WORLD-POWERS RECOGNIZING NEW REPUBLIC VOTERS RALLYING FOR G.O.P. POLITICS

Germany Favors England's Plan

Agrees To The Proposal That Powers Shall Welcome Portugal

BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 21.—Germany and England have declared in favor of officially recognizing the new Republic of Portugal and admitting it to the "brotherhood of nations."

The first proposal that this step should be taken came from England, and today it was announced at the German capital that the Kaiser and his advisers approve England's proposal. With these two powerful nations agreed, it is expected that the others will soon follow.

The new republic some time ago sent word to all the powers that the government had been formed and guaranteed safety and secure property rights to the residents of Portugal who are citizens of other countries. The powers have been waiting to see whether or not the republic was stable before definitely committing themselves, but a joint statement from most of the world-powers seems now assured.

LANAI COMPANY BRINGS SUIT FOR $6800 AGAINST LANDIS ON ACCOUNT OF HORSE DEAL

Claiming damages in the sum of $6800, Lanai Company, Limited, has filed suit against Harry S. Landis for selling the company 64 supposed brood mares, which arrived on the Illionian and whose condition was set forth in the Bulletin yesterday.

According to the complaint the defendant agreed with Haeckfeld & Co. at San Francisco to furnish the Lanai people 50 brood mares, to be delivered in Honolulu at $75 per head, this agreement being entered into on August 25.

On October 8, 64 mares were brought to the dock at San Francisco and loaded on the Illionian for Honolulu, nine of them dying en route to this port, supposedly of starvation, as they could not eat.

The company paid $4800 for the mares and have gone to further expense of $2000 in loading at San Francisco and quarantine charges here before the animals will be allowed to enter the country.

No opportunity was given the company to examine the horses until they arrived in Honolulu, and the complaint states that none of them are fitted for breeding purposes.

Full report of the animals and their condition was made by three prominent veterinarians in this city, who finished examining them two days ago, and upon whose report that the animals were not suitable for breeding purposes the suit for damages was filed.

Most of the mares range in age from twenty to thirty years and were evidently picked up in the boneyard at San Francisco.

According to one man who knows conditions in San Francisco, these mares should have been picked up at not more than $5 per head at the boneyard. They were worth $60 per head landed on the steamer at San Francisco, which would leave a fat margin of $55 profit on a $5 investment.

To look at the animals now at the quarantine station is a pitiful sight, many of them being without teeth and having evidently been kept alive for a long time on liquid food, as they have no way of masticating anything.

One of the horses was lying on the ground yesterday afternoon trying vainly to chew a piece of grass, but its toothless gums were not equal to the effort, although it tried continuously.

Mr. Landis, who engineered the deal, is reported to have left the Territory by way of Hilo and now being on his way to the Coast.

PRACA DE COMMERCIO

Mlle. Gabys Deslys

The Praca do Commercio was partially destroyed during the attack of the revolutionists on the first day of the trouble in Lisbon. The Duke of Oporto escaped on board a war vessel. The German dancer, Mlle. Gabys Deslys is the one supposed to be responsible for King Manuel losing his throne. He is alleged to have met her in London and is accused by his people of having lavished great sums of money and much jewelry on her.

Florida storm danced while monarchy fell. BERLIN, October 5.—While the direct cause of the uprising that has resulted in the overthrow of monarchy in Portugal was the assassination of Professor Bombarda, the most powerful and influential leader to the revolt was a woman who inveigled the young King into extravagance that brought down upon his head the wrath of his subjects.

Missouri Pacific employes strike. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 21.—The full force of boiler-makers, blacksmiths and pipemen of the Missouri Pacific Railway system has gone out on strike in sympathy with the striking machinists of the same company. The situation is extremely critical.

Report Demands Central Market

Governor Frear Receives Result Of Investigation Into Produce Problem

A central market, located in Honolulu, to handle farm and dairy produce of all kinds, in order to benefit the small farmer of the Territory, is advocated in a report made to Governor Frear today by a committee which has been at work for weeks collecting statistics under direction of the board of immigration. This committee's report contains striking suggestions for carrying out the central market plan.

Among these is the declaration that funds should be provided to secure a man experienced in handling the produce from the farmer to the consumer, who will give his time to the market and act as a sort of general superintendent. The suggestions will be embodied in a report to the Legislature.

The marketing committee which organizes the report consists of Dr. V. S. Clark of the bureau of immigration, Marston Campbell, Superintendent of Public Works; E. V. Wilcox, director of the agricultural experiment station; L. A. Thurston, J. A. Kennedy, president of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co., and Gilbert J. Waller, manager of the Hawaii Meat Co., the latter three being added members. The report declares that the central market will be beneficial to the community as a whole and the expense therefore should be borne by the community as a whole. It is further suggested that, pending the establishment of the market on a large scale, a smaller central distributing point should be made possible at the government market building.

The report was made at noon today, and Governor Frear is now considering it.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGNERS WILL RALLY AT PUNCHBOWL AND OUTLINE MAIN POLICY

Following one of the biggest meetings of the campaign at Waipahu last night, Republican workers and candidates will hold another big rally tonight at Kinau and Lusa streets. The Punchbowl district is considered a Republican stronghold in the present campaign, but the candidates will leave no stone unturned to roll up a big majority there, especially as the Bourbons are making a desperate effort to win that section over.

Dr. J. F. Eckardt, superintendent of the Queen's Hospital, is billed to preside tonight if he can get time from his official duties, and every candidate on the Oahu Republican ticket who can reach the spot is due for a short speech. Particular attention will be paid to the immigration and land law issues, as McCandless and his followers have been promising the Punchbowl voters anything and everything.

The Fourth District will turn out as a whole tonight to boom Republican stock. The G. O. P. are making a fast, hard campaign, and their forces are working well together, in marked contrast to the Democrats, whose speakers are already getting in each other's way.

Tomorrow night the Republicans will go to Kahuku, which will be the largest meeting of the week. On Sunday a rest is in order, and on Monday the final two weeks of the campaign will begin. After Monday the list of speakers will be cut down, and those who make addresses will each take up certain

THREE THOUSAND WAIPAHU VOTERS GATHER AT MEETING AND CHEER G. O. P. SPEAKERS

Infused with the spirit of good Republicanism and determined to gain a landslide victory on election day, the Republican candidates last night addressed the voters of Ewa, who had gathered on the baseball grounds at Waipahu.

The speakers were at their best, and they talked with vim and conviction. Applause and cheers were spontaneous and Judge Hookau, the chairman, had a busy time in quieting the enthusiastic crowd, as the candidates came forward to speak.

The baseball stand, on which the candidates and the leaders of the Republican party were seated, most elegantly the way from Waianae, Ewa, Aiea and Waipahu. The Waianae band, under the leadership of Schulmeister, who is an expert cornet player, furnished music and the Republicans furnished speeches.

The meeting, according to the old timers of Waipahu, was the largest that was ever witnessed there, since the visit of King Kalakaua after his ascension to the throne many years ago.

