Grand Jury Finds Two Indictments

Failed to Find True Bill Against Well Known Hawaiian—Work Finished in One Day—F. F. Baldwin Foreman of Jury.

But three cases were considered by the Circuit Court grand jury, which met for the June term at Lahaina, on Wednesday. True bills were found in two of these cases, and no bill in the third. The grand jury finished its work for the term in one day.

Cornelio de Ocampo, Filipino, indicted for larceny in the first degree, is accused of entering a room of his friend, and removing from a trunk $80 in cash. In place of the money he left a letter to his friend stating that he had "borrowed" the money and had gone to Alaska, from which point he would return the amount some time. When the police rounded this borrower, shortly after the note was discovered, all the money was recovered except two dollars. The affair took place at Lahaina.

Troadio Dulan, also a Lahaina Filipino, was indicted for assault with a weapon; it being alleged that he attempted to stab other fellow countrymen during the progress of a gambling game.

Possibly Other Offense.

J. K. Kahue, who was committed by a magistrate some weeks ago on the charge of attempting to commit rape on a Portuguese woman at Haiku, was discharged, no case being made against him. It is understood that the grand jury were convinced that the alleged assault was a trap in which the alleged victim may or may not have been a party. It is intimated Kahue and the woman may both be arrested on another charge in connection with this same matter.

Judge Edings, in opening the present term of court, delivered an able, but not lengthy, charge to the grand jury, and appointed F. F. Baldwin as foreman. W. K. Kaluakini was bailiff of the body.

The grand jury was composed of: F. F. Baldwin, C. A. Buchanan, George Cockett, J. L. Cornwell, W. F. J. Dale, H. K. Duncan, Max Eckart, Jr., August Fries, Ed. Harvett, Luke Herbert, Arthur Kaenell, D. L. Meyer, John S. Pires, Wm. F. Pogue, Thomas Pratt, Aug. H. Reimann, R. C. Searle, Jr., Alfred S. Taylor, L. Weinzheimer.

The panel of the trial jurors, summoned for Monday next, consists of: J. B. Abreu, Chas. Akana, A. Borba, Jr., Wm. K. Buchanan, C. E. S. Burns, Albert K. Cockett, Robert E. Cockett, George P. Cooke, J. J. Corell, Charles Cowan, John E. Gannon, Andrew Gross, F. W. Jennings, George L. Keeney, John Little, J. S. McCarrison, Frank A. Miller, J. F. Miranda, Amos C. Mozzetta, Robert K. Purdy, A. L. Recard, J. A. Robinson, Pat. W. K. Shaw, B. H. Thomas, Aki Tom.

Fear German Submarine Is In Pacific

Much Uneasiness on British Vessels Now. Mysterious Steamer at Hilo Adds to Apprehension—Much Munitions Being Handled on Pacific.

(Special to Maui News). HONOLULU, June 18.—Five large tramp freighters under charter to the Russian government, said to be carrying approximately 50,000 tons of supplies, are due at Honolulu within a week to take call before continuing the voyage to Vladivostok.

This information, together with the mysterious visit of the steamer Maverick to Hilo last week, and her equally mysterious departure a few days ago, has started the rumor on the Honolulu waterfront to the effect that the Germans are preparing to attempt to block some of the many heavy shipments of munitions of war being made from western Canada and the United States for Russia and the other Allies forces, by way of the Pacific.

The Canadian-Australian liner N'gara, which passed south for Australia this week, brought word that serious alarm is felt in Vancouver, over the suspicion that Germany has succeeded in constructing one or more submarines on the Pacific, and is about to begin attacking the Allies' commerce in this ocean.

It is reported that an average of one ship daily leaves Vancouver, Seattle, or San Francisco, under charter of the Allies' governments, with supplies for the warring armies.

Big Military Band To Play at Races

Fourth Cavalry Musicians will Spend Several Days on Maui—Also Have Trip to Volcano Planned.

Captain Holbrook, Fourth Cavalry, U. S. A., of Schofield Barracks, is making plans to take the Fourth Cavalry Band to Maui and Hawaii on a sight seeing trip, such as was undertaken by other companies of the regulars in the past three or four years, but in this case, the band will carry its instruments and will give concerts on both islands.

They plan to leave Honolulu about the second of July and go to Kahului making their headquarters at the National Guard Armory at Wailuku. They expect to play on July 3rd at the races and to give a concert some other place. On the following Wednesday they will leave on the Mauna Kea for Hilo and there expect to make their headquarters at the National Guard Armory, and then give concerts in Hilo. They will also go to the Volcano and no doubt will camp out near the Volcano House.

The Fourth Cavalry Band is one of the splendid organizations of the American army and has a high reputation, particularly in the concert work.

J. J. Walsh, who was in Honolulu this week, has taken up the matter of helping the band to meet its expenses during the five days it will be on Maui. The Racing Association has agreed to contribute towards this end, and the Athletic Association will pay the boys for playing at one and perhaps two ball games. It is also planned to give a big ball at the Armory on Saturday evening, July 3, the proceeds to go to the band, and it is believed that the Lahaina people will help out the fund for the sake of hearing a concert given in that town Wednesday afternoon, before the band takes the Mauna Kea to Hilo. The band consists of 28 pieces, and it is estimated that about $200 will be necessary to cover their expenses.

