DRIVER MAKES STATEMENT YOUNG MEN FLATLY DENIES HIS GUILT

BREAKS SILENCE WITH CONFIDENT ASSERTIONS

Says McQuaid Cannot Prove Charges of Breaking Up Home That Led To Duel—Case May Be Dropped

Father Is Working For His Son's Freedom

Volney C. Driver, whose relations with Mrs. W. M. McQuaid, it is alleged, broke up the McQuaid home and drove the husband into a desperate gun fight with Driver in the heart of the city last Friday, this morning broke his silence on the subject of the shooting and made a statement to the Bulletin in which he asserts his innocence of the ugly charges against him.

McQuaid and Driver are still at the Queen's Hospital, where they were both taken after the duel that resulted in the wounding of each. They are guarded by police officers, pending their death or recovery. At present it looks like recovery for both. Driver, in fact, is nearly able to leave the hospital, and in two or three days will be discharged from the physician's care. What will be done with him then is a matter that is to be settled today or tomorrow.

McQuaid still weak from his serious wounds, is under the constant care of physicians and nurses. Though he is able to receive visitors, he has so far preferred not to discuss the shooting. His recovery has been much slower than Driver's, as his wounds were much more serious.

Developments today make it plain that the case, so far as the law is concerned, is likely to be dropped, and that Driver himself will probably leave the Territory. Driver's father is in Honolulu working for his son's interests, and pressure has been brought to bear on the sheriff and Chief of Detectives McDuffie to drop the case and allow the young man his freedom. It is understood also that McQuaid wishes to drop the case, and Driver's father today is endeavoring to secure a promise that his son will be allowed to go his way. The young man will leave the Territory if he is allowed to, and the whole matter will be dropped.

CARE OF PEOPLE AS WELL AS OF TREES IS EMPHASIZED IN ARBOR DAY EXERCISES TODAY

Arbor Day in the Territory is becoming more and more devoted to the care of people as well as of trees. Conservation of resources and of health was preached in all schools this morning by prominent people, well versed on the subject.

The students of the Normal School, the College of Hawaii, Oahu College and all the public schools, including Kohala, Kaula, Kapaemahu and other institutions had exercises this morning, in commemoration of the day.

From the government nursery, there were sent out to the schools, home-steads, plantations and other places approximately 10,000 plants of different kinds.

'I'M INNOCENT'--DRIVER

"I want to deny, and deny emphatically, that Mrs. McQuaid was mixed up with anybody up on Hawaii. McQuaid thought she was, and threatened to kill the man. I know positively that Mrs. McQuaid was innocent.

"As to my own case, there is no case against me. They can't prove that I broke up McQuaid's home, because there is nothing of the sort to prove. Detectives watched us to try to catch us, but they failed. Doesn't that show that I was innocent?—Statement made this morning by Volney C. Driver.

Friends Are Confident.

"As a matter of fact, Driver's friends and Driver himself assert confidently that there is no case against him. He will have witnesses to prove that he shot McQuaid in self-defense, and although the "unwritten law" would probably have cleared McQuaid if he had killed Driver, it will not, says Driver, keep him from his freedom. Driver's statement made this morning to the Bulletin is a direct denial of two charges that involve Mrs. McQuaid. He declares that the story of her improper relations with a man on the island of Hawaii was untrue, and further that his own relations with Mrs. McQuaid had not been such as to warrant McQuaid in seeking his life.

Seated in a wheel-chair on the veranda of the Queen's Hospital this morning, Driver talked over the matter. "He was particularly anxious that Mrs. McQuaid should be cleared of suspicion. He declared himself willing to let the case come into court, asserting that if it does he will be freed from the taint of breaking up the McQuaid home.

Would Clear Mrs. McQuaid.

"The story that Mrs. McQuaid was mixed up with a man up on Hawaii before she came to Honolulu was exaggerated grossly," said Driver. "Here are the facts in the case: "Mrs. McQuaid had probably flirted a little with the man, but beyond this she was absolutely innocent. I know this personally, and can get additional evidence from the engineer of the same mill on the plantation.

"However, McQuaid thought she was guilty, and he told my father he would shoot the man. "At that time I told McQuaid that he was unjust to his wife in his suspicions, and that the best thing to do was simply to discharge the man, not to shoot him without definite knowledge. "It is only fair to Mrs. McQuaid that this statement should be made. You can make it as strong as possible. She was absolutely innocent. Ascertains Own Innocence.

"As to my own case, there is none against me. They can prove nothing, for there is nothing of the sort to prove. They had detectives trying to catch us, but they didn't. Doesn't that prove my innocence?" Young Driver says further that the story that he was with Mrs. McQuaid a few minutes before the shooting is false. "I had been up on Hawaii for a week to see my father," he declares. "I came back on the Mauna Loa the night before and went to bed, feeling sick. I can account for every minute of my time up to the shooting."

Driver's room mate, Dr. John O'Connor, has gone back to the States. He went on the transport the day after the shooting. Driver says O'Connor will return if his evidence is needed. Chief of Detectives McDuffie this morning stated that Driver's father is working to get the case dropped and his son out of the country. In the event that the matter is taken into court, Driver will secure an attorney. An effort has been made to secure Frank Thompson, but as Thompson expects to leave the Territory on business soon, he may not be retained.

Some of these were sent to Hilo, Kaula and Maui. Forester Homer stated this morning that the plants were distributed more systematically this year than ever before. As is customary in the former years, the pupils this morning planted their trees on the school premises at the conclusion of the exercises, which they had at schools. Unlike the other schools, the Kamehameha Schools this year did not observe the day; but it will be observed tomorrow afternoon on the grounds of the Girls' School. President Horne of the schools stated this morning that special exercises will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. (Continued on Page 5)

AGENTS NOW IN A. G. SMITH TO FUNCHAL GET RESULTS SUCCEED LYMER

First News Since Revolution From Campbell and Silva.

WORKING TO SECURE A WHOLE SHIPLOAD

Board of Immigration Men Carrying on Campaign of Education—Press Takes Up Matter and Publishes Facts.

The first news since the revolution in Portugal from A. J. Campbell and M. A. Silva, agents of the Board of Immigration, brings the cheering information that prospects are bright for a shipload of Portuguese immigrants within the near future. Furthermore, the agents are carrying on a vigorous campaign of defense against the attack made on them by Portuguese citizens who tried to prevent them from securing immigrants.

Communications have been received in Honolulu from both Mr. Campbell and Mr. Silva, written two weeks after the revolution, and therefore important. The revolution completely changed the aspects of affairs in Portugal, and for a while threatened to work against emigration to Hawaii. Coupled with the efforts to hamper the agents' work, the chaotic political conditions have held back immigration at least two months.

Silva Sends News.

A. D. Castro of this city, one of the leading Portuguese-Americans and a hearty believer in immigration, is in close touch with the agents through Mr. Silva. He has received a letter from Silva, written on October 19, which declares that the agents have good prospects of getting immigrants in the near future.

Campbell and Silva are carrying on a campaign of education in Madeira. Their headquarters are now in Funchal, the principal city, and they have organized their work of replying to the attacks made on them, as well as giving the Portuguese adequate information on the islands.

The Diario de Noticias, or Daily News, of Funchal, has apparently taken up the fight for Campbell and Silva and is helping them. The latest issue contains an article nearly Joe Ferraji is no highwayman in the eyes of the law at least and upon this charge he drew a nolle prosequi at Judge Lymer's court this morning. Ferraji is alleged to have made away with two gold watches the latter part of September. They were the property of a Chinese. He was finally caught in McDuffie's dragnet and landed at the police station.