There were present no less than three thousand people. They came from Waianae, Ewa, Aiea and Waipahu. The Waianae band, under the leadership of Schulmeister, who is an expert cornet player, furnished music and the Republicans furnished speeches.

The Chamber of Commerce meeting scheduled for this afternoon at 3 o'clock, has been called off. The meeting was to have been addressed by Samuel C. Rest, United States consul at Tamsu, Formosa, who is on his way from the Orient in time today to allow Mr. Rest to keep the engagement.

STRAIGHT TICKET TALKS

FRED C. SMITH—I am going to vote the straight Republican ticket in the coming election, because I believe the Republican party has the right platform and the right men on the ticket. The candidates stand for a definite policy of developing the territory, and their promises are such as will be fulfilled. They deserve support from the head of the ticket down. Good Republicans will not split the ticket.

A. D. CASTRO—The issues of the present campaign are clean cut and the Republican ticket ought to win. Kuhio should be returned to Congress, where he can do more for the people of Hawaii than any other man. Locally the ticket is strong and the men are making a campaign on issues that are vital.

MANY CRAZY MEN AROUND

Lunatics Being Gathered In And Forwarded to Insane Asylum.

Several cases of insanity are taking up the time of Dr. Emerson and the sheriff at present, and no less than three men are now held at the police station for investigation.

The Japanese patient was caught by the night watchman at the pineapple cannery at twilight. The man was noted prowling around the place, and was heard singing.

The crazy Russian is in a different class. He is no singer, but thinks that he is a Marathon runner. He goes to extremes, however, as regards athletic garments.

The third individual was just an ordinary hatty native, who had brought on an attack through too much dago red. The Hawaiian is weak-minded, and a course of treatment at his temporary home on Asylum road will fit him out for a fresh trout against alleged grape juice.

IMPROVEMENT TO BE RUSHED

New Warehouse Started—Plans for Building Are Abandoned.

Work will be started at once on a double warehouse in the rear of the Brewer Estate's property on Fort and Hotel streets, plans for which were announced some time ago.

The improvements will be rushed through, and plans have already been completed by J. H. Craig for the warehouse, which will have about 15,000 square feet of floor space.

The Brewer Estate management this morning abandoned plans that have been contemplated for some time to erect a modern business block on the corner of Fort and Hotel streets.

Three true bills were returned by the Territorial Grand Jury at four o'clock yesterday afternoon and placed on the secret file in the criminal court, warrants being issued for the persons wanted returnable tomorrow morning before Judge Cooper at nine o'clock.

Of the three persons indicted two have two counts each against them. The exact nature of the charges made have not been made public but it is understood that they are all minor offenses.

The reversal of form is probably due to the conflicting reports as to the situation in Cuba. Early news was to the effect that the recent tornado had laid waste many canefields and the loss to the crop was great.

This sent the local market up. Then came news that the rains had really been beneficial. A cablegram to Alexander & Baldwin, which was published in the Bulletin yesterday, had the effect of putting a damper on some of the local traders who had visions of no sugar coming out of Cuba next spring.

It is reported from Sydney, N.S.W., that a passenger traveling in the Indian Ocean on the German mail boat Seydlitz threw over board a bottle containing a lunch can in lat. 7, 40 S., long. 92, 41 E. This was on April 21, 1909. Attached to the card was the following note: "Wednesday, April 21, 1909. Dear lady or gentleman, whoever may find this message, enclosed in the bottle—Kindly forward same to the Premier of the Commonwealth of Australia, and oblige, sincerely, W. J. Borjust." On April 5, or nearly a year after, the bottle was found by Mr. F. Traill, of Malindi, 70 miles north of Mombassa, the principal port of British East Africa.

The Damara Was in Bad Way. The British tramp steamer Damara, outward bound from San Francisco for Great Britain with a full shipment of barley, which vessel grounded on the rocks within several hundred feet of Port Point on Oct. 9th, was pronounced in a bad way by the latest mail advices from the coast.

It was on the turn of the tide toward ebb when the vessel struck, and efforts made to pull her off by tug power proved futile and had to give way to the process of lightening the cargo in hopes of getting the vessel afloat at the next high tide.

The Damara left Port Costa shortly after noon in charge of Pilot James Miller, one of the oldest and most experienced pilots in the harbor service. At 2 o'clock, with her prow pointed seaward she encountered the heavy fog bank that extended from Fort Point to Lime Point.

SOLDIERS FOUND NOT GUILTY

On the Sixth Ballot Today the Jury Reaches a Verdict.

After being out for an hour and a half this morning the jury in the case of Bunce and White returned a verdict of not guilty, the charge being robbery in the second degree.

It was nine-thirty when the jury retired after being charged by Judge Cooper and six ballots were taken with considerable argument before a verdict was finally reached.

The first ballot stood eight for acquittal and four for conviction, the second nine for acquittal and three for conviction, and the third, fourth and fifth were ten for acquittal and two for conviction.

After the fifth ballot the case was argued at considerable length by the jury and when another ballot was taken a verdict of not guilty was reached.

Attorney Humphreys prosecuting the case of robbery against Bunce and White, soldiers, today in addressing the jury in the case made a strong plea for conviction dwelling on the fact that even if the woman in the case was of the underworld she had as much right to protection at the hand of the law in her property and person as anyone on earth.

The soldiers were charged with beating the woman as they entered her house and robbing her of a bracelet valued at fifty dollars on the night of June 11. They were positively identified by the woman at the police station, again in court, and by another soldier who came out of the house just as they entered it.

In defense Attorney Straus set up an alibi that both men were on a car on their way to Fort Shafter at the time the assault occurred.

The defense wished to submit the case without argument but the prosecution addressed the jury, and after the close of Humphreys' remarks Straus rested without remark.

Only one witness was called this morning, the cook of Company F of the Twentieth who testified that he saw one of the defendants on the car at ten-thirty on the evening in question bound for the post.

Humphreys took less than thirty minutes in his remarks but made a strong plea for conviction and the protection of individual rights.

Judge Cooper charged the jury at nine-twenty and ten minutes later the jurymen retired to their deliberations.

This is the second time the case has been tried the first trial resulting in a hung jury and no verdict being reached.

QUINN CASE TO THE JURY

Late this afternoon the case of Bright against Quinn, for the recovery of $5000 for being knocked from a street car on Hotel street a year ago, will go to the jury, the whole time of the court today being taken up by attorneys in addressing the jurymen.

But one witness was examined this morning, and then Attorney Peters, representing Bright, began his address, in which he scored Quinn unmercifully for negligence in being on the wrong side of the street with his machine and injuring Bright.

This afternoon Attorney Magoon, for the defense, has the floor, and is making a strong plea for his client.

The whole force is busy making up and sealing packages of blank ballots to be sent to the different precincts and these will all be sent out within a few days as soon as the whole consignment has been prepared.

