

PLEBISCITE VOTES ARE SLOW

PROHIBITION FORCES ON THE FIRING LINE

25 PER CENT VOTE IN THREE PRECINCTS AT TEN O'CLOCK

One hundred and ninety-two votes out of a total of eight hundred and twenty-one had been cast by the citizens of the territory up to ten o'clock this morning in the second, third and fourth precincts of the fourth district. In the second precinct sixty votes had been cast; the third, forty-seven; and the fourth eighty-five. The prediction of both parties that intense interest would be shown at the polls was not realized, during the early hours. Men came to and went from the polling booths with apparent indifference to the issue that will be decided today. At the second precinct of the fourth a number of Hawaiians were evidently much upset over the rumor that the majority of the voters who had cast their ballots had voted in favor of prohibition. The majority of the group that had already cast their votes had voted against the prohibition issue. Orderly conduct was noticeable at each of the three precincts visited, judging from the reports coming in from all over the city that voters are getting through with their rights as citizens as quickly as possible and without any trouble at the polls. Automobiles bearing white flags with the precinct and district numbers printed in black letters are stationed at each of the polls for the use of the anti-prohibitionists. The anti-prohibition headquarters in the Waverley block has been the scene of great activity ever since seven o'clock this morning as voters who would not go to the polls any other way but in machines were freely given rides to different parts of the city to cast their votes. One Hawaiian who had evidently put in a store of liquor, fearing that he would not get any more until this evening, stated that he had voted "yes" in spite of the fact that he had been taken to his polling booth in a machine from the "anti" headquarters. At the fourth of the fourth polling booth, one man was heard to say that the weather was favorable for a wet vote.

THE PROHIBITIONISTS BELIEVE THEY WIN

The prohibitionist leaders believe that today's vote will result in a popular declaration to the effect that the saloons must go.

They expect that out of about 13,000 voters in the Territory there will be 10,000 votes cast, and that 6,500 votes will be in favor of prohibition.

HOW THE "ANTIS" PROGNOSTICATE

The liquor headquarters' agents prognosticate the following result of today's vote on the prohibition question— They estimate that there are about 13,000 voters in the Territory. That 4,000 voters will stay away from the polls. That there will be about 9,000 votes cast. That 6,000 of these votes will be against prohibition. That only 3,000 votes will be in favor of prohibition. Senator Fairchild, in town from Kauai, says he thinks that island will go "wet," adding: "Probably 350 or 400 will vote 'dry,' but you never can tell."

In Camp Of The Prohibitionists

Few reports and no estimates have come in to the office of John G. Woolley, leader of the Prohibition forces up to this afternoon. Party workers are around at the various voting booths, or attending to private business and are not keeping any headquarters for the reception of news or dissemination of information. No effort has been made to induce voters to go to the polls. Every man has been left to do as he pleased about it. Not a vehicle has been sent out for belated voters, and so far as can be learned not a vote for Prohibition has been solicited by anybody at any hand. The Prohibitionists closed their campaign yesterday, and have rested on the results. While no estimates based upon responsible calculations are to be had, the consensus of opinion among Prohibition leaders as to the results of today's election seems to be about as follows: Hawaii Island, conceded to be close and probably wet. Maui, Molokai and Lanai-Prohibition by small majority. Kauai, Prohibition, also by small majority. Oahu, close and will settle the total vote. Mr. Woolley's Plans. John G. Woolley stated this afternoon that no plans for future work had been mapped out by the Prohibitionists, but a statement of some sort could possibly be given out tomorrow. He intimated that if the Prohibitionists were successful at the polls today, his work in the islands would be finished and he would resume temperance activities on the mainland. "I was a drinking man," said Mr.

Woolley meditatively this afternoon. "I know the life of a drinking man perfectly well. I know his good points and his weak ones. There arrived a time in my life, however, when I became convinced of the evils of Intemperance, and for nineteen years I have battled against it. I shall continue to do so. The work in Hawaii since last May has been and is merely an incident in my general scheme of work. "What will be done in case prohibition fails today I am unable to say. I will hazard a guess, however, that the prohibitionists will continue the fight and fight harder than ever before." Speaking For Himself. L. A. Thurston was asked this afternoon regarding his statement at Aala park Saturday night that in case of defeat at the polls the Prohibitionists would continue their fight in the next campaign. "I was giving a personal opinion," he replied. "The committee has taken no action in the matter and naturally will not until after the results of today's election are known. In case of defeat at this time I know of no reason why the fight should not be continued with more energy than ever before." "PRO" HEADQUARTERS The headquarters of the Prohibitionists, upper floor of the old Bulletin building in Merchant street, has been one of the most quiet places in the city today. Empty chairs were arranged in rows in the main hall, and at the rear were tables which had been the resting places for campaign literature. The "office boy" was not there.

"ANTIS" WORK IN 30 AUTOS

There is evidently not as much interest being taken in the prohibition plebiscite as would be desired by the prohibitionists. There is a great number of men who are not voting at all. Voting is slow. At noon, four hours after the polls opened and only five hours before they close, not much more than twenty-five per cent of the vote had been cast, whereas, figuring on time, almost half of the votes should have been in the ballot boxes. There is a noticeable superiority of the anti-prohibition workers as to method and campaign. The prohibitionists have men on the firing line, but they are very much asleep as compared with the activity of the anti-prohibitionists. The "antis" have thirty automobiles chartered for the day. They have an auto for every precinct, to gather in the lazy or busy voters, and they have half a dozen machines or more for headquarters, rustling about; whereas, if the prohibitionists have any machines or rigs, they are not evident. The street opinion, that is the opinion of the more or less unprejudiced casual "man in the street," is that prohibition will lose. In short, the anti-prohibitionists are making sure of voting.

HOW THE BALLOTS SIZE UP

At 11 o'clock this morning in the first precinct of the fourth district there had been 35 votes cast out of 176. In the second of the fourth there had been 64 cast out of 292. In the third of the fourth, 49 out of 204; fourth: 78 out of 325; fifth: 78 out of 318; sixth, 119 out of 426; seventh: 65 out of 335; eighth 80 out of 279; ninth: 114 out of 385; tenth: 125 out of 457. Between the hours of eleven and twelve these additional votes were cast in the fourth district: Precinct 2, 18; 2, 21; 4, 20; 5, 27; 6, 34; 7, 44; 8, 13; 9, 12. In the fifth district returns at 11 a. m. were as follows from precincts 10, 11, 12, 14 and 15 respectively, 59, 72, 29, 87, 65.

