Came Very Near Dying

Blood Bad; Abscesses Formed; Health Gone.
We are glad to publish the testimonial of Miss Annie Snook of Auckland, New Zealand, who suffered intensely for years, and who was quickly cured when she obtained the right remedy.

"I was a strong, healthy woman until about five years ago, and while living in England was recovering from an attack of measles. I took a chill, had a relapse and came very near dying. My blood was left in a very bad state, abscesses formed on my body. I was confined to my bed two-thirds of the time. At times I was unable to move. For two years I failed to obtain any relief. So finally I was advised to come to New Zealand. After coming here I remained about the same, trying many remedies without obtaining any benefit. About a year ago after reading one of your advertisements I determined to try

DR. AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Very soon after using it the abscesses began to heal and my general health very greatly improved. I followed up the treatment and am now as strong as ever. I cannot too highly recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier and tonic."

For constipation take Dr. Ayer's Pills. They promptly relieve and surely cure. Take them with Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. One aids the other.

NOTED EDUCATOR IS HERE

Col. Parker, Principal of the Chicago Normal School, Arrives.

Will Lecture Before the Summer School—A Course of Thirty Lectures Provided For—Notes on Visitor's Life.

Col. Francis Wayland Parker, one of the foremost educators in the United States, arrived in the Miowera this morning. While in the city, he will be the guest of H. S. Townsend, Inspector General of schools, Punahou street. Col. Parker comes here to lecture before the Summer school on elementary schoolroom work, which he will treat exhaustively. The course will consist of 30 lectures, or two each day for the space of six weeks. As yet, a place to have these lectures delivered, has not been decided on. It is very generally believed, however, that Progress Hall will be the place.

Col. Francis Wayland Parker was born in the town of Bedford (now Manchester), N. H., October 9, 1837. That he is a born educator will be readily believed when it is known that his great grandfather on his mother's side was Librarian of Harvard College and a classmate of Hancock; that his mother taught for several years before her marriage. All the children were born teachers. From earliest childhood, Col. Parker thought and talked of being a teacher. In 1859 he was appointed to the principalship of the graded school at Carrollton, Ill., where he remained until the breaking out of the war in the spring of 1861. He resigned and enrolled in the New Hampshire regiment and fought all through the war, climbing from a private in the ranks to the office of brevet colonel. He was wounded at the battle of Deep Bottom in August of 1864 and was taken prisoner by the Confederates at Magnolia, N. C., and released just as peace was declared. From this time he went from one school to another, all the while bettering himself and carving out a reputation that, even now, continues to grow brighter and brighter.

In January of 1883, Col. Parker took the principalship of the Cook County Normal School, where he has remained to the present day. Two years ago this institution was made the Chicago Normal School.

In his work, Col. Parker has, perhaps, stirred up more education all thought than any other man in the United States. There is very much opposition to his views and he is constantly in a controversy with some prominent educators. Such men as Prof. Harris, Commissioner of Education in Washington, D. C., Dr. Draper, President of the Illinois State University, Stanley Hall, President of Clark University, and others, are enthusiastic supporters of Col. Parker, although they do not agree with him in all his ideas. Three years ago he published his last and greatest book, "Talks on Pedagogics." This work called forth a great deal of thought in educational circles in the United States, England and Germany in particular. In the last named country it received very careful attention in the universities.

The great feature of the Chicago Normal School, of which Col. Parker is the principal, is its practice department, more especially in the primary classes. Col. Parker has always been a worker in elementary education, although he himself studied in the University of Berlin.

The educational department here wishes understood that the public will be admitted free to any and all of the lectures to be given by Col. Parker.

MARRIAGE LAST NIGHT.

Mr. Q. H. Berrey and Miss Jennie Kammerer Enter the Conjugal State.

Mr. Q. H. Berrey, manager of the Hawaiian Commercial Agency, and a well known business man, and Miss Jennie Kammerer, a popular and widely known school teacher who last taught at Kailua, Hawaii, were married last evening.

The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Harris at Makiki. The house was beautifully decorated and ablaze with lights.

The happy couple, attended by Miss Ida Horner, who was bridesmaid, and Miss Ethel Vernon, maid of honor, Mr. Ed. Towse, best man, and J. Q. Wood, groomsmen, were married by Rev. Alex. Mackintosh. Dr. C. T. Rodgers gave the bride away.

During the ceremony a native orchestra played softly on the lanai, and when the couple were pronounced man and wife the strains of the beautiful Mendelssohn wedding march were heard, and Mr. and Mrs. Berrey received the congratulations of their many friends assembled to witness the happy event.

Refreshments were served at tables laid on the lanai. The bride's gown was of white silk, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and maidenhair ferns. The bride-maid and maid of honor were becomingly attired in white organdie with satin ribbon trimmings. After the supper the bridal couple left the festive scene amid a shower of rice and old shoes.

They will reside with Mr. and Mrs. Dodge on Emma street.

CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.

Two Young Men on Their Way to Manila With Minnesota Boys.

In F. A. Jackson and C. A. Glung of San Francisco one may see a pair of earnest, bright-eyed young men bound to Manila with the Minnesota boys, under the banner and guiding star of Christian work. They are members of the Christian Commission and are the pioneers to Manila. They dress in blue suits made just as officers' uniforms are, and on their caps are the words "Christian Commission" in letters of gold. Ask them what their object in going into the field of battle with the soldiers is and they will answer, "To preach the gospel in the camp and to provide such comforts for the boys as it is in their power to—in short, to carry on work similar to that of the Y. M. C. A."

The young men are sent at the expense of the U. S. Government and are free to go to and from their ship when they please.

Wednesday night a meeting was held in the Y. M. C. A. hall, and Messrs. Jackson and Glung were among the speakers. They outlined the nature of their work. Dr. Berger, Prof. Richards and Secretary Coleman were the speakers. The hall was crowded. W. U. Weedon presided. Another meeting of the same kind was held yesterday evening.

WAR NEWS PER MIOWERA

Every Indication of Quick Descent on Santiago de Cuba.

Very Doubtful that Spain Will Send Fleet to Manila—Germany's Attitude Still Perplexing.

The S. S. Miowera, from Vancouver on June 30 and Victoria early on July 1, brings the following budget of war news:

French Opinions.

