BLOOD.

Read what Ayer's Sarsaparilla did for the Rev. Z. P. Wilds, a well-known city missionary in New York and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds:

"I was for many years a sufferer from boils and other eruptions of a like nature, caused by the impoverished state of my blood. My appetite was poor and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by observation of the good it had done to others, I began taking it. My almost from the first dose; then my general health improved, and now it is excellent. I feel a hundred percent. stronger, and I attribute this result to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised."

THE BICYCLE EXHIBIT

GOOD SHOW RUINED BY LACK OF ADVERTISING.

Some Pretty Displays at Independence Park—The Exhibition a Failure by Lack of Patronage.

When a representative of this paper dropped in at the bicycle show last night about 8 o'clock there were less than a dozen people there outside of those in attendance on the booths. At no time during the hour and a half following was there more than twenty-five present, and the reason of this may be described in the two words "insufficient advertising." The display of bicycles was there, and a very creditable one it was too, the hall was nicely decorated and prepared, enough of the floor space left to accommodate a couple of hundred dancers, good music for the dancing and even a board with a program of dances painted thereon; everything necessary to pass an enjoyable hour or two was provided, including a deserted refreshment stand in one of the corners. But the general public was not there.
The general public did not know anything about it, or rather that portion of the general public which looks for information on such matters to the columns of the BULLETIN and its contemporaries. However, the managers of the affair have learned their lesson by this time.
They learned it on Saturday evening, and last night they had it "rubbed in hard." And the lesson they learned was that one cannot make a success of anything even in Honolulu without a liberal use of printer's ink. If the people of this city had known more about the bicycle show the attendance would have been perhaps equal to expectations, for the four exhibits were all very good and fully the equal of similar affairs in larger cities, but as an advertising scheme it was a dead failure. It was designed to draw a crowd of people together to whom could be shown and explained the latest improvements in wheels, but the promoters forgot the old adage of "First catch your hare." In this instance the hare could only be caught with printer's ink.

But enough! There were four exhibits of wheels, and to describe one will answer for the others, for they differed little except in the make of the wheels. The largest exhibit was that made by E. O.
Hall & Sons. They make a specialty of the Columbia, Rambler and Stearns wheels, and showed them in all the latest models.
Edwin Paris and Henry Giles are in charge of this exhibit and they are entitled to very great credit not only for the display made but for the artistic way in which it is shown. Among the wheels to which special mention may be accorded were the Ladies' Columbia 1897 model, Gents' Columbia 1897 model, ladies and gents' Ramlers 1896 and 1897 models, Rambler racing tandem which carries the Hawaiian record, 1896, and several of the Stearns wheels. One of the latter, which has had seven months' constant use in the hands of W. W. Hall, is shown looking nearly as good as new.
Columbia wheels with the celebrated G. & J. tire are also shown at this booth, as well as a bewidering assortment of the many separate parts which enter into the composition of a modern bicycle.
All of these, from the smallest screw to the new wooden handles just introduced are shown neatly arranged on tables. A large assortment of bicycle lamps forms a prominent feature of this exhibit.
The Cleveland stand showed a pretty '97 racing wheel decorated with colored electric lights which presented a very pretty effect.
This wheel was owned and decorated by E. F. Dreier. Another wheel on a stand running by electricity was a feature of this exhibit. The motive power was obtained from a small storage battery concealed in the stand. George Otterson designed and set up this particular exhibit.

Frank Atherton had charge of the Sterling booth, in which '97 models of this wheel, as well as the Deere and the Moline, were shown. Frank is a speedy talker and told of the merits of his wheels at the rate of 250 words a minute. The reporter's shorthand speed only reaching 168 words a minute much of Frank's discourse was necessarily lost and the notes of the balance were undecipherable this morning.

Harry Wooten's booth contained two revolving wheels with colored lamps, including one of the oldtime high sort, and as a whole was a very creditable display.
It was a nice exhibit but very few saw it.

THE JAPANESE BAZAAR

Arrangements Progressing Rapidly for Saturday's Entertainment.

Prospects are most encouraging for the success of the Japanese Bazaar to be held in the grounds of Queen Emma park next Saturday and the work of preparation for the event is already far advanced. As already announced there will be booths for the sale of Japanese articles, a tea house and other novelties never seen here before.

The committee in charge of the Bazaar has decided to give the play, etc., free, instead of charging an admission fee of 50 cents besides the admission fee to the grounds, as previously announced.
Those who have already purchased tickets for the play will have their money refunded to them if they will kindly return the tickets to either G. K. Fukawa of the Yokohama Specie Bank or to A.
K. Ozawa at Benson, Smith & Co.

An Old Acquaintance.

