NOAR CITED FOR CONTEMPT

HE IS ALLEGED TO HAVE OPPOSED AN ORDER ISSUED BY CIRCUIT JUDGE ROBINSON.

Isaac Noar was cited for contempt this morning by Judge Robinson, on motion of the plaintiffs in the case of Lee Chu and C. K. Ai vs. Isaac Noar, for having opposed an order of the court appointing Col. Will E. Fisher receiver of the Star block.

Fisher's affidavit says that when he went to take possession of the block he found that Noar had advised the tenants not to pay rent to him, and Noar tried to forcibly eject him.

Stipulations have been filed in the three cases of embezzlement against James H. Boyd, allowing the defendant 30 days in which to file his bill of exceptions, in the matter of the appeal from the ruling of Judge De Bolt against the various questions raised as to the impeachment of the Grand jury, etc.

Judge Gear this morning allowed ten days for the filing of an answer in the case of C. A. Brown vs. A. W. Carter et al., in which he overruled a demurrer last Saturday.

Ching Lum has brought suit against Ethel Kalkahele and H. M. Kalkahele for $7,925.50 damages, alleged to be due on account of breach of covenant. The plaintiff claims to have been damaged in that sum in the enjoyment of a lease, by the failure of the defendants to pay a mortgage owed by them to S. C. Allen.

In the case of the Enterprise Mill company vs. the Pacific Mill company and garnishees, motion to quash service of summons on the garnishees was granted.

Judge Robinson signed a decree allowing the adoption of Lee Bak Won by Ho Tin in accordance with a petition of Ho Tin and the parents of the child.

The motion for default in the case of S. Ozaki vs. the Hawaii Land company was withdrawn.

LOST OVERBOARD

The trip from Seattle and Port Townsend that the bark S. C. Allen finished this morning was probably the worst in her career. On December 2 she was holed under two lower topsails to a south west gale. The sea was tremendous. One sea broke clean over the deck load picking up Delmer H. Knight, the ship's boy and washing him overboard.

GREENS FOR ST. CLEMENT'S. A box of greens and holly was received via the S. S. Aorangi Saturday by Rev. John Osborne. The stuff was sent to Rev. Osborne for decorating St. Clement's Chapel during the Christmas celebration exercises.

CRAWFORD'S CONTEMPT CASE. The contempt citation issued against W. J. Crawford for failure to pay alimony, was continued this morning for one day, owing to the absence of Crawford's attorney.

FROM PUGET SOUND. The S. S. California will sail from Puget Sound ports on January 1 for Honolulu.

VARIOLOID ON THE SOLACE. The naval transport Solace did not sail for Guam and Manila yesterday. A case of varioloid was discovered about her. The vessel was moved out in the stream and the patient was removed to the Quarantine station. The vessel is being fumigated.

IRMGARD TOOK SUGAR. The barkentine Irmgard sailed yesterday morning for San Francisco with 224 tons of sugar. She carried two passengers, Alba Hurt and Mr. Johnson. The vessel struck very poor wind after she dropped the tow. She is in good condition and expects to make a quick run to the coast.

BARKENTINE AMELIA SAILED. The barkentine Amelia sailed on Saturday afternoon for Eureka instead of yesterday. Captain Willer had first planned to sail yesterday but evidently decided to get out a day ahead of time. She went in ballast.

RAILROAD MEN ADJOURN. A meeting of the Kona-Kau Railway Company, advertised for this morning at 10 o'clock in the offices of the company, Stangenwald building, was adjourned subject to the call of the chair. It had been the intention to elect officers at this meeting, but owing to the unavoidable absence of several gentlemen who are closely connected with the project, the adjournment was taken until more convenient occasion.

LAWYER NOBLES FOUND DEAD

NEGRO ATTORNEY DIES FROM HEMORRHAGE—STENOGRAPHER MAKES GHASTLY DISCOVERY.

Joseph S. Nobles, a negro attorney who came to Honolulu about a year ago to practice law, died this morning in his office from a hemorrhage.

Nobles was a comparatively young man, approximately thirty years of age, and was apparently of consumptive tendency. His practice has not been very remunerative, but he has always dressed neatly and upon the body this morning was found a small amount of cash.

