FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1887.

CUTS BOTH WAYS.

An important judgment was given in a civil suit in the Police Court on Wednesday. It appears that hitherto Chinese immigrants for these islands had been allowed to ship at San Francisco without paying head money, that being left for collection at this port. This was an accommodation both to the immigrants and those interested in them here, enabling the former to reach their destination for so much less money and avoiding the necessity of the latter remitting the needful. Lately a Chinaman detained in quarantine failed to pay the immigration tax, and Officer C. B. Reynolds, of the Board of Health and Police services, held his baggage till the money should be forthcoming. Suit of replevin was brought against the officer, to compel him to surrender the property. When the case came up on the day mentioned before Police Justice Dayton, the Board of Health for its officer consented to adverse judgment, and that other baggage abide by this judgment. Under this decision it would appear that the baggage of immigrants cannot be held here for their head tax. Acting upon this understanding the Government will, it is said, instruct the Hawaiian Consul at San Francisco to insist upon the tax being paid over there. Thus the persons interested in Chinese immigration have gained nothing by contesting the method in vogue for securing payment of the money. Hereafter the tax will have to be paid in advance at San Francisco to ensure the immigrants being allowed to land in this Kingdom.

That Sugar Stock.

It will be remembered that, in our last issue, we referred to the rumored sale, by Mr. Herman Bendel, of all his stock in the American Sugar Refinery. The announcement has created considerable talk upon the streets, and the reported sale has been vigorously contradicted in certain quarters. Mr. Bendel has himself stated "on his word of honor as a gentleman" that he had disposed of all the American Sugar Refinery stock that he possessed. Mr. Steele, manager of the American Refinery, is reported in the Daily Report to have said that Mr. Bendel had not disposed of any of his stock. Mr. Bendel, however, should know his own business affairs, and we are inclined to give credence to the statement made by him "on his word of honor as a gentleman." Having disposed of his stock, he has no interest in saying that he holds it any longer.—San Francisco Merchant.

SIDE LIGHTS.

Smoke the Havana Cheroots, to be found at C. J. McCarthy's.

A superb shepherd dog and first-rate watcher, bred in Chili, may be bought reasonably at the Fort Street Shooting Gallery.

Received at the Club House per S. S. Australia: Fresh salmon, cauliflower, celery, oysters frozen, apples, figs, etc., all on the daily bill of fare.

Messrs. King Bros. are the largest importers of artists' materials, pictures, picture mouldings, etc., in this Kingdom and still continue to keep their prices to suit the times.

A fresh supply of the famous John Wieland Philadelphia Beer has been received at the Criterion Saloon, Fort street.

The best things to have laid by for a rainy day are an umbrella and an insurance policy in the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. S. G. Wilder, agent.

Much opposition is manifested throughout Mexico to the National Administration's tariff reductions, which are believed to be exceptionally beneficial to American enterprises.

The Equitable Column.

THE EQUITABLE

Life Assurance Society

OF THE UNITED STATES.

Total Assets, Dec. 31, '86, $75,510,472.76

Total Liabilities, including legal Reserve on all existing policies (4 per cent Standard) $59,154,597.00

Total Undivided Surplus over Four per cent Reserve, - - $16,355,875.76

Of which the proportion contributed (as computed) by Policies in general class, is $ 5,728,761.76

Of which the proportion contributed (as computed) by Policies in Tontine class, is 10,627,114.00

Upon the New York State Standard of 4 1/2 per cent interest, the Surplus is as computed, $20,495,175.76

New Assurance written in 1886, $111,540,203

Total Outstanding Assurance, $411,779,058

Increase of Premium Income, $2,810,475.40

Increase of Surplus (Four per cent basis), - - - $2,409,636.63

Increase of Assets, - - - $8,957,085.26

In actual Surplus (namely the excess of accumulated funds over liabilities); in Premium Income; in the amount of Assurance in force on its books, the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States exceeds every other life assurance company, and may be justly regarded as the largest and strongest life assurance organization in the World.

EXAMPLE

Of Policy No. 67,389. Life. Issued Jan. 22, 1872, on the life of W. H. C. Date of expiration Jan. 22, 1887.

Amount of Policy, $10,000. Tontine Period, 15 years. Age 53. Annual Premium, $543.10.

Total premiums paid in 15 years, - $8,146.50

1. CASH VALUE, Consisting of Reserve, $3,856.30 and Surplus, 4,199.80 $8,056.10

2. PAID-UP VALUE, - - - $13,040.00

If the policy-holder select this settlement, as the paid-up value is larger than the original amount of assurance, a satisfactory certificate of good health must be furnished, or the excess must be drawn on a cash basis.

3. CASH SURPLUS, - - - $5,199.80

Under this settlement, the policy holder withdraws the surplus in cash, and retains the original policy, continuing the payment of premiums, less annual dividends.

Three other options are available under this Policy.

The policies with 10-year Tontine periods do not show results as satisfactory as those above given. Policies with 20-year periods, on the other hand, will show much larger results than those with 15-year periods; but for purposes of illustration the 15-year policies--those of the intermediate period--are given as fair illustrations.

The longer period of accumulation which the 20-year policies enjoy renders them the most desirable for those who, seeking absolute protection at the lowest "Life" rate, desire also the largest returns in case they live:

Hence the Best Free Tontine "Ordinary Life" Policy is One with a TWENTY-YEAR TONTINE PERIOD

The Free Tontine Policy of the Equitable Life Assurance Society is unrestricted after one year, incontestable after two years, and is then PAYABLE in the event of death, immediately upon the receipt of satisfactory proofs of death.

It guarantees a full share of the surplus earned, and being issued by a Society holding a

Larger Surplus than any other Assurance Company,

May be expected to show larger profits than the policies of any other company.

LOCAL NEWS.

Professor Cook, of Lansing, Mich., has killed cabbage worms with a mixture of one pound of buhach with 200 gallons of water.

The semi-centennial anniversary of the arrival of Mrs. Dominis, mother of the ex-Governor, occurs to-morrow, and it has been stated, will be observed by that lady holding a reception.

By advertisement it will be seen that the highly successful tableaux and dramatic entertainment given on Monday evening is to be repeated on Saturday evening, the box-plan to open to-day.

The captain of the schooner Liholiho reports that there is no new case of small-pox at Lahaina. The Japanese who has it is getting well, and the quarantine was going to be raised in three or four days.

The extract from the San Francisco Merchant, on Major Bendel's stock in the American Refinery, is republished by request. Perhaps more light can be thrown upon the disputed point by those interested in that refinery here.

Officer Hopkins had a narrow escape from being badly hurt again last Wednesday. He was in a brake on Fort street, along with Mr. A. Arthur, horse trainer, when the horse shied and Hopkins was pitched out, but without sustaining any injury.

A horse hitched to a lumber wagon, belonging to Messrs. Allen & Robinson, did the runaway business in style about half-past 4 last evening. It ran from somewhere up-town to the lumber yard of that firm, then took two rounds of the yard before being stopped. Not a bit of damage was done.

At the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mr. F. C. Lowrey, President; Mr. T. Rain Walker, Vice-President; Mr. R. V. Podmore, Secretary (re-elected); Messrs. W. O. Smith and Thomas G. Thurm, Directors. A balance of about $20 was reported in hand from the past year, all bills paid.

No less than three raids on Chinese gaming resorts were made by the police yesterday. In the first case one prisoner was captured. The second one resulted in a gambler breaking his leg in attempting to escape by a window. Officer Hopkins could have caught others, but this unfortunate Chinaman's pockets were bulging with evidence for conviction, in the shape of rolls of tickets. A single culprit was secured in the descent on the third house.

