JUDGE ROSS AFFIRMED.

GOVERNMENT BEATEN IN THE SANFORD CASE.

The Personal Liability Matter the Argument Considered by the Court.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed Judge Ross of irrigation fame this morning in his memorable decision effecting the Stanford millions, and again the Government is given the cold shoulder. The tenor of the opinion was not of the sensational order. In fact, it has been predicted about Federal circles for weeks that the Los Angeles jurist would be upheld in his findings. Consequently when Judge Gilbert had concluded reading his rather brief document there were few surprised attendants. The only novel feature of the opinion was the total discarding of the points raised pro and con when the demurrer was argued in the Circuit Court. It will be remembered that Ross considered every argument put forth either by the defense or prosecution. The judicial tribune either thought many of the points advanced were foreign and immaterial to the subject or else that the one, to-wit the personal liability matter, was sufficient to decide the entire case. Anyhow, in their reasoning, the Judges made no mention of the other arguments. They simply went on to show that Government never intended to hold the shareholders personally liable for the debts that might occur, and with this dismissed the suit.

Judge McKisick's early appearance in the court room made it patent that the Government was on the uneasy seat. He was the very first man to enter the legal hall after the bailiff had thrown open the portals. Hastily sizing up the acoustic situation, McKisick picked out a seat directly in front of the presiding dignity. District Attorney Foote a few minutes afterwards came tripping in and took up with a chair at McKisick's right. Spencer, and Wilson & Wilson appeared just as the cryer was getting his "hear ye."

Attorney Herrin of the Southern Pacific, President Jordan of Stanford, and President Taylor of the Bar Association were in evidence and paid close attention to the rendering of a paper which had taken the court weeks to prepare, but which was unrecited in just fifty-five minutes by Judge Gilbert of Oregon.

Judge Hawley of Nevada and Judge Morrow of California nodded in assent when the ordeal was finished.

Although the decision cannot be termed a verbose one, in comparison with other similar ones which have emanated from this august body, yet when taken into consideration that only the personal liability matter was agitated, the decision can by no means be styled brief and concise.

Gilbert, adhering to the customary impassionate, eloquence of the chamber of last recourse, read the decision, and betimes it was most difficult to catch his words, so much so that Judge Foote, seated almost in front of the Oregon Judge, had to crane his neck forward to follow him.

The court made a great deal of the Congressional acts which have been enacted affecting both the Central Pacific and the Union Pacific. In this respect the opinion resembled Ross' very much. Judge Garber intuitively entered the room on the point when Gilbert shifted to the interesting part of the program, and luckily so for even such legal enthusiasts as Judge Spencer and District Attorney Foote, and even

Judge Morrow, dozed through the preliminaries, but everybody was wide awake when Gilbert struck on to the liability problem. From the outset the way the decision was going could not be mistaken. McKisick began to wince in his chair and simultaneously assumed a despairing facial expression. Garber sat there wreathed in smiles, while Judge Spencer would tenderly remind the elder Wilson that they were winning by jostling him with his elbow. [Continued on 3rd page]

Only Child Died.

Valrie Edith, the daughter and only child of Police Captain Scott, died at the age of thirteen months early Sunday morning from convulsions following whooping cough. Rev. H. W. Peck conducted the funeral at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, at which there was a large attendance of sympathizing friends. Captain and Mrs. Scott take this means of thanking their friends for all their kindness during the child's illness and for the many floral tokens they contributed to the funeral.

Golden Sunday.

Yesterday was rally day of Central Union church Sunday school. Every child was expected to be present, and there were but few absentees. There was a total attendance of 560 pupils. Twenty-five classes went on record with not a teacher or pupil missing. This is called making a "golden Sunday." At the congregational service of the same church in the evening, a ritual adopted by the parent church in the States was used, and the result was a service in which the pews shared the devotions with the pulpit in a practical and interesting manner.

Condition of Emma Square.

Complaint is made this morning that during the concert at Emma Square on Saturday afternoon garbage boxes and their contents were scattered freely about the driveway, thereby frightening teams. The dusty condition of the roadway around the square is also complained of and could be easily remedied by those in authority ordering the Chinese gardener who attends to the square to sprinkle it on concert days, if not on others.

Mrs. Soares' Funeral.

The wife of Rev. A. W. Soares, who died on Saturday, was buried from Central Union Church at 2 o'clock Sunday. Rev. Dr. Hyde conducted the services, assisted by Rev. D. P. Birnie and O. P. Emerson. The hymns, "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Abide With Me" were sung in Portuguese. There was a very large concourse of both Portuguese and English people, the funeral procession being one of the longest seen in Honolulu for some time.