C. D. Lufkins Home From Pleasant Tour

Motored From San Francisco to Los Angeles and Return—Also Went East—Business Better—Hawaii's Exhibit Good.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lufkin, who have been spending a vacation of two months or more on the mainland, were arrivals home by the Manoa on Thursday morning. They report a most pleasant time. From San Francisco they were accompanied by Miss Nora Gardner, of Los Angeles, who will visit relatives in Honolulu for some time.

After spending several weeks in San Francisco, the Lufkins motored by the coast route to Los Angeles where Mrs. Lufkin visited relatives while Mr. Lufkin went east as far as Illinois to attend the annual family reunion at his mother's home, and to look into a number of other matters. Rejoining his wife in Los Angeles, they, in company with Miss Balcom of that city, motored back to San Francisco via the valley route, having a most delightful time of it. Mr. Lufkin states that the roads they traveled were generally very good, although they struck a few bad places. They made a number of side trips to various resorts in California.

"Business generally seems to be improving on the mainland," said Mr. Lufkin, "but the real estate business, especially in the southern part of California, is dead. However, there is very general optimism, and a certainty that things will rapidly improve."

Mr. Lufkin declares himself well pleased with Hawaii's representation at the San Francisco exposition. The Islands are making a very creditable showing, he thinks. The Hawaii building is attractive and well located, and the crowds that visit it are well looked after.

Experts Make Survey Of Kipahulu Plantation

John Watt, formerly manager of the Olaa plantation, and R. C. Walker, of the Audit Company of Hawaii, spent this week making a careful survey of Kipahulu Plantation. They are returning to Honolulu this afternoon, having come through from Hana yesterday over the ditch trail. They were accompanied by John Fassoth, who with William Williamson recently purchased the Kipahulu plantation from the Hackfeld interests. Fassoth will take full charge of the property as manager after the present crop is ground, and he is at present cultivating the ratoon and planting for next year's crop. It is understood that practically a new mill is contemplated for the plantation.

Offer is Made Stanford Team

May Play Here on the Fourth—Association Upholds 3-Week Rule—Sueda Soon to Rejoin Puunenes—Paia Also Gets New Man.

At a meeting of the Maui Athletic Association, held last Tuesday evening in the Town Hall, it was decided to make a proposition to the Stanford University baseball team to play one or more games on the local diamond, on a basis of 75 percent of the gross receipts for the visitors. Should the proposition be accepted, it is proposed to arrange for games on July 3, 4, and 5. The Stanfords have been seeking a game or two here for some time, and the proposition of the local association is a counter proposal from them to come for a guarantee of $350.

Three-Week Rule Stands. A motion made by J. Meinecke that the section of the by-laws, requiring a three-weeks residence on Maui before a ball player may play in any game of the league, be eliminated, was voted down. Messrs. Meinecke and Carley alone supporting the idea. There was considerable discussion on the point before the vote was taken.

It was stated at the meeting that Paschoal, manager of the Puunenes, expects soon to get his crack little twirler, Sueda, back from Kauai. Sueda, it is reported, hankers to return, not being in love with the baseball situation on the Garden Isle.

The secretary was also instructed to get busy and try to find out what, if anything, has been done with the cup which Maui believes her team won in the Honolulu carnival series. Maui turned down the "donation" of the cup by the Chinese, with whom they were tied, and demanded the cup on merit. So far as is known, the committee has never made a decision.

Aged Wailuku Resident Dies

Manuel Martins, one of the oldest and best known residents of Maui, died at 3:25 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home in Wailuku. He had been in failing health for a number of years, and his death was not looked for. Coming to the Islands from St. Michael, Azores Islands, 24 years ago, Mr. Martins had been employed on sugar plantations almost continuously up to a few years ago, when age compelled him to give up work. He was for a long time connected with the Puunene plantation in the capacity of luna.

The deceased was 64 years of age, and is survived by a widow and three sons—John Martins, bookkeeper of Camp 1 Store, Louis Martins, an employe of Moura & Company, Wailuku; and Manuel Martins, Jr., now ill in the hospital in Honolulu.

Arrangements for the funeral had not been completed at time of going to press.

Water Carnival and Dance at Puunene

Young Athletes Working Hard for Forer—Also Anticipating Latter Part of Program—Fourteen Cups for Winners.

An unusually fine program has been prepared for the big water carnival to be held next Saturday, June 26, by the Puunene Athletic Club, at the Puunene tank. The affair promises to be of importance also as a social event, for following the water sports, an elaborate dance is to be given in the Club House.

The contestants will all be local men, but there is much rivalry being shown in the matter, and all are training hard. No less than fourteen handsome cups have been provided as trophies for the winners.

Following is a list of the events on the program:

25-yard dash for boys; 50-yard dash for boys; 25-yard dash for men; 50-yard dash for men 21 years to 20; 50-yard dash for men 31 years to 40; 50-yard dash for men 41 years to 50; 100-yard dash for men; 220-yard swim for men; 25-yard under water race; 25-yard relay race (Puunene and Wailuku); Spring-board diving; High and fancy diving; trapeze work; clove race, 50 yards; blindfold race, 50 yards; tub race for boys, 25 yards; breast stroke, 50 yards; side stroke, 50 yards.

Valuation Increase $4,000,000

Why Revenues of Territory This Year are Ahead of Last—High Rate Applied to High Valuation Did It.

Maui's increase in tax valuation for this year over last year is over $4,000,000, according to figures recently tabulated by Tax Assessor J. H. Kunewa. And on this increased valuation the tax rate of 1.44 percent was assessed, against the rate of 1.29 last year. The result is that the revenues from Maui county this year should exceed those of last year by upwards of $100,000. This anomaly of a high rate on a high valuation comes about through the law which requires the rate to be based on the previous year's valuation. In this case, in order to meet the required revenue, it was necessary to fix a rate of 1.44.

