Funds to Start Road to Hana May be Secured

County Supervisors Ask Governor for Unexpended Part of $100,000 But Chamber of Commerce Silent

No effort will be made by the Chamber of Commerce to secure an allotment of $300,000 from the loan fund for the extension of the belt road from Kailua toward Hana for which there is a provision in the loan fund bill. There is a possibility, however, of $100,000 being made available for such work, a part of which could and would be used for road building machinery necessary.

At the May meeting of the Chamber of Commerce the subject of the belt road and what E. E. Herrscher had said about selling the bonds and his taking them up was presented by J. Garcia and was given some consideration though no vote on the matter was taken. Previously the chamber has put that project pretty well down the list of improvements desired because its committee did not believe the funds could be secured from bond sales owing to the financial markets. The same was true as to the county government which had placed the need of a county building ahead of the big road improvement.

Maui's First Allotment

In connection with the debate on the belt road it developed that included for Maui in the first allotment is $25,000 for Makawao water works, $50,000 for Kahului dredging and $50,000 for a Molokai wharf. Senator Rice said perhaps that was as well under present financial conditions as larger sums would mean that the county would have to sacrifice from its running needs money for interest and sinking funds on loan fund bond issues. If only $25,000 for the water works were marketed and made available, he was inclined to think the county would be better off. It was not apparent that the Kahului dredging would be necessary now and there did not seem much demand for a $50,000 expenditure at Molokai. If $400,000 provided were not utilized it would mean the county funds would not have to meet interest and sinking fund on that amount. Besides, the $300,000 would not carry the road to Hana, probably only to Keanae. He said he heard Hawaii county might be unable to function next year because of its large loan fund indebtedness.

County Attorney Bevins said that recently in Honolulu the Governor and he discussed the subject and the governor said at that time that if the $50,000 for Kahului dredging and the $50,000 for the Molokai wharf not wanted this year, he would be willing, if it be desired, to allot that amount from the bond issue, assuming the project. Bevins added that he had talked the subject over with Chairman Kalama of the board of supervisors and the latter was inclined to view securing that amount, getting the necessary machinery and making a start carrying the work as far forward as the fund would warrant.

Considers Costs Prohibitive

Worth O. Aiken said also that the $300,000 would not carry the road clear through Hana, that he had heard it would take more than that amount additional. It would only go to Keanae, he understood. No one has been or is more in favor of roads as a tourist asset than himself, he continued, but he did not think the road would meet the tourists wants that have been claimed for it. He felt they would still want the Ditch Trail trip and would detour from the proposed road to take it. Also he did not consider the land that would be opened by such a road as so valuable for agriculture as has been claimed nor that it would increase property values so much as had been said. He would like to see Hana connected up but thought the road around by Ulupalakua and through Kahikinui would be more feasible and less costly. There had been no estimate on costs of a Belt Road prepared for several years.

Supervisors Act

Thus the subject was allowed to rest by the chamber but at the meeting of the board of supervisors on Friday afternoon the proposal to use the $100,000 from the loan fund as mentioned by the County Attorney at the chamber of commerce meeting was taken up by the supervisors. Their attitude was rather different. They showed a feeling that the belt road is needed as an improvement of vital importance to Maui and passed a resolution asking the Governor, if the two funds of $50,000 mentioned be not used for the purposes provided that the money be allotted to Maui for the belt road. It was brought out that machinery would be needed from the outset and could thus be secured and the start made and then the work continued from other funds as secured.

The Kahikinui route, members of the board said, would be much more costly and would not open so desirable a country. Supervisor Drummond said perhaps there was no one more interested in a road to Kaupo than he favored the other route. The Kahikinui road has always been sort

Paving Pali Road Included in Plan

Oil Bound Macadam Will be Used; Rock of Best Kind Convenient; Work to Run Several Months

Pali Road improvements are to be more extensive than was indicated in the news of last Friday that work was soon to be started. Paving and some widening and straightening are included in the proposal. The paving is to be oil bound macadam. This was learned at the meeting of the supervisors Friday afternoon.

Members of the board went over to the Pali and found that practically unlimited quantities of the best rock are obtainable at convenient points. County Engineer Paul Low took samples and has sent them to the University of Hawaii for advices as to which will best answer the purpose. For use on that road the county will purchase a 12 ton roller. It now has a 20 ton roller at Lahaina and another at Makawao but a smaller one will be needed for the Pali road work.

First work will be done on the Wailuku end of the Pali and that will be extended toward the center. When the Lahaina district road forces have finished work now in progress at Kanapali they will be moved to the Lahaina side of the Pali and the Lahaina and the Wailuku forces will then be working toward one another. The hardest work is on the Lahaina side.

County Engineer Low says there is not a great deal of widening and straightening work required and the greater part of that is Lahaina side. The job is practically a rebuilding and a paving of the present road. It is expected it will extend along over several months and the cost for the completed job may run up to $70,000. The county engineer will start this week on some of the relocated surveys.

Police Connect Up Filipinos With Wave Of Late Burglaries

Round up of those responsible for the large number of burglaries and attempted burglaries by the sheriff's office is making good progress. Several arrests have been made recently and there remain only a few crimes not yet solved. One of these is the burglary of the Costa home and another was a big haul made by the criminals in Puukohli where they secured $500 in money and $700 in jewelry.

Most of the arrests made have been of Filipinos and one gang of four that is in custody is thought also to be responsible for several affairs with which evidence has not connected them up. Two others have been connected up with the Cambra home burglary and are suspected of other affairs as well. Cabino Bagio has been sentenced to a year in jail for vagrancy and there is ground for suspicion that he has been connected up with some of the unexplained crimes. He had in his possession a bunch of 30 keys, one a skeleton door key and another a key that would unfasten almost any trunk. He has been a hanger on in a Wailuku pool room and not regularly employed at labor for several months, it is said.

Four Filipinos in custody have been proved to be connected with the Kihel burglary and a number at Lahaina. They used an automobile and traveled about on their marauding expeditions. Two Filipinos, also in custody, were connected up with the Cambra case. The four arrested for the Kihel and Lahaina affairs may have been involved in the Puukohli robbery where a Japanese named K. Namura lost $500 in money and $700 in jewelry as mentioned. Namura had only just received the money when it was stolen.

Other arrests by the police include a part Chinese boy who has admitted burglarizing a Japanese store, and a former convict, a scape wanted by the high sheriff. He was working on the dredger.

Several former convicts are being carefully watched as suspects in some of the recent affairs.

Federal Jurors From Maui Are Selected

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HONOLULU, May 13.—Federal grand and trial jurors were drawn today. From Maui the grand jury list includes C. F. Sutton of Hailu, T. B. Lyons and J. B. Medeiros of Wailuku and Lorrin K. Smith of Hailu.

Trial jurors include J. M. Whitford and P. H. Ross of Wailuku.

Trial jurors are ordered to report May 23 but the date for the meeting of grand jurors was not announced.

of a pet project of Representative John Fassoth.

Thus the situation is that the Governor has not been asked to allot $300,000 from the loan funds for the belt road but he is asked by the county to allot $100,000 or so much thereof for the other two Maui projects if bonds therefor be sold.

County Income Somewhat Better Than Was Feared

Financial conditions of Maui County are not so bad as had been feared they would be but at the same time are such as will require the county government to be conducted along strictly economical lines. The appropriations for the first six months of the year are shown to be comfortably within the expected revenues but not so much so as to permit of spending with a free hand during the last six months.

In making their budget for the first and second quarters of this year the board of supervisors figured that the assessed valuation might be reduced from $4,623,000 to $3,500,000. The county auditor now estimates the valuation at $3,800,000, about five and a half million less than last year. However, the amount available for the general fund is 30 percent less than last year, for the improvement fund 31 percent and the special school fund, for building, 33 percent. The school salaries and general fund is $67,000, about a sixth more, than last year. The estimated revenue is about $100,000 more than the board had considered as a minimum and it had based its appropriations on a slightly larger sum than such minimum.

At the meeting of the board on Friday the county auditor presented the following table.

Child Labor Law Is Held Unconstitutional

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Liquor in transit through the United States while being shipped from one country to another is subject to seizure under the decision on the subject handed down by the United States Supreme Court yesterday. This is regarded as one of the most sweeping decisions rendered in connection with the National Prohibition Act.

Of as great importance is the decision that the child labor law is unconstitutional. That opinion was rendered in deciding the case of the government against the Drexel Furniture Company of North Carolina.

Section four of the "Futures Trading Act" is held not to be enforceable. That section proposed to levy the practically prohibitive tax of 20 cents a bushel on all future trading, banned under the act. With Taft and Brandies dissenting it held that the attempt to exercise "police power" is invalid in that it attempts to regulate transactions over which the federal government has no control. It declared that some sections are valid including Sections 3 and 9.

