CORPOROSITY AND PROFITS.

Minister Thurston thinks that the editor of the Bulletin must "suffer some in his corporosity," or "that he is looking for prospective profits from a private electric light company." Perhaps there may be some truth in what the Minister says about the editor's "corporosity." It is deuced small, we know that. Fear there is no such luck as "prospective profits," either from a private company or the "family compact" represented by the Minister. As to getting any profits from the private source, there is no hope, because the Minister has declined to give permission to private enterprise to supply the people of Honolulu with electric light in their houses, preferring that the Government should do this little business itself. The editor of the Bulletin never applied for permission to erect electric lights to lighten the natives and be a glory to the people of Honolulu. His ambition is not in that direction. But others have applied, and have been refused. Certainly there can be no chance for the editor to make anything out of the Government venture, for he is not in the ring. There will be a nice little thing for somebody, though; for more than $40,000 are being asked for, we understand, to furnish lights, power, etc. Whereas, a private company in the States has offered to provide the same number of lights, wires, power, etc., all complete, for less than $10,000. There is a big margin between $10,000 and $40,000. There is room for big profits somewhere. But slim chance of anything for the editor of the Bulletin. Can't you give us a chance, Mr. Thurston, for old acquaintance sake? Remember you were at one time editor of the Bulletin yourself. And, oh, didn't you work off gall on the Government!

THE BILL TO RE-ORGANIZE THE JUDICIARY DEPARTMENT.

A few days ago we gave a synopsis of the report of the Commission appointed by the King upon the laws relating to the Judiciary, and of the bill drafted and recommended for legislative consideration, from which our readers may gather an outline idea of the changes proposed in the Judiciary department of the Government. Associate Justice Dole, ex-Judge Hartwell, and Attorney-General Ashford are the gentleman comprising the Commission.

With regard to the changes suggested by them, it is correct to say that they have been very carefully considered in every aspect presented to the minds of those gentlemen. Their bill is not a measure hastily drafted or ill-considered; but it is the production of close, prolonged and mature thought. Not only have the Commission given careful attention to the matter since their appointment on the 24th of January last, six months ago, but long prior to that time they had become individually more or less familiar with the subject from their legal practice. Mr. Hartwell was for a series of years a Judge of the Supreme Court, and at different times Attorney-General of the Kingdom, in which capacities he gained experience which specially qualifies him to be a Judge of what changes are desirable in the Judiciary. Mr. C. W. Ashford has been a practicing barrister at the Hawaiian bar for years, and for one year Attorney-General of the Kingdom. With regard to the other member of the Commission, Judge Dole, he has, besides being qualified by his legal experience, made a special study of the subject for years past, and while a member of the Legislature brought the matter to its notice.

Our object in referring to the gentlemen of the Commission in the way that we have, is to show that they possess special qualifications for the duty entrusted to them, and to emphasize the fact that the House is asked to pass a measure which has been prepared by men competent for the task—a fact which must have weight with every legislator when the bill comes up for consideration in the House.

MYNAHS AND LANTANAS.

Two or three years ago a discussion was carried on through the columns of the Bulletin, by correspondents, respecting the merits and demerits of the mynah bird. There was no debating club in those days to which to refer for settlement important questions! It was held by the friends of the mynah that he was a useful little creature, that he was the destroyer of obnoxious insects, that he had almost exterminated the caterpillar which had been so destructive to pasture, etc., and that, therefore, the law protecting him from the gunner was wise and good. It was contended, on the other side, that the mynah was not deserving of so much credit for much good service, that he was not a good insect destroyer, that he was decidedly averse to feeding on caterpillars and that the decrease of that pest was due to other causes, but that he was the enemy of other and more useful birds, and subsisted largely on pigeon eggs and such luxuries, and should, therefore, be outlawed and exempted from protection. The enemies of the mynah were considered to have proved the two assertions, that the impudent and happy little feathered creature cares but little for a dish of caterpillars and has a special proclivity for the luxury of pigeon eggs.

The discussion, like all discussions, ended; and like most discussions, produced little other effect than the satisfaction afforded to the wordy belligerents of having eased themselves of pent-up ideas. The mynah continued on the even tenor of his way, and still lives, rejoices, and procures the class of sustenance, and in the way, most congenial to his taste.