The death was a tragic one. Nobles was seen on the street this morning at noon and apparently returned to his office after eating lunch. He seems to have gone to the bath room and toilet and there have been taken with him hemorrhage. Apparently he returned to his office, where the cuspidor is full of blood, with his clothes still disarranged and, finding the hemorrhage increasing, attempted to get assistance.

The office is on the second floor of the Collins building on King street next to the new Wally block and opposite the Grill. Nobles had a small front office and J. A. M. Johnson, manufacturer's agent, occupied the rest of the floor. It was his assistant and stenographer who, hearing the disturbance of strange sounds came to the office to see Nobles, his toilet disarranged, collapsed in a few moments. The loss of blood was very great. Nobles' body is in an improvised condition, emaciated not apparently from want but from disease. Special Officer McDuffie arrived on the scene followed promptly by Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth who took charge and set a guard over the premises of J. A. M. Johnson which had been left open and to which neither proprietor or assistant could be induced to return for a while.

Nobles leaves but few papers. His law business has not been lucrative and he was not exceedingly well versed in its practice. He was a graduate of Howard College, Washington, D. C., the well known institution for negro students. But few papers and books were in his office which is cheaply furnished. A bottle, almost empty, of Scott's Emulsion showed how he had attempted to check the ravages of the disease. An old Portuguese named Lopez who lives at Kaihii was a friend of the deceased, and has been sent for. H. H. Williams has the body in charge. A coroner's inquest will be held.

SCHOONER SIGHTED. The four-masted schooner William Nottingham from Newcastle, Australia, was sighted off Diamond Head this afternoon at 1.55.

J. H. FORREST WAS ROBBED. J. H. Forrest was robbed of a purse containing about $150 Sunday morning. His room in Heien's court was entered.

ISLAND STEAMER'S CHRISTMAS. There will be no change in the regular sailing of the various island steamers as Christmas occurs in the middle of their runs so there will be no change to postpone the departures and give the crews that day in port. The Kinau will be in Hilo on Christmas day, and the other vessels will probably be at some port on their runs. Special feasts have been promised by the various stewards.

MAJOR DAVIS. Major Edward Davis who has been ordered to the Philippines, will leave Honolulu with his wife and daughter by the Ventura January 15 for San Francisco. Mrs. Davis and Miss Davis will remain on the mainland while Major Davis will go by transport to Manila.

SANTA CLAUS' BOX. All little girls and boys should not forget that Santa Claus has left his Letter Box at the store of Wall, Nichols Co., Ltd. A beautiful Doll and a Coaster Wagon are the prizes he will give for the most original letter.

ARE ASKING A REPRIEVE

ASSOUAN DAM OF THE NILE FORMALLY OPENED FOR USE

NEW YORK, December 7.—A cablegram to the Tribune from London says: The Assouan dam will be formally opened tomorrow by the Duke of Connaught. The Assouan dam and the Assiout barrage, which have cost between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000, will systematize irrigation, impart security to crops and stability to harvests, and widen the area of Nile lands under cultivation. The annual flood, which fertilized the soil, has already passed, and the sluices of the Assouan dam are closed for the storage of water until March 1st. The sluices will then be opened gradually, and for four months there will be a good head of water in the Treery irrigating canal for the use of cultivators. The scarcity of water caused by the low Nile will be avoided, and a great increase in the agricultural resources of Egypt will be brought about.

AN EDDY OF THE NATIONS

POLYGLOT NATURE OF POLICE COURT CALENDAR HOLDS COMMISSIONER EUSTIS INTERESTED.

Commissioner Eustis visited the police court this morning and was an interested spectator and listener to the defendants, the prosecution, the pleadings of the attorneys and the pithy sayings of Judge Luther Wilcox. Mr. Eustis is a prominent lawyer of Minnesota although his clients are not of the character that line up on Monday morning for an interview with Colonel R. E. Morse and Judge Wilcox.

Seven nationalities, Porto Rican, Japanese, Portuguese, Chinese, Hawaiian, an Englishman, the sailor from the Solace suspected of having taken a watch and an American, said to have sold liquor to a minor came up one after the other, and the commissioner, from the seats reserved for the lawyers, followed interestedly the interpretation and the little homilies with which the Judge fined or dismissed the offenders. Mr. Eustis secured a copy of the calendar and made notes opposite the cases of the judgment rendered and the nationality of the defendant. It will form an interesting souvenir of his visit.

