made clear to Governor Carter that he would find in the presidency of the Board an opportunity for perhaps the highest service of his public life, and if the Governor realizes, as we are sure he does, that it needs a really big man to care for the sanitation of Honolulu, then we think that the way to getting the services which the name of Carter suggests is fairly free from difficulty.

THE DILLINGHAM BILL.

The Dillingham immigration bill is a good one for the United States mainland. It is designed to keep ignorance out of the country and put a premium on intelligence and capacity. It is a barrier to the riffraff. For years the fact has been plain that the population has taken in too much of a kind of foreign humanity which it cannot assimilate in three generations. What the United States wants most in the way of immigrants, are people whose training already permits them to appreciate the responsibilities which fall to the citizens of a self-governing nation. Too long have we had the lazzaroni and the serfs, people who come and get out of America as much as they can and are incapable of giving much that is of value to it in return. So long as the newcomers were largely English, Irish and German, there was no ground for complaint. All these classes added to the wealth and brawn of the nation, and have done their part in increasing its strength and prestige. But with people from the south of Europe and from Hungary and the submerged elements of Russia, Americans have little in common and though not able to keep any one out racially with whom they have most-favored nation treaties, the educational test which the Dillingham bill includes will do much to lessen the dangers arising under the present law from indigestible masses.

But what is good for the mainland is not necessarily good for those portions of the country which are commonly known as colonial. In these outlying localities special conditions prevail. Here, in Porto Rico and in the Philippines, the labor question is on a wholly different basis from that which prevails in the States. Instead of farms, we have vast plantations which to succeed at all, must employ cheap coolie labor or labor of a similar type. To raise sugar, tobacco, rice, pineapples and coffee, the labor cannot be paid at such rates as obtain in the States and that labor must be of a different type than which American labor is to do the peculiar work which great plantations require. The problem was originally solved in the Southern States by importing negroes and treating them as slaves. The latter continue their tasks as free men because they have not yet obtained the ability to do anything else. Here we use Chinese, Japanese and South Europeans. The Chinese and Japanese sources of fresh supply are now cut out, and if under the process of mainland legislation we are to have the illiterate Europeans cut off, what is to become one of the great industries which are making Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines prosperous? We can do nothing by accepting the labor conditions of the United States proper. We must have laws made for us and not made for a country where the modes of life and agriculture are generally quite opposite from ours.

How can these exceptions be obtained? We know of no other way than to give some special form of administration to all the outlying tropical possessions of the United States. That is the thing that suggests real statesmanship. Long ago it was proposed to have a colonial department with oversight of all the newly acquired tropical

The Poet Philosopher

He breaks his back and he breaks his heart as he toils away in the clanging mart. His griefs have whitened his scanty hair, and he is bent 'neath a load of care. He's an old man now, though in years he's young, and his feet are tired and his knees are sprung; from the treadmill stunt he is never free and his wife is planning a Yellow Tea. He's sweating blood when the bills fall due, and he walks the floor all the long night through; and he has dreams of a sombre day when a sheriff's deputy comes his way. He greets the dawn with a sinking heart; he wears his clothes till they fall apart; no rest for him till he'll cross the ridge—and his wife is playing a game of bridge. To earn good money and see it go for social frivolities—ah, that is woe! To work like bees in our human hives, to gather honey for wasteful wives! To grind and worry and walk the street, with spavined bosoms and aching feet! It's hard to labor and sweat in vain—but then the matrons must entertain.

islands, Hawaii has made things difficult to get under such a system but for its own sake it ought to help in any effort the government may undertake to give special laws and special administration suited to tropical needs; laws which, for example, would relieve us of the incubus of exclusion treaties without depriving of its free market on the mainland; laws, moreover, which relieve us of absurd politics and encourage us to become purely commercial and agricultural communities, looked after by men devoted to the careful management of public affairs. In that way America's colonial policy may be made a success. In that way the Islands may become vast sources of national wealth, but any reliance on systems which naturally prevail in the North Temperate zone is likely to involve these dependencies as the Dillingham bill promises to do, in hopeless economic confusion.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

JOE COHEN—Nobody will get up a benefit for the Amusement Company—they all think it serves us right.

FRED TURRILL—Some of the best machine men in the Republican party are already at work making a machine for next time.

SUPERVISOR LOW—I expect to know what salaries I as a supervisor am expected to vote for in the road department and who is being employed.

DR. MARSHALL—I am very busy just now preparing for my past assistant surgeon's examination. The matter is engaging the whole of my spare time now.

ATTORNEY GENERAL LINDSAY—I am the man on the lid. With the governor taking a vacation, the secretary sick, and the treasurer out of the Territory, I am it.

CHARLEY WILSON—I haven't really begun work yet as road overseer, but I see they are after me. I have been spending the week traveling about the district and getting acquainted with my job.

JOHN FLEMING—I in all my polo experience I have never seen teams so evenly matched as those which will compete in this year's tournament. It is almost impossible to pick the winner in advance.

DELEGATE KUHIO—I don't know whether we can have a congressional party here this year or not. Some of the big men we wanted cannot come. But the past has shown that Hawaii gets big benefits from congressional visitors not chairmen of committees or specially prominent in Congress.

JOHN SOPER—I consider the entries for the aquatic carnival very satisfactory and expect that some good records will be made next Saturday. The reason that the Myrtles haven't more of a team is that they don't go in for swimming much an account of the shallow water off their bathouses.

CAPTAIN MCHAAH—I am of the opinion that the message sent with regard to the Tiliama being in distress was regarded as a joke. I suppose some amateur wireless operator did it, and thinks that he was funny. I consider that such jokes should be met with a term in jail.

CHARLEY SPENCER—I think that the Wilhelmina will create a record in the matter of transporting canned pineapples: Already there are 48,000 cases in sight, and as she does not sail until Wednesday next, this number should be greatly increased. The Lurline at present holds the record with 48,000.

WILLIS T. POPE—The purpose of education is to increase the efficiency of the individual for his life work. This is not always to be attained by training him to enter college. In fact I think that only about one-hundred of one percent of the pupils in the public schools of the United States ever see inside a college as a student.

W. R. CASTLE—If the Star has occasion to mention that $400,000 damage suit instituted against the late H. P. Baldwin et al, a few years ago and which is still pending, I hope it will get the name of the plaintiff spelled correctly. It is spelled L-o-w-r-e-y, and not L-o-w-r-e-y. W. J. Lowrie is not connected in any way with our Lowreys.

FRED WEED—There is a man at Lelaehua who has wrestled and thrown Joe Thomas or Bert Warner or Henry Ordemann or whatever his name may be. His name is Doak and he and a delegation of soldiers approached Joe Thomas on Saturday and offered to wrestle him for anything he liked. Then it was that the Michigan man got cold feet and that, in my opinion, is why he left so suddenly by the S. S. Mongolia.

"Under The Coconut Tree"

By H. M. Ayres.

A good story on the Bulletin is going the rounds.

A Star boy entered the reportorial office of the Bulletin and tried to sell a paper.

The people in the office, dying to see just how many "scoops" their opponent had on them, but not caring to establish a precedent by buying a paper, entered into trading negotiations with the little news merchant.

"Give you two Bulletins for one Star," said the shipping man.

"No like," exclaimed the little fellow.

"Give you six Bulletins," said the sporting editor, who is, in his way, reckless.

"Gimme ten," pleaded the enterprising little news vendor with a winning smile.

They did business at the odds of ten to one and the Bulletin statistician went to work on a statement pointing out a remarkable and sudden increase in circulation.

