DELEGATE WILCOX TALKS AT WAILUKU

HOME RULERS SHOULD HAVE SOME SPOILS

DRAWS SMALL CROWD AT LAHAINA—WAILUKU TURNS OUT IN GOOD FORCE—WAS KALUA'S GUEST.

Wailuku, August 16.—Robert Wilcox, Hawaii's Delegate to Congress, and suite, arrived in Wailuku from Lahaina yesterday noon and were given a warm reception by Judge and Mrs. J. W. Kabin.

Wilcox and party, consisting of Hous, D. Kalanokalani, Fred W. Beckley, Wm. Mossman, J. K. Hibino and D. Kalanokalani Jr., secretary of the Delegate, had a mass meeting at the Lahaina Fish-market last Thursday evening. The meeting was held in the open and was quite largely attended, but it was not attended by the enthusiasts which the country Home Rulers accorded to them in years gone by.

Last night (Friday) the Wailuku Shating rink was crowded with people, principally Hawaiians, with a fair representation of Republicans and Democrats. There must have been about two or three hundred people present, men, women, children and babies in arms, brought there so that Wilcox could concentrate them to the cause of the Home Rulers. There were a few foreigners who were eager to hear the Delegate talk.

C. L. Kookoo, president of the Wailuku Home Rule party, called the meeting to order at 7:30 p. m., and then called upon Judge to bless the meeting—to preserve order even if the Delegate were to utter invectives against his holy name and the missionaries. The delegates from the outer districts were also seated on the platform and they presented an orderly and an earnest body whose sage appearance made a deep impression on the onlookers.

D. Kalanokalani Jr. was the first speaker and he spoke in part as follows: "When your Delegate left the halcyon days of Hawaii and crossed the wide expanse of the broad Pacific on his first trip to Washington as Hawaii's delegate to Congress, his enemies followed him and have been following him ever since. They scorn their own delegates to Congress to oppose the work of your Delegate. They even sent a protest to unseat your Delegate, but, like the leave been your Delegate in, and has been, he vanquished his enemies and was sworn in as Delegate to Congress on the 4th anniversary of his birth. Our Delegate was put on the Reception Committee on the occasion of the inauguration of President McKinley on his second term. Thus the honors conferred on your Delegate exceeded those conferred on the Delegates from Arizona, Oklahoma and New Mexico. As your Delegate was thus honored, you too were likewise honored. It was the highest honor extended by the American people on Hawaii, as honor which the other Territories did not share. Your Delegate worked hard for your interests, and when he left for four months on a sick bed, he still drew up bills for Congress for the benefit and great advancement of Hawaii and her people.

Mark the bill for the apportionment of the Hawaiian Senate. Messrs. Dale, Armstrong, Thurston and Carter were on hand to obstruct the work of your Delegate. You ask which party is recognized by the United States Congress? Carter was there to urge the claims of the Republican party—a party in accord with the Republican party in America, and wanted the majority to be Republicans. But Congress did not look very favorably upon that proposition. Congress favored the apportionment laid out by your Delegate as being the best, just and most equitable. While Carter pressed his proposition on Congress, he was threefold to wait until Delegate Wilcox recovered from his sick bed, as his advice was wanted on the matter.

When President Roosevelt wanted a Hawaiian to be Governor of Hawaii and mentioned the name of Sam Parker as a probable candidate for the high office, a Hawaiian whose praises were sung by the Republicans throughout the land during the last campaign, but when it comes to being Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, why Dole and his party tried their utmost to nullify the attempts of the President. What makes this difference? Sam Parker was simply cursed by them. When your Delegate wanted to pass a bill in Congress appropriating three million dollars from the United States Treasury for alleviating the sufferings of those who suffered during the bubonic plague here, why, they sent J. G. Pratt as envoy extraordinary to oppose the endeavors of your Delegate to obtain three million dollars for those poor sufferers, and asked for only one million dollars. Mark the difference and ponder on the unsurpassable liberal spirit of your Delegate; compare three million dollars with one million. You can see that it was your enemies that threw obstructions in the path of your Delegate. Pratt did not succeed. Why? Because nothing can be done without Wilcox. Mr. Cannon of Illinois

ANOTHER DEPORTATION

After rendering judgment of deportation, as elsewhere reported, against Ah Sue, Commissioner Gill announced a similar judgment against the other Chinese female, Ah Nagan, alias Ah Fong, the case having been submitted on the same testimony.

Mr. Brooks suggested that the defendants had ten days in which to appeal. Marshal Hendry remarked that if a steamer left for China in the meantime the defendants would have to go. Commissioner Gill thought there would be no trouble, as in the event of an appeal the court might make an order suspending deportation.

Mr. Brooks could not say at the moment if there would be an appeal.

ANOTHER COURT SHORT

The First Circuit is not the only one hard against the financial proposition. Judge Hardy, in transmitting to Clerk Henry Smith the oath of F. T. Merry as deputy clerk of the Fifth Circuit, Kauai, writes: "I hope to hear that measures are being taken to furnish the money for our September term of court. I write Governor Dole in reference thereto today."

GIBSON LANAI HOLDINGS.

Editor Evening Bulletin:—I notice in this morning's issue of the Advertiser an article, or more properly speaking, a reporter's account headed "Lanai is Now Gay's." The last paragraph of the article reads as follows: "Negotiations are also pending by Mr. Gay for the purchase from W. G. Irwin of his third interest in the Gibson estate, and also for the Hayseiden interests on the island."

ST. CLEMENT'S SOIREE.

The ladies of St. Clement's church will give a soiree tomorrow evening in their parish house on Makiki street. The entertainment will be varied and an enjoyable evening may be expected. Miss Stokes, D. P. R. Isenberg, Mr. Muter and others have kindly promised to sing and there will be some fancy dancing and other amusements. The hall will be appropriately decorated and the ladies hope to greet many of their friends on this occasion. Refreshments will be served during the evening. Tickets may be had at the Makiki street entrance at 25 cents each.