The assessment figures for the various districts of Maui, on real and personal property, for 1914 and 1915, are as follows:

	1914	1915
Wailuku	$10,026,180	$12,028,160
Makawao	7,763,176	8,740,074
Lahaina	4,851,000	5,667,254
Molokai	501,545	478,847
Hana	2,514,198	2,839,355
Totals	$25,656,099	$29,753,690

Will Ship Fresh Pines By Carload

Marketing Division Engages W. A. Anderson to be Coast Agent—Would Make Fresh Fruit Take Place Ahead of Canned.

W. A. Anderson, lately manager of the Nahiku Rubber Company, has been appointed to represent the Territorial Marketing Division as coast agent, according to wireless advices received this week. Mr. Anderson's chief duty, for a while at least, will be to handle the fresh pineapple shipments, which from now on are to be pushed very strongly by the Oahu independent growers. Several car loads of the fruit went out this week, and it is expected that for the next two months as high as 20 carloads of fruit per week will be sent to the coast.

The marketing of fresh fruit is being encouraged by many prominent business men in Honolulu, who believe that this is the logical way to sell the greater part of Hawaii's pineapples, the canning industry being considered as really of secondary importance. With improved methods of packing and handling when they reach the coast, it is believed that it will be feasible to ship in carload lots to Chicago, where a practically unlimited market may be had.

Wailuku Now Leads In Bowling Contest

Wailuku bowlers took all three games from their Puunene opponents last Monday night, and now lead by two games. The games were played on the Puunene alleys and the scores were satisfactory. Ben Kaumeheuiwa tied with Paschoal for high score, each rolling 203. High total went to Paschoal of Puunene, who pulled down 548.

The score follows:

Wailuku Gymnasium:
Wm. Hansen	169	183	183—535

B. Kaumeheuiwa	132	169	203—504
W. Chillingworth	122	169	157—448
L. B. Kaumeheuiwa	159	158	147—464

Licenses to Be Acted Upon Next Week

The Maui board of license commissioners will meet next Wednesday morning in Kahului for the purpose of acting upon the applications of sixteen dealers who wish renewal of their liquor selling privileges. So far as is known there will be no concerted opposition to the granting of these. It is rumored that another saloon license may be asked for shortly for Wailuku, which, if it is made, possibly will arouse some active opposition.

* SHOULD WE CHANGE OUR RACE MEET DATE?

It is questionable if Maui is not making a mistake in celebrating the Fourth of July on Saturday, instead of on Monday, as will be done elsewhere in the Territory. By proclamation Monday has been set apart as a legal holiday by the Territorial authorities, so that we shall be obliged, in some degree at least to observe it as well as Saturday. Besides, as Oahu has a charter convention election on Tuesday, July 6, Honolulu will get two legal holidays together, which will make it feasible for many to come to Maui if there is anything to come for. It is not too late for us to get in line with the rest of the Territory. The matter should be given careful consideration.

GROWING PINEAPPLES AND PULLING TOGETHER.

There isn't a shadow of doubt that the pineapple business of this Territory will win out. And this implies that the pineapple growers who use reasonably good judgment, who do not try to go too fast, and who have some sticking qualities, will win out also. The move which is gaining headway on Oahu to market as great a quantity of fresh fruit as possible, is on the right track. Also is the plan sound of doing this marketing co-operatively, as is being undertaken through the Territorial Marketing Division.

People who see nothing but obstacles in this connection, should consider the obstacles which have been confronted and been overcome by agriculturists in California and many other states, through shoulder to shoulder work. Anyone who knows what difficulties have been surmounted in organizing, in marketing, in packing and transportation, in open and hidden opposition, not to speak of insect, fungus, and bacterial pests without number, which were always about to wipe out everything—anyone who really knows of these things, concerning not one or two lines of industry, but of practically every one which now amounts to anything at all—knows that Hawaiian pineapple growers have not by any means been tried to the limit.

Hawaii can ship fresh pineapples to the Coast successfully. Hawaii should ship the bulk of her pineapples that way, canning only the under or over sized or surplus fruit. Hawaii should have such an organization to carry on this business that it would not for a moment be under domination of shippers or middle men. The business is big enough to insure this—if our people will pull together. (Read the history of the California citrus fruit growers' early fights with the railroads, with the refrigerator car trust, and with the commission men).

The value of the Hawaiian pineapple trade today is some $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 per year—certainly enough, one would think, to warrant some voice in how the consumer should be served. Yet the packers, by their own statements, confess that the jobbers of the United States have been making monkeys of them for the past three years.

These islands can grow pineapples as probably no where else in the world. And we shall continue to grow them. Also we shall learn to grow them still better than at present, as we shall learn to pack, and ship, and market them. But the biggest thing will be learned—that must be learned—will be in pulling together.

TEAM WORK FOR MAUI BEAUTIFUL.

With the exception of Maui, every county in the Territory has its one or more organizations devoted to the beautifying of their respective communities, and in other ways endeavoring to make them more pleasant places in which to live. Maui should not be the exception in this sort of enterprise. We have the public spirit and the enterprise, as is evidenced by a number of thriving clubs and associations of literary or social character. It would seem that some of these might well broaden the scope of their endeavor, to consider the elimination of needless ugly spots that mar the harmony of our island's general beauty.

