HONOLULU, TERRITORY OF HAWAII, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1904

PRICE 5 CENTS

PLOT TO POISON WITNESS Wm. C. Whitney Dead

Warden Henry Nips Plans of Murderous Japanese---Woman Held as Principal Witness in Hilo Murder Case.

"If you do not tell a different story from the one you told in the case of Watanabe, you will meet with bodily harm. Look out for your body!"

This is the principal part of a written threat sent to a pretty little Japanese woman of Hilo, who is now in safe keeping at Oahu jail, a witness in the case of Funakoshi Tatsugoro, charged with being an accessory to one of the most fiendish murders that soil the pages of Hawaiian history.

The woman is Nakamura Tokue and she was the principal witness in the case of Watanabe, who was found guilty of the murder of Matabira, a carpenter, on Hawaii, and sentenced to a term of twenty-five years in the penitentiary. This Funakoshi is supposed to have assisted Watanabe in the cold-blooded murder.

Since the bringing of the woman to Honolulu, there has been a concerted effort to carry on some sort of communication with her from the outside. Funakoshi of course being the most active agent. A knowledge of this state of affairs was recently brought to the attention of Jailor Henry through the over-zealous efforts of one of Funakoshi's friends. Suspicion once aroused in the mind of Mr. Henry, he referred back to a letter from Sheriff Andrews, of Hawaii, under date of December 31, 1903, and there found a clue to the whole situation. He went right to the bottom of the matter and had the satisfaction of revealing the whole devilish plot that was on foot.

The letter from Sheriff Andrews, which accompanied the woman, Tokue, to Honolulu, is as follows:

"I am sending down to you a woman, Nakamura Tokue by name, who is the principal witness for the prosecution in the case of Funakoshi Tatsugoro and Watanabe Masaji, charged with murder. She has been in Hilo jail for seventeen months awaiting the termination of the case.

"I dare not let her go because Funakoshi and his colleagues are dangerous characters and would not hesitate a moment about disposing of this woman, for if that could be done and they got a new trial ordered by the Supreme Court, the case of murder against them would probably have to fail.

"This woman was at the time of the murder the mistress of Funakoshi and Minata Kanzaburo was her cook and house servant. He is known by the nickname of Kobe. He is a professional ship's cook and if he has an opportunity to escape by some deep-sea ship he will probably do it.

"Tokue is a very nice and lady-like and gives no trouble whatever. Please see that she is not taken out of jail against her will.

"L. A. ANDREWS,
"Sheriff of Hawaii."

When interviewed this morning, Jailor Henry had the following to say: "I am absolutely certain that we have just nipped in the bud in the nick of time a conspiracy to poison Tokue, the Japanese woman who is here as a witness in the Funakoshi case which has been appealed. There is not a single question in my mind about this. If it had not been for the over-zealousness of an outside Japanese who used to do some work for me and whom I thought to be perfectly trustworthy, Tokue might now be lying cold in her grave, the victim of poisoned food.

"It was about a week ago that this Japanese I speak of came in and advised me to put some other Japanese

A Common Ground Is Reached To Petition Congress

According to the indications at the present time and by means of recent agitation of the subject, the outlook is promising for a combination of the Trades and Labor Council, the Builders and Traders' Exchange, the planters and the merchants on the common ground of a petition to Congress, through Delegate Kahilo, looking toward appropriations for work to be done in the islands and other matters calculated to benefit citizen labor of the country.

There has been a great deal of discussion over the subject since it was taken up by the Trades and Labor Council and the Builders and Traders' Exchange and many of the most influential planters and merchants of the city have been conferred with by the joint committee appointed by these two bodies.

Said one of the members of the Exchange today: "I think we have struck a common ground by means of which Congress is to be petitioned. The points to be included have been most carefully considered and the planters and merchants seen have given their acquiescence. Every effort that concerted action can bring forth, will be made.

"As to the labor question, it will be represented to Congress that the conditions which obtain here in this country are the same that exist in Louisiana, Cuba and other cane-growing places, it being impossible to get white labor to perform the work on the plantations."

The Trades and Labor Council will meet on Friday night next to take action on the memorial which it is proposed to send to Congress and which, in its present form, seems to cover the ground perfectly. Next week some time the Builders and Traders' Exchange will hold a meeting for the same purpose, the idea being to send on the memorial without any unnecessary delay.

It is understood that the labor men of the city are very anxious to meet in joint session with the planters to see what each can do for the other and to talk over the situation.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Feb. 2.—William C. Whitney died this morning. The immediate cause of his death was blood-poisoning.

William Collins Whitney was born in Conway, Mass., July 5, 1841. He graduated from Yale in 1863 and from Harvard Law School in 1864, immediately taking up law practice in New York after his graduation. In March of 1885, he was appointed Secretary of the Navy by President Cleveland. Whitney has until recent years been prominent in Democratic councils. He was a man of great wealth and spent a great deal of money in the maintenance of racing thoroughbreds.

CLAIMS HE SAW AT AIEA PETER RODRIGUES

The police are still hunting for Peter Rodrigues, the prisoner who escaped from the Oahu prison yesterday morning.

Macaulay, the Porto Rican interpreter and special officer, stated this morning that he had information from a Porto Rican who claimed he had seen the fugitive on the road to Honolulu plantation at an early hour this morning. The Porto Rican was on his way from Aiea to Honolulu when he met the man the description of whom tallies with that of Rodrigues. The man wished him "good morning," but did not have any other conversation with him. The supposed fugitive wore old khaki trousers, a long black coat and an old wide-rimmed straw hat.