DEATH OF DR. BRODIE.

SAD AND SUDDEN END OF A POPULAR PHYSICIAN.

Had Just Returned from a Foreign Trip—Stood High in His Profession.

Sunday morning everybody was talking of the sad and sudden ending of Dr. John W. Brodie, one of the most skillful physicians Honolulu has ever known. He died suddenly and unattended at his Waikiki residence at 11 o'clock on Saturday night. Dr. Brodie had only returned home from a trip abroad by the steamer China this day week. His health was so poor on his return that he would not undertake any professional visitations in his large practice. He was at his office in town a short time on Saturday, returning early to his residence at Waikiki which he lately leased from W. C. Peacock. Dr. Brodie at a quarter to nine o'clock bade his friends good night, and retired to his bedroom with a favorite cat in his arms. Shortly afterward one of the nurses, his residence having been a sanitarium, heard the dull sound of a falling body on the floor upstairs. Hurrying up the

with the first Portuguese immigrant ship, the Priscilla, and was on his way to Europe again when he met Dr. Brodie at Sacramento and gave him the invitation to Honolulu. Dr. Brodie had a practice to his hand when he arrived in June, 1880.

He had more to do than his strength would bear and went into live stock raising at Waialua for a change. This not proving a successful venture, Dr. Brodie sold out the ranch and returned to San Francisco for change of climate and scene. There he soon gained a practice greater than he could well handle, and after two years of toil he returned to Honolulu.

Dr. Brodie had in the past few years attended some of the most famous world's congresses of the medical faculty. When the Koch treatment for consumption had scarcely been more than made known to the world, Dr. Brodie visited Paris and mastered the new science. He brought the process back to Honolulu with him, thinking he might need it for himself, but it does not appear that he retained faith in the system. Dr. Brodie's brother was the first Government veterinary surgeon in this country, being appointed by Premier Gibson in 1885. He was consumptive and went away only to die in 1889. While holding the office here Mr. Brodie stamped out glanders that had appeared among horses on the islands. The death of his brother was a grief that bore heavily on Dr. Brodie's mind and he seemed never to be quite his former self after the sad event. Dr. Brodie's wife has lived in San Francisco for the past year or two. He leaves no family. A G. Brodie, now in town, who has been an overseer at Makaweli plantation, is a half cousin of the lamented doctor. Many people are surprised to hear that Dr. Brodie was only in his forty-third year. It falls to the lot of few physicians to make so brilliant a record in so short a lifetime.

The funeral takes place from the residence at Waikiki at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

JUDGE MAGOON WILL PRESIDE DURING THE PRESENT TERM.

The New Judge Sworn In by the Chief Justice—Remarks of the Retiring Judge.

At the opening of the November Term of the Circuit Court at 10 o'clock this morning the following officials and attorneys were present: W. A. Kinney, Geo. de la Vergne, Judge Perry, Paul Neymann, A. G. Correa, A. G. Robertson, Cecil Brown, E. Gibson, J. L. Kaulukou, E. Humphreys, A. W. Carter, S. K. Kane, S. M. Ballou, A. S. Hartwell, Chief Justice Judd, Justice Free, Marshal Brown, E. P. Dole, L. Thurston, S. Edings and others. Deputy Attorney-General A. W. Carter represented the Republic in the proceedings which followed.

Promptly at 10 o'clock Judge Cooper and Magoon ascended the rostrum, having been preceded by their entrance to the Courtroom a few minutes previously by Chief Justice Judd and Justice Free. Judge Cooper ordered the bailiff to declare the Court open, after which he said:

"Gentlemen of the Hawaiian bar—The Government of the Republic of Hawaii has deemed it best that I should serve in another capacity and has duly appointed and commissioned my successor in the person of Judge Magoon. Before retiring from the bench I wish to tender my hearty and sincere thanks to the members of the bar for their uniform courtesy and kindness to me while on the bench, which has assisted me very materially in making my duties while serving as judge of this Court easy and pleasant. I now have the pleasure of introducing to you my successor who has been duly commissioned and who will be sworn in by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

The Chief Justice then advanced to the bench and administered the following oath:

"J. A. Magoon: You have been duly commissioned by the Executive as Judge of the Circuit Court for the First Circuit of the Hawaiian Islands. You solemnly swear that you will support the Constitution of the Republic of Hawaii and the laws thereof and perform the duties of the office to which you have been appointed to the best of your ability, so help you God."