There probably isn't a visitor to Maui who does not exclaim at the effectiveness of the magnificent tree-lined avenue through Spreckelsville; or the road between Kahului and Punene. These trees were planted by private enterprise, but they are striking examples of what might be done with practically all of our roads at small outlay. The truth probably is that we have been so used to having beneficent private individuals think and act for us, that we fail to appreciate our community responsibility in these kinds of things. Honolulu, solely through its band of energetic women known as the Outdoor Circle, has planted thousands of trees in the parks and along the drives about the city, which are already adding greatly to the appearance of the city, and which in a few years will redound in even greater degree to the credit of these generous workers. This organization has also curbed the billboards, removed hundreds of unsightly fences, spurred the city authorities to a keener sense of their responsibilities and in many other ways made themselves a very real influence and power in the community.

In like manner the women of Kauai have long been engaged in making their island still more worthy to be called the Garden Isle, and their club (the Mokihana Club), will probably soon be even more prominently recognized, through the making of it an auxiliary to the Kauai Chamber of Commerce.

As before remarked, Maui isn't lacking in either steam or enterprise—it is simply that our energies are directed in other lines. The question is: Are we making the best of our talents?

SPORT FOR SPORT'S SAKE.

For the sake of the sport (and that's all there should be in our baseball) no opportunity should be missed to bring to Maui other teams that are inspired by like motives. It doesn't behoove us to encourage teams to come here who are simply out for the coin. In the case of the Stanford University team, now in Honolulu, no mistake could be made in bringing it here, if it is willing to come for its expenses, as was at first announced. And in a case like this it should be a very simple matter to have these college boys taken care of in private homes, as was done with the Congressional party. Such young men should not only be welcome guests, but would undoubtedly enjoy their visit better than if quartered all together in a hotel. Incidentally the question of cost would not be hard to solve.

A NEW LAW THAT PROBABLY AFFECTS YOU.

Probably comparatively few persons in the Territory really appreciate how vitally they will be affected personally by the new Workmen's Compensation Law, which was passed by the last legislature, and which goes into effect on July 1. The truth is that every employer of labor, whether it be one servant or a hundred laborers, must make proper return by the first of the month, or be subject to a severe penalty. Also he must carry insurance on his employees, or give bond to insure the payment of compensation provided for in case of injury to workers under the act. It will pay everyone to read the resume of the new act, which is published in another column in this issue.

Bryan may be lacking in some of the qualities of a statesman but he is on solid ground when he declares that preparation for war provokes rather than prevents international conflict.

Calico Beans in Big Demand Now

Maui Onions Still Glut Market—Inquiries for Roselles—To Much Pohas.

A. T. Longley in his weekly market report says:

"Egg prices steady, demand good. Hogs getting scarcer and prices advancing. Red sweet potatoes in demand, very little sale for white varieties. Island onions still plentiful, demand poor. There are still large quantities on Maui to be sold.

"Calico beans are bringing the best price for some time—4 cents. Producers having sound beans for sale should notify the Marketing Division. Fat poultry is in demand. Turkeys are especially wanted.

"Pohas are arriving in large quantities now and unless the consumption increases in the near future producers will have to cut down shipments.

Fine Pineapple Crop At Honolua Ranch

While the pineapple fields of the Haku section are showing the serious damage suffered through the severe soaking of the plant roots last year, in small fruits and yellowing plants, the Honolua Ranch, on West Maui is putting up a pack of as fine fruit as was ever grown in the Territory. This district escaped any serious damage from last year's wet weather, and the fields are in excellent condition. The Ranch cannery expects to pack about 10,000 cases before the end of July. This is the second year the plant has been in operation. Manager D. T. Fleming reports that the crop is about two weeks earlier than last year, due to unusually favorable ripening weather.

some of these firms will buy roselle in Hawaii next season.

"The office of the division has been moved to permanent quarters on Maunakea street. This will give more space in the salesroom.

"Arrangements are being made for large shipments of fresh pineapples to the mainland after the first of July. Large quantities of crates and excelsior have just been received.

Telegraph News of the Week.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Points at issue in the Chicago strike are to be settled by arbitration.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Julius Kahn, in a statement to the people here, advises fairness to Japanese.

Engels copper stock is selling at $2 on the Coast.

LONDON, June 16.—German Zeppelin last night bombarded towns on the northeast coast of England. Fifteen killed, 15 wounded. In a number of cases exploding bombs set fire to buildings.

In eastern arena, Austro-Germans continue to hurl themselves against the weakened Russian lines, and Russians are still retiring, though stubborn resistance is being made. Petrograd admits that Russians have withdrawn across Galician border into Russian territory, from previous positions. Near Czernowitz, Russians claim to have taken numerous prisoners and guns and recaptured a number of villages from Austrians.

The French embassy announces that Allies have taken another line of trenches west of LaBasse.

KARLSRUHE, June 16.—The air raid of Allies against this city yesterday resulted in the killing of 19 persons. It is termed a nefarious and senseless act by the press, which suggests the best retaliatory step would be to bombard the western portion of London.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—First statement by ex-Secretary Bryan was made public today. The first section, entitled "Causeless War", prophesies greatest peacemaking opportunity in history of the United States is certain to come to this country. With the return of peace, will come also the demand for an international conference to change the rules of international laws—rules, he said, that were made for nations at war, rather than for nations at peace. He also says he will point out a way for peace in the present conflict.

LONDON, June 16.—General von Mackensen telegraphed the Kaiser today that he hopes to occupy Lemberg on or before July 15.