The Shakesperian lecture by Mrs. Williams to-night is one that no lover of literature should miss. Few are competent to elucidate the conceptions of the "immortal William," and that lady is proclaimed by those having capacity and opportunity of knowing to be one of those few. It is rarely that a Honolulu audience has offered it such an intellectual treat as this one promises to be, and it will be to the credit of the city's reputation for refinement and culture if the chance be well improved.

It Pays to Buy Papers.

"It really doesn't require the expenditure of a great deal of money for a man to keep himself posted on the news of the day," remarked a business man who is an omnivorous newspaper reader. "I buy all the daily newspapers—all those printed in English I mean—published in this city, and I find that the total amount of their cost is twenty cents per day. The morning papers cost nine cents and the afternoon papers eleven cents. Considering the amount of reading furnished for the money I think it a cheap investment. I also buy all the Sunday papers," he continued, "at an expense every Sabbath of thirty-eight cents. I find that there is more good reading in them, to say nothing of the news of the day, than is contained in three magazines at twenty-five cents a number." Philadelphia Call.

Medical Possibilities of Photography.

In The Camera is recorded a very curious phenomenon in connection with photography, by the person who observed it. He took a portrait of a child apparently in good health and with a clear skin. The negative picture showed the face to be thickly covered with an eruption. Three days afterward the child was covered with spots due to prickly heat. The camera had seen and photographed the eruption three days before it was visible to the eye. Another case of a somewhat similar kind is also recorded where a child showed spots on his portrait which were invisible on his face a fortnight previous to an attack of small-pox. It is suggested that these cases might point to a new method of medical diagnosis.

GOVERNMENT LAND SALES.

His Majesty a Large Buyer.

Running up Prices.

At noon yesterday Mr. John A. Hasinger, First Clerk of the Interior Department, took his stand at the front entrance of Aliiolani Hale, to sell at auction certain lands on this island advertised by the Minister of the Interior. His Majesty the King; Mr. Aholo, Minister of the Interior; Mr. Kanoa, Minister of Finance; Hon. Junius Kaee, Registrar, and about a score of others were present. Mr. G. E. Smith, of the Interior office, was clerk of the sale. The leases and lands sold, with the prices, were as follows:—

Lease of two pieces of land at Mokuia, Waialua, containing 427 acres of mountain grazing land, ten years, upset price $50 per annum semi-annually in advance: Gaspar Silva, $55.

Lease of lot 1/4 acre, adjoining court house at Kaneohe, 5 years, upset price as above: sold for $50.

Lease of Esplanade lot No. 11, 50 x 100 feet, on Fort and Halekaula streets—opposite H. Hackfeld & Co.'s—ten years, upset price $240 per annum semi-annually in advance: J. McLean, $655.

Land at Kenoo, Waialua, 52 1/4 acres, upset price $130: His Majesty, $170.

Land at Kamaoiki, Kalihi, 450 acres; grazing, banana, woodland, etc.; upset price $200: His Majesty, $2,010.

Land at Kaloaloo, 43 98-100 acres suited in part to cultivation, situated in central part of Kalihi valley; upset price $500: Antone Rosa, $500.

Land at Pohakaa, 37 85-100 acres, suited in part to cultivation, situated in central part of Kalihi valley; upset price $400: A. Rosa, $400.

Land at Koloalu, Kalihi, 19 acres well suited to banana cultivation, etc.; upset price $15: His Majesty, $95.

Land at Hakaio, 29 1/2 acres of kula, hillside, joining the Morris premises, Kalihi, on makai side; upset price, $15: His Majesty, $490.

Strip of land between Mokauea and Kawaholo, 5 37-100 acres kula; upset price $50: His Majesty, $455.

Land in upper part of Kalihi valley, lying between Huea and Pohakuawawa (A. Rosa's land); upset price $15: A. Rosa, $500.

Two pieces of land on Maunakea and Pauahi streets, Honolulu, being remaining portions of the Government Dispensary lot after the widening of the streets since the fire; also 125 acres of kula and hillside land in Kalihi valley; were not offered, as they come under the injunction granted against their sale by the Supreme Court the other day. The leases sold realized $760, and the land $4,620, making a total realization of $5,380.

There were some lively contests over some of the lots. His Majesty and Mr. Henry Waterhouse went better than each other in $5 bids for Koloalu, about as fast as they could nod, until the former became the possessor for the price above mentioned. Again, Mr. Rosa was run up, for a strip of land required to consolidate his Kalihi domain, from an upset price of $15 to a knockdown one of $500. The land had been declared sold at $195, when, Mr. Rosa and Mr. Lazarus each claiming the bid, it had to be started again with the result stated. Mr. Lazarus has a grievance against the Government, anyway, for land that he alleges they took from him in Honolulu some years ago but never paid him for, causing him a loss of several thousand dollars in rental.

THE INSURANCE CASE.

The Plaintiff Michiels Nonsuited.

An Appeal to be taken.

On the Supreme Court resuming yesterday morning, Judge McCully gave his decision, sustaining the motion by Mr. F. M. Hatch that the plaintiff, C. Michiels, be nonsuited. His Honor spoke as follows:—

The question argued and submitted to the Court is, whether a nonsuit should be sustained on account of an assignment of the property having been made by a bill of sale given to Mr. Whiting, and the policy (of insurance) thereby rendered void. As against the prima facie conclusion that a forfeiture has been made by the change of title, the counsel for the plaintiff adduce authorities to the effect that where an insurable interest remains in the insured he may recover although he may have mortgaged his entire interest, or even have assigned it in trust or conditionally.

His Honor quoted several authorities therefor, but said these cases do not cite the clauses in the policy, or any clauses corresponding in terms of import with those which are expressed in the policy in the present case. An argument based upon the general principle that the company is liable so long as an insurable interest or an equitable interest remains in the insurer, would not apply to the case of a contract including express provisions for forfeiture in the event of any transfer, made without the consent of the company, and endorsement on the policy following the assignment of the property.

It would appear that modern insurance policies and the one in this case had expressly guarded against the doctrine of insurable interest. The clauses in the defendant company's policy, on which are based the nonsuit are as follows:— "If any change takes place in the title or possession of the property whether by sale, transfer, conveyance, legal process, etc., or if the assured is not the sole, absolute, and unconditional owner of the property insured, then and in every such case this policy shall be void."

I understand, His Honor said, that the second condition quoted expresses the state of facts which must exist when the policy is issued. Now has any change taken place in the title by the execution of the bill of sale to W. A. Whiting? In its terms it is an absolute conveyance to him of the property covered by the insurance. Giving it the most favorable construction asked for by the plaintiff, that it is a conditional sale, an unrecorded chattel mortgage, if the instrument has any effect, and is not a mere utility, it must be held that the title of Mr. Michiels was changed thereby. He was no longer the unconditional owner. Mr. Whiting held a title upon which he could make a valid sale to a third party having no notice of any equities in the case. The terms used in the clause are very comprehensive. Any change in the title, by sale or transfer. In the Michigan case cited it is said the words "transfer" or "change" of title are more comprehensive than the word "sale." A sale is upon a valuable consideration, but there may be a transfer or change of title without a sale.

Upon the most favorable construction to be given to this bill of sale the plaintiff has violated an express condition of his contract and thereby released the defendant.

The motion for nonsuit is sustained.

Counsel for the plaintiff noted exceptions to this ruling. The Court then discharged the jury from further consideration of the case. Counsel gave notice to the Court that the two other cases of the plaintiff against insurance companies would await the proceedings on appeal.