Voting lists have been printed for nearly all precincts and these are being corrected in typography and spelling so that the corrected lists of voters for each precinct can be sent out at the same time as the ballots.

FIRST DRAWING FOR NEXT WEEK

Applications For Homesteads Will Be Drawn Within a Few Days.

October 27 will be a great day in the homestead history of Hawaii, for on that day the first drawing of lots will be held in the throne room and all applications which have been placed in the seven locked boxes representing the seven land districts will be drawn, the choice of lots given to the applicants in the turn they are taken from the boxes.

The boxes have been filling up for weeks, since the advertisement first appeared, and nearly every day there have been applications received for some if not all of the seven districts.

No count has been kept of the number of applications received, but it is hoped by the Commissioner of Lands that there are enough in the boxes to take every one of the 1029 pieces of land which are ready for homestead on this first drawing.

The latter part of November Land Commissioner Campbell will visit the different districts and allot the land for homesteads, the law providing that the pieces shall be given by lot, the applicants choosing their land in the track applied for in the order in which their applications came from the box.

There was no meeting of the land board yesterday afternoon, although one had been advertised.

The law provides that there must be two-thirds of the members present to transact business, and as there are two members absent from the Territory and Sam Dwight was on the Federal jury yesterday afternoon, no meeting could be held.

A DISTRESSING CONDITION CURED

How This Los Angeles Woman Was Helped by the Tonic Treatment.

She Used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills When She Needed More Strength and the Pure, Rich Blood Soon Brought Complete Relief.

"I can't begin to tell of the benefit I received from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," says Mrs. A. K. Hay, of No. 678 East Forty-fifth street, Los Angeles, Cal. "Four or five years ago at the time of life when I needed rest, I became run down through overwork and worry caring for my husband who had been injured. I became so weak and debilitated that I didn't have strength to do my work. I had no ambition to do anything. Food didn't seem to strengthen me. I had distressing pains in the back of the neck and along the spine. I suffered from headaches, was very nervous, couldn't sleep at all, and the least little noise startled me. I was confined to bed for three weeks at a time. I was reduced in weight from 134 to 116 pounds.

"I was under the care of three doctors at different times during my sickness. While taking their medicine I seemed to feel some better but would be as sick as ever when I stopped taking it. The doctors said I would never get well without an operation, but my husband would not consent to it. I had been sick over a year when a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had tried so many medicines and doctors that I didn't have much faith in the pills but decided to give them a trial. It was only a short time before I began to feel stronger. The headaches and nervousness left me and I was benefited in every way. I gave the pills a good trial and was entirely cured. I weigh more now than I have in a long time."

If you are interested in the remedy that cured Mrs. Hay, write today for our booklet, "Plain Talk to Women." It is free and will be sent postpaid.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are always the same and are sold only in packages bearing the well-known trade mark, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Pills sold in any other package, or loose, by the dozen or hundred are not the same, whatever the clerk tells you. The genuine are sold by all druggists or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

gantly decorated with the American flag. Palm leaves and the colored electric lights were around the stand. The decorations were unusual. The work was arranged under the supervision of E. N. Scoville, chief engineer of Waipahu plantation and Manager Bull of the plantation, had much to do with the success of the decoration arrangements.

Speakers Applauded.

John C. Lane, candidate for mayor; R. W. Shingle, for treasurer, and Andrew Cox, for sheriff and many others were each greeted with prolonged applause and cheers, as they arose to speak to the people.

Chillingsworth, the first speaker of the night, was brief in his remarks. He said that his record, while a Senator, was sufficient evidence for the voters to decide for themselves whether he was entitled to get their support or not. He promised, if elected, to do what's right for the Hawaiians, and the American citizens, generally. He was assured of the support of the audience.

"Sit down, Charley, you'll get our votes," said a crowd of young men. He sat down amidst applause and cheers.

A. L. Castle, for Representative, next addressed the audience. Crawford acted as Hawaiian interpreter. Castle said that the Republican candidates, if elected, stand ready to appropriate money for the construction of good belt roads around this island.

In the early part of his speech, he told the people that it would be more agreeable to him, had he been out in the midst of the crowd, playing baseball with them. He said, also that he was ready to play baseball with his opponents, who were simply making "hot air" promises.

Cecil Brown Applauded.

Cecil Brown, the senatorial candidate, made one of the best speeches of the night. He emphasized the fact that it was not right for the Hawaiians to experiment with a delegate to Congress.

"Vote for Kuhlo and return him to Congress," he said.

"Sure kela," came back the answer immediately.

"Don't send Ellwal to Washington," he continued.

"Sure kela."

Brown then proceeded to tell the audience that Prince Kuhlo is well known in Congress and that his return there as Hawaii's delegate means prosperity for Hawaii and her people. Before concluding he said that "Ellwal" (Link) was digging a well for him to drown himself. He also reminded his hearers that the importation of immigrants here, would not be detrimental to Hawaiians.

R. W. Shingle said that the presence of so many nice looking ladies, was the sign of landslide success for the Republican party on the election day. The ladies, of course, smiled. They said that they would tell their husbands to vote the straight Republican candidates, or else there will be trouble. The Hawaiian expression means much to those who understand the Hawaiian language. There was laughter and applause.

Continuing, he said it was about time for the Republicans and people generally, to place the political house under the Republican "Shingles." In order to convince the Hawaiians, he said that the funds of the county would be safe in his hands, if he were elected. That he was ready to accommodate the country district people with money, on pay day, instead of their coming to town to cash their warrants.

A. F. Judd, Senatorial candidate, pointed out to the voters of Waipahu that the Republican platform, on which he stood will eventually lead Hawaii to a statehood. He said that the Republican party was putting up substantial men in the field, for the people to vote for on the election day in November.

He needed no Hawaii interpreter, he himself being a good Hawaiian scholar.

Lane Makes a Hit.

John C. Lane, candidate for mayor next addressed the people. He said that it was wrong for the Hawaiians to be led by the Democrats to think that he was "hookano" (high minded). He said that he has never been "hookano," having treated everybody alike. That his home was always open to the Hawaiians to come to and have a "kaukau" with him.

A. M. Brown, Deputy County Attorney, spoke for John W. Cathcart, who, he said was the best prosecuting attorney in the Territory. Cathcart's name was received with applause.

Andrew Cox, candidate for sheriff, who stood in the presence of the enthusiastic crowd, promised the voters that they would be treated fairly and squarely if he was elected to the office. He, too, was assured of support on the election day. He said that his motto was "equality." He treated the people of Waipahu on a same level, when he was deputy sheriff there.

Eben Low, the cowboy candidate for supervisor, said that he was ready to go into the harness on the Board of Supervisors, and do his duties, to the best of his ability. "You are all right, Eben," shouted the Waipahu cowboys, who were present at the meeting with their ropes.

B. W. Speir, a telephone "livewire man," at the request of the boys from Watertown, spoke for Harry Murray. He also urged the voters to vote the straight Republican ticket.

