THE WOUNDED SLAUGHTERED AND SUSPECTS SHOT

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

CERRA PRIETA, Mexico, December 14.—Yesterday's battle between the government forces and the revolutionists is considered a draw. It was followed by terrible reprisals by the government troops on rebels who fell into their hands. Wounded rebels were bayoneted to death. Thirty citizens of this place, who were unable to prove their loyalty to the government, were lined up and shot.

The government admits a loss of 14 men killed and 27 injured in the fighting yesterday.

HAWAII TO CHALLENGE SAN FRANCISCO TO ROWING RACES

One of the first fruits of the recent admission of Hawaii into the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States will probably be a series of rowing races between one of the rowing clubs of San Francisco and Honolulu, for a proposition which is receiving some consideration locally will be made to that effect when the Sierra reaches the mainland.

L. M. Hale, of Hilo, is one of the passengers on the Sierra and he has been authorized by the Healan Club to approach the committees of the various rowing clubs around San Francisco and endeavor to arrange a series of inter-club events. The matter has not been taken up officially by the Healan Club, but when it is seen how the clubs at San Francisco welcome the suggestions which Hale will make the matter will be taken up here. No difficulty is anticipated locally in the matter, for it would be a simple matter to send a crew across the Pacific and meet some of the clubs at San Francisco, though whether that crew would reach the form of the Californians is a moot point.

It is probable that the crew chosen will be selected from both rowing clubs here, for in a matter of this character where the rowing honor of the islands is at stake it behoves all interested to see that the very best crew is sent over. Hale will offer the members of the rowing clubs at San Francisco visiting members' privileges to the Healan Club and it is hoped that a similar courtesy will be extended to the members of the Healan Club by the clubs on the other side.

The suggestion will command the support of all who are interested in rowing, as well as providing an incentive to the younger generation to take up rowing with more enthusiasm and strive to win their letter. Any team leaving here should represent the Territory, and as such each member thereof would be entitled to his "H."

MRS. EDDY TO MRS. STETSON

BOSTON, Mass., December 14.—The will of the late Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy leaves a diamond cross to Mrs. Stetson, the church leader with whom Mrs. Eddy's supporters had a violent controversy about a year ago, when sensational charges were preferred against Mrs. Stetson, who was alleged to have employed "malicious animal magnetism" against her enemies. Mrs. Eddy left $10,000 to her son and his children, and made provision for the members of her household. The rest of her fortune of about a million and a half is left to the Mother church.

CITY FUNDS ARE AMPLE

Treasurer Trent's report for November presented to the Board of Supervisors today shows receipts of $96,649.18, disbursements of $51,974.67 and cash balance of $44,674.51. This places the municipality in good position for leaving a creditable surplus to the new board taking office in January.

The anti-expectation ordinance passed by four to three, the members voting against it being Aylett, Cox and Kane.

A vote of thanks to the board from the Waiatale, Kaimuki and Palolo Improvement Club for benefits received by the district was gratefully accepted.

The road committee was authorized to carry out an ancient road widening agreement with B. F. Dillingham on Alexander street, which had come down from the Territory through two previous county boards.

It was agreed to make an inspection of public works and property along the belt road around the island by the mayor and board tomorrow.

CATHCART QUILTS

Further developments have occurred in connection with the Lane case. This is a charge against Edward Lane of having assaulted a small girl, but out of this there have been other developments, notably that in which City Attorney Cathcart declined to prosecute, and then Lorrin Andrews was appointed in his stead. This matter was gone into about a week ago.

Today, however, Cathcart entered a nolle prosequi against Lane, but Judge Cooper refused to receive it, and thereupon Cathcart announced that he would never handle any more criminal cases in the circuit court. Judge Cooper refused to accept the nolle prosequi.

ELECTION CONTEST AFFIDAVITS DECLARED TO BE A FAKE

The election contest case of Bright et al v. Joseph Fern, the second contest in behalf of Lane, was before the Supreme Court again this morning. Attorney Thayer, who appeared for the defendant, submitted two affidavits signed by a native named Kallianu and John Hoale, in which both of them stated that they voted early in the morning, and that they were not asked to testify that they saw ballot papers exhibited. They stated that they were merely asked what time they voted, and then requested to sign the documents that were produced. They further alleged that they were not sworn, and were not asked to swear anything.

Attorney Davis asked that the court allow no further withdrawals. He said that it was now beyond the power of the men who had signed the petition to withdraw, as the matter was in the hands of the court. He thought that the court would be wasting time in taking testimony, as his side had got all the evidence it wanted. The other side must be responsible for the manner and means employed to obtain the affidavits.

Kallianu, a native, who was untidy, disreputable and had a fatuous expression on his face, then took the stand. He could speak excellent English, but he would not raise his voice. He stated that he signed his name to the document because he was asked to. He did not know what he was signing. He merely put his name at the place indicated. The page on which the signatures were placed was the only one shown to him. He signed his name in a carriage, and then went home. He was not told what was in the petition, nor did he attempt to look for himself.

The other native, Hoale, gave evidence in corroboration of the affidavit he had signed. Counsel then submitted argument, and judgment was reserved.

MERCHANTS.

Senator Wesley L. Jones, Washington, D. C.

Hawaii is solid for and joins multitude favoring San Francisco for Panama Pacific Exposition 1915.

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION.

The above cables were sent to Washington today by the Merchants' Association, one of them being to the secretary to Delegate Kuhio, who is also agent of the Association, and one to the chairman of the Senate committee on industrial expositions. The California delegation is now in Washington working for San Francisco, and the expressions from Hawaii will be timely.

EIGHTY CASES OF DIPHTHERIA

Dr. Pratt returned from Maui this morning. When seen he stated that they had discovered about eighty cases of diphtheria, but it is highly probable that there are many more. Thorough examinations are being made, and each case is being quarantined as fast as it is discovered. All public meetings are prohibited, but this will probably be lifted shortly.

The crusade to combat the epidemic is being organized rapidly, and patients and contacts were being removed to the isolation camp. Matters are getting down to a working basis, and it is hoped that the effects of the organization will soon begin to show. There are about 600 families, comprising about 2,000 souls, to be examined, and there is no saying what many cases will be discovered among them. All depends on the number of infected persons found whether the disease will soon be stamped out, but everything seems to be going along well now, and there should be an improvement soon.

sequel entered on the ground that Cathcart had no jurisdiction over the case, as Lorrin Andrews had been appointed to conduct the prosecution by Attorney General Lindsay.