YATES' NARROW ESCAPE.

On Saturday evening Julian Yates, the shortstop of the Kamehameha baseball team, had a lucky escape from what might easily have been a serious accident. He was riding on a Rapid Transit car on King street near Liliha. Suddenly, he jumped or tumbled off the car and was thrown by the fall. He was taken in the patrol wagon to the hospital, where it was found that he had sustained no injuries to speak of. As soon as he had recovered sufficiently, he was allowed to go.

A fine game of baseball was played at Wailuku Saturday between the Wailuku and Plantation boys, the result being a score of 22 to 13 in favor of the former. A large number of the people of the district were out to see the fun.

Whole Block Is Wiped Out BY MORNING FIRE And Loss Approaches $100,000

There is very little to be learned today of the insurance situation in connection with the burned section. Secretary Gurrey of the Board of Underwriters, although very willing to give out data to the newspaper men, found it impossible to do so on account of the incomplete returns on the part of the insurance men who are themselves trying to straighten out the figures. Several returns have been made but the majority are yet to be heard from and until that time a complete summary cannot be given.

Mr. Gurey estimates the value of the buildings burned at something between eighty and a hundred thousand dollars, while the insurance he places at something between fifty and sixty thousand dollars. He states that he does not believe the fire to have been the work of an incendiary, and says that in all probability an inquest will be held.

From the outside it was learned that Bishop & Co. as agents are in for $2,500, Castle & Lansdale for $2,000, and Hamm-Young Co. for $3,000. C. J. Hutchins for something between $10,000 and $12,000. J. S. Walker for $25,000 and one other insurance company for $2,500.

It was also learned from the outside that some of the insurance companies had cancelled their insurance on some of the buildings, such as that of the River Mill Co., only a few days ago.

It just took one short hour and a half early this morning for fire to wipe out a whole block of frame buildings included between Hotel, River and Pa'uahi streets and the vacant lot on the Ewa side that was recently rented to a Chinese but for the other purposes. Only one building was left standing, and, strange to say, this was hardly scorched. Three buildings on the Makai side of Hotel, between River and Kekaulike, were also destroyed and another building on the Walkiki Whole Department Out.

A general alarm was sent in and soon every available engine and hose car of the fire department from Central, Makiki and Kapulana stations were distributed at various points by Chief Thurston.

Where Fire Started.

By the time the department arrived, the fire, which was seen to be in the second store of the Winston block on Hotel street, and which was occupied by a Chinese provision dealer, had gained considerable headway. It only took the playing on of a stream of water to send the flames skyward.

Fire Crosses Street.

The wind blowing briskly from the north and shifting later to the northeast, sent the flames across Hotel street and soon the building at the Ewa corner of Kekaulike, owned by C. F. Merrifield of the California Felt Co., and occupied by Chinese, was afire.

Engine in Danger.

The new engine had been drawn close to the origin of the fire and as the flames swept up and down Ho

Alarm at 3 O'clock.

People were startled from their sleep at 3 o'clock sharp by the vigorous blowing of the fire whistle at the power-house of the Hawaiian Electric Company, and, rising from their beds, they were treated to a sight seldom seen in Honolulu. The whole town was lit up by the flames and for block around, people could easily have read a newspaper.

On Makai Side.

On the Ewa side of Kekaulike on Hotel street, the building owned by Mr. Merrifield and already mentioned as having caught fire, fell in a heap and sent a shower of sparks heavenward.

Adding this building and facing on River street was another and large two-story structure owned by Jas. Armstrong, the Pearl City ranchman. This caught at about the same time and went like so much waste paper; all efforts of the fire department proving futile.

On Saturday afternoon, Captain Campbell came on board the Herman and asked that the bill incurred at the store, be paid. Captain Brown told Captain Campbell that as he was sick, he was not able to transact any business, then and that he would pay the bill on Monday. When Captain Campbell asked him what security he had that the Herman would not sail Friday and deposited his clearance papers with his broker, Mr. Johnson, telling him that he would sail in the middle of this week.

LACK OF MONEY BLOCKS JUSTICE

Jury Trial is Suddenly Interrupted Before Judge Gear.

ALL JURORS EXCUSED TILL TOMORROW MORNING

MAY BE NO MORE JURY TRIALS UNTIL MAY NEXT—EXECUTIONS AGAINST LEDERER ARE POSTPONED.

There was an abrupt blocking of the wheels of justice at Circuit Court this morning. Judge Gear opened court at 9 o'clock and granted a motion to quash an indictment. Then the case of W. Kabeihua, an appeal from conviction in the Honolulu District Court for assault and battery, was called and the following jury sworn: W. Swinton, D. McNichol, A. Nicholas, W. H. Stone, W. R. Foster, S. Parker, S. W. Cook, C. K. Shelton, D. Kapiha, W. M. Ahia, R. Reuter, Solomon Mchella, Messrs. Cathcart and Douthett were both present to represent the Territory, while H. W. Robinson appeared for the defendant.

Mr. Cathcart briefly stated the case to the jury and was about to call the first witness, when he noticed that the court was beckoning to the bailiff. Judge Gear was asked if the court was ready and replied that there was no stenographer present. Mr. Cathcart suggested a recess of five minutes, which was ordered. This was at 9:30, but it was 10:50 before the session was resumed.

Judge Gear went from the courtroom to the chamber of Judge Robinson, where he remained some time and then went to the chamber of Chief Justice Frear. In the meantime J. W. Jones, chief stenographer of the Judiciary, arrived of his own accord. He told a reporter that Judge Robinson on Saturday adjourned the term session, over which he was temporarily presiding, to 10 o'clock this morning and he had timed his coming accordingly.

On resuming the session, Judge Gear disposed of some other matters and then excused the jury until 10 o'clock tomorrow, saying there was no money to pay fees of jurors. Something might be done in the meantime for procuring funds, but, on the other hand, there was a probability of no more jury trials until May, 1903. It would take $15,000 to pay the expenses until then, or about half the appropriation for two years. Mr. Cathcart was directed to inform the grand jury of the situation and notify them to appear at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

The indictment against Antonio Perry for seduction under promise of marriage was quashed on motion of S. F. Challenor, and defendant gave a bond to appear when called for any further proceedings. It appears the defect in the indictment consisted in representing the offense as having been committed during a series of months covering nearly a year.

