NOTICE.

MESSRS J. E. BROWN & CO. Are authorized to collect for the BULLETIN. Honolulu June 8th, 1887. 57

The Daily Bulletin.

Plaged to neither Sect nor Party. But established for the benefit of all.

MONDAY, JUNE 20, 1887.

QUEEN VICTORIA.

Alexandrina Victoria, the daughter of Edward, Duke of Kent, was born May 24, 1819. She became Queen of Great Britain and Ireland at the age of eighteen. Her reign began on June 20, 1837. She was crowned at Westminster about a year later, on June 28, 1838. On the 10th of February, 1840, she was married to Prince Albert, of Saxe Coburg and Gotha. Nearly twenty-two years of happy married life terminated on December 14, 1861, at which date the Prince Consort died of typhoid fever, at Windsor, leaving the Queen with four sons and five daughters, and from then till now her crown has been "a lonely splendor." On the 24th of last month, sixty-eight years ago she was born, and fifty years ago to-day she ascended the throne of the British Empire. Her reign has been long, benign, and wise. Her womanly virtues, her pure life, and her judicious official conduct have won for her the respect, the esteem, and the admiration of her empire and of the world. Few sovereigns so good have ever sat on any throne: a better never. To-day, Britishers and British descendants in Honolulu and on these islands joyfully celebrate the jubilee of good Queen Victoria's reign, and it is safe to say that all nationalities join with them in sincerely wishing that her life may still be long spared and her reign perpetuated.

GOD SAVE QUEEN VICTORIA.

ACAIN, WHERE IS THE LOAN? Leaving the general lines of irregularity, crookedness and illegality which surround the loan of 1886, and to which reference was made in Saturday's BULLETIN, let us consider what the Government has to say about the disposition made of the money.

The Advertiser acknowledges the receipt of $1,300,000 on loan account—$800,000 as an advance from the London syndicate, and $500,000 obtained in Honolulu. The BULLETIN has demonstrated that, even technically this statement cannot be true; but we are prepared to admit that the Government has engaged in unauthorized and illegal financial transactions with certain capitalists, or representatives of capitalists in London, by which a large sum of money has been obtained on a pledge of the national consolidated revenue, whatever that may mean, subsequent to the placing of £200,000 in six per cent 10-30 bonds on the London market by the same financial agents. Whether these transactions cover an advance on account of loan, as the Advertiser alleges, or an independent financial operation, involves a question of law and fact which it is needless to argue in this place, but which will doubtless arise in due time and give the Government sufficient trouble before it is straightened out.

That the entire business has been mismanaged and bungled is apparent to any one having the least financial knowledge, and the statement in Saturday's Advertiser leaves it an open question whether the Government does not stand to lose at least $125,000 when the loan account with the Syndicate has been closed. It should be the object of everyone to prevent this if possible, and therefore a discussion of the loan management upon its merits is necessary and proper.

The Loan Act provides $100,000 for expense of floating the loan and other charges. The half million placed in Honolulu appears to have absorbed $29,970; but no statement is to hand of the expense incurred in London and San Francisco on loan account. But it is significant that the Syndicate only advanced $800,000 against an alleged $1,000,000 raised by way of loan at a big premium, while the utmost the financial agents are entitled to on this operation is 5 per cent or $50,000. If the remaining half million dollars are borrowed that would absorb $25,000 expenses, leaving $475,000 net for the Government, should the bonds be sold at par, of which there can be no reasonable doubt. We have therefore $100,000 as the aggregate deduction for expenses of which $29,970 has been already paid, leaving $70,230 as a subsequent and final payment. But the Syndicate retains $200,000 in hand, which is $129,770 more than they are fairly entitled to for guaranteeing the loan. And unless a very sharp look out is kept this money will never be covered into the Treasury. There is no decent or honest pretence for retaining such an amount, because the financial agents reported that although the bonds were offered at 98, allotments were made at a premium of 4 or 5 per cent.