"Dear Sirs: As a meeting of the directors of this association, held in its rooms on December 2, 1910, it was unanimously decided to take active steps in the proposed expositions to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal, and also to commence a systematic campaign to 'boost' for San Francisco as the most desirable location for the event.

"Your directors suggest that you lose no opportunity of expressing yourself in this matter most forcibly to your friends in congress, business affiliations and connections throughout the mainland, urging them to favor San Francisco.

THE BRITISH ELECTION FIGURES NOW DECISIVE

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

LONDON, December 14.—Today's election returns removed all doubt as to the victory of the government in the elections. As the figures now stand the government has elected 328 members and the opposition 261. This gives the government almost a majority of the full membership of the House to be elected, with sixty-seven constituencies to be heard from, and makes the government's lead, as the count stands, 67 over the opposition. There is no chance that the figures yet to come in will enable the opposition to catch up, and it is regarded as settled that Premier Asquith and associates have won their final victory over the opposition.

The election is generally treated as the greatest crisis in English history for a long term of years. The new government, it is expected, will move at once to carry out its plan of practically abolishing the power of the House of Lords.

FREAR AMENDS THE MCCROSSON BILL

As the result of various suggestions, while another provides than in the event of the plant not costing so much as anticipated, the fifty-year term may be reduced, as fifty years was only mentioned as the term in order that the promoters could obtain a profit on their outlay. These amendments were not necessary, as these rearrangements could have been made without them, the Governor says.

CARNEGIE'S $10,000,000 FOR PEACE

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 14.—Andrew Carnegie has transferred the sum of ten million dollars, in bonds, to a board of trustees, with a provision that the revenue therefrom shall be used as a fund to aid the international peace movement. He provides that the trustees shall manage the big fund to bring about the abolition of war and establish permanent world peace.

CHRISTMAS CHEER IN LURLINE CARGO.

The Matson liner Lurline, Captain H. F. Weeden, which sailed from San Francisco on December 7, will be the last steamer to leave for Honolulu in time to reach the islands for the Christmas holidays, and as a consequence the hold and ice boxes of the steamer will be freighted with good things to eat for the islanders' Christmas dinners. In the main hold is a big consignment of holiday goods, and toys for the merchants' holiday trade, while the cold storage plant is filled with 75 tons of turkeys, meats, fancy vegetables, and general delicacies. In addition to the goods consigned to the merchants of the islands, the government is sending large stocks of holiday goods of all kinds to be distributed to the officers and men in the army barracks.

AT THE THEATERS

Every theater in town continues to attract large audiences each night, which goes to prove that there is ample room for excellent shows. The programs submitted at each house are good, and the additions and changes this week are all for the better.

Morris and Wilson.
As usual, Manager Congdon has struck a "boom" item, for in Morris and Wilson he undoubtedly has performers who are ahead of anything ever seen here in the acrobatic line. Their comedy is good, and they should prove as big a draw as Congdon has ever had at the Park. Collectively, they are the "College Chums," but individually they are Mal Mick and Red-head, respectively. Their initial turn is only a sample of some of the good ones they have yet to present. The remainder of the strong program is made up of the Medoras, Sandarte, and the Melotte Sisters, all of whom are extremely popular.

The Novelty.
The newcomers at the Novelty have become strong favorites already, and they should increase their popularity as time goes. Their sketch is a refined one, and Master Jamie with a little more experience will no doubt develop into a good performer. He is a precocious youth, and seems to have the makings of a good performer and dancer. He has a good line, for raconteurs, or monologists, are always popular when they are good. Wise & Milton seem to be permanently located at the Novelty and they have a tenacious grip on the affections of Novelty patrons. Their latest turn goes well, and there are also some good pictures. The usual matinee will be given today.

The Circus.
The entire change of program at the Circus on Monday evening attracted a large audience, and the new feats were just as warmly applauded as those submitted during the opening week. The bill is splendid one, and if the present standard is maintained, this excellent combination will surely have a long run in Honolulu. The entertainment is brought to a close with the pantomime entitled "A Happy Family," which proved highly amusing. A matinee will be given today, at which the children from all the homes will be admitted free of charge. The children are to be mustered by three o'clock, and they will be supplied with seats in a part of the tent where they will be able to witness the whole of the show without any discomfort. A reduced rate of general admission has been put into force.

The Bijou.
The change of program introduced at the Bijou is proving just as popular as that introduced at the opening, and each night there have been overflowing audiences, who have thoroughly appreciated the fine programs submitted to them. The management have an amateur night in view, and this should be productive of some good fun, for it is to be run on the same lines as the "trial" matinees, where those people who are under the impression that they are comedians, singers, or dancers, are given a try-out. The farce entitled "Slattery's Boarding House" is proving popular. The scenery used is good, and represents a distinct advance on anything attempted here at any of the picture shows.

Benefit For Lochrane.
Will Lochrane the Scottish comedian is to be tendered a complimentary benefit at the Orpheum Theater on Wednesday night next under the auspices of the Scottish Thistle Club. An excellent program is being compiled, and all the leading professionals and amateurs will assist. The program is being drafted, and Honolulu should see one of the finest variety entertainments that has ever been presented here. Arrangements are well forward, and an energetic committee has the matter in hand. "The Wee Scotch comic" should have a bumper house.

SPECIAL FILM AT SAVOY.
The Savoy theater this week has had an unusually fine program, not the least of the hits being the excellent film service. One in particular has attracted general attention. This represents French cavalry officers at drill, a picture taken by Pathe Freres, the French film manufacturers, and reproduced in natural color tones. The feats of horsemanship are amazing.
The vaudeville features are good all the way through. Ed Wida, the German eccentric musical comedian, playing on a number of instruments, including his silver-toned lyre, and his odd Teddy Bears, has made good, as has also George Stanley, a ballad singer. His songs are popular and his voice carries them well. Dot Raymond has several cuts songs and sings them in her usual captivating manner.
Tomorrow evening there will be the usual change of bill, when the Wai-anagath comedy company will put on another farce comedy sketch with Magrath doing his usual darkey stunt. The Empire theater, which is now under Manager Scully's management, is being remodelled and will be reopened on Monday night by a company of vaudeville artists who will arrive Monday on the Manchuria. The popular playhouse will have quite a different look for the moving picture cabinet has been entirely removed, thus affording much addition and very desirable seating capacity. The moving picture machine will be operated from a room erected over the ticket office. The stage has been brought forward and widened and will have all stage accessories.

TAFT URGES EXTENSION OF EIGHT-HOUR LABOR LAW

(From President Taft's Message.)