German Embassy at Washington Occupied

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Dr. Otto Wiedfeldt, German ambassador, has arrived and occupies the German embassy which has been vacant since von Bernstorff left at midnight of February 13, 1917.

The German embassy has issued a statement that Germany does not intend to enter into any treaty with Russia for the supplying of munitions thus denying the Paris report that his country has agreed to furnish Russia with airplanes and dirigibles.

Higher Parcel Post Rates Are Necessary

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Increases in rates on parcel post packages are contemplated.

Postmaster General Work announces that owing to the increased cost of handling the parcel post increased rates are necessitated. He is writing to a large number of parcel post users to secure an expression of views.

The proposed changes would include a charge of one or two cents a package or parcel irrespective of weight or destination.

Mala Wharf Use Appears in Doubt

Letter Says Inter-Island Will Make Mala Port of Call; Newspaper Stories Indicate Use of Whaleboats

Letters and reports from Honolulu leave Mauiites in doubt as to whether the Inter-Island Passenger craft will tie up to Mala wharf. A letter to the Maui Chamber of Commerce, dated last Friday, from Fred Hons, assistant manager of the Inter-Island Company, says it will make Mala a regular port of call as soon as alterations promised by the Harbor Board have been made. The Harbor board is said to have promised to carry out the suggestions of the Chamber of Commerce. Honolulu newspapers say the company will anchor steamers off the wharf and take passengers to a landing stage to be built at the wharf end. This is not what the Chamber of Commerce asks.

Matter of Terminology

It would appear the situation hinges on what is meant by "Mala a port of call", not using the word wharf. Some have been inclined to think the company has reconsidered its stand as told by the company president to the board and that it will tie up alongside. Others consider that the omission of the word wharf means only that the passenger craft will call off the wharf and land in small boats. The letter from Hons contained copies of a letter and report showing damage sustained by the Helene while lying alongside.

As to what occurred at the meeting of the harbor board last week Honolulu newspaper reports say in part: "Mala wharf will not be used by the Inter-Island company's passenger steamers, the Inter-Island president yesterday informed the harbor board. "The harbor board yesterday announced that it is preparing to dismantle the old Lahaina wharf, leaving no means at the ancient port for passengers, or freight to be handled there.

"Even the lighthouse at Lahaina, directly behind the wharf, will be moved over to Mala bay, if the United States lighthouse official here accedes to the wish of the harbor board. "The Inter-Island will not use the Mala wharf, because several captains of its steamers, including Captain Lonche of the Mauna Kea, and Captain Weisbarth of the Kailani, state that the wharf, as it now stands, is dangerous for vessels ranging alongside and that the present high mooring bits along the edges will stave in the whaleboats hanging in the davits.

May Use Whaleboats

"But—" "The Inter-Island company said that the only way they could make use of the new structure, which cost about $250,000 and was intended to take the place of the Lahaina landing, would be to have the Mauna Kea anchor near the end of the wharf and whaleboat passengers and baggage and freight to the boat landing.

Commissioners Approve Plan

"In view of this suggestion the harbor board yesterday passed a resolution authorizing Chairman Lyman H. Bigelow to prepare plans and advertise for bids for the construction of a landing stage or deck at the sea end of the present wharf, with stairways at each end connecting the stage with the concrete wharf, where two to three boats from the Mauna Kea could be handled at one time.

"It was believed by the harbor commissioners that the plan of Mauna Kea's anchoring nearby and whaleboating passengers and freight to this landing would be giving good service and would save time.

"Also, the harbor board authorized the chairman to prepare plans for constructing a temporary shed on the concrete wharf for the use of passengers and sheltering freight, probably to be of wood with corrugated iron roof.

"The chairman will also take up the matter of placing gas buoys and breasting buoys near the Mala wharf, and for otherwise lighting the approach so that vessels may use the wharf at night."

Alleged Members of K. K. K. Questioned

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—The grand jury yesterday began questioning 150 alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan whose names were found in the recent raid that was made of the grand goblin's office.

This morning the attorney for W. S. Coburn, grand goblin of the Pacific domain, admitted that Coburn is now en route to Atlanta, Georgia, to confer with the imperial wizard of the K. K. K.

More Hospital Improvements—Further buildings connected with the Mahalani Hospital plans are to be built. At the meeting of the board of supervisors held Friday the county engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for a new cottage for the sister nurses and a new laundry building. The sisters have asked for a six bed room cottage and the county engineer is to learn why more than four bedrooms are needed.

Effort To Draw This Nation Into Tangle Failure

Washington Sees Subterfuge In Invitation to Confer on Russia in Meeting Proposed At The Hague.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Administration officials announce that the United States has declined the invitation of Great Britain, Italy, Belgium and Japan to participate in the commission to be held at the Hague beginning June 15 to discuss settlement of relations with Russia. The invitation was delivered by Senator Richard Washburn Child, American ambassador to Italy, Sunday night and forwarded by him to Washington.

Rejection of the proposal emanating from Genoa was cabled by Secretary of State Hughes to Ambassador Child for transmission to Lloyd George and his colleagues.

Hughes Gives Reasons

If the Hague conference is designed to draw the United States into a situation from which it was determined to keep aloof the move has failed completely. Hughes' note points out that the proposed Hague conference would be only a continuance of the discussions at Genoa "under a different nomenclature" in which the United States could participate no more helpfully than at Genoa. American kept out of the Genoa meeting because it considered that the conference would be more political than economic in its scope and the American people are opposed to becoming involved in the political affairs of Europe.

Hughes expresses the opinion that at the Hague there will be encountered the same difficulties as at Genoa unless the Russians change the attitude disclosed as their's in their memorandum of May 11. The Russians have revealed no disposition to adopt measures for a "restoration of productivity," for the guaranty of property rights or for the obligations of contract."

Not To Be Involved

While declining to participate in the proposed Hague conference Hughes added that the United States is willing to join in arranging an inquiry by experts into the economic conditions of Russia and the remedies therefor. Such an inquiry, Hughes conceives, would determine what economic standard could be provided within Russia herself. He adds: "The United States always has been ready to participate in an inquiry by experts into the economic situation in Russia and the necessary remedy." He further adds that the "economic prerequisites for the restoring of Russian production without which a sound basis for credits would be lacking" at the Hague conference.

In conclusion he offers to give serious attention to any proposals issued from Genoa or from an "later conference but that the proposal for the conference at the Hague is too indefinite for concurrence.

It was announced at the White House this morning that there had been an amendment to the note declining to participate at the Hague. This was intended to leave open the door for further conversations and confirms the view of Lloyd George reported in Associated Press dispatches from Genoa.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The American Federation of Labor has distributed a proclamation directed to 40,000 local organizations which contains the following political recommendations:

"Oppose every candidate who will not pledge himself to oppose every form of compulsory labor and court injunctions as substitute for trial by jury." It opposes the proposed sales tax and the Volstead Act and declares:

"All hope of remedial legislation by the present congress was lost a month ago."

It also declares that whatever injures labor injures the farmer also and that what helps labor helps the farmer.

Disappointment Is Keen

GENOA, May 16.—The Russian delegation told the conference that Russia will participate in the proposed Hague discussions but declared that the Allied proposal that Russia shall enter into no treaty during the Hague conference is absolutely unacceptable.

Great disappointment is expressed over the refusal of the United States to go to the proposed Hague meeting. Lloyd George, however, feels that the reply to the invitation is not the final word of the United States but indicates great interest in Russia and its affairs and regards the reply as a basis for further correspondence.

Some delegates express the belief that the American refusal will kill the Hague conference.

PARIS, May 16.—In official circles it is said that France is not likely to send delegates to the Hague unless political questions are barred absolutely from discussion there.

The Filipinos ran away from Paia in the early stages of the game and won easily, the final score being 11 to 5.

Next Sunday a double header will be played at Haiku, that team meeting the Japanese in the first game and Pauwela versus Paia in the second.

The precise salaries of baseball players are not ordinarily made public, but it is understood that Ruth received the largest in either league last year. A basketball player is out of bounds when any part of his body touches the boundary lines or the floor outside them. Goehring established the world's record for the standing high jump when, on June 14, 1913, he cleared 5 feet 5 1/2 inches. The kidney and rabbit punches are now prohibited in boxing. The fourth game of last year's World Series drew the largest attendance—36,731.

Film Industry Picks Up for the British

LONDON, April 14—(Associated Press Mail)—General improvement in Great Britain's film industry is claimed by moving picture makers, referred to in England as cinema producers.