Judge Robinson granted the petition of High Sheriff Brown for extension of time thirty days from August 19 for return of executions on judgments against S. W. Lederer in favor of Hoffschlager & Co. for $115.39 and of Star Newspaper Association for $112.90. The ground of petition was that a restraining order from the United States District Court had been served on the petitioner, on the application of E. C. Winston to have S. W. Lederer adjudged bankrupt.

"STRUCK" AND STRUCK

Philip Naome, charged with assault and battery on a Chinaman, Jen Sao, appeared in the Police Court today. The Chinaman took the stand first and asked for an interpreter. The court, however, thought that Sao could get along in English and had his opinion amply confirmed for when the Oriental gentleman got warmed up in reciting the tale of his woes his flow of English waxed almost Shakespearean. He stated that he had met Naome on King street and asked him for $9 which Naome owed him.

Naome was inclined to treat the matter with considerable lightness and when Sao tried to detain him, he claims that Naome struck him. Sao was inclined to take a very morbid view of the situation, stating that if Dr. Sinclair had not arrived on the scene "I think I'll that time."

Naome, on the contrary, claimed that while Sao "struck" him for money he did not strike Sao but called for help. Both the prosecution and the defense then wanted the testimony of Dr. Sinclair and an officer was dispatched for him. He could not be found and the case was continued until tomorrow.

ON MURDERER'S TRACK.

High Sheriff Brown received a letter from Sheriff Conroy of Kauai by Sunday's steamer in which he states that while he has not yet captured the man who murdered the Chinaman in the Lahaina district on the 7th Inst., he was sure he was on his track.

HERMAN IS LIBELLED

The small schooner Herman which has been lying in the harbor for the past week and concerning which many various rumors have been afloat, will not leave this port as early as expected, owing to the fact that the Wilder Steamship Company has libelled the vessel for the sum of $251.21, due for supplies sold to Captain Brown by the Wilder Co's Ship Chandlery.

In President C. L. Wright's sworn statement is this: "That said libellee has refused to pay and neglected to pay for the same and at this time still continues to refuse, fail and neglect to pay the same."

The affidavit of the company states: "That libellant is informed and believes it to be true and upon such information and belief alleges the truth to be that said libellee threatens and is about to depart from the port of Honolulu on a foreign voyage and threatens to depart without making payment for said supplies, repairs and necessaries, as aforesaid furnished to it by said libellant."

Captain Campbell of the Wilder Co's ship chandlery states that he heard that the Herman cleared from this port on Friday. Besides this, Captain

TAX ON OLEOMARGARINE

J. W. Yerkes, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, has made a ruling to the following effect:

Oleomargarine tax paid at 2 cents per pound sold by wholesale dealers before June 30, and returned after July 1, can not be resold without involving wholesale dealer in liability to special tax as dealer in oleomargarine taxed at 16 cents per pound, regardless of the fact that he holds a special tax stamp as wholesale dealer in oleomargarine taxable at the rate of one-fourth of a cent per pound.

Much credit is due to Joe Cohen for his management of the affair. It was first class in every particular and the crowd went away entirely satisfied.

PALM OIL OLEOMARGARINE.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Commissioner Yerkes of the Internal Revenue Bureau gave a hearing today to counsel representing certain oleomargarine interests on the question of allowing the use of palm oil in the manufacture of oleomargarine. The contention of counsel was that, although palm oil gives a tinge of yellow, it is not an artificial coloring within the meaning of the law. A decision will probably be made early next week.

ORPHEUM FISTIC SHOW

CROWD IS SATISFIED WITH THE EXHIBITION

WEDDAY PUTS KAMISKY OUT IN FIFTH ROUND — EDWARDS QUILTS IN THE THIRD ROUND.

A good sized crowd filled the Orpheum last Saturday night to witness the fistic carnival. Despite the fact that a couple of the contests failed to reach the promised number of rounds, the crowd was well pleased and satisfied that it had had its money's worth.

The first of the preliminary bouts was between Williams of New York and Williams of Honolulu. After the first couple of rounds the New Yorker had the Honolulu man pretty well tired out. The affair then assumed the character of a wrestling match, the men clinching continually. "Bill" Woods, who acted as referee in this and the two other preliminary bouts, declared the contest a draw.

Grant Snow from Australia stood up against Ulysses Harris, for four rounds. In the first couple of rounds, Harris made Snow pretty sick but should with the advantage of reach and weight on his side have been able to put Snow out in the second round. In the third and fourth rounds Snow rallied and stood up gamely against Harris, supported by encouraging cheers from the crowd. Harris was given the decision after the four rounds prescribed were over.

The next bout was to have been a four round go between "Spider" Jackson and Jack Edwards, but it was not to be, as Edwards quit in the third round. It is said that Edwards, before the fight, had boasted that he would put "Spider" out in two rounds. He went for Jackson like a bull with his head down and, as a consequence, received all sorts of knocks in the head from the lanky fighter, who easily had the best of it all through the game. In the third round "Spider" went after Edwards who finally, after being knocked through the ropes, decided that he had had enough and quit, much to the indignation of all the spectators.

The star number of the evening, the ten round contest between Jack Weedy and Kamisky, the man from Camp McKinley, came next. "Paddy" Ryan, who acted as referee, warned the fighters that if they "faked it" they would get no money and he himself would throw them out of the ring. He then announced to the spectators that he would see to it that there was no "faking."

In the first couple of rounds Weedy took things easily and let the soldier punch him quite a bit, answering only with an occasional blow.

In the third round, the soldier started to rush Weedy and got him into a corner where he landed several good ones on the latter's head.

In the fourth Weedy assumed the aggressive and both men went in for some terrific slugging, but clinched almost continually.