THE MADRAS MUDDLE.

The Government as a Defendant.

Trespass Case of $35,150.39.

The oft-time mentioned case of the steamship Madras against the Hawaiian Government, in which the owners of the vessel lay claim to the sum of $35,150.39 for trespass, has at last assumed definite shape, and is now on trial in the Supreme Court, before Justice McCully. The owners of the vessel are represented by Messrs. Dole and Thurston, the Hawaiian Government by Deputy Attorney-General Peterson and Mr. W. A. Whiting. The case was called about 10:30 a. m. yesterday morning, and the following jury was empanelled: W. W. Hall, Max Green, H. J. Agnew, E. Marshall, C. A. Brown, M. McInerney, Major Hills, H. A. Parmalee, H. Cathcart, J. Emmeluth, H. Lewis, and Mr. Marshall.

After the impanelling of the jury recess was had until 1 o'clock p. m. and then, upon the Court resuming, Mr. Dole, for the plaintiff, presented the following:—

DECLARATION. Supreme Court of the Hawaiian Islands, April term, 1886. Trespass. John Chapman, Mountjoy Pearce, Jos. Morgan, Henry Gotto, George Y. Blair, Theodore C. Taylor and Herbert A. Harris vs. the Hawaiian Government. To the Honorable A. Francis Judd, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court: John Chapman, of London, England, owner of thirty-eight shares in the British steamship Madras herein mentioned; Mountjoy Pearce, of Stockton-on-Tees, England, owner of nine shares in the said Madras; Joseph W. Morgan, owner of eight shares in the said Madras; Henry Gotto, of said London, owner of three shares in said Madras; George Y. Blair, of said Stockton, owner of two shares in said Madras; Theodore C. Taylor, of York, England, owner of two shares in the said Madras; the said plaintiffs claim of the Hawaiian Government, the said defendant, $35,150.39 cents with interest from the second day of March, 1886, for damages resulting to them for injury done to their property by the defendant, for that

On or about the 10th of March, 1883, the said British steamship Madras of the gross burthen of 1681 2/100, the property of the plaintiffs in proportion as aforesaid, in charge and under command of W. H. Bradley as master, arrived at the port of Honolulu, of the Island of Oahu, one of the said Hawaiian Islands, from Hongkong, China, bound for said Honolulu with about six hundred passengers for said Honolulu and about one hundred and thirty-nine Chinese passengers en route for Victoria in British Columbia, and with the contagious disease of smallpox prevailing among the said passengers, of which disease the Board of Health of the said Hawaiian Government was duly informed by the said master, and due application was thereupon made on behalf of the said Madras that she might be entered at the Custom House of the said port of Honolulu, and that the said passengers for Honolulu might be landed in quarantine.

But, the defendant with force and arms for a period of about fifty-three days from the said 10th of April, A. D. 1883, or thereabouts, to the 4th day of June, A. D. 1883, or thereabouts, prevented and detained the said Madras from coming into the port of Honolulu, from entering at the Custom House, from landing any of the passengers in quarantine or otherwise, and during this period of time neglected and refused to establish any quarantine to be performed by the said Madras though requested to do so by the representatives of the plaintiff, but the defendant compelled the said Madras to remain and detained her in the open roadstead of the said port during the said period to the damage of the plaintiffs as aforesaid according to the bill of particulars hereto annexed and made a part of this complaint, which the plaintiffs allege was done in contravention of their private rights under the laws.

Wherefore the plaintiffs ask that the defendant be cited to appear and answer the complaint before a jury of the country at the next term of this Court unless otherwise sooner disposed of by judicial authority.

The above document is signed by the parties named; by John Chapman, managing owner of the steamship Madras; by his attorney in fact, Theo. H. Davies, and was subscribed and sworn to on the 13th day of March, 1886, before Henry Smith, Deputy Clerk of the Supreme Court.

The Bill of Particulars mentioned is tabulated as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Includes items like 'Loss on 4,681 tons gross register for detention at 6d. per day according to customary allowance of the British Admiralty Courts, £42 0s. 6d. per day for 53 days, equals, $11,136 62' and 'Subsistence of 739 men, 53 days at 40c. per day, 15,666 80'.

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Includes 'Brought forward, $27,103.42', 'Seventy-nine and a half tons coal, for condensing water for use on board at $13 50, 1,073 25', 'Interest from June 2nd, 1883, to March 2nd, 1886, or 2 years and 9 months, 6,973 72'.

To the foregoing document is attached the order of Chief Justice Judd citing defendants to appear for trial at the present (April) term of the Supreme Court.

The rest of the afternoon was taken up by the reading of a voluminous correspondence appertaining to the case and between Hon. W. M. Gibson, Major J. H. Wodehouse, Hon. F. H. Hayselden, Captain Bradley, Mr. Theo. H. Davies and others, adjournment being finally had, much to the relief of judge, jury and counsel at 4:50 until 10 a. m. this morning.

LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN.

LIEUT. GEN. PHIL SHERIDAN LOOKING AT A BATTLE PICTURE.

"Nothing Nice About War"—Men who Skulk Out of a Fight—The War of the Future—A Humanitarian View—A Visit to the Missionary Ridge Panorama.

The late visitors were leaving Missionary Ridge panorama a little after 10 o'clock last evening, when a stout citizen clad in a traveling suit, snatched up to the box... A moment after a slight, active man emerged from the wire door, and—Gen. Sheridan you are just the man I am glad to see!

LOSS IN THE SECOND DIVISION. "This sort of thing," said he, "is not nice. There is not one comfortable thing about it. Look this field over. My loss that day in the old Second division was a fearful one. Over thirteen hundred men, brave, gallant fellows, led by officers who did their duty, were lost in the old Second division in a time so short that it seems incredible that we could have compassed the distance and carried the crest."

"I have often thought we should have captured Bragg, and I think it was a close thing as it was. If I could have got Granger to push a little there, after I got them over that second crest you see there in Chickamauga valley, we should have captured something more than railroads at that Chickamauga station. By the way," continued the general, "you know my men didn't have the chance to get reported dead after a fight that they had kept out of had taken place, for I had the name of every man who was either killed or wounded, and my men know they were being looked after."

"I never did like to see men skulk out of a fight when the skirmishers were pushing in and the line dressed up and following close after. You remember that lesson I gave these fellows up in Tennessee! I saw several officers dropping out, leaving their companies to go into the fight while they hunted safety. I had those fellows picked up the day after, formed the division in hollow square, the strikers for a center piece. They didn't know what was going to happen to them. You know I am not much on making speeches—in fact, I never was. But what I told those men that day was clearly understood by every man in the division. I told them that I would not disgrace one of the brave soldiers of my division by asking him to receive the sword of such cowardly whelps; and while I did not like the idea of inflicting unmerited cruelty on the colored race, that I should, nevertheless, ask my negro servant if he would take those swords away from those things standing out there."

THE WAR OF THE FUTURE. "Possibly," said the general reflectively, "this may have had something to do with my loss of officers at Missionary Ridge." "There is nothing nice about war," said the general again, "and, Davis, this scene before us neither of us will ever see, either in or any similar scene. War of that day and war of the present is and must be a different thing from what we have here. The advance in war machinery, material and weapons of every description makes a different mode of warfare necessary. Arms will not attack each other in the field like this. An army must be dug out, starved out, or may be forced out by position. At all events, we must have one of two things—either a long, tedious method, wearing allies on men and the impolitic, or a rapid and vigorous attack upon real property, commerce, railroad, steamboat. What is naval warfare? Simply a war on commerce. Effective? Very. Why not the same on land? There is little doubt that the horse must play a larger part in future war than anything we saw or knew of. And I am not sure but what this is the humanitarian view."

