Timey Topics

December 27, 1894.

On the cross streets intersecting those running down from the slope of Punchbowl are some very pretty residences and well cared for grounds, and the roads are fairly good between streets, good enough to please most any one, but the arrangement of the ditches or gutters is deplorable. They are so far below the level of the road that it makes it dangerous, particularly at night, for people to drive over them.

Christians is over and the people are settling down to plain every day business and fixing up their want list for the new year. We have as complete a stock in general lines as may be found anywhere in the Islands. To ascertain just what is included in the "general lines" would require your attention for several days, perhaps longer.

There are some people who won't burn wood or coal on account of the expensiveness of them wouldn't use it if they could get it for nothing on account of the bother. We accommodate such people in selling them Dietz Oil Stoves. You would be astonished at the number of these stoves we have sold and the testimonials we have received from parties using them in Honolulu.

Blue eyed cats are said by Darwin to be always deaf. The maxim "murder with out" is disproved by statistics. In the 10 years ending with 1893 there were 1,700 murders committed in England and Wales, and in 1,504 of these cases no trace of the criminal was ever found that led to his apprehension.

THEY LIKED NOISE.

Literary Lights Who Found a Stimulus to Work in Turmoil.

All that concerns the men and women who give distinction to their day is of interest to those who admire, criticize and perhaps envy their achievements. A special and legitimate curiosity is felt in reference to the conditions under which success is won.

Mr. Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote her best known story on a plain pine table by the aid of an evening lamp in a tiny wooden house in Maine. About her were gathered children of various ages, coming for a lesson or at play and never guessing what a treasure mine of excitement was coming into existence for other young people in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Here follow the commands for the pistols: 1. Unload your pistols. 2. Draw forth your pistols. This must be performed with the right hand. The left pistol first and then to mount the muzzle. 3. Order your pistol. Rest your pistol a little in your bridle hand, and then immediately take your pistol near the middle part of it, and place the butt end upon your thigh.

Only a few months ago an old chum of his, an officer on one of our ships of war, went to call upon him at his home in Nagasaki. While waiting in the room which might correspond to the parlor in this country he heard the prattle of a child in the adjoining apartment.

The primitive fishhook. The first implement used by man for catching fish with a line was not a hook. It was a pointed piece of bone or flint, a single lathe and, and the line, possibly a length of or so of dried vine or grass, was tied to the middle of the piece. The fish swallowed the whole bait, bone and all, and so the first implement was what we would call a gorge hook today.

From a Standpoint of Economy. Mrs. O'Mulligan—Phylant do you think we dress reform? Mrs. Whalen—Dress reform, his it? Sure it's a great saving! It's on'y yesterday I reformed the old man's pants to fit Benny, and it's no small job neither!—London Tit-Bits.

Men manage the schools very abundantly in some respects. For instance, when teachers give scholars their monthly reports they are directed by board rules to say, "Have your father sign this. If he is living; otherwise your mother." How ridiculous that is when the mothers know ten times as much about what their children are doing in school as the fathers!

A POLISHED DETECTIVE.

How the Mirror Plays an Important Part in Trapping Rogues. A mirror played an important part in detecting a Parisian rogue. The thieves of the French metropolis are the cleverest rascals in the world, and positively evade their villainy to a science.

It has been lately discovered that a system of thieving was being practiced upon these establishments by which they lost a considerable amount of small silver articles such as forks, spoons and similar tableware, but by whom taken it was difficult to find out.

Of course he is allowed to depart, but immediately after an accomplice enters, orders his order for dinner, of which he partakes at the same table, whence he removes the secreted articles to his own pocket, of course taking care that the waiter shall not miss any articles from the table as he departs.

A case of this kind occurred a few weeks since in the place of la Muelette, where the superintendent suspected the trick, and having the party retire after apologizing for searching him.

No sooner had the rogue succeeded in transferring the last of the forks and spoons to his pocket than he rose very leisurely, walked to the cashier's desk and took out his money to pay for the meal.

The custom at the tavern of a warrior of leading his children before the mirror is of medieval origin. In the old days a horse so led became the property of the slayer.

Hardware and General Merchandise. There are a great many homes having zinc lined Bath Tubs that are in good condition with this one exception, they lack the features of a porcelain lining.

One pot of our WHITE ENAMEL PAINT will do the work, forming as it does a GLOSSY SURFACE almost equal in hardness and durability to that of Porcelain itself, being at the same time hardly distinguished from Porcelain.

Consult with your Physician and he will tell you by all means to paint your Bath Tub with ENAMEL PAINT.

The KEY STONE EGG BEATERS are little gems, try one if you want your Eggs quickly and thoroughly beaten.

We also call your special attention to our economical BARREL and CYLINDER CHURNS, they are easy workers, have all sizes and prices.

Remember we sell Standard Oil Co's. Kerosene at $1.80 per case C. O. D. delivered to any part of the city free.

WOMAN'S WORLD IN PARAGRAPHS.

Good Work Done by the Professional Women's League. From the beginning the Professional Woman's League has had a noble growth.

It was organized some three years ago in New York city by Mrs. A. M. Palmer. Perhaps for this reason actresses were among the first to swell its ranks.

The aim of the organization is to benefit professional women socially and financially. It specially formed committees to take in hand cases in which actresses were cheated out of their pay by unprincipled managers.

It established a fund to lend money to women temporarily in need. This has been done in many cases of which the public does not know and never will know. It was done privately and quietly.

It is a lady who had been cheated out of her earnings. It established a fund to lend money to women temporarily in need. This has been done in many cases of which the public does not know and never will know.

A lady writes me of the solid work done by the girls at the Lucy Cobb Institute, Athens, Ga. She says the bright-eyed young women students study all the political and economic questions of the day and hold debates on them.

Among the eloquent and successful Republican campaign speakers in Indiana and Illinois it is pleasant to recall the name of Miss Mary H. Knout of the Chicago Iron Works.

Sometimes you are so weary of beating your soul's wings against adamantine bars that you long to lie down in a corner of your cage and die. But don't do it. Get up and jog away.

The call is out for the second triennial session of the National Council of Women of the United States. This council is composed of the federated societies and organizations of women throughout the country.

Raymond Moore, the sweet voiced tenor who made the fame of the song "Sweet Marie," has had a new ballad written for him by two women. It is called "When the Rain is Falling" and is most musical in words and tones.

The outdoor athletic craze has overtaken even the German girls. There is a flourishing and enthusiastic woman's boat club at Berlin. The young women who belong to it are wont to rival in rowing and sailing even American college girls.

Give women all her rights, and she can afford to do without privileges. ELZA RICHARD CONNER.