New York, June 29.—A dispatch to the World from Paris says: The French opinion is not yet well defined here in reference to the United States action in bringing the war to Europe. All the deputies in the Chamber who were consulted express fears of unforeseen complications as a result. The Temps praise Sagasta's sagacity in dissolving the Cortes, thus preventing the Government from being hampered as Palmerston was by the British Parliament during the Crimean war. The Journal des Debats says: Such a bombardment only exacerbates the populations bombarded. They are excitable only when heralding serious attempts to take important steps. Neutrality laws will be strictly enforced and the American fleet may easily find itself in some straits. La Presse calls the movement Mahavelle, as it is at getting much by seeking a great deal more.

The continued delay of Camara's fleet in the Suez Canal is taken to mean that fear is felt in Madrid that an American squadron will bombard the Spanish coast. Camara is known to have sufficient coal to take him to Perim, as he is accompanied by two coal transports. It is believed that he desires to coal at Suez as he would thereby effect a substantial saving on the price payable at Perim. It is expected that the time for reflection gained by delays over the coaling question will enable Madrid to recall the fleet from an enterprise regarded as the acme of absurdity and recklessness.

A Fight to the Death.

Madrid, June 29, 10 a. m.—Dispatches received from Manila today under date of June 24, say that the Spaniards are determined to fight to the death. There is every reason to believe that when the American troops arrive desperate fighting will occur on land and sea. It is supposed at Manila that the German warships will prevent the bombardment of that place and it is alleged that Prince Henry of Prussia is on his way there on board a warship. The Spaniards are said to be actively preparing for the defence of the city. General Aguilardo, the insurgent leader, declares that the family of Captain-General Augusti, who are prisoners in his hands, are at Panpanga and are well treated.

McKinley Losing Sleep.

Washington, D. C., June 29.—President McKinley was up till well after 1 o'clock this morning going over the war situation with Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair. Gold Medal, Midwinter Fair.

DR.

PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

A Pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. 40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

Secretary Alger. Adj. Gen. Corbin was also with him until a late hour. During the time the three were together at the White House there was some informal discussion of the situation and subsequently it was stated positively that the dispatch of reinforcements from here would not cause Gen. Shafter to delay any plans he may have formulated. The President frequently of late has been sitting up until an early hour in the morning watching the developments and waiting for news from the army in Cuba. As a result of the late hour at which he retired, President McKinley was late in beginning work today.

Shafter Will Not Delay.

Washington, June 29.—General Shafter has reported to General Miles that he can take Santiago in 48 hours, but indicates that the undertaking might involve considerable loss. He is fully aware of the approach of Spanish reinforcements, and it is believed here that he intends to take the town immediately and that the news of the battle might be expected at any time.

Agitation for Peace.

London, June 30.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says that Capt. General Augusti has renewed his request for permission to promise the Philippine insurgents extensive reforms. Now that the Cortes has closed, it is understood that Senor Puigerver, Minister of Finance and Senor Gamasa, Minister of Public Instruction, desire to resign. Senor Gamasa opposed pursuing the war until Spain is politically and financially ruined. The whole world having recognized her gallant sacrifices and traditional bravery, he thinks the Government ought to have the moral courage to fix a reasonable limit for national sacrifices. It is an open secret that Senor Moret and many Liberal statesmen share the views of Senor Gamasa. The peace agitation is spreading in the Provinces, but not at Madrid.

The Manila Squadron.

The Government has completed arrangements for coaling and provisioning Admiral Camara's squadron, and he should now be able to reach Manila before the end of July after stopping at several points en route to receive instructions.

London, June 30.—The Madrid correspondent of the Times says: The Ministers deny the rumors that Spain is purchasing cruisers from China or other nations. According to El Imparcial the demand for a cash payment of canal dues delayed Admiral Camara's squadron. The dues, amounting, we are trustworthily informed, to less than 400,000 francs, are now paid. Duke Almodovar de Rio, Minister of Foreign Affairs, denied in council, El Imparcial says, that Italy refused to coal Admiral Camara. If the United States imagines that the threat to bombard Spanish ports would induce the Spaniards to recall Camara and to sue for peace the Americans are bound to be disappointed. The threat will only tend to excite the bull dog qualities of the Spanish national character. When these are aroused prudence and logic are alike powerless. Peace prospects, therefore, are much less bright than they were a week ago.

Germany's Interests.

New York, June 30.—A dispatch to the World from Berlin says: The World's correspondent reports on the best authority that Admiral Diederichs, in command of the German fleet in Asiatic waters, will not act alone at Manila. His instructions will be to do nothing without the consent of Admiral Dewey and the concurrence of the other foreign commanders. Yet private dispatches from Madrid report that the Spanish authorities and populace at Manila place their whole hope on Admiral Diederichs. They confidently believe that he will not permit a bombardment. Offense

MAY PASS THE TREATY YET

In the Meantime the Debate in Senate Continues.

Senator Pettigrew Tries the Petty Trick of Drawing a Red Herring Across the Trail.

Through the kindness of Mr. J. B. Atherton, the following telegram from Williams, Diamond & Co., San Francisco, to Castle & Cooke, Ltd., is laid before the readers of the BULLETIN. It was sent to Victoria just before the Miowera sailed:

We are just in receipt of the following telegram from our New York friends, dated today:

"Centrifugals 44c, market heavy; beans quiet, 9s 3/4d.

"Annexation Senate debate continues. An amendment abrogating labor contracts has been proposed by Pettigrew and is favored by some supporters, but will be opposed by committee. If votes sufficient are found available treaty will be adopted instead of House resolution. Senate has appropriated hundred forty-five thousand dollars for opening Pearl Harbor and purchase land, but it is not yet approved by House."

TRANSPORTS HAVE GONE.

General Merritt's Fleet is Now on the Way to Manila.

The transports have gone and the great excitement of the past three days has subsided. With the soldier boys has gone a vast amount of aloha and many wishes for success and health. The Indians, Morgan City, City of Para and Ohio started out early in the forenoon, while the Valencia and Newport remained alongside the Pacific Mail wharf until later. Shortly after 12 o'clock, the Valencia steamed out the channel.