The following items in the expenditure statement of the Advertiser require explanation:— Encouragement of Immigration.....$46,096 51 Electric light for the city..... 6,359 14 Water Works..... 39,325 88 Sundry disbursements on loan account and cash in Treasury..... 93,006 47 If we remember aright the three items appeared in the Treasury statement, March 31st, 1887; the fourth is new. Beginning with the last, what services connected with the loan do these "sundry disbursements" represent? Do they include travelling expenses and special missions, or what? And how much cash remained in the Treasury to loan account, June 18, 1887?

Regarding the water works the entire expenditure upon new mains, etc., since July last when the improvements began, did not exceed $15,000 up to March 31st of this year, to which the statement applies. And this was not a loan expenditure but a demand upon the ordinary revenue. The water works are entitled to $50,000 under loan, to construct, it was understood, a new reservoir, but nothing in this way has been attempted, and a charge of $39,325.88 is made against loan account, leaving a beggarly $10,674.12 to build a storage reservoir. We challenge this unexplained water works charge against loan.

How was $6,359.14 expended on loan account for lighting the city with electricity. This is an outlay before March 31st, and is of an exceedingly shady character. If rumor does not err the bulk of it went in a bonus and salary to the alleged electrician who lighted the Palace yard during the jubilee. If so, it is not a charge against loan. Encouragement of immigration, $46,096.51 may be all right, but the public would be gratified if the item were satisfactorily explained. The four items above mentioned make $184,788, less cash in Treasury, which do not appear at first sight to be legitimate charges against loan, but rather an attempt to relieve the revenue and provide money for use less and extravagant purposes.

FRATERNITY.

Rarely, if anywhere, can such an example of friendly intermingling and social equality of the white and brown races be found as is presented by the Hawaiian Islands. The white foreigner did not attempt, on coming and taking up his abode on these islands, to drive out or exterminate the aboriginal occupants of the land. Nor has he proudly held himself aloof from them, as being a little lighter in color or of a superior race. The two races freely intermarry and commingle on the same social level. In church fellowship, in public gatherings, and in friendly reunions they intermix as one people. They pursue the avocations of life side by side, and sit together at the same table. Moreover, the white foreigner has used his earnest endeavors to educate, instruct, civilise, christianise, elevate, and improve his Hawaiian brother. Every institution which the country possesses to-day for the benefit of the Hawaiian has been introduced and nurtured by the white man. To the much-derided early missionaries is mainly due the credit of what good has been accomplished. Every fair and candid man familiar with the country's modern history must confess this. There may be, and is, room to question whether the best and wisest that could have been done, has been done. It is admitted that among the foreigners who have come to the country have been some whose example, influence, and efforts have been to corrupt and debase instead of elevating the native race. In the main, the two races have lived happily and contentedly together, until they have to a considerable extent amalgamated. Never, we believe, until late years has there been any endeavor to produce discord, by antagonizing the one against the other. Efforts of this nature have unfortunately been made within the past few years. Its authors are unscrupulous politicians, whose motives were self-gain. They have been measurably successful only. A few young, half-educated natives, indebted for their existence, in most instances, to the foreigner's patronage, being afflicted with lightness in the upper regions and conceiving the erroneous belief that their capabilities qualify them to manage the British Empire, have "caught on" to the idea that they can do without the foreigner, and therefore on occasions open their mouths wide and talk loudly against him. Race antagonism has, we believe, extended but little beyond this. A vast majority of the native people entertain the most friendly feelings towards the foreigner, knowing full well that they could do badly without him. There is no good reason why the two races should not continue in the future, as in the past, on the most cordial terms.

SOME WOMEN'S WORK.