CUBANS PLOTTING FOR INTERVENTION

HAVANA, July 13.—The purpose of the conspiracy for which the mulatto, Colonel Jorge Valera, and his associates were arrested yesterday, was to compel American intervention, according to the government's information. The Secretary of the Interior has issued an official statement that it was learned some days ago that it was designed to blow up bridges and railways and destroy property of foreigners with the hope of compelling this result.

The suspects being poor and ignorant, most of them negroes, the Secretary believed they were acting under the instigation and orders of persons of superior intelligence. Further investigation resulted in the discovery that the suspects were in constant communication with a stock broker whose name is unknown. A description of him has been obtained, and the police are making a search for him.

The arrests were delayed until the four conspirators had started for Yajaja Bremeja, whither a trunk containing arms and dynamite had been shipped the same day, and where it is believed they intended to begin operations.

When arrested one of the conspirators named Valeriano Pico made a voluntary statement declaring that the whole conspiracy was a fake and merely an attempt to make a pretense of uprising. Its purpose, he said, was not to cause American intervention, but to break the local stock market by committing some damage not serious to property.

GAYNOR REVOKES OWL LICENSES FOR SALOONS.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Mayor Gaynor wrote to Commissioner Baker, of the Police Department, today that it had been called to his attention yesterday that all-night saloons had been issued to forty-seven saloons without the Mayor's knowledge.

"I have directed that all be revoked," adds the Mayor.

"Will you be good enough to let me know whether there be any that should of necessity have such license? I do not wish to issue and except to places where people legitimately go for meals and the like, for you know many people in the city have to work at night."

RAILROAD LAW BEST FOR ALL

NEW YORK, July 18.—"There is no danger to the railroads in Government supervision," declared President David Starr Jordan, of Leland Stanford Jr. University, in an interview published here today.

"On the contrary," he says, "Government supervision will benefit both the railroads and the public by conserving the interests of both. It is far better for a railroad like the Southern Pacific, for example, which traverses many states, to be under the supervision of a strong interstate Commerce Commission than under the rule of many state legislatures. The railroad question is too big for the individual states to handle, therefore the Federal Government has a right to step in and supervise. Any theory of State's rights which does not concede that the Government must handle those corporations and questions which have grown too large for the states to handle is unsound."

"In the West, particularly in the Middle West, there is a demand that the railroads be taken in hand by the Government, but with the exception of a few radicals there are none that wish to give the railroads anything but a square deal. In the last analysis, the railroads are the creatures of the people and owned by the people, who can be depended upon to deal fairly with them. They are assured fair treatment by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Under the old system of having states attempt to regulate the railroad it meant either that the railroads were harassed by demagogues or others."

CHEATS THE GALLOWS

CARSON, Nevada, July 26.—Charles Petty, recently convicted of wife-murder and sentenced to hang in this city, escaped the noose by committing suicide here last night. He was in the hands of guards, having been taken out of the jail for some special purpose when he broke away from them and ran to a nearby telephone pole.

Petty shinned up the pole before the guards could reach him and plunged downward, head foremost. His neck was broken and he died instantly.

Petty was to have been hanged next Friday, and all necessary preparations for the execution had been made.

TAFT WILL KEEP HIS HAND OFF

BEVERLY (Mass.), July 13.—It was authoritatively stated today that President Taft's participation in the campaign this fall will be wholly of a general character. Whatever the President may have to say on politics will have to do with the work of last Congress, and in promoting that, to his way of thinking, the Republican representatives placed in power two years ago have kept their faith, and have carried out the party pledges.

The President will attempt to read no one out of the party; neither will he have any candidate for office. Personal friendship for William Loeb led the President in a friendly way to suggest that he would make a good candidate for Governor of New York; but he has stated that it is not his intention to interfere in the affairs of any state, and he will adhere strictly to this policy.

President Taft is giving considerable thought to the forthcoming report by the Monetary Commission, which, it is expected, will recommend to Congress sweeping monetary reforms. It is doubtful if the report will be ready for consideration until a year from next December.

If the next Congress is Republican the President will make an effort to get a monetary reform bill through. Senator Aldrich, the leading spirit in the Commission's work, will have retired from Congress by that time, but it is said that after leaving the Senate he will spend considerable time in going through the country making addresses in favor of a central bank of issue.

The President is also mapping out a line of work for the economy commission to be composed of department chiefs at Washington.

It was announced that when the President and family and a party of friends leave here on the Mayflower Monday they will head directly for the Bay of Fundy and the Waters about Eastport. This will be the farthest north. Turning there, the Presidential yacht will thread its way through the Lubec waters and run down to Bar Harbor, where a stop of two or three days will be made. Isleborough will be visited. No other definite stops have been decided upon, and no formal engagements have been or will be made.

$1,000,000 FOR CANCER FUND.

New York, July 9.—The 1100-acre estate at Darlington, N. J., left by the late George Crocker, who died last December, is about to come into the possession of Emerson McMillin, the banker. The sale puts Columbia University's newly established George Crocker special research fund for cancer nearer the time for being effective.

Mr. McMillin is spending the summer in Maine, but it was said positively by the agents today that he had already contracted to buy the estate. The purchase price is said to have been in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, the net proceeds of which will be paid to the trustees of Columbia College for the cancer research fund.

ROOSEVELT DENIES HE IS INSURGENT

OYSTER BAY (N. Y.), July 13.—Theodore Roosevelt said with emphasis today that he had taken no stand as yet in favor of either the insurgents or the regulars in the Republican party, and he desires to correct any impression of favoritism. Of the situation within the party in New York State he saw only harmony ahead.

"I want you to make it clear," he said to interviewers, "that I am seeking both sides, I wish you would make that emphatic.

"My main interest is in the State, but on national issues I want to see both regulars and insurgents, party men and independents. I want to see Democrats as well as Republicans."

"But do you want to see Democrats win?" he was asked.

"Not if the Republicans do the right thing," replied the Colonel.

Timothy L. Woodruff, chairman of the New York Republican State Committee and a staunch organization man, was in the house as Colonel Roosevelt explained his attitude. So was Representative Charles N. Fowler, of New Jersey, who is a first-to-last insurgent. Colonel Roosevelt had talked with them both and apparently with equal affability.

Governor Hughes had departed earlier in the day. Colonel Roosevelt said that he had talked politics with all three and had gained about the same impression from Woodruff as he had obtained yesterday from James W. Wadsworth Jr., Speaker of the Assembly. Wadsworth made it clear that as far as lay within his power, there would be no surrender by the organization in favor of a direct nomination bill, such as Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Hughes urged. For his part, Woodruff said today that he was glad Colonel Roosevelt was active in politics.