HANGED IN HANA

High Sheriff Brown has received notification from Sheriff Wittrock of Hana of a coroner's inquest held January 28 over the body of Obihala Hei, a Japanese, who was found dead hanging from a branch of a tree. The only testimony taken by the coroner's jury was that of Dr. McGettigan, who stated that after examining the body he formed the opinion that he had committed suicide by hanging. The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition, indicating that it had probably been hanging for two months or more. The jury returned a verdict of suicide by hanging.

Farn Corns was fined $5 and costs by Judge Lindsay this morning for assault and battery on A. K. F. Yap. The defendant and the complaining witness are agents for competitive insurance companies and it seems that the quarrel started over some matter connected with this business.

A daughter was born to the wife of T. Clive Davies today.

THEREFORE DISQUALIFIED TO SIT IN JUDGMENT

ATTORNEY DAVIS FILES SUPPLEMENTAL PETITION IN HIS DISBARMENT CASE IN SUPREME COURT.

George A. Davis this morning filed supplemental petition for rehearing in the disbarment case against him in the Supreme Court, saying: "That he is informed that Chief Justice Frear at the time of the disbarment was a trustee of the Oahu Railway & Land Co., having been appointed under a deed of trust made October 23, 1891, and has been in receipt of an annual salary of five hundred dollars."

Petitioner prays that he may be allowed to offer in evidence the deed of trust in support of these allegations.

"Petitioner believes that said Frear, at the time of the hearing of the charges against petitioner, was a large stockholder in the corporation and was directly and indirectly interested in the financial affairs of the corporation and by reason thereof was and is disqualified to sit upon the hearing of any charges against petitioner, and the order of disbarment made and entered on the 10th of August, 1903, by the Chief Justice, was and is null and void because the sum of $110,000 was obtained from the corporation by a settlement effected and brought about by and through the efforts and acts of

PRINCESS THERESA WINS FROM BERREY

Jury returned a verdict for Theresa Owana Wilcox in her damage suit against Q. H. Berrey at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

C. W. Ashford and C. A. Long for plaintiff; T. McCants Stewart for defendant.

Mr. Stewart noted exceptions to the verdict and to the form of the verdict, which reads as follows:

"We, the jury, in the above entitled cause, find for the plaintiff and against the defendant in the sum of $159.60 damages, but we do not think the defendant had any malicious intent.

"G. D. MAHOE,
"Foreman."

Mr. Stewart gave notice of motion for new trial.

GIANT POWDER KILLS

High Sheriff Brown has received notification of the death of a Japanese, named Shimoto, at Makawao. Death was caused by an explosion of giant powder. Sheriff Morton writes as follows:

"From evidence produced, in my opinion deceased, a Japanese named Shimoto, while working in a tunnel at Lupe came to his death accidentally, due to the carelessness of the deceased, while he was blasting rock at that place. No blame can be attached to anyone but himself. No inquest was held."

Sarah Cockett, who was well known in this city, died yesterday.

 petitioner as the paid and duly retained attorney of Maria S. Davis, the next friend of John K. Sumner, an aged and weak-minded man whom this Supreme Court decided did not make an irrevocable deed of trust in the case of Kellett, trustee, vs. Sumner et al.

"That the spirit and intent of the Sixth Amendment to the Constitution has been violated by the Supreme Court because in this Territory the statute law was not followed nor was this respondent accused under the statute but by a quasi criminal information filed against him by the Attorney General of the Territory and a trial by an impartial tribunal at least was guaranteed him.

"The accusation of fraud was filed and the Chief Justice, who was in receipt of $500 annually and a stockholder in the corporation that this petitioner sued, sat on the hearing.

"That Associate Justice Perry, while a Circuit Judge, heard and determined a case in which the sanity of John K. Sumner was involved and found him insane and thus rendered a previous judgment as to the capacity of J. K. Sumner to make a contract with petitioner."

It will be remembered that the disbarment of Davis was by majority decision of the Supreme Court, Associate Justice Galbraith dissenting.

GAMEWELL SYSTEM FOR CRESCENT CITY

Among the passengers who departed for Hilo in the steamer Claudine was High Sheriff A. M. Brown, who goes to Hilo on police business. A matter of importance is the installation of a Gamewell fire alarm system in the Crescent City.

At present there is an appropriation for this system but the Hilo telephone company is charging a rate for the use of its poles for the alarm boxes which is said by the Sheriff to be so exorbitant as to be out of the question. If the telephone people do not make a reduction the Sheriff intends to postpone the installation of the system until the next session of the legislature, when, an additional appropriation for poles for the system will be asked for.

In Honolulu the telephone company and other electric companies gladly concede the police the free use of their poles.

A Chinaman in Kona has discovered a new industry, which promises to pay quite well. He is buying up all the Hawaiian dollars he can secure, at fifty cents apiece and sending them to Honolulu, receiving their face value for them here. It is understood that he has become quite wealthy by means of this new industry.

The Old Ready-Made
 The New Ready-To-Wear

ALFRED BENJAMIN & CO.

30 years ago there were more old ready made clothes than any other kind. The fabrics were inferior; the designs were commonplace; the pieces were thrown together with cheap cotton thread; the whole garment had a hang-dog look that no amount of pressing could get rid of. What little shape it first had was soon lost. At a glance you could tell this ready-made from custom-made—just as you can now.

When BENJAMIN Clothes were first marketed the other fellows shook their heads and predicted failure. "Where is the profit," they asked "in retailing garments that cost as much to tailor as custom-made?" Thirty years of success have shown the wisdom of producing fine clothes at reasonable prices. Today the highest type of ready-for-service apparel bears this famous trade-mark.