FERRAJI NO HIGHWAYMAN

His case has come up for trial from time to time and this morning when charged with larceny in the first degree Ferraji waived examination in the lower court and the matter will therefore be threshed out at the higher tribunal over at the Judiciary building.

Ferraji pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny in the second degree when arraigned this morning and Judge Lymer taking the case under advisement will probably pronounce sentence tomorrow morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—Beets: 88 analysis, 88. 11-1-44; par. 17, 2.87c. Previous quotation, 88. 11-1-24.

Arthur G. Smith has been appointed second deputy attorney general and will begin his duties in the Government service tomorrow.

The announcement of Smith's appointment was made this afternoon by Attorney General Lindsay, who has had the names of several candidates under consideration since Lymer was appointed District Magistrate to succeed Andrade, leaving the place of second deputy attorney general vacant.

Smith arrived in the Territory a short time ago and has been employed with the law firm of Kinney, Ballou, Prosser & Anderson. He is a graduate of the Harvard Law School and before coming to Hawaii was a practicing attorney in the city of Boston.

TAFT MAY START FIGHT WITH RAILROAD

(Associated Press Cable.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.—President Taft has instructed Attorney General Wickham to make an investigation into 5000 acres of land patented by the Southern Pacific Railroad in California. The instructions are to find out whether the lands were known to contain oil at the time they were patented, and if such is found to be the case, the Attorney General is ordered to sue the railroad to recover them. It is expected that the President's action will embolden the administration and the Southern Pacific.

"DEE-LIGHTED"? WELL, HARDLY

(Associated Press Cable.) OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Colonel Roosevelt remains in seclusion at Oyster Bay, where he retired immediately after the decisive Democratic victory in New York last Tuesday. He has so far refused to make a public statement on the election.

PARIS THREATENED WITH A BIG FLOOD

(Associated Press Cable.) PARIS, Nov. 11.—Rising rivers have flooded the valleys of the Seine, and Paris is threatened with another inundation as great as that of a few months ago.

SCHONER HITS REEF NEAR HILO

(Special Bulletin Wireless.) HILO, Nov. 11.—The schooner Spokane, twenty-five days out from Port Ludlow, Wash., bound for the port with lumber, went ashore on Miller reef near here last night. A mistake in reading the sailing directions is given as the cause of the mishap. Miller reef is at the harbor entrance. The schooner got off by her own efforts after an hour and a half and it is not believed that any damage has been done.

The lumber was consigned to the local agency of H. Haeckfeld & Co., Ltd. Capt. Jamieson is the master.

Thetis Chasing Opium Sampan?

Siberia Brings News Of Japanese Boat Cruising Around Bird Island

News was brought in by the Pacific Mail liner Siberia this morning that may solve the mysterious disappearance of the revenue cutter Thetis a few days ago as well as prove a clue to the capture of opium smugglers.

The Siberia yesterday passed close to Bird Island on her way to this port, and there sighted a Japanese sampan, which was cruising around the island in an altogether unwarranted manner. There is no legitimate reason for a sampan to be visiting Bird Island and now, according to local authorities and their only reasonable conjecture is that the sampan was there in connection with opium smuggling.

The departure of the Thetis is now believed to have been in an effort to capture smugglers, and if such is the case, the cutter ought to pick up the sampan without effort. The Thetis is now hourly awaited and it is expected that she will bring in the sampan and its crew.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM WILL SOON BE LOCATED AT OLAA BY THE GOVERNMENT

Plans have been formulated by the Territorial Government for the extension of the experimental farm plan to the Oloa district on Hawaii, a conference having been held yesterday afternoon in which the plans for the farm in the Oloa home-stead district were discussed at length and the problem of handling the financial end of the proposition considered.

Presently with the Governor were Director Wilcox of the Federal Experiment Station, Dr. Victor S. Clark, Marston Campbell and L. A. Thurston. The Oloa district is particularly adapted to the location of an experimental farm, the unoccupied land in that district constituting the largest available strip of homestead land in the Territory.

It is proposed to place the experimental farm at Oloa and the one now conducted in Hilo under the direction of Mr. Clowes now, in charge of the Hilo work and he will be expected to devote all of his time to the conduct of the two farms.

Governor Frear stated this morning that the Territorial Government would do everything possible to extend the experimental farm to all portions of the Territory where they could be successfully conducted and added that there were several other possible locations that were being looked upon with favor.

The maintenance of the farms is one of the questions that will have to be dealt with. There is not much money available for the purpose and the idea now is to meet some of the necessary expenses by obtaining private subscriptions, particularly in those districts that would derive benefit from the good results that are sure to follow in the path of the experimental farm idea. It is not believed that there will be any great difficulty in securing the needed funds and that in the carrying of the financial burden partly by the Government and partly by private subscriptions the needed funds will be soon available.

MARY HAD A VICIOUS DOG

He Was Not Neighborly and Lacerated Flesh and Clothing.

Mary had a vicious dog and to his unfriendly attitude towards the neighbors, Captain Baker, one of the de-bonair members of the Honolulu police force visited the premises and invited Mary Adams to appear before Judge Lymer at police court tomorrow morning.

The allegation is made that the canine has developed a large bump of peevishness of late. It was suggested over the result of the recent election and the terrible inroad of Republican votes upon the rosate aspirations of a number of Democratic candidates.

The animal is said to have sniped immediately following the receipt of the returns telling of a local Republican landslide and when a neighbor passed the Adams' premises, the dog sniped out and attempt to take a generous piece out of an unoffensive neighbor's limb.

You can never tell from afar how many thistles there are in a velvet looking meadow.

JAPANESE DEAD ARE REMEMBERED

Sailors From Flagship Asama Pay Silent Respects at Cemetery.

Actuated by patriotic spirit and of sympathy for those who fought and lost their lives for their country and Emperor, Admiral Yashiro, commander-in-chief of the Japanese cruiser Asama and Kasagi, now in port, this morning ordered a detachment of his men to attend the memorial exercises held over the graves of the dead sailors now buried in the Japanese cemetery at Makiki.

While the Japanese cruisers Naniwa and Takachino were in Honolulu many years ago, some of the seamen died here as result of sickness. Previous to coming to Honolulu they were among those who were foremost in defending their country. For their bravery and courage, they were praised by their superiors.

As soon as Admiral Yashiro learned of this fact, he ordered men from his ships to be detached to the cemetery at Makiki, there to commemorate the death of their fellow countrymen.

Men who say they can break a habit whenever they want to, rarely want to.

NEWS NOTES FROM KAMEHAMEHA SCHOOLS

The last game of soccer in the color series will be played on the school grounds tomorrow afternoon at 4:15. The White and Red teams will be the ones to end the series.

On the other hand, the Reds have a strong team which will be ready to hand a package of whitewash to their opponents after the game. Some of the members of the Whites claim that they are keeping all their good players in store for this game, but the Reds will surprise them.

There were two interclass soccer games played on the school grounds yesterday afternoon. The first game started at 3:20, between the eighth and sixth grades, the former winning after a hard game by the close score of 1 to 0.

There is very little hope of the school entering the big league now. A new step has been taken by the athletic committee to form an inter-schoolastic series.

The Tri-Weekly Handicraft, published by the Press Club, was been enlarged this week, which is a big step taken by the members of the club to improve their paper.

The Kamehameha Junior team will play the Central Grammar team a game of soccer at the Boys' Field on Monday afternoon at 3:30.

SCIENTIST SAYS HE CAN PICTURE THOUGHT

Frenchman Reported to Have Made Snapshots of Actions of the Mind.