"This is indeed an eddy of the nations," said Mr. Eustis. "The proceedings are very interesting to anyone used only to the polyglot mixture of nationalities who are nevertheless all Americans. You have all these here and also these Asiatics and Latin races. Teaching them to respect the American law in a fashion adapted to their understanding and with a remembrance of their handicaps is a first class education for these outland people, whether they stay here or go back to their own countries again."

There will be mail from San Francisco tomorrow. The Nebraska will arrive in the afternoon, it is expected. She ought to bring a very heavy mail.

"Good-bye Papa."

There were few dry eyes in the court room when the commission returned their verdict of "insanity," and the unfortunate man seemed to realize the gravity of his situation as the heartbroken wife bade him farewell.

The mental breakdown which settled as a pall over this once happy family, came after years of concentrated nervous strain and overwork had sapped the brain and nerves of their vitality.

"The first trouble I noticed was inability to sleep followed by general weakness, which continued until I had to be taken to and from my store in a carriage. Finally I had to give up and for five months was confined to the house with an attendant night and day.

BUILDINGS AND BEAUTY.

People who imagine that the Post Office or other Federal buildings will go up with the rapidity of magic are reckoning without their host. Even if we agree upon a site, which there seems every reason to feel assured of, and we give a clear title, which is a sine qua non, it will be a long time before the buildings are completed, and some of the grey beards who have been arguing upon where the buildings should or should not be placed, will be comfortably tucked up under the sod or over the buildings are in use. There are quite a number of those who have been discussing the question who will never put foot within the walls, and will never be tired walking to them wherever they may be placed, or expend one quarter in hack hire to get there.

The first thing is to get a free site. Hilo was fortunate in that there was government land perfectly suitable for a site, and there was no question of negotiating with private parties for an exchange. We have no suitable site without exchanging or buying. The "gor" would be an excellent site, but it is owned by several parties, some of them absentees, so that if we want a site at once the choice is narrowed down to such as we can make an exchange for, and this seems to be the Bishop Estate land opposite the newly constructed Young Building. The Custom House site can remain the same, and additional lots be added to it.

Having cleared away choice of site difficulties, and having given Mr. Eustis an abstract of clear title, we may hope for a favorable report and a vote of money for the erection of the buildings during this session of Congress. The money for this, however, would not be available till next August at the earliest. There will have to be plans made and submitted, then there will have to be worked out in detail, bids will have to be called for and the contracts will have to be let. A gentleman, well conversant with Federal work, informs the Star, that it is very unlikely that designs, specifications and so forth will be ready as soon as the money is available, so that we may look for the letting of the contracts some time after the time that the money becomes available. Then as to the completion of the work, the same authority puts it at from five to ten years. As the buildings will be erected to stand considerably over a century this is by no means an extravagant estimate. There is therefore no need of some of us worrying about the site too much. The young generation should have far more to say about it than their elders.

There is one thing, however, that we may be sure about, and that is that the buildings will be substantial to a degree and that they will last. What their style of architecture will be, whether they will adapt themselves to the country, or whether, like all our public buildings they will be a replica of buildings elsewhere, remains to be seen. We may take it for granted, however, that they will not strike out in new lines.

Out of the discussion upon the sites of the buildings has arisen a train of ideas which, it is to be hoped, will not fall into the limbo of forgetfulness. The fact that we are going to have new Federal buildings has aroused in us the esthetic sense, and we begin to talk of beautifying the city. We should have done this long ago. Our forerunners were woefully neglectful, and we have been so ourselves.

Mr. Eustis has struck the right note when urging the beautifying of the harbor front. He suggests grassy lawns and shady trees, and deprecates the coal heaps and lumber piles which now greet the eye of the voyager when he enters the harbor. Modern civilization is welded to the practical, and the wharves, though interesting are by no means esthetic. The water front of San Francisco can hardly lay claim to being a joy to the eye in an esthetic sense, whatever it may be in a practical one. If the stranger first landing on our shores could walk off his steamer into green lawns, and under shady trees, he certainly would get a very pleasant impression. But there are few places in the world which can present such advantages.