"We should certainly save life, and lives of human beings should always be preserved at the expense of real property. I think I am right in this," went on the general, reflectively. "Anything that shortens a war stops the conflict, is desirable. Of course we should have bitter fighting at points; that would be necessary. But a war to-day would be a new thing."—Chicago News.

Senator Kenna's Queens. The little sketch going the rounds to the effect that Senator Kenna, with two pairs of queens in his hand, gave the pot to Senator Dolph, who held three aces, on the principle that three of a kind beat two pairs, has provoked the soul of the senator from West Virginia to its profoundest depths. Yesterday, during the executive session, a brother senator approached him cautiously and by easy stages on the subject.

"How is this, Kenna?" he said. "How is what?" inquired Mr. Kenna in reply. "Why, this little story about Dolph's three aces beating your two pairs of queens?" "Not a word of truth, sir, in it," said the senator, with a snarl in his eyes. "I never played poker with Senator Dolph in my life. I never played poker with anybody. I don't know one card from another. I don't know how to play cards of any kind. But, sir," and his face grew determined and sinister, "if Senator Dolph or any other man with three one spots in his hand thinks he can beat me when I've got four queens, I'll be dog gone if I wouldn't like to see him try 'em on!"—Washington Critic.

The Calcium Light Doomed. The calcium light, which has done so much for stage representations in the past, is doomed. As the old gas light has been superseded by the electric light, so also must the lime light give way before it. Every known shade in stage lighting can now be produced by electricity. We can get a white light, a pale blue effect, a vivid greenish tint, or a bright and effulgent red light, to say nothing of a soft, continuous non-dazzling illuminating flame. Chemistry and other sciences have also contributed much toward realism on the stage.—New York Mail and Express.

False Hair and Bustles. Parisian belles, ancient and modern, eschew false hair and bustles. The tendency of the times among Paris fashionables is toward nature and away from art.

Fruit for the Children. There's little to be feared in eating good fruit. A barrel of apples in the house where the children and everybody can have free access is a good institution.

WHERE WOMAN FAILS.

The Physiological Reason Why She Does Not Throw a Brick Straight. Had Paris seen Helen attempt to shoo a cow out of the back yard, it is safe to state that the Trojan war would never have been waged, and Homer would have been obliged to take the Haymarket riot for an epic. Had Antony seen Cleopatra chase a street car down a dusty avenue of Cairo, it is also safe to state that he would have fled disenchanted back to Octavia, and the divorce court lawyer—decree quietly secured; no publicity—would never have made a cent from him.

Had Dante seen Beatrice fire half a brick at the vandal hen which prospected for seeds in her flower bed every spring, it is again safe to say he would have sent back her notes, her white mouse pawpiper, the lava smoking set with "Merry Christmas" painted across the stern, and discontinued that rocky courtship which he subsequently celebrated in his poem known as "The Inferno."

In the three situations given above, the average woman is grand, massive, Titanic, incomprehensible. The man who witnesses these feminine moods from the weather side of a high board fence and does not stand with head bowed, huddled and awe-stricken has no poetry in his soul. In all she is great, but in the brick throwing act she is greatest—and most dangerous. There is a physiological reason for this. It is not her fault that an ambulance wagon has to be rung up after her brick throwing moods, nor that this kind of exercise always creates a flurry and an upward tendency in the window glass market. She cannot help aiming at the hen and bringing down the usual inoffensive citizen in the next ward. Her shoulders were not rightly constructed for ball tossing, and in the hurry incident upon laying the chicken she frequently forgets to consult her hand-book on throwing, and makes the left hand do all the labor instead of the right, as laid down by the authorities. Nor is she mentally constituted for a base ball pitcher. Many husbands who are not right minded men at their wives' weakness of mental grasp in not being able to distinguish between a mutilated and jumped on umpire and a three-base hit. Those nice subtleties of the game may be lost to her, but it is not her fault. Her gray brain matter is not put up that way, architecturally speaking, any more than her shoulder is built to bring confusion and death to cows.

It will be observed by all who take the trouble to attend a baseball game, in the interest of science, that the best throwers have very square shoulders, and the shoulders of some are higher at the corners than near the neck. In these latter the clavicle tends upward as it leaves the spinal column, a circumstance which allows free play of the arm in any direction. Whereas, as soon in a lady's skeleton, the shoulder blade slopes down like a toboggan slide, and overlaps the arm socket in a manner which prevents her lifting her arm without cracking her shoulder blade or bursting out a seam in her blouse, either of which is calculated to discourage good marksmanship.

With a view to aiding those good people who have never seen a lady make her famous line throw, the above panorama of the battlefield is presented, which may be of use to the large class not inclined to take risks called by the insurance companies "extra hazardous." In the center is the woman, hidden from view by a large black hat. The object at the top, which looks like a June bug, is the diagram of the upper deck of a cow, which on this occasion kindly and with perfect safety poses as a target. A brick is shown in the female catapanit's fair hand. The section of the bloody arena enclosing the cow, as suggested in the diagram, is the part wherein black devastation does not stalk. That spot is to the puzzled brick dodger what the cyclone collar is to the citizen of Iowa, a place of refuge, with which to be on very intimate terms in times of grief. Outside this narrow wedge, in that part of the circle which suggests a huckleberry pie after a boy has toyed with it a moment, is where an accident insurance policy becomes a family necessity. It should be shunned as though a bill collector lurked behind every bush. To fortify the above scientific stand, it is only necessary to drag in the muse with a pair of ice tongs and quote the little gem below, which has long gladdened the hearts of the toiling male millions.

A girl will sing, and a girl will dance, And a girl will work crochet; But she can't throw a stone and hit a church, Because she ain't built that way. —Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A Lesson in Table Manners. There was a country Sunday school picnic, where great quantities of the regulation cat-onion, chicken apple pies, had been brought for the children to eat. Little Mary Jane, from away back in the hills, was there, and with her mother, who kept an eye on the child constantly to see that her behavior was perfect. Presently Mary Jane was observed digging into an apple pie with her knife; whereupon her mother spoke up: "Mary Jane Bona!" "What, ma'am?" "What be you a-doing?" "Eat'n' pie, ma'am." "What be you a-eatin' it with?" "Knife!" "So you be! Now what have I told you about eat'n' pie with your knife, Mary Jane! Take that pie up in your hand and eat it as you'd ought to!"—Boston Record.

Want to Know What It Means. The London swells have been started by receiving cards of invitation to Lady Rosebery's receptions minus any envelope or wax seals, and now they want to know if this is an intimation of wealth or downright meanness, or a new whim of fashion, which it is expected to adopt in future invitations.—Chicago Journal.

CUTS BOTH WAYS.

An important judgment was given in a civil suit in the Police Court on Wednesday. It appears that hitherto Chinese immigrants for these islands had been allowed to ship at San Francisco without paying head money, that being left for collection at this port. This was an accommodation both to the immigrants and those interested in them here, enabling the former to reach their destination for so much less money and avoiding the necessity of the latter remitting the needful. Lately a Chinaman detained in quarantine failed to pay the immigration tax, and Officer C. B. Reynolds, of the Board of Health and Police services, held his baggage till the money should be forthcoming. Suit of replevin was brought against the officer, to compel him to surrender the property. When the case came up on the day mentioned before Police Justice Dayton, the Board of Health for its officer consented to adverse judgment, and that other baggage abide by this judgment. Under this decision it would appear that the baggage of immigrants cannot be held here for their head tax. Acting upon this understanding the Government will, it is said, instruct the Hawaiian Consul at San Francisco to insist upon the tax being paid over there. Thus the persons interested in Chinese immigration have gained nothing by contesting the method in vogue for securing payment of the money. Hereafter the tax will have to be paid in advance at San Francisco to ensure the immigrants being allowed to land in this Kingdom.