Dr. Baraduc of Paris is the scientist who has been able to snapshot thoughts. One day recently, while he was at work in his dark room endeavoring to solve a perplexing problem in the development of a picture by chance he laid his hand on a sensitized plate.

The photograph was puzzled. Finally the thought occurred to him that he had rested his hand upon the plate while he was studying. It was just possible, he reasoned, that his thought had been caught and held by the sensitized plate.

Professor Elmer Gates of Washington, D. C., has demonstrated the same thing in a little different manner. Studying his subjects while they were laboring under every variety of emotion, he discovered that different thoughts produced a distinct chemical change in the human body.

SCHWAB PLANS GREAT COMBINATION IN STEEL NEW YORK, October 22.—Charles M. Schwab's negotiations for the control of the Cramp Shipyard at Philadelphia are said in Wall street to be part of a plan for gathering together the independent steel companies of the country in one combination which will work in harmony with the United States Steel Corporation.

The plan is to be contingent upon a decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Standard Oil and tobacco cases sufficiently constructive to allow the big industries of the country to reform their methods in conformity with the Sherman anti-trust law, if such a thing is possible.

Mr. Schwab will make the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, of which he is the founder, and which is supposed to have the financial backing of Andrew Carnegie, the nucleus for the big combination.

WIRELESS SETTLED FATE OF STOWAWAY ON STEAMER SIBERIA

TRANSFERRED TO MONGOLIA IN MID-OCEAN—JAPANESE CRUISERS PREPARING TO SAIL—RUMOR AGAIN PREVAILS THAT T. K. K. WILL ABANDON MEXICAN LINE.

Wireless telegraphy sealed the fate of at least one of several stowaways that were unearthed on board the Pacific Mail liner Siberia while that vessel was steaming from Yokohama to Honolulu.

The deadhead passenger was a Japanese who was discovered sequestered in the coal bunkers. He is presumed to have stowed aboard while the vessel was taking on coal at Nagasaki.

Freighter Was Full of Prunes. The American-Hawaiian freighter Nebraska that after taking on sugar and general cargo from the Hawaiian Islands, sailed from San Francisco the first part of last month bound for Salina Cruz, is reported to have had on board a shipment of 340 tons of California prunes.

Makura Due Tomorrow. According to a wireless received by the local agents for the Canadian-Australian liner Makura that vessel will arrive from Vancouver and Victoria tomorrow.

Old Rumor Revived. The Toyoko Kisen Kalaha is to abandon its service between Hongkong, Japan and Mexico. The Japanese subsidy law forbids the receipt of subsidies from other countries, and the Japanese company considers the line unprofitable without the subsidy of $10,000 per trip paid by Mexico.

No Yards for Asia and Persia. The British steamers Asia and Persia, of the Occidental & Oriental Steamship Co., have been relieved of their yards. Shorn of the weight of these yards, which are no longer used to any extent, the two intermediate steamers will probably make better time and be more steady.

China Bringing Small Cargo. The Pacific Mail steamer China is due to arrive at the port on Friday bringing less than five hundred tons of Oriental cargo and a few lay over passengers.

NO MONEY FOR PAVING

"If Fort street is to be paved with material other than good intentions, I fail to see where the money is coming from," was the comment made by one member of the newly-elected Board this morning.

However this may be, Chairman Quinn of the road board has stated that he will introduce an ordinance or a resolution calling for the paving of Fort street between Queen and Beretania streets.

There was sufficient noise and commotion in the vicinity of King and Bethel street this morning to revive latent memories of those days when "soup-box oratory" held a full sway there.

They ought to decorate George B. Howard with Carnegie medals instead of leis when he sails away from Honolulu. Howard has been the busy life-saver ever since he reached Honolulu with his company; and many a Theplan bark has been kept from going on the rocks by the timely intervention of this clever little man with his droll stage mannerisms, his well-controlled reserves of power and his undeniable ability to "get it over."

Howard was the Carnegie medallist again last night, when the company put on "The Lotteryman" at the New Orpheum. "The Lotteryman" was successfully raffled off, after several minor mishaps that helped to make the story, but there wouldn't have been a laugh in the house had Howard been out of the cast.

This is not a reflection on the company. With a change of bill, twice a week, it is a terrible job to put on shows that will go off smoothly. It's still harder when the mechanical appliances are inadequate, when scenery is practically nil, and the "grips" have been apparently drafted into the service from an iron foundry. Which goes to show that Howard is a pretty good actor, for all of the drawbacks have not affected his work very much.

"The Lotteryman" is the story of a fairly young American bachelor, who has everything attractive in his favor except money, and who figures that he can get that by raffling himself off to a few hundred thousand American spinsters at a dollar a throw. Before the raffle is finished he meets the only girl in the world, and that tangles everything up. Of course, it's all straightened out, and done with a good deal of cleverness, too.

The plot is interesting, and Howard's engaging personality pulls it through, though the comedy is pretty bald in spots and long-drawn out in others. Miss Eva Martella, who plays the part of a nondescript female who draws "The Lotteryman" is given a grotesque makeup that is laughable at first but gets tiresome before the end. She is too much of a freak to be human. The other roles are just so-so, Miss Dorcas Matthews getting the most out of her,—that of a sweet little old mother.

"The Lotteryman" will be raffled off tonight and tomorrow night and next week "Our New Minister" will occupy the Orpheum pulpit.

CAPTIVATES THE SAVOY AUDIENCE

The Countess de Pomme came more nearly up to the expectations caused by her advance press notices, in the change of program at the Savoy Theater last night, than in her opening songs. Perhaps due to the fact that more was expected than should have been, her first appearance failed to appeal very strongly to those who heard her, but last night she changed this initial impression by the singing of two songs. She was less stager, more natural and in all her manner and songs was captivating. With frequent changes of costumes and songs the Countess will be as popular here as she has undoubtedly been in other places where the audiences were just as critical.

Frank Archer also came in for a good share of success. He changed from black face to a Yiddish impersonation and got several good laughs before he was well started. In handling the Jewish part he showed considerable more ability, and while one or two of the jokes were ancient, he made up for their age by delivering them in a manner bound to bring applause.

The Wilson Sisters are the best portion of the program and clever acting and the use of electrical effects makes their act as near the metropolitan quality as any presented here for a long time. They made their first appearance in kimonos and sang a song that is all about "kimonos" and "suns," while the spot light man throws the colored lights upon the curtain behind them.

The pictures are excellent, not only because of mechanical perfection in the display, but also in topics. The themes are all of the refreshing kind that put you in fine humor for the vaudeville that follows.

An immense crowd saw both shows last night and went away pleased as they had been comfortable, in the clean and cool Savoy as well as provided with good entertainment.

MUSICAL MILLERS MARKET MASH

The Novelty Theater presented an act last night that will cause you to visit this little theater, although you have never been there before. And all this because the management has secured an act that is good, no—more than that—excellent, if the comparison is a question of fun. Imagine a pair of black cats that dance and a wise old donkey that kicks, and wobbles his tail and ears, to a musical tune and you commence to get some idea of what is in store there for you. This is what happens—but more—there is a real old English market woman that is almost as kittenish as the black cats, and a big Australian policeman, that looks like he had a blow as strong as the donkey, but he is as funny and harmless as the baldhead, red-nosed, street clown that happens along and does the foolish thing just when you are bursting to laugh. The cause of it all is "The Musical Market Mash" presented by the Musical Millers at the Novelty. Don't miss it if you want to laugh and hear some more music at the same time.