Colonel Roosevelt was dressed for "haying" when he received the interviewers.

He had on a suit of white duck. Most of the luncheon guests were departing, but Representative W. W. Cocks, a "regular," who represents Roosevelt's home district, lingered.

"Mr. Cocks is a farmer," explained the Colonel. "He is staying to pitch hay with me."

"You know the insurgents had cold feet when I came back from abroad," said the Colonel, "because the first four men with whom I conferred were Senator Lodge, Secretary Meyer, Secretary Wilson and Nicholas Longworth."

"I had similar experiences when I was in the White House. When J. P. Morgan came to see me they said I had sold out to Wall Street, and when Samuel Gompers came they said I was going to hoist the red flag. But," he added, "I did neither."

The Colonel said that on the same day last week he saw Senator Carter, a regular, and Senator Beveridge, an insurgent, and yesterday talked with Senator Wadsworth in the morning, and with Governor Hughes at night, while today insurgency was represented at the luncheon table by Fowler, and regularly by Cocks and Woodruff.

The Colonel was asked if he and the Governor talked of a possible candidate for the gubernatorial nomination.

"Almost every visitor brings the name of a candidate," was his reply. "Many of them are worthy men. Yes—

PATTEN PICKS UP MORE EASY MONEY

NEW YORK, July 18.—The high price of cotton has proved most profitable to James A. Patten, the big Chicago speculator. According to his intimate friends in the local pit he will net about $2,000,000 profits from the sale of 100,000 bales of actual cotton taken on May contracts after paying $250,000 for insurance, freight charges, etc. This cotton, which he has been selling in Europe and this country at 16 cents, was secured below an average price of 11 cents.

It also became known today that Patten, who has been of the opinion for months past that the crop situation was most unfavorable, got into the wheat market some weeks ago, and on his heavy hull operations has cleaned up so far over $1,000,000.

The demand for spot cotton abroad is becoming keen. During the past few days J. S. Bache & Co., brokers for Patten, have shipped about 5000 bales to European spinning districts.

PRIMARY WILL SETTLE LA FOLLETTE'S CANDIDACY.

MILWAUKEE, July 13.—Senator La Follette will not be a candidate for re-election before the Legislature unless he wins in the primary contest next September. This is the authoritative announcement of Senator La Follette's campaign manager, C. H. Crownheart, of Superior, who in an interview today said:

"Senator La Follette will accept the judgement of the people at the primary as final. If he is not endorsed at the primary he will expect the Legislature to ratify the choice of the people."

terday and today I have talked over a dozen different names."

The name of William Loeb Jr. was mentioned in the talk with Governor Hughes, he said, but declined to go into details. He added that the Governor and he went over the political situation, both State and National.

"I don't know whether I shall take a hand in selecting a candidate for Governor," continued Colonel Roosevelt. "My position in regard to the Governorship this fall is that we find the man best fitted for the post and most acceptable to the rank and file of the Republican party and the independent voters. I shall do everything to see that such a man, when chosen, is elected."

Woodruff said he could not reveal the nature of his talk with Colonel Roosevelt. He said:

"There is no question that Colonel Roosevelt will be bent toward the success of the Republican party. There is no question as to the weight of his influence. Therefore I am glad to have him see people and learn the situation. All that militates to the advantage of the Republican party, which is what we all seek."

Representative Fowler left Oyster Bay voicing the same satisfaction with his visit expressed by other callers of similar political views. Fowler said the master of Sagamore Hill had invited him to take luncheon and continue the interview begun yesterday at Roosevelt's office in New York.

"I was more than pleased, said he, 'with my visit. We 'insurgents' stand for the things that Colonel Roosevelt stands for and we believe he is with us. To my way of thinking, no man now before the public offer a greater contrast than Colonel Roosevelt on the one hand and Speaker Cannon and Senator Aldrich on the other."

THE MOVING PICTURE.

Young hoodlums lately held up a street car in an eastern city, a lieutenant of police being dangerously wounded in the fight that ensued. It is said that the young highwaymen got their cue from the moving picture of a train robbery. Although they must have been bad eggs to begin with, no doubt moving pictures of crime do have a bad effect on the impressionable minds of youth. Yet neither specific instances nor obvious theories of consequences are sufficient grounds for condemning the entertainment of moving pictures in general. It is one of the most wonderfully popular diversions of modern times, attracting every grade of intellect from sage to simpleton, every station from wealth to poverty, and every age, sex and race of every community in the world not immersed in unapproachable barbarism.

The educative value of moving pictures of unexceptionable sort is becoming so recognized as to have them adopted purely as a mode of instruction in educational and philanthropic institutions. For promoting mutual knowledge of each other between nations, nothing to equal the moving pictures has ever been discovered. They give some benefits of travel to people who can not leave home, and enhance goodwill among men of diverse national customs. As an adjunct of missionary enterprise the moving picture, showing the enlightened of the earth how the menlightened live, would seem to be the climax of efficient agency.

In view of their innumerable merits the moving pictures must not be condemned merely because some of them are evil in tendency. As well might the art of printing have been condemned because some bad books came from the press. Without oppressive censorship the moving picture enterprise can be at least restrained within limits of common decency. Anything on the border line between what may and may not properly be regulated by law can be controlled largely by the public sentiment of communities. In this regard, as in many other things, the class of moving pictures best supported will be a gauge of the average intelligence and morals.

Mayor Gaynor of New York, among other items of a good record he is making, is placing restrictions on the liquor interests. He has cut down licenses to all-night cafes in that vast city to six or seven, these being all in localities where night-workers are in need of refreshments at the middle or end of their toll.

If you have not yet marked your ballot for prohibition, you have not much time to lose in proving that you have the good of Hawaii at heart.

In its Hawaiian development edition of Monday, July 18, the San Francisco Chronicle produced the finest and most exhaustive compendium of information about Hawaii which ever appeared in a single issue of a Coast paper. Most of the articles are written by men identified with the respective subjects and the illustrations are many and well selected. This stroke of enterprise will do the islands much good, besides giving the Chronicle a leading place in Hawaiian patronage of San Francisco papers.

There is no more undesirable citizen than the one who stays away from the polls. Stay-at-homes are deficient in either mind or morals.