In classic times people did beautify their harbors, and had some of their most beautiful buildings on the water front. But that was in a measure because, though heathens, they were intensely and earnestly religious, and every sailor wanted to pay his devotions to the deities of the sea. Hence arose magnificent temples, and those broad, massive steps which swept from the water's edge to the fore-shore, decorated with statues and symbols, while magnificent marble or granite quays formed a barrier against the waters. Those old harbors of the Piræus, of Carthage, of Alexandria, of Tyre must have been worth seeing, but their day has gone. We can, however, have a clean water front, and we can make it tropically beautiful. By all means let us set a good example.

North Hilo seems to be having an abnormal number of cases of typhoid fever. Apparently there is a considerable sale of drugs by peddlers and others, which is doing considerable harm to the sufferers. This is a matter which the Board of Health might take up.

The cable is to be used by the stock exchange. This is the first announcement of its mere business use. Cables will form a calculable item of expense among all our main business houses. Like every new thing, it will be a wonder for a short time, and will then settle down into a regular ordinary necessity.

Every one will be glad to hear that Bishop Gulistan has stood the voyage so well and is resting easily after the exertion of the journey. Bishop Gulistan is deservedly popular with those of other religions besides his own and it is to be hoped that he may yet rally in spite of his disease and continue long with us.

A hold up which has resulted in the tables being turned, and the holder up being landed in the police station, is a novel experience. The Chinese hack man who made so good a fight on Saturday night and bested his opponent deserves the highest of praise. It has become a common thing for a tough when hard up to hire a hack and drive to some lonely part of the city, finishing up the drive by robbing the hack man. This last attempt will make the amusement far less popular than it has been.

It will be sometime before the Rhodes scholarships are properly adjusted. The scholarships are to be divided up amongst the various colleges of Oxford University. The rules of entrance are not the same in each college, which is a body corporate. Some scholarships will be more desirable for one class of men while others will be sought after by others. In some cases post graduate scholarships will be sought for in others under graduate scholarships will be offered. The details of preparation for entrance examinations will also have to be published. The first students under the bequest will not enter at Oxford before the winter term of 1904, after the long vacation. It will not be an easy matter to secure the scholarships, and will entail a stringent examination in all probability. Entrance will not be by nomination.

That Fanning Island was not the property of the Greig family entirely seems to have been forgotten by many people. There was, upon the death of old Captain Greig some little trouble in establishing the Bicknell claims, but they were established. Fannings used to be of importance as a guano island. The supplies of guano are pretty well worked out. Its great value now is as a telegraph station. The Bicknell share has been offered for $40,000, and the Greig share will be bought up in all probability. It is to the interest of

The educational test is supposed to be able to keep out the Japanese, but if one knows any thing of that ingenious and able race, one may feel satisfied that no educational test in Japanese is going to shut them out from where they wish to go. It may shut out the Russian and it will certainly shut out Czech, but the little brown men will produce a card from his sleeve and win the game hands down.

As a study of the intricacies of legal chicanery, commend the community to the Sumner case. It is well on a par with some of the very worst chicanery cases which have disgraced the legal annals of England. The Sumner case probably shows mankind at its very worst. Good, straightforward highway robbery is quite refreshing besides the quibbling and the grasping which is striving to get hold of the fortune of a decrepit old man, nearing the end of his earthly pilgrimage. He is fortunate in having received so large a sum for other people to quarrel about.

INCENDIARISM IS SUSPECTED

FIRE CHIEF THURSTON IS INVESTIGATING A FIRE THAT OCCURRED THIS MORNING.

Fire Chief Thurston is investigating what may prove to be a case of incendiarism. The fire occurred about 2:30 this morning in the tailor shop of Lum Lock Sing on the mauka side of Beretania street near King.

The fire started in the front part of the building in two different places close to the front door. People passing saw the reflection of the flames and turned in the alarm. The department soon had the fire extinguished. The damage was less than $50. When Chief Thurston learned that there was an insurance of $500 on the stock, an amount which is claimed to be in excess of the value of the goods, his suspicions were aroused, especially when the nature of the origin of the fire was discussed by him.

It was very fortunate that the discovery of the fire was made so promptly as the store was on the ground floor of a large two-story building occupied on the second floor by numerous lodgers as sleeping quarters. Had the fire gotten beyond control lives might have been lost. The building is owned by the Palama Investment Company.