That Sugar Stock.

It will be remembered that, in our last issue, we referred to the rumored sale, by Mr. Herman Bendel, of all his stock in the American Sugar Refinery. The announcement has created considerable talk upon the streets, and the reported sale has been vigorously contradicted in certain quarters. Mr. Bendel has himself stated "on his word of honor as a gentleman" that he had disposed of all the American Sugar Refinery stock that he possessed. Mr. Steele, manager of the American Refinery, is reported in the Daily Report to have said that Mr. Bendel had not disposed of any of his stock. Mr. Bendel, however, should know his own business affairs, and we are inclined to give credence to the statement made by him "on his word of honor as a gentleman." Having disposed of his stock, he has no interest in saying that he holds it any longer.—San Francisco Merchant.

Life Assurance Society

OF THE UNITED STATES.

Total Assets, Dec. 31, '86, $75,510,472.76

Total Liabilities, including legal Reserve on all existing policies (4 per cent Standard) $59,154,597.00

Total Undivided Surplus over Four per cent Reserve, - - $16,355,875.76

Of which the proportion contributed (as computed) by Policies in general class, is $ 5,728,761.76

Of which the proportion contributed (as computed) by Policies in Tontine class, is 10,627,114.00

Upon the New York State Standard of 4 1/2 per cent interest, the Surplus is as computed, $20,495,175.76.

New Assurance written in 1886, $111,540,203

Total Outstanding Assurance, $411,779,098

Increase of Premium Income, $2,810,475.40

Increase of Surplus (Four per cent basis), - - - - - $2,409,636.63

Increase of Assets, - - - - - $3,957,085.26

In actual Surplus (namely the excess of accumulated funds over liabilities) in Premium Income; in the amount of Assurance in force on its books, the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States exceeds every other life assurance company, and may be justly regarded as the largest and strongest life assurance organization in the World.

EXAMPLE

Of Policy No. 67,389. Life. Issued Jan. 22, 1872, on the life of W. H. C. Date of expiration Jan. 22, 1887.

Amount of Policy, $10,000. Tontine Period, 15 years. Age 53. Annual Premium, $543.10.

Total premiums paid in 15 years, - $8,146.50

1. CASH VALUE, Consisting of Reserve, $3,856.30 and Surplus, 4,199.80 $8,056.10

2. PAID-UP VALUE, - - - $13,050.00

If the policy-holder select this settlement, as the paid-up value is larger than the original amount of assurance, a satisfactory certificate of good health must be furnished, or the excess must be drawn on a cash basis.

3. CASH SURPLUS, - - - $5,199.80

Under this settlement, the policy holder withdraws the surplus in cash, and retains the original policy, continuing the payment of premiums, less annual dividends.

Three other options are available under this Policy.

The policies with 10-year Tontine periods do not show results as satisfactory as those above given. Policies with 20-year periods, on the other hand, will show much larger results than those with 15-year periods; but for purposes of illustration the 15-year policies—those of the intermediate period—are given as fair illustrations.

The longer period of accumulation which the 20-year policies enjoy renders them the most desirable for those who, seeking absolute protection at the lowest "Life" rate, desire also the largest returns in case they live:

Hence the Best Free Tontine "Ordinary Life" Policy is One with a

TWENTY-YEAR TONTINE PERIOD

The Free Tontine Policy of the Equitable Life Assurance Society is unrestricted after one year, incontestable after two years, and is then PAYABLE in the event of death, immediately upon the receipt of satisfactory proofs of death.

It guarantees a full share of the surplus earned, and being issued by a Society holding a

Larger Surplus than any other Assurance Company,

May be expected to show larger profits than the policies of any other company.

LOCAL NEWS.

Professor Cook, of Lansing, Mich., has killed cabbage worms with a mixture of one pound of buhach with 200 gallons of water.

The semi-centennial anniversary of the arrival of Mrs. Dominis, mother of the ex-Governor, occurs to-morrow, and it has been stated, will be observed by that lady holding a reception.

By advertisement it will be seen that the highly successful tableaux and dramatic entertainment given on Monday evening is to be repeated on Saturday evening, the box-plan to open to-day.

The captain of the schooner Liholilo reports that there is no new case of small-pox at Lahaina. The Japanese who has it is getting well, and the quarantine was going to be raised in three or four days.

The extract from the San Francisco Merchant, on Major Bendel's stock in the American Refinery, is republished by request. Perhaps more light can be thrown upon the disputed point by those interested in that refinery here.

Officer Hopkins had a narrow escape from being badly hurt again last Wednesday. He was in a brake on Fort street, along with Mr. A. Arthur, horse trainer, when the horse shied and Hopkins was pitched out, but without sustaining any injury.

A horse hitched to a lumber wagon, belonging to Messrs. Allen & Robinson, did the runaway business in style about half-past 4 last evening. It ran from somewhere up-town to the lumber yard of that firm, then took two rounds of the yard before being stopped. Not a bit of damage was done.

At the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mr. F. C. Lowrey, President; Mr. T. Rain Walker, Vice-President; Mr. R. V. Podmore, Secretary (re-elected); Messrs. W. O. Smith and Thomas G. Thrum, Directors. A balance of about $20 was reported in hand from the past year, all bills paid.

No less than three raids on Chinese gaming resorts were made by the police yesterday. In the first case one prisoner was captured. The second one resulted in a gamester breaking his leg in attempting to escape by a window. Officer Hopkins could have caught others, but this unfortunate Chinaman's pockets were bulging with evidence for conviction, in the shape of rolls of tickets. A single culprit was secured in the descent on the third house.

The Shakespearean lecture by Mrs. Williams to-night is one no lover of literature should miss. Few are competent to elucidate the conceptions of the "immortal William," and that lady is proclaimed by those having capacity and opportunity of knowing to be one of those few. It is rarely that a Honolulu audience has offered it such an intellectual treat as this one promises to be, and it will be to the credit of the city's reputation for refinement and culture if the chance be well improved.

It Pays to Buy Papers.

"It really doesn't require the expenditure of a great deal of money for a man to keep himself posted on the news of the day," remarked a business man who is an omnivorous newspaper reader. "I buy all the daily newspapers—all those printed in English I mean—published in this city, and I find that the total amount of their cost is twenty cents per day. The morning papers cost nine cents and the afternoon papers eleven cents. Considering the amount of reading furnished for the money I think it a cheap investment. I also buy all the Sunday papers," he continued, "at an expense every Sabbath of thirty eight cents. I find that there is more good reading in them, to say nothing of the news of the day, than is contained in three magazines at twenty-five cents a number." Philadelphia Call.

Medical Possibilities of Photography.

In The Camera is recorded a very curious phenomenon in connection with photography, by the person who observed it. He took a portrait of a child apparently in good health and with a clear skin. The negative picture showed the face to be thickly covered with an eruption. Three days afterward the child was covered with spots due to prickly heat. The camera had seen and photographed the eruption three days before it was visible to the eye. Another case of a somewhat similar kind is also recorded where a child showed spots on his portrait which were invisible on his face a fortnight previous to an attack of small-pox. It is suggested that these cases might point to a new method of medical diagnosis.

GOVERNMENT LAND SALES.

His Majesty a Large Buyer.

Running up Prices.