In the fifth round the soldier went to pieces and went to the floor numerous times. He kept at it gamely, however, until Weedy finally landed a blow on the neck, knocking the soldier to the floor where he remained and was counted out.

It was easy to see that the soldier had been no match for Weedy, but his gameness made the fight worth seeing.

PUNAHOU DROP INTO LAST PLACE IN LEAGUE STANDING

Previous to the regular league game between the Punahou and Kamehameha baseball teams on the Oahu College campus Saturday afternoon, there was a five-inning go-as-you-please contest between the Wela Ka Hao team of Nigel Jackson and a nine gathered together by Pat Gleason and Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth. Five innings were played and then official scorer Lorrin Andrews rang the bell for the game of the afternoon. The score then stood 5 to 2 in favor of the Wela Ka Hao's and Jackson naturally swelled up with pride. The playing throughout was very poor.

When the Punahou and Kamehameha teams took the field there was a feeling that one of the best contests of the year would be experienced and, indeed, in this the crowd, numbering six or seven hundred, was not mistaken. With the exception of the Kamehameha's part of the first inning, the game was a splendid one throughout.

Some little time was wasted casting about for an umpire, Lieut. Newton of Camp McKinley having sent in his resignation to the league as its official umpire. A. R. Cunha was finally prevailed upon to do the work and he proved very satisfactory.

In this connection, it might be stated that the league is in a quantity as to an official umpire. Mr. Newton has proved a most valuable man in that capacity and his thorough knowledge of the game as it is played under the new rules, gives him an advantage over anyone else in the city. It will be extremely difficult to find a man who will be able to fill the bill in nearly as satisfactory a manner as Mr. Newton.

During the big contest of the afternoon, the Punahous started off in a manner that immediately inspired their backers with confidence. On all hands were heard remarks to the effect that the Kamehamehas, having allowed the Punahous to score three runs in the first inning were doomed to defeat because it was impossible for them to play an uphill game.

A. Marcellino at short played a brilliant game for the Punahous but at two critical stages he fell down and to this fact was due in part the ultimate success of the Kamehamehas.

Cooke in centerfield had a number of chances and secured every one, making some long runs and grand stand catches. He has not been known during the season to miss a single ball in his territory.

Steele at second showed himself an experienced ball player, invariably doing the right thing in the right place and making several clever assists. There is perhaps no one in the league that covers second so well.

Habbitt at third did good work and Meyer was not missed so very much after all. Soper at first was a little erratic but on the whole, held the bag down very well. Castle in the box was up to his usual standard and is surely cut out for a great pitcher in years to come. He uses his head well.

As for the Kamehamehas, they played their usual stubborn game and were unmoved by the score the Punahous piled up against them in the beginning. Lemon in the box, was a puzzler to the Punahous, a fact that they were free to admit upon returning from the bat. His in curves and drops were something marvelous and one of the best batters of the Punahou team who had struck out, was heard to say: "We can't for the life of us tell where the ball is coming. A seemingly wild ball that will pass the pitcher by a couple of feet comes along and we stand still, watching it, when suddenly it changes its course and comes right over the plate. Our hitting the ball at all is luck more than anything else." Yates, the Maul shortstop, did fine work but his batting, up to the eighth inning was extremely bad. However, he made up for lost time in this inning, lined out a two-bagger and thus paved the way for the four runs that settled things for the Punahous.

Jones' work at first is deserving of special mention. Not an error was scored up against him although he had some extremely difficult chances.

The very nature of the game made it most exciting throughout and when it came to the eighth inning and the Kams punched out four runs, the enthusiasm of the rooters for the native boys who had hitherto remained very quiet, knew no bounds. The score stood 7 to 4 in favor of the Kamehamehas.

The play in the various innings was as follows:

First—Punahous Lead Off. Steele for the Punahous got base on balls. A. Marcellino hit to pitcher for Steele out at second. Waterhouse made a base hit over short. Castle flew into right for an error by second base who threw wild to second, allowing A. Marcellino to come home. Soper struck out. J. Marcellino hit between short and second and Yates let the ball go past without even making an attempt at it. This allowed both Waterhouse and Castle to come home. Habbitt went out on a grounder to first. Koki for the Kams flew out to Waterhouse in right. Jones got first on an error by first. Vannatta hit between first and second, the ball striking Jones as he was going to the latter base. Knowing the rules, he did not wait to have the umpire tell him he was out but turned quickly and walked back. Lemon flew out to Steele at second.

Second—No Runs. Cooke for the Punahous went out, pitcher to first on a bunted ball. Hemenway went out, short to first. Steele went out the same way. Reuter for the Kams got first on an error by Cooke in center. Richards made a base hit into left. D. Kekuewa hit to short for Reuter out at third. Yates struck out. Cockett went out, short to first.

Third—Kams Score. A. Marcellino and Waterhouse for the Punahous struck out. Castle went out, second to first. Koki for the Kams got first on an error by Soper who kept his base to get a ball and then let it go through. Jones went out, pitcher to first, on a sacrifice. Vannatta made a beautiful single into left. Lemon flew out to left and Koki came home, the ball not getting to the plate in time. Reuter flew out to catcher on a foul.

Fourth—Costly Wild Pitch. Soper for the Punahous made a single into center. J. Marcellino flew out to center. Soper got two bases on a wild pitch. Habbitt went out on a fly to first. Cooke struck out. Richards for the Kams struck out. Kekuewa went out, second to first on a fine assist by Steele. Yates flew out to center.

Fifth—A Star Catch. Hemenway and Steele for the Punahous struck out. A. Marcellino made a single into left and stole second. Waterhouse flew out to Jones at first. Cockett for the Kams went out on a star catch by A. Marcellino at short. Koki flew out to Waterhouse in right. Jones made a single into center. Vannatta flew out to Cooke in center.

Sixt.—Run on Passed Ball. Castle for the Punahous flew out to Vannatta on a fine running catch from second. Soper got base on balls. J. Marcellino made a fine single down third base line. Soper came home on a passed ball. Habbitt got base on balls but was caught trying to steal second. Cooke struck out.