James H. S. Bartholomew of Monte Cristo, Washington, responded to the toast, "New Jersey," at a banquet at St. Paul in celebration of the anniversary of the treaty of Paris of 1763. Mr.
Bartholomew is a member of the Society of Colonial Wars, under whose auspices the celebration was held. He will be remembered in Honolulu as the promoter of an inter island cable, through which one message was sent from the cable laying ship Catorina—a coasting schooner—before it broke on the coral beach. It was a copper wire wound with oakum yarn, manufactured in a boatshed at the old fishmarket. Mr. Bartholomew went away to get a better cable, ostensibly, but did not return, and the "plant" of the concern was sold by the Marshal.
Mr. Bartholomew was later heard from as a newspaper editor in Washington State, and is believed to be reaping the success of industrious capability.

Police Court Matters.

In the District Court this morning D. Baker pleaded not guilty of battering his wife and his trial was set for the 13th.

Seven Chinese gamblers were fined $10 each and costs, and several others were discharged.

D. Mahaula and Keali were fined $2 each and costs on pleas of guilty of maliciously obstructing the use of a certain sidewalk owned by Lee Wai.

Miss Santos, or Minnie Weir, is on trial for the larceny of $20 from Mrs. Wm. Larsen.

Wine vs. Whisky.

An exchange says: "A bill has been introduced into the South Carolina Legislature to provide for the sale of native wines at the State dispensaries, and if in that way the people can be taught to use wine instead of whisky the dispensary system will prove one of the best steps in the direction of temperance ever made in America."

NOTES FROM THE ORIENT

YOKOHAMA FOREIGNERS ACCUSED OF DISRESPECT TO THE EMPIRE.

Hongkong Chamber of Commerce Favors Any Scheme for a Pacific Cable to Canada.

The following news items from China and Japan are culled from exchanges received by the steamship Peru yesterday.

The new British Consul at Nagasaki, Mr. Longford, has arrived there.

Sir Richard Temple Rennie, late chief Justice of her Majesty's Supreme Court for China and Japan, has been appointed to act temporarily as special judge of her Majesty's Supreme Court at Constantinople.

While a Ningpo blacksmith was repairing a rifle the other day, the property of a soldier, which was loaded but would not go off when wanted, the weapon exploded and shot two passers-by, killing them instantly.

Liu Taotai has issued a proclamation at the instance of Consul-General Jernigan, protecting the rights of a missionary in certain publications of books translated into Chinese from English.

The Russian Government, says a St. Petersburg telegram, has assigned a sum of more than 100,000 roubles for the assistance of Russian emigrants to the Black Sea district, the Semirechensk territory on the borders of Chinese Turkestan, and the Amur territory on the borders of Manchuria.

The applications of the Yokohama policemen to the Government asking for permission to wear the medals given them by Li Hung Chang when he touched at Yokohama recently on his way home from Europe, have been refused.
The policemen were detailed to protect Li Hung Chang while the ship was in Yokohama harbor.

There were seven Russian men-of-war and one British in Nagasaki harbor on the 15th ult.

The Sekai-no-Tomo learns with indignation from its Peking correspondent that the Court of Pekin has not yet announced any intention of going into mourning on account of the decease of the Empress Dowager of Japan.

At the instance of the Hongkong Chamber of Commerce, the Leeds Chamber has, we learn from the London and China Express, decided to support, as far as possible, any scheme for laying a cable across the Pacific from Hongkong to Canada, this step having, it was considered, been rendered necessary by the increased charges made by the telegraph companies.

It will be remembered that about two years ago M. Lyaudet and his wife and child were abducted at Kebao by Chinese pirates and kept in captivity for six months. It is stated by the Tonkin papers that the settlement of the affair with China is almost completed and that the indemnity to be paid to M. Lyaudet has been fixed in principle at Fls. 50,000.

The Nippon on 19th inst. had some indignant remarks about the foreign residents at Yokohama.
Whereas (says our contemporary) singing, dancing and instrumental music are prohibited throughout the Empire on account of the death of the Empress Dowager, the foreign residents of Yokohama advertise a concert in the Public hall for the 20th inst. The Nippon adds that this is not the first time the shameless foreigners, relying on the special privileges of extra territoriality, have given offense to the people of Japan, but how is it that the Foreign Ministers and consuls pass such open acts unnoticed? "We hereby expose the disrespect of the foreigners and appeal to the sympathy of the public." This paragraph is not without its value, inasmuch as it points to the fact that the difference in Oriental and Occidental customs may possibly lead to considerable friction when the Treaties come into force.— Kobe Chronicle.

THE BRISTOL HORSE SHOW.

An Absolutely Unique Entertainment to Open Here.

Women may differ on the subject of the bicycle, but they all love the horse, and every woman in Honolulu is looking forward with joyful anticipation to the appearance next week of Prof.
Bristol's famous performing horses. This entertainment is absolutely unique of its kind and has drawn immense crowds everywhere that it has appeared. It is seldom that such a large and expensive show can be induced to leave the thickly populated radius of eastern showtowns and undertake the difficult and costly journey west, but the appreciation which has met them everywhere shows that Prof. Bristol did not make a mistake. Everything that it is possible for a horse to do is done by these intelligent animals, and in addition a great many tricks are performed which does not seem possible for even such clever animals to understand and accomplish. It would be impossible to find in the world another collection of the various types of horses as complete as this one. They would be interesting and instructive if they did nothing but walk around, but with the addition of the marvelously clever performance which they give, they are irresistible. A street parade will be given on the day of arrival, when the public will be enabled to enjoy its first glimpse of Sultan, the equine beauty which solves difficult mathematical problems with the readiness and accuracy of cultivated human intelligence; Denver, the wonderful trick mule, and Eagle, the pure-blooded, snow-white Arabian mare which Prof. Bristol will drive without rein or bridle.
A performance will be given every evening with matinee Saturday afternoon. The varied program which teems with mirth-provoking surprises, as well as the popular price of admission, guarantees a crowded house at every exhibition.