The rumor of a transpacific line touching at Honolulu, to be established by the North German Lloyd, the Hamburg-American or the Messageries Company—is a plant of perennial sprouting. Whether it is in proper rotation or not, the North German Lloyd variety is the one popping up this season. At the same time the Pacific Mail promises such improvement of its line as will prevent great regret if no new rival to its enterprise should materialize. With all of its shortcomings, and occasional seeming unconcern for the Hawaiian trade in the past, the Pacific Mail has fairly well earned the sympathy and support of Honolulu.

THE PURE MILK QUESTION.

What is being done in this Territory for stamping out tuberculosis in dairy cattle is the same as most states in the Union are doing. Before the Board of Agriculture began the work on this island, the island of Kauai had been finished. There as here the disease proved much more prevalent than had been expected. Also before the official inspection on Oahu had begun, some of the largest dairies on this island were maintaining a regular inspection of their own.

The Board of Supervisors of the city and county of Honolulu sought the co-operation of the Board of Agriculture of the Territory in the inspection of dairy cattle to save money both for the taxpayers and the owners of dairies. In the milk ordinance it is provided that the inspection of cattle for tuberculosis shall be conducted for the dairymen without charge. As the Board of Agriculture is in duty bound to suppress diseases among animals, it would have had to inspect dairy cattle in any event. Hence, to save the payment of professional fees on account of the dairymen by the city and county, an arrangement was made whereby the city and county pays a portion of the expense of inspection by Territorial veterinarians. This does not prevent any owners of dairies from employing private veterinarians at their own expense.

As agreed upon between the Board of Supervisors and the Board of Agriculture, the president of the Board of Health concurring and the Attorney-General approving, the legal status of the arrangement is this: The Board of Agriculture is responsible for the healthy condition of dairy cattle, the Board of Supervisors sees to it that milk from diseased cows shall not be sold, and the Board of Health takes cognizance of the public health in the matter should occasion arise.

Contrary to a published opinion, the milk ordinance is anything but drastic. It is milder in many respects than similar laws elsewhere. Practically all of its requirements are that dairies shall be kept cleanly and sanitary, that milk shall be reduced to the temperature of city service water before distribution, that milk shall be preserved from contamination until delivery to the consumer, that milk shall not be adulterated, and that milk shall be of a certain nutritive standard. Both the temperature and the standard requirements are less severe than in most mainland regulations.

Uncle Walt

The Poet Philosopher

De Morgan's sprung another book, to furnish joy for future ages; it babbles gently, like a brook, through something like a thousand pages. When William published "Joseph Vance," I said of worth it was the limit; its beauties time could but enhance, and criticism could not dim it. His second book I gladly bought, while it was new and warm and seethin'; it somehow failed to hit the spot, and I sent it to the heathen. His third I bought with troubled mind, and doubt and dread and chill misgiving; its reading was a weary grind that almost made me tired of living. I don't intend to buy his fourth; I'd rather read Doc Cook's confession concerning gold bricks in the north and swapping gumdrops for concessions. There never is a change of strain in things produced by Bill De Morgan; it's much like hearing one refrain forever played upon an organ. And does this grand old man intend to write forever, without stoppin'? We soon must class him with our friend, the gifted Heim E. Phillipsoppen.

VOTING IS BEHIND

Slow voting in all the precincts is reported by those who have kept in touch hourly with the situation today. Up to one o'clock only 1308 votes had been registered in the twenty six precincts of the fourth and fifth districts, which is far behind the number cast in the last general election.

Managers on both sides of the important question that is being voted on today expect that a big vote will be cast between one and three o'clock, as most of the voters who are employed as laborers in the big concerns have decided to vote during that time. Several attempts have been made to get returns from the outlying precincts of the fifth district but to no avail.

The general feeling among the business men throughout the downtown district, is that a small vote will be cast unless something is done at once to round up the voters who have so far failed to put in appearance at the polls.

there, and the only sign of life were footprints in the dust on the stairs from and to the street below.

"We have no need of a headquarters today," explained one of the Prohibitionists. "Our plans were all finished up yesterday and our forces are now out on the firing line. We have no special need for a headquarters today, and as it would necessarily entail expense we decided to omit the luxury. The Prohibitionists have not large sums of money to squander, as the other side usually has."

Hon. John G. Woolley, the field head of the Prohibition movement, was at his offices in the Stangenwald building most of the day. There he received reports from members of the Committee of One Hundred and others who called. Mr. Woolley has had a very strenuous time of it in the past several weeks, practically superintending personally the campaign on all the islands, delivering many speeches and writing most of the literature which has been sent out by the Prohibition party.

MR. POND EXPLAINS.

A rumor that Percy M. Pond, the dairyman, intended refusing the fifteen men employed by him the time to vote today was vigorously denied by that gentleman this morning. He states that he has not and will not throw any obstacles in the way of voters employed by him reaching the polls. In his employ, however, are several Portuguese who are not registered and cannot vote. There may have been some suggestion that these particular men fill out a day's work, and this probably gave rise to the rumor referred to.

WILL BE A LESSON.

J. A. Rath, of Palama Mission: "Win or lose at the polls today, the victory will be for the prohibitionists. The liquor men will have been taught a lesson which they will carefully heed in future. The march of decency and Godliness in Honolulu will not be stopped by anything. The liquor interests may so conduct themselves and their business enterprises that the life of the latter may be prolonged by virtue of a 'just one more chance to be decent' spirit; but the saloon men now know that they are up against a public sentiment that will stand for no more nonsense. If the Prohibitionists win, they win; if they lose, they win anyhow, because they have taken a stand from which there will not nor can there be a retreat."

PALAMA VOTE LIGHT.

The information has reached Prohibition centers that the vote in Palama and Kalia sections seems to be coming up light, as compared with regular elections. The anti-saloon people are not assisting their voters to the polls and using no inducements of any sort. The opposition are doing all the rustling. They have been very careful in their canvass and are seeing that every gin-supporter reaches his proper polling booth.

MONEY CONTEST OVER ONE WORD

NEWARK (N. J.), July 18.—The Court of Chancery here has been invoked to define the verb "want." A matter of many thousand dollars depends on whether the Court agrees with the definition as given by the executors of the will of the late William P. Coffin or with that of the widow. The executors maintain that the verb in question means "require," while Mrs. Coffin thinks "desire" is a better synonym.

The clause in the wealthy merchant's will reads:

"The executors shall pay to my wife during her lifetime such sums of money as she shall want for her comfortable support and maintenance."

Mrs. Coffin insists that she "wants" all the money available. The executors do not think that this is the intention of the will and have refused to give her more than what they regard as a comfortable income.