Four years ago 96 percent of the film shown in the United Kingdom were of American manufacture. The figure now has dropped to approximately 75 percent and British producers are confident home made films will come into their own with the general revival of British industries.

While film making in England still is in its industrial infancy, compared to America's great moving picture industry, investments in the work are increasing. It is estimated that £5,000,000 is invested in the cinema industry, with between £2,000,000 and £3,000,000 in production.

Progress has been slow but sure in British scenario writing, according to the head of one English producing firm and good British films now attract as large audiences as do good American films. The happiest sign that the British producer notes is that where the merits of American and British films are equal the British public prefers British films.

British films are making slow but steady progress in British dominions and colonies but producers here believe there is a well organized boycott of British films in the United States. Films which British producers consider to be of outstanding merit have repeatedly failed to impress American buyers.

British educational authorities generally stand aloof from the movie film. Zealous advocates of the film as an educational medium find it extremely difficult to obtain necessary financial support. England's climate from November to February, however, remains the greatest obstacle to exterior picture work. Studio work often is affected by fog.

Times Have Changed "Do you remember the old stories about the boy who went to the great city and came back home just in time to pay the mortgage on the farm?" "Yes," replied Farmer Cornstossel. "It's different now. When a boy leaves the farm the home folks to hold themselves in readiness to go to town and help him out with his rent and his grocery bill."—Washington Evening Star.

Eight Hundred Fans See Opening Day Contests

Frank F. Baldwin Lifts Lid From Season With Drive to Second; Haiku Looks Strong at Start and Wins From Asahi; Wacs Take Second by Narrow Margin From Sports

"Ball one", called Sam Kalama. Harry Penhallow, official slabster for the opening of the major season, gave the heap big arbitrator a look of disgust, then he grinned. Frank F. Baldwin, upon whose shoulders fell the task of clouting Penhallow's delivery stood at the plate with an air of watchful waiting and Harold Rice, ex-champ of the Valley Isle, crouched behind the rubber signalling desperately, with many accompanying gestures, for one that would groove the plate. The second ball pitched raised the lid. Before a crowd of 800 fans, with a generous sprinkling of the feminine in it, Baldwin connected for a sizzling grounder and the first game of the series began.

First game, Haiku 8, Asahi 4; Second game, Wacs 9, Sports 8.

Parade Goes Smoothly

True to schedule, four teams in parade, accompanied by a Chinese band that at various intervals emitted weird and ghostly notes, and Alu's Lyons' combination of jazz artists, left the court house at Wailuku promptly at 12:30. That interest in the opening day ceremonies was evidenced by the many private cars that formed in procession line behind the parade. From High street to Main and down Main to Market, Market to Vineyard, thence to Central Avenue and to the depot where the special train awaited. A general exodus of fans left homes and amusement places to follow in the wake of the parade.

Arriving at Kahului, the Haiku team joined in the new line of march and the parade proceeded to the fair grounds. The smooth and business like way in which the handling of a crowd of approximately 800 people went forward speaks well for the moving of the scene of play from Wailuku back to the Fair Grounds at Kahului.

First Game

Haiku scored twice in the opening canto. Chartrand, first up, was thrown out at first. Souza singled and stole second. Cockett doubled scoring Souza. Robinson safe at first on Yemoto's error. Cockett taking third on the play. Coleman out, Yemoto to Yanagi, Cockett scoring. Costa fanned. Two runs, two hits, one error. Haiku scored again in the third when Souza doubled to left field, stretched it to three bags, scoring when Nakamura erred on the return. Asahi copped a lone tally in the second frame. Masaichi whiffed but beat the throw to first. Matsumoto did likewise, Masaichi going to second and scoring on a single by Nakamura. Haiku clinched the game in the "lucky" seventh, tallying four. Fassoth safe on Sueda's error. Rolph singled, Yamamoto singled. With the bases full Chartrand was signalled to attempt a squeeze play laying down a short bunt. Fassoth out at the plate. Souza walked forcing Rolph home. Cockett singled scoring Yamamoto and Chartrand. Robinson beat the throw to first, Souza scoring.

Asahi scored one in the eighth and two in the ninth. Chartrand scored in the ninth for Haiku.

Second Game

With the Wacs leading, 9 to 1 at the last half of the sixth inning, the Sports came in strong and threatened to take the game. Final score, Wacs 9, Sports 8. The Wacs drew first blood. Lyons singled, took second after Caswell's catch of Cummings fly to deep center and scored on Bill Cockett's single. The Sports tied in their half. Maxwell safe on Cockett's error. Smith beat the throw, Maxwell safe at second. L. Cockett safe on fielders choice, Maxwell scoring. Wacs took three in the fourth. W. Cockett singled, Freitas singled, Bai singled, scoring Cockett and Freitas. Silva fanned. Rego singled, scoring Bai.

A deluge of hits and errors brought five more runs for the Wacs in the fifth. Kane singled and stole second. Cummings out at first. Cockett safe on Scholtz's error taking second when L. Cockett bunted. Kane scored. Freitas singled scoring Cockett. Bai safe on an error by Carroll, Freitas scoring. Silva fanned. Rego singled. Caswell replaces Scholtz on the mound. Rego scored. That inning ended the Wacs scoring.

The Sports took two in the sixth. Scholtz (now playing center) walked and stole second. Rodrigues singled scoring Scholtz. Rodrigues took second on Rego's out and scored when Caswell laid down a sizzling grounder through short.

In the seventh a single by Scholtz and errors by Bill Cockett and Wm. Cummings tallied twice more for the Sports. Three crossed the rubber in the eighth. Rego walked, Caswell was hit by Wells Cummings, Maxwell singled scoring Rego. Smith out at first Caswell scoring. L. Cockett safe at first and second on errors, Maxwell scoring. With two down in the ninth Caswell drove a deep fly to right center field that looked like a homer. Silva picked it on the run, tripped and fell, but hanging on to the ball retired the side.

Notes of Game

Foster Robinson was almost in season form and was going fine after the earliest stages though the Asahis found him for some long drives into left garden.

The Haikus impressed the fans as a strong bunch of contenders that will require a lot of beating.

Chris Cockett should develop into a strong support for Foster Robinson for the Haikus.

Souza made the first hit, the first stolen base and the first run of the 1922 season.

The Asahis have good material, some of which was misplaced in the line up. When some school players who are expected home from Honolulu arrive, the Japanese will require a lot of hard playing to beat.

Costa did some fine work for the Haikus in left garden.

Honor for the first double play of the year goes to the Sports.

Bill Cockett was very much there with the stick.

Silva's catch in the ninth saved the Wacs from having to play an extra inning.

The Baldwin boys promise to be two valuable players for the Sports.

Jimmy Ah Sam was in hard luck when he fell in the rough and dropped a long fly.

Caswell fanned three Wacs batters in order in the ninth.

Lyons and Rego, led the Wacs hitters with three bingles each.

Cummings was a little wild when he first went in to relieve Kane but he soon got control.

Three base hits were made a plenty but it takes one awful swat to make it a homer.

The new diamond is a little slow but the players generally liked it.

Work of filling in will have to go on out in left garden.

Junior Red Cross Meets Success In Maui Schools

The Junior Red Cross, which is now inaugurating its peacetime program in the schools of the Territory, is this week being organized in the Maui schools. Miss Edith Stone of Honolulu is here in the interests of this work. On Saturday she spoke to the principals at their meeting in the Wailuku school and this week she is visiting the various schools.

A number of the schools have already enrolled, including St. Anthony's Boys School. Miss Stone has just completed a successful tour of the schools on Hawaii and is returning to Honolulu Wednesday.

The peacetime program of the Junior Red Cross is one of educating the children for peace, creating friendships among the children of the 38 countries in which the movement is now organized and functioning, and of serving the many healthful, humanitarian, patriotic and educational lines for which the Red Cross always stands in peace as well as in war. The exchange of portfolio letters between schools in various parts of the world is one of the most appealing activities in the islands. The organization has a particular service to render to this territory in bringing the children into closer touch with those of the mainland.

Australian Mystery Lake to be Explored

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 11—(Associated Press Mail)—An attempt to solve the "mystery lake" in the interior of Australia, will be made soon by a scientific expedition, it has been announced.

Seven rivers from the hills miles away penetrate Australia's grand interior desert and tumble their contents into the lake. In the rainy season these rivers become enormous flooded areas covering miles and for months great quantities of water are emptied into the lake. Without any apparent outlet, Lake Eyre, an inland sea as the result of the flooded rivers, contracts and becomes a lake again in a surprisingly short time. The water simply vanishes, puzzled scientists say. It has been suggested that a subterranean river may exist, and that this drains off the surplus water. G. Halligan of Sydney, one of the party that will investigate "mystery lake" made a non-stop airplane flight of 400 miles from the nearest settlement to the lake last year. He said that the lake was approximately 100 miles long and 50 miles wide, with only one-third of the basin containing water. He deprecated the suggestion that the mystery may be the result of especially rapid evaporation and said the evaporation of such a large amount of water would be impossible. The expedition will examine all fish and other water creatures found in the lake and will bore into the bed.