In 1892 the present eight-hour law was passed, which provides that the services and employment of all laborers and mechanics who are now or may hereafter be employed by the government of the United States, by the District of Columbia, or by any contractor or sub-contractor on any of the public works of the United States and of the said District of Columbia, is hereby restricted to eight hours in any one calendar day, and it shall be unlawful, etc., etc.

This law has been construed to limit the applications of the requirement to those who are directly employed by the government or to those who are employed upon public works situated upon land owned by the United States. This construction prevented its application to government battle-ships and other vessels built in private shipyards and to heavy guns and armor plate contracted for and made at private establishments.

The proposed act provides that no laborer or mechanic doing any part of the work contemplated by a contract with the United States in the employ of the contractor or any sub-contractor shall be required or permitted to work more than eight hours a day in any one calendar day.

It seems to me from the past history that the government has been committed to a policy of encouraging the limitation of the day's work to 8 hours in all works of construction initiated by itself, and it seems to me illogical to maintain a difference between government work done on government soil and government work done in a private establishment, when the work is of such large dimension and involves the expenditure of much labor for a considerable period, so that the private manufacturer may adjust himself and his establishment to the special terms of employment that he must make with his workmen for this particular job. To require, however, that every small contract of manufacture entered into by the government should be carried out by the contractor with men working at eight hours would be to impose an intolerable burden upon the government by limiting its sources of supply and excluding altogether the great majority of those who would otherwise compete for its business.

The proposed act recognizes this in the exceptions which it makes to contracts.

"For transportation by water or land, for the transmission of intelligence and for such materials or articles as may usually be bought in the open market whether made to conform to particular specifications or not, or for the purchase of supply by the government, whether manufactured to conform to particular specifications or not."

I recommend that instead of enacting the proposed bill, the meaning of which is not clear and definite and might be given a construction embarrassing to the public interest, the present act be enlarged by providing that public work shall be construed to include not only building and work upon public ground, but also ships, armor and large guns, when manufactured in private yards or factories.

One of the great difficulties in enforcing this eight-hour law is that its application under certain emergencies becomes extremely oppressive and there is a great temptation to subordinate officials to evade it. I think that it would be wiser to allow the President, by executive order, to declare an emergency in special instances in which the limitation might not apply, and, in such cases, to permit the payment by the government of extra compensation for the time worked each day in excess of eight hours. I may add that my suggestions in respect to this legislation have the full concurrence of the commissioner of Labor.

HAVEMEYERS ARE RETIRED

NEW YORK, December 14.—After dominating the American Sugar Refining Company, better known as the Sugar Trust, for years, the Havemeyer family stepped down from control today with the resignation of Horace Havemeyer, the son of the late H. O. Havemeyer, as practical head of the great company.

At the same time Arthur Dornier, treasurer of the company, also handed in his resignation, and new men unaffiliated with the Havemeyer interests will assume the practical management of the corporation's affairs.

While it is not officially admitted that the recent prosecutions by the government and the petition now before the federal court for a dissolution of the alleged trust, have anything to do with the resignation of Mr. Havemeyer and Mr. Dornier, it is the belief in financial circles here that this is the main reason for the severance of the connections by the Havemeyer family with the company.

Until a meeting of the board of directors is held it is improbable that any official announcement will be made regarding the successors to Havemeyer and Dornier.

JURY OF WOMEN MAY DISCUSS TOO LONG.

OLYMPIA, December 14.—The first complete jury composed entirely of women ever sworn in as such in these United States took their seats here yesterday in the superior court. The case at bar is not an important one, but lawyers and court attendants are wondering how long it will take them to reach a verdict. The entire city is much interested in the result.

REGULARS WIN AFTER DESPERATE FIGHTING.

EL PASO, December 14.—Word was received here last evening that a clash between the regular Mexican troops and the insurgents in the State of Chihuahua, near Cerro Prieto, took place yesterday, resulting in a victory for the regulars.

The fighting was desperate for hours, and even after the rebels had been driven back to the foothills they fought from every vantage point. For a time they held the regulars in check and finally retired, carrying with them their wounded, but leaving seventy dead on the field of battle.

ROOSEVELT FORGETS DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

NEW HAVEN, December 14.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt was the guest of honor here last evening at the annual banquet of the local chamber of commerce and was given a hearty welcome. As the principal speaker it was expected that he would make some statement in regard to the way the recent elections went, and much interest was manifested. But to the disappointment of those present Colonel Roosevelt did not refer to the Democratic victories in any way.

SIX ARE DROWNED.

SEATTLE, December 14.—While a party of local people were making a trip in the bay yesterday near this city the launch was overturned and six of the passengers were drowned. Most of the bodies were recovered.

CONVICTED OF FRAUD.

WASHINGTON, December 14.—James Huston, formerly treasurer of the United States, was last evening convicted of using the mails to defraud. Sentence will be passed tomorrow unless a stay of proceedings is granted.

JOIN THE NAVY SAYS BOB EVANS

WASHINGTON, November 14.—"Fighting Bob" Evans' advice to young men is to enter the navy. The famous sea fighter has just returned from New York to his home here.

"I would advise any young man who was trying to decide on a career to enter the navy," said Admiral Evans today. "He will never regret the experience it gives him. The navy turns out young men, who entered the training school inexperienced and of little value to themselves, or to any one else, skilled mechanics, steamfitters, blacksmiths, carpenters, wireless operators, telegraph operators. When they graduate they have had an expert training for industrial life and are fitted to take positions in large industries.

Should Serve Government.

"But," continued Admiral Evans, "a man who received his education from Uncle Sam should be willing to serve his country after he has received his education. He should remain in the navy, unless there is some very pressing reason for him to leave." Admiral Evans related an incident in his own life, showing that he might have become an active member of the steel trust had he desired. He said that an offer was made to him while he was steel expert in 1888 for the navy by one of the steel magnates to enter the steel business.

Doesn't Regret Millions.

"I turned the offer over in my mind that day," said Admiral Evans. "The government had given me my education with the idea that I should work for the government, and I felt it was my duty to remain in the navy. So I refused the offer. I have never been sorry, even when I have heard of other men who entered the business much later and have become wealthy. I place a greater value on the friends I have made around the world during my service in the navy than I do on the millions made in steel."

Admiral Evans declared he was glad to be back in Washington and that life in New York city was far more dangerous than life on a battleship. "In New York," he said, "it is as much as a man's life is worth to cross one of the busy streets."

INTERESTING TO MOTHERS—HOW TO CURE COUGHS AND COLDS.

