It has become a common saying in Wailuku and other parts of Maui:
If you can not get what you want in any other store go to the Maui Drug Store they carry everything.

While this statement is as true as it is flattering we would respectfully suggest that our friends and patrons come to us first, thus saving themselves the trouble of running from store to store without getting what they want.

AUEHOOKALANI NOT GUILTY

Has Preliminary Hearing on a Charge of Murder in First Degree and is Discharged by Judge McKay.

GAMBLERS SUFFER HEAVY PENALTY.

Judge Robinson Sentences Principals to Prison and Imposes Heavy Money Fines on Sixty-six Offenders.— Held for Manslaughter.

AUEHOOKALANI NOT GUILTY.

George Kaonohi Auehookalani had his preliminary hearing before District Magistrate W. A. McKay on Friday and Saturday of last week.

He was charged with the killing of Fred Reymon of Kahikinui on the 10th day of this month. The testimony of Meleana Aikapalaoa was to the effect that she and the defendant were in the room together when the deceased returned home and as he was angered he vowed he would kill both of them and in vited them out to be killed by him. On reaching the yard he picked up an ax and struck at her and missed his mark was seized by her and as they were struggling the defendant drew a revolver and as he was about to fire she put out her hand and was shot through the fore finger and thumb and the same shot entered the body of Fred Reymon and caused his death. She said that the deceased came to his death about eight or nine o'clock on the evening of the 10th.

Hugh M. Coke was the attorney for the defendant and the first thing he did was to examine the wound in the finger and thumb of the witness.

He at once saw that the wounds were badly powder burned and as it was claimed the defendant was standing in the door at the time of the shooting while the witness and Reymon were in the yard he saw a chance to break down the testimony of the witness and proceeded to do so. Taking the revolver in his hand as one would grasp it in order to prevent another from shooting him and placing his thumb over the muzzle he asked the witness if it were not true that she was holding the revolver in that position when it was discharged. She admitted that it was but that the defendant was the person that was holding it at the time of the shooting. Proceeding step by step much of the evidence was broken down and as the County Attorney rested his case on the testimony of the one witness the defence put on four witnesses whose statements were so evidently true that the defendant was in Kaupo at the time of the shooting and so far away that it was in impossibility for him to have committed the crime that the defendant was discharged as soon as the argument was completed by the attorney for the defendant.

County Attorney D. H. Case and his Deputy W. F. Crockett made a most searching cross examination of the witnesses for the defendant but failed to shake the testimony in the least and after the case was closed the County Attorney, being convinced of the innocence of the defendant, declined to make any argument but left the matter entirely with the Court.

Mr. Coke has not been in active practice for some time and as a result of his success in this case, he was the recipient of many congratulations.

JUDGE ROBINSON SOAKED THE CHINESE GAMBLERS.

The Star says Judge Robinson "soaked" the grand jury gamblers this morning when the sixty-seven convicted defendants came up for sentence. The crowd were lined up about the little court room.
They occupied seats in the jury box and along the spectators benches on the Waikiki and mauka sides of the room. Judge Gear who was present as associate counsel in another case, added factiousness to the occasion, by rising when the first twelve Chinese defendants had been called, and seated in the jury box, by announcing that "he accepted the jury as it stood."

A. F. Judd was present to represent the defendants in the absence of R. W. Breckons and C. F.
Hemenway the regular counsel.
Judd announced that he had nothing to say in behalf of the defendants, previous to the passing of sentence. Deputy Attorney General M. F. Prosser spoke on behalf of the Territory. He urged the court to impose the limit of sentence for it was about the first chance that had presented itself to the court, to inflict a "body blow" on professional gambling. He wanted those defendants who were shown to have participated in conducting the gambling game where the defendants had been arrested, to get heavy sentences of imprisonment. Prosser contended that the limit of fines should be imposed on the majority as the men who conducted the gambling game would pay the fines.

Judge Robinson reported that there was nothing before the court to indicate any such thing. The court expressed the belief that the fine of $25 and costs which had been imposed in the lower court, had been excessive. The lower court should have fined the defendants $10 and costs giving the higher court latitude in which to increase the fine if it were thought necessary, to administer a rebuke to the institution of trivial appeals.