But now crops up another gentleman, who has no friendly feeling for the mynah. His antagonism is caused by the belief that the mynah is doing great mischief by accelerating the spread of that most pernicious of all vegetable growths in this kingdom, the lantana. It is said by persons who have watched and examined, that the seeds of this shrub are distributed by mynah birds, and this is the cause of its rapid spread in districts near Honolulu. Certainly if such be the fact, the Legislature may properly consider whether measures should be enacted for the extermination, instead of the protection, of mynah birds. We shall be glad to get a little enlightenment upon this question.

EXTERMINATE THE MYNAH.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Let me ask through your columns, why a bird that is a public nuisance and a positive injury to the country should be protected by law? Mynah birds, which have been imported into this country and have become very numerous, are protected by law. And yet they are a great nuisance. They are the principal agents in spreading the lantana, a bush that is fast running the lands around Honolulu. The birds eat the seeds and deposit them all over the country, where they spring up and become a curse. A bird that does this should be exterminated, and a law for that purpose be passed without delay. Everybody knows what a curse the lantana is, and if its spread is not stopped it is going to ruin every ranch in the country. The first thing to be done is to put an end to the most active means of its spread. I say, not only allow freedom to shoot the mynahs, but give a reward for every one shot.

ENJOY WITH ME.

Mr. Enron:—The appropriations for roads as passed in the Legislature appear to me as the dawn of a new life. Don't grudge, but enjoy with me the prospects of the future: new roads, opening up of the country, facilities for travelers and tourists, what a blessing!

But this is only one side of the question, allow me to illuminate the other. The amounts appropriated are no doubt well appropriated, although they seem large. This money, well spent, does not go into the pockets of English Bond Agents or rich Steamship Companies, but into the hands of needing laborers. What a boom for poor people! God bless the Legislature!

Now, allow me to add one single request: Don't forget our native population; give them the preference. Next to them the Portuguese. Please, Mr. Thurston! Even if it costs a little more. Don't make cheap labor-contracts with Asiatics. Live and let live. Make this a law of the country and all natives and kamaainanas will bless you.

ONE OF THEM.

BETTER TO CONFINE TO FACTS.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—It is always better in the "long run" for people to confine themselves to facts. If not quite sure of certain statements, they should never be made. Loose statements made by a legislator or any one else detracts, in a measure, from fact when offered by such parties.

On the discussion in the matter of the Fishbourne claim, Noble Waterhouse asked the Ministry if they think this a just claim. This man brought in a report that was adverse to the administration then in power, consequently it was destroyed. Reports say this same Noble member was the one who moved the indefinite postponement of the claim, but some one put a flea in his ear and he changed his tune. Whatever may have become of the report at this date, a number of officials and others saw it, and far from being adverse to the administration, it was otherwise.

I notice in the Auditor-General's report to the Legislature of 1886 as follows:—

"Under authority of heads of departments I have caused the examination, and partly assisted in that of the Custom House and Water Works, while the former was fully up to that state of efficiency it has so deservedly won in years past, in method and correctness, the latter was in utter confusion, without system or books, and the Government on the verge of losing a large sum of money, without, in my opinion, any criminal intent on the part of those in charge."

To Advertisers.

THE advantages of advertising Business Cards in the Honolulu Business Directory are much greater than appear at first thought. This Directory will be in daily and extensive use among the patrons of the business advertiser, during the next twelve months; and until a new edition of a similar work takes its place, which will be about October, 1890. Advertising space has been fixed at a very low price so as to be within the reach of all, and this price includes printing the names of advertisers in capital letters in all parts of the book where their names appear. This venture is entirely local, and all expenses of the work will be conserved in Honolulu—an important consideration for those who have the interest of this Kingdom at heart. ### PORTUGUESE LETTERS.

Calling on Mr. Wundenberg, Postmaster-General, this morning, for the purpose of interviewing him concerning some remarks made by a "Portuguese" in this morning's "Advertiser," the following facts were obtained:

The Portuguese letters are kept in boxes arranged in alphabetical order and those only, which the caller at the window has a right to, are given out.

The giving out of these letters is done by Mr. Geo. Desha, who is expert at reading Portuguese names, and who is very careful that the right person should receive the right letter.