The case is one where there is not much tangible evidence on which to work. Chief Thurston proposes to investigate the matter thoroughly and it is not improbable that a fire inquiry may be called. The matter has not as yet been reported to the High Sheriff for investigation.

MORE CRIMINAL INFORMATIONS

JAPANESE DEPORTED FROM SAN FRANCISCO ESCAPED FROM THE KOREA AT THIS PORT.

Two more criminal informations against H. Hackfeld & Company were filed this morning by District Attorney Breckons, in the United States court. It is charged that the company allowed the escape of two Japanese from the S. S. Korea, who had no right to land in the Territory, having attempted to land on American soil in violation of the alien immigration laws.

The two Japs, it is stated, had been rejected by the immigration officials at San Francisco, and placed on board the S. S. Korea for return to Japan, arriving here on November 12. They are supposed to have got ashore through port holes, eluding the guards. The defendants will probably accept judgment against them without contest, the same as in the three other cases recently heard, in which Judge Estee imposed a fine of $300, and an appeal will be taken to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, if Estee makes that ruling again. It is contended by the defendants that they are not liable in cases where such rejected immigrants get ashore, if it is not through negligence.

FEW PASSENGERS DEPARTING.

Probably the smallest list of passengers in a year is booked to depart tomorrow on the S. S. Sonoma for San Francisco. Scarcely a dozen and a half people have engaged passage. This falling off in passenger travel is evidently due to a desire on the part of people not to leave Honolulu before Christmas. The Sonoma is due tomorrow morning from Sydney, Auckland, Pago Pago and Fanning Island. She will have later news perhaps, by way of the Fanning cable. She will sail in the afternoon for San Francisco.

The S. S. Nebraskan is expected tomorrow afternoon from San Francisco with later mail and news files.
The S. S. Sierra is due Wednesday morning from San Francisco with later mail and news, and the Nippon Maru is expected Thursday afternoon from San Francisco.

FRIEND'S SPECIAL EDITION.
The Diamond Jubilee edition of the Friend, fully illustrated and in attractive cover, treating of the doings of the American Board of Missions for the last eighty years and its own history for sixty, has been issued from the press. The number is contributed to by many authoritative writers and will be valued as a souvenir of Religious Hawaii.

HIS LAST VOYAGE.

Captain von Oterndorp of the Sonoma To Retire.

The Sonoma due from the Colonies tomorrow in her last voyage under her present commander, Captain K. von Oterndorp. With this voyage he retires from the sea after more than forty years as a commanding officer of ocean going vessels. He was at one time the commodore commander of the North German Lloyd's fleet. Captain von Oterndorp has been for fifteen or more years in the employ of the Oceanic company sailing between San Francisco and Sydney, and touching at this port. Hundreds of island people have traveled with him and know him well and respect him heartily. It has been proposed that some public or semi-public recognition of Captain Oterndorp's long service and the esteem in which he is held by this community be given while the Sonoma is in port tomorrow. This will probably be the last time Captain von Oterndorp will ever be in Honolulu.

TRIED IT ON THE DOG.

The final chapter of that stirring story of adventure "The Fangs of the Dog, or Dow's Revenge" was enacted at the prison last Saturday afternoon. H. M. Dow the clerk to the High Sheriff was badly bitten by a vicious dog while near the corner of Beretania and Alakea streets Saturday morning. Mr. Dow tried to capture the dog but failed. Later in the day, a dog was caught in the vicinity of Nuuanu and King streets. Mr. Dow was unable to identify the dog as his assailant and wishing to be entirely just in the matter, went to a house near where he had been bitten to get some person to come to the police station and identify the suspected animal.

While thus engaged Mr. Dow secured trace of another dog which proved to be his assailant. The right dog was taken to the jail and there under supervision of Chester Doyle was given a strong antidote to biting. The dog clerk from whom the poison was secured, said that he was not sure how soon the poison might take effect. Two drops were tried on the dog. A verdict of instantaneous death was returned. Prussic acid was used.

MEXICO AND SILVER

From the Boston Herald.