NEARING COMPLETION

Work on the new Bijou Theater, being built on the site of the old skating rink, is progressing rapidly and it is assured that it will be ready for the grand opening following the arrival of Manager Kubev, five vaudeville actors and six mainland musicians on the next Sierra. The skeleton frame for the roof of the new theater is now sticking far up above the roofs of the surrounding buildings, the girders having been erected during the past week. The roof of this theater is being built exceptionally high in order to secure the advantage of better ventilation, and at the same time have protection from the rain.

$15,000 IS VALUE OF TWO POSTAL STAMPS

Kings, Nobles and Millionaires
Show Their Collections at Berne Exhibition.

BERNE, Oct. 8.—Two postage stamps, together valued at $15,000, were a feature of the International Philatelic Exhibition which has drawn many visitors to Berne, the headquarters of the Universal Postal Union. The two stamps in question are shown in the collection of H. S. Duveen. They are superb examples of the "Post-Office" Mauritius stamps which came from the collection of the late Sir William Avery of England. A block of four "post-paid" stamps of Mauritius, costing $5,000, is one of the finest things in the exhibition.

The only American exhibitor, C. Lathrop Pack, has got medals for his Brazilian, New Zealand, Cape of Good Hope and Spanish stamps. The rarest stamp in the whole exhibition is an 80-cent Parma, used, together with a 20-cent Parma, on the same letter. It is the only known used copy, and is worth what a millionaire is willing to pay. Millionaires from all over the world have had their agents at the exhibition.

The King of England is an exhibitor. He shows eight proof sheets of all four values of the earliest engraved stamps of the small colony of Nevis. The King's proofs are in four colors. In the exhibition are a number of beautiful specimens of early Swiss cantonal postage stamps, including the Basle "dove" and the Geneva "large eagles." Victor Bea, Jeux de London shows a complete plate of unused copies of the forty types of the Rayon L. pale blue Swiss stamps of April, 1851.

The Earl of Crawford sent his early Neapolitan stamps, and Prince Doria Pamphily of Italy showed a few examples of rarities of early Italian States. The gold medal for the best general collection of postage stamps of the world goes to Dr. Rodolphe Ferrario of Como, Italy, for a collection of more than 13,000 varieties.

WAR SECRETARY PLAYS A MRS LONGWORTH JOKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Secretary of War Jacob M. Dickinson does not look like a "cut up." The liner Siberia, on which the head of the War Department travelled to Manila, has returned and among the tales told out of school was this:

It was the first day the swimming tank was rigged up on deck. The Secretary, taking his morning walk with Brig-Gen. Clarence Edwards and Capt. Lars Anderson, was discussing the lack of excitement. He expressed a desire to do something that nobody had ever done before.

"I feel like a kid," he confided to Gen. Edwards, "and if there's any part of this ship where we are not supposed to go there's where I want to go. Perhaps some marine cop will chase me back again."

Just about that time they discovered the swimming tank. The Secretary looked at the cool green water. He looked at the immaculate costume of his military aides.

"I'll bet you fellows $20," he said, "that you don't dare follow me just as you are."

"Go ahead," said Gen. Edwards. "I'm game," chimed in Capt. Anderson. "I'll follow you."

"Bet you don't," said the Secretary, as with a vault that surprised all fortunate enough to witness it, and far enough away to avoid the splash, he dived right in the middle of the swimming tank.

Gen. Edwards regretfully surveyed his own well-tailored form and with a high followed suit. Capt. Anderson floundered in after him.

"Now we are here," said the war but radium Secretary, "let's have some fun."

With one hand he ducked the brigadier-general, and with the other he submerged the captain.

"I'll bet nobody ever did that before," laughed the Secretary as he climbed out of the tank.

"You're wrong sir," said the Secretary's secretary, who had just arrived on the scene. "Mrs. Alice Longworth did the same thing when she went out to the Philippines with the 'Tan party.'"

An automobile has been invented in Europe that is light enough to be picked up and carried by two men whom it will accommodate.

FRIDAY NOVEMBER 11, 1910

Covetousness, like a candle, ill made, smother the splendor of a happy fortune in its own grease.—F. Osborn.

Forget your political troubles and sleep early. That will make your friends among the traders and clerks.

It is now up to the Republican party of the Territory of Hawaii to make good. The power is in Republican hands.

Bryan, when a Colonel in the army, said he was suffering from "military lockjaw" so refused to talk. Maybe that's what's the matter with our Colonel at Oyster Bay.

What sort of a Land Commissioner is it that writes to an applicant for land that the matter placed before him is too insignificant to warrant his attention. And the applicant was seeking land for a home.

Delegate Kuhio never lacked for friends among the Democratic members of Congress. Congressman Candler, Democrat, did not come to Hawaii to assist in defeating Kuhio, as many predicted he would do.

If Woodrow Wilson can purify the corporation laws of New Jersey he will deserve to be President or something as attractive. New Jersey's corporation laws have furnished the cornerstones for the edifices of national corruption.

Republicans can thank their stars that the Democrats in their legislative campaign did not take up the incident of the Land Commissioner approving automobile bills for totting alleged land seekers about the island of Maui. But the Republicans should see to it that plans are laid for an administration of the land office that will command general confidence.

Should L. L. McCandless go to Washington and attempt to block the measures advanced by Delegate Kuhio on behalf of the people of Hawaii, he would become a disgrace among the Democrats and absolutely finished among reputable men. It is impossible to think that any man in his right mind should do the things that are credited to McCandless by some of his followers.

THE 62ND CONGRESS.

Hawaii need not worry over the Democratic victories in the mainland elections. The Democrats have not secured a sufficiently large legislative force to enable them to carry out any of the ruinous tariff reducing policies that might be expected from that party. Furthermore, sugar would hardly be liable to special attack from the Democrats, if they should be fairly consistent, as sugar is one of the largest revenue-producers of the nation, and the Democrats are supposed to be for a tariff levied on the basis of revenue only.

Hawaii will suffer from the Democracy's control of Congress, only as the whole country will suffer.

A Democratic House, a Senate Republican by a narrow margin, and a Republican President is a combination that has usually resulted in a long series of legislative blockades, and a reduction of progressive measures to a minimum.

That is what has to be feared, and that is about all.

Modern Democracy has at times given signs of being very much afraid that the country will have an efficient navy, a competent army and too great expense in carrying on valuable public works. A period of national doldrums has usually marked the predominance of the Democrats in the national houses of Congress.

Democrats of former years have posed as anti-expansionists. But what the present Democracy stands for is impossible to forecast. The elections have undoubtedly brought forward a great many new men, and it is mighty hard to figure out what a rejuvenated party will do, and especially is it difficult to judge it by what was done in its moribund days.

LANE SETS AN EXAMPLE.

John Lane has set a good example for those who are inclined to stop and haggle over unfortunate features of the local election result.

It is most unfortunate that a lot of persons parading in the garb of civic righteousness do most vicious and detestable things in the time of a crisis.

But we can't have everyone perfect, so the best thing and the only thing for big, broad, progressive men, is to go forward fighting the fight for fair play in politics, fair play in government, and forever increasing the power of straightforwardness that is bound to win.

That is clearly the idea of Mr. Lane, when he urges those who supported his candidacy to join him in working for the general progress of the City and Territory, and for strengthening the Republican party.

Let us not forget that unpleasant the knifing of the Lane incident is, Lane has advanced himself in the esteem of the people and those who knifed him are in a class by themselves on a very much lower scale.

In the long run no one has any use for the men who are bitter, soured and treacherous.

MR. ROOSEVELT.

What the citizens of New York State have done to Roosevelt cannot be fairly understood until the full details of the election results are at hand.