MAUNA LOA REPORT

The steamer Mauna Loa arrived from Maui, Kona and Kau port this morning at 6:50 o'clock with 5000 bags H. A. Co. sugar, 1000 bags coffee, 174 bags taro, 125 bunches bananas, 30 head cattle, 105 hives, 25 bags awa, 24 bags ginger, 21 kegs butter, 14 pigs, 9 crates chickens and 300 packages sundries. The following sugar is reported at Hawaii ports ready for shipment: Honokaa, 5000 bags; Kukuihaele, 4000; Punaluu, 2000; Honnapo, —; Kailua, 1100.

Purser Conkling reports as follows: "On our outward trip we experienced a very heavy Northeast swell with fair winds. In Kona and Kau the weather was good with the exception of the time when we were at Napoopoo, where we were delayed by a heavy shower. In Kau there were showers at night during our stay with but little or no wind. On our inward trip we experienced smooth seas and light breezes. At Hookeka we were delayed for hours by low tide, which made the work hard for the boats.

"We spoke the steamer Kaula lying at anchor at Hookeka. She was working at Hookeka when we left Kailua. "The rainfall on Hawaii was general during our trip. At Honokaa .30 inch of rain fell up to 11 o'clock yesterday. We stopped at Kawaihau for Mr. Forbes."

THE RED BOOK.

The Red Book continues to increase in size and improve in quality. In the February number, now on the news stands, fourteen clever stories well illustrated, and seventeen photographic portrait studies of various types of beauty offer entertainment heralded by a cover of striking beauty. The authors who contribute the fiction are M. J. Reynolds, Eugene P. Lyle, Jr., Norman H. Crowell, Mary B. Mullett, A. Shackelford Sullivan, Leo Crane, Edna Kingsley, Wallace, Hayden Caruth, Clinton Dangerfield, Edgar Franklin, D. H. Talmadge, Ethel Shackelford, Isola L. Forrester and John H. Whitson. A page of personal paragraphs by the publishers relates some interesting facts about the growth of The Red Book which is attested by the visible improvement in the magazine itself and by the remarkable increase in its advertising patronage.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

VOLUNTEER COMPANY FOUNDED IN WAILUKU

OFFICERS ELECTED, CONSTITUTION AND PLEAS FOR ORGANIZATION ARRANGED. COELHO HERE.

Monday last saw the organization in Wailuku, Maui, of the first regular fire department the place has ever had and the action taken at that time marks a very important event in the history of the place. The meeting was held in the court house and was presided over by W. J. Coelho, formerly of this city, but who is now making Maui his home. The result of the election was as follows: Chief, James L. Cole; Foreman, W. J. Coelho; Captain of Hose, W. T. Robinson; Secretary, James N. K. Keola; Treasurer, L. M. Baldwin; Delegate, David Crowell; Trustees, J. W. Kalua (two years), D. H. Kahaulelio (two years) and W. E. Saffery (one year).

The organization committee appointed at the preliminary meeting, reported and recommended a draft of a constitution similar to the constitution of the volunteer fire department, which existed in this city long years ago. This was accepted at the meeting.

The plan of the fire department of Wailuku is to secure a location on the main street of the town in the immediate vicinity of the court house. In this way it is thought that the very best results can be obtained. The horses and fire apparatus can be kept at this place and extra men can be placed on the police force whose duty it will be on the sounding of an alarm, to get everything in readiness and proceed with all speed to the scene of the conflagration. As is well known, the court house stands at the highest elevation so that it is always a matter of going down hill whenever there is a fire. The plan is that the hired men shall take the engine and hose cart to the fire and that all the members of the department shall instead of running to headquarters, also make directly for the scene of the trouble. The very best element of Wailuku is backing the proposition.

The alarm system has not yet been decided on. Mr. Coelho, who is in Honolulu for the express purpose of conferring with the chief of the local fire department and the fire commissioners, will obtain facts from these men which he will submit to the Wailuku department on his return next Friday. The intention is to always consult with those in the employ of the government who have to do with the fire department of this city.

As to uniforms, the members of the Wailuku department will apply to the principal business houses of the town. They have no doubt whatever that they will be accommodated to the extent of enough material to fit out the whole department. The distinct characteristics of the uniform will be the red shirt and the fire helmet such as were used in the Honolulu volunteer department.

The activity of Wailuku in getting up a department has attracted the at-

DE BOLT DECIDES

Judge De Bolt gives written decision in the case of Allen W. T. Bottomley vs. Wong Hee alias Wong Yee Kee, saying, in part:

"This is an action in assumpsit by the plaintiff, as assignee of the Washington Mercantile Co., against the defendant upon a negotiable promissory note for $152.83, payable on demand to the order of said company. The Washington Mercantile Co., by a certain deed of assignment, made May 15, 1903, for a valuable consideration, duly assigned and transferred to Allen W. T. Bottomley, the plaintiff herein, for the benefit of its creditors, certain leases together * * * with all other property, including real estate and assets of every kind, nature and description, owned by it wherever the same may be situated. Prior to such assignment demand had been duly made for the payment of the note. The note was not endorsed, but it was delivered by the payee, together with the deed of assignment, to plaintiff. There are two questions thus presented for determination.

"(1) Whether the deed of assignment transferred the title in the note to the plaintiff, and (2) whether the note could be assigned, without a formal endorsement thereon, by a separate and distinct paper so as to enable plaintiff to maintain a suit thereon."

Answering these questions affirmatively, the Court says: "Judgment may be entered for the plaintiff against the defendant for the sum of $152.83, with $15.25 interest and costs."