Land of Puupueo Manoa Valley

When a man buys something useful which at the same time is steadily increasing in value—he is twice fortunate. It is only a little over ten years ago since the pioneer settler on the land of Puupueo made his home there. Then there were none of the many conveniences required by the exacting suburbanite. Now all the advantages that can possibly be asked for are procurable; Mountain spring water, telephone, electric light and Rapid Transit service and gas for cooking.

STANDARD OIL BEARING MARKET

San Francisco Chronicle, August 1.—The belief is currently expressed that the Standard is bearing the oil market in every possible way and that all statements coming from its offices are for the purpose of bearing the market. In one instance it was pointed out that the published report of the test well drilled by the Standard to investigate Dr. Merriam's theory regarding a big supply of heavy asphaltum oil, below the strata of light oil, was given out solely for the purpose of getting people to believe that there is plenty of oil and consequently be able to bear down the price to the consumer.

One operator expressed the opinion a few days ago that the conditions now are merely the "dark before the dawn," and he believes that the day is not far distant when oil will soar upward in price.

NEW CLUB OF IMPROVERS

A new improvement club was tentatively organized Monday night when about twenty residents of the Kalia district met in the Kalia school and discussed the matter at some length. L. H. Mesick was elected president of the new organization, and Henry O'Sullivan was temporary secretary. Another meeting will be held next Monday evening at which a report will be received from a committee appointed to draw up a constitution.

The new club will claim for its district all the territory mauka of King street between Kamehameha school and Moanua.

"This district has been one of the most neglected sections of the city," said one of the organizers this morning. "We have received almost no attention from Territory or county in the way of improvements, and in fact government property in the district is the most neglected of all. We hope to have a club of from 200 to 400 members, and we propose to send delegates to the Central Improvement Committee, and to get out do some hustling in behalf of Kalia."

AN EXCITING WEEK IN SUGAR

Willett & Gray's Journal, July 27.—The week under review has been one of the most important because of the excitement and advances attending it, that has occurred in several years. A great disaster to the European beet crop is evidently firmly believed by operators on the sugar exchanges, and our own correspondent and beet expert, F. O. Licht, continues to cable us each week for some time past that the weather is unfavorable, but in reply to a special question he replies that the extent of the damage cannot be estimated just now.

The course of prices for the week has been excitedly upward, both abroad and here.

Beet sugar advanced on Monday to 12s. 11 1/4d. for July, reacted to 12s. 7 1/4d. on Tuesday and rose to 13s. 2 1/4d. today, with further advancing tendency. Cane Javas rose from 13s. to 13s. 9d. at the close.

European sugar consumption to June 1 shows 5.09 per cent increase, say 165,109 tons.

Our weekly Cuba cable gives island receipts 8,000 tons against 7,000 tons in 1909. Four centrals are working against two last year and five in 1909. Rain is wanted for the growing crop.

A paragraph herewith calls attention to the increasing production of Java white sugars in that country, of much consequence in connection with the abolition of the No. 16 D. S. from our tariff.

Java produces this year 1,265,000 tons of sugar by early estimate, which may be increased later.

At the close the market holds its advance fully and sellers pretend to higher values before selling.

EWA'S BIG CROP AND HEAVY CANE

EWA MILLS, Aug. 8.—Ewa is now only grinding about three days a week. The rest of the week all hands are planting. Ewa has off over 31,000 tons, with 4000 more to come off. The crop will go over 35,000 tons of sugar.

Probably the largest cane ever seen on the islands is growing just below the railroad station. It is Yellow-Caledonia, and will certainly go over 100 tons of cane to the acre.

OLAA GOES UP ANOTHER NOTCH

Olaa keeps climbing. Directly after yesterday's exchange session 100 shares Olaa were sold at the advanced price of $5.50 obtained for five shares on the board. At today's session five shares brought $5.62 1/2, making the second one-eighth point gain in two days. Another sale of Olaa six per cent bonds at 91.50 is reported, the amount being $3900.

Brewery stock indicates an eighth point gain for blocks of 100 and 250 sold between sessions. Oahu Railway sold down half a point to $139.50, this for fifteen shares between boards. Sales of eighteen, seventy and ten Oahu unchanged at $31 were reported.

Wailua fell off three-quarters at the board for two lots of five shares each sold at $112. Other stocks were unchanged in sales of five and five Ewa at $31.75, ten H. C. & S. at $59.50, twenty-five and 125 McBryde at $6.75. Oahu Railway bonds advanced a point in a sale of $1000 at 91.875.

STOCK SALES

Honolulu Stock Exchange—Sales between boards: $2000 Olaa 6s, 91.50; 15 O R & L Co., $139.50; 18 Oahu Sug. Co., $31; 70 do., $31; 10 do., $31; 100 Hon. B & M Co., $21; 250 do., $21; 100 Olaa, $5.50.

Session sales: 5 Ewa, $31.75; 5 do., $31.75; 10 H C & S Co., $59.50; 25 McBryde, $6.75; 125 do., $6.75; $1000 O R & L Co. 5s, 101.87 1/2; 5 Olaa $5.62 1/2; 5 Wailua, $112; 5 do., $112.

Notice—At a meeting of the board of directors of Hawaiian Sugar Co., held on the 7th inst., an extra dividend of 40 cents was declared, payable September 15, 1911. Also an extra dividend of 40 cents per share due and payable December 15, 1911.

Sugar quotations: 88 Beets, 14s. 1 1/2d., parity 5.01c. 96 deg. Centrifugals, 4.61c.

VISIBLE SUPPLY.

Society note:
The Hon. Claude Fiddington of London is registered at Honolulu's premier hostelry, and is being made much of by the local hon ton. The afternoon after his arrival this scion of nobility made a sporting bet with the bartender, who was assisting him up the stairs, that it was not four o'clock. The barkeep, noticing that the hands of the elevator indicator pointed to the figure 4, indicating that the lift was on the fourth floor, called the attention of the Honorable Claude to the fact, whereupon the bet was promptly paid over, the loser exclaiming cordially, "By Jove, old chap, you're a corking good guesser, doncher know!"

Morning Cable Report

WASHINGTON, August 9.—The senate yesterday came to a vote on the bills to admit the territories of Arizona and New Mexico into the Union as states, the bills passing by a vote of fifty-three to eighteen but in such shape that it is doubtful whether they will receive the signature of President Taft, especially in the case of Arizona.

As passed by the senate, this Territory is to become a state automatically after a referendum has been taken regarding the retention of the clause in the state constitution providing for the subjection of the state judiciary to the provisions of the recall.

Senator Nelson wished to amend the bill by eliminating from the constitution, the recall in relation to the judiciary, but his amendment was voted down. As the President has repeatedly stated his objection to this feature of the proposed state's constitution it is regarded as unlikely that he will approve of the statehood bill.

The senate's amendment to the bill for New Mexico statehood provides that the bill will not become operative until after the voters of that Territory have amended their proposed state constitution to provide for an easier method of later amending it. As the constitution now stands, the provisions for amendment are most severe, making amendments after statehood has been secured, practically impossible.

PARIS, August 9.—John W. Gates, the steel magnate, who has been seriously ill for some time past, died here last night in the arms of his wife and son.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., August 9.—The town of Tecate, in Lower California, has been garrisoned and put into a state of defense in anticipation of an early attack on the part of the Mazonists.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—George W. Perkins, director of the United States Steel Corporation, who was a witness yesterday before the congressional committee investigating the steel trust, refused to answer some of the questions asked him. The investigators, after arguing with the witness, have allowed him until today to answer, threatening to bring him before the bar of the House to answer to a charge of contempt should he persist in his refusal to respond frankly to all questions asked.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The conference committee was unable yesterday to break the deadlock between Senator La Follette and Representative Underwood over the wool schedule bills, the latter refusing to agree that the insurgent measure was a suitable compromise between the Democratic bill and the desire of the Senate to have no revision of the schedules at all.