Jas. Bicknell, M. C. Amama, Frank Kruger and others, also spoke briefly and right to the point.

The meeting ended at about twenty minutes to 12. A special train, in charge of conductor Gulek and Engineer Josey was run from Honolulu for the benefit of the people who wished to attend the meeting at Waipahu.

Major Camara and A. D. Castro spoke to the Portuguese in their mother tongue and were listened to with a great deal of interest. They told them that the Republican party stood for the prosperity of this Territory and urged them one and all to vote the straight Republican ticket.

CAN'T MAKE TRUTH FROM FALSEHOOD.

Democratic calls to public meetings request that the voters come and "hear the truth."

That's rather funny. Campaign speeches of Boss McCandless have been marked by more fictions than truth, and vicious fictions at that.

Boss McCandless' right bower, Trent, has not told the truth of his relations with the Boss and it is obvious that he does not dare to, though he will learn at the polls that honesty is the best policy. The voters will repudiate him.

One of the exceptions of truthfulness is the declaration of Candidate Turrill that he never had more than twenty dollars in his life. That's one of the things necessary to take his word for, as we know of no way to disprove it, and the fact that he has become an editor makes the rule of probabilities operate on his side.

But seriously, the whole Democratic campaign could hardly be loaded with more misrepresentations. McCandless is misrepresenting himself. A man can be credited with a fairly exaggerated idea of his own importance, but when he assumes the credit for that which everyone knows was done by another, he is put down as a fool or a knave—not an expounder of truths.

The Democratic Boss is not truthful in his statements of what the Democrats did in Washington regarding the land law.

The Democratic Boss is not truthful in his presentation of what the Delegate has done in Washington.

The Democratic Boss is not truthful in his favorite statement to country audiences—which he obviously believes he can more easily fool—that the Delegate has no friends and influence in Washington because he has not yet secured the appropriations sought for the Queen.

The Democratic Boss is not telling the truth when he says that cessation of European immigration will benefit this Territory and put citizen labor in a more satisfactory position.

There is no truth in the Democratic claim that Russians are running the native born citizens of the country out of work on the waterfront.

There is no truth in the Democrat-le soap box oratory that the citizen laborers of the Territory are starving by reason of their inability to obtain employment at fair wages from the large employers of labor.

Truth, Democratic truth? Why, the whole game of the Boss and all his followers is to misrepresent conditions and thus bring about a misrepresentation of the people in Washington, misrepresentation in the Legislature, and misrepresentation in the city and counties for the next two years.

McCandless, the Boss, is obviously basing his whole hope of success on blatant untruths.

Trent, the right bower and errand boy of the Boss, expects to slide into his usual place of service by keeping awfully quiet and never allowing the people to know the truth of his relations with the Boss and the program for putting the public service under the domination of the most irresponsible and eventually corrupt gang of grafters that ever worked in secret. Decit is Trent's political game.

Democracy has studiously and with ample forethought adopted a platform of falsifications.

To frequently cry that the false statements labeled truths are so in fact, cannot make it so.

AUSTRALIA INVITES COLONISTS

Australia is going to have small farmers and large farmers if it is possible to get them. At present H. McKenzie, an agent of the Australian government, is touring the States, making a thorough study of the irrigation systems that are used throughout the land, and at the same time he is looking for settlers to take up lands in his home country.

The inducements that are offered to people to take up farms in Australia are worthy of all imitation by other countries that are seeking to populate land that is now idle. After buying lands the government irrigates them and then offers them for sale. A house is built for the entryman and the government offers to advance 60 per cent, in cash of the amount spent for improvements and allows 15 years in which to pay the loan. Thirty-one years is the time allowed for the payment for the land. To take advantage of this offer prospective settlers must have at least $2000 or $3000; this to buy stock, seed, etc., to carry the farmer through the first few years.

Mr. McKenzie, who is doing this immigration work in the States, will leave Vancouver about the first of next month, and it is understood that he will give an address here on the 21st. He has been doing while away.

SILVER SELLS "STRAD" VIOLIN FOR $1

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 10.—A pawnbroker on Pacific street is boasting his luck while a Commerce street cobbler and a dealer in musical instruments both are congratulating themselves today as a result of the passage through their hands of a rare Stradivarius violin. The pawnbroker first secured possession of the instrument from a German stillor, who, being broke, parted with the treasure for $1. The pawnbroker in turn sold it to the cobbler for $10 and thought himself fortunate.

The cobbler was playing on it the same evening when a prominent music dealer who was passing the shop stepped in and offered to buy the Strad. The music man finally secured possession by paying $500. The dealer is holding the violin at $2500.

VOTERS WILL BE INCREASED

Many Japanese Coming of Age in Next Few Years On Kauai.

Within the next few years the increase of Japanese who will be eligible to vote on Kauai will be more than Portuguese and all other nationalities combined, according to the military census which has been submitted to Governor Frear.

This shows the great need of a large immigration of Caucasians to control the balance of power for if this is not done, then in a few years Kauai will be controlled by Japanese voters according to the figures available at present.

At the present time there are 2837 males on Kauai over the age of eight years, 1258 over the age of 21 and eligible to vote, and of this number 1122 have been registered as voters of the Territory. These figures do not, of course, include Porto Ricans and Filipinos who do not have the right of suffrage.

Interesting figures are presented by the number of voters who will be able to cast the ballot in the next few elections. In two years 125 more will be eligible to vote, in four years 176, in six years 180, and in the three elections following the number will increase to 1062, making the total number of voters nearly double what it is at present, not taking into account deaths and removals.

For the coming election there are registered on Kauai 601 Hawaiians, 248 Caucasians outside of Spaniards, Portuguese and Russians, 217 Portuguese, 103 Caucasian-Hawaiians, 24 Asiatic-Hawaiians, 34 Chinese, five Spaniards, five Koreans, five Blacks, four Russians and one Hindu.

MOONLIGHT PICNIC AS BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Angle Pangelinan gave a delightful birthday surprise party to Miss Carra last night. Ten or twelve couples, mutual friends of the young ladies, went in a body to the home of Miss Carra and surprised her greatly when they rushed into the house.

The evening's chief pleasure was a happy diversion from the usual house-party as the crowd of young folks had a moonlight picnic on Damon Island in Moanalua Park. The young ladies had come well supplied with refreshments and these were eaten, much to the enjoyment of the young folks in a picnic style. At a late hour the final birthday felicitations were made to Miss Carra and the crowd caught the last car for town declaring that they wished such happy informal events came oftener.

King's sweetheart ablaze with diamonds whose price was wrung from the State and whose equivalent in food might have saved many a life, trouble set in. The nation murmured. The King was deaf to the growing voice of complaint and spent more and more money on Mlle. Deslys.

Members of the bankrupt nation did not enjoy seeing $500,000 worth of jewels taken by a king to a foreign shore. (That is the sum Manuel is said to have spent on Mlle. Deslys.)
The people, too, who had been turned into the streets to starve, growled when they heard that a huge suite of rooms in the royal palace had been assigned to the Ju Jitsu girl. Stickers for martyr and electric were shocked to learn that Mlle. des Lis accompanied the King on all his travels.

