INDIGESTION And Liver Complaint CURED BY USING Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Mr. T. J. CLUNE, of Wallerville, S. Australia, writes: "Six years ago, I had an attack of indigestion and liver complaint that lasted for weeks; I was unable to do any hard work, had no appetite, food distressed me, and I suffered much from the action. My skin was yellow and thin, and I lost much weight. I tried several remedies, but failed to get a doctor, without obtaining a prescription for one of my customers, I procured Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after taking 45 bottles, I was completely cured, and resumed my ordinary and sleep like a child."

THE LEGISLATURE.

THE SENATE OCCUPIED WITH THE NEW LAND BILL.

The Power of the Land Commissioners to be Restricted. Notes from the Lower House.

SIXTEENTH DAY JULY 2ND.

THE SENATE.

Yesterday afternoon was devoted to the consideration of the Land Bill on the second reading. The first twelve sections were discussed and passed with a few amendments, the most important of which makes the Land Commissioners to be appointed by the President subject to the approval of the Senate instead of the Cabinet.

The Senate was occupied this forenoon in considering the land bill as amended by the House. There was a full attendance.

THE REPRESENTATIVES.

Minister Smith, on the opening of the House, stated that President Dole wished to be furnished with printed copies of all bills introduced in the House.

A letter from the clerk of the Senate was read, announcing the election of J. A. Kennedy as a member of the Council of State.

Mr. Bond said that, in the report of the education committee presented yesterday, an item of $750 for a school house on Maui was omitted. He moved the item be added to the recommended appropriation of $13,650.

Mr. Richards reported that the bill appropriating $12,000 for this special session of the legislature had been presented to the President for his signature.

Mr. Robertson gave notice of a bill to regulate the acquisition of rights of way over the lands of others. He also read a first time his bill relating to the importation of alcohol and spirits for medicinal purposes.

The bill relating to Chinese immigration passed third reading unanimously.

Mr. Robertson denied the right of the Speaker to vote.

Speaker Naone held he had the right under a rule of the House which said "a majority of all elective members of the House" was required to pass a bill on third reading.

Mr. Robertson quoted another rule that said the Speaker could not vote except to decide a tie or when a ballot was taken.

The question was referred to the committee on rules.

Mr. Richards resigned from the sanitary joint committee.

At 11 a.m. the House adjourned till 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Five leading grocery firms announce closing on the fourth.

"Aloha oe" and "Like no a like" at the concert to-night.

Co. G, under Captain Henry Kais, will turn out on the Fourth of July.

There will be another meeting of the Council of State at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Judge Hartwell left this afternoon for a vacation to Kauai, taking his daughter with him.

J. A. Wilder and a party of friends left on the Claudine this afternoon for a trip to Haleakala.

Charles Murray, son of the Councillor of State, has accepted a berth in the tax-assessor's office.

HE GOES BACK TO JAIL.

SUPREME COURT DECISION ON THE HABEAS CORPUS CASE.

Justice Frear Delivers the Opinion Refusing the Writ to Prince Jonah Kalaniana'ole.

At 10 o'clock this morning the Supreme Court opened after a few days' adjournment. Jailer Low produced Prince Kalaniana'ole, commonly known as "Prince Cupid," in court. The prisoner was attended by his counsel, Paul Neumann. A. M. Brown, Deputy Marshal, was present, also attorneys W. A. Kinney, who was Judge Advocate of the Military Commission, J. A. Magoon, E. Johnson, J. K. Kahookano, W. L. Stanley and others. Dr. Joseph Cook of Boston sat in the jury box and appeared to take a profound interest in the proceedings. "Cupid" was dressed in a plain and halfworn woolen suit.

Chief Justice Judd asked Mr. Brown if he was the only representative of the government present.

Mr. Brown answered, "I believe so, Your Honor."

The Chief Justice then announced that the decision of the Court in the matter of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Prince Jonah Kalaniana'ole would be delivered by Mr. Justice Frear.

Justice Frear opened with a story of the insurrection of January 5 and succeeding days, the arrest of the petitioner and his sentence, on conviction of misprision of treason by the Military Commission, to imprisonment at hard labor for one year and to pay a fine of one thousand dollars.

His Honor recited the chief ground of the petition, namely, that the Military Commission was an illegal body. He quoted the provision, in the constitution of the republic, for the proclamation of martial law, saying that it was not peculiar to this country. Its reason lay in the doctrine of public necessity. Great Britain had instituted martial law in Ireland at different times, and the government of the colony of Jamaica had also resorted to it. A large number of cases were cited from the British and American books to prove that martial law was in the power of the governments in grave public exigencies. One decision was that the power was held by the President of the United States without the concurrence of any other authority. It had been a question whether the President or the Congress had the "dangerous power," and the authorities agreed that either the President or the Congress had it. The courts had generally refused to review the authority of the executive to declare martial law whenever it was deemed necessary, as in the case of the Rhode Island rebellion of 1842. Cases arising out of the great rebellion in the United States were also cited to sustain the position taken, namely, that the civil courts can afford no redress for alleged wrongs committed under martial law.