LIVELY CONTESTS EXPECTED IN THE AQUATIC MEET SATURDAY

That the newly formed Hui Nalu intend to play an important part in the aquatic events of Saturday next is shown by their list of entries, which comprise some of the best known nautical experts in the Territory.

The club was formed for the purpose of taking part in water sports on a bona fide amateur basis and with this in view affiliation has been made with the local branch of the A. A. U.

The club's membership is made up chiefly of young men who swim and surf regularly at Waikiki, but who are not attached to the Outrigger Club.

While the club was formed for the purpose of entering the coming meet the project met with such abundant measure of support from its very start that it will take a permanent place among the local sporting and athletic organizations and will enter men at all future swimming meets and canoes at all local regattas where such events are on the program.

Provided the Regatta Day committee put up trophies in lieu of cash prizes, as has been the rule in the past, the Hui Nalu will enter four and six-paddle canoe crews.

Archie Robertson is one of the club's live wires and he is greatly enthused over the Hui Nalu's chances of winning pointage honors at the coming carnival. Asked as to his views on the different events, he had the following to say:

"I expect that Vincent Genoves will win the half-mile swim.

"The fifty and hundred-yards events should be won for our club by Duke Kahannamoku, whom I consider to be one of the fastest swimmers in the islands today.

"The mile race looks to lie between Mayne of the Healanis and David Center of the Myrtles.

"The fancy diving contest will be won by George Freeth, provided he obtains his A. A. U. ticket, which he has been after.

"I think that I have a fair chance of taking the plunge event myself; anyhow, I mean to have a good try.

"The four-forty yards will be a hard race. There are a very level lot of men entered and I won't attempt to pick the winner.

"In the two-twenty-yards Cunha of the Healanis should just about beat D. Center of the Myrtles, but if he does so it will only be after a grueling race.

"The Hui Nalu should have no trouble in taking the relay."

The Hui Nalu boys are practicing every day off the Moana Hotel over a course which has been laid out.

Special pains will be taken to have the timing accurately done, and the times as recorded will furnish a reliable line on the standard of local swimming.

More Entries Made.

There are a number of interesting developments to record in connection with the aquatic carnival to be held on Saturday afternoon next in the Bishop slip.

The following new entries came to hand before the closing of the book last night:

Myrtles: L. Hough, A. Hough, K. M. Smith, A. Myhre, 50, 220, 440 and 880 yards swim. W. A. Raseman, 50 and 100 yards swim.

K. M. Smith, A. Myhre, fancy diving obstacle race, plunge.

A. Hough, obstacle race.

Healanis: A. E. Tinker, plunge, and 220 yards race.

Relay race, L. Cunha, F. Kruger, W. Grace, R. Fuller, George Murray, J. P. Honan, A. E. Tinker, G. B. Becher, C. E. Mayne, C. A. Broderick.

Outriggers Not In.

Contrary to expectations the Outrigger Club has failed to enter a team and report has it that the members got cold feet as soon as the entry list of the Hui Nalus was scanned.

There is a proposition on foot to make the gladiatorial and obstacle races without any age limit as was at first suggested; also to accept post entries for the former event. The decision of the management in these matters will be announced later. It is reported that the Outrigger Club will be represented in the gladiatorial contest.

It will be decided today whether George Freeth will be allowed to compete in the fancy dive or not. It appears that he applied for registration with the A. A. U. but failed to answer two very important questions on the application form.

One of these was when he last competed at a meeting held under the auspices of the A. A. U., and the other was if he has ever applied for registration with the A. A. U. before?

These are two very important questions and Freeth, is coming in from Watertown at the request of John Soper to answer them.

Mr. Soper stated this morning that seventy-six local athletes have registered with the A. A. U., not including the Kauai men.

OFFICIALS FOR POLO TOURNAMENT

The Oahu Polo Club's tournament team will put the finishing touches on their preparation at Moanalua this afternoon. They will then be in readiness for their engagement with the Kauai, which is billed for Saturday.

Great interest is being evinced in the coming tournament, and it is confidently expected by the management that the attendance at Saturday's game will break all previous records, particularly as far as automobiles are concerned.

The officials for the tournament have been selected and are as follows: Timekeepers: J. S. Walker, Captain Forster.

Goal judges: Lieut. Rogers, Lieut. Lewis, Robert McCriston, H. Sumner. Referees: George Angus, Colonel Rumbo.

John Fleming, who is as well in touch with polo matters as anybody, had the following to say on the absorbing subject this morning:

"I can't remember any season where the polo championship looked opener than it does this year. To pick the winner of the series would be a very hard job.

"Kauai is always strong at polo. The Fifth Cavalry players this year are putting up a splendid game in every way and their ponies are handier and faster than ever before.

"The Oahu team has as strong a team as has ever represented the club in a fight for the inter-island championship and their ponies this year are not only faster than was the case last year, but they are in all round better trim.

"With Colonel Rumbo and George Angus acting as referees there can be no possible doubt about fair decisions being rendered.

"As usual, transportation to and from the ground will be furnished members of the press and every facility will be given them in their work of reporting the games."

THE REFEREE

Though horse racing cannot by any stretch of the imagination be said to flourish in these islands, we have had from time to time many more or less notable horses colored on the cards fender, Carter Harrison Jr., Amaranth, which have been prepared by enterprising executives for the delectation of local race-goers. Looking back across the years, what a string of names presents itself: Maples, Everett, Billy McCluskey, Eastertide, Del Vista, Egyptian Princess, General

Eastertide, Floris, Weller and St. Cassimir were picked up by the late Prince Kawannakoa while on a visit to the mainland. They were the property of Kettleman, the well-known racing man. Eastertide, an unbroken sorrel stallion, was never raced here but went to the stud and produced such well-known performers as Major Collier, Easter Day and Easter Boy. He died comparatively recently. St.

SPORTDRIFT

The water sports on Saturday will start at 2 p. m.

Seats and chairs will be arranged along Bishop's slip on Saturday for the convenience of the public. A small charge will be made for their use.

Local promoters seem to be a bit shy of the boxing game.

John Ganzel, known here, may manage the Brooklyn nine next year.

Oahu Baseball League's second series starts next Sunday. The Portuguese and Hawaiis will open the ball and the Stars and J. A. C. will furnish the second game.

Is the Japanese boycott of the athletic park still on? Sunday's game will show.

The Saturday afternoon baseball proposition seems to be hanging fire. The idea is a good one, provided someone can be found with energy enough to put it through.

Jim Hoao also challenges. He is looking for a scrap with some aspiring middleweight.

There is some talk of a commercial baseball league being started.

An All-Japanese baseball nine is being organized in Sampaunfrisco.

The tennis players are looking forward to the tournaments for the Hall and Wall cups.

It is said that Johnny Williams has received a $25 raise of salary. Wonder if it is day, week, month or year?

member them all with varying emotions, also the riders who piloted them: George Thomas, Sam McAuliffe, Seth Nichols, Tullatt, Logue, Willis, Drollette and Rawlins. We saw them race on the defunct Kapiolani Park track, on the merry-go-round at Hoolulu Park and on the breezy half-mile circuit by Kahulala Bay. Some have been relegated to the stud, others have gone the way of all horses, good or bad, and some are with us yet, waiting the long year through in lush pasturage for the announcement of the program of the next island meeting.