There is one subject, which always interests the mothers of young children, and that is how to treat their coughs and colds, or to ward off a threatened attack of croup. For this purpose we can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always proves beneficial. In case of croup, it should be given as soon as the croupy cough appears; so as to prevent the attack. Keep it at hand ready for instant use. Many mothers do so, and it saves them much uneasiness. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

DANIEL LOGANEDITOR

WEDNESDAYDECEMBER 14, 1910

SHOULD HAVE FINER BUILDING NOW.

According to the President, a postoffice building is merely a warehouse for the reception, distribution and dispatch of mails. The picture of the Federal building, to include the postoffice, planned for Honolulu, which has been published, suggests that its architectural model might have been the average Honolulu waterfront warehouse. Besides the postoffice and custom house, the structure is intended to accommodate the Federal court and its offices. A large portion of the business of the Federal court is of the same kind as used to be in the jurisdiction of the police court. It will bring into the precincts of the building a motley crowd of debased people, and the patrol wagon or the prison black maria will often be standing in front of the edifice. As stated before, the building itself promises to be discounted in architecture by many business structures in its neighborhood.

It is for such a commonplace structure as promised that a block of valuable business property is about being condemned so as to make the structure one of the most conspicuous architectural objects in the heart of the business section. If the building were to be a stately one, and designed upon a model that harmonized with tropical conditions, it should properly have the setting of the spacious park contemplated. As the architectural prospect appears, however, the Mahuka site as originally accepted gives ample room and verge enough to display the ordinary looking structure of composite purposes.

As, however, the folly of enlarging the site is in process of perpetration, efforts should be put forth to have it redeemed, as far as possible, by the erection of a building that will not shame its setting. Indeed, there has already been an intimation from Washington that the plans may be revised so as to give an edifice more worthy of the enlarged site than that designed for the smaller premises. Deriving revenues aggregating more than two million dollars a year from Hawaii, the United States government can well afford to be exceptionally liberal in providing accommodations for the transaction of its business in this Territory.

At last the Kapaa land matter is settled. The amount of rental from Makee Sugar Company, to which Mr. Trent objected as being too small, is of much less importance than the reserving of water rights for possible homesteaders which is done in the lease. Full rental values under an absolute lease could hardly be expected with the homestead clause inserted, which gives the government power to terminate the lease inside of the fifteen-year period if the land is wanted for homesteads.

Honolulu has added a real estate exchange to its business organizations. Besides tending to uniform methods among the brokers themselves, the exchange ought to prove a benefit to people wanting either to buy or sell real estate.

The movement to procure an athletic field for the McKinley High School ought not to stop short of a system of playgrounds for all the school-going children of Honolulu.

Dr. Cook says the Arctic solitudes crazed him, so that he is not certain but he only thought he found the pole. What made him "think" he reached the summit of Mount McKinley?

ADMIRAL REES AND MANY OTHERS OFF FOR THE COAST

The scene on the wharf at the departure of the Sierra this morning was even more enthusiastic than usual. The band was in attendance and played an excellent selection of airs, including the ever popular Aloha. From the Sierra's decks thousands of multi-colored paper streamers stretched down to the wharf and the passengers presented an unusually pretty sight, covered as they all were with leis.

Admiral Corwin P. Rees and Mrs. Rees held a reception in the hall near the saloon and for well over an hour before the departure of the vessel they were besieged by friends anxious to bid them adieu, and to express the universal regret which prevails at the departure of the genial admiral and his wife. Admiral Rees is sorry to leave Honolulu. In an interview this morning he expressed his regret in tones of great feeling. He has had a happy time in the islands, has made a host of friends and the parting with them all was painful. Both he and Mrs. Rees were each one mass of flowers. Captain Cowles, who has succeeded Admiral Rees as Commandant of the Naval Station, together with many naval officers as well as the officers of the Marine battalion, and a large number of ladies were present to bid adieu to Admiral and Mrs. Rees. With the newspaper men Admiral Rees has ever been popular, for as he himself expressed it this morning, he "has found it easier to catch flies with sugar than with vinegar." Not very complimentary to the scribblers, perhaps, but the Admiral meant well, and good wishes go with him across the Pacific. Admiral and Mrs. Rees will spend a few months in Southern California before proceeding east to Washington, where they are to take up their residence.

Among the passengers are J. Del Valle, who came over on the Sierra to visit the volcano. Mr. Del Valle is a well known oil magnate and simply made a brief trip to the islands to see famed Kilauea.

Mrs. R. S. Morris, who is connected with the passenger department of the Oceanic Company in San Francisco, and whose husband is in the employ of Spreckels and Company, was a passenger. Mrs. Morris is returning from a trip to Australia, which she made via Tahiti and New Zealand, returning via Fiji and Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Porter, of Pasadena, came across to visit the volcano. Those who visited the volcano recently speak highly of the trip, particularly Dr. Clark and W. Ewings of the Sierra, both of whom went down in the special excursion arranged by the Inter-Island Company to suit the convenience of the Sierra's passengers.

Detective Tom Conlon, together with his two prisoners, Jew Yuen Mow and Ah Hoo Ngau, also left on the Sierra, thus terminating the legal squabbles which have occupied such a lot of time here.

There were also about twenty steerage passengers on the Sierra.

The Sierra had a cargo aggregating 1500 tons, including 3000 sacks of sugar, the usual shipment of canned and fresh pineapples the end of the season's exports, and a fair amount of rice.

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

In vain, in vain the old time rules for recognition clamor! You take a square and other tools, a rip saw and a hammer; you choose material that's strong, and plan your roof and gable, and then you build a thrilling song as you would build a stable. It's all as simple as get out, since Maxim's explanation! What were the old time bards about, to hunt for inspiration? The grand old poets walked abroad, by throes ecstatic driven, and while their mantles swept the sod, their eyes were fixed on heaven; they heard strange voices in the breeze, heard music in the willows, and there were stanzas in the trees, and cantos in the billows. In future times the youth will learn (or else his teacher whacks him) that poets who desire to earn their grub must follow Maxim. "You take a plane," the books will say, "a corkscrew and a chisel, and use these rules to build a lay, or it will be a fizzle. You do not wear a laurel wreath, to write an ode immortal; you take a saw with shining teeth, and make it hum and chortle; you mix a tub of sand and lime, you take a broom and hammer—and some may call the product rhyme, and other katzenjammer."