On the surface of the brief cables, it looks as if the people had said in effect to Mr. Roosevelt, "We love you for what you have done; we admire your abilities and courage; but you must remember that the American people will not allow anyone to become possessed of so much power that he can perpetuate a dictatorship."

That is what they are saying to J. Pierpont Morgan and his financial associates. That is what they are saying to the crooked bosses as well as the ones prompted by honest but mistaken motives. So Roosevelt is getting only that which is in store for every man who gets too big for the country.

The same idea is expressed in the term applied to James G. Blaine and other great and powerful men—he was too great to be President. Some men, good men too, go so far that the people become afraid of them. Roosevelt has reached that point with the easterners. Whether this is true of the West remains to be seen.

It is entirely possible that his defeat by New York will be the signal for saddling the responsibility upon Wall Street, and make of Roosevelt a greater hero than ever in the West and South.

On the other hand it is to be noted that both Roosevelt and Taft have been defeated in their home States. There are other leading Republicans, as La Follette and his associates, who have victories to their credit, and the natural inference is that the people support their brand of Republicanism with more enthusiasm than the particular individual brand of those who failed in their efforts.

No one will feel that the country has suffered any great damage by reason of Mr. Roosevelt having tasted the cup of defeat. He unquestionably knows how to profit by it.

It gives the wages to be paid, the work to be done, accommodations furnished, plantation laborers, the future of the islands from a Portuguese standpoint, and many other vital facts.

Accompanying this are published several affidavits from Portuguese of Funchal who formerly lived in Hawaii or are present residents of the Territory, bearing out Campbell's statements.

Immigration is boomed. The whole thing forms a strong argument in favor of immigration, and is a conservative but thorough estimate of the situation, according to local Portuguese.

Mr. Silva's letter to Mr. Castro speaks briefly of the effect of the revolution in Funchal. Although the inhabitants are removed from the actual scenes of revolution, they were greatly excited and the birth of the new republic was hailed with enthusiasm.

Campbell and Silva, it is understood, have sent some reports to the Board of Immigration which are similar to the private information received here. The board has not yet made them public, and it was stated today that they have not been received.

ONE YEAR FOR BROWN BROTHER

Word of Taft Who Purloined Clothing Goes to Asche Hotel.

A penchant for possessing apparel that would place him in the Beau Brummel class resulted in the undoing of one Ramon Barrado, a recent arrival from the Philippine Islands. Barrado was caught with sundry articles of clothing in his apartments that bore such a striking resemblance to the belongings of several complainants at police headquarters, that he was arrested and afterward admitted that the clothing had been appropriated for his personal adornment.

In some instances Barrado had gone to the trouble of cutting down the garments in order that they would better fit his Adonis like figure.

After a hearing of the testimony, Judge Lymer sentenced the Filipino to one year at the Asche hotel.

HINDUS RUSHING TO SAN FRANCISCO They Are Barred From Every Other Port on the Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—The dumping ground for the scum of the Orient and India is San Francisco. From this port the scum is distributed throughout California, Washington and Oregon.

The scum of the Orient is the Hindu. Dirty, diseased, with yards of filthy white, green or blue cotton bound round his head, the Hindu stalks through the streets of the coast cities. He is the worst type of immigrant. His very mode of life makes him entirely foreign to the people of the United States, yet thanks to the leniency of the immigration commissioner at the port of San Francisco, Hart H. North, this class of undesirables is flocking by the hundreds into the United States, through San Francisco, with the arrival of every boat from the Orient.

Why? Because the importation of the Hindu fits in well with the general scheme of the railroads, the big manufacturing plants and big business, to down labor on the coast. If a corporation can get a Hindu to work for $1.50 a day, what's the use of paying twice that for an American? No use at all, is the answer of the corporations, and so the Hindus continue to arrive in bands.

Some of them are deported to their native states in far away India, but the big majority remain here to work for the railroads or the labor union baiters.

But the great danger is not so much those who are here; it is those who are coming. India is a large country. It is a country fairly teeming with millions upon millions of emaciated, sickly Hindus who are living, or rather existing, on starvation wages. Therefore, the reports from the United States of huge wages to be earned, compared to those paid in their country, has resulted in a steady influx of these Orientals which promises to result in a problem harder to solve than that of the Chinese or the Japanese.

In India a clerk can be had for $10 a month; a man cook for $3 a month; a maid servant for $1 a month; carpenters, bricklayers, etc., 23 cents a day, etc. The scale of wages is less for a day's work in India than the average American mechanic or laborer receives per hour.

These are the people who are flooding the western states, the people that railroads are welcoming with open arms, because they help them solve the problem of paying the American workman starvation wages. Charges have been made against the commission of immigration at San Francisco. These charges have resulted in nothing. Demands have been made that this port be closed to the Hindu as are the other ports of the Pacific coast on the grounds that the Hindu is apt to become a public charge and that he practices polygamy. But although this has been found sufficient to stop their entry in other coast ports they continue to flock to San Francisco, where they are distributed around the country in railroad camps, vineyards, foundries, etc.

When the legislature of California convenes at the next session there will be a big row on over the Hindu. Not only will the labor party demand that they be excluded, but they will also demand that laws be passed prohibiting Asiatics from owning land within the state. California tried to stop Asiatic immigration when she faced the Japanese problem, but the federal government demanded that it be allowed to cope with the situation.

But since the federal government failed to stop that which the laborers think is a menace to them and their families, they are going to take matters in their own hands and fight it out to the bitter end—either to victory or defeat.

"The Hindu, the Jap, the Chinaman and the rest must go," is the slogan of labor. And labor is going to see that they do go, or know the reason why.

CITIZENS WILL ERECT MONUMENT TO KETCHEL

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 30.—Citizens of this city and of Belmont, the home of the late Stanley Ketchel, who held the title of middleweight champion of the world, met today to discuss plans for the erection of a monument here in memory of Ketchel. An organization was formed under the name of the "Stanley Ketchel Memorial Society," and Howard K. Pierce was elected temporary chairman. Subscriptions were taken, and $300 was raised.

It is expected that the fund will be contributed to by the 150 inhabitants of Belmont. A vaudeville benefit will be held here next week, plans being already made for the acquisition of a theater. The performers have already been asked to volunteer. The matter of the Ketchel memorial will be brought before the city Legislature, which it is already known is favorable to the project.

FORT SHAFTER NEWS

An article has been received by one of the men of this battalion, clipped from the Kansas City Star and headed Fort Leavenworth, Kan., stating that the Thirteenth Infantry, now stationed at Fort Leavenworth, is scheduled to leave the States for foreign service sometime during the month of April, next year. It has been rumored that instead of proceeding to the Philippines, where the officers and men would have advantage of foreign service, and where the regiment is entitled to go after serving four years in the homeland, they will be ordered to Hawaii. Taking it from the general thought of the article, it is very evident that the officers and enlisted men are disappointed and do not want to come to Honolulu.

No Dislike for Hawaii.

It is not that the men now stationed at Fort Leavenworth dislike coming to Honolulu for Hawaii itself, but that foreign service will be lost for at least four years more. The increased pay for officers and the additional 20 per cent, together with double time for the enlisted men, are what the 13th Infantry is looking to. In the minds of the members of the 20th Infantry, they see no reason why the War Department should show any partiality regarding distribution of troops.

Hawaii Home Service.

The second battalion of the 20th Infantry has served nearly four years in these islands, with only home service to their credit, while the other two battalions have had advantage of foreign service in the Philippines. If Hawaii is to remain in service the same as that in the States, and each regiment to take its turn in serving here, the 13th Infantry should be glad that they have the first opportunity and that after four years their tour of service here will be finished for some years.