Maples and Everett were brought down from the Coast in the early '90's for Jack Wilson, then proprietor of the Volcano Stables, Hilo, in charge of Bob Burns, the trainer, and George Thomas, the erstwhile jockey. Maples was a fair sprinter and Everett a distance horse. Between them they farmed the purses at one or two of the Hilo meetings. Billy McCluskey, the old Bay District champion, was in the islands about that time and won many races here.

Bob Burns was a popular as well as a versatile individual. In Hilo he was seen in the ring against, if I remember rightly Alec Hanson, and he also competed in a walking race or two. He was a genius at preparing a cow's head, and many a festive feast has he presided over, both at the old Hoolulu track and in the paddock at Hoolulu Park. He bossed the stables wherever he had a horse in training and while, an easy-going man in some respects, was a veritable martinet as far as the affairs of his own stable were concerned. Disensions are apt to be plentiful where men working in the interests of various owners are gathered for a period of weeks, but Burns' influence among the swipes and stable lads was a rough but kindly one, and what he said went. He has married and settled down, and until the tabu was put on racing at Emeryville this spring he trained and raced a horse or two of his own, and took a delight in occasionally putting a "hot one" over. George Thomas met with an accident in San Francisco which cost him a leg. Until recently he ran a saloon near the gates of the Emeryville track and was ever ready to extend his hospitality to a visitor from Hawaii.

Eastertide, Floris, Weller and St. Cassimir were picked up by the late Prince Kawannakoa while on a visit to the mainland. They were the property of Kettleman, the well-known racing man. Eastertide, an unbroken sorrel stallion, was never raced here but went to the stud and produced such well-known performers as Major Collier, Easter Day and Easter Boy. He died comparatively recently. Cassimir, also a stallion, did not live long in this country, and Floris, who was a stout-hearted mare, won several races but died without leaving any offspring. Weller, a typical English long-distance horse, was invincible over a route for a time, and ran in several memorable races, notably in the dead heat with the Australian mare Del Vista, owned by G. S. McKenzie, at the Kapiolani Park track. A great many people who saw that race thought that the mare got up and won in the last stride. Weller was a vile-tempered brute and proved a failure at the stud. His best race on the mainland was when he won the Tanforan Stakes at Tanforan, beating a good field over a distance of two and a half miles.

Do You Ever Think

Of the enormous amount of work your feet have to do?

Do You ever realize that you take over TEN THOUSAND steps a day?

Do you ever calculate that your feet sustain a pressure of ONE MILLION, FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND pounds during your day's work?

Why not relieve your feet of a large amount of this tremendous labor by wearing a good, easy, sensible shoe?

Good elastic soles are to your feet just what rubber tires are to the automobile---absorb the shock! They make walking a pleasure and relieve your spine of the death-dealing impact.

Do you wonder, then, where all the corns, bunions and callouses come from? The sidewalk and everything you step on acts as a battering-ram all day long!

Bad shoes are a danger to health just as great as tight garments and close fitting hats and collars are.

Bad shoes send you home tired and irritable at night.

Let us send you home less tired and more happy!

SPECULATION ON THE DERBY

A letter received by a Honolulu man from a leading London bookmaker throws an interesting light on the great volume of speculation which took place over the recent Derby won by Mr. Joel's Sunstar.

Following are some extracts from the letter: "We bookmakers will long remember Coronation Derby for two reasons: The first is the colossal amount of money which was invested on the race, a sum exceeding that of any historic race which has been run, and the second is that we made money in spite of a hot favorite winning."

"I should estimate that between two and three million pounds changed hands. "I never had such a day. During the morning 3000 wires arrived at my office alone. They came from every class of backers, members of Parliament, and even earls and lords who were anxious to put on a 'pony' at the last minute."

"The public for some strange reason looked very unkindly on Mr. Joel's horse. There were so many stories afloat in the clubs, and people were so eager to lay odds that the public did not take a liking to Sunstar which accounted for the extremely liberal price of thirteen to eight being laid against him at the start. "Sunstar will make his next appearance in the St. Legr run on September 13, and he is a hot favorite for the race with King William second in demand."

Threaten Dairy "Trust." One of the ice cream dealers stated this morning that there is a very friendly feeling of co-operation among the men in the business here in Honolulu, and that a move may be made to help themselves by combining to oppose the exactions of the Honolulu Dairymen's Association. He stated that experiments in bringing cream of high grade from the mainland in a partially frozen condition seem to have proven entirely successful, and that this product can be secured for about one half the cost of the local cream of a lower grade, and that some of the dealers are already taking advantage of this source. He further stated that if it should prove that there is no way to avoid keeping up the standard to fourteen percent that the dealers may get together and be ready for the next Legislature with evidence that the wholesomeness of ice cream isn't increased by increasing the butter fats content, and that on the other hand the palatability of the product is lessened by such increase, in the hope that the law may be amended.

BENEFIT FOR THE NORTON CO

The members of the Norton Comedy Company, who have been left in rather straitened circumstances through the sudden closing of their season here, will be tendered a benefit performance next Monday evening in the New Orpheum Theater. They are in need of money rather badly, and although they have their passages booked and paid for by the Marama leaving for Vancouver on Tuesday next, they have not enough money to pay their living expenses while here. The proceeds, therefore, will be utilized for this purpose. The whole of the talent appearing in the city will rally to their help, and a monster program is promised. The show should be an exceptionally good one, and while it may be ambiguous to say that the cause is a good one,

THE SUPERVISORS WANT TO KNOW

At the meeting of the supervisors last night Dwight and Low raised questions about the work of Road Overseer Charley Wilson. Low charged that he was running the road department without consulting City and County Engineer Gere or the road committee and wanted to know what salary he was getting. Murray replied that Wilson's pay was the same as that fixed for the office when Wilder had it.

On motion of Dwight the salary was fixed at $150 and on motion of Arnold the clerk was instructed to write to Wilson asking for a statement regarding whom he was employing and what salaries were being paid.

The Kaimuki Improvement Club invited the Mayor and Board to the meeting to be held at Halliday Witherspoon's home tomorrow to tell the members of Waiata, Kaimuki, and Palolo Improvement Club just what they propose doing in that district of the city in the way of improvements. The invitation was sent by President Daniel Logan of the club and Supervisor McClellan moved that it be accepted.

City Attorney Cathcart notified the board that Mabel H. Turrill had brought action for $150 damage caused to eggs by improper blasting on the roads. The City Attorney also gave the board his opinion that when the police auto ran into Jim Quinn's horse there was no negligence on the part of the driver of the machine, and added that if there had been he did not think the city would be liable.

Will Close Sewer.

Through its attorneys, Smith, Warren and Hemenway, Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company notified the board that the Kakaako storm sewer which drained into the slip next Bishop wharf was rapidly filling up the slip with sediment, and that if it was not dredged and kept dredged the sewer would be closed by the company.

Mayor Fern suggested that it might be a good thing if he was invited to attend the committee meeting. Low informed him that no discourtesy was intended when the committees met without him.

THE MYSTERIOUS DICK-TO-DICK LETTER; HOW TAFT MET EFFORT TO INVOLVE HIM IN SCANDAL

MYSTERIOUS DICK-TO-DICK FAKED LETTER.
(Purporting to be from Richard S. Ryan to Secretary Richard Ballinger.)

Dear Dick: I went to see the President the other day. He asked me who it was I represented. I told him, according to our agreement, that I represented myself. But this didn't seem to satisfy him. So I sent for Charlie Taft and asked him to tell his brother, the President, who it was I really represented. The President made no further objection to my claim. Yours
DICK.