English women in this generation have done some rather remarkable work, it must be confessed. Mrs. Leonowens, Catharine Macquoid, Lady Brassey and Lady Anne Blunt have all acquired a reputation for adventurous travel, together with a number of others. In political economy Mrs. Fawcett has made an enviable name; so has Mrs. Green in history; and so has Miss Martineau in both history and political economy. In philosophical thought Frances Power Cobbe has achieved distinction. Mrs. Jameson, Lady Eastlake, Mrs. Haweis and Lydia Scott are only a few of the names that are widely known in the realm of art criticism, as Elizabeth Thompson of the "Roll Call" and Kate Greenaway are but two instances of a large number who have used their pencil and brush acceptably in art itself. Only three or four men of England have excelled the work of George Eliot, Charlotte Bronte, Emily Bronte, Amelia B. Edwards, Anne Thackeray and Miss Yonge in the writing of novels; the last through the youth of her readers, having an especially wide influence. And if the poems of Adelaide Procter, Jean Ingelow and Mrs. Craik have not reached the very topmost intellectual heights, Mrs. Browning's have, and so have a few of George Eliot's, and they have, at any rate, succeeded in touching and warming the hearts of those that have been and always will be inaccessible to their so-called superiors. Women who have been able to accomplish so much with crippled means and methods of education and habit have a right to expect that their successors, to whom the royal paths have at last been opened, shall accomplish a great deal more. —[Harper's Bazar.

A SOCIAL gathering and pleasant dance interspersed with string music, singing and refreshments was held at the Dudoit mansion, Saturday, as a farewell send-off to Mr. J. Lyons, who departed by the brigantine W. G. Irwin yesterday.

At an early hour this morning, when day was breaking from her night slumbers and when all was still as death, rapid and sharp reports following the whizzing of a flying bullet, disturbed the quiet atmosphere in the vicinity of Punchbowl Hill. Timid people who heard the sounds crawled under their pillows and trembled. No lives were lost as far as known, but several bulletwounds were made.

TO BE ENQUIRED INTO.

A party of young Britishers, with a number of invited guests, celebrated the Queen's Jubilee by a dinner at the Hawaiian Hotel, Saturday night. The party dissolved at an early hour, between 10 and 11 o'clock, and some of their number adjourned, by invitation, to a friend's house near by, on Richard street. As they were about to leave there for their respective homes, they were interfered with by the police, and some of them taken to the Police Station. Reports of the particulars are somewhat conflicting and as the affair is to be enquired into at the Police Station to-morrow morning, by request our full report is held over them.

A JUMP FOR LIBERTY.

As the tug Eleu was passing the O. S. S. wharf this morning, with the ship Timour in tow, a sailor of the ship jumped overboard. He had but little clothes on and was, apparently, prepared to swim ashore. On rising to the surface after his jump he made bold strokes for land. A few moments later the pilot boat started after the sailor, and the sailor had almost made Allen & Robinson's wharf, when the pilot boat overhauled him. One of the boat boys grabbed him by the hair and the crew, with the assistance of the water-man Dan, overpowered the sailor and placed him in irons. In the meanwhile the ship Timour proceeded to sea where she hove to for her sailor.

VICTORIA JUBILEE SERVICES.

Special services were held yesterday at the Anglican Cathedral in celebration of Queen Victoria's Jubilee. In the morning at 11:15 o'clock, at the assembling of the second congregation, the Rev. Geo. Wallace preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion, from Duet. XI, 12: "A land which the Lord thy God careth for." About 70 men of the Honolulu Rifles battalion, in uniform and under command of Lieutenant-Colonel V. V. Ashford, attended the service.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock, there was a union of the first and second congregations, and a large attendance of people from other churches. In fact, the building was jammed full before the time to begin service, and some people had to stand, and did stand, to the end, for the want of sitting room. The King was present, accompanied by His Majesty's Cabinet Ministers, and Majors Hayley, Parker, Bertelman, and Holt.

The service was interesting and impressive. The prayers were read by the Rev. Alexander Mackintosh, and the lessons by the Rev. Geo. Wallace. The Bishop of Honolulu preached the sermon from Prov. VIII, 15: "By me Kings reign." The singing of the surpliced choir, and the choir of the second congregation, in which the audience joined, led by Mr. Wray Taylor with the organ, was exceedingly good. Several selections, especially adapted to the occasion, were well and impressively rendered.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S JUBILEE.

Of England's Queen we'll sing to-day, Whose reign's been pure and long, We'll sing this day her jubilee, In verse, in prose, in song.

Let's join our hands and shout with joy, Of Britain's brightest star, A star whose brightness ne'er was dimmed, Ey friend, or foe, or war.

'all'd to rne in thirty-seven, Full of youth and beauty, Her maiden head was crowned with joy, Since which she's done her duty.