Minister Cooper Honored.

At the meeting of Pacific Lodge, A. F. & A. M., held last evening, after the regular order of business was over Past Master Henry E. Cooper was presented with a past master's jewel as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the Lodge. The presentation was made by C. B. Ripley in a few well-chosen words. Minister Cooper was taken entirely by surprise and it was some time before he was able to express his thanks for the gift. The jewel is described as being of a very elegant nature.

Hawaiian Hotel Concert.

IN THE HIGHER COURTS

WILL OF THE LATE EDWARD HUTTON PROBATED.

Mrs. Anna Gertz Files Corrections of the Records Addressed to the Justices of Supreme Court.

Judge Perry today admitted the will of the late Edward Hutton to probate, appointing T. R. Walker administrator without bond, Cecil Brown for petitioner. The will was executed October 8, 1896, when the testator was 67 years of age.
It bequeaths to his sister, Agnes Ragot of Clarenton, France, $1000; to his brother, Tom Hatton of Bendigo, Australia, $1000; to his nieces and nephews, at Wimbledon, England, $1600, to be equally divided between them, and to his sister before named any balance and personalities which he might leave.

In the case of Maria J. Forbes vs. Christian Gertz and Anna Gertz, a paper has been filed, entitled, "Misstatements made by Circuit Court corrected by Anna Gertz." It is addressed to the Justices of the Supreme Court by name. The declarant tells of her having been left in the lurch by delays in the presentation of a proper bill of exceptions, such delays being caused by no fault, omission or want of diligence on her part. Her language is plain so that he who runs may read, and if not in lawyer lingo seems to be an appeal in equity to the Supreme Court.

THE LAW OF THE CASE.

The Section Under Watch Gallagher and Shimizu Were Arrested.

The complaint against B. Shimizu and W. J. Gallagher, and on which a warrant of arrest was issued, accuses them of violating Section I of Act 17 of the Republic of Hawaii, which is given in full below:

"From and after the passage of this Act, it shall be unlawful for any person, company, partnership or corporation in any manner whatsoever to prepay the transportation, or in any way assist, encourage or arrange for the importation, migration or introduction of any alien or aliens, any foreigner or foreigners into the Hawaiian Islands, under contract or agreement, made previous to the importation, migration or introduction of such alien or aliens, foreigner or foreigners, to perform agricultural or domestic labor or for service in mills or factories in the Hawaiian Islands; provided, however, that any person, company, partnership or corporation may bring aliens or foreigners into the Hawaiian Islands as aforesaid, upon receiving from the Board of Immigration its written approval of the contracts under which it is proposed to introduce such aliens or foreigners.

"For the purposes of this Act all aliens and foreigners arriving within the jurisdiction of the Republic of Hawaii in any vessel, or who, having so arrived, may be performing quarantine on shore, shall be deemed to be without the Hawaiian Islands, and the provisions of this Act regarding the importation, migration or introduction of aliens and foreigners shall apply to such aliens and foreigners so arriving or quarantine."

Other sections of the law provide for a penalty of $300 fine for each immigrant introduced contrary to the above section and an additional fine of $100 for each person against the captain of the vessel so bringing them.

Tacks are from a quarter to a half inch, though, when accidentally stepped on, this length seems to be multiplied by 100. A pound of the smallest sized contains 16, 000 tacks.

WOMEN GAMBLERS.

DOZENS DAILY STAKE THEIR FORTUNES IN WALL STREET.

Once in They Never Abandon the Game. Story of a Young Heiress Who Was Reduced to Beggary—Scenes in the Offices Set Apart For Women.

"Do women speculate?" is a question asked only by those who know very little about speculation or women either. When so small a capital as $10, sometimes even less, is all that is necessary to establish the possibility of making a fortune, it could not be expected that women would long keep out of the game.

"They like to come down here," said the young woman who has charge of the women's offices of one firm of brokers, "because it is never the market, and they appreciate the advantages of getting the news at the soonest possible moment. Then all the transactions here are perfectly reliable. It is very different from a bucket shop and on a higher plane.