But Manuel continued to perform the world-old kingly feat of dancing on a volcano. His favorite holiday was Paris. There so riotously gay was he that the French police were forced to take him in tow and to close various famous local resorts whenever he was in the city.

The young King's ministers tried to gloss over his antics, meeting the public protests with assurances that this was a last bachelor "fling" and that presently Manuel would marry and settle down into a paragon of royal propriety.

The excuse did not serve. Manuel continued to spend most of his time with Mlle. Deslys shutting his ears to all complaints.

As in the case of Henry III of France and other royalties in the same tastes, the "fling" lasted just a trifle longer than did the sorely tried patience of the people. Manuel Lawke to find himself kicked off his throne and to know he had thrown away a kingly career at the feet of a dancing girl.

Queen Mother In a Rage at Those Who Have Downed Her Son.

LISBON, Oct. 7.—The Capital, a Republican newspaper, gives the following description of the flight of the royal family:

Between 5 and 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, the Duke of Oporto embarked on the yacht Amelle and sailed for Ericelra, a fishing town on the Atlantic coast 22 miles north-west of Lisbon.

At the same time the Queen Mother Amelle left Cintra by automobile for Mafra. She was followed an hour later by the Dowager Queen Maria Pia. King Manuel, after escaping by a rear door of the palace, in the course of the bombardment, went to Cintra and thence to Mafra.

At 10 o'clock the royal yacht arrived at Ericelra. In the meantime the royal family, escorted by 20 horsemen from the Mafra Cavalry School, proceeded to Ericelra. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon they embarked upon fishing boats, accompanied by two attendants and two ladies of their court, and carrying their personal baggage. The fishing boats put out to sea and at some distance from the harbor transferred their royal passengers to the yacht Amelle.

One person who said he witnessed the embarkation of the royal family, said the Duke of Oporto boarded the yacht at Cascaes weeping, and said he dreaded leaving his beloved country. He complained that the downfall of the monarchy was due wholly to the fatal influence of his sister-in-law, the Queen Mother, and added that he had found it impossible to give his nephew, the King, liberal counsel.

The narrator said that when King Manuel and his mother boarded the yacht the King was plainly glad at having escaped. Before leaving he shook hands with the fisher folk and appeared to be moved by their devotion.

The Queen Mother, however, was described as being in a state of fury. According to this observer, she actually gritted her teeth and threatened vengeance on the revolutionists when the royal family returned to the throne.

TREATED WIFE WITH CRUELTY

Ella H. Mitchell has filed suit for divorce from her husband, Albert E. Mitchell, the grounds alleged being excessive and habitual cruel treatment.

Mitchell is an inspector at the Customs House and the couple were married in 1906, the bride being a widow with three children.

In the complaint it is alleged that Mitchell has refused to support his wife, that he whipped the boy with a horsewhip and upon the mother remonstrating he turned the whip on her.

That in addition to cruelties at various times in December 1907 he threatened to kill her with a revolver which he held in his hand at the time.

The wife states that she has real estate valued at $2000.

He complained that the downfall of the monarchy was due wholly to the fatal influence of his sister-in-law, the Queen Mother, and added that he had found it impossible to give his nephew, the King, liberal counsel.

The narrator said that when King Manuel and his mother boarded the yacht the King was plainly glad at having escaped. Before leaving he shook hands with the fisher folk and appeared to be moved by their devotion.

The Queen Mother, however, was described as being in a state of fury. According to this observer, she actually gritted her teeth and threatened vengeance on the revolutionists when the royal family returned to the throne.

MISTS DESCEND; FERN SMILED

Please Elect Us to Office and a Golden Age Is Yours.

Gentle mists that were occasionally wafted over the hills and across the taro and cane patches, falling upon a crowd of about two hundred Democrats, their wives, sisters, cousins, aunts and children, at Kailhi Camp last evening, were considered a good omen by many of the candidates whose names appear on the ticket of the Great Untrified, and within whose manly breast there springs perennially the hope of election.

A faint tracing of a rainbow across the southern and moonlit sky caused Wade Warren Thayer, who has aspirations toward filling City and County Attorney John Cathcart's chair, to speak in most optimistic terms concerning the outlook for a sweeping Democratic victory at the polls. Thayer predicted that the Democratic rooster would sail through the ticket with tail feathers erect. He apparently took consolation over the fact that Maine has clambered into the Democratic bandwagon.

Leater Petrie talked for a businesslike administration of affairs of the city and county. Petrie advocated a straight-ticket vote. He modestly pointed to his record while with the Oahu Railway company, and in so doing he at least made a decided hit with one elderly lady, who descended upon the blushing and retiring Petrie and would decorate him with becoming floral tributes. Incidentally, the Petrie pictures were in great demand by a bevy of Hawaiian damsels, and to appease the popular clamor the supply was soon exhausted, and those pointed presentations of "Deacon Trent and 'Bill' Jarrett were finally substituted under the friendly cover of darkness.

There was no very radical intemperate cast against the long-suffering Republican party at the Kailhi meeting last night. When "Great Kahuna" Pe heva swooped down upon the defenseless crowd, fresh from a season of oratory at Punchbowl, the crowd rather expected that there would be some verbal pyrotechnics. Pacheco did state that the Republicans were long on promises, but wonderfully shy upon performance.

The list of speakers included Mayor Fern, who took occasion to deny the insinuations coming from Candidate John Lane, regarding the Fern incapacity to attend to ordinary business details while an employe of the local steamship company. "His Honor" and the red motor car swept down upon the Kailhi camp gathering, and the bevy of Hawaiian ladies and gentlemen who had been engaged to make melody launched forth in a specially-composed lyric in honor of the incumbent in the mayor's office.

Treasurer Trent jollied the school children who were more or less mixed up in the crowd of politicians. As Trent is the city and county paymaster, his appearance brought forth an enthusiastic reception, and despite the falling raindrops upon a head partially denuded of hair, Trent advised the people—men, women and children—to vote or, at any rate, talk the straight ticket.

"Bill" Jarrett stepped upon a small improvised platform, turned his beaming countenance to the four quarters of the square, stepped down again, but during that time the sheriff of Honolulu had unburdened himself of sufficient remarks to bear out his record as the champion short-distance orator in the present campaign. Someone in the crowd held a stop-watch upon Charlie Rose, the aspiring deputy sheriff, and he therefore came under the wire a close second to his chief. Both Jarrett and Rose appealed to the people for support upon the merits of their past records.

The weather had evidently been too dry out Kailhi way for extensive opening of mud batteries. A little later along in the evening Supervisor McClellan and Manager Rivenburgh appeared, and they also added their mite to the flow of oratory.

Other speakers were Candidates S. Kaohela, Robert Pahau and others. David Kupihea officiated as referee during the conversational bouts.