Jurisdiction Over Corporations is Talked by Chamber

Consideration of the proposal to transfer jurisdiction from the Inter-State Commerce Commission to the territorial utilities commission was considered at some length by the Chamber of Commerce at its meeting Thursday afternoon and after some spirited discussion the subject was referred to a special committee to be named by the president of the chamber which will investigate and report back to the chamber, if necessary at special meeting.

Correspondence on the subject of the proposed change was voluminous and was read in full. It was then proposed to refer to committee but as there was a large attendance at the meeting it was taken up for immediate discussion. William Walsh spoke against the advisability of a change so far as railroads are concerned. He spoke strongly in commendation of the Inter-State Commerce board and its methods and told of the importance of the work that body does. Only once had the territorial utilities board visited the railroad office and at that time, he said, W. T. Carden was insistent upon rates being raised but the railroad company prevailed and kept them down.

The Kahului Railroad is now charging no higher for freights and passengers fares than in 1913 he said. It has never declared any dividends, all profits having been put right back into improvements.

Senator Rice said that at the last two sessions of the legislature the practice in granting charters was to put the corporation under jurisdiction of the utilities board and the tendency would, he believed, be to continue so to do. He said the board had been very helpful in securing a final settlement of the Honolulu Rapid Transit Co. franchise. Previously there had been adverse criticism of its investigations of the Island Electric and the Maui Telephone Co.

It developed that there have been amendments to the bill which copies have not been received. This led to an effort to table which failed and the motion then prevailed that it go to committee.

In the course of the discussion Senator Rice expressed the opinion that the measure would not pass congress at this time, in any event. Generally the view taken was that so far as Maui is concerned matters are well enough as they are but that in Honolulu and Hawaii there might be likely to be a sentiment in favor of the proposed change.

Sweden Would Study Prohibition As it Works in America

STOCKHOLM, April 9—(Associated Press Mail)—A Swedish commission may be sent to the United States to make a study of the effects of prohibition in that country and report to the Swedish people before the consultative plebiscite on prohibition to be held in Sweden next autumn.

The proposal has been made by the Central Board of the Swedish Students' Association for Absolute Prohibition. This organization is composed of students in the higher schools and in universities. They suggest that commission shall be composed of an equal number of "wets" and "drys", the "wets" to be appointed by the newly organized National League for temperance.

The students' organization points out the immense importance of the American experiment to the development of prohibition all over the world, stating that the Swedish people, before casting their vote on this issue, should receive reliable information concerning the general effects of the dry law in the United States.

The report to be submitted to the Swedish voters must be based on thorough study of the social, economic and cultural effects of prohibition.

It is further pointed out that reports from the United States on the effect of the dry law are extremely contradictory and an investigation by a body composed of open-minded persons selected from both ranks should gain general confidence and be of great value to the Swedish public in deciding the wet and dry issue at the polls.

MOSCOW, April 10—(Associated Press Mail)—The arrest and conviction of a number of highwaymen who recently alarmed Moscow by their hold-ups and murders have shown that many of the culprits were former members of the force of the Cheka.

The Cheka, or Bolshevik inquisition, was recently considerably reduced in personnel. Among its employees were a number of the criminal class.

Maui is Not Seeking Federal Hospital; Kula is Too Remote

For the proposed federal hospital for disabled veterans to be located in the Islands, Maui is not an active candidate. The subject was brought up and given some discussion at the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce but no action was taken looking toward the location of such an institution at Kula.

Senator Harold W. Rice told the chamber that he believed transportation costs to Kula would be practically prohibitive against the government locating the proposed institution there. He is thoroughly familiar with the investment that has been made at Kula and the costs of maintaining and conducting the Sanitarium. All the materials would have to be trucked up the mountain for the building and when completed and occupied the transportation problem would still be an expensive matter.

This is not the first time the subject of a federal institution or federal use of the local institution has had some consideration and then as now the sentiment was not in favor of an institution to meet needs of others than residents of Maui.

In favor of the location of such an institution on Maui are the arguments that a 500 bed hospital would furnish a market for largely increased crops of fresh vegetables and for Maui meats and fowls. Figures as to what that would mean a month are at this stage largely matters of guess work.

On the other hand in addition to the argument of high costs to the federal government is added another that the location is so remote from a town that it would mean practical isolation for convalescents as well as those really ill.

No other location than Kula was mentioned.

On his return from the mainland Aiken brought with him a number of blankets and an ample supply of mattress covers, he said. It is now planned to make certain repairs at the stable and in time work will have to be done on the rest house roof and other repairs will be needed. The remaining funds will be used for those purposes.

Speaking of the conditions at the rest house Aiken told of how it was found spick and span by the Schenck party recently. L. W. deVis Norton had very little criticism a few suggestions to make as to it on his recent trip.

Other favorable comments were called to the attention of the meeting. The former criticism that not all of those using the rest house pay for it was not touched upon. It had been said that some persons would not declare and pay for the full number in their party. With a man there in charge for three months, however, that subject is eliminated for the time being.

Mr. Aiken's report was considered to have covered the subject in a highly satisfactory manner.

Longer Educational Period Considered For Japan's Youth

TOKYO, April 15—(Associated Press Mail)—Advocates of the extension of compulsory education from the present limit of six years to eight years are urging the government to adopt the plan, now that, as they claim, the decisions of the Washington conference to reduce armaments have removed the financial difficulties heretofore in the way of the reform. They have been told that the system may be enforced in 1926.

The extension of the period of compulsory education was a subject of interpellations during the last session of the Diet, Baron Yamakama, former president of the Tokyo Imperial university, and others urged the extension in the upper house. The premier and education minister expressed themselves in agreement with the view and promised to carry out the plan at the earliest opportunity possible.

The government authorities estimate that the extension by two years will entail an increase of 4,000 classes of 50 children each, 8,000 more primary school teachers and yen 12,000,000 in ordinary expenditures and yen 80,000,000 in extraordinary expenses. As the training of 8,000 new teachers can not be accomplished in a short time, it is expected that the three years will be needed as the preparatory stage.

Rest House Report Given to Chamber; is Highly Satisfactory

Reports of the receipt of the Haleakala Rest House month by month for the past five years were presented to the Maui Chamber of Commerce by Worth O. Aiken at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon. At the same time he told of a plan to have a man in charge at the summit during the three busy months of the summer. He also told the balance on hand and the need of improvements for which that balance has been carefully conserved. A different light has recently been thrown upon the conduct of and conditions at the rest house and various commendation instead of unpleasant criticisms are heard.

Receipts of the rest house were nearly three times as large in 1921 as those of 1918, the smallest of the five year period. The heaviest month of the period was August of last year when there was $248 realized. In the same month of 1920 August brought in $225 and the previous largest month had been $142.

By years receipts have been: 1917, $310.85; 1918, $246; 1919, $585; 1920, $763 and 1921, $709. The total is $2613.85. From time to time there have been expenditures for repairs, new blankets, mattresses etc. have been purchased and the upkeep has amounted to about $500 less than receipts since the house was opened.

Speaking of the conditions at the rest house Aiken told of how it was found spick and span by the Schenck party recently. L. W. deVis Norton had very little criticism a few suggestions to make as to it on his recent trip.

Other favorable comments were called to the attention of the meeting. The former criticism that not all of those using the rest house pay for it was not touched upon. It had been said that some persons would not declare and pay for the full number in their party. With a man there in charge for three months, however, that subject is eliminated for the time being.

Mr. Aiken's report was considered to have covered the subject in a highly satisfactory manner.

Baltic Entente is Hailed as Corner Stone for Peace

RIGA, Latvia, April 10—(Associated Press Mail)—The Baltic "Entente" formed by Poland, Estonia, Latvia and Finland in a convention held at Warsaw in March is hailed by the Baltic press as a corner stone of peace for this part of Europe.

Details of the agreements contained in the convention supplementing the main points which were cabled at that time have now been made public.

In view of the Russian suspicions that Poland was trying in this way to arrange an anti-Russian military alliance, it is interesting to note that the four states agreed that if one of them was attacked by another state without provocation the other three would observe a favorable attitude toward the state attacked so that essential steps could be taken without delay.

Representatives of the four countries mutually agreed that all conflicts and disputes between them should be settled in an amicable manner only.