Thayer & Hemenway for plaintiff; C. W. Ashford for defendant.

"For Rent" cards on sale at Bulletin.

It is well known that the rate of insurance in Wailuku is very high at the present time and the reason may be found in the fact that there has never been a fire department in the place. It goes without saying that when the department is in full working order, the rate will be reduced for then there will be a chance of saving property which might from time to time be at the mercy of the flames. For this reason, it is believed that the business houses of Wailuku will lend every assistance in their power to further the ends of the volunteers.

Danderine GREW THIS HAIR.

This lady started with a 25c bottle.

FRANCES MARIE KNOWLTON AGE 24 MONTHS.

MISS MAY DENMORE 34 DELAWARE PL. CHICAGO.

Miss Sarah MacComb, whose hair touches the floor when she stands erect, says: "My hair would not reach below my waist when I commenced using Danderine, and it is now over five feet in length." (Look at her beautiful hair and judge for yourself whether or not she got the worth of her money.)

The above photograph of Miss Frances Marie Knowlton shows what care, persistence and a good hair invigorating tonic will do in the way of producing hair. This little girl has had Danderine applied to her hair and scalp regularly ever since she was three months of age, with the result that she now has the longest and most beautiful head of hair ever possessed by a child of her age. Frances Marie is the daughter of Dr. E. W. Knowlton, the discoverer of Danderine, the (Garfield) balm, Chicago. The doctor says that her hair continues to grow very rapidly and he is sure it will be long enough to touch the floor when she stands erect by the time she is four years old.

Miss May Denmore, now the longest-haired lady in the world, says: "I have used your Danderine two years, and my hair has grown over an inch in length every month since I commenced its use. It surely contains most remarkably invigorating qualities." (Miss Denmore writes us under recent date that Danderine had made her hair grow three feet longer than it was naturally, and is still growing.)

There would be greater grief at parting with J. Pierpont Morgan if the "great enterprises" he has floated contained less worthless water paid for with the coin of honest men.

Astor, Boss Croker, and now J. Pierpont Morgan have quit the confines of New York and gone to live in England, where they will be let alone. England is welcome, thrice welcome.

Reports from the negotiations between Russia and Japan recall the custom of some Hawaiian orators who, when speaking in their native tongue, repeat the same idea in a variety of phrases.

Senator Hanna's friends now claim that his boom is intended for the Presidential nomination four years hence. They may be taken at their word but Mark Hanna is rather old to be figuring on such Presidential futures.

Baseball boys decide that the town is ready for a season that comes early and stays late. It all depends on the style of game the league puts up. Honolulu could support baseball the year round if the games are closely contested.

Governor Carter is warned by a contemporary not to allow wild bulls to catch him. The community at large has always been of the opinion that Mr. Carter is able to take care of himself without motherly suggestions from cheerful idiots.

Maul Republicans can't call better men into consultation than H. P. Baldwin and J. P. Cooke. These men are of the fair-minded school that abhors factionalism and builds up a party by drawing men to it, not firing them out on purely factional grounds.

Pope Pius has created a great sensation in the diplomatic circles of the Vatican by requesting that ladies shall not wear low cut gowns at receptions attended by high officials of the Church. Pope Pius ought not to find serious opposition to his contention that clothes are made to wear.

John D. Rockefeller is experiencing the frequent sensation of having his contributions to public institutions refused. This makes the public institution feel highly moral and it is not recorded that Rockefeller sheds tears. If Rockefeller desires a lasting monument indicative of real philanthropy he will reduce the price of oil for the next ten years.

Assembly of the heads of departments at Hilo with the Governor will furnish the Crescent city with an inspiration to boost the removal of the capitol to the big island. With the Governor and his official family and the Federal court all within a week, the former County of East Hawaii at least has no occasion to claim it has been slighted.

One of the first incidents of Sheriff Andrews' return to authority is a pow-wow over a prisoner wearing a ball and chain. Andrews would not feel natural if he were without trouble of one kind or another regarding the treatment of prisoners. His thumb-stringing record is sufficient to convince the public that he adds nothing to the Territory's good reputation.

CHINESE IN TRANSVAAL.

The discussion of the labor problem in South Africa has brought out a significant utterance from the Government leaders of Australia and New Zealand. Business men of the former Boer States, hard pressed for labor, have looked to the Chinese field which seems to have a steadily increasing popularity for labor recruiting. Recent cable dispatches indicate that action favorable to Chinese immigration has finally been taken. This has been accomplished in the face of strong opposition, but apparently the position has been overcome by a situation not unlike local conditions—needs must when the devil drives. Industry languishes for want of labor and if the desired class is not to be obtained, the next best is preferable to none.

The Australian leaders, however, are very positive in their conclusions on the labor question in all British colonies. The Australian Premier, after consultation with the Premier of New Zealand, cabled the authorities at Pretoria that Australia after an experience of years is convinced that the prohibition of Chinese labor is imperative in British communities expecting to enjoy responsible self-government. Premier Deakin added that he was reluctant to interfere outside of Australia, but the Federal Ministry was compelled to express deep apprehension as to the results of the introduction of Chinese labor into the Transvaal. He foresaw grave perils, racial, social, political and sanitary, as in spite of safeguards it was impossible to prevent serious evils.

The most interesting feature of this protest will be found in the recommendations which may be made by the Australians as to what the Transvaal authorities should do. The protest as it now stands is purely negative. From what practical source should the Pretorians and Transvaalians recruit the required labor?

MARY QUITE CONTRARY

Mary Morris, alias Mrs. J. H. Love, appeared in the Police Court under three separate charges of assault and battery on Mrs. Lapana, Miss Ah Chuck and Joe, Vieira.