"Sometimes, however," continued this girl, "I feel young people, they have exceedingly good reason for keeping back their true names. Last winter a woman came to our office who called herself Mrs. Brown. Her first speculation was made on the 1st of January, and from then until the 1st of February she never lost a point. That seemed wonderful to her, and it certainly was very unusual, though I understood the reason for it. All that time the market had gone one way. Stocks rose higher and higher. Mrs. Brown was temporarily a 'bull'—that is to say, she would never sell. Consequently every dollar that she put in increased tenfold. One day stocks began to fall, and Mrs. Brown, for the first time, lost. After a few days of losing she came to me one night and said that she could not come the next day and had no more money with her, but begged me almost weeping to hold her Southern Pacific for her in a case the value should drop. She begged me to assure the broker that she had plenty of margin and said that she would make the money up when she returned.

"I liked the woman, and we had grown into intimacy. I trusted her. So when Southern Pacific fell I told the broker that Mrs. Brown's margin was three times as large as it was. Her stocks were held. Two days after I telephoned her and found she had given me the wrong number. I wrote to her and found she had given me a wrong name. She never came to the office again. The broker to whom I told the whole story saw that I was young and had been deceived and made up the $300 which had been lost through me."

"Do you find it necessary to be on your guard against such women?" "Indeed we do. Women are known to be tricky in their speculations. They are not as honest as men, and they are not as good all around speculators. They jump at conclusions, draw rash inferences, and, as a rule, lack caution. Yet there is absolutely nothing that will discourage a woman who has once felt the fascination of handling stocks. She may lose every cent she has and she will borrow money and return. She may grow weak and old, yet she will come here day after day, year after year. The most pathetic example I have ever seen of this persistency was a young woman who began her career in a very prosperous condition. She was of good family and wealthy. Her sister, however, had charge of her money, and, knowing this young speculator's weakness, limited her to a monthly allowance rather than allowing her to squander as much of her property as she pleased. Every month, however, the young woman who was the subject of this wise arrangement came and staked her entire allowance and promptly lost it. Time after time the performance was repeated. Finally the sister died, the young girl gained control of her property, and within a few weeks lost it all. One day when she was reduced to $2 she asked a friend what she should do with it. She was coolly advised to buy some lunch and go home. Instead of doing this she went to a bucket shop, staked the $2, won $10 and returned to the broker's office. She felt that her luck had changed, and she invested the $10 in a promising venture. Before night it was lost, and she was penniless. The next time I saw that girl she was employed in a broker's office to call out the returns of the ticker at a salary of $5 per week. Reduction to absolute poverty was not sufficient to draw her away from the atmosphere that held her by its fascination."—New York World.

the Bicycling fever, catches you (or you catch it) we would like a chance to prescribe for you, not that we expect to effect a cure, only to sell you a wonder in wheels.

This is what one of the Hawaiian College boys writes to his father regarding the best wheel to buy for his sister: "I hold the Rambler second to none in the country (the U. S.), and if anyone can show a wheel which has traveled as many miles as mine has with as little expense as mine I would very much like to see it. Besides changing the gear from 64 to 70 and the saddle to one of later pattern my entire expense for the wheel has been fifty cents. That I think is a pretty good record, don't you? I am very much afraid that my tires, the same ones I got on the machine, will not last me through the next season. They are almost worn through all over. It will cost me from $12 to $15 to get new tires put on, but it is legitimate wear. I never knew a pair of tires to wear as long and as well as these have, considering the amount of travel. When you consider that they have traveled as far as from Cleveland, O., to Honolulu, over all sorts of roads and paths, you will see that they must needs wear some."

The above opinion you will find to be the opinion of about every rider of a Rambler in this city, and there are a lot of Rambler riders here. Our trouble has been to get enough wheels, the makers not realizing that we want '97 stock before the snow has melted in their country. By the Australia this week we received 7 ladies' wheels, and six of them we have sold. By the Miowera mail we ordered 20 Ramlers and by this week's mail we are ordering 5 more, and we have orders in for 2 Racers, so by return Australia we will have 27 Ramlers, and in future we do not propose to lose the sale of any wheels by not having them on hand. Remember that the Rambler is fitted with the only tire that has proved entirely satisfactory in this country, the great "G. & J." There are imitations to this tire to be found here, but if you don't find it out when you buy them, you will after you have used them a while, to your sorrow. The genuine "G. & J." tire is to be had only at the Rambler Agency, and there you can get the right article, fully guaranteed.

SHE STROVE TO PLEASE.