All important questions upon which the four may be unable to agree are to be referred to a court of arbitration in accordance with the rules of the League of Nations.

Each of the four contracting states is obligated in future to inform the other three states of the texts of agreements concluded by that state with any other nation.

The convention is to hold good for five years and to be automatically renewed thereafter from year to year unless a six months notice of its abrogation is given. It is said in diplomatic circles that Lithuania may join the Baltic Entente cordiale later.

ADANA, Turkey, March 28—(Associated Press Mail)—Reports have reached here of great activity on the Greco-Turkish front in Asia Minor. It is said that the Turks, strengthened materially by the acquisition of French war material and French and Russian horses, are pushing with great speed preparations for a renewal of the struggle with the Greeks.

GET CLOCKS TOGETHER

Surely punctuality is a virtue. Any one who has waited, and waited and fussed and fumed because a quorum was not present for the meeting he has left other business to attend, any one who has made his plans for a business engagement at a time certain, any one who has reached a railroad station and seen the rear end of the last car speeding away down the track will agree to that. There are persons whose greatest pride in life is punctuality but how can such a pride be lived up to and maintained if there be no uniformity of time?

Differing and divergent clocks and times are the bete noir of not a few persons on Maui, grows to be a pet aversion. When visitors come over from the capital city they remark the difference in time between Honolulu and here and the fact that few of the clocks of Maui are in accord with one another. In part that results from the fact that the plantations use a different time from the other business enterprises and change that time back and forth with the lengthening and shortening of the daylight hours. But in business circles there appears to be no concerted effort to have a uniform time.

At the special election there was several minutes difference between the clock in the steeple of Kaahumanu Church, which is generally regarded in upper Wailuku as the "town clock" and the time piece in the court room of the district magistrate where the polling place was located. In the two ends of town the two church clocks often differ. If telephone central is called to tell the hour she will probably give a different time from that recorded by the Kahului Railroad clocks.

That condition is what the board of supervisors hopes to change by its resolution passed at the recent meeting. It asks uniformity and if the county dads can bring it about well may the rest of the community rise up and call them blessed.

SOUND THE WARNING HORN

From up country there has come to Maui News a letter complaining that automobile drivers do not sound the horns of their cars when approaching or rounding curves and that such condition is a menace to persons afoot as well as to cars approaching in the opposite direction.

The writer of the letter tells of an experience of her own. She had just alighted from a car and stepped aside to let another car pass when from around a curve, with no note of warning came a third car. The lady leaped from the road, the car followed almost upon her and there were some narrow escapes.

It would seem that the car driver would form the habit, simply for the protection of his automobile if not for his own life and limb, to signal with the horn before rounding a curve. Some do, many do not. The failure of the many jeopardizes those who follow the practice.

While on the subject of automobiles and drivers comment may be made upon a contributed article to this paper published a few weeks ago on the subject of children playing in the streets and roads. That article was the result of carefully gathered and prepared data and contained much to demand attention and to commend it. Its author showed clearly that it is his desire to save the bodies of the little folk from being maimed and crippled, to prevent life from being crushed out beneath the wheels of his own car or that of another.

He was certainly right in his contention that the children are often so careless as to make the average car driver face the possibility of an arrest for manslaughter every time he takes his car from the garage. Everything should be done to conserve the rights of the pedestrian but the child playing and running about the streets is where it should not be, so much so that a driver has to guess where the child will be the next minute and steer his course accordingly. If he guesses right, the better for him. If he guesses wrong—pilikia.

Also was the author of that article right in holding parents as largely to blame. As a matter of fact nine times out of ten the parents are to blame for any offense or shortcoming on the part of their off spring.

There should be, as he suggested, more work toward safety first in the homes and in the schools but there is also need for some drivers of cars, as in the case mentioned by the lady from up-country, to learn the very rudiments of safety on the roads.

PROTECTING INVESTORS

There is much merit and much to warrant careful consideration in the proposal made to the last meeting of the chamber of commerce on a commission of censorship of "investments." Some may say "a fool and his money is soon parted, let each look out for himself" but a loss of the savings of an individual is not alone a loss to him, it is a loss to the entire business community. The difficulty found by the chamber was to carry out the proposal and not make the members of such a committee amenable for damages in the courts. Libel laws of the Territory of Hawaii are truly marvelous but there have to be such laws. Wee unto those who run counter to their sweeping provisions!

One suggestion that is to be offered to the committee that is to devise a plan is for a committee based on the idea of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce that has jurisdiction over donations and advertising schemes. That body refuses to sanction any drive for funds or any advertising scheme of the worthiness of which it is not convinced.

Here on Maui it is proposed to have a committee that will issue certificates of genuineness to solicitors or salesmen of real estate or stock or other investment securities and to withhold such certificates where the committee doubts the soundness of the proposed investment.

Such a plan would require education on the part of all classes in Maui from the field laborer up. They would have to have it dinged into them that before listening to wily salesman or promoter they should require that he show his certificate from the Maui com-

THE OPTIMISTIC PESSIMIST

The most important accessory for an automobile is a pocket book.

If other folk were only as careful as we think that we are, there would never be any accidents, we say. In the next breath we may have to admit we have made some mistake of judgment.

Now there are only 165 applicants for each hundred jobs, the department of labor reports. Possibly they mean open jobs, certainly they do not refer to political offices.

If pedestrians had to change gears to avoid being struck by cars they would either be more careful or else there would be more candidates for the graveyards.

In wall street there are bulls and bears and lambs at all times and most of the time goats as well.

It is now said that the young man falls in love with a latent memory of his mother recalled by some girl, the girl by a latent memory of her father carried from early childhood recalled by the young men. If there's any trouble, just pass the buck back to the parents.

Judging from the controversy between the two Honolulu dailies as to who's who in radio service, there's trouble in the wind.

A Maui man now on the mainland has been drawn to the federal grand jury. When the news reaches him without doubt he will enjoy his visit all the more.

In the absence of such certificate, the gate, show him the door and watch their pocket books.

It is not designed to have a committee approve the proposed investment in the certificate. It would merely say it has examined into the merits of the proposal and believes them to be such as to warrant further investigation of the project by any prospective investor.

It is not to be assumed that all projects presented here from the mainland are suckers bait, nor is it to be assumed that every project emanating here in the Islands is honest and straight forward. The mainland projects are generally open to doubt because if there was half the merit in them that is claimed the mainlanders would themselves gobble them up. So a company formed at home is apt to have more merit since its promoters are known or can be learned of much more readily and it is easier to determine the possibilities concerned in the undertaking in which securities are offered.

Maui News will be glad to receive and to publish any suggestions that may be offered on this subject.

Nearly $6000 saved on one piece of county work is a fine showing. That is what was done on the Kula pipe line extension. Repeatedly the county has shown its capacity for doing work well and cheaply under the direction and supervision of the county engineer.

It would be better to put a protection in front of the center of the grand stand at the Fair Grounds before some one is hurt by a foul into the spectators rather than afterward. There is such a screen but it was not in use Sunday.

In orderliness the conduct of the games at Kahului was all that could be asked. There was a fine contrast from the conditions that brought complaint at Wailuku Field last season.

Incidents such as the "hamstringing" of a dog which occurred in Wailuku a few nights ago clearly show the need of continuing humanitarian work. To have killed a dog might be excusable but to maim the poor fellow so viciously demands action if the miscreant can be detected.

This paper is not prepared to advocate the closing of all pool rooms at all times. The game is a thoroughly enjoyable one and furnishes an excellent type of recreation for the players. It is with the supervisors however on the subject of regulation of them as to hours and would go further and have boys under 18 kept from them after 8 o'clock at night. Unless conducted with the greatest care rough associations will creep in and youths under 16 should be barred from them at all times.

FALSE ECONOMY

Not one of the thousands of employers who came to grief as a result of the dishonesty of employes during the past year suspected a dishonest streak when the men were hired. If it had been suspected they would not have been hired and there would be no necessity for this ad.

Unless your employes are bonded and bonded all the time, you are in constant danger of a loss which may be large enough to cripple you financially. Would it not be the better part of economy to spend a few dollars a year for bonding your employes than run the everlasting, nerve-racking risk of losing hundreds, perhaps thousands?

Disorders Increase Under Dual Control Of New Hebrides Isles

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 11—(Associated Press Mail)—Dual control of the New Hebrides islands has proved unsuccessful, according to Rev. A. C. Stewart, a Seventh Day Adventist missionary, who has been on Malekula island for six years and is here on a visit.

"Parricide, infanticide and tribal wars are prevalent; the most cruel practices continue unchecked; and firearms and strong drink are supplied to the natives by unscrupulous traders," he said.

Under the protocol of government it was provided that there should be no interference with the social customs of the natives and this had resulted unfortunately, particularly where women were concerned, he said.