BY J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, July 27.—President Taft's message transmitting to Congress the complete official record in what is known as the Controller Bay case fully and adequately answered every charge that has been brought against the administration, and cleared up all prevailing uncertainty except as regards one thing, the "Dick-to-Dick" letter. That no such letter ever appeared in the official files of the Interior Department the President established beyond all reasonable question. But he did not fix, nor did he undertake to fix the responsibility for that alleged paper on the shoulders of the person or persons who faked it. The authorship of the "Dick-to-Dick" letter, therefore, is the only unsolved mystery in connection with this fiasco.

In view of what the President said in his message, and in view of what has been said by all other persons who would have seen and known of the "Dick-to-Dick" letter, had it ever been appended to Ryan's letter to Ballinger, there is no longer any room to doubt that the document made famous by Miss Abbott was a myth, or else a pure forgery. Either Miss Abbott never saw anything purporting to be the "Dick-to-Dick" letter, or else she saw a letter that was not written by Ryan, not received by the Interior Department, not considered by Secretary Ballinger or anyone else in official life, but purely a forgery perpetrated by parties interested in injuring President Taft. The chances are that Miss Abbott saw what purported to be the "Dick-to-Dick" letter, but she did not see it when she was going through the files of the Controller Bay case at the Interior Department.

Investigation Not Pressed.
In view of the fact that Chairman Graham of the Committee that undertook to "investigate" the Controller Bay affair, is not anxious to establish the facts with regard to this letter; does not desire to place Miss Abbott on the witness stand, and has no inclination whatever to bring out the facts with reference to this mysterious document, this crime may never be traced upon the shoulders of the guilty party or parties, unless some other means can be devised for probing into the highly important facts in regard to this forgery.

In view of the refusal of Chairman Graham to proceed with his investigation, notwithstanding he has been branded as a coward from one end of the country to the other, it is hardly probable that any other congressional investigation will be authorized, at this time at least, to inquire into this circumstance, and if the inquiry is put off too long, the matter may be dropped. But while the "Dick-to-Dick" letter is fresh in the public mind, attention should be called to a number of highly important facts in connection with that paper.

Origin of the Letter.
To begin with, Miss Abbott was not the first muck-raker to print the "Dick-to-Dick" letter. That interesting, but

WILSON SAYS HE MADE DETAILED ROAD REPORTS

John H. Wilson, former road supervisor for Honolulu, makes the following statement:
"I kept a system whereby I knew at the end of each day the cost of every bit of road work done. I never overdraw on an appropriation. Besides filing a monthly report to the mayor and supervisors with the city and county clerk, I furnished a copy of it to each member of the road committee. Some of them have preserved their copies and can show them to Mr. Murray any time he wants information regarding any road work done under my supervision. No wonder the present supervisors can't make head or tail of the road office when they fired the head clerk, Mr. Cathcart and his assistant, Mr. Lawelawe, along with myself, and expected the statistical clerk, Mr. Anderson, to do those two men's work in addition to his own."

ARE THESE THE WORDS OF CHRIST?

BOSTON, July 30.—A new uncanonized gospel of Christ, containing many utterances of Jesus, which are today unknown to the world, is believed to have been discovered through the work of the Egyptian exploration fund, according to an official announcement issued from the Boston headquarters of the fund.

Enough ancient writings have been dug up to furnish material for twenty large printed volumes. Professor Bernard P. Grenfell and Professor Arthur S. Hunt are translating the mass of recovered papyri. Professor Whittemore went to Egypt several months ago on the strength of subscriptions made by wealthy Bostonians and others. He succeeded in completing the work of opening and recovering the long hidden treasures from one of the mounds through special permission of the Khedive.

Conversations With Priests.
The bulk of the fragment is concerned with a conversation between Jesus and a chief priest in the temple at Jerusalem. The translation is in part as follows:
"But give heed lest ye also suffer the same things as they; for the evil-doers among men receive their reward not among the living only, but also await punishment and much torment."
"And a certain Pharisee, a chief priest, met them and said to the Savior, 'who gave Thee leave to walk in this place of purification and to see these holy vessels when Thou hast not washed nor yet have they disciples bathed their feet? But defiled Thou hast walked in this temple, which is a pure place, wherein no other man walks except he has washed himself and changed his garments, neither does he venture to see these holy vessels.'

"And the Savior straightway stood still with His disciples and answered him, 'Art thou then, being here in this temple, clean?'
Washing and Cleansing.
"He said unto Him, I am clean; for I washed in the Pool of David, and having descended by one staircase, I ascended by another, and I put on white and clean garments, and then I came and looked upon these holy vessels."
"The Savior answered and said unto him, 'Woe ye blind, who see not, Thou hast washed in these running waters wherein dogs and swine have been cast day and night, and hast cleansed and wiped the outside skin which also the harlot and flute girls anoint and wash and wipe and beautify for the lust of men; but within they are full of scorpions and all wickedness. But I and my disciples, who thou sayest have not bathed, have been dipped in the waters of eternal life. But woe unto thee!'"
Here ends the translation.

ARMY AND NAVY

Had Narrow Escape.
Captain Edward Aiken Shuttleworth, Second Infantry, stationed with his regiment at the Leihua reservation, narrowly escaped what might have been a serious accident on Tuesday afternoon last.

Captain Shuttleworth was taking a horseback ride, when his saddle turned and frightened the horse beyond control. The popular Captain received a kick in the chest from the temporarily wild animal. Fortunately, however, no serious results will happen, to the rider. The horse jumped an embankment almost forty feet, and has a badly dislocated shoulder. Both Captain Shuttleworth and his fine riding horse are doing well and in a few days will be ready for another ride, with a new saddle girth.

Unwritten regulations are being talked over as to whether the time honored custom of a cavalry officer, when he is dismounted, will and should hold good in the case of an Infantry officer under the same circumstances.

The line of the Second Infantry does not like to urge the old army legend, but it will likely occur to Captain Shuttleworth in good time to celebrate his narrow escape.

The Transport Buford.
The first-class quarters on the Buford were not overcrowded on her trip to the coast this time. The other decks were filled. Many casualties were returning from their expired terms of enlistment in the army.

The files of the Sixth Infantry, which is stationed in the Department of Mindanao at the different army posts of that island, lost almost four

STARTLING FACTS ABOUT THE NEW GUNS INVENTED FOR THE UNITED STATES ARMY AND NAVY

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—A gun with an instantaneously acting sight which will scatter projectiles that in turn will explode and scatter more projectiles, fanwise, at a speeding aeroplane, has been perfected by the War Department—and officials are confident that American genius has solved the problem thus far baffling the armies of the world.

With the completion of this marvelous gun the war authorities believe they have mastered the question whether the aeroplane in its highest perfection can ever be a serious menace to ships of war, land fortifications, or armies in camp or in the field. Armed with this new invention, the American soldiers will be free from the dangers of flying aeroplanes dropping explosives upon them. The invention is regarded as one of the most important discoveries in advanced methods of warfare, and that the United States army has it in its possession as the product of its own ordnance force, means that all other nations have been outstripped.

The new gun, which differs materially from any weapon devised by France or Germany, and which is the final chapter in a long series of rejected models, is entirely the work of the ordnance bureau, under Gen. William Crozier. Thus far all foreign inventions of this nature have proven failures.