REPORTS OF DUN AND BRADSTREET

R. G. Dun & Company had this to say of the financial situation in the United States, as of July 16:

"Business in all its branches waits on the outcome of the year's crop. In the meantime the leading industries are experiencing something more than the customary midsummer dullness, and curtailment of production and price concessions continue.

"There is an improved demand in footwear. The hot weather has helped the distribution of merchandise in some lines and retarded it in others. Retail trade is much better than wholesale trade, which has been largely demoralized by the price situation. This indicates a fair consumption of merchandise, making for sound conditions at the bottom.

"With the advent of fall a great awakening of interest is looked for in iron and steel. Production of pig iron continues at a good rate, but uncertainty as to the prices is a deterrent influence and accumulated stocks have a depressing effect. Advances from the Pittsburgh district indicate that the railroads are in somewhat urgent need of equipment, and are expected to enter the market as active buyers before long. In most directions the structural trade gives promise of a good future business.

"Iron bars are fairly active and prices are not firm, but steel bars continue in good demand. The outlook as regards the fuel situation has slightly improved and there has been some contracting for the last half at an advance of 10c to 15c over quotations for spot coke.

"High cost cotton and low priced goods still force a material curtailment of production. Some export trade was booked for China and Red Sea delivery at values based on 12 cent cotton, and miscellaneous export trade holds steady.

"The opening of men's wear lines for spring is under way, and the leading producers will show their new styles next week.

"The strike of garment workers impedes dress goods deliveries to cutters. There is a better tone in silk markets, where spring orders for foulards are already being placed by southern jobbers and where the cutters are beginning to order satins for fall more freely.

"A full quota of buyers are now in the Boston market and many of them have contributed to the recent trade in footwear by placing good fall orders.

"Low prices were accepted on late sales. Leather continues generally steady.

"On the same date, Bradstreet (also New York) had the following to say: "Quiet still characterizes most lines of trade and industry, with operations limited by vacations and summer shut-downs. The first of the fall buyers are in the leading markets, but the operations are conducted with caution pending clearer views of the crop outcome.

"Trade as a whole is claimed to be equal to or in excess of last year at this period, but, except where hot weather demands or clearance sales have resulted in broken stocks, shipments of goods are light. Collections are generally classed as fair to slow.

"Increased moisture in the northwest has led to a more optimistic feeling as to spring wheat, which tended

HAWAIIANS BUSY IN PHILIPPINES

Those terrible Hawaiians who are operating in the Philippine Islands seem still to be making copy for the newspapers and trade journals. Yesterday's mail brought Willett & Gray's latest papers, and in it the following is found:

The press reports that a slight disagreement as to the terms of purchasing cane has recently interfered with the plans under way for the erection of a central sugar factory near San Carlos on the island of Negros, mention of which was made by us on June 30th.

A present report from Iloilo says: The Hawaiian capitalists proposed to install a mill and the necessary railroad, mill the cane and prepare it for market, taking forty-five per cent. of the product.

The hacenderos rejected this proposal, offering a substitute plan which provided that the planter should receive seven tons of sugar for each hundred tons of cane delivered at the mill.

The slight difference between the two proposals indicates an early settlement of the dispute, thus permitting the entrance of the first modern milling company into the canefields of Negros.

to dispel some of the crop scare talk current for some weeks in that section, encourage some fall buying and restrict cancellations, though much damage is conceded done. In the southwest the results of the winter wheat harvest and satisfactory progress by corn have made for a better feeling as to future trade, though immediate demand has not picked up materially.

"In the south trade is quiet. At the largest eastern markets the trade is still largely of the waiting character. Curtailment is largely in evidence in the iron and steel, cotton, woolen, coal, lumber and coke trades. The labor situation is disturbed, owing to strikes of clothing makers at New York and threats of strikes for higher wages on the Pennsylvania system east and west.

"Business failures in the United States for the week ending July 14 were 202, against 182 last week, 206 in the same week of 1909, 255 in 1908, 177 in 1907 and 188 in 1906.

"Business failures in Canada for the week number 24, which compares with 16 last week and 36 in the same week of 1909.

"Wheat (including flour) exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending July 14 aggregate 1,190,248 bushels, against 1,563,775 last week and 1,468,106 this week last year.

"Corn exports for the week are 94,757 bushels, against 190,072 last week and 190,113 in 1909."

LATEST LETTER OF HENRY CLEWS

NEW YORK, July 16, 1910.

We are now entering what is usually the dull season in the stock market owing to the vacation period, and a disposition to await more definite prospects concerning the growing crops. The situation of the latter is more favorable than has been generally represented. Warm weather and beneficial rains during the past week have materially benefited both wheat and corn.

The shrinkage in spring wheat, estimated at about 90,000,000 bushels, was of course an unpleasant factor. Thanks to the larger acreage of winter wheat and generally fair conditions that loss may be partly recovered. Something of vastly more importance is the prospect for corn, which is very encouraging, the outlook being for a record-breaking crop of 3,200,000,000 bushels or over. Since the money value of the corn crop is between two or three times that of wheat, the importance of a big yield of corn can easily be understood. Last year our corn crop of 2,272,000,000 bushels was valued at $1,653,000,000. Our wheat crop of 737,000,000 bushels was valued at $730,000,000, while our cotton crop of a little more than 10,000,000 bales was valued at $850,000,000; an unusually high figure. It will thus be seen that corn is worth more than the other two crops combined, and twice as much as either one of them. A big corn crop therefore, such as is now promised, affords a most important basis of encouragement. It should cheapen meat products, and give the railroads a large freight traffic. But the crop has still several weeks to run and is always exposed to danger from early frost. Moreover, August is usually a

WILLETT & GRAY'S LATEST LETTER

Willett & Gray's sugar Journal of July 14 contains the following concerning the raw sugar situation:

The week under review has been unusually quiet and uneventful. Only a small business was put through, and quotations for this remained at 4.33c. per lb. until yesterday, when a cargo of Porto Rico Centrifugals due at this port was placed to the Arbuckle refinery at 4.30c. per lb., the best bid on the market at the time.

There are several buyers at this quotation, however, and it is fair to think that this was an exceptional sale and that the current market quotation will soon be renewed at 4.33c. per lb. basis, because the demand for refined sugar is unexceptionally large and increasing and raw sugars will be much wanted by some refiners if not by all. Sellers, as a rule, are not urging their stock on the market, although on the basis of 3c. c. & f. (4.36c.) a considerable quantity can be purchased in all positions. We expect to see this price made again during the present month.

From Cuba, our weekly returns show receipts of 5,000 tons, against 2,000 tons last year, increasing the present crop output to 1,813,582 tons, provided receipts from this time forward equal the receipts during the same period of last year.