Lemon made a base hit toward short. Reuter made a single into left. Richards struck out. Kekuewa made a single into center and Lemon came home. Yates got first on an error by A. Marcellino at short and Reuter came home. Cockett made a base hit into center, Steele making a desperate attempt to catch the ball and almost gathering it in. Koki hit to second who threw home, catching Kekuewa. Jones went out on a grounder to first.

Seventh—Marcellino Caught. Hemenway for the Punahous went out on a grounder to first. Steele went out, second to first. A. Marcellino made a single into left and got second on a passed ball. He then tried to go on around to third but was caught easily, the slide being thus retired. Vannatta for the Kams flew out to Cooke in center. Lemon went out, short to first. Reuter went out, second to first.

Eighth—Kams Win Game. Waterhouse and Castle for the Punahous struck out. Soper went out, short to first.

Richards went out, second to first. Kekuewa made a single into center. Yates made a two-base hit into left. Cockett hit to second who threw to third, catching Kekuewa. Koki got first on an error by Marcellino at short. Jones hit to Marcellino for an error and Yates came home. Hemenway threw wild to third and Koki and Cockett came home. Vannatta hit to left for an error, got two bases and Jones came home. Lemon hit to short who threw to first but Soper had to get off his base and the runner was safe. Lemon stole second. Reuter flew out to first.

Ninth. J. Marcellino flew out to Jones at first. Habbitt got base on balls. Cooke made a single and got to second on Reuter's throw to third. Hemenway struck out. Steele flew out to center.

MONDAY, AUGUST 18, 1902

Had the last Legislature extended the fire limits, this morning's fire with its destruction of homes of the poor would have been impossible.

The Hawaii Herald's report that Republicans wake up should not be confined to Hilo and Hawaii. It ought to go down the line from Hawaii to Niihau.

Missionaries now include Republicans, Democrats and carpetbaggers according to the latest interpretation of the Home Rule leaders. And from all accounts there are a good many conversions going on among former Home Rulers.

Delegate Wilcox told his Waikiki audience that his party wants some of the spoils of politics. The Delegate will have to be credited with being honest on this point, but why was it that with all his power in Washington the Delegate failed to secure spoils for the Territory in the shape of appropriations that would put needy families in a position to obtain reward for honest labor.

Main Republicans have made the very sensible move of placing in charge of their campaign a man who can devote his whole time to the work. This is not practical in every district but so far as possible the same idea should be followed and it would seem to be mandatory when the organization comes to the selection of a chairman for the Territorial committee. In these times it is indeed a difficult task to find a man at once capable and able to devote his whole attention to the work of the campaign. It is nevertheless necessary to make politics of first importance for the next two months.

ROOSTERS--A BOND OF SYMPATHY.

The full throated, far-sounding crow of the rooster at all times of day and night has long been regarded as one of the exclusive features of Honolulu life. Next to the mosquitoes the Honolulu rooster has had a notable place in the esteem of visitors and even the old-timers find themselves reminded of the (rowing rooster of Honolulu can outshine cats, dogs and horn oxen for making the night hideous. From dawn to dark and dark to dawn again the roosters echo and reecho their calls.

Many residents remember the vigorous protest registered by the late Julius Palmer against the Honolulu rooster. His rest was disturbed by the unseasonably crowing which gave no thought for the civilized custom of waiting till the break of day for the usual jubilation of the male members of the hen family. Palmer found no redress from either his landlord or the Republic of Hawaii and was finally forced to take rooms in lower Fort street where thick walls and distance from the family hen pens of the city gave the much desired relief.

It appears, however, that Honolulu has no monopoly as a rooster town. Its competitor is no less an important burg than Washington, D. C., whose commissioners were recently addressed by Howard Nagle, a long suffering citizen in the following terms:

"I have the honor to invoke the aid of such statute or regulation as may exist governing the keeping of roosters in the city limits. There are at least three in this neighborhood that subject me to great annoyance and personal discomfort through lack of sleep. Other owners of chickens in this neighborhood (than those complained of) must keep them penned up, as they apparently make no disturbance during the hours usually set apart for the sleep of civilized citizens. I earnestly beg such relief as the laws of the District allow me and trust that my complaint will be investigated as promptly as possible in order that the needed corrective be early applied."

Other citizens of the national capital also penned letters of similar import calling upon the commissioners to exert themselves or enlist the powers of Congress for the proper government of the roosters that crow outside the schedule time. Thus far the plea for redress has been as little avail as it has proved in Hawaii.

This new bond of sympathy between

Hawaii and the capital of the nation ought not to escape the attention of those wise politicians who are drawing upon beast, bird and fish for the exposition of American principles which for originality overshadow the most garulous descriptions of Mary McLane. It may be that even the roosters are crying out as a protest against centralized government or are searching for more corn with the same enthusiasm that characterizes Delegate Wilcox's speeches in which he calls for a share in the spoils.

WHOLE BLOCK WIPED OUT BY FIRE THIS MORNING

On Kekaulike back of the Merrifield building is a vacant lot owned by Mrs. Vida, and standing back from the street, to the rear of a Japanese hotel, was a narrow two-story frame building owned by Gus Schuman and occupied by Japanese and Chinese as a lodging house. This, too, was totally destroyed.

The Japanese hotel just mentioned, also owned by Schuman, and occupied by Nishimura, and the small two-story frame building on the Waikiki corner of Kekaulike and Hotel, miraculously escaped with only a slight scorching.

This ended the conflagration so far as the mauka side of Hotel street was concerned, the fireman doing excellent work in preventing the spreading of the flames to King street in the face of the heavy wind.

On Mauka Side. In the meantime, the flames were doing rapid work with the buildings on the mauka side of the streets and hundreds of Japanese, Chinese and Hawaiian men, women and children made homeless in a few minutes' time, were seen rushing in every direction, carrying with them their personal belongings.