A Remarkable Weapon.
The American gun is based on a series of secrets—one of the most important of which is the projectile itself. What is definitely known about the projectile is that it can be placed accurately, will explode at a given moment, and that from it will radiate other projectiles, which in turn explode and cover an immense cubic space. An expert who described it yesterday said that perhaps the best comparison of the effect of such a shot at night would be the well-known shower of stars in pyrotechnic displays. The space covered, however, would be infinitely larger, because as the shell itself explodes it radiates other shells. They say, too, very confidently, that unless the secret of the explosive should be discovered this effect cannot be imitated by any other nation.

The experts are so certain of what this gun can do that they say that

WILL BLOCK IMMIGRATION

Raymond C. Brown, inspector in charge of the U. S. Immigrant Station, Hawaii, has given out some figures with reference to the percentage of illiteracy among the different classes of immigrants who have been arriving in Hawaii during recent years. These figures indicate that if the Dillingham naturalization bill passes Congress, as seems most probable at present, this Territory will be seriously handicapped in the matter of recruiting Portuguese and Spanish laborers, as none not able to read and write will be admitted. The Russians, however, will fare better, and the law will probably not affect the immigration of Filipinos.

Since the opening of the local U. S. Immigration Station here, Mr. Brown states that of the 3,800 Portuguese admitted, about sixty per cent, were illiterate, while about seventy per cent, of the 3,100 Spanish immigrants could neither read nor write. Only about twenty-seven per cent, of the 1,500 Russians were illiterate.

However, these figures are likely to be misleading, as was pointed out by Dr. V. S. Clark, of the Territorial Department of Labor, Statistics and Immigration, in an interview in the Star on Monday. The Dillingham bill will apply only to adults (or persons fourteen years of age or older) and Dr. Clark thinks that illiterate wives of literate males will not be debarred. A large proportion of the immigrants thus far admitted have been children.

SURPLUS IS NEAR $700,000

Before leaving for Kauai last evening for a few days rest, Governor Frear gave out a financial statement of the Territorial accounts for the past year, showing the following totals:
Receipts for year ... $4,391,069.05
Disbursements 3,730,756.16
Surplus 660,304.49
The Governor remarked that during the first five years of the Territorial government deficits were the rule, ranging from $10,000 to nearly $600,000. But during the past six years there has been a net cash balance at the end of each fiscal year ranging from a little more than $165,000 to almost $700,000, for the past year.

ENGINEER HERE TO STUDY WATER

Among the passengers arriving here by the Manchuria was J. B. Lippincott, an engineer. It was stated that Lippincott had come down here mainly for a holiday, but that he intended to take advantage of his visit to look into the possibilities of water development here.

He had heard that there was plenty of scope for his skill in this direction, and had resolved to combine business with pleasure and look over the island. When seen yesterday he preferred to maintain silence on the point, and the only statement that he would make was: "I have brought my family along with me here for a vacation of two weeks. That is all I can say at the present juncture."

On being further questioned, Mr. Lippincott indicated that there might be a further object to his visit than pleasure, but he persisted in his refusal to divulge what it was.

To a Star reported yesterday he gave some interesting details concerning the building of the aqueduct for Los Angeles, a work that has been engaging his attention for some time. He stated that the supply of water will be enough for a million people, and will irrigate 150,000 acres of land surrounding the city.

A Big Undertaking.
 The aqueduct will have a capacity of 260,000 million gallons, and will have a total length of 250 miles. There will be fifty miles of tunnelling through numerous ranges, including the coast range. The balance will be by canal. The whole conduit will be lined and covered with concrete.

City Has its Own Cement Plant.
 The city of Los Angeles has its own cement plant. This has a capacity of 1,500 barrels of Portland cement a day, and it is this cement that is being used to line the work. Some idea of the magnitude of the work may be gathered from the fact that two million barrels, it is calculated, will be needed for the job. The city is carrying out the work by day labor, and already seventy per cent of it is finished. The estimated cost is $28,000,000.
Utilizing The Power Developed.
 About 90,000 horse power will be developed at the place where the fall of the water occurs after passing through the coast range. This power will be utilized for the electrical lighting of the city, and for general manufacturing purposes. The work has been in hand now for about five years, and should be complete within eighteen months. The water is to be brought from the eastern face of the Sierra Nevadas.

A Comparison.
 The New York and the Los Angeles aqueducts are the two largest municipal water supplies that have ever been attempted. The capacity of the former will be about 120,000,000 gallons a month, and will carry about 500,000,000 gallons. It is estimated to cost $160,000,000. The capacity of the Los Angeles aqueduct will be about the same in quantity as all the old Roman aqueducts together.

THE THEATERS

The Bijou.

The program that is being submitted at the Bijou this week is attracting big audiences nightly. Last evening the Bell Trio repeated the successes of the opening performances. They have already established themselves as big favorites, and their season at the Bijou should be a long and successful one.

Johnson and Wells are going as strong as ever, their popularity showing no signs of waning yet. There will be the usual matinee at the Bijou on Saturday next.

The Empire.

The Empire has a strong program just now. The Reeces have strengthened the bill considerably, and as they are doing new turns, their act is just as fresh as ever.

Gorham and Phillips and Lottie O'Malley are still meeting with success in their respective lines, and the motion pictures are particularly good.

The regular August meeting of the Civic Federation executive committee and members will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the public service rooms, King street. Routine business will be transacted.

The Twentieth Infantry will start for a homeland tour from Manila, being joined here by the four companies at the Kahauiki reservation.

Some New Regulations.

On account of the redistricting into three large divisions the geography of the United States, changes in the regulations have become necessary for the use of the army branch of the service. Adapting the word division whenever the word department may appear, or the term "territorial divisions," Alaska and the military stations there will hereafter be classed officially as the territorial division.

The changes in the army regulations define the new duties of the division and the department commanders by saying: "A division commander is charged with the administration of all the military affairs of his division, except as otherwise prescribed by army regulations. He will report to the adjutant general of the army all matters relating to the general welfare of the command, including such changes of stations of troops as he may deem desirable, but will obtain the approval of the War Department before ordering the movement.

The commanding general of the Philippines division, however, is the exception to this rule, for the general in charge of the army stationed throughout the islands can originate, direct or approve military operations within his several departments and may transfer troops from one to another requiring reinforcements.

However, in the United States when troops are changed, either permanently or temporarily, in a division of the United States, the division commander will immediately report by telegraph the time of departure and strength of the command to the adjutant general of the army. He will make a similar report when the troops arrive at the new station. In an emergency, the movement of troops will be reported at the very earliest possible moment.

The division commander will have charge of the inspections necessary to carry out, for all the organized militia belonging within the limits of his division, the provisions of Section 14 of the militia act, approved June 21, 1903, and to assist in this duty all officers of the army, active and retired, on duty with organized militia within the limits of his division, will report to him and send through him their reports of inspection, according to this section of the regulations.

Reports and returns of the organized militia which may be required under the provision of Section 12 of the act of June 21, 1903, will be referred by the War Department to the division commanders for their information and will be returned to the War Department for file.

Another class of duty requiring the attention of division commanders will be to examine the reports of small-arms and coast artillery target practice and issue the necessary orders for holding small-arms target competitions within his division, and under the direction of the War Department. He will also superintend such garrison schools as are not under the care of his department commanders.

Another suggestion for the guidance of the Kahauiki inhabitants is that the packing and unpacking of household effects will, as far as practicable, be done in the basements of the quarters and barracks, in order to avoid defacing floors. Attention is called to the fact that neglect by an officer to take proper care of rooms or furniture used by him is a military offense.

These rules and regulations seem properly in place, and more urgent than formerly, on account of the government supplying so many pieces of heavy mahogany furniture to each set of buildings on a reservation occupied by army officers. These articles of household necessity vary in number according to the rank of the man assigned to each house along the line of an army garrison.