The conditions for the growing crop, as regards weather, continue moderately favorable, especially in sections where fairly good rains have been experienced. It is too early yet to estimate the coming crop, although it will be no surprise if it proves to be large.

Messrs. Guma-Mejer give the present crop production to June 30th as 1,689,675 tons.

Regarding European beet crops, general rains occurred all over Europe recently and where needed have done much good, although in some sections the rains already received have been sufficient and warm, dry weather is now desired. Former dry weather was most severe in Russia and eastern Hungary and still more rain would be useful there, although the crop is doing quite well. On the other hand, in France and Belgium, rains have been excessive for some time and are holding back the crop and field work, and warmer conditions are generally desired.

From Mauritius, unfavorable weather has recently affected the growing crop, so that our correspondents now estimate 290,000 tons, against 240,000 tons for the present crop.

From Brazil, we learn that an unusually large crop is expected this year, from which crop no doubt the United States will participate in to some extent at least, greater than during the past year or two.

From a general outlook of the sugar situation, a larger amount of supplies appears to be coming visible, which may in the end lead to a reduction in the present abnormal values in Europe. For instance, at the commencement of this year the total figures of world's supplies showed a decrease of 552,610 tons from the previous year's figures. The same comparison today, by our figures given elsewhere, reduces this decrease to 75,395 tons, showing the statistical trend to be approaching normal conditions. From this exhibit, it is evident that current prices in Europe must within the next two months give way to a new basis of values upon new crop conditions.

The present parity difference between new crop beets, October-December delivery, and Cuba Centrifugals at present value is only 1-8c. per lb. Present offerings of Java sugars are on the basis of not less than 12s. 9d., equal to 4.51c. per lb. at New York; but this price is for October-November arrival. Beet sugars for the same delivery are at about 4.46c.

U. S. Four Ports receipts, 35,165 tons; meltings, 48,000 tons; total stocks in U. S. and Cuba together, 582,430 tons, against 626,265 tons last week and 541,825 tons last year. The meltings are reduced from the normal by the closing of one of our largest refineries.

HAWAII EDITION OF THE CHRONICLE

The Hawaiian Development Edition of the San Francisco Chronicle, bearing date of July 18, arrived at the local bookstores yesterday, and was more than an agreeable surprise to newspaper readers of Honolulu. So quietly had the work of planning this number been carried on that few people expected more than a supplementary section to the popular San Francisco edition. In place of that, however, there are thirty-nine pages of well selected, admirably grouped, tersely written and beautifully illustrated articles on practically every subject of interest to island readers or outside friends.

A few of the articles are: "Historical sketch of the Hawaiian Islands," by Prof. W. D. Alexander; "The government of Hawaii" by his Excellency, Governor Frear, and "The public lands of Hawaii," also by the Governor; "Agriculture and Horticulture in Hawaii," by Dr. E. V. Wilcox; "Educational system of Hawaii," by Prof. Willis T. Pope; "The press of Hawaii," by Roderick O. Matheson, managing editor of the Advertiser; "Postal service in Hawaii," by Postmaster Joseph G. Pratt; "Commerce and Customs of Hawaii," by Collector E. R. Stackable; "Hawaii as a tourist resort," by Will J. Cooper, and a series of short articles by Hon. E. A. Mott-Smith, on "equable climate conducive to health"; "Fortifications," by Colonel J. W. Jones; "Tobacco," by Jared G. Smith; "Promotion Committee," Will J. Cooper; "Stock and Bond Exchange," by William Williamson; "Merchants' Association," by Fred L. Waldron; "Rice," F. G. Krauss; "Coffee," by George Rodell; "Cotton," by Dr. E. V. Wilcox; "Pineapples," by James D. Dole, and an article by the compiler entitled "Building active in the Hawaiian Islands."

In the second section are "The sugar industry in Hawaii," by Royal D. Mead; "The future supply of labor in the Philippines," by Richard Walters; extensively illustrated write-ups of Hawaiian Commercial, Maui Agricultural Company, Pioneer, Waialua, Olowalu Hawaiian Sugar, McBryde, Lihue, Koloa, Kekaha, Mahee, Kilanea, Waimea, Grove Farm, etc., with illustrations of laborers quarters, mill and other plantations adjuncts.

In the third section the plantations of Oahu are treated consecutively and in detail, followed by the plantations of Hawaii, a special writeup of 1910 and finally description of the California and Hawaiian Sugar refinery at Crockett, California.

The fourth section contains descriptive articles on the large industrial enterprises and mercantile houses on Honolulu.

The fifth section opens with an article by "our old friend" Walter G. Smith on "The banker and the Princess," meaning Charles R. Bishop and late wife. Next the hotels of Honolulu are treated by the compiler, and there is an article on the banks of Honolulu, followed by "Railway Facilities in Hawaii," prepared by Fred C. Smith, general passenger agent of the Oahu railway.

The paper is truly a "development edition," and will undoubtedly be well received throughout the group.

MONEY IS POSTED TO ENSURE MATCH

Forfeit money to the amount of $150 has been posted for the appearance of Pat Cornyn, Larry Twomey and Jack Cordell on Saturday night at Aloha Park yesterday afternoon the money was placed in the hands of a reliable person who will hold it until the men have entered the ring on the night of July 30. In the event of either of the three men failing to appear the money will be divided equally among those who keep their part of the agreement. Moth boxers have agreed to box straight Queensberry rules, and to take sixty per cent of the gross gate receipts for their share of the purse.

To pick the winner is something that no one is able to do at the present time, as nobody here seems to know what Cornyn is able to do against a man that is nearly his equal as far as science is concerned.

Cordell's ability is known to the local fans as he had several matches before he lost the title to Dick Sullivan; but as he has not appeared locally for some time his friends are unable to judge what he can do against Cornyn, who has a good record on the coast.

The men will enter the ring in splendid condition, according to their trainers, who are giving them plenty of work for what promises to be the best go seen here in many years.

Sarconi is doing hard work in preparation for his go with Matterson, which ought to be a good one, as Matterson has the reputation of being a hard man to defeat. Sarconi has a way of letting up in his training too long before his matches, but this time he will train up to the minute, as he is anxious to get the decision.

The Sarconi-Matterson bout of ten rounds will be started at 8:30 sharp, the Cordell-Cornyn go being scheduled for 9:15.

MOLLILLOU FINISHED.

At 7:5:10 last evening Francis B. Smith's new yawl Mollilou crossed the line off Diamond Head, 20 hours, 11 minutes and 40 seconds behind the Hawaii. Light winds were reported by Commodore Ward the entire way, the best run of the new yawl being 197 knots in twenty four hours.