To Exchange With Twentieth.

If the entire Thirteenth comes to Honolulu in April, no doubt this will be the exchange of stations with the Twentieth, one battalion coming to Fort Shafter and the other two to Schofield Barracks. This will mean that the entire 20th regiment will find its way to Fort Leavenworth. From the general remarks at this post, it is no more desired that the Twentieth go to Fort Leavenworth than that the Thirteenth come here. The men of Fort Shafter are anxious to get back to the homeland, and most anywhere in the States will do.

Another Game of Bowling.

A large crowd of soldiers crowded into the bowling alley at Fort Shafter last Tuesday night to witness another exciting game of bowling. The match was between the non-commissioned officers and the privates of Company E, and was hotly contested. Bowling is becoming very popular at this post, for the alleys are kept constantly busy during most of the day and evening. The scores made are not as large as have been made on the island, but the excitement is great, so the enthusiasm keeps up.

Non-Commissioned Officers Win.

The first game of the series was won by the non-commissioned officers by 19 pins. Their lineup was Sergeant's Simpson, Oaten, Collins, Corporals Patten and Falkenstein. The privates got together Muelhan, Drews, Privates Simpson, Gery, Fulton and Wyatt. The non-coms were too good for the privates and won the entire series—second game by 27 pins and the third with 67 pins. The non-coms won by a majority of 82 pins. During the entire series the officers made an average per man of 137, while the privates fell back to 132. The big game is expected Sunday morning at 9 o'clock when Company H plays Company G.

Annual Report of Department.

The annual report of Major-General Thomas H. Barry, U. S. Army, commanding the Department of California, has been received and many things of interest are contained therein. Of Hawaii he says: "The Hawaiian Islands are so far from these headquarters that the troops there should constitute a district of this department under the immediate command of a brigadier-general or senior colonel; this to bring about the proper coordination and cooperation of the several arms of the service, posts, and other military establishments and interests therein."

Views Regarding Artillery.

"There are three separate coast artillery stations—Forts Kamehameha, Ruger and De Russy. They should all be garrisoned by coast artillery troops, two companies at Fort De Russy, two at Fort Ruger, which posts are three miles apart, and, with Fort Armstrong, at the entrance of the harbor, constitute one battle command. Fort Kamehameha, at the entrance of Pearl Harbor, a separate battle command, should be built up and garrisoned by four companies. There has been much discussion about the building up of these several coast artillery posts and, from careful consideration of all conditions, based on personal knowledge, the above seems to be the best solution of the problem. If, however, in the interest of economy or for other reasons, the department determines to build but two coast artillery posts, then the best results will obtain by building up Fort Kamehameha for four companies, with four companies at Fort Ruger to take care of the armament at that post and at Fort De Russy. Fort Shafter should be expanded into a regimental post and a full regiment of infantry stationed there.

"There is some dissatisfaction among the officers and enlisted men stationed in the Hawaiian Islands, because they do not receive foreign pay and credit for double time. They should receive the same allowances in these respects that United States troops do who are serving in Alaska and the Philippine Islands, and that are received by officers and men of the navy and marine corps serving in the Hawaiian Islands.

Entire Regiments for Hawaii.

"The best results would obtain were entire regiments stationed in the Hawaiian Islands. One battalion of the 20th Infantry is at Fort Shafter, while the major part of that regiment is in the Philippine Islands. An entire regiment of infantry should be at Fort Shafter."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—If a husband beats his wife until she is bruised and bleeding, even crippled for life, should she be allowed to sue him for damages, or would such suits violate the sanctity of the home and tend to break up civilization?

Such a question was laid before the Supreme Court of the United States for its decision.

Jessie E. Thompson, wife of Charles N. Thompson, both living in the District of Columbia, sued her husband for $70,000 damages for seven alleged assaults upon her. The nature of the alleged assaults and injuries was never brought out in open court because on the plea that at the time of the alleged assaults the parties were husband and wife.

While the decision of the Supreme Court will not be binding except in the District of Columbia, some States have similar laws in this respect.

DO NOT SCOLD NERVOUS CHILDREN

Instead Give Them a Safe Tonic Which Will Strengthen the Weak Nerves and Prevent an Attack of St. Vitus' Dance.

Many a child has been called awkward, has been punished in school for not keeping still or for dropping things, when the trouble was really chorea, or St. Vitus' dance, as it is popularly called. So common is this nervous disease in childhood that in some schools one-fifth of all the pupils have been found suffering from it in one form or another.

Because the presence of the disease betrays there is usually a disturbance of the general health. The child shows listlessness and inattention. Then it becomes restless, and twitching of the muscles and jerking of the limbs and body follow.

Often the patient loses flesh and becomes pale and bloodless. A remedy that cures St. Vitus' dance, and cures it so thoroughly that no trace of the disease remains, is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

A typical case of St. Vitus' dance is described by Mrs. Fred Martin, of Yates Center, Kansas. Her cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills makes her statement particularly valuable to parents, whose children are suffering with this common disease of children.

"When I was nine years old," she says, "I was afflicted with St. Vitus' dance. It was brought on by too close attention to my studies. There was a constant twitching of the muscles of my entire body. My limbs were affected at first and later my head began to jerk. My tongue seemed thick and for a long time I could not speak distinctly. I was confined to the bed for most of the time during the two years I was sick and became so weak that I could hardly move. I was treated by several doctors, who pronounced my case St. Vitus' dance in its worst form. They were unable to help me and each one gave up my case. Then my parents gave Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. I had taken the pills only a short time when there was a change for the better in my condition. I gave the pills a good trial and was entirely cured. I returned to school a well girl and have been in the best of health since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

LEASES BEFORE LAND BOARD

Disposition of Cornwell Ranch Property Considered By Land Board.

The Territorial land board met yesterday afternoon, the main subject of consideration being the leases asked for on the Cornwell Ranch, Maui. The four members of the board present were R. H. Trent, Frank Andrade, S. C. Dwight and J. F. Brown. Brown acted as chairman in the absence of A. W. Carter. W. A. Kinney was also absent.

Definite action on the Cornwell Ranch leases was deferred until the full board could be present, although it was agreed by the members present that the homestead lots should be one thousand acres in extent. Marston Campbell advocated disposing of the land in one lease, but the board did not approve of this suggestion from the Commissioner of Public Lands.

The rent of the land will be fifteen cents an acre for fifteen years. These figures were approved by the board, but nothing will be done until all the land board members are present. Fourteen applications for leases on the Cornwell Ranch have been received. The expiring lease was for twenty-one years and included the entire 10,000 acres.

A request from the Hilo Masonic Lodge was granted, in which the lodge asked that a twelve-foot strip of land adjoining their Hilo building be put up at auction. This will give light on one side of the building.

Monsarrat of Hawaii offered to lease 1185 acres of land on Hawaii for $50 per annum, the land being along the shore line and useless for any purpose and only being valuable at all because a small spring is located on it that is used by the cattle in time of drought.

The land and the spring in question being known to several members of the board, Monsarrat's request was granted.

ARMY AND NAVY.

The War Department is in receipt of a communication from the State Department transmitting from the American Ambassador at Tokio a letter signed by a number of residents of Karuzawa, Japan, forming a flood emergency committee, bringing to the notice of the American Embassy the splendid services rendered during the recent severe floods in Japan by 2nd Lieut. George V. Strong, 6th U. S. Cavalry. Lieutenant Strong has been on duty at the American Embassy for several years past studying Japanese, and at the time referred to above was spending the summer with his family at a Japanese resort. His services in connection with the construction of dams and bridges and the restoration of the water supply are said to have added materially to the safety and comfort of the community. The American Ambassador speaks in the highest terms of the officer's efficiency at a time of great excitement and danger.