It appears that at about midnight last night Mary encountered Mrs. Lapana and her daughter, Miss Ah Chuck, on Kukui street. Mary accused Mrs. Lapana of stealing the laprobe of a hack which was standing in attendance on her. She handled Mrs. Lapana carelessly. When Miss Ah Chuck went to her mother's rescue the defendant struck her.

Mary then got into the hack, but the driver refused to proceed, so she took the reins herself and whipped up the horse.

At this stage Vieira, who had been summoned, appeared on the scene. Him Mary struck a sharp whack with the whip.

The police finally gathered Mary in and took her to the police station. In the first charge a nolle pro. was entered. Mary pleaded guilty to the two others and was fined $2 and $3 and costs, respectively.

WHAT THEY THINK OF US.

Editor Evening Bulletin:—Talking about small farmers! It makes me tired indeed. A well-known enterprising commission merchant wrote a letter to a "farmer" in Kona, Hawaii, offering at a small advance to handle his farm products in the local market.

The following answer from the "small farmer" was received—I omit the names:
Dear Sir:—Yours of the 21st inst. at hand. In reply have to say that I do not any longer send goods on credit to Honolulu. If you want anything, send cash, and I shall send you the required goods.

I have eggs, butter, papaias, pigs, honey, wax, chickens, etc., off and on for sale, but only to those who pay in advance.

In explanation of the above I have to say that I have lost a great deal of trusting Honolulu people, and that I do not care for any more experience of that sort and prefer to be on the safe side in the future, and, since Honolulu dealers expect me to trust them, why should not I expect them to trust me?
Yours truly,
X

Likens Berrey TO BYRON'S

Willing Charmer

Theresa Owana Wilcox vs. Q. H. Berrey, trespass on the case, occupied the forenoon in Judge De Bolt's court today.

At noon the case was up to the jury, which was excused for lunch until 2 p. m.

A piano lurks at the bottom of this interesting matter; a piano purchased from the Hawaiian News Co. by Mrs. Wilcox in days long gone.

A note given for the musical instrument was given Q. H. Berrey to collect. Finally the note came into the possession of Berrey. Then Berrey transferred the paper to Attorney Middleitch, who realized the piano on judgment. Now Mrs. Wilcox sues Berrey for trespass on the case.

Attorney C. W. Ashford for plaintiff waxed eloquent in his argument to the jury this forenoon.

He referred to the death of Robert W. Wilcox and stated that the lips of the late Mr. Wilcox were forever sealed and his testimony could not be used to refute any statement made by Berrey. Ashford made other remarks from which might have been drawn the inference that defendant had taken advantage of the demise of the husband of plaintiff.

T. McCants Stewart, arising, strenuously objected to these remarks of Ashford.

Meanwhile Mrs. Wilcox was noticeably moved by the reference to her late husband.

Judge De Bolt ruled that counsel had a right to comment on the death of plaintiff's husband in so far as it had to do with evidence in the case.

Ashford, continuing argument and dwelling on Berrey's taking of the note from the Hawaiian News Co., endeavoring to show that, although Berrey perhaps protested against taking the note he in reality wanted it, announced that he would quote Byron.

"You know Byron wrote many little Sunday school poems," said Ashford, addressing the jury. "Don Juan," was one of them.

"From which you are about to quote," asked the Court.

"Yes, your Honor!"

Ashford then referred to one of Byron's characters whose protestations were only exceeded by the inconsistency of her actions.

This amused the jury, which shortly after retired to consider the verdict and within a few minutes were excused to consider a midday repast.

Mrs. Wilcox asks $300 damages.

PLOT TO POISON WITNESS

In the place of Genji, my steward, who by the way, is one of the most trust-worthy men in jail. If I did not do this, a great deal of trouble would undoubtedly come to me through him. It was claimed that he was plotting secretly. This man also handed me a letter which had been written by Tokue to a friend outside, asking that some clothes and tobacco be sent to her at the jail. It was stated that Genji had handed this letter to Guard Baker and that he took it to Tokue's friend.

"My suspicions were at once aroused and I remembered that Sheriff Andrews had written, 'Funakoshi and his colleagues are dangerous characters and would not hesitate a moment about disposing of this woman.' Alas, 'See that she is not taken out of jail against her will.' Unquestionably Sheriff Andrews knew what he was talking about.

"I summoned Tokue and the man who was sent down at the same time with her as a witness in the same case and by dint of questioning found out that letters had been passed into the jail by Guard Baker. These two people were in possession of four letters from different outside sources.

"I sent for Dr. Katsumasa and he figured out that one of these was in answer to the letter sent out by Tokue and was of a very kindly nature. The others could not be connected in any way with Tokue's letter.

"I next traced up the man to whom Tokue's letter had been addressed and found him without any trouble. He stated to me that Funakoshi, who is out on bail in the sum of $10,000 pending his trial, had been to see him and had asked if he had received a letter from Tokue. He replied in the affirmative and handed the letter to Funakoshi.

"Guard Baker was positively identified by Tokue's friend as the man who had taken the messages. Naturally, I went to him next and learned that the letters brought in, the one from Tokue's friend excepted, had been sent by Funakoshi. I learned further that another Japanese had interested himself in the matter and had brought letters to Amamoto, a trusty who works about the jail proper. I firmly believe that this man had been working secretly with Watanabe, in jail, and had been taking messages from him to Funakoshi, thus bringing together the principal agents in the devilish conspiracy that was unquestionably on foot.