The court pointed out a distinction between military rule and martial law. All the conditions under which martial law might be proper would be hard to define. What might have been appropriate in the time of Napoleon might not be so today. This court was not prepared to go so far as Judge Hare of the United States, in saying that what was done under martial law could not be reviewed by the civil courts, even where an abuse of authority had taken place. Instead they preferred to take an English decision that limited the review of the civil courts to inhumanity resulting from the action of martial law.

As to whether misprision of treason was a crime under the laws of this country which was under the jurisdiction of a military commission, the Court said it was so regarded in American and English law. To the argument that a military commission had no jurisdiction to try civilians in a time of peace, it was held that the necessity for martial law did not always cease with the termination of actual hostilities.

It was deemed unnecessary by the Court to consider the argument that the military commission had no jurisdiction for an offense committed before the outbreak of war. There might be misprision of treason after as well as before the outbreak.

Regarding the question as to the jurisdiction of the military commission while the civil courts were declared, by the proclamation of martial law, to be open for ordinary business, the Court held that matters arising out of a serious insurrection were not to be classed as ordinary business.

The last point considered was whether the President had the power to delegate his authority to the head of the military commission. In answer the Court said that the President could not be everywhere at the same time, and anyway he had signed all the judgments of the military commission. There being no reason for surrendering the prisoner, the writ was denied, and the prisoner remanded to the custody of the jailer.

Paul Neumann for the petitioner; A. S. Hartwell for the respondent.

President Dole entered the courtroom as the reading was concluded, and obtaining the document sat down to read it.

COUNCIL OF STATE.

First Meeting of the Third Branch of the Legislature.

Yesterday afternoon the Council of State assembled in the chamber of the House of Representatives. There were present: President Dole, presiding; Ministers Smith and Damon, Councillors C. Brown, G. W. Smith, John Nott, P. C. Jones, W. C. Wilder, D. L. Naone, J. U. Kawai-nui, A. G. M. Robertson, T. B. Murray, J. A. Kennedy, J. Mendonca, C. Bolte, John Egan, M. P. Robinson and O. M. Cooke.

Mr. Smith was appointed secretary of the meeting.

On motion of Minister Smith the President appointed Councillors Brown, Naone and Robertson a committee on rules.

President Dole announced the business as the consideration of a list of pardons he would submit. He left it to the Council to decide if the session should be secret.

Minister Smith advocated and moved that the business be considered with closed doors. The motion carried unanimously. Marshal Hitchcock and W. A. Kinney were asked to continue their presence.

James F. Morgan sold the old two-story wooden building on the Waikiki side of Alakea, near King street, at auction today for removal. Wing Chong Tai bought it for $77. A house of worship for the Christian Church is to be erected on the site.

Popular Topics of the Day.

"The Monarch will win" is an expression heard in bicycle races oftener than anything else. It has not yet been heard here because Monarch Bicycles have not yet been introduced, but when they are they will not take second place in speed, weight or quality of material.

The Monarch is just what its name implies, the King of bicycles, and we are authorized agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

This wheel is made by a company whose standing in the manufacturing world is at the head; they are putting money in their wheels and selling them at a low price because they are not anxious to make themselves rich in a year. For that reason they have put the price within the reach of everyone.

The coming models in the Monarch are No's 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12. These include racing and ladies' wheels. They are fitted with either "Demon" or "King-fisher" lamps, and with this on the front end you can see so far ahead of you that night riding is more of a pleasure than you have been used to. With a Monarch Bicycle you don't have to keep a lamp on the back to keep drivers from running over you; the mechanism is such that a high rate of speed is attained without much muscular power.

Our prices of the genuine Monarch wheel will be twenty-five per cent less than you ever heard of a first class bicycle being sold for. We can do it because we are the manufacturers' agents and have no middle man's profits to pay. Call at our store and examine our Agency papers and secure a handsomely illustrated catalogue.

A second hand Columbia safety can be had of us very cheap, the owner wishing to dispose of it and buy a Monarch.

If you are sceptical call on us and learn that the place to buy the best bicycle is at.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY BILL.

Mr. Neumann Says a Part is Un-constitutional.

There was not a large attendance of citizens at the open meeting of the House judiciary committee on the electric railway bill last night. Mr. Neumann, attorney for the Hawaiian Tramways Company, was there to watch the interests of that corporation, together with its manager, Mr. Pain. C. G. Ballentyne and J. B. Castle represented the applicants for the franchise. W. E. Rowell, Superintendent of Public Works, looked on with Government eyes.