To which Judge Magoon responded "I do."

Judge Magoon then took his seat and announced that the calling of the calendar would be proceeded with.

General Hartwell arose and asked the indulgence of the Court for a few minutes, saying that he had been asked on behalf of the members of the bar to express their high appreciation of the uniform courtesy and impartiality which had characterized Judge Cooper's career while occupying the honorable position from which he had just retired. He also desired to express the pleasure with which the appearance of Judge Magoon on the bench inspired him, and he felt sure that he had the whole bar with him when he expressed his utmost confidence in the ability and integrity of Judge Magoon.

Judge Cooper remained on the bench and assisted Judge Magoon with his counsel occasionally.

The calling of the regular calendar was then commenced, and the following proceedings had: Republic of Hawaii vs. E. Brewster, Forgery. Defendant pleads guilty on two charges.

NEW MAILING MACHINE.

PRINTERS' GENIUS SUPPLIES A LONG-FEELT WANT.

Automatic Folder, Wrapper and Folder That Prints the Names on Wrappers.

There was a gathering of dozens of noted newspaper men in the office of George T. Gaden...

They were attracted by a card of invitation from Mr. Gaden stating that he would have on hand a recently invented and patented machine...

The machine folds and wraps newspapers for mailing, pastes the wrappers and prints the addresses upon the outside, and can do it with a speed beyond the capacity of any one man to feed...

The machine is constructed for either foot or steam power and occupies but about two feet of floor space and is about four feet high...

The interest manifested by newspaper men—the men of the mechanical end of the newspaper—will be understood when it is known that there has been hitherto no single machine in existence that could perform this arduous and time-consuming service...

This resolution proved the incentive that resulted in this machine which does all that Mr. Gaden showed letters he had received from the heads of the circulating departments of the New York World, the Youth's Companion, the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, Rand, McNally & Co., and others...

A stock company with a capital of $500,000 and to be known as the Beebe Automatic Folding Machine Company, is now being formed for the purpose of manufacturing and putting the machine on the market.—S. F. Call.

The Kid and the Teacher.

A dictionary coupon, as yet und-filled by the pencil of the school boy fiend, was wafted down school street by the gentle breeze one morning when it found lodgment in the large and puffy sleeve of a young and beautiful school-ma'am.

"Now isn't this just too awfully provoking," complained the tress, "I want that prize word-book in the worst way, but just as sure as I inscribe my name and address upon this slip of paper, one one will find it out, and as consequence, my name will be famous, so far as popularity is concerned. On the other hand, if I hand it over to some other teacher she'll tell all the girls that I'm making a display of magnanimity, — 'casting bread upon the waters,' as it were, in order to get large returns. What shall I do?"

Just then a small boy came along, and the wily instructress ribbed him with a nickel to vote for her. The kid promised, and immediately went down to 609 King street and, after filling the coupon with the patronymic of a grandmother of his, 87 years of age, who had never learned to read or write, dropped it through the Time box slot.

MORAL: The way of the teacher of the young idea is difficult, or the gamin and his word are soon divorced.

PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION.

Abstract Statistics Relating to the Mississippi River.

The American Public Health Association was recently in session at Denver, Colorado. President Bailey of Louisville, Ky., called the convention to order by a few happy remarks. Over 100 members were present and twenty-five applications for membership were accepted. Twenty minute papers, with five minutes allotted members for discussion, was established as a rule.

The first paper, "The Mississippi River as a Sewer," was read by Dr. Josiah Harbel of the Ohio State Board of Health. After giving figures to show the extent of the drainage basin of the river, he gave some startling statistics on its pollution. Four cities annually contribute 256,000 tons of garbage and 4000 carcasses of diseased animals to the noble stream. English streams are clean in comparison. He vigorously condemned the Chicago drainage canal. At the evening session the president's annual address was read, after addresses of welcome had been given by Governor McIntire and Mayor McMoray.

The Geranium Leaf Jelly.

A rose geranium leaf dropped in each tumbler of apple jelly is said by a good housekeeper to impart a peculiarly delicious flavor. It is true that Westerners have by no means achieved the art of using flower life in their sweetmeats. As prepared in the Orient these concoctions are most delicious. The Armenian women and their neighbors, but not friends, the Turkish wives, excel in the compounding of such confections.

That Tired Feeling

Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous symptom. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is especially liable to attacks of disease. Judge Gilbert made a great deal of the laws governing the stockholders of the Union Pacific. In this instance the shareholders were not held liable and it is explicitly so stated in the charter which was obtained in Illinois.