But Her Inconsistent Husband Refused to Be Satisfied After All.
"What's this?" he exclaimed as he scanned the bill. "Who ordered all those dry goods and notions?"
"I did, dear," his wife replied.
"Huh! you clothes enough?"
"Certainly not. You had asked me to go driving with you this afternoon, and I did not desire to be a sight."
It was all said without any great asperity, but with that unhesitating frankness which shows that the honeymoon has been over for many years.
"Well," he commented, "it seems to me that the women of the present day exert themselves with more industry than sense in their efforts to be beautiful. As they get themselves up now they are simply outlandish."
"Is that intended as a personal remark?"
"Not at all. You are only one of the many. You are not to be expected to step forth and defy these absurd fashions, praiseworthy as such a course would be. You are not the stuff of which martyrs are made. I don't blame you for yielding to the inevitable. I yield myself, but I cannot help sighing for the sweet simplicity of days gone by."
"Perhaps I do not seem as attractive to you now, because I have grown older."
"It isn't that," he protested. "You are more sensible and companionable than ever. But I say, without desiring to hurt your feelings, that you don't dress with the taste that you showed 20 years ago, when we were married."
"—I do my best."
"Of course you do. As I said before, you can't help it."
"But I am anxious to please you."
"Well, you can please me by being ready early. If we can avoid being late, as usual, I'll not have a word to say. We're always late wherever we go, and I won't have a word to say about how you're dressed, provided only that it's done in a hurry."
That afternoon he sat down in the library to wait till his wife had completed her attire. He lifted his gaze from the paper in response to her inquiry.
"How do I look, dear?"
He sprang to his feet and vainly struggled for words. She wore a very small hat, a large chignon and strangely proportioned masses of millinery, for which his vocabulary could find no polite phrase. A diminutive parasol completed the absurdity.
"Arabella," he exclaimed, in a dazed manner, "we're just going driving, you know! It isn't any masquerade."
"Don't you like it?" she queried in a tone of astonishment.
"Like it!"
"I expected you to say I was pretty," she pouted.
"Arabella, I'm fond of you, but I can't lie. You aren't any prettier than a cross-eyed pelican. Whatever possessed you to do anything like that?"
"It was simply to please you, dear."
"To please me!"
"Yes. It's the way I dressed 20 years ago, when we were married."—Washington Star.

The Evening Bulletin,

DANIEL LOGAN, Editor.

TUESDAY, MARCH 9, 1897.

A writer in the New York Sun sounds the praises of baked bananas as food, but tells of inevitable harm from eating the fruit raw. The raw banana is full of animal germs, he says, productive of tapeworm, gives children intestinal trouble and convulsions, besides being indigestible. Baked bananas, according to the same authority, are the ideal food for nervous persons and anemic, or thin-blooded, ones. When, however, he says that the banana is as 44 to one compared with the potato in point of nourishment, and that three bananas weighing a pound are equal in nourishment to 36 pounds of baked bread, he is repeating a chestnut that has been vigorously combated in this home of the banana. Notably, Dr. Bishop, editor of the Friend, who has dwelt under the shade of the plantain leaf about three-quarters of a century, seldom has evinced more disturbance of his equanimity than when this familiar statement, representing the banana as the veritable tree of life, has come to his notice. Nevertheless, baked bananas are good, and the people of the Pacific Coast cannot eat too many of them, so long as they get the fruit from Hawaii.

Whatever is, is right. Bad spelling has generally been regarded as only useful for exposing the incompetency of candidates for positions where good spelling is essential, also as a setting for real genius in the wit and wisdom of such characters as Sam Slick, Artemus Ward and Josh Billings. Who should ever have thought of bad spelling, though, as the needed corrective of a mistake of the highest scholarship? A correspondent of the London Daily News calls attention to the fact that the errors of orthography in the recently discovered fragments of Greek poems, these fragments having been copied phonetically—that is, by sound—by slaves ignorant of spelling, throw new light on the vexed question of the correct pronunciation of ancient Greek, and prove conclusively that it was much like modern Greek, which scholars have been denouncing as a corruption.

John F. Fugazi, an Italian banker in San Francisco, last month telegraphed to President Cleveland an appeal for the admission into the United States of respectable Italians unable to read and write. He said this on behalf of his countrymen: "The Italians are sturdy, hardworking, enterprising producers and consumers, and non-occupants of penitentiaries, though some are illiterate. I state this after over forty years of experience among them in this country. They invest in realty and their children go to public schools and help in building up our country. Americans should not exclude from this land of freedom the compatriots of Columbus." This citation is here submitted as possibly useful to the Hawaiian authorities and planters in dealing with the proposition to make a trial of Italian agricultural labor in these islands.

Evidently the volunteers of the National Guard are getting tired of the art of war. That is doubtless because they have been getting too much of it, more meetings and drills to attend than they think their health requires. One drill a month ought to be enough, with a battalion muster once a quarter. Special drills for "awkward squads" of recruits could come in between as required. An encampment once a year, with rough country skirmish drill, would top off all the drilling requirements, while making an event whose anticipation would keep up the interest of companies. These suggestions are respectfully submitted to the board of officers and the Minister of War.

Fuller particulars of the Japanese figuring on a Pacific cable than those received previously by way of the United States have come in the China and Japan mail. It is estimated that there would be an annual profit of $675,000 on an expenditure of $13,680,000. This would be nearly five per cent, which is enough to attract capital now lying idle in the great money markets. The business would undoubtedly increase from the beginning as it did in other cables, until in a few years one cable might be found inadequate for the offered traffic. It would be passing strange, however, if the United States should see Japan get ahead of her in a Pacific cable.