At twelve o'clock the Newport swung out from the dock and, accompanied by the tug with the committee and band on board, proceeded to sea. The men on the ship sang the words to the air the band played and everybody cheered. The soldiers cheered for Honolulu, for the band, for the girls, for the National Guard and for the Government. When someone on the ship asked in a very loud voice, "What's the matter with the Hawaiian Government?" he was answered by all the boys in unison: "It's all right. Every time. Hip, hip, burrah!"

As the ship parted with the tug the bugle corps formed on the after deck and blared out a parting salute. The Belgic saluted the Newport when she passed the former vessel at anchor outside.

On the return of the tug to the wharf a big soldier boy was described sitting on a stanchion crying as if his heart would break. He had been left behind by mistake, having been told the Newport would not leave until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The Valencia left about a half an hour prior to the departure of the Newport. At that time the other four boats were hull down on the horizon.

GREAT WORK BY THE YALE

Statement that Spain is Sending a Fleet to Porto Rico.

Bad Condition of Things at Manila on Account of the Pigeheadedness of the Rebel Chief.

Below is the overflow of war news prepared for yesterday's issue, having come by the transport steamer Newport:

Glory Won by the Yale.

Washington, June 28. — The Navy Department today posted the following bulletin:

"Captain Sigsbee reports that on Wednesday afternoon, while off San Juan de Porto Rico, he was attacked by a Spanish unprotected cruiser and the Spanish torpedo-boat destroyer Terror. The Terror made a dash, which was awaited by the St. Paul. The St. Paul hit the Terror three times, killing one officer and two men and wounding several others. The Terror dropped back under cover of the fortifications with difficulty, and was towed into the harbor in a sinking condition, where she is now being repaired. Later a cruiser and a gunboat started out, but remained under protection of the forts."

In defeating the Terror Captain Sigsbee has rendered a most important service to our navy, and, indeed, to all navies. He has not only deprived Sampson's fleet of an apprehension of an attack in the rear some dark night by this vicious little boat, but he has demonstrated that an auxiliary cruiser is amply able to take care of herself against a torpedo gunboat, showing that the offensive power of this craft has been very much overrated.

The other Spanish cruiser referred to by Captain Sigsbee in his report as joining in the attack upon the St. Paul is supposed here to be the Alfonso XIII, an iron bark rigged cruiser built in 1887, of 3090 tons.

More Troops for Cuba.

Orders have been issued at Washington for the departure of another army expedition from Tampa for Santiago. It will be composed of about 9000 men, under Brigadier General Snyder, and six batteries of artillery, three light and three heavy. This will bring Shafter's force up to about 30,000 men.

Another Phantom Fleet.

The London Star prints a story to the effect that a part of Admiral Camara's fleet left him off Algieras, near Gibraltar, and is now on its way to Porto Rico "to join the squadron of torpedo boats which Captain Villamil has had concealed near there for three weeks past."

The correspondent adds: "This fleet will attack Admiral Sampson in the rear, while Admiral Cervera attempts a sortie simultaneously with the commencement of the land battle. Thus Admiral Sampson will be too preoccupied to help General Shafter."

The Manila Situation.

It is semi-officially announced in Berlin that Admiral Diederichs would intervene at Manila as soon as it might become necessary for the protection of German interests there. Such a measure, it is further stated, would have no political significance whatever.

A Call-Herald dispatch from Manila, dated June 23, reports serious complications. Aguinaldo, the rebel chief, has issued a circular saying it is probable he will invite the European powers to recognize and guarantee the complete independence of the Philippines. This leader in his complete ignorance of diplomacy and how to deal with European diplomats will soon involve himself inextricably in complications, the first of which will be a rupture with his American protectors, which is what Germany is aiming to secure.

The delay of American troops when their presence is of vital importance proves the United States was not prepared for war with Spain and is powerless to oppose a European combination. Would England engage in a big war to gain a slight supremacy in the Philippines?

If Aguinaldo is idiotic enough to desert his American protectors and throw himself into the hands of the European powers he will display ignorance of European methods in arranging affairs.

There can be only one or two results of this policy—either the Philippines would become divided among the great powers or be placed by them under Spanish rule again.

In the latter case God help the Philippines. They would have to pay for Spain's eventual defeat and pay the indemnity to the Americans also.

It is stated Aguinaldo had an interview with the German Admiral, Diederichs, yesterday. His small steam launch was circling around the German flagships, but I could not see that any one was allowed aboard.

To Attack Spain.

It has been definitely decided to send Commodore Watson with a flying squadron to attack the coast of Spain and Admiral Camara's fleet in the Mediterranean.

A bulletin of the Navy department designates it the Eastern squadron, and shows it to be made up as follows:

Flagship Newark, battleships Iowa and Oregon, cruisers Yosemite, Yankee and Dixie, and the colliers Scandia, Abarenda and Alexander. The advance will be made at once from Santiago.

Notes.

There is talk of impressing the steamer Umatilla as a Manila transport.

General Wheeler, in making a reconnaissance, dismounted and climbed a tree to get a good view.

General Miles will likely not go to Santiago. He has work mapped out for him to organize a large army corps for Porto Rico.

Upon the application of the United States Consul at Port Said, orders have been issued forbidding the coaling at that port of Admiral Camara's fleet until further orders.

Minister of Marine Aunon made a statement at Madrid on June 27 that Camara's squadron would leave Port Said for the Philippines that day.

Egypt's refusal to supply coal to Camara is strongly resented in Madrid as due to England's influence. It is regarded as direct proof of an Anglo-American entente.

The 1st Regiment, New York Volunteers, is ordered to San Francisco and thence to the Philippines.

The total number of troops which will be dispatched to Manila will approximate 21,000 men. Of these 10,000 have already left San Francisco in the first three expeditions.

The fourth expedition for Manila was to leave San Francisco between the 6th and 10th of July.

It is hoped to launch the fifth and last expedition by the 1st of August.

No word has yet been received of the arrival at Manila of the first expedition.

Hon. C. B. Bush, president of the Gilmer County (W. Va.) Court, says that he has had three cases of flux in his family, during the past summer, which he cured in less than a week with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mr. Bush also states, that in some instances there were twenty hemorrhages a day.—Glenville, W. Va. Path finder. This remedy has been used in nine epidemics of flux and one of cholera, with perfect success. It can always be depended upon for bowel complaint, even in its most severe forms. Every family should keep it at hand. The 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Benson, Smith Co., General Agents.