On the other hand the State of California imposed a personal liability clause when the Central Pacific was incorporated. "But," said the court, "is it reasonable to suppose that when the Government granted the two roads subsidies that it intended to hold the shareholders of the one personally liable and not the other. Can it be imputed that this was the intent of Congress when it set aside lands and assumed part of the debt of the company?"

The court further on urged that it was the intention of Congress to put both roads on the same footing. Judge Davis of Illinois has already decided that the Union Pacific stockholders were not liable. Again the court remarked: "It is not reasonable to presume that individuals would have engaged in such an enterprise were they to imperil not only their investments, but their private fortunes."

After Judge Gilbert had concluded the first man to congratulate Judge Garber was President Jordan. He was elated over the decision and remarked that it was a remarkable paper.—S. F. Bulletin.

DANIEL LOGAN, Editor.

MONDAY, - - NOV. 4, 1895

It is a pity that the roadways around Emma Square are sprinkled well previous to the concerts there. While the performance of last Saturday afternoon was going on, being, by the way, an especially good one, the audience and musicians were all smothered with the dust rising from the hoofs of the horses ridden and driven round the enclosure. It would certainly not but a trifle to remedy the trouble.

Here is an account of a labor-saving invention which would seem to be worth looking into, in view of the intended construction of sewers in Honolulu. It is from the American exchange: "An Ohio firm has recently brought out a new steam shovel for digging trenches. The shovel frame is 8 feet wide by 30 feet long, very heavily and strongly built of steel and mounted upon traction wheels of special design, which enables the shovel to propel itself readily over ordinary roads and grades. The peculiar effectiveness of the machine is dependent on the construction of the crane, which enables the shovel to dig backwards. The makers claim that it is the only steel shovel on the market which is suited to trench or sewer digging. The shovel will dig a trench from 4 to 12 feet in width and from 1 to 15 feet in depth. It has a capacity of 800 cubic yards a ten hours. The material may be deposited at either side of the trench at a distance up to 14 feet. The dipper will swing ten feet from the level of the ground upon which the shovel stands. Its weight is 45 tons."

Every now and then the Advertiser reverts to the subject of the defunct Labor Commission—that is the paid one. It seems very anxious to show that the body had earned its salt, or returned value to the country for the amount of money it expended. In today's issue it represents W. N. Armstrong as having, during his recent visit to Japan, "collected considerable material for a report on the labor and industries of Japan with the end in view of showing to what extent the prices and systems of labor may affect the relations of that country with these islands." The Advertiser says the termination of the Commission by law prevented the presentation of a report by Mr. Armstrong on this subject. He ought to have public spirit enough to finish the job, or pass his statistical acquisitions to the unpaid Commission provided for by the law that wiped out the paid one. But the Advertiser goes on to say that "Consul General McVior of Yokohama kindly favored him with the scale of wages prevailing in Japan." One would think from this that Mr. Armstrong had to take the long journey across sea to Japan for the purpose of getting that scale of wages. As a matter of fact the whole matter is printed in Vol. XLVIII, No. 178, of United States Consular Reports, beginning on page 521. Mr. Armstrong could have got it without walking two blocks from the Advertiser's sanctum, and the Government could have lent him a copy and saved his passage money. How much more humbug are we to be treated to, with regard to our relations to Japan, from that commission of many reports?

LAWN TENNIS CONCERT.

DRAWN OUT AN ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE.

The Club Will Net a Handsome Sum from the Proceeds—Notes of the Affair.

The Y. M. C. A. hall was crowded on Saturday evening with a fashionable audience assembled to hear the concert by the Beretia Lawn Tennis Club. British Commissioner Hawes was among those present. The platform was prettily decorated with a lawn tennis net stretched from one end to the other, the club's colors, orange and black, being twined around the net. At the back of the platform were several flags, while potted plants were conspicuous in appropriate places. Even the programs were orange with black letters.

The program which had been prepared by Wray Taylor, under whose direction the concert was held, consisted of twelve numbers. Miss Kulumani Ward was unable to appear owing to a bereavement in her family. This was much regretted as she is one of our most popular singers. A slight change had to be made in the order of the program owing to the chorus of the Y. M. C. A. having another engagement. Their singing was a great treat and they were concurred at each appearance.