The court however fined the defendants with two exceptions, $25 and $2.50 costs of court each. The fines in the lower court had been $25 and $1 costs each.

Ah Wai and Shing Tai who had been proved to have been conducting the game, were given sentences of six months imprisonment at hard labor, each. Ah Wai had been sentenced to 1 month by the lower court and the other defendant was not then given any imprisonment. Ah Chee who had been sentenced to 2 weeks and $1 costs did not suffer in the higher court, as his case had been nolle prossed because he turned states evidence.

The usual statutory exception was noted, as was notice of motion for a new trial, in behalf of the defendants.

Meleana Auehookalani of Kanaio was held by the District Magistrate on Wednesday to appear before the Grand Jury on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Fred Rey-mon who came to violent death at the home of the defendant on the night of January 10th.

The hearing took all of Monday and part of Tuesday and while it is more than probable that if the defendant had made a frank and open statement of the affair at the coroner's inquest she would not have even been arrested it is equally certain that she will not be convicted on the charge that she now faces.

Many of the people connected with the case are of the old class of the Hawaiian race who seldom see strangers, are extremely ignorant and on being brought before a court are so frightened that they do not fully realize what they say nor what they do and knowing that a violent death had taken place and fearing arrest for no fault of theirs they made so many conflicting statements that one of them is now in jail instead of enjoying her liberty.

It is extremely unfortunate for all concerned that the County Attorney was not notified at once of the suspicion of foul play and been in a position to take charge of the case at once. He would probably have gotten at the bottom of the case at the inquest and saved the County much money and the witnesses much inconvenience and the disgrace some of them suffer by having to admit the falseness of part of their testimony.

The defendant was represented by Hugh M. Coke who decided it was best to put on no witnesses before the Court but to allow the case to go to the jury.

A LIVELY RUNAWAY.

Monday evening, about six o'clock, a team of horses harnessed to a delivery wagon, was seen galloping at a furious rate down the Iao Valley road on the Main street and continued in its mad run on toward Kahului, but was stopped near the slaughter house.

The wagon and horses belong to A. Enos' store and had started late in the afternoon with a load of goods to some customers in Iao Valley. From what can be learned it appears that the horses started before the driver could get hold of the lines. Down came the horses and the driver, Joe Frias, chasing

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1907

Allens as Proposed changes in the existing liquor laws seem to have called forth more senseless expressions than any thing heard of for a long time. Dickey's crowd of visionary theorists are clamoring for local option but instead of giving local option propose to prohibit the legitimate sale of liquors by refusing to grant to any person for a term of two years a license where a petition signed by a majority of the voters in that place has been filed with the County Board of Supervisors. This means that the Government will lose a large revenue from legitimate dealers while illicit selling would soon become rampant and it would cost a very large sum each year to control the trade. To stamp out the traffic would be next to impossible.

The proposition to have the liquor business entirely in the hands of American citizens would improve the evil conditions that now exist and should be one of the changes in the present law. Every one knows that all classes of Asiatics are constantly violating many of our laws and will continue to do so as they do not respect our institutions nor customs and will obey only such laws as they are compelled to. Visit almost any Saloon outside of Wailuku that is run by a Jap or a Chinaman and you will find women and minors hanging about the place after night more or less under the influence of liquor while places licensed to Americans are nearly all free from this class of people.

It should not be the purpose of the legislature to make any discrimination against Japanese or Chinese in the pursuit of trade but the betterment of the evil conditions that have been brought on by these people should be the purpose of that body.

The proposition to prevent the issuance of a license to any one for a term of two years by the presentation of a petition signed by a majority of the legal voters of that place is too silly for any intelligent body to consider. Any one who has intelligence enough to keep out of the insane asylum knows that any one can get a majority of the voters to sign a petition either for or against any old thing and to drive out of business any class of people by this means would be an injustice that would be a disgrace to the legislature while it would give an impetus to crime by encouraging illicit selling of liquor.

Only a few years ago liquor could be bought in nearly every coffee shop run by an Oriental throughout the Territory and yet how few were convicted for the offense. It was the purpose of the Governor to stop this that the present law was enacted and it is to the credit of the Governor that his bill did practically put an end to illicit selling in such places.