WANTS MUNICIPAL HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Plans for the creation of a health department of the local government have been outlined by Dr. Bruce McV. Mackall, city and county physician, and it is understood that they will be submitted to the legislature and that they are likely to meet with general support. Dr. Mackall calls attention to the dangers which surround Honolulu, and, in an article in the Paradise of the Pacific, outlined his plans as follows:

I believe that there should be added to the municipal departments of Honolulu a health department, thoroughly organized, and prepared to undertake the anti-mosquito campaign, on a scale comparable with that on which the United States authorities worked in Havana and Panama. In establishing such a bureau we are not experimenting. The record in Panama and Havana lies before us. The case no longer need arguing or proving, for it is demonstrated. In a year the Isthmus of Panama, world-famous as a veritable death-trap, the place where under the De Lesseps regime thousands of brave Frenchmen succumbed to diseases which seemed to be ineradicable and unpreventable, has become actually a healthful region. Honolulu is already healthful, but we are surrounded by dangers, and we have some preventable diseases with us nearly all the time.

The supervision of the handling of food supplies should come under the jurisdiction of a local health department. In some of our markets meat, fish and other edibles are sold under most undesirable conditions. There should be constant, rigid inspection of these places. We have, unfortunately, a large population not sufficiently educated in such matters to care for themselves. The infant death-rate in Honolulu is sad proof of this fact.

At the present time, as for many years past, tuberculosis leads all other diseases as a cause of death here. It is often, for weeks at a time, the only contagious disease in the whole city. It causes more deaths than all other diseases put together. The Hawaiians, especially, are sufferers. It is highly probable that their food supply is in part responsible, but one great cause must, of course, be the spread of the disease from one patient to another. It is high time that the community took hold of this problem, and established a health bureau able to look after it. The disease should be treated with due respect to its dangerous character. By proper care of patients, reasonable isolation in cases where isolation seems desirable, education of the people, attention to their food supplies, and enforcement of proper laws and regulation regarding cleanliness and ventilation in tenements and other places, the death-rate from consumption might be greatly reduced. I am emphatically of the opinion that this problem alone warrants the establishment of a municipal health department. It is of more immediate importance than the mosquito problem, though not so serious as mosquitoes might suddenly become if yellow fever or malaria were brought here.

A City and County Hospital is one of the vital needs of the community, and should be a part of the proposed Municipal Health Department. It should be centrally located and thoroughly equipped for emergency cases. While the initial cost of establishing it would, of course, be a new expense such an institution, in the long run, would save money to the city. Perhaps it is not generally known that Honolulu at present pays private hospitals for an average of thirty-seven cases per day, and that if the community did its whole duty the number of cases would be a good deal larger. The new public hospital should have a capacity of sixty-five cases a day. In saying that the community does not now do its whole duty in this connection, I refer to the fact that there are numerous cases constantly coming to my attention as a health officer which are really hospital cases, but cannot be sent to a hospital because we have not enough funds. Perhaps the most difficult task I have had officially has been that of deciding which cases should have the advantage of the limited amount of hospital treatment at our disposal. I do not think that our community wants to be stingy with sufferers in this way. The needs of the community have grown beyond the facilities for treatment, and it behooves our lawmakers to provide the increased facilities.

The Territorial Dispensary should properly be a part of the municipal system. In most places such an institution is connected with the hospital, and it might be well to combine the two here. However, in view of the large population which finds it necessary to visit the Dispensary, perhaps the present building should be maintained separately.

I would include in the municipal system the garbage department and all sanitary and inspection work, as well as the work of police surgeon, jail physicians, etc. Let the Territorial Board of Health be, as its name implies, a Territorial institution, having jurisdiction, like State Boards of Health on the mainland, as contrasted with local boards, of quarantine matters, and all other matters of more than merely local application.

The plans herein briefly touched upon would result in greater efficiency and economy. At present we have some needless duplications of authority and, in some matters, a confusion of authority which does real harm. Such a problem as the Russian camp in Iwalee, which has been an undoubted menace, seems to be definitely neither in one jurisdiction or the other. It is in reality a Honolulu matter, and local health authorities should have complete power to enforce all necessary regulations.

These reforms will require a considerable legislative appropriation, but they will reduce considerably the amounts needed by the Territorial Board of Health. In the improvement of our facilities to handle emergency hospital cases, in the cleansing of the city and general aid to our campaign for a more healthful Honolulu, they will be worth far more than the cost.

SUGAR MARKET ON DECEMBER THIRD

The last issue of the Federal Reporter (New York) received here contained the following information:

Raw Sugar—Our market has been quiet, but firm. 1,500 to 1,700 tons Demerara Crystals, for shipment by December 16th, sold on Wednesday to Messrs. Arbuckle Brothers, at 2.20c., cost and freight basis, 56 per cent, the equivalent of say 3.90c. duty paid, and yesterday it became known that Messrs. B. H. Howell, Son & Co. had purchased early in the week 5,000 tons European beets, for prompt shipment (immediate loading), at 9s. 6d. cost and freight for 88 per cent analysis, the equivalent of 3.91c. duty paid New York. The limited amount of immediately available sugar, and the uncertainty as to just when new crop sugars will be received from Cuba, has been the cause of this refinery looking to European beets, to insure a working stock. It is rather late in the year for beets to be contracted for in Europe, and the weather seems to be favorable for an early start in Cuba, so the probabilities are that little if any more beet sugar will be sold to our refiners. The owners of the 25,000 bags spot sugar have advanced their ideas to 4.05c., and claim that 4.00c. has been bid by one refiner for this sugar. Interest is principally centered in new crop Cubas, which, for December shipment are offered in a limited way at 2 1/2c. cost and freight, the equivalent of 3.86c., duty paid for 96 per cent test, and for first half January shipments at 1-16c., less than this. All January shipment is offered at 2 5/16c. cost and freight, the equivalent of 3.67c., duty paid, with the probability that business could be put through on the basis of 1-16c. lower, while February-March shipment could be had at 2 1/8c. to 2 3/16c. cost and freight, the equivalent of 3.47c. to 3.54c., respectively, duty paid New York. Buyers just at the moment are holding off, but from now on there will unquestionably be more or less trading right along in these sugars. The market closes firm, with the spot quotation nominally on the basis of 3.93c. duty paid for 96 per cent Centrals, 3.43c. duty paid for 89 per cent Muscovades, and 3.18c. duty paid for 89 per cent molasses sugars. The world's visible supply is 1,790,000 tons, as compared with 1,480,000 tons a year ago. Stocks in the United States and Cuba together are 100,852 tons, an increase of 109 tons from last year. Estimated floats to the United States total 42,000 tons, against 54,000 tons last year.