"All the letters are now in the hands of the Attorney General and the matter is to be sifted to the very bottom. I have also sent Guard Baker to the Attorney General's office to tell all he knows about the case. He has, of course, been discharged for his part although he very probably did not know what a terrible tragedy his disobedience to orders came very near precipitating.

"Tokue will of course be watched more closely than ever and I will also see to it that there are no more breaches of prison rules. Tokue is fed right from my table by Genji, the prisoner steward, in whom I have every confidence. I have followed this rule ever since the witness was brought here from Hilo.

"There is no question in my mind that he had the first Japanese who came to me been successful in persuading me to take some other man for Genji as my steward. Tokue would have been poisoned. Undoubtedly Genji had been approached but finding him unwilling to do their bidding, the plotters sought to have him removed."

"The murder of Motahira, the carpenter, took place in Hilo on the evening of July 25, 1902. Watanabe was found guilty of the murder and was sentenced to a term of twenty-five years in the penitentiary. Funakoshi, charged with being an accessory, got off with a lighter fine, appealed his case, and is now in Honolulu awaiting another trial.

The trouble which ended in the death of Motahira was brought about through jealousy, it being claimed that Tokue was the mistress of Funakoshi. On the night before the murder, Funakoshi went to Tokue's house and asked if she knew Motahira, the carpenter. He suspected that she was secretly going with him. She denied it and later was ordered to go to Funakoshi's house. Fearing that she might be killed if she did not obey, she went and on the following night Motahira was found dead, his body frightfully mangled and his head all but severed.

Americanism Defined By President Wilson

New York, Jan. 23.—President Woodrow Wilson of Princeton University, speaking on "Americanism," before the Outlook Club of Montclair, N. J., discussed at length the national character.

"It is hard to analyze the national character," said he, "for when we conceive of the American we think in terms suitable to that part of the country in which we ourselves live. We are to be congratulated on our national sentiment, for we have every little sectional bias. In spite of this we do not try to be conventional and that is what makes us what we are. Nobody but Americans can understand what American character is, and yet can we really understand it ourselves?"

"It took us one century to settle and colonize our country, the next century was spent in getting rid of the Dutch and French, the third in establishing the nation and settling the difficulties between the North and the South, and we now have things on a national basis which does not seem at present to be threatened by any catastrophe. It is true that we have anarchy and socialism to deal with, but these are no evils peculiar to us, for all nations have to deal with them. We are still in the flush of manhood, and we have a future ahead of us.

"We have entered the fourth century of our existence with a big question mark staring us in the face. We pride ourselves on our political liberty, but if that we call political liberty is found in the cities it is a secular liberty. We have now arrived at a time when we must correct the evils that have arisen in our Government, and there are many of them, even if only in our city government. It is doubtful if the makers of the Constitution would recognize it, if they were to see it now, for it certainly has been stretched. We cannot say that the stretching has been

Romance Started IN PHILADELPHIA

Ends In Hawaii

The New York Sunday World publishes the following romantic story, which presumably has reference to Dr. R. G. Curtis who is now located in Oloa as Territorial physician:

A romance that had its beginning in Philadelphia two years ago and recently ended in Honolulu became known in New York yesterday when cards were received announcing the marriage of Dr. Ralph Gardner Curtis and Miss Jane Mae Blair, both of whom are well known in this city. Miss Blair is the daughter of Henry W. Blair, a prominent business man of Syracuse.

Much against the will of her parents Miss Blair deserted society in Syracuse and New York and went on the stage. It was while a show girl in "Miss Bob White," playing at the Chestnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, that she met Dr. Curtis. He pressed his suit and was accepted.

A lovers' quarrel ensued and Dr. Curtis went to the Hawaiian Islands, where he soon built up a lucrative practice. Miss Blair spent the past summer at Saratoga and Asbury Park, where she was a recognized belle, with many suitors for her hand.

Early in November, after a long absence, she received a letter from Dr. Curtis. It said:

"Let's forget our little quarrel. I love you more than ever. Won't you come and be my wife?"

A few letters passed between them, and then Miss Blair left New York alone and sailed from San Francisco for Honolulu. Dr. Curtis was at the pier to meet her and the wedding quickly followed.

After a tour of the Far East Dr. and Mrs. Curtis will probably return to New York to live.

PROFESSOR VAN DINE ON THE MOSQUITO

Inspector A. D. Larnach of the Board of Health, in charge of the mosquito campaign, reports encouraging progress. Special attention has been devoted to the Kewalo district recently, with good results; now Palama and Kalia are to receive strenuous attention.

The gathering of discarded cans, favorite vessels for the colonizing mosquito, goes merrily on. Larnach would like folks with a superabundance of empty cans to know that it costs them nothing to have the rubbish carted away. A postal card or a telephone message will summon the collector of abandoned containers of painted tin to the door of the citizen, providing, of course, he has enough tins to warrant such a journey. A special trip, for example, would not be made to Waikiki for half a dozen empty oyster cans, or to Punchbowl for a small number of sardine tins.

Following the regular meeting of the Board of Health tomorrow afternoon there will be a gathering of the executive committee of the Citizens' Mosquito Campaign Committee.

Professor Van Dine will make a highly interesting report in relation to the different species of mosquitoes. Inspector Larnach keeps the professor supplied with larvae collected from different places and the professor determines species and suggests action.

SUING PIONEER MILL.

The Government is instituting proceedings against the Pioneer Mill Company of Maui in relation to water rights at Lahainaluna.

The mill company has been and is still using the waters of Lahainaluna and used to pay $1,000 a year to the Government for the privilege. Now the company is paying nothing.