F. Godfrey as clerk of committee read the bill through. Mr. Neumann made comments here and there, suggesting where not only his client's but the public's rights seemed to be infringed. His most important objection was where the bill gives the proposed corporation the right of eminent domain, which he held clearly unconstitutional.

At the conclusion of the reading the chairman, Mr. Robertson, asked if anyone present desired to ask questions or offer remarks. There being no response, he adjourned the meeting.

Proof.

Public exhibitions of patented articles do more to convince the public of their merits than anything else. If you can see before you buy that an article is what it is advertised to be your anxiety ends. C. V. Sturdevant gives exhibitions of the New Process Stove every week and purchasers are given an opportunity to examine every part of it and decide for themselves just what they are good for. We think they are as safe a stove as can be used. They are certainly economical and quick in their action. Look at them in the Waring Block.

WHY THE SECRECY?

Secret deliberations at its first meeting do not look well for the Council of State. It would probably be quite proper for the Council to advise with the Executive in any matter of laying out work for the Legislature or formulating a public policy. In this case, however, the business of the Council was to pass upon a certain policy laid down by the Executive. The public has a right to know the reasons why the policy should or should not be ratified along with the decision in either case. The Council is not a jury trying the political prisoners, but a picked body of citizens convened, in this case, to decide upon a question of civilization and at the polity combined. Public men, especially those who expect to appeal to the people one day for representative positions, ought not to conceal either their words or actions in a public capacity.

OBSERVATIONS.

Even in the United States navy some consideration is shown for the feelings of those who are not on duty in the early morning hours and no unnecessary drum beating or tin horn trumpeting is allowed to disturb the slumbers of the officers.

Nothing would make more interesting reading at the present time than Mr. W. O. Smith's speeches in 1892 against military and police extravagance. Perhaps the Attorney-General will repeat them in both houses on the special appropriation bills.

It was an error to say, in an article on Chinese immigration the other day, that there was a discrepancy of two between the text and the statistics of the Collector General's report, as to the excess of arrivals over departures. The mistake was made by not taking the right line for the computation, and the correction is made in justice to the Collector General.

It is well that the tires bill has been referred to a commission for report at the regular session. Such a measure hastily passed might work hardship and injustice. It ought certainly not to be applicable to vehicles running at the time it comes into operation, any more than a fireproof building law should require the pulling down of wooden buildings found standing within the fire limits at its passage.

Strangers will be very apt to get the impression that Honolulu is a regular military training camp instead of the peaceful city that it is. If only for the purpose of refuting the proposition that the Republic is an armed oligarchy pure and simple, the President should put a stop to this everlasting drum and trumpet fanfaronade. Smash that drum, Mr. Commander-in-chief, lay the bag's and trumpet carefully away under the steam roller, and let decent supporters of the Republic have a good night's rest from now on.

United States officials are investigating Japanese labor contracts in California. A number of instances where the law has been violated have been brought to light on the hop and beet farms near Pleasanton.

Under a law recently passed in Germany a husband who is habitually cruel or unkind to his wife is compelled to work all the week, hand over his wages to his wife on pay day and go to jail every Saturday night and Sunday.

An appropriation of $13,650 is recommended by the House committee on education as immediately necessary for the building and repairing of school houses and teachers' cottages. The increasing demands upon the treasury from the most indispensable services, such as education and public works, must soon make it necessary either to reduce the enormous military and police burdens or else to increase taxation.

It seems that there is much useless labor and expense incurred in the Legislature by the engrossing of bills passed by one house before they are considered by the other. Ordinary plain penmanship, typewriting or the printed bill with alterations legibly interlined ought to be sufficient. There is almost certain to be alterations and amendments made by the second house considering a bill, requiring that the perfected copy, to be filed in the archives of the Interior Department, should be engrossed again. Why should not the engrossing be omitted until the finishing touches have been given to the bill?

J. J. Sullivan is nursing a fine case of the gripe.

Timely Topics

June 26, 1895.

INTO the soft, warm light of the drawing-room the heavy odors from the conservatory floated and filled the place as with a fog of flowers.

Beneath the crystal chandelier, which shone in the mellow light as a suspended rainbow in an atmosphere of gold, stood a fair, pale girl, erect, imperious, beautiful.

Shrinking away into the shadows was the object of it. It was a young man in a red waistcoat, with other things to match.

He had told her of his love for her, of his devotion to her; of his worship, of the dear desire of his heart to make her his own, and in the midst of it she stopped him suddenly.

"Enough," she exclaimed. "Enough! I will not listen to another word."

"Hear me out," he pleaded. "Hear me out."