Cuba—It is said that one Central in the island began grinding last night, and some others are expected to start next week. Guma wires today that rain is wanted; he probably refers to the localities where grinding is not expected to begin until early January, as these people would probably be glad to see a little more rain. Where grinding has begun, however, only dry weather and cool nights are desired. This is the sort of weather that is prevailing at the moment, and if it

NEW THOUGHT IN DRUG BUSINESS

In keeping with the progress now evident in all lines of business and in preparation for "Greater Honolulu" a Rexall agency is to be established here. Rexall is the name applied to a line of medicines, druggists' sundries and novelties manufactured and sold by the United Drug Co., of Boston, Massachusetts.

The Rexall line is carried in thirty-five hundred cities and towns in the United States and Canada and is sold in but one store in each locality. For the Territory of Hawaii the agency has been given to Benson, Smith and Company, Ltd. What has made the goods so popular and well known in America and has built up an annual business of more than three and one half million dollars for the United Drug Company in the last eight years, can be expressed by the word "Quality." The preparations are not secret nor "Patent." The formula of each is known to the druggists selling it. Another feature is that each person buying a Rexall preparation has the privilege of returning it and getting his money back if it is not satisfactory and does not come up to its advertised qualities.

Each Rexall druggist becomes a stockholder in the United Drug Company of Boston and through the splendid co-operation of this organization he gets in touch with the new things in the drug trade and the best thoughts of more than thirty-five hundred live wire druggists scattered throughout the United States and Canada. An annual convention is held in some city, possibly Honolulu may be honored in the future, and several hundred delegates meet to exchange ideas and listen to addresses by men representing the best pharmaceutical thought in America.

Messrs. Benson, Smith and Company, Ltd., expect the early arrival of the first shipment of these goods.

REALTY BOARD IS FULLY ORGANIZED

At a meeting of real estate dealers held last night the proposed new realty board was organized, the by-laws being approved and the following board of directors elected: Irwin H. Beadle, J. E. O'Connor, R. R. Reidford, E. L. Schwartzberg and F. E. Steere.

The real estate men of the city appear to feel that in organization there will not only be strength, but that there will be other very desirable advantages to themselves and their clients.

The Realty Board, as the new organization will be called, is making a very promising start.

continues, this, with the relatively high prices for early sugar, will no doubt, as we have previously pointed out, be an incentive for as many Centrals to get under way as possible.

Europe—There has been nothing new in the situation abroad, and prices fluctuate but little. The market closes steady, as follows:

December—Buyers 9s. 3-4d., equals 3.89c. duty paid New York.

January—Buyers 9s. 1-2d., equals 3.82c., duty paid New York.

May—Buyers 9s. 3-4d., equals 3.95c., duty paid New York.

August—Buyers 9s. 5-3-4d., equals 3.99c., duty paid New York.

Louisiana—There is nothing new in the situation.

Domestic Beets—Lower prices were named today for the territory of Pittsburg, Buffalo and West, basis 4.00c., or 20 points under the price quoted by Eastern refiners. For the territory east of these markets, 4.50c. is being asked.

Refined Sugar—There has been no change in the situation, so far as terms are concerned, since our last report. It is more than probable that in addition to the withdrawal guarantees, many points where refiners now carry stocks may be eliminated, but no announcements have been made. Prices remain the same, basis 4.60c., cash less 1 per cent, f. o. b. New York, with the Federal Sugar Refining Company selling at various consignment points, where they still have stocks, on the basis of 4.55c.

A special meeting of the Waimea Sugar Mill Co. will be held on Thursday December 22 at the office of Castle & Cooke.

TURN FOR HONOKAA AND PIONEER MILL

Honokaa and Pioneer stock had a little turn in the stock market late yesterday and this morning, although both were a slightly reduced figures. Two blocks of 10 and 10 Pioneer sold at $170, after which $167.50 was bid and $170 asked.

On the board 25, 25, 25, 10 and 10 Honokaa sold at $10.25, after which 5 and 5 sold at $10 flat. Toward the last there was a slight advance, $10.125 being bid and $10.25 asked.

Also on the street 12 Olan changed hands at $4, after which $3.75 was bid and $4 asked. There were no sales of McBryde, although the quotations were the same as of Olan.

One sale of Hawaiian Commercial—40 shares—was made on the street at $33. At the close this morning bidding was at $32.75, while the stock was offered at $33.

Oahu appeared in the trading, but that was about all. A block of 5 shares sold at $25.125, followed by 5 at $25.25. At the close of the session $25.25 was bid for more and $25.50 asked.

AN EXTRA DIVIDEND.

Hawaiian Agricultural Company's directors held a meeting Monday and decided to pay an extra dividend this month of three per cent, making four per cent for December. The total sum to be paid out is $48,000.

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION.

President Fred L. Waldron, of the Merchants' Association, has appointed the following nominating committee for the ensuing period: General John H. Soper, H. F. Wichman and George B. Curtis.

EXTRADITED CHINESE ARE OFF

Jew Yuen Mow and Ah Hoo Ngau were among the passengers on the Sierra this morning, and as they stood on the fore-deck, one on each side of Detective Tom Conlon, the officers of the police department who were on the wharf when the steamer pulled out, smiled with satisfaction. They had successfully combated the efforts made on behalf of the two Chinese who were so urgently wanted in San Francisco, and writs of habeas corpus, garnishee suits, and other legal expedients notwithstanding, they had gained their point and the two Chinese were being sent back.

The case has provided considerable interest by reason of the strenuous fight put up by Attorney Claudius McBride to secure the release of Jew Yuen Mow, and right up to the last moment there were doubts as to whether McBride had another card up his sleeve to further detain Conlon and his quarry. Although a warrant was issued by Judge Robinson yesterday authorizing the high sheriff to arrest the woman if the charges pending against her for being illegally in the Territory were dropped, this warrant was withdrawn this morning on the application of McBride, who intimated he had no further interest in the case.

Conlon paraded the deck of the Sierra with his charges, while on the wharf were Chief Detective McDuffie, Deputy Sheriff Rose, and other officers of the detective force. "Where's McBride?" asked Conlon, as the time for the vessel's departure drew near, but the only response was a sally of laughter. McBride was not present. He remarked earlier in the forenoon that he had given up the case. The Chinese had to go back, and that was all there was to it. Conlon was pleased to get away with his charges, though he has spent an enjoyable holiday in the Territory.