Mosciska, which has been the Teutonic objective since Przemysl fell, was taken yesterday. The Russian resistance has again collapsed under the fierce fire and rushes of the German infantry. The German tactics have been enormously costly but have brought results for which Germany was willing to pay. In a four-hour bombardment Germany discharged 700,000 projectiles, or double the number formerly thought sufficient for a six-months siege of a great and well provisioned fortress. In the presence of such a fire, without considering serious losses, all men became more or less stupefied. If Germany makes success von Mackensen expects, an abrupt about face towards Italy is on the cards.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—In view of strained relations between Germany and the United States, army men here oppose heavy invasion into Mexico.

ROME, June 16.—The Pope has placed his villa at Castle Grandolfo at the disposal of wounded Italian soldiers.

PARIS, June 16.—Capture of several German look-out posts was reported last night. Joffres' methods of nibbling, while not bringing any great gain, continues to add small pieces of territory each week.

UNDINE, June 16.—While standing on the steps of the American embassy, Signor Canova, in charge of the Italian consulate at Trieste, was arrested by Austrians and sent to a detention camp.

LONDON, June 16.—The small Swedish steamer Verdandi, was torpedoed in Christiana sound yesterday.

PARIS, June 16.—French aeroplanes entered the grand duchy Baden with 21 machines, and inflicted great damage on Karlsruhe. Anti-airship rifles brought down two machines.

HONOLULU, June 15.—The Marketing Division of the Experiment Station, will ship pines to coast in carload lots.

The ashes of the late Chas. R. Bishop will arrive by the Matsonia.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Former Secretary of the Navy VonMeyer says United States navy is deteriorating under present administration.

ATHENS, June 15.—It is apparent that in general the election just held, the former premier Venizelos has won a great victory, giving indications of the desire of the people to enter the war. Two-thirds of parliament will be of war party.

LONDON, June 15.—British press comments are in belief that Greek election shows deliberate choice of the people to cast their lot with the Allies.

QUNSBURCK, June 15.—Austrian troops numbering 25,000 left Trentino and are now advancing against Italians, on the Rivo Rivereto front in vicinity of Gorse and Grabisa. On other front in Trieste there is heavy fighting. Casualties placed at 1500 each side.

LONDON, June 15.—Sir Edward Carson, the new British Attorney General, in addressing board of trade inquiry, gave complete denial to German charge that Lusitania was an armed auxiliary cruiser of the British navy. Hearings are in part secret.

KARLSRUHE, June 15.—Five hostile aviators bombarded city for 45 minutes today. Several persons killed and wounded.

LONDON, June 15.—Reports from Paris mention slight gain made by Allies all along the line. "Trawler Argyll sunk by submarine, four of crew drowned. Trawler sent to bottom without warning. Went down in two minutes.

House of Commons today voted £250,000,000 credit for war purposes, making a total of £862,000,000. During the next three months, the war expenses will be £3,000,000 per day. Since the beginning of the war 13,547 officers and men of British army have been killed, wounded or are missing.

ATHENS, June 15.—The war party throughout Greece won in the election held yesterday. The immediate results may be postponed by King Constantine's illness. His condition does not satisfy his physicians.

Roumania, it is understood, has obtained the consent of the Allies to the compensation she demands for her support, and her entry of the war arena is regarded as imminent. She is fully prepared for war and has 850,000 men ready at take field. She has spent up to date $8,000,000 buying ammunition from Italy, France and the United States.

ROME, June 15.—Austria is unable to interpose effective opposition to the advance of the Italians against Trieste. Dispatches report a number of tactical successes netting continued progress.

THE HAGUE, June 15.—An international convention of socialists will be held here to discuss peace. Russian socialist leaders have accepted the invitation conditionally. The head of the Belgian branch refuses to have anything to do with meeting if Germany is represented.

WINNBOROUGH, N. C., June 15.—The sheriff and a negro prisoner were killed while making a defense of the jail. Three relatives of the girl whom the negro was accused of assaulting, were indicted yesterday.

CHICAGO, June 14.—14,000 surface and elevated railway men got out of employment due to strike. Traffic burden is now on steam roads. Hours of service and small pay cause of strike.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Supreme court has decided a long standing controversy between Virginia and West Virginia. The latter is to pay $12,393,939, as her share of old Virginia debt. This debt was extant before the division of the two states.

LONDON, June 14.—Although French appear unrelenting in their offensive, which is netting slow progress in northwest of France, the prime importance in war situation in Europe today, is in eastern arena. Here the Russian armies, thrown back from Carpathians and dislodged from Przemysl, are endeavoring to rally and are opposing a strong front to the victorious Austro-German forces, driving forward flushed with prospects of driving Slavs from Galicia and taking up position. A new unconfirmed report says Austro-German troops occupy Furawa and further south crossed the Dneister. Russians are making a stand in Galicia after weeks of defeat, their new effectiveness indicating that shortage of ammunition has been overcome and they now have weight of guns and men to oppose Teuton allies.

VIENNA, June 14.—Official announcement says: "Now Mackensen's army occupies Russian position along entire front Cyeriawa to Seiniawa."

PETROGRAD, June 14.—German attempts to drive Russians from new position near Mosciska, Galicia, has been costly. Austro-Germans lost 20,000 killed in the effort to take enemy's trenches. Advices indicate Teuton allies have abandoned their contemplated attack on Lemberg, now occupied by Russians. Teutons were making good progress towards Lemberg after taking Przemysl.

ROME, June 14.—Bombs from Italian aircraft were dropped yesterday on tip of Austrian peninsula and terrific explosions that followed destroyed not only the arsenal but the important naval station there. Several warships were also seriously damaged.