Reports from the governors of the Moro province show prosperity in the various districts. While Major J. P. Finley, 28th U. S. Infantry, Governor of the Zamboanga district, finds agricultural development retarded by want of laborers, Lieut. W. O. Reed, 6th U. S. Cavalry, Governor of the Sulu district, reports that no trouble has been experienced by the Americans planters in obtaining necessary laborers. Lieut.-Col. G. S. Young, 21st U. S. Inf., Governor of the Lanao district, says that one of the chief drawbacks to agricultural development is the loss by the datus of control over the scapoes, who take to robbery rather than to work. "Good roads and more contact with civilization are necessary to suppress the continuous lawlessness that now exists." Major E. R. Heiferg, P. S. (Captain, 6th U. S. Cavalry), finds that the slow progress in the Cotobato district is due to the unwillingness of capital to engage in any undertakings in that section.

A Boston press despatch described the jeering which bluejackets and marines gave to a speaker on Boston Common on Sunday afternoon, October 16, when he denounced the men of the navy at a "vicious lot," whose hardest work was putting on and taking off their uniforms, and said the Maine wreck had not been raised because "the Navy Department knew she was blown up from the inside." He invited the sailors to hear him repeat his charges in the evening. The men passed the word to their mates, and a large delegation of men from the warships greeted his night tirade with derisiveness. The speaker asked the police to arrest the sailors, but finally thought better of it and changed the subject of his talk.

Under the Management of James Woods

FACING the beautiful park in the heart of the city, which is the theatre of the principal events of the famous festivals of San Francisco, this hotel, in environment and atmosphere, expresses most pleasantly the comfortable spirit of old California.

The royalty and nobility of the Old World and the Far East and the men of high achievement in America who assemble here contribute to the cosmopolitan atmosphere of an institution which represents the hospitality and individuality of San Francisco to the traveler.

The building, which marks the farthest advance of science in service, has now the largest capacity of any hotel structure in the West, and upon completion of the Post street annex will be the largest caravansary in the world.

MEXICAN TROOPS ARE ON DUTY

(Associated Press Cable.)
CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 10.—The anti-American feeling which has been running high here for two days was today transferred to Guadalajara, where for several hours a mob marched the streets of the city, attacked Americans who appeared in public, rioted before the homes and business houses of Americans and destroyed a large amount of property.

So threatening were the demonstrations of the mob against the American consulate that the city was declared under martial law by the authorities and troops were hurried through the streets to prevent an attack upon the consulate. Tonight the consulate, the residence of the consul and the property of Americans are guarded by the troops.

The property loss to the American residents of the city is considerable.

Ambassador Takes a Hand.
Henry Lane Wilson, the American ambassador, today called upon Secretary Creel, the Mexican secretary of state, who later returned the call of the American representative. Secretary Creel assured the ambassador that there would be no repetition of the rioting against Americans in the city of Mexico, the authorities having the people well in hand.

CANDIDATES RUNNING CLOSE.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The contest for Representative in the first congressional district is so close that it has not yet been decided whether Englebright or Baker has been elected.

OREGON DEMOCRATIC.
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 10.—Fall returns show that West, the Democratic candidate, has carried the State.

DR. COOK GETS UP HIS COURAGE

Would-Be Pole Finder Sends a Message to Walter Wellman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, first American claimant to the discovery of the North Pole, has sent a congratulatory message to Walter Wellman, Arctic explorer and first aeronaut to attempt to cross the Atlantic in an airship.

The letter came in the form of a letter sent by a London newspaper man, addressed to Wellman. "Kindly send my heartfelt congratulations to Walter Wellman for his wonderful initial success," the letter quotes Dr. Cook as saying: "If he crosses the Atlantic he will have gained an object of far greater use to mankind than the conquest of the North Pole."

Cook, according to a letter, considers Wellman's feat one of the most remarkable ever attempted by an aeronaut. He predicts the final success of the venture and believes that the crossing of the Atlantic in aircraft will eventually be a common thing.

MISS ANNE MORGAN ISN'T GOING TO WED DON JAIME

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—"Oh, puhaw!" ejaculated Miss Anne Morgan as she landed today from the White Star liner Oceanic after a long tour of Southern Europe. "It is quite hopeless to continue to print stories about my matrimonial intentions. I am not engaged and I am not going to be."

Miss Morgan's reply was in response to a query as to whether she were engaged to be married to Don Jaime, pretender to the throne of Portugal, as had been reported.

Miss Morgan in her customs declaration put down "Antique crucifix, duty free." The pier inspector asked to see the crucifix, and when it was produced he asked Miss Morgan how she knew it was an antique. "Because it was made in the thirteenth century," snapped Miss Morgan.

PLAYERS DIVIDE BIG MONEY

World's Champions Each Get $2,062.74 as His Share.

The big baseball pie was opened at Shibe Park, Philadelphia, October 25, and every member of the world's champions was handed out his slice.

According to the new champions, the men were on hand in condition to play whenever their services were needed, and they were as much entitled to a share of the coin as those who were selected to play most in the games.

The luckiest man in the bunch was Shortstop Derrick, who did not report until the latter part of August, but he was counted in for a full share the same as the others.

Before the world's champions left Chicago they signed a statement requesting the National Commission to send the Athletics' players' full share of the money to Manager Mack for distribution, and this was done.

While at the park the players cleaned out their lockers and took away their bats and uniforms, and from now until next spring Shibe Park will be deserted, except for the groundkeepers, watchmen and Manager Mack and his secretary, Joe Ohi, who have a large amount of correspondence to get rid of.

After receiving their money, the players accepted an invitation which had been extended through Captain Davis to attend the celebration in Kensington.

Several presents were made by the players, including one to Louis Van Zelt, the little mascot. Jack Barry's wonderful work in the world's series has so stirred up the fans of his home town, Meriden, Conn., that they will give him a banquet.

Although the majority of the players are eager to return to their homes or to go away on hunting trips, nearly all of them will remain here until after the Athletics give their banquet to the players and scribes.

Francis C. Richter, one of the official scorers for the world's series, stated today that a couple of errors had crept into the official averages sent out from Chicago. Instead of two stolen bases for Murphy, he should have been credited with one sacrifice hit and one stolen base. Collins should be given credit for one sacrifice hit instead of none.

ELEVENS TO LINE UP FOR FOOTBALL

School Games On Today and Tomorrow Afternoon.

Alexander Field today and the Boys' Field tomorrow will be the scenes of intercollegiate football games which will draw crowds of rooters from the schools represented on the gridiron.

The game this afternoon at Alexander Field is called for 4 o'clock, and at that hour Oahu College second team and a bunch from Iolani School will line up against each other.

Tomorrow afternoon the Highs and the college elevens will get into the game at the Boys' Field, this being the last game between these aggregations.

The conflict promises to be a good one, for there was considerable feeling aroused over the last contest on account of rough play, and each team goes into the game tomorrow for blood.

DOTS AND DASHES.

Tonight at the Y. M. C. A. there will be another baseball game between the Reds and Whites.

Indoor baseball at Y. M. C. A. is taking up considerable attention and the game last night between the Blacks and Blues was done in the fast time of fifty-five minutes, resulting in a score of 14-5 in favor of the Blues. This gives the Blues three straight games and puts them in the lead.

NO PLACE TO FIGHT HERE

Bout at Leilehua Tuesday Promises to Be Good Attraction.