Among the monumental liars of the times may be classed the writer of an account of a visit to Molokai, in the first person and calling himself "Rev. Philip Anderson." He talks of a "Rev. Father Drake, who voluntarily went from Syracuse, N.Y., to take the place of Father Damien," saying that this Father Drake has himself become afflicted with leprosy. "I was the first white person except Father Drake who had preached in the little chapel at Molokai," says the narrator. He is evidently a space writer who has imposed on some newspaper, from which the article has started on its rounds probably never to stop.

An article in the Samoa Times urges the authorities to take action regarding two foreign lepers, who it says "came from Honolulu to escape being isolated." That paper cannot conceive why they should have left Honolulu, where "they would have received every kindness and attention in the place specially prepared for those afflicted in such a way, and would not have felt that they were being shunned on every hand." Certainly the Hawaiian authorities have never connived at giving Samoa such undesirable immigrants.

In "far Cathay" the BULLETIN is read. An editorial summary of the American mail in the Shanghai Mercury quotes this paper's reply to the San Francisco Chronicle's attack on the Hawaiian treaty.

Of the Secretary Disc Plow one of the most successful plantation managers writes the Pacific Hardware Co.: "I have delayed writing you about the work of the Secretary Disc Plow, until I satisfied myself in regard to its proper working. . . . I am busy plowing a field with it now, and it is doing fine work, and I hope for good results from the thorough plowing it is receiving."

It is stated that a number of prominent hackmen are mourning over the loss of some large accounts.

Has No Hard Feelings.

T. A. Kennedy, who is the advance agent of the Bristol Horse Show, asked a BULLETIN reporter to make this statement for him: "I want to make it plain that although Mr. Irwin refused to rent me the Opera House for the Bristol Horse Show he treated me with the utmost courtesy in the matter. When he said that he would not allow his own horses on the stage or even a melodrama of any kind requiring horses as an adjunct, why, of course, I had no more to say. I was much disappointed at the time, because we always show at first-class theatres. Ours is not a ring performance but one especially adapted for the stage of any good theatre. However, the new pavilion we are putting up on the corner of Alakea and Beretania streets will have a stage with 26 feet front and 34 feet depth, while the seating capacity will accommodate 1000 people. We shall give a number of performances here."

About Mrs. Harry Gillig.

Trella Faltz, the New York correspondent of the Call, writes: "Mrs. Henry Gillig is living very quietly in her handsome apartments at the Gilsey House. She declares that she has no desire to entertain to any great extent during her husband's absence in the Hawaiian Islands. Every fine day she may be seen driving through the park and up Riverside in a very stylish turnout, looking handsome and well gowned. I met her the other morning on Fifth avenue giving her prize brindle bulldog Pinko a jolly little walk. Pinko is a great pet, and as he took first prize in Paris last summer for being the finest specimen of his class he is doubly precious. Mrs. Gillig may go over to Paris in early spring; however, she is yet undecided. The picturesque home at Larchmont she will occupy in the summer when Mr. Gillig returns."

For more than fifty years has PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER stood the test against all remedies prepared to eradicate pain, and today stands at the head of the list among the medicines that are so essential to keep at hand in the home.

It is not a new fangle remedy nor do the proprietors lay claim to any wonderful revelation of the ingredients that enter into the manufacture of this ever popular remedy.

It is perfectly harmless, you need have no fear of becoming habitually inclined to its use.

For Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, Colds, and all painful affections, a few doses will certainly give relief. You cannot afford to be without a bottle in the house.

Your forefathers used it and found it beneficial.

Why experiment with some remedy that is new and its effect on the system unknown?

It has many rivals but no equal.

ELECTRIC RAT KILLING.

The Mysteries of the Current Too Much For the Rodents.

Electricity is really becoming a very useful thing in its way. The electrical supply house in Kansas City is using it to kill its rats. The basement of the house is infested with rodents, which have little respect for property and eat the insulating material off wires and the fatty substances about the electrical machines for dessert. At this electrical establishment it takes 35,000 ohms of electricity and at least three men to dispatch a rat. This is the manner of their death. When a cellar rat is caught by the paws in a steel trap, the trap is brought up stairs, carefully carried by the chain at arm's length, for a cellar rat will fight, and its bite is unwholesome. The electrician then comes forward with a magnetic bell machine, a sort of young dynamo, with a resistance of 35,000 ohms. To the machine are attached two long insulated wires.

The rat is laid on an iron plate. A man takes one wire and applies the uncovered end to the iron plate. The man who is looking after the rat takes the other wire and poles the rat with the bare end of it. The rat resents this, of course, and bites at the wire. The man with the machine grinds industriously until the bell rings, which it does when a resistance of 35,000 ohms is reached. The exasperated rat bites at the wire, and, quicker than you can say "Jack Robinson," he is dead. But his taking off has amounted almost to a function.

They also have an electrical method of catching rats in the electrician's cellar. A large, square plate of iron is placed on the floor, and above it another plate, not so large, and separated from the other by the distance of an inch or so by porcelain insulators. To each plate is attached a wire connected with a dynamo having a 1,000 volt alternating current. On the upper iron plate is scattered a seductive luncheon of bacon rinds, old cheese and tallow. The mouths of the rats down in the deepest holes begin to water when the odor of the feast permeates to them, and they come flocking to it.