"On Malekula, one of the two larger islands, women are nothing but slave and chattels as so much a head. The only marriage ceremony among the natives, who are regarded as the worst cannibals in the South Seas, is the payment by the bridegroom of 15 pigs for his wife, who becomes the wood and water carrier of the home," he added.

He produced the photograph of a 14-year old bride who had run away from her husband and had been caught and punished by him. A large stone was made red hot and placed in the bend of her knee, and red hot stones were applied to the soles of her feet. She was left to suffer through the night but managed to crawl away and reached a mission station where her injuries required medical attention over a period of 14 months.

Another favorite practice of the natives is to bury female infants alive, he said, adding that he had in his house a small child whom he had rescued from the grave. Tribal warfare has become serious because it is waged with firearms instead of native weapons. The native population is dwindling rapidly.

"As regards the government, everything is in duplicate—an absurd position," he said. The money is spent mainly in maintaining government offices and the real work is neglected because of lack of funds. The production of copra, cotton and cocoa could be increased vastly but is hampered by poor transportation facilities and services."

Swedes Leave Aaland Isles For America

STOCKHOLM, April 15—(Associated Press Mail)—The exodus of Swedes from the Aaland islands to the United States has begun. Several groups of about 50 persons each already are on their way to America.

Sweden appears to be alarmed over this new tide of emigration although it is not large in volume, but no student of the Aaland situation is surprised. The islands, which lie in the mouth of the Gulf of Bothnia between Sweden and Finland were claimed by both countries after the separation of Finland and Russia. About a year ago the council of league of nations awarded the islands to Finland.

Sweden accepted the decision, but the Aalanders have never made any secret of their disappointment, the overwhelming majority of them being of Swedish blood. The population of the islands is only about 25,000 and Sweden is anxious to have this stock remain Swedish even under Finnish rule.

The Stockholm press says that the Aalanders are among the best that the Swedish race has to offer, being physically strong, hard-working and intelligent and from the American point of view, "desirables."

Australian Seamen's Union Upsets Plans

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 11—(Associated Press Mail)—Measures adopted by the Australian Seamen's union make it "increasingly evident that the government will have to reconsider its policy of shipbuilding" and may result either in laying up the commonwealth's vessels, valued at £10,000,000 or in their sale to overseas shipping interests, Premier Hughes has announced.

The statement came in connection with the arrival of the two latest vessels, the Moreton Bay and Large Bay, from England, where they were built. The English crews which brought the vessels here were discharged and replaced by members of the Australian union, at the organization's demand, after it had refused to permit the English sailors to join the local union.

The labor organization supplied to the government only the exact number of men required to handle the vessels, giving the masters of the ships no opportunity of making selections, the premier said, adding that with the arrival of the next commonwealth vessel, the Hobsons bay, "the captain shall absolute control in selecting his crew and if the union persists in its policy, the vessel will be laid up." If this is done the union is expected to call its men from all of the other vessels of the fleet.

The union's action regarding the English sailors resulted in a cabined protest from Havelock Wilson of the National Sailors' and Firemen's union of England, who pointed out that this organization will have to take steps to protect its members' interests if the Australian organization refuses to permit overseas seamen to transfer to the local body.

DREAMLAND ADVENTURES

Wolves in the Woods By DADDY Copyright 1921, by Public Ledger Co.

Jack and Janet go coasting with the rabbits in the woods at night. They hear the distant howls of wolves.

CHAPTER III The Strange Dogs

HOPPIY-HOP RABBIT and Hippity-HOP Rabbit pricked up their long ears and listened. So did all the other rabbits.

Far off through the woods arose a howl—a forlorn, terrifying howl—the howl of hungry wolves.

"Oh-oo-oo!" shivered the rabbits. "Wolves are prowling in the forest. We must hurry and hide in our burrows."

Jack and Janet felt creepy, but they were not scared.

"Those howls are coming from a long way," said Jack.

"Push off!" cried the rabbits. "We will coast out of danger!"

Again the sled sped down the long Whiz! Rushety! Whoopety! Again the sleds sped down the long hill.

Again Jack, Janet and the rabbits felt the delicious thrills that come from wild, swift coasting. Down to the lake, a mile away, they scooted over the crusted snow. The sled runners roared and twanged beneath them. Once again they slid into the bank on the shore once more they overturned and sprawled in a jolly heap of rabbits and children.

Jack and Janet yelled with joy. "Whoop-ee! This is fun!" "Whoop-ee! Whoop-ee!" echoed the rabbits.

Then Jack and Janet looked back up the hill. It seemed a long, long way to the top. They were getting a bit tired.

"I wish we had some one to pull us up the hill," sighed Janet.

"Wouldn't it be dandy if Toddie Pupkins and Johnny Bull were Eskimo dogs?" said Jack. "Then they could pull us up the hill and coast down with us."

Suddenly Jack and Janet saw two dark forms bounding toward them across the crusted snow.

"Here are Toddie Pupkins and Johnny Bull, now," cried Jack. But no, the dark forms were not Toddie Pupkins and Johnny Bull. They looked much like the collie, but they were strangers.

"Oh!" cried Janet when the animals suddenly halted in the shadow of a pine tree. We thought you were our dogs. Perhaps you are Eskimo dogs and will pull us to the top of the hill."

The strange animals looked at each other and seemed to grin. "No we are not Eskimo dogs," replied one of the animals in a husky voice.

"But we are their first cousins," quickly spoke up the second animal in a voice still more husky.

"And we will draw you to the top of the hill!" offered the first animal. Jack and Janet were glad of that and they quickly harnessed the strange animals to the sleds.

Then Jack and Janet seated themselves and they were ready to go. "Hop on, everybody," shouted Jack turning to where the rabbits had been. But there were no rabbits in sight. They had vanished.

As Jack and Janet wondered where they had gone, the strange animals set off at high speed for the top of the hill dragging the sleds and the children behind them. And at the same time from far ahead came the howl of the wolves.

(Friday will be told how Jack and Janet find out who the strange animals are.)

The Daily Fun Hour

AUTOGRAPH SECRETS

The leader numbers the reverse sides of as many small paper slips as there are players, and keeps a secret record of the player represented by each number. Then beginning, say, with the even numbers and continuing with the odd numbers, so as to keep the players guessing, he asks each player to come up and write his name heavily with pen and ink lengthwise of the slip secretly numbered for him. Without using a blotter, the leader instantly folds the slip lengthwise through the exact center of the autograph. This, when done before the ink dries, biots into a beautiful, symmetrical design, the peculiar signatures giving to each its different attraction.

When all the players have written their names, the leader takes the folded slips, in consecutive order, one, two, three, etc., and holding each slip upside down vertically, so that the blotted design does not reveal the name, asks the players to write their guesses concerning the signatures with pencils on slips which have been distributed to them at the opening of the game. Each autograph is exhibited only one minute, and the players should number their guesses one, two, three, four, etc.

When all have recorded their guesses the papers are passed up to the leader who reads them aloud, comparing them with the correct secret list, and checking all mistakes. The player who has guessed the largest number of autographs wins the game.

Isn't Nature Wonderful "But surely said the haughty dame. "If I pay the fare for my dog he will be treated the same as other passengers and be allowed to occupy a seat?" "Of course, madam," the guard replied politely, "provided he does not put his feet on it."—Pearson's Weekly.

Committee Named on Utilities Control Will Study Subject

Sentiment on Maui relative to whether jurisdiction over corporations should lie as now, some under the Inter-State Commerce Commission and some under the board of utilities or all be under the control of the utilities seems to be divided on Maui from the expressions at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last Thursday. There is more unanimity of feeling to the effect that no decision should be reached by the civic bodies here on the question as submitted by Governor Farrington until the text of amendments to the bill as it is now pending have been received and considered. The subject has been referred by the chamber to a committee composed of William Walsh, E. R. Bevin and J. Garcia.

What Change Effects
Under the proposal as it was laid before the chamber jurisdiction over Kahului Railroad and the other railroads of the Territory would be transferred from the federal government under the Inter-State Commerce Commission to the territorial government. It is a question now resting with the territorial supreme court whether telephone and telegraph companies operating in the Islands are under control of the utilities or the federal commission. The proposal would place such control certainly under the territorial board. As to other utility corporations there would be no change.

The debate on Friday brought out a number of things not generally known as to the Kahului Railroad, notably that its rates have not gone up since 1915 as have the rates on other roads and that it is not looked to for dividends, its earnings going into improved facilities and better salaries and conditions for employees. It has been instrumental in floating the Kahului wharf bonds and that project will mean the "scrapping" of about $175,000 of its properties. So far as Maui is concerned there has never been any question of the fairness of its rates and no complaints have ever been sent to either the Inter-State Commerce Commission or the board of utilities. It is designed primarily to meet the needs of the plantations, sugar and pines and to serve them at the lowest possible costs to them.