At noon yesterday Mr. John A. Hasinger, First Clerk of the Interior Department, took his stand at the front entrance of Aliiolani Hale, to sell at auction certain lands on this island advertised by the Minister of the Interior. His Majesty the King; Mr. Aholo, Minister of the Interior; Mr. Kanoa, Minister of Finance; Hon. Junius Kaee, Registrar, and about a score of others were present. Mr. G. E. Smithies, of the Interior office, was clerk of the sale. The leases and lands sold, with the prices, were as follows:—

Lease of two pieces of land at Mokuieia, Waialua, containing 427 acres of mountain grazing land, ten years, upset price $50 per annum semi-annually in advance: Gaspar Silva, $55.

Lease of lot 1/4 acre, adjoining court house at Kaneohe, 5 years, upset price as above: sold for $50.

Lease of Esplanade lot No. 11, 50 x 100 feet, on Fort and Halekaula streets—opposite H. Hackfeld & Co.'s—ten years, upset price $240 per annum semi-annually in advance: J. McLean, $655.

Land at Kenioo, Waialua, 52 1/2 acres, upset price $130: His Majesty, $170.

Land at Kamaoiki, Kalihi, 450 acres; grazing, banana, woodland, etc.; upset price $200: His Majesty, $2,010.

Land at Kaloaloo, 13 98-100 acres suited in part to cultivation, situated in central part of Kalihi valley; upset price $500: Antone Rosa, $500.

Land at Pohakaa, 37 85-100 acres, suited in part to cultivation, situated in central part of Kalihi valley; upset price $400: A. Rosa, $400.

Land at Koloalu, Kalihi, 19 acres well suited to banana cultivation, etc.; upset price $15: His Majesty, $95.

Land at Hakaaio, 29 1/2 acres of kula, hillside, joining the Morris premises, Kalihi, on makai side; upset price, $15: His Majesty, $490.

Strip of land between Mokuauia and Kawaihilo, 5 37-100 acres kula; upset price $50: His Majesty, $455.

Land in upper part of Kalihi valley, lying between Huea and Pohakuawawa (A. Rosa's land); upset price $15: A. Rosa, $500.

Two pieces of land on Maunakea and Pauahi streets, Honolulu, being remaining portions of the Government Dispensary lot after the widening of the streets since the fire; also 125 acres of kula and hillside land in Kalihi valley; were not offered, as they come under the injunction granted against their sale by the Supreme Court the other day. The leases sold realized $760, and the land $4,620, making a total realization of $5,380.

There were some lively contests over some of the lots. His Majesty and Mr. Henry Waterhouse went better than each other in $5 bids for Koloaloo, about as fast as they could nod, until the former became the possessor for the price above mentioned. Again, Mr. Rosa was run up, for a strip of land required to consolidate his Kalihi domain, from an upset price of $15 to a knockdown one of $500. The land had been declared sold at $195, when Mr. Rosa and Mr. Lazarus each claiming the bid, it had to be started again with the result stated. Mr. Lazarus has a grievance against the Government, anyway, for land that he alleges they took from him in Honolulu some years ago but never paid him for, causing him a loss of several thousand dollars in rental.

Shipping Notes.

Barkentine W. H. Dimond left for San Francisco promptly at noon yesterday, being towed outside the reef. She is in command of her first officer Luce, Captain Swift being compelled to remain on shore through severe illness. The Dimond took 7,000 bags sugar from W. G. Irwin & Co., 1,214 from H. A. Widemann; 1,271 bags rice from Sing Chong & Co., 710 from Hyman Brothers, 300 from Hop Yuen; 100 bunches bananas from A. J. Campbell; 25 kegs molasses and 65 empty kegs from Geo. W. Macfarlane & Co.; 50 empty kegs from W. S. Luce. Value foreign produce, $115; domestic, $51,799.17.

All the Pacific Navigation Co.'s vessels are out, as also all of Allen & Robinson's.

Steamer John A. Cummins brought 355 bags rice and 140 rice bran and one calf, and sails again for Koolau early this morning.

Barkentine Geo. C. Perkins will sail Saturday or Sunday for San Francisco. Steamer Jas. Makee brought 2,527 bags sugar and 54 green hides. Her next trip was not posted last night.

Schooner Mary E. Foster takes a load of coal for Eleele, Kauai, to-day.

Barkentine Discovery will sail for San Francisco next Wednesday, with a full cargo of rice and sugar and a deck-load of bananas.

Steamer W. G. Hall sails for Maui, Hawaii and the Volcano at ten o'clock this morning.

THE INSURANCE CASE.

The Plaintiff Michiels Nonsuited.

An Appeal to be taken.

On the Supreme Court resuming yesterday morning, Judge McCully gave his decision, sustaining the motion by Mr. F. M. Hatch that the plaintiff, C. Michiels, be nonsuited. His Honor spoke as follows:—

The question argued and submitted to the Court is, whether a nonsuit should be sustained on account of an assignment of the property having been made by a bill of sale given to Mr. Whiting, and the policy (of insurance) thereby rendered void. As against the prima facie conclusion that a forfeiture has been made by the change of title, the counsel for the plaintiff adduce authorities to the effect that where an insurable interest remains in the insured he may recover although he may have mortgaged his entire interest, or even have assigned it in trust or conditionally.

His Honor quoted several authorities therefor, but said these cases do not cite the clauses in the policy, or any clauses corresponding in terms or import with those which are expressed in the policy in the present case. An argument based upon the general principle that the company is liable so long as an insurable interest or an equitable interest remains in the insurer, would not apply to the case of a contract including express provisions for forfeiture in the event of any transfer, made without the consent of the company, and endorsement on the policy following the assignment of the property.

It would appear that modern insurance policies and the one in this case had expressly guarded against the doctrine of insurable interest. The clauses in the defendant company's policy, on which are based the nonsuit are as follows:— "If any change takes place in the title or possession of the property whether by sale, transfer, conveyance, legal process, etc., or if the assured is not the sole, absolute, and unconditional owner of the property insured, then and in every such case this policy shall be void."

I understand, His Honor said, that the second condition quoted expresses the state of facts which must exist when the policy is issued. Now has any change taken place in the title by the execution of the bill of sale to W. A. Whiting? In its terms it is an absolute conveyance to him of the property covered by the insurance. Giving it the most favorable construction asked for by the plaintiff, that it is a conditional sale, an unrecorded chattel mortgage, if the instrument has any effect, and is not a mere nullity, it must be held that the title of Mr. Michiels was changed thereby. He was no longer the unconditional owner. Mr. Whiting held a title upon which he could make a valid sale to a third party having no notice of any equities in the case. The terms used in the clause are very comprehensive. Any change in the title, by sale or transfer. In the Michigan case cited it is said the words "transfer" or "change" of title are more comprehensive than the word "sale." A sale is upon a valuable consideration, but there may be a transfer or change of title without a sale.

Upon the most favorable construction to be given to this bill of sale the plaintiff has violated an express condition of his contract and thereby released the defendant.

The motion for nonsuit is sustained.

Counsel for the plaintiff noted exceptions to this ruling.

The Court then discharged the jury from further consideration of the case.

Counsel gave notice to the Court that the two other cases of the plaintiff against insurance companies would await the proceedings on appeal.

SUPREME COURT.

AT CHAMBERS.

Before Judge Preston, April 21.

Equity division. Smith et al. vs. Aholo. Bill of complaint for injunction to restrain defendant, who is Minister of the Interior, from disposing of certain public lands offered for sale. Continued till the 28th inst. W. O. Smith and I. A. Thurston for plaintiffs; A. P. Peterson, Deputy Attorney General, for defendant.