The following trial jurors have been drawn for the third circuit judge: Irving J. Hurd, Walter R. Coombs, Eugene V. Todd, William H. Smith, William A. Perry, William M. Minton, John Piggott, Simeon Hao, Jr., James Guild, E. R. Bath, John H. Borfield, Abraham D. Bolster, Adolph F. Gertz, David A. McTearna, Henry Davis, J. Charles Schoening, Charles M. V. POLLITZ TALKS OF PROPOSED DITCH

It was calculated that when Ed Pollitz reached San Francisco from Honolulu the newspapers over there would have some interesting information (of the kind sporting writers call "gope") on the local stock situation. For some reason unknown, however, Pollitz and the big daily papers failed to connect; but a financial journal of some importance got on the same wire with Ed. P. and here is what happened:

Prosperity in Hawaii.

Edward Pollitz, senior member of the banking firm of Edward Pollitz & Co., has just returned from a business trip to Honolulu. In speaking of the conditions prevailing there Pollitz says: "The Islands are prosperous and the sugar plantations are in exceptionally fine shape. Climatic conditions have been quite favorable and while the present prices for sugar are rather unsatisfactory owing to considerable over-production of beets in Europe, there is no ground for discouragement. With reference to the development of the great irrigation project whereby the Hutchinson sugar plantation will receive such substantial benefit, I can say that all the initial steps have been successfully planned. The construction of the irrigation system will open up a rich country to desirable white settlers, furnishing them an abundance of water for irrigation at very moderate cost. It will make thousands and thousands of acres now owned by the Government productive and susceptible of a high state of cultivation. With the work we propose to do we are willing to pay for the water and land necessary to construct the ditch, and we do not ask Government aid. The ditch will revert to the Government after fifty years. Work will commence as soon as Congress acts. All the surveys and much preliminary work is already completed. The sugar plantation most benefited is the Hutchinson, the output of which at present is about 7000 tons per annum. After completion of the ditch this yield will be increased to 50,000 tons, nearly as great as the total of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Co. The railroad company has announced its intention to extend its road to the newly opened settlement, the plantation thereby being able to ship by rail to Hilo and thence by sea to our market. The length of the ditch is about 95 miles, of which 60 miles run through territory covered with lava. The cost will be about $3,000,000, and the enterprise will be completed in a little less than two years."

CIRCUS SHOWING SOME NEW STUNTS

A complete change of program is given this week by the Great American Show at Aala park and it is being warmly appreciated by large audiences. Those who thought that the acrobats and equilibrists in their first week reached the limits in their wonderful performances find that these performers have some new and equally wonderful "stunts" for this week.

Enturkey, the Japanese rope walker is more wonderful than ever and the trapeze acts are startling, almost incredible.

The tent is still drawing immense audiences and is certain to have another very large week's business.

PROMINENT MEN PLUMP FOR SCHOOL ATHLETIC FIELD

Unanimity was the key note of the meeting held yesterday at the McKinley High School when the matter of securing an athletic field for the students of this institution was under discussion. The attendance was large and enthusiastic, and all the speakers were filled with the one idea, to secure a ground large enough to provide a suitable site for the school's athletic field for all time.

There was no question of alternative sites; each of the eleven speakers were of one mind on that point and all plumped solidly for the land described as "back of King street, Waikiki of Victoria street." This land embraces an area of about sixty-eight acres and is in every way suitable for conversion into an athletic field. It is certainly well located and if secured for the purpose mentioned it could be availed of by the general public in many other ways.

Alfred D. Cooper was chairman of yesterday's meeting and after briefly outlining the objects of the gathering he introduced the speakers. Judge Sanford Dole, J. P. Cooke, Ed. Towse, Senator Charles Chillingworth, Professor M. M. Scott, Professor Percy N. Folsom, W. R. Farrington, Marston Campbell and W. T. Pope all declared themselves in favor of the proposition and discussed the subject in all its phases. Marston Campbell, while announcing himself as being in warm sympathy with the movement, explained the difficulties in the way of the Government making an exchange of land for the site desired, the Organic Act only permitting the expending of $4,000 and the proposition before the meeting involved something between $30,000 and $40,000. Chillingworth also dealt with this phase of the matter but he put forward a suggestion that a lease of the land be first obtained with a view to its ultimate purchase, shelving the question of ways and means for the time being. J. P. Cooke was not disposed to allow the matter of the expenditure to stand in the way in the event of the government being unable to secure the land for the school by exchange, for he advocated a public subscription to raise the funds. Ed. Towse was similarly inclined and thought it an excellent proposition to get the business men of the town interested if other means failed and make the proposition a private enterprise.

As to the necessity of the ground there was no question. Percy N. Folsom pointed to the record the boys had established without the facilities it was desired to provide for them and Professor Scott dwelt upon the necessity for athletics as part of the school life. He emphasized the need for providing a playground for all students where they could find an outlet for their spirits; where each would meet the other on terms of equality and where each would be respected for his intrinsic merit. W. R. Farrington agreed with this and suggested that all the schools combine on the subject and present a unanimous petition to the legislature, a petition which could not be ignored. Judge Sanford Dole viewed the matter in the same light and pointed out that the site proposed would provide a public playground for the school within reasonable reach of it. He was heartily in favor of the scheme and was of opinion that the cost would not prove a stumbling block.

Dr. Hand of the Y. M. C. A. spoke of its general utility and Frank Dodge explained his position with regard to the suggested Thomas Square site, a site which was obviously too small. On motion of Willis T. Pope a committee of all those present was appointed to deal further with the matter.

The project is now safely launched and it is only a question of time before plans for the acquisition of the land are drawn up. The work of the committee will be followed with interest by all interested in school work and athletics. With the support of the most prominent men in town assured, there can be no failure. The land will be procured some time or other.

DIMOND'S PRETTY SHOW WINDOWS

One of the cleverest and most beautiful of Christmas decorative schemes was completed at the store of W. W. Dimond & Company last night, when the finishing touches were given the second and last big window. When the lights were turned on for a moment after the finish the sight was exceedingly pleasing.

The colors in the Waikiki window at Dimond's are red, white and green, and the goods displayed are beautiful specimens in cut glass, china, silver, statuary and pottery. The other window contains old Santa Claus, a decorated Christmas tree (the real thing imported from Germany) and beautiful Christmas suggestions. Both windows are brightly illuminated at night.

The decorative schemes were shaped out by Mrs. Emil Berndt, who has shown herself to be an expert in this difficult work.

The wedding of Miss Eleanor Terry, daughter of Admiral and Mrs. Silas Terry, to Lieut. Filippo Camperio, took place Thursday afternoon, December 1, at St. Thomas' Church in Washington. The bride is well-known in Honolulu, her father having at one time been stationed here as commandant of the naval station.