In every vacant place out of the range of fire and water, these poor people, the major part of them clad in their nightclothes, could be seen squatting on their goods and chattels to prevent their being stolen.

Rapid Spread of Flames. The flames had by this time wiped out entirely the building which was put up some time ago directly in the way of what might have been the extension of Kekaulike street to Pahuahi, had consumed the whole of the Hotel extension of the Winston building fronting on Hotel, reducing to ashes the place recently occupied by T. Murata's hat factory, the Japanese bicycle repair shop and several other sundry Chinese and Japanese soda water stands and the like.

Tenement Houses Go. Not content with this destruction, the flames spread mauka, burned down the two three-story frame tenement houses in the midst of the block and owned by E. C. Winston, and then spread to C. K. Aki's two-story tenement house bordering on the vacant lot that was recently leased by William Mutch and others to a Chinaman for theater purposes. This lot, it might be mentioned, is very wide and runs clear through from Hotel to Pahuahi streets. Undoubtedly, it was this place that saved the buildings bordering on Mauka street, between Hotel and Pahuahi.

Up River Street. While the three tenement houses were tottering to their fall, the flames spread to the remainder of the Winston building on River street, occupied by Lee Wah's dry goods store, Hipp Sing's restaurant and other stores and soon had this on the way to total destruction.

The River street wing of the Winston building having been destroyed, the flames spread to the next structure which ran to the corner of Pahuahi street, and was owned by En Suk, the janitor of the Chinese church on Ema street, who lives in the lane just mauka of the Alvarez premises. In a very short time, this place was also a mass of ruins.

Starting from Pahuahi street, the stores along on River street to Hotel were as follows: Japanese soda water shop, Japanese watchmaker's shop, two Japanese hotels, a dry goods store owned by a Chinaman, three more Japanese soda water shops, a Chinese fruit store, Japanese barber shop, Japanese soda water shop, a branch of Sing Loy's dry goods store, and on the corner another Chinese dry goods store.

Two Buildings Remain. It was now about 3:45 o'clock, and the only buildings left in the block that had not already been destroyed or were rapidly approaching destruction, were the long structure of the River Mill Company and the Check Sing two-story store and tenement building.

Wind Dies Down. The wind had died down considerably and the firemen were getting things well in hand, but the burning buildings in the middle of the block had made such a hot fire that the lumber piles, small shops and out-houses in the rear of the River Mill Company building were set afire and, despite the concerted efforts of the major part of the firemen, it was seen that the place could not be saved. In a very short time this, too, had been all but burned to the ground.

Crock Sing a Lucky Man. The firemen now turned their attention to saving the Check Sing building, the only one remaining in the block. Streams of water were concentrated on the dividing line between the two buildings, and by dint of hard work, the place was finally saved with hardly even a scorched section.

Check Sing, it might be mentioned, is the Hotel street restaurant keeper who has worked hard for many years, saved up his money, bought a piece of land and put up the building, thus spending all of his small fortune. Had the fire destroyed his building, he would have been in a very tight place indeed. As it is, he is the only person in the whole block who wears a smile today. The combination of the cesstion of the wind and the fine work of the firemen, saved his building for him.

Out at 4:30 O'clock. At 4:30 o'clock, the fire was practically at an end, although the department remained on duty to drench with water the smouldering remains. The fire had done its work well, leveling to the ground all the buildings in the block with the exception of the one owned by Check Sing. The same thing may be said of the buildings burned on the mauka side of Hotel street.

Theater Threatened. At one time, the newly erected Japanese theater at the mauka corner of River and Pahuahi streets stood in great danger of being burned, but the firemen were on the lookout and eschewed once in a while sent a stream of water over in that direction and thus prevented further spreading.

Had the flames ever jumped to the mauka side of the street, there is no telling where the conflagration might have ended, for all along River street to Kukui is a line of frame buildings of the same kind as those which had been destroyed.

Bought Safely. On Maunakea and even on Smith, to say nothing of Pahuahi street, Chinamen, Japanese and others, noticing the rapid spread of the flames, simply piled the stuff from their stores out into the streets, preparatory to moving away to a spot of safety as soon as it should be seen that the fire was within reach of them.

At least two thousand people from all over the Kapaemahu, Lihua street and Kalia districts watched the fire from the opposite side of the River while distributed along the streets in the vicinity of the fire were hundreds more.

Police Turn Out. The police, headed by High Sheriff Brown and Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth, were early on the scene and did most work in keeping back the too impulsive crowds, roping off the streets where necessary. Both mounted and foot officers were out in quite a large body.

Property Owners. The Armstrong building on the mauka side of Hotel street stood on land owned in part in fee simple by Mr. Armstrong and a part under lease from Mrs. Mary E. Foster.

The lot on River street just next to this building, was owned by Paddy Ryan and other and was recently sold to Victor Hoffman. An order from the Board of Health recently caused excavations to be made and now there is a lot of standing water to be found on the place. A building was to have been erected there.

The land upon which the River Mill Company building stood is owned by the James Campbell Estate.

Historical Coconut Tree. There is one interesting incident in connection with the fire. On the Aiea lot on Kekaulike street, just back of where the Merrifield building stood, is an old coconut tree which has passed through three big Chinatown fires--the fire of 1888, the plague fire and the one of this morning. It went out of leaves again after the 1888 fire, but the plague fire sapped every bit of life from it and left nothing but a charred stump. It caught fire again this morning, but is still standing, a monument to the destruction of thousands of dollars worth of property.

Was It Incendiarism? The origin of the fire seems shrouded in mystery. No one knows just where or how it started, but all opinions agree that the first flames were seen in the rear of the second store of the Winston building on Hotel street, and the general impression is that the fire was started and did not come about in any accidental way. No one can give anything but general statements.

Officer Hart, who turned in the alarm, states that he saw fire in the store mentioned, and Chief Thurston was on the spot simultaneously with the fire engines, says that the whole block part of the store was in flames when he arrived there and that when the chemical engine went around on River street, flames were seen to be coming out the alleyway running behind the Winston building.