Hilo To Have Auto Laws.

The news that the Hilo Board of Supervisors is figuring on a real automobile ordinance is good to hear. That Hilo will soon have an ordinance that will compare with those of Oahu and Maui, is the fervent wish of those who walk and also of those who motor. In fact the pedestrians are safer than the chauffeurs now-a-days, judging by the head-on collisions that have taken place lately. —Hawaii Herald.

A Little Previous.

The news that the Hilo Railroad Company will have to wait five years for the expected freight traffic from the Hamakua district, was rather a surprise to those who were not in the know. It looks as if the big new wharf, the tremendous wharf-shed and the new Kulu Bay road are just a little too previous. —Hawaii Herald.

Pineapple Markets.

Relief for the pineapple growers is to be sought. Superintendent Longley of the territorial marketing bureau is out with a suggestion for the establishment of a mainland selling office through which fresh pines in carload lots may be handled, while O. A. Stevens has a plan which he desires to talk over with the pineapple growers of Oahu, a plan which he believes will develop for them the market they need. Both these suggestions look like business. Assuredly some way must be found to relieve the pineapple situation. The canners profess to be unable to pay a living rate to the independent growers and none is in a position to demonstrate that the canners are not straightforward in their contention. As things are, many pineapple growers face financial ruin, with the loss of their investments and their labor, and another of the promising agricultural industries of Hawaii available for the homesteader and the small farmer, is apparently about to be squelched. Over production is given as the reason why the canners cannot take what fruit is offered and pay for it a figure that will leave a margin of profit for the grower. But, if the fresh fruit could be put upon the mainland market at a reasonable rate for transportation, the demand should be such as to take up at least the Oahu surplus. No more luscious fruit is grown than the Hawaiian pine. Compared with it the woody, acid pineapple brought to the Northern States from the West Indies, Florida and the Bermudas is as a dried apple to an orange. The fruit will stand shipment, if properly handled, and no quarantine exists against it. If a way be found to open up the mainland markets to fresh Hawaiian pines, a small man's industry for Hawaii will be saved. The man who is able to do it will win the gratitude of this community. —Advertiser.

Hilo's Tourist Campaign.

Hilo in her ambitious experiment in independent promotion work, should have the promised backing of the Hawaii Promotion Committee in Honolulu. It cannot be expected that results from this work will show immediately, but properly directed efforts should tell in the long run. It was a long time after the organization of the Hawaii Promotion Committee before Honolulu began to feel the real effects of its campaign for tourists. The results are cumulative now, and they are making Honolulu a very live city. —Hilo Tribune.

Back the Supervisors.

We hope that Hilo business men will back the new board of supervisors and consult with them, and assist them, in the work of administering the affairs of the county. If they do not do so, they cannot ask for a hearing when complaining later if things go wrong. The rule in many American communities, adopted to a great extent in Honolulu, is for citizens to attend meetings of their town and city boards, and for neighborhood improvement clubs to send their delegations to the meetings with demands or protests, as the case may be, in connection with matters before the board, and public boards never lightly disregard the voice of the public as thus expressed. The rule in Hilo is for the meetings to be held with none but the board and clerks, and the business done with no one taking any interest, or offering any advice. —Hilo Tribune.

Lesson From Great Charter of Rights

Rev. J. C. Villiers Preaches Interesting Sermon Based On Signing of Magna Charta Seven Hundreds Years Ago.

On the fifteenth day of June, 1915, just seven hundred years ago, King John signed Magna Charta.

On Sunday morning last, Rev. J. Charles Villiers preached at the Church of the Good Shepherd on "Some Elementary Principles of Magna Charta." He said in part:

During these seven centuries Magna Charta has played a most important part in protecting the English-speaking people in the free enjoyment of their national and constitutional rights. In the words of Hallam, "the great Charter is the keystone of English liberty," an instrument, the bold features of which are the distinguishing marks of "a free from a despotic monarchy."

One copy, and one copy only, of Magna Charta is still in existence. It may be seen in the British museum: "a brown and shriveled parchment, injured by age and fire" but with the royal seal still attached to it—"the earliest monument of England's freedom."

Of the sixty-three clauses in Magna Charta few have a direct bearing on the church or religion, but such reference as is made thereto is not without significance. The very first clause recognizes the entity and independence of the Church of England as a national church, and her right to resist Pope of the Khahrdliununuun unuun illegal encroachments, whether of pope or of king. This first clause reads: "The Church of England shall be free, and hold her rights entire and her liberties inviolate." Words which should be a sufficient answer, surely, of those who, wrongly contend that the Church of England was founded by King Henry the Eighth.

Magna Charta made trial by jury obligatory to a just and legal trial. It established a common standard of weights and measures throughout the kingdom, and gave to the poor man the same civil rights enjoyed by his richer neighbor. In a word the great underlying principle of Magna Charta was a unity of law for all people in the land, a recognition that personal liberty and vested interests must have their limits; and freedom and rights be circumscribed and brought within the circle of what is right between man and man, and man and the social compact of which he is a member. The keystone of the arch of liberty, Magna Charta is that of religion—the pure and undefiled religion of Jesus Christ.

WELCOME RAINS.

Several effective showers throughout the Makawao district this week served to greatly relieve the situation, which had been confronting farmers for a week or more on account of the drought. The rain was especially welcome in the Haiku homestead section.

Compensation Law Is Very Important

Every Employer Affected—Must Carry Insurance or be Liable to Penalty—Employers Gain Much Protection—Win Force July 1st.