When a rat steps on the lower plate, the current has no effect on him, but the instant he puts his paws on the upper plate to reach for the cheese the full force of the electricity reaches every part of his sinewy body, and, contracting it suddenly, shoots him into the air in somersaults. The other rats, observing this, think he is jumping for joy and hasten to the feast. One after the other they are shot into the air and fall to the floor stunned, when they are easily captured and killed. Thus it is that science lends itself to even so humble an occupation as rat killing.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

HONOLULU, April 21, 1896. Mr. C. W. MACFARLANE:—It affords me pleasure to recommend, to any one whose hair is falling out, the use of DR. POTTIE'S HAIR OIL. My hair was coming out at such a rate as led me to believe that I would soon become bald. After using the oil for five weeks this ceased entirely; none whatever is now falling out. I consider it the best and only worthy remedy for this trouble and also recommend it as a stimulant to new growth. Yours truly, J. B. DANIELS.

THE CELESTIAL SERVANT.
He is High Priced and Trustworthy as Well as Subtle.

At night your "boy" returns to Chinatown, where he sleeps, letting himself in the next morning with a latchkey, which, on hiring, you trustfully confide to him.
This may seem strange and imprudent to eastern housekeepers, thus leaving your house at the mercy of an unknown, characterless man, for of course they never have testimonials, but it is a trust rarely if ever abused, a fact which speaks favorably for the Celestial. Generally they demand and receive large wages. We had, however, one at the modest sum of $10 per month who was an excellent cook, excelling in laced and cake making, but with a truly execrable temper. He was always muttering and growling to himself as he went about his work. Besides cooking he had to set and wait upon the table, sweep the lower rooms—we attended to the bedrooms—and occasionally wash the windows. At times he would break out into what we supposed was intended for singing, but anything more harsh and un-musical I have never heard. Query, Can the Chinese sing?

What roused his anger more than anything was our being late for meals or people dropping in for lunch. If at such times we rang for more bread or cake, after a sufficiently lengthy interval, to impress upon us the fact of his displeasure and to ponder on our greediness, he would flounce in, scowl at us as he snatched up the plate, mutter very audibly to his mistress, "No make cakes too cheap; two dollars and a half," which was somewhat embarrassing for both hostess and guest.
Our patience eventually gave out, and we dismissed this amiable creature, who departed for once all smiles, with his wages and aprons, leaving behind his latchkey and in all probability a description of the place, written where it would attract the notice of the newcomer, though invisible or at any rate unintelligible to us. This is a favorite practice of theirs and serves either to encourage or to warn away aplicants. If the latter, your path will be a thorny one for some time to come, and "boys" will prove many and fleeting, much to your wonder and perplexity. You will find yourself at very unequal odds when dealing with oriental subtlety and spite.—May Hoskin in Lippincott's.

NEWS OF WHARF AND WAVE

NOTES FROM WHERE SALT BREEZES BLOW.

Benj. F. Packard Arrived from Japan to Load for New York—The Steamship Peru.

The Mauna Loa was telephoned 20 miles east at noon.

The steamer Likelike leaves at 4 p m today for Kukaiaua.

The steamer Keauhou sails today at 3 p m for Makaweli.

Tomorrow, high tide large 9:44 p m; high tide small 8:0 a m; low tide large 1:6 p m; low tide small 4:5 a m.

On the arrival of the Peru yesterday the wharf was cleared of people, even reporters being "fired out," by order of the port physician.

The S S Peru left at 1 p m for San Francisco. The band enlivened things a bit with a number of tunes.

The May Flint will take 79,593 bags sugar, weighing 4856 tons, to New York. The sweet stuff was shipped by Wm G Irwin & Co to J D Spreckels & Bros Co.

At one o'clock this afternoon the Hawaiian steel schooner Honolulu sailed out of the harbor with her first cargo of sugar, bound for San Francisco. The sugar was shipped as follows: 18,551 bags by Wm G Irwin & Co, 5058 bags by H A Widemann, 5175 bags by M S Grinbaum & Co.

About 4 p m yesterday the S S Peru tied up at Pacific Mail dock. She was a day behind schedule. Besides head winds during the passage, the steamship did not use her full steaming power, the propeller being in a temporary state of repair. On the last trip to the Orient, two blades of the propeller were lost. For Honolulu the Peru brought 131 Chinese and 300 tons of freight. This morning she took in 200 tons of coal.

The American ship May Flint will not sail until tomorrow morning. Eight Japanese have been shipped in place of deserters. Several old "sea dogs" were criticizing the big vessel as she lay in the stream yesterday. One said he didn't blame the sailors for running away from such a vessel, declaring that the safest place for the lookout would be on the top sail yard, going round Cape Horn.