Federal control suits that company best. They are so closely connected in business with the trans-oceanic freight traffic. The Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company would not be changed as it is now and would be under the federal shipping board.

The wireless and telephone companies prefer the federal jurisdiction. Some rather severe criticisms were voiced against the utilities board and its lack of accomplishments but Senator Harold Rice brought up points showing where that body has been a benefit to the territory, especially in regard to the Honolulu Rapid Transit Charter tangle, and showed the growing tendency in the legislature to increase the jurisdiction of that body.

Sentiment at the meeting was largely in favor of reference to committee with no report out from that committee until it had all the facts, especially the texts of the amendments. It is generally regarded as advisable that an exhaustive study of the subject be made before final action be asked of the chamber.

Head of Psychopathic Clinic to Visit Maui

Dr. F. D. Porteus, professor of clinical psychology in the University of Hawaii, head of the territorial psychopathic clinic, is expected to make his first visit to Maui next week. According to present plans he will leave Honolulu on the Kilauea next Monday night and arrive on Maui Tuesday.

The first few days of Dr. Porteus' visit will be devoted largely to an examination of several special groups of children. He will speak to at least two gatherings while here, however. His schedule will call for an address to the Lahaina Outdoor Circle on Thursday, May 25, and to the second Maui conference of Welfare Workers on Friday, May 26.

As yet the proposed second session of the Welfare Workers' conference is subject to approval by the conference committee but such approval is expected since the opportunity to hear Dr. Porteus has come. Other speakers at the conference will include Dr. Webb of Lahaina and Miss Seibert, head of the Girl Scout and leader of girls' work in the county.

A committee of the Maui Woman's Club is cooperating in arranging for the visit from Dr. Porteus.

Good Returns of Good Turns Asked

Maui is Receiving Much From Boy Scouts and Will Have Opportunity to Show its Appreciation Soon

Good turns for members of the Maui community are being done daily by 269 Boy Scouts. Sometimes they work collectively in assisting in some community affair, some times they work individually in assisting some individual resident out of pitfalls. Early next month Maui folk will have the opportunity to return to the Boy Scouts in kind to assist in financing the movement for this year.

Plans for the raising of funds to continue and enlarge the scouting movement are being prepared and are now pretty well worked out. There are to be districts with a committee for each and a concerted and systematic program will be carried out. For the movement to go forward it must have funds and a general recognition is growing that the movement is too valuable a community asset to allow to lag.

Remarkable Progress Made
Maui council is now a Boy Scout's Council of the first class. In a year and a half it has made marvelous strides in registration of troops, organizing of new troops and increases in membership. Its membership has grown 25 percent up to May 10 since the first of this year only, increased by a quarter in four months and 10 days. There are now 11 troops, with Hanakuaupo as the youngest, two now functioning in Wailuku. Every troop has a committee of three representative men and a scoutmaster and assistant from the district community in which it is located. W. H. Hutton is executive and with a willing council behind him has brought about the wonderful showing that has been made. Statistics show the Maui council is running a fine race with the older and strongly organized Honolulu council.

Boy scouting is a movement to build men of usefulness in the community, of upright, strong moral character and stamina. Conversely it is a movement to minimize the number of useless, worthless and perhaps criminal members of the community a few years hence. It is constructive and only destructive in its construction. It replaces ill with good or, better, it creates good, and so leaves no room for the ill.

A Few Good Turns
Here are a few of the good turns that have recently been done by Boy Scouts on Maui:

Performed all asked of them at the opening of Mala wharf, ushered at teachers association benefit, assisted in benefits for orphanage and dental clinic, made themselves useful at other important gatherings, decorated graves on Memorial Day, recovered lost children and returned to parents, assisted ladies to put tires on and otherwise repair cars, assisted autoists to get out of mud holes, gave first aid a man who had fainted, gave first aid in several cases of injury, clear glass, stones and debris from road ways, keep themselves clean, strong, honorable and trustworthy and instill such lessons through practice in other boys, are prepared to meet emergencies and give first aid in time of necessity.

Before the start of the fund raising program a list of the committees in charge will be published.

Have Maui Time to Conform With That Of Honolulu Asked

Uniform time except for the plantations and such uniform time to correspond with Honolulu time is urged by the board of supervisors in a resolution introduced by Supervisor Fleming and passed by the board Friday afternoon. Kahului Railroad, the Inter-Island, the Telephone Company, Kaahumanu Church and the county officers are asked to aid and cooperate in such standardization of time. No move is intended to have the plantations change their policy of setting their clocks according to the daylight hours plan so long in vogue.

Though it is supposed that there is one general time on Maui for general business and social purposes it is said that in reality there are usually a number of different times, that is that hardly any two clocks agree. The railroad may have one time, another will be announced if "central" be called up, the Kaahumanu Church Clock may register one hour and the clocks in the court rooms and the county offices may or may not be alike while down at St. Anthony's Church the clock tells a still different story.

From Pearl Harbor the noon hour is now broadcast and that is received at the wireless stations in Lahaina and Wailuku. It is sought to have all the more important clocks of Wailuku conform to such Honolulu or Pearl Harbor time.

Copies of the resolution are to be sent to the concerns and the institutions named.

County's Harvest From Eighteenth Amendment Violators Increasing

The revenue derived from violations of the National Prohibition Act, paid in fines and through forfeiture of bail monies in the local district court last month, promises to be greatly exceeded in amount for the month of May, should the drive now in force by the police continue.

Last month an aggregate amount of slightly over $900 was received by the county from those persons inclined to trifle with the 18th Amendment. Up to and including the Saturday sessions of the court nine cases had netted $800 and costs of court. In one instance alone was a mittimus issued.

On May 9, Mrs. F. Watanabe, charged with selling okolehao, forfeited $100 bail and Hiroki Saiki, charged with selling swipes at Wai-kapu did likewise. One arrest was made on the 11th, S. Nakamura, who was found transporting swipes. A further $100 was reaped when he failed to appear. Two were added to the list on Friday, May 12, Nawataka Saiki and Ah Fong being apprehended. On Saturday morning both defendants entered a plea of guilty and were fined $100 each and costs of court.

Many other cases have occupied the attention of the court during the months calendar, the majority being in violation of the narcotic and gambling laws.

Two Positions Await Maui Girls After a Short Training Course

Positions paying $110 a month await two Maui girls of highschool or equivalent educational attainments after 32 weeks of preparation. There will be two vacancies for Maui girls in the School of Dental Hygien next fall. Applicants must be more than 17 years of age and present a certificate showing they have completed a high school course or equivalent course of study. There is no tuition fee, a cost of $65 covering uniform and books and the girls will be the living expenses during the period of instruction. On finishing the course and passing examination they will become certificated dental hygienists with employment waiting them at the salary named. No certificates will be granted to candidates under 18.

In Honolulu in connection with the dental clinic which was founded by Mrs. George R. Carter as a memorial for her father and mother there is a school of dental hygien. From it 11 women will be graduated this summer. The purpose of the school is to train ambitious young women, to prepare them to practice their profession intelligently and scientifically. They cannot practice dentistry but they can remove stains and accretions from exposed surfaces of the teeth and the free margin of the protecting gum under the supervision of a practicing dentist and give periodical prophylactic treatments to children and adults as an active agent for preventing disease and there is an urgent need of teachers in city and rural communities. It is in the latter field especially they are required in Hawaii.

While the salary is not high as that of the trained nurse the period of training and preparation is much shorter and the duties are far less arduous, exacting and confining.

Full information can be had by any girls who care to take the course by applying to C. A. Buck at Alexander House Settlement Office.

LOAN FROM AMERICA
BELGRADE, May 12—(Associated Press)—Jugo Slavia's government has accepted the conditions of an American banking syndicate for a loan of $100,000,000 at 8 percent, secured by a monopoly of the customs.

Supervisors Urge Treasurer Regulate Hours of Pool Halls

Pool halls closed from 11-30 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. is the suggestion the board of supervisors make. The board passed a resolution asking the county treasurer to embody such a regulation in the licenses which he issues as of July 1, when the new licenses must be taken out. The resolution was passed without a dissenting vote Friday afternoon.

Power of regulation of such business does not lie with the county board but rests with the legislature and with the county treasurers in their issuance of licenses. The board in this instance suggests the regulation it approves to Treasurer Cockett. Last Wednesday the board asked the county attorney to prepare a resolution and he had it ready for them at the Friday meeting. There was no further debate on its presentation and it was at once adopted.