Though eruel wars have taken place And famins' spread around, Victoria's flag has waiv'd aloft Since the day she was crowned.

In sixty-one her consort died, And left her all alone To rule a mighty Empire State, A duty which she's done.

The widowed Queen is known by all, Who toll on British land, In East, in West, in North, in South She wields her mighty wand.

Three score years and eight she's lived, Fifty of which she's reigned, Oh! may her reign be fifty more, Her banner ne'er be stained.

Let's toll the bells and beat the drums, Throughout her vast domain, Let's send across the deep blue sea A sound that will refrain.

Aloha! Queen Victoria, Our hope, our pride, our all, In God we trust that he will guide Her safe through Life's Fall.

God bless Her Royal Majesty, God bless her honor'd reign, God bless her Royal family, And all in her domain. J. BROWN.

MR. FORSYTH'S TRIP.

Mr. W. J. Forsyth returned yesterday from the Likelike from Maui. Had a very agreeable trip indeed. Mr. Dowsett's Rose Ranch Plantation has about fifty trees of Cinchona Robusta, or Hybrid cinchona. This tree is not a Hybrid between the officinalis and Succirubra as some think, but was developed in India and Ceylon from the cinchona succirubra (succirubra) seed. In all succirubra nurseries, there was found a small percentage of plants which showed different characteristics from the original or mother type. These plants showed themselves when older to be more robust and vigorous than the succirubra generally, also quicker growth and hardier. They were generally known as Hybrid, but now are accepted as Cinchona Robusta. The foliage and general appearance of the trees of Mr. Dowsett resemble mostly the Cinchona Robusta, although not exactly. Perhaps different climatic conditions may have exercised some influence over them.

MAUI NOTES.

The bark W. W. Case, Captain Robertson, arrived to-day, 18 days from San Francisco, reports very calm weather on the voyage; she has a cargo of miscellaneous merchandise valued at about $8,000, most of which is for the Hawaiian Commercial Sugar Company. Last Tuesday evening a Chinaman, the cook of Mr. G. P. Wilder, died suddenly while at his work. Dr. Sutcliffe being called pronounced it a case of internal hemorrhage, and no coroner's inquest was deemed necessary, the cause of death being evident.

MAUI RACES.

The Maui Racing Association held its inaugural races at the new track near Kahului the 11th inst. Owing to it not being quite finished, the track was loose and very heavy, but still they had some very interesting races. Subjoined is a partial list of the races run: Match-Race—$30, 1 mile dash. D. Meyer's s. m. Patty D. 1, T. Lyon's s. g. Bee's Wing 2. This was not a very interesting race, Patty D. taking the lead at the start and maintaining it, gaining an easy victory.

Scrub Race, free for all Hawaiian horses; entry $2. S. M. Velesian Tin Tag, b. g. 1.

Waituku Medal, valued $25; 1 mile dash, free to all. S. M. Velesian's Tin Tag 1, Manuel Ross' Crazy Bill 2, C. B. Miles Hancock Jr 3.

This was also quite an interesting race, Hancock being the universal favorite, but Tin Tag proved too much for him for such a distance on a heavy track, and came in winner closely followed by Crazy Bill, who fought valiantly, and made Tin Tag's backers feel uncomfortable up to the last moment.

There were several more scrub races, and amateur trotting race, and a few match races which made up a very good day's sport. The affair was universally pronounced a genuine success, everything being fair and square, and universal praise was accorded the judges for their impartial and prompt decisions, and able management of the races.

POLICE COURT.

Sir Henry Parkes has replied to the cable message received from Sir Saul Samuel, inquiring what amount the Australian colonies intend to contribute to the funds of the Imperial Institute. The Government regard the matter as of no pressing urgency, and the reply sent is to the effect that New South Wales is not in a position to do anything at present.