FAREWELL POI SUPPER.

Given in Honor of People About to Leave Honolulu.

A poi supper, a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Julian Monsarrat who leave for the States on the Gaelic today, and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Vos, who leave for the Orient in a few days, was given at the studio of Mr. Vos, at Holani Pa, last evening. The room was decorated with palms, ferns and other greens. Japanese lanterns were strung from the center to the corners of the room. The American, Dutch and Hawaiian flags draped together formed a part of the decorations. A native orchestra furnished music during the evening. Those present were the following: The Princess Kaiulani, Mrs. E. K. Wilder, Mrs. Paul Neumann, Mrs. C. L. Wight, Miss Finckler, Mrs. Coney, Mrs. J. H. Coney of Kauai, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Focke, General Whittier and Major Kilbourne of General Merritt's staff, Frank Millet, the artist and writer, Captain March, Commander of the Astor Battery, Captain Strother, Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, Frank Unger and J. M. Monsarrat.

"Our customers say you manufacture three of the best remedies on earth," said the mercantile firm of Haas, Harris, Brim & McLain, of Dawson, Ga., in a recent letter to the Chamberlain Medicine Co. This is the universal verdict. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the finest preparation in the world for rheumatism, neuralgia, lame back, quinsy, sore throat, cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, pains and swellings. A bottle of this liniment in the house, will save a great deal of suffering. Buy it at Benson, Smith Co., drug store.

CHANGE OF OPINION.
Recognized in Europe That America Should Have a Free Hand.

London, June 28.—The St. James Gazette this afternoon, commenting on the prospect of the American forces attacking the coast of Spain, says:

"The reception of the news evidenced a change in public opinion, which at the commencement of the war thought Europe should notify the United States that the war must be confined to American waters. It is now recognized that the Americans are fully entitled to make war in their own way, and they are, indeed, driven to retaliate upon Spain in this manner, owing to the tactics which Spain has chosen to pursue."

Interesting Souvenir.

Captain Paul Smith of Co. A, N. G. H., is the proud possessor of a hat last worn by the Governor of Wyoming. Governor W. A. Richards—whose initials will be noticed to spell "war"—marched at the head of the procession, when the Wyoming battalion embarked on the train at Cheyenne. He wore a war campaign hat. It was presented to Major Foote, who in turn presented it to Captain Smith. Governor Richards followed the battalion to San Francisco and went to sea with them ten miles in the Ohio, returning to the city in a small boat. The Wyoming boys can't say too much in praise of their war governor. The genuineness of the hat is certified to Captain Smith by G. F. Fast, second lieutenant and quartermaster of the Wyoming Volunteers, attested by F. M. Foote, Major 1st Batt., W. V., and G. W. D. O'Brien, captain commanding Co. F, W. V.

A Missionary's Son.

Major Whipple of the General Merritt's staff is a son of the eminent divine, Bishop Whipple of Minnesota. Rev. Geo. B. Whipple, an uncle of the Major, was engaged in mission work in Hawaii three different times. He was also a tutor in the family of the late Captain James Makee and was glad to learn, while calling at the BULLETIN office, that several of that gentleman's children are settled in life here. Obtaining the direction for finding a member of the family he hastened to begin a round of calls upon all of them in Honolulu.

Policemen and Wheels.

It has been decided at police headquarters that no more bicycles found on the streets will be taken in charge by police officers. There have been frequent complaints against policemen for taking bicycles in front of different stores when it was only their intention to protect property. It will be useless now to call at the police station for lost wheels, as did a bicycle man this morning.

Firemen Rounded Up.

The five firemen of the Ohio who deserted on the day of the arrival of that steamer in port were rounded up yesterday. Three were caught in Kaneohe, on the other side of the island, by Harry Evans, while the remaining ones were found here in the city by Officers Kupihea and Jackson.

There are in all 164 incandescent lights in the hall, this including a large chandelier in the center. C. S. Deaky has concluded to give a reception to the public some time next week.

FINE VOYAGE.

The Peru Had Smooth Sea and Met the Transports.

A letter from Fred B. Oat announces his arrival at San Francisco, feeling the better after a remarkably pleasant voyage in the Peru. He was going to Lake Tahoe after the Fourth of July. The Peru had no bad weather, nor rain, nor rough sea.

On the Monday following the steamer's departure, the troopships were sighted by the Peru at 11:30 a. m. Mr. Oat says: "At 12:55 we came opposite the S. S. China, she being in the lead, and at 1:25 we came opposite the others—Zealandia, Senator and Colon—all passing within 500 or 600 feet of us, and as they went by great cheering was done, accompanied by life and drum.

"Of course we replied. It was a sight unusual to see, and I can say it was really grand, especially the China. She looked like a greyhound wanting to be let loose, but kept back by the other boats, which are all slower than she. The troops were all over the vessel in passing, looking like a lot of sheep huddled together. I wouldn't have missed it for a great deal."

Mr. Oat sends a tintype picture of a quartet of passengers in the Peru, consisting of Jas. F. Morgan, Mr. Livingston, Capt. Campbell and Mr. Oat himself. Morgan and Oat are the end men, and are topped with tall beavers.

share in the partition of the Philippines. There are now seven German warships in the bay.

Grotesque Naval Promenade.

New York, June 29.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: Admiral Camara's voyage to Port Said has been regarded by naval experts as a theatrical device for inciting the Spanish people to believe that the Madrid Government is not torpid, but capable of doing something. They have considered incredible that he should have any serious intentions of going to Manila, where he could only arrive without coal and unprepared to meet Dewey with a fleet well supplied and heavily reinforced from San Francisco. The only theory on which so foolhardy a plan could be explained would be a secret intrigue between Germany and Spain, by which their fleets might act together, and this supposition exceeds the bounds of credibility, mysterious as the German Emperor's ulterior purposes in the Philippines may be. The prompt announcement from Washington that an American fleet is preparing to sail for Spain is regarded in naval circles here as a convenient pretext for the recall of Camara's squadron to home waters after a grotesque naval promenade through the Mediterranean. The question whether Camara will be allowed to pass through the Suez Canal is eagerly discussed here. There is nothing in the Canal convention or international laws that stands in his way, and the tolls, while heavy, can be paid to the Suez by financial arrangement in Paris. Yet, Lord Cromer could undoubtedly prevent the passage of the fleet if he were ordered to do so from London. There would be various methods of harassing Camara and obstructing the progress of his squadron, for Lord Cromer's will is supreme in Egypt. The vessels could be detained there if the London Government were to suggest the propriety of such action, but it is impossible for anyone in London to find out whether the American Government really wants to have Camara's fleet stopped, and unless the fact can be established he may go on to Manila through the canal if he desires to do so. The feeling among naval men here is that the American Government will do better to interpose no obstacles in his way, since, if he perseveres, he will run short of coal, break down on the way and be in no condition for fighting Dewey. Meanwhile the American fleet will be at liberty to set out for Spanish ports and bring the war to a close. There is no evidence that the Foreign Office has received any intimation that the American Government wants to have the Spanish fleet stopped. At any rate, Camara can only have enough coal to take him back to Cartagena. His manoeuvres are not regarded here with seriousness but are pronounced as an unexpected bit of comical by-play in the drama of war.