A law of more than ordinary importance, and one that will effect a very large number of persons in the Territory, is the Workmen's Compensation Law (Act 221) passed by the last legislature. It goes into effect July 1st next. It requires that every person employing one or more persons must be prepared to furnish compensation in case of the accidental death or injury of such workman or servant.

Maui Board Meets. The recently appointed members of the Maui Industrial Accident Board, which will have charge of the enforcement of the new law on Maui, held a preliminary meeting on Wednesday and formed a temporary organization.

Judge McKay was chosen chairman and Will J. Cooper, secretary. The other members are: W. L. Decoto, W. H. Field, and George Weight. Aside from a general study and discussion of the new act, the board adopted a resolution approving the suggestion of Acting Governor Thayer that the attorney general be requested to prepare the various forms of procedure for the approval of the several boards. It is the desire of all the boards to work along the same lines, and for this reason it is desirable that like forms be followed.

Heretofore the Territorial laws held the employer liable to the employee under the "negligence system" of liability, and also gave him certain defenses that enabled him to deny liability when it could be shown that the injury to the employee was not due to any negligence on the part of the employer.

The new Compensation Law creates what is generally known as "Workmen's Compensation Insurance" which means that the employer shall pay "compensation" for every accident, excepting only when caused by the employee's wilful intention or his intoxication. The law will be administered by an Industrial Accident Board for each County, composed of five members, appointed by the Governor.

Must Carry Insurance. Every employer of labor must carry insurance of some kind or be prepared to furnish a guarantee to the board that he is financially able to pay any claims for accidents that may occur to his employees. The various insurance companies are preparing to handle this business, and it is likely that most of it will be thus handled, except that some of the larger plantations may elect to carry their own insurance.

Any employer failing to secure compensation renders himself liable to heavy daily penalties and, after thirty days, he may be enjoined from carrying on his business.

No Contracts Valid. No contract, rule, regulation or device whatsoever shall relieve the employer in whole or in part from any liability created by this Act.

For non-fatal accident the liability is to the injured employee; for fatal accidents to the deceased employee's dependent or dependents. Any person, a member of the family of the deceased employee who is dependent upon such employee for support, is considered by the Act to be a dependent. A surviving wife, or surviving husband incapable of supporting himself, or the child or grandchild, or the parents or grandparents, or the brothers or sisters of such deceased employee are dependents.

The term "child," as used in the Act, includes step-children, adopted children, posthumous children and illegitimate children acknowledged prior to the injury.

What Employer is Liable For. The employer is liable for an accident happening to an employee while the latter is performing services arising out of and in the course of his employment. This includes injuries which may be received in times of social stress, such as strikes, etc.

The chief factors to be considered under this heading are: Average weekly wage earned by the employee; the weekly loss in wages that is, the percentage of the average weekly wage that is lost to the employee due to the impairment of his earning capacity, and the nature and duration of the injury, the result of which injury may take any one of five possible forms:

Temporary or permanent partial disability; temporary or permanent total disability and death. There is no compensation for the first two weeks of disability.

Partial Disability. During the period of disability fifty per cent of the difference between the average weekly earnings before the accident and the weekly wage he is most likely to earn thereafter, not to exceed $12 a week, for a period of 312 weeks, or an aggregate sum of $5000.

Fifty per cent of average weekly earnings, not exceeding $12 a week, for the period stated below: Loss of one arm at or above elbow joint, 312 weeks. Permanent and complete loss of hearing in both ears, 312 weeks. Loss of one leg at or above knee joint, 286 weeks. Loss of one hand at or above wrist joint, 248 weeks. Loss of one foot at or above ankle joint, 208 weeks.

Total Disability. Sixty per cent of average weekly earnings, not exceeding $18 nor less than $3 a week, and the term of such

If plans now on foot do not miscarry, an excursion party of from fifty to one hundred members of the Honolulu lodges of Foresters, will arrive the morning of July 3 to take part in Maui's big Fourth of July celebration. Local members of the order, are working on the proposition and believe that it will materialize. The same boat that brings the Foresters will probably bring the Fourth Cavalry band, which is coming to spend a few days on Maui, and to furnish music during the race meet. There is a possibility that a sufficiently large crowd can be worked up to secure a special steamer for the trip.

Wailuku Orpheum Management Changes

"Pharos" Sells Out and Leaves With Family—J. W. Horsman, Who will Manager the Place will Keep Up Standard of House.

P. H. Ross, or "Pharos", as he was generally known here, who revived the Wailuku Orpheum as moving picture house about eight months ago, left on Wednesday of this week for Honolulu with his family, and will not return. Mr. Ross built up a good business in the time he was here, and he and his family also made many friends in the community.

The lease of the Orpheum was taken over by J. W. Horsman, manager of the Valley Isle Theatre, who will continue to operate the Orpheum on much the same lines as heretofore.

Convict Labor For Kula Roads

Owing to the fact that Friday of last week was a legal holiday, the board of supervisors did not finish its work until Monday of this week.

The board decided to make use of the territorial prisoners that may be available, in the improving of the roads in Kula from Waiakoa to Kalia-lianai.