W. R. Castle, a planter and shipper of Honolulu, is registered at the Fairmont. He is accompanied by Mrs. Castle and their daughter, Miss Beatrice Castle. The party has been on an extended tour of the East, and will sail for the islands on the steamer Manchuria, which leaves one week from today.—S. F. Chronicle, Dec. 4.

DR. COOK'S LAST APPEAL; SAYS POLAR REGIONS DROVE HIM CRAZY

NEW YORK, November 30.—Dr. Frederick Cook, the Brooklyn explorer, in an article which will be published in Hampton's magazine, confesses that he does not know whether he reached the North Pole or not.

"Did I get to the North Pole? Perhaps I made a mistake in thinking that I did. Perhaps I did not make a mistake. After mature thought I confess that I do not know absolutely whether I reached the Pole or not.

Says He Was Half-Crazed. "Fully, freely and frankly I shall tell you everything and leave the decision with you. If, after reading my story, you say 'Cook is sincere and honest; half-crazed by months of isolation and hunger, he believed he reached the Pole; he is not a faker,' then I shall be satisfied."

Dr. Cook tells the story of his life and pictures what he calls the overpowering ambition for exploration that beset him until it finally culminated in his effort to reach the Pole.

Bewildered By His Sensation. He said he had always looked on the discovery of the Pole as an achievement for his own personal satisfaction, for the satisfaction of a craving and desire that was greater than any other factor in his life.

he was overcome with bewilderment. Dr. Cook then tells the story of the days in Copenhagen and later in New York, and of the crisis in his life that caused his flight from New York and his voluntary exile from the United States.

Spent His Time in London. Most of the time during his exile Dr. Cook has been in London. He has gone about among Americans there with the utmost freedom and at times has registered under his own name, and that only a few have guessed his identity.

"I have been called the greatest liar in the world; the most monumental imposter in history," says Dr. Cook. "I believe that in every undesirable way I stand unique, the object of such suspicion and vituperation as have assailed few men."

Wants World's Good Opinion. With this realization, Dr. Cook wrote his story and says that to him the honor of discovering the North Pole no longer means anything.

At 11 o'clock they heard the sound of oars, evidently from a boat near the stern of the Manchuria, where she was lying at pier 44. Just at that moment the lights of a passing freight ferry boat illuminated the water and revealed two skiffs headed south.

NINE SHOTS FIRED IN FRISCO HARBOR IN ATTEMPT TO LAND CHINESE FROM MANCHURIA

SAN FRANCISCO, December 6.—Fifteen Chinese, seven of them women, were captured by four inspectors just before midnight on Sunday as they were attempting to land at China basin.

The capture was attended by a battle with two white men in skiffs, who had brought the Chinese from the Pacific Mail steamer Manchuria at pier 44. The white men succeeded in making their escape after nine shots had been fired but one of the boats was afterward discovered after it had been abandoned near the Arctic Oil wharf.

Held For Deportation. The fifteen Chinese are being held at Angel Island for deportation. One of the women is suspected of being a resident of the local Chinatown, whose duty to the plot was to act as guide to the newcomers and get them from the water front to Chinatown.

Suspensions from the service are almost sure to follow, and if the evidence can be secured the matter will be brought to the attention of the Federal Grand Jury.

Higher officials of the immigration service are enthusiastic in their praise of the four inspectors who made the capture. Their names are Joseph Head, Samuel Sacket, C. J. Benninger and P. O. Huffaker.

These men are in the search squad of the customs department. Sunday night they had gone to the neighborhood of the Pacific Mail dock, although it was after hours and they received no extra compensation for the time. Believing that quantities of opium were being landed in spite of the rigorous inspection of the liners, they evolved the theory that cans of the drug were being thrown from the steamers at the dock when the tide was running strong and would carry them to small boats waiting in the stream.

At the time the inspectors thought that thirteen of the captives were men, but later, when they had been taken to the office in the ferry building it was discovered that seven of them were women disguised in men's serge suits.

In the meantime the other four inspectors, the watchmen and the quartermaster are supposed to have been engaged in carefully watching the Manchuria.

They take the position that there is no proof that the Chinese came from the Manchuria. They say the members of the Chinese crew are all still on the steamer, and that all the Chinese immigrants, whose names were on the ship's papers, were taken to Angel Island on Sunday afternoon.

It happens that the ranking officer on the Manchuria on this voyage was R. P. Schwerin, the vice president and general manager of the company. If all this occurred under his thoughtful eye, it would seem to be easy under more ordinary circumstances.

On the possibility of fifteen Chinese being let down a rope ladder from the stern of the Manchuria, Colonel C. H. Blinn, special deputy surveyor of customs, has this to say:

"It does not seem likely that fifteen Chinese, seven of whom are women, would be able to get over the stern of the Manchuria without being seen. There is one thing certain, either the parties who landed the Chinese were in collusion with the inspector at the gangplank, or some other person on the boat, or else these inspectors were asleep. It is about forty feet to the water from the stern of the Manchuria, and I hardly believe that all these Chinese, especially the women, could have climbed over the stern without being seen by some inspector or some one on the boat."

Christmas in the country has more charms than in the city and the management of Haleiwa intends this Christmas to be the best up to date in the history of Haleiwa. As the holiday comes in the beginning of the week it will be a two day celebration. Persons may go down Friday or Saturday and return Monday night or Tuesday morning with no loss of time from business.

SIERRA HAWAII'S SANTA CLAUS STEAMER

Carrying the Christmas mail to the States, with a fair cargo and forty-seven saloon passengers the Oceanic steamer Sierra left this morning with a host of good wishes to friends at home. The mail amounted to 350 sacks and represented four days' mail. The officials in the post office were kept extremely busy the last two days coping with the mail rush and both last night and on Monday night the stamp window was kept open to meet the demands of the public, while inside the staff was working overtime sorting the mails. This morning, though the mail was scheduled to close at nine o'clock, letters were received up to nine-thirty and the departure of the Sierra was put forward half an hour, in order that every letter and every package destined for the mail should get away in time. Everything was cleaned up and it was only a few minutes past ten when the last lot of mail was taken to the steamer.

MORE FIGURES FROM CENSUS

Governor Frear at noon today handed out some figures relating to the recent census. These relate to the island of Oahu and refer to citizens, having nothing whatever to do with aliens. These figures show that there are 16,812 male citizens here over eight years of age. Of this number, there are 118 whose ages are unknown. Of the remainder 10,394 are of a voting age. From that number may be deducted 1,547 officers and enlisted men in the army and navy serving here, although probably some of them are under 21. That would leave about 8,847 entitled to vote, but of this number only 7,555 actually registered.