The "heavy furniture" placed in each set of quarters in a post that has regularly built houses is for the use and comfort of an officer on duty at that post and remain a fixture of the building. Officers may come and officers may go, but the "heavy furniture" of dining-room tables and chairs, etc., remain in the house. It saves the army men much trouble in transportation from one post or station to another.

Under this late ruling, no borrowing or exchange from the next door neighbor can be done at Fort Shafter.

The "neighborhooding" habit that is the custom said to flourish in some unlocated communities, where borrowing from one house to another, a pound of coffee or a set of dining-room chairs, as the case may be, is the order of the day and week; this troublesome habit is not encouraged at the Kahauiki reservation. For the commanding officer at Fort Shafter has said through General Orders that public property in use, at that post, will not be removed therefrom or from one building to another, except by special permission of the quartermaster or the officer commanding.

So the pleasure of borrowing from the next-door neighbor or down the line is not to be seen at the model post.

Many Vacancies.

There are sixty-two vacancies at present in the army medical corps. Fifty-nine candidates have been invited to take the preliminary examinations. The tests occur on July 29 at the School of Medicine, Washington, D. C. The standard of the medical department has been raised so high that the surgeon general of the army finds it difficult to keep up the authorized strength of this branch of the service.

After these candidates have taken and passed successfully this examination, they are then required to take a year's further course in medicine and surgery at the Army Medical Museum at the capital city of the United States.

Each year a class is finally graduated. With this special course and a successful termination of the session's work a commission is given these young "medicos" and they are charged to different army posts, where they may care for and heal the sick and practice their art of healing.

Personal Notes.

Captain Frank E. Hopkins, First Lieutenant Carroll W. Neal and Second Lieutenant Clyde A. Selleck all of the First Field Artillery, have been named to conduct an examination of the enlisted men of Battery F, First Field Artillery, to ascertain the qualified gunners in that battery. The test will be held at the station of the Second Squadron at the Lilehua reservation.

Among the passengers of the U. S. A. T. Buford, which tarried at this port for a few hours en route from the Philippine Islands to the Coast, was Lieutenant Julian F. Humphrey of the Philippine Scouts. Lieutenant Humphrey is the third son (the two older sons are officers in the United States army) of Major General Charles F. Humphrey, the retired quartermaster general of the United States army.

Lieutenant Julian F. Humphrey married the only daughter of Colonel William H. Miller, quartermaster at Manila, a few years ago. Mrs. Humphrey has been visiting her parents in Washington during the absence of Lieutenant Humphrey in the Philippines with his company of Filipinos.

NEW GUNS

naval service 12-inch gun on the old battleship Texas in Chesapeake Bay showed that the efficiency of the gun-makers had reached a high state. These 12-inch guns literally made a sieve of the Texas at a range of 12,000 yards, or six miles. It was the longest range at which actual shooting had ever been done. Eight to ten miles is about the maximum for these guns.

The new 14-inch gun's weight is 63.5 tons. The diameter at the breech or butt is 47 inches and at the muzzle 24 inches. The cost of one gun and breech is $74,770. The carriage upon which the gun will be mounted in the turret of the vessel will cost $50,000.

At the muzzle the gun has a velocity of 2600 feet a second. The power behind the projectile will drive the latter at the rate of eight miles in 25 seconds. The muzzle energy of the gun is 66,000 foot-tons. This means that if the projectile as it leaves the muzzle could utilize every ounce of energy stored within it an object weighing 66,000 tons could be lifted one foot upward if the projectile was beneath it, and outward if the projectile was behind it.

The power of the gun and charge are so great as to force the projectile through 25 inches of the best face-hardened steel at the muzzle. The penetrating power of the gun at eight miles is 12 inches of the best face-hardened steel, 11.3 inches at ten miles, 10.7 inches at twelve miles, and 9 inches at fifteen miles.

The time of flight of projectile from the muzzle of the gun is eight miles, or 16,000 yards, in 25.01 seconds; ten miles, or 18,000 yards in 29.23 seconds; twelve miles, or 20,000 yards, in 33 seconds; twelve and one-half miles, or 21,000 yards, in 36 seconds.

The projectile weighs 1400 pounds, is 66 inches, or 5½ feet, in length, and costs $450. It is loaded with a bursting charge of 45 pounds of "dunite." The powder charge used behind the projectile to give it velocity consists of four bags of ninety pounds each of smokeless nitrocellulose.

One round from ten of these guns on a ship fifteen miles at sea would lay the city of New York in waste.

TIME SAVED.

If you are a working man, you will appreciate the promptness with which Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy acts. A severe attack of diarrhoea or cramp colic is usually cured by one or two doses and no loss of time will be incurred; whereas several days would be required to overcome the effect of such an attack under the ordinary method of treatment. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

The examinations at the Teachers Summer School will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

You Can't Be Happy With a Headache

Probably more pleasure is spoiled because of headaches than from any other reason.

When your head aches it not only makes you unhappy, but it is very apt to interfere with the pleasure of everyone else around you. One can't be expected to be very cheerful and pleasant when one's head is simply splitting. And there is no need of suffering. Keep a box of

THE LETTER

Did she confer with the Washington correspondent of the Portland Journal, the man who first printed the "Dick-to-Dick" letter, and whose story was in Washington nearly twenty-four hours before Miss Abbott's story appeared in Philadelphia? Mr. Graham does not consider it important to inquire, but as birds of a feather flock together, so do muck-rakers, and there is very strong circumstantial indication that Miss Abbott procured the "Dick-to-Dick" letter from the Portland Journal representative, and not that representative from Miss Abbott. To make this assertion is to charge that Miss Abbott was misquoted by those muck-rakers who assumed to interview her. That is the most charitable thing that can be said.

No Such Letter.

In light of what President Taft said in his message to Congress, and in light of the corroborative evidence which he submitted, it is ludicrous to presume that the "Dick-to-Dick" letter was ever in the files of the Interior Department, or that such a letter was written by Ryan to Secretary Ballinger. Then where did Miss Abbott get it; where did she see it, or did she imagine it? No one who has seen Miss Abbott is inclined to believe she imagined this letter; rather the presumption is very general that she was used as a tool by the muck-rakers who instigated the Controller Bay fiasco to injure President Taft. She undoubtedly was furnished a copy of what purported to be this postscript, and was induced to make notes on the alleged letter, said notes being on Interior Department letter-heads, and then gave out not a facsimile of the "Dick-to-Dick" letter, but a facsimile of her notes, and that facsimile was published in the Portland Journal, as well as other papers, but always in papers of the muck-raking persuasion.

Now as to the letter itself. Miss Abbott, in story and interview, declared the "Dick-to-Dick" letter was attached to a typewritten letter from Ryan to Secretary Ballinger; it was on a separate sheet, and contained only seventy-three words. The original and authentic Ryan letter to which this was said to be a postscript was typewritten, and on two sheets of paper. There was not to exceed two inches of typewriting on the second sheet, and therefore plenty of room for a seventy-three word postscript, and the most natural place to put a postscript is at the bottom of a letter, if there is room. On this letter there was more than enough room. But it is said the postscript was on a separate sheet.

The Two Dicks.

Another thing: "Dick" Ryan has declared that he did not know Secretary Ballinger intimately enough to address him as Dick, or to sign himself "Dick." Secretary Ballinger sustains this; so does Ashmun Brown, who has known both men for years. Moreover, if Ryan had been intimately acquainted with Ballinger, and had been collaborating with him to commit a wrongful act in the Interior Department, he certainly would not, if in possession of his full senses, addressed an incriminating letter to Ballinger in Washington at a time when Ballinger was in Seattle.