Items.

Lord Wolseley, commander-in-chief of the British army, has joined the Anglo-American committee which is aiming to cultivate an entente.

At Liverpool it is said that the United States have purchased six of the Atlantic Transport Company's liners and the National liner Michigan for £800,000.

The Pope is said to be greatly affected by the course of the Spanish American war. In view of his age and nervous prostration for some time past, his entourage are anxious, although the physicians declare that there is no cause for alarm.

The governor of Port Said has at last formally notified the Admiral that under the circumstances any coaling whatever by the Spanish fleet in Egyptian waters will be forcibly prevented.

General Shafter reports that the health of the army is remarkably good. None of the wounded at La Quijana died. The sick number less than 15. The graves of the dead are so marked as to secure identification.

The tug Nimrod, with three covered barges, left Mobile for Santiago. It is said that until the barges reach Santiago the landing of siege guns cannot be effected. General Shafter has reported to the War Department that Spanish troops numbering 8000 with pack trains and cattle are advancing from Maczanillo and are now within 54 miles of Santiago.

Preparations for a general advance of the American troops on Santiago are being steadily pushed forward.

MINNESOTA WAR SONG.

(Composed by Captain McWade, 13th Minnesota Volunteers, and sung by Captain Frank T. Corriston, 13th M. V., at Honolulu, July 6, 1898.)

(Tune: "John Brown's Body.")

The Spaniards at Manila they were sleeping very sound,
The Spaniards at Manila they were sleeping very sound,
The Spaniards at Manila they were sleeping very sound,
Saturday night a month or so ago.

CHORUS:

Glory, glory, hallelujah,
Glory, glory, hallelujah,
Glory, glory, hallelujah,
As we go sailing on.

Little Georgie Dewey wasn't sleeping very sound,
Little Georgie Dewey wasn't sleeping very sound,
Little Georgie Dewey wasn't sleeping very sound,
Saturday night a month or so ago.

CHORUS: Glory, etc.

The Spaniards they were dreaming what a hell of a lot they'd do,
The Spaniards they were dreaming what a hell of a lot they'd do,
The Spaniards they were dreaming what a hell of a lot they'd do,
When they woke up Sunday morning.

CHORUS: Glory, etc.

They forgot that Dewey he would do his little do,
They forgot that Dewey he would do his little do,
They forgot that Dewey he would do his little do,
When they woke up Sunday morning.

CHORUS: Glory, etc.

He came in Sunday morning and he didn't do a thing,
He came in Sunday morning and he didn't do a thing,
He came in Sunday morning and he didn't do a thing,
To the Spaniards that Sunday morning.

CHORUS: Glory, etc.

We're going to the Philippines to raise the Stars and Stripes,
We're going to the Philippines to raise the Stars and Stripes,
We're going to the Philippines to raise the Stars and Stripes,
And the 13th Minnesota will be there.

CHORUS: Glory, etc.

But we'll annex Hawaii before the Philippines,
But we'll annex Hawaii before the Philippines,
But we'll annex Hawaii before the Philippines,
And the 13th Minnesota is right here.

CHORUS: Glory, etc.

Among many impromptu additions made to this war song, at the Officers' Club and on the way to join the "100" committee welcome boat setting out to meet the troopship Valencia, were the following. The "Wyoming kid" is Captain O'Brien, veteran of three past American wars:

The Wyoming kid pulls the rope that hoists the flag,
The Wyoming kid pulls the rope that hoists the flag,
The Wyoming kid pulls the rope that hoists the flag,
Which will never come down again.

CHORUS: Glory, etc.

You'll read all about it in the Evening Bulletin,
You'll read all about it in the Evening Bulletin,
You'll read all about it in the Evening Bulletin,
Before the sun goes down.

CHORUS: Glory, etc.

Captain Corriston, aided by a fine chorus and accompanied by Captain Ashley, N. G. H., on the piano, again sang the song with great success last night, adding the following:

Oh, we'd annex Hawaii if we only had the votes,
Oh, we'd annex Hawaii if we only had the votes,
Oh, we'd annex Hawaii if we only had the votes,
As we go sailing on.

CHORUS: Glory, etc.

Our friends in Honolulu they are simply out of sight,
Our friends in Honolulu they are simply out of sight,
Our friends in Honolulu they are simply out of sight,
As we go sailing on.

CHORUS: Glory, etc.

Order of Court.

HAWAIIAN ISLANDS, ss. HONOLULU.

The Republic of Hawaii, to the Marshal of the Hawaiian Islands, or His Deputy—GREETING:

Whereas a libel has this day been filed in the Circuit Court of the First Circuit, in Admiralty by Henry Robinson of said Honolulu against the Hawaiian Schooner "Mokihana," and her tackle, apparel and furniture, the said vessel now being at North Kona, Island of Hawaii, and within the jurisdiction of this Honorable Court, and against all persons intervening for their interest therein in a cause of contract civil and maritime for certain repairs made on the said vessel, and praying for an attachment to issue, and that a decree be made for the sum of Two Hundred Dollars and costs for said work and labor so done and performed, and whereas a lien has also been duly filed, and also that process issue according to the practice of this Court in cases of Admiralty and Maritime Jurisdiction. Now, therefore, you are hereby commanded to attach the said property, and to detain the same in your custody until the further order of this Court respecting the same, and to give notice to all persons in general who have or pretend to have any right, title or interest in the said property to be and appear before the said Court on Monday, the 27th day of June, A. D. 1898, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon at the Judiciary Building at said Honolulu, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said libel or the process as prayed for should not be granted, and what you shall do in the premises do you then and there make return thereof together with this Writ.