Sentiment appears strongly in favor of the proposal and there are some who would like to see the institutions abolished unless they be so closely curtailed in operations and such a careful watch be kept that boys under 18 shall be at all times excluded from them. The plantations favor the measure and social workers agree that the proposal should be advantageous.

Practically the only argument offered against the closing of the loafing places during business hours is that "if they don't loaf there, they will be loafing some where else." Naturally the provision will not of itself compell work but it is designed at least to make idleness less attractive.

Protection Against Doubtful Investment Concerns Desired

Protection for Maui investors against fake land sales and stock flotation schemes is designed through the proposal made by J. Garcia that the Chamber of Commerce name a committee to investigate and report on all such projects. It is designed that such a committee should work for the benefit of all prospective investors on Maui, the small and the large and not for members of the chamber only.

In presenting his proposal to the chamber Garcia said that thousands, yes, hundreds of thousands of dollars had been taken from Maui by solicitors for concerns where the investments at best could be said to have been of doubtful value and often were worthless. The smaller investors were perhaps in greatest need of protection but all alike would benefit by such a plan.

As proposed by Garcia the chamber would name a committee of three to investigate all investment propositions for which solicitation would be done on Maui. He proposed that the committee publish its reports as to projects from which it withheld approval. Therein lay the difficulty. Practically all the members of the chamber recognized the need of some thing of the kind but the objection was raised that such publication would make the members of the committee and the newspaper publishing such reports liable to actions for damages for libel. For that reason his resolution was tabled but the tabling was followed by the passage of a motion for the legislative committee and Garcia to investigate and to report back some plan which would not be open to that objection.

Specific instances have recently come to light of Mauilites having been "stung" on so called home Lands investments and it is not necessary to go far back to secure scores of other instances where "investors" have lost through land and stock flotation schemes.

It is expected that an alternative proposal will be ready for the next Chamber meeting.

Summer Session at Normal School Will Open Late in June

The course in applied agriculture will be held at the University of Hawaii with F. G. Krauss, formerly of Maui, in charge. The new dormitory will be available for young women, the number to be restricted to 30, those applying first to be given preference.

LONG RADIO LINES
SYDNEY, April 11—(Associated Press Mail)—Plans for direct wireless communication between Australia and Great Britain have been announced and provide for a main station which will be able to speak over 12,000 miles for the greater part of the day.

The site for the station has not been selected but it will be either in New South Wales or Victoria. Six feeders, one in each of the capital cities, will work with this main station and, as possible, the radio system, which is to be taken over by the commonwealth next month, will be utilized for this purpose. Several new plants also will be required.

French Parliament Controlled by Men With War Records

PARIS, April 20.—(Associated Press Mail)—The debates in the chamber of deputies on the military service bill disclosed the fact that 350 of the 605 members of that body served as officers in the French army. Most of them have scarcely reached middle life and few were active in politics prior to 1914. Observers predict that French politics for the next generation will be in the control of men with war records in very much the same manner as the American Congress was after the Civil War. General Viscount de Castelnau is the most notable soldier in parliament but his influence is scarcely greater than that of Lieutenant Colonel Jean Fabry, who was Joffre's chief of staff on his visit to Washington in April 1917. Vicomte de Castelnau is better known as a general than as a deputy. De Castelnau was on the list of those whom Premier Clemenceau thought were entitled to be marshals of France. Clemenceau, it is said, finally decided, with great reluctance, to leave de Castelnau a general because he had appointed one Catholic, Poch, to be a marshal and he did not like to name a second Catholic, de Castelnau. The general is a devout churchman. Besides Castelnau, there are 40 others in this republican chamber holding titles of nobility. The Marquis de Dion, another deputy, is a manufacturer of automobiles. Baron Maurice de Rothschild is well known as an owner of race horses. Two dukes in the house are Duc d'Audiffert Pasquier, whose title goes back to 1750 and the Duc de Dalmatie, a descendant through the female line from Napoleon's Marshal, Soult; another Napoleon name is recalled by Deputy Prince Joachim de Murat. Baron Albert d'Aubigny has specialized in aeronautics.

Americans Complain Discriminations in War Reparations

SOFIA, April 15.—(Associated Press Mail)—American business men here complain that the members of the Allied Reparations Commission which controls the Bulgarian national budget and limits the country's expenditures are using their official positions to further the enterprises of their country and that discrimination is being practiced against the United States. The membership of the commission is limited now to British, French and Italians. The complaints become so emphatic lately that Charles Wilson, American minister, had to make representations to the commission on behalf of the United States government. The Bulgarian government has shown a predilection for American industrial concerns not only because of their businesslike methods, favorable prices and high quality of goods but because the Bulgarians are anxious to cultivate closer relations with America, for which Bulgarians have a strong sentimental attachment. Much regret is expressed that the United States is not represented on the reparations commission, because it is believed an American member could act as arbitrator in the many disputes that come before the allied commissioners. Two American engineering firms, James Stewart & Company, of New York, and MacDonald & Company, of Chicago, have offered to construct a number of grain elevators, harbor improvements and other engineering works throughout Bulgaria and the government is ready to grant one or the other the contract, but there is said to be some opposition from the reparations commission which must be overcome.

London Newspapers Tire of Insurance Circulation Boost

LONDON, April 18.—(Associated Press Mail)—It is an open secret that the publishers of one or two of the London penny morning newspapers are sorry that they ever engaged in the fierce competition which they have been waging for some weeks to gain circulation by giving subscribers free insurance for a variety of accidents, ills and ailments. Having taken it up and boomed themselves unparagonably as great public benefactors, the papers do not see their way to drop it without great loss of prestige and circulation. One paper of a large circulation states that since the first of the year it has paid claims amounting to £15,000 under its free accident insurance scheme. Another credits itself with paying over 600 claims and £8,000 for free insurance in the same period. This campaign has been watched with intense interest. Some of the papers have offered to obtain readers odd and unusual lines of insurance so as to attract attention as the first in that particular field. One paper started a boom in its free insurance scheme by announcing that it was the one and only paper that paid compensation for lost, strayed, stolen or damaged laundry. Another capped this by advertising itself as the only paper that paid compensation for accidents occurring either in his own garden or that of somebody else. Another claims it is the only paper running a free insurance scheme that includes a householder's servants or the daily charwoman in its accident benefits without any extra charge.

United States Will Not Be Entangled

(Continued from Page 1.) GENOA, May 15.—The political sub-commission of the economic conference approved today the agreement reached yesterday which provides that the conference will reconvene on June 15 at The Hague. Acknowledgement that nothing can come of an international economic conference that does not include representatives of the United States was made, tacitly, yesterday with the unofficial announcement that the Genoa conference was closed. The plan to reconvene at The Hague, conceived by the participants in a private caucus, provided for a special and urgent invitation to the United States to participate in the hearings of The Hague, with especial reference to the discussion of Russia affairs. The suggestion of the conferees is merely a means of quietly dissolving the conference without admitting the apparently insurmountable differences which have sprung up between the representatives of England and France on the treatment of Russian problems, and which apparently admit of no settlement at the present conference. The entire scheme of Russian re-organization appears to be hanging fire, awaiting America's decision on whether or not she will assist Europe in straightening out her tangles.

Obituary

WALTER F. DRAKE Funeral services of Walter F. Drake, whose body left Maui from Lahaina Friday night were held under the auspices of Honolulu Lodge No. 616, B. P. O. E., Saturday afternoon in Honolulu. Out of respect to his memory the offices of the U. S. internal revenue collector were closed in Honolulu on Saturday morning. Walter Drake, who was about 52 years of age and is survived by his widow and one child, was a prominent figure in public affairs a few years ago when he was collector of internal revenue. He immediately preceded Charles E. Cottrill in that office. When Colonel Jones was appointed collector he appointed Mr. Drake a deputy and he speaks of him in the highest terms of praise and says his office has lost a valuable, courteous and efficient man. Mr. Drake had many friends in Honolulu and his death is uniformly regretted.

Largest Searchlight For San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—(Associated Press Mail)—Acquisition of a searchlight, said to be the largest in the world, which would throw a stream of light 70 miles on a clear night, illuminating nearby cities, is being considered by the city of San Francisco, according to Ralph Wiley, chief of the municipal bureau of electricity. The searchlight, manufactured by the General Electric Co., would be placed on the summit of Twin Peaks in this city. Hikers, tourists and motorists, it is said, would welcome the big "spot light" as it would point out and render more accessible by night many points of interest in the Bay cities. Ships at sea could readily be detected by it, Mr. Wiley pointed out, and they, in turn, would be guided to harbor by its rays. The light was originally intended for use on the crest of Mt. Tamalpais, in Marin county.