This was the last meeting of the board. The recently elected members of the board will take their seats for the first time at the July meeting.

payment not to exceed 312 weeks or aggregate a sum exceeding $5000. Compensation calculated at 60 per cent of average weekly earnings, not to exceed $18 nor less than $3 a week; such 60 per cent of average weekly earnings as heretofore defined, to be multiplied by 312, but in no case to exceed the sum of $5000. Permanent total disability is defined by the Act as: Total and permanent loss of sight in both eyes; Loss of both feet at or above the ankle; Loss of both hands at or above the wrist; Loss of one hand and one foot; Injury to the spine resulting in permanent and complete paralysis of both legs or both arms, or of one leg or of one arm; Injury to the skull resulting in incurable imbecility or insanity. The above enumeration is not to be taken as exclusive.

If deceased employee leaves no dependents, the employer is liable only for burial expenses not to exceed $100; if deceased employee leaves dependents, the employer is liable for a sum ranging from $1660 to $5000 in total dependency, and in partial dependency for certain specified sums according to the degree of such dependency.

The employer shall furnish all that is necessary under this heading for the first fourteen days of disability—the aggregate expense not to exceed $50.

Employees Cannot Pay For Insurance. No employer can allow any employee to pay any portion of the costs due to providing security for payment of compensation. Any employee who makes such a deduction from the wages of any employee may be fined $250.

Claims for compensation have the same priority against assets of employer as allowed by law for unpaid wages. Claims for compensation are not assignable, and are exempt from all claims of creditors. Settlement agreements between employer and employee must be filed with and approved by the Commission.

Arbitration—Hearings and Awards. If compensation is not settled by agreement, either party may apply for a committee of arbitration. The findings of the arbitration committee shall be filed with the Industrial Accident Commission, and unless a claim for review is filed within ten days by either party, the award shall be enforced in the manner prescribed in Section 39.

Appeals From Board. An appeal from any award may be made to the Circuit Court, as provided in Section 38. Misrepresentation by the employer as to the amount of pay-rolls, or in the matter of providing security for payment of compensation, are in violation of the law and will be punished accordingly.

Paschoal Says Hoodoo Is Dead.—Great Game Sets Fans Crazy.—Paia Lost in Eighth When It Was Any One's Game.—Paia Still Leads.

STANDING OF TEAMS. Table with columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Paia: 3, 2, .600. Hawaii: 2, 2, .500. Puunene: 2, 3, .400.

Paschoal's cane grinders added another winning to their list last Sunday at Wailuku Park, when they took the measure of the Robinson bunch from Paia, in an exciting game as ever was played on a local diamond, by a score of 7 to 4.

"Blondie" Williams, the Puunene slasher, pitched steady ball, and although touched for eight hits, struck out eight men and allowed but two passes. Eight bases were stolen on Hussey by Paia men, whereas no Puunene man was allowed to steal on Foster Robinson.

It was an off day for brother Alvin Robinson, who allowed five free passes to first sack and eleven hits. His pitching would come back in spasms, however, and he is credited with sixteen strikeouts, undoubtedly so far the season's record. After allowing men on bases in several instances he would pull out of the hole by the strike out route.

It was nip and tuck to the end of the seventh, each side having scored two runs. In the first half of the eighth, Baldwin of the Puunenes, came to bat with bases full. He singled to right and on Carreira's error in attempting to scoop the ball, three men scored, leaving Baldwin at third base, scoring a little later on Kabanani's hit to right. The Puunenes added another score in the ninth, giving them a total of seven runs. In their last chance to bat the Paia bunch made an effort to tie which, however, only netted them two runs.

The showing made by the Puunenes recently proves they have shaken off their hoodoo. Manager Paschoal says that although he has not much show to win out in the first series, he will have to be counted upon the second. The fans will have to figure with the cane grinders hereafter, for they are continuously practicing and working hard.

Tomorrow's game will be between the men from Paia and George Comings' bunch of colts. The Hawaii, after winning two straight, have dropped two in succession, but are confident they will be able to beat the Robinson aggregation, which has lost one and won one from them. The youngsters have recovered from their defeats and have been on the grounds every evening practicing on several new stunts which "Pop" Cummings has been putting them up to.

The Paia's are still in the lead and should they win tomorrow's game, the championship of the first series will be theirs. Should the Hawaii win the next game and lose to the Puunenes the Sunday following, all teams will be tied for first place, each having then won three and lost three, and a play-off series will have to be played.

Last Sunday's score by Innings was as follows: Puunenes: R. 1 0 0 1 0 0 4 1—7. Hits: 11 0 2 1 2 0 3 1—11. Paia: R. 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 2—4. Hits: 2 0 1 0 0 2 0 3—8.

Cubs Win Hall Cup for Keeps

Defeat Waikapus in Seven Innings for Championship—Made Poor Start But Came in Strong at Finish.

In a seven inning championship game last Sunday, the Cubs defeated the Waikapus by the score of 5 to 8. The Waikapus had a good lead in the beginning, scoring four runs in the first and again scoring four in the fifth while the Cubs had only two up to that time. But the Cubs were not of the give-up-kind calibre and they showed the baseball spirit by fighting their way through an scoring seven runs in the sixth frame totaling them nine runs.

However to decide a championship of a series in a seven inning game does not look like a real championship but as time was limited the game was played seven innings to give way to the seniors.

The Cubs are now the permanent holders of the Hall cup, competed for since last year, they winning both seasons in succession.

The score by innings is as follows: Cubs 0 2 0 0 7 0 0-9. Waikapus 4 0 0 4 0 0 0-8.

Standing of Teams. Table with columns: Team, P, W, L, Pct. Cubs: 6, 4, 2, .667. Waikapus: 6, 3, 3, .500. Chinese: 6, 3, 3, .500. Haikus: 6, 2, 4, .333.