Chairman Graham has refused to uncover the real facts as they concern Ryan's activity in acquiring rights on Controller Bay for his railroad—admitted the main point at issue. But President Taft has furnished complete evidence in that matter, and Mr. Graham need not concern himself further about developing those facts—they are now fully developed and of record, and the record, taken in connection with the President's statement, is convincing. But Chairman Graham still has a duty to perform in running down the "Dick-to-Dick" letter, inasmuch as his committee once placed great stress upon that faked paper and really gave it national prominence. In all decency and fairness he must clear up the one thing the President did not clear up. Will he do it? He will not, unless he is compelled to.

A Vicious Fake.

Yet this "Dick-to-Dick" letter is, in a sense, the most vicious feature of the whole Controller Bay affair; it was designed to be the one link connecting President Taft, through his brother, with what was charged to be a dishonorable transaction. And, so far as the muck-rakers are concerned, their chief concern was to "get something on the President" even if they had to manufacture evidence to do it. No dirtier muckraking has ever been attempted in Washington.

If Mr. Graham's committee, or some other committee undertakes to run down the "Dick-to-Dick" letter, it must of necessity call as a witness the man who first gave that letter publicity. It is to be presumed that the man who could print the cream of Miss Abbott's alleged discovery five days before she used it herself must have known much about the history of the forgery; it would be interesting to hear how he induced Miss Abbott to give him this letter nearly a week before she used it; how she permitted him to print it Sunday, July 2 when she herself was intending to offer her own story for sale in the East. For Miss Abbott must know enough about newspaper work to be aware that an uncopyrighted story, once printed, is public property; she must have been aware—if she gave the "Dick-to-Dick" letter to the Portland Journal correspondent, that his use of it on Sunday, the 2d, might very likely rob her of the sale of her story elsewhere, for there was always the chance that the story, once printed, would be spread broadcast and when the story gained wide circulation, she could not hope to reap pecuniary reward for a rewrite of the same yarn. It so happened that the Portland Journal story was not copied; it was not heard of, in the East, and it was Miss Abbott's story that got the advertising, although it appeared July 7th, and the first story appeared July 2nd.

Paid $100 for Letter.

According to current rumor, the North American paid Miss Abbott $100 for her story; the Newspaper Enterprise Association, one of whose Washington correspondents is a muckraker, and a booster of the anti-Taft crusade, and a daily advisor to Chairman Graham, is reported to have paid $200 for the same story, and yet both concerns would have had the story without expending a cent for it if they had read their exchanges and had had confidence in what they found there. Considering she was peddling an old story, Miss Abbott was well paid for her work; she made a good clean-up. If the "Dick-to-Dick" letter mystery is to be cleared up, Miss Abbott must testify, of course, for she made the letter famous—with assistance. But far more important is the testimony of the Washington correspondent of the Portland Journal, who first printed the story. If the truth can be rung from him, it will be both interesting and important.

WHEN THE MOON IS FULL.

The hotel, Haleiwa, has been crowded all summer with some very pleasant people, and the outlook for the balance of August and all of September is favorable to a full house. The weather there is delightful all of the time, and especially attractive in the moonlit sea view from the verandas. This week there is to be a full moon. It is one of the attractions that lures the public Haleiwa ward. The trains go direct to the door and there is excellent bathing and boating within a stone's throw. The excellent beach brings people from Honolulu to enjoy the delights of the bath.

BY AUTHORITY

BILL NO. 36

PROVIDING FOR THE PROTECTION OF CERTAIN FOOD AND FOODSTUFFS FROM DUST, DIRT, CONTACT OF, AND CONTAMINATION BY FLIES AND OTHER INSECTS, AND FROM PROMISCUOUS HANDLING, AND OTHER CONTAMINATION.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF HONOLULU:

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful to expose for sale, or to sell from any stock-in-trade, within the City and County of Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, any food or foodstuffs, for human consumption, of the names and descriptions hereinafter mentioned, unless such food or foodstuffs shall be protected from dust, dirt and from contact of and contamination by flies and other insects and from promiscuous handling and other contamination, in the manner or manners herein prescribed.

SECTION 2. The food or foodstuffs which shall be protected as herein prescribed shall comprise the following generally and specifically named and described articles, to-wit:

(a) All dried fruits and vegetables which are not sold whole, and all compounds, essences, extracts and substances derived in part or in whole from fruits, vegetables nuts and roots, or from one or more of such sources.

(b) All of the fruits, vegetables and products of land or sea called and known by the names and descriptions here following, viz: apples, apricots, berries of all kinds, celery, cherries, dates, figs, grapes, mangoes, oha (mountain apple), peaches, pears, plums, tomatoes, and other plants sold for food which do not have their surfaces removed before eating.

SECTION 3. All such food or foodstuffs shall be protected from dust, dirt and contact of, and contamination by flies and other insects and from promiscuous handling and other contamination, by means of a glass covering or by wire net screens of a mesh not less than fourteen wires to the inch, as may be sufficient to insure such protection.

Any such wire net screen may be of any form suitable for its purpose, but it shall be fastened to a rigid frame work and when in place must leave at least three (3) inches of clear space between the net or its framework, at any part, and the exposed surface or surfaces of the food or foodstuffs which it protects. All such glass coverings and wire net screens must be so constructed and placed as to properly and sufficiently protect all food or foodstuffs herein mentioned from dust and dirt contact of and contamination by flies and other insects and from promiscuous handling and other contamination; and shall always be subject to the inspection of the City and County Physician and of any duly authorized food or sanitary inspector, or police officer of the City and County of Honolulu.

SECTION 4. This Ordinance shall not apply to food or foodstuffs kept or exposed for sale in unbroken original packages unless the surfaces of their contents, when of the descriptions hereinbefore specified, are exposed to the outer air; nor to any articles of food kept in covered or sealed containers, whether to be sold in such containers or not, providing said articles are never exposed to the outer air excepting while being handled in due course of business; nor to any food or foodstuffs kept in refrigerators, meat safes, or compartments protecting the same from dust and dirt, contact of and contamination by flies and other insects and from promiscuous handling and other contamination.

SECTION 5. No food or foodstuffs hereinbefore mentioned shall be exposed for sale or displayed unless the bottom of the box or other receptacle, containing such article is raised at least two (2) feet above level of the floor or sidewalk.

SECTION 6. No person afflicted with any infectious or contagious disease shall engage, or be employed, in exposing for sale or selling any of the food or foodstuffs hereinbefore mentioned, when such engagement requires or permits the handling of the same.

SECTION 7. The provisions of this Ordinance shall apply to all markets, market stalls, stores, stands, cafes, restaurants, and other places, whether licensed or unlicensed, at which food, foodstuffs, confections or provisions for human consumption are kept for sale, and to all licensed or unlicensed vehicles from which any food, foodstuffs, article of diet or confection is sold or offered for sale.

SECTION 8. It shall be the duty of the City and County Physician, the food and sanitary inspectors and the police officers of the City and County of Honolulu to enforce the provisions of this Ordinance, and for such purpose all of the said officials and officers shall, at all reasonable hours, have access to any market, market stall, store, stand, cafe, restaurant, or other place, herein mentioned for the purpose of inspection.

SECTION 9. Any person who shall molest, hinder or in any manner prevent any Inspector or other officer from performing any duty imposed upon him by the provisions of this ordinance, and any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this Ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding One Hundred Dollars (100.00) or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 10.—This Ordinance shall take effect thirty days from and after the date of its approval.