Since the San Francisco school question has come up many foolish expressions have been heard of the danger of offending these people and even in print may be found expressions equally silly. More lawyers have developed in the last few months than have been licensed since the organization of the Courts and each one interprets the terms of the American-Japanese Treaty to suit himself while the Constitution of the United States is made to guarantee privileges to aliens that were undreamed of by its authors.

That changes in our liquor laws are needed is admitted by all. That those changes should be made to promote the good of the people and at the same time protect vested rights and existing interests must be conceded by all fair minded men.

The legislature will doubtless deal intelligently with the subject and not be swayed by those who have made a signal failure of everything they have undertaken.

Assistant Post Master in Trouble

Last week assistant Post Master and station agent, Frank Dillon of Kahului was believed to be short in his accounts and was discharged.

Just how his account stood in the Post Office were not known but the Inspector was sent for and on investigation it is currently reported that his accounts were short to the extent of over four hundred dollars. He was arrested on a charge of embezzlement of the sum of fifty four dollars and forty cents from the Kahului Railroad Company.

When his Post office was examined the inspector asked him to go to Honolulu with him which he did and in case the report that he is short is true he will probably be prosecuted there before the U. S. District Court.

Dillon was a capable young man and it is a mystery how he got into financial difficulties for he had a good salary and no one depending on him and so far as known did not gamble nor was he addicted to drink to any extent.

It is said he had borrowed considerable money from personal friends here during the month, most of whom are still out the amounts loaned.

THE MUTUAL INVESTMENT CONTRACT

OF THE

PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA provides for the complete protection, before and after death.

In addition to the Legal Reserve required by Law, the Pacific Mutual offers additional security to its policyholders by reason of the most stringent Insurance Law of the State of California appertaining to life insurance companies, which provide for a capital stock, and the unlimited liability of the stockholders. This additional security is conservatively estimated at $40,000,000.

The Pacific Mutual was organized under the statute law of California in the year 1868, has paid policyholders over $17,000,000, and still holds assets of nearly $11,000,000, for their benefit.

Dividends are paid annually, which may be used to increase the insurance or to decrease the premium, at the option of the insured. Policies contain the most liberal nonforfeiture provisions.

In the event of permanent total disability, from any cause, premium payments cease and the policy is payable in ten equal annual installments. Each $1000 life insurance provides for $5.00 weekly indemnity in the event of accident; each $1000 life insurance provides for $5.00 weekly indemnity in the event of disease disability, (36 diseases).

A SINGLE TRIAL PROVES IT

IT'S ALL IN THE LENS.

About six months ago we sold two kodaks fitted with special lenses. The lenses cost more than the kodaks. But the work turned out by these two kodaks was so far superior to the ordinary that the owners became enthusiasts. Others saw the pictures and ordered special lenses for their kodaks. As a result we have sold more Goerz and Zeiss lenses already this year than in all the years we have been in business. We have always recommended such an equipment but the price of the special lens made customers reluctant to try it. Since they have seen the advantage we are getting orders nearly every day. If you want the BEST results get a Goerz or Zeiss lens. We have several very fine ones in stock and will quote prices.

A cloudburst up Iao Valley sent a flow down the valley Friday morning that was an unusual sight. The noise could be heard all over town and many ran out to see the water coming down. In a moment the river was running bank full and running over in some places. The home of Mrs. Freitas was surrounded and some damage done to the taro em bankments.

WHO WILL WIN?

The Maui Dry Goods and Grocery Co. and the Wailuku Cash Store are in the field to find out who is the most popular person on the island and propose to give to such a person a handsome bedroom set. They offer seven prizes in all and if one doesn't happen to be the most popular person there is yet an opportunity for him to get a prize further down the line.

All of the prizes are useful articles and several persons will get presents of considerable value. It will not be at all surprising if some valuable material is found for the political arena in the next political campaign. As the prizes are of great value we would suggest that all persons purchasing from any of the three stores make use of their vote for some deserving person.

The stores are to be congratulated on their efforts to advertise their goods and it will doubtless be to the advantage of the stores as well as to the persons who are so fortunate as to receive the presents.

JP COUNTRY NOTES.