Witness the Honorable W. L. Stanley, Second Judge of the Circuit Court of the First Circuit, at Honolulu, H. I., this 7th day of June, A. D. 1898.

By the Court, GEORGE LUCAS, Clerk.

Notice.

In pursuance of the within Order of Court, the Schooner "Mokihana," together with her tackle, apparel and furniture, has been attached, and all persons interested in the above proceedings are notified to be and appear before the Circuit Court of the First Circuit, Judiciary Building, on the 7th day of July, A. D. 1898, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the above stated libel should not be granted according to the Law and Statute in such case made and provided.

A PRISON IN MEXICO.

CURIOUS CUSTOMS THAT PREVAIL IN BELEM JAIL.

Musical Instruments in the Cells and a Concert Almost Every Evening by the Prisoners—Dinner Hour Marked by a Curious Spectacle.

Among the various uses to which Mexico has put some of her old monasteries and convents is that of serving for the incarceration of violators of the law. The Convento de Belem at Mexico City has become, in common parlance, Belem, the city jail and prison, accused and convicted persons, men, women and children alike being confined there in different compartments. The building was put up by the Spanish governor in 1686, as an inscription at the head of the main staircase tells. A casual visit paid it by a reporter of The Mexican Herald reveals a condition of prison management in Mexico worthy of passing attention in the days of prison reform associations and international prison congresses.

The Herald said that Belem had been commonly spoken of as a second Black Hole of Calcutta, but the reporter found that the prison was kept in a state of comparative cleanliness; not so, however, the prisoners. Their condition he described as one of disgusting filthiness. Although there was a hydrant in every cell and general bathing facilities in each compartment, the reporter found only one inmate either at bath or with any indication of having bathed within a year. It was explained to him by the prison authorities that formerly the regulations required prisoners to bathe daily, but that this was regarded as such a hardship that the sufferers managed to have it declared a form of cruel and unusual punishment and so to have the rule abrogated. There are in the prison now 2,451 prisoners, of whom 2,933 are men and 50 are women.

A curious feature found by the reporter was the Spanish regard for the arts, even within prison walls. He found in the south wing the writers of libel, poets, the cella reserved for musicians, artists and others of the fine arts. It would seem to be a charitable as well as an inclusive provision, that "and others" (besides artists) of the fine arts. The musicians are permitted, apparently, to take their instruments to jail with them, such as mechanics taking tools of trade. "The walls of the musicians' cells are decorated with different musical instruments, and the reporter was told that almost every evening there was a concert in one of the patios."

Men sometimes do in Mexico what in this colder climate they content themselves with wishing done, for the reporter came upon one Adams, under sentence of 20 years "for killing a waiter at the Club de la Opera because he did not bring his dinner quick enough." Adams has the freedom of his galley. There are in each galley three trustees who go about with clubs and preserve order, using the club "only when moral suasion will not do as well."

There were stoics among the 57 men condemned to death. One of these, under sentence for assassinating a man, expressed his serene confidence as to his future, but, "if worst comes to worst"—a shrug of the shoulders and palms up. This man and some others under death sentence had the run of the commandant's offices, notwithstanding there were on the walls, serving as decorations, confiscated weapons of prisoners. Oddly enough, as it would seem in this country, though it wouldn't have been strange in the Italy of Machiavelli, there wasn't a gun among these. The nearest to it was a layonet, and the rest were pinardes, scimiters, stilettes, butcher knives, table knives, penknives, and shoemakers' knives.

The dinner hour was marked by a curious spectacle. The street outside the prison was filled with the "wives, children, dogs and other members of the prisoners' households." These brought baskets of edibles to the prisoners, some of whom were permitted to speak to their relatives through a grating. To the convicts not permitted to come to the grating, their relatives were allowed to send in notes accompanying the dinner baskets. This privilege had given rise to a peculiar way of making a few pennies among persons able to write—"itinerant scribes who for a cent or two wrote messages to the prisoners." One woman had the scribe to put her message in red ink. She would have none of the "purple stuff."

"Tell him," said she, "that I send him two little tamales and tell him that la perrita died yesterday." Says the reporter, "And the scribe, leaning under the shade of his umbrella, sitting on a rock, with his bottle of red ink on another rock beside him, worked away assiduously, with an etymology all his own, beginning paragraphs with lower case letters and putting in caps in the most unexpected places, so that it would take an Ignatius Donnelly cryptogram to decipher the meaning of his hieroglyphics."

The Shilling Trick.

A wandering sleight of hand man was entertaining some loungers with an exhibition of his tricks. After showing a good number of them, he said: "But I have one good trick that I call the shilling trick." Of course they all wanted to see that, so he instructed a good number of them to give him a shilling, after having marked it and carefully noted the date. About a dozen of the bystanders did so, and he took them all, shook them up, and then showed each man another shilling than the one he had marked, accompanying each shilling with the question: "Is that yours?" Each man, of course, said "No," and he strolled away, saying: "Then they must all be mine."—London Globe.

Pastor Weds.

The marriage of Rev. A. V. Soares and Miss A. Fernandez was celebrated last night at the Portuguese church, Rev. C. M. Hyde officiating.

The church was crowded with friends of the couple and after the ceremony they stood and received the congratulations of the assemblage. A. V. Soares is the pastor of the Portuguese church and his wife one of the best known members of the congregation.

A man in Virginia, rode forty miles, to Fairfax Station, for the express purpose of getting Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and took home with him, a dozen bottles of the medicine. The druggist who relates the incident, adds: "Your remedy seems to be a general favorite wherever known." Its effects are indeed wonderful in all lung and throat troubles. Procure a bottle at Benson, Smith & Co., drug store.*

What the Doctor Ordered.

"I was in poor health and the prescriptions I tried did not benefit me. At last the doctor began to give me Hood's Sarsaparilla and it proved to be the best of all medicines for me, and I can speak of it only in the highest terms and deem it a duty to recommend it." For more than fifty years has PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER stood the test against all remedies prepared to eradicate pain, and today stands at the head of the list among the medicines that are so essential to keep at hand in the home.