A lunch counter man from near by states that he was on the scene previous to the arrival of the engines and smelled kerosene oil. The flames seemed to him to have encircled the whole building.

The idea of incendiarism seems to be strengthened by the fact that about a fortnight ago an attempt was made to set fire to a small building in the vicinity of the River Mill, which burned down this morning. It will be remembered that an investigation was made by the police at the time, and it was found that a lot of cotton, saturated with benzine, had been placed under the house. Had it not been for the early discovery of the fire, the result then might have been as disastrous as that of this morning.

The hour chosen for the setting off of the building was about the same as the time when the fire was first discovered this morning.

Disposition of Engines. At the first alarm this morning, Engines 1 and 2 and Chemical Engine No. 1 responded to the call and immediately upon their arrival at the scene of the fire, a general alarm was sent in by Chief Thurston and Engines 3 and 4 responded. Their disposition was as follows: No. 1, Rigger near King; No. 2, Kekaulike and Hotel (removed later to Smith and King on account of danger of destruction by fire); No. 3, Maunakea and King; No. 4, Kekaulike and King. After the fire was under control, No. 3 was shifted to Pahuahi and Maunakea to save the Check Sing building.

There was a sea-sickness of water upon the arrival of the engines, but it evaporated to greater volumes and came in strong at the finish.

Unfounded Rumor. There was a wild rumor about this morning that a Japanese woman and her child perished in the flames. It was said that the woman had rescued one of the buildings upon the fire reaching the building, and that she was so excited she forgot her baby, rushing back into the room, she

WAKE UP, REPUBLICANS.

[Hawaii Herald.] Republicans of Hilo District and every other district on this island must be up and doing. The campaign from now until November will not be less important than the first election held in the Territory. Wilcox has proven his utter worthlessness as a Delegate and the business interests of the Territory are determined that he shall not go back to Washington in the capacity of Delegate. Hawaiians, in some sections of the country, realize the mistake made in November, 1900, and they are working on a line which augers defeat for Wilcox next November. They realize that the business interests of the people must not be sacrificed. Prince Cupid has done much toward indicating the progressive idea among Hawaiians. Among the Republicans on Oahu and Kauai such strength was developed at the primaries that they believe A. G. M. Robertson may be elected if nominated in convention. But Cupid is still a possible nominee by the Republican party if he will accept it; the party will not endorse him as the candidate of any other party. On this island Cupid is the candidate of the Hawaiian Aloha Alma party, but just how long that organization will hold together is hard to say, for there is already a rumor of disension in the ranks. But the disension is not due to any difference of opinion relative to a nominee for Delegate; Cupid is the man they want, and their vote will be unanimous on that score, but the settlement of a choice of candidate for House and Senate is far from complete. It is said that J. D. Lewis, who is anxious for election as a member of the lower House, and whose nomination has been practically decided upon by the Republicans, has been slated for the Senate by the leaders of the Aloha Alma party. And if this is carried out still greater disension will ensue. The arrival of Prince Cupid in Hilo may make changes that will straighten out this difficulty. Now as to Robertson. He is popular on Oahu and is recognized as an able man. He is young and will have the support of all of the young voters in Honolulu and a majority if not all of the older residents. It is doubtful, however, if he can get sufficient votes of the Hawaiians to elect him unless Prince Cupid should advise his friends to support him. At this time this seems unlikely for it is rumored that Prince Cupid has written his friends here to know if they want him to run. With the little enthusiasm in Hilo among the Republicans it does not seem possible to the Herald that a Republican candidate can win unless there is a slon. Seen through the spectacles of an Oahu Republican, almost anything is possible, but it must be remembered that during the last campaign Honolulu Republicans contributed $32,000 toward a fund to carry on the work; Hilo Republicans donated something like $250, and there is not even that much in sight at present.

The Glasgow Corporation has voted down a proposition to allow blind persons to travel free over the municipal tramway system.

attempted to rescue the child, but was too late. She and her child were both suffocated and then burned.

The police ran the rumor down and found absolutely no truth in it. The woman referred to took her child and went to a friend's house on Beretania street. Later on, she returned to town to view the remains of her first-born.

Rapid Transit Running. The burning of poles and the destruction of the trolleys in the vicinity of the burnt district on Hotel street, prevented cars being sent over the line running from the barn on Alaui street to Kalia and Lihua street, all passengers from Mauka being transferred aboard the King street cars.

A gang of men was set to work at once and, at 9:30 o'clock cars were running to the Kekaulike street switch on Hotel street. There the passengers were transferred to cars near the bridge and take to their various destinations as usual.

The burnt wires were cut out and new sections put in their place. Then the trolley, complete throughout, was lifted to the top of the Rapid Transit work wagon, there to be left until new poles can be put in and the system put back in its original form.

This work of putting up new poles and stringing wires is being carried on very rapidly by telephone and electric light company gangs also.

AH SUE ORDERED TO BE DEPORTED

Commissioner Gill Gives Decision This Morning.

FOLLOWS THE LINES OF OTHER FEDERAL CASES

TESTIMONY FOR DEFENDANT WAS CONTRADICTORY - CORROBORATION BY WHITE WITNESSES LACKING.

Commissioner Gill rendered the following interesting opinion and judgment this morning, ordering the deportation of Ah Sue, alias Ah Yok, a Chinese woman, to the land from whence she came.

This is an application on the part of the United States, sworn to by E. R. Stokald, Esq., Collector of Customs for the District of Honolulu, asking for an order of deportation to issue against Ah Sue, alias Ah Yok, a Chinese laborer, who is charged with being at present within the limits of the United States, and within the limits of the District of Hawaii, without a certificate of residence required by the Act of Congress approved May 21, 1902, and the Act of November 23, 1903, amending that act.

28,000 CHOLERA CASES. Manila, August 16.—While cholera is decreasing in Manila, the reports from the provinces show a large number of cases and deaths. Last Saturday there were 695 cases and 525 deaths from cholera in the provinces.