Last Friday evening, the 25th, the January meeting of the Makawao Literary Society was held at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. W. F. McConkey of Paia. The chief event of the program was a most enjoyable farce, a sort of burlesque on the present jury system. There were two juries, one composed of twelve ladies and another of twelve men. The proceedings of the former were in marked contrast to those of the latter in as much as politics were introduced and confused matters.

There was a large attendance of the district's people.

Last Saturday afternoon the semi-finals and finals of the tournament mixed doubles recently given by the Paia Racquet Club took place at Hamakua. Mrs. H. A. Baldwin and D. C. Lindsay, after a close contest, were declared winners of the cups.

For several years he has been very active in politics and has usually carried a higher vote than any of the candidates running on the Home Rule ticket. He expects to go into the draying business.

Increase in Farm Values.

Such has been the increase in farm prices of farm products, and so well known has become the larger measure of prosperity that has come to farmers, that this Bureau of Agriculture undertook, in the autumn of 1905, to discover the degree of increase in farm real estate in all parts of the country. The effort was made to connect this investigation by statistical methods with the census valuation for 1900. Reports were received from 45,000 correspondents, representing substantially all the agricultural neighborhoods in the United States, and the result obtained from the tabulation of these reports indicated an increase of farm real estate values during five years of 33.5 per cent, or an amount approximately equal to $6,133,000,000. This investigation was made under the supervision of the Chief of the Division of Foreign Markets.

Business Legislation.

In answer to the question "What do you consider to be the most important business legislation to be enacted at the coming session?", the three recently elected Senators from Oahu expressed their views as follows:

SENATOR McCARTHY—A new liquor law with high license and licenses to be held only by citizens. I would limit the number of licenses to one for every fifteen hundred of the population based upon the last United States census figures. Before a license is issued I would have it submitted to the Board of Supervisors for their recommendation. A license should be transferable so that it may be an asset to the holder, subject to cancellation for violation of provisions made to compel a careful and orderly conduct of the business.

Next, the adoption of the Australian ballot system for which purpose a bill is now being prepared. Third, redistrict this island. Have the County Act amended so that the three outside districts should not have so much to say as Honolulu. There are now twelve members of the House of Representatives from Oahu, let there be one to each 500 of population. The city of Honolulu should have more representation on the Board of Supervisors. Here it takes 2700 voter to elect a Supervisor, yet a Supervisor was elected in November with 103 votes in one of the outside districts and with 150 votes in another. Under these circumstances the three outside supervisors should not have so much to say as the three supervisors elected from the district of Honolulu.

SENATOR W. O. SMITH—The liquor law should be amended first. I believe in a higher license with a limit to the number of license issued.

Next, enact a primary law. Third, appoint a commission to make a thorough investigation of, and report upon, the subject of taxation, the relation that the counties bear to the Territory and the proper division of taxes between the two. I am not in favor of frequent changes in the system; of taxation and believe, it should be the subject of careful study, especially in regard to the apportionment of the revenues.

Fourth, adequate provision should be made for educational purposes.

SENATOR CHILLINGWORTH—Pass the appropriations bills before anything else. We can thus give them more time and more careful consideration than they usually receive. By doing this we can also save a lot of time that is usually devoted to the consideration of bills of a private nature that are far less important.

Rubber Returns.

Doctor Augustus Montenegro, governor of Para, in his annual message to the State legislative assembly, takes a position similar to that of the governor of Amazonas as to the future of the Brazilian rubber industry, and the necessity of planting rubber trees and cultivating them as an agricultural enterprise in the great Amazon Valley if the country's rubber industry is to be protected and established upon a firm and lasting basis. He says:

"Speaking of production, it is my duty to call the attention of rubber workers to the necessity of following the example of other countries, and to transform our merely extractive industry to a trusty agricultural interest. With a soil privileged like ours, the natural home of the hevea, we must remember the future and take care to renew and increase the productive area by plantation. It costs little to assimilate the lessons learned by other countries where the hevea is being planted on a rational and methodic system."