Law division. In re bankruptcy of John M. Kapena. Petition of Dr. G. Troussau, a creditor, for adjudication of bankruptcy. Ordered, that the said John M. Kapena is declared a bankrupt, and Friday, 29th inst., is appointed for proof of claims and election or appointment of an assignee or assignees. W. O. Smith for petitioner.

A mail was despatched to the Coast by the W. H. Dimond, comprising 840 letters and 249 papers.

THE MADRAS MUDDLE.

The Government as a Defendant.

Trespass Case of $35,150.39.

The oft-time mentioned case of the steamship Madras against the Hawaiian Government, in which the owners of the vessel lay claim to the sum of $35,150.39 for trespass, has at last assumed definite shape, and is now on trial in the Supreme Court, before Justice McCully. The owners of the vessel are represented by Messrs. Dole and Thurston, the Hawaiian Government by Deputy Attorney-General Peterson and Mr. W. A. Whiting. The case was called about 10:30 a. m. yesterday morning, and the following jury was empanelled: W. W. Hall, Max Green, H. J. Agnew, E. Marshall, C. A. Brown, M. McInerney, Major Hills, H. A. Parmalee, H. Cathcart, J. Emmeluth, H. Lewis, and Mr. Marshall.

After the impanelling of the jury recess was had until 1 o'clock p. m. and then, upon the Court resuming, Mr. Dole, for the plaintiff, presented the following:—

DECLARATION.

Supreme Court of the Hawaiian Islands, April term, 1886. Trespass. John Chapman, Mountjoy Pearce, Jos Morgan, Henry Gotto, George Y. Blair, Theodore C. Taylor and Herbert A. Harris vs. the Hawaiian Government.

To the Honorable A. Francis Judd, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court: John Chapman, of London, England, owner of thirty-eight shares in the British steamship Madras herein mentioned; Mountjoy Pearce, of Stockton-on-Tees, England, owner of nine shares in the said Madras; Joseph W. Morgan, owner of eight shares in the said Madras; Henry Gotto, of said London, owner of three shares in said Madras; George Y. Blair, of said Stockton, owner of two shares in said Madras; Theodore C. Taylor, of York, England, owner of two shares in the said Madras; the said plaintiffs claim of the Hawaiian Government, the said defendant, $35,150.39 cents with interest from the second day of March, 1886, for damages resulting to them for injury done to their property by the defendant, for that

On or about the 10th of March, 1883, the said British steamship Madras of the gross burthen of 1681 2/100, the property of the plaintiffs in proportion as aforesaid, in charge and under command of W. H. Bradley as master, arrived at the port of Honolulu, of the Island of Oahu, one of the said Hawaiian Islands, from Hongkong, China, bound for said Honolulu with about six hundred passengers for said Honolulu and about one hundred and thirty-nine Chinese passengers en route for Victoria in British Columbia, and with the contagious disease of smallpox prevailing among the said passengers, of which disease the Board of Health of the said Hawaiian Government was duly informed by the said master, and due application was thereupon made on behalf of the said Madras that she might be entered at the Custom House of the said Hawaiian Government at the said port of Honolulu, and that the said passengers for Honolulu might be landed in quarantine.

But, the defendant with force and arms for a period of about fifty-three days from the said 10th of April, A. D. 1883, or thereabouts, to the 4th day of June, A. D. 1883, or thereabouts, prevented and detained the said Madras from coming into the port of Honolulu, from entering at the Custom House, from landing any of the passengers in quarantine or otherwise, and during this period of time neglected and refused to establish any quarantine to be performed by the said Madras though requested to do so by the representatives of the plaintiff; but the defendant compelled the said Madras to remain and detained her in the open roadstead of the said port during the said period to the damage of the plaintiffs as aforesaid according to the bill of particulars hereto annexed and made a part of this complaint, which the plaintiffs allege was done in contravention of their private rights under the laws.

Wherefore the plaintiffs ask that the defendant be cited to appear and answer the complaint before a jury of the country at the next term of this Court unless otherwise sooner disposed of by judicial authority.

The above document is signed by the parties named; by John Chapman, managing owner of the steamship Madras; by his attorney in fact, Theo. H. Davies, and was subscribed and sworn to on the 13th day of March, 1886, before Henry Smith, Deputy Clerk of the Supreme Court.

The Bill of Particulars mentioned is tabulated as follows:

Loss on 1,681 tons gross register for detention at 6d. per day according to customary allowance of the British Admiralty Courts, £42 0s. 6d. per day for 53 days, equals, $11,136 62

Brought forward, $27,103.42
Seventy-nine and a half tons coal, for condensing water for use on board at $13 50, 1,073 25
Interest from June 2nd, 1883, to March 2nd, 1886, or 2 years and 9 months, 6,973 72

$35,150 39

To the foregoing document is attached the order of Chief Justice Judd citing defendants to appear for trial at the present (April) term of the Supreme Court.

The rest of the afternoon was taken up by the reading of a voluminous correspondence appertaining to the case and between Hon. W. M. Gibson, Major J. H. Wodehouse, Hon. F. H. Hayselden, Captain Bradley, Mr. Theo. H. Davies and others, adjournment being finally had, much to the relief of judge, jury and counsel at 4:50 until 10 a. m. this morning.

It will be observed by all who take the trouble to attend a baseball game, in the interest of science, that the best throwers have very square shoulders, and the shoulders of some are higher at the corners than near the neck. In these latter the clavicle tends upward as it leaves the spinal column, a circumstance which allows free play of the arm in any direction. Whereas, as soon as a lady's skeleton, the shoulder blade slopes down like a toboggan slide and overlaps the arm socket in a manner which prevents her lifting her arm without cracking her shoulder blade or bursting out a seam in her blouse, either of which is calculated to discourage good marksmanship.

The Physiological Reason Why She Can not Throw a Brick Straight.
Had Paris seen Helen attempt to throw a cow out of the back yard, it is safe to state that the Trojan war would never have been waged, and Homer would have been obliged to take the Haymarket riot for an epide. Had Antony seen Cleopatra chase a street car down a dusty avenue of Cairo, it is also safe to state that he would have fled disenchanted back to Octavia, and the divorce court lawyer—'decreo quietly secured; no publicity'—would never have made a cent from him.
Had Dante seen Beatrice fire half a brick at the vandial hen which preoccupied for seeds in her flower bed every spring, it is again safe to say he would have sent back her notes, her while mouse penwiper, the lava smoldering set with 'Merry Christmas' painted across the stern, and discontinued that rocky courtship which he subsequently celebrated in his poem known as 'The Inferno.'

It would have been rough on Dante.
In the three situations given above, the average woman is grand, massive, Titanic, incomprehensible. The man who witnesses these feminine moods from the weather side of a high board fence and does not stand with head bared, hushed and awe-stricken has no poetry in his soul. In all she is great, but in the brick throwing act she is greatest—and most dangerous. There is a physiological reason for this. It is not her fault that an ambulance wagon has to be rung up after her brick throwing moods, nor that this kind of exercise always creates a flurry and an upward tendency in the window glass marker. She cannot help aiming at the head and bringing down the usual inoffensive citizen in the next ward. Her shoulders were not rightly constructed for ball tossing, and in the hurry incident upon laying the citizen she frequently forgets to consult her hand-book on throwing, and makes the left hand do all the labor instead of the right, as laid down by the authorities. Nor is she mentally constituted for a base ball pitcher. Many husbands who are not right minded sneer at their wives' weakness of mental grasp in not being able to distinguish between a mutilated and jumped on umpire and a three-base hit. Those nice subtleties of the game may be thus lost to her, but it is not her fault. Her gray brain matter is not put up that way, architecturally speaking, any more than her shoulder is built to bring confusion and death to cows.