The Hawaii finished 17 hours, 46 minutes and 37 seconds ahead of the Sweetheart but allowing for a handicap of 8 hours and thirty minutes, the Hawaii won by 9 hours, 46 minutes and 37 seconds over the Sweetheart, and 20 hours, 11 minutes and 40 seconds over the Mollilou. The crew of the Mollilou consists of the following:

Commodore L. T. Ward, captain; A. M. Johnson, first officer; F. Frankhoff, second officer; W. H. Craig, W. H. Schroeder, F. Fredericks, J. Russel, cook.

NEW 1,000 YARD RECORD.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Melvin W. Sheppard of the Irish-American athletic club broke a world's record which has stood for 30 years, when he ran 1,000 yards at Celtic park today. He made the distance in 2:12 2/5, clipping three-fifths of a second from the mark established by Lon Myers.

HARVARD CREW METHODS.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The great victory of Harvard over Yale on the Thames seems to indicate that a new style of rowing is bound to gain favor in America. This was Harvard's third successive victory. In former years a Harvard triumph on the Thames was a rare and notable affair. Times have changed, and Harvard is recognized as the superior of the New Haven institution.

Instead of smaller, and more active men, capable of a swifter stroke, the Harvard system, inaugurated by Rudolph Lehman, and carried to success by Coach Wray, places big men in the shell, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. These men are incapable of the rapid stroke used by Yale and Cornell, but they more than make up their deficiencies in speed by superiority of power.

Harvard is recognized as the superior of Yale, just as Cornell is indisputably superior to the crews that are annually vanquished at Poughkeepsie by the boys from Ithaca. It is to be regretted that Harvard and Cornell can not row their annual race after the regattas at New London and Poughkeepsie. A race rowed earlier in the season, when neither crew is in prime condition, is not nearly so conclusive. Cornell's defeat of Harvard this year is not wholly satisfactory, even to the Cornell men themselves, neither is the fact that Harvard made better time at New London than Cornell did at Poughkeepsie to be considered final. The two greatest crews of America should be able to arrange their contest as the culminating aquatic event of the year.

UNKNOWN FIND.

NEW YORK, July 18.—James J. Corbett has an "unknown" under cover who he hopes will show himself fit to win the title Jim Jeffries lost to Jack Johnson at Reno. Hugh McIntosh has been sufficiently impressed to put out a challenge today in behalf of the unknown, backed by a $5,000 forfeit to be used later as a side bet. If Johnson declines, the offer is open to any other man worthy to be considered a candidate for heavy weight honors. Corbett refuses to make known the identity of his protege.

McIntosh, who is in New York, says in his challenge:

"The unknown will be named by James J. Corbett and will also be trained by him, the fight to take place in the United States, England or Australia, and I agree to offer a purse greater than that offered by any other person.

"As an evidence of good faith, I am willing to deposit $5,000 as a guarantee with Timothy Sullivan or any other responsible person. The same deposits will go as a side bet if desired. "The only stipulation I make is that the contest be 20 rounds or over.

JOHNSON ONSTAGE.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Since Jack Johnson beat Jim Jeffries at Reno he has been receiving all kinds of flattering offers for his services. The largest so far extended to him is that of $75,000 for nine months work giving boxing exhibitions in different cities in England. Hugh McIntosh of Australia offered Johnson this big incentive today.

When Johnson was asked what he intended to do in regard to the offer he replied: "While the offer is a big one, I have not decided as yet whether to accept it or not. In the first place, I am not stuck on such a long stretch in this theatrical business, as it ties a man down too much. I will think the matter over and will give McIntosh my answer in a few days. Johnson has been such a big success at Hammerstien's this week that he has been engaged for another week in Boston and then will go to Atlantic City, where he expects to take a rest for a few weeks.

JOHNSON WILL PAY.

CHICAGO, July 18.—John Arthur Johnson, the world's champion, will be obliged to pry loose several hundred dollars from his bulky "wad" in order to increase the income of Cook county, if members of the Board of Review carry out their present program. Reviewers believe "Jack" should pay taxes on his personal property.

The Board of Assessors was not apprised of the fact that the colored champion is possessed of a substantial amount of personal property and did not include him among those on the assessment rolls.

As the result of his row with George Little, erstwhile manager of the pugilistic star, Johnson recently made a statement to the effect that he had $30,000 in the bank, possessed an automobile and was owner of diamonds valued at $16,000, a long time prior to his fight with Jeffries at Reno. This was recorded in the office of the Board of Review.

It is figured that the fist artist will be required to pay about $700 into the coffers of the county treasurer.

ROOSEVELT AFTER PRIZE-FIGHTING

NEW YORK, July 13.—Colonel Roosevelt has written the following for Saturday's Outlook:

"From every standpoint I believe in the encouragement of boxing as a sport. Moreover, boxing as a profession has its good points also. Among men whose friendship and regard I have really valued I could name a number of boxing professors, professional boxers, including several ring ring champions. The men to whom I refer I found decent and square men who showed themselves good citizens when their good citizenship was tested. I approved of the movement which in this State, at the time I was police commissioner, resulted in the enactment of the law permitting boxing contests between professional boxers under conditions which were intended to safeguard the sport against brutality and other evils which have everywhere resulted sooner or later in the suppression of the prize ring.

"I saw several of these public boxing contests in which the intent of the law was carried out in good faith. Nevertheless, even under this law abuses crept in, and finally one or two fights occurred where surrounding circumstances were so scandalous that when I was governor I was obliged to advocate and finally secure the repeal of the law under which the contests took place, feeling convinced, together with a majority of the citizens of the State, that under it almost all that had made prize-fighting objectionable had gradually been revived.

"The betting and gambling upon the result are thoroughly unhealthy, and the moving picture part of the proceedings has introduced an entirely new method of money-getting and of demoralization. In addition the last contest provoked a very unfortunate display of race antagonism. I sincerely trust that the public sentiment will be so aroused and make itself heard so effectually that this will be the last prize-fight to take place in the United States. It would be an admirable thing if some method could be devised to stop the pictures thereof."

WOMAN ASSAILS COL. ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, July 9.—The Guildhall speech of Theodore Roosevelt, in which he gave Great Britain advice on how to rule her colonies, echoed across the seas and found one of its many answers so late as today from the lips of the Maharanee of Baroda, who, with her husband, the Gaekwar, is now in New York on a trip around the world. The Maharanee said: "I do not like the speech of your soldier Roosevelt, in which he told the English how to rule my people and the Egyptians. What can he know? He has never been in my country. He should not speak of things of which he knows nothing. "One cannot learn in a year, in a hundred years, the heart of a people, and my people do not show their hearts easily."