The American ship Benj F Packard, Dickinson master, arrived yesterday afternoon from Kobe, Japan, in ballast. She is to load sugar here for New York. The passage was made in 27 days, five of which were spent in sight of these islands. Light and baffling winds were had during the voyage. The skipper was accompanied by his wife and boy. The latter is a smart little lad. He shouts and sings like the sailors. He knows all the different ropes of the rigging, and when ordered by his papa to haul on the star-board main brace, he goes right to it and works like an old sailor that has been going to sea for a lifetime. When told to "belay" the young salt obeys promptly.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

From China and Japan, per steam S S Peru, March 8—F H Foster, J Ralston, C C E Fobiger and Commander Count I Lebedeff, R I N.

From Maui and Hawaii, per steam Mauna Loa, Mar 9—Commissioner A G S Hawes, C W Dickey, B T Phillips, L P Lincoln, John Harrison, E P McGeeny, Miss Dora Todd, C Akan and 62 deck passengers.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

For San Francisco, per S S Peru, Mar 9—W H Stevens, Miss Alice Sweeney, E C Potter, R C L Perkins, Mr and Mrs Lord, Mrs Cleveland and daughter, P A Falkenburgh, Mrs W W Dimond, Mr and Mrs Geo F Myers, Dr. Haberer, Rev Gottwalz.

February 6, an engineer of long experience writes the Pacific Hardware Co., as follows: "I received your circulars concerning Vacuum Oil and as I have used them since, having the power of selecting my own oil, I can only echo the facts which they express."

READY FOR WAR.

The sentiment in favor of the Cuban insurgents seems to be growing every day. In Washington the cause of the insurgents is warmly espoused. Yesterday the Cameron resolution, which the morning dispatches reported would probably be introduced into the Senate Monday, was the cause of much comment. According to Secretary of State Olney, this resolution practically means war with Spain.

Anchor'd.

Anchor'd is what the man said when he dropped into the Anchor Saloon. Why? said his friend. Because you can always get a cool refreshing drink served by gentlemanly attendants, and if you happen to drop in during lunch hour you will be regaled with solids as well as liquids. In fact the lunch at the Anchor is said by many to be the best in town. The celebrated Seattle beer is on tap. It is sparkling and ice cold. The finest of wines and liquors in town are to be had at this popular resort.

The old time bobtailed mule cars, now disused in most cities, were about ten feet in length; the electric cars of the latest building are from forty to forty-six.

CITIZENS ATTENTION.

These are days of considerable anxiety and perplexity to all who have possessions or other interests in the Republic of Hawaii, and it is time that our citizens came to a mutual understanding on several important issues. The prospects for Annexation appear at present vague and indistinct, and our destiny cannot be foretold with certainty. There are those, also, who still fondly cling to the hope of a return to the old order of things, and who cannot be persuaded otherwise, yet this outlook appears far more hazy than that of Annexation even to the most hopeful disciples of the Monarchy. But, fortunately, in the midst of all this uncertainty there is solace in the fact that Buffalo Beer has come to stay and that patrons of all sorts and opinions may equally share the benefits of its invigorating and sustaining properties. We are moreover assured that this favorite brew will continue to be dispensed as heretofore at the Royal, Pacific and Cosmopolitan Saloons.

Hotel Arrivals.

Hawaiian—A R Colborn and wife, Indiana; H Spaulding and wife, Oakland, Cal; D B Murdoch, Ewa; C A Spreckels, R R Berg, Kahului; Mrs R C Spalding, O B Spaulding, Kapaa; E E Wileman, London; J Ralston, Kobe, Japan; C C E Fibiger, Denmark; S A Day, New York; G H Schuster and wife, Cleveland; Mrs E J Bell, San Francisco; Arthur A O'Neill; Miss Gibson and maid, England; Mrs R Crawford, Yokohama; A G White, London, James Sellar, Singapore; Wm Davidson, Calcutta.

Arlington—J E Champemowne, London, England; W A Johnston, Honolulu; Dr. Haberer, Germany; A B Lindsay and wife, Honolulu; Tracy, city.

A new monthly has made its appearance in San Francisco which will be devoted to the interest of the Japanese element. The magazine is named the Japanese American Voice, and is well printed and illustrated.

W. W. DIMOND'S

Lamp novelties are new to Honolulu—new to the United States until a smart Frenchman employed at the factory conceived the idea of building for oil what others had done for candles.

Look at the illustrations in the accounts of swell dinners and you will find beautifully designed candelabra—a year ago they were for candles—now for lamps. You will find the same thing in our Ewa window and no other shop has them—no other dealer handles them as we do, because our buying methods are modern. So's our selling methods. You can get a banquet candelabra lamp at our store for about what you pay for a single burner in some places. That's the difference in the methods.

You are interested in those lamps even if you burn electricity—the table can be decorated with flowers and lamps—dishes come under the head of "necessities."

Half the pleasure of night wheeling is in having a good lamp. Policemen are alert to find a man taking a dark ride—sometimes the light jolts out and the rider finds himself without a match. No such trouble with the Banner bicycle lamp—it is made to burn and stand hard knocks.

W. W. Dimond, Von Holt Block.