The first number, an intermezzo, was most delightfully played by Miss Atkinson on the piano. B. L. Marx, violin, E. Kope, flute, Wray Taylor, cello and C. Hedeman, bass. Mrs. W. A. Kianey's singing of Abt's song "It must be so," so pleased the audience that they insisted upon a repetition, and she gave another number. It is seldom that Miss Molly Atkinson is heard on the concert platform. Her piano solo was a real surprise to those present and she was most enthusiastically concurred. The appearance of Miss Kate McGrew was the signal for a burst of warm applause from the audience. In singing a romance from the "Daughter of the Regiment" her well cultivated and sweet voice was heard to the greatest advantage, and she was compelled to respond to a recall. Later Miss McGrew simply charmed her hearers with an exquisite rendering of Ernst "Elegie" on the violin. Mrs. Lewis at the piano, Wray Taylor at the organ and Jos. Rosen with his violin, played a trio in a masterly manner. It was most effective. A song "Lovely Spring" was nicely sung by H. F. Wichman, who was in good voice. The Quartette for mandolins and guitars by Messrs. Coney, Afong, Hennessey and Ward just brought down the house and they were loudly applauded. J. Hollander a recent arrival played a "Spring Song" on the violin, showing him to be well acquainted with that instrument. This was the last number, but the audience still remained seated. However, Wray Taylor soon dispersed them by playing "Hawaii Pono!" on the piano.

Mrs. Wichman, Miss McGrew, Messrs. Oscar Herold and Fletcher officiated as accompanists during the evening. The concert was a success in every way. Quite a large sum will be realized.

Timely Topics

The able address by Mrs. Sturtevant-Peet, president of the California Woman's Christian Temperance Union, on the occasion of the annual convention of that body in San Francisco, contained a passage which takes strong ground on the benefits of the bicycle. In speaking of physical culture and the relation of the clothes to the subject, she said: "All know the value of a strong unhindered body. For this reason the banishment of the corset and restricting bands is a foregone conclusion. Dress reform has pressed its claims for forty years, with little progress fill the bicycle, that graceful, silent steed of motion, dashes through and bursts open the door of prejudice. This mystic wheel that we meet on every road and street is the mute but telling advocate of dress reform. It has its virtues as well as its charms. It invites, yea, demands, simplicity in dress. It encourages physical exercise and utterly refuses to carry a drunken rider. Unlike the horse, it balks when touched by the hand of inebriety. It inconveniences and discourages the use of cigars and cigarettes to the number of 65,000,000 a year. In short, the wheel is a reformer, and, though, it came not through the virtue of moral conception, we should welcome its presence as we do the advent of every new invention and corporate edict bearing the balm of sobriety, with the promise of stronger and better men and women." This is a straightforward expression from an able woman who led the California forces of one of the greatest National organizations ever instituted for the uplifting of the race. The dignity and earnestness which characterize her opinion cast into the shades the hallow objections which some physicians have made to the bicycle. Mrs. Peet gives us to understand that in the sole aspect of requiring women to dress sensibly this simple instrument of locomotion has accomplished more at a dash than the preachers on sensible dress for women have been able to bring about in nearly half a century. With so eminent an indorsement as this, even the most timid woman who is not held in what amounts to physical restraint by father, husband or brother from obeying an instinctive impulse to dress rationally and enjoy life and health on a bicycle, may at least console herself with the reflection that her impulse was right and lament that she was born a few years too soon. In addition to the above Mrs. Peet might have mentioned the saving in labor attained by the patent sprocket attached to the Tribune wheel, which amounts to over 15 per cent, no small desideratum when ladies are concerned. The Tribune is the wheel par excellence for ladies' use, it has the newest patents and improvements and can be run with 15 per cent less work than any other wheel in existence.

SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY.

The Relation of Labor to Nervous Diseases.

Prof. Cognotti di Martini, in showing that each occupation, mechanical or intellectual, has its peculiar nervous disease, draws a harrowing picture of the dangers attending modern industrial life.

He begins by discussing the perils to the nerves of open air workers. Lightening is one of these. It kills twenty-two persons annually in England, and seventy-one in France, and leaves many of those who escape death with shattered nerves for life.

When the marching is over, grub and coffee soon revive their condition to vigor pristine; Then they stroll thro' the grounds and each brags hero sounds.

Rules and orders forgot, as the theme gathers chaos, Some adventurous ones, disobeying McLean, Climb the fence in the rear, without raising alarm.

Tis desertion, 'tis true, tho' 'tis but for a time, And the warrior's mind can't dwell forever on wars.

When the marching is over, grub and coffee soon revive their condition to vigor pristine; Then they stroll thro' the grounds and each brags hero sounds.