The Mexican government is out with a new plan for collecting import duties designed to meet the monetary troubles which Mexico is experiencing owing to being a silver standard country, with silver dropping quite steadily in value. No plan of this character, however, is going to check Mexico from becoming in the future, possibly in the near future, a gold standard country. There are, of course, certain classes in the population of our sister republic that benefit by the low price of silver, and these will do everything in their power to keep up the present system, as it makes their business extremely profitable. For instance, the principal exports of Mexico are products in which labor is the heaviest charge, and as exports are sold on a gold basis and labor in Mexico is paid on the silver basis, those interested in this class of business have an advantage under the silver standard. In October we printed an article commenting on some statements made by Mr. Creel, a financial authority of that country, in regard to the probability of Mexico adopting a gold standard. Mr. Creel showed that the silver standard came hardest on the laborers and on the railroads. As regards the latter, he stated that it is told as a fact in Mexico that the Mexican Central railroad lost $100,000 a year for every one cent of reduction per ounce in the price of silver. The reason for this is that the road has been built by outside capital and pays its interest and dividends in gold, while its receipts are in silver. Even measured on the silver standard, wages are low in Mexico, much lower, in fact, than are those paid to the class that we often hear alluded to by politicians as "the pauper labor of Europe." Mr. Creel was confident that the adoption of the gold standard would be of the greatest benefit to the laboring classes. Certainly the silver standard is now proving a millstone, to quote from our previous comment, which prevents Mexico from advancing as fast as she would industrially if she had the same monetary standard as the other great business countries of the world.

BRITISH WORKMEN

From the Philadelphia Press.

The English workmen who have been visiting American workshops to learn what advantage, if any, Americans have, go back home confident of having discovered a number of things to the credit of the men on this side of the ocean. But they appear to think that it is hopeless to secure the adoption in England of some of these advantages.

One of the delegates says that American workmen have an incentive to improvement because American employers encourage them and reward them when they accomplish anything extra. In England, he says, the reverse is the case. If a clever workman, getting pay by the piece, increase his output the English master, as a rule, "issues an order fixing a maximum—tying the men down to a certain wage." In this country "the men receive splendid treatment," is the opinion of these foreign delegates. They tell of instances that have come under their observation where workmen were given extra pay for having done something or discovered something of advantage to their employer, adding that such things did not happen in England.

They compliment American mills as having finer machinery, and numerous appliances for saving labor, by which the workmen benefit, but say that a different state of things exists in Great Britain. The workmen there oppose machinery, "because it means a reduction of men and wages." British workmen are said to be capable of exercising their brains, but they are not encouraged by their employers to do so. The treatment of men in England is declared to be such that they are "cramped, snubbed, crippled at every turn, life and ambition crushed out of them by the blind tyranny and obstinate conservatism of the employer."

This is a different story from what we have been told by British employers visiting the United States. They placed the blame upon what they called the stupidity of British "unions," and the way the men are cramped by such organizations. Both sides may be at fault. It is much easier to remedy a defect in machinery than it is to change either the workmen or employers.

JIM CROW LAW

From the Springfield Republican.

A Virginia negro, who looks so white that he was not allowed to ride in the negro compartment of a train, sued the railroad company for heavy damages, because he was put off the train after his laughty refusal to ride with the white passengers. Here you have the comedy of the negro segregation laws mixed with the tragedy of them. H. W. Hawkes, the plaintiff, succeeded easily in proving to the satisfaction of the court that he was classed in the tax lists as a negro and that he was the descendent of two slaves. He gained his contention as to being officially a negro without difficulty, yet he failed to secure an award of money damages from the Coast Line railroad company. It seems that the "Jim Crow" law of Virginia, contemplating the difficulty conductors may have in determining the race of some blacks who are very white and of some whites who are very dark, empowers the conductor to make an arbitrary classification of his passengers to suit himself, regardless of his expertness as an ethnologist. Consequently, the court refused to award damages to Hawkes, although it conceded that the conductor had erred in thinking him a white man. Mr. Hawkes has at least drawn attention to himself as being proud of his very slight amount of negro blood, and as regarding as an insult and an injury any attempt to classify him with white men. He sets a good example to the whole negro race.

AIKURIMU.