Proceedings about to be brought will terminate in the adjudication of rights which have long been the subject of controversy.

There were some years felt yesterday for the crack U. S. army transport "Thomas," which was then five days overdue at Manila, bound from San Francisco via this port. This morning, Mrs. John Hansmann received a cable from her husband, who was a passenger in the transport, stating that she had arrived safely in Manila. The "Thomas" was unquestionably delayed by heavy weather or perhaps a slight injury to her machinery.

In the Police Court this morning the cases of Mizunaka, charged with practicing medicine without a license and of Leon M. Strauss, charged with forgery, were both continued. A nolle prosequit was entered in the case of Ventura Garcia, charged with larceny in the second degree. Albert Kaiese, charged with cruelty to animals, was discharged. Nakadomi and Ishi Sato, both charged with common nuisance, were fined $4 and costs each.

Land Commissioner J. W. Pratt took passage for Hilo today to install an agent of his department in that section. Auditor J. H. Fisher is also Hilo bound.

"We should keep high ideals, whether new or old; if we don't we will decline. We ought not to put men at the head of the Nation's affairs whose honor can in any way be questioned.

On Friday, February 19th, 1904, at 12 o'clock noon, at the front entrance to the Judiciary Building, Honolulu, T. H., there will be offered for sale at Public Auction, a License for a period of fifty (50) years, for the privilege of entering upon certain public lands on the Island of Hawaii, Territory of Hawaii, to confine, conserve, collect, impound, divert and sell all the RUNNING NATURAL SURFACE WATER, and power produced therefrom, (subject to existing vested rights of private parties in such water, and to the rights of the United States therein), upon and from all the said public lands situated on the Island of Hawaii, in the Territory of Hawaii, within the following described area, to-wit:

Bounded on the North by the sea, on the East by Waipio Valley, on the South by Waipio Valley, the Puukapu-Laupahoehoe boundary until such boundary line reaches an elevation of 4,200 feet, from which point the contour line of 4,200 feet elevation shall form the balance of the South boundary, and on the West by the Honokaa-Awini boundary as shown by green border on the sketch plan subjoined to license, the whole of such area being hereafter called the Keala-Hamakuia Water-Shed. Stated Annual Fee, $500.00. Upset 2 1/2 per cent. of Gross Revenue, but in no event, after expiration of 2 years from date of license, shall the revenue received by the Government through this clause amount to less than $2,500.00 per annum. Any bid other than on percentage of Gross Revenue will be rejected. Upon fall of the hammer the successful bidder will signify his acceptance of the license and of all the terms thereof by his written endorsement thereon, and the payment of the first Five Hundred (500) Dollar Fee. For full particulars, in regard to conditions of said license, apply at the office of Commissioner of Public Lands, Honolulu, or at the office of Sub-Agent of Public Lands, Hilo.

CREMATION

At a meeting of the Social Science Club, held at the home of W. R. Casilo last evening, F. J. Lowrey read a paper on "Cremation or Burial?" Following are a few of the extracts from this interesting essay: The subject of how best to dispose of dead bodies has had consideration of all ages and periods, and various reasons and circumstances have led to different conclusions at different times. Among the primitive Aryans it is said bodies were consigned to the flames as they believed that in that way only could the body be changed into a spirit. There seems to be little doubt that the influence of the Christian religion was against the custom of cremation, and belief in the resurrection of the body had no doubt its bearing on the feelings of those early Christians. Admitting that there is objection to a change, based on prejudice, superstition, or sentiment for a custom of long established usage, the matter should at least have careful consideration in its various aspects. Another thing against crematories is that they cannot be considered permanent. One is established in a part of a city that is considered to be well adapted for such a purpose, and out of the way of future development of the resident district it is thought. Is there one present who has not seen crematories closed and bodies being removed? In San Francisco in the seventies some of us saw the old Yerba Buena give way to progress on it, and bones being dug up and hauled away in dump carts. As to our local crematories, in Nuuanu valley you see an area not apparently crowded, but there are lots in that cemetery where body has been placed over body. Records have been kept since 1847 and they show 2,500 burials in those grounds. No one who knows anything about the King street or Kawaiahoe burial grounds considers that they should be used further. The former is badly crowded and many interments are made where the coffin is placed in the water. Kawaiahoe was used at first without any plan as to lanes, or walks, and graves were made at random you might say. Later all was cleared off and the place laid out as if there had been no burials. Now it is not uncommon at all to strike other coffins, and in digging a grave there a few weeks ago in a space supposed to be unoccupied, three different coffins were cut into each lying at a different angle. Of course objections are brought forward against cremation and one is that of destroying evidence of crime, but it seldom happens that bodies are exhumed for this purpose, and there is no restriction against embalming bodies, a process which is said to be effectual in preventing the discovery of many poisons. But those in charge of crematories are strict in their regulations and in many places are governed by statutes so that all reasonable precautions are taken in such matters. On the other hand the practice of body-stealing is done away with, and the terrors of burial alive are obviated. While the practice of cremation is not made as great progress as one might expect, yet it is growing in popular favor and in the United States during 1902 there were 3,158 bodies reduced to ashes in this way. On Quarantine Island in 1899 a crude affair for the purpose of cremating bodies was erected and it has been used 193 times. Crude indeed as compared to many of the beautiful establishments now in existence, but those of us who have seen it in operation know that it accomplishes the object, and that, in a little under one hour, the body of at least one member of this society was cremated there. During 1900 a public meeting was called to discuss the matter of putting in a more complete apparatus and in a more accessible place, and it was decided to form a company on lines indi-

As it is likely that there will before long be established a new cemetery for the city let us hope that it will be in the most suitable location which can be found and that connected with it there may be an up-to-date crematory, and as thought and attention is given to the subject, it will appeal to and win the support of many who now hold aloof. There was a long discussion after the reading of this paper, the majority of those who spoke being in favor of cremation.