MOTOR CARS

THE Chalmers "30" is the only medium priced car that was ever awarded the Glidden Trophy

Of all the Glidden Tours, that of 1910 was the longest, and by far the hardest. It lasted for sixteen running days and covered 2,851 miles. It started at Cincinnati and went "by way of Dallas, Texas," through thirteen States to Chicago.

Words and pictures cannot make plain the racking cobblestone roads of Kentucky—the stump-studded forest trails of the Tennessee mountains—the swamps of Arkansas—the deep, treacherous sands of Texas—the mud of Kansas—the bridgeless southern streams or the sweltering heat that punished cars and men alike.

It is the opinion of experts who made this tour that no car in the world could have completed it with a perfect score. Yet, from Cincinnati to Louisville—to Nashville—to Sheffield, Ala.—to Memphis—to Little Rock—to Hot Springs—to Texarkana—to Dallas—to Lawton, Oklahoma—to Oklahoma City—to Wichita, Kansas—seven consecutive days out of the sixteen, through the hardest part of the trip—and for five days after every other car on the tour had been penalized, not a single point could be assessed against the Chalmers "30"—the $1500 car—$1600 with magneto, Prest-O-Lite tank and gas lamps.

In all the history of motoring, there is no performance like this. The Glidden Trophy has never been won before by a car costing less than $4000.

If you are thinking of buying a car, what better proof could you ask of reliable performance under all conditions than you have in the Glidden Tour record of the winning Chalmers "30"?

The Chalmers "30" has never been defeated in any important motoring event by any car of its price and power class. The Chalmers "Forty" won the Detroit Trophy in the 1909 Glidden Tour. Chalmers cars have won more events of all kinds in proportion to the number entered than other cars.

In addition to perfect mechanical performance, you get in the Chalmers all the beauty of lines and finish that you can find in any car.

What more could you ask in any car at any price than you get in the medium-priced Chalmers?

We have never had so large a volume of business as we have now. There has never been so satisfying a demand for Chalmers cars as there has been since we announced our 1911 models. Yet this demand will not affect the Chalmers policy of building cars for quality, not quantity.

We suggest, therefore, that you place your order now, so as to be sure of getting the car that is your first choice. Chalmers cars are the first choice of those who look most carefully into the automobile question and know the most about automobile values.

1911 cars are now on exhibition. Deliveries are being made according to schedule.

FRANK J. GOULD TO WATCH HIS HORSES RACE IN FRANCE

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—When Frank J. Gould's horses compete on the French race courses this fall he will be there to watch them. His horses netted him more than 70,000 francs last season, and he expects to branch out more next season. When Mr. Gould sailed from New York he was accompanied by the former Miss Edith Kelly, whom he is reported to have married. Both refused to deny or affirm whether they were married, and as their names do not appear on the passenger list of the Mauretania persons were allowed to draw their own conclusions. One thing that Mr. Gould was most emphatic about was a request that the report that he was to renounce his American citizenship be denied as vehemently as possible.

WASHINGTON, October 8.—One of the most interesting bits of political information that has come to Washington in the past week is a direct tip from Wisconsin that Senator La Follette has repudiated Roosevelt as an ally, if indeed he ever recognized him as such.

Some of the politicians in Washington ascribe it to professional jealousy. It is known here that La Follette's followers in Wisconsin are al-

AGENT STEVEN WINS HIS CASE

FONG TELLS WHY HE DID IT

The Charge of Attempted Abduction Did Not Stick.

Special recruiting agent O. A. Steven, who has been operating in the southern Philippine islands for the past two years, in the interests of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, continues to meet with some spirited opposition from the employers of native labor down that way.

Steven has just been cleared of a charge made against one of his assistants who is alleged to have attempted the abduction of a half-dozen boys from a Baptist Mission school at Iloilo.

As a result of the first court proceedings in which Hawaiian Planters' emigration officials have figured the charges brought against the agents were dismissed by the local justice of the peace.

It appears that on the last run of the Panay to Cebu, Jose Alvas, who was on his way to Cebu to enter the employ of Mr. D. A. Steven, representing the company, and thinking that he saw a chance to do some work before leaving Iloilo, gathered up six boys from the Baptist Mission Bible School and the Mission Industrial School of Jarad and took them along to Cebu with him. Charges were filed against him by those in charge of the Bible School and his arrest was ordered, but there was not sufficient time for service of the warrant before the Panay sailed and the arrest was not effected until Alvas reached Cebu. When the matter came to the attention of Mr. Steven, he immediately employed a representative to investigate the affair in Iloilo, bringing the boys back with him, except the one who had gone from the Industrial School.

The charges filed against Alvas set forth the circumstances under which it was alleged that the boys had been abducted from the school. Those in charge alleged that two of the boys had been placed in the school by their parents only on condition that the instructors would become responsible for the boys. At the trial two of the boys produced letters of recommendation from the principal of the Bible school given just prior to their going away with Alvas, another produced his cedula showing that he was of sufficient age to care for himself, and the other two testified that they had never been placed under the care of the Bible school by their parents. Upon this evidence Mr. Montenegro dismissed the case.—Iloilo Enterprise.

The Warsaw (Poland) street-car company has promised to consider the wage demands of its employees and a nominal service throughout the city was restored. One thousand strikers who were arrested have been released.

HOWARD TURNS TO THE DRAMA

Proves That Company's Abilities Are Not Restricted To Comedy.

Interpretation of the Thomas masterpiece, Mr. Howard does not follow the lines laid down by John Mason, who created the part, but invests it with his own ideas and makes Brookfield of a lighter, less dignified but more human type. He is given good support from the entire company. The story centers around a murder committed by young Clay Whipple while in a fit of superstitious terror. James B. Norton makes the part of Clay a good one, boyish but with evidence of strength in coming maturity. His mother, Mrs. Helen Whipple is one of the leading roles and is well played by Miss Marion Dunn while Mrs. Alice Campbell is handled with understanding by Miss Dorcas Matthews. Charles E. Murphy is good in the disreputable role of Frank Hardmuth, and Guy Hittner lends a pleasing touch as Justice Prentice of the supreme court. Betty Johnson in the juvenile part of Viola Campbell is natural and pretty, and the other members lend their best efforts.

"The Witching Hour" is pitched in a low key, and the scenes are so closely woven by the dialogue that to miss one sentence often means to lose the meaning of a scene. It is a hard play to follow, and what with cars roaring outside and the sudden clamor of rain on the roof of the Orpheum, the audience followed somewhat lamely, but it was worth following. It is a play that is good to see from many standpoints, not the least of which is the sentimental. It will be repeated tonight, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night.

It is no small feat to turn from the broadest of comedy to the finest of drama, from the farcical to the psychological, and to score a success in both, but that is what the George B. Howard company has done this week at the Orpheum. The players followed Ade's comedy, "Father and the Boys," with Augustus Thomas' masterpiece, "The Witching Hour," and the opening of the latter last night afforded an evening of pleasure for a large audience.