In advocating the use of Roman type for the representation of foreign names in Japanese books and papers, the Kobe Chronicle hits upon an idea which would certainly save much labor to translators who have to spend much time in finding names that resemble the kana transliterations. The difficulty, however, is to know when to use the Roman characters and when to keep to the kana syllabary. Thus our contemporary asks why "aisukurimu" should not be written, "ice cream." There are two reasons why this should not be done. One is that "aisukurimu" has entered into the Japanese vocabulary and is now practically a Japanese word. The transliteration of Japanese words into Roman characters is phonetic, or semi-phonetic, as in "aisukurimu," while "ice cream" is not a phonetic rendering even of the English sound, much less of the Japanese. The other reason is that owing to certain peculiarities of Japanese speech it is impossible for the Japanese without training to pronounce English words correctly. They make the nearest approach the peculiarities of their pronunciation admit, just the same as English pronounce the modern French words that have been received into the English language with an adaptation of English values to French sounds. Of course phonetic transcription might be sacrificed by giving the words in the foreign spelling and keeping the Japanese pronunciation, but the value of phonetic spelling is too great to be sacrificed for the small gain that would result from such a procedure. In foreign words, especially proper names, that have not been received into the Japanese vocabulary, transcription in Roman letters might be followed with advantage.—Japan Herald.

PRESIDENT AND THE NEGRO

From the Mobile Register.

Mr. Roosevelt is right in adherence to the general principle that negroes, being fit, should be recognized by appointment to federal office; and right, also, in contending that the greatest incentive that can be given to the negro race will be that afforded by the thought that the members of the race, when fit, will be given recognition by the government.

As long as the negroes are citizens they are part of the people, and are concerned, as are the whites, in good government, even as they alike are affected by bad government; and it is their right to be considered by the chief magistrate, who is the president of the nation, the official head of all the people, white and black.

In applying the principle, however, the president should take care not to lean too far in the direction of the negro. Let the negro be recognized in every way possible; let him be appointed to office and encouraged to take his part in the republic, but be sure that no narrow, one-sided and unfair definition of his qualification and fitness be made. It is in definitions that the greatest opportunity for error exists.

If the president gets this definition right, he will make no mistake in the application of his principle.

LAND FRAUDS

Secretary Hitchcock of the Interior Department has undertaken a fight against land frauds in the West that is attracting greater attention than any movement in that department for many years. There is prospect of the exposure of a conspiracy that reaches into more than 20 states of the West and which includes interests that are moving heaven and earth in their fight against the government. In brief, it is a fight against cattlemen who have unlawfully fenced government lands for pasture purposes and who, it is claimed, are perpetrating wholesale frauds in an attempt to secure actual possession of the lands.

President Roosevelt is behind his secretary of the interior in this fight and proposes to see it through. More than a year ago the president directed the interior department to give notice to the cattlemen to take down their fences. This order has been practically ignored and the federal authorities in several of the western states have been appealed to and United States grand juries are now inquiring into the violations of the law and particularly into the scandalous scheme that has been adopted by large syndicates to secure possession of these government lands.

In order to hold the lands they have fenced in, cattlemen have resorted to the scheme of importing the widows, or alleged widows, of Union soldiers to take up homesteads and then sell their claims. The weakness in this scheme is that the applicant filing on public lands must make oath that they are for her exclusive use and if she files with the intention of selling to any one she simply commits perjury. As soldiers' widow are permitted to make entries without living on the property, they were selected to take up the lands in the interests of the cattlemen.

Col. John S. Mosby, the famous confederate guerrilla, now the agent of the land department of the United States government, is especially active in ferreting out these frauds. He has gone ahead in energetic style and his activity has aroused the opposition of some powerful cattle syndicates, who are trying to array senators and representatives from the western states against the policy. President Roosevelt will not permit any influence to interfere with the prosecution of these frauds, as he is determined to carry out the law. The cattlemen will importune Congress to pass a law permitting them to fence in the public domain.

IN VENEZUELA.

A Wave of Patriotism comes to Castro's Support.

WASHINGTON, December 12.—A cablegram received at the state department today from Minister Bowen at Caracas states that the Venezuelan government has requested him to propose to Great Britain and Germany that the difficulties arising out of the claims for alleged damages and injuries to British and German subjects during the civil war be submitted to arbitration.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Dec. 11.—The Government has taken preservative measures at La Guayra. All the deposits of coal at the navy yard and all the British cars on the La Guayra railroad have been brought here, rendering impossible the transportation of the allied troops by rail. Gen. Ferrier, the Minister of War, spent all today in choosing spots in the mountains where trenches are to be dug.