The fight game in Honolulu seems to be all to the bad these days, and in order to see some sport a trip must be taken to Leilehua or some other camp where the soldiers are having a go occasionally.

One of the former fight promoters in the city remarked today that there was not a place in town where a bout could be pulled off at the present time.

The Opera House is the only vacant place, and a bout there would be out of the question, for many reasons.

There are several good men in and around Honolulu, and it is too bad that there has been nothing doing for so long.

The fight at Leilehua on Tuesday night promises to give the sports a chance to size up M. Collough and McGurn in a go that will be one of the best ever pulled off here.

Both men claim to be in excellent condition, and the fifteen-round go should attract a large crowd of the sporting world of the city.

There are some preliminary bouts arranged which ought to prove interesting before the main event of the evening comes off.

DOES NOT TAKE DOOM SERIOUSLY

Fogel Says National Clubs Can Settle Differences.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—Chas. S. Doolin has resigned as manager of the Philadelphia National League club; President Horace S. Fogel has not received the resignation; Fogel has wired President Lynch of the National League, requesting him to warn President Herrmann of the Cincinnati club not to tamper with the Philadelphia players, and, so far as Mr. Fogel is concerned, the Cincinnati-Philadelphia deal which has caused so much turmoil in the Philadelphia club is off.

President Fogel said tonight that if what he hears is true, he will probably receive Doolin's resignation tomorrow morning when he reaches his office. In speaking of the matter tonight Fogel said:

"I do not take Doolin seriously. I believe that he will cool down and view this matter in the proper light. I waited in my office until late in the day, expecting a visit from him, but he did not put in an appearance. Of course, I can not take any action upon the alleged resignation until I receive it."

President Fogel looks upon the reported threat of President Herrmann to take the matter before the National Commission as a joke. "This matter is between two National League clubs," said Fogel, "and I would like to know why President Ban B. Johnson of the American League should be brought into the case. It is a sad commentary upon the National League officials, if they can not settle their troubles without the aid of the president of an opposition league."

Doolin states that he will not go to the office of the National League in this city to see Fogel. "Fogel has got to come and see me," he says.

Both Doolin and Fogel were present at a banquet given by the owners of the Athletic club to the world's champions tonight and occupied seats where their elbows almost touched, but neither appeared anxious to discuss baseball.

Do not think that because you have not paid your Personal Tax (Poll, Road and School) for this year or for several years, that the Tax Office is not aware of the fact. The Tax Office has a complete record of all persons subject to a Personal Tax and if not paid when due, it only means that interest at the rate of ten percent per annum is piling up against you.

The ownership of revolvers is not common among the people of Germany, although the fact that many revolvers are sold in that country may give reason for a difference of opinion in this matter.

KETCHELL WAS HIGH ROLLER

Life of Dead Fighter Was Such as to End Early.

Ketchell led a fast life after he reached the top. His end was in sight. At first no one believed that he was really "hitting the hop," but in San Francisco now there is more reason to think it was true than to doubt it. He had been excused on the ground that he did it only occasionally, and then to be smart.

Although Ketchell was born in Grand Rapids, nothing was heard of him in the pugilistic line until he showed up as a "dub" fighter in Butte. Maurice Thompson, Mose La Fontaine and a few others were the little ring which showed frequently in ten-round bouts at the Casino theater. Ketchell was a miner, young, strong and full of energy. He butted into the game, but did not gain much of a reputation. The best thing they used to say about him was that he could hit harder than a mule could kick.

Boxing fell by the wayside in Butte and Ketchell disappeared. Some time later he appeared in San Francisco. His first fight of any note was with Joe Thomas, then looked upon as a comer. Much to the surprise of the general public, Ketchell got a draw.

Then he commenced climbing the ladder. His fights with Papke have occupied too much space within recent time to require repetition. Practically knocked out in the first punch in one of them, he fought blindly for twelve rounds, gaining the admiration of the sporting world for his pluck. About two months later he beat Papke in eleven rounds.

Prior to meeting Jack Johnson, who handled Ketchell as he pleased, Stanley gained prestige by putting it all over Jack O'Brien in a six-round go.

The last fight of importance Ketchell had was with Frank Klaus, the Pittsburgh middleweight. Ketchell was not in the best of condition and was lucky to get through. Talking after this battle at Reno, Ketchell said:

"Let me tell you that this fellow Klaus gave me all I wanted. They accused me of stalling. It is true I was not in the best of condition, but I did my best. If I had not Klaus would have whipped me. Klaus is a hard man to beat, and I will never go into the ring with him again unless I am right."

Ketchell's failure to meet Bill Lang, the Australian, in New York, is a matter of recent history. Ketchell knew that he could not get right and slid out of the mat.

Prior to going to the ranch of a friend named Dickerson, near Springfield, Mo., to recuperate, Ketchell was under the management of Wilson Mizner, who is not slow himself. Ketchell, however, made his eyes open at the bill he ran up at the St. Francis Hotel, in San Francisco. At this same hotel Ketchell had apartments that cost him $31 a day just before and after he was trimmed by Jack Johnson. His general life was in keeping with the money he spent for apartments. In New York he also followed the Great White Way.

In Reno last spring he was a prominent figure, always carrying a kodak which he used frequently. It did not take a close observer to see that he was taking life too easy for a man who desired to retain his title.

WANTS ASSOCIATION TO TAKE OVER FIELD

Dr. Hand Proposes that Boys' Field Be Fixed Up.

Dr. Hand of the Y. M. C. A. proposes that the Boys' Field be fenced and generally fixed up for an athletic field by St. Louis, High School and college association, stating that the whole can be done for $2400.

In speaking of the matter, Dr. Hand says that the Y. M. C. A. controls the field and that if the schools mentioned wish to fix it up he will let them have it on favorable terms. Sunday games being prohibited.

The Boys' Field contains a grandstand with a seating capacity of over two hundred. Under the grandstand are two large spaces, one used for a store room and the other fitted up with a shower, with room for three more. The store room and present shower room could easily be made into two good dressing rooms, with shower accommodations. The field is nearly level, though very bumpy, and needs filling. There is a quarter-mile track surrounding the field, and a good fence around the whole ground. The Liliha street approach needs repairing, as it becomes very muddy after a heavy rain.

BUTTERMILK WAS DRINK OF ATHLETE

"All Around" Champion Drinks That at Banquet.

Fred Thomson, the Occidental College student who in a contest in Chicago this summer captured the "all-around" athletic championship of the whole country, is in himself a whole sermon of cleanliness for young men, though he is the farthest possible from being "preachy" about it. He is just simply, straightforwardly clean, wholesome and full of the joy of living. Young Thomson, who is only 20, has not suffered the slightest turning of the head on account of his victory. The evening of the day that he won the championship he was the guest of honor at a dinner in the Chicago Athletic Club. When the wine list was brought to table, the other diners waited for the young athlete to give his order, and he promptly said, "Buttermilk, please." It is an open secret that some, at least, of his tablemates were entertaining a thirst for something stronger, but the proprieties held sway and there was nothing ordered that evening more intoxicating than the guest of honor had chosen. In Occidental Thomson is a leader in the religious life of the school—the son of a minister whose life makes old proverbs about preachers' boys look ridiculous. As president of the college Young Men's Christian Association the youthful champion holds the admiring loyalty of his fellow students by his unaffected religion as thoroughly as he holds it on the field of sport by his athletic prowess.

D Company nine of the Marines beat the nine of B Company yesterday afternoon by a score of 2-0, the same as that in a protested game on the last day of October.