WHO IS MOTHER SEIGEL? She is a lady who, by the merest accident, has made a most valuable discovery, and she is creating the widest enthusiasm all over the country, and everybody is talking about her and asking

WHAT IS MOTHER SEIGEL'S REPUTATION? and she tells them to read the thousands of letters, containing like the following from Mr. Perkins—

A WONDERFUL TESTIMONIAL. "Ove Pharmacy, Kailua, W. Jan. 3, 1885

"Your medicine must be the most wonderful, for during my experience of more than twenty years I never knew any proprietary, but patent medicine in such universal favor and demand. It is simply extraordinary, and if I were to send you an account of every statement made to me in its favor, you would have to publish a separate book to contain my testimonials alone.

(Signed) "THOMAS J. PERKINS" And then people ask—

WHAT DOES MOTHER SEIGEL DO? GIVES RELIEF A ONCE.

"59, Bicomfield-road, Plumstead, "Jan. 7, 1885.

"I find the sale of your medicine increases every year, and everyone speaks well of them that tries them. I know a lady that attended to her new shop in Soho-square for some months, with pains in back and, side and bilious, and could take no food, but got no benefit from any of the medicines they gave her. Before she had taken all the contents of the bottle of your Syrup she felt relief and is now quite well.

(Signed) "W. K. BARKE." THE EFFECT WAS MARVELLOUS.

"Medical Hall, Bangor, Jan. 5, 1885.

"I hear people constantly speaking very highly of Seigel's Syrup. There is a case of a young married lady in Anglesy who had been suffering from stomach asthma for a long period, who had consulted some of the best physicians of the day, but without deriving any benefit. She was daily getting worse, but at last a friend persuaded her to try Seigel's Syrup. She procured a bottle, and the effect was marvellous; she rapidly improved, and now she is as strong and healthy as ever she has been.

(Signed) "H. LLOYD-JONES." WHAT IS MOTHER SEIGEL GOOD FOR?

DOES NOT RESTORE THE DEAD, BUT SAVES THE LIVING.

Mr. J. W. SAVILL, of Dunmow, Essex, writes—September 1884.—"I introduced your medicine into Dunmow almost as soon as they were brought out in London. I sold in a short time eighteen pounds' worth. I have known many grand cases of permanent cures; and, as yet, no case of failure. Notwithstanding many competitors, Mother Seigel's Syrup holds its own ground. I believe it a good medicine—it will not restore the dead to life, but appears to save the living from dying."

(Signed) "J. D. FLORENCE." A CASE OF GRAVEL CURED.

"Fellham, Jan. 5, 1885.

"It has always given me pleasure to recommend your medicines to my customers, and the results of their use have invariably been most satisfactory. I could furnish you many testimonials. One case just now occurs to my mind. A constable of the police force of Tooting, S. W., where I for many years had a shop, was a patient of mine, suffering from a bad attack of gravel. He was persuaded to try Mother Seigel's Syrup. He purchased a bottle, and at the time he had taken half of it he reported himself to me as quite cured. The effect was simply miraculous.

(Signed) "J. D. FLORENCE." IS MOTHER SEIGEL RELIABLE?

Would respectable chemists write like the following if not?

A SURGICAL OPERATION AVERTED. "Ticehurst, Dec. 1884.

Mr. EDWARD CORKE, Chemist, writes: "Your medicine maintains a steady sale in this district, and is well established in general favor. I know an old man, over seventy, who some three or four years ago was advised to submit to the operation for stone. He certainly was suffering from some distressing symptoms, and could scarcely walk. Instead of taking that advice he tried Seigel's Syrup, with the result that after one bottle, he could walk about fairly well, and, having taken three of four 60c bottles, he was completely cured. He is still about, hale and hearty for his years. If any of the symptoms of the old trouble come on, he takes a few doses of the Syrup, and all is well again."

WHAT PEOPLE SAY ABOUT MOTHER SEIGEL.

AN EXPERIENCE OF FORTY YEARS.

"Cosham, Hants, Jan. 2, 1885.

"My customers, over a wide country district, are not very demonstrative, and I have no written testimonials to send; but verbal admiration of your medicine is in the ascendant, and my experience of forty years assures me that no preparation has so rapidly acquired a popularity, and so firmly maintained its reputation as Mother Seigel's Syrup.

(Signed) "THOMAS H. BAKER." RENOVATION OF BAPTISMAL VOW.