The Governor of Caracas has issued the following decree: "All Venezuelans living in the federal district, between the ages of 15 and 50 years, must enroll themselves in the militia. Any such person refusing to enroll voluntarily as patriot demands, will be declared a traitor and sent before the tribunals."

Yesterday, after a long conference with President Castro, United States Minister Bowen obtained an order for the liberation of the remaining British and German subjects who were held prisoners, and an hour later all had been released. Minister Bowen and Secretary of Legation Russell went to the jail five times, and assisted the poor colored British subjects and those who were ill. The order for the release of the prisoners has made a good impression and is looked upon as a politic act on the part of President Castro.

Everyone in Caracas believes the situation to be desperate, and threatens war unless Minister Bowen succeeds in having the matters in dispute submitted to arbitration. It is said on the authority of an official near to President Castro that the President has allowed Minister Bowen to communicate with the Berlin and London Governments through the State Department at Washington, this being the only hope of avoiding a serious conflict. It is reported that the plan of the British and German forces is to secure the ports of La Guayra and Puerto Cabello.

It is stated on good authority that the Venezuela Government has asked Minister Bowen to act as arbitrator. The English telephone office has been seized.

OIL AT KIHEI.

WAILUKU, December 20.—The Fullerton, Captain McDonald, has unloaded her first cargo of fuel oil at Kihei, the former Kihei cargo having been unloaded at Kahulu and shipped to Kihei in tank cars.

In order to unload at Kihei, the Fullerton was equipped with 3,000 worth of four-inch hose. The vessel was moored about sixteen hundred feet from the wharf, and the hose was laid from the ship to the wharf. The cargo consisting of over 15,000 barrels of oil, was then pumped from the ship to the Kihei oil tanks at the minimum rate of about 500 barrels per hour. The Fullerton completed the discharge of her cargo during Wednesday night, and on Thursday reeled in her hose preparatory to her immediate return to the coast.

CAPTAIN COOK'S MONUMENT.

EDITOR STAR:—Anent the editorial you very recently printed explanatory of the erection of the Capt. Cook monument at Kealahou, it may be of some further information to state that a very much older tribute to the English sailor has lately come under the inspection of the writer.

It is a copper plate, of size 14"x22", upon which is engraved the following inscription—the plate marking being by closely following, punched indentations.

NEAR THIS SPOT FELL CAPT. JAMES COOK: R. N. THE RENOWNED CIRCUMNAVIGATOR WHO DISCOVERED THESE ISLANDS A. D. 1778.

HIS MAJESTY'S SHIP IMOGENE OCTOBER 17, 1837. "Wm. Cary."

This was the original tribute and was fixed to a cocoanut tree that stood 200 feet west of the present obelisk. The tree died and fell, and a section of the trunk was used for years as a resting block for canoes. This section rotted and the copper plate referred to was exposed, and just as it was purposed to use it as a patch on a broken canoe, a resident of Napoosoo secured the historical relic and had it cleared from the verdigris of decades.

It will be noticed that the date Oct. 1837, was after Victoria's accession, yet owing to the then isolation of the Pacific station the "Imogene" captain was unaware that he owed allegiance to a Queen instead of, as he loyally thought, a King.

The metallic record seems good for many hundred years and the lettering is as clear as on the day of its making.

ANGLO-AMERICAN.

AT CENTRAL UNION.

Dudley Buck's cantata, "The Coming of the King," was ably rendered at the Christmas praise service held yesterday evening at the Central Union church. Despite the weather a large congregation was present. The church was garlanded with Christmas greens. Tomorrow evening the Christmas entertainment for the children of the Sunday school will be held in the lecture room of the church. Next Sunday the Rev. J. P. Erdman will preach the sermon at the morning service, the occasion being in the nature of a farewell before he leaves for his new field of labor as a missionary to China.

Many dollars are turned away annually by The Star in rejecting offensive and improper advertisements offered for insertion in its columns.

This is a cogent reason why The Star's advertising columns are so generally used and so widely read.