Many of the Portuguese can neither read nor write. Some have several names, and it requires a Desha to decipher the addresses on some of the letters. As a test several Portuguese letters were shown to parties acquainted with the Portuguese language, this morning, and to a Portuguese gentleman, and they were asked to read the addresses; but all of them failed. The letters, were then handed to Mr. Desha and he read them without hesitation.

Remaining at the Post Office long enough to see several Portuguese call for letters and having examined the addresses of a number of letters, the reporter became thoroughly satisfied that the Post Office people are quite competent to read the Portuguese addresses and that only those letters are passed out to which the enquirers have a right.

HOW TO REACH THE PEOPLE.

BAND CONCERTS ON SUNDAY.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Down throw the gauntlet and repeat. Band concerts on Sunday, and why not in moral Honolulu? Far better to go out to Thomas Square on Sunday afternoon and spend an hour or two in listening to good music and pleasant chat than in gambling, drinking and other demoralizing pursuits, or after a very rich and heavy dinner, sleeping the afternoon away, preparatory to going to church in the evening?

Again, band plays on Saturday, very nice and pleasant indeed for those whose time is their own, but how about that large class of the community who finish the hard week's work at 4 o'clock on that day. They certainly have no time to go to the band, but they have on Sunday, and how pleasant for the husband, wife and young ones, to be able to take a walk to Thomas Square. And under the beautiful trees, sit down and enjoy themselves: old man smoke his pipe, old woman compare notes, etc., etc., with the friends and the kids just lying round loose, and then go home for a cosy tea, and if church is the order for the evening, better fitted to thoroughly enjoy the sacred service.

And the much worried young man, how would one do feel for you. We have tried a variety of methods to "reach" you, too numerous to enumerate, and it does seem that you will not be "reached" by the lately tried social, etc.

Now, right here, stop waiting for other people to "reach" you and do as all other "young men" have done in all parts of Christendom, just "reach" yourselves, and how? Well, stop that poker at all times, but more particularly on Sunday. You cannot afford it physically, morally and financially. Stop drinking for drinking's sake. Take your wine, etc., as men who govern themselves. Seek the society and companionship of good, sensible young women. Not the dude girl, for there are some dude girls as well as dude boys. The dude girl is a positive nuisance at all times and not worth bothering about. But, the company of a good, sensible girl, will make you respect yourself, and you cannot with any regard to your manhood, go from her society to that which is debasing and degrading to yourself.

Then on Sunday afternoon, instead of making a fool of yourself, in your room, go to Thomas Square and enjoy yourself, as God wants all His sensible creatures to do, and bear in mind, that he helps them who strive to help themselves, and we old ones had better try and "reach" ourselves. Some of us want a strong and perhaps long rope, too much "gnat and camel business," "mote and beam." Perhaps we have a good stock of beam, and the would-be "reached" ones the mote; must not judge though. Back to band concerts on Sunday, not to be discussed fanatically, or religiously, but assert positively that morally they are correct. Yours,
SOUND SENSE.

Legislative Assembly.

43RD DAY—July 19th.

MORNING SESSION.

The House opened at 10 a. m., President W. R. Castle in the chair. Roll called and absentees noted.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Rep. F. Brown reported from the Printing Committee that the veto message had been printed and was ready for distribution.

He also reported from the Select Committee to whom was referred the bill to regulate the payment and collection of water rates, recommending that the bill be laid on the table, and that a new bill which they present with the report as a substitute, be passed.

The report was accepted and the bill went to the Printing Committee.

He also reported that three bills were printed and ready for distribution.

Noble Wilcox reported from the committee to whom was referred the bills relating to street railways, that they would like more time for the consideration of one bill, and report a substitute bill in place of one, extending the franchise to W. R. Austin and his associates to Sept. 1st, 1889.

Noble Smith moved that the rules be suspended and the bill be read a second time by its title. Carried.

Rep. Kinney reported from the Special Committee to whom was referred a resolution to inaugurate the study of leprosy by native Hawaiians in the public schools at least once a week, recommending that it be adopted and that $1,200 be inserted in the Appropriation Bill for printing suitable books in the Hawaiian language for this purpose.

Noble Townsend moved to amend the resolution by making it at least 40 days in each year, instead of once a week. He thought it interfering too much with the management of schools by arranging a daily programme.

Rep. Kalaukoa moved to take up the resolution for consideration.