The Maharanee is well educated, speaks several languages and has advanced ideas in which her husband shares—within limits. He said: "Woman's influence is most potent, and I want the women of my country to think for themselves."

That is as far as the Gaekwar will go. "Suffragettes?" he asked. "Are there really such things? I thought they were fabulous, like the unicorn. No, they would not be popular in my country."

His wife thinks American women are beautiful, "but their styles," she added, "are not for our country. Our standard of beauty is simple grace—the natural shape of the head, the natural line of the figure. That is all."

CONSERVATIONISTS ON VERGE OF SEPARATING.

ST. PAUL (Minn.), July 13.—Local officials interested in the convention of the National Conservation Party, which meets in St. Paul in September, will leave tonight for Chicago, where they will hold a conference with Gifford Pinchot, President B. N. Baker and Secretary Thomas R. Shipp of the congress regarding the programme for the meeting. Some of the features of the programme have been objected to as having a too decided leaning toward the Pinchot side of the Ballinger controversy.

It was predicted today that if no agreement is reached at the conference tomorrow, a split in the conservation forces may ensue and Kansas City get the congress, while a new conservation organization more friendly to the Taft administration may be formed in Minnesota.

CLAIM DISCOVERY OF RADIUM SUBSTITUTE.

PASADENA, July 13.—Great interest was manifested at the session of the American Institute of Homeopathy yesterday afternoon in the announcement made by Dr. E. Stillman Bailey that a substitute for radium had been discovered. It is a combination of uranium and what is practically thorium, a product of pitchblende. It has been named thoradium. Dr. Bailey, formerly dean of the Hahneman College Medical College of Chicago, has been working several years with Dr. Frank H. Blackmar, also of Chicago. The claim for thoradium is that it multiplies the uses to which radium may be put and eliminates its dangers. One of its most important properties is that of alleviating pain.

California Oil INVESTMENTS

As shown by the official statement of the San Francisco Stock Exchange over $1,400,000 were paid by the listed oil companies for June.

Some remarkable records have been made by some of the oil companies, promoted by us, Illinois Crude for instance. This company has paid $9,400 an acre in dividends already and is producing now about 50 per cent more oil than it did a couple of years ago.

Through our long experience in California oil we are able to select only good companies for our hundreds of clients. We may mention Premier, Sexton Six, Palmer, Yellowstone, Cresopus etc. which are all heavy producers. Amongst the low price-stocks WE RECOMMEND THE IMMEDIATE PURCHASE OF SHARES OF THE "VENTURA OIL DEVELOPMENT CO." which according to present indications will become our banner company.

The shares are offered now AT 15 CENTS EACH, but the price will be ADVANCED ON JULY 22. Make therefore your investment now, and reap the benefit of the advance in price. We have sold a great many shares, and we want you to join us in the road to success.

will rest upon natural rather than artificial causes. In the first six months of 1910 the London market took about $180,000,000 of our new securities, which looks as if Europe had more confidence in them than we ourselves. Altogether the financial situation is distinctly more satisfactory than three months ago.

Some temporary uneasiness was shown at the suspension of freight advances until after the elections by order of the Interstate Commission. This action, however, was not surprising in view of the fact that several of the Commissioners are on their vacations, and that the question is too big to permit of hasty action. It will probably require several months of investigation before any fair decision can be attained; and it is altogether premature to assume that such action will be unfavorable to the railroads. That the Commissioners have made concessions to the railroads in the matter of commutation rates is proof that they are not animated by any spirit of unfairness or antagonism; yet they may not be proof against political influence which will certainly be brought to bear.

The general business situation is not satisfactory. Reactionary tendencies multiply, and the liquidation which has taken place on the Stock Exchange is now extending to the commodity market. Economy is becoming the order of the day, having been rendered imperative by the extravagance which has permeated all classes of consumers for some years past. What with automobiles and other inordinate indulgences, the buying power of many people has been,

CHARLES BOOTH DROPS DEAD

Charles Booth, whose name is well known to everybody in these islands who has been here any length of time, yesterday afternoon on Pacific Heights dropped dead of heart disease. He was alone when death came, except for the presence of a young Hawaiian, Sam Kaamoaia.

Charles Booth was born in the islands, owning at one time nearly all of Pauoa Valley and Pacific Heights, and being fairly well to do at the time of his death. He was born September 20th, 1866.

In 1894 he married Elizabeth Kahalelauka Baker, daughter of Hoapili Baker, once royal governor of Maui, who was a half brother of Governor John Baker of Hawaii. He is survived by the widow and two daughters, Leola Evelyn aged 13 years, and Marjorie Manohelili, aged 9, as well as Mrs. Berger and Mrs. Clara Smith, sisters, now residents of the city.

The funeral will take place at four o'clock this afternoon from the Pauoa residence.

at least temporarily, impaired. A period of rest is needed for recuperation. A good many failures have taken place during the past 6 months, and more are to be anticipated. Lower prices for commodities, however, and time for recuperation will gradually work out a better and sounder situation. Labor is still generally well employed and securing good wages; so that there should be no serious abatement in the consumption of necessities. Luxuries only should suffer. Should the crops turn out satisfactorily, and should the country escape any unfavorable political developments, we may look for a resumption of trade activity next fall and winter. Disappointment, however, in either of these respects would inevitably affect trade injuriously; hence a period of caution and waiting is necessary, until the possible outcome of these elements can be fairly estimated.

The outlook for the stock market is still somewhat confused. Securities during the last six months have undergone a tremendous shrinkage, discounting in advance the depression in trade and industry which is now foreseen. The Stock Exchange always discounts such conditions in advance, and then starts out to anticipate business improvement while business is still passing through the midst of depression. One reason for such an anomaly is that money at one time required for legitimate business operations subsequently finds more profitable employment in cheap securities. For investors the present is unquestionably an attractive opportunity, because many sound dividend payers are selling below intrinsic values, considering monetary conditions. But caution must still be used in all speculative operations. Though element of panic may be entirely lacking, confidence has received hard blows, and the weak spots have not yet been entirely eliminated. There is a bear party also of considerable influence which might succeed in forcing the market lower, thought it might also prove an element of strength in event of forced recovery. A conservative policy, therefore, is still the only one to be followed, and the prudent operator will be satisfied for the time being with moderate profits.