"The Witching Hour" affords Mr. Howard an opportunity to get entirely away from farce-comedy. Save for a little cynical, quiet humor, the part of Jack Brookfield, gambler, played by Mr. Howard has few comedy lines and the entire play depends for its effect on unusually strong situations, clever character delineation and the introduction of the fascinating psychological element. This element in "The Witching Hour" is a dramatized argument for thought transference, or mental telepathy as some scientists prefer it.

"The Witching Hour," however, is not a dry treatise on telepathy, from the standpoint of a college professor, but a wonderfully woven combination of action and sentiment, the latter brought in so deftly, so delicately and sweetly that it is neither obtrusive nor cloying. Critics who find fault with the dramatic construction of "The Witching Hour" are either ignorant or unsympathetic, for it is apparent that every sentence is a deliberate step toward the effect he seeks to obtain.

GOOD TALENT AT PICTURE HOUSES

All the amusement places on the vaudiville-picture circuit changed their films and vaudiville acts last night and a few moments spent at each place showed that there is a rare gathering of talent at the present time in Honolulu. There is no need to complain of lack of theatrical amusements when such artists as the Brown and Whitcomb dancing team, or the midget dancer, Clara Keating, are showing here. The first two named are showing at the Park Theater and are delighting large audiences every night with their perfect dancing. Miss Keating is at the Empire and she is increasing her number of admirers nightly with her catchy songs and distinctive mannerisms. Other people at the different places are Rance Smith and the Masbotté Sisters, acrobatic dancers, at the Novelty Theater. The Park has five people all told, the two mentioned, Albert the

OIL BURNING THE SUBJECT
Local Engineers Are Treated to Instructive Lecture On New Fuel.
The Hawaiian Engineering Association held a most interesting meeting last night and the subject that held the attention of every member was a lecture on oil burning and its advantages over coal.
The lecture was given by Frank Clark who is considered a mechanical expert and thoroughly up to date on the oil burning question. The lecture was added to by the exhibition of a series of slides. The slides were prepared purposely by Mr. Clarke, and show the various sorts of oil-burning plants, burners, boilers, etc., now being used in California.
At the end of the lecture a volley of questions were fired at Mr. Clark all of which he answered right off hand and in a convincing manner. The lecture was considered most instructive and highly appreciated by all there. The meeting ended with a rousing vote of thanks to the lecturer.

Hotel St. Francis

Union Square, San Francisco
Under the Management of James Woods

FACING the beautiful park in the heart of the city, which is the theatre of the principal events of the famous festivals of San Francisco, this hotel, in environment and atmosphere, expresses most pleasantly the comfortable spirit of old California.

The royalty and nobility of the Old World and the Far East and the men of high achievement in America who assemble here contribute to the cosmopolitan atmosphere of an institution which represents the hospitality and individuality of San Francisco to the traveler.

The building, which marks the farthest advance of science in service, has now the largest capacity of any hotel structure in the West, and upon completion of the Post street annex will be the largest caravansary in the world.

SAYS ROOSEVELT TOLD TWO LIES

(Associated Press Cable.)
ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Professor Edwin Hamlin Woodruff, instructor in English at Cornell University, created a furor this evening at a big political rally held in this city, when he openly charged ex-President Roosevelt with being an unmitigated liar.
The professor deliberately used the "shorter and uglier word" as applying to Colonel Roosevelt, declaring that when the ex-President denied sending Bellamy Storer to the Vatican, to endeavor to induce the Pope to make a cardinal of Archbishop Ireland, he was an unmitigated liar.
The old sensation has been revived of the statements of Bellamy Storer and his wife, Maria Storer, to whom Roosevelt, when President, wrote, addressing her as "My Dear Maria," and in which letters, having to do with the mission to the Vatican, Roosevelt frequently referred to her husband's efforts to secure for him the cardinalship of Archbishop Ireland.
The archbishop has for some time refused to further discuss the matter, as has Roosevelt himself, though the letters indicating that it was Roosevelt's desire that Storer accomplish the object referred to, have been made public.
Professor Woodruff went on to say that Roosevelt became twice a liar when he denied that Harriman had subscribed to the corruption fund used for Roosevelt's election to the Presidency.

FLORIDA STORM MAKES WRECKS

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 20.—Communication has been established with the rest of the State and the outside world for the first time since Sunday, and reports are being received of the damage done in the path of the great storm which swept Cuban provinces and a section of this State.
It is ascertained that the losses have not been as great as was thought to be the case and damage to property is not serious.
The greater damage seems to have been accomplished at sea and the loss to shipping will prove to be considerable. The French liner Louisiana has gone ashore at Key West without loss of life.
So far, the facts gathered are that four persons died and scores were injured during the terrific winds, and many homes were demolished.

POLE DISCOVERER GETS ADVANCEMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.—Commander Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, has been advanced to the rank of captain of civil engineers of the United States Navy, on account of the retirement of U. S. White for age.
Rear-Admiral Milroy, formerly commandant at the San Francisco training station, has been retired for age.

BALLOON MAKES 1100 MILES.

VILLEMARIE, Quebec, Oct. 20.—The Helvetic, the Swiss entry in the balloon race for distance which started from St. Louis on Tuesday, under the auspices of the Aero Club, landed here today, eleven hundred miles from the point of starting. This establishes a new American record, which formerly stood at 873.2 miles, made from here in 1907. The world's record is 1193 miles, made in 1909 from Vincennes, France, to Korotychew, Russia.

DEPENDABLE PROPRIETARY MEDICINES.

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for thirty years and today hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures, as has Lydia E. NEW RULES. TRYOUT GAME BY COLLEGE

PUNAHOU WILL PLAY GAME THIS AFTERNOON

Seniors and Sophs to Tackle Juniors, Freshmen and Rest of Bunch—Game to Be at Alexander Field.

This afternoon at Alexander Field lovers of football will be able to see how the new rules work out in actual play. The students of the game have been drilled in the new way of playing, and they are all conversant with the important details. It, however, remains to be seen how the men will stick to the new, as against the old, when they become excited.

Another difficulty that is anticipated is that referees with the required amount of experience will be lacking at some of the games that are to be pulled off during the season. Still, the same difficulty has been met in the past, and there is no doubt that, with the aid of a book and some common sense, the rules will soon be instilled into the minds of players and umpires.

The teams this afternoon will be made up of Oahu College students, and the seniors and sophs will go up against an aggregation of postgraduates, juniors, freshmen and preps. The game is scheduled to start at half-past three o'clock, and by that time there should be quite a crowd of followers of the game present. There is much interest being shown in the new rule proposition, and all the veterans of the gridiron will surely roll up to see how things work out.

There has been a deal of practice going on, and the teams should put up a decent showing this afternoon. Bill Desha will coach the seniors, and his expert services will be of much use to the lads. Hind, Mackenzie and Ran Hitchcock will act for the juniors, and they will leave nothing undone that makes their team play better every minute.