PAINT QUALITY

The quality of paint is the most important consideration when you're buying. Is the paint good? Will it wear well? Will it hold its gloss? Will it protect the building for the longest term of years and look well while it lasts? These are the questions to ask first in buying paint. If you ask them about The Sherwin-Williams Paint we'll say "YES."

A RAPID TRANSIT EPISODE.

This morning about half past ten, a tall lady with a half-sized husband, boarded a King street car, the lady was wearing her husband on her right hand, when they entered the husband looked up, and said to his wife: "You're tall enough to reach a strap, but what can I hold," she said, "If I was as short as you are, I'd hold my tongue," so he took hold of his tongue, the car started and he fell down, whereupon his dutiful spouse holloped. "What's the matter, can't you stand up?" Said hubby, "They both slipped." "Both what," said the wife. "Both my feet and my tongue," said the little husband, but let's get off the car and go and see Bath the plumber and have a look at that new line of Douglas Patent Closets that have just arrived. His telephone is 61 Main.

BASEBALL BEGINS

APRIL 16 AND

CLOSES IN OCTOBER

As announced, the baseball league last yesterday in the Elks hall for the purpose of making arrangements for the coming season. President Isenberg was in the chair. The meeting was attended by the following league representatives: Punahou, J. O. Carter, Jr., Mr. Steere; H. A. C. W. P. Glesson, J. Williams; Malle Illmas, Mr. Wright and Mr. Louison; Elks, F. E. Richardson; Kamehameha, John Wise and Nani Lemon.

Senator D. P. R. Isenberg and Lorrin Andrews were unanimously chosen president and secretary, respectively. The application of the Custom House team was considered and laid on the table. It having been learned that since the filing of the application the team had decided not to enter the league.

There was considerable discussion on the date for the beginning of the season. It was first proposed to begin on the second Saturday in April. Mr. Steere, of Punahou, protested on the ground that there would undoubtedly be a superabundance of rain at that time and therefore poor sport would be furnished the public.

Williams of the H. A. C. and Wright of the Malle team favored starting the season as soon as possible. In their opinion, the teams would be ready to play any time after March.

ALDEN BESSE SURVEY

The bark Alden Besse, which put back into this port leaking yesterday morning, was surveyed yesterday afternoon by Captain Fuller, representing the underwriters, and Captain Cameron, representing the American Record, in which the bark is registered. The surveyors were unable to ascertain the exact location of the leak, which is in the bow, and have ordered that part of the cargo of sugar be discharged so that the leak can be gotten at.

RECLAIM THE DESERT.

Salt Lake, Jan. 20.—As the result of action taken today at a mass meeting of farmers of the Salt Lake valley and stockholders of various irrigation companies using water from Utah lake, the Government project for the use of that body of water as a great reservoir will soon be under way. The meeting, by unanimous vote, approved the Government plan and steps will at once be taken to form a mutual company, with which the Government can deal in the work of reclaiming the desert. The Utah lake reservoir scheme will bring under cultivation 500,000 acres of desert lands in the Great Salt Lake valley.

New York, Jan. 24.—Principal in a weird, wild night adventure, Frank Renshaw, a well known athlete and golf player, is dying at the home of relatives in Waterbury, Conn.

Clad only in a single garment, one foot bare, numb with cold, his face bleeding from a dozen cuts, he fell sprawling at the door of his relatives' home Friday night, and then was able only to beg feebly for admittance. When the door was opened he whispered: "Take me in; I am dying."

Physicians found that one of his feet was so badly frozen that it must be amputated. Renshaw is injured severely internally and his skull is fractured. Little or no hope is entertained that he can recover.

Infatuation for the beautiful young wife of a farmer living at South Prospect, six miles from Waterbury, is said to be at the bottom of the adventure. If it does not end with the husband's arrest on a charge of manslaughter, the sequel will come out in the divorce courts.

The farmer's wife has fled from her house, and is in hiding.

TURK GOES FREE.

The case of Frank Turk, charged with using threatening language to Mrs. Estrella Turk, was held pro'd. in the Police Court this morning. Mrs. Turk had evidently cooled off since the morning she swore to a warrant for her husband's arrest. She told Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth that she did not wish to have her husband prosecuted. Under these circumstances, a nolle prosequit was entered.

Some difficulty is anticipated in the securing of a quorum for the regular meeting of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry tomorrow afternoon. Should a meeting be held, the matter of furnishing the new headquarters will be discussed.

N., Assistant Inspector Twelfth Lighthouse District.

HELENE LOST BOAT

The steamer Helene arrived from Hawaii ports this morning at 4:50 o'clock with 4314 bags Oookala and 3540 bags Papanoa sugar.

Parer Westal reports as follows: "Fair weather across to Mahukona. Strong winds and choppy sea off Hanakoa coast so we went to Hilo and landed mail. On Monday, January 25, we took the steamer Kaulani's over-carried freight. Went to Paauhau Tuesday, where we lay weatherbound for two days. Gave way to the steamer Maul.

"Governor Carter and party were at Oookala and Papanoa Sunday, leaving for Hilo in the afternoon.

"Next day we went to Paauhau to finish discharging. Long, heavy swell encountered. After getting half of our freight out a big swell carried our No. 1 boat on the rocks. It was smashed but no one was hurt. Brought the rest of the Paauhau freight to Honolulu. Fair weather down."