It is not a new fangle remedy nor do the proprietors lay claim to any wonderful revelation of the ingredients that enter into the manufacture of this ever popular remedy.

It is perfectly harmless, you need have no fear of becoming habitually inclined to its use.

For Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, Colds, and all painful affections, a few doses will certainly give relief. You cannot afford to be without a bottle in the house.

Your forefathers used it and found it beneficial.

Why experiment with some remedy that is new and its effect on the system unknown?

It has many rivals but no equal.

The new 35c. size contains over double the quantity of the 25c. size.

FASHIONS FOR SPRING.

Latest Styles in Dinner and Out of Door Apparel.

Black tulle or net, plain or embroidered, over colored silk or satin linings, makes fashionable and effective evening gowns and blouses at present. Sometimes black is combined with two colors, the second being introduced a collar and belt. An example of this is shown in a new model of a dinner costume in which black embroidered net is employed over a lining of old gold faille. The collar and belt are of red velvet.

Light bodices for similar purposes are made of very thin materials—gauze, tulle, fancy silks—and are decorated in many original ways, the effect being made to obtain more unobtrusive effects. This is not easy when for so long a time trimming has been in vogue, and the habits of all modistes have been trained to invent new arrangements and combinations.

Blouses are much less full than they were and are usually close at the back, which gives them a much smarter appearance. A blouse back sagging over the belt always has a somewhat untidy appearance. An embroidery of metal, silk or spangles often defines a bolero shape on the bodice.

Whether sleeves are plain or gathered they are always tight and small almost to the very top. There they are given a slightly wider effect by means of a small puff, a little drapery or a more or less fanciful cap. No doubt this decoration also will soon disappear and the skin tight sleeve of past days will return, with no fold or wrinkle to mar its smoothness.

Today's illustration shows a new and pretty spring costume of thin mastic cloth. The skirt, which closes at the left side, has a deep facing of cloth of the same color covered with applique spots of brown velvet. This facing curves upward and follows the closing of the skirt at the side, becoming narrower. The bodice of plain cloth has a fitted back and a crossed blouse front. The wide collar and soft revers are of the spotted cloth, as are the close sleeves. The plastron and belt are of plain mastic cloth, the high collar of brown velvet. The hat accompanying this gown is of manilla straw and is trimmed with draperies of cream silk gauze and with yellow and brown velvet flowers.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE WARDROBE.

Styles and Materials to Prevail During the Coming Season.

Fancy fabrics covered with elaborate designs are brought out in different styles every season and often become very fashionable for a time, but plain goods never go out of date, whereas fancy weaves differ markedly from year to year and soon appear old fashioned. It is therefore wiser for women of moderate income to choose plain fabrics if they wish to seem always abreast with the mode.

Foulard is to be greatly worn during the warm season and is largely seen in deep colors—wine, brown, blue and green—with a more or less conspicuous white figure. The same effects are seen in wool challies. Grenadine challies with satin stripes are a novelty, but they are not as pretty as the ordinary kind, although the delicately tinted floral designs with which they are covered are often very beautiful.

The favor shown to sheer, transparent fabrics has resulted in the production of a number of charming silk grenadines for wear during the coming season. There are a vast number of patterns shown, and the goods are made up over a black or red lined, with trimmings of spangled tulle.

Today's picture illustrates a costume of black net covered with a design embroidered in black chenille and jet spangles. It is made over a lining of old rose satin, the belt also being of old rose satin. The skirt is finished around the foot by a tiny plaiting headed by a band of jet spangles. The neck is cut in a small square, bordered with jet spangled passementerie. The toque, of old rose tulle, is trimmed with coques of black velvet.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Drinking in Medieval Universities.

The relation which the universities sustained with reference to the municipalities in which they were situated forms a large chapter in their early history. The university was a state within a state. Every person connected with it even remotely, down to the servants in the families of the professors and those who waited upon the students, were amenable only to the academic court. The student was the citizen of a nation of scholars, whose flag overshadowed him wherever in the kingdom he might be.

Members of the student world were exempt from military service, and in many cases from all municipal tax. They might receive their books and furniture, wine and beer, free of duty. The students of Leyden availed themselves of this privilege to so great a degree and imported in such immense quantities by private arrangements with the publicans that a law was necessary prescribing how much a student might legally receive without payment of excise. The wise legislators, animated with a generous sense of the privileges of a university, after due deliberation fixed the proper drinking capacity of a student at 80 gallons of wine and 12 half casks of beer, which he could receive free of all tax.—Professor W. T. Hewett in Harper's Magazine.

An Unworthy Trick.

In a recent Pall Mall Gazette we find a good story of a landed proprietor in Switzerland, who was very much interested in a railway matter upon which the district where he was landed had to vote. He wanted it to vote affirmatively, and so he let it be generally understood that every voter would become the recipient of a liberal hamper of wine, provided there was no negative vote to be found in the ballot box. The number of voters, including the great man himself, totaled 108, and on the day when the voting was to be taken every one of them went to the poll. Not only that, but every one of that crowd went to the poll with the conviction that that hamper of wine was as good as in his cellar. Their disgust, therefore, may be readily imagined when the ballot box was found to contain 107 affirmative papers and one negative. To the imagination also must be left the language in which their feelings found expression when they arrived at the certainty that the landed proprietor had landed them by giving that vote himself.

Too Classic For Them.

A resident in a small suburban town quite a long distance from Boston had a visit from a German friend who knew very little English but played the violin well. One of this resident's neighbors gave a "musical evening," and of course he and his visitor were invited. The German took his violin, and when his turn came he played one of his best pieces, from one of the great masters.

When he had finished, there was an awkward silence and no applause. The people were still looking expectantly at the German, who looked disappointed and flustered. The silence grew painful.

Finally the hostess, quite red in the face, edged over to the side of the German's friend.

"Can't you get him to?" she whispered.

"What do you mean?"

"Why, now that he's got tuned up, isn't he going to play something?"—Youth's Companion.

A Kangaroo Colony Near London.