BALDWIN DENIES IT. Tromsø, Norway, Aug. 16.—In an interview today Evelyn B. Baldwin, the Arctic explorer, who arrived at Tromsø, Norway, August 1, on board the America, said that the alleged trouble between himself and Captain Gassner of the America was grossly exaggerated.

Dr. F. C. Warner of New York is named as the new president of Oberlin College. He has already given more than $20,000 to the institution.

A $20.00 BELT FOR $5.00. The Dr. Allen Electric Belt (with set) is guaranteed to give relief from all the aches and pains of the back, neck, shoulders, hips, and legs. It is sold by dealers and drug stores. It gives a very strong current of electricity and is perfectly regulated. It is guaranteed to give relief from all the aches and pains of the back, neck, shoulders, hips, and legs. It is sold by dealers and drug stores.

Honolulu with, and on cross-examination said he sent the money by a mythical Chinaman, one Ah Sue; that he sent $280 in gold by this alleged Ah Sue to a business firm in Hongkong, while his wife lived in the village of Sinoon, in the province of Canton, several hundred miles distant from Hongkong. He further testified that he sent the certificate for his wife to enter the United States to Hongkong by mail, but the wife testified that the certificate was handed to her in person by Wong Loy in the village of Sinoon, in the Province of Canton. Equally as serious contradictions were made by the witness Wong Loy.

It is not necessary for the Court to continue further in the many and various contradictions along this line, and the statement of defendant made in presence of the police need not be considered.

It is a well established rule that the positive testimony of a disinterested, unimpeached, and credible witness, cannot be disregarded by a court or a jury arbitrarily and capriciously. But the question whether a witness is in fact credible is one that must be determined by the tribunal before whom the witness appears.

In discussing such a case as the one at bar the Court said in the case of Lee Sing Far vs. United States, 94 Fed. 872: "It does not necessarily follow that because four witnesses testified positively that she was born in San Francisco, there being no witnesses to the contrary, their statements upon the question must be accepted as true. If such a rule were adopted and followed there would be no more Chinese remanded in such cases."

Justice Field very clearly pointed out in Chan Ping vs. United States, 139 U. S. 591, that owing to the suspicious nature of Chinese testimony, the disregard for the sanctity of an oath entered into by such witnesses, Congress wisely provided that their testimony should be corroborated by competent white witnesses.

Much stress was laid by counsel for defendant upon the hardship that would be imposed upon the wife and daughter of Lum Fong if they were ordered deported. In view of the fact that Lum Fong left his wife and daughter sixteen years ago, and never thought enough of them to send for them until last November, despite the claim that he is a merchant, and has been for a number of years—and a well-to-do merchant at that—it would not seem that any great hardship would result by their deportation.

The courts have repeatedly held that, although the testimony of a Chinese seeking admission to the United States is corroborated by other Chinese witnesses, and uncontradicted, their testimony may be disregarded if the court is not satisfied that the witnesses told the truth. In re Lau Sam, Esq., J. Dist. of Hawaii, not reported. In re Kiu Young, Esq., J. Dist. of Hawaii, 91 Fed. 210. In re Jew Wong Loy, 91 Fed. 210. In re Sing Far vs. United States, 94 Fed. 875. In re Louis Yon, 97 Fed. 590. In re Li Sing, 150 U. S. 498.

While the testimony of the witnesses was positive to the effect that Ah Sue is the wife of Lum Fong, and has been for many years, it was so contradictory in other respects that I must disregard it. Lum Fong testified that he was married eighteen years ago in China and came to Hawaii sixteen years ago and had never seen his wife and child in the interval, and yet he testified that he recognized both wife and child the moment he saw them at the Quarantine Station in this city in June last. The testimony showed that the wife was only eighteen years of age when Lum Fong left China and there would certainly be some changes in the appearance of a woman of eighteen and one at the age of thirty-four. The change from an infant in arms to the maturity of sixteen years is likely to bring many changes in the features and general characteristics of an individual, so many in fact that it is preposterous to suppose that even a father, no matter how astute, who has taken so little interest in his family as not to have seen them for sixteen years, would at once recognize his grown-up daughter, after this long period of time.

Lum Fong further testified that he sent a draft for the money for his alleged wife and daughter to come to

The order of deportation will be duly prepared without delay. EDWIN S. GILL, United States Commissioner. Dated at Honolulu, this 18th day of August, A. D. 1922. WIFE CUTS HUSBAND. Lizzie Espinda, a young native woman, was arrested Saturday for having stabbed her husband, Espinda alias Akana, with a penknife. The affair took place at the couple's house on School street, near Punchbowl. It appears that Espinda asked his wife, who acted as the treasurer, for some money which she refused to give him, stating as her reason that he would only gamble it away. A dispute followed, during which Lizzie went at her husband with a small penknife, inflicting a small but rather deep wound on his left arm. Luckily she only poked him with it rather than stabbing him or the wound might have been much more serious. The woman was taken into custody. MAY BE APOSTOLIC DELEGATE. A large parcel, comprising house-lot, kula and several valuable kalo patches with water right, makai of the "Loko Paalea," and on the northwest, adjoining the auwai or stream issuing from said loko, containing a total area of five and three-eighths (5 3/8) acres, more fully set forth and described in Royal Patent 5929 on L. C. Award 2619 to Pahau.

2nd. A fine kalo patch adjoining the auwai issuing from said Loko Paalea (very near the 5 3/8 acres lot above), more fully set forth in Royal Patent 6322 on L. C. Award 1424 to Kanihiki. This lot comprises 19.190 acs and the auwai thence 1.491 roas.

3rd. Three fine kalo patches (south of the 5 3/8 acres lot), on the auwai formerly called Moanau's Auwai, leading out of the main stream. Said kalo patches have a water right and are more fully described as Apanas 2, 3 and 4 of Royal Patent 4624, on L. C. Award 1275 to Mokihi no Panau and containing 14-100, 14-199 and 15-199 acres respectively.