Noble Smith was in favor of the motion of Rep. Kalaukoa with an amendment, that the resolution be printed and made an order of the day. He thought that it was not necessary to state that the subject of leprosy should be taught, but that it could be differently worded so that it would not advertise our national disease.

Noble Smith's motion carried.

Minister Thurston reported in regard to the petition from Kawelo, Hilo, for $500 for land taken by the Government for a road. Mr. J. M. Lidgate, chairman of the Road Board for Hilo, writes that a settlement had been effected with this man before the road was commenced, but subsequently the land had changed hands and had come into possession of Mr. D. B. Wahine a would-be lawyer of that place, and he makes this claim for damages. He expresses the hope that the legislature will take no notice of such claims as these, as they are unfounded and frivolous.

On motion the petition was laid on the table.

Minister Green presented a list of taxes and the commissions paid on them for the year 1887.

On motion the report was ordered printed.

RESOLUTION AND BILLS.

Rep. F. Brown read a first time a bill to regulate the receipt, storage, and delivery of goods in bond. Referred to Printing Committee.

He also gave notice of a bill to regulate the carriage of freight between the islands.

Noble Smith offered the following resolution: Whereas with sorrow we have heard of the death of the beloved wife of His Excellency Jonathan Austin, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Be it resolved, that the Legislature do adjourn at twelve o'clock this day in respect of the memory of Mrs. Austin; Resolved, That we hereby express our sympathy for His Excellency and his bereaved family in this great affliction, and pray that the almighty Father may comfort them. Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be presented to His Excellency. Adopted.

Rep. F. Brown offered a resolution that the Minister of the Inter-

Gents Fine Clothing and Furnishing Goods, Hats, Shoes, Trunks, Valises, Etc., go to the Leaders of Cheap Prices, the ARCADE.

be requested to furnish this House with the amounts in full for the following items: The amount of unexpended road money; the amount of money now to the credit; the amount estimated for the years 1888 to 1890; and the amounts that the Minister of the Interior has had appropriated for all the districts in the Hawaiian Islands. For item roads and bridges outside of Honolulu or the district of Kona, Oahu.

Noble Townsend said he objected to this log-rolling and got up to protest against it. He thought it impossible for the Minister to comply with this last request.

Rep. F. Brown said that was the object of his resolution, to stop that very log-rolling. The resolution was adopted.

Noble Smith read a first time a bill to amend Section 6 of chapter 11 of the Penal Code relating to seduction. Referred to Printing Committee.

Rep. Rice read a first time a bill to provide for the teaching of Hawaiians to Hawaiians in the public schools.

Noble Richardson moved to reject the bill, and spoke in support of his motion.

Rep. Kauhane, Rep. Rice and Noble Smith spoke in favor of the bill.

Noble Richardson said that in order to save time he would withdraw his motion, and the bill went to second reading under the rules.

Noble Richardson gave notice of a bill to amend Section 1 chapter 16 of the Civil Code, relating to divorces.

Noble Hitchcock read a first time a bill to repeal the passport law, to take effect from and after January 1st 1889. Went to second reading under the rules.

He also read another bill to abolish the $2.00 hospital tax. Went to second reading under the rules.

Rep. Horner moved to reconsider the vote of yesterday for $2,500 for two bridges at Waihee. Carried, and the item was referred back to the committee of the whole to-morrow.

The House then adjourned until 10 a. m. Friday.

BLUNDERS.

The manufacture of blunders proceeds apace. An Auckland college announces: "Swimming instruction given by a teacher of both sexes."

An Australian paper says: "Mrs. Caldwell was the recipient on Saturday of a beautiful floral offering, in commemoration of the advent of her firstborn son, which came to her by parcel post from Ballarat." "The sun now being raised," says a contemporary, "will take the form of a mariners relief fund, primarily for the support of the men who lost their lives at the wreck." An Ohio farmer has posted up the following: "Notis. If any man's or woman's cows or oxens gits in these here outs, his or her tail will be cut off as the case may be." A reporter, describing a collection of bris-a-brac, says: "The visitor's eye will be struck on entering the room with a porcelain umbrella." And the following advertisement appears in a contemporary: "A widow wants a position as general in a small household." Not an unusual position for a servant to occupy, but seldom put so plainly. An Australian paper lately made merry over a contemporary which headed an article, "Sir H—P—'s Embezzlements," instead of embarrasments, and in the next item described Mr. Gladstone as "a leading pollution."