"Never," she laughed, scornfully, "but I will take great pleasure in seeing you out," and the shadows closed around that shrinking youth like the deadly arms of the octopus.

Slowly and sadly he mounted his wheel and rode forth into the cold, cold world of this city. In spite of our Paradise-of-the-Pacific climate it had been a cold day for him and he could not get rid of a crushed-strawberry-and-ice-cream feeling in the region of his heart which would not away.

Passing the Hawaiian Hardware Company's store the brilliant scintillations from the electric globes on the Monarch bicycle in their window attracted his attention and like an electric flash the thought entered his mind, "I wonder if she is mad because I never asked her to take a bicycle ride with me. I'll do it if it takes my last dollar." Without a second's hesitation he walked into the store and ordered a Monarch ladies' wheel sent to her house, first tying his card to it.

That same evening he received a polite note asking him to call again. He went and two minutes sufficed to make him the happiest man in Honolulu, the cause of the whole trouble being that the young lady suspected him of taking other girls out bicycle riding and was jealous accordingly. There will be another wedding in Honolulu in a few weeks.

While we are on the subject of girls and wheels we will state that we are prepared to furnish bicycles enough, for every engaged girl in Honolulu or even for every girl who wants to be engaged.

Ladies and misses are cordially invited to call at the store and examine the Monarch wheels, for which we are sole agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

IT IS TO BE "short horse soon curried" with this session of the Legislature, and it is probable that some important measures will be overlooked. The matter of inducing immigration from the United States is one that should have the attention of the members without much delay. The more people that are here permanently the better will be the business of every store keeper on the islands.

A good farmer is worth something to the store keeper who sells honest goods at low prices, that's us. We are offering ribbons all widths at prices that actually make us ashamed to tell you what they are. The coats of our rivals turn green with envy when they hear of them. We have them in every conceivable shade.

Our stock of underwear has never been equalled, much less excelled in either quality or price. It is absolutely the best at what you pay for a second or third class article. It was only by chance that we secured the stock of a well known dealer in San Francisco, (overstocked was his excuse for disposing of it), and as we got them far below the market value we are enabled to give you the benefit of our good luck. They're going rapidly, these suits, and you must speak quick if you want them.

If you are thinking about getting a riding or bicycle suit you had better look into our ladies, cloth and serges. The quality is right and so is the price. All shades and desirable widths.

New Process Stove

No lottery, raffle or game of chance, but a straight business proposition. Every person who purchases one of our New Process Stoves between THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 27, and One o'clock WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7, will be entitled to one guess as to how many of these stoves will be sold up to that time, it being then just five months since the first stove was purchased. The person guessing correctly, or coming nearest to the correct number, will receive at once a present in cash of the full amount paid for his stove; in case of two or more persons guessing the winning number, each shall make a further guess on the sales of the following week, one person thus finally receiving the prize.

As the stoves will be sold at regular price, no one risks anything, only if you guess nearest to the right number your stove costs you nothing. The prize being simply an ad. for New Process Stoves.

Seal your guess in an envelope and place your name and address on the inside, and some private mark on the outside. The envelopes will be carefully kept and no one but the guessers will know what is inside each until the date of opening. A correct list of stoves sold will be hung up before the opening of envelopes, which will be done at our store in the Waring Block, Fort and Beretania, at 1 p.m. on August 7, in the presence of stove purchasers and the public.

Disease Threatens to Cut Short a Noble Career

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Restores Good Health.

Little May Bentley is an accomplished elocutionist and natural born speaker of only 12 years of age. She is the only child temperance lecturer before the public. Her genius, however, did not exempt her from an attack of a disease of the blood. Her own words best tell the story: "C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"I heartily join with the many thousands that are recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla. I had been troubled from infancy with gatherings in the head. I was compelled to leave school upon the doctor's advice. He thought it was the only thing to save my life, but I

Continued to Grow Worse.

I was persuaded finally by a friend to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The use of one bottle acted effectively upon the blood and I began to improve. After the use of three bottles the gathering ceased and I am cured of my former trouble. I owe my life and will always remain a true friend to Hood's Sarsaparilla." LILLIE MAY BENTLEY, Shelbyville, Indiana. Get HOOD'S.

MRS. AUG. DARROW.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.,

Gentlemen:—I was very much run down, had no appetite at all, was very nervous, had no sleep night or day; to sum it all up, I was perfectly wretched. But thanks to Paine's Celery Compound I can now eat and sleep and work just as well as I could before I was taken sick. When I commenced taking the Compound I weighed 136 pounds; I now weigh 158 pounds and do all the work for my family of five. I have recommended the Compound to three families already and they are very much pleased with it. I am now taking my fifth bottle, and would recommend it to all who are suffering with stomach trouble or nervous trouble.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. AUG. DARROW.