NEWS AS A STOCK IN TRADE.

Newspapers Jealously Guard their Reputations For Accuracy.

Unthinking people sometimes complain, says the Burlington Hawkeye, that newspapers are "not accurate and reliable" in giving the news. If the public could only realize how much nearer accurate and reliable is the news as published than the conflicting reports that come to the editorial rooms to be sifted, tested and toned down by reporters and editors, they would give the paper more credit than they do.

It must be within the experience of every intelligent reader that verbal rumors which they had heard were materially changed and reduced in their import when presented in the next issue of the paper.

A railroad accident is almost invariably magnified as the rumor passes from one person to another, but the discriminating newspaper will probe for the facts and is loth to give currency to exaggerated statements which it will be necessary to retract or modify next day.

News is the goods which the papers have on sale, and the quality of the goods has much to do with the popularity of the paper; consequently the successful newspaper is jealous of its reputation as a news-vendor.

For a like reason newspaper publishers feel that the public does not fully appreciate the nature of the request sometimes preferred by individuals when they ask the editor to suppress an item of news. It is equivalent to saying to the merchant, "Please take that roll of cloth from your shelves and don't sell it."

Few merchants would be apt to comply with the strange request, but the obliging editor often does out of kindly consideration for the business or personal welfare of citizens. It is a good trait in human nature, but costs money to remove goods from the shelves and destroy them—for that is what it amounts to in the department of newspaper merchandizing.

The S. S. R. in Hawaii.

A large number of the leading spirits of the new Republic of Hawaii are men of American birth or American descent, and there has been recently organized among them, amid much enthusiasm, a Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. Peter C. Jones is president; Albert F. Judd, Chief Justice of Hawaii, vice-president; John Effinger, secretary; Professor William De Witt Alexander, registrar, William J. Forbes, treasurer of the society. Upon the list of the private membership appear a number of conspicuous names.

The Sons of the American Revolution in Hawaii take rank as a State society, equal in privileges and authority with each of the State societies in the United States. They have been formally admitted to full membership this week, after very careful examination of proofs of eligibility, at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the National society in General Horace Porter's office. Owing to the large number of men of American stock in the Sandwich Islands, and the affection they bear for the fatherland, there is every promise of a large and energetic society.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE BEST TREATMENT FOR CHOLERA—When promptly and properly treated a recovery is almost certain. This was fully demonstrated during the prevalence of Cholera in New York in 1866. Go to bed as soon as the first symptoms appear, remain as quiet as possible, and take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in double doses until the pain ceases, and then after each operation of the bowels more than natural. Send for a physician, but take this remedy in this way until he arrives. The remedy should be kept at hand ready for instant use. It should be taken within five minutes after the first symptoms appear. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the most successful medicine that has yet been produced, not only for the milder forms of bowel complaint, but for the most virulent forms of Asiatic Cholera. ARRIVAL OF SEVERAL COASTING STEAMERS.

From vs. Steel for Ship-Building - Coast on the Bark Alden Besse, Etc.

The steamer Iwalei took 75 tons of coal to Makaweli this afternoon.

The steamer Keonani brought 20 head of cattle from Kailua, Hawaii, yesterday.

The Mosquito Club had an informal session this morning. Captain Christian in the chair.

The steamer Lehua arrived late Saturday afternoon from Molokai with the usual live stock on board.

The American barkentine, S G Wilder, McNeill master, arrived in port this morning, nineteen days from San Francisco, with a general cargo.

The steamer Cloudline brought 50 head of cattle, 30 sacks corn and 220 sacks of potatoes, besides 44 cabin and deck passengers from Maui on Sunday.

When the bark Alden Besse was put in the caulkers a dry dock at San Francisco recently, it was found that the hull coral on her bottom. It is supposed by Captain Potter that the coral insects got to work on the bark while lying at Honolulu, and remained with the vessel on the trip north, being finally killed by the cold Alaskan waters at Kailua.

Shipowners, more especially the owners of cargo steamers, are getting seriously alarmed as to the durability of steel hull vessels, and are beginning to realize the fact that such vessels are not all their fancy painted them. The rapid deterioration on the decks, tank-tops, and other parts which cannot be properly cleaned and painted, has become so serious that several owners declare that they will go back to iron, as vessels built of the latter material fifteen years ago are, they allege, in a much better state of preservation than steel vessels built in five years ago. Already a movement has been made to substitute iron for steel decks, and also for under the boilers and other places where there is any difficulty in painting. This not only refers to the plating, but includes frames and reverse frames.