If we were to break suddenly upon a London cyclist and tell him that within 20 miles of his great city there was a colony of wild kangaroos, he would probably either regard us as perverters of the truth or of being in immediate need of a straitjacket. Yet we are assured on the highest authority that such is the case, the colony existing on Leith Hill common. About 14 years ago some kangaroos escaped from Wootton House, where they had been kept in confinement. They took up their quarters near Leith hill and have remained and multiplied there ever since. It seems strange that such emblems of the far west should exist in a wild state where the great throb of London might almost be felt and where the hum of the wheel during the summer months is almost an unceasing song.—London Evening News.

A Theological Point.

That jovial Irishman and sturdy Calvinist, The Rev. John Hemphill, was having a stiff discussion with a Roman Catholic fellow countryman respecting the propriety of the prayers for the dead, the pastor of Calvary church, of course, opposing the practice. Neither of the controversialists would yield an inch. Finally the layman tried a specious argument:

"Now, doctor," he said, "if one of your parishioners should die and bequeath you $50,000, wouldn't you pray for him?"

"No, sir," replied the stalwart defender of his faith positively. "I wouldn't pray for him. But I would pray for another like him!"—San Francisco News Letter.

Only English Pope.

The only Englishman who ever ruled as pope was Nicholas Breakspere, who was born about the year 1100 at Langley, near St Albans. He was ultimately elected for the papal chair in 1154 and bore the title of Adrian IV.—Westminster Gazette.

The American barkentine Archer, Calhoun master, arrived in port this a. m. 13 1/2 days from San Francisco with a cargo of 700 tons of general merchandise for Castle & Cooke.

The Albert, Griffiths master, arrived in Hilo from San Francisco last Sunday, with a cargo of 1000 tons of general merchandise for H. Hackfeld & Co. She made the trip in 11 days.

Another Troopship.

"In all probability the steamer Umattilla will be chartered to carry troops to Manila," says the World of Vancouver. The Umattilla, b-sides having large passenger accommodation, has a cold storage plant that would be particularly useful on a long voyage.

At Excelsior Lodge.

A large number of visiting Odd Fellows were present in Excelsior Lodge hall last night. Entertainment was provided for them in the shape of music, speeches, etc. Geo. L. Dall made the address of welcome, while a large number of the visitors said a few words.

Spanish Real Estate.

It is Mark Twain who observes, in one of his sketches of travel in foreign parts, that the reason there is comparatively little arable land in Spain is because the great majority of the Spanish people are in the habit of squandering it on their persons, and when they die it is buried with them.—Boston Herald.

THINKS WELL OF HONOLULU

United States Army Officer Surprised at Municipal Conditions.

Compares the Order of City to That of Washington—Notes About Other Military Visitors.

Captain W. E. Birbinger, 3rd Artillery, U. S. Army, said to a BULLETIN reporter last night:

"I was greatly surprised with Honolulu. While marching up town for the first time, I could not help noticing that this was a well-groomed city. There was such an air of good order and management along the streets, that I intuitively concluded that this city was under good government.

"Seeing so many cities in the United States managed in bad fashion by municipal rulers, it was a very agreeable surprise to find Honolulu in so much appearance a model city. It is to be compared in this respect to Washington, which is ruled strictly as a district by appointed commissioners. They are a body of aristocrats, but they keep things straight and in good order.

"This halting of the expeditions here is a great thing for the troops. A very large proportion of them are mere boys, who have never been away from their mothers before. They are just having their eyeteeth cut. For these boys this is a haven of rest, an oasis in the watery desert.

"Their rest here and the wonderfully kind treatment received from your people will do them good. They will start on the longer leg of the voyage across the Pacific much the better for their pause here. This break will indeed prove half the battle for them, of resistance to the fatigue and little privations of sea voyaging, to which most of them have until now been entire strangers."

NOTES.

Colonel D. D. Van Valzah, 18th United States Infantry, is one of the most popular of the visiting officers. He has been fairly doted on by the officers of the Hawaiian National Guard, and always the central figure of a group at the Officers' Club. His quiet sociability joined with a model soldierly bearing is the secret.

Captain Frank T. Corrison, 13th Minnesota Volunteers, whose valorous exploits have proved so entertaining, gave up for the war the position of one of the official court reporters of Hennepin county.

First Lieutenant J. A. Berg, the quartermaster and commissary in the Valencia, showed in a conversation that he has a good heart for the boys. He takes in good part, and not without sympathy, the kicking inevitable from lads who have suddenly been transferred from home tables, with the affectionate tending of mothers and sisters, to army rations served on rattling trains and rolling steamers.

Lieutenant Colonel Charles L. Potter, Chief Engineer Officer on General Merritt's staff, is a veritable son of Anak. He looms up high and broad, yet his vast bulk is in model proportion. A most genial countenance surmounted by a Web-terian cranium completely fits him for a statue of Apollo. Col. Potter said laughingly last night he considered himself the biggest man in the United States army.

Lieutenant Colonel Henry Lipnicott, Chief Surgeon on General Merritt's staff, was born in New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, the town where the city editor of the BULLETIN learned the printing business and began writing for the press.

Wm. F. Lewis of St. Paul and M. L. Hauff of Minneapolis, privates in the 13th Minnesota, are commercial travelers. With the instincts of the drummer they almost unconsciously sought a hotel immediately on landing. They registered at the Hawaiian and, cocking their heels up on the veranda railing, indulged in the daydreams of waiting for the storekeepers to come around and look over their samples. Hugo O. Hauff is an attorney and a comrade of his brother in the Minnesota just left for Manila.

A joke of "Scotty" Millar, captain in the Wyoming, about the battalion is that it has a foot (Foot) for a head, a Fast man for quartermaster, and had to take a gallop (Gallup) to catch an adjutant.

Captain H. S. Worthman, Co. H, 1st Idaho volunteers, is probable judge of Ada county in his State.

Major McCordell in the Union army and Colonel Jones in the Confederate army met as enemies at Gettysburg. Col. Jones took part in Pickett's famous charge on that occasion.

Captain Wm. A. Harper, here this week on his way to join General Greene's staff, is a scion of the great Harper publishing family of New York and has an interest in the house. He was a general favorite.

General Merritt was received and in turn held an informal reception at the Officers' Club last night. He created a profoundly favorable impression.

Bennie Jones of Solomon Hiram's Hawaiian quartet club has delighted the guests at the Officers' Club with his vocal solos, as the whole band has with the rollicking concert pieces and choruses.