The officials selected to run the game are as follows: W. Rawlins, S. Lowrey, D. J. Ricker, C. Akina, J. Mohr and L. Williams. These young gentlemen will have their hands full for a while this afternoon, but it is expected that they will pull through all right.

WHITE IS AGAIN BEATEN BY BALLOU

Chess Tourney Attracts Large Crowd of Experts.

Last night at the University Club Judge Ballou again defeated J. W. White at chess, but it was a strenuous session that kept all the experts guessing how it was going to end. The game took over two hours and a half to play, and during that time there was not a sound to be heard anywhere. All were intent on the board that recorded the moves of the players, and when it was seen that White had managed to get out of a tight place early in the evening, a sigh of relief went up from his supporters, who thought the end had arrived.

Ballou played finely and before long had White in difficulties. The scheme worked out by the judge turned out a success, and White was defeated for the third time in the present tourney.

Should the judge win one more game, the match will be his. The conditions are that the pair play on till one man has won four games. White's chances are something like the Chicago ball team at present, and unless he wins four games running, he will be out of it altogether. Another session will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening next and a big crowd is sure to attend.

This evening at 7 o'clock the Honolulu Yacht Club will hold its first quarterly meeting at the Myrtle Boat Club. Some important matters are to be discussed, and it is hoped that all the members will turn up and take a hand in the doings.

SOCCER. MEETING IS NOW CALLED

PLAYERS WILL GET TOGETHER NEXT WEEK

Secretary Walker Wants As Many Teams as Possible to Get Into the Running—Four Are Assured.

All the soccer football men are getting worked up over the proposition of starting their season, and although High Chief Jim Fildes is not yet back from Scotland, it has been decided to hold a meeting next week. Secretary Walker has sent out a call for the clubs to gather together at the Scottish Thistle Club on Thursday night next, and to be on the spot at 8 o'clock sharp.

The soccer men feel the call of the short pants and the grassy field, and the old bunch that used to play at the league grounds last year will surely be on hand again to put up something like the games that were played against the men from the ill-fated warship Bedford.

There were some fine games of soccer last season and fair-sized crowds turned out to see the teams at work. The outlook for this year is bright, and there is no doubt that there will be at least four teams in the league. Secretary Walker announces that new clubs will be especially welcome, and he hopes that besides the Males, High School, Puna and Iron Works, other teams will be made up and pitted against the better-known ones.

The Iron Works team is already on the job, and the players are such a lot of hustlers that there is no telling what they will do this year. Last year their captain kept them well together, and there is no doubt that this season will find them just as good as ever.

The High School soccer players also take a great interest in the game, and they possess some very promising material. The Highs are an all right bunch, and they go in for everything with a vim that carries them far.

It is to be hoped that everybody interested in soccer attend the meeting on Thursday night next, and that the season will open up very soon afterwards.

DOTS AND DASHES.

The High School soccer team will be a good one, and no less than eighteen students and ex-students have put their names down on the list. They are as follows: P. P. Frendo, Reginald H. Rath, A. Hickman, Valentine Marcellino, Alex. May, Frank Fernandez, D. K. Sherwood, William Rice, Clarence H. Dyer, Marcus Monsarrat, Robert Chillingworth, J. K. Clarke, U. F. Lemon, H. P. Chilton, J. L. Blaisdell, O. Soares, Solomon Hoe and Henry Chillingworth.

Many bets were made in Honolulu on the world's series, and the Chicago Cubs were the favorites right up till the start of the play. With Philadelphia three straight games to the good, the chances of Chicago look very slim.

There were quite a number of swimmers down at the Healan boat-house yesterday afternoon and some fine sport was had on the chute. Some of the aquatic experts got up a race, and Kruger won out from Broderick and Cunha.

Now that Stanley Ketchell is dead, Billy Papke holds the championship of the middleweight class. Papke is in Australia at present, and he will never be able now to have another go at Ketchell for the honors.

SOCIETY FAVORITES ARE ENGAGED IN CONTEST

Stokes Whips the Man Who Said He Could Knock Him Out In Four Rounds—Much Enthusiasm Shown.

Behind closely guarded doors, with a password used by those in the secret to get in, society pulled off a prizefight yesterday afternoon at the Western Club, Golden Gate avenue and Octavia street says the Examiner. There was a crowd of about two hundred prominent business men, lawyers and doctors present, and not until the lights were snapped on over the ring did outsiders or even members of the club know that a fight was scheduled. The principals were young Norbert Shorb, the brother of Mrs. Ynez Shorb-White-Buck, the well-known society leader, and Charles L. Stokes, who is in the oil business with offices close to those of N. N. Shorb and Company, real estate dealers, in Suter street.

Shorb was the challenger, and the fight was for a purse of $300, Shorb fighting to make good his promise to "put away" Stokes in four rounds. He didn't do it, and although he fought gamely he was once knocked out of the ring and barely escaped a knockout.

Gaston Ashe, brother of Porter Ashe and former lightweight champion of Harvard, was the referee, and Dr. E. C. Schmidt handled the gang. In the crowd were a large number of University of California men and members of the D. K. E. Fraternity, who cheered their favorites and urged them on. There was no decision, but Shorb failed and lost his bet.

In spite of the fact that Stokes, who has fought many amateur bouts, didn't have to beat Shorb to win, he carried the fight to the society man from the first tap of the gong. Shorb was groggy in the last round, and made many wild lunges for Stokes, but Stokes simply kept away from him. Shorb's friends admitted that Stokes could have knocked him out at any time in the last round.

Barely Able to Keep on His Feet. Shorb did not know how the fight was ended, and as he was helped to the dressing-room by his seconds, asked:

"Was I on my feet at the end of the last round?" "He was on his feet, but that was about all. His face was covered with blood and he swayed unsteadily on his feet as he gamely tried to reach Stokes, who easily avoided him. Stokes' swings carried him to the ropes, where he held himself up or clinched until he could see where he was and set himself for another swing.

A. E. Van Doozer, who conducts a fashionable physical culture school in Union Square, was Shorb's trainer and principal second. Van Doozer has a few fights in his own favor. During the last month he has beaten George M. Babcock, the wealthy publisher, and George L. Woolrich, exchange teller of the Wells-Fargo Nevada National Bank. The fights were in the Claridge apartment in Taylor street and Van Doozer accused both men of being too friendly with his wife.

Shorb has been attending Van Doozer's school. Van Doozer declared that in Shorb he had discovered a world beater and Shorb was the star pupil. He even got too swift for Van Doozer, according to his teacher, and was seriously considering the fight game instead of real estate as a profession or business, according to those in the know.

He began to tell what he could do with his hands and deprecate the performance of the other pupils. A couple of weeks ago he was entertaining himself and friends with his theories about boxing.

Stokes, who by the way beat Pomeroy, a crack of the Olympic Club, in one round, three years ago and is a well known amateur on the coast, overheard the talk and was one of the party with Shorb.

"I can box a little myself," said Stokes. Shorb looked him over.