MAP OF THE SEAT OF WAR.
With a view to aiding those good people who have never seen a lady make her famous line throw, the above panorama of the battlefield is presented, which may be of use to the large class not inclined to take risks called by the insurance companies 'extra hazardous.' In the center is the woman, hidden from view by a large black hat. The object at the top, which looks like a June bug, is the diagram of the upper deck of a cow, which on this occasion kindly and with perfect safety poses as a target. A brick is shown in the female catapult's fair hand. The section of the bloody arena enclosing the cow, as suggested in the diagram, is the part wherein black devastation does not stalk. That spot is to the puzzled brick dodger what the cyclone collar is to the citizen of Iowa, a place of refuge, with which to be on very intimate terms in times of grief. Outside this narrow wedge, in that part of the circle which suggests a huckleberry pie after a boy has toyed with it a moment, is where an accident insurance policy becomes a family necessity. It should be shunned as though a bill collector lurked behind every bush. To fortify the above scientific stand, it is only necessary to drag in the muse with a pair of ice tongs and quote the little gem below, which has long gladdened the hearts of the tolling male millions.
A girl will sing, and a girl will dance,
And a girl will work crochets,
But she can't throw a stone and hit a church,
Because she ain't built that way.
—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A LESSON IN TABLE MANNERS.
It was a country Sunday school picnic, where great quantities of the regulation eatables, chiefly apple pies, had been brought for the children to eat. Little Mary Jane, from away back in the hills, was there, and with her mother, who kept an eye on the child constantly to see that her behavior was perfect. Presently Mary Jane was observed digging into an apple pie with her knife; whereupon her mother spoke up: 'Mary Jane Beale!' 'What, ma'am?' 'What be you a-doing?' 'Eatin' pie, ma'am.' 'What be you a-satin' it with?' 'Knife!' 'So you be! Now what have I told you about eatin' pie with your knife, Mary Jane? Take that pie up in your hand and eat it as you'd ought 'ot!'

Want to Know What It Means.
The London swells have been startled by receiving cards of invitation to Lady Rosebery's receptions minus any envelope or wax seals, and now they want to know if this is an idiosyncrasy of wealth or downright meanness, or a new whim of fashion, which it is expected to adopt in future invitations.

LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN.
LIEUT. GEN. PHIL SHERIDAN LOOKING AT A BATTLE PICTURE.

'Nothing Nice About War'—Men who Skulk Out of a Fight—The War of the Future—A Humanitarian View—A Visit to the Missionary Ridge Panorama.
The late visitors who leaving Missionary Ridge panorama a little after 10 o'clock last evening, when a stout citizen clad in a traveling suit, sauntered up to the box. A moment after a slight, active man emerged from the wire door, and—'Gen. Sheridan you are just the man I am glad to see!' 'Hello, old man; hello, Davis, are you here?' 'Well,'—and off they started toward the new panorama just finished and opened to-day—the battle among the clouds, Fighting Joe Hooker's Lookout mountain.
The general was interested in the panorama. But his mind seemed to be busy, and his thoughts were evidently at work on some other subject than the grand painting before him. Presently the general turned and moved toward the stairway leading to the platform of the principal exhibition—the panorama of Missionary Ridge. On the present occasion the platform was nearly empty, and the general, as he looked thoughtfully down on the scene, spoke freely of this and other battles, of the unhappy necessity which could force men into such situations as we here saw.

LOSS IN THE SECOND DIVISION.
'This sort of thing,' said he, 'is not nice. There is not one comfortable thing about it. Look this field over. My loss that day in the old Second division was a fearful one. Over thirteen hundred men, brave, gallant fellows, led by officers who did their duty, were lost in the old Second division in a time so short that it seems incredible that we could have compassed the distance and carried the crest. I have often thought we should have captured Bragg, and I think it was a close thing as it was. If I could have got Granger to push a little there, after I got them over that second crest you see there in Chickamauga valley, we should have captured something more than rations at that Chickamauga station. By the way,' continued the general, 'you know my men didn't have the chance to get reported dead after a fight that they had kept out of had taken place, for I had the name of every man who was either killed or wounded, and my men knew they were being looked after. I never did like to see men skulk out of a fight when the skirmishers were pushing in and the line dressed up and following close after. You remember that lesson I gave those fellows up in Tennessee? I saw several officers dropping out, leaving their companies to go into the fight while they hunted safety. I had those fellows picked up the day after, formed the division in hollow square, the strikers for a center piece. They didn't know what was going to happen to them. You know I am not much on making speeches—in fact, I never was. But what I told those men that day was clearly understood by every man in the division. I told them that I would not disgrace one of the brave soldiers of my division by asking him to receive the sword of such cowardly whelps; and while I did not like the idea of inflicting unmerited cruelty on the colored race, that I should, nevertheless, ask my negro servant if he would take those swords away from those things standing out there.

THE WAR OF THE FUTURE.
'Possibly,' said the general reflectively, 'this may have had something to do with my loss of officers at Missionary Ridge.'
'There is nothing nice about war,' said the general again, 'and, Davis, this scene before us neither of us will ever see, either it or any similar scene. War of that day and war of the present is and must be a different thing from what we have here. The advance in war machinery, material and weapons of every description makes a different mode of warfare necessary. Armies will not attack each other in the field like this. An army must be dug out, starved out, or may be forced out by position. At all events, we must have one of two things—either a long, tedious method, wearing alike on men and the impedimenta, or a rapid and vigorous attack upon real property, commerce, railroad, steamboat. What is naval warfare? Simply a war on commerce. Effective? Very. Why not the same on land? There is little doubt that the horse must play a larger part in future war than anything we saw or knew of. And I am not sure but what this is the humanitarian view.
'We should certainly save life, and lives of human beings should always be preserved at the expense of real property. I think I am right in this,' went on the general reflectively. 'Anything that shortens a war, stops the conflict, is desirable. Of course we should have bitter fighting at points; that would be necessary. But a war to-day would be a raw thing.'—Chicago News.

Senator Kenna's Queens.
The little sketch going the rounds to the effect that Senator Kenna, with two pairs of queens in his hand, gave the pot to Senator Dolph, who held three aces, on the principle that three of a kind beat two pairs, has provoked the soul of the senator from West Virginia to its profoundest depths. Yesterday, during the executive session, a brother senator approached him cautiously and by easy stages on the subject.
'How is this, Kenna?' he said.
'How is what?' inquired Mr. Kenna in reply.
'Why, this little story about Dolph's three aces beating your two pairs of queens?'
'Not a word of truth, sir, in it,' said the senator, with a snap in his eyes. 'I never played poker with Senator Dolph in my life, I never played poker with anybody. I don't know one card from another. I don't know how to play cards of any kind. But, sir,' and his face grew determined and sinister, 'if Senator Dolph or any other man with three one spots in his hand thinks he can beat me when I've got four queens, I'll be dog gone if I wouldn't like to see him try 'em.'—Washington Critic.

The Calcium Light Doomed.
The calcium light, which has done so much for stage representations in the past, is doomed. As the old gaslight has been superseded by the electric light, so also must the lime light give way before it. Every known shade in stage lighting can now be produced by electricity. We can get a warm yellow glow, a deep canary shade, a white light, a pale blue effect, a wondrous greenish tint, or a bright and effulgent red light, to say nothing of a soft, continuous nor dazzling illuminating flame. Chemistry and other sciences have also contributed much toward realism on the stage.