At three o'clock yesterday afternoon, the young people who had taken their first communion in the morning, at the Roman Catholic Cathedral, presented themselves for the renewal of their baptismal vow.

The Bishop addressed them upon the meaning of the ceremony, explaining that the vows which they had taken in infancy by their god-fathers and god-mothers, they were now to renew and take upon themselves personally. After the address, the children were arranged in a line, and while kneeling, one of their number repeated, in a clear, loud, and distinct voice the baptismal vow. Each one then marched forward individually, and placed his hand on the Book of the Gospel, saying, "I renounce satan, and his works and pomps, and attach myself to Jesus Christ for ever. So help me God and His Holy Gospel." The Benediction of the Holy Sacrament followed. The entire ceremony was extremely interesting and impressive. The singing by the older girls of the Sister's school, was very good, even better than in the morning.

A paper receipt has been issued, ordering high mass and Te Deum to be sung in all the Catholic Churches of England in honor of the Queen's Jubilee

MONDAY, JUNE 20, 1887.

A BLEACHED NEGRESS.

Nora Brown, who lives in Austin, came here a few days ago to look after the effects of her daughter Mollie, who was shot and killed by a negro, Andrew Bouteller, about six weeks ago. Nora was for years a servant in the family of Col. John S. Ford, a character celebrated in Texas history as Rip Ford. He knows the woman intimately and vouches for the correctness of each detail in her remarkable story. Seven years ago she was of a very dark African type. Her father was a pure African. Seven years ago she noticed that the skin at the base of each thumb had undergone a change, two minute white spots appearing. The spots spread, and, running around her wrists, started up her arm. Becoming alarmed, she saw a physician, who could do nothing for her. The march of white to the shoulders was very rapid, but when it reached the body its progress became slower. It kept on, however, in some degree, spreading both upward and downward. Long before it had reached her lower extremities her neck, ears and face had become white. It has taken seven years to complete the metamorphosis, but it has about ended. The tips of her fingers are still dark, and she is black under the arms, and there is a dark line around the neck. These are the sole reminders of her Ethiopian skin. Her hair has, of course, remained as it once was, and she keeps it closely covered always. It is of the genuine negro texture, short, black and kinked closely to her head. It is becoming grizzled in places. Nora is forty years of age and weighs 240 pounds, and has never known a day's sickness. She says that at no time during her marvelous change did she experience any inconvenience beyond a slight irritation. She has given birth to eleven children by a negro father, and each of them is black. One of the most remarkable things about the case is its completeness. Physicians here know nothing like it. It is not leucorrhoea or milk skin, a rare disease among negroes, nor is it albinism, strictly a congenital affair. Her skin is not only white, but clear. She has a thoroughly healthy appearance, and her cheeks are rosy.—[San Antonio, Texas, dispatch to Washington Star.

A PERILOUS POSITION.

Sunday's bull fight at the Colon ring, while perhaps not a grand success from a connoisseurs' standpoint, took immensely with the audience, which is, after all, what the managers aim at rather than "artistic" success. All the bulls fought remarkably well and there were any number of hair-breadth escapes. In one instance a picador, whose horse was held fast by one of the horns of a particularly vicious bull, slid down between the horns of the ugly brute, resting his head against the bull's forehead and holding on for dear life. Things took on a very exciting look at this stage; the bull entangling himself from the horse did his best to gore the foolhardy picador, who, however, was comparatively safe as long as he could retain his hold on the horns; another picador was mounted on the bull's back; espadas, banderilleros, capas and mozos were gathered around the infuriated beast, some twisting his tail, others throwing their capas in his face, others again endeavoring to throw him by pulling his legs from under him, and the bull in the mean while intent only on killing the man who was hanging on his horns, was making the most vicious thrusts, but succeeded only in driving his horns into the ground on either side of the picador. Finally by a combined effort of the company the bull was thrown and the picador could let go his dangerous hold. He got up amid the most frantic shouts of approval from the audience, who rained a perfect shower of silver—quarters, halves and dollars—on him to reward his intrepidity.—[Two Republics, City of Mexico, May 3.