Embodied in the message of the governor is a table showing the amount of rubber produced and shipped abroad in the great Amazon rubber country, including not only the Brazilian ports of Para and Macaoas, but the Peruvian port of Iquitos as well. This table shows the total exports July, 1905, to June 1906, inclusive, to be as follows in pounds:

Total 44,039,111 31,321,282 Of the 75,360,000 pounds sent by the three ports the United States received about 40 per cent. The proportion of the Brazilian rubber crop for 1904 taken by the United States was nearly 60 per cent, American manufacturers taking nearly 6,000,000 pounds more during that year than they did during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906. Recently there has been a very material change in the course of Brazil's rubber trade with the United States. The United States now takes a larger quantity of rubber than any other nation, but it continues to take almost as much as all other markets, shipments from other ports being considered.

Those Formosa Contracts.

Mr. Hedemann, manager of the Honolulu Iron Works, has gone East, accompanied by Mr. Bush, to complete his business arrangements in connection with the two new sugar mill contracts for Formosa. Some of the material must be secured in the East and it may even be necessary to place orders in Europe, as eastern mills will not guarantee to fill new orders for iron and steel in less than six months. Undoubtedly Milliken Bros. of New York, will be called upon for some assistance. Time is one of the important essentials in the contract, which approximates $1,250,000, and as there are six vacuum pans to be furnished the need for prompt action is apparent.

The quick, clean cut business methods of the Japanese contractors very favorably impressed Mr. Hedemann. They knew what they wanted and submitted their ideas for his suggestions. They were well informed as to the capacity of his plant, having the assistance of a gentleman who was formerly associated here with Mr. R. W. Irwin in the early days of Japanese immigration, and who was well acquainted with these islands. Being assured as to the time of delivery the next question was one of price, which they wanted as low as possible with the best workmanship. There was no question of commissions, nothing but a clean, net cash proposition with a willingness to make a cash payment on account upon the signing of the contract—straight business, quick and to the point throughout.

Evidently with a knowledge that these sugar contracts were to be placed, Mr. J. H. Arnold, United States Consul at Tamsui, reported recently to the State Department as follows: "American manufacturers of sugar machinery should bear in mind that the sugar industry in Formosa is growing rapidly, and that within the next few years many large mills will be constructed. With the growth of this industry there will also be a demand for tramway materials." Hawaii gains by the employment of labor here at good wages and by the local plant being able to keep its skilled employees busy when there is but little island demand for their services, thus guaranteeing that the mill is always available for local requirements.—Trans Pacific Trade.

Japanese and American Salaries.

If anyone who knows not the reasons impelling the Japanese to emigrate in large numbers to the Pacific Coast and other spots in the United States, a glance at the military salary list of Japan will afford enlightenment. The pay of the Lieutenant General of the United States Army is $11,000 per annum; the pay of a Major-General, $7500; of a Brigadier-General, $5500; of a Colonel, $3500; of a Captain mounted and of a chaplain and various other officers, such as regimental Adjutants, $2,000 a year.

The Japanese year book, just issued, shows that the commanding General of the Japanese Army, when serving with the colors receives the princely salary of $1500, and a like amount for extraordinary expenses, or a total of $3000 a year. A Lieutenant General receives, including the expense account, the sum of $2000 a year; a Major General $1575; a Colonel, $1175; a Captain, $420. The scale of pay in the navy is equal to that in the army, and Togo, the admiral of the navy, receives $3000 a year.

The pay in civil positions is likewise exceedingly moderate. The presiding Judge in the highest imperial court, who holds a position analogous to our Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, receives $2500 a year. With the exception of the Prime Minister of the empire, no person holding office receives a higher salary than $3000 a year. The Imperial Government recognizes the fact that the cost of living or, at any rate, the scale of expenditure in other countries, is different, and though the Embassadors to London, Washington and Paris are paid in salary only $3000 a year, the sum of $15,000 a year is allotted to each for entertainment and other expenses.

The maximum regular pay of a full professor at the Imperial University at Tokio is $800 a year, and a Japanese laborer in San Francisco, or at almost any point on the Pacific Coast, can easily make as much in a year as the president of a university in Japan.

The Mikado's empire is the land of the simple life, and the men in official position, dependent upon their salaries, must adjust their mode of existence to accord with the simple salary. The temptation to the adventurous Japanese to seek the El Dorado is, therefore, irresistible.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.
